

One of the best recommendations facing this year's state legislature is that for adoption of simpler ballots and simpler voting procedure. The need of this improvement is emphatically pointed up by the many reports of voided ballots at the last general election.

Our own local voting boxes produced a surprising number of such faulty ballots. Well intentioned people lost their votes not so much through their own fault as through the confusing, negative system by which they were expected to mark their ballots. In most cases they indicated their choice of the two major parties rather clearly by crossing through the other party's list of names. But, unfortunately they just ignored the minor parties, so their ballots in the end still showed votes for more than one candidate in the same office.

This indirect method just doesn't make sense, especially when the ballot, like that in the last general election, lists so many parties and candidates. Our procedure is not to vote for the candidate of our choice but against every other contender for the same office. Actually, that's what happens when we scratch ballots. We vote against, not for. And we waste our time if we overlook only one person we did not want.

We hope the legislature will eliminate the confusion by permitting us to vote the way we think in the future . . . that is by a simple X or check mark beside the name we're for instead of all the scratching.

According to the current US News and World Report lots of other states need an overhaul of their voting regulations. The article estimates that 1.5 million persons lost their votes through confusion and oversight in the last presidential election. Leaders of both political parties are interested in making improvements.

More shocking than the report on all the voting mistakes is the claim that another 1.5 million votes were stolen in the general election. Then follows a list of "typical tricks of ballot bandits." Votes are cast in the names of absent, fictitious and even dead people. Some votes are marked in advance and cast by a "bought" voter, who brings back a clean ballot to be marked for the next voter. Election judges deliberately spoil ballots that do not please them. Voting machines are rigged so that votes cannot be cast for a certain candidate or party. And there are plenty more ways.

Such crookedness, to our way of thinking, is much more serious than voting mistakes, and the complete absence of news about prosecution and conviction on those charges stands out as a serious indictment of the integrity of the public officials. If, as investigators claim, there is evidence of stealing 1.5 million votes, why aren't some of the thieves brought to justice? It's absurd to assume that of the thousands involved in the crooked acts none can be proved guilty.

As much as this column represents federal interference in local affairs, here is where it favors an exception. If local authorities don't have the principle to crack down on the scoundrels, Uncle Sam ought to put the FBI and federal judges on the job. And the men who steal votes ought to be treated like any other criminals. After all, stealing an election is no less serious than stealing anything.

Fire Truck Saves Voth Building on First Rural Call

Muenster's firemen gave their new tank truck its first workout last Saturday when they reported to a fire at the Ray Voth place south of town. They arrived too late to save one building but just in time to save an adjoining building which had just caught fire. Fortunately, the one saved was the better one. It's in regular use as a poultry house. The other was older and smaller and no longer in use, just waiting for a convenient time to be torn down and salvaged.

A trash fire nearby is believed to have caused the blaze.

THEY PLAYED WITH MATCHES—Howard Francher, 42, sobs in his hospital bed in New York after he learns that his wife and six children perished in a fire. He saved three other children. The blaze began when one of the tots played with matches in the family's apartment.

City Continues Maximum Credit On Fire Insurance

Again Muenster has been notified that it will continue enjoying the maximum 25 per cent credit on its fire insurance rates for another year. The notice was received this week from the State Board of Insurance.

This is the fifteenth consecutive year for the city to receive the maximum credit. For five years before that it received a 20 per cent credit. In the city's early days insurance premiums here were subject to a 15 per cent penalty.

The credit or penalty on a city's rate depends upon the record of fire losses for the previous year. With few exceptions losses here have been very low for the past twenty years.

City Manager Steve Moser says that last year's total insurance loss in the city was covered by a single claim for $164.28, the cost of minor repairs and paint following a grease fire on a kitchen range. The blaze was put out without the help of the fire department.

Efficiency of the fire department is credited with keeping fire losses low and earning the low premiums. And maintenance of adequate equipment brings an additional benefit. The city enjoys a low rate. With addition of the large fire truck last year the key rate dropped from 48 to 41 cents. A survey showing a low percentage of combustible roofs also helped the rate.

Shortly the city will qualify for another reduction of key rate . . . after installing an additional 500 gallon per minute pump to move water from reservoir to overhead storage. The city's regular pump on the job is that size but it cannot meet the lower rate requirement until the extra pump also will handle the specified volume.

