NUMBER 17

Relative to the recent shoot-down of an American plane over Soviet territory, have you ever wondered why we seem to make all the mistakes but they never seem to make any? The question was answered for me by a little item in U. S. News and World Report. In case you would like to know, here's what happens.

Actually our pilots have a better record than theirs for avoiding enemy area. Official records from 1961 to 1963 show that there were 95 incursions into Western air space by Soviet planes and 77 flights by our planes over the red area.

The difference is that we have a different way of dealing with the incidents. Our pilots have orders to intercept intruding aircraft and send them back home. Orders to Red pilots are obvious: if a pilot refuses to land, shoot him down.

And people are wondering also whether some of the US planes are lured over the line. In the last case the plane had the latest and best navigational equipment to keep it on course, and two of its three men were navigators. As the plane headed for the border officials tried in vain to recall it by radio. Says one spokesman: "It cannot be ruled out that the plane was led off course by radio jamming and false signals."

Here's another case where the perfect gentleman, Uncle Sam, goes the limit in fairness to his enemy while putting up with the most arbitrary behavior from him. It must be part of that great effort to convince the enemy of our good will in the hope that he will eventually start showing some good will to us.

Well, the Reds have noticed many times how we handle the lost plane affairs but still show no inclination to take up the method. Maybe it's time for us to start using their method. Why not see that their straying planes hereafter come down on Western soil, by choice or by force!

There's a feature about this affair which seems to fit the pattern of all our relations with the reds. Ours is the defensive way. Theirs is the aggressive way. We send back a stray plane, they shoot it down. They invade one country after another and we fight constantly to throw them out. When we beat them we don't gain anything. We only take back what we had before. We desperately need a change of policy — one in which we take the initiative and start making some real gains in the big struggle.

Secretary McNamara, returning from Vietnam, says we will go the limit to push the reds back. He announces his firm intention to keep fighting back, but hasn't said a word about defeating the communists.

Why doesn't he go on the offense? ... let the reds start worrying how to stop trouble we're causing. A golden opportunity awaits us in the Far East, where Chinese Nationalists are itching for their chance to invade the continent. As it looks from here, complete victory by that method would take less effort by us than the futile holding action requires at this time.

Present indications are that the American public will have ample opportunity to hear about the Civil Rights Bill before the Senate reaches its final vote. Notice, this column did not say "before the Senate passes the bill." That's, because, due to the dedication of the opposition, the bill is due to get so much airing that it can possibly be defeated by debate and public opinion.

Ray Swirczynski has reached the painting stage on his 35x40 building to be used as a drive-in grocery. It's located just beyond the east city limit.

J. P. Flusche has foundation and floor finished for a 40x100 building to be used as a metal and welding shop. It will be made entirely of steel.

Donny Trubenbach is building a 40x300 turkey shed on land leased from the south end of Voth Brothers farm.

Albert Herr and Leo Henscheid each has done a major refinish job on one room — panel board wall, acoustical tile, ceiling and built-ins.

Joe Russell has a new roof and an overhaul job on his front porch.

The R. E. Hamrics are getting a completely new bathroom, both fixtures and walls.

Endres Motor Company and Willie's Station have new roofs.

Pastors Announce Slate of Services For Holy Week

The schedule for Holy Week services in Muenster's Sacred Heart Church will be practically the same as in recent years, Father Alcuin Kubis announced this week.

The usual Sunday schedule applies to the Palm Sunday masses and the principal service will be at 9 o'clock, consisting of blessing and distribution of palms and solemn procession preceding high mass.

Weekly novena service will be held at the usual time Tuesday.

Normally one service is held on Holy Thursday but by order of the bishop two services will be held here so all will have room to attend. A special mass at 11:30 a.m. is for children (through grade school) only. The regular mass at 7:30 is for adults and high school students.

One service will be held on Good Friday, beginning at 3 p.m. In keeping with a long standing custom, the mayor has issued a proclamation designating the day as one of special devotion and asking all business houses to close between 2 and 4 p.m.

Holy Saturday also will have only one service, beginning at 7:30.

