Dana and Jenny are top MHS graduates

Four years of dedication to academics, devoted participation in athletics, and involvement in school and community volunteer services have earned honors for cousins Dana Kay Wimmer and Jenny Lynn Wimmer at Muenster High School.

It is, however, the consistent high marks they maintained in their studies that earned the Valedictorian Award for Dana Wimmer and the Salutatorian Award for Jenny Wimmer. Dana's grade point average through four years of high school is 7.1409; Jenny's grade point average is 7.000; therefore only .04 of a point separates their grades.

DANA KAY WIMMER

Dana Kay is the daughter of Larry and Pat Wimmer. She plans to attend Texas Tech University, pursuing a major in biology and a minor in psychology in Tech's Pre-Med program; then enter a Texas Medical School to attain a doctorate in medicine. She commented: "I would eventually hope to practice medicine in a small Texas community."

She has received a $700 scholarship from Texas Tech. In high school this year she earned the Math award and was named Most Athletic Girl.

As a freshman, she was a class favorite; was nominated for Most Athletic Girl; competed in All-District basketball, placed first in district tennis and fourth in regional tennis; and was a member of the Muenster High School Band. As a sophomore she was a member of the National Honor Society and of the F.H.A. and was a delegate to the Regional F.H.A. Convention; she competed in District UIL Typewriting and was nominated for the business award; again nominated for the Most Athletic Girl Award, played first team All-District basketball, placed first in district tennis and third in regional tennis. As a junior she was a member of the National Honor Society, reporter to the Student Council and treasurer for the F.H.A.; she was a delegate to the State and Regional F.H.A. Conventions; competed in UIL

JENNY LYNN WIMMER

Jenny Lynn Wimmer is the daughter of Ray and Kaye Wimmer, and ranks second in her class of 32 seniors at Muenster High School. Her future plans include enrolling in Texas Tech Health Sciences Center School of Nursing. After obtaining a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing, and after gaining working experience in an ICU Unit, she will enter Anesthesia School. "My objective," she says "is to become a Nurse Anesthetist."

As a senior at MHS she was a Homecoming Queen candidate; she won the D.A.R. Good Citizen Award; was named consistently throughout four years on the High School Honor Roll lists; she received All-District basketball Honorable Mention twice; was named to the All-District Basketball Academic Team; won sixth place in State UIL Headline Writing competition. Among high school favorites she was voted Most Likely To Succeed; Most Talented. In Who's Who she was nominated for the Math, English, Home Economics (for four years) and for the Balfour Award. She was winner of the Government/Economics Award; and received the Best all-Around Girl Award. In Muenster High basketball she was named co-defensive Player of the Year.

Among extra-curricular activities, she competed in UIL Prose, Spelling, Number Sense and

Rates to increase again

by Elaine Schad

Cooke County Commissioners this week approved a $10 across-the-board increase in ambulance rates, the second rate increase in a year.

Effective immediately, rates for Advanced Life Support will average about $230 per run. Non-emergency will be $145 per run plus $3.50 per mile.

The rates are being raised so the ambulance service can request an increase in its Medicare reimbursement from the federal government, and in efforts to reduce the county subsidy paid to the ambulance service, said EMS Administrator Bobby Harbin.

The county has made efforts to revamp its ambulance service after the CCEMS suffered from large deficits last year. With the two rate increases this year and added Medicare reimbursements, the county may be able to reduce its subsidy from about $250,000 last year to around $90,000 estimated for fiscal 1990, Harbin said.

In other county news, Prec. 1

County Commissioner Kenneth Alexander reported the Prec. 1 county landfill is expected to reopen within the week after it has been closed due to backup of water from Ray Roberts Lake.

The water has not gone into the landfill itself, but is running across a creek along the only road into the landfill, Alexander said. The county has made arrangements for people to dump their garbage at the Gainesville city landfill until the southeastern Cooke County landfill located off Old Denton Road reopens, he said.

The county is still in the process of assessing damage from flooding in recent weeks. Alexander said there isn't too much major road damage in the county, but Cooke County has been declared a disaster area so that the City of Gainesville and county residents who have had damage will be eligible for disaster assistance. The county's damage estimate for damage to public roads should be completed soon, he said.

Sacred Heart prepares for RENEW

Sacred Heart Parish is actively preparing for RENEW. The entire Fort Worth Diocese has been invited to participate.

The RENEW program has been designed to involve the total parish, including inactive members. It is more than a renewal of individual persons. A parish renewal should create a spiritual climate through the parish community.

There will be five sessions, each with a different theme of Christian life; each session will consist of six weeks. During these periods, or "seasons," the parish will focus on the particular theme of the season during Sunday Mass; with printed materials for use at home by individuals and families; in large group gatherings at the parish; and in small groups of eight to twelve persons who meet to share discussions, read scriptures, and pray.

Besides spiritual growth, some of the goals of RENEW are to weave a bond of unity between all parishioners; involve people in parish activities other than Sunday Mass; and to personally invite those who feel that they are no longer a part of the church back into the parish community.

Sign up for RENEW will start during the first part of September. The first six week program will begin October 7.

A group of seven members of Sacred Heart parish attended an overnight training session on RENEW. These RENEW Parish Team leaders are called the "Core Group." They are Fr. Victor Gillespie; Roger and Janie Taylor, Parish Coordinators; Lorena Taylor; Jerry and Evelyn Sicking; and Barbara Fuhrmann.

The Core Group will be assisted by the members of ten task committees. These committees and their chairmen are Sunday Liturgy, Ruth Felderhoff; Prayer Network, Harold and Jeannine Flusche; Evaluation, Lillian Walterscheid; Publicity, Janet Felderhoff; Home Visitation, Juanita Bright; Telephone, Jane Monday; Sign-Up Sunday, Dorothy Fisher and Lucille Lutkenhaus; Small Group, Jerry and Evelyn Sicking; Large Group, Dennis and Kathy Hess; and Take Home, Loretta Felderhoff.

A group of suggested names for committee members has been given to each committee leader and they will soon be contacting these people to serve on their committees. "We put a lot of thought and prayer into the selection of people for the committee and hope that they will be willing to share their time and talents to help make RENEW in Sacred Heart Parish a success," said Roger Taylor.

Letters to the Editor

Special to Texas Weekly Newspapers
From Kelvie Muhlbauer, Daughter of GOP gubernatorial nominee Clayton Williams.

