through Sacred Heart School Alumni Association. Drivers are asked to be aware that bicycle riders will be on paved orads in and surrounding Muenster for much of Saturday. For the first time in four years the Bier Garten will again be open for participants. Each rider will receive three beer tickets. "Whether you are the first or last to arrive at the Bier Garten, there will still be a cold beer waiting for you," commented Ben Bindel, chairman. The Bier Garten will be set up south of the Germanfest grounds.

There is a time change for the German Fun Run on Sunday. Instead of starting at 2 p.m. as in the past, the starting gun sounds at noon. The course will be the same as the ones run last year (5K and 15K). Runners start their course on Main Street and finish in front of the Muenster Knights of Columbus Hall, 403 N. Oak. Planning and manning the Fun Run is the Muenster Knights of Columbus. Late registration will be held at the K of C Hall starting at 10 a.m.

held at the K of C Hall starting at 10 a.m. Ben Bindel, chairman, said registration is coming in better than last year and they anticipate a larger event. Sponsoring this happening are Cooke County Distributing, Miller of Denton, Ben E. Keith Beers of Denton, Golden Distributing Co. of Lake Dallas, Coca Cola, and Muenster State Bank.

One of the events most anticipated by spectators is the North Texas Championship Tug-of-War on Sunday. Thousands line the banks of Elm Creek in the south order area park area

Rides run Thursday

Carnival rides will run from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Thursday. This will give the Muenster people who work the Germanfest all weekend an opportunity to bring their children to the carnival. Admission is $7 and two cans of food per person for all the rides you can ride Thursday evening. The Muenster Kiwanis Organizations sponsors the rides. All canned goods collected are donated to the needy.

Registration/weigh-in is from noon to 2 p.m. Sunday. The Tug starts at 4 p.m. Sponsors commented that judging by inquiries from interested persons there will be more girls' teams this wear property by June I, with the goal of having them out by May 15, Fry said. The CCAD board of directors held their regular meeting this week. The board approved a two-year contract with the Gainesville National Bank to be the district's depository. The GNB bid was the only one received. The board heard an audit report on the 1993 CCAD operations budget as presented by Mike Murrell, CPA. The board is expected to review the 1992 tax collections audit at its May meeting at which time both audits are expected to be approved. The CCAD received an "unqualified good audit," Fry said. Board members discussed the reappraisal of the Lake Kiowa area in the Callisburg ISD, but took no action. According to a report released last month by the State Comptroller's Office, the Lake Kiowa area has been appraised at 82 percent of what the state thinks it should be appraised. by Elaine Schad The Lindsay City Park will be closed from midnight to 6 a.m. daily, according to a new policy approved by the city council during a special meeting this week. The new policy allows for special requests to use the park during those hours, but the use request must be made in writing to the mayor. Those wishing more information about the policy may contact Mayor Rebert Walterscheid.

Walterscheid. In another matter, the council reconvened its special meeting in a field located just west of the new school football stadium to view a drainage ditch that may be having problems with washing due to the added amount of water that is now being funneled in that direction. The council proposed placing a concrete low-water crossing to alleviate the action on the project. During the council's regular April meeting, council members approved paving several sections of streets this summer. They will include a section on Seventh Street by City Hall, and proceeding up to the school; Pecan Street west of the city park; and repairing Henry Street with a hot mix. In another matter, the council heard a complaint about an accumulation of junk on some property within the city limits. Councilman Danny Zwinggi will report back to the council on that item. The council also moved its bext regular meeting to May 10 so that the votes from the May 7 city council election could be canvassed.

state funding system will result in the district receiving about $670,000 in state aid for 1994-1995, according to the most recent estimates. He said this is about $60,000 less than the district would have received if this year's average daily attendance (ADA) figures had been used in the calculation as has been the case in past years. While the figure is about the same as the district received this year, the district received this year, the district will face another $30,000 increase in state-mandated pay raises in 1994-1995 and will have to come up with the money, Cooper said. "Our estimates are that the state should owe us $730,000," he said. The board had taken into consideration that the district might end up on the short end of the stick as the first year of the new system successful in the interfary or musical professions. German music is the backbone of today's concert sound and many German operas and songs rank high among the world's masterpieces of musical art. The organ was considered the king of instruments and entertainment. Among the great German composers in history were Bach. Mozart and Beethoven. Many of the sacred songs still sung in churches today originated in Germany, where religion and family life was a tradition. What greater value can we place on our heritage and good fortune?

by Elaine Schad The Era School Board has awarded a $12,600 bid to Zachary Brothers of Gainesville for the installation of a new wastewater treatment extension to the district's Instantor, treatment extension to the district's system. The new system is expected to be in place within 30 days and is being purchased to take the load off of the existing sewer lines, Era Superintendent Randel Beaver said. The school's present system was designed to handle about 30,000 gallons of effluent per month. With district growth, however, the system is presently producing about 50,000 gallons per month, he said. The small-scale system will send sewage through an aerator and chlorinator before pumping the effluent into an open field owned by the district. Beaver said the system rather than replacing any of the current lines.