Dairyman Blasts Critics of Milk Sanitation Bill

Responsible Texans are being deceived by unfounded claims made by opponents of a proposed Milk Sanitation Bill, said J. O. Woodman, Arlington, President of the Texas Milk Producers Federation. It is absurd to say, as the bill's opponents have done, that this Milk Sanitation Bill would in any way affect the price of milk to consumers, said the spokesman for Texas dairymen. There are no facts to support such a claim, he stated.

Another entirely false claim made by the Sanitation Bill's opponents, continued Woodman, is that there is not enough Grade A milk for fluid consumption produced in this state during some seasons. They make this claim in the face of year-round surplus figures for the state, he said.

The bill's opponents, no doubt, are using these allegations — not because there is any truth in them — but rather because they feel that these arguments would prevent passage of the bill, theorized Woodman.

Senator Grady Hazlewood, Amarillo, author of the Milk Sanitation Bill, was quoted by Woodman as stating "the only purpose of this bill is to stop the importation of 'dump' milk into this state when no Texas health authority has any knowledge whatever of the circumstances under which

A recreation center for high school boys and girls of Muenster is in the making at 206 North Main, the location recently used as headquarters for the hospital campaign.

The project is being sponsored by the Community Progress Association. Decision to take it on resulted from a meeting last Saturday night of association members with a group of high school students. Jerome Pagel is chairman in charge of helping the youngsters organize the center.

Remodeling work to adapt the building to its new use got started Tuesday morning. It consists of converting a back room into a boys rest room with adjoining dressing room. (Continued on page 8)

Fourteen Report For Sacred Heart Baseball Team

Baseball at Sacred Heart High started Tuesday as fourteen youngsters reported to Coaches George Petrus and Adam Wolf for their first practice session.

Four of the crowd saw action in most of the Tiger games last year and another, Johnny Wolf, had some experience before transferring to Sacred Heart. The others are starting from scratch.

The boys will have their first test Friday of next week at Lindsay. The following Friday they will bring the Knights to Muenster.

Only two league games are on the Tiger schedule. They will be played with St. John's of Ennis early in April.

More Candidates Needed on Ballot For City Election

Four days before the official deadline for announcing the city council has only one candidate for its four open positions. That's the situation on the city election ballot Wednesday, according to City Manager Steve Moser.

Al Felderhoff is a candidate for reelection as an alderman. But no one to date has announced his candidacy for the other three available positions . . . those now held by Mayor Herbert Meurer and Councilmen Rudy Hellman and Ray Otto.

Deadline for announcing is this week Saturday, thirty days before the election.

Councilmen whose terms do not expire this year are Richard Grewing and David Trachta.

Cement Replaces Wooden Seats on City Grandstand

A big improvement in the city's baseball grandstand is the replacement of the old wooden seat structure with concrete. The city's work crew has been spending odd time on it for several weeks and expects to have one section complete on Thursday.

The former open space under seats was filled in with rock and surfaced with concrete. The finished job is five bench type concrete seats thirty feet long. A previous slab across the top provides a sixth bench. Seating capacity of the section is about 120.

For this season only the west section is worked over. The north section will wait until next year.

Another part of the project was clearing out the former wasted space beneath a portion of the grandstand to use for city storage. Chain link gates, aluminum painted, were installed in the former openings.

Improvements planned for the players field are stationary 16 foot benches about 30 feet back from first and third baselines.

The concrete seats are intended as final replacements of the wood structure which was replaced several times since the grandstand was originally built.

Final Services Held Tuesday for P. J. Rollman, 70

Solemn requiem mass was celebrated Tuesday at 10 a.m. for P. J. Rollman, 70, in St. Mary's Church at Gainesville with burial in Fairview Cemetery preceded by military rites at graveside by the American Legion.

Celebrant of the mass was Father William Lane. He was assisted by Father John Lavin, also of Gainesville, and Father Thomas Weinzapfel of Dallas, as deacon and sub-deacon. Father Francis Brady, pastor, was master of ceremonies and Father Weinzapfel delivered the funeral sermon.

Arrangements were directed by Vernie Keel Funeral Home where rosary services were held at 8 o'clock on Sunday and Monday night. Bearers were nephews: Richard and Walter Grewing, Bernard and Leonard Haverkamp and Henry Jr. and Edward Grewing.

Mr. Rollman died Friday at 9:55 p.m. in the Veterans Hospital at Dallas where he had been a patient 19 months. During the past month he had been seriously ill and his wife and daughters were almost constantly at his bedside. They were with him when the end came.

