

MUENSTER ENTERPRISE

VOLUME VIII

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, MAY 5, 1944

NUMBER 24

A few weeks ago an Oklahoma City paper gave columns of publicity to the bumper crops raised on bottom land that was under water last Spring. The articles had a typical Chamber of Commerce flavor, boosting the resourcefulness of farmers who turned apparent disaster into profit.

Thousands of acres of bottom land that had been flooded were left more productive by a thick layer of fertile silt. To the owners of that land the floods might be regarded as a blessing in disguise.

However, there is another, less attractive side to the story. Every one of those millions of tons of rich new deposit had to come from somewhere. The uplands were impoverished while the low lands were enriched.

And that's not all. The loss to one was greater than the gain to the other. Millions of additional tons, instead of settling down for future use, drifted on sea. Every gallon of muddy water going into the Gulf carries with it a small portion of this country's resource.

Now the flood stories are being told again, with emphasis on the current damages. Homes flooded, crops wiped out, livestock drowned, bridges wrecked and what not, and of course the inevitable story of soil depletion. All that in spite of a system of dams once hailed as a means of controlling floods.

Coming only a few weeks after Muenster's soil program proposals, the present flood stories are eloquently suggestive. A system of control must be devised, a system that controls water at its source rather than attempting to check its flow later. For that matter, our geographical position at the crest of a watershed permits only the one method of control.

That the water can be controlled at the source is obvious from conditions which any old timer of the community can recall. Farms were not cut to pieces by gulleys. Streams did not rise as high nor as fast after a normal rain, neither did they recede as rapidly afterward. Even within the memory of this scribe there were many seasons during which the creeks did not quit running. For weeks after a hard rain there was a steady flow of clear water that had been held back by nature's own devices, such as growing vegetation, decaying grass and leaves, and especially the absence of down-hill furrows. All of this, incidentally, held soil as well as water.

As a result of natural checks, allowing streams more time to carry away the surplus, the land itself was permitted more time to absorb moisture. So there was less of it for the streams. Assuming that annual rainfall now is the same as then, we can be reasonably certain that creeks today are transporting more water in less time, and a far greater tonnage of dirt.

The attempt to regain some of nature's efficiency is the problem now challenging Muenster farmers. To solve it will require hard work and ingenuity, but the eventual reward will be worth every effort. More soil and more water will stay on the farm where it can do some good instead of rushing down the creek to destroy other people's property.

An interesting comparison results from figures released by the OPA and the Army Air Forces. This nation consumes 2,500,000 gallons of black market gasoline daily. A thousand bombers making the flight from England to Germany use 1,600,000 gallons. It gives an idea of what could be done if —

What makes our sorry record even worse is the fact that much of the fault lies in the OPA's own poor administration. The ease with which certain favored people get gas for nonessential driving goods others into getting it through illegal channels. Refusals force many others to buy bootleg gas for essential driving. Arbitrary methods of determining needs encourage some people to drive more than they used to, or to give away surplus coupons rather than take chances of having future allotments reduced.

Possibly as important as any other factor is the simple fact that we have regulations, which, like so many laws, are accepted with the attitude that breaking them is okay if a person can get away with it. Gas rationing to the vast majority of people has become merely an affair between themselves and OPA instead of a cooperative effort to help win the war.

Promoted To Corporal

It's Cpl. Steve Moster now. The new rating was given recently in New Guinea where he is stationed with the army engineers.

At Mississippi Camp

Pvt. Ray Wilde was last week transferred from Camp Carson, Colo., to Camp Shelby, Miss., where he serves with a medical unit. His new address is: Pvt. Raymond J. Wilde, 115 Evacuation Hospital, S.M., Camp Shelby, Miss.

At Camp Crowder, Mo.

Pvt. F. A. "Wimpy" Kathman is receiving his basic army training at Camp Crowder, Mo. He has written his wife. Following six weeks of basic he will take a six-week course in Specialized Communications, according to present reports, he stated.

