Muenster ISD unveils new gymnasium

by Elaine Schad

The Muenster junior high basketball squad had the honor of playing the first athletic contest in the district's new gymnasium this week, marking formal completion of the more than $500,000 facility.

About 150 people attended an open house at the gym on Sunday. The new gym is located just southwest of the football field and is home to junior high and high school physical education and sports programs, Muenster Superintendent Steve Cooper said. The district's old gym is now being used for the elementary and junior high physical education programs, he said.

"It was very much a group effort," Cooper said of the 15-month project. Members of the community were involved from the beginning planning stages and local contractors were utilized when possible to return investment back into the Muenster community, he said.

The gymnasium project evolved from a need for more classroom space and from the perspective of how to spend dollars most efficiently in planning for long-term needs, Cooper said. "The space was cramped, particularly at the elementary level, and there was a concern about separation of the junior high from the elementary," he said.

The district's two site-based management committees, at the elementary and high school levels, studied the need for more classroom space. Several factors figured in deciding to build a new gymnasium. "The fieldhouse seemed like a natural area for the classrooms, and if we would have built a new classroom facility, it would have cost somewhere between $250,000 and $300,000 for six new classrooms," Cooper said.

Another problem was the existing gymnasium. The floor is adequate for physical education activities, but it was felt that it would be just a matter of time before the floor would no longer be able to withstand the pressures of constant sports activities, he said. There was also a problem structurally in putting in a new floor in the old gymnasium, which is out of level on the east side. Had the district gone the route of a new floor and structural changes, it could have cost around $100,000, Cooper said.

The decision to build the new gym freed the existing gymnasium for elementary physical education and made available the former fieldhouse, which was converted into four classrooms, Cooper said. "The elementary students on bad weather days, would have to stay in their classrooms," he said. "We felt like the total package would give us more options," he said.

The timing of the project was also a concern. The district had about $400,000 in reserves two years ago, money which was being eyed by the state in proposals for education finance reform, Cooper said. There was also a new law that was about to take effect which now mandates that school districts have state approval of plans for new facilities, a law which adds cost and red tape to future building projects. Muenster's decision to proceed with the projects fell just under the timeline of the new law, giving the district local control of the projects, Cooper said.

About $10,000 in outstanding bills remain on the project, bills which are expected to be paid by next month. The district was able to pay for the entire project with reserve funds, about $15,000 in interest drawn from those reserves, as well as from some "belt-tightening" the past budget year which has allowed monies to become available to pay off the gym, Cooper said. Final project cost is expected to be about $575,000, about 15 percent over cost projections, but the board decided on several changes to improve the final product, including additional insulation for energy efficiency and carpeting on the walls for better acoustics, he said.

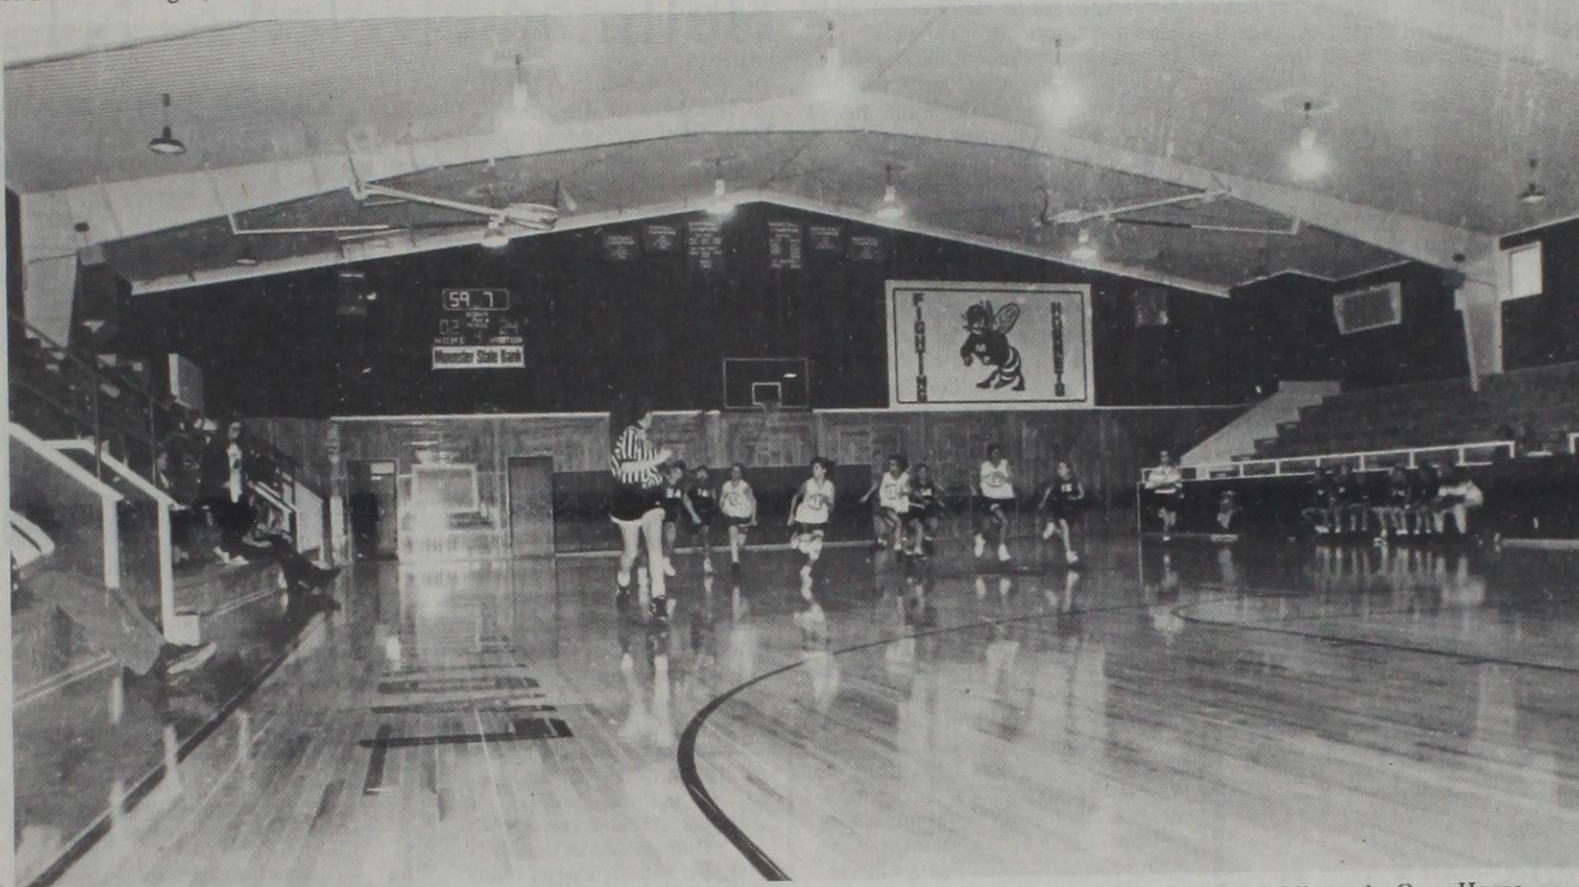

Fourth and fifth grade students are now housed in three of the new classrooms with the fourth classroom vacant at this time. Total cost for the classroom renovation was about $33,000.

