Williamson instrumental in returning CCC funds

A major boost has come to Cooke County College in the form of a check from the State Treasury in the amount of $170,291.54. This represents the college's share of staff group insurance premiums appropriated for Fiscal Year 1989. Important to the story is the fact that this funding was dropped by the Governor last year in a cost-cutting move. State Representative Richard Williamson of this district came to Gainesville late Wednesday to personally bring the news. When asked how we got it back, Williamson said that not only had the state's economy improved, but Governor Clements had realized the importance of the funding to the community college system.

Dr. Bud Joyner, CCC president, praised Williamson for his work and influence on behalf of colleges here in Gainesville, in Weatherford and over the state.

"Cooke County College and all community colleges couldn't share a better friend than Ric Williamson," Joyner said. "A lot of things have happened good because he has been working for us. We owe Ric our most sincere thanks."

Williamson was instrumental in introducing and leading the bill to reinstate the insurance premium funding.

Dr. Joyner and college trustee Urban Endres then presented the representative with a framed copy of the recent Dallas Morning News editorial naming him as one of the best legislators in the state of Texas.

Catholic Daughters receive Outstanding Citizen Award

The Muenster Jaycees have given their 1989 Outstanding Citizen Award to a whole group of outstanding citizens. Jaycee Past President Kim Walterscheid presented the large engraved plaque to Dorothy Fisher, recording secretary, representing the Catholic Daughters of America, Muenster chapter. In presenting the award, Walterscheid cited the many humanitarian and charitable services performed by the Catholic Daughters, including the traditional meal for bereaved families after funerals, service to shut-ins, volunteer service to Sacred Heart Parish and the Muenster community.

The occasion of the award was the Annual Jaycee Installation Banquet. It was held last Saturday evening at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The meal was catered by Ginny Schneider.

1989-1990 officers and directors taking the oath of office were: Neal Flusche, president; Joe Pagel, first vice-president; Shawn Flusche, second vice-president; Ron Trubench, secretary; Tim Felderhoff, treasurer; Craig Voth and Brett Walterscheid, state directors; Kim Walterscheid, past president; and Cory Klement, Darrell Herr, Brad Bass and Mark Klement, directors.

Special awards presented to Jaycee members included the Key Man award and President's Parter award, both of which went to Jack Flusche, and the year's Outstanding Chairman award which was given to Dave Flusche Jr. He was the project chairman responsible for construction of the new tennis courts in the city park. Flusche reports that the courts are almost ready for use and they are planning a special opening. Jaycee Past President Kim Walterscheid made a special presentation of a dozen red roses to

Gramm promises ammunition against drugs and crime

Senator Phil Gramm visited Gainesville Wednesday to personally convey news of $1.2 billion in federal funding to aid in the war on drugs. Gramm was joined in the Cooke County Courthouse by County Sheriff John Aston, Gainesville Police Chief Carl Dunlap and DPS Special Agent Gary McCully to explain to county officials, citizens and media representatives what kind of help the war on drugs needs.

They spoke of funding full-time narcotics officers and forming a task force, of education and citizen input. Chief Dunlap named narcotics abuse and related crime as the biggest single problem facing the police. He asked for help from area residents.

Sheriff Aston pointed out some of the local problems encouraging drug-related crime. "One of our major problems is that we have two major highways intersecting in a rural area. Our department is small, understaffed and without enough equipment," he said.

Even so, they have filed 31 felony drug cases in the county in the last 13 months and have busted four major amphetamine labs in the last 18 months.

McCully talked about the need for education and community involvement. "If we have a person in the community with a drug problem, we as a community or state have a problem."

Sheriff Aston introduced Senator Gramm, who spoke of the need to support the men fighting the drug business. He called for the elimination of crime without punishment and the return to crime after a very light punishment. He talked about establishing temporary detention centers on closed military bases and putting prisoners back to work. Even with the military base idea, Gramm said more federal prisons needed to be built, but he questioned whether prisoners needed air conditioning and color TV.

Gramm called for mandatory sentencing in drug-related crime:

10 years without parole when selling to minors or carrying a firearm, 20 years if the weapon was discharged and a mandatory death penalty if an officer of the law was killed.

The $1.2 billion funding will go to state governments to be used one-half to help local drug fighting officials and one-half to help education and rehabilitation. Schools must have some kind of zero tolerance program to qualify for funding.

After the conference, Sheriff Aston explained that the Multi-County Special Investigative Task Force of which Cooke County is a part will apply for a share of the funding. He said major help is needed to hire personnel and purchase surveillance equipment. The task force is amending its structure in order to also enforce drug laws. The 10 county members include Montague, Cooke, Grayson, Collin, Delta, Rains, Hopkins, Fannin, Hunt and Lamar. Aston hopes for a grant this year. Currently, all funding for the task force comes through forfeitures from drug enforcement actions.

SENATOR PHIL GRAMM

City fighting for correct appraisal roll

The Cooke County Tax Appraisal District has promised a new preliminary appraisal roll to be delivered to the City of Muenster after many discrepancies were discovered by city officials as listed in last week's Enterprise. The new roll was due on June 27 after two weeks' time, and as of press time on the 28th, it was not in. The roll should have been adjusted after City Administrator Joe Fenton asked the CCTAD to take another look at personal property listings in Muenster.

Chief Appraiser Pat Pickett reported that the adjustments were currently before the Appraisal Review Board and they would try to have a new revised roll to the city by Thursday.

After city officials asked for the review, TAD personnel came to Muenster to re-check certain properties. When the owners asked why they were being reappraised, some reported that they were told "someone turned you in for not paying enough taxes."

Fenton and Councilwoman Pat Dennis emphasized that this was not the reason the city asked for the review. The city asked the TAD to examine many discrepancies on the preliminary roll received. "We are working," Fenton said, "for fair and equitable taxing for everyone. We could certainly go ahead and accept the information from the TAD without question, avoiding our reputation as troublemakers. But I feel we have a responsibility to Muenster taxpayers. If we don't clear up the problems, every taxing entity will use these incorrect figures."

Fenton and Dennis anticipate at this time that they will have to ask for City Council approval to challenge the complete appraisal roll. The challenge must be made in specific areas such as residential or personal property. The tax code allows the Appraisal Review Board to direct the TAD to rework the appraisal roll item by item.

Since fixing things right takes a lot of time, the City of Muenster is concerned that at a certain point, the fixing may be more dangerous than accepting incorrect appraisal information. Pressing for correct appraisal rolls could delay the works to the point that the city finds itself without tax income when they would usually receive it.

"They hope it doesn't become 'darned if you do and darned if you don't.'"

Celebrate 4th of July carefully!

Trips to the lake and backyard parties are the manner in which most local people will be spending the Fourth of July. For most of the work force, it will be a holiday sandwiched between work days.

Anyone wishing to view a public fireworks display will have to travel at least as far as Denton. The Denton Kiwanis Club is sponsoring a fireworks display at Fouts Field at the University of North Texas. They will open at 7 p.m. and the fireworks will begin at 9 p.m. Admission will be $2.00 per person.

In Muenster, the Post Office,

Muenster State Bank, The Center and Rohmer's Restaurant will be closed. Local grocery stores will be open for business.

Muenster residents are reminded that there will be no trash pickup on Tuesday, July 4. The garbage truck will, instead, make its route on Wednesday, July 5.

The Muenster City Council meeting has been postponed from Tuesday, the 4th, until Monday, July 11.

Muenster Police Chief Helen Tompkins reminds everyone that setting off fireworks within the city limits is illegal. The Muenster police have already issued several tickets and confiscated all fireworks in possession of the offender. This will be normal procedure through the holidays; therefore, expect to face the consequences if you break this city ordinance.

In 1988, almost 50 percent of the reported fireworks-related injuries. Please See FOURTH, Page 2 letters to the editor ...

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This letter was received by Alvin Fuhrman from some of our Germanfest visitors).

Dear Alvin!

Many greetings to you and all other people in Muenster. Now we are back in good old Germany. But we've spent a nice time in the States. After Muenster, we went to New Orleans, Las Vegas, Grand Canyon, L.A., San Francisco, Lake Tahoe, Yosemite, Segonia, Death Valley and back to Las Vegas (all by car). Then we took a flight to Fort Lauderdale, Florida and then on to Key West by car.

In Muenster (Germany) we have very fine weather.

What about the newspaper stories of the German Fest? Maybe next time I call you by telephone.

"Shone Grusse aus Munster in Westfalen."

Alfons Lehmkuhle
(Note: Alfons Lehmkuhle and Hans Werner Schlunz of Munster Germany read about Muenster's Germanfest in their local newspaper and planned their visit to the United States to coincide with the Germanfest. They flew from Washington, D.C. to Dallas and Wichita Falls, then rented a car and drove to Muenster for the fest. They spent Saturday and Sunday of Germanfest in Muenster.)

