Hospital Board candidates respond

Voters in the Muenster Hospital District will have to select four people to serve on the board of the Muenster Memorial Hospital on May 1. The two year terms of four members of the nine member board will expire in May. Three of the four are seeking another two year term. Chuck Bartush, Jr. did not file for re-election.

Al Felderhoff, Sharon Felderhoff, and Margie Starke are willing to serve another term if elected. Other board hopefuls are Sam Endres, Stan Endres and Gerald (Jerry) Hess. The four candidates getting the most votes will serve on the board beginning in May.

Each candidate was given a questionnaire to complete. Their answers appear in alphabetical order.

1. What are your reasons for running for a seat on the hospital board?

Sam Endres: I feel qualified and would like to give my service to my community.

Stan Endres: The hospital is something that is so important for our town that everyone should do whatever they can to make sure it remains open. By being on the board, hopefully I would be able to do my little part. I have no specific plans or ideals for the hospital, but by working with the other board members and Hospital Auxiliary, we can keep the hospital open.

Al Felderhoff: After having been requested by a number of people to continue to serve on the board, I elected to serve again. I believe I can be of some benefit to the hospital and community.

Sharon Felderhoff: I believe that each citizen needs to support their community by serving in some capacity for an organization that interests them. I am very concerned about the viability of our hospital and want to work toward its success by serving on the board of directors.

Gerald Hess: My reasons for running for a seat are to add my business experience and knowledge and hopefully to help turn this bad financial situation around.

Margie Starke: I am running for re-election after serving three years on the board. The first year was an appointed term.

2. What qualifies you personally for the job?

Sam Endres: Business sense gained during my career as both employed and self-employed businessman.

Stan Endres: The strong desire to make sure the hospital stays open and the willingness to do the work to see to it that it does. I do have a college degree in Business Administration from the University of North Texas. I have managed my own business for the past 14 years. Hopefully, some of my knowledge would be helpful.

Al Felderhoff: After serving approximately 30 years, I have the experience necessary to continue being a member of the Board.

Sharon Felderhoff: I have served on the hospital board for over five years and I have learned a great deal in that time period about our hospital and how it operates. I now have an understanding of what has been done at Muenster Memorial Hospital to attract physicians and patients. I have attended a number of recruitment seminars and functions and have learned a great deal about the recruitment process. I also have some experience in the business world and I am able to use that information in making decisions for our hospital.

Gerald Hess: I feel that I am personally qualified for this job because I have 31 years of successful independent business experience. I have served two terms, totaling four years, on the Financial Commission of Sacred Heart Parish. When first elected, we were running a budget deficit. At the end of my second term, we were on budget. I was also a life insurance agent for 10 years and traveled extensively around the state meeting new and different people and interacting with them. I feel I have a strong suit on sales, as I was the #1 life insurance salesman with Transport Life in the year 1976. While working for Transport Life, I was in the top 5 salesmen for a number of years. I feel this and the other business experience I have would be an asset on the recruiting of new doctors.

Margie Starke: I have no special qualifications - just a strong desire to see Muenster Memorial Hospital flourish and become the most desirable hospital to use should the need arise.

3. Have you considered how much time (monthly meetings, special meetings, recruiting doctors, be active on committees, etc.) serving on the hospital board will require and are you willing and able to give that much of your time?

Sam Endres: Yes.

Stan Endres: My own business does keep me very busy but I think I would be able to give ample time to the hospital.

Al Felderhoff: I will give whatever time is necessary.

Sharon Felderhoff: Having served on the board of directors for over five years, I am well aware of the time requirements. During my tenure, I have missed only a couple of meetings, out of necessity. I believe that if I commit to serving on the board, I need to be available as needed. I have always been available for various functions and assignments. I have attended recruitment functions and served on numerous committees.

Electric Cooperative's annual meeting set for April 19

Cooke County Electric Cooperative is expecting a crowd of more than 500 people at its annual meeting Monday, April 19, in the Muenster Public School Auditorium.

Highlights will include an address by Jim Morriss, a strong advocate for rural electrification, musical entertainment by the Country Cut Ups and a drawing for 35 attendance prizes.

Meeting registration starts at 6:45 p.m. The Country Cut Ups, regular performers at the Saint Jo Opry, take the stage at about 7 p.m. The business session opens at 8 p.m.

Morriss serves as executive vice-president and general manager of Texas Electric Cooperatives - an organization that represents 74 cooperatives serving more than 1 million meters. A former broadcast journalist, Morriss became TEC General Manager in 1977 after working there as both director of information and director of communications, training and rural development.

Beginning, in 1968, Morriss and his family spent five years in

JIM MORRISS

Bolivia, South America where they participated in community development projects for the Bolivian Methodist Church. A director for the International Foundation of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, Morriss sometimes handles short-term assignments in Central and South America as a management consultant for the NRECA.

Two director positions are up for election Monday. Larry Corbett of Dexter has been nominated to serve a second term as District 1 Director. District 1 covers the area north of Highway 82 and east of Interstate 35.

David Flusche has been nominated to replace Jimmy Jack Biffle as District 5 Director. Biffle, who has served on the board for 18 years, chose not to seek another three-year term. District 5 covers the western sections of Cooke County.

The Cooperative will give away 35 attendance prizes. Among them are a television, a VCR, a breadmaker, small appliances, $50 power bill credits and $20 power bill credits. Guests are invited to enjoy punch and cookies after the meeting.

Cooke County Electric Cooperative is a non-profit organization formed in 1938 to deliver electric power to rural areas of Cooke and Montague counties - areas where such service was previously unavailable.

With the opening of Gainesville Factory Shops later this year, the Cooperative will have more than 10,000 meters connected to its system.

Hires new golf pro...

Turtle Hill Golf Course prepares for July opening

North Texas' newest golf course will be open for play, according to owner Dick Murphy's best estimate, in July, as soon as the greens are ready. The course is progressing very well, considering the weather. A cold week in February set the greens back, but they are now recovering very well. The irrigation system has been installed, along with the pump station and the well has been drilled.

A temporary driving range has been built using the #18 fairway, and will be open in June. Work continues on the back 9 holes as time and funds are available; however, top priority is to have the front 9 ready for opening day. Plans are being developed for a "Founders' Day Tournament" for July 31. With the course opening in July, membership dates will run from July to July on an annual basis.

