MHS student is merit scholarship semifinalist

The names of more than 15,000 semi-finalists in the 1990 competition for merit scholarships was announced Wednesday by National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC). One Cooke County student, Michael Abney, a student at Muenster High School, was named to the list. Michael's parents are Don and Joyce Abney of Muenster. The nationwide pool of academically talented semifinalists includes about half of one percent of each state's seniors. These young people demonstrate exceptional potential for scholarly contributions and leadership that will benefit the nation in the future.

More than one million students in 19,000 U.S. high schools entered the 1990 Merit Program as juniors by taking the 1988 PSAT/NMSQT, which served as an initial screen of entrants. Those designated semifinalists in each state are top scorers who must advance to the finalist level of the competition in order to be considered for merit scholarships. To qualify as finalists, semifinalists must have outstanding academic records, must be endorsed and recommended by their school principals, must confirm their PSAT/NMSQT performance on the SAT, and must complete an application that includes detailed information about their scholastic and extracurricular accomplishments.

About 90 percent of the semifinalists are expected to

City tax rate set ... finally

Arriving at a 1989 property tax rate that pleases "everybody" has been neither simple nor pleasant recently at Muenster City Hall. These problems were a major item of discussion at the monthly (rescheduled for Labor Day) City Council meeting held last Wednesday evening. Consider the following - with great effort taken to achieve a simple explanation:

After repeated requests and delays, the City of Muenster obtained a complete updated and corrected listing of taxable property within the city limits of Muenster from the Cooke County Tax Appraisal District. A close check of this roll revealed a number of properties with a total value of $420,810.00 which were included on the roll but actually did not lie within Muenster city limits. This falsely inflated the total Muenster property value.

By this time, the deadline was past to take these errors before the Appraisal Review Board. Knowing they would ultimately receive no tax income from these properties in question, the City Council directed City Secretary Celine Dittfurth to adjust the tax roll figure and recalculate the effective tax rate. (The effective tax rate is that rate which will bring in the same income figure as last year using the new property roll.) So, the proposed property tax rates and notice of public hearing were published in The Muenster Enterprise on Aug. 25, 1989. The effective tax rate was set at 39.883 cents per $100 of property value and the actual tax rate for 1989 at 43.069 cents per $100.00. (The law states that if taxes are proposed to rise more than 3 percent over the effective tax rate, there must be a public hearing with published notices and if the raise is 8 percent or more, the public could demand a rollback to the previous year's rate.) The City Council set the increase at 7.99 percent, the maximum possible with no potential rollback.

Shortly after the notices were published, County Tax Assessor/Collector Joyce Zwinggi notified Dittfurth that Muenster could not recalculate the effective tax rate because the changes had not been approved by the Appraisal Review Board. The city had no recourse but to do as directed, meaning republish all notices. To comply with the publishing and public hearing rules and still meet the October budget deadline, notices were put in the Gainesville Daily Register immediately. The effective tax rate was lowered to 39.507 cents per $100.00 value, (remember, the rate figured on total property including $420,810.00 worth that really cannot and will not be collected on) and the actual rate set at 7.99 percent over that, 42.663 cents per $100.00.

The City Council will hold the legally necessary public hearing Monday, Sept. 18, 7:30 p.m. at City Hall. Barring any more problems, another public hearing will be held Monday, Sept. 25, 7:30 p.m. at City Hall to discuss the 1989-90 city budget. The city may then adopt the budget and then the tax rate if no one changes their minds or otherwise scuttles the process.

The "average" owner of a $35,000 home will pay an extra $3.14 under the new tax rate. Last year's actual tax rate was 41.767 cents per $100.00 value. Muenster must absorb a $1,795.00 shortfall. In other action, the City Council:

- Discussed the hotel/motel tax again. The city secretary will contact the state comptroller to obtain more information about the possible tax.

- David Flusche Jr. was appointed to the Park Board.

- Attorney August Boto, speaking for North Texas Communications Co., discussed changes in their cable television franchise. The company will ask for a 50-year franchise with no prior approval for rate increases since they must now go through the Public Utilities Commission to increase rates.

- Set public hearing to examine building permit requests at 618 N. Cedar and 503 N. Elm. Neighbors in the area will be notified about the hearing.

- Denied a request by Robert Hermes to run underground electric power through the alley at his new home because of danger to existing utility lines.

- Paid monthly bills totaling $11,443.64.

4th graders, teachers give plaque to MPS Library

On Sept. 8, the Muenster Public School fourth grade and teachers presented a plaque in Jason Luttmir's honor to Mrs. Gwen Trubenbach, MPS elementary principal, to be placed in the library.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Marionette Jump on behalf of herself, Carol Dyer, Becky Scott and 1988-89 third graders.

The plaque was purchased with funds donated by Jason's classmates and teachers.

Retha Sparkman presented a framed collage of mementos, made by Jason's grandmother, Mrs. Theresa Grewing, to the fourth grade class. Mrs. Grewing wanted the children to have something to take with them from year to year to remember how much Jason was loved and that he loved all his friends as well.

Those in attendance were Jason's mother, Arita Luttmir; Theresa Grewing, Kenya Endres, Linda Hacker, Janie Hartman, Rose Hudspeth, Retha Sparkman, Mary Ahrens, Becky Scott, Carol Dyer, Marionette Jump, Gwen Trubenbach and Jason's classmates.

The plaque may be seen in the MPS Elementary Library. The remaining funds will be given to Mrs. Eckart to purchase books for the library.

Crime victims rights to be considered Nov. 7

On November 7, 1989 the voters of Texas will be deciding a number of proposed constitutional amendments, one of which will be Proposition 13, the Crime Victims Rights Constitutional Amendment which defines and provides for a number of constitutional protections for crime victims in Texas.

The Texas Crime Victims Rights Committee announced today that Judge Cynthia Stevens Kent of the 114th District Court has been named as Area II coordinator working for passage of the Crime Victims Rights Amendment. Area II includes 49 counties in North and East Texas and Judge Kent's duties will include informing the public on the purpose and need for a Crime Victims Rights Amendment as well as the appointment of a local county chair to develop support for Proposition 13.

Judge Kent quoted a recently published report of the Sam Houston State University Criminal Justice Center Entitled "Crime and Justice in Texas" which reported that during the last ten years studied there has been a 72% increase in the Texas Victimization rate. This same report indicated that during the last studied year, Texas rated second in the nation in the number of violent crimes for murder and forcible rape and second in the nation in the number of property crimes of burglary, larceny, theft and motor vehicle theft.

"These crime rates are indicators of the victimization rate in Texas and the obvious need to address the problem and needs of our Texas victims," said Judge Kent. Judge Kent reported that one startling statistic from the Criminal Justice Center's report was the dramatic murder victimization rate of the poor and minority groups. Judge Kent further referred to what she termed an unacceptable statistic of victimization in Texas in that "one out of every 924 Texans who are black males between the ages of 20 and 29 will be murdered each year and that if all current circumstances were to remain constant, among black males who reached the age of 20 during 1986, one out of every 45 will be murdered by age 39 and one out of every 20 will eventually die as the result of murder."

Judge Kent urged the voters to consider the increase in assaultive crimes, the short lengths of time that convicted criminal defendants spend incarcerated on their sentences and the high recidivism rate for paroled felons, so that each voter could begin to see the real tragedy of victims in this state and the need for constitutional protections for their rights.

Judge Kent stated that "Our Constitution and our state laws provide for many protections and rights of the criminal defendant, but crime victims also should be af-

CAN BUSINESS SAVE EDUCATION?

By Edwin Feulner

The public education establishment—teachers' unions, academic bureaucrats, liberal politicians—would have you believe that the only reason the United States is turning out high school graduates who can't read or write is that we're not spending enough of your tax money.

Don't believe it. According to Herb Walbert, professor of education at the University of Illinois, "The total spending per student, reduced class sizes, [and] increased salaries for teachers show very little linkage with improved [academic] performance."

In fact, the education bureaucracy is part of the problem. Like any bureaucracy, it is structured to resist change and to protect the interests of its own members. If real reform is to come to American education, it won't be through the efforts of the National Education Association.

Who, then, shall lead the charge for academic excellence? One likely candidate is business. After all, if U.S. companies are to remain competitive, they need a pool of workers who understand the basic skills of language, mathematics, and critical thought.