The new 16,000 square-foot gymnasium has four dressing rooms, a coach's office, training and weight rooms, lobby, concession stand and restrooms. There are large second-story storage areas above the coach's office and weight room. There are six basketball backboards, with four retractable. The floor is striped for basketball, but there are volleyball standards in place in case needed. The district saved thousands of dollars on the slightly used maple flooring, which builders were able to get at a substantial discount. There was even some flooring left over which was used to make decorative designs on the wall. Bleachers located on both sides of the gym will seat about 750 people.

Charlie Price of Coppell was construction manager for the gym, assisting with the bidding and legalities of the project. About 70 percent of the project involved local subcontractors, Cooper said. "The game plan all along was for us to go as general contractor so we could keep most of the money here locally while complying legally," he said. "It worked beautifully."

Some of those included the largest contract of the project, $101,000 that went to Structures, Inc. of Muenster, G&H Backhoe, which did the dirtwork, Bill Black Electrical for the electrical work, Tom Hesse of Muenster for heat and air for the lobby, coach's office and dressing rooms, Phil Young of Lindsay for plumbing work.

Cooper complimented the work of the Muenster school board in making sure the gym and classroom projects turned out well. "The board was very fastidious and meticulous," he said. "Their bottom line was they wanted to build something nice, something that would last, and something that the community could be proud of," Cooper said.

If that sounds claustrophobic and nerve wracking the Muenster Chamber of Commerce has an alternative for you - come to Christkindlmarkt and do your shopping in a relaxed friendly atmosphere.

Arts and crafts booths will be open all day Friday and Saturday and Der Weihnachtsman, the Olde World German Santa will be visiting in Muenster. Merchants plan to offer samples of specialty foods offered in Muenster such as hot wassail, gourmet coffees, cookies, cheeses and sausages. Many businesses plan to offer specials during the two-day event.

Other special events planned for Friday are a bake sale starting at 9 a.m. sponsored by the Muenster ISD basketball teams; a sausage making demonstration at Fischer's Market at 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.; a Christmas tour of homes from 2 to 5 p.m.; hot dogs and hot chocolate will be sold at 5:30 p.m. by Boy Scout Troop 664; a Live Nativity at 6 p.m. will bring the evening to a close.

prepared to turn on their Christmas lights at 6 p.m.

Santa Claus is coming to town on Saturday! He will arrive in time to visit with the children from 1:30 to 3 p.m. Children are invited to register for a drawing to be held at 3 p.m. Several lucky children whose names are drawn will get to ride in the parade with Santa. ## MISD meets, hears final report on new gym

by Elaine Schad

The Muenster school board faced a relatively light agenda at its regular November meeting.

Trustees heard a report on the opening of the new gymnasium. All the bills aren't in yet, but it looks like the final cost for the gymnasium will be about $575,000, Cooper said. A final tally should be available by the school board's next meeting in December, he said.

The board voted to allow concessions to be taken into the gym area with a few exceptions that are comparable to the concession regulations for the old gym, Cooper said.

Trustees also discussed registration procedures for an underground gas tank that is located just northeast of the new gym, but took no action. The board is expected to decide whether to move the tank or register it in its current location at its next meeting.

In other action, school trustees: --Approved Dec. 17 as a waiver day from the Texas Education Agency for staff development purposes. There will be no class held that day, but teachers will Please See MISD, Page 2

Muenster hosts Denton Street Rods Club

The "Top Tin" Street Rods of Denton County chose Muenster to hold their finale of the year car rally and membership meeting. Club President Tony Jones said they were expecting as many as 120 entries and 75 percent of them had arrived by 5:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon. Most of the restored classics were on display on the Sacred Heart Community Center parking lot. Later, members and guests enjoyed a meal, slide show and awards inside the center.

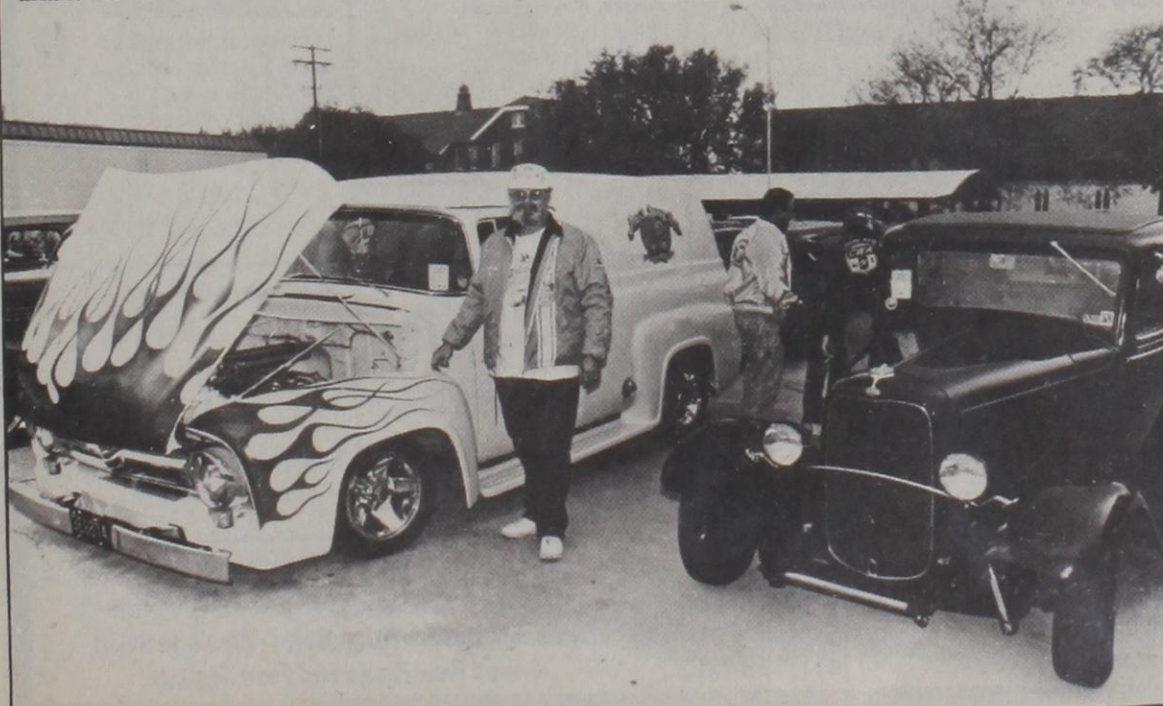

The afternoon timed road rally and scavenger hunt on the way from Denton and kids' activities at the center made a full day. Vice-President E.D. Groening said they try to make it a real family affair. He added that street rod enthusiasts came from Louisiana, Oklahoma and all over Texas for this big event. They may come back next year and spend the whole day here. "Everyone has treated us great here in Muenster," Groening said.

Several choice awards were given - some by local officials, such as picked by the mayor, fire chief, police chief and church pastor. The picture above shows Mayor Bill Miller's choice, a beautiful 1931 Model A, owned by Joe Cox from Roanoke. Below, Joe Joseph from Grapevine shows his 1956 Ford Panel. It featured a 302 engine from a 1976 Mustang and a Ford 9-inch rear end.

This event was coordinated through the Muenster Chamber of Commerce and several local businesses donated door prizes.

Dear Editor,
Let me use "our paper" to offer our sincere thanks to the community and parish for their generous contributions to the local Court of Catholic Daughters.

Especially do we say thanks to Beta Kappa for their gift of an electric roaster.

To the families of Theresa Moster, Charley Hellman, Bernard Swirczynski, Andy Wimmer, Hilda Self, Al Hess, Oscar Walter, Ursula Herr, Lawrence Sicking, Anna Yosten and Joe Weinzapfel.