5 MHS Trackmen In Cowtown Relay

Five members of the Muenster High track team will face their toughest competition of the year this weekend at the Cowtown Relays in Fort Worth.

About 2000 high school athletes are expected at the event, and there will be no separate divisions for different classes of schools. So the Hornets will face all classes.

Coach Bob Gay said he will take Truman Wolf, James Harris, Milton Fette, Larry Wimmer and Clyde Walters to the meet. They will enter the sprint relay, 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, half mile, broad jump and discus. They will enter preliminaries Friday. If they can qualify in any events they will return for finals Saturday.

The boys are scheduled to enter another tough meet next weekend. It's the Possum Kingdom Relays at Graham.

Three Candidates On School Ballot

The ballot for the school board election on Saturday, April 1, will probably show three uncontested candidates.

As the filing deadline draws near Superintendent L. B. Bruns stated Wednesday morning that Jerome Pagel, David Trachta and Urban Endres have announced their candidacy up to that time. To qualify for a place on the ballot a person must submit his announcement with Mr. Bruns before 3:30 p.m. on Thursday, March 2.

Pagel and Trachta are candidates for re-election. Endres is seeking to succeed Norbert Klement, who declined to run after having completed three terms on the board.

Teachers Attend Meet on Modern Reading Methods

Four teachers from Sacred Heart School attended a two-day conference of the "Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading" held at Southern Methodist University. Over eighteen hundred teachers were present at the state-wide conference to hear renowned educators and authors from all over the United States.

Sister M. Gabriel, OSB, Sister M. Henrietta, OSB, Sister M. Pauline, OSB, and Sister M. Michael, OSB attended sectional meetings and classroom demonstrations Friday afternoon, February 24. Friday evening they attended the general session at which time Dr. Ruth Strang, Professor of Education, University of Arizona, formerly, Teacher's College, Columbia University, guided a panel discussion on "Guiding the Gifted Child's Reading."

The highlight of the conference was the Saturday morning general session, at which Dr. Paul McKee, Professor of Education, Colorado State College, spoke on "Certain Matters of Importance in the Teaching of Reading." This session was followed by a question and answer period on classroom problems in teaching reading.

The teachers from Sacred Heart were gratified to hear that ability grouping was so highly advocated at this conference. Sacred Heart School introduced ability grouping last year when inaugurating the Ungraded Primary Program.

The teams include some of the sharpest volley ball players of North Texas. Most of them have been in tournament play regularly each season for the past several years.

Admission prices at each evening's session will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children or players. A season ticket, available for $1.00, will admit an adult every night.

Visitors Welcome At Public School Week Observance

Special invitations to observe Public School Week by observing their school in operation were extended to the community this week by Superintendent L. B. Bruns.

Next week, March 6-10, has been set as Public School Week in Texas by official proclamation of Governor Price Daniel.

Three special events are scheduled for the local observance, Superintendent Bruns said. The first is an open house Tuesday morning, March 7, between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30. Guides will be on hand at that time to escort visitors through the building. There will be coffee and cookies for all and opportunity to sign a guest book.

Next day visitors are invited to join students at their noon meal. Lunches will be served from 12 to 1 and the charge for visitors will be 35 cents.

Thursday night the public is invited to witness some of the administrative side of school work . . . a meeting of the school board. That session will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Not related to the Public School Week observance but on next week's schedule is the senior play. It will be in the auditorium at 7:30.

Record Number In County Qualify For Off-Year Vote

The recorded voting of Muenster this year is 711 and the recorded voting strength of Cooke County is 7048, according to a certified count released during the weekend by Tax Collector Rafe Piper.

In either case the figure is considerably short of the actual voting strength. It does not include a large number of over-age voters who are not required to pay a poll tax or secure a poll tax exemption.

For a political off-year the voting strength is exceptional . . . even greater than that of 1958, the last year of local and state elections. Poll tax receipts and exemptions that year added to 7045.

Other recent off-year totals were much lower. In 1959 there were 5918 listed voters and in 1957 there were 5920.

However the year's voting strength is still well below that of a general election year. In 1960 the county had 7986 listed voters. In 1956 it had 7794.

Two elections are believed to be principally accountable for this year's increase of qualified voters. One is the special senatorial election on April 4, the other is a bond election on a county hospital, also expected on April 4.

