

MUENSTER IS HOST TO K-C'S FOR INITIATION

Program Also Includes
High Mass, Banquet

Local Council Has Twelve
Candidates in Class
Named in Honor of Father Francis

An eventful day combining group attendance at a special mass in the morning, a major degree initiation in the afternoon, and a banquet in the evening honored Father Francis Zimmerman and the "Father Francis Class" here last Sunday. The Muenster council, assisted by the Muenster court of Catholic Daughters of America, were hosts of the day.

Twelve new members were added to the membership roll of the local council. Another nineteen from Gainesville, Denison, Sherman and Wichita Falls brought the total number of the Father Francis class up to thirty-one.

Though the honored person of the day, Father Francis was conspicuous as the most active and overworked person on the program. At the high mass he delivered an inspiring sermon to the knights and in the evening presided as toastmaster for the banquet.

The sermon dealt with ideals of knighthood and the spiritual war against evil that is in constant progress. As weapons and armor for that lifelong struggle the speaker recommended such virtues as truth, charity and justice, which are included in the ideals of Columbianism. He called upon knights to preserve the tradition of ancient knight-hood in lending a helping hand to the weak and distressed and to be constantly alert in defense of human rights. Concrete examples of such activity on the part of the supreme and state councils was presented in a brief list of statistics.

The evening program was hailed as a tremendous success in spite of darkness resulting from damage to power lines. Rescued by about two dozen candles the crowd of almost 250 persons managed to enjoy their meal and entertainment in semi-darkness. The only bad handicap was the failure of the sound system, leaving those in the far end of the room almost out of hearing distance.

Matt Theisen, state deputy of the order in Oklahoma and well remembered by old timers as a former resident of Muenster shared with Harry Lammman of Denison for the honor of principal speaker. Each gave a short address of about 15 minutes, the former leaning slightly to the serious side and boosting the merits of the order, the other giving preference to humor.

As entertainment, the choir appeared in two numbers, Misses Katie Mae and Mildred Walterscheid each gave accordian solos, and little Monty Hellman and Jeanette Meurer played a piano duet.

An especially popular feature of the program was its combination of the better parts of a banquet and an informal Dutch lunch. A Dutch lunch menu expertly prepared and served by the Catholic Daughters was offered in generous quantities whereas the addresses and entertainment were on the order of a banquet.

Among the list of more than a hundred out of town visitors were the Rev. Fathers Smid of Denton and Molloy of Wichita Falls, District Deputy Joe Hesse of Wichita Falls, and the banquet speakers, State Deputy C. K. Walsh was unable to accept his invitation for the affair.

SEVEN MILE LINE IN LEO COMMUNITY NEXT JOB FOR CO-OP

With the task of installing meters gradually drawing to a close, the Cooke County Electric Co-operative Association is preparing now for its next important step, completion of the seven mile span left unfinished in the Leo community because of right of way difficulties.

An agreement between the Electric Co-op and the property owner was reached Tuesday.

Wednesday the installation of meters was in progress in the Valley View area. Next on the list is Forstburg and Leo. The number of homes now receiving current is about 275. The number of meter bases installed, indicating the number of customers as soon as meter connections are completed is 359.

LEADERS OF COAL DISPUTE MEET MEDIATOR

TWO PHONEY RANGERS GET SLOT MACHINES FROM DRUG STORE

Two phoney laws, well supplied with phoney credentials and big enough to convince a doubting Thomas that they were the real thing, relieved the Dixie Drug Store of two slot machines last Friday morning.

As cool and systematic in their procedure as the genuine rangers they impersonated, the two robbers calmly identified themselves, flashed badges, and offered their credentials for inspection. They had instructions, they said, to take the slot machines out of the place. They took them.

As soon as the men were gone Frank Kaiser called the owner of the machines at Gainesville to explain the loss. It was then he discovered that the affair was a robbery, not a legal raid.

County officers were put on the trail immediately and, as soon as a call had been put through to ranger headquarters at Dallas, state rangers were also in pursuit. No arrests have been reported to date.

Officers are convinced by the expert procedure of the phoney laws that they are old timers at the game. Two men well known to ranger headquarters are suspected.