Easter Sunday masses will follow the regular Sunday schedule.

Both schools will be closed Friday and Monday for Easter.

The Louis Robergs are getting settled in their new house at Valley Creek. It's a split level job with three bedrooms, two baths, double garage, central heating and cooling, brick siding.

A major remodeling job is under way at the home of Mrs. Andy Hofbauer. It includes changes in all the downstairs rooms, conversion of an old garage into a room and addition of air conditioning.

NEWS OF THE SICK

Six-year-old Randy Barnhill started back to school Monday but has to take it easy since he sustained a concussion in a fall off a slide at school Friday noon. He was a patient at Muenster Hospital for X-rays and was kept overnight for observation. Randy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Barnhill.

Mrs. Earl Robison, a patient at Richey Street Unit of Gainesville Hospital since an accident last Friday, will probably be permitted to go home this weekend. The mishap happened in Gainesville when she slipped on loose gravel in front of Moore's Seed Store and fell, her head hitting the car bumper. Her glasses broke, inflicting a deep gash on one eyelid, she jammed three vertebrae and broke her right arm in two places at the elbow.

Linda Endres, 22-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Endres, sustained a badly bruised left foot and ankle injury Sunday morning when her foot was caught in a bicycle wheel. X-rays revealed no broken bones, but Linda was kept off the foot this week.

Mrs. Ernest McElreath was dismissed from Gainesville Hospital Tuesday after being a patient since Saturday night.

Ronnie Weinzapfel, seven-year-old of the Henry Weinzapfel had his tonsils and adenoids removed at Muenster Hospital Tuesday and was dismissed Wednesday.

Jim Eckart, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Eckart, was treated for a concussion and cuts and was kept overnight for observation. Hospital Folks Say Many Thanks For Gifts, Favors

For several gifts and services the administrative staff and the directors of Muenster Hospital express their sincere appreciation this week.

They are grateful to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilde for their gift of a new Corvair Monza 4 door sedan for the personal use of Sisters Mildred, Romaine and Karen. Likewise they are grateful to Ray Wilde of Wilde Chevrolet Company for his offer to service the car for free. The car was presented Tuesday by J. B. Wilde.

And they are thankful to all who had a part in planting 21 pecan trees and 12 redbud trees on the hospital grounds. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hanna furnished all the trees from their farm in the river bottom of Oklahoma. Pecan trees had been dug in advance and the redbuds were dug Monday by a group of volunteer ladies.

Also on Monday Texas Power and Light Company service men with their digger drilled holes for the pecan trees — a tremendous service considering the rocky formation and depth of hole needed to accommodate the pecans' long tap roots.

And thanks to Jack Hagler for hauling the trees from the Hanna farm to Muenster.

Still more thanks to those who planted and watered. That includes a group of volunteer garden club ladies and boys from the FFA chapter under direction of Edgar Dyer.

Firemen Will See Demonstration and Film on Reviving

A special film and lecture on reviving persons by mouth to mouth resuscitation has been scheduled for Muenster firemen and their wives next Monday night at 7:30 in the K of C hall. Boy Scouts are invited as special guests.

In charge of the program will be Jim Ivy, safety instructor for Texas job training and safety program from the Texas A&M Extension Service. He will show a film on mouth to mouth resuscitation, also demonstrate resuscitation and external heart massage on a life size dummy which is wired to indicate rhythm, pressure, etc.

Cystoscopy Room Ready at Hospital

The cystoscopy room at Muenster Memorial Hospital is ready for use. Sister Mildred, administrator, said Monday that installations are finished on the electrical and X-ray unit and also on the surgical table. She also said that urologists of Wichita Falls and Gainesville have been advised that the facilities are ready.

The cystoscopy equipment did not arrive in time to be included with the hospital's original installations. Since then there was a delay until the contractor installed non-explosive electrical connections in the room. The work was done during the weekend and Monday.

Herr Takes Over As Full Owner of Feed Business

A new set-up in an old business becomes effective here April 1 when Albert (Buster) Herr takes over as sole owner of Stockmen's Feed Store. Since November 1955 the business has been operated as a partnership by Herr and Tim Stormer.