Businesses offer support to educational endeavors as part of their philanthropic activity. Some, for example, have set up "adopt-a-school" programs, in which a company purchases equipment for a school. Business executives participate in career-planning programs, visiting schools to share their expertise with students. Some companies have training programs: The Travelers Insurance Company, headquartered in Hartford, Conn., has work-study and summer youth programs and a program called Project Future, which gives graduates of Hartford high schools an eight-week training course in math, English, and keyboard skills, and gives them positions in the company.

Such endeavors are laudable, but are only part of the answer. If American businesses want to ensure that the work force of the future is made up of responsible, skilled individuals, they must enter the debate over educational policy and counter the wrongheaded assumptions of the education establishment.

This problem with education, first and foremost, is the absence of competition. Students are required by law to attend school, and are forced to attend public schools unless their parents can afford to send them to private ones. Thus, the education establishment has a captive audience and no real incentive to improve its product: education. (Interestingly, in Chicago, where only 22 percent of all parents send their children to private schools, 46 percent of public school teachers do.)

Businesses understand how the market works. They know that monopolies are bad for consumers—in this case, for the consumers of educational services. They should be willing to take a stand for competition, either in the form of vouchers allowing parents to send their children to any private or public school at government expense, or at least in the form of "choice" programs, which allow parents to choose what public school their children will attend.

Some have already taken such a stand. The California Business Roundtable, for example, has adopted a set of principles of education reform, including increasing parental choice over their children's education; evaluating students, teachers, administrators, schools, and districts on the basis of performance; and empowering teachers and principals at the local level to make decisions without the OK of central school authorities.

Of course, businesses are often reluctant to step into controversial policy debates, fearing they may alienate potential customers. But in this case, it is not only the right thing to do; it also makes good business sense. What is at stake, after all, is the ability of tomorrow's work force to perform—and the ability of American business to compete.

forded the constitutional protections for the rights afforded them by law. A YES vote for Proposition 13 is a vote for Crime Victims Rights and that improvement in our criminal justice system is necessary and in fact essential for true justice in our courts."

The proposed constitutional amendment, if passed by the voters on Nov. 7, would provide crime victims with the right to notification of court proceedings, the right to be present at those proceedings, the right to confer with the prosecutor's office, the right to restitution, the right to information about the conviction, sentence, imprisonment and release of the accused as well as rights for protection and fairness in the criminal justice process.

Dear Editor:

Beef is back. That's good news to those of us who enjoy eating beef, whether it's a lean, tender steak; a convenient, flavorful roast; or a burger with all the trimmings. It's also good news to those of us who are beef producers.

Beef is big business. The beef industry is the single largest segment of American agriculture with sales of cattle and calves accounting for about 22 percent of total receipts from farm marketing. In Texas, cash receipts from cattle and calves totaled $4.9 billion in 1988. And every dollar of cattle sales directly generates an additional $5 to $6 of business activity in the farm supply and food businesses.

There's an important reason why beef is back. Beef producers became part of a new era in the beef industry on October 1, 1986, when the national beef checkoff program began. Through the checkoff, beef producers invest one dollar per head of cattle sales in a program which funds beef promotion, education and research at both the national and state levels.

June 27, 1989, marks the 1,000th day of the national beef checkoff program--1,000 days of solid progress for us in the beef industry. The result is a better, more nutritious and enjoyable product for consumers and improved profitability for the biggest single sector of the agricultural economy.

Sincerely,

become finalists, and more than 6,000 of these distinguished students will be awarded merit scholarships worth approximately $23 million. Winners of merit scholarships will be finalists judged to have the strongest credentials and greatest potential for future success. The process of selecting merit scholars takes into account finalists' academic course load and difficulty level as well as grades earned, test scores, demonstrated leadership and contributions to the school and community, plans and goals, and recommendations written by their school officials.

Three types of merit scholarships will be awarded in 1990, supported by some 600 sponsor organizations and institutions, and by NMSC's own funds. Every finalist will have a chance to win one of 1,800 National Merit $2000 scholarships that are awarded on a state representational basis, according to each state's percentage of the U.S. high school senior class. Some 1,300 merit scholarships will be underwritten by corporations, foundations, and other business organizations for finalists who meet a sponsor's preferential criteria; the vast majority of corporate-sponsored awards are designated for children of employees of the grantor organization, but some are provided for finalists living in areas served by the company, or for students whose career goals a sponsor wishes to encourage.

More than 2,900 merit scholarships will be financed by colleges and universities; only finalists who plan to attend a sponsor college will compete for these awards, which must be at the institution providing them.

NMSC is a not-for-profit organization whose scholarship activities are privately funded by independent program sponsors. Merit scholars in the class of 1990 will join some 115,000 other academic champions who have been awarded merit scholarships worth $355 million between 1956 and 1989.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas Legislators scurried behind the scenes last week to save their proposed salary increase on the Nov. 5 ballot and to prepare for the special session on workers' compensation the following week.

In other Capitol-related events:
• Texas realtors and gay political groups breathed a sigh of relief when Attorney General Jim Mattox ruled real estate agents do not have to tell potential buyers if a home's seller has AIDS.

• A high-ranking official quit the state agriculture agency and may try to unseat the boss, AG Commissioner Jim Hightower.

• A GOP candidate for governor underscored the President's new anti-drug proposals by going with cops on a cocaine bust.

• The State Board of Education tentatively voted to reinstate a controversial vocational education program for junior high schools.

• The field grew crowded for the unexpired term of the late Congressman Mickey Leland of Houston.

Mattox AIDS Ruling

Mattox said in his legal opinion that a new AIDS disclosure law violates the 1988 Federal Fair Housing Act which prevents discrimination against the handicapped.

The state law required real estate agents, when asked, to reveal if previous occupants suffered from AIDS.

Realtors feared lawsuits from the issue. The law's sponsor, state

Rep. Debra Danburg, whose district includes Houston's Montrose area, sought the law to stop realtors from making AIDS disclosures, based either on fact or hearsay.

Advocates from AIDS health and awareness groups praised Mattox' ruling. One said the law "was mean-spirited" against AIDS sufferers.

Possible Candidacy

A veteran program director of the Agriculture Department said he is stepping down because he no longer supports the agency's efforts.

Ken Boatright, who Sept. 20 ends 16 years with the agency, said he has been approached to run in 1990 against Democrat Hightower, but has not yet made a decision.

Hance Fights Drugs

While President Bush was outlining his war on drugs, Kent Hance, candidate for governor, rode with a Houston police undercover team that arrested three cocaine dealers in an hour.

Hance said as governor he would appoint a state crime commissioner, eliminate bail for drug dealers, establish 24-hour drug courts in urban areas, and deny state benefits to drug felons.

Vo-Tech Program Defended

Defying the legislative leadership, the State Board of Education tentatively voted to reinstate a controversial vocational education program for junior high schools that some have labeled "a dumping ground" for under-achievers.

Board member Bob Akin, a former state representative from Commerce, called the action a possible "exercise in futility" because it could so anger lawmakers that they might cut off funding for all vo-tech programs.

But Board Chairman Monte Hasic of Lubbock said board members were simply responding to the wishes of their constituents when they voted 8-7 to restore funding to Coordinated Vocational Academic Education in grades seven and eight this fall.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Gib Lewis blasted the plan in July and asked the board to drop its plan to reinstate the program.

Crowded Field

The race for the Leland congressional seat, which includes Houston's inner city Fifth Ward, will be a showdown between perhaps the two most powerful blacks in the Texas Legislature.

The styles of state Sen. Craig Washington and state Rep. Ron Wilson are quite different.

Washington sports a bow tie, is a friendly and persuasive orator who can sway votes with his eloquence.

Wilson is aloof, arrogant, a power-player who prefers to stay behind the scenes and in the Speaker's chambers.

Washington has picked up the banner for welfare mothers and kids, AIDS victims, the hungry and the homeless. He is an unabashed, unapologetic liberal of the old mold.

Wilson supports casino gambling, lotteries, and sponsored a bill allowing private citizens to carry concealed handguns on the street. He fights fiercely for his district's share of the state funds.

In any case, Wilson and Washington are locked in a political battle now in a field that includes six others.

Other Highlights

• The superconducting supercollider cleared its last major hurdle when House and Senate conferees approved $225 million for the Texas atom smasher.

• Comptroller Bob Bullock's office sold $2,000 worth of drug tax stamps the first week of a new law requiring drug dealers to put silver stickers on their illicit goods.

• The U.S. government must pay nearly $2.3 million to the family of a Fort Hood woman who died after Army doctors failed to treat a thyroid ailment, U.S. District Judge James Nowlin has ruled.