I've stood by long enough and listened to the liberals talk about my Dad's attitudes toward women. Yes, that's right, I'm Clayton Williams' daughter. And I believe I know more about his attitudes toward women than they do. I think a man's true attitude toward women is shown through his family relationships... mother, wife, sister, daughter. Ask my Grandmother and my Aunt about my Dad and they'll tell you how loving and generous he has been to them all of his life. Ask Modesta about him and she'll tell you how he has always encouraged her in all of her endeavors... from hunting big game to working in the business world.

Now, how did Clayton Williams raise a daughter in today's world? I'll tell you. From the time I was a small child he has encouraged me to do my best in many ways. While most men leave the females home when they go hunting, fishing, camping and working, he not only took us with him but also taught us to be good shots, to love and respect the outdoors, to clean our own game, to hike as far as any man and to be good sports. Not to mention teaching me about his business. Does that sound like a man with prehistoric ideas about women? No. He has always encouraged all of his children to "do something" with their lives... to find their niche. In my endeavors to find my place in life we tried a lot of things. (1) construction... he tried to teach me to drive a bulldozer with no luck. I helped him survey parts of the ranch with some success. (2) Cow work... it turned out that I'm not such a hot horsewoman since I stampeded a whole herd somehow. (3) Flight School... When I thought I might make a good pilot he paid for and encouraged me during the three lessons I took... airsick each time. Finally, after earning a Bachelor's Degree at the University of Texas (believe it or not) and working at a large Dallas bank for a while, I started work on an MBA in Finance. With his emotional and financial support I earned that degree in 1983. Now, here is a man who encourages his daughter in all her non-traditional pursuits, who teaches her the kinds of things most men-only teach their sons. And the liberals say he has a bad attitude towards women? Balderdash!

The women of Texas ought to wish they'd had a father like Clayton Williams. Here is a man who believes in equal rights and has put it in practice to boot.

Clayton Williams is a friend to people from all walks of life. I truly believe he will prove to be a historically great governor for all the people of Texas.

Thank you for letting me speak in support of my father.

Dear Editor,

The Greater Parker County Republican Women's Club, by vote of the membership at the May meeting, unanimously endorsed Kyle McCain for State Representative, District 63.

Contrary to rumors emanating from Austin, we do not support Ric Williamson for re-election. Those same rumors say that Mr. Williamson has recently intimidated Republican Legislators that he will switch parties. And, on November 24, 1989 he was quoted in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram as continuing to discuss a switch to the Republican Party. WE DO NOT BELIEVE, AND NEVER HAVE BELIEVED, THAT HE INTENDS TO SWITCH PARTIES.

In view of the fact that Mr. Williamson has had Ann Richards as a keynote speaker at two separate fund raisers and is currently serving on her Parker County steering committee, we do not believe that he would be comfortable as a Republican. Also, Mr. Williamson's support of a state income tax runs contrary to the opinion of a majority of voters in District 63.

We feel that we need a full-time Representative - not one who has dodged 201 roll calls, including a bill which failed by one vote, that would have made a murder of a child or senior citizen a capital offense.

We, the members of Greater Parker County Republican Women, fully endorse Kyle McCain for State Representative and encourage the voters of District 63 to do the same.

Sincerely,

Audrey VanFleur

Dear Editor:

I am writing to you and your readers about a most tragic circumstance needing their attention and understanding. Last week, the incendiary self-appointed consumer activist Ralph Nader attempted to mislead the general public on nationwide TV about the true costs of hearing health care and the professionals that make up the best aural rehabilitative delivery system in the world.

While decrying the inordinate cost of hearing aids he has caused much damage to an already hesitant hearing impaired population. Indeed, his twisted approach was that hearing instruments are consumer products requiring little care or rehabilitation while, in reality, they are regulated medical prosthetic devices requiring a great deal of training, skill, and time to bring about the maximum benefits to the user.

Moreover, one study several years ago reported that the actual cost of a hearing aid when delivered through government-supported programs cost over $2,000 each to the taxpayer. The cost via the private system? Less than a third with no taxes or supports involved.

Granted, there are a few unscrupulous dispensers who will over-charge, or just as bad, undercharge, for hearing aids, in which cases all they will likely have to offer is just hearing aids, nothing else. The truth is that it takes between 12-15 hours of the professional's time to complete the fitting process, which equates to less than $30 per hour to cover overhead, support staff, equipment, and community services, a bargain by any standard! Furthermore, the established dispenser can only handle about 15-20 new clients per month without additional support staff.

Albeit, the psychological, emotional, and social effects of hearing loss delay the sufferer's response to seeking care. The last thing we need now is heightened distrust and paranoia about the integrity of the dedicated and ever-improving professionals who are most able to assist them. Thank you for your consideration in relaying this vital message.

Rate set for semi-annual bonds at 7.01%

The semiannual market-based interest rate for United States Savings Bonds, in effect from May 1 through October 31, 1990, has been set at 7.01 percent, the Treasury Department announced recently.

Catalina V. Villalpando, Treasurer of the United States and National Director of the U.S. Savings Bonds program, called the new rate - nearly unchanged from the previous six month rate of 6.98 percent - "a reflection of the relatively stable nature of market activity during the past year. While little changed, the new rate will keep Savings Bonds in the competitive range with other market-sensitive instruments during the coming months."

Savings Bonds semiannual rates are changed each May 1 and November 1 to reflect market activity during the preceding six months. The new rate is 85 percent of the average market yield on five-year Treasury marketable securities between November 1, 1989, and April 30, 1990, 8.25 percent.

For Bonds held at least five years, yields at redemption are the average of semiannual market-based rates during the time held, compounded semiannually, or a minimum rate, whichever is greater. The current guaranteed minimum rate is six percent. EE Bonds held less than five years earn interest on a fixed, graduated scale.

GOLFERS ATTENTION

Most of you may already know a new area golf course is in the formative stage. The course, Turtle Hill Golf Course, a nine-hole facility has been completely planned, engineered and is now ready to be built. The course is located eight miles north of Muenster on the beautiful rolling ranch of Turtle Hill Beefmasters.

The initial construction would take about one year, with the additional nine holes to be built in the near future. The course layout has been inspected by many experts, golf course builders, irrigation experts, course managers and golfers. Everyone, without exception, has been very enthusiastic.

There is no doubt that the potential is there for a premier golf course. We know we can build the course at a reasonable price. We also know we can maintain the course in excellent condition. The question is, would a golf course in this area get the support that it would need to sustain the cost of upkeep and return on investment?

Naturally the fees must be competitive -- about $8.50 greens fee on weekend, yearly membership for single and family members, cart rentals or storage and a very ambitious youth program. We feel we would be comparable to other area facilities. But, would a local course get the play?

Certain local banks do not feel a local course can make a go of it. We're not sure. This is where we need your help. We need to know from your response and comments. Would a quality golf course in the local area get support?