THE VOTER'S VERDICT

Federal development of hydro-electric power has been a top political issue for the past generation. Its success as a cut-rate business competitor of the highly-taxed investor-owned electric companies depends on tax-exemption and tax-financing. It is like a boxer demanding his opponent have one hand tied behind his back. The taxpayers never get a chance to vote directly on federal power projects — that is done by the Congress.

Now that the election is over, one may comment on the public power issue from the standpoint of principles involved without prejudice to either presidential candidate.

The Democratic party has long favored government-owned power projects. The Republican party has been more reluctant in promoting them. The recent election throws some light on how the people feel on the subject in states where tax-exempt power plants have been most actively promoted.

A gigantic government power dam was touted for sparsely settled Alaska, but the state went for Nixon. Oklahoma, where the Arkansas river is a political target, followed Alaska. The great

Columbia river area where public power has absorbed hundreds of millions of tax dollars in tax-free federal hydro-power followed suit, as did Kentucky and also Tennessee, the home of TVA.

Asotin County, Washington, voted 77 per cent against a public utility district and in favor of service from the investor-owned Washington Water Power Company. In Ohio, voters favored turning a municipal system over to a taxpaying electric company.

Except for political purposes, there is no reason for socialized electric power in the U. S. Too much public money has already been spent on such a program which undermines our whole free enterprise system.

Tax-exempt government-owned plants simply deprive the states involved of millions of dollars annually that would otherwise be paid in taxes by publicly-regulated electric companies.

GIVING FREE FOOD NO WAY TO FRIENDSHIP

In Oklahoma, it looks as though we have the makings of another wheat crop. This plus the fact that Enid grain elevators are storing more wheat than ever before, makes it a little hard to believe that in other parts of the world famine actually stalks the land.

In Red China, for example, officials have admitted that starvation faces thousands, perhaps millions, of Chinese this year due to what the government calls "unfortunate natural catastrophes."

Although the situation is not so severe, Soviet Russia finished the year with a short crop and will have to skimp to get by.

Because of this situation, there is talk in Washington of sending our vast food surpluses to feed these victims of a Communist regime. We are opposed to any such plan at the present time. Not because we lack compassion for our fellow man, but because these governments, for political reasons, persist in exporting food to Cuba, the Congo, Laos and other spots of the world where they are trying to gain a foothold.

Actually, it is hard for us to understand how the millions of people living in Red-China would permit their government to send rice to Cuba while widespread starvation exists at home. Such a thing couldn't happen in this country and we thank the Lord for that.

The food-for-peace idea is worthy of consideration but, at the same time, we must point out that experience has shown that food has never created any real or lasting friendship for our country. For instance, India, one of the more reasonable new nations, has been the recipient of billions from the United States — including famine-preventing shipments of wheat in the last few years. But at the last session of the General Assembly, India voted with Russia 50 times and with the United States exactly six times.

So it would seem that if we want to give food away for humanitarian seasons, well and good, but to use it as a tool to win friends and influence people — it is hardly worth the effort.

OUR GREATEST NEED

If you were asked "What is the greatest single need in the world today?" — what would you say? Peace? Security? Happiness? These receive top priority in the minds of many but are they our greatest need?

There are people who do not think so. They believe the greatest need is an understanding of individual freedom and what makes it possible. They believe that the main purpose of any society or government is to guard the sacred rights of the individual. Millions of people believe these rights are being lost in the United States. The more articulate, through speeches, advertising, radio and every other means of communication are striving to impart their understanding of the freedom that makes life worth living.

Typical of the efforts of these people is an advertisement that appeared in a late issue of the magazine, U. S. News & World Report, over the name of a leading machinery manufacturer. It addresses a message to everyone: "The all-powerful Welfare State does your thinking and worrying for you; there is no room in it for ambition — the ambition to make a name for yourself, to do better than your father and your neighbor, to build your family's prosperous future. Ambition and laws that encourage it are what drive men ahead; they are what made this

by Priscilla Mahoney, author, housewife and mother

Show me the family that stays together because they do all things together and I'll . . . well, just show me the family and I'll bet they're as frustrated a lot as you'd ever care to meet.

ALL THE SAME, there was a time when I was just as sold on the value of togetherness as the most rabid modern proponent of this theory.

It wasn't until after our three children have in- to being that I noticed a new and alarming change taking place in my character. I had begun to deliberately steal a few, rare moments from the presence of my family just to be alone and think. What's more, I thoroughly enjoyed these little breaks. These short withdrawals used to worry me a lot, because I thought they might signify an antisocial tendency.