REGARDLESS—SCOUT PARTY WILL BE HELD TUESDAY, SAYS WELCH

Finally, the final arrangements for the boy scout benefit party are under way and, regardless of conflicting circumstances, Tuesday, May 16 is the night, according to a statement by Scoutmaster Welch Tuesday.

The program will consist of bridge, 42 and tango games until the lunch course, about 10 o'clock, which will be followed by dancing. Tickets sold for the first scheduled date, in February, will be accepted for admission next Tuesday.

All money realized at this benefit will be placed in the scouts' fund for new uniforms.

MUENSTER HI GIVES PLAY TO FINANCE TRIP TO CARLSBAD

The Muenster Hi players, winners of the county title in the Interscholastic League one act play contest, will test themselves next Thursday night, May 18, with a more difficult assignment, a three act comedy entitled "A Crazy Mixup." It will be presented in the parish hall under the direction of Virgil Lee Welch.

Admission money collected at the door will be divided 50-50 between the public school and the new church fund, Welch stated. The school's money is to be used to finance a bus trip to Carlsbad Cavern, New Mexico if arrangements can possibly be made. If cheap transportation can be secured, Welch estimated the anticipated play receipts will very nearly if not totally defray costs. Students will be expected to share the remaining financial burden.

It is reported that no admission charge is levied on visiting school children, hence that the entire class could go through the cavern on the ticket of their instructor.

Pupils included in the play cast are Maurice Pagel, Louis Nieball, Clyde Rosson, Jr., Leonard Knabe, and Misses Betty Ann Branham, Morjorie Pagel, Montez Carter, Bertha Jane Hoehn, Bernice Kathman and Bernadine Wilde.

MRS. MARY BERNAUER IS RECOVERING FROM ILLNESS

Following a critical illness with which she was afflicted Sunday evening, Mrs. Mary Bernauer was making a normal recovery, it was advised late Wednesday.

During the week the following of her children visited at her bedside: Charles Bernauer of Forest City, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bernauer of Panhandle, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Flusche of Decatur, Mrs. Jacob Werner of Waco and Miss Frances Bernauer of Memphis, Tenn. She was also cheered by a visit from Rev. Father Kempheus, a close friend of the family, from Memphis.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL ADD HOME ECONOMICS AND MANUAL TRAINING

The addition of courses in manual training and home economics constitutes the first major advancement in recent years at the Muenster High School. Principal Welch disclosed early this week that the school board had decided upon the improvement at a meeting last week.

In the same meeting each of the present instructors was favored with another year's contract. As a result Virgil Lee Welch and Miss Dorothy Fette will again have charge of the high school department while Misses Elfreda Luke and Mary Barker will teach primary classes.

Present plans for the manual training and home economics departments include also a special moderately sized building and the minimum of equipment to satisfy the department of Education's standard for the courses. Welch will teach manual training and Miss Fette will teach home economics. Both intend to prepare for the work with special courses this summer.

AS LONG AS IT RAINS FARMERS DON'T MIND DEAD POWER LINES

In spite of being put in the dark for three hours last Sunday night, farmers of this community were grateful to the weather man for the rain that accompanied his electrical storm.

According to general estimates the precipitation was about an inch, enough to assure a fair grain crop unless a calamity of some sort should interfere. On the other hand, another one inch rain soon would be regarded just right for a dandy harvest.

Sunday's experience was the first that local farmers have had in power failure.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC TO BE PRESENTED NEXT SUNDAY IN RECITAL

A treat is in store for music lovers this Sunday evening. Beginning at 8 o'clock Sister Leonarda will present in recital at the parish hall, her pupils of the Sacred Heart School of Music.

Classical selections and folk songs are included on the program in solo, duet, trio and quartet numbers on piano, violin, accordian, trombone and clarinet. There will also be vocal numbers, outstanding of which will be a skit from Snow White with little Gladys Wilde, portraying the famous fairy tale princess.

ATTEND K-C CONVENTION

Four Muenster knights, Father Francis Zimmerman, Herbert Meurer, H. P. Hennigan, and J. M. Weinzapfel, were in Waco on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday to attend the annual state convention of the Knights of Columbus. They were accompanied by Mesdames Meurer, Weinzapfel and Hennigan and two of the Hennigan children.