We have investigated several ways to finance the initial cost of building outside of the banks, who were not enthusiastic. One such method is to offer advance memberships. Another suggestion is life-time memberships. And yet another method would be to solicit partners. All of these methods have advantages and disadvantages. The primary goal is to have an excellent golf course for all to enjoy. In the process, we do not intend to create a monster that will financially affect anyone.

What we need from you golfers and friends is your input, your support. Please take the time to drop us a note or call and express your opinion.

I would be happy to visit with genuinely interested people to discuss and tour the course. Please drop us a note or call.

Happy Birthday, Janie Hartman!

Public payphones can be a pain

by Alvin Fuhrman

Public payphones can cause mass confusion today when making a call. They come in many different methods of operation. Most of them look the same on the outside, but the similarity stops at the appearance. Some will take credit cards from only a certain long distance company such as MCI, AT&T or Sprint. Some have private telephone operators such as ITI. When using a private operator, you could receive a second bill for the same call if they must transfer you to a different long distance company. Ask about the charges before you talk on the call. Some payphones are completely automated, and you get a synthetic voice telling you, "That is not a valid number", when something is wrong. Some will not take the AT&T card, which we issue here in Muenster. Some want several dollars for a local call (such as the Baylor Hospital emergency room). With private payphones you never know what to expect till you use the phone. The reason payphones work so many different ways is that non-telephone company payphones are not regulated.

You ask, "what is the best way to avoid the confusion?" We believe your best chance is to use payphones provided by the telephone company of the area. In most cities they will be marked with their name or trademark. These phones will be the least confusing and will contain no hidden charges. Most telephone company payphones will have listed on the front which long distance company is presubscribed to handle calls from that payphone (carrier preference is determined by the premise owner). If no long distance company is listed, chances are that the carrier is still AT&T. If the payphone has ITI, MCI, etc. listed as the long distance company, you must dial a special access code to reach the AT&T network (10288), then dial 1 or 0 plus the number you want. MCI, Sprint, etc. have their own access codes. In Gainesville you must dial 00288 for the AT&T network if the phone is not presubscribed to AT&T. The industry plans to standardize on 10XXX,XXX being your long distance company access code.

Some time in the future all payphones will be required to provide access to all long distance companies. At the present, not all payphones will pass all long distance companies calls.

If you have had a bad experience with public payphones you may want to communicate directly with the Texas Public Utility Commission (TPUC) in Austin, Texas. They prefer all comments to be in writing. Their telephone numbers and address are in the information pages of the official Muenster Telephone directory. Give them the telephone number of the payphone and the name of the establishment where the phone is located. The TPUC is in the process now of writing new rules for payphones and welcome your comments.

Lindsay School District offers gifted and talented program

by Elaine Schad

The Lindsay School District has sent invitations to 26 students to participate in the district's new gifted and talented program, which begins this fall.

The new program extends through grade 12 and will provide a combination of programs at various grade levels, said Lindsay Counselor Tom Fluker. District teachers and officials have already had an orientation meeting with parents concerning the program and its contents, he said.

"It's kind of a team thing and is language arts oriented," said Fluker. "We're really not copying anybody, and I feel enthusiastic."

The 26 students asked to participate in the program were identified after a gifted and talented criteria was developed. The students represent about 5.1 percent of district enrollment. "We wanted to start at a minimal number just from a management viewpoint and because we wanted to start with a strong group of kids," said Fluker. Once the program is underway, and if there is a possibility for expansion, then more students may be invited to participate, he said.

Of the 26 students, 15 students in grades eight through 12 will be offered a special gifted and talented English class. The eighth graders will be taking the class with the high school, a course which will cover special problems and advanced reading. The course will replace their eighth-grade literature class. The subject will be an elective for the high school students, but Fluker said some already plan to take an English course at Cooke County College this summer so they can participate in the program in the fall.

Sara Lester will work with the seventh grade students on an individual basis in her classroom, while the remaining elementary students will participate in a pull-out program, coordinated by classroom teacher Jane Otto. Mrs. Otto is a former gifted and talented director at Prairie Valley and has training in that area, said Fluker. Mrs. Otto will also assist Mrs. Lester and the English department as an advisor for the gifted and talented program at those levels, he said.

Fluker was quick to emphasize that the program will not take away from anything scheduled in the classroom, and will not be a program where there is just more homework. "It's not just more work, but a higher order of thinking," he said.

The district will evaluate the program during the next year, Fluker said. The district has received $1,400 in funding for this year in state funding, and an estimated $2,800 for 1990-91, but that will not be enough to cover the cost of the state-mandated program, he said. "It's just typical of what the state has been doing," Fluker said.

Muenster's Computers for Schools project is successfully underway

Muenster's Computers for Schools Project sponsored by the Muenster Chamber of Commerce is well underway. Patrons of participating local businesses began to collect sales receipts on March 23.

After the goal of $250,000 worth of sales receipts is reached the students in Muenster Public School and Sacred Heart School will benefit when each school receives a computer system.

"We're well on our way," said Harold Flusche, project chairman. "There are sacks and sacks full of receipts already at the Chamber office."

Flusche couldn't give a total of what had already been collected because nobody had had the opportunity to verify and tally the accumulated sales slips. "We could use some volunteers for that job," he remarked.

August 1 has been designated as the deadline for the completion of the project. Anyone who needs to keep receipts for tax or other purposes can turn in photocopies of their receipts or ask the business for another type of verification.

Receipts can be turned in at either school office, at the Chamber of Commerce office, or placed in the boxes provided in stores by the participating merchants. Mary Bayer, Sacred Heart School's secretary will be in the school office at most times during the summer and will continue to accept receipts. Charlotte Klement, Muenster Public School's secretary will not be in during the summer and encourages people to use the boxes in stores or bring their receipts to the Chamber of Commerce office.

Donating to the project but not issuing receipts are Muenster State Bank, Muenster Beer Distributors, and Muenster Jaycees. Businesses participating in the collection of receipts are Fischer's Market, Ben Franklin, Hofbauers, Bayer's Kolonialwaren, Encore Video, Jan Cain, Flusche Enterprises, DI One Stop, Muenster Milling, Don Flusche Real Estate, Community Lumber, Knabe Tire, Gehrig Hardware, Endres Motors, Hess Furniture, Kountry Korner, H & W Meats, Gregg's Chevrolet, Muenster Enterprise, Structures, Pat Dennis, and Tops & Teams.

