School bells will ring Monday for Sacred Heart students

by Janet Felderhoff

Summer vacation will officially end Monday, August 23 at 7:50 a.m. for students of Sacred Heart School. Already the school calendar is filled with a wide array of activities which should provide every child an opportunity to participate in a variety of events.

Several new names have been added to the staff, including two who have past teaching associations with Sacred Heart. Sister Cabrini Arami, O.S.B., a former teacher and principal, and Terry DeGarmo, a former teacher, have rejoined the staff. Linda Moore and Father Frowin Schoech are the most recent additions to the teaching staff.

Sister Cabrini will teach high school math and sophomore religion. She succeeds Rita O'Brien who decided to pursue a career at a college level.

Terry DeGarmo accepted the position of fourth grade teacher. She replaces Anna Hermes who retired this year. Mrs. DeGarmo taught at Sacred Heart from August 1981 to June 1984. She is certified in elementary education and elementary and high school music. Her degrees were earned at University of Texas at El Paso and North Texas.

Sacred Heart Parish's new associate pastor, Father Frowin Schoech, will be teaching a course called the Science of Human Behavior. It will be taught in high school and is a combination of psychology and sociology. Fr. Frowin studied philosophy and theology for four years at Subiaco College, spent three summers at the Catholic University studying religious education and economics; earned a Masters degree in Sociology from SMU and a Masters degree in Guidance and Counsel from SMU.

Linda Moore is the new business teacher. Sharon Waller resigned the position during the summer when her husband accepted a job in another community. Mrs. Moore has academic training in both newsletter business and science. She earned her Bachelor's degree from the University of North Texas. She has spent the past several years applying her training to the family business in Gainesville.

Two different groups have evaluated Sacred Heart in the past two years. The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools cited Sacred Heart as being a model school. The Metanonia Group reported that it found Sacred Heart to be one of the most outstanding schools in the country.

"Encouraged by these reports and by the Superintendent of the Diocese, we will embark this year on a journey to obtain the nation's highest award for schools," remarked Principal Jack Murdock. "The U. S. Department of Education annually sponsors a competition for schools that results in the Blue Ribbon award for outstanding schools. The competition is intense and it requires a lot of additional work to define and document a school's qualifications for the Blue Ribbon award. Many apply but few succeed."

The elementary school will compete for the award this year and high school next year. The following year Sacred Heart will conduct a ten year self study and evaluation for continuation of their Southern Association of College and Schools accreditation.

"That means we will be continuously evaluating and subjecting ourselves to review by outside educators for five consecutive years," said Mr. Murdock. "To survive and excel under such frequent and close examination will require additional hard work, positive support, and help from all members of our school community, parents, teachers and students. As we all work together, through the evaluation process, I think we will identify ways in which we can do an even better job for our children and the result will be even greater improvement, participation, and support."

High school students will be happy to find that two new water fountains have been installed during the summer. Grade school students will be greeted by a finished map of the United State on the playground area in front of the grade school. The large map was started by Mr. Kohler and his third grade class. It was recently painted by members of the Sacred Heart Alumni Association.

Sacred Heart's staff includes the following: Jack Murdock, Principal and Advanced Biology; Sr. Cabrini Arami, high school Math and Sophomore Religion; Patti Bayer, Chemistry and Art; Dorothea Bedowitz, high school English and Librarian; Joseph Caserta, Social Studies and Foreign Language; Fr. Frowin Schoech, Science of Human Behavior; Linda Ellender, Home Economics and Year Book Advisor; Barbara Fuhrmann, Director of Religious Education; Fr. Victor Gillespie, Senior Religion; Jon LeBrasseur, Athletic Director, P. E. and Health; Donna Maxon, Science - high school and 7th grade; Linda Moore, Business; Sr. Carmelita Myers, Librarian; John Nasche, Religion III, Computer Science, Jr. High and High Boys' Sports; Billie Yeager, Counselor; Dorothy Bengfort, 8th Grade; Sr. Mary John Seyler, 7th Grade; Sr. Monica Swirczynski, 6th Grade; Debbie Endres, 5th Grade, high school Speech and Drama; Terry DeGarmo, 4th Grade; Steve Kohler, 3rd Grade; Sr. Genevieve McConnell, 2nd Grade; Anne Poole, 1st Grade; Cindy Lee.

Renowned musician Tony Melendez to perform in Muenster on September 19

by Janet Felderhoff

On Sunday, Sept. 19 from 2 to 4 p.m. the well-known guitarist and composer, Tony Melendez, will perform in Sacred Heart Church, Muenster. Melendez gained worldwide recognition when on Sept. 15, 1987 he entertained for Pope John Paul II in Los Angeles.

The Pope was so touched by Melendez's performance that he approached him from the stage and kissed his cheek in appreciation. Melendez is unique in that he overcame a handicap to use his special musical talents. He was born without arms and has learned to play with his feet.

The performance before the Pope brought national attention to his talents. Tony Melendez then made appearances on television shows such as "The Today Show," "Good Morning America," "Gerald," "CBS This Morning," "The Late Show With Arsenio Hall," "700 Club," "Jerry Lewis Telethon," and "Robert Schuller."

Tony recorded his first album in 1989. "Never Be the Same" is a collection of contemporary Christian songs. It received nominations for Best New Artist of the Year from Cashbox Magazine and the Gospel Music Association.

Mr. Melendez's appearance in Muenster is sponsored by the Sacred Heart Parish Youth Department (JAM and JELLY), the Muenster Knight's of Columbus, and the Muenster Enterprise.

Another musician, Douglas Weisbruch of Weisbruch Ministries in Irving, will also perform that afternoon. He was a member of the National Evangelization Teams and has been involved with various concerts.

Weisbruch's purpose is to share the Gospel of Jesus Christ with songs and personal examples that try to portray the Spirit of God present with us. "My deep desire is for all people to have an experience of faith, a healing through Christ's mercy, or just a deeper understanding of Jesus' overwhelming, life-changing love for them," he said.

There will be only one local performance and seating is limited to 600. Tickets are now available at the Sacred Heart Parish business office, west door of the convent, and at the Muenster Enterprise, 117 East First, Muenster. Tickets are only $2 each, priced so that people can bring their family. Tickets can be paid for in advance and picked up at the door for the convenience of out of town people.

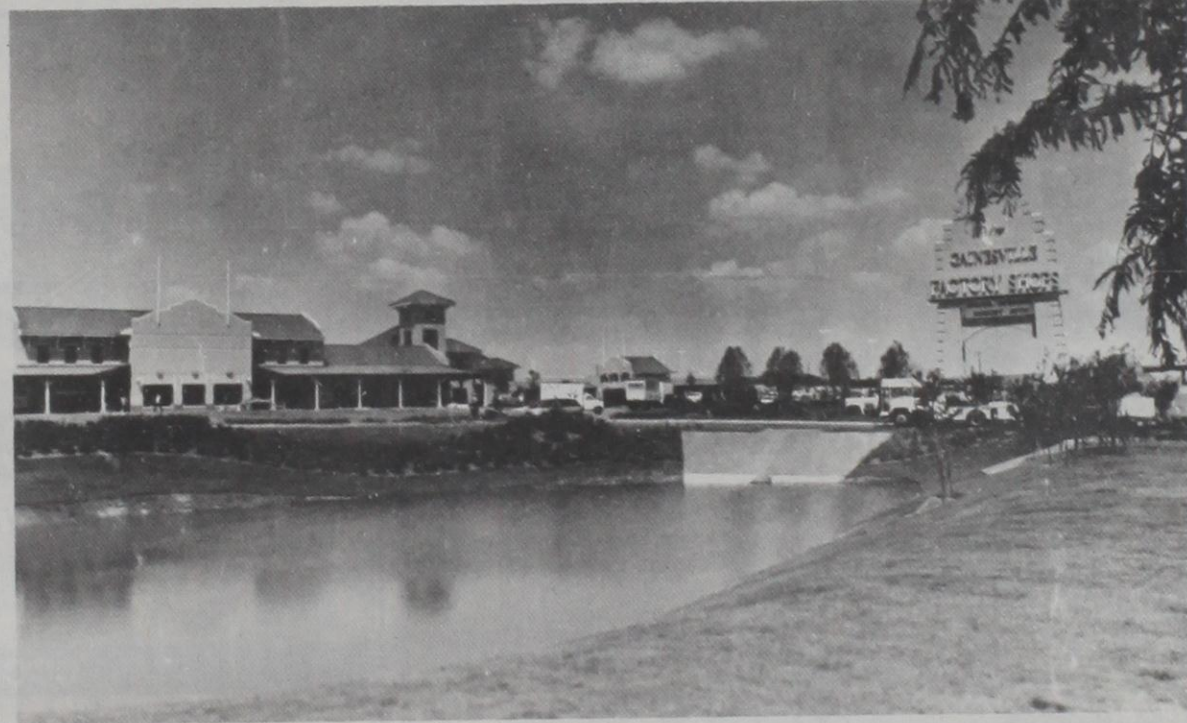

This community event is geared for the whole family and it is the objective of the Sacred Heart Youth Ministry to make this an event memorable and inspiring to all ages.

Most recently Melendez has returned from Denver, Colorado where he played last week-end during World Youth Day. This was his fourth time to perform for the Pope. The second being at the Vatican and the third in Poland.

Governor joins Factory Shop's grand opening

CALM WATERS and relaxing landscaping belie the beehive of activity as workers hurry with finishing touches at the Gainesville Factory Shops. The new outlet center opens today. Dave Fette Photo

The grand opening of Gainesville Factory Shops, the region's newest discount shopping outlet center, will begin this Friday, Aug. 20. Official ribbon-cutting ceremonies will open the 200,000 square foot center at 10 a.m. on Interstate Highway 35 just north of Gainesville, Exit 501.

Texas Governor Ann Richards leads the list of officials attending, including U.S. Representative Ralph Hall, State Senator Steven Carriker, State Representative Curtis Seidlits, Official Representatives of the Prime Group Inc., Gainesville Mayor Jim Hatcher and Cooke County Judge Ray Russell.

Entertainment is scheduled for all weekend including country western bands, magic shows and "wild west" gunfights.

Center hours are Monday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday 12 noon to 6 p.m.

Local man dies from apparent gunshot wound

A 32 year old Muenster man was found dead from an apparent gunshot wound about 8:15 a.m. Wednesday, August 18. The fatality was discovered by the man's father at the father's shop north of Muenster. The victim's name could not be released by the Sheriff's Department at press time Wednesday pending notification of all of the next of kin.