BOTH SCHOOLS WILL GIVE YEAR'S FINALS WITH STATE EXAMS

In accordance with a bill passed in the state legislature about two weeks ago, both Muenster schools will enjoy the privilege of ending this year's work with examinations given by the state department of education. Pupils who pass such examinations will receive state credits that will be recognized as valid entrance credentials in all Texas colleges.

By this provision the pupils of Muenster, and all other unaffiliated schools, are spared the handicap of submitting to college entrance examinations in case they wish to continue their education after graduating from high school. It permits students to advance in accordance to ability rather than on the favorable rating of their schools. Henceforth deserving students in small schools will be on a par with those of the larger schools.

Many local people will recall that this bill was requested in a special petition circulated for signatures here several months ago. Largely because of that petition, Senator Van Zandt of this district gave strong support to the bill. Largely because of his support, the bill was favored with legislative approval.

Exams at both schools will be held next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, May 17-19. The public school will secure its questions through the county superintendent's office. The parochial school, not coming under the county superintendent's jurisdiction will secure its questions from Austin.

HENRY TRACHTA AND W. H. ENDRES WIN BEST YARD CONTEST

Winners in Muenster's yard beautification contest, held in connection with the flower show, were announced during the show Friday night. The judging of the yards, both city and rural, had taken place on the preceding Tuesday afternoon. Judges for the event were Mesdames Sid Horn and M. L. Graves of Gainesville and Mrs. J. H. Embry of Saint Jo.

Placing first in city yards was that of Henry Trachta. The award was a blue ribbon and a shrub, given through the courtesy of H-5 Nursery, Gainesville. Joe Trachta's yard was second, Rudy Hellman's and Dr. T. S. Myrick's tied for third place, and J. M. Weinzapfel's received honorable mention.

In the rural yards, that of W. H. Endres was first, the prize being the same as in the city yard contest. G. H. Hellman's yard was second and Roy Endres' third. Red and white ribbons were given for second and third place winners, respectively.

A score card based on accepted landscape principles was used in analyzing the grounds. Points were based on, first, general attractiveness. Second, general arrangement of grounds, including location of house, grouping of trees, lawn, walks, fence, drives, work area, outdoor living room and pools. Third, plant material, i.e. suitable to position, permanency, harmony and variety. Fourth, neatness and order, sanitation, health and vigor of plants, condition of lawns and shrub beds.

BANK GETS PERMIT AND SECURES BRICK FOR NEW BUILDING

Though not announcing a definite date to begin on its new building the bank is steadily moving forward with its preliminary plans. A permit has been secured to move the present building over beside the A. C. Stelzer place as a temporary location while the work is in progress.

Application for a building permit has also been filed and brick is being hauled to the building site. The brick to be used are those salvaged from the old Valley View school.

There is a possibility that the present building, instead of being moved to the south will be moved to the west end of the lot and permanently set up to serve as a rent building in the future.

JOB AS ASSISTANT SCOUTMASTER GOES TO ORVAL MALONE

Possibilities of an orphan scout troop this summer were averted Monday night when Orval Malone met with the troop and offered his service as assistant scoutmaster. His offer was especially timely in that Scoutmaster Welch will be outside the community during the summer vacation.

MORE THAN 400 ATTEND JUBILEE FLOWER SHOW

Parochial Pupils Give Play, Musical Numbers

Exhibits Include Antiques,
Paintings, needlecraft,
And Early Scenes of Community

Muenster's Golden Jubilee flower show, sponsored by the Ladies' Civic League in the K of C Hall last Friday afternoon and evening was a decided success. More than 400 persons registered in the guest book, including visitors from Gainesville, Lindsay, Myra, Linn, Hays and St. Jo.

Flowers of many kinds grown in and around Muenster, consisting of roses, wild flowers, potted plants and cut flowers were arranged in strikingly attractive displays. The most beautiful was that of roses, which was the featured flower of this year's show.

Rivaling the flowers in general interest were the embroidery exhibit, baked goods display and the antiques and old scenes of Muenster. Other displays worthy of special mention were the miniature exhibit and the paintings. The latter included a group of beautiful pictures, the work of Miss Mathilda Hoenig, local young lady, who is an art student at Saint Scholastica's Academy at Fort Smith, Ark., paintings of the late Mrs. J. C. Trachta and china painted by Mrs. J. S. Myrick.