A sincere thank you to Dorothy Knapp and Wayne Trachta; to all these generous folks we say thank you. I don't think I realized until now how many relatives and friends we lost just this last year.

On a brighter side, we recently received five new members into our court. Eva Walterscheid, Faye Fette, Jodie French, Carrie Walterscheid and Jane Stroud.

We would certainly welcome more new members and former members. Our meetings are on the first Monday of the month and our next meeting is Dec. 6. At this meeting, we will pack goodie bags for the elderly and shut-ins.

We are again sponsoring the education contest for students fourth grade through high school. There are four categories - art, essay, poetry and posters.

Last, but not least, let me say thanks to Bayer's, Fischer's, H&W, Hofbauer's and Rohmer's. Rohmer's furnishes all the ice.

And, to the Knights of Columbus who share their facilities and make our work (it's really not work), so much easier, thanks.

At this Thanksgiving time, may each of you be blessed with good health and we wish you great joy with your families, friends and neighbors.

Sincerely, Dorothy Fisher, Regent

P.S. Please return our stainless steel pans. The hall is open on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. We really do need them.

Dear Editor:
As Conductress of the VFW Auxiliary, I feel compelled to write this letter regarding a very grave matter.

After having attended many area football games, I, as well as others, were appalled to see many adults and students who failed to remove their hats while the national anthem was being played.

National Flag Etiquette Section 6 states, "During rendition of the national anthem when the flag is displayed, all present except those in uniform should stand at attention facing the flag with the right hand over the heart. Men not in uniform should remove their headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart... When the flag is not displayed, those present should face toward the music and act in the same manner they would if the flag were displayed there."

Section 4 states, "That no disrespect should be shown to the flag of the United States of America."

Many local veterans fought in many wars to uphold the honor of our flag, to keep it flying free, to keep our nation free, so we must now do our part to uphold that honor. And if we, as adults cannot show respect and honor to our national standard, how can we expect our children to carry on this time honored tradition?

So, the next time you hear the national anthem being played please stand at attention for those few minutes to honor Old Glory and if by chance the person next to you forgets -- gently remind him.

The Flag is our Flag. Every color means liberty. Honor it, respect it, revere it and protect it always.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Fette:

Since 1985, scores of families in Muenster have prepared Christmas Boxes for needy children in Latin America and sent them to us at Friends of the Americas. For most of the children, this wonderful box from America was the only present they received at Christmas. Each box is designated by an American family for a Latin boy or girl of a particular age and sex. It contains 30 new items, such as a dress or shirt and pants, socks, underwear, toothpaste, school supplies, toys, an American flag and most important, a photo and letter from the person who prepared the box. Over the past eight years, Friends has delivered more than 300,000 Christmas boxes to the neediest children in 20 countries of Latin America: children who survived recent natural disasters, children in refugee camps, orphans, street children and children in the "marginal areas" of the big cities of Latin America. Friends has established an intricate distribution system for delivering the Christmas Boxes to needy children. We ship the boxes to each country where they are stored until distribution day. By then, the country chairman has selected the boys and girls to receive the boxes. We have one strict rule: The box must be personally handed to the needy children by an American. This is how we make sure every box gets where it should.

This year, Christmas Boxes will be distributed in many countries of Latin America, jungles, the highlands of Guatemala, the slums of Quito, Ecuador, and Bogota, Columbia, the Miskito Indians of Nicaragua, the San Blas Cuna Indians of Panama as well as the poor areas of Panama and the poor areas of the Dominican Republic. The U.S. ambassador or his wife often serve as Friends' country chairman for the project. It is an opportunity for our diplomats and other Americans to go where the poor children are and provide them with direct assistance. But most important, it is a chance for American families to express their love for the children of Latin America by spending family time together to prepare these boxes. At Friends of the Americas, we are hard at work right now processing boxes as they arrive every day.

We want to take this opportunity to invite the people of the Muenster area to participate in this project and prepare Christmas Boxes this year. Thousands of children are praying that we in the United States will remember them this Christmas. If you would like to prepare a box, please write for our "Christmas Box Action Kit" at Friends of the Americas, 1024 N. Foster Drive, Baton Rouge, LA 70806 or call (504)926-5707. Please mention that you read about it in the Muenster Enterprise.

Although no Representative has more standing committee assignments than Finnell, Speaker Laney noted "Charles is one of only two Representatives who maintained a 100% voting record again throughout the entire 140-day session."

Attorney General Dan Morales spoke next, emphasizing that "because of Finnell's help he could attack the problem of keeping the dangerous state criminals behind bars." Both Morales and Finnell have received the Texans' War on Drugs award for outstanding leadership.

Lindsay ISD approves transfer fees

by Elaine Schad
The Lindsay school board approved a new payment policy for transfer fees during their regular November meeting.

The new policy will take effect at the beginning of the 1994-1995 school year. Those people who are paying transfer fees to send their children to the Lindsay ISD can pay half the fee at the beginning of the first semester and the remaining half at the beginning of the second semester. There will be a 30-day grace period if not paid by those deadlines after which time the child's name will be removed from the class rolls. The new policy will not affect the amount of transfer fees charged. The current transfer fees are $400 for one student, $800 for two students or $1,000 per family.

In other business, trustees:

- Set Nov. 29 and 30 as staff development days in the cafeteria. School will be dismissed at 12:45 p.m. on those days.
- Cast the district's ballots for Arthur Felderhoff as a board member to the Cooke County Appraisal District.
- Heard a report from the Raising Expectations meeting. The focus of the meeting is to develop strategies for applying real world applications to the classroom. All Texas school districts are involved in the effort according to a new state mandate. The Lindsay district will continue to focus on improving computer access, development of communication and writing skills as well as an improved knowledge of geography as part of its plan, officials said.

- Heard a report from the Site Based Management Committee chair Denise Schumacher. The state-mandated committee has a focus of bringing more campus-based and local control to the district.
- Voted to change the board's December meeting date to Dec. 13 due to the Christmas holidays.
- Approved an interlocal agreement with the Cooke County Special Education Cooperative.
- Heard a report on a proposal to expand the bleachers on the home side of the new football field, but took no action.

TIPS ON STAYING SAFE AND SOUND WITH NATURAL GAS.

For more than 80 years, Lone Star Gas has been providing safe, dependable energy to its customers. By following a few simple rules, you can help make sure you and your family stay safe and sound with natural gas:

- Always have qualified service people install, regularly check and maintain all gas heaters and appliances, following the manufacturer's instructions for installation, ventilation, and operation.
- Always use a gas appliance only for its intended purpose. An oven, for example, should not be used to heat a room.
- Always keep flammable materials and substances away from gas heaters and appliances. Remember, a pilot light is constantly burning.

- 4 Do not strike a match or do anything else that might cause a spark.
- 5 Go to the nearest telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the cause of the gas leak before returning to your home.

If you smell gas while you're outside, contact Lone Star Gas immediately.

CONTRACTORS, BEFORE YOU DIG, call your local Lone Star Gas Office, and we'll help you avoid any potential problems.

IF YOU SMELL GAS in your home, or know you have a gas leak, follow these rules:

- 1 Everyone should leave the house immediately, leaving the doors open for ventilation.
- 2 Do not switch anything electrical on or off.
- 3 Do not use your telephone (telephones use small amounts of electricity).

SAFETY TIPS. We've put together a brochure that includes safety tips designed to educate your whole family about the proper usage of natural gas. For a copy, or if you have any questions, call us at 1-800-545-3427.