Has New Address

Pvt. Roman Klement, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Klement, who has been on duty at Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, wrote home this week to advise he has a new address which bears an APO number, care of postmaster at New York. The parents will give the new address to his friends wishing to write him. Another local soldier with a similar change of address is Sgt. Alois Rohmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rohmer. He was formerly at Fort Benning, Georgia.

Souvenirs From Alaska

An interesting and attractive souvenir received by Mrs. Valentine Fuhrmann this week from her husband, stationed in Alaska, is an ash tray, fashioned from a Japanese anti-aircraft shell. Other gifts included in the package were a linen table cloth bearing the map of Alaska, in bright colors, and a set of napkins on which are imprinted scenes of Alaska.

Gift From Sardinia

The most recent gift from Souvenir Sending Warrant Officer Gilbert Endres of Sardinia is a lovely Mother of Pearl rosary, for his mother, Mrs. W.H. Endres. Arriving at the same time were two dozen red and white carnations, wired as a Easter remembrance, and appreciated just as much as though they had reached here for the day on which they were intended.

Home On Leave

Charles Everett, AS, is here this week on leave to visit his wife and children. He has completed boot training at Farragut, Idaho, and expects to be transferred when he returns to his station following the end of his visit here Saturday. His wife is the former Miss Sylvia Walter.

Training At Great Lakes

Two Muenster boys are receiving their boot training at Great Lakes Training Center, Illinois. They are Arthur Felderhoff, 20, son of Mrs. Joe Felderhoff, and Billy Atteberry, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Atteberry. Present training consists of instruction in seamanship, military drill and general navy procedure. During this period a series of aptitude tests will be taken by the recruits to determine whether they will be assigned to a Naval Service School, or to immediate active duty at sea. Following completion of this period of training both local boys will spend a period of leave at home, according to a news release from the Public Relations office of the training center.

Writes From New Guinea

Pvt. Otto Walterscheid, son of Mrs. Molly Walterscheid, writes that he has arrived at his overseas destination, somewhere in New Guinea, and is about to "get settled". Excerpts from his letter follow: "I have already lost some excess weight. There is plenty of work here for everyone, regardless of rank. We don't mind, for time passes much faster that way. What a different part of the world this is, compared to the good old U.S.A. The sun doesn't even rise in the right direction, and the stars are different, or at least, so it seems to me. As far as I'm concerned, they can give it back to the natives. The natives don't bother about the value of money, and from what few trinkets they have to sell a penny box of matches will buy more than a pound, which is $3.20 in Australian currency. We are being fed well and the army gives us cigarettes. In general things aren't so bad. Tell everybody hello for me."

CASON BROTHERS SERVE IN NAVY

Sidney Cason, 21, petty officer, third class, received the promotion to his present rank last week. He entered the Navy on March 13, 1943, took his boot training at San Diego, Calif., where he later qualified as ship's cook and is now engaged in that activity aboard the ship to which he is assigned. He is at present stationed at San Francisco.

Joe Cason, 18, is a seaman first class. He began his Navy career on January 6, this year, attending boot camp at San Diego, Calif., and last week returned to the States after doing a month's sea duty. He serves as gunner aboard a Merchant Marine ship. The brothers are sons of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Cason of this city.

Nearly All Meat Removed From Ration List

The Office of Price Administration Wednesday made all meats except beef steaks and beef roasts ration free, effective at midnight.

The removal of ration points, announced by OPA Administrator Bowles, at a surprise press conference, covers all cuts of pork, veal, lamb and mutton; all beef except the steaks and roasts; variety meats, sausage, canned meats and canned fish.

The action was taken Bowles said, because lend-lease buying had been halted for the time being, also because of reduced army and navy demand, the crowding of storage space and the hope that the action will bring more meat to market this summer.

In the past OPA has validated 30 red points every two weeks, starting Sunday. OPA will validate 30 red points every four weeks. Red stamps R8, S8, and T8 became valid Sunday for the purchase of butter, margarine, cheese, evaporated milk, beef steaks and roasts — the only meat items now requiring red points — but no more red stamps will be validated until June 3, four weeks hence.