The antique display featured numerous articles more than a hundred years old and pieces of household goods used by this community's first settlers fifty years ago. A number of these are the property of Mrs. Franz Hesse who was one of the original first residents in the community.

Musical programs were presented by pupils of the Sacred Heart School of Music under the direction of Sister Leonarda during the afternoon and again in the evening. A one-act playlet by parochial high school pupils in the late evening was an acceptable added entertainment feature.

The entire program was under the direction of Mrs. Joe Luke, general chairman. Other chairmen were Mrs. Joe Luke and Mrs. Tony Gremming for roses, annuals and perennials. They were assisted by Miss Dorothy Trachta and Mrs. Joe Kathman. Mesdames Jake Pagel and T. S. Myrick assisted Mrs. John Kathman, chairman of the wild flower exhibit. Mrs. John Wieler, chairman of the potted plants, was assisted by Mrs. Henry Walterscheid and Miss Elfreda Luke.

Mrs. Clarence Wilson was in charge of the embroidery exhibit. Her assistants were Mrs. Joe Horn and Mrs. Jake Horn, Jr. Mrs. M. J. Endres, as chairman of the baked goods exhibit, was assisted by Misses Anna Hellman and Mary Becker.

Mrs. Joe Luke was in charge of terrariums, Mrs. Jake Pagel of the old scenes exhibit, Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel and Mrs. T. S. Myrick, antiques and paintings, and Miss Olivia Stock, miniature display. Mrs. John Kathman was in charge of the refreshment booth.

Mesdames S. M. Yarbrough and Raymond King of Gainesville and Miss Ruth Scott of Saint Jo, as judges, awarded blue, red and white ribbons Friday morning before the show officially opened.

GERMANIA MUTUAL HAS RE-ELECTION OF OFFICERS TUESDAY

Meeting at the city hall Tuesday night members of the Muenster chapter of the Germania fire insurance company favored all their officers with another term. The re-elections are as follows: Henry Fleitman, president; J. S. Horn, secretary; Henry Stelzer, treasurer. Other business of the meeting was voting on district delegates to the state convention of the company.

The Germania is a mutual very similar to the German Farmers' Mutual but differs in that it insures within cities. Some local people had carried the insurance through the Lindsay chapter for years and formed their local chapter a year ago. Since then they have secured 35 new members.

Muenster's volunteer fire department held a monthly business session in the city hall Monday evening with assistant fire chief, John Fisher, in charge. On Wednesday evening the boys had a fire drill.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — Florida's claim of having the largest tomatoes, which are just being harvested for Northern salads and sandwiches, may start another controversy like the "long corn" claims that came from many areas last year. ONE BB SHOT SENT OUT—IT RETURNS A HUNDRED-FOLD

Two successive shots rent the air—one said "crack" and the other said "boom." Muenster's first gun play incident in ever so many years had passed into history. Fortunately, no casualties.

It all happened last Saturday in the twinkling of an eye. One of our peace loving citizens, who is distinguished among fellow townsmen as an especially outstanding sparrow exterminator, just happened to use an unwise method of testing his marksmanship. Like a bean ball pitcher, or a cut-up driver he felt an overwhelming desire to show how close he could miss someone. The prods of temptation became so urgent that he just had to level down.

The object of his attention was an imaginary spot between the heads of two fellows about 50 yards away. He took steady aim and pressed the trigger—"Crack, z-l-ing, splat." The BB shot had hit the bull's eye.

One of the fellows thought he was dead, but his companion took on new life. He made a lunge for his car, standing nearby, and came out an instant later loading a shotgun.

It did not take the marksman long to realize that the feud was on. In a flash he was beating a hasty retreat—then a tremendous roar of the blunderbuss and lots of BB's were in pursuit. He had no more than slipped around the sanctum of the building's corner than the entire charge clattered against the tin where he had been.

Inside the felt safe, but unfortunately he was still within the range of a human voice. His fortress was a flimsy bulwark against the barrage of terrible invective directed at it. He came out presently with both hands raised in surrender.

There is only a slight chance that this little episode will persuade the air rifle hobbyist to confine his practice shots to sparrows and tin cans. Several months ago he planted a BB beside a painter up on a ladder. His mistake that time was in underestimating the painter's marksmanship. He had no more than started his retreat when a well smeared paint brush struck him between the shoulder blades.