AMPI reports most profitable year in their 20-year history

MINNEAPOLIS - "For the past 20 years, AMPI members have embraced the concept of a totally dairy farmer's organization. The approach has enabled dairy farm families to exercise greater control over the environment for making a fair profit from producing, processing and marketing milk...The strong financial foundation of the cooperative in 1989 was visible through several measures."

This message was expressed in Management and Board reports delivered at the 21st Annual Meeting of Associated Milk Producers, Inc., the nation's leading dairy farmer cooperative. Some 2,000 AMPI delegates, elected officials, management and staff met recently to review the progress of the year just completed and chart the future direction of their cooperative.

The theme for the meeting was "AMPI - The Third Decade!"

Reported was the most profitable year in AMPI's history with net earnings of $12.4 million. The following 1989 operational and production highlights were announced:

- Member Farms: 19,428.
- Member Milk Deliveries: 17.3 billion pounds, 12.2 percent of the milk marketed in the U.S.
- Net Sales: $3 billion.
- Allocable Net Margin and Capital Retains: $31.5 million.
- Patrons' Equity: $151.2 million.
- Equity Revolved Since Formation: $208.4 million.
- Investment In Property, Plant and Equipment: $42.1 million.
- American Cheese Production: 493.1 million pounds, about 18 percent of national production.
- Butter Production: 135.9 million pounds, about 11 percent of national production.
- Nonfat Dry Milk Production: 214.1 million pounds, about 25 percent of national production.
- Dried Whey Production: 206.9 million pounds, about 19 percent of national production.

Area dairymen attending the meeting were Billy Kupper, a member of the resolutions committee, and Lee Wolf, a member of the corporate board, both from Gainesville.

Board member is asked to return to finish term

by Elaine Schad

Valley View School Board members this week voted to return Jimmy Kupper to his one-year unexpired term on the board.

Kupper, former school board president, resigned two weeks ago following a dispute concerning then sixth-grade teacher Denise Martin. Ms. Martin requested to be reassigned the next day after parents charged she encouraged students to change answers on a standardized achievement test. Ms. Martin denied the charge. Kupper resigned, saying he felt he could be more effective as a private citizen than as a board member.

Following the vote, Kupper gave a formal presentation to the board disputing a new district position created two months ago, called projects facilitator. Ms. Martin has been reassigned to that position.

"At the time this position was considered by the board, I was personally opposed, but felt we should support what the administration felt is best for the school district," Kupper told the board. "I believe it's now time to do what's best for the school, and not to provide funding for this position."

Kupper contended the job description, which mainly deals with applying for grants, public relations and any special projects, could be done by the administration and possibly an additional secretary. He further contended the position was not economically feasible, would take funding from other needed budget areas in the district, and is not a position that is supported by district residents.

Board member Charlene Ritchey nominated Kupper to fill the vacancy. Valley View resident Grant Krahl was also nominated. The board gave five votes to Kupper and one to Krahl.

Kupper told the board he would decide this week whether to take the position.

Father's Day gift for dads in Navy today or yesterday: Enter names in memorial

Is there a father in your family who served in the Navy - or is serving now? You can honor him for Father's Day by enrolling him in the Navy Memorial Log. The gift is a perfect fit and will never shrink in significance for dads who are or have been in the Navy.

The Log will be housed in a Visitors Center which opens later this year next to the U.S. Navy Memorial in Washington, D.C. A minimum $25 tax-deductible donation is all that's required to enroll a name in the Log, and the Memorial will acknowledge each enrollment with a special card for presentation to the father being honored.

Authorized by Congress in 1980 and funded solely through private donations, the Memorial is located on Pennsylvania Avenue, halfway between the White House and the Capital. The Memorial includes a large amphitheater for band concerts, sixteen fountains and two waterfalls, and the statue of The Lone Sailor.

The Navy Memorial Log is a computerized repository of names which have been entered by individuals themselves, in memory of shipmates or relatives, or as commemorative gifts. The Log will be on continuous display at the Visitors Center; each entry will show an individual's name, highest rank or rate held, dates of service and date of birth. The Log already holds more than 140,000 names.

Specially prepared greeting card acknowledgements and Log registration forms will be sent in time for Father's Day for requests with contributions received by Friday, June 8. Contributions received after that date will be answered as quickly as possible, but delivery by Father's Day is not assured.

Send check or money order payable to U.S. Navy Memorial to: U.S. Navy Memorial Foundation, Box 12728, Arlington, VA 22209-8728 or pay by Visa or Mastercard by mailing exact name, account number and expiration date appearing on the card. Phone orders are accepted; dial toll-free 1-800-424-2733, extension 9012.

Bluebonnet Club donates to library

The Bluebonnet Home Extension Club has given a generous donation to the Muenster Public Library to provide a shelf labeling system.

It consists of small metal brackets with labels and transparent covers to identify each shelf. The gift will include large holders to identify the various sections of the library.

This should help patrons to more easily find their particular section and then locate the specific book.

This is a welcome addition to the library, and it is very attractive as well as useful.

MRS. WILLIAM RUSSELL STERLING
...nee Beverly Jean Trubenbach...

Trubenbach, Sterling exchange vows on May 19 in Dallas' Old City Park

The wedding of Beverly Jean Trubenbach and William Russell Sterling, both of Dallas, was held Saturday, May 19 in Pilot Grove Church in Old City Park of Dallas.

Rev. Stanley Kelly officiated the double-ring ceremony at 7 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Loyd and Gwen Trubenbach of Rt. 1 Muenster and the groom is the son of Otis P. Sr. and Ellen Frances Sterling of Amarillo.

Before an altar decorated with gladioli, Gerber daisies, Dutch iris, and palms and center-aisle pews marked with antique white pew markers, the bride was escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents.

The bride wore her mother's cherished wedding gown, also worn by her sister, Lisa Walterscheid on their wedding days. The exquisite ivory gown of pure silk organza and imported rose point French Chantilly lace over bridal satin was designed with a long figurine bodice of lace. It had a dainty petal collar embroidered with sequins and seed pearls, and long petal-point sleeves. The hooped skirt was enhanced with lace applique garlands, and swept into a formal court train. A bow of re-embroidered Chantilly lace topped a shoulder length cloud veil of imported tulle.

Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of fresh white roses, stephanotis, stokesia, and gypsophila with liliaceae.

For sentiment and in keeping with tradition she wore her grandmother, Mrs. Arnold Friske's original wedding ring and she had a blue garter.

Music throughout the ceremony was presented by Merry Miller with harp solos. She also played during part of the reception.