Bishop John J. Cassata dies in Houston

BISHOP JOHN J. CASSATA

Retired Bishop John J. Cassata, first bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Fort Worth, died Sept. 8 at St. Luke's Hospital in Houston following surgery one month ago. He was 80.

Bishop Cassata came to North Texas in June 1968 as an auxiliary to Bishop Thomas K. Gorman of the Catholic Diocese of Dallas-Fort Worth. On Aug. 22, 1969, Bishop Cassata was named first bishop of the newly established Catholic Diocese of Fort Worth. He retired in 1980.

The Office for the Dead was recited at 5 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 13, followed by a vigil service and Rosary at 7 p.m. A concelebrated Mass of Christian Burial was offered at 11 a.m. Thursday at St. Patrick's Cathedral in Fort Worth. Bishop Joseph P. Delaney, bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Fort Worth, was the principal celebrant and homilist.

Additional vigil and rosary services will be held today, Sept. 15, at Sacred Heart Co-Cathedral in Houston. On Saturday, Sept. 16, a Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated there.

Interment will be in Garden of Gethsemani. Active pall bearers will be permanent deacons ordained by Bishop Cassata. Honorary pall bearers will be Knights and Ladies of the Southern Lieutenantcy of the Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem.

John J. Cassata was born in 1908 in Galveston. He attended St. Mary's Cathedral Parochial School on Galveston Island and St. Mary's Boarding School in La Porte, a school operated by priests of the Catholic Diocese of Galveston-Houston. He then attended St. Mary's Seminary in La Porte and later studied at North American College in Rome at the Propaganda de Fide College and the Gregorian University.

He was ordained to the priesthood for the Catholic Diocese of Galveston-Houston by Francisco Cardinal Marchetti-Salvagiani on Dec. 8, 1932, in the chapel of the North American College. He returned to Texas and began his assignment at Holy Name Parish in Houston in 1934.

first session of the Second Vatican Council as diocesan procurator for the Galveston-Houston Catholic Diocese.

He described himself as a moderate, "retaining the best of the old and accepting the best of the new." He seemed particularly pleased with the change to Mass in the vernacular, saying that Mass in the local language "gives people a more intimate part in the Liturgy. And this is most important if we are to come to an intimacy with Christ."

On March 20, 1968, Archbishop Luigi Raimondi, apostolic delegate to the United States, announced the appointment of John J. Cassata to auxiliary bishop for Bishop Thomas K. Gorman of Dallas-Fort Worth and titular bishop of Bida by Pope Paul VI. He was consecrated June 5, 1968 by Bishop Gorman at St. Michael's in Houston.

When the Catholic Diocese of Dallas-Fort Worth was split August 22, 1969, Bishop Cassata was installed as the first bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Fort Worth on Oct. 21, 1969, by Archbishop Luigi Raimondi at St. Patrick's Cathedral.

The years under Bishop Cassata's leadership were years of growth for the Catholic Diocese of Fort Worth. Twelve new parishes were erected and for the first time, none of the 28 counties in the diocese was without a regular Sunday obligation Mass. The Catholic population grew from 67,690 in 1969 to 93,500 in 1981.

During these years Bishop Cassata advocated more lay involvement in the church and promoted vocations. He felt strongly about the need for Catholic education and established the Catholic Education Center to provide for the educational needs of the diocese. In order to assure stability and quality in the Catholic schools, a diocesan Catholic School System exists rather than independent schools.

Bishop Cassata also served as grand prior of the Southern Lieutenantcy of the Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem from October of 1968 until November of 1984. The order is one of the most ancient of the world's orders of chivalry and enjoys the special recognition of the Holy See. As grand prior, Bishop Cassata served as spiritual guide and moderator and invested new members into the order.

Bishop John J. Cassata resigned as bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Fort Worth on Sept. 16, 1980 due to his age and declining health, but served as apostolic administrator of the Catholic Diocese of Fort Worth until Bishop Joseph P. Delaney was installed Sept. 13, 1981.

Survivors include a brother, Baldwin Cassata, and his wife, Pauline; sisters, Katherine Culotta, Pauline and her husband, John Dazzo, Mary Saladina, Theresa and her husband Vincent Masuchia; a sister-in-law, Lia Cassata, wife of his late brother Philip; and nephews and nieces.

Bright attends convention

Juanita Bright attended the German-Texan Heritage Society's 11th Annual convention in San Antonio this past week-end. Communities throughout Texas and Oklahoma with German heritage were represented. Ideas and information on genealogy and preservation of delicate historical artifacts and architectural preservation were shared.

Slide shows of preservation projects were presented and discussions held on ways communities might preserve and encourage their German heritage, most especially their historic artifacts.

The speakers were very knowledgeable and were from the Texas Historic Society, Texas Cultures Institute and from San Antonio's German-Texan Historic Society.

When asked what people in the United States could do for the poor in South America, he replied, "You can't just give them something because they won't really appreciate it. The thing is to get them interested in helping themselves."

Father Bonaventure will return to Brazil

His lively step and youthful appearance belie Father Bonaventure Koelzer's age of 77. The years have been well spent as he has served his order, the Franciscan Friars of the Atonement, in many capacities.

FATHER BONAVENTURE

Presently, Fr. Bonaventure is semi-retired and residing at the Franciscan monastery, Graymoor, in Garrison, New York.

Born to John and Mary Huls Koelzer in Muenster on March 18, 1912, he was named Louis. He spent the first 12 years of his life in Muenster.

John and Mary Koelzer moved to Hereford in the spring of 1924. Fr. Bonaventure recalls that it was a very cold day, almost wintry, as a northeasterly was blowing.

The family traveled in a Ford car with just curtains covering the windows. Among the possessions young Louis took with him was a stash of rocks. He enjoyed using his slingshot and feared that there would be no rocks in the flat deep soil of Hereford.

It was in Hereford that he was impressed by the priests and sisters and decided that he might wish to become a priest.

At the age of about 14, he went to Graymoor in New York. Louis Koelzer was ordained Rev. Bonaventure, S.A., on Jan. 13, 1938.

During his priesthood, he spent time in Rome, Italy serving on the Consulate.

In all, Fr. Bonaventure served 18 years on the General Council of his Franciscan order. After the first six years on the council, he served as vicar general for six years and General (head of the order) for six years.

After these 17 years on the General Council, he resigned his position to become a missionary in Brazil. Fr. Bonaventure spent many years there.

When he first went to Brazil, the friars cared for three counties, but eventually had to let some go because there weren't enough missionaries. Then he helped mostly with one parish.

From the first time he visited Brazil, Father knew he wanted to do something for the poor. He decided to help with a housing project. He helped to build more than 200 prefab houses for the poor. These houses had wooden sides, cement floors and tile roofs. "They are small compared to homes in this country," said Fr. Bonaventure, "but to the poor in Brazil who were used to living in small shanties, they were like palaces."

When asked what people in the United States could do for the poor in South America, he replied, "You can't just give them something because they won't really appreciate it. The thing is to get them interested in helping themselves."

An example he gave was that people wanting to acquire a prefab home were required to take a course in hygiene before being put on the list to have a home built. The course is taught by the local sisters. If the people didn't take the hygiene course, he said, "Their house would be like a pigpen within a couple of weeks."

With the course, their family life is much improved. "Many women who took the course from the sisters and follow it, came back in several months and said that their children didn't have to go to the doctor so much and they didn't have to buy a lot of medicine. They are very healthy," Father proudly stated.

Father Bonaventure was brought back to the United States a little over a year ago. The unsettled political situation in South America made it dangerous for the religious who were working there.

Since then, Fr. Bonaventure has spent much of his time at Graymoor. He enjoys playing cards and dominoes and can entertain listeners for hours with his stories, many of them so humorous that they have caused many aching sides.

Not being content to stay idle for long, Fr. Bonaventure has requested permission to return to Brazil. He is scheduled to depart in September and will spend three months driving the Bishop to various places as he makes confirmation trips. "The Bishop has a heart condition and should not drive himself," states Father. With a gleam in his eyes, he adds, "Since I have no heart, I do not have to worry about a heart condition."

There are no definite future plans on Fr. Bonaventure's agenda. After returning from Brazil, he hopes to remain active since he is still blessed with good health. He definitely believes in people, the religious, especially staying productive as long as they have good health and he feels he can still contribute to his chosen profession.

Silver anniversary celebrated Aug. 19

MR. and MRS. HANK WALTERSCHEID
... on their wedding day, Aug. 15, 1964...