GREATER SAFETY OFFERED IN LATEST BUTANE GAS SYSTEM

Adding a number of improved features in its latest model butane storage units, the Yurown system now offers the same degree of safety as natural gas besides the same convenience and even greater economy. Otis Cox, Cooke County distributor for the system, Monday outlined its principal merits, especially those in the new unit of controls and gauges.

A gauge showing the fuel content eliminates the former danger and waste of gauging with a stick while the highly explosive fuel was escaping into the air. Delicate gauges and safety valves also keep line pressure at the desired pressure, and another gadget drains back condensed liquid so that nothing but absolutely dry gas is permitted to enter the lines.

THE BEGINNING OF WISDOM

It was news a few weeks ago when Michigan's 80 year old Governor Dickinson called upon all the people of his state to observe the next Sunday praying for "divine wisdom in assisting members of the Legislature to have courage, conviction and wisdom, that they may economize."

On all sides nowadays we can hear comments on what's wrong with this country. Federal squandering, industrial strife, greed, rackets, and dozens of other conditions—all of them share in the blame for current discontent. But seldom does the list of causes include the one that is implied above. The country is suffering from a shortage of prayer. The fact that a request for prayer was considered news-worthy is equivalent to an admission that it is unusual.

To some, of course, this view seems hopelessly old fashioned, perhaps even a little sissified. There are millions of people who do not hesitate to say that prayer is a pastime for old women who have nothing else to do, that busy men of the world are not supposed to waste their time on such trivialities. That such people have no time for "lifting their hearts to God" is indeed unfortunate. That they are content with their attitude of separation from God is more unfortunate.

In the last analysis, respect for God and piety are not symptoms of human weakness but rather of wisdom. Common sense, tradition, and instinct declare the existence of an all wise and all powerful Supreme Being upon whom every person and every thing is directly dependent. To deny this fact in word or deed is simply to fool one's self. For several decades, now, people have been fooling themselves in that respect.

As ancient theologians so aptly put it, God endowed man with a free will, a heritage so precious that even He declines to direct it. In other words, man is at liberty to do as he pleases, to work in harmony with the Supreme Being or to disregard Him. The difficulty is that, by purely human standards, he will encounter problems that he cannot solve. If he then persists to go his way alone it seems only natural that God should permit him to worry with his own mess. Upon a little reflection, does it not seem that most of our present day troubles are such human mistakes baffling our purely human solutions?

If this entire nation agreed with Michigan's governor on confidence in the Lord and fear of Him most of our troubles would not be here.

Yes, some of our moderns say it's sissified, but the wisest man said "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom."

LOYALTY PAYS

Between the lines of records at the Muenster Hatchery can be found concrete and convincing testimony to support the old contention that it pays to trade at home. According to figures released by the management, the institution bought 57,000 eggs the past season, paying a premium of 10 cents per dozen—a total premium of $475.00.

Considering that the average market price was less than 15 cents a dozen through the season, it is apparent that many a local poultry raiser almost doubled gross receipts and certainly more than doubled the net profit on eggs.

That is a simple fact, it is evident beyond a possible doubt. And since that is true, it must also be true that profits to local people would have been increased proportionately if the hatchery had enjoyed a greater local patronage.

In many cases, no doubt, the very people who sold the eggs were buying baby chicks, thus helping create the business that made the premiums possible. In other cases relatives or friends were responsible for the extra earnings of other relatives or friends.

This happens to be a case in which the benefit of trading at home is so evident that it cannot escape notice. But in the last analysis it is not unique at all. Every home town deal keeps the profit at home; and as that profit circulates about, a little of it is certain to return to the original spender.

Consider this along with the assumption that prices everywhere are reasonably fair,—and it is usually true that prices are proportional to quality. If such is the case, if the buyer gets just what he pays for, it is poor business as well as poor loyalty to spend where the profits have no chance of coming back.

THE PLACE FOR TRASH

Last week, in his farewell address to the City Council, the past mayor, M. J. Endres, mentioned briefly a few developments of recent years that may be regarded with pride by the citizenship. Other suggestions dealt with conditions that are not so pleasing.