After an extensive search, the golf pro has been hired. Owner Dick Murphy said, "We were fortunate to have a great selection to choose from ... pros from Houston, Austin and Phoenix ... the young man we selected is Scott Beezley."

The new Head Pro is 26 years old. He and his wife have one child. His prior experience includes two years spent as assistant pro at Hurricane Creek Golf Course north of McKinney, and three years as assistant pro at Sleepy Hollow Golf Course, a 36-hole facility in Dallas.

He graduated from Eastfield College in Dallas, where he was a member of the golf team.

Murphy continued, "Scott Beezley has an easy manner, great presence with people and an easy teaching style. He points out that he plans a very ambitious youth program starting in June. A clinic will be available for youths 18 years and under, covering all aspects of the game, rules, driving, iron play, putting and golf etiquette."

For some time, Murphy has noted the need for a bar and grill. It is planned, for sometime possibly in late summer. "All the permits necessary have been obtained except the liquor license which should be completed by May or June. I never realized all the bureaucratic controls; that part hasn't been fun," he continued.

Unless Mother Nature deals a poor hand this spring, the course will be ready for play by July. There are 53 charter members. Murphy has encouraged them to come out, visit, ask questions and become comfortable with the course and the people, and to take pride in the course, as he does.

ROXIE KNABE, a senior at Muenster High School, signed a letter of intent to participate in the University of North Texas track program next season. Knabe is a contender for the shot and discus state competition and will also try the javelin throw at UNT. Witnessing the signing were her parents, JD and Betty Gibbs, seated, and Coach Grady Roller. Watch next week's Enterprise for a report on Roxie's career track achievements. Janie Hartman Photo

LUKE 24: 34-35

Germanfest rolls around again!

by Janet Felderhoff

It's that time again! Germanfest is less than a week away. Plans have been in the making for as long as a year for this event on April 23, 24, and 25. This is the 18th year that Muenster will host this huge festival in celebration of the town's German heritage.

"We're getting calls from all over. We're getting very well noted," remarked Margie Starke, Chamber of Commerce secretary. Besides the usual ads run in many newspapers, there was a feature on Germanfest in "Trip" a Southern USA travel magazine, "The Dallas Business Journal of the Dallas Morning News," "Texas People and Places" and "City Wichita Falls" magazines, and a number of billboards between Denton and the Metroplex are being used to advertise this year's fest.

New to the Germanfest scene will be a portable wax museum of Texas history. The idea for the museum was inspired by a visit to Germanfest. It has only recently been completed and on display just a few times.

The usual assortment of local talent will entertain at Germanfest. Joining them are Alpenfest, A Houston group that has entertained at festivals in Minnesota, Texas and Wisconsin. They have also toured Bavaria and Austria. The Polka Kings, Blue Stars, Young at Heart, Alpine Village Band, and Alpenmusikanten are the musical groups scheduled as Tanz Halle

Groups for the Texas Stage include Swine Cadillac, a Texas Blues and Rock group; Andy Serna and the Captive Hearts, a country band; Jim Stewart with contemporary music; Tucson, young, progressive country; Lori Earheart, country music vocalist; Willie Kickit, dance band playing country and old rock; Jeff Chance, concert band from Nashville country music; One Brick Shy, Texas rock n blues band; Brave Combo, electric and wacky Nuclear polka; Randy Rio musical vocalist; and Chris Hiatt & Cold Shot, "A Tribute to Stevie Ray Vaughan".

Young and young at heart will enjoy the fun created by Side Street Circus. There will again be carnival rides. Kids will enjoy jumping in the Lunar Landing as well as face painting and clown shows.

Bavarian beer nuts, kettle corn from Wyoming, a Pennsylvania Dutch bakery from the Colony offering hand-done, home-made baked goods with no preservatives, are tempting new food booths.

Four tents will house a wide range of crafted items. Latest additions are Country Kitchen furniture; an artist who does beautiful paintings on tree leaves; P.J.'s Crafts with stuffed animals and painted items; and a caricature artist who will frame his work. Other craft items include hand painted denim and clothing, jewelry, quilts, ceramics, stone wear, dog hats and scarves, coin jewelry, stained glass, and chicken hats, cups, and buttons popular with chicken dance fans.

Changes have again been made to the German Fun Run route. The course will go north this year, but instead of going west on Copper Switch Road, as the familiar route of two years ago, it is changed to east. According to chairman, Ben Bindel, this change will allow better traffic control, the course can again be changed to 5K and 15K and all but two miles are along paved roads.

Germanfest Saturday brings the popular Metric Century Bicycle Rally for its 12th year. Deadline for early registration is April 19. Each rider receives two free passes to Germanfest good for that day and will be treated to a non-alcoholic beverage party at the Community Center Parking Lot. The first 3,000 riders to register get a free shirt.

Other regular Germanfest events include the North Texas Championship Tug of War on Sunday at 4 p.m.; North Texas Championship Arm Wrestling Contest at 2 p.m. Saturday; and North Texas BBQ Cook-Off featuring chili judging at 2 p.m. Saturday, and on Sunday sausage judging at noon, ribs at 1:30 p.m. and brisket at 3 p.m.

Germanfest General Chairman Dave Flusche said that the Chamber is expecting good weather and good attendance. "The attendance seems to be proportionate to the weather," Flusche commented.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am a member of The Seniors Coalition and I oppose the Clinton tax on Social Security. I have written my U. S. Senators and my Congressman urging them to sign The Seniors Coalition "Congressional Pledge" that says: "I Pledge to Oppose Any New Taxes or Cuts in Social Security."

I would like to write a story informing your readers whether our representatives have signed this important PLEDGE to Seniors. Social Security is not adding to the deficit -- it's running a surplus. It's unfair to balance the budget on the backs of Seniors. For more information, please call The Seniors Coalition's Washington office at 703-273-5449.

Dear Editor:

Hooray for the military doctors who refuse to follow President, er, Hillary's orders to perform abortions on military bases! It seems that one of the few campaign promises that Clinton intended to keep (dropping the federal government ban on federally-funded abortions) left egg on his face: all the U.S. military doctors in overseas bases refused to comply with erstwhile edict.

And cheers to the private physicians in 83 percent of our nation's counties who, because of their commitment to save lives not destroy them, also refuse to cave in to those social engineers who would make abortion become just another method of birth control.

Abortion, except in the rare case to save the life of the mother, or in cases of rape or incest, is still murder of the innocent unborn. We should applaud those fine men and women who uphold their commitment to saving lives.