The firm was established in September 1952 as a partnership by Herr and Tony Trubenbach Jr. Trubenbach sold his interest to Stormer when he opened Tony's Seed Store. Stormer will be a full time farmer after he quits the store.

Planning Starts On Conservation Awards Banquet

Planning for this year's awards banquet honoring conservation champions of the Upper Elm Red District is about to begin. Claude Jones of the First State Bank and P. C. Wylie of the Gainesville SCS Work Unit were in Muenster last Saturday to announce the annual planning meeting to be hosted by First State Bank next week Tuesday.

Banks, newspapers and radio stations of the district sponsor the annual banquet and their representatives will do the planning next Tuesday.

Efforts are under way to have the awards program in Muenster this year. Of the past fourteen banquets, only one has been here — in 1955.

Mrs. Roberg Dies Of Heart Attack; 72 Year Resident

Muenster lost one of the few remaining early-day residents with the death of Mrs. Katie Roberg Saturday night. She would have been 83 next month and had resided here continuously 72 years, coming to the community when she was 11 and Muenster was only three years old.

Mrs. Roberg had been in failing health for some time but was always up and around her home. She was preparing to retire at about 11 p.m. Saturday when she died suddenly of a heart attack.

Rosary was recited at the Miller Funeral Home Chapel twice Monday. The 4 p.m. service was by St. Anne's Society of which she was a member. The community rosary was at 8 p.m.

Funeral services with requiem mass were held Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church, Father Alcuin Kubis officiating and delivering the sermon. Burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery was directed by Miller Funeral Home.

WE DON'T BELIEVE IN U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

This statement is almost like saying, we are for sin and against motherhood and the American flag. How can we be against savings bonds, and investment in the great future of America? Frankly we think it's a lousy investment. This doesn't mean that we think America has a lousy future, but only that it is not a good investment for your hard earned dollars.

For one, the interest is low. If you bought a bond on January 6th and held it until October, 1971 you'd earn an interest rate averaging 3.75 per cent a year. But if you only hold it 1 1/2 years you'll average only around 2.5 per cent. Unless you no longer read, you couldn't miss the many advertisements by savings institutions across the nation offering 4, 4.5 and up to 5 per cent a year. You can earn 4 per cent just by buying U.S. treasury bonds on the open market.

We can see the advantages of savings bonds. For many they are an easy, risk-free way to accumulate savings. They can be deducted from your monthly payroll and even now they can be purchased with trading stamps. We don't blame the managers of our country's finances for pushing savings bonds. They have been of immense assistance in the trying task of coming up with enough cash to pay Uncle Sam's bills. But savings bonds, like most other form of bonds have no defense against inflation and unless some drastic changes are made back on the Potomac, we see inflation as a permanent partner in our economy.

And as a cold-hearted investor, would you consider putting your money to work in a business which has run up a deficit 90 per cent of the time during the last few decades and which states publicly that it will continue to do so for some undetermined period in the future? These managers of the business also say that our astronomical public debt is really fictitious and should not be of concern. How does that make you as a creditor feel? Savings bonds will not be a wise investment until we get some wiser managers running the business.

THINK HARD, SENATOR

In this eleventh hour while Senate debates the irrevocable step of plunging this Republic into dictatorship via the subterfuge of "Civil Rights" the northern and western members of this "most exclusive club in the world" have a lot to think about.