OPA officials are fairly certain the new status will continue for at least three or four months, but declined to prophesy beyond that time. Point values for beef steak and roasts remain the same from 7 to 13 points.

According to plans the May festival will begin at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and continue on during the evening hours, supplemented by a dance. Committees were appointed to take charge of the various entertainment features and refreshments.

It was announced that the society will have a reception next Sunday, May 7, for all those desiring to join the organization.

Seven Muenster Ladies Graduate As Nurse's Aides

Class of 45 From County Capped In Ceremony At Howze Station Hospital

Forty-five Cooke County women, including seven from this city, were capped at formal exercises held in the auditorium of the Red Cross building at Camp Howze station hospital Wednesday evening of last week, marking the completion of their Nurse's Aide training course. Muenster ladies capped at the ceremonies were Mesdames G.H. Hellman, Henry Fette, John Fisch, Jim Cook, Nellie Johns and Dorothy Winstead.

Mrs. Walter Lippmann, national director of volunteer Nurse's Aides corps of the Red Cross and wife of the internationally famous editor and columnist, was principal speaker at the rites. She complimented the class on being the first army trained Nurse's Aides in the state of Texas, and stressed the importance of this training to the community and county not only during war time, but also in peace time when emergencies arise and disaster strikes.

At the outbreak of the war, Mrs. Lippmann said there were 300 Nurse's Aides in 13 chapters; today there 167,000 aides in 1225 chapters throughout the United States, in Puerto Rico and Hawaii. Uniformity of training, identical rules and basic procedure make the Aides interchangeable among the various chapters.

Mrs. Lippmann was introduced by Mrs. Beatrice Siebel, chairman of volunteer services, Cooke county chapter, American Red Cross, who officiated at the program, introducing the guests of honor from the Eighth Service Command and from the local Red Cross chapter.

Col. John P. Wheeler, commanding officer, Camp Howze, was introduced, followed by Col. William M. Caffee, Camp surgeon, station hospital; Lt. Col. Franklin K. Dornak, chief of surgical staff; Lt. Col. Utie I. Klebschedel, chief of the army nurse corps, Eighth Service Command; Major Robert W. Johnson, executive officer, station hospital; Maj. Charles A. Ault, chief of medical service; Capt. Lillian E. Ehler, chief nurse, station hospital; and Capt. Ada Jewell of the Eighth Service Command staff.

Also present were J.L. Leazer, chairman of the county chapter of the Red Cross; Mrs. Alma Johnson, executive secretary of the Red Cross; Mrs. Irene Goslin, chairman of the Nurse's Aide committee; Joe Donahoe, field director, Red Cross; Mrs. C.L. Jackson, class instructor and Lt. Marcella Ducrest, instructor from the station hospital, and Judge Carroll Sullivan, OCD coordinator.

Chaplain R. A. Taylor, camp chaplain, gave the invocation as the audience stood following the entrance of the class of Nurse's Aides, who marched to the front of the room and took their places. The audience then sang "God Bless America," after which Mrs. Lippmann gave her address.

Mrs. Helen Tyler, Nurse's Aide corps captain, and Mrs. Marcia McAfee from the first Nurse's Aide class, stood before the group and as each new member to be capped came forward she lighted a candle from those held by the two charter members as the cap was placed on her head.

Oath Administered

As soon as each member was capped unison repetition of the civilian defense oath took place. It was administered by Judge Sullivan and the Nurse's Aide pledge was read by Mrs. Jackson. A vocal solo, "Angels of Mercy" was rendered by Mrs. McAfee, accompanied on the piano by Miss Virginia Kimbriel, followed by benediction by Chaplain Hush L. Rauwolf. "The Star Spangled Banner" by the entire group concluded the ceremonies.

Following the capping, Col. Caffee was host to approximately 400 special guests at a buffet supper in the officers' club at the station hospital, honoring the graduates.