Sincerely,

Letter to the Editor:

On May 1 voters will be asked to approve by an amendment the States Robin Hood School Funding Plan. This Fair Share plan as it is sometimes called is anything but fair to taxpayers. It's a deceptive plan that will force School Districts to raise local taxes.

The plan would take $407 million from high achieving wealthy schools and transfer money to poorer schools. This would force the richer districts to level down or raise taxes to maintain their current level of financing. Is it fair to make 10 percent of the wealthiest schools with six percent of the states school population pay for the states funding plan? Is it really fair to force 110 school districts to shoulder the growing share of funding the other 900 school districts?

This "make the rich pay" fair share plan makes about as much sense as our Federal Government's tax plan to "make the rich pay". We are finding out that "make the rich pay" is nothing more than a deceptive plan to make us all pay higher taxes.

Although the Legislature claims there are "no tax increases" in this amendment, the School Districts will be forced to seek additional revenue because the funding plan is about $3 Billion less than what they were expecting. In passing this amendment, the legislature left intact a growing revenue demand by School Districts without taking action to relieve it or mandating changes to remedy it. The Legislature by doing this is indirectly telling local school districts if you need additional funds raise local taxes. Their plan even provides incentives for them to do so. It raises the tax rate from 82 cents to 90 cents per $100 valuation, and allows that rate to climb an additional 60 cents to $1.50 per $100 valuation. The plan creates new County Education Districts which could add an additional $1 per $100 valuation for a whopping $2.50 per $100 valuation. The state also gives incentives to local school districts to seek funds through taxes by raising the minimum rate in order for School Districts to qualify for additional state funds, and by offering additional state income per penny tax.

Any change in the school taxing rate can cause taxpayers higher taxes in two ways. A change in the taxing rate can cause higher taxes and a change in the property valuation the tax rate is based on can cause higher taxes again. An example of how this has affected a certain property in the City of Muenster is offered.

In 1988 the property had an appraised value of $10,560.00 with a school tax rate of 61.2 cents per $100 valuation. By 1992 the appraised value was raised upward to $25,060.00 (there were no new improvements). If the school taxing rate had stayed the same during that time higher taxes were still due because the appraised value was raised, but what in fact happened was the school taxing rate also increase (to 91 cents per $100 valuation) which caused additional taxes both ways.

The "Robin Hood" school amendment claims to be a Fair Share Plan by taking from the rich and giving to the poor, but in fact it will raise the ceiling on local property taxes again, and force local school districts to raise local taxes for needed funds.

Let's send the Legislatures back to Austin to give us an amendment we can have confidence in.

Angelo Nasche
P. O. Box 427
Muenster, TX 76252

Presently, school taxes come from an ad valorem property tax levied by independent school districts. The funds raised through this tax stay in the district where the money was raised. State law puts a ceiling on this tax rate of $1.50 for each $100 of property value. The Robin Hood amendment allows the legislature to create a new County Education District which could add an additional property tax up to $1 per $100 valuation, thus bringing the possible school taxes up to $2.50 per $100 of property value. This represents a potential 67 percent increase in property taxes. Governor Richards and some legislators have assured voters they would keep the secondary tax within the original $1.50 tax cap, but legislative counsel and counsel for the Texas Education Agency have each confirmed that the Robin Hood amendment would allow for a separate taxing entity which would have the right to levy a tax up to $1 per $100 of value regardless of the local tax rate. Essentially, Texans are being asked to give the state the right to raise taxes without a vote of the people on the promise that the state won't exercise that right...

Who do they think they are kidding!!!!!! Look at what your property taxes were for 1992 and see what they could be and then VOTE NO TO ROBIN HOOD!

Debbie Hess
Rt. 2, Box 608
Muenster, TX 76252

Dear Editor:

I just finished reading my Concerned Women for America of Southeast Texas (March 1993) and was really upset to find out how much our property taxes could go up should the Robin Hood Plan win on May 1. I would like to share what I read with all your readers and hope that everyone is as tired of our State Legislature trying to pass the buck off on us property owners as I am. We all know from our Public School that money is not the answer, for they do a good job for far less money than many of the schools that have filed the lawsuit that started all this! Here is what I read.

The May 1 ballot gives Texans the opportunity to tell our governor and legislature that we will not be blackmailed into a potential 67 percent increase in property taxes. Texans are being told the public schools will close if Texans do not pass the so-called "Robin Hood" plan which would make a state property tax legal. State District Judge Scott McCown, who has jurisdiction over the issue, has stated that schools would close only if the Legislature failed to adopt another acceptable plan by June 30. (In June of 1987, the Legislature convened at 11:00 a.m. on a Tuesday, passed five major tort reform bills, and adjourned at 11:17 a.m. on Wednesday.) There are a number of possible solutions to the school finance problem which would not remove our constitutional right to vote on new taxes. The most obvious solution to the problem is simply to dedicate the lottery money to education as was discussed during the lottery debates. Although Texans were assured that if they passed a state lottery the proceeds would be used for education, the lottery funds are being put into the general fund. The after expense revenue from the state lottery for 1993 is expected to be $492 million. The education shortfall is $400 million. Another approach which would not require any additional taxes would be to enact an educational voucher which would allow funds to follow the student. The state budget is expected to grow $4 billion from growth in the economy. The legislature could dedicate 10 percent of this increase to education.

Assumptions

by Dave Fette

I'm going to make some assumptions and hope to God I'm right and we don't get seriously embarrassed next weekend ... since Muenster has a reputation for being such a clean, pleasant, even beautiful community. Remember way - back - when we got an award - and money - from Keep Texas Beautiful?

I assume that the majority of us still want Muenster to be beautiful so we are planning to do our share, or more than our share, of picking up, cleaning, sweeping, cutting, trimming, painting and planting in the next few days.

I assume that none of us are so stubborn or filled with evil rotten contempt that we would refuse to lend a hand for a little while or pick up one sack of trash because it's not ours.

I assume we're proud of our whole town ... not just our own front door. I assume we ARE proud of our own front door.

I assume that no one would be such a ----- that they would quickly litter an area after the Boy Scouts or other outstanding people clean up the ----- that those ----- threw out in the first place.

You don't need a big organized campaign or a half a day of time. Just go find a visible problem and fix what you can of that problem.... please. Don't let the negligence of a few make an ASS of U and ME.

CANDIDATES

Gerald Hess: Yes, I have considered how much time this may take and I am willing and able to do the best job that I can.

