VOLUME VI

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE CO., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1942

NUMBER 12

Camp Walters Reception Center, Mineral Wells, Texas, February 6.

This is Con's first attempt to serve in the dual capacity of soldier and correspondent. How long it will last is anybody's guess, depends on what's ahead. From what some of the old-timers say the training schedule will be too rough and too extensive to permit any time for literary effort. Others claim there will be time to spare. Obviously it depends upon what branch of the service chooses a fellow.

That last remark was correctly put. The old idea about getting what a fellow wants is out. He simply goes when and where told. There's a war on, and the army doesn't relish wasting time on personal preferences.

As this is being written — on a bunk with a suitcase across knees to serve as a desk — all the Muenster and Lindsay boys are still together in one gang. Just a big happy family, and if there have been any cases of homesickness they have been kept well under control. At this very time a bolstered card session is in progress less than ten feet away. If a few extraneous remarks like "up a nickel" or "split in the river" should creep into this dissertation it may be accepted as evidence that your scribe is dividing his attention.

Another minor disturbance popped up just a moment ago. A gang of fellows who arrived a day ahead of us came in with the report that they're shoving off for parts unknown.

All of us envy them. Being here is not so hot. No definite schedule, so a guy doesn't have any idea what's coming next — although it's been mostly loafing so far. And conveniences are down to a minimum. All possessions jammed into a service bag, no radio, no leave, no chance to get mail, and all letters have to be written on a knee or a suitcase. Some of the boys have had to finish their letters in the washroom when they failed to sign off before "lights out." Of course we all understand that this is only a reception center and the stay is short, so we don't really mind — it wouldn't do any good if we did.

The two big wishes now are that the gang will be permitted to stay together and that they will be stationed within convenient distance from home — for week end trips. Indications are, however, that this is the ultimate in wishful thinking. From here they scatter to all corners of the country. Furthermore the tests are designed to segregate men for different branches of the service, which means different camps.

Few people who haven't been in the service have any real appreciation of what it does for a youngster. Discipline and order are essential. Anyone who thinks he can disregard them is headed for a pack of grief. The boys are gradually breaking themselves of the habit of dropping matches, cigarette butts, or scraps of paper on the grounds. They've also quit leaving personal possessions scattered around their bunks. Personal appearance is another thing. Woe to the guy who fails to wear the proper clothes and wear them properly. Officers do not lose much time convincing newcomers that their appearance at all times must be a credit to the army. Such infractions as a four days growth of beard, a four weeks growth of hair, soiled or wrinkled clothing, failure to use all buttons and other details that used to be considered trifles are now sufficient provocation for KP duty.