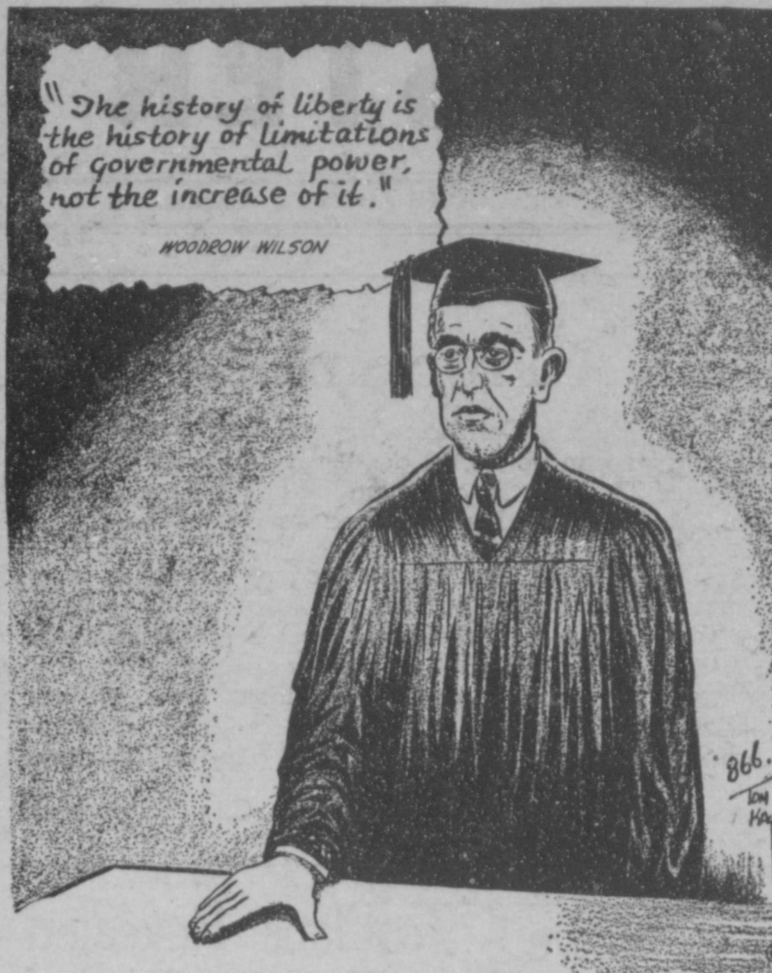

From the very beginning of the Administration campaign for this legislation, the news and publicity dwelt on its chances of passage and who was for it and who against — but seldom on the provisions or merits of the bill. An emotion-charged background of inspired uncivil contempt for rights and law and order has been widely successful in obscuring its true objective of Federal control.

Under the measure passed by the House, and now before a hard-pressed Senate for the final vote in abrogation of the Constitution, the sovereignty of the states and the traditional rights of Americans, Federal inspectors would control every bank, every business, every professional man, every farmer, every employer and every worker receiving any benefit from any Federal financial program. Similarly, the contract rights of unions and the seniority rights of members would have no force or effect where Federal busybodies charge the existence of racial or religious "imbalance" in any work force. Nor, by the same token would an employer have the right to hire, fire, promote and demote his own workers.

The thoughtful American of any color or creed wants his rights, and he wants them for everybody. He is wise enough to realize — whether his Senators do or not — that the welfare of one citizen can not be improved by curtailing the rights of another. And the constituents of every Senator, in the North, South, East or West, will hold him responsible if his vote has helped to bring upon them the destruction, despair and despotism implicit in the camouflaged "Civil Rights" Act.

Let no Senator confuse the grandstanding, holier-than-thou attitude with the statesmanship needed to rescue the traditional rights of all Americans from Executive trespass. His rights and his tenure are also at stake.

The barn owl, or screech owl, often is called the "feathered cat" because it is a great foe of mice.

OUR EQUAL

In the new African nation of Zanzibar, which recently won its "independence", the Arab heads of the state were shoved out by a revolution engineered by Communist agitators. A former finance minister was hanged in public, another was doused with gasoline and burned, another was ordered to kill his own sons and daughters, then commit suicide.

This is one of the new African states to be admitted to membership in the U.N. A little early, we would think to be welcomed into the lodge. U.N. membership qualifications should require that the nation has attained a status of civilization. Zanzibar will be eligible to one vote in the U.N. the sum total of the voting strength of the United States, although its dues-paying contribution, compared with that of the U.S., will be mere peanuts by comparison.

Sunday visitors with V. M. Ramsey and the Sam Sparkmans were Miss Shirley Coleman of Whitesboro, the Willis Robisons of Gainesville and their son Ray David of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Terrel Collins and children Yuvette and Johnny of Saginaw. Johnny is the newly adopted 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Collins. He was getting acquainted with the relationship.