Margie Starke: Yes, I am aware of the time it takes to sit on the MMH Board. I know how much time it has taken in the last three years and it will probably take even more time in the future, as we strive to implement more services.

4. What are some positive changes that you would like to see at MMH and how would you achieve them?

Sam Endres: Spread the word about our great community asset. Encourage people in our community to use our hospital and local doctors.

Stan Endres: I can't recommend any changes because I am not positive of how the hospital operates now. By working with the current administrator and other board members, I'm sure the right ideas and the correct changes can be made. I will always be open for suggestions and opinions from members of the community.

Al Felderhoff: I would not make changes of what we are doing as of this time, which is to continue to recruit doctors. We have a lead on several qualified physicians that seem very positive at this time. Our present doctors are doing a good job and so are our dedicated staff and employees, but some are at retirement age. We have to continue recruiting, and our Administrator Jack Endres has a good handle on it.

Sharon Felderhoff: I would like to see more of our local citizens utilizing our hospital. I believe a more aggressive approach in educating our public about the services available at our hospital is important. There are a number of media available to this objective. Of course, it is essential that we recruit more physicians to provide services for our clientele. We are constantly trying to achieve this objective and there are a number of encouraging prospects. I would encourage any citizen who has any contacts or knows of any physician that might be available to contact a board member or our administrator. That is exactly how Dr. McBride was recruited, after receiving a tip from a local citizen. Hiring a full-time administrator was a needed step in achieving positive changes at MMH. Jack Endres has done a good job of concentrating on the task at hand and addressing the issues.

Gerald Hess: Some of the positive changes I would like to achieve are: I think it is quite obvious that we need more doctors to up the hospital usage in Muenster. I believe we need to

WHEREAS, County government is the oldest form of local government in the United States and 98 percent of the nation's population reside in counties; and

WHEREAS, County government in Texas has been a major partner in providing services to citizens since the early days of the Republic and today the 254 counties of this state are involved in providing dozens of services to their citizens; and

WHEREAS, Serving as an elected or appointed county official today requires dedication, hard work, and a strong sense of purpose; the mission of Texas county government is to meet the needs of our citizens without placing an undue burden on local taxpayers and to find solution that are of benefit to all Texans; now therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the Commissioners Court of Cooke County, of the State of Texas, hereby proclaims April 17-24, 1993, County Government Week and urges all citizens to be more involved in and aware of issues affecting county government.

advertise our hospital and our doctors. I also believe we need to promote the caring people that are connected to the hospital and this community.

Margie Starke: One or two ICU units would be most beneficial, but to implement this will take additional funds which are hard to come by at the present utilization of the hospital.

5. A hospital tax could be considered in the future. Would you support this? (Please explain why or why not and list any special comments).

Sam Endres: Tax money cannot be used to operate the hospital; however, if a capital expenditure is required to improve our hospital, I would be in favor of a special tax of limited duration.

Stan Endres: It depends on what type of tax it would be. Property and sales taxes are already too high. Some other type of tax I would be open to. Possibly a utility tax on all water or phone hook-ups.

Al Felderhoff: As a last resort, I would probably support a tax, but only then after visiting with the District's voters to get their input.

Sharon Felderhoff: A hospital tax may be on the horizon if we are to continue to keep MMH operational. A tax will only be considered as a last option and I will only support such a tax if the members of the hospital district give a clear indication that they will support such a tax in order to keep MMH open.

Gerald Hess: If a hospital tax is considered in the future, I would have to say at this time, I am against any taxes. That is one of the reasons I am running. Let us see if we can not get this problem turned around first before we start talking taxes.

Margie Starke: I would be for a hospital tax only if the proper services are in place to make our goals more attainable.

6. What do you see as MMH's biggest problem at this time?

Sam Endres: Image and lack of continuity with new doctors.

Stan Endres: Not enough patients. But you have to have good high quality doctors to get the necessary patients.

Al Felderhoff: A low patient census.

Sharon Felderhoff: It is obvious that the greatest problem facing MMH is lack of adequate revenue. If we can successfully recruit physicians and achieve greater utilization by the local and surrounding communities, we will be able to bring our institution back into the black.

Gerald Hess: MMH's biggest problem at this time is that we need more doctors and use of our hospital and its facilities.

Margie Starke: Education of the public of the services available, and the local community not using the services that are offered.

7. What do you think is the solution?

Sam Endres: Provide good doctors and encourage community's use of them.

Stan Endres: A total commitment from the entire community. We have to attract new doctors by financial offers and then by opening our entire community family to them. The doctors have to be made to feel to be a part of the community. But they must want to be also. I have nothing but praise to say about our current doctors but there is only so much they can do.

Al Felderhoff: We must use our local facilities as much as possible, this would help as much as anything and spread the word about what a fine hospital and dedicated staff we have.

Sharon Felderhoff: The solution is generate greater revenue by getting more of the people in this area to use our facility and by providing more services to those same patients. Continued advertisements and word-of-mouth should help to accomplish this goal. Effective and purposeful advertising must target our potential patients and convince them that having their medical needs met in the comfort of their own community is to their own advantage. We are now able to offer many services to our local citizens. And, if current recruitment efforts are successful, we will be able to offer even more services to the citizens of our hospital district. It is imperative that people realize that they must use our hospital, in order for it to be available for them in an emergency. Many people are already aware of the fact that they can have most of their lab work done here as well as X-rays, mammograms, and stress tests. We now have another general surgeon available for common surgical procedures. I would encourage anyone with any medical concern to check with our available physicians and hospital to see, if MMH can meet their needs.

Gerald Hess: The solution is that when we get them here, we need to work with them and make them feel welcome. We should help them make this their home and community so that they will want to stay and raise their children here.

Margie Starke: A strong publicity campaign. Encourage the community to use our local hospital and its services.

8. In what manner will you decide how to vote on major

Chamber discusses 'Fest finances, encourages local hospital support

Germanfest was the main item at Tuesday's Chamber of Commerce meeting at The Center. While all regular aspects of the annual festival are proceeding on or near schedule, discussion centered around the proposal of publishing a full accounting of incomes and costs soon after Germanfest. Several members stated their view that a complete listing of payments made and received by individual group or business or item was the best way for people to get an appreciation for the benefits and costs associated with the 'Fest.

Gary Fisher appealed to Chamber members and the whole community to take the time to help with clean-up so Muenster will look its best for next week's Germanfest visitors.