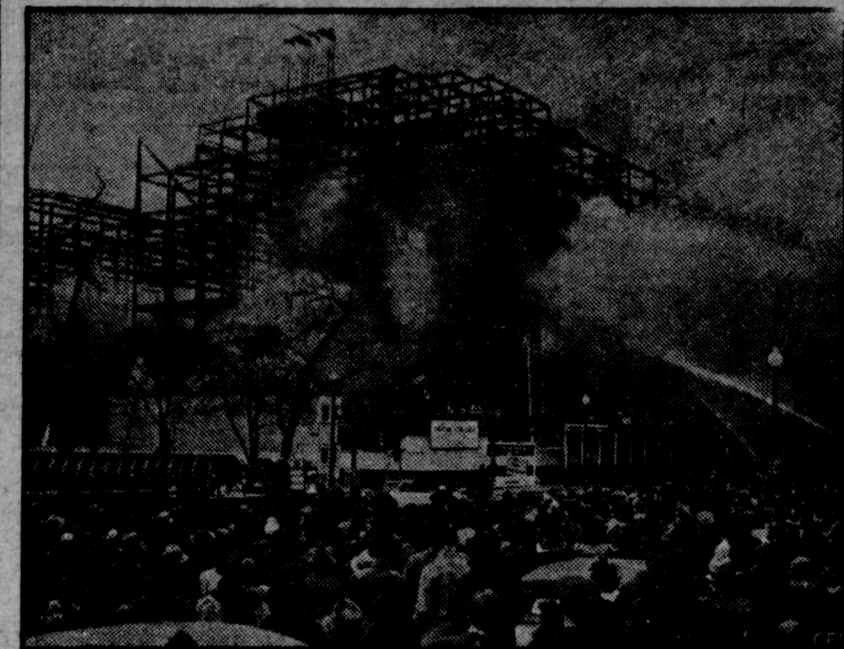

Girls might be interested in knowing that their boy friends should make model husbands after Uncle Sam completes his course of instruction. The fellows get to be quite handy with such commonplace domestic articles as broom, mop

FIGHT STUBBORN FIRE NEAR WHITE HOUSE

A five alarm fire Sunday threatened to destroy the partially constructed $5,000,000 Hotel Statler in downtown Washington. Heavy clouds of smoke blanketed the downtown section of Washington including the White House three blocks away. Marines and army men were pressed into service to help control the crowds. Photo shows the Statler hotel burning while huge crowds look on. The fire burned nearly all the woodwork out and heat from the flames buckled the steelwork. The government acquired the building for office space after construction started as a hotel.

GAINESVILLE MAN PRAISES MUENSTER'S LOYALTY TO AMERICA

The following letter was received by the Enterprise this week. We are happy to give it space in our columns:

To The Muenster Enterprise: Please allow me to express at this time my sincere commendation for the loyalty to America of the people of the Muenster community.

It was my privilege, the past week, to grasp the hand of your young editor, R. N. Fette, as he departed to join the army, maybe to give his all for the battle of democracy, with a smile on his face, a lifted chin, and the fire of battle in his eyes, as he bade me goodbye, and I had to think of the many malicious lies and rumors that some of our unworthy citizens of Cooke county have spread about the people of Muenster.

I am also reminded of the many young men of the community who have gone, and in not one single instance, has one of them shown any dissatisfaction about his lot.

My hat is off to the mothers and fathers of Muenster that have so nobly given their sons to our common cause, for liberty and freedom.

It has been my privilege, as representative of Tyler and Simpson company, to mix with the people of this community for the past thirty-three years, and I say without fear of contradiction, that I have never in all my life dealt with a fairer or more loyal group of citizens.

(Signed) Grady H. Culp, Gainesville, Texas.

TWELVE MEN JOIN FIRE DEPARTMENT, RECEIVE TRAINING

With the enrollment of twelve new members during the past week, Muenster's Volunteer Fire department is back in A-1 condition. Fire Chief Henry Luke advised this week. The department was seriously handicapped by the loss of a number of men as a result of the recent call to arms.

New members were present at the regular meeting of the department Monday evening and on Wednesday afternoon received a course of instruction and training given by Frank Hoedebeck, who attended a firemen's school at A and M college some time ago.

New members are Dr. T. S. Myrick (first Aid), Leo Sicking, Emmet Fette, Morris Pazel, E. O. Teague, C. B. Fowler, Andy and Gerald Steizer, Joe Knabe, Leo Appel, Joe Luke and Roy Schumaker.

