Muenster Public School begins classes Aug. 28

While most area students begin the 1990-91 school year this coming Monday, students from Muenster Public School will be enjoying their last day of summer vacation. Muenster Public School teachers began inservice on Monday, Aug. 20.

When 369 students report for school on Tuesday, Aug. 28, they will be greeted by a number of new faces in the administration and teaching staff.

Steve Cooper has replaced Charles Coffey as superintendent. There is also a new secretary in his office, Carol (Mrs. Mark) Klement.

Irene Hartman is returning to M.P.S. as a language arts teacher after taking several years away from the teaching environment to raise her family. She is a graduate of Texas A&M University and taught English at Muenster Public School a number of years ago.

Darla Lile is the new first grade teacher. She is a graduate of Texas Woman's University and this will be her first teaching position. She is married and has one child.

Grady Roller graduated from the University of North Texas with a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education and history. He was coach at Lindsay for eight years, Georgetown four years, and Northwest one year. Coach Roller is married and has three children.

"Being new to the Muenster school district, I'm excited," said Superintendent Cooper of the coming school year. "I'm looking forward to the year with great expectation. We can count on the teachers doing an outstanding job, as they have in the past. I'm looking forward to working with the students and expect them to continue to excel in all they do."

Sacred Heart welcomes students back to school

Sacred Heart teachers began inservice training on Monday, Aug. 20. The classrooms will be filled with students by 7:50 a.m. Monday when 275 students report for their first day of school.

"The entire Sacred Heart School - students, parents and teachers - are looking forward to the new school year with enthusiasm and the expectation that it will be filled with growth, learning and joy," commented Principal Jack Murdock.

Three new teachers have joined the staff. They are John Nasche, replacing John Sims as Coach; Debbie Zimmerer taking over the Kindergarten class taught by Christy Hesse; and Grace Burk who is the new Business Math, Accounting and Typing teacher, replacing Joyce Richardson.

John Nasche has already begun coaching the Tiger football team in what is his first position as coach and teacher. He graduated from Benedictine College in Atchison, Kansas in May 1990 with a major in Health and PE and minors in Computer Science and Education.

Grace Burk is looking forward to her association with Sacred Heart School. "I love it already," she said. "I think that I am really going to enjoy this year. This school is ahead of many public schools in their teachings - I should know, I've been there."

Mrs. Burk earned an Associates degree from Cooke County College, a BBA and ME from the University of North Texas and a degree in Learning Language Difficulties from Texas Woman's University.

She taught in Valley View for four years; Saint Jo one year, and for two years she taught children in the Gainesville School District with language learning difficulties. She also ran a business from her home for a number of years.

The mother of three children, Rena Burk of Callisburg; Ronnie Brown, an engineer at Weber Aircraft; and Sherry Gandillon of Garland, Mrs. Burk enjoys playing with her grandchildren and is an avid reader.

Debbie Zimmerer, a former student at Sacred Heart School, is returning to Muenster to teach Kindergarten. She presently resides in McKinney, but is moving to Muenster and will be ready to start school on Monday.

Miss Zimmerer has been a County Extension Agent with Collin County since 1983. She has developed a drug education program for children from pre-school through grade three. Each year, over 3,000 Kindergarten students benefit when Miss Zimmerer teaches them a Safe-At-Home program that she designed. It teaches children, especially "latchkey" children what to do when they are home alone.

A graduate of Muenster Public School, Miss Zimmerer earned a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of North Texas in 1983 and is now working on a Masters degree in Early Childhood Education from UNT.

She has completed about three-fourths of the requirements for the degree.

"We are tremendously pleased to have someone with the wide experience and enthusiasm and commitment to fill the very critical Kindergarten position," said Mr. Murdock, when he announced that Miss Zimmerer had been hired as the new Kindergarten teacher.

Teaching in Sacred Heart Elementary School for the 1990-91 school year are: Pam Dangelmayr, Pre-School; Kathy Berres, Pre-School Aide; Debbie Zimmerer, Kindergarten; Laneta Martin, Kindergarten Aide; Anne Poole, First Grade; Michelle Knauf, Valenite Industries opens its United Way drive in Muenster

The United Way drive will begin in Muenster on Friday, Aug. 24 at Valenite's West Plant.

Preceding this event was the first general meeting on Wednesday, Aug. 22 in Gainesville at one of Valenite's plants, followed by another on Thursday combining two other plants, thereby including the four Valenite buildings housing the company's eleven different departments.

"Valenite was invited by United Way to be a Pacesetter in 1991 in the Industrial Division" said Claude Klement, chairman for Valenite's United Way drive.

"By 'Pacesetter' is meant setting the challenge for all other member-contributors in the Industrial Division. United Way officials said they are very pleased with the cooperation of Valenite employees. They cited the fact that Valenite's total contribution grows greater every year."

In 1990-91, Valenite's stated goal is $8,000. In 1989, 222 employees donated $9,358.15 along with a corporate pledge of $1,500, making a grand total of $10,858.15, thus exceeding the set goal. In 1990 the corporate pledge had been increased to $2,000.

Said Claude Klement: "We started our campaign on Wednesday with meetings at each plant. We will complete our drive in time for the United Way Kickoff Luncheon on Sept. 6, where the presentation of the total check will be made."

Committee heads for Valenite include Jerry Proffer, co-chairman; Kent Bass, secretary; Kathy Garrett; Darrell Miller; Kevin Block; Donna Charles; Rickey Manuel; Dale Bezner; Willie Fisher; and Steve Trubenbach.

The meeting in Muenster on Friday will be attended by officials of United Way and will include a slide presentation showing all the different agencies who benefit. The principal speaker, Linda Lira, will follow. She is remembered as the 1989 Gainesville Kickoff speaker, and is a member of Home Hospice.

The announced 1990-91 Cooke County-wide goal for United Way is $207,500.00. Muenster's goal is $10,000.00.

Officials of Cooke County United Way are Judy Day, campaign chairman; Dorothy Lewis, executive secretary; Lyle Dresher, president of Cooke County United Way; and Bill Bibby, industrial division leader.

Co-charmen of Muenster's drive are Celine Dittfurth and John Bartush.

Plans are made to kick-off the 1990-91 Cooke County United Way Campaign on Sept. 6 at noon in the Gainesville Civic Center. This year's guest speaker is Pat Ownbey, owner and general manager of KICM FM in Ardmore. He is serving as Ardmore's United Way President this year, and is actively involved in community activities and civic organizations.

In 1976 Pat Ownbey came to Ardmore from Oklahoma City's KWTW, Channel 9 in sports broadcasting and has won numerous awards in his field. He is an outstanding speaker, bringing a heart-warming message.

Luncheon tickets are $5.00 and can be purchased from the First State Bank, Gainesville National Bank, North Texas Bank and Trust, Muenster Enterprise, United Way Office and Division leaders.