Cooke County Sheriff's Department was dispatched to the scene at 8:26 a.m. According to Lawanna Wisian, Criminal Investigator for the Sheriff's Dept., the cause of death is still under investigation. The body was sent to forensics for an autopsy.

Bayer's Kolonialwaren bought by 3rd generation

CHAS and CAROLYN BAYER, left, have sold Bayer's Kolonialwaren und Bäckerei to Cherilyn and John Pollard, right. The Pollards are the third generation in the family to own and operate the business. Janie Hartman Photo

Since August 1 Bayer's Kolonialwaren und Bäckerei is under new ownership. John and Cherilyn Pollard bought the business from her parents Chas and Carolyn Bayer. The Pollards became the third generation in the family to own and operate the thriving convenience store.

John and Cherilyn are enthusiastic about their new enterprise and have ideas and plans for the future. These should expand the business even more.

"My parents have built up the business over the years and we hope to continue in the same manner," commented Cherilyn. "We're proud of what they did with it." John added, "The quality should stay the same, we just plan to improve the selection by adding more items."

Cakes are no longer available at Bayer's Kolonialwaren und Bäckerei. All other items previously offered are still available and cake doughnuts have been added.

The convenience store (Muenster's first) was originally opened by Cherilyn's grandparents Ray and Alta Swirczynski on April 11, 1964. They called it Ray's Drive in Grocery. Located on Hwy. 82, it was just east of Muenster's city limits at that time. City boundaries have since been expanded to include the business.

The Bayers purchased the convenience store in July of 1978. Soon after the name was changed to Bayer's Kolonialwaren. This was to reflect the German theme and Muenster's German heritage. Kolonialwaren is a German word meaning something like groceries and wares.

Charles Bayer started making doughnuts to sell in the store in 1980. The following Spring he ## Reminder...

Everyone is invited to drop by The Center Sunday morning from 9 to 10:30 a.m. to meet Dr. Ted Assinas and his wife, Karen. Dr. Assinas is very interested in the possibility of establishing a practice in Muenster.

Muenster ISD faces 4% increase in budget

by Steve Cooper, MISD Superintendent

This will be the first of a two-part article explaining MISD's budget and projected tax rate for '93-94. As I've tried to communicate from "day one," we will have a tax increase this year similar to, but not as high as, the tax increase we had the first year of the County Education Districts (more on that in the next article).

MISD's Board of Trustees met in regular session on Thursday, Aug. 12. Prior to the meeting, a budget hearing was held for the '93-94 school year. An M&O budget of $1,613,000 (rounded figure) was adopted which is a 4% increase over last year's budget of $1,552,000. This figure is out to an approximate $61,000 increase. Some of the major increases are: approximately $40,000 in state-mandated raises - approximately $4500 for support staff raises (these are 3% raises) - $9900 for increase in our teacher stipend (this actually costs district about $5400 because we are able to use $4500 of our teacher compensation allotment - this was called career ladder money before SB7) - $5000 for the 15% increase in electricity and for the new facilities - other utilities $3000 - district part of employee health insurance up approximately $35000 - property insurance $2000 - $4200 administrative raises. These figures do not add up to $61,000 because cuts were made in other areas to keep the total increase to figure above. School budgets are dynamic - they are not static - they constantly grow and shrink even through the course of a year.

Some explanations: Teacher above base pay and health insurance premiums were both increased this year because our teachers are lower paid, above base, than most of the districts in the county - we've lost several teachers over the past three years because other districts were paying more. We must try to keep qualified teachers in house - when we lose them, it always creates some instability. Last year, the state required all school districts to offer their employees health insurance that was comparable to the plan the state has for their employees. Districts did not have to pay the premium although they were encouraged to do so. MISD opted to pay part of the premium last year ($15); this year, that was increased $35 in hopes of attracting and keeping qualified teachers.

Historically, if we go back four years to '89-90, we see a budget for that year of approximately $1,299,547; the '90-91 budget was $1,247,963; in '91-92, the budget was $1,409,189; '92-93 saw a budget of $1,552,000; and '93-94 will have a budget of $1,613,000 - this is a 4-year increase of (I am not counting the year we cut the budget approximately $50,000 that would make the total increase over a 4-year period even less) $365,000 - if you look at state mandates - we have hired five elementary teachers to meet the 22:1 mandate in K-4 classes + $100,000 (5 teachers at $20,000 each) - mandated raises of $1140 each year + $120,000 (approximately $30,000 each year) $70,000 in technology commitment (primarily computers, printers, software) - an additional special education teacher and two aides + $34,000 (this was done in '91-92 as we brought youngsters previously being served in Gainesville back to our campus - this generated about $70,000 additional state dollars - enabling us to fund our Special Education program in the black even with additional staff). This totals up to approximately $324,000 leaving an average yearly increase of a little over $10,000 - obviously if operational expenditures are around $3600 per pupil, the budget has to be conservative. This was simply a brief look at how state mandates affect the expenditures in a budget. The revenue side is also impacted tremendously by state requirements.

In closing - any discussion of taxes, budgets and revenues must include what is actually happening in Austin and elsewhere. What we hear coming out of our halls of Congress and what is actually happening are two different things. I believe there is, and will continue to be, a move to redistribute wealth (look at rich school districts under SB7). No one is immune to high taxes, even the rich districts have high tax rates and money generated is sent to other districts.

MISD is an above-average-wealth district and, although we do not have to send money off, we simply receive less state money through existing funding formulas - this means the local taxpayer has to make up the shortfall - this will not change because that is the exact design of the plan. Our status as a higher-than-average-wealth district will insure that we no longer can enjoy the luxury of a tax rate below $1.00 - very few districts in the state can say that any longer. MISD is getting excellent results with the taxpayers' money; however, in the final analysis, every small community in the state will have to make the decision - do we want to pay for our local schools? Some will make the decision not to and those schools will consolidate - then the taxes will be paid somewhere else and there will be even less local control than there is now. Next week, a look at the '93-94 projected tax rate.

RODGER CLEMENTS, Director of Operations, Wichita Falls District, Texas Department of Transportation, takes a look at the new parking lanes on Main Street with business people John Fisher, Herb Knabe and Peggy Grewing. Clements responded to complaints that the new, more acute parking angles robs parking places. He commented that something surely could be worked out and asked for more input from businesses on this and also handicapped parking.

Muenster ISD approves budget

by Elaine Schad

The Muenster school district will operate on a $1.6 million budget for the 1993-1994 school year, a 4 percent increase over last year's budget.

Muenster school trustees approved the $1,613,000 budget, about a $61,000 increase from the $1,552,000 budget for 1992-1993, according to Muenster ISD Superintendent Steve Cooper. The board approved the budget after holding a public hearing in which no one attended. The budget was approved during the board's regular August meeting.

Cooper said trustees hope to set a tax rate by the board's next regular meeting in September, but that will depend on how soon the district receives final state funding estimates and on how quickly the local appraisal district can calculate the district's effective tax rate once those state figures are received. Taxpayers could be looking at a fairly significant tax increase as the new state funding formula takes effect, Cooper said.

The new budget includes an estimated $41,000 in state mandated salary increases for professional staff. Support staff received a 3 percent raise, while administrative staff, including secretaries, received raises that will increase the budget by a total of $4,500.

The budget also includes increased cost estimates for utilities associated with operating the district's new facilities. The new gymnasium and new classrooms could increase the district's utility bills by 15 percent, estimated at about $5,000 in additional costs.

In a related matter, Cooper reported that the district has completed the renovation of the old fieldhouse into four new classrooms, and that students and teachers were able to use the classrooms when the first day of school started on Monday. Final estimated cost of the classrooms, which house fourth and fifth-grade students was about $10 per square foot or around $30,000. While dressing facilities in the new gymnasium are already in use, Cooper said the rest of the gym won't be ready for use until the end of September. The floor is being completed as well as bleachers, painting and the installation of acoustical carpeting on the walls.

Jaycees set MDA Drive

Muenster Jaycees will conduct their annual door-to-door drive for MDA on Monday, Aug. 30, 6 p.m. to about 8:30 p.m.

Funds collected will be delivered to Channel 12 in Sherman on Labor Day, Sept. 6, during the Jerry Lewis MDA Telethon.

Muenster Jaycees encourage a generous response to this very worthy cause. For those who may not be at home, or unable to answer a doorbell, donations can be sent to Muenster Jaycees, P.O. Drawer J, Muenster, TX 76252.

For more information, call Tim Felderhoff, chairman, at 759-2878 (home) or 736-3252 (work).

New board president elected for MISD

by Elaine Schad

Leon Klement is the new president of the Muenster School District Board of Trustees following the resignation of Board President Dennis Hess.

Hess resigned during the board's regular August meeting because his daughter, Kim Walterscheid, has accepted a part-time teaching position with the Muenster ISD, Superintendent Steve Cooper said. Walterscheid will be teaching Chapter 1 this fall, he said. The resignation complies with the state's nepotism laws, Cooper said.

Peggy Lutkenhaus has been appointed to replace Hess and will serve until the expiration of Hess' term in May 1994. Clifford Sicking was elected board vice president replacing Klement in that position, while Annette Anderle will remain as board secretary following a board vote.

In other business, the board: --Approved Oct. 5 as Parent-Teacher Night at the schools.

--Hired Linda Rains as a lunchroom employee.

--Hired Jerry Eckart as a math and computer science teacher.

--Held a public hearing and then approved the district's Academic Indicator System which was reported to the public earlier.

--Approved a contract with Hibbs-Hallmark to provide the district with workers compensation insurance for 1993-1994.

--Approved transfer requests.

--Accepted bids for milk, bread gasoline and other products for purchase during 1993-1994.

--Amended the 1992-1993 budget to reflect expenditures for the district's capital projects, including the gym and four classrooms. A final amended budget reflecting all capital costs is expected to be reviewed at the board's September meeting.

--Approved the district's site-based management goals for 1993-1994.

Lillian Appel, 76, dies

Lillian Grace (Fisher) Appel died suddenly Friday, Aug. 13, 1993 in Gainesville Memorial Hospital following a lengthy illness, although earlier in the week she was improving so well that she anticipated returning home soon.