Margie Starke introduced three representatives from the Denton Regional Medical Center Home Care branch. Administrator Gena Waggoner, Associate Administrator Steve Ciulla and Gainesville Branch Manager Judy Lloyd, R.N., were at the meeting to get acquainted.

Peggy Grewing spoke in support of the Hospital Open House scheduled for Sunday. "The value of, and need for, our wonderful hospital and staff is tremendously important," she said. "Please come and show your support." Hospital Administrator Jack Endres emphasized not only the medical value but the business value. "If our hospital closed, it would mean a $1.7 million negative impact on our community," he said.

The meeting adjourned at 1 p.m.

Registration required for SH students after all Masses this weekend

Parents of students planning to attend Sacred Heart School for the '93-'94 school year need to register their children after one of the Saturday or Sunday Masses this weekend. Registration will be held in Sacred Heart High School.

Sacred Heart School board members will be on hand to explain the registration procedure and answer questions. This will be an excellent opportunity for parents to ask questions that they might have about the school. Registration packets will be distributed at that time.

LHS honors seniors at prom

by Brandi Masten and Dawn Sandmann

Lindsay High School held its 1992-93 prom Saturday, April 3, in the new parish hall, beginning at 7 p.m. This year's theme was a combination of "Welcome to the Jungle" and "City Knights."

Dinner was served around 8 p.m., then the seniors started their ceremonies. First, came the slides of each senior when they were babies along with the "parade of seniors."

After the seniors read their prophecies, Gina Baugh read a poem to the seniors from the junior class. Sara Flusche offered the benediction, then the dance began.

Seniors only began the dance, followed by the juniors. Next was the seniors/parents dance, and then the juniors/parents claimed the floor.

Despite the rainy weather, everybody had a great time and danced until midnight.

issues? (Study the issue, vote with the majority, vote for what you want, vote for what most of the residents of the hospital district want).

Sam Endres: Study the issue and vote for what I want.

Stan Endres: If elected, you have to do what the majority of the voters want. Without having another election, you never know for sure what the majority wants. I would study any issue and make up my mind and do what I think would be best for the hospital and the community.

Al Felderhoff: Study the issue, vote my conviction.

Sharon Felderhoff: If elected, I will continue to vote in the same manner. I will study the issue and the pros and cons of the solutions available. I have always asked for opinions from residents of the hospital district, if time permits. If a decision must be made at a meeting, I will base my decision on facts available to board members and, in consideration of what is best for MMH. Long-term ramifications as well as short-term consequences must be considered.

Gerald Hess: I would study the issues, vote my conscience and hopefully it would be what most of the residents of the hospital district want. I would look at all the expenses and try to make reasonable and justifiable decisions.

Margie Starke: I will vote for what most of the residents of the hospital district want after studying the issue.

9. Any additional comments that you would like to make?

Sam Endres: Regardless of who is in charge of the hospital's direction, there can only be success if the hospital has support of the community. Vote in this election to help the hospital and vote with your support of the hospital.

Stan Endres: I am not a miracle worker and I don't make any promises. If I am elected, I will do whatever I think is best for Muenster and the hospital.

Sharon Felderhoff: I made the decision to run for re-election on the MMH Board of Directors after lengthy and careful consideration. Being an active board member requires a certain commitment of time and effort. If elected, I will continue to work diligently for the success of MMH. I will be available for special called meetings as well as regular sessions. I believe that my experience will help me to be an effective member. We need to explore any potential revenue generating services that MMH can provide to the citizens of our district. We must continue to try and recruit competent and dedicated physicians to enhance our hospital. I appreciate the privilege of having served the citizens of the Muenster Hospital District and would like to continue to do so.

Easter Vigil distinguished by three new members of Sacred Heart Church

The Easter Vigil service at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, April 10, in Sacred Heart Church was very special for three individuals who joined the Catholic Church. Celebrating the Resurrection of Jesus, the vigil is the traditional time for adults to receive the Sacraments of Initiation, after a yearlong process of preparation. Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, presided at the liturgy and Father Camillus Cooney, OSB, concelebrated. After the homily by Father Victor, Theron Smith was presented for Baptism by his sponsor and godparent, Tony Luke. Following the singing of the litany of the saints by the choir, and blessing of Easter Water, Smith recited his baptismal promises and was baptized by Father Victor and received the traditional white baptismal robe and a lighted candle. Two other candidates, Kevin Reeves and Melissa O'Brien, who had been baptized previously, then came forward with their sponsors, Sam Sparkman and Melissa Miller. After renewal of baptismal promises and profession of faith, all three received the Sacrament of Confirmation, with the laying on of hands and the anointing.

The three were privileged to present Offertory gifts at the altar and, at Communion time, received the Eucharist for the first time, accompanied by their sponsors and family members.

The three and their families joined Father Victor and Father Camillus in the recessional and were greeted at the church doors by all present. A reception followed in the cafeteria of the Community Center.

Worship music for the entire service was led by a mixed choir of 33 voices, directed by Pam Fette, accompanied by instrumentalists on piano, organ, trumpet, guitars and keyboard at suitable intervals.

Principal selections were "Exulted," "All Shall Be Well," "I Am the Bread of Life," "Be Exalted," "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today" and the "Grand Alleluia."

Cooke County Firefighters meet

Cooke County Fire Fighters Association met on March 15 at the Gun Club in Lindsay. Herbert Knabe reported on a letter from Cooke County Judge Ray Russell about putting street addresses in rural Cooke County.

Walter Lutkenhaus inquired about the funding of the Cooke County Commissioners, and what appropriation will be held back for the Cooke County Fire Fighters Association. The fund appropriation will be tabled until next meeting and that all departments should have a voting delegate at the next meeting to vote on this matter.

Knabe discussed importance of Call-in Codes: 1076-In Route; 1023-Arrived at Scene; 108-In Service. The importance of using these codes is to insure there is no double coverage and no confusion with the dispatchers and that all departments should always use them.

The following members were present: Walter Lutkenhaus, L.J. Hermes, Doug Schmitz, Frank M. Natonick, Jim Koelzer, Gene Baugh, Robert Richey, Harold Owen, Joe Walterscheid, Sally Switzer, C.A. Sherrill, Milton Knauf and Herbert Knabe.

The next meeting is scheduled for April 19 at 7 p.m. at the Muenster Fire Department. A film will be shown.