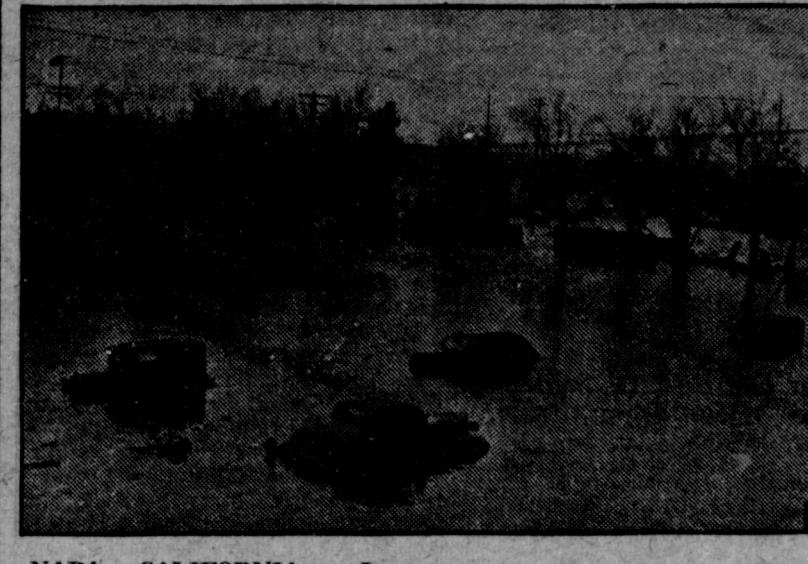

FIRE RAZES HOME OF GORDON RAMSEY

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the home of Gordon Ramsey, 3 miles north of Muenster in the Valley Creek community, Wednesday morning.

Members of the family were not at home at the time and passers-by discovering the blaze, attempted to remove household furnishings, but the attractive rock veneer structure was a blazing inferno that crumbled shortly after 11 a. m., only a short time after the fire was discovered.

House and furnishings, estimated at near $5,000 was not insured.

FLOODS IN WEST

NAPA, CALIFORNIA — Inundated automobiles parked along the curb indicate where Pearl street runs — or flows, rather — through the heart of Napa. That north bay city was hit hardest by the storm and floods, which struck many central California communities, for the Napa River literally "went to town," sending torrents of muddy water raging through the streets, as evidenced above. To make matters worse, Redwood Creek also went over its banks, helping to swell the flood. Illinois reported floods in Illinois River valley — the highest in 26 years.

CHURCH, SCHOOLS CHANGE SCHEDULE MONDAY MORNING

Muensterites woke an hour early Monday morning and fumbled around in the early a. m. darkness, arising by war daylight saving time in accordance with the presidential decree. All Muenster clocks were set ahead one hour and with the exception of school and church schedules practically all business and other activity goes on as though nothing had happened.

Schedule for the parochial school and Sacred Heart parish as announced by the pastors is as follows:

Masses on week days are at 7:20 and 9 a. m., parochial classes beginning after the second service, and dismissing at 4:30.

Sunday masses are at 7, 9 and 11, and afternoon services will be held at 4 o'clock.

The public school classes follow the same schedule as the parish school, beginning at 8:50 and dismissing at 4:30, accordingly, both schools observe the noon recess at 1 o'clock.

For the next several weeks at least, this school schedule will continue, according to the superintendents. Most of the students are farm children with milking and other chores to do every morning making their arrivals in classrooms by 8:30 almost impossible. Later the one-hour advance may be considered suitable.

Work On Sewer Project Progresses; Expect To Finish By April 1st

Work on the 5200 feet of Muenster's remaining sewer project, begun last November 19, is now about 62 per cent complete. E. K. Whitaker, resident city engineer, disclosed Wednesday. Work on line 8 is expected to be completed next week and that leaves only one more line, the one on Sycamore street, to wind up the job, Whitaker said. If weather conditions continue favorable the project will be finished by April 1st.

During the past weeks digging has been easy and progress in general has been satisfactory, he said. "We are running under the estimated cost," Whitaker stated.

Considering the entire project in the city, it is now 92 per cent complete, Whitaker said. Workmen are now digging and laying line in the Felderhoff-Henry Hennigan area. The last line will service the homes in the Emmet Fette-W. T. Richter vicinity.

TRUCK AND TRAILER DEMOLISHED; DRIVER JUMPS TO SAFETY

The large Red Chain Store truck and trailer was completely demolished in an accident west of Napa Monday night. Harold (Coy) Alford, driver, jumped to safety when he discovered that the steering equipment had locked and the machine was out of control. The truck and trailer, loaded with 1200 pounds of maize, hit the side of the road and came to rest in a brush a short distance down the highway. Six tires blew out as the machine came to a bumping, jolting stop.

Alford received only minor facial cuts and body bruises as the result of his leap from the moving cab to the pavement. He estimated his speed at the time at about 40 miles.