Other "Pacesetters" for United Way are: the City of Gainesville for city employees and Tom Thumb-

County officials vote on lower tax rate for '91

by Elaine Schad

Some $757,000 in projected sales tax revenues for fiscal 1991 and higher county property values should allow the county to set its tax rate 8 cents lower than last year, officials said this week.

County commissioners have voted their intent to set the tax rate at 33.21 cents per $100 valuation of property. The rate is 8 cents below the current year's tax rate of 41.9 cents, but will actually generate just under 8 percent in additional revenues over last year due to the increased sales tax and property values, said Commissioner Kenneth Alexander.

Since the 33.21 rate is just under an 8 percent revenue increase, it will not be subject to state rollback provisions, officials said. Commissioners are expected to officially set the tax after the fiscal 1991 budget is approved, which should be in early September, Alexander said.

This will be the first full year that Cooke County will realize the benefits of a half-cent optional sales tax approved in May 1989 by county voters. Last year, the county took in an estimated $400,500 as a result of the tax, with this year's projected figures from the sales tax set at $757,000, according to figures from the state comptroller's office.

The sales tax option seems to be doing what state legislators intended when they passed a law two years ago allowing counties to use the tax to alleviate the burden on property tax owners, said Alexander. He said the commissioners were criticized last year for just lowering the rate by 1 cent.

"My point is, everybody said last year, we didn't do enough, but there were too many uncertainties then," he said. "This shows there is a shift of the tax burden taking place."

Cooke County gained some $51 million in property values for 1990, mostly due to increased oil values and reappraisal of property, from $777 million to $828 million. The 33-cent rate should bring in about $2.6 million in tax revenue, officials said.

KYLE McCAIN, left, greets Senator Phil Gramm in Weatherford last Monday. Senator Gramm was there to endorse McCain for the position of State Representative.

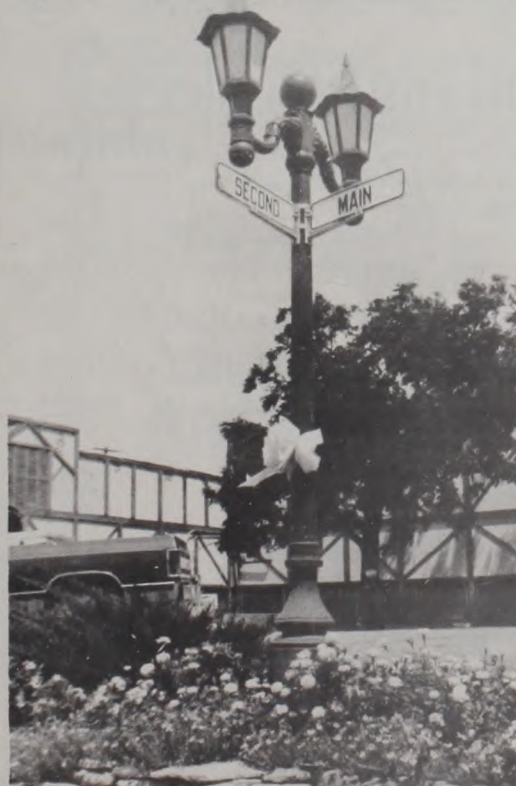

Kyle McCain receives Gramm's endorsement

Senator Phil Gramm visited Weatherford last Monday, the 13th, to address a group of over 70 business and community leaders. The purpose of the Senator's visit was to endorse Kyle McCain for the position of State Representative. Senator Gramm said that he was in Weatherford to support Kyle McCain "because we need good, strong, conservative, business-oriented people in the legislature."

"We have some tough issues that face state government. Texas used to have the best business climate in America. We don't have it today and we need it again," Gramm said. McCain pointed out that when companies look at Texas, "if they see the Texas Worker's Compensation laws, then they go somewhere else." Conversely, McCain added "when a company looks at Texas and decides to come, it's because they've looked at the state income tax. Texas does not have a state income tax." That is what makes

Texas attractive to business. Senator Gramm noted that crime and education are issues that are also important to Texas. "Quality, goal oriented education is important. Education that puts the focus on achievement. Education that tries to inspire and challenge our children, that's the kind of education I know Kyle McCain wants for all Texas children," the Senator stated. Gramm also said that money is needed for education, but that the problem is not just money. It is a lack of focus, commitment to quality and challenge to achieve excellence.

The fundraising reception was held in the home of Ed Kramer, a member of the Weatherford School Board. June McCain, Kyle's mother and a member of the Gainesville ISD Board of Trustees, also attended the reception. This stop in Weatherford marked Senator Gramm's fifth visit to Texas House District 63 so far in 1990.

Muenster ISD to offer Gifted/Talented program

Muenster ISD, in response to state mandates, will offer a gifted and talented program this year. The program will encompass all grade levels.

Students were screened last Spring. The identification process will be finalized during the first two weeks of school. Parents will be contacted and meetings will be held to explain all aspects of the program.

MISD's program will involve students at three distinct levels; students in grades K-5 will compose one level; those in grades 6-8 another level; with the last level made up of grades 9-12. Each level will be involved in different activities that will be building blocks to the next level. All G/T programs are designed to promote critical thinking skills.

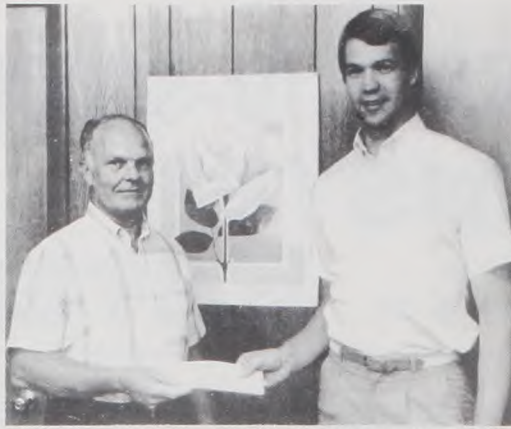

Grades K-5 will have two components in their program. One, called Odyssey of the Mind is a national organization that provides competition for its members. Problems are developed each year by the home office based on the grade level of the student. The students then formulate solutions to these problems. They will work individually and in teams. Initially Muenster ISD will not get into the competitive aspect of the program but will at some time in the future pursue that option. Another program for K-5 students will be the Great Books studies. Students will be exposed to traditional and historical children's stories. They will read the story then be exposed to exercises that will develop their critical thinking and analytical skills.

Grades 6-8 will be involved in a G/T program that will be broad based. Activities will include: individual and group projects, use of community resources, scientific investigation, historical research and other areas of interest. These varied activities will be used to promote development of the stated objectives of the G/T program.

The G/T program culminates in grades 6-12. These students will be involved in a fascinating activity. They will produce an historical magazine each year. This means they will be involved in the entire process: interviewing, transcribing, layout, printing, binding, subscriptions, sales and deliveries. The class mission will be to preserve eyewitness, verbal accounts of Muenster and surrounding areas history. Students will interview "old timers" and not so "old timers" and record their comment for prosperity.