ATTENDANTS

Jean Marie Walterscheid, bride's sister, was her maid of honor. Lisa Marie Walterscheid and Toni Lynn Trubenbach, both sisters of the bride, were her bridesmaids. They wore royal blue silk jacquard dresses designed by Vogue, with a sweetheart neckline, basque waistline, adorned by a bow in back, and wrist-length sleeves.

Their flowers were arranged in a cascade of white roses, blue dutch iris and gypsophila with liliaceae.

Melinda Walterscheid, niece of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a dress hand-crocheted by her Grandmother Friske for Gwen to wear for her third Easter. She also crocheted the flower girl's basket.

Dustin Shawn Walterscheid, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. The ring pillow was also crocheted in pineapple stitch by Grandmother Friske.

Otis P. Sterling, Jr. was his brother's best man. Groomsman were John Maikowski of Dallas, a friend, and Richard Emmet Blyth of Grapevine, bride's cousin.

Ushers were Bruce Dooley of Bradington, Florida, a friend, and Kim Shawn Walterscheid and Glenn Walterscheid, both brothers-in-law of the bride.

RECEPTION

A reception followed in the Tower Club located on the 48th floor of Thanksgiving Tower in downtown Dallas. The Brazos ballroom offered a panoramic view of Dallas and the Trinity River valley.

A buffet of shrimp, loin steak, stuffed mushrooms, and fresh fruit was served with champagne and cocktails to 150 guests. The dance was orchestrated by Gary Shannon.

Allison Lyssey of San Antonio, groom's niece presided at the guest book.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen table cloth and had a display of bridal portraits by Karen Trubenbach, also a registration book, quill pen and a bouquet of roses, stephanotis and spiderwort.

The regal German Amaretto wedding cake was three tiered, and topped by porcelainized sugar orchids, with lilies and dahlias cascading over the cake.

Reception assistants were Charity and Chanece Logan, who also distributed rose petals for guests to shower the bride and groom as they left the reception.

Guest tables were covered with white linen cloths and held arrangements of gladioli, Gerber daisies, Dutch iris and candles.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the Aristocrat Hotel Ballroom in Dallas. Tables were decorated with candles, fresh Gerber daisies, Alstroemeria, lilies, and petals sprinkled over white linen cloths.

The bride attended Sacred Heart Elementary School and graduated from Muenster High School, Cooke County College, the University of North Texas and attended the University of Texas in Dallas. She is employed in management by Zale Corporation. The groom is a graduate of Amarillo High School, attended Amarillo College and is employed in management by Hart Marx Corporation. Cub Scouts, Pack 664, holds graduation ceremonies, receives new Cub Scout Muenster Cub Scout Pack 664 held their annual graduation on May 21 at 7:00 p.m. at the Muenster VFW. Den 4 Cub Scouts presented and posted the colors and led the Pledge of Allegiance.

End of year awards were presented as follows: Silver Arrow Points for Wolf rank were presented to Nick Silmon 2, Josh Luke 1, Eric Knabe 1, and Jim Stoffels 1. They were also presented with a one year service star and a two year perfect attendance bar.

A bear hunt was held. Pack leaders Yvonne Ambrose and Shirley Knabe filtered through the pack looking for a young bear cub. After several moments the young cub was spotted and escorted with his mother to the place of honor in front of the room. Vince Felderhoff was the young cub awarded with his Bear badge upon completing 12 achievements in his big bear book. He received his badge from his mother and he in turn presented her with a miniature mother's pin.

Kathy Hartman was introduced as the new committee chairman for the pack for the upcoming year. To make her feel right at home the boys taught her the words and actions to the song Alice the Camel.

Each year the Pack participates in a conservation project. It may be to clean up an elderly person's yard, or it may be helping with the highway litter program, or work at the City Park. This year's project was to plant flowers, do spring time mowing, and set up a bird feeder at the Muenster Museum.

While doing this project boys are fulfilling requirements toward World Conservation Award. Upon completing this project and certain other requirements for their rank a boy is eligible to receive the award. Four boys completed the requirements. They completed Achievement 7, Electives on Fishing, and Gardening in the Wolf book. Boys receiving the World Conservation Award were Josh Luke, Jim Stoffels, Nick Silmon and Eric Knabe.

Tiger Cubs were graduated into the pack. Jeff Hartman, Keith Felderhoff, and Christopher Grewing were recognized as having worked hard for completing the requirements for the Bobcat badge. Bobcat badges were presented to the boys' parents and they presented them to Jeff, Chris and Keith. As a reminder of their promise to do their best each boy was presented with a Wolf scarf by the Cubmaster and their Wolf books by their parents.

Wolf Cub Scouts graduating to the Bear are John Flusche, Chris Smith, Adam Klement, Eric Knabe, Josh Luke, Jim Stoffels, and Nick Silmon. Each was presented with a lighted candle as a sign to others that they are ready to meet the challenge of becoming a Bear. As each boy blew out his candle he was presented with his blue neckerchief.

Cub Scouts wishing to enter the circle of the Webelos tribe were introduced. Russell Fette, Stephen Bartush, Eric Fisher, Tyler Bradley, Lucien Gehrig, Jesse Luke, Vince Felderhoff, and Duncan Campbell were brought forward by Indian Scout Yvonne Ambrose. The boys will be striving to earn the Webelos badge and Cub Scoutings highest award, The Arrow of Light. They were presented with their Webelos scarves and books by their assistant den leader Chuck Bartush. David Fette will be the den leader for these boys as Webelos.

Cubmaster Shirley Knabe expressed thanks to all the pack leaders and the boys for making this a successful year. This year's choice for the Cubmasters' award was difficult as all so generously gave of their time and talent for the boys. The award was given to Gail Drachenberg. In September the pack had a group of boys ready to start the Webelos challenge but no leader. Gail and her husband John had just moved to Muenster during the summer. The couple graciously accepted the job of den leader for this den and all boys successfully completed the requirements for the Webelos badge and the Arrow of Light and graduated into Troop 664 in April. "Thank You Gail for showing us what Cub Scout Spirit is all about," said Shirley Knabe.

Assistant Cubmaster Yvonne Ambrose presented Cubmaster Shirley Knabe with a plant and blue and gold t-shirt as a Thank You from the pack. Terri Luke was also presented a den leader plaque and a gift certificate from the boys of the Cobra den.

Announcements were: The boys and parents decided to continue with the upkeep of the Museum grounds for another year. Cooke County Day Camp will be held the week of June 18-22. Walkers are still needed for Pack 664. Anyone who is willing to be on staff, the Cub Scouts need you!

Summertime activities for the pack will be announced at a later date.

The pack also recognized a new Cub Scout. Wade VanHoozen has joined the pack and will become a member of Den 4. He was presented with The Big Bear book and blue neckerchief.