Vickie and John Randolph Barnes returned to their home at Era last Wednesday after a five-day visit with their uncle and aunt, the John Richeys.

Mr. and Mrs. John Richey attended the March of Dimes program at Myra School Friday evening. Red Gordon and his troupe entertained for the benefit.

Mr. and Mrs. Don King of Gainesville visited Sunday with her grandparents, the Nathan Whitts.

Since Mrs. Earl Robison has been a patient at Gainesville Hospital, Richey Street Unit, friends are cheering her with bedside visits. Among Marysville friends seeing her have been Messrs. and Mmes. R. D. Morris and Charlie Winchester, Mrs. Rafe McElreath and Mrs. Sam Sparkman. Her husband and son Jimmy are daily visitors since Friday when Mrs. Robison was taken to the hospital after an accident while in Gainesville. She slipped on loose gravel at Moore's Seed Store resulting in cuts and bruises, neck and back injury and a fractured right elbow. Hospital Group Reveals Need of Early Donations

A request for early attention to pledges by those who have not met their promises, and for early attention to community duty by those who have not promised, was urged last Thursday night at the directors meeting of Muenster Hospital Authority.

J. M. Weinzapfel, president, said that final bills for construction of the building, which are due soon, will find the authority short of funds unless donations come in quickly. The project has been typical, he said, in that expenses ran higher than anticipated. As a result the local fund raised by donation and bond issue will be several thousand dollars short.

A report on operation also disclosed a loss for the first month of business. Part of it was due to heavy initial expense, part to light initial revenue. The staff and directors confidently anticipate an improvement on both figures.

The board approved purchase of an automatic sprinkler for its spacious lawn, along with a pump and pipe to furnish water from the lake west of the hospital. Kaden Landscape Co. of Gainesville will install it for $5630.

BIRTHS

It's twin girls for Ensign and Mrs. Mike Simpson! The double birth made them parents for the first time. Mrs. Simpson is the former Miss Carol Fette. The babies were born in Honolulu, Hawaii, Sunday, March 15, weighing four pounds three ounces and four pounds six ounces. Both the infants and their mother are doing well, according to the proud and excited father who telephoned his parents, the Paul Simpsons in Corpus Christi, to tell them they are grandparents for the first time. They in turn phoned the maternal grandmother Mrs. Kate Reynolds. And Mrs. John Fette is great-grandma again. The twins will remain in the hospital in incubators until they gain to five pounds.

Yeoman 2C and Mrs. Bill Birden proudly announce the arrival of their second son, a brother for Billy, and another grandson for Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel. The seven pound lad arrived Saturday afternoon at Virginia Beach, Va., where Yeoman Birden is stationed with the Navy. He telephoned the news to the grandparents in Muenster.

From Hereford comes announcement of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patzhold. She is the former Miss Nancy Reiter of Gainesville. The little boy weighed eight pounds two and a half ounces when he arrived Friday, March 13. His name is Randy Robert. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Berend of Hereford. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wimmer of Muenster are the great-grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Krahl, Rt. 1, Gainesville are proud parents for the first time with the birth of a daughter Thursday, March 12, 10:47 a.m. at Gainesville Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Krahl and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Batis, all of Gainesville, are the grandparents.

Marilyn Detten Airman Farrar Wed in Amarillo

Airman William B. Farrar and his bride, the former Miss Marilyn Detten, both of Amarillo, are at home there since returning from their honeymoon following their wedding in St. Laurence Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Oscar Detten who has just moved to Muenster from Amarillo. The groom, stationed at Amarillo Air Force Base, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Farrar of Macon, Miss.

Al Felderhoff of Muenster, uncle of the bride, gave her in marriage. She wore a formal gown of white peau de soie accented with scalloped Alecon lace edging the multiple bouffant ruffles that formed the skirt. A crown of pearls and crystals held her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade of white butterfly roses and feathered carnations.

