THE RULES OF Safe Banking

A conservative bank is literally a bank that never travels too fast. In its management, it observes all the rules of the road and the conditions of the road. There is no nodding at the wheel.

The conservative bank protects its depositors as the careful driver protects his passengers.

The officers and directors of this bank are men of progressive views. They are interested in seeing this community go forward, but they believe in "making haste slowly."

When you bank here your financial interests are in careful hands.

W. D. McFARLANE to Congress

We know he is our tried and true friend. We know he understands the problems of our homes, our schools, our churches, as well as our Government—We know he brings us a perfect record, not a vote of which is challenged as wrong—We know he has voted for lower interest and utility rates and has supported the Democratic program and platform which has more than doubled our income—We know he has the endorsement of all who toil, including the Agricultural, Labor, Oil and the Livestock interests—We know the opposition is supported by the utility interests and the 4 per cent who own 90 per cent of the wealth of the nation—On the record we know it is to our best interests to vote Saturday for

AMERICAN BUSINESS

NEW YORK, August 15—BUSINESS—Prices in retail stores registered the smallest monthly decline during July since September, 1937, when a downturn began that has lowered average retail prices nearly eight per cent. Reports from the country's manufacturing plants continue to indicate reviving employment. Last week thousands of telegrams were sent to employees of leading motor plants telling them to report for work immediately. Intensive operations in the Detroit area are about to start. America's export trade is holding up nicely. Business prospects generally are bright, except for a disturbing decline in farm prices the last few weeks. In the last month cash wheat prices have dropped about nine cents a bushel, corn 10 cents, rye 10 cents, oats five cents, pork $1.50 a barrel and beef $6.00 a barrel. This means a loss of rural purchasing power, which enlightened business men today recognize as an indispensable factor in keeping the wheels of industry turning.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE—European cables bring rumors of another impending financial crisis in France and hint at further devaluation of the franc. To bankers, foreign exchange is a fascinating subject, but to the average layman it's all Greek. What makes currencies fluctuate? There are many factors, of course, involving confidence in a government's political and economic stability. But international trade plays a big role too. Suppose, for example, an English importer buys 1,000,000 bushels of corn in the U. S. at 50 cents a bushel. In doing so, he has to take his own money—pounds sterling—and bid for 500,000 American dollars in the money market. Just as at an auction, his bidding tends to boost the "price" of dollars. English papers that night will read, "Dollar rises," while American papers at the same time will read, "Pound sterling declines." That's one reason why France, which has imported more goods than she has exported every year except two since 1920 has had a gradual decline in the value of its franc. The excess of imports had to be paid for in dollars and other foreign currencies purchased with francs.

A HUNTING WE WILL GO

FRENCH LICK, IND.—Training "under-fire" starts at an early age for the setter pups at French Lick Springs, where Phil Miller, national amateur trap shooting champion and manager of skeet and trap fields, has these eight youngsters under schooling. They will soon be full fledged bird dogs, according to Miller.

CLOSE SHAVES—Men with whiskers, who use more than a billion and a quarter razor blades every year, according to the latest Department of Commerce estimate will be interested to know that the tax collector is nicking them, too. One blade in ever ten purchased by bewhiskered brethren—there must be about forty million of them—goes to the tax collector in the form of hidden taxes. When 45 cents is paid for a package of blades, more than four cents is taken by taxes and 37 hidden taxes are included in the price of every package of blades, according to the tax reports of a leading razor blade manufacturer.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR—Milk that will keep sterile and fresh at room temperature for as long as four months; a little hydrogen peroxide and potassium iodide is scientifically "cooked" into the milk, without affecting its taste—A surf automobile for use in salvaging stranded ships, catching fish, finding wrecks, harvesting shellfish—An acid treatment for opening the sealed "pores" of oil wells, thus obtaining a greater yield of oil—An "auto starter facilitator," which automatically jiggles the throttle while the engine is being started.

INDUSTRY TWISTS—It requires one and two-thirds pounds of live stock to produce a pound of meat for the dinner table—A ton of iron can be stored in a container having a capacity of four cubic feet, but a ton of aluminum, which weighs only a third as much as iron, needs more room. To store a ton of aluminum, the container would have to have a capacity of 11.6 cubic feet—Nearly one-half of the men hired by the steel industry during 1936 and 1937 had high school or college education, compared with only one-fourth who had such training among those hired in 1929—It takes 35 to 50 hours of labor to harvest 15 bushels of wheat with a sickle and thresh it with a flail, but a combined mechanical harvester-thresher does the job in only 45 minutes—There is one mile of railroad for every 12 square miles of land area in the United States, but only one mile of track to every 99 square miles in the rest of the world.