Muenster FHA members celebrate

The Muenster FHA held its annual FHA Banquet Tuesday, May 8. The banquet, themed "Southwestern Siesta", was held in the M.H.S. cafeteria. The cafeteria was decorated with pastel colored bandanas, coyotes, and cacti.

The banquet began with President Denise Anderle welcoming the members and their mothers. Annette Anderle responded to the welcome on behalf of the mothers. Then, each member introduced his or herself and his or her mother. Each mother received a cactus from her son or daughter.

After the introduction, the meal was served, consisting of barbecue beef, cheesy potatoes, green bean casserole, tossed salad, rolls and tea. Cheesecake was served for dessert. The meal was prepared by the M.H.S. homemaking classes.

Following the meal, Mrs. Joni Sturm, FHA advisor, recognized

Jannet Reeves, Misty Cullum, and Darlene Hess as being state meeting delegates. They each told about the workshops they attended.

Misti Ford gave the project report for the year. Activities for the 1989-90 school year included installation, sponsoring a Littlest Angel, a Spaghetti Supper, serving at the Co-Op meeting, and many others.

Entertainment was provided by FHA members. Members modeled the latest fashions from The Charm Shop and Tops & Teams. Jenny Wimmer, Kelley Wimmer, and Melissa Bayer sang several country hits.

The FHA members presented Mrs. Sturm with a basket that serves as a magazine holder. They also gave Gertie Wimmer and Mary Ann Fleitman a card and plant for their help in the kitchen.

Secular Franciscans hold reception ceremony

Secular Franciscans of Sacred Heart Parish received a new member Sunday, May 20 during their regular meeting in church. Mrs. Ed Pels was received into the fraternity, with reception prayers led by Marie Henscheid, president of the fraternity. Mrs. Pels will now be a novice for one year and will become a professed member at the end of the year. Martha Sicking will assist during that time with Formation.

Letters were received, and read to the members, from each of the fraternity's two adopted families in India, telling that it is very hot and dry there and all grass and vegetation are dried up. There is no water in the wells, and drinking water is very scarce.

A letter of thanks from Father Tom Gardner of St. Louis was received expressing gratitude for the fraternity's donation to the Franciscan Missionary Union. These funds are sent to Brazil to help the poorest of the poor. Father Martin Wolters, spiritual assistant of Sacred Heart Province, sent a letter stressing the guidelines of the fraternity life.

Opening and closing prayers were conducted from the Ritual. There will be no meeting on the second Sunday of June, due to the pre-Father's Day parish picnic.

Organizational meeting held to plan Centennial

Plans for the Lindsay Centennial got off to a good start Sunday afternoon, at three o'clock when officers of the various societies, clubs and interested citizens met to form a Centennial Committee. The meeting was held in the Parish Hall.

Presiding at the meeting was councilman Don Metzler. Mayor Doyle Cogburn and other councilmen were also in attendance.

The group included Father Bart, pastor, and members of the Parish Council; the history book committee, the Lindsay nuns, Lindsay's school administrator Gilbert Hermes, Lindsay's postmistress, Clara Hermes, St. Peter's Society, St. Anne's Society, Parent-Teacher Club, Lindsay Jaycees, Lindsay's Young Homemakers, Home Etc. Club and others.

A tentative date was set. The first choice is the third weekend in June. The second choice is the first weekend. The celebration will be held in 1992. Father Bart is going to get in touch with the bishop, to see when he is available for the Mass. A Mass on Friday of that weekend will begin the festivities.

The Centennial Book committee reported on the progress that has been done on the book and asked that families, organizations, businesses and servicemen get their copy to them as soon as possible.

It was decided to charge $45 for early sales of the book and $50 for the book after it is printed. The committee is working for a 500 page volume. A June 1 deadline has been set as the date to turn in histories, but it was pointed out that they will accept copy after that time, if for some reason the resident or former resident cannot get it to them by that time. Members of the committee attending were Diane Hermes, Kathy Lutkenhaus, Rosalie Sandmann and Mary Ann Arendt.

A steering committee was formed. Volunteering for the job were: Claudia Zimmerer, Linda Sandmann, Vincent Zimmerer, David Arendt, Gilbert Hermes, Louise Schad, Clara Hermes, Mayor Doyle Cogburn and pastor Father Bart. Clara Hermes agreed to be chairman of the group. Their first meeting is planned for May 30, after the evening Mass.

Tentative plans were also made to have a style show, featuring garments from years gone by. Additional ideas were given, but no definite plans were made at that time.

A report was given on the Logo Contest. Several entries have been received and they will be accepting entries until May 31, 1990. Send all entries to: Logo Contest, P.O. Box 151, Lindsay, Texas 76250. For more information about the Logo Contest, call 665-4996.

ELECTED to serve on the Lindsay Student Council for the 1990-91 school term are, l to r, Susie Arendt, secretary; Melanie Anderson, treasurer; Denise Porter, vice-president; and Kristi Krebs, president.

AUSTIN - A "Free Sport-fishing Day" will kick off National Fishing Week by allowing anglers to fish any public waters of Texas without a fishing license all day on Saturday, June 2.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials said the special day, authorized by House Bill 464 passed by the Texas Legislature in its last regular session, is intended to promote fishing and encourage people to enjoy the state's fishery resources.

Chester Burdett, director of the department's Law Enforcement Division, said that resident and nonresident recreational fishermen will be allowed to fish without a license, and they will also not be required to have special stamps such as the $5 Saltwater Sportfishing Stamp and the Freshwater Trout Stamp, also priced at $5.

National Fishing Week will be observed across the nation June 4-10 with a variety of activities centered on fishing as family recreation.

Fishing contests are scheduled at Fort Griffin and Lake Mineral Wells State Parks on Free Fishing Day June 2. "Summertime fishing is already in full swing at the state parks by June, but State Fishing Day gives more people an opportunity to dip a line in the lake," said Steve Jones, superintendent of Lake Mineral Wells State Park.

A children's fishing contest, set for June 2 from 1-4 p.m. at Lake Mineral Wells, is being co-sponsored by area service clubs and bass clubs. Fishing clinics and tournaments are planned for any and all children, including individuals, groups, the disabled and children who may not have fished before. The park has barrier-free facilities for wheelchairs at the fishing pier, restrooms, concession building and some of the camping shelters and picnic areas.

The annual fishing contest at Fort Griffin State Historical Park started on May 1 and ends at 5 p.m. Aug. 25. Prizes will be awarded to anglers having the highest monthly total when the lengths of all their fish are added together.