For instance, there is the problem of inexcusable negligence on the part of many who have hauled rubbish to the city dump. Trash of every description can be found for hundreds of feet from the ravine in which it is supposed to be unloaded. Scattered about a grain field, it is a hazard to the farmer who was kind enough to offer his place for the city's convenience.

Talking about "biting the hand that feeds you"! What else could a person call this dumping situation? What is it to cause a hardship on one in return for his favor?

Some people may not know how much trouble the city has had finding a dumping ground. Naturally, nobody wants unsightly junk lying around his place, especially not if it creates a handicap. This farmer, fortunately, had a ravine in which the rubbish would neither be noticeable nor cause trouble. As long as trash was thrown in that ravine he would be glad to let the city use it. Unless citizens begin living up to the agreement he will be forced, in defense of his own interests, to withdraw his offer.

Other offenses of a similar nature have been noted within the limits of the city itself. Some vandals dumped several truck loads of junk on vacant lots.

Whether on a lot or on a wheat field, such action is plainly destroying property. Conscience should object to it if personal decency does not.

What Others Say

CULTURE ON THE PAYROLL

Contrary to the impression among many scholars, culture in this world is absolutely dependent upon economic prosperity. It was no accident that the Periclean Age came at a time when ancient Greece was very prosperous and had established a thousand trading posts in all parts of the civilized world. When her commercial prosperity died out, the culture of Greece was at an end, too.

The great Augustan period of Roman literature flowered when the Roman Empire enjoyed its peak of commercial prosperity and collapsed when the economic system collapsed. The same was true when the Italian Renaissance, that golden period of art and culture, when material riches of business failed to sustain it, the creative period of culture was at an end. After all, artists must eat and must have leisure time to do their work.

At every age in history it was the material wealth of industry that stimulated and supported cultural pursuits. As a result, culture today is most widespread in those lands where industry is most productive. America has been fortunate in this respect, due to our highly efficient business system with its mass production and modern advertising.

In the United States we have had 150 years of unparalleled productivity. With only 7 per cent of the world's population living here, we have produced one-half of all the wealth on this globe. That is why, in these same 150 years, we have been able to build more schools and colleges than all the rest of the world combined. Culture in America is a thing for the masses. Over 30,000,000 students are registered in our educational institutions.

Among the greatest media for disseminating culture in this country are newspapers and magazines in all of which we lead the world. The combined circulation of the 13,000 periodicals and newspapers included in the Census is over 300,000,000—nearly ten for every family.

These great instruments of education and culture in our country are supported chiefly by revenue from advertising. The amount readers pay for most newspapers and magazines represents only a portion of their actual cost. Thus the very finest in literature, art, and music is provided for the people without cost, as a by-product of the efficient working of our commercial system.

Advertising does much more for culture besides supporting the bulk of our printed publications and radio broadcasts. Our entire economic prosperity is linked up with advertising, which is an indispensable part of the important process of large scale selling without which our modern industries could not operate and could not support present-day cultural activities. Advertising helps to bring down the cost of the things necessary to a civilized existence and popularizes culture itself.

In many ways, advertising subsidizes education for the masses and stimulates people with the necessary desire to attain a higher level of culture.—Exchange.

CONSIDER AMERICA FIRST

In a world so filled with terror and confusion as has been brought about by the steady advance of Germany and Italy toward control of all Europe it is hard for Americans, so far removed from the center of world events, to come to sound and sane conclusions as to what the effect of the world disturbance is likely to be upon ourselves and our nation.

A great variety of opinion as to what we ought to do or ought not to do, is being expressed by statesmen and near statesmen, in and out of Washington. Our greatest danger is that the idea may take possession of the American people that it is our national duty to go to the help of the friendly nations of Europe if their security is threatened.

There seems little doubt that a great deal of propaganda, emanating from British and French sources, is being set on foot in America to influence public opinion. That is a dangerous thing.

Just that sort of stimulated public opinion got us into the last great European war. We came out of it holding the bag. We sacrificed the lives of fifty or sixty thousand young Americans to make the world safe for democracy, and hardly got even a thank you from the peoples and governments we were supposed to be saving.

We lent them billions of dollars, not only for war purposes but for rehabilitation after the war was over, and they haven't even paid us the interest on the debt.