Dan, my husband, and I felt we would be derelict in duty if we did not keep trying to have the members of our little nest do as much as possible together. We worked hard to learn WHAT EVERY SCOUT SHOULD KNOW. We had such a workout that, after twelve hectic months, we wearily surrendered our dens to a couple of other unsuspecting parents.

WE LEARNED by trial and error that we enjoy a healthier and happier togetherness if we've also spent some time in a little apartness. For there is nothing more deadening to the spirit than being constantly occupied with group activities.

BESIDES, there is overwhelming evidence that the primary function of parents is that of being not play-mates and good sports to their progeny but guides and providers for their growth—the growth of individuals.

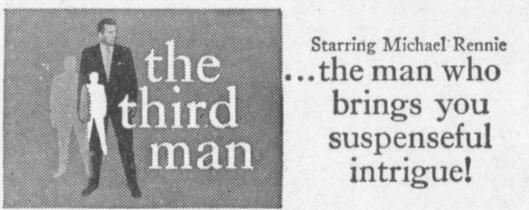

While observing our children's contrasting interests, Dan and I have been led to see that we, too, can and must give expression to some of the differences existing in our own personalities. We think we can afford to do this, since we are both of one mind on the fundamental unity so necessary in marriage.

So, my spouse is not worried that I have not joined him in his favorite hobby of holing up in the basement workshop. He says I have a better disposition when I indulge in my preferred pastime of oil painting.

AS A RESULT of all this, we find that mealtime now provides us with a more stimulating brand of togetherness than it did in the past. For each one conveys his own personal enthusiasms to the rest. And the rest form the audience whose praise or censure will mean much throughout life.

After all, individual enterprise — otherness — is still the fundamental principle of a true democracy, and it's up to the family to preserve it.

Have a place for everything else; this is not advice, it is and keep the thing somewhere merely custom. — Mark Twain

PTA Schedules Two Student Banquets

Public School PTA members set dates for the two major social events of the scholastic year when they stated the All-Awards banquet and the Junior-Senior Banquet in the business session of their February meeting Monday night.

The All-Awards event will be held Wednesday night, April 5 and the junior-senior affair is calendared for Thursday March 16.

In other business, Superintendent L. B. Bruns announced the program for Public School Week and invited attendance at the school board's meeting next Thursday night in connection with this observance.

Mrs. Paul Fisher presided and members joined in a round table discussion of answers to a questionnaire which had been mailed earlier to spark meetings. It was a spirited discussion on subjects of parent-teacher interest.

Room count since the beginning of the term was given. It revealed that first and second graders won the cash award five times for having the most parents at meetings. In the high school count, juniors won four times and seniors once.

For entertainment, Principal Glenn Hellman showed a movie, "Mayflower II", the delightful film depicting the Mayflower's voyage and activity of the Pilgrims after settling at Plymouth Rock.

Today's average American buys nearly 12% fewer fresh vegetables, but over 50% more frozen and canned vegetables than 20 years ago.

4th Graders Have Spelling Bee at Home-School Meet

A spelling bee was the entertainment feature at the Tuesday night meeting of the Sacred Heart Home-School Society, and plans for a benefit pancake feast highlighted the business session.

In the spelling bee fourth graders of Sister Frances and Sister Michael's classes lined up to spell to the finish but nine couldn't be spelled down in the time allotted. Five more minutes were added but the nine remained standing and the prize money was divided among them.

The winners are Beverly Koelzer, Dianne Hess, Doris Lynn Schilling, Donald Schneider and Susan Yosten from Sister Michael's room and Cynthia Bindel, Dolores Pels, Kenny Schmitz and Carman Wimmer from Sister Frances' room.

Mrs. Charles Taylor was pronouncer and Mrs. Gene Schmitz was judge.

For the business session, following, members discussed a benefit pancake supper and decided to make it a breakfast, serving after Sunday mass. A committee was appointed to work out details and this group will meet next Tuesday evening. Date will be announced when arrangements are completed.

Ray Wilde, president, presided and Sister Celine asked for volunteer workers to wash grade school windows. She solicited aid also among the men present to help on the outside.

Father Alcuin attended, accompanied by Father Elias and the visiting Franciscan gave a short talk, then closed the meeting with prayer.