Nov. 13 ceremony unites couple

The wedding of Jenny Lynn Wimmer and Steven John Corcoran, both of Bedford, was held in St. Peter's Catholic Church of Lindsay on Nov. 13, 1993, with Nuptial Mass and double-ring ceremony officiated by Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, pastor of Sacred Heart Church of Muenster.

Daughter of Ray and Kaye Wimmer of Muenster, the bride is a 1990 graduate of Muenster High School and a 1993 graduate of Cooke County College. She is a Registered Nurse employed by Baylor Medical Center in the Bone Marrow Transplant Unit.

The groom is the son of Tom and Sandra Corcoran of Gainesville. He is a 1985 graduate of Lindsay High School and is employed as a Diesel Mechanic for Ryder Truck Rental in Grapevine.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents and escorted by her father to an altar decorated with bouquets of ivory lilies and roses, and lighted candles. Pews were marked with ivory satin bows.

For her wedding, the bride chose an original candlelight formal gown by Lili, designed with V neckline, fitted bodice embossed with Alencon lace, seed pearls and iridescents. Long puffy sleeves were slim-fitted to the wrists. The peplum waistline added a regal look to the very full skirt. The hemline was surrounded with a beautiful, wide lace trim embossed with pearls and sequins. Designs of lace, pearls and sequins enhanced the satin chapel-length train.

Her veil was held by clusters of pearls and beaded lace, flowing to elbow length from a full pouf. She carried a bridal bouquet of ivory lilies and rosebuds surrounded with purple statice.

ATTENDANTS

Bridesmaids were Jenny Damsgard of Littleton, Colorado, a friend of the bride; Leslie Eddleman of Denton, bride's cousin; Denise Anderle of Muenster, Amy Sandmann of Lubbock and Dana Wimmer of Muenster, all friends of the bride. They were attired in Alfred Angelo designed gowns of iridescent grape with sweetheart necklines, and tea-length skirts in front, drifting to floor length in back. Each carried a smaller replica of the bride's bouquet.

Nicole Moore of Euless, groom's cousin, was flower girl and Michael Valliere of Muenster, bride's cousin, was ring bearer.

Tom Birckbichler of Denton, a friend of the groom, was best man.

Groomsmen were Mike Corcoran of Gainesville and Patrick Corcoran of Stephenville, both brothers of the groom; Brian Bednorz of Grapevine, Scott Fleitman of Dallas and Kenny Noggler of Lindsay, friends of the groom.

Ushers were Jeff Wimmer, bride's cousin, and Kevin Fuhrmann, Jeff Hellman, all of Lindsay, and Kenneth Fuhrmann of Denton, all friends of the groom.

Mass servers were Adam Klement of Muenster, bride's cousin, and Jeff Bezner of Lindsay, a friend.

In the special wedding liturgy, Allison Klement of Lubbock, bride's cousin, gave the First Reading and Responsorial Psalm; Bridget Anderle, a friend, gave the Second Reading; and godparents of the couple, Andy and Emily Klement and Harold and Rita Corcoran, presented Offertory gifts at the altar.

Wedding music was pre-recorded by the bride and her sister, Kelley Wimmer, with assistance of Wendell Black, and accompanied by Ruth Felderhoff. Vocal selections were "We've Only Just Begun," "I Cross My Heart," "Edelweiss," "Turn Around," "Bridal Prayers," "We Are An Offering," "This Is My Body," "Amazing Grace," and "Hail Mary." Ruth Felderhoff played traditional wedding marches.

RECEPTION

A reception followed in the new Centennial Hall of Lindsay, hosted by the bride and groom and their parents. Dinner was catered by the Hermes Sisters.

Presiding at the guest book were Kristen Ware of Lubbock, bride's cousin, and Emily Corcoran of Lindsay, groom's cousin.

Betty Rose Walterscheid baked and decorated the wedding cakes and cut the bride's cake. Karen Endres cut the groom's cake. Assisting with serving were Tara and Gina Yosten, and Laura and Adam Klement, bride's cousins; Angela Lewis and Amanda Felderhoff, groom's cousins. Margie Huchton, Rosemary Fangman and Clara Hess attended the cheese table.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in their home on Friday, Nov. 12.

Upon return from a wedding trip to Cozumel, the couple will reside in Bedford.

JULIE LYNN SANDMANN of Lubbock and John Martin Hyatt of Lubbock will be married on Dec. 18, 1993 in St. Peter's Catholic Church of Lindsay, officiated by Father Eugene Luke, OSB, at 5 p.m. Their engagement and approaching marriage have been announced by parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sandmann of Lindsay. "Trick Or Treat"
by Jennifer Fuhrmann
Just like on Halloween little children go "trick or treating", the Sacred Heart Student Council also went "trick or treating". Only, they did not go for candy, they went for canned foods.
Every year the Sacred Heart Student Council divides up the town of Muenster, and goes "trick or treating" for canned foods. This is one of the many service projects that the student council does every year.
The canned foods collected are put into bags and taken to Sacred Heart school. After Halloween night, the many boxes of canned foods are taken to the local food bank. From here the cans are dispersed to the people in Cooke County who do not have the funds to buy their families' food for their meals. The local food bank the cans are taken to is in Gainesville. Each year the Sacred Heart Student Council has people out on the town collecting canned foods for those who need it the most, so if you would like to help them feed a family next year, all you have to do is give a few canned foods to them and the students will take care of the rest.

Home Hospice honored in November

November will be observed nationwide as National Hospice Month, saluting an organization that provides a special kind of care for terminally-ill people. Hospice is one of the fastest growing fields in health care today. Locally, here in Cooke County, approximately 45 patients and their families are included in the approximately quarter of a million people receiving care under the hospice program.

Under the supervision of the individual's personal physician, Home Hospice provides nursing, psychological, pastoral, social, volunteer and personal care aide services in the home, or other alternate living arrangement. If the individual requires hospitalization, this support is continued. Individuals are admitted regardless of age, race, religion, gender or ability to pay. Funding is provided from Medicare, Medicaid, private insurance, United Way, foundations, trusts, churches, memorials, friends of Hospice, the Hospice Auxiliary "Light Up A Life" fundraising campaigns.

The goal of Home Hospice is to enable the dying to enjoy the best possible quality of life until their last moments, pain-free, surrounded by friends and family, at home or in a home-like setting in nursing homes.

For more information about the Hospice concept of care, contact Home Hospice at 665-9891.

ANGELA ANTONETTI, treasurer of Cooke County Home Hospice, shows the framed proclamation the organization received from Mayor Jim J. Hatcher during the Gainesville City Council meeting on Nov. 2. Both Mrs. Antonetti and Al Mulrean, Cooke County Hospice President, responded and emphasized the dedication of volunteers, care of patients and their families; and stressed that the "Light Up A Life" campaign will run from Nov. 28-Dec. 17 with Christmas trees at Bealls, Tom Thumb and the new Outlet Mall.

NET returns to Muenster

After a two-year absence, the NET Team will again minister in the Muenster community! We are privileged to have the team visit us in December. The Sacred Heart Youth Ministry office will sponsor the team's visit, starting Wednesday, Dec. 1, with a CCD Senior High Retreat from 6 to 9:30 p.m.

The next day, Thursday, Dec. 2, Sacred Heart High School will meet at the KC Hall for an all-day event. The last day of the team's visit, Friday, Dec. 3, the Sacred Heart Junior High will have a morning session to close out the 1993 visit of the National Evangelization Team.