Confetti

By CON FETTE

Well, the wet interests of this county are itching for another show down. Undaunted by successive defeats, each a little more decisive than the preceding one, they started hammering away on another beer election as soon as the time limit following the last one had expired.

Again this column joins with them in their hope and optimism. Especially after witnessing local conditions for the past year, it comes out wholeheartedly in support of any legislative or elective adjustment that would put Muenster on a law and order basis.

Obviously that goal can be reached only by legalizing the sale of beer. State liquor control men can keep running in until they are flat footed but they will not dry up this town. Perhaps they will close up a few places or even revive bootlegging from private homes. Perhaps they will drive Muenster back to the standard of home brew and white mule, but they will not stop the drinking.

Ever since the passage of the Volstead Act this community has seen intervals of stringent enforcement, but it has never seen effective and decent control. That goal can be reached only when law harmonizes with public opinion instead of forcing public sympathy to favor the lawbreaker.

If a sufficiently large number of conscientious voters see this problem in its real light the result will be pleasing. If they understand that they are voting for "order or chaos," not for "beer or water," the election will go over with a bang.

For undisputed claim to the reputation of "meanest man in town" we nominate the fellow who recently built a bird house to lure sparrows to their doom. "Come into my parlor," said the spider to the fly. This guy's gun is always loaded for the hapless bird that accepts his invitation. Next thing he'll probably be putting out bird seed.

As a resourceful man we nominate the one who swapped hats with Nick the Cleaner in church not so long ago. In color, size, brand and every other detail save one—the condition of cleanliness—the two fedoras were identical. It is possible that the person himself has not noticed the difference even though he won in the exchange. And Nick will be no worse off after he does a free cleaning job.

At last the monotonous regularity of bridal showers and stork showers is offset by something that really is a shower. This one is not a mere social function in which a group of ladies come together to play bridge, partake of refreshments, and offer a remembrance; it is a distinct act of charity to help a distressed family. It has a purpose that raises it ever so high above the plane of those other affairs.

There's something else about a fire shower: its practicality from the giver's standpoint. Junior's suit may be too small after a season's wear but it has months of service left in it. To the child it fits it is a

And neither our efforts nor theirs made the world safe for democracy.

There is a lot of tommyrot in all the talk about friendship between nations. No nation has any friends except those which want to get something out of the friendship for themselves. The essence of national interest is and must be self-interest.

Before we even think of taking part in any war except in self-defense, we must consider our own interests first. Nobody else will consider them.—Mt. Vernon Optic-Herald.

BUILDING FOR OTHERS

An old, old man was finishing a foot-bridge across a swollen creek at twilight. Chided by a passerby for laboring so diligently to construct a convenience which perhaps he would seldom, if ever, use, he replied: "Comes after me a youth who must pass this way. He, too, must cross at the twilight dim. Good friend, I am building this bridge for him."

Nearly two-thirds of all the lamb eaten in the United States is consumed north of Washington and east of Pittsburg, and area which grows less than five per cent of the country's sheep.

handsome practical gift, but the one who presents it isn't out a penny. The same is true of dozens of household items. Serviceable things a person does not need are what fire showers are made of.

Perhaps a little of this fire shower spirit would be a desirable feature to incorporate in other givings. Many a donor could give better things without crippling the budget if it were not for the idea that the items would be regarded as discards. The favored ones, too, a large percentage of them, at least, would prefer not to think that the gift represents a sacrifice on the part of the giver.

Again, the flower show was a tribute to the energy and civic pride of the Civic League ladies. As an array of beautiful and interesting displays it was tops. A person is inclined to wonder how so many pieces of artwork, so many antiques, so many interesting items of various descriptions, could be assembled in the limited population of this community. Yes, there was something about the show that had an appeal to every eye. Even we of the common rabble—who can't distinguish between a fuchsia and a hollyhock—know there was something about the show that was nice.

One disappointment, however, is a report that flowers from outside communities were not accepted for prize competition. Too bad! Such entries might have improved both the show and the town's good will in neighboring communities.

Another thing was missing too:

the excitement and the crowd cheering Sister Bertha on her opportunity to visit the folks back in Switzerland. Remember last year? That incident, added as a last minute feature after the community had chipped in for her passage, stole most of the glory from the flower show.