She was born on Nov. 7, 1916 in Muenster to Joe Fisher and Emma (Pulte) Fisher, Muenster pioneers, the ninth of 12 children, on their farm 2-1/2 miles southeast of Muenster. After attending Sacred Heart School, Muenster High School and Our Lady of Victory in Fort Worth, she enrolled in the Gainesville Sanitarium School of Nursing. In 1938, she graduated there as a Registered Nurse.

Lillian and Leo Albert Appel were married in Sacred Heart Church on Sept. 3, 1940. In 1944, they moved to Galena Park near Houston. They were among founding members of Our Lady of Fatima Parish and were instrumental in the development of a church, rectory, school, convent and community center.

They were parents of five children. After 40 years of nursing, she retired in 1983 and moved back to her hometown. Her husband died in 1977 and is buried in Sacred Heart Cemetery here.

Survivors include two daughters Dorothy Knapp of Lakewood, Colorado and Leona Smith of Sierra Vista, Arizona; and three sons, John Appel of Carrollton, Bill Appel of Houston and Steve Appel of Tyler. There are 10 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Also two sisters, Bertha Pick and Lorena Taylor, both of Muenster; and four brothers, Pat Fisher, Paul Fisher and Earl Fisher, all of Muenster, and Rev. Harry Fisher of Valley View.

She was preceded in death by her parents, her husband and brothers John, Charlie and Joe Fisher and sisters Ida Fladung and infant Leona Fisher.

Mass of Christian Burial was held in Sacred Heart Church on Monday at 10 a.m., officiated by Father Harry Fisher, Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, and Father Frowin Schoech, OSB.

For the funeral liturgy, Rita Fisher gave two Readings from the Old and New Testaments, respectively. Bertha Pick, Pat Fisher and Leona Pick presented Offertory gifts at the altar. Eucharistic rought out a line of bakery goods that included bread, strudel, cookies and rolls. About the same time a full deli line was introduced. It included such tasty items as jalapeno chicken peppers, fried chicken, pizza, and burritos. An addition was made to the back of the building to create a bakery and the word Bäckerei was included in the name.

Major remodeling was done in 1985 to add more space on the west side and include a drive through window. The building's exterior was given a more German appearance.

Carolyn and Chas expressed gratitude to the community for all of the help and support given during the 15 years that they owned the business. "I hope that everyone will continue to support John and 'herlin,'" said Carolyn.

Chas has rejoined his brothers in the Bayer family business, J. H. Bayer and Sons, Inc., since the death of their father. Carolyn continues at Bayer's Kolonialwaren and Bäckerei on a temporary basis. He is training the Pollards.

John and Cherylin and their daughter, Kalyssa, have recently moved back to Muenster from the San Antonio area. John is originally from Sonora, Texas. He and Cherylin met when they were students at Texas Tech University in Lubbock. They moved to San Antonio after graduation in 1988.

Ministers were Roger and Janie Taylor, Theresa and James Walterscheid, and Mary Schwartz. Mass servers were Nicholas Taylor, John Flusche and David Hesse.

Music Ministers were Ruth Felderhoff, Emily Klement, Pam and Dave Fette. Sacred songs included "Amazing Grace," "Psalm of the Good Shepherd," "How Great Thou Art," "Here I Am, Lord," "Edelweiss Benediction," "Song of the Angels," and "On Eagle's Wings."

Burial was in Sacred Heart Cemetery, directed by McCoy Funeral Home of Muenster. Pallbearers were grandchildren Greg Smith, Steve Smith, Joey Appel, Selena Milstead, Deborah Appel and a nephew, Edward Pick.

Lillian Appel was a member of Sacred Heart Church and a leader in several Bible Study groups. She will be remembered as a devoted wife, loving mother and homemaker, a beloved grandmother, a generous sister and a true friend, who volunteered graciously whenever needed.

A Rosary service was held on Sunday at 4 p.m. and Vigil at 7 p.m., both at McCoy Funeral Home.

Michael Gilpin dies at 39

Michael E. Gilpin, 39, died in Frontier Manor Care Center in Gainesville on Friday, Aug. 13, 1993. Services were held on Sunday, Aug. 15, at 2 p.m. at Vermie Keel Funeral Home Chapel, officiated by Rev. Jerry Davis of Calvary Baptist Church. Burial followed in Fairview Cemetery of Gainesville, conducted by Vermie Keel Funeral Home.

Gilpin was born Aug. 13, 1954 in Gainesville, the son of Floyd and Mary (Stout) Gilpin. He married Elizabeth Fleitman on June 13, 1978 in Fort Worth. He was a carpenter and member of the Baptist faith.

Survivors include his wife, Betty Gilpin; two daughters, Tammy Gilpin and Brandy Gilpin, all of Muenster; one brother, Ike Gilpin of Gainesville; one sister, Dena Bridges of Gainesville.

Among those attending the funeral were Carol and Ben Fleitman Jr., Christine Fleitman, Josephine Fleitman, all of Muenster; Kenny and Susan Fleitman and sons of Lindsay; Charlie Fleitman and Helen Prescher of Gainesville; and Pauline Prescher of Valley View; and several friends and co-workers of Betty Gilpin from St. Richard's Villa.

New watering schedule announced

The Muenster City Council makes the following announcement: Residents of odd-numbered houses may now water from 7 to 9 a.m. Residents of even-numbered houses may now water from 6 to 8 p.m., thus increasing permissible watering to two hours daily, rather than one hour daily, which was the norm for the past several weeks.

Nuptial vows solemnized Aug. 14 in St. Peter's

MRS. CHAD MICHAEL FLEITMAN
...nee Debbie Fangman...

A Nuptial Mass in St. Peter's Church of Lindsay united Debbie Fangman and Chad Michael Fleitman in the Sacrament of Matrimony on Aug. 14, 1993. Father Eugene Luke officiated for their double-ring vows at 5 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Winston and Rose Mary Fangman of Rt. 2, Gainesville. She is a 1992 graduate of Lindsay High School, attended Cooke County College and is employed at Wal-Mart.

The groom is the son of James and Nita Fleitman of Muenster. He is a 1989 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and a 1991 graduate of ITT Technical School with an Electronic Engineering Technology degree. He is employed as a maintenance technician.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing an elegant, off-white spun silk wedding gown designed with fitted bodice overlaid with silk embroidered motifs and encrusted with bridal pearls. The sheer yoke of the bodice featured a high neck encircled with lace. The tufted, pearled puffed sleeves gave way to tapered silk sheer embroidered sleeves to her wrists. Her full skirt had an overlay of self-fabric encircled with scalloped embroidered lace Rows of ruffles fell into a cathedral-length train. A four-tiered fingertip veil of illusion completed the wedding attire.

She carried a bouquet of peach roses and carnations, baby's breath, English ivy, teal rosebuds, with a rosary entwined, a gift from her sister Bridget.

For "something old," she wore the pearl necklace worn by her late grandmother, Rose Hess, on her wedding day in 1932.

ATTENDANTS

Anita Martin of Gainesville, sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Sherry Hess of Gainesville; Janelle Hellinger of Gainesville, both cousins of the bride; Jessica Fuhrmann of Gainesville, a friend; and Kristen Fleitman of Muenster, sister of the groom. They wore teal satin dresses designed in tea length, and carried white and peach roses, teal tiger lilies tied with teal ribbons.

Brittany Anderle of Lindsay, niece of the bride, was flower girl and Nathan Martin, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Tony Voth of Gainesville, groom's cousin, was best man.

Groomsmen were Doug Voth of Gainesville, groom's cousin; John Fangman of Muenster, bride's brother; Jason Gehrig of College Station and Darrell Dangelmayr of Muenster, both friends of the groom.

Ushers were Ronnie Walterscheid, Glen Swirczynski and Tommy Bonner, all friends of the groom and all of Muenster, and David Fleitman of Gainesville, cousin of the groom.

Mass servers were Garrett Hellinger, Hank Huchton and Lambert Hess, all of Lindsay and all cousins of the bride.

Wedding music presented by Ruth Felderhoff, organist, and Christy Hesse, vocalist, included "The Rose," "The Gift of Love," "You Are the Wind Beneath My Wings," "Father, Make Us One," "Edelweiss," "All I Ask of You," "Amazing Grace," "Hail Mary, Gentle Woman" and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride's sister, Bridget Anderle, gave Readings for the Liturgy and the groom's cousin, Misti McCoy, read Prayers of the Faithful.

The church altar was decorated with lighted candles in candelabras, ivy, peach, teal and white flowers and the Unity candle.

RECEPTION

Parents of the bride and groom hosted a reception and dinner for 400 guests in the Lindsay Centennial Center.

Presiding at the bride's book were Laura Lutkenhaus of Lindsay and Christy Yosten of Muenster, both friends of the bride.

Lattice panels with hearts, bows, fans and flowers highlighted the wall area behind the bride's table, with English ivy, lighted votive candles in peach and teal decorating guest tables.

The wedding cake was made by Betty Rose Walterscheid and the groom's cake by Nell Hess, aunt of the bride. Cake servers were Stephanie Hoeng and Sabrina Hoeng, nieces of the bride, Staci Garner and Stephanie Fleitman, cousins of the groom.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted on Aug. 8 by Winston and Rosemary Fangman and James and Nita Fleitman, parents of the bride and groom in the Fangman home.

When the couple returns from a wedding trip to San Antonio, they will make their home in Gainesville

Montessori accepting applications

The Sacred Heart Pre-School Montessori Program is accepting applications for the 1993-94 school year. There is half-day and full day still available. Extended day care is also available.

In 1988, Sacred Heart Pre-School was awarded the Elizabeth Ann Seton Award by the National Catholic Education Association, recognizing it as one of the premier early childhood programs in the United States. It is also recognized as an accredited school by the Texas Education Agency and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

The Montessori Program has several major components: Practical Life Exercises, Sensorial Exercises, Language, Mathematics and Cultural Areas.

Also included are Group Activities, Creative Art, Music, plus Spiritual and Physical Development.

A brief description of the Sacred Heart Pre-School Montessori Program cannot begin to explain how effectively the program works. Prospective parents are urged to make an appointment to observe the program in operation.

Children ages 3 through 5 are eligible for the program. Class size is limited. To make an appointment or for more information, call 817-759-2511, ext. 31 or 46.

Reunions

Frank Hess

The Frank Hess reunion will be held Sunday, Aug. 22, in the Pavilion of Muenster City Park. Each family is asked to bring food and drink for their group, and favorite lawn chairs.