Centennial History Committee,

These past two weeks I have had the opportunity to peruse the Centennial History Book that you and the people of Muenster have published. It is a beautiful volume! You have done a fantastic job of immortalizing the city of Muenster and its people and you have created a book for which posterity will be ever proud and grateful.

The entire book, from the map on the front page to the astounding index on the back pages, is a major accomplishment of team work. I want especially to compliment Bernice Reiter Sicking and her committee on the section Military. It is so complete! Also, I enjoy the special stories and the pictures.

Besides the History Book, the Centennial Date Book and the Anniversary Calendar are souvenirs I shall treasure.

When I visited Muenster for the Centennial Mass on June 2, I had the opportunity to see the museum and I was fascinated by all it contained.

I want to congratulate each and every one of the workers who created Muenster's centennial memorials.

You have done a superb job!
Sincerely,
Sister Agnes Endres

History Book Committee Member,

Just a big "Thank You" for all the hard work, long hours and effort you put in on the Muenster History Book. I tell you, our family not only was impressed, but never have we seen such quality, and thoroughness in a history book. It truly is a wonderful legacy to leave to a community that will be enjoyed from generation to generation for years to come. I know we will.

Thanks again - we so appreciate your hard work.

happened to youngsters under 15 years of age. Half of the reported injuries consisted of burns, according to the Consumer Product Safety Commission. The following are major rules for a safer Fourth of July:

- *Designate a responsible adult to ignite fireworks. Never give fireworks to children. Most fireworks injuries are caused by misuse.

The Director of the Department of Public Safety has challenged Texas drivers to show that the DPS traffic death estimate for the long July 4th period is far too high.

"The DPS Statistical Services Bureau has indicated that as many as 52 persons could be killed on Texas roadways during these hours," Colonel Joe Milner said. "But the number will be lower if more drivers will slow down, avoid drinking alcohol and use a well-known safety precaution - seat belts."

Col. Milner mentioned that the July 4th period will include the weekend before Independence Day.

"The DPS Public Information Office will conduct the traffic fatality count for 102 hours, beginning at 6 p.m. Friday, June 30, and continuing until midnight on Tuesday, July 4," he said. "As before, we'll be keeping this count with the assistance of local law enforcement agencies along with DPS troopers and communications personnel."

The final count for the 1988 July 4th period, which was 78 hours in length, totaled 32 fatalities.

Col. Milner said as part of his agency's "Operation Holiday," additional troopers will be deployed to help minimize the risk of driving on all roadways in rural areas.

Traffic fatality totals for Texas will be tabulated and released three times daily from the DPS, at 10 a.m., 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. The first report will be made at 10 a.m. on Saturday, July 1.

Lindsay School Board approves personnel changes at June meeting

by Elaine Schad

The Lindsay School Board approved to personnel changes at its regular June board meeting.

The board formally accepted the resignation of Superintendent Henry Schroeder. Schroeder announced his retirement earlier in the year due to health problems, effective July 1. Gilbert Hermes has taken the superintendent's position.

The board also accepted the resignation of longtime librarian Ann Cogburn, who is also retiring after 15 years with the district. She will be replaced by Peggy Henry, a certified librarian, who will move from teaching remedial reading. Debbie Hundt has been hired to replace Henry as a remedial reading teacher at the elementary.

In other business, the board:

- Selected the First State Bank as the district's depository for 1989-1991.

- Approved an amended school calendar, with school starting Aug. 28.

- Approved the placement of nine qualified teachers on Career Ladder, Level II.

- Selected Bill Carroll as the district's delinquent tax attorney.

- Approved the purchase of seven computers to add to courses in the eighth grade, Computer I and II classes.

TEAMS results are in, Lindsay students excel

by Elaine Schad

Lindsay students performed well once again on the Texas Assessment of Minimum Skills testing (TEAMS), officials reported at the June school board meeting.

TEAMS is a state-mandated test of basic, minimum skills given at odd-numbered grade levels. An exit-level test required for graduation is taken by 11th graders each year. Lindsay has a 100 percent passage rate since the test began at the exit level.

Of the approximately 35 first graders taking the TEAMS, 100 percent passed the math and writing sections, and 97 percent passed the reading section.

Of the 38 students taking the third grade test, 95 percent passed the math section, 89 percent the reading and 83 percent the writing section.

Of the 30 fifth grade students taking the test, 100 percent passed both the math and writing sections, while 97 percent passed the reading.

Of the 31 seventh graders taking the test, 100 percent of the students passed all three sections.

Of the 34 ninth graders taking the test, 100 percent passed both the math and reading sections, while 97 percent passed the writing.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN-On the heels of the veto deadline, lawmakers returned to Austin last week hoping to quickly wrap up unfinished business on workers' compensation reform.

But many cynical observers said they might be deadlocked for the full 30 days, the maximum length for a special session.

Gov. Bill Clements promised to call special sessions until the House and Senate agree on an acceptable bill.

Business and labor forces failed to reach a compromise in the regular session and allay fears insurance premiums will keep rising while benefits for workers diminish.

Right to Jury Trial

The critical issue is how to resolve claim disputes, with the House favoring an administrative system while the Senate insists on retaining the right of a jury trial.

On the first day of the special session, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby had some harsh words for business leaders who oppose jury trials.

"Who appeals to the courts most?" he said. "The insurance carriers—they appeal 57 percent of the time, and yet the idiots who represent the business community say we don't want a trial by jury. You know, this is really kind of silly."

Vetoes $11 Million

Shortly before lawmakers convened, Clements signed more than 1,000 bills into law, and vetoed several others.

In all, the governor trimmed the budget with veto power by more than $11 million and eliminated three state agencies.

The biggest zap was $3 million from Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower's agency, a parting shot for the liberal who took more heat than any other public official in recent memory.

It's no secret that budget writers have grumbled for years about the way Hightower spends his appropriations.

Other vetoes wielded by the governor effectively:

- Wiped out the Texas Aeronautics Commission, Texas Conservation Foundation, and Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

- Scribbled a bill outlawing lie detector tests for sexual assault victims, because it also outlawed the tests for prison system internal investigations.

- Eliminated provisions that set up Attorney General Jim Mattox to transfer money from his child support program to administration.

School Funding Threat

One bill the governor inked was the school finance package, which lawmakers hope will delay court-ordered reforms in the public school funding formula.

Looming on the horizon, and potentially extremely expensive for taxpayers, is the Texas Supreme Court hearing of the appeal of a state district judge's ruling that the present formula is illegal.

Attorneys for poor districts, which are pitted against rich districts in the case, said the Legislature's $450 million appropriation doesn't come close to a resolution.

Political Campaigning

Midland Entrepreneur Clayton Williams, better known as the cowboy in the TV ads for a firm he founded, entered the GOP race for governor last week amid a windstorm of party criticism.

Some Texas Republicans, including the party secretary, are making sure everyone knows about his numerous political contributions to liberal Democrats, including Treasurer Ann Richards and Attorney General Jim Mattox. They charge the funds will show up in the 1990 elections.

Williams, a legendary businessman who has founded several companies, said he gave the contributions "as a businessman and job creator," but has been a Republican since the day President Harry S. Truman fired Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Meanwhile, Fort Worth state Sen. Hugh Palmer said he will not run for the congressional seat expected to be vacated by Jim Wright this summer, but will stay on his course to replace U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm.

Other Highlights

- The son of state Sen. Tati Santiesteban, D-El Paso, got his probation extended after being charged with DWI for the fifth time in almost as many years.

The senator criticized media attention given his son while, the judge explained that a jail sentence for the wealthy senator's son would force the wife and children on welfare.

- A Houston pollster who usually works for Republican issues released his survey which indicates some 78 percent of Texans approve of border fences, tolls and limited entries to stem the flow of illegal aliens across the Rio Grande River.

One Democrat who responded was Dallas Congressman John Bryant, a candidate for attorney general, who said the fence could negatively impact the border economy.

- Austin police have a suspect in the poisoning of the 600-year-old Treaty Oak, which is given a 50-50 chance of survival.

So far, the historic tree has received hundreds of get-well cards, poems, flowers and balloons. Reward for the tree's attempted murderer now totals $11,000.

Grewing named temporary EMS administrator

by Elaine Schad
Cooke County Commissioners have decided to retain county operation of its ambulance service, and have named a Muenster native as the new interim administrator.

Following an executive session, commissioners named longtime Cooke County paramedic Sharon Grewing as interim administrator, effective July 1. She will replace David Cleveland, who has resigned to accept a position near San Antonio. Grewing will receive a salary increase equivalent to the $24,000 annual salary the administrator's position now pays while she remains in the position, said Commissioner Danny Knight.