Team #8 is comprised of 12 people who have taken a year off from studies, work, family and friends to spread the Gospel through their powerful dramas, testimonies, music and one-on-one ministering. They come from all over the country and from all walks of life to send the message of God's love and forgiveness.

In this sometimes very dark world and frightening news reports, they certainly send a message of light and hope to young and old alike. To help in financing their visit or offerings of food and assistance, please call the Youth Office, 759-2511, Ext. 44; Emily Klement, 759-4554 (home); or Pam Fette, 759-2894.

Please share your memories of Christmas Past!

No other memories can equal Christmas memories of childhood and our growing-up years. We here at The Muenster Enterprise are seeking stories that deserve to be preserved for your grandchildren and great-grandchildren - stories that grow more precious with each retelling.

Please sit down some evening soon, relax and let your thoughts recall Christmases to make your childhood come alive for your children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and your friends.

If you wish, we will accept your words as written. If you are a bit uncomfortable in expressing such memories, please call, tell us about them and let us help you compose your memories and put them on paper.

Several times before, we have requested your help on similar Christmas features, and always we've received favorable responses. But, rarely have we found anyone willing to "tell their own story." Most people usually say, "Oh, I would just love to read such things about others, but I don't want to do it myself!"

Won't you please let us help you?

Students urge "stop smoking"

Muenster Public School students observed the Great American Smokeout on Nov. 18.

Students watched videos, "Huffless, Puffless, Dragon", "Where There's No Smoke", and received Tick, Tick, Pamphlet, Frog T-Shirt Transfers, Be Beary Healthy, Please Don't Smoke stickers, bookmarks, and posters, courtesy of the American Cancer Society.

Students in grades K-5 designed posters to display around the community. The third grade presented a skit telling about the dangers of smoking. In addition, students encouraged people to stop smoking by writing letters and sending them a list of things to do instead of smoking. If even one person stops smoking, the students feel they have made a difference.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

George Armstrong Custer, the son of an Ohio blacksmith, talked himself into an appointment to West Point, where he earned a record number of demerits and a reputation for slovenliness. He graduated, ranked 34th in a class of 34.

Custer, a superb horseman, served under General Sheridan, who commanded the Union cavalry in the Civil War and, after a spectacular rise in rank over a period of one year, took over one of three divisions under Sheridan's command, as a major general at age 25.

After the Civil War, he was sent west to try and control the Indians, again under Sheridan.

Custer had an enormous ego and was inclined to disregard orders from time to time. He was extremely hard on his troops, caring little for their comfort or what kind of food they had, while he had his scouts supply his table with fresh game and, at times, took a woman cook along to better prepare his meals.

He was quite unpredictable and would often act on a whim. Once, while moving his troops across hostile territory, he came upon some antelope signs and, on the spur of the moment, decided to try his stag hounds on a hunt. With no explanation to his men, and not bothering to take one of several scouts along, he began to trail the antelope. After riding for miles, he happened upon a buffalo's track and followed it instead. Eventually, he rode alongside the buffalo bull and, rather than use his rifle, he decided to kill the animal with a .36 caliber pistol he was very proud of. The buffalo stopped and, just as Custer took aim, it turned toward the horse in a threatening manner, causing the mount to shy away and jerk its head to the side. It was instantly killed, shot through the head by the startled Custer. Fortunately for Custer the bull trotted off, leaving the general afoot, miles from his troop in hostile country, with no idea just where he or his troop were. After wandering about for some time, he finally decided to trust his dogs to find the way back and, after hours of walking, saw the dust from his regiment, which he later caught up with.

Though no one, friends or enemies, doubted Custer's bravery in battle, it was escapades like this that caused General Sherman to say, in a letter to his brother, that Custer "had not too much sense."

KENNETH and CHARLENE WOODS

Golden wedding observed on October 23 in Denton

Kenneth and Charlene Woods of Forestburg were honored Saturday evening, Oct. 23, with a dinner and dance at the Denton Country Club in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Hosts were the couple's children and spouses, Mr. and Mrs. Jack (Patsy) Martin of Austin, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth (Debbie) Woods of Henrietta, and Mr. and Mrs. John (Connie) Woods of Dallas. Also in attendance were the couple's five grandchildren, Mackenzie, Andy and Shannon Martin of Austin, and Lane and Lincoln Woods of Henrietta.

During the evening, Mrs. Woods was presented a gardenia corsage much like the one she wore on her wedding day. Approximately 66 guests enjoyed the big band music of the Cooke County Orchestra, led by Dean Patterson, a 20-piece orchestra from Gainesville.

A buffet meal was served and guests were seated at round tables decorated with fall-colored floral arrangements and cameras so they could participate as amateur photographers for the evening. A photo album of the pictures taken will be given to the honorees as a memento of their celebration. A three-tiered bridal cake and a chocolate groom's cake were served as dessert.

Special guests for the evening included Mrs. Hal (Frances White) Walling of Wichita Falls, who was the bride's maid of honor, and Mr. Hardie Fortenberry of Hurst, who served as the groom's best man. The couple's three children each made a toast to their parents and Mr. Fortenberry read a humorous poem he had written especially for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods were married Oct. 24, 1943, at the First Methodist Church of Fort Worth with the Rev. Irving Smith officiating. Mrs. Woods is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C.A. (Eliza) Willis of Forestburg and Mr. Woods' parents are the late Mr. and Mrs. C.R. (Beatrice) Woods of Fort Worth. The Woods have lived in Forestburg for 20 years and enjoy raising cattle.

Take on #1 Gunter... Knights pluck Eagles

The Lindsay Knights brought home the Bi-District championship Friday night, defeating the Mildred Eagles 29-7 in an almost flawless game. "We gave up some silly plays," commented Coach Charlie Meurer, including a successful faked fake punt for a 21-yard gain. "We were not emotionally into the game, though we played exceptionally well. I was pleased with the efforts the boys put out, which was well enough to win."

Lindsay took the opening drive and shoved it down the Eagles' throat. On the first play, Shane Huchton drove for a 42-yard gain to the 25-yard line. Two more Huchton runs took the Knights to the 14. Jeff Hale added another 5 and 3 Huchton runs later, Lindsay was on the board. Toby Eberhart added the extra point and, with 9:29 remaining on the clock, Lindsay had an early 7-0 lead.

It was 3 runs and punt for Mildred with the Knights starting on their own 35-yard line. Six short runs by Huchton and 1 by Hale and Lindsay was on the Eagles' 39. Shane Huchton broke free for a run to the end zone, but an illegal motion flag brought the ball back.

Huchton got in 2 good runs, 1 for 3 yards and Lindsay was sitting on the 12. Hale got 6 yards closer with Chris Brown having the honor of making the 2nd touchdown. Eberhart's kick counted and the Knights had a 14-0 lead with 2:43 in the clock.

Mildred's second offensive attempt slowly drove the Eagles into the second quarter. Defense by Shawn Cartwright, Matt Menzie, Jeremy Owen and George Lutkenhaus left the Eagles with a 4th and 4. A fake punt was good for a 21-yard gain across midfield. Short runs kept pounding the Lindsay defense and, in 16 plays with 6:22 on the clock, Mildred closed the gap to a 14-7 ball game.

The Knights mounted a scoring drive on their next possession with Huchton running 7 of the 11 plays in the drive, including the final 1 yard for 6 points. The point after was blocked and Lindsay extended their lead to 20-7.