BSP to hold auditions

Butterfield Stage announces auditions for their musical season finale, A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum, on Monday and Tuesday, April 19 and 20, at 7 p.m. at the theatre, 201 S. Denton. Parts are available for nine men and eight women of various ages.

This Stephen Sondheim musical melds the hilarious illogicalities of Latin comedy with the zany nonsense of vaudeville. Deliciously unsavory characters, a befuddled father with a shrewish wife, neighbors, strangers and the Roman army are all drawn into the mounting confusion as the comedy unwinds.

Performances of A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum are slated for May 27, 28, 29, 30, June 3, 4, 5, 6, 10, 11, 12 and 13. All wishing to audition or serve as backstage personnel are encouraged to attend the auditions. For more information, call 665-8152.

Suzie Humphreys to speak at CCC support staff workshop

"Life is what happens to you when you're making other plans" will be the message brought by radio personality Suzie Humphreys to area secretaries and office support personnel April 22. Humphreys' presentation is part of Cooke County College's annual support staff workshop.

With Secretaries' Week beginning April 19, the workshop would be a great gift to secretaries or other office support personnel for a job well done, says Linda Mast, CCC dean of Continuing Education. Administrative assistants, clerical workers, bookkeepers and other office support persons are invited to attend the workshop, titled "You're in Charge of Your Own Destiny."

Humphreys, the featured speaker, describes herself as an unpredictable suburban career woman, wife and mother who, for the past 15 years, lends humor and a slice of life to Ron Chapman's Morning Show on KVIL Radio, Dallas. She is also author of the book, "Please Pick Up After Yourself, Your Mother Doesn't Work Here."

During her presentation, Humphreys emphasizes the message that change usually is followed by something positive. Her philosophy is, "It's not what happens to you in life that matters ... rather how you look at it," she says. Her career has spanned the boundaries from administrative secretary to television talk shows.

"The workshop should be very humorous and entertaining, plus provide a wealth of information for today's office professional," said Janet Mitchell, president of the CCC Support Staff Association (CCSSA).

Registration and a "get-acquainted" session begin at 11:45 a.m. Following lunch at noon, afternoon activities are scheduled from 1 to 3:30 p.m., including entertainment by local actress Sue Viktor and actress/comedienne Ann Norcross.

Space is limited, and interested persons are urged to register for the workshop as soon as possible by contacting the Continuing Education office at 817-668-7731, Ext. 272.

Deadline for registration is April 20 and cost is $20 per person, including lunch, refreshments and registration to win door prizes. CCC students may register for $8 with a college ID card.

The workshop is sponsored by the CCCSSA and CCC Divisions of Business Studies and Continuing Education.

CHARLENE TRACY "PEACHY" SWITZER of Myra and Joe Dustin Broughton of Ardmore will be married on May 22, 1993 at 4 p.m. in the home of the groom's parents, with Rev. The future-groom is the son of Dee and Joe Broughton of Ardmore. Peachy is a 1988 graduate of Muenster High School and is attending Cooke County College. She is employed at Weber Aircraft in Gainesville. Broughton is a 1986 graduate of Ardmore High School, attended Murray State College in Tishomingo, Oklahoma and is employed by Oklahoma Vista Fire Sprinkler Systems in Oklahoma City, and is a rodeo announcer. Attendants will be Meredith Smith of Lubbock as matron of honor; and bridesmaids Krissa Coker of Gainesville, Lisa McCollum of Madill, Oklahoma, Shelly Von Ree of Saint Jo and Margaret Broughton of Norman, Oklahoma. Also Kevin "Rowdy" Lindesmith of Waurika, Oklahoma as best man; and groomsmen Dane Coker of Gainesville, Bobby Don Stallings of Sulphur, Oklahoma, Charlie Switzer of Myra and Kenny Meder of Oklahoma City.

W.H.O. program featured at March SH Preschool meeting

Carol Chance from Cooke County Friends of the Family presented the W.H.O. Program, "We Help Ourselves," at the March 22 meeting of the Sacred Heart Preschool Parent Group. She spoke on the topics of child abuse, date abuse, strangers, "What If" situations, My OK List, and Hurts, Good and Bad Touches.

A video was shown featuring "Mrs. Jay" who speaks directly to the kids about touching and hitting. Good touches should make the children feel good inside. Bad touches make them feel sad inside. Mrs. Chance stressed to parents that when a child reports a bad touch or hit to you the best thing to do is LISTEN.

Business meeting: the parents discussed the addition to the Preschool, improving the children's playground, the magazine drive, and the Artfest set for Tuesday, April 20.

Monday, April 26 at 7 p.m. is date and time of the next meeting.

Special events planned for Week of the Young Child

THE ENGAGEMENT and approaching marriage of Jennifer Carroll of Muenster and Spencer Reamy of Commerce has been announced by parents of the bride-elect, Herman and Gwen Carroll. Parents of the future-groom are Jack and Jane Reamy of Cincinnati, Ohio. The wedding will be held on May 22, 1993 in First Baptist Church of Muenster, with Rev. Andy Cherry officiating at 3 p.m. The bride-elect is a graduate of Muenster High School and is attending East Texas State University, majoring in Mathematics. Reamy is a graduate of Muleshoe High School and will graduate in May with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Design from ETSU in Commerce. The couple will reside in Greenville, Texas.

The week of April 18 to 24 has been designated by the National Association for the Education of Young Children as The Week of the Young Child. "Their Future in Our Hands", is the chosen theme and will focus attention on the needs of young children, reminding people that each child's future is in their hands. Sacred Heart Preschool, kindergarten and first grade will observe the week with many special events. Parents are invited to participate throughout the week of celebration. On Monday an opening Mass has been planned by the first grade with preschool students participating. At 11:15 preschool parents and grandparents are invited to share a sack lunch with students in the Preschool backyard.

An Artfest is scheduled for Tuesday at the Sacred Heart Parish Pavilion. This is an afternoon of arts and crafts planned by the seventh and eighth grade classes under the supervision of Dorothy Bengfort. It is sponsored by the Preschool Parent Group. All Sacred Heart elementary students are invited to attend. Each project and snack cost a quarter. The first grade will also tour the Muenster Telephone Company. A field trip to see "Beauty and the Beast" in Wichita Falls will highlight Wednesday for the kindergarten class. On the trip home they will also stop at Whitecotton's Greenhouse for a special tour. Preschool students are invited to bring their teddy bears for a Teddy Bear Tea Party on Wednesday.