A graduate of Sacred Heart High School and Cooke County College's nursing program, Grewing began working part-time for the EMS in May 1983 and became full-time in August 1983. She has served as a shift captain for two years.

The Commissioners' Court will form a search committee in hiring a new administrator. High on the list in the job description will be a person who will be more of a business manager than an actual in-the-field paramedic, said Knight. "With a $509,000 budget, we've got to get somebody who will coordinate the Medicare payments, the billings and take care of collections," he said.

Accident Sunday sends two to hospital

Muenster Police Officer Bill Bivin and the Muenster Volunteer Fire Department responded to a two-car accident south of Muenster on Sunday, June 25. They helped with traffic control in the vicinity of the accident which occurred at approximately 6:40 p.m.

Anthony Crowsey, 19, of Pilot Point was traveling south on Hwy. 373 when he failed to stop at a stop sign, went through the intersection and collided with a vehicle driven by Barbara Reed of Gainesville. Kenneth Reed was a passenger in the Reed auto.

Crowsey, who was wearing a seatbelt, sustained head injuries and Barbara Reed suffered a possible clavicle fracture and head and back pain. Both were transported to Gainesville Memorial Hospital by the Cooke County EMS.

Highway patrolman David Jones was the investigating officer.

"World Series of Fashion" provides backdrop for 4-H fashion show

by Carol M. Roberts, County Extension Agent-H.E.
Cooke County 4-H'ers demonstrated their clothing knowledge and skills at the County 4-H Fashion Show on June 11. This annual event, which highlights the completion of the 4-H clothing project, was held at the First United Methodist Church in Gainesville.

Forty-one 4-H'ers participated with entries in four major divisions: 1) construction, 2) buying, 3) creative fashion and 4) sewing accessories. To enter the construction division, 4-H'ers selected a pattern, fabric and notions and constructed their own garments. In the buying division, 4-H'ers applied their consumer skills by comparison shopping and purchasing quality ready-to-wear garments. 4-H'ers created their own works of art by decorating purchased T-shirts and sweatshirts in the creative fashion division. In the sewing accessories division, 4-H'ers entered non-wearable items such as tote bags, pillows and stuffed animals.

Judging interviews topped the morning's agenda. This year's judges included Betty Hassell, Jana James, Jo Ann Sicking and Sheril Barthold. In the interviews, the judges examined each entry and scored each participant on such topics as personal appearance, becomingness of garment, fit, selection criteria, care of garment, quality of construction techniques and wardrobe coordination.

While judging took place, Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Home Economist, presented a program on making home accessories with creative twist to interested parents and guests. She demonstrated making a wreath, bows and flowers.

With judging complete, the lights finally shown on 4-H contestants at the fashion revue. "World Series of Fashion," this year's theme, provided a backdrop of sports pennants, banners and equipment for participants to model their selections before a crowd of parents and guests. Commentary for each entry was read by Clifford Lutkenhaus, Sherilyn Sicking, Laura Lutkenhaus, Charlene Lutkenhaus, Tisha Krebs and George Lutkenhaus.

Blue ribbons reigned during the awards ceremony. Carol Roberts and Evelyn Yeatts presented blue ribbons for each entry. In addition to the blue ribbons, rosettes were presented to top winners in each major division. These 4-H'ers will represent Cooke County at the District 4-H Fashion Show on July 13. District representatives include: Senior Construction Division - Clifford Lutkenhaus, Lindsay senior, non-tailored; Page Lockridge, Era, evening wear; Intermediate Construction Division - Charlene Lutkenhaus, Lindsay Junior High; Sean Herbold, Silver Cedar; Junior Construction Division - Jennifer Bullard, Era; Melissa Stiles, Silver Cedar. Senior Buying Division - Sherilyn Sicking, Muenster, Sports/Specialty; Laura Lutkenhaus, Lindsay senior, Evening; Intermediate Buying Division - Shianne Howell, Silver Cedar; Junior Buying Division - Elizabeth Cler, Lindsay Junior; George Lutkenhaus, Lindsay Junior High. Intermediate Creative Fashion - Kim McKown, Mountain Springs; Junior Creative Fashion, Robert Lutkenhaus, Lindsay Junior High.

Funeral service held for Leo Cutoia, Jr.

Funeral Mass for Leo Cutoia Jr., 58, of Irving was held at St. Luke's Catholic Church at 10 a.m. on June 15. Rev. Daniel Clayton officiated. Burial was at Calvary Hill Cemetery in Dallas under the direction of the Ben F. Brown Funeral Home. Mr. Cutoia died June 10 in Mexico where he was visiting a brother.

He is survived by his wife, Mary, of Irving; sons, Joe Cutoia of Lewisville and Vincent of Irving; daughter, Mary Ann Graham of North Richland Hills; his mother, Anna Zamora of Dallas; brothers, Fred Cutoia of Mexico and Henry Cutoia of Arlington; sisters, Margaret Blackburn and Carol Cutoia of Dallas; and two grandchildren.

He was a nephew of Joe Bezner and Dorothy Zimmerer of Lindsay.

LEE ROY (BUD) YOSTEN

Bud Yosten retires

Lee Roy (Bud) Yosten retired from Cooke County Electric Cooperative on June 30, 1989 with 43 years of service. He was employed on Sept. 13, 1945 in the maintenance and construction department and has been a vital part of line construction through the years.

Because Bud always had a cheerful, positive attitude, he inspired his fellow employees. With his friendly smile and kind words, he became a favorite, especially with the younger group. His example was something for all of his friends to admire and strive to follow.

Bud and his wife, Dorothy, reside in Muenster. They have five children and six grandchildren. He plans to devote time now to his favorite hobbies which include fishing and arrowhead hunting and may even find some time for his guitar. He will be missed by all, but we wish he and Dorothy a long and happy retirement life.

Customer relations workshop set in August

Evelyn Yeatts, of the Cooke County Extension Office, will conduct a customer relations workshop in Muenster during the month of August.

The workshop will have five main topics: what the customers want and need; where lost customers go; how angry customers are handled successfully; what customers like; as well as two videos: "Take Care" and "Can You Help Me?"

This workshop is designed to give participants tips on how to: increase sales and profitability through better customer relations, reduce the loss of customers, gain new customers and generally increase customer satisfaction levels.

If you are interested in participating and need more information, contact the Muenster Chamber of Commerce office, 759-2227.

Commissioners meet, discuss restoration

by Elaine Schad
County Commissioners Rosalie Bayer and Kenneth Alexander have been named to head a committee to select a new administrator for the Cooke County Emergency Management Service.

The committee will draw up guidelines for selecting an administrator and will receive input from various sectors of the community before making recommendations before the full court, said Mrs. Bayer.

The Commissioners Court this week also heard presentations from various architectural firms with recommendations on restoration of the courthouse. The court is looking to repair damage to the outside of the historic structure, especially the roof and dome area, over a period of several years. Members of the county's historical society were expected to meet this week to look over the various plans and are expected to make a recommendation to the Commissioners' Court at its July 10 meeting.

Edward D. Jones secretary ends training

Earl L. Russell, of the investment firm Edward D. Jones & Co., has announced Janna Jones's completion of the STAR Training Program.

The STAR Training Program, which stands for Service, Teamwork, Accuracy and Results, was created by Edward D. Jones & Co. especially for its branch office staff. The program consists of four weeks of daily modules explaining the securities industry, Edward D. Jones & Co. and procedures branch secretaries are responsible for in helping investment representatives serve clients' investment needs.

"We at Edward D. Jones & Co. pride ourselves on the one-to-one service we offer," Russell said. "The STAR Training Program is just one more tool that helps us continue the personal service for which we've become known."

Jones added, "The STAR Program has helped me learn about the various transactions involved in my job quickly and easily. With this background, I'll be better able to help Earl serve the people of Gainesville."

Jones joined Edward D. Jones & Co. in February of this year. She is a native of Sherman, Texas and has lived in Gainesville for 11 years.

Edward D. Jones & Co., a member of the New York Stock Exchange, has more than 1000 offices in 36 states, with headquarters in St. Louis. The Gainesville office was established in March 1975.

MRS. NEIL DAVID ROHMER
...nee Donna Marie Dieter...

Nuptial Mass unites Dieter, Rohmer

Donna Marie Dieter became the bride of Neil David Rohmer in a Nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony in St. Peter's Catholic Church of Lindsay on June 17, 1989. Father Stephen Bierschenk officiated at 5 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Dieter of Lindsay. She is a 1980 graduate of Lindsay High School; a 1982 graduate of Cooke County College and a 1984 graduate of University of North Texas in Denton. She is employed by the Lindsay ISD as a first grade teacher.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alois Rohmer of Muenster. He is a 1979 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is employed by Gilbert Endres Distributing Company of Muenster as a salesman.