Friday night, the Knights are matched against the #1-ranked Gunter Tigers. "They're talented, but beatable," commented Coach Meurer. "It's difficult to tell how good they are, their district opponents appear to be weak on the field."

Only 19 points have been scored against the Tigers all season, their big strength being their defense. "The game will be exciting," concluded Meurer.

The game will be played at Bearcat Stadium in Sherman. Exit Hwy. 82 on South 75 and look for the lights. Action begins at 7:30 p.m.

Football Contest expanded to playoffs

The Muenster Enterprise's annual Football Contest continues with Mickey Haverkamp taking the top prize in the 11th week. Mickey correctly guessed 26 winners and picked up her cash prize at Community Lumber, last week's tiebreaker sponsor. Second place honors went to Peachie Huchton. She missed only 5 games and found her cash prize at the DI One Stop. Four entries missed 6 games, but Sara Long took third place, missing the tiebreaker score by only 5 points. Mike Hacker had a 12-point spread, Wayne Klement 16 and Tony Fuhrmann 22. Sara's cash prize was left at the Muenster Pharmacy for her to pick up.

Of the 27 entries, the lowest all season, everyone correctly picked the Cowboys, Tyler Street, Honey Grove and Texas Tech to win, while only one forgot to mark Collinsville as the winner. The most missed game was Nolan over Bishop Lynch and the Packers over the Saints.

In the season contest, the leader this week is still Bonnie Stoffels with 83% of all games guessed correctly. Wayne Klement is moving in close with 82 and Mike Stoffels and Mike Felderhoff at 80%.

Benny and Mickey Haverkamp follow at 79% with Terry Walterscheid, Nick Stoffels, Peachie and Neil Huchton coming in at 78%. Following are those above 70%: Edna Hermes and Mike Hacker, Edgar Dyer and Sara Long, Mark Grewing, Mark Fuhrmann and Cory Cain, Bob Hess, Carol Grewing and Cory Knabe.

This week's selection could decide the big season winner, so pick wisely and good luck!

Tigers advance to Quarter Finals... SH wins over Pantego, again

For the second consecutive week, the Tigers of Sacred Heart defeated the Pantego Christian Academy Panthers of Arlington. Friday's 32-20 win earned the Tigers a Regional Championship and advancement in the TAPPS 1A Quarterfinal playoff round.

"I was happy that we were not overconfident, but a little disappointed in the mistakes the offense made," Tiger Coach John Nasche commented. "Pantego didn't stop us, we stopped ourselves with penalties."

Pantego took the opening kick, but a quarterback sack by Jeremy Bayer forced a Panther punt.

Starting at midfield, an incomplete pass and a holding call gave the Tigers a slow start, but a 20-yard gain on a Jason Hess-to-Kelly Bayer pass earned a 1st down to the 30. Another flag and 2 incomplete passes forced the Tigers to try a field goal. The attempt failed and Pantego took over on their 34. A pass play was good for a 22-yard gain, but the Panthers' next pass was picked off by John Klement and Sacred Heart had possession on their 18.

Three consecutive Scott Frost runs carried the Tigers out to the 34, before running out of downs and the Tigers punted.

It was 3 plays and punt for Pantegos' next drive, starting Sacred Heart's drive on their 38. Going to the air, a Hess-to-Neil Berres pass picked up 13 yards. Frost ran for 8 and Berres for 11. From the 30, Hess connected with Berres for an 11-yard gain. Assisted by a roughing-the-passer flag, the Tigers were on the 9.

Frost carried the Tigers to the 5, but 2 consecutive penalties pushed them back to the 30. A Hess-to-Klement pass gained 15, followed by a screen play to Frost to the 3. On 4th down, a field goal attempt failed and the game remained scoreless as the Panthers carried the ball into the 2nd quarter. After a few good gains, Pantego's drive was ended when Jody Fleitman covered a loose ball on the Tigers' 42-yard line.

Sacred Heart couldn't get the needed yards and kicked. Again, the Panthers got a good drive going and, again, Jody Fleitman was the Tiger that stopped Pantego on a crucial 4th-down play.

The Tigers' next drive was good for 61 yards. From their 39, runs by Frost and passes to Berres and Frost took the Tiger line to the 30.

Berres ran for 5 and Klement 9, with a face mask flag moving the ball up to the 4-1/2-yard line. Two Frost runs and the Tigers were on the board. Michael Becker added the point after for a 7-0 score with 2 minutes remaining in the first half.

Pantego bounced right back. On their 5th play, a 58-yard pass play was good for 6 points. With 33 seconds on the clock, the PAT made it a tied 7-7 game at halftime.

"We had to contend with a lot of trick plays, including 'the swinging gate,'" Nasche said. "The adjustments on our defense and the correction of our mistakes were what doomed the Panthers the 2nd half."

The Tigers' offense started the second half with a good drive, that was shortened by an intercepted pass on the 19-yard line. Pantego worked out an 81-yard scoring drive in 7 plays to take the lead. The point after was good for a 14-7 score 5 minutes into the 3rd quarter.

Sacred Heart fought right back with Scott Frost getting a 32-yard run to midfield. A Hess-to-Klement pass earned 6 with Frost and Klement running for another 5 to the Pantego 41. Neil Berres powered through the line for another 14 yards.

Frost and Hess moved the ball to the 14, where Scott Frost carried it in for the touchdown. The extra run failed and the Tigers were trailing 14-13 with 4:42 on the clock.

After a good Tiger kick, the Panthers started their next attempted drive on their 21-yard line. A bad snap was fumbled as Brandon Bayer prevented Pantego from covering, allowing Jeremy Bayer to get the ball on the 1-yard line. A quarterback sneak by Jason Hess put the Tigers ahead 19-14 with 4:31 remaining in the quarter.

The Tigers' defense forced a Panther kick 6 plays later to the 49. Neil Berres took the ball on the first Tiger play 51 yards to paydirt. Becker added the point after and, with 2:18 on the clock, Sacred Heart had a 26-14 lead.

Pantego booted their possession away after three unsuccessful plays. From their 26, Sacred Heart was in the end zone on a 28-yard run by Hess, but a holding flag took the ball out to the 40. An intentional grounding moved Sacred Heart back to the Tigers' 40-yard line. Two unsuccessful plays forced a punt. After a motion flag, a good second punt was made on 4th and 40.

The Panthers' next drive was assisted by an interference call, but ended abruptly when Jody Fleitman covered a fumbled ball on the Tiger 34.

Sacred Heart hit the air waves, with Jason Hess finding Berres for 17- and 25-yard gains, then Kelly Bayer to the 12. Two incomplete passes were followed by a screen pass to John Klement for the touchdown. The run after failed for a 32-14 score with 4:43 remaining in the game.

The teams exchanged possession, with Pantego then getting in one more score on a 22-yard pass play with 1:14 on the clock, 32-20.

"The team did a tremendous job of fighting back late in the 3rd quarter to win," said Nasche, who names Mike Schilling and Brandon Bayer as defensive standouts. "With these 2 underclassmen and the wealth of the seniors, our defense became the strength the second half of the season."

Neil Berres is credited for having an outstanding performance with over 200 yards on offense and quarterback Jason Hess for coming through.

Sacred Heart will take on defending TAPP 1A State Champions, the Saint Paul Cardinals of Shiner. The Cardinals won their district over Waco Parkview and Balch Springs Christian.

St. Paul uses its 1-2 punch of running backs Brian Palek and Jaime Pahler. Pahler rushed for 1,324 yards and 13 touchdowns last season.