News from the Public Library

Because of new legislation, the Muenster Public Library is making changes in the circulation procedure. Beginning Sept. 1, each patron will be required to have a borrower's identification card. This card must be presented each time books are checked out. A patron will be identified by an assigned number.

Please come in and pick up your card or cards for your family. We ask for your cooperation and patience during the transition.

If you would like to make a donation to cover the cost of the cards and other expenses, you may do so when you pick up your cards.

Baby shower honors Cody D. Trachta

Cody Drake Trachta, infant son of Cody and Amy Trachta of Springtown, was honored in Denton at the home of his aunt, Judy Hartman. Co-hostesses were his other aunts, LaQueta McCollum of Dallas, Rita Richey of Muenster, Sandra Christian of Springtown and DeAnn Purdy of San Marcos.

Also attending were his grandmother, Mrs. Debbie White of Winters, Texas, and his great-grandmother, Mrs. Eula Grace Cain of Muenster, and a number of other cousins.

Refreshments included a decorated cake, with lettering, "Welcome To Our Family - Cody Drake." It was served with punch and coffee.

Pels granddaughter marries in Shreveport

MR. and MRS. QUINN EADES
...nee Maria Pels...

Maria Pels and Quinn Eades were united in marriage at St. Mary of the Pines Catholic Church in Shreveport, Louisiana, on Saturday, July 10, 1993. Father Peter Mangum performed the double-ring celebration service at 7:30 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pels of Shreveport and the granddaughter of Mrs. Ed Pels of Muenster and Mrs. W.E. Brown of Paris, Arkansas.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Eades of Woodruff, Wisconsin.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was wearing an elegant, formal Bonney gown of crystal organza, with high neckline of illusion and beaded lace accents. Long sleeves had cloud ruffles at the shoulders with beaded lace cutouts at the wrist. The fitted basque waist had extensive heavy beading with pearl strands. The sheath skirt had tiers of flowing, wire-edged ruffles. A keyhole back featured draped strands of pearls. A back bow accented the waist. The semi-cathedral-length train had tiers of waterfall ruffles. The fingertip veil of double illusion featured a tiara of pearls and flower filaments flowing into the bride's hair. She carried a tear-shaped bouquet of red roses and ivy.

lighting. Prior to dismissal, the couple placed a bouquet of red roses at the statue of the Blessed Mother while Frances McKissick sang the "Ave Maria."

Adorning the altar were white candles in crystal crucifix holders that belonged to the bride's great-grandmother. A pair of candelabra with white candles were placed to the rear of the altar, with red and black satin ribbons entwined. Covering the front of the pulpit was a wedding banner made by the bride's father. The white Unity candle, decorated with red and black satin ribbons, stood to the right of the altar. Red and black satin ribbons marked center aisle pew bows.

RECEPTION

A reception followed in Vandegaer Hall. Kathy Baker presided at the bride's book, which guests signed with a red plumed pen.

The bride's table, covered in white, held accents of lighted red votive candles and black ribbons. The three-tiered white wedding cake, made by Mary Jo Hay of Shreveport, was topped with a wedding figurine; a staircase descended to two more layers and another to a single layer. Black ribbons and miniature figurines decorated the stairways. Black ribbon scallops and red roses adorned the cake.

Dolores Eberhart of Lindsay, bride's aunt, and Jon Oravec of Rhinelander, Wisconsin, groom's sister-in-law, served the wedding cake. Bride's cousins, Diane Pohlmeier and Janet Lensing, served cranberry punch. Connie Garacci served the groom's cake which was made by the bride's mother. Dot Markaverick of Shreveport catered the buffet.

Monica Pels of Shreveport, bride's sister, and best friend Kimberly Lanagan, distributed rice bags of black net tied with red ribbons.

Music and a light show by Dance Party Productions added a festive touch to reception and dance.

Since returning from a wedding trip to New Orleans, the couple is residing in Shreveport.

Among relatives attending the wedding were Mrs. Ed Pels, bride's grandmother; Bob and Linda Pels and family, all of Muenster; Dolores and Red Eberhart and family of Lindsay; Kevin and Laura Pels and family of Coppell.

DENISE BAYER

Denise Bayer is TWU grad

Denise Bayer, daughter of Danny and Mary Alice Bayer of Muenster, graduated from Texas Woman's University in Denton during commencement ceremonies held Saturday, Aug. 14, at the Margo Jones Performance Hall at TWU. She graduated Magna Cum Laude with a 3.74 GPA.

Denise received a Bachelor of Science degree in Interdisciplinary Studies, majoring in Elementary Education with a specialization in Early Childhood Education. Denise maintained her status on the National Dean's List and on either the University Honor Roll or the President's List every semester while attending TWU.

She is a lifetime member of the Golden Key National Honor Society and the Phi Alpha Theta International Honor Society in History. She will continue her training this fall semester through student teaching in Gainesville ISD.

Attending the commencement exercises with Denise were her parents, Danny and Mary Alice Bayer, her sister Melissa and her fiancé Cory Klement.

ATTENDANTS
Anita Roberson of Gurdon, Arkansas was her sister's matron of honor. Robin Ramin of Shreveport was maid of honor. Theresa Eades of Madison, Wisconsin, groom's sister-in-law; Molly Hays of Gurdon, Arkansas; Jennifer Taylor and Jackie Day, both of Shreveport, were bridesmaids. They wore red satin, floor-length Alfred Angelo dresses, designed with rounded neckline, peplum at the waist, and back neckline draped with strands of pearls, and attached with beaded motifs at the shoulders. Each carried a single rose tied with black satin ribbon.

John Hubbard of Shreveport served as the groom's best man. Paul Roberson of Gurdon, Arkansas, bride's brother-in-law; Bill Eades of Rhinelander, Wisconsin, groom's brother; Keith Pohlmeier of Paris, Arkansas, bride's cousin; John Thompson and Al Orr, both of Shreveport, served as groomsmen.

Wendy Pels of Muenster, Diane and Jason Pohlmeier of Paris, Arkansas, cousins of the bride, carried Offertory gifts to the altar.

Nuptial music included "On Eagle's Wings" by Jodi Toliver, "The Wedding Song" by Susan Wisterman for the Unity candle

It's Time For School

Drive Defensively

Not Offensively

The children of our community will be returning to school next week and the school zones will once again be in effect. Make a note of where they are and the inclusive times. Be alert and drive defensively. Our children are our future.

DID YOU KNOW?*

If you are driving at the rate of 30 miles per hour, you are traveling at a rate of 45 feet per second. Even if you are driving at only 20 m.p.h., you are still covering almost 30 feet per second.

If an unexpected situation occurs and you need to stop suddenly, recognition time (the time required for your eyes and brain just to register the occurrence) normally takes from 1 to 3 seconds. If you are driving 20 m.p.h. or the time it takes you 1 second to recognize the danger, you will have traveled a distance of 30 feet before you can even start to physically react. If you are driving at 30 m.p.h., that 1 second recognition time increases to 45 feet.

It takes an additional 3/4 second to react (the time needed to remove the foot from the gas pedal and apply it to the brake). At a speed of 20 m.p.h., this requires an additional distance of 22 feet. At 30 m.p.h., it will take an additional 33 feet.

Alcohol brake time is computed from the moment you apply the brake until the car comes to a complete stop. With standard brakes, this brake time will require an additional 20 feet if you are driving at 20 m.p.h. At 30 m.p.h., actual brake time requires an additional 45 feet. Because they don't skid, anti-lock brakes will cut these distances by a small degree. Under wet road conditions, these actual brake times quite frequently double.

The actual distance needed to safely avoid an accident requiring a sudden stop must include recognition, reaction and actual braking times combined. Therefore, based on the average requirements listed above and under good, dry road conditions, you will need a total of 62 feet in order to come to a complete stop while driving at a rate of 20 m.p.h. At a rate of 30 m.p.h., it will take you a total of 123 feet to stop. At 40 m.p.h., the actual stopping distance becomes 184 feet.

Fines for school zone violations are expensive in Muenster, if you're caught speeding in a school zone you will pay $2.00 per mile of excess speed plus a $50.00 local school zone fine plus a $48.00 state tax charged for any traffic violation in a school zone.

Children don't always think before they act.
Let's make sure we do when it comes to their safety!

*Driving and stopping statistics provided by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Goldenweds celebrate August 8

JOHN and OLIVIA WIMMER
... on their wedding day, Aug. 10, 1943 ...

John and Olivia Wimmer celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Aug. 8, 1993 in the Muenster Knights of Columbus Hall. An Anniversary Mass was offered on Tuesday, Aug. 10, in Sacred Heart Church. The Sunday celebration was arranged by their children Cindy and Ted Miller of Sherman, Shirley and Allen Reiter of Muenster and Mary and Kenny Cain of Allen.

Guests arrived at 11 a.m. and enjoyed a happy hour. Dinner was served at noon to 140 guests. The Farmer's Kitchen catered an elegant meal.

Grandchildren Amy Miller of Dallas and Matthew Cain of Allen registered guests at a table covered with a white crocheted cloth over pink, where wedding pictures of the couple were displayed, with a gold vase of silk flowers. A display board held pictures of the past, showing young and old, to the delight of guests.

Dining tables were decorated with white cloths, centered with bands of gold ribbon, and held lighted votive candles with arrangements of fresh flowers and greenery.

Cindy Miller took many pictures after dinner in a lovely setting of white wicker chairs, bench, table and a background of white lattice, greenery and miniature crystal lights. Decorations overall were done by The Farmer's Kitchen. Joe Hellman recorded the day's events on video.

A three-tiered white anniversary cake held a gold bell decoration belonging to Louise Bayer, sister of Olivia Wimmer. Cake servers were granddaughters Tammie Caldwell, Staci Miller and Amy Miller.

A program of highlights and history of the past 50 years was compiled and read by Mary Cain and Cindy Miller. They told humorous stories of their growing-up days with their parents.

Included was recognition of Gertie Bayer, sister of Olivia Wimmer who will be 90 years old in August. Several couples who are observing 50th wedding anniversaries were also recognized.

A musical interlude was provided by Sonny and Norma Jean playing accordions, Denis Walterscheid and Brian Miller playing guitars and Johnny Wimmer playing harmonica for singing and dancing.