Celebrating twenty-five years of marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Walterscheid observed the silver anniversary of that date with a Mass of Thanksgiving in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, Aug. 19, at 5 p.m.

Joining in the celebration were their children, Nancy Sicking, Rita Walterscheid and Donna Walterscheid, all of Muenster; also Dale Walterscheid, Barbie Barnhill, and Nick Walterscheid, all of Muenster, and Neil Walterscheid of Pilot Point; also Steve Fette and Debbie Endres, both of Muenster, and Candace Riggs of Lancaster and their spouses and children. There are 16 grandchildren.

Celebrant of the special anniversary Mass was a missionary from Brazil, who recognized the honor couple, and all of their relatives present, at the beginning of the Liturgical service.

Music ministers for the anniversary Mass were Emily Klement, Pam and David Fette and David Nystrom. Liturgical songs were presented and "Edelweiss" was particularly dedicated to the honor couple.

The honor couple was surrounded by their children and spouses, grandchildren, brothers, sisters and other relatives and many friends at Mass. They then hosted a reception, dinner and dance in the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Donna Walterscheid presided at the guest book, registering 85 guests.

Rohmer's Restaurant catered the dinner.

The three-tiered white anniversary cake was made by Carolyn Bayer, and was decorated with pink flowers and silver leaves. Pink carnations, silver bows and white candles decorated the anniversary table. Guest tables had carnation centerpieces flanked by lighted pink candles.

The anniversary cake was cut by Candace Riggs and Debbie Endres. Grandchildren Kerri and Tricia Endres, and Amy, Becky and Polly Fette, and Dee Dee Walterscheid were cake servers.

Following dinner, guests danced to disco music by Marty Bartlett of Haltom City.

Out-of-town guests included Candace Riggs and son Steven of Lancaster; Neil and Karen Walterscheid and children, Shannon and Chase, of Pilot Point; and relatives and friends from Whitesboro, Lindsay and Wichita Falls.

After dinner, in conversation with their guests, Louise and Hank Walterscheid recalled their wedding day Aug. 15, 1964 in St. Peter's Church of Lindsay with Father John Walbe officiating.

"It was a typical, bright, sunny day in August when Hank and I were married," recalled Louise Walterscheid. "We went to Galveston for our wedding trip, and there the weather was very hot and humid. When we returned to Muenster, we found the weather had changed and the area had been enjoying an unusual cool front all week."

She is the former Louise Hermes of Lindsay, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Hermes and the late Joe Hermes. He is the son of the late John and Catherine Walterscheid.

Attendants at their wedding were Hank's daughter, Candace (Fette) Riggs and Louise's brother, Alfred (Fritz) Hermes.

Louise's bridal dress was a three-piece ecru lace ensemble with a white orchid corsage.

The original wedding cake was made by Mickey Spaeth. The reception following the Nuptial Mass was held in the Lindsay Parish Hall for about 75 guests.

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 102 proposes a constitutional amendment that would increase the salary of members of the legislature to one-fourth of the Governor's salary and increase the salary of the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House of Representatives to one-half of the Governor's salary. The annual salary of members of the legislature, the Lieutenant Governor, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives is currently $7,200. Under this provision, the annual salary of the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker would be $46,716, and the annual salary of members of the legislature would be $23,358, based on the Governor's current annual salary of $93,432. The increase for the Speaker and the members of the legislature would take effect when the legislature convenes for its regular session in January 1991. The increase for the Lieutenant Governor would take effect when the term of that office begins in 1991. The salary increase for the Lieutenant Governor would not make members of the legislature ineligible to run for the office of Lieutenant Governor.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to limit the salary of the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house of representatives to not more than one-half of the governor's salary and to limit the salary of a member of the legislature to not more than one-fourth of the governor's salary."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue an additional $500 million of Texas water development bonds. The additional bonds are to be used as follows: $250 million of the bonds are to be used for water supply loans and facilities acquisition; $200 million of the bonds are to be used for water quality enhancement projects; and $50 million of the bonds are to be used for flood control. The legislature may provide that $100 million be used for subsidized loans and grants to economically distressed areas of the state for water and wastewater facilities.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to authorize the issuance of an additional $500 million of Texas water development bonds for water supply, water quality, and flood control purposes."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 51 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to provide for the issuance of general obligation bonds to provide money to establish a Texas agricultural fund, a rural microenterprise development fund, a Texas product development fund, and a Texas small business incubator fund in the state treasury. The Texas agricultural fund would be used to provide financial assistance to develop, increase, improve, or expand the production, processing, marketing, or export of crops or products grown or produced in Texas by Texas agricultural businesses. The Texas product development fund would be used to stimulate the creation and expansion of small businesses in rural areas. The Texas small business incubator fund would be used to aid in the development and production of new or improved products in this state. The Texas small business incubator fund would be used to stimulate the development of small businesses in the State.

The principal amount of bonds outstanding at one time could not exceed $25 million for the Texas agricultural fund and $5 million for the rural microenterprise development fund. The financial assistance offered by both funds could include loan guarantees, insurance, coinsurance, loans, and indirect loans or purchases or acceptances of assignments of loans or other obligations. To carry out the Texas product development fund, the legislature could authorize loans, loan guarantees, and equity investments, and the issuance of up to $25 million of general obligation bonds for initial funding. To carry out the Texas small business incubator fund and grants of money, and the issuance of up to $20 million of general obligation bonds for initial funding.

Bonds authorized under this amendment would be paid out of the first money coming into the treasury in each fiscal year that is not otherwise appropriated by the constitution, less any amount in any interest and sinking account at the end of the preceding fiscal year that is pledged to payment of the bonds or interest.

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 11 proposes a constitutional amendment that would provide an exemption from ad valorem taxation for goods, wares, merchandise, other tangible personal property (including aircraft), and ores (other than oil, gas, and petroleum products) if the property is acquired in or imported into the state and is destined to be forwarded out of the state, regardless of whether the intention to forward the property existed when the property was acquired or imported into the state, if it remains in Texas for 175 days or less for assembly, storage, manufacture, processing, or fabrication. The proposed amendment would authorize the governing body of a county, municipality, school district, or junior college district to prevent the exemption of this tangible personal property from taxation by taking official action before April 1, 1990. In addition, each elected and appointed officer would be required to sign a sworn statement that he or she had not paid, offered, or promised anything of value for a vote or to secure appointment to an office, as applicable. The written, sworn statement would be filed with the secretary of state. The information in the statement is currently contained in the oaths of office taken by elected and appointed officials.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to require that a member of the legislature, the secretary of state, and an elected or appointed officer, before assuming office, sign a written oath stating that the member, the secretary of state, or the officer did not engage in bribery to obtain the office."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 24 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to authorize the issuance of up to $400 million in general obligation bonds. The proceeds of the bonds could be used to acquire, construct, or equip new corrections institutions, mental health and mental retardation institutions, youth corrections institutions, and statewide law enforcement facilities, and to repair and renovate existing facilities of those institutions. The bonds would constitute a general obligation of the state. PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to enact laws requiring or permitting judges to advise juries that a defendant convicted of a criminal offense can receive credit for good conduct that results in a shorter prison term and that eligibility for parole or mandatory supervision can also affect the length of time a convicted criminal serves in prison.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to require or permit courts to inform juries about the effect of good conduct time and eligibility for parole or mandatory supervision on the period of incarceration served by a defendant convicted of a criminal offense."

If the permanent school fund were required to make payment as a result of its guarantee of bonds issued by the state, the fund would have to be reimbursed immediately from the state treasury. The amount of bonds guaranteed by the permanent school fund could not exceed $750 million unless a higher amount was authorized by a two-thirds vote of both houses of the legislature. If a school district were to become delinquent on a loan, the amount of the delinquency would be offset against other aid to which the district was entitled.

The form, terms, and denominations of the bonds would be prescribed by law. The interest rate and installments would be prescribed by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board or its successor. The maximum net effective interest rate would be set by law. Proceeds from the sale of the bonds would be credited to the Texas opportunity plan fund, which is used to make loans to students to attend institutions of higher education in Texas. The bonds and interest on the bonds would be payable from the first money coming into the treasury in each fiscal year that is not already appropriated by the constitution, less the amount remaining in the sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year.

Münster postcard mailed here

While rummaging through boxes of old papers and other personal effects in the attic of a relative, Theresa Gold discovered a letter written to one of her Hoelscher relatives from Jo Wiesman on or about March 1, 1890.

Mrs. Gold didn't think much more about the letter until she met Sr. Ann Theodore Wiesman at Our Lady of the Lake Convent. As the two discussed Muenster's approaching centennial, Mrs. Gold suddenly realized that the letter in her possession was connected to Muenster, Texas.