Attending the program, in addition to the Muenster women were their guests, as follows: G. H. Hellman, Mrs. Richard Fette, Henry Fette, Jerry Fette, Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Endres, Urban and Miss Dolly Endres, Mrs. Valentine Fuhrmann, John Fisch, Jim Cook, Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Winstead, and Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Hellman.

Program Planned For May 21st By 4th Degree K-C's

Pontifical Mass Will Headline Events Which Also Include Banquet

Meeting in regular monthly session Sunday afternoon members of the Bishop Dangiwayr General Assembly Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus planned a program for May 21 when the certificate of organization will be presented to the new assembly in connection with a religious and social observance of the event.

Presiding at the meeting was J.M. Weinzapfel, faithful navigator, and a committee to take charge of plans for the celebration was named. Rev. Thomas Buegler, J.P. Flusche, Ben Seyler, J.W. Fisher and Adolph Herr were appointed.

Highlighting the day's ceremonies will be a pontifical high mass, the Church's most sacred and colorful religious service. Officiating will be The Most Rev. Augustine Dangiwayr, Auxiliary Bishop of Dallas, a native of this community, in whose honor the local assembly was named. The sermon for the occasion will be delivered by a guest speaker.

Following the religious observance, the parish hall will be the scene of a banquet for which Fourth Degree Knights and their ladies from the North Texas District will be guests. Hundreds of invitations are being sent out. During the banquet hour Dr. E. W. Laake of Dallas, Master of the Fourth Degree, North Texas District, will present the certificate of organization, and a series of talks will be given, including one by His Excellency Bishop Dangiwayr.

Sunday's meeting was attended by the following out of town members: Chaplain Joseph O. Guillet and Chaplain Albert A. Bergeron, both of Camp Howze; H.A. Lamman, Denison; F. E. Schmitz, Gainesville; Rev. Edward Devers and L.W. Flusche, Decatur.

PVT. JAMES WILDE, RELATIVE OF LOCAL COUPLE, IS WOUNDED

Pvt. James Wilde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilde of Hereford, former Muensterites was seriously wounded recently during battle action on an island in the South Pacific. The information came from Pvt. Wilde in a letter to his parents. He is now recovering from his wounds in an army hospital.

"I ran into more than I could handle, I guess," Wilde wrote. He had taken part in three previous battle actions before he was wounded. In the letter he stated that despite his injuries, he was able to complete the job he was doing, and that he hopes to be back in fighting shape as soon as possible. He is 21 and has been in the service less than a year.

Perhaps one reason for his eagerness to get back into action is the fact that he has a chance to make $50 for every Jap ear he brings back to the states. His uncle, John Wilde, of LaSalle, Texas, offered the bounty when the Private was on duty in the Admiralty Islands. A letter to the parents some time ago was written on stationery taken from the Japs.

Friends wishing to write to James may get his address from his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Wilde of this city.

TIRE INSPECTION HAS BEEN DISCONTINUED

Periodic inspections of tires has been discontinued for the time being by the OPA. But ration book holders are warned not to throw away their tire inspection sheets, since these are still necessary to obtain gasoline and for registering a vehicle.

This warning was issued through Cooke county war price and rationing board last Wednesday. The tire inspection records must be presented before the next ration series can be obtained the board emphasized.

Our Merchant Marine Tankers

This is a war of petroleum. Not a tank could roll, not a plane could fly and not a gun could fire without it.

The first petroleum was carried in barrels aboard ships. In 1886 the English developed a bulk tanker which could unload in three days instead of a month.

American longshoremen protested and petitioned Congress to halt the building of tankers.

The type continued to increase, however, so that at the beginning of this war we had one-fourth of the world's tankers. Our tankers now supply all our allied armies. It takes four tankers per fighting day to keep our armies in action in Europe alone.

ceremony and was celebrant of the nuptial high mass. Music for the mass was rendered by the church choir, under direction of Leo N. Henschied, uncle of the bride, and also taking part in the singing were the bride's father, another uncle, Wm Henschied, and the groom's uncle, Ben Luke, all choir members. Serving as acolytes were Hugh Endres, brother of the groom Leo Felderhoff, cousin of the bride, and Melvin Herr, cousin of the groom.