John and Olivia Wimmer were married on Tuesday, Aug. 10, 1943 at 8:30 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church in a Nuptial Mass officiated by Father Thomas Buergler, OSB. The bride was the former Olivia Walterscheid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walterscheid. The groom was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Wimmer, all of Muenster. He was a member of the Coast Guard, Fireman First Class, stationed at Panama City, Florida.

The bride wore a white bridal gown designed with a long fitted lace bodice, sweetheart neckline, long sleeves fitted to the wrist and a full flowing net skirt. Her fingertip veil was held by a gathering of white bridal orange blossoms. She carried a colonial bouquet of white gladioli. For "something old and borrowed," she carried a silk handkerchief sent from France during WWI by her uncle, August Walterscheid, on duty there with the Army. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls.

Attendants in the wedding were Katie Mae Walterscheid Ellison and Andy Wimmer. Both are now deceased. Andy died in July 1992 and Katie Mae died in El Paso in November 1992.

For the golden wedding anniversary reception, the golden-year bride wore a two-piece mauve and pale green dress with cream jacket, and a corsage of mauve baby chrysanthemums and carnations with gold rosettes.

Johnny Wimmer was in the U.S. Coast Guard for almost 3-1/2 years during WWII. After discharge from the military, he worked in oil fields until 1959, when he became manager of 82 Liquors. In 1970, he and Olivia bought the store. After 12 years, they sold it to Ray and Kaye Wimmer.

John and Olivia are now retired and try to spend more time with their three daughters, seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Coming to attend the anniversary celebration were relatives from Friendswood, Denton, Lindsay, Gainesville, Irving, Mt. Vernon, Plano, Hereford, Garland, Arlington, Dallas, Carrollton, Allen, Sherman, Nocona and Muenster, Texas. Also Overbrook, Tulsa and Edmund, Oklahoma. Coming the greatest distance were a nephew and family, Danny and Janet Ellison and son Andy, of Collegeville, Pennsylvania.

CCC offers a variety of Fine Arts electives

Students who have yet to choose electives for the Fall '93 semester might want to consider a course in sculpture, music appreciation, or one of many other fine arts electives available at Cooke County College. Registration will be held Aug. 24 at the main campus.

The fine arts electives offer a wide variety of creativity to all ages, and what most people don't realize is that most of these credits are transferable (to a university), said CCC art instructor Mary Frances Van Pelt.

Art courses offered during the Fall '93 semester include: art history, design, drawing, art appreciation, foundations of art, figure drawing, jewelry and metalworking, watercoloring painting, painting and ceramics.

For those who prefer music, Dr. Mike Linder reminds students that music appreciation satisfies a humanities elective for most majors.

"Music appreciation traces the development of music theory and practice, and studies how music impacts the whole structure of society," Linder said. The course is designed for non-music majors, giving a brief look into music history, beginning with the Renaissance era and spanning into the twentieth century, Linder said.

For those who enjoy working with their hands, sculptor Victoria Fowler recommends a sculpture class she'll teach on Monday and Wednesday evenings. Fowler, whose work has been exhibited throughout North Texas, encourages students to get involved with the "discovery" of sculpting. Her work includes "Voices," an outdoor exhibit at Texas Woman's University in Denton, and "Cascade," a 10-foot steel geometric piece which stands watch in front of the Construction, Technology and Management Center at North Lake Community College in Irving.

CCC art student Marrita McMillian is proof that art classes are not only a creative outlet for students, but sometimes prove to be an unexpectedly marketable hobby. Her love of horses led her to begin sculpting them, and after her first sculpting course at CCC just over a year ago, she now sculpts custom pieces based on special orders from those who have admired her work.

For more information on Fall '93 fine arts classes, contact the CCC Fine Arts Department at 668-7731, Ext. 355.

Two friends from Germany visit friends in Muenster

The red carpet was rolled out in Muenster for Roman Hinderberger, age 27, of Eislingen, Germany and Ralf Schweller, age 25, of Donsdorf, Germany, who were recent guests of the Felderhoff-Dangelmayr relationship. Over a period of about three weeks, they made Muenster their starting and stopping point for a planned tour of Texas, in response to invitations offered by Mrs. A.J. Felderhoff and Mrs. Sylvan Walterscheid.

The two Muenster ladies and Amy Walterscheid and Shawn Dangelmayr became acquainted with them when a group of Sacred Heart students, led by Eric Gray, toured Germany. Alvin and Joanie Hartman also met Ralf during another tour.

Hinderberger and Schweller's home towns are near Stuttgart, capital of Baden-Württemberg in southwest Germany.

Both have completed their compulsory 15-months duty in the military, and both are college students with degrees in Technical Automation from Fachhochschule in Ulm/Geislingen.

Arriving at the Newark, New Jersey Airport on July 20, the two young men first saw Manhattan and New York City. Their flight took them first over Cleveland, to DFW where they were met by Theresa Mae Walterscheid and Mary E. Felderhoff. After spending one night in Muenster, they rented a car at Ford Motor Company of Muenster.

In Dallas, they were guests of Mary (Mrs. A.J.) Felderhoff's daughter and son-in-law, Julie and Don Woodall. They delighted in telling here that they saw the baseball game where the Texas Rangers won over the Blue Jays 6-5, and later saw some of the Fort Worth Stockyards.

In Waco, they were met by Charles Felderhoff who took them near a place they'd read about and heard about in the news, the Koresh Compound. They spent time with Charles' family and later saw where he is employed, the Chrysler Airborne Corporation, devoted to renovation of airplanes.

In Austin and at Lake Georgetown, where they were met by Ron and Patti Felderhoff and Jeff and Claudia Felderhoff, they concentrated on favorite meals of Mexican foods. Other special joys were water skiing and inner tubing.

"Three days in New Braunfels were memorable," said both Hinderberger and Schweller. They were guests of Mrs. A.J. Felderhoff's daughter and son-in-law, Cindy and Terry Allford, who showed them the area, rafted down the river, took them to Juene Hall for country music and blues singing.

The two German guests, in addition to traveling with a rented car, came equipped with camping supplies - a tent, sleeping bags and cooking equipment; therefore, taking the opportunity to stay at the scenic campgrounds near the river.

Spending a day in San Antonio, they delighted in the famous River Walk, listened to Cindy and Terry's son relate the history of the Alamo during a tour, went shopping downtown and reveled in "people watching."

Two days were spent in Corpus Christi, camping on the beach. Next stops were in Houston and Victoria where they stayed at a motel and ruefully admitted to spending most of a day at a washateria, "because we were running out of clean clothes."

When asked their opinion of Houston traffic, they seemed surprised. "No trouble at all. We're used to much worse in Europe."

Besides, road and street signs are always good." In nearby Clear Lake, they were met by the Joe Felderhoffs' daughter and son-in-law, Jenny and Jack White. Jack works at NASA. Their guests saw the Visitors Center and many exhibits. In Houston, they ate their first barbecue, discovering another famous food. They smiled and said, "Decisions, decisions, decisions! How will we choose between two so delicious? - Texas barbecue and wonderful Mexican food?!" - not knowing that a meal of Chinese food was planned for them by Muenster friends.

Several days later, they drove a hundred miles through the Big Thicket, to Lake Livingston and Sam Houston National Park.

Back in Dallas, they were met by Joe and Ruth Felderhoff and daughter Rose, who took them to Reunion Tower, Thanksgiving Square, the downtown shopping area, the Sixth Floor of the Texas School Book Depository and television studios. They spent an evening at the West End in Dallas.

After another day of shopping in Dallas, they all returned to Muenster and attended a family reunion at the home of Mrs. A.J. Felderhoff in Gainesville. In Muenster, they were houseguests of Sylvan and Theresa Mae Walterscheid.

One day they met Albert and Joe Dangelmayr, who showed them ranch properties and told stories recounting their youth in ranch and farm life. Saturday night they saw their first rodeo. In Saint Jo, they watched Tom and Shawn Dangelmayr and Scott Klement competing in the rodeo.

A Dangelmayr reunion was held Sunday evening with covered dishes and visiting attended by about 50 persons. Earlier, they had attended Sunday Mass in Sacred Heart Church and during the afternoon went horseback riding at the home of Bill and Charlotte Dangelmayr. A swim in the Muenster City Pool was added to the crowded day.

The next day they saw the Gainesville Zoo and later enjoyed another Mexican dinner. Their last day in Muenster was spent with Alvin Hartman, who took them for another first - a dinner of Chinese foods, then a golf game see sheep, goats and pigs auctioned at Gainesville Livestock Auction.

A farewell party was held in the evening at the home of Sylvan and Theresa Mae Walterscheid that featured a grilled steak dinner.

Wednesday, they departed DFW at 11:30 a.m., changing planes in Houston and Newark and then flying nonstop to Frankfurt where they would be met by a sister and a girlfriend in a car.

With backward glances over a memorable trip, they expressed appreciation for friendliness and hospitality of Texans and family, and were particularly impressed by long distances traveled across Texas, and by great open spaces. They said they could attest to "Texas Friendly Spoken Here."

ALISON KNABE of Muenster, left, and Sally Stevens, center, and Rhonda Rowland, right, of Sherman were among Students in the Access to Careers in the Sciences camp at Texas Woman's University. Here they dissect a shark during a marine biology class. The camp, held July 11-23 for students in grades 8 through 11, focused on career opportunities for women in the sciences and related fields. The annual camp is sponsored by the Science and Mathematics Center for Women at TWU. Students attended classes in chemistry, genetics, logic, marine biology, microbiology and physics. Classes were augmented by field trips, including a four-day trip to Galveston to collect marine samples in the Gulf of Mexico. ### 3-part series helps understand aging parents by Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Agent-H.E.

One of the greatest concerns of adult children is their parents' aging. Many people never face major problems concerning aging parents. Their parents remain physically and mentally active until their death and need little or no assistance from their adult children. For other older persons, however, health, limited financial resources, or loneliness present serious problems.

"Adult Children and Aging Parents" is a 3-part mail-out series currently available from the County Extension Service. It is designed to increase understanding of the relationships within aging families.

Topics covered are understanding both positive and negative aspects of the relationship between parents and adult child, resolving conflicts, coping with guilty feelings, sibling relationships, needs of aging parents, care options, decision making, and balancing responsibilities to parents with your own needs.

To review the free mail-out series, call the County Extension Office at 668-5412.

Six Flags Over Texas plans gospel jubilee

The 40-member Sounds of Blackness vocal and instrumental ensemble will headline a Gospel Jubilee at Six Flags Over Texas on Aug. 21.