The G/T program at Muenster ISD is unique and holds great promise and expectation. We look forward to meeting each parent and members of our community in the future to explain in greater detail activities planned for our students this year.

The donation is for the physician recruitment fund. The Kiwanis Club has challenged other clubs and individuals to give as much as possible to keep Muenster's health facilities staffed with good physicians. Herman Carroll said donations may be sent to the Muenster Memorial Hospital and every contribution will be greatly appreciated.

EISD may receive aid

by Elaine Schad

The Era School District could be in line for $156,000 in additional state funding over the next four years if this year's tax rate is set at $1.16 per $100 valuation of property, officials said.

The school board has set a public hearing on the budget for Monday at the Era Administration Building.

School trustees have voted their intent to adopt a 1990-91 budget of $1.6 million and are anticipating a tax rate of $1.16 to fund the budget, said Era Superintendent Dale Smiley. Last year's tax rate was $1.12. The proposed tax rate is expected to bring in 7.8 percent more in revenues than did the $1.12 rate. If the rate is approved, the owner of a home valued at $25,000 will see a tax increase from $220 to $232.

School districts statewide that set tax rates at a minimum of $1.18 this year will receive some additional state aid over the next four years. Era, however, will be able to set its rate at $1.16 and still receive the additional funding because the State Property Tax Board has indicated that property values in the Era ISD have been set higher by the local appraisal district than what the state would set them, said Era Superintendent Dale Smiley.

The district's proposed budget is a $113,000 increase from last year's $1.5 million budget. State-mandated teacher salary increases account for $45,000 of the total. The district will also add two new teaching positions and the district will purchase a new bus, estimated to cost $35,000.

Lindsay closes landfill, provides garbage pickup

by Elaine Schad

Lindsay city officials will close their landfill by Oct. 1, and will begin providing local garbage curbside service for the first time in the town's history.

The closing of the landfill is the latest in a series of landfill closings expected statewide as more stringent landfill regulations take place within the next year, said Lindsay Mayor Pro Tem Don Metzler. By closing the landfill now, the city will be responsible for monitoring the site for five years, instead of for 30 years as the new environmental regulations state, he said.

The City of Gainesville is anticipating closing its landfill in the near future, and there has been some planning for a regional landfill in Cooke County, although no decision has been made. Lindsay has a Type II landfill, which would not be allowed under the new regulations, officials said.

The landfill, located just southeast of the city, will remain open at least until Oct. 1 to give residents an opportunity to make a decision about whether they will subscribe to the city garbage pickup or choose some other method of garbage disposal, Metzler said.

The city has awarded a five-year contract to Texas Waste Management of Lewisville to begin garbage pickup service each Wednesday beginning Sept. 5. Residential will be $5.25 per month, with commercial rates varying according to type of dumpster and type of business, Metzler said.

A state inspector is scheduled to visit the site by Oct. 1 to assist the city in closure, officials said.

City council members are still studying the feasibility of re-establishing the city police department, which was dissolved two months ago. The city is working with the Texas Council of Governments in drawing up written policies for the police department, said Metzler. "I think that it has always been our intention to have a police department because there's just too much sentiment for one," he said. "We just want to know better how to go about it before we get into it again."

Cooke County Sheriff John Aston told the council at its August meeting that he doesn't have enough deputies to supply as much coverage to the city as would probably warrant. He did say, however, that sheriff department patrols would be in the area during and after business closing times in the Lindsay area.

In other business, the council made arrangements for final review and payment for the city's street project. Final cost is about $85,000, which included three change orders for widening streets in Community Estates. The city's next project is expected to include paving Pecan Street from north to south. Mayor Doyle Cogburn will be contacting property owners along that street, and the city is expected to have its engineer to begin drawing up plans next month, officials said.

MHS honor roll students to get academic awards

by Elaine Schad

Students making the honor roll or achieving perfect attendance at Muenster public schools will be eligible to receive academic awards for the first time beginning with the 1990-1991 school year, said school officials.

Muenster school trustees approved the program at their regular August meeting. "There have been awards for sports and other areas," said Superintendent Steve Cooper. "We just want to recognize those youngsters who do well academically."

High school students who have a 90 or better average for an entire academic year and who have achieved at least the 80th percentile on standardized examination will be eligible to receive a letter jacket or sweater. A student may receive only one jacket or sweater award during their high school years.

In addition, students in elementary through high school will be eligible for academic medals by making either the academic or regular honor rolls for five consecutive six-week periods. Bronze, silver and gold medals with the school's coat of arms will be available. Students will also receive medals for perfect attendance.

In other business during their August meeting, the school board rejected the proposed 1991 budget of the Cooke County Appraisal District. In a letter from the Muenster ISD to the CCAD, officials questioned proposed salary increases and a proposed new $50,000 computer system at a time when various county entities are concerned about the operating efficiency of the appraisal district.

The board also voted to: Hire Dorothy Fleitman as an instructional aide for the elementary school.

Set a hearing on the proposed 1990-1991 budget for 7:30 p.m. Aug. 27 and the tax rate hearing for Aug. 30 at 7:30 p.m., both at the school administration building.

Retain current lunch prices at 80 cents for an elementary lunch, $1.10 for high school, $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for elementary breakfast.

Hire Bob Cole, CPA, from Irving to conduct the district's audit for 1990-1991.

Approve the student handbook for 1990-1991.

Join the Region 11 gifted and talented cooperative for 1990-1991.

Angeles Juarez dies in surgery

This community grieves with the Juarez family in the death of the wife, mother and grandmother, Angeles Juarez, who died in Baylor Hospital of Dallas on Tuesday, Aug. 21, 1990 at 5:45 p.m., following heart surgery in the early morning.

She is survived by her husband, Muenster physician, Dr. Enrique Juarez, M.D.; and one son, Enrique Juarez, Jr. of Baton Rouge, Louisiana; and two daughters, Rosa Marie Ergas of Mesquite and Mary Hennigan of Muenster. There are seven grandchildren. Also one sister, Inez Alvarez of Baton Rouge, several nieces, nephews, other relatives and a multitude of friends who have frequently called her "Angela."

Angeles Juarez was born on July 14, 1917 in Camaguey, Cuba to Francisco and Rosa (Saiz) Diaz. She and Dr. Juarez were married Jan. 8, 1946. He set up his medical practice in Camaguey, in a fertile agricultural center of Cuba and Angeles was a kindergarten and music teacher. They were parents of three children Enrique Jr., Rosa Maria (Rosa) and Maria de los Angeles (Mary). They built a lovely home; he built a successful OB/GYN and surgery practice. Life was wonderful and charmed until revolution and Castro came in 1959. Their hopes in Cuba were shattered and the Juarezes lived through terrible changes in Cuba.