Maid of honor was Miss Ann Van Huss. Bridesmaids were Miss Vickie Lee Dillard, niece of the bride and Sharon Johnson. They wore orchid brocade dresses with matching headpieces and carried their flowers atop orchid lace muffs.

Debbie and David Dillard were flower girl and ring bearer in their aunt's wedding. Robert Farrar was best man for his brother and Melvin Wilde and Ed Johnson were groomsmen.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the dining hall of the church. Mrs. Al Felderhoff and Mrs. Richard Wilde, bride's aunts, helped serve. Mrs. Fred Dillard, sister of the bride, registered guests.

Among those present were the bride's grandfather Joe Lutkenhaus with others from Muenster as follows: Richard Wilde, Dale Wilde, Ross, Scottie and Ken Felderhoff, Mrs. Melvin Wilde and Harold Lutkenhaus.

WHO'S BIGGER?

A release from Washington shows that pretty soon maybe the Department of Agriculture will be larger than agriculture itself. The department's projection of farm income for 1964 shows a net of $12 billion, and the department's budget, at $6 billion, is half that. Also, almost $2 billion of the department's budget will be used as payment to farmers, and that's included in the figure for the farmers' income.

Camp Fire Girls Activity

Manuka

Sixth grade Camp Fire Girls had a hike and a cookout Saturday, working on Fire Maker rank. Accompanying the members to Muenster Park were Mrs. Charles Bayer, leader, Miss Sandra Cler, junior assistant, and Mrs. Ray Swirczynski, sponsor.

The group met again Wednesday this week and made flowers from Kleenex. Their mothers will wear the flowers in their hair Friday at Cooke County Family Night which will feature a Hawaiian theme.

Blue Birds

Second grade Blue Birds practiced a playlet at their regular meeting. They will present the skit entitled "Welcome" at the Family Night program Friday.

Dolly Bayer served refreshments to members and Mrs. Martin Becker, leader, Mrs. Robert Bayer, assistant and Miss Elizabeth Knabe, junior assistant.

This group's next meeting will feature a hike.

Winners in Poetry Contest Announced At CDA Meeting

Winners in the annual poetry contest were announced at the March meeting of the local court Catholic Daughters of America Friday night.

The contest is in three divisions and members heard the first place winning poem in each division.

In division I the winning poems were submitted by Darlene Hess, sixth grade; Teresa Hoedebeck, fourth grade; and Doris Schmitt, fourth grade, in that order.

In division II the winners are Gwyn Boyles, Chris Walter, and Mike Stoffels, in that order, all eighth graders.

In division III Virginia Taylor, senior, won first place; Wayne Reiter, junior was second; and William Wimmer, sophomore was third. Judges were Mrs. Adam Wolf Jr., Mrs. Joe Felderhoff and Miss Sara Fleitman. Local awards are cash prizes and the winning entries are forwarded to the state contest.

In other business at which Mrs. Charles Taylor presided members elected a nominating committee to draw up a slate of officers to present at next month's meeting. The annual election will be in May.

Garden Club's Interest Centers On Tree Project

Muenster Civic League and Garden Club members, meeting Monday night, enjoyed a color film on flower arranging for their March program. It was entitled "Adventures with Flowers."

The club's president, Mrs. Dick Cain, was hostess in her home and presided for business which consisted principally of discussing the club's current big project of landscaping at Muenster Hospital. The activity has been tree planting.

Twenty-one pecan trees have been planted. Four of the trees are left over and are for sale. They're the Texas 60 pecan, five feet tall and are being offered at $5.00 each. Proceeds go into the hospital fund. The trees are at Mrs. T. S. Myrick's home.

Mrs. Myrick suggested organizing a volunteer committee to help Mrs. Dan Luke, landscape chairman, when trees and shrubs need watering. She also said that Proffer Nursery sent hyacinth bulbs for hospital grounds beautification.

Mrs. Jack Hagler reported that Texas Power and Light Company sent machinery and men to dig 33 holes for the pecan trees and redbuds. A vote of thanks was voiced for the digging, along with thanks to Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hanna who sent the pecan trees from their farm, and to Edgar Dyer and the FFA chapter for help in planting.