Also appearing on the bill will be the Mississippi Mass Choir and singer Daryl Coley. The performance will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the theme park's Music Mill Amphitheater.

There will be a $3 concert fee charged in addition to regular park admission. All seats will be reserved. Tickets may be purchased at the Six Flags concert box office or at any Ticketmaster outlet.

"It's not a furnace or air conditioner?"

"So how does it heat and cool?"

We understand that a heat pump can be misunderstood. But once you know how it works, it makes good sense the year around.

In summer, the heat pump pumps heat out of your house and replaces it with cool air.

In winter, it uses the solar heat trapped in the earth's atmosphere to keep your house warm and comfortable, even on the coldest days.

Which means you save on energy, natural resources and your monthly bill.

Any more questions? Your heat pump dealer has the answers.

Injuries plague Tigers early

It's hard for John Nasche to withhold the excitement he feels about the 1993 Sacred Heart Tigers. "Team discipline and mental preparedness have been the best," Nasche commented. "Team speed, our passing and kicking game are all our strengths."

On the kicking field, the Tigers have Jason Hess and Jason Hofbauer punting, Kelly Bayer and Scott Frost on the kick-offs and Michael Becker looking strong at practice as the place kicker.

Sacred Heart's weakness is as in the past - size... and injuries. "We've been hit hard with injuries, but hopefully they'll be out of the way before the season starts."

Nasche is also concerned with his intrested offensive line, with seven new linemen blocking the way with the wing-T offense. Danny Valterscheid has taken over as offensive coach. "Danny will do a better job on offense than I did," said Nasche. "Defense was our weak point last year and that's what I want to concentrate on this year." The Tigers' basic defense will be a 5-2.

"We need to improve on play execution," continued Nasche. "Linemen have to use their hands and stay low on goal line. Our defensive back must bury their receiver. If we don't learn these things, we will struggle again!"

The Tigers will be led by seven seniors - Kelly Bayer, Jeremy Bayer, Weldon Bayer, Chris Pagel, Jody Fleitman, Aaron Berres and Jason Hofbauer. Juniors on the roster include Neil Berres, Jason Hess, Mike Schilling and Todd Johnson. Seven sophomores - John Klement, Scott Frost, Brandon Bayer, Toby Hess, Joseph McCoy, Jake McCoy and Michael Becker - and freshmen Paul Swirczynski, Douglas Novack, Bart Sicking and John Bartush round out the Tiger team of 22 players.

Sacred Heart will scrimmage state-ranked Alvord Friday night. "Alvord will be a good test to check our progress," said Nasche. "I'm concerned because we're down to 15 players, but we should be ready for the scrimmage. So far, I'm excited for the way things have been going, except for the injuries."

Friday's scrimmage is at Alvord, beginning at 6 p.m. On Aug. 27, the Tigers will host Notre Dame for a practice before their first game with Era the following week.

Hornets have young turnout

Of the 33 Muenster Hornets reporting to practice, 60% of the team are sophomores and freshmen.

"Our only strength is tradition," said Coach Grady Roller. "That's what we won on last year, playing hard Muenster ball. I don't know if we've got any others." Muenster has no size on the varsity level. "We're slow, inexperienced and have no depth. On varsity, we have 15 players, the others should be JV," said Roller.

The Hornets will be led by seniors Brandon Walterscheid, Rodney Vogel, Jay Hennigan, Charlie Luttmier and A.J. Knabe.

"Things are about like last year, the boys have to learn a lot," continued Roller. "They have to play hard and learn. By district, we'll be there."

Muenster's first game will be at Tom Bean on Sept. 3, preceded by a scrimmage with Alvord next Thursday, Aug. 26, on the Hornet Field.

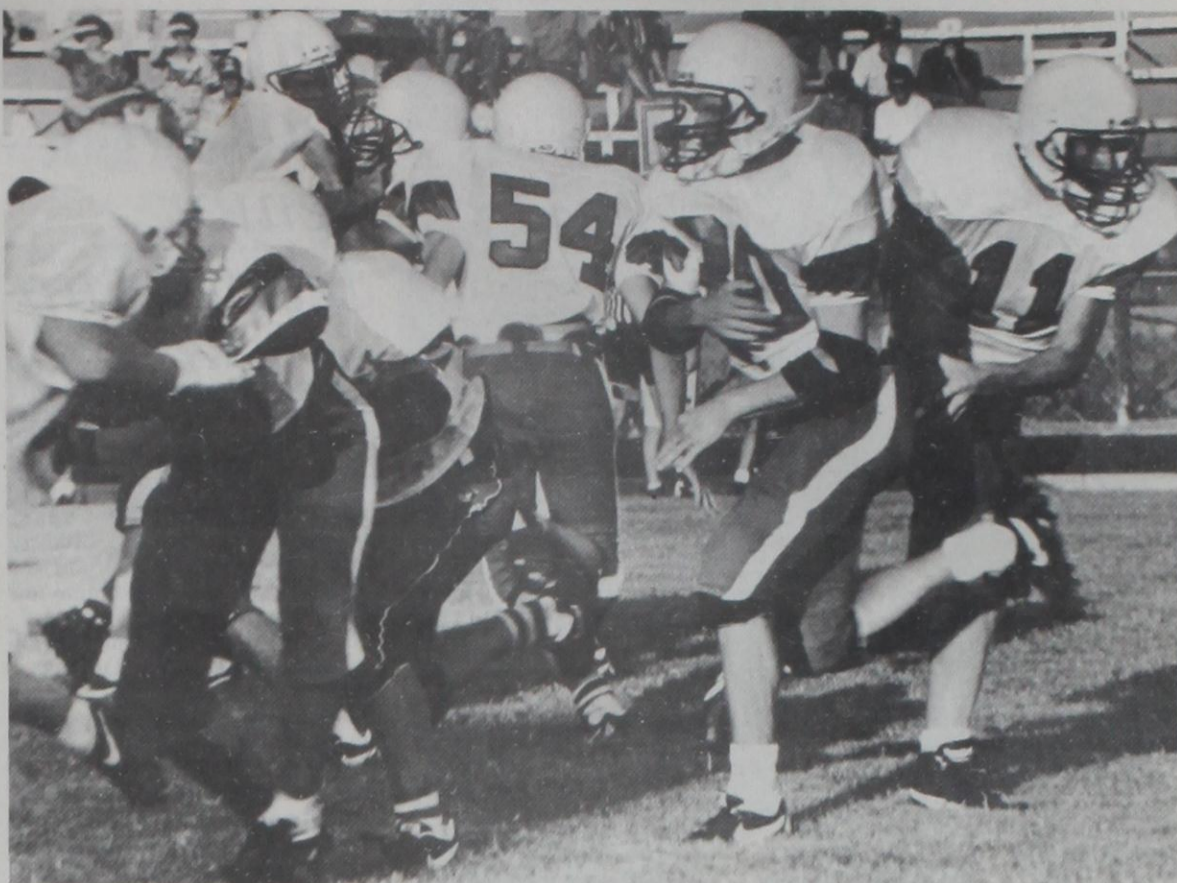

"We'll be prepared as well as we can be," concluded Roller. "We'll be ready to go."

SCRIMMAGE

Muenster hosted the Gunter Tigers in a practice match Tuesday night. "We made mistakes that kept us out of the end zone, but we saw some bright spots, too," commented Coach Grady Roller. The varsity offense moved the ball, averaging around 6 yards per carry. According to Roller, the defensive secondary is Muenster's weakest spot and needs a lot of work. Alvord scored 6 times, 5 on long runs.

The junior varsity played a good practice, scoring 3 touchdowns while holding Gunter scoreless. Jason Sicking, Eric Miller and John Tuggle looked good on both sides of the ball, while Tony Hartman and Jacob Luke stood out on defense.

The JV will scrimmage again Thursday with Alvord.

Sacred Heart Alumni Tournery was top flight

The Sacred Heart Alumni held their annual golf tournament Sunday, Aug. 8, at the Turtle Hill Golf Course north of Münster.

The championship flight was won by Joe Hoedebeck and Kim Walterscheid. Jon LeBrasseur and Scott Beezley finished second, while Frank and Jason Hess came in third. Each team had a score of 67. Finishing last were Bonnie Prescher and Earl Fisher.

Steve and Jim Stoffels won the Hogan Flight with Tim Endres and Dick Murphy in second place, followed by Bobby Hartman and Eddie Stock. Each team had a 76 score. The last place award went to Ken Hesse and John Nasche.

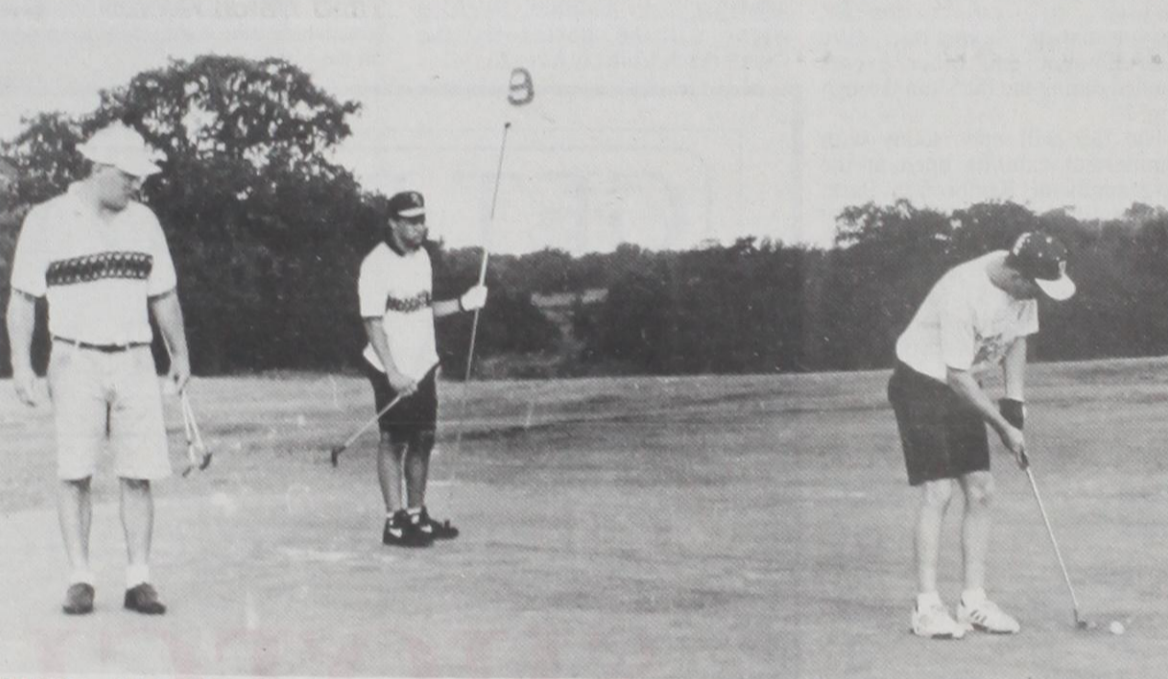

In the ladies' flight, the Denton team of Marla Parker and Patty Ketterer took top honors with 75 strokes. Faye and Lisa Hamric finished second, Mary Lee Hennigan and Lucille Hesse third, and Dolores Miller and Gracie Fuhrman came in last. No scores were reported. Prizes awarded to the top three teams were $150, $125 and $100. A sleeve of golf balls was given to the last place finishers.