On Thursday the first grade will tour Muenster City Hall; kindergarten will have a special Hat Day; and the preschool children will plant flowers. Friday is the day for the kindergarten Mass and renewal of Baptismal vows. Preschool will make a tour of the Muenster Post Office.

Meeting Notice

AARP members are notified of a regular meeting on Friday, April 16, at 11:30 a.m. with a covered dish luncheon, followed by a program. Judy and Gene Kaye and their performing dogs will be featured during the program.

TLC students have busy March

March was a very busy month for the children at Tender Loving Care Day Care Center.

The month began with a 10-day unit on dinosaurs. The children studied different types of dinosaurs: plant eaters, those covered with armor, meat eaters and flying dinosaurs. Many parents brought in fossils for the children to observe and Nancy Endres showed them how to make an erupting volcano.

The children made numerous art projects and, on the last day of the unit, they had a dinosaur party complete with dinosaur hats, stegosaurus sippers to drink, dinosaur dirt to eat, and a dinosaur puppet show given by Wanda Flusche and Nancy Endres.

Then came the circus and the clowns. The children studied circus life and all the different circus animals. On Clown Day, all the children and staff came dressed as clowns. To add a special touch, Dianne Walterscheid painted everyone with different types of clown faces and circus animals. To end the week, the Care Bear Class presented a circus complete with lions, tigers, leopards, elephants and clowns in their costumes made by the students. After the circus, the children were served homemade ice cream made by Muenster Public School's Pre-K class.

The month ended with a unit on Zoo Animals and a trip to the Gainesville Zoo and lunch at McDonald's for all the children, with the help of Margie York and Dianne Walterscheid, who helped by driving and supervising a group of children.

Each unit is planned and coordinated by the staff at the day care and Amanda Gibson, Pre-K teacher, with activities pertaining to each unit in the learning center.

 This summer, the Texas 4-H Center in Brownwood is offering two great opportunities to help 4-H'ers develop life skills and gain a better understanding of themselves and others. The basic goal of SPECTRA and PRIME TIME will be to improve leadership skills, enhance 4-H project work, and build self-esteem and a better self-image. PRIME TIME focuses on the younger 4-H'ers from the ages of 9 to 13. Each day of this 4-day event is action-packed with fun and adventure with new friends from all over Texas. Some of the activities that are offered at PRIME TIME include swimming, canoeing, shooting sports, new games and initiatives, crafts, outdoor cookery, recreation and parties. The total cost of PRIME TIME is $69, which includes all meals, lodging, refreshments, and limited accident insurance coverage. There are four PRIME TIME opportunities, the first beginning on July 18, the second on July 21, the third on July 25 and the fourth on July 28.

SPECTRA will inform, educate, excite and thrill the older 4-H'ers, 14 years to 18 years, in many ways. There will be some sensational activities and parties waiting to make 4-H'ers' experience at SPECTRA one to remember. Each night, a special event will be featured and costumes are encouraged to go along with themes such as "Bring in the Clowns," "Backward's Glimpse," and "Cartoon Capers" just to name a few. Along with all this fun, there is still more. 4-H'ers also get to choose from 10 project areas on what they want to do. Some of these are consumer life skills, field and streams, recreation, canoeing and sailing, computers, and so many more! SPECTRA costs $130 for the week's stay at the Texas 4-H Center. This includes all meals, lodging, refreshments, and limited accident insurance coverage. SPECTRA will take place Aug. 1-6.

For more information about PRIME TIME or SPECTRA, call the County Extension Office at 668-5412.

German Fun Run sets new course for more improved traffic control

by Janet Felderhoff
 Participants in the 1993 German Fun Run will get to try out another new course. After trying a route south of Muenster last year that didn't work as well as anticipated, Fun Run sponsors are going north again.

There will be a 5 K and 15 K race. Both start at the same time, Sunday, April 25 at 2 p.m., on Main Street. The 5 K race is strictly for fun, but many trophies will be awarded. Trophies go to the first five men and the first five women to finish. An additional 10 "pot luck" trophies will be given to the 5 K runners who finish 100th, 200th, etc. up to 1,000th.

Last year's winner on the seven mile course was Keith Johnson, 30, of Carrollton. He was followed by Ernest Caballero, 26, of Dallas.

Denise Schwab of Knoxville was the first female to finish the seven mile run. The oldest female to run the course was 64 year old Jan Richards of Arlington. Youngest female runner was a tie between 13 year old girls, Lauren Hale of Bells and Emily Jamison.

Two 73 year old men tied for first as oldest male runners completing the seven mile run. Sean Petty, age 10, of Arlington was youngest male.

This year the runners will head north on Main Street following FM 373 to the second four corners where they take a right (east) leaving pavement for an approximate two-mile stretch of gravel roads that eventually curve south. The runners will be traveling south past the Precinct 4 barn, down Mesquite Street, turning right

Ben Bindel, event organizer, noted that he expects an even larger number of runners to take part this year. Those registering for the German Fun Run receive a complimentary tank top (first 2500), two free passes to the Germanfest grounds, two Bier Garten passes, and two souvenir beer steins. The German Fun Run Bier Garten is located south of the Germanfest grounds.

"The new course will provide more paved roads to run on and the traffic should be easier to control," said Bindel.

Denning family selected as hosts for AISE student

Ronnie and Cindy Denning of Rosston will welcome a new "daughter" in August 1993 - Ursina Dözn, an American Intercultural Student Exchange participant from Switzerland. Ursina, who will be a senior student at Era High School, will live with the Denning family for an academic year.

As a member of the Denning family, Ursina will participate in all family activities, from vacations to household chores. While sharing the culture of Switzerland with her host family and classmates, she will also learn about U.S. culture.

AISE was established in 1981 and is currently one of the three largest exchange organizations operating in the United States. AISE is a non-profit organization founded with the belief that international student exchange makes a vital contribution to human understanding between countries and cultures.

AISE is currently seeking families who would be interested in sharing their homes and lives with a foreign student from Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Germany, France, Monaco, Switzerland, Holland, Austria, Italy, Spain, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Turkey, Brazil, Ecuador, Columbia, Peru, South Korea, Thailand, Japan, Australia and New Zealand.

More information about hosting an AISE student is available by calling toll-free 1-800-SIBLING or by contacting Ronnie and Cindy Denning, area representatives, at 817-768-2247.