A copy of the letter was sent to the Muenster Centennial Committee and now appears in Muenster's Centennial History Book.

Recently Mrs. Gold was visiting in Olfen, Germany, the homeland of the Hoelscher family, during the town's 1100th anniversary celebration. She thought of Muenster, Texas and its centennial celebration and graciously mailed a beautiful postcard from Munster in Westfalen. The card was post-marked Aug. 22, 1899, Munster.

Theresa Gold is a native Texan and genealogy editor of the German-Texan Heritage Society.

Former Baptist pastor is visiting in Muenster

Tom Hall, his wife Joy and children, Lauren, Micah and Elijah, will be visiting in Muenster most of today, Friday. Tom was pastor at Muenster's First Baptist Church before Steve Pearson. The new church expansion was accomplished during his service.

The Halls will make headquarters at the home of Chris and Jan Cain Friday. The Cains invite any old friends to come by for a visit.

Summer reading ends

Creature Features was the theme of the 1989 Summer Reading Club sponsored jointly by the Texas State Library and the Muenster Public Library.

Each participant received a colorful booklet to record their required reading selections of 10 books on their grade level.

Upon completion each participant received a certificate from the Texas State Library and a coupon for an ice cream cone from the DI One Stop.

Certificates and coupons are available at the Muenster Public Library for anyone who has completed their booklets, but have not yet brought them in.

Muenster Garden Club plans future activities

Mrs. Loretta Palmer of Saint Jo, speaking on orchids and African violets, was the highlight of the Muenster Garden Club meeting Friday, Sept. 8.

Mrs. Palmer demonstrated starting violets from leaves in vermiculite; dividing plants and repotting. She stressed care in disease control, disinfecting utensils and separating new plants. Violets cannot take drafts while orchids need air movement around them, she explained.

Marcy Wilde was hostess for this first meeting of the new season. Business meeting was conducted by new president, Eileen Luke. Plans were made for a garage sale October 7 at the Miller home to raise money for the years activities.

The October meeting will be a tour to Cedarvale Botanic Gardens in Oklahoma. Members will meet at the Miller residence at 8:45 a.m. October 13.

MRS. FLOYD ARNOLD HAVERKAMP
...nee Penni Marie Hess...

Haverkamps honeymoon in New Mexico and Arizona

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Haverkamp are on a wedding trip to New Mexico and Arizona and, when they return, will reside in Muenster.

They were married Saturday, Sept. 9, in a double ring ceremony and Nuptial Mass in Sacred Heart Church, celebrated by Father Victor Gillespie at 5 p.m.

The bride is the former Penni Marie Hess, daughter of Gerald and Monica Hess of Muenster. The groom is the son of Dan Haverkamp of Muenster and Mrs. Patricia Flores of Wichita Falls.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride was wearing a gown of white satin and re-embroidered Alencon lace, designed by Bonny. Fashioned with a deep V-neckline, the gown featured a moulded bodice adorned with Alencon lace, bridal pearls and sequins. Elizabethan sleeves of self-fabric ruffles and English net were applied with imported French re-embroidered lace and accented with bridal pearls and sequins.

From the elongated waist, the slipper-length straight satin gown was enhanced with motifs of lace, pearls and sequins. The detachable train was encircled with re-embroidered Alencon lace and self-fabric ruffles.

To complement her gown, she wore a fingertip-length veil of illusion which was softly gathered and attached to a wreath of white silk flowers and delicate scalloped strands of pearls.

For sentiment, she carried her mother's rosary as "something old," and wore pearl earrings and necklace "borrowed" from her aunt, Debbie Hess.

Her bridal bouquet consisted of midnight blue and white silk flowers, with sprays of silver beads and ribbon.

ATTENDANTS

Laura Hess of Dallas was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Connie Klement of Muenster, a friend of the couple, Mindy Klement of Denton, bride's cousin, and Vicki Fisher of Muenster, groom's sister. They wore identical gowns of midnight blue taffeta designed by Alfred Angelo with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, on-or-off shoulder sleeves accented with rhinestones. From the elongated waistline, the straight taffeta slipper-length skirt was encircled with a peplum which dropped in the back and was held with a bow accented with rhinestones.

They carried flowers of light and dark blue silk, with sprays of iridescents and baby's breath backed with a fan of silk palms and ferns.

The flower girl was Courtney Haverkamp, daughter of the groom. Ring bearer was Shawn Hess, bride's nephew.

John Hartman of Muenster, groom's cousin, was best man. Doug Hermes, a friend of the couple, Kevin Haverkamp, groom's brother, and Ryan Hess, bride's brother, all of Muenster, were groomsmen.

Ushers were Glenn Hess, bride's brother, Billy Haverkamp, groom's brother, Kevin Klement, a friend, all of Muenster, and Phil Wolf, a friend, of Denton.

Mass servers were Jason Hess, bride's cousin, and Neil Berres.

Heart-shaped floor candelabras marked the altar space and bows in the bride's chosen colors marked center-aisle pews.

Ruth Felderhoff was organist and Christy Hesse was vocalist, joined in some selections for duets with Mrs. Felderhoff.

Organ solos included "Hymne" by Vangelis, "Chariots of Fire" by Vangelis, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach. Vocal solos and duets featured "Endless Love," "If," "The Rose," "Bridal Prayer," "You Are The Wind Beneath My Wings," "Come Journey With Me," "May Your Lives Be Blessed" and "Ave Maria."

RECEPTION

A reception, dinner and dance followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center.

Decorations were in the bride's colors of white, midnight blue and silver.

Terri Whitley, a friend, and Leslie Hess, bride's cousin, presided at the guest book, registering about 450 guests.

The wedding cake was made by Betty Rose Walterscheid. Cake servers were Sally and Maggie Fisher, groom's nieces, and Nicole and Shauna Endres and Denise Russell, bride's cousins.

The rehearsal dinner was held at The Center Restaurant on Sept. 3.

The bride is a 1986 graduate of Muenster High School and is employed by Otts Furniture in Gainesville. The groom attended Sacred Heart High School and is employed by Cooke County Electric Co-op.

Franciscans make plans

The Secular Fraternity of the Third Order of St. Francis in Sacred Heart Parish announced a special liturgy for the October meeting in Sacred Heart Church, which will honor the patron saint. During the meeting on Sunday, Sept. 10, Mrs. Marie Henschel distributed copies of the Franciscan Forum to members, detailing the special liturgy. A social hour will follow the church service and will be held in the home of Caroline and Frank Schilling.

The fraternity will also have a Mass offered in honor of St. Francis for the living and deceased members of the Third Order.

During the September meeting the Divine Office was prayed. Mrs. Ida Mae Herr read minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Betty Yosten submitted a treasurer's report.

Marie Henschel read letters from the fraternity's two adopted families in India, who never fail to express their gratitude for the monetary help sent to them each month. Both letters also described the monsoon season they are experiencing now.

The local Third Order has assumed one more charitable project. Father Tom Gardner, who for several years carried on the Visitations, has been promoted by the Franciscan Union, and is in charge of seeking financial aid for the poorest of the poor in Africa.

The local Third Order will now send him a monetary gift each month for his work near Zaire in Africa.

Marie Henschel also read a communication reminding members of their October gift. The meeting closed with the Peace Prayer.

WHAT SITS OUT BACK, RUNS SUMMER AND WINTER, AND SAVES YOU MONEY?

A heat pump. And there are three good reasons you should get one.

A HEAT PUMP COOLS, HEATS AND SAVES.

Replace your old air conditioner with a new electric heat pump. It's a high efficiency air conditioner in summer. While, in the winter, it's the most energy efficient heating system you can own. On even the coldest days, a heat pump system operates efficiently and will provide all the warmth you need.

A HEAT PUMP CAN SAVE $130 A YEAR.

Compared to a gas furnace, a heat pump is more energy efficient. And TU Electric's low rates make heating and cooling your home with a heat pump an even better value. Tests have shown you can save $130 or more a year by installing a heat pump.*

GET MORE INFORMATION.

You can find out more about the amazing heat pump, including details on rebates, from your local heat pump dealer.

TU ELECTRIC
A Commitment To Service

*Typical costs based on 1,658 sq. ft. home, comparing 9.0 SEER heat pump to 9.0 SEER air conditioning unit with a gas furnace, using TU Electric rates. ($0.0385/kWh winter electric rate, $0.063/kWh summer electric rate.)