Back Here First Time in 12 Years

Two sisters and a brother who hadn't seen each other in 12 years had a visit here Sunday when Mrs. Anna Weishaar of Rolfe, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Esker and family of Oklahoma City and Miss Gertrude Esker were together in the latter's home.

Mrs. Weishaar was with 3 lady companions from Rolfe returning to Iowa after a trip to California. They were all together Sunday and the visitors also enjoyed a sight-seeing tour of the city. Mrs. Weishaar was favorably impressed with Muenster's growth since her last visit. The trio with whom Mrs. Weishaar traveled were Mrs. Elma Stould, Mrs. Anna Nadraska and Miss Alice Bartost who visited in Gainesville between times. The four started back home Tuesday morning.

Local News BRIEFS

Visiting Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Rohmer were Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Wright and three children of Irving who spent the day with her parents, and Miss Ida Rohmer of Fort Worth who remained over until Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Flusche and daughter Connie Jo moved this week to a new address in Muenster. They're occupying the H. J. Fuhrman house on Sixth street after living in the Frank Yosten house on East Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones have returned to Dallas after attending the funeral of P. J. Rollman and visiting with Mrs. Rollman and daughters.

Three boys of the local Scout troop made a 24-hour campout starting Friday after school, the outing to qualify them for first class rating. They were Virgil Swirczynski, Dwayne Pagel and Wayne Reiter. Willie Wimmer went with them for the fun. He had already had his campout earlier.

Visiting with Jim Walker Sunday were his daughter and family, the A. W. Corleys of Hurst.

Groups Organize For Share the Fun 4-H Competition

Sacred Heart 4-H Club girls have organized their acts and are rehearsing for the annual Cooke County Share the Fun Contest slated for March 6 at Gainesville.

The senior group will enter a singing quartet: Jane Henscheid, Joan Kaiser, Janice Vogel and Charlotte Wolf. Carol Henscheid will be the piano accompanist. Sister Carmelita is directing practice.

The junior entry will also be a singing number. Participating will be Mary Ellen Endres, Linda Fisher, Debbie Fette, Gloria Gieb, Janie Fleitman, Mary Jane Knauf, Joyce Klement, Paula Herr, Annette Sicking and Dianne Shumaker. Mary Ellen will be pianist.

Both 4-H groups announced the show entries and acts at their March meetings Wednesday. Mrs. Everett Yeatts, assistant home demonstration agent, met with the girls. She demonstrated color in the wardrobe and discussed the annual dress revue.

At the junior meeting she selected two models to show the effect of colors, using brown-haired Ann Landsfeld and red headed Mary Hesse. Linda Zimmerer presided for the junior session for which Dianne Shumaker reported.

Senior meeting was presided over by Charlene Otto. Reporter Joyce Haverkamp counted 17 present.

Dolphy Joe Hellman Has Birthday Fete

A surprise party greeted Dolphy Joe Hellman Tuesday night at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hellman, who were hosts for a turkey dinner celebrating their son's birthday.

Guests were the honoree's classmates, this year's seniors of Muenster High, class sponsors Miss Bettye Dodds and Carl King, Superintendent and Mrs. L. B. Bruns and Principal Glenn Hellman, also Messrs. and Mmes. Tim Stormer and Albert Herr. Mrs. Agnes Legnertz helped with hostess duties. A decorated cake centered the dining table. Visiting and listening to new records entertained the group after dinner.

Return to Iowa

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Henscheid ended their visit in Texas Tuesday when they left here to return to their home in Westphalia, Iowa. They had come for the Henscheid reunion.

The past week they were joined by the Henry Henscheids of Blackfoot, Idaho, and Bill and Albert Henscheid on a trip to Hereford and Canyon to see relatives. In Canyon they were guests of the Werner Henscheids. Mrs. Henry Henscheid has a sister in Hereford and she and her husband returned to Idaho after a visit there.