Ed Rohmer, owner of the truck and Bernie Schumacher, with his winch truck, hauled the wreckage in Tuesday afternoon. Most of the feed was salvaged but the machine is beyond repairing, Rohmer said. He carried insurance on the vehicle.

SIX LOCAL KNIGHTS HONORED; KAINANE IS GUEST SPEAKER

The honorary degree was conferred on six Muenster Knights of Columbus in the K of C hall Monday evening. They are Ben and William Hellman, Joe Fleber, Sr., Henry Steizer, John Lehnertz and Joe Horn, Sr. To be an honored member a knight must be 65 years old and must have membership in the lodge for 25 years.

Grand Knight J. W. Fisher presided at the meeting to present the honored sextette and to introduce the guest speaker of the evening, Fred J. Kainane of Austin.

Kainane, past state deputy and now secretary of insurance, delivered an eloquent address, complimenting the honorary members, and then explaining the advantages and the forms of K C insurance.

The meeting was an open one so that the benefits of the insurance could be explained not only to members but also to other persons of this community.

At the close refreshments of hot coffee and cake were served to the assemblage.

Rev. Francis Zimmerman of Windthorst visited in the community Wednesday evening with friends enroute to his home after spending the afternoon in Lindsay with his parents.

Registration Of Men 20-44 Next Monday

About Two Hundred To Be Affected Here

New names will be added to the draft list on next Monday, Feb. 16, when the 20-year-old boys and men from 37 to 44, inclusive, register for the United States army in the nation's third selective service registration. A guess at the number of men to register here placed the figure between 180 and 200.

Place to register in Muenster is the K of C hall and the hours are from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. Ben Hellman, local chairman, disclosed Wednesday. There will be a number of helpers, Hellman stated, so that men will not have to wait long to answer their set of questions.

Friday afternoon Hellman attended a school of instruction on preparation of registration cards and certificates in the selective service office in the courthouse. He was one of 75 chairmen and members of community registration centers to receive this instruction.

Students for the instruction school were told that they and their assistants must sign waivers of pay and an oath of federal office before assuming responsibility for registering selectees.

Adjutant General J. Watt Page, state selective service director, and W. H. Campbell, local chairman, said that the selective service law requires registration of all male persons not previously signed for military service, who have attained their 20th birthday on or before Dec. 31, 1941, and who have not attained their 45th birthday on or before Feb. 16, 1942. In other words this means that all unregistered men who were born between February 17, 1927 and December 31, 1921, must register. Men between the ages of 21 and 36 who registered in 1940 and 1941 do not register again.

Persons unavoidably away from home on Feb. 16, may register at the registration place most convenient. It was urged, however, that Texans make every effort to register with their own local boards to avoid possible confusion in the future.

Men will answer nine questions when they report Monday. Full name (carry along some papers of identification); place of residence; mailing address if other than place of residence; telephone, if any; age in years and date of birth; place of birth; name and address of persons who will always know registrant's address; employer's name and address; place of employment or business.

Muenster-Lindsay Group Of Boys Inducted On 9th Leave Reception Center

Reports this week all unofficial, have the Muenster-Lindsay group of boys, who began army life together at Camp Walters, following their induction on the 9th, scattered over the U. S. A. The moving process began Monday.

A call from Eugene Lehnertz to his mother revealed that he and Anthony Luke were headed for Camp Wallace, Galveston. He thought, and hoped to reach there in time for a visit with his brother, Pvt. Jimmy Lehnertz, who was scheduled to be moved to Camp Hulen, San Antonio, he believed.

David Tachta wrote a card saying he was on his way to Fort Knox, Ky., so he thought, and Richard Trachta wrote saying he would probably stay at Camp Walters for some time. Albert Hoelker called home to say that for the present he was also stationed at Mineral Wells.

On Monday afternoon Walter Becker, R. N. Fette, Ray Kupper, Frank Felderhoff, Carl Schilling, Lawrence Mosier, Joe Hellingner and Ulrich Arendt were in one group, ready for transfer, destination not known.