In a beautiful altar setting enhanced with lighted candles, arrangements of mauve gladioli and plum cabbage roses, the bride was presented for marriage by her father. She was wearing a designer gown of white bridal satin. The fitted basque bodice featured a Victorian neckline and long, tapered bishop sleeves. Pearls and sequins over Brussels embroidery accented the bodice and sleeves. The full skirt flowed to aisle-wide, semi-cathedral length. Brussels embroidery motifs accented the train with a bow featured at center-back. The cathedral-length veil of illusion with pouf and beaded crown, adorned the bride's head.

For sentiment, she wore her Grandmother Metzler's gold wedding band.

She carried a bridal bouquet in a crescent-shaped cascade of white satin freesia, with mauve satin roses, plum berries, pearl sprays and ivy.

ATTENDANTS

Kim Rohmer of Coppell, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Annette Bayer and Jo Ann Yosten, both of Muenster and both cousins of the bride, and Lisa Dieter of Gainesville, bride's sister-in-laws, were bridesmaids.

They wore gowns of lilac and cabbage rose floral print in mauve and plum tones. In design, they featured puff sleeves topped with extensive self-fabric roses; square necklines and full, waltz-length skirts.

They carried clutch bouquets of plum colored roses and lilacs, with tulle backing.

Flower girls were Amy Arendt of Lindsay and Audrey Fusco of Wichita, Kansas. Ring bearer was Aaron Rohmer of Arlington.

Glenn Rohmer, groom's brother of Arlington, was his best man.

Greg Gieb of Muenster, a friend of the groom, Pat Dieter and Roger Dieter, both of Gainesville and both brothers of the bride, were groomsmen.

Don Fusco of Wichita, Kansas, groom's brother-in-law, John Dieter of Gainesville and Mike Dieter and Ronnie Dieter, both of Lindsay and all brothers of the bride, were ushers.

Mass servers for the wedding Mass were Greg Arendt of Lindsay and George Lutkenhaus of Lindsay, both friends of the bride.

Wedding music was presented by Annetta Earle, organist, and Laura and Mike Metzler on trumpets. Selections were "Trumpet Voluntary" and "Trumpet Tune."

Vocalists were Toni Holland, Christy Hesse, and Roger Dieter. They sang "On Eagles' Wings," "Only A Shadow," "Service," "All I Ask Of You," "Wherever You Go," "One Hand, One Heart," and "Mother, At Your Feet." The bride's brother, Roger Dieter, sang "Ave Maria" and "Mother Dearest" before the ceremony.

Participating in the special wedding liturgy were Jerry Metzler, bride's cousin, presenting Readings and Psalms.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rohmer, groom's godparents, Mrs. Virginia Noggler, bride's godmother, and Kenny Noggler, bride's cousin, presented Offertory gifts at the altar.

RECEPTION

The wedding reception, catered dinner and dance were held in Sacred Heart Community Center of Muenster.

Ginger Dieter of Gainesville, Gerda Rohmer of Arlington and Joan Fusco of Wichita, Kansas presided at the bride's book, securing 500 signatures.

The bride's table was decorated with white lace over mauve tablecloths with ivy and pearl garland border.

The three-tiered petal-shaped wedding cake, decorated with mauve and white roses, was baked and served by Betty Rose Walterscheid. The chocolate groom's cake was topped with frosted plum-colored grapes.

Reta Johnson, bride's teaching partner, and Patty Eberhart, bride's cousin, presided over the groom's cake.

Cake servers were Christina Metzler, Erin Eberhart, Sarah Eberhart, all relatives of the bride, and Dobe Fleitman and Susie Arendt, friends of the bride. Sharon Arendt of Lindsay presided over the cheese table.

The couple is at home in Lindsay following a cruise to Nassau and the Bahamas.

Space Mission: Day Camp blasts off

Cooke County Cub Scout Day Camp kicked off Monday, June 19, with two large rockets greeting campers as they came into the park and with high expectations and lots of enthusiasm.

This year's theme for Day Camp, held in Muenster City Park, was Space Mission: Adventure, with all activities being space-related. Each day opened and closed with a formal flag ceremony with each crew getting an opportunity to raise or lower the flag.

On Monday, the space cadets sharpened their shooting skills at the Laser Range (BB's), Self-propelled Missiles (archery), Splashdown Training (swimming), Ultra-terrain Exploration (nature) where they made plaster casts, and Outer Space Construction (space art). Each crew also made a patrol flag and each cadet designed his own space medallion for his beads. Special noon-time visitors were the Muenster firemen and their new fire truck. They gave a short talk on fire safety, dressed up in full uniform which looked like someone from outer space and gave a good cooling off to everyone by spraying with water.

Tuesday, the space cadets returned with even more enthusiasm and excitement. Everyone was anxious to have their turn at Splashdown Training, the Laser Range and the Self-Propelled Missiles. They also eagerly built rockets, made their own space shuttle craft, galaxy rovers, tie slides, brain teasers and paper airplanes. Special guests for noon-time activities were Sam Dawson and his son Evan from Valley View. They are model rocket enthusiasts and brought a few of theirs they had built and launched them for the cadets to see.

Wednesday was as glorious as the days before and full of activity. Beginning with the opening ceremony, the space cadets were bursting with energy and anxious to get started. The daily activities included the ever-popular Splashdown Training, Laser Range, with Outer Space Flying (launching their own rockets), Astronaut Training (obstacle course complete with climbing ladder), and Space Monetary Holders (leather coin purses), with a visit by Halley's Comet. During lunch break, each space cadet made marshmallow taffy and played snow blindness.

Wednesday also had a special activity called Trash Day. Each crew was given a plastic bag and told to pick up all the trash during the day as a good turn. At the end of the day all the trash was weighed with a total of 25 pounds being picked up by the Scouts and Little Aliens.

On Thursday, Splashdown Training was free swim day with the slides being opened for the first time all week for the Scouts' use. The Laser Range was kept busy with a mini craft of space zingers and giant bubble makers keeping the air full of sound and bubbles. Each space cadet made a space helmet from milk jugs and assorted items, kite reel, cold drink can holder, and did space art with macaroni of various shapes and sizes. Noon-time activity included the Old West Gunfighter group. They put on a gun safety demonstration, stressing the fact that guns are dangerous and should never be pointed at another person. Even though blanks are used, they showed the damage done by one of the shells to an aluminum can. They also put on a skit for the boys which was enjoyed by all. Afterwards the shell casings and money they used during the skit was given and some lucky camper found it in their bag of goodies at the end of camp on Friday night.

A special project was participated in by all campers through the week. Daily, they brought in aluminum cans and all the money raised from this project has been sent to the World Friendship Fund to help Scouting programs around the world. In doing this project, the boys were made aware of someone besides themselves and were able to earn the World Crest for their uniforms. In a total of three days, the camp collected 174 pounds of cans with the largest coming from the Mercury crew of 100 lbs. With an extra 5 cent donation from Cooke County Distributors, the cadets earned a total of $85.70 which has been sent to the World Friendship Fund in their name.

Friday's activities began at 6:30 p.m. with a Wiener Roast and campfire. Staff members were introduced and each crew performed a song, yell or skit that they had worked up. There were six crews in camp: the Challenger Crew (P664) of Muenster; the Mercury Crew (P1167), Apollo Crew (P653), Gemini crew (P663), the Enterprise crew (P670) and the Discovery crew (P110). Awards, patches and packets from NASA were also given to each cadet at the campfire ceremonies.

Staff members for Space Mission: Adventure were: Ricky and Sue Tuggle, Michael Proffer, Laser Range; Rob Daugherty, Will Bezner, John Morton and Andy Traewak, Self-propelled Missiles; Sylvia Bayer and Barbara Links, Mini Crafts; Kathy Hartman, June Bartush, Staci Sicking, Splashdown Training; Julie Felderhoff, Kim Felderhoff, Outer Space Construction; Barbara Links, Space Art; Michelle Zielinski, Anna Skinner, LaLonnice Massey, Little Aliens; Jan Barton, June Bartush, Crafts; Laura Stoffels, Nurse; Marlene Fisher, Ultra-Terrain Exploration and Astronaut Training; Barbara Links, Astronaut Training; Ian Eliason, Splashdown Training and Ultra-Terrain Exploration; and Mission Director was Kitty Howard; and Mission Program was Shirley Knabe. Sam Dawson and son Evan were in charge of Outer Space Flying with Andy Traewak as Mission Specialist.

Also a big help wherever needed was the ever-present gopher patrol whose members were Joel and Lisa Bayer, Abby Bezner, James Felderhoff, Royce and Misty Knabe, and Jerry Stoffels.