For her wedding the bride wore a lovely floor length gown of white marquisette, fashioned with lace yoke, fitted basque bodice, long sleeves pointed at the wrist, and full, gathered skirt. The lace of the gown was repeated in the full length veil of illusion which it edged, and was held in place with a ruffle of lace. Easter lilies in colonial arrangement formed the bridal bouquet. For "something old" the bride wore an heirloom gold cross and chain, formerly belonging to her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Elizabeth Hesse, and for "something borrowed" she carried a white linen and lace handkerchief belonging to the groom's mother.

Attending as bridesmaid was the bride's sister, Miss Rosalie Henschied, while another sister, Little Miss Dolores Henschied, was junior bridesmaid. The latter carried a pearl and silver rosary which was blessed preceding the ceremony and presented to the bride as a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Rosalie wore a taffeta frock of yellow, made with fitted bodice, short sleeves and full, floor-length flounced skirt. A head-dress of pink carnations and a pink carnation corsage completed her costume. Little Miss Dolores was attired in a frock of orchid taffeta, made identical to that worn by the bridesmaid with a head-dress and a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

Jimmy Endres was best man for his brother, and another brother, Master Donald Endres served as the junior attendant and carried the wedding rings.

The bride's mother wore a gold and black ensemble with a white carnation corsage and the groom's mother wore navy blue with a white carnation corsage.

Following the service, the bridal party were guests at breakfast in the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Yosten, and at noon, the immediate families of the couple were present at the bride's home for dinner. The center of interest at the Henschied home was the bride's table. It was centered with a large decorated cake, flanked with arrangements of orchid and yellow sweet peas. The meal was served by candle light, six large white tapers furnishing the illumination. Above the table, hanging from the ceiling, were a group of silver wedding bells, showered with sprays of orchid and yellow sweet peas.

At three o'clock an informal reception was held for some 200 relatives and friends of the couple, after which a buffet supper was served, followed by a dance on a specially erected platform.

It was during the latter event that Mr. and Mrs. Endres left on a wedding trip, the destination of which was not revealed. For traveling Mrs. Endres wore a beige two-piece frock with white accessories and a corsage of white roses. When they return they will make their home on north Main street in the Zipper bungalow. Both young people are natives of this city and attended Sacred Heart school. He also attended Subiaco, Ark., Academy, graduating in 1939. For the past year he has been employed with a wholesale grocery company in Gainesville. Both have been active in the local Catholic youth societies and both are members of the Muenster Youth Band.

PLANE TALK

BY Rowland Burstan

Many of the controls and indicating instruments on an airplane require some form of electrical energy in order to do their work. This electrical power is supplied from a storage battery or an electric generator, but the usual practice is a combination of the two.

In the earlier stages of aircraft, more reliance was placed on a storage battery because of its simplicity of construction and maintenance as compared to the electric generator. In the advancement of aviation the generator has taken over an increasing portion of the work. Rapid improvement in generator design and simplicity in repair and maintenance are the primary reasons.

This Aviaelectric plant, weighing only 110 lbs., delivers 7½ kw which is equal to the normal requirements of ten ordinary homes.

A second advantage for the use of more generators and fewer batteries is the saving in weight.

There are two general classifications into which aircraft electric generators fall, the engine driven and wind driven. In most larger planes electric power is supplied by an auxiliary. The Aviaelectric power plant is in itself a complete unit composed of a generator and a lightweight engine of aircraft design that actuates the generator.

On the struts or guide wires of smaller airplanes there is sometimes seen a generator and small propeller. The purpose of this propeller is just the opposite of the main propeller or air screw. The main air screw pulls the plane through the air whereas the small propeller is driven by the slip stream of the airplane. This functions like an old-fashioned windmill, the propeller turning the generator.