"The more you fish, the better your chance of winning," said Lester Galbreath, superintendent at Fort Griffin.

No fishing license will be required to fish in any state park waters on June 2, but normal entry and facility use fees apply. Camping reservations are recommended.

Fort Griffin is located northwest of Fort Worth and 25 miles north of Albany on U.S. Highway 283. For reservations or information call (915) 762-3592. Lake Mineral Wells State Park is four miles east of Mineral Wells on U.S. Highway 180. Call (817) 328-1171.

Massengale to play for Midwestern State Univ.

WICHITA FALLS - Chris Massengale of Era High School has agreed to play football for the Midwestern State Indians next fall, MSU Head Coach Mike Calcote announced.

Massengale, a 6-0, 175-pound runningback/free safety, was a three-year starter and four-year letterman for the Class A Hornets and was voted as the District Offensive and Defensive MVP last season.

During his senior year, Massengale rushed for approximately 1200 yards (6.0 yards a carry), had 300 yards in pass receptions and scored 19 touchdowns. He also had five interceptions at free safety on a Hornet defense which gave up only 40 points in 10 regular season games.

The Hornets finished the 1989 regular season with a 9-1 mark, a No. 10 ranking in the state and co-

-champs in the district. They eventually lost in the state playoffs to the No. 1 team, Munday High School.

Massengale also competed in track and qualified for regionals this spring in the 200-meter dash and the mile relay.

Coached by David Gage, he is the son of James and Shirley Massengale of Rosston, Texas.

Hunting - an old way and new income

Hunting has always been around. And now, farmers and ranchers have had the opportunity to diversify incomes with the sale of hunting leases. The extra income derived by this method is growing, and in many cases is making a difference in lifestyle.

With the publication of the 1990 edition of the "Texas Hunter's Clearinghouse Directory", there is even more assistance as a growing number of Texans will make use of this valuable source of extra income.

The 1990 directory, along with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Deer Hunting Lease Register, lists 956 available leases covering a total of 4.3 million acres in every region of Texas. The 118-page directory, which is available free of charge, is a joint project of TDA and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Interested hunters and rural landowners will receive copies of the directory upon request.

Directory listings are arranged by county in alphabetical order and the directory includes a wide range of fish and game. Hunters can find leases to hunt and fish for wild turkey, bass, catfish, javelina and whitetail deer. There are also listings for exotic game species like axis deer and blackbuck antelope.

The four-year-old clearinghouse program has become popular with hunters and rural landowners alike. More than 1.3 million Texans hold hunting licenses, and land capable of producing huntable wildlife is limited. The directory puts hunters in contact with rural landowners who need the additional income generated by hunting leases. In previous years, farmers and ranchers who leased their land through the clearinghouse program added an average of $2,200 to their income. Hunting leases generate about $146 million each year for Texas farmers and ranchers. As the demand for hunting leases increases, many rural landowners are putting more emphasis on wildlife management practices in order to satisfy this demand," Moeller said.

Farmers and ranchers with land available to lease may apply to the Texas Department of Agriculture for a free listing in the directory. Applications for inclusion in the directory are accepted throughout the year. For more information on the Texas Hunter's Clearinghouse, call TDA at (512) 463-7679 or write Texas Hunter's Clearinghouse, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Chemistry unlocks secrets of tracking a wounded animal

Chemists have discovered a way to significantly reduce the number of wounded animals that are not recovered and left in the woods to die.

The solution is a chemical spray which helps hunters locate a blood trail by turning blood into a fluorescent yellow color which is easily seen on brightly colored leaves and grass.

Bill Robinson, president of Robinson Laboratories in St. Paul, Minnesota, said their field tests, conducted for over a year, have produced phenomenal results.

"We're certain this chemical spray will reduce the loss of an important natural resource," Robinson said. "It's no secret — the anti-hunting people have been screaming about it for years — that many animals are wounded each year and never recovered."

"While big game, such as deer and elk, are a renewable resource, the killing of an animal without benefit to anyone is a waste. Often, the finding of a single drop of blood will result in establishing the animal's escape route and eventual recovery." Finding a blood trail in early autumn when the ground is covered with thousands of colored leaves poses a problem for many hunters. Drops of blood on a leaf may so closely resemble the leaf's color that it goes unnoticed, and these uncertainties result in a lost animal.

In addition, a wounded deer often kicks leaves upside down in its haste to escape, and drops of blood are hidden on the overturned side of a leaf, making the blood virtually impossible to find.

He said his company's research found that 90 percent of the male population is color blind to red colors, and this problem is compounded when tracking wounded game. Unfortunately, those who are color blind to red colors may not see blood on a leaf or other vegetation.

That's why Sure Sign was developed. "We searched for something that would jump out at even those people who have trouble seeing certain colors," Robinson said. "Sure Sign not only turns drops of blood a fluorescent yellow, but puffs it up, and the chemical makes blood look entirely different from anything in its surroundings."

Information about Sure Sign, and how it can help hunters recover game, is available from Robinson Laboratories, Inc., 141 W. Water St., St. Paul, MN 55107.

Emergency farm loans are now being accepted

Article submitted by FmHA, Gainesville office.

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by severe storms, flooding and tornadoes are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) office located in Gainesville, FmHA County Supervisor James B. Murdock said recently.

Cooke and Grayson counties are two of 12 in Texas recently named by Secretary of Agriculture

Clayton Yeutter as eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the severe storms, flooding and tornadoes.

Murdock said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue in business or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest rate is 4.5 percent.

ATVs boon to farmers

Are used for herding, spraying and other jobs

(NU) — In the ongoing effort to stay ahead of the game, the American farmer has learned to rely on modern tools and techniques. One such tool is the all-terrain vehicle, according to the Specialty Vehicle Institute of America.

Farmers now use ATVs for everything from transportation around the farm to herding, spraying, mowing and maintaining irrigation systems.

ATVs: Modern Workhorses

"We've been herding a lot of cattle using ATVs instead of horses," said Dr. Warren Sals, superintendent of the school's field laboratory. "We're gradually replacing the number of horses we use. You don't have to feed an ATV, and they don't kick you."

The test farm also puts its ATVs to work spot spraying weeds, monitoring irrigation systems, and checking fence lines and pastures. Researchers can easily transport soil probes and other equipment to the fields using ATVs, saving time and effort.

Farmers of all types are finding the ATV a vital piece of farm equipment, says the Specialty Vehicle Institute of America. For example, Art Bakenhus runs an 1100 acre farm in Columbus, Neb. He also suffers from arthritis in his hip and knee that limits his mobility. He finds his ATV to be invaluable for both farm chores and transportation.