HEADLINES IN NEW YORK—Agriculture Department forecasts 1938 corn crop at 2,566,221,000 bushels; compares with 1937 crop of 2,644,995,000 bushels; Wallace sees no need for producer referendum on quotas—Cotton crop of 11,988,000 bales forecast; 1937 crop was 18,946,000 bales—Farm marketing receipts off 12 per cent in first six months of 1938 from like 1937 period—U. S. Steel Corp. operating rate drops in July—Machine tool orders expected to gain in August—Japan again sends gold to U. S., shipments here total $352,800,000 since March, 1937—Russia and Japan sign border truce—New type wheat developed in England; it is rust resistant and able to withstand heavy storms because it grows short—Federal Housing Administration operations hit record in July—Continuation of business upturn predicted by Consumers' Goods Industries Committee based on reports from key companies in these industries.

The Capon Show to be held as a feature of the Poultry Department of the State Fair of Texas will open on October 4th and will close on October 13th, at which time all entries will be sold to the highest bidder. The show opens early so that each bird entered will have the same time for finishing.

FLYING ROBOTS

First Officer T. R. Cockroft explains a radio-meteorograph to Hostess Roberta Sturgiss and L. E. Wood, Caltech scientist. These "flying robots" broadcast signals which tell observers the weather conditions from the ground to the stratosphere. The radio-meteorograph has been adopted by the Federal Weather Bureau. The balloon meteorograph according to an announcement by D. M. Little, chief aerologist of the Federal Weather Bureau, will replace the private contract fliers who have been going aloft daily at airports throughout the country to get readings on temperature, pressure and humidity.

Phenomenal If True
CHICAGO, Ill.—Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, said Monday night the story of Jennie Fish is phenomenal if true. "Even if the body is embalmed," he said, "bacteria in the body will cause deterioration."

NEAR ONE FOURTH OS TEXAS FARM FAMILIES HAVE NO MILK COWS

COLLEGE STATION.—Almost one-fourth, or 121,000 of Texas farm families, have no milk cows, according to E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service.

This means, the dairyman pointed out, that Texas needs an additional quarter million dairy cows if farm families are to have sufficient milk for home needs, and also that dairy production for home use can expand considerably in Texas and in the South in general without competing with commercial dairy areas.

Eudaly based his statement on census figures and estimates of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics which show that 24.2 per cent of Texas farm families do not have a milk cow and that over the 12 Southern States as a whole only 7.1 per cent of the farm families keep cows for milk.

There is an average of only two milk cows per farm over the cotton belt as a whole as compared to an average of nearly four for all farms in the United States and more than 10 per farm in Wisconsin, Texas, with an average of 3.2 cows per farm, leads all the cotton belt states except Oklahoma in this respect.

The dairyman does not believe that AAA programs tend to force cotton farmers into dairying in competition with commercial dairying centers. "There were 5,562,000 dairy cows in the 12 principal cotton producing states in 1932, before the AAA," he said. On January 1, 1938, there were 5,896,000, an increase of 334,000 milk cows. This is an increase of 30,000 dairy cows per state or an average increase per state of 5,000 for each year since the AAA came into existence.

4-H BOYS AND GIRLS WILL BE GUESTS OF TP&L AT STATE FAIR

DALLAS, Tex.—More than 100 Texas boys and girls are expected to win trips to the State Fair of Texas in October in the annual 4-H club contest sponsored by John W. Carpenter, president and general manager of Texas Power and Light Company. This is the third year in which awards have been made to 4-H club boys and girls for outstanding club work, previous winners having been rewarded with trips to the Texas Centennial and Pan American Expositions.

The contest is conducted in approximately 60 counties reached by transmission lines of the Texas Power and Light Company. In the 1938 contest, one boy and one girl will be chosen by county farm and home demonstration agents in each of these counties, winners to be brought to Dallas during the club encampments sponsored by the State Fair of Texas.

UNEMBALMED BODY OF YOUNG LADY REMAINS INTACT SIXTY YEARS

MADISON, Wis.—For more than 60 years according to the legend, the body of beautiful Jennie Fish has lain in her cast iron coffin, blonde hair curling naturally about pink, firm cheeks, her shroud still fresh and white.

Superstition has arisen around the figure, lying beneath the glass top of the now rusted coffin.

Some said her beauty had been preserved in death because in life she was saintly, and that there was a religious significance.

At Fox Lake, Wis., where Jennie Fish died in 1873, old-timers said the body never had been embalmed, that at the time of her death that portion of the undertaking art was not practiced in pioneer Wisconsin. Undertakers said that was true.

Some who refused to believe there was about the preservation of the body anything symbolic, believed perhaps it was because the iron casket was so carefully constructed that it was hermetically sealed.

Others, without medical support, reasoned that she had died of a high fever which dehydrated the body sufficiently to permit indefinite preservation.

Jennie Fish was the daughter of a Baptist missionary and was herself an educated, devout girl. She was teaching in a country school when she contracted her fatal illness.

Some said she died of a cold contracted in the drafty building in which she taught. Others said she had tuberculosis.

Her body was placed in the family vault where it remained until six years ago when the vault began to crumble and the caskets were removed.

A casket salesman, who noted the phenomenal preservation of the body obtained permission from relatives to remove the casket to the basement of his home near Madison.

Monday a 25-year-old carnival worker, John Allen, offered $25 and 10 per cent for permission to exhibit the body in a sideshow. "It deserves removal from a base-