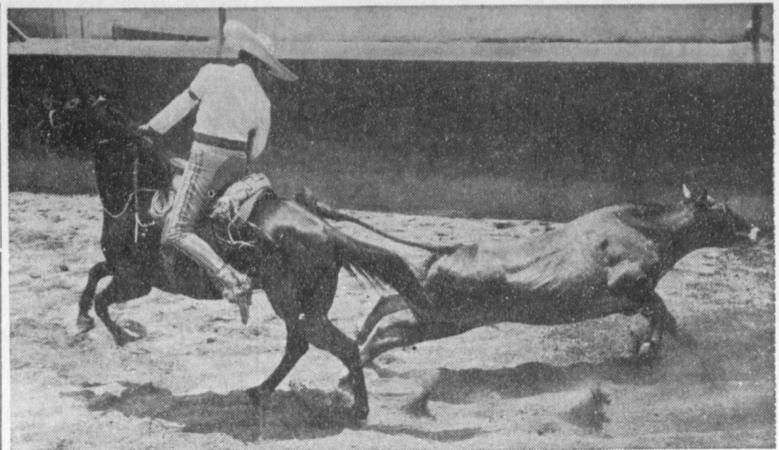

The other four returned to Muenster and the Joe Henscheids went to Fort Worth for visiting and sight-seeing. They were joined there by a couple, the Schultes of Westphalia, who had driven down with them and then gone to Arizona to visit relatives. The Henscheids and Schultes came back to Muenster for a visit and left from here Tuesday afternoon.

The Japanese student, who was attending an American university, wrote his father in Tokyo about his new school. "An American university," he wrote, "is a vast athletic institution where, fortunately, some studies are maintained for the benefit of the feeble-bodied."

A haughty dowager visited the hospital to see her chauffeur, badly injured in an auto accident. The head nurse hesitated:

"He's a very sick man and should see no one but his family. Are you his wife?"

Highly indignant, the dowager blurted out: "I certainly am not — I'm his mistress."

BULL BY THE TAIL—It isn't that they have anything against taking the bull by the horns down Mexico way. It just isn't sporting. Scouts See Film Have Review and Plan Honor Court

An educational movie was an interesting feature at the Monday night meeting of the Boy Scout troop in the KC Hall. Parents and friends also enjoyed the show on "Water Safety." The film dealt on swimming, boating, other water sports and life saving. It was brought over by the Coast Guard Auxiliary of Gainesville, Post 56. In their regular business meeting before the program the Scouts had a board of review and at the same time the Scout Auxiliary, boys' mothers, met to make plans for a program in connection with a court of honor to be held March 12 in Sacred Heart Church after evening mass.

Scoutmaster Nick Miller and his young charges have been busy as bees. Several boys have been working for advancement and merit badges, among them the Ad Altare Dei medal, highest award a Catholic Scout can earn. This involves study and detail for the boys, including a pilgrimage to a church and writing an essay. A program in connection with the medal presentation for the diocese of Dallas-Fort Worth will be held on April 16 with Bishop Thomas K. Gorman officiating in Dallas' Sacred Heart Cathedral. At their meeting last week the troop had a demonstration on safety with guns. Tommy Lee Swirczynski and Roy Hartman were in charge, showing a number of guns and rifles and demonstrating safety, cleaning and care of fire arms.

There are three newcomers in the local troop: Stevie Hess, John Henry Streng and Chris Walter.

Well Matched
 The two friends were out for a Saturday night on the town. They really tied one on! When they regained consciousness the next morning their appearance proved they did. Each had black eyes, teeth missing, torn clothes and throbbing heads
 One called the other on the phone and asked what happened, but neither could remember so they decided to ask the bartender of the last bar they tried to drink dry. As they walked in the door together, the bartender looked up at them, and with a warm smile said, "Well, I see you two guys decided to make up."

HD Club Meeting Features Program On Herbs, Spices
 Muenster Home Demonstration Club had a highly interesting and enjoyable meeting for February, held on the 22nd, with Mrs. Henry Pick as hostess in her home and 14 members present.
 The program was on "Cooking with Herbs and Spices" with Mrs. Albert Fleitman leading the discussion and giving a demonstration. She gave a history and origin of spices and while she talked prepared a meat dish — baked burgers with spices. She also whipped up two tasty dips demonstrating other uses of herbs and spices, and had on display a variety of spices and herbs which she identified and told how they fit into different foods. She also distributed recipes.
 During the business session, members decided to sponsor a cancer film and set the date tentatively for March 21. The place and hour will be announced after the date is confirmed. It will be a free show — a cancer film for a mixed audience of adults.
 Afterwards the baked burgers were served with the dips and other food as refreshments and the hostess carried out the George Washington theme with cherry pie a la mode for dessert and a patriotic theme in decorations.
 Mrs. C. M. Walterscheid was a guest making 15 ladies present.
 The next meeting will be on March 22 with Mrs. Al Fleitman as hostess and Mrs. Bernice Thurman, home demonstration agent giving the program. The topic is "Food Additives."