Finally in 1971, ten years after they applied to leave, the family was allowed to travel to Spain, and thus eventually to the United States. At first they lived in Mississippi, then in Galveston and finally in Muenster in 1976, with Angeles always providing invaluable support, managing a loving, hospitable, warm and peaceful home, after an earlier life of great joys and greater problems.

Together, Dr. and Mrs. Juarez cared lovingly for years for three sick relatives.

Angeles was a member of the Catholic Daughters of America, the Muenster Garden Club and Sacred Heart Church.

She was preceded in death by her parents.

Mass of Christian Burial was held on Friday, Aug. 24 in Sacred Heart Church at 10 a.m., offered by Father Victor Gillespie OSB and Father Sebastian Beshoner OSB.

Interment was in Sacred Heart Cemetery directed by McCoy Funeral Home of Muenster. Pallbearers were Ignacio Alvarez, Jorge Alvarez, Alberto Alvarez, Abel De Varona, John Ergas and Omelio Pena.

The preceding evening, the Rosary was prayed in the McCoy Chapel at 4 p.m. and a Vigil Service was held in Sacred Heart Church at 8 p.m.

The Juarez family often said that they learned quickly to enjoy the wonderful Texas-German traditions of Muenster life. They hoped that their touch of Cuban culture that they offer will further enhance the rich Muenster heritage.

Lindsay ISD approves '90-91 budget

by Elaine Schad

The Lindsay School Board this week approved a $1,421,875 budget for the 1990-91 school year.

The budget is a $236,000 increase over last year's budget of $1,186,305, an increase of about 16.5 percent. Most of the increases came from state-mandated salary increases. An additional section of fifth grade was added, as well as an additional position for a part-time Spanish teacher and part-time physical education teacher. The district will purchase a new bus, estimated to cost $35,000.

Additional increases are expected for utilities and transportation costs, for legal fees and anticipated additional costs for the Lindsay ISD portion of the Cooke County Appraisal District budget. The district is also anticipating making a land acquisition during the next school year for a possible relocation of the football field. The district also is anticipating higher costs for the leasing of school facilities from the church, officials said. That lease is still in negotiation, stated officials.

The district has taken no action on the tax rate for 1990-91, but a public hearing on the tax rate is expected to be held sometime next week, officials said.

In other business, the board: - Accepted the resignation of Social Studies teacher Richard Giddens and hired Carol Hyatt of Denton to teach the subject.

- Changed to school's discipline management plan to reduce in-school suspension days from four to one.

- Approved the district's new gifted and talented long-range action plan, long-range curriculum development plan and skeletal curriculum framework. An estimated 20 students will participate in the program this year.

- Approved the Booster Club for taking care of the concession stand for football and basketball for the 1990-91 school year.

- Accepted a bid from Exxon to supply gas for the district and Borden's to supply milk.

- Approved attendance committee members and set up three time periods for appraisal of teachers.

- Tabled discussion of a lease agreement with St. Peter's Church on school buildings.

Everyone can participate in RENEW small groups

The heart of the RENEW process is the small group meetings. Groups of eight or more people will meet in homes or parish facilities once a week for six weeks to pray, reflect on the Scriptures, share, and apply Scriptures to their everyday lives. Each person will have a booklet ($2.00 donation asked to defray RENEW expenses) containing the Scripture passage, brief commentaries on the Scripture, as well as starter questions for sharing and applying God's words.

RENEW small groups are not intended to be intellectual discussion groups. They are informal sessions led by a local person. Although sharing is encouraged, it is optional. The small group meeting ends with prayer and each person decides on how he/she can apply the Scripture to their daily lives.

The small groups will meet at various times and days of the week. Meeting times will determine the make-up of most groups.

RENEW is a gradual process intended to help people grow in their relationship with Jesus Christ and with one another. Being in a small group will provide that sense of "belonging" that is so essential in forming a Christian community. Although we may already know our fellow parishioners, this will provide an opportunity for us to get to know them even better. The support and encouragement we'll receive to live the Christian life will be invaluable.

Those who are not able to attend small group meetings are urged to use the take home materials and to attend the large group meetings for each six week session.

Federal aid to help county in dam repair

by Elaine Schad

Cooke County will receive almost $29,000 in federal assistance to repair five soil conservation dams damaged by Spring flooding, officials said this week.

In addition to the county assistance, the Clear Creek Water Authority, which has jurisdiction in the southwestern part of the county, will receive some $60,000 in federal assistance, $40,000 of which will be for the repair of one spillway on a conservation dam in their area, officials said. Two of the worst damaged dams are located in Precinct 4 in the Muenster area. The other three dams are in Precinct 3 in the Lindsay and Myra areas, officials said.

Federal assistance pays for 75 percent of the damage. Total damage to the five sites was estimated at $38,511. The county's share will be $9,627. County commissioners have set a workshop for next week to see how much of the work can be done with county employees and equipment, which could save the county some of their share of the cost, officials said.

How Can You Accept the Invitation to RENEW?

Sign Up Sept. 1 & 2

Sunday Liturgy

Eucharist has always been at the heart of what it means to be Christian. During each of the six weeks of RENEW, our Sunday Liturgy will draw our attention to the RENEW themes of the week. When we prayerfully share in Eucharist, we participate in RENEW in our parish and our diocese.

Home / Family

Any true renewal, any true following of the Lord, can not be shut up in a church building, but must find its way into our hearts, our homes. During each of the six weeks of RENEW, there will be opportunities for us to experience the RENEW theme at home alone or with families.

Small Groups

Groups of 10 to 12 people will meet for approximately an hour and a half once a week for the six weeks of each RENEW season. RENEW discussion materials provide an opportunity for us to share and better understand the meaning of our faith, and by doing so, strengthen our commitment and celebrate our unity in Christ.

Parish Activities

We, like those first Christians, still need to be reminded of the truths of our faith. During the weeks of RENEW, parishes will offer a variety of opportunities for us to consider the RENEW themes. They may be devotional, educational, or social.

RENEW aims at:

- Helping people to grow in their relationship with Jesus.
- Developing vibrant faith communities.
- Encouraging people to act justly, empowered by the Holy Spirit.
- Strengthening the parish to live the Gospel.

Klement, Smith exchange vows Aug. 18

The wedding of Melinda Kay Smith of Muenster and Brian "Bubba" Keith Klement was held in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, Aug. 18, in a Nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony at 5 p.m., with Father Victor Gillespie officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Shirley (mother) and Wade Perryman of Muenster and Charles (father) and Linda Smith of Bowie.

The groom is the son of Robert F. Klement of Muenster and Laujana Klement of Muenster.

The bride attended Forestburg schools and graduated from Muenster High School. She is employed by Chris Bean DDS as office manager and dental assistant.

The groom is a graduate of Muenster High School and is employed by Tony's Seed and Feed of Gainesville.