Mission Directors would also like to take this opportunity to say "Thank You" to the many businesses and organizations who so willingly gave donations and time for camp. Without you good people, Space Mission: Adventure would not have been the success it was for the boys. THANKS!!!

the Dean's Honor List.

Students on the Dean's List included the following: Damian Wayne Hellman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dolphy Joe Hellman, a sophomore from Muenster studying Mechanized Agriculture; and Brian Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hess, a freshman also from Muenster studying General Business.

4-H pet show held at Frontier Manor Center

by Carol M. Roberts, County Extension Agent-H.E.

What do a blue-tailed skink, a cockapoo named Pumpkin, and Chinese fighting fish have in common? These and other pets formed the parade of pets at the 4-H Pet Show on June 23 at the Frontier Manor Care Center in Gainesville.

Twenty-two 4-H'ers paraded their pets before the Frontier Manor residents. Louis Stephenson served as the Pet Show emcee by announcing each 4-H'er and the name of each pet. Frontier Manor residents clapped and cheered to indicate their favorite pets.

4-H members and their pets from across the county participated in this community service event for the Frontier Manor Care Center. Pets ranged from fish to finches to a ferret named Stinker. Unusual pets included a newt (a species of salamander), a tarantula, and frogs. More traditional pets such as dogs, cats, rabbits and a hamster also appeared with their 4-H owners.

Frontier Manor residents picked four favorite 4-H'ers and their pets by clapping and cheering. Favorite pets and their owners included a cat named Pepper with his owner Bryce Bennett, Silver Cedar 4-H Club; two baby geese named Herman and Lilly with owner Melissa Stiles from Silver Cedar 4-H Club; a dog named Rachel with her family of seven 3-week-old puppies and owner Emily Felderhoff from Muenster 4-H Club; and a truck-riding kitten named Scruuffy with her owner Sara Flusche from the Lindsay Junior High 4-H Club. Each of these pet owners received a $5 gift certificate. Two gift certificates each were donated by Pets R Us and Osbornes, both of Gainesville.

Other 4-H'ers receiving participation ribbons include: Casey McKown, Mountain Springs 4-H, tarantula; Betty Balthrop, Muenster 4-H, dog; Sherilyn Sicking, Muenster 4-H, rabbit; Joel Bayer, Red River 4-H, fish; Lisa Bayer, Red River 4-H, finches; Diana Bouldin, Red River 4-H, kitten; Kristy Hughes, Red River 4-H, rabbit; Bryce Bennett, Silver Cedar 4-H, dog; Alissa Stiles, Silver Cedar 4-H, cat; Chris Baugh, Sivells Bend 4-H, cat; Josh Baugh, Sivells Bend 4-H, dog; Pat Hogan, Sivells Bend 4-H, ferret; Heath Odell, Sivells Bend 4-H, lizard; Jerad Odell, Sivells Bend 4-H, newt; Jordan Blevins, Valley View 4-H, fish and hamster; Daryl Kupper, Valley View 4-H, dog; Susan Kupper, Valley View 4-H, fish; Casey Rauschuber, Valley View 4-H, rabbit.

Following the parade of pets, 4-H'ers served refreshments of lemonade and cookies to the Frontier Manor residents. 4-H'ers Kristy Hughes from the Red River 4-H Club, Holly Howell from the Silver Cedar 4-H Club, Emily Felderhoff and Sherilyn Sicking, both from the Muenster 4-H Club, supplied the cookies.

Sr. Lillian Reiter featured in article

A Muenster native, Sr. Lillian Marie Reiter, OSB, was featured in an article which was published in the Arkansas Catholic. She is the daughter of Margaret Reiter Schmitt and the late Alfons Reiter.

Sr. Lillian is the principal of Holy Rosary School in Stuttgart, Arkansas and teacher of first and second grades.

She was commended by her fellow teachers for her efficient handling of staff meetings and her calm, loving and respectful manner of dealing with the children.

Sr. Lillian said it had been her desire to be a sister ever since she was a student at Sacred Heart Grade School. She made her profession of vows on Aug. 26, 1955 at Holy Angels Convent in Jonesboro.

Ceremony unites couple June 24

MRS. JERRY PRICE BALTHROP, JR.
... nee Pamela Ann Hellinger ...

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Price Balthrop, Jr. have returned from an out-of-state wedding trip that followed their marriage on June 24.

The bride is the former Pamela Ann Hellinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hellinger of Gainesville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Herron of Oklahoma City.

The bride is a 1987 graduate of Gainesville High School and is employed by Unicare Health, Inc. The groom is a 1981 graduate of Vista High School of Vista, California. He is employed by Fischer's Meat Market of Muenster.

They were married in Grace Friendship Baptist Church of Gainesville in a 7 p.m. candlelight ceremony with double-ring rites, officiated by Rev. D.S. Moore, Jr.

She was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding, she chose a San Martin-designed bridal gown of white organza with chapel-length train. The skirt featured self-ruffles decorated with re-embroidered lace inserts over the taffeta under skirt. The bodice was embellished with pearls and sequins, and befrilled sleeves.

Her fingertip veil was finished with a hand-rolled edge, and dotted with seed pearls.

For her bridal bouquet, she carried a free-flowing cascade of white orchids, white roses, English ivy and accents of white lace and satin streamers with clusters of pearl sprays; the arrangement also was adorned with three satin butterflies outlined with pearls. Mrs. Patsy Hellinger of Hellinger's Flowers of Gainesville made the bride's bouquet.

ATTENDANTS

Sarah Hellinger of Gainesville, bride's sister, was maid of honor. Gretchen Hellinger of Nocona, bride's cousin, and Pam White of Gainesville, a friend, were bridesmaids.

They wore floor-length pink taffeta gowns designed with ruffled V-necks and puffed sleeves.

Flower girls were Ashley Kremling of Gainesville and Renee Balthrop of Rosston. The ring bearer was Michael Johnson of Gainesville.

Gary Balthrop stood with his brother as best man.

Groomsmen were Rick Balthrop, a brother of the groom, of Oklahoma City and Jay A. Clure of Gainesville.

Ushers were Jerry Hellinger, bride's brother, and Ken White, a friend, both of Gainesville.

The altar space was decorated with heart-shaped candelabras entwined with English ivy. A lighted half-arch with baskets of Boston fern enhanced both sides of the altar space, with large baskets of white gladioli, iris, white and pink tulips and ivy.

Wedding music included "Endless Love," "Wedding Prayer," "There Is Love" and "We've Only Just Begun," with pianist Lori Kremling and vocalist Dawn Morgan.

RECEPTION

A reception followed at the Gainesville Civic Center for 250 guests with Jill Balthrop of Rosston, groom's sister-in-law, presiding at the bride's book.

A buffet of pick-up foods was served, followed by serving of wedding cake and punch.

The three-tiered wedding cake stood over a lighted fountain, with two two-tiered cakes on each side, connected by a stairway decorated with pink and mauve silk flower garlands. Shirley Hellinger, bride's aunt of Gainesville, made and served the bride's cake.

Tammy and Tonya Hellinger attended the punch service; and Anna Kirk of Rosston presided at the groom's table.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace ruffled tablecloth, and centered with an arrangement of pink iris, mauve watercolor poppies with ivy. Silver appointments were used.

Guest tables were decorated with butterfly bud vases and lighted votive candles.

The reception room was decorated with assorted green plants and ferns to accent a balloon arch.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the Smokehouse II.

A bridal shower was hosted by Grace Friendship Ladies, and another by Doris Floyd, Kim Martin, Shirley Hellinger and Tammy Hellinger.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Ettie Thomas, presented her family Bible to the bride-elect during the Grace Friendship shower. The Bible was originally given to Grandmother Thomas by her mother in 1924.

First birthday celebrated in park by Chad Hess

CHAD JOSEPH HESS

Chad Joseph Hess celebrated his first birthday Saturday, June 17, in the Muenster City Park. Hosts were Chad's parents, Clarence and Kelly Hess.

Guests were served barbecue sandwiches, ice cream, cake and soda. Chad's cake was baked and decorated by Cathie Fuhrmann in a Choo Choo Train theme.

Helping Chad celebrate were his brother and sister, Brandon and Kristin Grewing.

Also aunts, uncles and cousins, Melvin and Terry and Justin Hess; Randy, Karlyn, Jeffrey and Loren Hermes; Grandma Agnes Hess and Grandma Edna and Grandpa Marty Klement.

Sending birthday wishes were Uncle Kirk, Aunt Donna and Cousin Karime Klement; also Great-Grandma Laura Haverkamp.

Chad's cousins helped him blow out his birthday candle. Then he and some of his guests enjoyed swimming and playing in the park. Gifts were opened and many pictures were taken.