Stevan Nasche hit the most accurate drive on the #7 tee, while Kenny Hartman and Bob Greathouse were the closest to the pin at #4 and #8.

The $10,000 hole-in-one at hole #4 was not won, although several people got close. The new golf cart for a hole-in-one at #8 also was not awarded.

The Sacred Heart Alumni would like to thank all the golfers, workers and Turtle Hill Golf Course for preparing and making the tournament a success.

Knights look for senior leadership

The Lindsay Knights have 39 players on this year's roster, with eight seniors leading the way. "Our strong point is our increased strength and quickness," said Coach Charlie Meurer. "We have more experience and more upper classmen." Last season, Lindsay suited up a large amount of sophomores and freshmen on varsity.

Senior members and their positions are Bryan Dulock - blocking back/linebacker; Shane Huchton - tailback/defensive back; Dan Zimmerer - wingback/defensive back; Chad Hair - center/noseguard; Doug Hellinger - offensive tackle/defensive back; Matt Menzie - guard/linebacker; Toby Eberhart - guard/defensive tackle; and Jeremy Owen - tight end/defensive end.

The remaining Knights include seven juniors, nine sophomores and 15 freshmen.

Coach Meurer said another strong point is the offensive line's quickness. "They are learning what they can do and want." On defense, Lindsay's secondary is much more aggressive. The linebackers are improving and the Knights' kicking game will be a strength to the team.

"Our weakness is our depth on the line, the same old Class A problem most teams have," commented Meurer.

Lindsay will run a box offense, no quarterback, but four backs. Their defense will be a 5-2-5 front linemen, two linebackers and four secondary players.

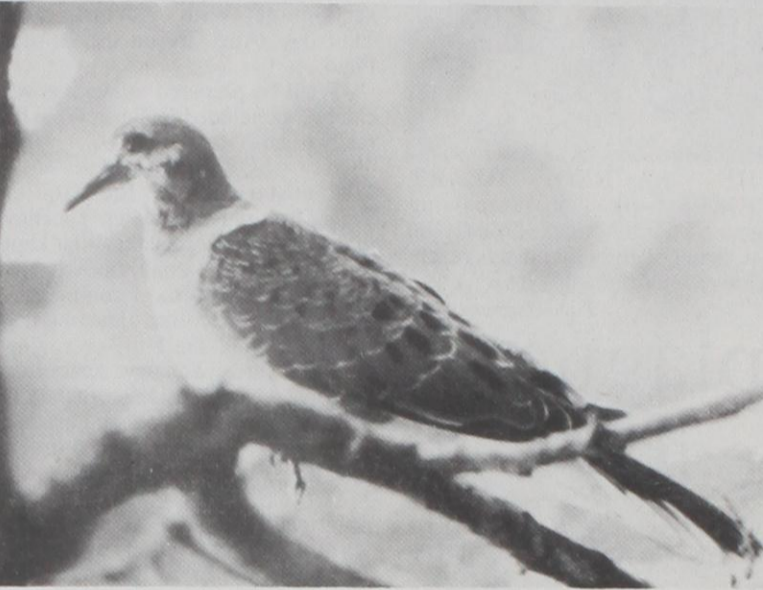

The Knights' scrimmage at Nocona this Friday, then host Chico in a practice match on Aug. 27, both contests begin at 5 p.m.

Lindsay opens pre-season against a tough, aggressive Windthorst team. Then they'll battle Callisburg, Whitewright's speed, test Alvord's physical ability and meet Sacred Heart for homecoming. The Knights open district play with Valley View.

Coach Meurer added that motivation is higher this season. "The boys are catching on to the offense quickly," Coach Meurer concluded. "I'm enjoying their overall attitude - it's been real good for the heat."

LINDSAY COACH CHARLIE MEURER talks over the next play with his Knights. Lindsay will have two Friday night scrimmages before facing Windthorst for their season opener Sept. 3. Janie Hartman Photo

DOVE SEASON NEAR - Dove hunting, the traditional beginning of each year's hunting season in Texas, is almost here. As a reminder, mourning dove dates in Texas are: North Zone, Sept. 1-Nov. 9; Central Zone, Sept. 1-Oct. 31 and Dec. 26-Jan. 3; and South Zone, Sept. 24-Nov. 14 (ends Nov. 10 in Special White-winged Dove Area) and Dec. 26-Jan. 12. The four-day white-winged dove season in the Special White-winged Dove Area is scheduled for Sept. 4, 5, 11 and 12. The statewide daily bag limit is 12 doves, including no more than six whitewings and two whitetips. During the regular season, in the traditional white-winged dove counties of Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr and Willacy counties, the bag limit will remain 12 doves, including no more than two white-winged and two white-tipped doves per day. The four-day white-winged dove season daily bag limit is 10 white-winged, mourning and white-tipped doves in the aggregate, including no more than five mourning doves and two white-tipped doves. Shooting hours are noon to sunset. TPWD Photo

Tax Talk
 by: Duane Knabe, CPA
 Duane Knabe will discuss a different topic each week. Any questions should be directed to him at 759-4010.
 This week's topic is the Optional Method for Self-employment Tax. Self-employment tax is imposed if you are in business for yourself and on most partnership income. An optional method for computing the tax is available and may help one's tax in certain situations.
 The optional method may help in the areas of social security coverage, the earned income credit or the child and dependent care credit. This method may give you credit toward social security even though you have low income from self-employment. Also, this method may help you claim or increase the amount of the two credits mentioned.

MHS Cheerleaders conclude 10th mini-cheerleading camp

Muenster Varsity Cheerleaders recently held their 10th Annual Mini-Cheerleading Camp for grades K-6 at the Muenster Park. Area junior high squads also attended from Valley View, Era, St. Mary's, Sacred Heart and Muenster.

On Thursday, nominees were announced for the All-American Cheerleading Contest. Nominees in the K-6 group were Kay Lee Price, Ashley Klement, Andrea Bauer, Jackie Henscheid, Heather Hess, Rheanna Samek, Allison Endres, Raegan Koessler, Kayla Felderhoff, Kristen Grewing and Polly Fette.

Those chosen from the junior high squads were Valerie Bartush, Kimberly Kupper, Courtney Grewing, Amy Hill, Amber Hillis, Crystal Klement, Angel Sicking, Lee Ann Smith, Sybil Schindler, Emily Felderhoff, Kimberly Sturm and Stephanie Huchton.

On Friday, junior high squads and All-American nominees performed a cheer learned that week before judges representing each school. The winners for All-American Cheerleader were Kristen Grewing and Kimberly Sturm. The Top Team Award was won by Muenster's squad. The Spirit Award was presented to Sacred Heart and St. Mary's was recognized for Most Improved Squad.

St. Mary's prepares for back to school

by Elaine Schad

St. Mary's School will open an expanded early learning center when classes begin Aug. 23.

The school's pre-kindergarten students will be housed in a newly-renovated facility located just north of the kindergarten building. By centralizing the two buildings within the same area, St. Mary's will offer an expanded 4-day, full-day pre-kindergarten program along with the 5-day, full-day kindergarten program utilizing the strengths of both the school's early learning instructors.

Several other exciting changes will greet students at St. Mary's. The students will have a new principal, Sister Herman Marie Siebenmorgen, SSND. St. Mary's new pastor, Rev. John Lambert, has a long background in Catholic schools and is also expected to be very active in the school program.

St. Mary's will begin academic and sports competition for the first time this year in the newly-formed North Texas Independent League. St. Mary's will join schools from Tioga, Sivells Bend and Walnut Bend in the new league, which will offer volleyball, basketball, baseball, track and academic competitions guided by University Interscholastic League rules.

New staff members this year include Glenn Fuhrmann, a Lindsay resident, who will be the head football coach and eighth grade teacher. Lisa Dieter, who with her husband Roger are residents of Gainesville, will be the new third-grade teacher. Donna Patterson, who resides in Gainesville, will be the new seventh-grade teacher.

St. Mary's faculty and staff for 1993-1994 include: Rev. John Lambert, pastor; Sister Herman Marie Siebenmorgen, principal; Carmen Bonin, pre-kindergarten; Patsy Henry, first grade; Donna Heffron, second grade; Lisa Dieter, third grade; Maria Woods, fourth grade; Tanya Hess, fifth grade; Diane Gray, sixth grade; Donna Patterson, seventh grade; Glenn Fuhrmann, eighth grade; Lupe Evans, Spanish; Elaine Schad, athletic director and girls' athletics; Terry Tatum, cheerleading; Karen Brooks secretary; Sandra Richeson, pre-school aide.

Religion teachers will be Virginia Krahl, Jane West and Margie Devers. Bonnie Friedrich will be computer coordinator and teacher. Sister Gayle Hurban will be religion teacher and physical education teacher. Jim Lemming and Jim Goldsworthy will assist with coaching. Cafeteria personnel are Patsy Schumacher, Jane West and Virginia Krahl.

Plant drought stress offers concerns to livestock owners

by Craig Rosenbaum
County Extension Agent-AG

The recent hot, dry period has caused pastures and hay fields to become short. This short grass period is making producers change their grazing and haying methods. Maize stalks are being grazed and baled along with grazing of hay fields. These types of grazing programs can have potential problems.