ATVs Save Money

"Wherever my ATV is, that's where I am," he says. Bakenhus uses his four-wheeler both in maintaining his fields of corn, beans, oats, and alfalfa, and in keeping track of his hogs and cattle. He fills two buckets mounted on the front of his ATV with feed for the cattle. He also uses the rig for spot spraying weeds in the pastures and along the fence lines.

Bakenhus stated that the estimated 3000 miles he puts on his ATV each year represents a real cost savings. In the past, he would have used his more expensive pickup truck or tractor.

Farm/Ranch

Coalition may destroy present farm program

WACO - A coalition in Congress "claiming" to save money by changing farm policy would actually destroy a program that has produced for American consumers the most abundant, lowest cost and safest food supply in the world, according to S.M. True, president of the Texas Farm Bureau.

Congress is now considering farm policy to succeed the farm act that expires at the end of the year.

"The coalition, led by Texas Congressman Dick Arme (R), has no idea of what it takes to bring safe, plentiful food to the table," True said.

The Texas farm leader said the group has targeted programs for peanuts, wool and mohair, dairy and sugar in their quest to "create havoc" in the agricultural economy.

"This is a strange strategy because wool and mohair price support comes from tariff revenues while peanut and sugar prices are supported primarily by quotas, rather than general revenue money.

"The present farm program, most of which we hope will be continued for another five years, has stabilized income for farmers and has helped us expand exports, which has benefitted all Americans," the Plainview cotton, grain and beef producer said.

True pointed out that the cost of food to the average American family, now at 10.4 percent of disposable income, is the lowest in the world. He added that one American farmer or rancher now supplies food and fiber for 114 people, here and abroad.

"The incentives in the farm program have, in effect, guaranteed a low-cost supply of food and natural fibers for the American consumers," he said.

The Texas Farm Bureau president said the 1985 farm bill is responsible for helping make agriculture a vital part of the national economy.

"We have come through one of the most destructive farm depressions in history, and most farmers are just getting on their feet - thanks in large part to the present farm program.

"A continuation of this kind of farm program for another five years is necessary as agriculture makes a transition to a market-oriented economy.

"Farm program costs have come down dramatically since the present farm program was enacted in 1985.

"The anti-farmer amendments, if adopted, would disrupt the most efficient farm-to-table food system in the world. We will count on the more knowledgeable members of Congress as well as an understanding public to prevent this," True said.

World wheat withers?

The Federal Reserve Board's influence on national economics isn't nearly as powerful as USDA's influence on the U.S. wheat economy, according to Kansas State University economist Bill Tierney.

In Washington testimony before the Senate Subcommittee on Agricultural Production and Stabilization of Prices, Tierney added that the world wheat economy is likely to stagnate in the years ahead. So, unless USDA has even more "tools" at hand, the U.S. wheat outlook could worsen.

"In the last five years, USDA - with help from crop problems here and in other major wheat-producing countries - has been able to get rid of a huge wheat surplus. This has brought a dramatic increase in wheat prices," the economist said. "But the skills USDA has gained may be sorely tested in coming years."

"The International Wheat Council is forecasting a record world wheat crop for 1990. Export demand remains volatile, but hasn't grown beyond levels set in the early 1980s."

Other major wheat-exporting countries have done little to reduce production or stocks in the last five years, Tierney said. But in the United States:

- ★ 85 percent of all wheat growers have enrolled in voluntary acreage cutback programs, setting aside an average 22 percent of their base wheat acres in exchange for government deficiency and disaster payments.

- ★ 11 percent of the nation's wheat base has gone out of production via a 10-year Conservation Reserve Program.

- ★ USDA has "auctioned off" millions of bushels of Commodity Credit Corporation wheat stocks.

- ★ USDA has spent more than $2 billion, subsidizing up to three-fourths of annual U.S. wheat exports.

In June 1986, wheat stocks exceeded 1.9 billion bushels - almost a year's supply. And average wheat prices for the 1986-87 marketing year were $2.25 - the lowest since 1977, the economist said. By June 1990, however, stocks should be below 450 million bushels. Wheat prices already are close to $3.90 a bushel.

"This was an amazing achievement. It's why some analysts say USDA now is serving as a de facto Wheat Board," said Tierney, who's the grain marketing specialist for KSU's Cooperative Extension Service. "Even so, USDA doesn't have the flexibility needed to maintain this role in the future."

USDA will need more policy tools, he said, if it's to keep:

1. Stocks from growing beyond optimal level.
2. Wheat prices from plummeting and/or
3. Deficiency payments at politically acceptable levels.

The economist offered several workable alternatives, but said the end result must be ways USDA can control U.S. wheat production to limit stocks buildup, yet also free stored stocks to meet unexpected demand.

Tierney pointed out a major reason world wheat prices are so volatile is that only 18 percent of the world's total wheat production is actually traded. So, small changes in world wheat production can result in big swings in world wheat trade. And that can cause market prices to vary wildly.

World wheat trade almost doubled between the early 1970s and early 1980s, he said. But in the last five years, it has gyrated around a constant level.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Pecan nut casebearer moths will be emerging later in May and begin laying first generation eggs on young nutlets. Computer predictions of casebearer activity can be used to determine when to begin looking for eggs. First significant nut entry predictions for the Cooke County area appears to be about May 25-28 time period. Predictions are updated with current temperatures by Bill Ree, EA-Entomologist, Pecans.

The "date of first significant nut entry" should be used as the target spray date. Examine nut tips for eggs beginning 5-6 days before the nut entry date. Eggs are white when first laid and turn pink and then red before hatching in about 4 days. Larvae feed on buds for 1-2 days before tunneling into the nut. Time treatments according to anticipated nut entry to maximize control. As the insecticide will be effective for only 7-10 days, spraying too early can result in later larvae escaping control.

Be sure enough eggs are present to justify spraying. The threshold is one or more infested clusters in 100 sampled clusters. Casebearer larvae were feeding in shoots during the last freeze. Many of these larvae may have died in trees where the shoots were frozen and this could have reduced the casebearer threat in those trees. Scout for eggs to be sure.

In most cases, one carefully timed treatment is all that is necessary for casebearer control. However, retreatment 7-10 days after the first may be considered if 1 percent of the clusters are again infested with eggs. Entomologists suspect the increasing problems with pecan aphids and mites across the Pecan Belt may be related to insecticide use which encourages pest resistance and destroys beneficials. Extra time spent scouting for casebearer eggs can maximize the benefits of spraying while minimizing the negative effect.

Homeowners and Commercial Producers can obtain a list of recommended insecticides from the County Extension Office.