Chad's special gift was a big red wagon given to him by his Grandma and Grandpa Klement.

Later, he visited with his aunt and uncle, Terry and Melvin Hess, and enjoyed playing cars and trucks with his cousin, Justin.

Sulphur Springs is site for wedding

MRS. THOMAS CALVIN DIXON, JR.
...nee Jennifer Lynn Fuhrmann...

The wedding of Jennifer Lynn Elizabeth Fuhrmann and Thomas Calvin Dixon, Jr. was held in Sulphur Springs on May 27 in St. James Catholic Church at 7:30 p.m. with Rev. Jerry Hollvatter, uncle of the groom, and Deacon Loren Seely officiating.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fuhrmann of Sulphur Springs, the bride is also the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gieb and Val Fuhrmann, all of Muenster, and the late Mary Fuhrmann.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Dixon, also of Sulphur Springs.

Presented at the altar by her father, and given in marriage by her parents, Jennifer Lynn chose a sentimental and elegant formal white taffeta gown for her wedding. It was designed with an ornate bateau neckline, basque bodice of Alencon and Schiffli lace and embroidery of iridescents and seed pearls. Sleeves were pouffed at the shoulders and tapered to the wrist.

A deep V-back, edged with Alencon lace, and matching sequins and pearls, ended in an elegant angel-wing sweep of long taffeta streamers and soft taffeta rosettes marking the back of the waist.

The graceful skirt drifted into a semi-cathedral train, with Alencon lace and sequined inserts.

Her halo headpiece of pearls and tiny satin rosettes held a pouf and fingertip veil of illusion.

In keeping with tradition, she wore her paternal grandmother's engagement ring for "something old," her maternal grandmother's wedding band for "something borrowed," and her mother's rosary for "something blue."

Traditionally, also, her father placed a birthday penny in her shoe. Liz Woods made her blue garter.

Her gift from her bridegroom were her wedding jewelry, diamond earrings and a diamond cross necklace.

Her bridal bouquet held white enchantment lilies, white fuji mums, fern, pink roses and baby's breath.

ATTENDANTS

Tonia Zimmerer of Denton was maid of honor. Brandi Fuhrmann, bride's sister, Jimmi Bell and Miki Hicks were bridesmaids, wearing pink and green floral chintz tea-length dresses. They were designed with short, pouffed sleeves and a bateau neckline. A deep V with a bow, basque bodice and matching hose and satin shoes accented the dresses.

They carried clutch bouquets of pink miniature carnations, white spider mums, baby's breath, fern and pink alstroemeria lilies.

The best man was Kevin Wingfield of Sulphur Springs.

Groomsmen were John Dixon, groom's brother, Kerry Potts and Steve Jarvis, all of Sulphur Springs.

Dale McPherson of Yantis, groom's nephew, was junior groomsman.

Ushers were John Dixon of Sulphur Springs and Greg Gieb of Muenster, bride's uncle.

Organist Mark Beggs, with Dick Eckstein on the trumpet, played "Trumpet Voluntary" for the bride's entry.

Tricia Gieb, bride's aunt, and Kerry Potts provided vocal selections with organ accompaniment including "The 12th of Never," "We've Only Just Begun," "The Wedding Song" with guitar accompaniment by Hank Smith. Tricia also sang "Theme From Ice Castles" and Kerry Potts sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Kathy Bouck directed the ceremony.

Altar decorations included two 20-branch brass candle trees with cascades of fern, and a brass candle arch at center decorated with leather leaf and fern.

The Unity candle was decorated with fern, miniature carnations, pink roses and fuji poms.

A reception followed in St. James Education Building, hosted by the bride's parents.

Entry to the reception was decorated with large ficus trees in pink baskets, green garlands, pink and mint satin bows, and a pair of white columns.

Dana Lautenslager of The Colony, bride's cousin, and Valerie Fuhrmann, presided at the guest registry.

The bride's table was draped with ivory lace. The four-tiered white wedding cake was separated by columns and held fresh flowers on top and cascading at the sides.

A "Precious Moments" music box enhanced the table.

The cake was cut and served using a knife sent from England as a wedding gift.

Sparkling clear punch was served from a silver bowl.

An hors d'oeuvres table held grapes and strawberries arranged on mirrors. More crystal trays held vegetables and dips, specially created German sausage wraps with mustard, summer sausage and smoked cheese brought by the bride's grandparents, Gene and Gladys Gieb, from Muenster, also buffet servings of chicken salad.

A guest area was arranged among palm trees, ficus trees and Hawaiian plants, and tables and chairs.

Reception assistants were Susette Fuhrmann, bride's cousin; Kim and Stacie Cler, bride's cousins from Muenster; and Dustenna Hyde, Valerie Van Vranken, Tricia Ford and Dawn Lobin, groom's cousins.

When the couple returns from a wedding trip to Arkansas, they will reside in Sulphur Springs.

The bride is a graduate of Sulphur Springs High School and is attending Texas Eastern School of Nursing at Tyler Junior College. She will graduate in Spring 1990.

The groom is a graduate of Sulphur Springs High School and attended East Texas Police Academy in 1988. He is a patrol officer employed by Sulphur Springs Police Dept.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents on Friday, May 26.

Guests attended the wedding from Muenster, Lewisville, Euless, Irving, San Antonio, Longview, The Colony, Dallas, Lindsay, Pilot Point in Texas, and from Ohio and New Mexico.

St. Richard's Villa News

Four residents of St. Richard's Villa celebrated their June birthdays with a joint party on June 1. Honorees were Theresa Vogel, Carl Smith, John Hacker and Ursula Herr.

Norma Jean Clifton and Sonny Walterscheid provided music for the celebration. Cakes were provided by Lu Vogel, Bertha Hacker, Betty Rose Walterscheid and Carl Smith Sr. Mr. Smith also brought ice cream.

Assisting with the refreshments were Janell and Julie Fuhrmann, Rose Hudspeth, Amy Williams and Donna Morse. Donna also assisted the activity director.

Facials were given before the party by Jan Cain and Carolyn Hess.

Residents were treated with a special meal of their choice on Father's Day. All the men received boutonnières.

Twice during June, Mildred Lawson entertained at St. Richard's with accordion music and singing. A sing-along was led by Mary Endres and her children, Shauna, Nicole, Luke and Lisa, and Linda Flusche and her children, Greg and Karen. Linda accompanied them on the piano.

On June 23, residents received a special treat when Ray and Mabel Sicking of Myra came to visit. Ray played the mandolin and guitar and Mabel sang and played the part of Minnie Pearl.

Weekly domino games were directed by Maurine Griggs. Marcy Klement and Betty Felderhoff, volunteers from Muenster Public Library, showed movies. Joe Hoeng read to the residents and played dominoes with them. Caroline Hess led a daily rosary service.

Visitors from out of town during June were Fr. Paul Hoedebeck from Subiaco, Arkansas; Fr. Jim Moster from Kansas; Fr. Alfred Hoeng from Houston; Ronald and Sue Hutson from Gainesville; Mr. and Mrs. William Brown from Dallas; Margaret Everett from Illinois; Margaret Nelson from Lubbock; Beatrice Knabe from Hereford; Evelyn Bird from Shawnee, Oklahoma; Tom, Eileen, Maureen and Michael Hughes from South Bend, Illinois; Mr. and Mrs. Clem Reiter, Dora Jackson from Abilene; Mrs. Willie Hoedebeck from Denison; and Fran Morris and Pat Durbin from Plano.

Reunion set for '50 class

The Sacred Heart Senior Class of 1950 is planning a 40th class reunion on Labor Day Weekend, September 1990, honoring all classmates that started in 1938 through the 12th grade (even if they didn't graduate from Sacred Heart).

All interested classmates are asked to send their address, suggestions, etc. to: Mrs. David (Ollie) Forgey, 414 Holly Lane, Gainesville, Texas 76240, 668-7322, or Mrs. Norbert (Mary Ann) Walterscheid, Route 2 Box 596, Muenster, Texas 76252, 759-4452.

A planning meeting is scheduled for this Labor Day Weekend - more info to follow! The committee is hoping to have lots of response to help. Several classmates met Wednesday, June 21, at the home of Ollie Forgey in Gainesville for a visit and to make preliminary plans. Attending were: Carolyn Walterscheid Hoyt, Regina Pels, Mary Ann Walterscheid, Aileen Knabe, Bernice Sicking, Verena Metzler, Polly Pelzel and Joan Hartman. All enjoyed seeing Mary Haverkamp who is spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Forgey.

Travis Trachta honored at ceremony

Travis Trachta, a student at Carpenter Middle School in Plano, Texas, was honored for his academic achievement at a statewide ceremony on June 17, 1989 at Baylor University in Waco.