In any forage system there will be problems developed from management and from the plants that are involved in the system. Some common problems associated with the forage in the county can be:

Prussic Acid - Prussic acid or hydrocyanic acid or cyanide is a condition that builds in any other forages that is in the sorghum genus. Research indicates that prussic acid forms whenever there is a sudden change in growth habit of these types of forages. This sudden change in growth habit can be mechanical damage, environmental damage such as frost or drought, and it can also be simply from the growth. For this reason, grazing on sudans and sorghums is not recommended to start prior to the plants being 30 to 36 inches tall because new growth has high levels of prussic acid. It is recommended to not graze sudden drought stricken sudan-sorghum nor graze immediately after a drought ending rain. The other period that grazing is not recommended is right after a frost. The prussic acid dissipates rather rapidly and within a week to 10 days following frost or following rainfall the levels of prussic acid should dissipate to the point where livestock can graze them without problems.

Nitrate Accumulation - Nitrates can accumulate in forages and be toxic to animals under certain conditions and these conditions always take into consideration the nutritional status of the animal. Poor animals tend to have more problems than well-fed, healthy animals. Nitrates can build in a forage plant whenever that plant has started active growth. Any environmental condition that interrupts growth (photosynthesis), interrupts the conversion of nitrates to plant food and nitrate buildup occurs. A cold front, several days of cloudy weather, or drought are instances of environmental causes of nitrate buildup. Nitrate poisoning of livestock can occur on almost any forage type that is grown for pasture. Nitrates can be stored in hay if that hay is cut when that hay is high in nitrate. Nitrate poisoning can occur during hay feeding of plants that were high in nitrates when cut for hay. Animals that go down with nitrate poisoning must be treated very rapidly to prevent death. If an individual knows that a pasture has high nitrates in it or that hay has high nitrates, the only answer or remedy for this high nitrate content is dilution. With pasture, it's a matter of allowing growth to occur on the pasture. With hay, it's a matter of mixing large amounts of low nitrate hay with high nitrate hay to allow the daily dosage animals receive to be diluted. Nitrate accumulation in plants can occur regardless of fertility programs and be at levels that would be toxic to an animal during certain environmental conditions.

One of our local producers, Weldon Bezner, called the other night to let me know he had a problem with prussic acid on some regrowth sudan in a hay field. Luckily, Weldon was observing the cattle and when the cow went down, he called the veterinarian, who administered an antidote and saved the cow. If you plan to turn in on stressed forages, let your veterinarian know - he can be the difference in dead or live animals. Prussic acid works rapidly, so be sure and watch your livestock.

Doug Robison, at Cooke County College, can test forages for both prussic acid and nitrate contents. Give Doug a call at the college. He should be available on Aug. 23, when college opens.

Fall Planting Seed

Fall planting season is just around the corner for small grains. With the wet spring, producers have many considerations for their seeds.

There should be a good supply of planting seed that has been produced by the various seed companies. Producers should check with their seed dealers to order the varieties they intend to plant. Each year, the better varieties are in limited amounts and go fast. Seed dealers have a problem in stocking those varieties wanted by producers because of the carryover. Make your intention known and work with your dealer. Good quality certified seed is available.

Those producers who store their own seed have considerations to make in planting. These include:

Clean Seed - Weed seed is one of the major factors in farm stored grain. With the wet spring, we had a lot of late weed germination. In combining, these seeds are dispersed throughout the stored grains. Therefore, having small grains cleaned is an excellent way to remove this noxious problem. This past week, I have been visiting with seed cleaners in the area and they encourage producers to get their cleaning done early to avoid the last-minute rush. Cleaning removes not only weed seed but cracked grains, shaft, etc.

Seed Treatment - One of the major disease problems that we have been seeing in the area fields is Loose Smut. This fungal disease can cause the loss of yield from non-developing heads in all crops - wheat, oats and barley. Seedling disease also reduces yield from within stands. Fungicides are available both as seed treatments and drill box treatments to prevent these problems.

Insects - Seed wheat should be kept stored cool and dry. A moisture content below 11 percent reduces the number of several stored grain pests. Most stored grain pests reproduce best at high temperatures. Producers can use appropriate stored grain insecticides to alleviate some of the problem.

Sprout and Weather Damaged Grain - We didn't see much sprouted grain this year. Because, in order for grain to sprout, it must dry down in the field and then receive moisture. This happened during the 1992 spring but wasn't as prevalent in the spring of '93. If rain occurs after wheat dries to 14 percent moisture, we can have bleaching and sprouting. The bleached color does not necessarily reduce grain quality, but sprouting will. If you have an excessive number of sprouts, you may want to check your stored grain for germination. Seed testing can be done at home simply by counting a set number of seed and germinating them or by sending samples to the Texas Department of Agriculture Seed Testing Laboratory, 241 East McNeil, Stephenville, TX 76401. When sending wheat, oats or barley, send two pounds and allow for 12 days for their germination. A fee for a complete test which includes purity and germination is $12 and should be submitted with the sample. Information that needs to be on your submitted sample includes: a) name and address; b) kind, variety if known; c) lot number or identification; d) test desired; and 3) seed treatment if any has been applied.

Quality crops begin with quality plantings. Take time now to assess or order your quality planting seed.

Agriculture Waste Pesticide Collection Day in Denton

Old, obsolete, canceled, banned, suspended, or otherwise unwanted pesticides will be accepted, free of charge, at a special pesticide collection station at the Texas Instruments Plant on U.S. Highway 77, northwest of Denton, Texas on Oct. 15.

The collection opportunity, which can save pesticide applicators thousands of dollars in commercial disposal fees, is one of six collection days scheduled statewide. The events are sponsored by the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Waste pesticides will be accepted in Denton at the Texas Instruments Plant location between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. All formulations of agricultural pesticides will be accepted except for 2,4-D-T; Silvex; and pentachlorophenol. No fertilizers or explosives will be accepted.

Empty pesticide container recycling also will be offered at all locations except Denton. Empty containers, both metal and plastic, must be clean, triple-rinsed or high-pressure rinsed in order to be accepted.

This is the pesticide collection schedule:

* Heford, Deaf Smith County, Wednesday, Sept. 29, at the Bull Barn on Dairy Road, south of U.S. Highway 60.

* Elsa, Hidalgo County, Tuesday, Oct. 5, at the Elsa Co-Op, three miles north of Elsa on FM 88.

* Marlin, Falls County, Tuesday, Oct. 12, at City Park Pavilion, at the intersection of State Highway 7 and the business loop of State Highway 6.

* Denton, Denton County, Friday, Oct. 15, at the Texas Instruments plant on U.S. Highway 77, northwest of Denton.

* Odem, San Patricio County, Tuesday, Oct. 19, at the Smith Gin Co-Op two miles west of Odem on State Highway 234.

* Eagle Lake, Colorado County, Friday, Oct. 22, at Farm and Ranch Aerial Service, Municipal Airport at the intersection of County Road 207 and FM 3013.

Pesticide applicators are encouraged to bring in any unwanted pesticides they may possess. This disposal opportunity is FREE with no questions asked. Commercial disposal costs for a single 55-gallon drum of pesticide could cost as much as $2,000.

More than 300 tons of waste pesticides have been collected in 12 similar collection days held across the state. Do your part in protecting the future of Texas' environment by bringing your waste pesticides to this free collection opportunity.

Total cattle numbers will increase 2 to 3% a year through the mid-1990s. Beef production, up 19% in 1992, will increase by 2% to 23.4 billion pounds in 1993.

Cattle prices may weaken

The cash market shrugged off USDA's July 23 cattle reports that predicted larger-than-expected supplies of cattle at heavier weights into next year, but the outlook for his fall suggests cash prices may encounter downward pressure, some market analysts and traders told Knight-Ridder Financial News.

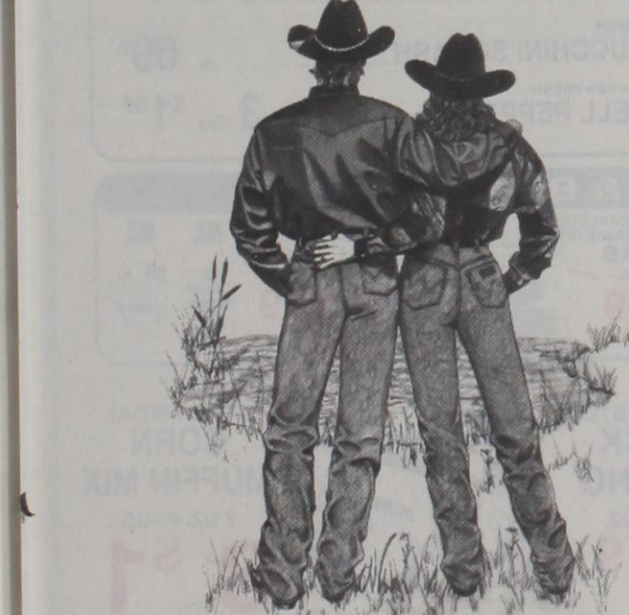

The 7- and 13-state cattle-on-feed marketing categories suggest a greater carryover of cattle supplies into July and the third quarter.

In the biannual cattle inventory report, some analysts were skeptical of USDA's 1993 calf crop figure because of the harsh weather in calving areas during the winter and early spring.

USDA pegged the calf crop at 102 percent of the year-ago-level, indicating that USDA understated the breeding herd in its January report. With a larger number of beef replacement heifers than a year ago, it may have been enough to offset the severe winter storm.

Finnell penal code measure gives lawmen tool to hammer rustlers

State Rep. Charles Finnell's amendment to the new Texas Penal Code gives Texas law officers and prosecutors an effective tool to hammer livestock thieves when it becomes law on Sept. 1.

Finnell's amendment provides for the first time that the theft of livestock, regardless of the number of head, is a "state jail felony." It is a part of the new Penal Code (SB 1067), the first revision of our state's criminal laws in more than 20 years, which provides that certain convicted offenders serve their full time in state jails, freeing up overcrowded penitentiary space.

The Finnell amendment is the first effective measure in decades striking directly at the increasing problem of high-speed rustling in this state.

"Stealing livestock is a serious statewide problem. It hurts ranch and farm families which depend on that livestock for their very livelihood," Finnell said. "Metropolitan citizens not familiar with farming and ranching may not realize that the loss of one head of livestock, for instance, may be the equivalent of thousands of dollars in losses to a city dweller who is the victim of burglary."

He said he is proud his name is on the amendment that makes livestock theft laws significantly tougher in Texas.