Leonard Berenl was in with a group of other selectees, moving, and the rest of the Muenster-Lindsay boys were in another group heading for parts unknown.

The boys are anxious to get their addresses in this paper so that letters and news from home will reach them soon. The Enterprise will publish their addresses as soon as their whereabouts are made known.

J. P. Flusche Is In Junk And Wreckage Business

J. P. Flusche is in the wrecking and junk business with his headquarters across the street from his home on South Main. He became interested in this sort of work some time ago and this week opened a junk yard.

He stated that he is paying the highest prices for scrap metal and will buy all that anyone has for sale.

TIN CANS TO BATTLE

We are going to see a lot less of the tin can, which is going through this war primarily as a container of meat and vegetables, the War Production Board advises.

Already WPB has halved the amount of tin which may be used in cans for baking powder, beer, biscuits, candy, cereals, cocoa, dog food, spices, petroleum products, flour and tobacco.

There has been much beer poured into tins. In 1941, for instance, beer cans consumed 1600 tons of scarce tin—more than was used to can any vegetable except tomatoes.

There are difficulties in the way of substituting glass jars for tin cans. Glass containers require metal tops, which would be affected by priorities. Some foods won't sell so good in glass containers because their appearance isn't sufficiently appetizing. The fact that jars cost more than cans must be considered, though it is partially off-set by the ability to use glass containers over and over again.

Along with tin cans, WPB is drafting a part of their contents. It plans an order withholding a percentage of the 1942 fruit and vegetable pack, as a reserve for armed forces and lend-lease. Sales of sugar will be limited to three-quarters of a pound per person per week—which is enough. There'll be enough of the commoner spices, too, except cinnamon. And we have more than two years' supply of East India pepper in the warehouses.

MOSAICS
of Sacred Heart High

Edited This Week By
 Geneva Gremminger, Juanita Weinzapfel, Marie Swingler and Anton Hess

Principal Visits:
 Sister Angelina made her monthly visit during the club period on Monday. She stressed "Honesty is the best policy."

Voting:
 Voting, voting, and still more voting! General election or what? Voting could be the theme song of the student body this week, for votes were cast for the most neatly dressed, the handsomest, the prettiest, the best athletes, the best student, and the most popular students. The outcome of all the votes will appear in the Annual 1942.

Pictures:
 The beginning of the end of school was more in evidence on Tuesday when the seniors had pictures made prior to their graduation. It won't be long now until the graduation class of 1942 will be on its way to take its place in the world.

Biology Department:

Yes, we have a real armadillo, but alas, it is dead. Even though it were alive, it would be harmless. August Felderhoff brought it to Sister Teresina on Monday. It was found on Danglmayr's ranch. Sister plans to have it stuffed and put in the science department. Armadillos vary in length from five inches to three feet, but ours is about two feet in length. When an armadillo is frightened it curls up into a ball and it is protected by the hard shell which encases it. Its food consists of fruits and roots and ants. It is considered a tasty bit of meat for the table, and its armor is made into baskets and ornaments.

A swallow tail kite was sent to us by a friend of Sister Teresina, Mrs. Price, of Little Rock. She sent the tropical bird which was washed into California during a hurricane. The bird originally came from the Hawaiian Islands. It was given to Mrs. Price by a man who was a collector of interesting birds. Now it is in our science department.

Float:

A float was given to Sacred Heart High School to take its place in the parade on Thursday of this week. Characters on the float as planned by Sister M. Lucia, Principal of the Grade School, are as follows:
 Hitler David Lehnertz
 Mussolini Harold Luke
 Red Cross Nurse Alma Marie Luke
 Japan Donald Endres
 Columbus Evelyn Wiseman
 The float forecasts a scene after this war.