Her ivory silk illusion veil was attached to a matching headpiece of Alencon lace florets, pearls and sequins.

Her trailing bouquet of bridal flowers included orchids, roses, stephanotis, eucalyptus leaves and delicate pearl sprays. Tucked into the bridal bouquet was a crocheted handkerchief from the bride's paternal grandmother, Armella Lutkenhaus, and a crystal rosary from the bride's aunt, Doris Muller.

Era defeats Tigers

The Era Hornets took advantage of Sacred Heart's weak line and scored four first-half touchdowns and limited the Tigers to five yards total offense enroute to a lopsided season opening.

In the onslaught Carlos Rodriguez and Chris Massengale each returned kicks for two touchdowns to give Era a 53-0 victory.

In a sloppy first half for the Tigers, Era got on the board with their first possession. Sacred Heart picked up a first down after receiving the opening kick-off, but gave the ball to Era. In five plays, Era moved the ball 61 yards, the final 13 yards run by Rodriguez. The series was topped by an extra point kick to take a 7-0 lead with 6:36 remaining in the first quarter.

The Tigers couldn't move the ball on their second possession, turning the ball over to the Hornets. The defense held, forcing Era into a field goal attempt. Sean Terry booted the ball 39 yards to give the home team a 10-0 advantage.

Era added insult to injury, after holding the Tigers inside their 20-yard line, Larry Switzer punted for 30 yards, only to have Chris Massengale return the ball 45 yards for another touchdown. The extra point gave Era a 17-0 lead going into the 2nd quarter.

The Tigers started the quarter at their 17-yard line. Quarterback Shawn Dangelmayr passed to Larry Switzer to pick up 13 yards and a second 1st down. The next drive was unsuccessful and Era took possession on the Tigers' 43-yard line. Five plays later, Era increased the lead 24-0 after an 11-yard run by Rodriguez.

The Tigers again were held without a 10-yard gain. Era took over and, two plays later, running back Cy Binder ran 51 yards to finish the half with a 30-0 lead.

The Tigers took possession when play resumed, but were held with a 12-yard loss, giving Era the ball inside the Tigers' 20-yard line. A touchdown pass from Sean Terry to Massengale was called back on a holding penalty, but two plays later, Rodriguez circled around the right and Terry's kick made the score 37-0.

Again, the Tigers took over on their 20-yard line, but, on the second play, Hornet lineman Jay Tamplin intercepted a pass on the 3-yard line and Terry's extra kick gave Era a 44-0 lead.

The ball zigzagged between the two teams into and throughout the 4th quarter when, with only 52 seconds remaining in the game, the Tigers were caught in their endzone for a safety, the score 46-0.

The Tigers booted the ball to Rodriguez who returned it for a 50-yard touchdown with only 37 seconds remaining. Terry's kick gave Era a winning score of 53-0.

The Tigers did pick up their final first down before time ran out.

When Coach John Sims was asked about the game, he stated, "We just didn't play well as a team - I can't explain it." He did point out Ryan Hess and freshmen Werner Becker and Larry Switzer as playing real well. "The boys stayed after them (Era) the whole game, we never laid down."

Coach Sims blames inexperience as the main problem. "David (Rohmer) and Randy (Miller) were the only two experienced players on the field. We have a bunch of sophomores and freshmen who are inexperienced and small," said the coach.

Era's Massengale gained 73 yards in 8 carries with Binder rushing twice for 59 yards. The Hornets had a total of 188 yards rushing compared to Sacred Heart's 8. The Tigers gained 13 yards with a pass to Switzer, Era's passing yards totaled 55. Sacred Heart earned 3 first downs compared to the Hornets' 11 and threw one interception. There were no fumbles lost. The Tigers had only two penalties for 10 yards while Era had 75 marked off against them.

"Era had a heck of a ball club without their new quarterback; he was super, a terrific runner and played good defense," said Coach Sims. "He was the piece of the puzzle that makes Era a fantastic ball club."

Sacred Heart will travel to Windthorst this Friday to take on the Trojans with game time at 8 p.m. The Tigers lost an exciting match last season 26-20. Both teams will be trying for their first win of the season, Windthorst lost 23-0 to Archer City last Friday.

Windthorst will be led by tailback J.T. Hoffman and Steve Zotz who had 100 tackles last season.

"Windthorst is big and tough, but not as talented as Era," said Coach Sims. "We can play with them if we play very, very well - it's going to be a tough game."

"We've had the best workout this week," said Coach Sims. "They (Tigers) were slapped in the face, but now they'll bounce back. I'm very pleased with their attitude."

It's time for football Felderhoff is champ!

by Dave Rohmer
It is time once again for football season. The Tigers have been practicing hard for five weeks and are ready to go. Head Coach John Sims is back and looking forward to a good season despite the lack of size and definite lack of experience in several positions.

Practices have been going well with better than usual weather throughout two-a-days. Mike Stoffels and Monte Endres are working with the line and linebackers, while Sims is taking care of the running backs and defensive backs.

The young Tigers are optimistic about the upcoming season. The four senior captains: Tony Grewing, Troy Berres, Randy Miller, and Dave Rohmer will try to lead the Tigers to a successful season in '89. Come out and show them your support!

Kenny Felderhoff is the 1989 winner in the Muenster Golf Association Championship Tournament which was held Sunday, Sept. 10 at the Nocona Municipal Golf Course. He and Kenny Hartman each shot 74, but Felderhoff took first place on score card play. Coach Jon LeBrasseur shot 75 for third place in the men's division.

In the ladies division Dorothy Endres shot 84 for first place. There was a two-way tie for second place as Lucille Hess and Shirley Grewing each shot 87.

In the handicap division the final score is figured on the basis of average scores for the year. In the men's handicap division Tim Schneider won first place. He shot 82 and his adjusted score was 64. Second place winner Kenny Hess shot 86 and third place winner Dan Hamric shot 81. The adjusted score for Hess and Hamric was 66.

Ladies handicap winners were Della Hellman, first place (shot 88, adjusted score 63); Carol Klement, second (shot 94, adjusted score 64); and third place Mary Lee Hennigan (shot 91, adjusted score 64).

Bertha Hamric and Kenny Hartman won trophies for the longest drive. Closest to the pin trophy winners were Shirley Grewing and Coach Jon LeBrasseur. The 1971 Jeep was unclaimed as no one scored a hole-in-one on the tough 165-yard 13th hole.

Trophies were awarded at the barbecue dinner held in the Muenster Park after the tournament. Dan Hamric was re-elected president of the Muenster Golf Association and Brian Herr and Dorothy Endres were elected tournament directors.

4-H Horse Club to have show Sept. 30

The Emerald Riders 4-H Horse Club of Cooke County will have a 4-H horse show on Saturday, September 30, 1989, at the Gainesville Riding Club Arena. This all-american show will be open to 4-H members (regular and prospective) and their families.

The horse show starts at 9:00 a.m. sharp, and will be judged by Craig Hough of Callisburg. The show will feature performance classes (English and Western), trail and reining, games classes (ride-a-buck and water glass), and speed events.

Pre-registration deadline is Wednesday, Sept. 27 at 5:00 p.m. Entry blanks and class schedules may be obtained at the County Extension Office. The pre-registration fee is $2.00 per class or $10.00 for the entire show. All entries received after the deadline will be $3.00 per class or $15.00 for the entire show. The entry booth will close at 8:00 a.m. the day of the show.

The race is on in football contest!

The Muenster Enterprise's Football Contest opened last week with 32 entries. Mickey Haverkamp, last year's big $100 winner, won top weekly honors, choosing 22 of the 26 games' winners correctly. Nick Stoffels finished second with 21 correct guesses. A three-way tie between Weldon Hermes, Neil Huchton and Duane Knabe came in third with 20 right.

Three entrants picked 19 correct and four picked 18. The lowest guess was 13 right, or 50 percent wrong.

The most missed game was UCLA's defeat to Tennessee; only one contestant, Darrell Herr, correctly picked the winner. Everyone knew Muenster would defeat Collinsville. Nineteen wrongly chose Pottsboro over Valley View while 15 thought Lindsay could win over Aubrey.

Eight fans wishes for an upset for Sacred Heart. The closest tiebreaker score was Darlene O'to's 0-42.

Sixteen contestants also missed Dallas over New Orleans.

The winners picked up their weekly cash prizes at Tony's Seed and Feed, last week's tiebreaker sponsor.

If you missed the first week of the contest, you are still eligible for the $100 grand prize. The lowest weekly score will be dropped on the final percentage figure.