As an extra event, members planned some recreation for themselves. They're going to make a tour of the Glass Factory at Decatur.

Exact date will be announced after a talk with the plant manager. The group wants to make the tour when the plant is in operation.

After adjournment Mrs. Cain served German sweet chocolate cake, ice cream and coffee to 12 members and one guest Mrs. Pat Stelzer. Next month's meeting will feature a club workshop and development of the theme "Adventures with Flowers."

Tips From Your Hatchery

If you like good things to eat you surely will enjoy those tender young "bakers" we are dressing out for Easter. Better make room in your freezer for at least six of them, 'cause later on you will wish you had ordered a dozen.

Looks like gardening time is here and so are the pests. But we have the answers to that problem. Better check your lettuce for green lice or aphids. Bugetta gets those cutworms and Sabeldella dust repels the rabbits. Safe to use on your cabbage, too. Don't forget to dust your English peas before mildew sets in; our garden dust handles that job.

Don't forget to stop by and get your tomato plant fertilizer; it does a marvelous job and keeps off pests too. It's made by Green Light, so you know it's good. — Clive.

According to Francis E. Clark, U. S. Department of Agriculture microbiologist, earthworms are to be considered an indication of good soil fertility rather than its cause.

Sharp differences of opinion exist, he says, concerning the relationship of earthworms to soil fertility. Some people insist that earthworms almost singlehandedly are responsible for good fertility. Clark notes in the USDA's Yearbook of Agriculture that such a viewpoint has little basis in fact. He says organic residues ejected by earthworms are poorer in nutrients than the original residues ingested.

The beneficial effects of earthworms on plant growth are largely those associated with improved aeration and improved tilth. They are important in mixing surface organic residues with the underlying soil.

Earthworms in an acre can bring 20 tons of soil a year to the surface. Their burrowing activity is most intense in the top 6 inches, although some tunnels extend to depths of 6 feet.

Earthworms flourish best in well drained soils that contain abundant organic matter and a continuous supply of available calcium. They may number millions per acre.

Earthworms indicate soil fertility but don't cause it.

Fuhrmans, Millers Attend Telephone Assn. Convention

Muenster Telephone Corporation owners and their wives, the Alvin Fuhrmans and the Billy Joe Millers were among telephone people at the 59th annual Texas Telephone Association convention in Corpus Christi last week.

Theme of the convention, held in Robert Driscoll Hotel, was "Expanding More in Sixty Four." Emphasis was on good service, good maintenance, good public relations which make for sales and profits and happy customers, Norman M. Clapp, REA administrator, Washington, D. C. headed a list of important speakers.

In addition to business, there were a ladies' party, a fishing trip for the men, manufacturers and suppliers exhibits and the annual banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuhrman also attended the Texas Chapter of Independent Telephone Pioneer Association banquet as members for the first time this year. To be eligible requires at least 15 years in telephone business.

The Millers and Fuhrmans visited former Muensterite Abbot Alfred Hoenig and he took them sight-seeing . . . and they invited him to the closing banquet. Also in the party were former Muenster residents Mr. and Mrs. Jake Horn of Windthorst.

They all enjoyed a visit at the home of Mr. Fuhrman's uncle and aunt, the Alex Flusches, and visited with Paul Flusche. On the way home the Fuhrmans stopped at Houston for an overnight visit with his brother and family, the Jerry Fuhrmans.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller stopped at Houston going and returning. Her mother, Mrs. John Walter, went along and stayed there with a daughter and family, the John O'Dowds.

BACKSTAGE VISIT—Mercedes McCambridge's dachshund glances approvingly at the actress as she makes-up for her starring role in Edward Albee's hit play "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" Make-up session took place backstage in a Broadway theater.

Birthday Surprise For Mrs. Felderhoff

Spring-like weather Sunday prompted Mrs. Joe Pelzel of Pilot Point to talk her daughter and family, the Leo Felderhoffs of Gainesville, into joining her on a drive to Ennis to visit the Carl Pelzels.