"Stand Up and Talk":

A very interesting article was written by Juanita Weinzapfel after she had read the December issue of Our Life in which was an article by Hugo E. Hellman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hellman. Says Juanita: "I have had the opportunity to read a very excellent article, 'Stand Up and Talk', written by Hugo E. Hellman, Ph. D. Mr. Hellman, as you well know, was formerly a student of our school and a citizen of Muenster and is now head of the Speech Department of Marquette University.

"The article, 'Stand Up and Talk', is truly very interesting and educational. In it Mr. Hellman tells how important it is to be able to speak in public and how much a person can gain by being able to voice the opinions he holds, not only for himself but for any who might be interested.

"How can we learn public speaking without an instructor? This question asked by many persons is thoroughly answered by Mr. Hellman. He gives a definite outline and method of procedure for any group of people who are really anxious to learn public speaking. Perhaps many of us think that it is useless to learn something like that, since we seldom get out of the city limits of our own town. However, there are many occasions in the lives of our people on which they wish for the ability to stand up in public be at ease, and deliver their thoughts to an audience without constantly stammering or being at a loss for words.

"A speech course, such as outlined by Mr. Hellman can be effectively administered to the members of a club formed for this purpose. A book is selected, a presiding instructor or leader is chosen from the members of the club, and regular classes or meetings are held. Just how is it done? Get a copy of OUR LIFE issue of December 1941, for it will give all the details."

Seen and Heard on the Campus:
 Senior boys with mustaches;
 Justin crying on the school steps because his scrap iron pile was taken away;
 Miriam moaning over the appearance of the photographer;
 Evelyn acting cute;
 The boys looking handsome in their ties and bows;
 Lucille furiously writing during class;

Marie Swingler with another hair-do;
 Harold eating turtle food;
 Leo watching the blood flow through a fish's tail;
 Rose Marie searching for an interesting book in the library;
 Celia busy with the German assignment;
 Leo telling Martin an unusually clever joke;
 Beatrice sporting a new shining little ornament.

School Daze

MUENSTER PUBLIC SCHOOL

School Daze news is just one week behind itself, but here and now we shall try to catch up.

There has been some talk of dropping the Interscholastic League activities altogether because of shortage of transportation. The teachers over the county are voting as to whether they should have it or not.

The One-Act play, as well as other activities, have been discontinued until more definite plans are obtained from the Board of Interscholastic League.

The volley ball and basketball season ended Tuesday night with the Muenster-Tioga game. Muenster boys were in second place until Tioga defeated them and now they aren't sure just where they'll end up. The girls are to be complimented, they played Tioga and had five players present. They won the first game 15-6, but Tioga won the next two 15-10 and 15-13.

Now that volley ball and basketball are over, tennis and softball will take their places. Everyone is looking forward to seeing the sun's face so they can play.

Everyone ran their clocks up Monday morning but most of the pupils came to school at 8:30. They just had to sit here and wait because school began at 9:30 and was dismissed at 4:30.

Ho Hum! What next? Everyone naturally is eager to get out of school, but who would have thought that we would have to go to school on Saturday to make this possible? Anyway, since we must go we're all eager to see how our first Saturday will be. At least no one will have an idle Saturday.

Monday will be an official holiday. Registration of boys not yet enlisted in the army makes this possible.

Marbles, marbles, marbles! Every where you go, all you can see is marbles. It seems that most of the boys are going marble crazy. Anyway, the next thing they will be having an old time marble tournament. That is if the boys can hold out and not lose too many to one person, like it has been happening. In that case, some boy will leave school with his pocket full of marbles and others will leave with a pocket full of dreams.

DINNER PARTY HONORS GILBERT ENDRES SUNDAY

Complimentary to their son, Gilbert Endres, who left Monday to enlist in the Air Corps, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Endres entertained with a dinner party at their home Sunday.

"Uncle Sam" Needs Transportation

Let's "Keep 'em Rolling" -by conserving rubber!

TODAY our first duty is cooperation, in every way possible, to help win the war, and "Uncle Sam" has specified conservation of rubber and automobiles as a "must" in our victory program.