Two "master thieves" which continually cause trouble to both beef herds and dairy herds are Foot Rot and Lumpy Jaw. The reason these two seemingly different diseases are mentioned together is that they are caused by the same germ. Both conditions are most difficult to treat because of the deeply imbedded infection sites.

Iodine has long been the best treatment of these conditions, but unfortunately Iodine can not be given orally in strong enough concentrations to effect a good control. Local applications to foot or mouth is effective only to the degree to which the actual germ is reached.

Now available is a compound composed of a changed Iodine, or what we more commonly refer to as "tamed Iodine" which can be administered in the feed and which will effectively control both infections. If you have experienced these diseases and have never found an effective control measure, try feeding organic Iodine Compound the next time you have a case.

This same medication is a wonderful treatment for conditions caused by lung and bronchial congestion. The organic Iodine will cause thick, heavy mucous to liquify and thus can be coughed up, and quickly causes a clearing of the lungs. This in turn allows the usual antibiotics to work more effectively and more positively.

Globe Iodine Complex is a very good product and one that should be included in every stockman's "first aid kit". Its uses are many and its action is very effective.

Over 100 Rosaries Sent to Missions

More than 100 rosaries for needy missions have been made by Mrs. H. S. Fuhrmann and have gone to their destinations to be received with joy and gratitude by young and old, many of whom never owned a rosary before.

Mrs. Fuhrmann took up rosary making as a hobby some time ago and supplied relatives and friends.

Then she starting using odds and ends in fashioning rosaries destined for far-off mission outposts. Word got around that loose beads, crucifixes, pieces and broken rosaries could be used for this purpose and made up into attractive new-looking rosaries. Friends contributed broken strings and pieces to help along and over 100 rosaries resulted. Donations came from both Lindsay and Muenster.

Mrs. Fuhrmann expresses thanks to all who helped along in this cause and will continue to make mission rosaries as long as she has materials.

Meanwhile adults are urged to help the youngsters furnish their center. Used sofas, occasional chairs, rockers, tables, etc., will be gratefully accepted.

Other furnishings planned for the place are a juke box, candy and soft drink vending machines, ping pong tables, shuffleboard, duck pin bowling and billiards.

The recreation center is intended for the use of teen agers through high school age. Community Progress Association, as the sponsor, has assumed financial responsibility for getting it started and will appreciate any cash contribution to the cause. Donations can be given to Jerome Pagel or mailed to the Community Progress Association.

else of value. In fact, it can be much worse. It wrongs not only the losing candidate but the public, which is deprived of its real choice for the office concerned. Often too, an official who gets his office by corruption is likely to administer it by the same standard.

While fretting about the menace of communism we ought to be thinking also about such break-downs in our process of democratic government. Here is a domestic evil which threatens our free institutions just as surely as the foreign enemy.

America is desperately in need of a crusade. Like the Crusaders of old we need to line ourselves up on God's side of all issues, domestic and global, and strike in righteous wrath against all who trample on God-given right and dignity. An awakening of public conscience can do it. Nothing else can save us from eventual doom.

UNDERWATER GARDENER

AQUARENA, San Marcos, Texas — Rollie Caswell, shown here in aquatic attire, holds the extraordinary title of Underwater Gardener. His very unique occupation requires working at depths from 10 to 50 feet. The colorful and crystal clear San Marcos springs are viewed by thousands of Glass Bottom Boat sightseers each year and consequently the surrounding plant-life must be manually landscaped. In addition to a heavy rubber suit, Caswell wears a face plate for vision, swim fins for maneuverability and carries a plastic air tube for breathing in addition to a large machete for trimming. His work can also be classified as rather dangerous for certain complications can always arise when you're fifty feet down under.

SH Alumni Teams Play at Montague

Sacred Heart Alumni volleyball teams have failed to hit their old stride in their tournaments so far this season. Tuesday night in Montague both teams lost their preliminary matches the men dropping two straight to Allen and Miller of Bowie and the ladies losing to Forestburg.

That puts both in the consolation bracket and next action for both will be Thursday night.

In a tournament at Nocona last week both teams lost their preliminaries and were eliminated in their next games. The teams have four more tournaments on schedule.

Next week they host one of their own. The next three they go to Saint Jo, Pilot Point and Prairie Valley.