On April 15, 1994, the Texas Department of Health (TDH) formally kicked off what state officials are calling the largest immunization campaign in Texas history immunization campaign in recent history. Shots Across Texas, a comprehensive campaign to raise the immunization rates of Texans age 2 and younger, was unveiled at a press conference that brought together state health officials, political leaders and volunteers. The goals of Shots Across Texas is to immunize at least 90 percent of Texas children age 2 and younger by 1996.

Texas children age 2 and younger by 1996. Dr. David R. Smith, Texas Commissioner of Health, said the need for Shots Across Texas is critical. "Currently, fewer than 60 percent of Texas children younger than 2 are fully immunized." Dr. Smith explained. "Texas ranks among the last in the United States and is behind many developing nations in providing immunizations against polio, measles and diphtheria for our children. "The problem isn't that the resources aren't available. It's that many people are unaware of how important it is to immunize their children. That's why Shots Across Texas is so critically needed."

Sponsored by TDH, Shots Across Texas also is supported by Texas Medical Association (TMA), Texas Medical Association Alliance (TMAA), a number of other organizations and about 260 local coalitions throughout the state. In addition to bilboards and public service announcements, Shots Across Texas will include undreds of immunization clinics and other activities organized by the local coalitions.

According to recent surveys, many Texas parents are unaware of the risks associated with immunization-preventable disease, including brain damage and even death. A recent Houston study revealed that, while four out of five parents said their children were fully immunized, medical records indicated fewer than half that number actually were. Last year, the Texas Legislature passed a law requiring the age-appropriate immunization of Texas children regardless of their families' ability to pay.

Most farmers and ranchers who use public roads to transport farm equipment can tell about scary traffic situations they've encountered. Cars and trucks bear down on them, people try to pass them on hills or curves, and some drivers even rudely blast their horns, angered by a farmer's mere presence on public roads. The National Safety Council estimates that each year farm machinery is involved in approximately 23,000 accidents and nearly half of them involve a collision with another vehicle."

Spring Compost Recipe

With the interest in ecology and recycling materials, every home and his plants by recycling the plant debris which normally accumulates in the home grounds. Why throw any the grass clippings this spring and summer and leaves in the fall? Use these materials in a compost pile as an inexpensive source of organic matter to add to your vegetable garden or flower beds. Organic matter in the soil im-form improves soil aeration and and rainage. Organic matter also holds water during dry periods, prevents the leaching of motes microbial action. Too, it also adds nutrients to the soil, afor adds nutrients to the soil grow have, it would be en-pointed better, are healther and problems. Regardless of the type of soil you have, it would be en-pointed by liberal amounts of or-sain matter supplied by a composi-tion.

There are many different ways to make a compost pile. Basically, you need some sort of retaining structure such as chicken wire, hog wire, treated boards, brick or other material. The size should be ade-quate for your needs--usually an enclosure of 6-feet in diameter by 3 to 4 feet high is sufficient. Any out-of-the-way location in the back-yard should be suitable. The second second second second raid on the ground inside the en-closure, top it with a 2 to 3" layer of soil from your garden area, sprinkle a cup of a complete ferti-lizer per square yard, then moisten the pile thoroughly. Make succes-sive layers in the same order until you've used up all of your organic matter. Preferably, the top layer should be bowl-shaped to facilitate watering the pile. The pile should be watered as necessary to keep it mot.

be watered as necessary to keep it moist. If the materials are finely shredded, usable compost will be ready in 2 weeks. In such cases, the pile should be turned and mixed about 3 times during the first week. If materials are not shredded, but contain nothing larger than the diameter of a pencil, the compost should be usable in about 2 months. This type of material should be turned and mixed 2 to 3 times. A compost pile containing larger, coarser materials will need 3 to 6 months to adequately decompose. It should be turned and mixed 3 to 4 times.

months to adequately decompose. It should be turned and mixed 3 to 4 times. Although some people think that finished compost should be loose and crumbly, this is not necessarily true. Actually, veteran composters use the material as soon as it be-comes a rich, dark color and straw-type material is broken up. The final decomposition occurs in the ground after this compost is incor-porated into the soil. What materials can you put in a compost pile? Any plant residue such as grass clippings, leaves, prunings, sawdust, cotton burs, peat moss, coffee grounds and ther vegetable scraps from the kitchen, dead plants from the garden or flower bed, ashes from the fireplace, manure, and anything else that came originally from plants. There are a lot of variations in else that came originally from plants. There are a lot of variations in the actual makeup of a compost pile. For example, manure or other organic fertilizers can be substituted for commercial ferti-lizer. Too, there are commercial composting "starters" available. However, the system described here is the basic one and does work quite well. So start using the plant debris which you normally sack up for the garbage collector!