A MIGRATION of 50-60 North American hawks took a break last Friday one mile east of Muenster. Hawks seldom gather in groups of 3 or more except during migration periods. The birds travel by day, flying about 45 mph, riding invisible towers of warm rising air above the sun-heated ground. The female hawk is usually larger, stronger and bolder than the male. The group moved on Saturday morning. Janie Hartman Photo

Farm & Ranch

Why we do not need means testing for farm programs

By Larry Mitchell

Part of President Bill Clinton's original proposal for budget cuts at USDA would require that anyone earning over $100,000 in off-farm income be ineligible for farm programs. To many, this might sound like a great idea at first, but further review discloses several real problems with the proposal. I offer a few talking points to support my claim.

Let us start with a discussion of why we even have farm programs. There are those who declare that farm programs are welfare programs. That declaration is correct. Federal farm programs are designed for the welfare of the entire nation, not farmers. They were enacted to smooth out farmers' boom and bust cycles to insure that U.S. consumers always have available a nutritious, varied, affordable supply of food and fiber produced by widely-dispersed, environmentally-sensitive, highly-competitive family farmers. To eliminate the larger producer from the programs would undermine this very fundamental function of the programs.

Another point which should be discussed is how farm programs impact the ecology. Acreage set-aside requirements and conservation compliance requirements are some of the most effective policy tools available to the government (and to farmers) to reduce soil erosion and groundwater pollution. By eliminating the big producers from the programs, we also eliminate them from these regulations.

Implementation is yet another problem with the proposal. At the local level, the county ASCS office, most decisions are made or influenced by a committee of local producers elected to serve in that capacity by the rest of the producers in that county. The county committee system is the most democratic system available, is written in permanent law and should continue. To implement the means test, producers would be required to submit income tax returns to their committee. We would then have a situation where individuals on the committee would have access to privileged, private information on other farmers in their area. Although the individuals involved may or may not be the best of friends, they are none the less competitors in the same business. The implementation would threaten all producers, the large and the small.

The last point on this issue is that we should enact farm policy which would eliminate the need to pay subsidies to all producers, large and small. We need a policy that allows farmers to receive a fair price from the market place and relieves the taxpayers of America from the burden of paying subsidies. We need adequate support rates for all commodities.

Tax Talk

By: Duane Knabe, CPA

Duane Knabe will discuss a different topic each week. Any questions should be directed to him at 759-4010.

This week's topic is the Super IRA, which calls for full deductibility of IRA contributions for most taxpayers and penalty-free withdrawals for first-time home purchases, educational expenses, and medical costs. On October 8, 1992, this bill was passed by Congress, but was vetoed by President Bush. Congress which had already adjourned for the November elections, had no chance to override the President's veto.

Hopes remain high, however, that the Super IRA proposal will yet pass into law-even as early as this year. In fact, some legislators are confident of the bill's passage, pointing to the fact that President Clinton's new treasury secretary, Lloyd Bentsen, has been one of the Super IRA's strongest proponents.

When buying fertilizer . . . Get your money worth

By WILLIAM S. SULLINS

"Buyer, beware" might be the appropriate advice for farmers as they begin lining up their fertilizer this spring, especially when they plan to buy from a new supplier.

"Know what you're getting, and the price you're paying for it," says David Whitney, a soil fertility specialist at Kansas State University.

Whitney reminds producers of one basic fact: all fertilizer, regardless of kind or amount sold, must guarantee the nutrient content as percent total nitrogen (N), percent available phosphate (P20s), and percent soluble potash (K20), in that order. Knowing that is helpful for the farmer, who today can buy different types and grades of fertilizer and who can also buy fertilizer by the gallon as well as by the ton. Unless he's careful, a producer could pay too much for fertilizer and also apply too little, which could reduce crop yields.

Whitney cites a recent claim to illustrate his point. A supplier is offering a product that, applied at a few gallons per acre, is said to equal the amount of potash a farmer would need who normally applies 40 to 60 pounds of potash per acre. The farmer, in fact, would only be getting a few pounds of potash, says Whitney.

To clear up problems that can exist when considering different types or grades of fertilizer, a producer should figure costs on a "per pound of nutrient supplied basis."

Here's how that will help, according to Whitney:

A gallon of 10-20-S grade liquid fertilizer weighs 11 pounds, which means it contains 1.1 pounds of nitrogen, 2.2 pounds of phosphate and 0.6 pounds of potash, or 3.9 pounds of total nutrients. If the price of this material is $3.90 per gallon, which is in the range of some advertised prices, the buyer is paying $1 for each pound of nutrient. If a local dealer offers a similar grade liquid 7-21-7, which means 700 pounds of nutrients per ton, and the cost is $175 per ton, the cost to the producer is only 25 cents per pound of nutrient.

Whitney says it will also pay farmers to remember another important fact about fertilizers: regardless of the fertilizer source, nutrient availability from any fertilizer is essentially controlled by soil reactions, the amount applied and the method of application. Research shows no difference in phosphorus fertilizer sources (liquid vs. dry or ortho vs. poly) when applied at the same rate of phosphate and using the same method of application. Plant absorption of nutrients is in a specific "ion" form for each nutrient and these ions do move into the roots linked together. Thus, specific fertilizer ratio products are not necessarily more beneficial.

My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

It seems that each United States president would like to be known as a particular champion of some cause. Linden B. Johnson favored the "Great Society;" Mr. Bush wants to be remembered as the "Education President."

There is little doubt, after the first 75 days of Mr. Clinton's presidency, what he has in mind. He will likely be remembered as the "Abortion President." In the last few weeks, he has expressed himself as wanting to furnish abortions, at taxpayers' expense, to those who could not afford them, and a few days later, he says he wants to make the operations available to the poor of some foreign lands, again at taxpayers' expense.

Personally, I am almost 100% against abortions but, for quite some time, I have believed that those that want them will have them, and there is little I can do about that, but I am 100% against the taxpayers footing the bill.

If Mr. Clinton wishes to cut spending, even he should realize one can't save money by finding new ways to spend more.

On the late news on TV, Clinton seemed near tears, pointing at the children hunting Easter eggs and, in an effort to bring shame on the Republicans for holding up his spending program, claimed they were keeping the little ones from receiving the protection of vaccines he wishes to be made available to them.

So, on the one hand, he wants to save the kids and, on the other, deny their existence.

The cost of the vaccines in question would only be a drop in the bucket, when considering the entire cost of the proposed spending program, that some of our representatives are trying to make changes in.