"We'll need another fine performance from our defense," commented Nasche. "If we can pass and the 'D Line' can dominate, we will have a win." Nasche describes St. Paul as a smash-mouth team, playing toe-to-toe.

The game is set for 7:30 p.m. in Rosebud, Texas. Sacred Heart will be the visitors.

DIRECTIONS TO GAME

Take West I-35 to Waco; get off on Hwy. 77 to Lott, Texas; 5 miles past Lott, on your right, is the football field, which is in Travis, Texas (which frequently is not on the map). If you get to Rosebud, turn around, you've gone too far.

Advanced Ticket Sales

Advanced tickets can be purchased at Sacred Heart High School office - $4 for adults; $2 for students. All admissions at the gate will be $5.

Tax Talk

by: Duane Knabe, CPA

This week's topic concerns two of the retroactive changes made by the Clinton Tax Act. If one of the following changes affects you, you may be entitled to a refund.

Self-employed taxpayers who incurred health insurance costs after July 1, 1992, and filed their tax return without claiming the 25% deduction that was retroactively reinstated to July 1, 1992 are entitled to a refund.

And consumers who paid the 10% luxury tax on airplanes, boats, or jewelry/furs on or after January 1, 1993, are also entitled to a refund.

Texans learn a new name for shade

Why fruit is waxed

by Evelyn Yeatts,
Cooke County Extension Agent - H.E.

Some consumers may wonder why fresh produce is covered with wax. Waxes are used to help retain the product's moisture during shipping and marketing. Most produce is 80 to 95 percent moisture. Many fruits and vegetables manufacture their own natural waxy coating (called cuticle) to help retain moisture. However, after harvest, the natural wax substances are removed when the produce is washed before packing. Therefore, waxes are applied to some commodities to replace natural ones that are lost.

Waxes are also used to help inhibit mold growth, to protect fruits and vegetables from bruising and to prevent other physical damage, disease, and pathogens. By protecting against moisture loss and fungus or bacterial contamination, wax coatings help fresh fruits and vegetables retain the wholesome, healthy appearance that consumers demand. Waxing does not improve the quality of any inferior fruits or vegetables, but it is a beneficial adjunct to good handling.

Waxes are used only in minuscule amounts. In fact, one pound of wax will cover an average of 160,000 pieces of fruits or vegetables. The waxes may be mixed with water and emulsifying and wetting agents to ensure that a thin, continuous coating is applied to the product.

Waxes, without exception, come from natural sources. Commercial waxes generally are formulated from plant and petroleum sources and usually consist of a combination of carnauba wax (from the leaves of Brazilian palm), food-grade shellac (from an insect) polyethylene, or paraffin-type waxes. These waxes are also commonly used as food additives for candy and pastries.

The government (FDA) approves and regulates waxes to ensure their safety. All coatings used on fruits and vegetables meet the food additives regulations of FDA. Extensive research has shown that approved waxes are completely safe for human consumption. Waxes are not digestible. They go through the body without breaking down or being absorbed.

Waxes by themselves do not prevent decay; rather, combined with fungicides, they can be important in retarding deterioration. Fungicides, like all pesticides, are strictly regulated for safety by FDA and EPA. Once pesticides are determined to be safe and are approved for use, EPA establishes "tolerance levels" for the negligible amounts of residues that can safely remain on fruits and vegetables. These tolerances are set with a safety buffer of hundreds to thousands of times levels that might be harmful. The levels of fungicides that may remain are small and safe.

The only concerns about eating produce treated with waxes are related to special dietary requirements, particularly kosher or vegetarian diets, because some wax coatings of animal origins are permitted for use. While this type of wax is rarely used, concerned consumers should talk to their grocer for information.

Commodities that may have coatings applied include: apples, avocados, bell peppers, cantaloupes, cucumbers, eggplants, grapefruits, lemons, limes, melons, oranges, parsnips, passion fruit, peaches, pineapples, pumpkins, rutabagas, squash, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, and turnips. However they are not always waxed.

Federal law requires wax labeling by shippers and retailers, which provides consumers with the facts about wax coatings.

by Craig Rosenbaum
Texas A&M Extension horticulturists are recommending a tree with an unfamiliar name, Chinese pistache (pronounced pistash'), as their top choice for urban landscapes, particularly where space is limited. The name may be new to most consumers, but the tree has the same reliable characteristics we depend on for shade trees, they say.

"The Chinese pistache (Pistacia chinensis) is one of the best medium-size trees for most areas of Texas," said Dr. Steve George, Dallas horticulturist with the Agricultural Extension Service. "Its performance is simply outstanding under Texas conditions."

"In fact, this tree is superbly adapted to all areas of Texas except the Rio Grande Valley," said George. "Deeply rooted, it prefers well-drained, moderately dry soils but will tolerate most soil types, even the rocky, abused, alkaline soils common on new home sites across Texas."

"Also, with oak wilt threatening the popular live and red oaks in many areas, homeowners should diversify their choices of trees. Overplanting any one species may open the door to widespread destruction from disease or insects attacking a single kind of tree."

This native of China has been highly recommended for years by horticultural experts at Texas A&M, Oklahoma State and Kansas State Universities. "Years of field trials have proved it to be one of the most beautiful, pest-free, and easily maintained shade trees for the Southwest and Gulf Coast regions," George continued.

Winter hardy as far north as central Kansas, the pistache forms an umbrella-like canopy and at maturity is 40-50 feet high and spreads to a width of 30 feet. With good management, this long-lived species can grow two to three feet each year. It will reach the size to play a major role in your landscape within eight to 10 years.

Its medium to fine textured foliage provides a light-textured shade pattern. The leaves retain their deep green color during the growing season and its fall colors are spectacular bursts of orange, red-orange and even crimson. The wood of the pistache is extremely hard and durable, as well as decay resistant, which makes it safer from wind, ice and vandal injury.

Fruit set occurs only on the female tree and consists of clusters of small, round, green berries which turn reddish-purple to bright red in the fall. These fruit clusters make excellent table decorations. And while inedible for humans, birds relish it.

The first shade tree to receive the "Earth-Kind" designation from the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, the pistache's high levels of resistance to insect and disease problems is vital to reducing pesticide use. "Enlightened plant selection is crucial to achieving the 'Earth-Kind' goal of beautiful, productive plants with minimum effort and maximum protection for the environment," said George. "Choose a plant well adapted to the soils and climate in your area with a moderate growth rate and built-in resistance to disease and insect problems that reduces or eliminates the need for pesticide applications. Chinese pistache trees most admirably fit these criteria."

Pesticide applicator recertification course

Cooke County producers have an opportunity to receive five Continuing Education Units at a Texas Pesticide Applicator Recertification Course offered Dec. 6, 1993. This course will be offered through our local Cooke County Farm Bureau. To attend, producers must enroll by Tuesday, Nov. 23. Seating is limited at the Farm Bureau Building and therefore, reservations must be made on a first come first serve basis. Call the Cooke County Farm Bureau at 665-1763 to make your reservations.

The course will provide five CEUs, including one in Integrated Pest Management and two in Laws and Regulations. The meeting will begin at 9 a.m. and conclude at 2 p.m. Producers need to bring a sack lunch to the meeting. Remember, to renew a license or certificate, most applicators must obtain 15 CEUs by the end of 1995. This course will count toward CEU requirements for all licensees and "grandfathered" private certificate holders.

Satellite trainings are also being held at various locations throughout Texas on the December 6 date. These include the Texas A&M Center at Dallas, Corpus Christi, Brownwood, Overton, Stephenville, Vernon, and other locations throughout the state. If you have any questions concerning the training, contact the Farm Bureau Office or the County Extension Office. Remember, space is limited so make your reservations as soon as possible if you plan to attend.