THIS ADVERTISEMENT, ONE OF A SERIES TO HELP ACQUAINT THE GENERAL PUBLIC WITH THE DAIRY FARMER'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE WAR EFFORT, appears in full-page size in The Saturday Evening Post May 6th and in Collier's May 20th issue

While son Jim helped capture Hill 205

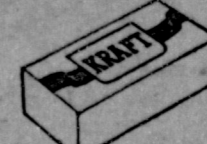

There was a war crisis this Spring on thousands of dairy farms. Months of dry weather killed the fall-planted small grain crops. Re-planting, new planting had to be done. It meant milk and the products of milk to meet the nation's vital need.

Of these the U. S. Government's requirement alone this year is estimated at nearly 450 million pounds. (Cheese can carry valuable nutrients of milk to our fighting men overseas and to our fighting allies.) And, for you and other civilians, 500 million more pounds of cheese are needed.

You hear about the brilliant actions of our boys on the battle fronts, including the sons of our dairymen. None of us at home can match what they do for victory. But none of us here works more days, more hours, more valiantly than the people left on America's dairy farms. They're in the front line of the battle for food... and they know it.

Because of the tremendous demand, both military and civilian, you may not be able to get as much Kraft Cheese as you would like, or get your favorite varieties—Kraft American, "Old English", "Philadelphia" Brand Cream Cheese, Velvee, and so on. But you may be sure, as always, that any cheese or cheese food which bears the Kraft name represents the very highest standard of quality.

Muester Hospitality Gets Boost From Fort Worth C of C Official

The following letter was written by Mrs. Edwin T. Phillips, manager of the Civic Affairs Department, Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, to Mayor J.M. Weinzappel, following her recent visit in this city during the post-war planning program:

"For a long time Fort Worth people will hear me tell them about the interesting and happy visit I had with the people of Gainesville, Muester and Valley View. Although you folks have a reputation for good food, you really outdid yourselves on the luncheon. However, much as I enjoyed the good food, my principal interest, of course was in talking to you, Father Thomas, Mrs. Myrick, the president of the Civic League and Garden Club, and other leaders. In my conversation with them, my visit to the Cooperative and in the emphasis of spiritual values which any visitor to your community must feel, I sensed the philosophy of group action about which you talked.

"When any of your people come to Fort Worth, I hope they will sense the kind of hospitality which we enjoyed in being with you. Come by the Chamber of Commerce, and although I can't guarantee to produce a lemon pie as good as the one I sampled at Muester, I promise you a warm welcome."

Hot Suds, Clean Towels, Banish Dishwater Bacteria

The easy way with dishes is the systematic way. Scrape, rinse and stack dishes in an orderly arrangement. Use 2 dishpans or 1 dishpan and drain basket unless you have a divided sink with stoppers. In one pan have hot, sudsy water. Keep boiling water at hand for rinsing.

Wash glasses first; a dish mop is handy for cleansing inside them.

Silver should be thoroughly washed, rinsed and placed on a folded towel, or pad to avoid scratching. Kitchen silver may be placed in the drain basket or rinse pan.

"YOU can't do business with dishwater bacteria. They don't understand polite hints. Banish them!" That's the advice to housewives given by Marjorie Griffin, Home Editor of Capper's Farmer, a publication of national circulation. "Sparkling china and gleaming silver may be beautiful homes to many families, even unto the millionth generation—of bad little bacteria," writes Miss Griffin. "The gentle hints of half-way dishwashing just encourage the squatters. They thrive and multiply in lukewarm water, on dishcloths and dish towels. They'll go on making themselves at home, spreading colds and other contagious diseases until their unwilling hostess puts an end to them. "If she's wise, she'll use plenty of hot, sudsy water, the cleanest of clean dishcloths and towels and scalding water. She will change the water before it gets cold and gray." Students at Washburn University who studied supposedly clean dishes under a microscope found colonies of bacteria—all descendants from early settlers left living on a cup washed by ordinary methods.