The recognition ceremony was sponsored by the Duke University Talent Identification Program (TIP) to salute the seventh graders from Texas who qualified in TIP's ninth annual Talent Search. All students invited to the ceremony earned scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the American College Testing Assessment (ACT) comparable to college-bound high school seniors.

The students received certificates of distinction at the ceremony. The highest scorers also received scholarships and books.

TIP conducts recognition ceremonies in each of the 16 states it serves in the Southeast, Midwest and Southwest. Over 50,000 mathematically and verbally gifted seventh graders are identified by this program each year. TIP offers additional educational opportunities for gifted students in seventh through tenth grades.

TIP is a non-profit educational organization established in 1980 with a five-year grant from The Duke Endowment. The program receives continuing support from student fees, individuals, corporations and foundations.

Travis is the son of Tom and Sue Trachta of Plano, Texas and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. David Trachta and Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Flusche, all of Muenster.

STEVEN LUKE

Luke earns med degree

Steven J. Luke has received his Doctor of Medicine degree from Southwestern Medical School in Dallas. Graduation exercises were held in McDermott Plaza at the Medical Center on June 3.

He begins a residency in Anesthesiology on July 1. The first year will be spent at St. Paul Hospital with the following three at Parkland Memorial Hospital, both in Dallas.

Steven is a 1981 graduate of Muenster High School and a 1985 graduate of the University of North Texas. He is the son of Bernard and Marilyn Luke of Irving.

STEVEN WOLF

Steven Wolf celebrates 1st

Steven Wolf, son of Kent and Lori Wolf of Denton, celebrated his first birthday with two parties.

The first party was held June 23, Steven's birthday, at the home of a friend, Kim Brown, in Denton. It was a swimming party enjoyed by Steven's friends, mother and brother, Paul.

On June 24, Steven celebrated at the home of his grandparents, Ernest and Bea Wolf. Gifts were opened and a special decorated cake was served to his parents, brother Paul, grandparents and uncles Troy and Stuart Wolf.

Local roundballers finish strong at tourney

by Neil Hesse and Monte Endres

The 4th annual Hoop-It-Up, formerly known as Hoop-D-Do, a 3-on-3 basketball tournament, took place in Dallas last weekend in the West End Historic District. The tournament attracted more than 10,000 players, who were divided into 2500 teams with 158 divisions. The successful tournament raised over $200,000.00 for the Texas Special Olympics.

With a fifth place finish in division eight a year ago, the Muenster-Lindsay team of Captain Mel Walterscheid, Dale Hermes, Monte Endres and Neil Hesse, traveled to the West End in hopes of at least a duplicate performance. This year, they were placed in the seventh division and figured a duplication of last year would be a pretty high goal considering the tougher division this year. The team showed that they were ready for all opposition enroute to a 5-2 mark and an outstanding second place finish.

Muenster-Lindsay came out shooting strong and won both of their games Saturday by score of 16-5 over Ronnie Lewis, and 16-15 over N.A.O.S. The team suffered their first defeat early Sunday morning by a 16-15 loss to the Wailers. They then bounced back and started rolling by beating the Together Brothers 16-7; K-ZOO 16-15; and the Wailers 16-6 to loudly avenge an earlier loss. The stage was set for the finals against TC-4, who were unbeaten in the last two years. They were more rested than the local team, having only played two games to Muenster-Lindsay's four. The local team found themselves a 16-6 loser to a tough TC-4 squad. Team Captain Walterscheid said they came in a little tired but not to take anything away from TC-4 because they had an excellent team. The local boys each received a finalist trophy for their efforts.

The team would like to give special thanks to the Frank Felderhoff family for their support. After "Frank's Boys" were eliminated from the tournament, the whole family stayed to support the hometown boys. Frank, who survived an early knock on the head by a loose ball during Muenster-Lindsay's first game, was an inspiration to the team. Jacque Endres, Mike Pagel and Mel's girlfriend Melissa also accompanied and cheered the team through the whole tourney.

Camp to relax

Plan ahead to make camp cooking easy

Perhaps you have just purchased a new camping trailer, and are ready to set out on your first family weekend. The dealer went through the setup procedure with you, then let you try it yourself. Still...this is the first time on your own.

Or perhaps it's the first good weather of the year, calling you to dust off the camping trailer and take off for a relaxing weekend away from the phone. Make it an easy one.

The Coleman Company has been helping camp cooks for many years, including building a camping trailer line with convenient galley space to feed a family. They asked Janet Groene, who wrote the book "Cooking On The Go" for campers and sailors who have small cooking areas and little refrigeration, to make suggestions for a weekend that's easy on everyone.

So here it is: a trial run to see if you can camp out for the whole weekend without (1) phoning a pizza place that delivers to campgrounds or (2) starving to death.

This menu assumes you have a large ice chest or small refrigerator to hold cold foods, and a smaller insulated ice chest or bag to carry hot, cold, dry, wet or whatever.

It cuts a lot of corners, but this is a menu for beginners. Later you can try more ambitious meals, but this is the weekend to just have fun.

Monday or Tuesday

Early in the week, brown a big batch of hamburger with onions, celery, garlic, diced green pepper and seasonings. Use half to make spaghetti, chili or a casserole for supper that night. But add tomato sauce and a pinch of brown sugar to the rest to make Sloppy Joe. Cool, then put this in a boilable bag and refrigerate.

Thursday or Friday

The day or two before you leave, make a shopping list according to the stars (*) on this menu, shop and stow any items that don't need refrigeration in your camper. Make roast beef sandwiches using thick piles of thin-sliced beef, sub rolls and a horseradish spread. Wrap and keep them cold.

Grate a cabbage, add grated onion or diced green pepper if you like, pile into a plastic food storage container and sprinkle very heavily with sugar. Chill. Separately, mix 3 tablespoons vinegar with 6 tablespoons salad oil and a pinch of pepper and carry in a glass jar you can throw away later. Wash and cut up celery and carrot sticks. Wrap and chill.

Cook a pound of bacon until crisp, lay strips on paper toweling, wrap and chill. Make your own pancake mix by putting two cups mixed flours (mostly wheat with a little oatmeal, cornmeal, wheat germ, bran, etc., added), 2/3 cup nonfat dry milk powder, 3 teaspoons baking powder, and 1 teaspoon salt into a large bottle (also one that you can throw away later). Close tightly. Make a list of refrigerated items so you won't forget to take them with you.

Friday After Work

Line the smaller ice chest thickly with newspaper. This adds insulation and protects the plastic cooler. Put a pan of boiling water inside, set the lid back on and let this stand while you load the other ice chest, ice, cold food and bags of staples aboard. Remove the pan from the small ice chest, quickly close the lid and take off. On the way to the campground, stop at your favorite fast food place and buy burgers, chicken, burritos, Chinese food—anything as long as it's sizzling hot. Quickly put it into the preheated cooler and it will stay hot for a couple of hours.

Set up camp, open a bottle of wine*, tear into the hot food and finish the meal with fresh fruit*, cupcakes* from a good bakery and hot coffee*. There's very little clean-up, so build a fire, get out the guitar and enjoy the first evening in camp.

Saturday

For breakfast, start with coffee and juice*. Pile packaged hash browned potatoes* into an oiled skillet and brown. Arrange pre-browned, packaged link sausages* around the pan, spoke fashion. Beat together two eggs* per person and pour over the potatoes. Sprinkle with a 4 oz. package of grated cheddar*, cover and cook over low heat until eggs set. Serve in wedges, with bakery corn muffins*.

For lunch, get out the roast beef sandwiches and make a mug of instant onion soup* per person, using 1/2 cup water each. Tear off chunks of sandwich, dip into the soup and devour them. Serve with celery and carrot sticks*. Dessert is canned sweet cherries in syrup*.

For dinner, all you need to do is warm up the Sloppy Joe in a pan of hot water. Remove the twist tie from the roasting bag, lower it into the boiling water and heat through. Corn can be cooked in the same water. Add the jar of vinegar oil to the cabbage and mix well. Serve Sloppy Joe in whole wheat burger buns* with cole slaw, corn on the cob and light stackable potato chips. Dessert is marshmallows* roasted over the fire.

Sunday

Start with fresh oranges or tangerines*. Add an egg* and a scant 2 cups of water to the shaker with the pancake mix, shake to mix and pour pancakes onto your hot, oiled griddle or fry pan. Put a piece of cooked bacon on each pool of batter. When bubbly flip and cook the other side. Serve with your favorite syrup*.

For lunch, brown big flour tortillas* in a little hot oil in a skillet. Place one on each plate, slather with vanilla yogurt*, and dot with pieces of fresh fruit or well-drained peach slices* from a can. Serve cups of instant cream of chicken soup* on the side, and peanut butter cookies* for dessert.