The bride was presented at the altar by her father, Charles Smith. For her wedding, she chose a gown designed by Mori Lee, in white taffeta and Alencon lace, with fitted bodice, high neckline of lace and pearls, yoke of English net and sweetheart silhouette, edged with lace and pearls.

The double pouffed sleeves were appliqued with Alencon lace, embroidered with pearls, and tapered to the wrist with English net, lace and pearls.

From an elongated waist, the full skirt fell to slipper-length in front, sweeping into a chapel-length train. The skirt was highlighted by an overlay in front, rising to a large back bow.

Her soft, fingertip veil was gathered to a headpiece of lace and bridal pearls.

She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses, small iridescent flowers, primrose ribbon roses, with a cascading line traced with pearls, mauve ribbon and a rosary, a gift from the groom's grandmother, Sis Klement.

ATTENDANTS

Dana Morris of Bowie, bride's stepsister, was maid of honor. Leasha Perryman of Muenster, bride's sister; Connie Klement of Muenster, groom's sister; and Tammy Lawrence of Nocona, bride's cousin were bridesmaids, dressed alike in plum iridescent taffeta gowns. In design, the gowns featured fitted bodices, sweetheart necklines, short puffed sleeves and tea-length skirts.

Each carried a mixed bouquet of primrose gladioli, dogwood flowers, baby's breath, Boston fern and iridescent ribbon.

Kimberly Klement, daughter of Roy and Carol Klement, was flower girl, and Bradley Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Lawrence of Nocona, was ring bearer.

Kevin Klement, groom's uncle of Muenster, was best man. Groomsmen were Jimmy Smith of Bowie, bride's brother; Gary Klement, groom's uncle, and Darrell Dangelmayr, both of Muenster, groom's cousins.

Ushers were Bobby Lawrence of Nocona, bride's cousin; and Gene Luttmir and Craig Stoffels, friends; Chris Dangelmayr and Ron Dangelmayr, groom's cousins, and all of Muenster.

Mass servers were James Klement, groom's cousin and son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Klement; John Klement, groom's cousin and son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Klement.

Wedding music was provided by Ruth Felderhoff and Christy Hesse, including "Endless Love," "Up Where We Belong," "Follow Me," "Wind Beneath My Wings," "Clark's Trumpet Voluntary," Wagner's "Bridal March," "Wherever You Go," "Wedding Song," "May Your Lives Be Blessed," "Bridal Prayer," "Hail Mary," and Mendelssohn's "Recessional."

RECEPTION

A reception and dinner, catered by the Schad Ladies, followed in the Community Center. Andy Serina and the "Captive Hearts" played for dancing.

Jeannene Walterscheid, groom's cousin, and Deano Bayer, a friend, were in charge of the guest registry.

The white wedding cake with stairways leading to side cakes were enhanced by an elegant lighted fountain; and the groom's chocolate horseshoe cake were both made by Imogene Zimmerman.

Reception assistants were Imogene Zimmerman; Paula Smith of Bowie, bride's sister-in-law; and Shana Haverkamp, a friend. Cousins of the groom helped serve the cake.

The hall was decorated in cerise, mauves and iridescents. A large centerpiece consisted of doves in a bird cage.

When the couple returns from a wedding trip to San Antonio and the Gulf Coast, they will be at home in Muenster.

Bezners return from vacation in Russia

Mmes. Johann Bezner and Gladys Bezner returned on Aug. 1 from a "fabulous two weeks tour in Russia...Our Russian Experience included sightseeing tours of Moscow, Vladimir, Suzdal, Yalta and Leningrad," they said.

Extending their trip three more days than originally planned, they were able to take advantage of a Baltic Cruise aboard the luxurious Silja Cruise Ship, and then take city tours of Helsinki, Finland and Stockholm, Sweden.

Outstanding among memories, other than viewing the riches of Russia's historic palaces and churches, was attendance at the world famous Russian Circus in Moscow and the inspiring performance of the Krasnoyarsk Folk Dance Company of Siberia in the Cultural Centre Theater in Leningrad.

"So much of the trip is of such great interest," they said "that giving only a few details would add pages and pages. We have memories enough to last a lifetime."

Personal

Bobby and Sharlene Hartman spent last weekend on a trip to Arkansas for sightseeing and to take her brother, Chris Pagel, to Subiaco Academy where he will be a freshman.

MISD requests new rate

by Elaine Schad

Muenster school trustees are looking to set a tax rate of 73 cents per $100 valuation of property for 1990-91, so the district can get the full benefits of state funding, officials said.

The district's proposed budget for 1990-91 is $1,299,000, a $46,000 decrease from last year's $1,252,000 budget. School officials have rearranged some classes to save two teaching positions, plus have been able to absorb the state-mandated teacher raises and still hold the budget down, officials said.

"Last year, reserves were used to keep the tax rate down," said Superintendent Steve Cooper. State education officials recommend that school districts keep at least two to three months operating reserves, which at $335,000, the district currently has, he said. The district spent more than $100,000 in its reserve funds last year to fund the budget so that the rate could be set at 62 cents, Cooper said.

Senate Bill 1 has set standards through which school districts can receive a variety of state funding benefits, said Cooper. The district must set a rate of 70 cents, based on a 100 percent collection rate, in order to receive maximum benefits, he said. The board is looking at 73 cents to take into account that the district may not collect all its taxes, he said. "If we don't set it at 73 cents, we'll lose at least $50,000 (in state aid) right off the bat," he said. Should the district set the rate at 73 cents, officials estimate that the district could receive $553,000 in state aid at current projections.

The district's current tax rate is 62 cents. A reappraisal of the Muenster School District caused values to increase by $8 million over last year, from $80 to $88 million. That will make the district's effective tax rate 54 cents, the rate needed to bring in the same amount of money as last year.

Cooper pointed out that, even if Muenster ISD sets the rate at 73 cents, the school district's tax rate is still expected to be the second-lowest in the county. Sivel Bend, with a rate last year of 69 cents, is expected to be the lowest. The Valley View ISD this week set a rate of $1.12. Era is anticipating a rate of $1.16, while Gainesville's current rate is $1.21.

Back-to-school is order of the fall season

The exodus of students enroute to out of town schools and colleges that began last week and continued throughout this week, has gained steadily in numbers and distances. Next week will see most of the students well on their way to getting settled in new classrooms, dormitories, apartments, responsibilities and academic pursuits.

Among the first to leave were high school boys headed for Subiaco Academy's football program, on Aug. 11. In several cases they were accompanied by parents or grandparents who used the opportunity to spend a weekend with them visiting old friends or sightseeing.

Seniors Ryan Gehrig and Steve Schmitz, juniors Gus Felderhoff, Helmuth Koelzer and Chad Simmons, freshmen Chris Pagel, Michael Gehrig and Chad Hoberer are attending Subiaco Academy in Subiaco, Arkansas.