Stick-to-Your-Ribs Dish Is Appetizing

Frankfurter farina dumplings with sauerkraut, pictured above, is a good down-to-earth, stick-to-your-ribs main dish, says the Country Cooking editor of Capper's Farmer, a publication of national circulation.

This dish has lots of what it takes, including vitamins in the fortified margarine and enriched farina. When buying cereals, margarine and other foods which are available with vitamins added, be sure to check that you get are the enriched ones, advises the Capper's Farmer expert.

Dumplings with Sauerkraut
1 1/2 cups self-rising cake flour 2 frankfurters
1 qt. sauerkraut
1/2 cup enriched farina 1 cup water
2 tablespoons fortified margarine 1 large onion
1/4 cup milk 4 to 5 cloves

Sift and measure flour. Stir in farina. Cut in margarine and add milk. Mix lightly with a fork. Slice frankfurters in 1/2-inch slices. Add to dumplings, saving a few pieces to garnish top. Place sauerkraut in a large skillet with cover to fit. Add water and onion in which cloves have been stuck. Bring to a boil. Drop dumplings by tablespoonfuls on sauerkraut. Garnish with pieces of frankfurter. Cover closely. Steam without removing cover 20 to 25 minutes. Serves 6 to 8.

his home in observance of his birthday. He was 70 years old. The dining table was centered with a decorated cake and places were laid for the honoree and his family and the following out of town guests: Messrs. and Mmes. Wilfred Reiter, Al Haverkamp, and Andrew Schoech and their families of Muenster, Miss Agnes Spaeth, Fort Worth, and Misses Frances and Evelyn Spaeth, Dallas.

Only member of the family circle missing was Cpl. Joe Spaeth, stationed with the army in England, and he was represented by a birthday gift sent from Britain. The honor guest also received a shower of gifts from those attending the celebration.

Introducing Alice Sandmann Sweet, unassuming, friendly—that's Alice. A grin on her face and a greeting on her lips. Alice is a friend to everyone. Sweet-tempered and gentle, she has never been seen losing her temper. Alice is one of the best sports on the campus, being equally good in basketball and volleyball.

Although not an officer of the Sodality, Alice surely is a "leader in following" and does her full share to make all sodality activities, whether spiritual or social, successful. The Sodality paid tribute to Alice at a recent election by conferring on her the greatest honor of the year—that of May Queen. Beautiful, dignified, modest in her lovely blue net gown, Alice, always a true Child of Mary, had the great privilege of crowning our Blessed Mother at the May Service Sunday night.

HIGH SCHOOL SODALISTS CONDUCT CROWNING RITE

A very impressive service in honor of Our Blessed Lady, Queen of May, was held in St. Peter's Church on Sunday evening, April 30. Awe inspiring was the procession led by Prefect Johnnie Arendt, carrying the Service Flag to remind Sodality to pray particularly for our boys in the armed forces, followed by all the high school sodalists in uniform, and the May Queen, Alice Sandmann, with her six attendants, Marcella Schmitz, Rita Popp, Beatrice Block, Frances Bengfort, Florence Zimmerer and Dorothy Beyer.

On Sunday morning, May 7, at 7:30 o'clock, the high school and grammar school graduates will assist at Mass and receive Holy Communion in a body. The High School Choir will sing during Mass.

A breakfast in honor of the high school graduates will be served in the beautiful dining room of the rectory.

Does It Pay To Feed Hogs?

Convince yourself by reading this record

Ted and Tommy Gremminger, two local 4-H Club boys bought 4 shoats, weighing 113 pounds each on Feb. 18, 1944 $36.00
Feed bought retail at Muenster Mill 54.80
Total Expenditure 90.80

Hogs were sold on April 14, 1944, at County 4-H Show, weighing 250 lbs. each 140.00
Net profit 49.20
Or clear profit on each hog $12.30

If hauled to Fort Worth Market, deducting all expenses, each would have cleared $10.05

These shoats were castrated, fed one week on feed containing Hog Special to worm, then fed feed manufactured by Roy at Muenster Mill. Their daily gain was 3 pounds each. Showing a nice profit.