Since, as an important war measure, new automobiles and tires are being rationed for only the most essential types of work, we are compelled to discontinue collection tours for picking up payments of electric service bills. Electric service bills may be paid at our office or one of our agencies or by sending payment by mail.

This will conserve automobiles and rubber for essential services.

Electric service bills for this district may be paid at:

Muenster Makes State Honor Roll For Number Of Sewer Connections

The sanitary engineering division of the State Health department has placed the city of Muenster on its honor roll. Dr. H. H. Terry, director of the Cooke county health unit, said Friday.

Muenster has been listed, Dr. Terry said, because it has the greatest number of sewer connections per capita population, made during 1941, of any town in Texas.

Massey-Harris Co. Furnishes Implements For Every Farm Need

J. B. Wilde Motor Co., in Muenster offers in the Twin Power 101 Tractor and other Massey-Harris implements, an all-purpose tractor and implements for every farm need.

It was back in 1847 that a rugged, square-jawed native of Vermont, Daniel Massey, established his little machine shop and foundry to build farm equipment for his farmer neighbors. A farmer himself, Massey's close understanding of farming problems made it possible for him to build greater utility and value into his tools.

In 1891 the company merged with an important competitor the John Harris Company. Since that day, the Massey-Harris Company has grown to be one of the world's largest manufacturers of farm equipment. In fact, the Massey-Harris Company has absorbed some half dozen farm machinery manufacturers since that time and the youngest of these acquisitions is sixty years old.

Today the Massey-Harris Company has nine factories in operation with a total of 125 acres of floor space, in which over 1,000 different machines and implements are built. A total of 46 different languages is used in selling these machines in 55 different countries of the world.

An outstanding example of the Massey-Harris leadership is the new 101 Tractor with a high compression, six cylinder engine. This smooth, heavy duty, precision built tractor takes only five quarts of oil which needs changing only every 100 hours and which saves approximately $50 a year on oil alone.

Another is the new "three point" Clipper Combines. Having a full six-foot cut, a five-foot rasp bar cylinder, and straight through separation, the Clipper handles any crop no matter what its condition—down, tangled, half-beaten, rank tall growth or an uneven stand.

The J. B. Wilde Motor Co., also carries a stock of parts and maintains a service department for Massey-Harris owners, and gives liberal terms in which to pay for them.

They invite you to make their store your headquarters while in Muenster and extend a hearty welcome to all Cooke County people at all times.

and dust cloth. A day at K P is equivalent to a post graduate course in peeling spuds and washing dishes. Even though he never has the misfortune of being caught for kitchen duty, which is unlikely, the custom of clearing his own dishes from the table will serve a very useful purpose.

He makes up his own bed too. First thing this morn'g learned when it moved in was to fix a bed. After bed clothing was issued an officer showed us how. A tricky job indeed—more folds and tucks than most women suspect. Finally the job is fit for inspection, and it better be. Unsightly lumps and wrinkles make a bad impression on officers. Lounging on a bed is OK, but it's always advisable to brush out the wrinkles when a guy leaves.

If pressed for an explanation, Con would admit that the foregoing remarks are offered in behalf of some thirty buddies who are not lucky enough to stay home and tend to their romantic affairs. Don't let those civilians put any ideas in your heads, girls. The boys in uniform are going to be more interesting than ever when the Japs and Nazis are under control.

One remarkable thing about this army life is the extreme scarcity of war talk. It's surprising. A person would naturally expect a group of men who are gathered together for the obvious purpose of entering the fight would be intensely interested. But most of them don't even bother to think about it. One reason apparently is the carefree spirit, another is the fact that there are no radios and very few newspapers. Such a catastrophe as the invasion of England or the capture of Singapore would leave 90 per cent of these boys cold. Which, no doubt, is best in the long run. Our job is to get into condition, and that can't be done so well by men who worry.

Just now the subject uppermost in our crowd is moving to our training quarters. No doubt that will have been done by the time this appears in print and addressees will have been forwarded. The boys are griping about not getting any letters. When we got here we were told it was only for a few days, hence we were advised not to give this place as our address.