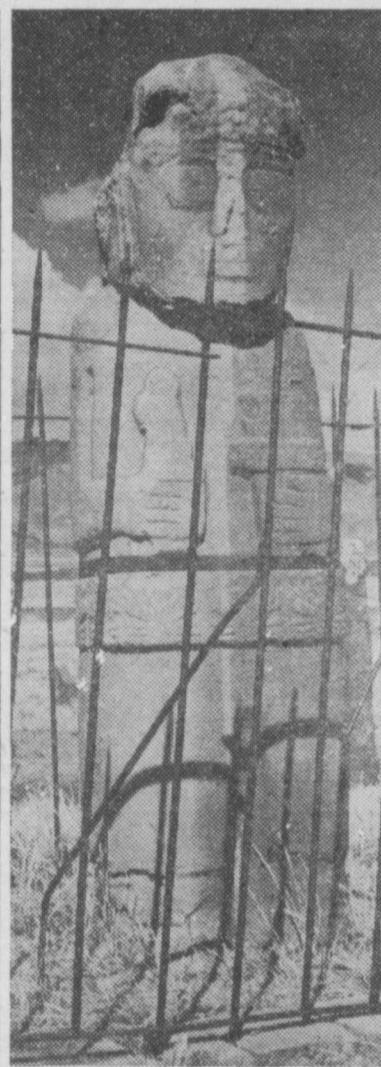

The family had planned a "surprise" for Mrs. Felderhoff. A birthday dinner was waiting at the Pelzel home. A big cake topped with candles, and other birthday remembrances for the honoree made a festive occasion out of the family gathering. Mrs. Felderhoff's birthday was Tuesday and the honors coming early caught her by complete surprise.

Visitor Is Honoree In McEntire Home

Mrs. Mary McEntire was hostess in her home Sunday entertaining with a dinner party honoring her daughter Mrs. Eddie Marrs of Dallas. Coming with Mrs. Marrs were her husband and their son Perry.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar McEntire of Wichita Falls, and the Muenster relationship: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Otto and Charlene, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Pagel and sons Darrell, Carl and Curtis and Mrs. Carra Pagel.

A decorated cake and birthday gifts were special honors for Mrs. Marrs.

WAR ON POVERTY?

Now, Mr. Johnson says that he wants to eradicate poverty. And we are certain he is sincere. Is there anyone in the country who would be willing to stand up in support of a perpetuation of poverty? But the thing that creates poverty is an erosion of the purchasing power of the dollar. And the thing that erodes the purchasing power of the dollar is public debt, funded by new borrowings. So, while Mr. Johnson is calling for an all-out "war" against poverty in our time, he is planting the seeds which will guarantee poverty in the future. Pampa Daily News

Wildcats Nudge Hornet Trackmen In Practice Meet

While Valley View took a strong lead for first place honors, Muenster and Callisburg had a tight tussle for second place — and the Hornets missed by a few points — at a triangular track meet in Gainesville last Friday. It was strictly a practice affair but gave the coaches a partial preview of what they can expect in the district meet on April 10. Also eligible for that event will be Era, Lindsay and Saint Jo.

More practice under pressure for area trackmen is slated for Saturday when Saint Jo entertains with the Red River relays. About 25 A and B schools are expected. After April 10 the district athletes will settle down to baseball.

his rights are violated cannot even appeal to the courts.

Once the inspectors decide that their snooping is justified in an employment problem, the employer is really in trouble. There's more involved than just integration. Promotions as well as jobs would have to follow the given ratio. There'd be demotions as well as firing to acquire the racial balance, regardless of whether the favored people are qualified. It isn't important that they can't do the work, only that races and creeds are properly mixed. And the employer has the added problem of training the new employees to succeed the capable ones who had to be laid off.

That's the important issue in the civil rights bill — the rights that are violated in the process of protecting other rights. If you are an idealist you can assume that all the federal spooks will be completely fair and the only persons to really worry about are the wicked segregationists. Even so, don't forget that many men do not use power wisely. We the public are lots safer if we can go to court and ask for justice under the law. An unchanging law is better assurance than the changing whims of men.