AG Marketing Club

The Agriculture Marketing Club will meet on Monday, Nov. 22, at the North Texas Bank and Trust Building located on Highway 82 in Gainesville. At the November meeting, Dr. Ken Stokes, Extension Economist, will be on hand where a marketing plan will be developed using small grains and stocker cattle. Also covered will be the use of options, forward contracts, and other tools involved in market decision-making. The meeting is free and open to any producer wishing to attend. The meeting will start at 9 a.m.

Advance Quicken Training
If you have an interest in attending the Advance Quicken Workshop on Dec. 7, contact the Extension Office. There are three remaining slots. This special session for agricultural producers and small business owners currently using Quicken will be conducted on Tuesday, Dec. 7, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Cooke County Electric Co-op. This will be a workshop designed to further explore the uses that producers are already applying with their Quicken 6 program. Advanced financial record keeping, reporting and developing financial statements, alternatives for keeping and using production records, and interpreting information as farm managers will be covered.

Viral disease in rheas, emus controlled: producers reminded to continue precautions

A viral disease affecting rheas and emus (flightless birds similar to ostriches) has been controlled in Texas. Still, regulatory veterinarians urge producers of the big birds, poultry and other fowl to continue their precautions to protect flocks from the H5N2 strain of Avian Influenza.

This contagious virus can cause fowl and other birds to develop red, runny eyes, a rasping cough and heavy congestion. More than 100 strains of the Avian Influenza virus exist, and some can cause death losses in susceptible poultry flocks, rantes, chickens and turkeys.

The "Best of Beef" title and a $20,000 prize went home with amateur cook Sylvia Harber of Boulder City, Nevada, after she won top honors this month at the 20th National Beef Cook-Off in Cheyenne, Wyoming. Her original recipe was "Pronto Spicy Beef and Black Bean Salsa". Arlington Texas' Robin Bonifay Hill took third place

FFA members remodel Ag Dept. building

by Jeff Walterscheid

The members of the Muenster Future Farmers of America have been busy in the Agriculture Science Department of Muenster ISD. Since school has begun, the members have made many improvements in the Ag Department. The restroom has been completely rebuilt, and the old office area is being remodeled to serve as a supply room and locker area. Work is also in progress to remodel part of the Ag Science classroom. All construction and work is being done by FFA members enrolled in Agriculture Science classes.

Other projects in progress are the construction of picnic tables by Ag Mechanics classes and landscape projects by the Landscaping class. In the Ag Mechanics class, Charlie Luttmir and Jimmy Hacker are building picnic tables for the school, while Jill Reiter and Julie Walterscheid are constructing their own picnic tables. Money for the school picnic tables was donated by the Student Council.

Landscape students have just completed a detailed landscape design project and are now working on pruning trees and shrubs around the school grounds. Members of the Landscaping class are Melissa Biffle, Darrell Charles, Jeff Flusche, Jimmy Fisher, Tony Hacker, James Klement, Chris Muller and Les Raines.

Members of the Muenster FFA take pride in the Agriculture Science Department and believe the best way to learn is by doing.

Country Tidings

by Ruth Smith

Services for Mrs. Opal Christian Berry, 91, were held Monday, Nov. 8, 1993, in the Rosston United Methodist Church at 2:30 p.m.

Rev. David Parker Jr., pastor, and Rev. Doyle S. Henderson, pastor of Garland United Methodist Church, officiated.

Interment was in Rosston Cemetery under the direction of Geo. J. Carroll & Son Funeral Home. Opal Christian Berry passed away Nov. 6 in the Muenster Memorial Hospital.

Opal Berry was born March 11, 1902 at Rosston in Cooke County to Hill and Lounis Weaver Christian. Opal Christian was married to Ray Berry, who preceded her in death in 1973. She was also preceded in death by her parents, four brothers, James B., Winifred, Howard and Jack.

Survivors include three sisters, Mrs. Vena Settle of St. Richard's Villa in Muenster, Mrs. Lola Webb and Mrs. Billie Webb of Dallas; two brothers, C.H. "Tip" Christian of Rosston and Weaver Christian of Sapulpa, Oklahoma; a number of nieces and nephews; great-nieces and -nephews; great-great-nieces and -nephews; cousins; and a host of friends.

Pallbearers were Norris Boyd, Louis Ford, Gary Perryman, Carroll Dill, Bud Ford, Doug Nickerson, Paul Whitaker and Byron Ford.

The funeral service opened with the hymn, "All Things Bright and Beautiful." Rev. Parker read scripture from Psalm 118. A special hymn was offered by the song leader and pianist. Rev. Parker read scripture from Romans and offered comforting word to the family and friends.

Rev. Henderson, a lifelong friend of Opal, spoke of her warm handshake and offered a very touching prayer to the family and friends. The hymn, "How Great Thou Art," was offered.

Rev. Henderson then spoke of his growing up knowing Opal and how Opal would say she had the "bestest visit with people." "She always sought the best and always found it" and was a very stately woman.

He read from Psalm 18, Verse 16, "the finest of the wheat and with honey out of the rock." He said Opal had dealt with the rocks of life and that it takes a lot of faith to be a rancher and farmer but she always had a sense of triumph. Rains fell down, no matter what happened, she had the faith.

Opal could say, "I have fought the good fight. As people drive down the road and see the beautiful view, they will miss Opal. If there is a herd of cattle in heaven, Opal will be helping with them. So, sleep, beloved, and enjoy the best." A prayer was offered.

The service closed with the hymn, "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind." Relatives and friends came from Houston, Galveston, Denton, Sweetwater, Fort Worth, Dallas, Springtown, Stephenville, Lockney, Gainesville, Muenster, Rosston, Forestburg, Pilot Point, Weatherford, Era, Slidell, Myra, Valley View, Lewisville, Pottsboro, Garland, South Bend, Indiana, Littleton, Colorado and Cincinnati, Ohio.

"WYOMING" JIM PENTON

We all have a claim to fame, but "Wyoming" Jim Penton has at least two. He's the soldier standing between Canadian and American flags in the above Kiska photo, and he also owns a railroad, which may make him the only railroad baron in the 10th.

True, it's a 500 foot long narrow gauge road, and an 8 h.p. motor powers the engine, but it has two platform stations and a caboose shaped storage facility. The line runs on a straight line between Jim's pasture and Rosston and consists of a four passenger car, which is turned by a turntable at each end of the line and attains a top speed of 6 miles per hour.

Jim saw a handmade Japanese railroad on Kiska. Converted Model A Fords ran on a 2-foot-wide track, and he decided to build something similar if he ever had the chance. The chance finally came in 1985 when Jim found two trolley cars in a junkyard. At first mules, what else, powered the system, but finally Jim bowed to complaints about the line being too slow and installed a gasoline engine. Jim plans further expansion of his line as soon as the public is ready.

Jim and his railroad have been on T.V. and featured in the local papers.

'Wyoming' Jim Penton featured

Jim Penton, a veteran of the U.S. Army, 10th Mountain Division, stationed during part of World War II on Kiska in the Aleutians, is now a resident of Rosston. In retirement, he still maintains close ties with his military buddies, and is a subscriber to "The Blizzard," a newspaper published by the 10th Mountain Division. In its 3rd quarter, 1993 edition, the newspaper carried the following account and an authentic picture, coming as a surprise to Penton.