The Muenster Enterprise appeals to parents to send us names of their students who are enrolled in out-of-town or out-of-state schools to help us assemble a list of all graduates who are pursuing advanced academic or technical or job training courses.

Here is another thought. In the excitement of the immediate days ahead for all students leaving home for new studies or new jobs lurks the probability of a new experience HOMESICKNESS!!! It escapes no one!! We suggest helping relieve Homesickness by sending a subscription to The Muenster Enterprise. They'll keep up with sports, school news and community events. MISD Muenster Independent School District

P.O. Box 608 (817) 759-2281 Muenster, Texas 76252-0608

The Muenster I.S.D. Board of Trustees wishes to communicate the following information concerning the notifications below:

- Truth in Taxation guidelines require timelines be met in tax notifications. In order for that to be accomplished, these tax notifications were run in the Gainesville Register on August 13, 17 and 20. Muenster I.S.D. is running these again in The Muenster Enterprise so this information can get greater exposure locally.
- The operating budget for 1990-91 has been cut approximately $46,000.00. Several teaching positions have been absorbed, state-mandated raises have been absorbed, and several mandated programs have been implemented at a cost considerably less than last year's budget.
- The board also opted to preserve the remaining fund balance. In an effort to keep taxes down last year the board used over $150,000.00 of reserve. The state recommends that 2 to 3 months operating expense be held in reserve, if possible. The reserve fund generates interest money that helps defray taxes approximately 3 cents each year. If that were eliminated additional taxes would be needed to replace those funds. Finally, using reserve only puts the district in a postponement mode. When it is gone, you still have to consider tax increases, only then a district is usually in a deeper hole.
- If there are any questions or concerns, please contact me, Steve Cooper. I will be happy to sit down and discuss with you as an individual or group over pending tax situation.

Notice of Effective Tax Rate (for use by most taxing units)

| 1990 | Property Tax Rates in Muenster ISD |
|---|------------------------------------|
| This notice concerns 1990 property tax rates for Muenster ISD. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes on last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can sue for a rollback procedure. In each case, table rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value. | |

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The (Muenster ISD) will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in (1989-90) by (38.77%) percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property. The public hearing will be held on (Aug. 27, 1990 at 8 p.m.) at (Administration Bldg.).

FOR the proposal: D.J. Hellman, Harold Binde, Dennis Hess, Jerry Byrum, Leon Klement, Tom Flueche, Annette Anderle
 AGAINST the proposal:
 PRESENT and not voting:
 ABSENT:

(Names of all members of the governing body, showing how each voted on the proposal to consider the tax increase and, if one or more were absent, indicating the absence.)

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the (effective) tax rate that the unit published on (August 13, 1990 revised August 16). The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

| | Last Year | This Year |
|---|-----------|-----------|
| Average home value | 35250 | 36275 |
| General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions) | 5000 | 5000 |
| Average taxable value | 30250 | 31275 |
| Tax rate | 62062 | 7306 |
| Tax | 187.74 | 228.58 |

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would (increase) by $ (40.76) or (21.77) percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would (increase) by $ (1990) (17.75) percent of taxable value or (17.75) percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Sacred Heart teacher is skilled silversmith

Place the stamp and hammer. Place the stamp and hammer. Thus go the hands of Eric Gray as he stamps out an intricate design on various pieces of German silver.

Employed by Sacred Heart High School as a teacher of German, math and religion, Gray has summers free to spend more time pursuing a second trade of silversmithing. He learned the craft six years ago at the Crazy Crow Trading Post.

The Crazy Crow is a wholesale and retail catalogue outlet located in Denison, Texas. By mail one can purchase a variety of products such as Indian crafts and beadwork, animal hides and fur, black powder rifle accessories, Mountain-man equipment, and Southwest Plains Indian jewelry.

Gray first became well acquainted with the Crazy Crow operation when his brother, Kevin, brought him along on a job interview and both brothers were hired. "I was just a go-for them," he commented. "But I got to watch the silversmiths and that was when I first became interested in the craft."

Eric got the opportunity to learn the art of silversmithing the nickel silver pieces in 1984 when his brother, Edmund, was the manager of Crazy Crow. He continued to work there during the summers until he settled in Muenster to teach.

After moving from Denison Gray had to begin building and assembling all of the equipment needed to operate a silversmith shop. He took up residence in the former Tony Felderhoff home and began equipping a back room for the purpose.

All of the shelves and tables were built by Eric. He also made the designed stamps he uses to imprint the German silver. They are made from drill rod and can take from 15 minutes to an hour and a half to fashion.

Flat sheets of German silver metal are used to make the silver pieces. The silversmith traces the intended pattern on the metal wasting as little as possible. He then uses tin snips or a jeweler's saw (depending on the piece) to cut out the pattern. A variety of stamp designs are used to create a pattern that is repeated over the silver piece.

After the design is finished, the whole piece is back hammered to straighten it. An electric file is used to smooth and perfect the piece which is then buffed to a glossy finish.

Some of the pieces require assembly where one section is sautered to another. Arm bands need a nail sautered to them to use as a clasp. The scarf slides require that the slide be sautered to the back of the designed piece.

A steady hand is required to do the cutting, filing and stamping, said Gray. "It also takes some creativity and often some engineering to make things work," offered the local silversmith.

The Southwest Plains Indians began creating this type of jewelry because of the influence of the Spanish explorers that they encountered. The Spanish people used ornate pieces of silver to decorate their saddles and other equipment.

When Indian tribes were at war they would take the decorated pieces from their captives and use them for their own personal decoration. Also silver money that was taken by the Indians was used to shape into various pieces of jewelry.

After the Civil War trappers and settlers traded silver to the Indians for furs. This gave the Indians a ready supply of silver to use for making their silver jewelry.

Eric Gray is the fifth of 12 children of William S. and Thelma R. Gray. He was born and raised in Denison. His high school education was completed at Subiaco Academy in Arkansas.

Gray earned a BA in Secondary Education from the University of Dallas and is currently working towards a Master of Theological Studies from the same university.

A multi-talented person, Eric enjoys many hobbies including playing the guitar, outdoor photography, hunting, hiking and traveling. He has just this year fully established his silversmith shop.

Although he hasn't yet sold any pieces to the public he said that he would be willing to take orders. Presently most of Eric's creations are requisitioned by the Crazy Crow Trading Post to fill mail orders. He receives a list of items and the number of each that are needed.

With the start of school there will be much less time to spend working on silver pieces. The days of summer vacation are over for Eric as he opened his lesson plan book earlier this week and began shaping things up for another school year.

Williamson is key legislator for health care

The Texas Health Care Association has recognized State Representative Ric Williamson (D-Weatherford) as one of the key legislators responsible for solving the most recent health care crisis in Texas.