Dinner? You'll be home again. Now you can call the pizza place.

Public meetings on wildlife stock programs

Hunters, fishermen and others interested in the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's fish and wildlife stocking policies will have the opportunity to comment on that topic in 13 public hearings around the state during late June and early July.

Each public hearing will include a video presentation on the history of fish and wildlife stocking programs in Texas. At least one Parks and Wildlife Commission member will be in attendance at each hearing, along with representatives of the department's Fisheries, Wildlife and Law Enforcement Divisions, officials said.

New coach at Era HS

by Elaine Schad

Era girls' coach Ron Shaw has resigned to accept a position with the Refugio school district.

Michael Lannon has been named the new coach and will be responsible for junior high and high school girls' track, volleyball and basketball.

A resident of Apple Spring, California, Lannon is a graduate of Indiana University and has eight years of teaching experience. He will also teach middle school and high school English and has had experience as a yearbook sponsor.

The nine-member commission will review public comments from the hearings before adopting new policies and procedures.

Hearings will be held in Abilene, Alpine, Amarillo, Arlington, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Houston, Laredo, McAllen, Midland/Odessa, San Antonio, Tyler and Waco.

Department staff members told the commission in a recent meeting in Austin that the stocking of animals in Texas has been instrumental in dramatic increases in several species, including white-tailed and mule deer, pronghorn antelope and turkey. Stocking programs also have enhanced Texas' recreational fishing, with species such as Florida largemouth bass and striped bass, adding to anglers' opportunities.

Staff members also told the commission that since most of the state's wildlife habitat is in private ownership, stocking programs depend on agreements between the department and landowners.

Texas Agricultural Facts

TEXAS DAIRY FARMERS CONTINUE TO SET MONTHLY RECORDS

Texas milk production during April reached a record high 485 million pounds for the month, as the state's dairy farmers continue to set monthly production records during 1989. The April total was up 10 percent from last year and 4 percent from March.

The number of milk cows averaged 365 thousand head, 5 percent more than a year earlier and 4,000 head more than in March. Production per cow averaged a record high 1,330 pounds, compared with 1,270 pounds last year. Average production per cow was 40 pounds more than last month.

Production in the 21 states participating in the monthly survey totaled 10.8 billion pounds during April, 2 percent more than last year. Production per cow during the month averaged 1,263 pounds, 33 pounds more than a year ago. Total number of milk cows averaged 8.54 million head, 89 thousand head below last year.

VALUE OF TEXAS MILK PRODUCTION UP 9 PERCENT FROM 1987

Texas dairy farmers produced 4.87 billion pounds of milk during 1988, up 13 percent from the previous year and a record high production for the state. Total value of the annual production increased 9 percent to $647.24 million.

Producers sold 4.79 billion pounds of whole milk to plants and dealers, 13 percent more than a year earlier. Some 50 million pounds were sold directly to consumers, 47 percent above the previous year.

Cash receipts from plant and dealer sales increased 9 percent from 1987 to $631.62 million, while sales directly to consumers increased 41 percent to $11.63 million.

The annual average number of milk cows in Texas during 1988 was 349,000 head, 20,000 head more than in 1987. The annual production per cow was a record high 13,940 pounds, compared with 13,070 pounds a year earlier.

Nationally, milk production increased 2 percent in 1988 to 145.53 billion pounds. Production per cow averaged 14,213 pounds, 411 pounds above 1987. The annual average number of cows, at 10.2 million head, was 1 percent less than the average in 1987.

Cash receipts from marketings of milk during 1988 totaled $17.7 billion, virtually unchanged from both 1987 and 1986. Sales to plants and dealers totaled almost $17.40 billion, while direct consumer sales totaled $273 million.

Total value of milk produced in the United States was $17.95 billion, virtually unchanged from a year earlier.

TEXAS MANUFACTURED DAIRY PRODUCTS

Production of most dairy products manufactured in Texas dropped during 1988, although the production of ice milk including freezer-made milkshakes increased 1 percent from a year earlier to 20.03 million gallons. Ice cream production totaled 49.77 million gallons, 5 percent less than in 1987.

Texas producers manufactured 27.06 million gallons of ice cream mix during the year, 5 percent below the previous year, while ice milk mix totaled 12.84 million gallons, up 5 percent.

Creamed cottage cheese totaled 16.13 million pounds, down 16 percent, while lowfat cottage cheese production decreased 17 percent to 4.16 million pounds. Curd production was down 16 percent from a year ago.

Nationally, frozen dairy products were generally up in 1988, although ice cream production decreased 5 percent to 881.5 million gallons. Ice milk, at 354.2 million gallons, was up 8 percent, while milk sherbet, at 52.2 million gallons, was up 4 percent. Mellorine production decreased 1 percent from 1987 to 9.99 million gallons.

The U.S. production of creamed cottage cheese continued its decline to 647.1 million pounds, 4 percent below 1987. Lowfat production, at 290.9 million pounds, was up 8 percent.

Butter production totaled 1.21 billion pounds, 9 percent more than 1987's production. Wisconsin led the nation with 24 percent of production, followed by California with 19 percent and Minnesota with 11 percent.

Total cheese production, excluding cottage cheese, was 5.57 billion pounds, 4 percent above the previous year. Wisconsin was the leading state with 34 percent of the total.

American-type cheese accounted for 49 percent of the total U.S. cheese production in 1988 with mozzarella and other Italian cheeses accounting for almost 36 percent. Italian varieties continued their steady increase to a record 1.94 billion pounds, 8 percent above the 1987 production.

Nationally, whole milk used for dairy products accounted for 59.2 percent of all milk marketed in the U.S., compared with 58.4 percent in 1987.

This past weekend, I had the opportunity to visit with Werner Becker III and his grain sorghum that he is raising for a 4-H project. Werner is doing an excellent job with his project and the sorghum is growing very well as it is doing over the entire county.

While we were in the field several things were brought to our attention. One was the large number of beneficial insects that we are seeing now. Many lady bugs and lady bug larvae are present in the field along with parasitic wasps and lace wing flies. The sorghum is in various stages of bloom. Several pests that producers need to be thinking about in the upcoming weeks in the grain sorghum include headworms and sorghum midge.

The headworms are usually present when the grain sorghum is in the soft dough stage. The headworm's life cycle can last upwards of several weeks. Check fields during the soft dough stage for the presence of these worms. About two per head is large enough numbers to require some type of control. Much of the damage can be seen by the droppings that will be white and sprinkling the ground or the grains that will have the centers cored out. Headworms are the larvae form of many moths, but are generally the same as corn earworms. These corn earworms will sometimes get in the whorl of the plant and you will see a shot hole appearance in the leaves after they emerge. Werner and I saw very little damage from the corn earworms at this early phase and hopefully, the headworm problems will be minimal this year.

The sorghum midge is a tiny gnat-like fly that is a bright orange in color. Damage is done by the midge laying eggs on the grain and the grain not developing. The sorghum midge will only cause economic damage to grain sorghum when grain sorghum is in the yellow blossom stage. The midge is usually a pest in our area after July 4. If your grain sorghum has passed the yellow blossom stage by July 4, then you should experience no problem from sorghum midge in fields. If you have late sorghum, then be on the lookout for sorghum midge.

One last item, as usual we see quite a few corn leaf aphids in fields this time of the year. In low numbers, these insects are beneficial in that they provide a food source for lady beetles and other beneficial insects. Corn leaf aphids do not inject toxins into plants as greenbugs do and generally require no control measure.

Throughout the county, grain sorghum looks to be developing very well. After this year's wheat harvest, we can only hope for a good grain sorghum year.

Wildlife video program set

Farmers and ranchers interested in the video program, "Agriculture and Wildlife," now may be able to obtain copies of the program in their local area.

The 55-minute program, which aired recently on satellite television, is a cooperative effort of Kansas State University, the Great Plains Agricultural Council, U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and wildlife agencies of eight other Great Plains states.

The program addresses the importance of private lands to wildlife, ways to manage land to increase wildlife, and benefits of the Conservation Reserve Program to wildlife.

Those interested in obtaining the tape should contact their local county agricultural agent, officials said.

The Muenster Livestock Auction last week reported the sale of 470 cattle and 45 hogs. Hogs were steady; stocker and feeder calves and yearlings were $5.00 to $8.00 higher than last week; cows were steady and strong; bulls were $1.00 to $2.00 higher.

It pays to topdress pastures.

Proper fertilization of pasture will greatly increase meat and milk production. You'll see faster weight gain, more pounds of gain per acre, a longer grazing season and greater carrying capacity.

Begin with a soil test.

Let our Fertilizer Specialist help you. He has the know-how and we have the materials. Come see us soon. We're ready when you are.

Standing together. Standing strong.