Hornets stop Pirates in season opener

The Muenster Hornets rode a strong defense and a ball control offense to hand the Collinsville Pirates their first defeat, 21-3. In front of an excellent crowd, the home town bunch dominated the line of scrimmage to virtually squish the Pirate effort.

"We won the battle up front," cited Coach Bill Jump. "Offensively, Boydston, Hellman, Keith Vogel, Bierschenk, Hudspeth, Black and Culp blocked very well and allowed us to roll up 306 yards rushing." "McDaniel, Felderhoff and Colwell stepped in to continue the dominance," reported Jump. The Hornet backfield contributed heavily to the lopsided victory, especially James Hennigan who led all rushers with 105 yards. Mike Vogel was also a main cog in the offensive machinery as he added 90 yards on just 10 carries.

The Hornets' first score came with 5:43 left in the first quarter as Mike Vogel capped a 60-yard drive with a 22-yard blast up the middle. Brawner booted the PAT to make it 7-0. Following the kickoff, Collinsville was allowed only 3 plays and were then forced to punt. The "Big Red Offense" needed just 3 plays to cash in, the big play coming on a 30-yard strike to Donnie Boydston from quarterback Jerry Brawner.

The Pirates were never able to mount a serious threat in the first half. Three of their first four possessions were only 3 plays long. "The defense totally shut down their running game," said the Hornet mentor. The defense held Collinsville to only 49 yards on the ground the entire game. The leading stopper for the Hornets was middle linebacker Scott Vogel, with 11 stops. Jump cited several others for their fine defensive effort. Namely, tackle Brad McDaniel, defensive end Donnie Boydston and free safety Ryan Sicking. The half ended with the Hornets leading 15-0.

The Hornets opened the second half with a bang as they slammed their first possession to pay dirt. James Hennigan, senior tailback, scooted around the right side for the final 9 yards of a 64-yard drive behind an excellent block by Marshall Smith.

The Collinsville scoring drive came in the 4th quarter. The big play was a 40-yard pass play on a tipped ball. The defense stiffened, causing the drive to stall on the 16-yard line. Collinsville settled for a field goal and their only tally of the contest. Hornet subs played the rest of the way and performed extremely well. Darren Bindel provided a huge stop as he downed the Pirate quarterback in the open field to prevent a sure touchdown.

"We are very pleased with our first showing," said Jump. "The kids gave great effort." The coach continued, "We must continue to improve every week because the teams we play get tougher and tougher."

This week, the S&S Rams come to town, also sporting a 1-0 record. "S&S has some very fine players," said Jump. "We will have to turn it up a notch," he said. Join the Hornets for their second home game of the season at 8 p.m. Friday at Hornet Stadium.

Knights to face Indians in Nocona

The Knights stayed home last Friday night to take a 34-6 beating from Class A Aubrey Chaparrals.

Bad times started early for Lindsay, after a bad toss for a 23-yard loss of 4th down, Aubrey took over on the 24-yard line. On the Chaps' first play of the night, a 24-yard pass hit paydirt. With an extra point kick, Aubrey led 7-0 with 10:12 on the clock.

Lindsay picked up 21 yards on their second drive before punting the ball away at midfield on 4th down. But luck stuck the Knights when Lance Sandmann recovered a fumble on the Chaparrals' 46-yard line.

Two fine runs by John Hoenig and Patrick Corcoran and a pass interference gave the Knights a first and goal on the 2-yard line. But on third down on the 1-yard line, Lindsay fumbled the ball with 49 seconds remaining in the 1st quarter.

Aubrey continued their drive down the field and, after 11 plays, again scored, taking a 14-0 lead.

Bad luck hit the Knights on their next possession, after two downs, again fumbled the ball on their own 24-yard line. Aubrey's first play hit paydirt, but was called back on an illegal motion penalty. But seven plays later, the Chaps crossed over and upped the score 20-0.

The Knights couldn't move the ball in three plays and the Chaps took over at midfield after the punt. Aubrey moved to the 13-yard line when David Parsons picked off a Chaparral pass on the 20-yard line with 17 seconds remaining in the first half.

The Knights again fumbled back to their opponents, who attempted a field goal as time ran out. Halftime score was Aubrey 20, Lindsay 0.

The second half started bad for Lindsay as Aubrey picked off a moved into the fourth quarter where, on the first play, they passed for a 20-yard touchdown. The extra point run was good and Aubrey extended their lead 28-0.

The hard-luck Knights' next possession ended with a bad snap on the fourth down punt attempt, giving the visitors excellent field possession on the 13-yard line.

Then the highlight plays of the night happened for Lindsay. Joel Metzler recovered a loose ball on the Knights' 10-yard line, stopping the Chaps' threat. The next play, quarterback Scott Hermes passed to Chris Hanks for a 90-yard touchdown romp. The extra point was no good and Lindsay was on the scoreboard, 28-6, with 8:04 remaining.

But Aubrey struck again on their next possession. Five plays later, they added another 6 points, taking a 34-6 lead. Possession of the ball zigzagged the remainder of the game.

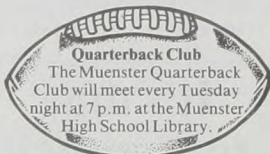

"We played OK," said Head Coach Pat Benton, "but we came up against a buzzsaw with Aubrey - they're bigger and stronger."

Aubrey outdid Lindsay in first downs 21-10, and yards rushing 288 yards in 39 carries to 122 in 30 carries. The Knights picked up 170 yards passing compared to their opponents' 126. Both teams had interceptions and three fumbles. The Knights were flagged only twice for 15 yards while Aubrey was hit for 116 yards.

Leading rusher for Lindsay was Jesse Barnes with 44 yards. Receivers were Hanks with 90 yards and Corcoran with 54. Brian Ramsey ran 175 yards for the Chaparrals.

"We had an excellent second half," said Coach Benton. "The first half we had the jitters - I hope we have that all worked out for Nocona."

"I hope to see an improvement offensively and defensively," con-

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Time to plant now!

by Craig Rosenbaum, County Extension Agent

Texans hold bluebonnets in the same exalted esteem as motherhood, the Texas flag and pecan pie. Recently, there has occurred a tremendous breakthrough in bluebonnet culture, one which has transformed our state flower from a sporadically germinating, difficult to grow wildflower with which many home gardeners had little success into a very reliable, easy to grow commercial bedding plant with which anyone can have consistent success. Join us now as we kick off a four-week series, a month-long celebration of the proper planting time and expanded use of our state flower.

To ensure success with bluebonnets, the time of year in which they are planted is extremely important. Many people wait until they see bluebonnet plants blooming in the spring to begin planting. It's too late to plant transplants in the spring; early fall is the optimum time. Plant chemically-scarified seed and transplants early (beginning in September) for larger plants and subsequently, more bloom. Root systems of seedlings and transplants established in early fall expand more and are able to produce larger plants when top growth and blooming begin in the spring. In fact, bluebonnets established now will be approximately twice as large and bloom twice as much as those plants not set out until spring. Chemically-scarified seed should be planted no later than Sept. 15 and transplants no later than Halloween in North Central Texas.

The ideal location for planting seeds or transplants can be described in a single word - SUN-

NY. Bluebonnets will not perform well if planted in the shade or in an area which receives less than 8 to 10 hours of direct sunlight. Grown in a shaded area, plants will be tall and spindly with few blooms.

Bluebonnets will thrive in any type of soil that is well drained. If you are plagued with a sticky clay, try building raised (6 inches or more) planting beds and amending the soil with 3 to 4 inches of organic matter (compost, tree leaves, spoiled hay, etc.). Keep the soil slightly moist. Once plants become established (2 or 3 weeks after planting), they are tough, drought-tolerant natives.

For years, wildflower lovers have planted bluebonnet seed only to wonder what happened to the beautiful spring bloom which they expected.

If common bluebonnet seed which has not been chemically treated (scarified) is used, one doesn't have much chance for success. Assuming you do everything correctly (pest control, optimum planting site and moisture), one could expect, at best, growth from 20 out of every 100 non-scarified seed. To compound the problem, all 20 seeds may not sprout simultaneously as sprouting may occur over a 30-day period.

When planting bluebonnet seed, forget the idea of just throwing or scattering the seed in the grass! Much bluebonnet seed has been wasted as bird feed using this scattering technique. The seed must be lightly covered or raked into the soil. In naturalized fields of bluebonnets, the seed is gradually covered by washing soil and defoliation of weeds and grass, but it is covered before it actually germinates.