According to Tom Suehs, Executive Director of the Texas Health Care Association, "hospitals, physicians and nursing homes are dependent on one another. It is essential to the ability of our entire state health care system that Medicaid reimbursement to all of these providers continue in a businesslike manner. Had the moratorium on Medicaid payments continued, the delay of health care to the elderly would have been seriously jeopardized. Had the lawsuit between the Texas Department of Human Services and the nursing home industry continued, the care and custody of thousands of nursing home clients would have been seriously threatened. Williamson worked long hours with all of the affected health care providers and state agencies to forge a compromise that is in the best interest of all, both short and long term. His contribution as a member of the Legislative Budget Board has saved health care providers and state agencies an extraordinary amount of taxpayer investment that would have been otherwise wasted on legal fees. We are most grateful for his public service."

Texoma Council on Alcohol/Drug Abuse of Sherman receives $60,000

AUSTIN - Representative Ric Williamson, D - Weatherford recently announced the awarding of $60,000 to the Texoma Council on Alcohol/Drug Abuse of Sherman serving Cooke County, to provide basic council services. The money received by the Texoma Council is a portion of the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse's "Council Initiative" which is providing basic council services for counties across the state that were unserved or underserved. Basic council services include evaluation and referral, treatment placement and follow-up, education and information services, and a 24-hour telephone information service at each council. The funding is part of over $4.4 million awarded this week by the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse (TCADA) for new anti-drug services to Texas for the September 1, 1990 through August 31, 1991 fiscal year.

"Only by reducing the demand for alcohol and other drugs can we rescue our society from the ravages of this problem," said Williamson in announcing the funding award. "The three types of programs funded by the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse under this initiative - school-based education programs, information and referral programs, and HIV prevention and treatment services - offer our best hope in doing so."

These programs continue a dedicated effort by Texas and the nation to solve alcohol and drug problems and improve opportunities for young people. "These new dollars to fight alcohol and drug abuse signify a major commitment by the federal and state legislatures to providing a drug-free future for Texas," said Williamson. "From my position as the Vice-Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, I was one of the leaders in moving taxpayer investment toward these type of programs. I am very pleased that a portion of the money that was appropriated through my legislative efforts has been allocated to the Texoma Council on Alcohol/Drug Abuse serving Cooke County."

The DARE, Council and HIV programs are part of a full range of chemical dependency prevention, intervention and treatment services provided by the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse. TCADA is the single state agency mandated by law to administer state and federal funds for alcohol and drug prevention, intervention and treatment services. The Commission also protects the health and rights of chemically-dependent clients through licensure of all entities providing alcohol and drug treatment and rehabilitation services in Texas.

CCC Board approves new 1991 budget

by Elaine Schad

The Cooke County College board of trustees this week approved an $8.1 million operating budget for 1990-1991 and set the tax rate at 11.097 cents per $100 valuation of property.

The budget is a $319,543 increase, or 1.5 percent, over last year's $7.9 million budget. About $100,000 of the increase, however, is from an increase of a variety of auxiliary fund activities, such as the campus bookstore, which is reflected in the budget, but is not an actual increase in expenditures, said CCC President Dr. Bud Joyner.

The tax rate includes 8.9 cents for maintenance and operation and 2.2 cents for debt service. The new rate will bring in 3 percent more in local tax revenue than last year, but is a reduction from the 1989 actual tax rate of 11.65 cents. The county gained almost $53 million in property values, from $824 million last year to $877 million for 1990.

This year's budget is one of the tightest the college has operated under, said Joyner. One reason is that the college's enrollment, which has grown significantly in recent years, has stabilized, meaning that the college won't receive additional state aid for the enrollment increases, he said. The college is undertaking several new initiatives as part of the new budget in efforts to increase enrollment over the next several years, Joyner said. These will include more off-campus offerings in the Denton County area and the offering of new associate degree programs, he said.

Regulation guides printed at no cost

AUSTIN - This year, for the first time, both the Texas Hunting Guide and Texas Recreational Fresh & Saltwater Fishing Guide contain advertising, saving sportsmen hundreds of thousands of dollars.

According to Jack Branham, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's director of purchasing and contracting, the department received four proposals to publish one million hunting and two million fishing guides. Chosen was the Blackford Company of Lebanon, Ore., who agreed to a three-year contract to publish the guides at no cost to the department. The department would receive 70 percent of advertising revenues to offset printing costs. The department had final approval on the products advertised in the guides but neither endorses the products or services advertised nor accepts any liability arising from use of the products.

"It's a no lose scenario for both parties. The publisher is guaranteed he won't take a loss and the department is guaranteed revenue to offset printing costs," Branham said.

Texas hunting and fishing licenses and stamps expire each year on Aug. 31. New licenses and guides will be available from department offices across the state and from retail outlets during the entire month of August.

WILDLIFE OF TEXAS by Ray Bronk

MOURNING DOVE

I remember, as a child, hearing through the open window, the "coo-ah, coo-ah, coo-ah," of the Mourning Dove, Zenaidura macroura.

Now, years later, I am thrilled by the acrobatic antics of the mourning dove as it bobs and weaves and darts, and maneuvers like a feathered fighter aircraft.

The mourning dove is found in every state of the United States and in every province in Canada.

It is a member of the Columbidae family, which includes pigeons and doves. Mourning doves are smaller than most pigeons.

The coloring of the mourning dove, when viewed at a distance, is dull and drab, and presents a gray appearance. A close inspection reveals light brownish gray feathers on top, with pale tan below. The wings are usually darker, with some small blackened areas, and some white-tipped feathers are prominent in the outer tail.

An iridescent light purple feathered area is found on the neck, and a large black patch covers the ear area.

The mourning dove, about 11-13 inches in length (tip of tail to tip of beak), is sometimes confused with two other members of the dove family, the White-winged Dove and the Inca Dove.

The white-winged dove is slightly smaller (11-12 1/2 inches in length) than the mourning dove, but is easily recognized by its prominent white wing patches. The little inca dove can be found in urban backyards, feeding at a bird feeder.

This little (7 1/2-8 inches long) dove rarely flies higher than 10 feet above the ground. Mourning doves begin breeding as early as March in the far western states, and continue until September. Some of the doves in temperate areas breed and nest as many as four times per year.

A nest of sticks is made in low trees, bushes, rocks, or on the ground, depending on the type of terrain and habitat available. Two eggs are laid. They are white-colored, and about 1 inch long.

After the eggs hatch, both parents take over the task of feeding the young, called squabs, with "pigeon milk," or "crop milk," secreted in the crop by both parents. Later, the young feed with the parents on seeds, fruit, and foliage. Doves love to scavenge in harvested fields of wheat, oats, corn, milo, and other seed crops. They also love to eat wild sunflower seeds, and many weed seeds, such as crouton, (sometimes called "goat weed," or "dove weed.")

Doves found in the northern tiers of states are strictly migratory, and leave their nests prior to the onset of bad weather. Those found in the warmer climates such as Texas remain there, but migrate within the warm areas for long distances, depending on habitat conditions, the weather, and hunting pressure.