Overheard something the other day that is old stuff to both you and me, but, somehow, this time it suggested a different angle. A farmer thought he should be entitled to a "kin-folks cut" from one of his relatives that happens to be in business.

Probably nobody knows who was the chump merchant that started the racket by granting special discounts to relatives. But all of us know that some people have come to regard it as a matter of course. Many a time the purchaser is in far better financial condition than the merchant, still he feels entitled to the kin-folks cut.

Just why doesn't that thing work both ways? Why doesn't some fair minded relative offer to permit the merchant a little "cut" of extra profit?

A standing offer of hearty congratulations is hereby extended to the merchant who will respond to the next relative's demand somewhat as follows: "No, you've got this thing wrong. Since I'm your relative you should be willing to give me more than the regular price. Now, this thing sells for $50, but I'm sure you will be glad to pay me $55 for it."

Yes, it's reasonable, but just let a merchant try it. He'll cut himself right out of his kinfolks' business.

CARD OF THANKS

Due to the fact that so many people helped make the Golden Jubilee Flower Show an outstanding success, it is impossible to thank each one individually. Therefore the committee takes this opportunity to express their grateful appreciation and thanks to them for their unselfish cooperation.

Special thanks are due to those who brought articles for exhibition, to Sister Leonarda and her music pupils and to students of the parochial high school for their programs, to members who contributed so generously their assistance and to all who attended.

Mrs. Joe Luke, chairman, flower show committee of the Ladies Civic League.

CARD OF THANKS

Since it is impossible to thank each one of you individually we take this means of expressing our heartfelt gratitude and sincerest thanks to all who stood by us and assisted us so generously in the recent loss of our home.

We deeply appreciate the complete household furnishings, food, clothing and money that was given us. We wish to thank the Fire Department for their good work in fighting the flames, for the shower Wednesday, the men who donated labor in tearing down the old building and beginning the new, to those who helped us move and each and every one for any kindness, however large or small.

Nick Yosten and family.

NEWSPAPER MEN PICK GARNER AND DEWEY AS NOMINEES IN 1940

WASHINGTON.—Like to match your political wits with 50 representative Washington newspapermen?

Newsweek Magazine polled the writers on what is likely to happen in 1940. They voted Dist. Atty Thomas E. Dewey of New York as the most likely Republican presidential nominee—as of now. Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, missed tying Dewey for first choice by a single point.

Vice president John N. Garner was far ahead for the Democratic presidential nomination; Secretary of State Cordell Hull second. Dewey and Taft also topped the list of probable Republican vice-presidential nominees. Postmaster Gen. J. A. Farley led the Democrats for that honor, with Sen. Bennet C. Clark of Missouri a bad second.

Thirty-one writers thought the Republicans would elect a president next year. Sixteen would bet on the Democrats. Some were undecided.

IT'S A HIT! The NEW Firestone CHAMPION TIRE
Because IT'S THE ONLY TIRE MADE WITH THE NEW SAFETY-LOCK CORD BODY and GEAR-GRIP TREAD

CAR OWNERS everywhere are acclaiming the extra blowout protection and non-skid safety of the new Firestone Champion Tire. And automobile manufacturers, knowing its outstanding performance, have adopted it for their new 1939 models. On every hand you hear, "It's the most effective tire we have ever had on wet pavement and in mud and snow!" It's the hit of 1939!

The Firestone Champion Tire is a completely new achievement in safety engineering and the result of a new and revolutionary means of locking greater safety into the cord body of a tire. This is accomplished first, by the use of a new type of tire cord called "Safety-Lock," in which the cotton fibers are more compactly interwoven to give greater strength. And then the fibers in each individual cord, the cords in each ply and the plies themselves are all securely locked together by a new and advanced Firestone process of Gum-Dipping, which provides amazingly greater strength—and greater strength means greater safety.

The new Safety-Lock cord construction gives the added strength that makes possible the use of the new thicker, tougher, deeper Firestone Gear-Grip Tread, which provides remarkably longer non-skid mileage. This sensational new tread is called "Gear-Grip" because of its unique design which has more than three thousand sharp-edged angles that grip the road with a sure-footed hold to protect against skidding and to assure a safe stop.

Come in today and equip your car with a set of new Firestone Champion Tires, the only tires made that are safety-proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.