Getting seed to germinate and plants to emerge from the soil is just the beginning. You must then protect emerging seedlings from the ravages of pillbugs and soil fungi.

Major enemies of seedlings and transplants are small, nocturnal menaces referred to as pillbugs, roly-polys, sowbugs, and several other less printable names. These hungry pests can devour plants overnight. Many times the devastating onslaught does not occur immediately after planting. To ensure seedling and transplant survival, broadcast pillbug bait around the newly established or emerging plants on a weekly basis during the first month after planting.

Damping-off, a fungal disease complex which causes stem rotting, is not as prevalent with tough-stemmed transplants as with tender, emerging seedlings. To minimize damping-off, avoid planting in beds with a history of this condition, use transplants rather than seed and do not over-water. As an alternative, treat the planting bed with metam-sodium (e.g. Vapam) at least 3 to 4 weeks before seeding or transplanting if damping-off fungi have been a problem. As always, read and follow all label directions.

To avoid possible problems with seed germination, use transplants instead. Transplants are much easier to handle and establish, and easier to space so that establishment in formal plantings is assured. Transplants, as well as chemically-scarified seed, of white and "Abbott Pink" bluebonnets are available to accentuate and complement the beauty of the more common blue variety.

When planting a bluebonnet transplant, do not plant it too deeply. All of the leaves arise from a central crown-like structure which should not be buried, or the plant will rot.

Most would-be bluebonnet growers kill plants with too much water. Bluebonnets actually are very drought-tolerant and as such are very susceptible to death from overwatering. So, water seeds only on the day of planting and transplants only when the soil is dry to a depth of one inch.

Bluebonnets form ground-hugging rosettes during early growth. The plant may be only a few inches tall but the leaves may cover an area the size of a dinner plate. This is a natural condition and regardless of how much one waters or fertilizes, the plant will not grow rapidly until the warmth of spring initiates flower stalks. It also is natural for the lower leaves to turn crimson after the first freeze.

Beneath the rosette of leaves, a large mass of roots is growing. These roots have the ability to form nodules which are filled with beneficial nitrogen-fixing bacteria that can take nitrogen from the atmosphere to feed the plant. Fertilization can thus be kept to a minimum. No additional fertilizer needs to be added to bluebonnet beds since most established planting beds have an abundance of plant nutrients remaining from fertilization of previous crops.

If extremely low temperatures are forecast, it would be wise to completely cover the bluebonnets with a loose blanket of straw, hay, tree leaves, etc. When temperatures moderate in a few days, pull the covering material back so as to again expose the plants to full sun.

To help you have maximum success with bluebonnets, specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service have written a special bluebonnet publication entitled "Texas Bluebonnets - Texas Pride" which tells all about the new bluebonnet colors, proper cultural techniques, how to achieve winter-long color through interplanting and little known facts in the fascinating history of Texas bluebonnets. Through the generosity of local nurserymen, this publication is available free of charge at participating nurseries and garden centers. Some also offer for sale buttons and T-shirts emblazoned with the newly-created and very beautiful bluebonnet logo commemorating this special event.

With the wonderful cooperation of wholesale growers and retail nurserymen, we now have, for the first time, widespread availability of bluebonnet transplants and chemically-scarified seed throughout North Central Texas. So, stop by and pick up your bluebonnet publication and your transplants or seed today. It's the Texan thing to do!

Cattlemen may be affected by several bills Congress will debate

The National Cattlemen's Association has identified several bills before Congress this fall that may have an effect on cattlemen. Excerpts follow:

- 1990 Farm Bill--Two conservation bills, S. 1063 by Lugar, R-Ind., and S. 970 by Fowler, D-Ga., promote low-input sustainable agriculture, expansion of the Conservation Reserve Program, wetlands protection and ground-water assistance. Expected to be included in a 1990 farm bill is water quality legislation. Other issues likely to shape the new farm bill debate include commodity price supports, rural development, FmHA credit, biotechnology, food safety, foreign assistance and export enhancement.
- 1990 Tax Bills--H.R. 3150, the Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1989 by Rostenkowski, D-Ill., raises revenue to help the federal government meet budget targets. Includes lowering capital gains tax rates, withholding taxes from ag workers' wages, and new requirements for employee fringe benefits.
- Futures Trading Improvements--H.R. 2869, the Commodity Futures Im-

- provement Act by English, D-Okla., makes CFTC permanent, strengthens trading rules, limits dual trading, and intensifies CFTC oversight of the futures industry.
- Farm Terrorist "Break-in" Law--S. 1330 by Helms, R-NC, would make it federal crime to break into, vandalize, remove animals, trespass or demonstrate intent to disrupt farming, ranching or ag research. Repts. Stenholm, D-Texas, and Madigan, R-Ill., may introduce similar legislation.
- Nutrition Monitoring--S. 253 by Bingaman, D-NM, requires government agencies to "speak with 1 voice" when issuing dietary advice. Both de la Garza, D-Texas, and Brown, D-Calif., have introduced similar bills.
- Child Nutrition Reauthorization Bill--S. 1484 and H.R. 24 provide 3-year extension of the Commodity Letters of Credit program allowing individual schools to buy commodities with credit vouchers. S. 1484 contains NCA amendment that includes red meat in the Women, Infants and Children federal assistance program.

- The American Heritage Trust Act of 1989--S. 370 by Chafee, R-RI, and H.R. 876 by Udall, D-Ariz., create massive new land trust automatically funneling $1 billion every year to federal, state and local governments, and nonprofit groups for land acquisition and outdoor recreation.
- Mandatory Fish Inspection--Several bills, including H.R. 1387, H.R. 2511 and S. 1245, amend the Federal Meat Inspection Act to include fish inspection, but also could affect other meat inspection programs.
- Beef for Commissaries--Amends National Defense Authorization Act to require that only US meat be sold in US commissaries overseas.

President Bush proclaims National Farm Safety Week

CHICAGO--President George Bush has proclaimed the week of September 17-23, 1989, as National Farm Safety Week, the 46th annual observance.

"Our farms lose nearly 3,000 lives and five billion dollars every year because of preventable accidents and fires," said T. C. Gilchrist, president of the Chicago-based National Safety Council, a primary sponsor of the week. "Though farming certainly has its hazards, those engaged in it can still prevent most accidental injuries, deaths and work-related illnesses with practical measures and safe, sensible work methods."

According to Council estimates, agricultural work accidents resulted in more than 1,500 deaths and 140,000 disabling injuries in 1988. The accidental death rate for agriculture was 48 per 100,000 workers, higher than any other major industry. The composite rate for all industries was nine per 100,000.

Several thousand farmers and farm workers also suffered work-related illnesses caused by excessive exposure to toxic gases, chemicals, dust, sun, noise and other farm health hazards. And, thousands more farm residents were seriously or fatally injured in home, highway and recreational accidents.

The nature of farming, itself is one of several reasons for these relatively high accidental death and injury rates, according to Jack Burke, agricultural safety specialist at the Council.

"Most people leave home and go to another location to work," explains Burke. "Their families are not exposed to the hazards of the workplace. But most farm families live on the work site, and everyone is exposed to its hazards, small children included."

Burke also points out that instead of the usual working ages of 16 to 65 in most industries, the ages of farm workers range from eight to 80, and older. Farm children begin helping with work at an early age, even operating machinery better suited to adults. And many individuals continue farming well past other industries' standard retirement age of 65. This is reflected in a high rate of accidental death and injury at both ends of the age spectrum.

Burke also cites other factors that contribute to farming's high death and injury rates, including harsh working conditions, long hours, lack of formal training and limited access to prompt emergency medical care.

"But in spite of these safety disadvantages, most farm injuries and illnesses can be prevented," adds Burke. "And usually, it costs nothing since the investment mainly consists of taking time to carefully read instruction manuals and labels and following safe work procedures. A farmer might have to spend a few extra dollars to repair a combine shield or buy a respirator, but that's a small amount compared to the cost of a serious injury or illness."

The National Safety Council suggests taking the following steps to make your farm safer and more productive:

- Be physically fit and ready for a safe day. Dress properly for each job, including the use of personal protective equipment (hard hat, safety shoes, respirator, protective goggles, etc.) if the job or conditions call for it. Take work breaks to stay alert.
- Be sure workers and family members are trained for the jobs they do. Recognize their abilities and limitations when assigning work. Keep children and non-workers off machinery and out of dangerous areas.
- Inspect all equipment and facilities periodically, making needed repairs and correcting hazards without delay.