Some people are concerned about the hunting of doves to extinction, in the way that the passenger pigeon was hunted out by market hunters. This seems unlikely. The protection of the federal and state government, through regulation of season length and bag limits, keeps control on the numbers of survivors.

Good game bird management techniques and conservation of habitat promises to insure the continued growth and survival of this lovely Texas game bird resource.

Community colleges in Texas among best value in the nation

It's not exactly a blue light special but the price of a community college in Texas is a bargain.

According to the Texas Public Community/Junior College Association, the average in-district tuition charge for community colleges in the state is $11 per semester hour.

Currently, tuition for the public senior institutions is $18 per semester hour. In 1991, tuition will increase to $20 per semester hour and in 1993, to $22 per semester hour.

In a national comparison by the State of Washington Higher Education Coordinating Board, Texas ranked 42nd in the nation in the average amount of tuition and fees charged resident students attending community colleges. A student enrolled in one of Texas' 49 community college districts can expect to pay on average a total of about $560 in annual tuition and fees for 30 semester hours. The national average is $852.

Why choose a community college? Some of the advantages of selecting a community college, in addition to low cost, include:

- *Open door admission policies.
- *Financial aid. (29 percent of students enrolled in public community/junior colleges participate in financial aid programs. Only 9 percent of American undergraduates rely solely on their parents for financial support.)
- *Accessibility. In Texas, the 49 public community college districts are within commuting distance of 90 percent of the state's population.
- *Flexible class schedules. Classes are offered during the day, evening and on weekends.
- *Smaller class size.
- *Quality instruction. Antique Farm Machinery to be displayed August 25 and 26

by Elaine Schad
More than 150 pieces of antique farm tractors and equipment used from the early 1900s through the 1940s will be demonstrated and on display during the fifth annual Cooke County Antique Machinery Show Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 25 and 26, at the Tractor Pull Arena in Lindsay. The show, which generally draws some 2,000 visitors from Texas and Southern Oklahoma, will begin each day at 11 a.m. A parade featuring the antiques will begin each day at 2 p.m. Refreshments and lunch will be available. To get to the tractor pull arena, take U.S. 82 four miles west of Gainesville to Lindsay. Take FM 1199 three miles north and follow the signs to the arena. Antique equipment demonstrations will be held throughout each day, including wheat threshing, mule-drawn hay baling, small engine displays, corn grinding in a grist mill, and old-time plowing. Other activities include tractor races and a kiddie tractor pull. Other machinery expected to be on display and demonstrated range from a classic 10-ton, 60 horsepower, 1911 Case steam tractor to a 1920 Aultman Taylor tractor whose steel wheels stand almost eight feet tall. For the second year, the show will feature a draft horse demonstration, utilizing some of the antique farm equipment, conducted by Weldon Faught of Aubrey. The club already has held two antique demonstrations this year to coincide with the harvesting seasons, one which included an old-time binding followed by a threshing demonstration early last month. A desire to retain some of the farm machines of the past before it was too late led to the formation of the antique farm equipment group, said Doug Martin, president of the Cooke County Antique Tractor and Farm Machinery Club, a non-profit group numbering some 75 members from North Texas and Southern Oklahoma. The group has restored the antique farm pieces to their original colors and to almost perfect condition, he said. Martin has restored three tractors from the 1930s, including an H model John Deere, as well as 35B and 36A models. "There's just something about an antique tractor that catches people's fancy," he said. "It's just a challenge to go to the farthest detail in fixing them up." Admission to the show is $3 for adults, with children under 12 admitted free. The rain date is Sept. 1 and 2. For more information, call 736-2311 or 665-6806.

Winter pastures in Cooke County can provide high quality forage during the season when summer pastures are dormant. Winter pastures can also provide an option for harvesting grain. Winter forages will provide an equivalent feed ration of 1/3 grain and 2/3 cottonseed meal.

Rainfall patterns in North Central Texas are favorable for a long growing season, beginning in late August and continuing through May. Temperatures during much of this time are favorable for cool season forage production.

Winter grazing comes from early fall growth! Adequate fertilization and early planting are essential for early forage growth. All pasture production practices should be performed to maximize forage growth before December 1. Forage growth is reduced remarkably when temperature declines below 65 degrees Fahrenheit. As winter approaches, day length is shorter, cloud cover increases and cooler temperatures prevail. All these factors are unfavorable for optimum winter forage growth. Thus, winter grazing must be grown during fall months.

You should plant adapted, high-yielding varieties. Plant certified seed which has been treated with a recommended fungicide.

OATS are not as winter hardy and will not grow at as low a temperature as will wheat, barley or rye. Oats are usually the most palatable of all small grains and provide early grazing.

WHEAT is well adapted to the area and perform satisfactorily in the grazing program. Wheat and rye can survive lower temperatures than oats.

RYE usually provides early grazing, grows in mid-winter, ceases growth and matures earlier in the spring than other small grains. Ryegrass could be a combination with rye.

BARLEY survives lower temperatures than oats, but forage production usually is less than other species.

TRITICALE is a hybrid between durum wheat and rye. Triticale frequently produces the highest forage yields of other species. The grain has little market value.

RYEGRASS performs satisfactorily on soils with better moisture relationships. Ryegrass grows later in the fall and matures 4 to 6 weeks later in the spring than small grains. Ryegrass usually can be grown successfully in combination with small grain species.

HEAVY SEEDING RATES provide earlier grazing, although total forage production may be the same as with lower seeding rates. For combinations of ryegrass and small grains, plant 15 pounds of ryegrass in addition to 100 pounds of small grain.

AND PLANT NEAR SEPTEMBER 1. If seedlings are not made during early September, reduced fall and winter grazing can be expected.

Watermelon and Cantaloupe Variety Meeting Aug. 27

This spring we planted cantaloupe and watermelon varieties to evaluate their potential production in the Cooke County area. Jim Blalock, Extension Agronomist, will be in the county at these watermelon and cantaloupe plots at 8:30 a.m. Monday, Aug. 27. Evaluation of production and chemical weed and grass control will be discussed. The plots are located on the Albert Rohmer farm south of Myra. The Rohmer farm is located east of FM 1198 on County Road 308. Additional information on plot location can be obtained by calling the County Extension Office.

Producers interested in growing cantaloupe and watermelons in the area are invited to attend this field meeting.

AAM denounces Farm Bill...

Farmers predict economic disaster for families living in rural America

American Agriculture Movement (AAM) National President

Harvey Joe Sanner announced that even though there were some very good aspects to the 1990 Farm Bill, the bad far outweighed the good and he and his organization would not support the bill.

"Congress sent a loud and clear message to the trade negotiators at the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT)," said Sanner "that we are not buying what they are selling. The 1990 Farm Bill should have made it evident to Secretary Yeutter and Trade Representative Hills that the United States Congress still writes the laws in this country."

Sanner went on to address another positive perspective of the bill saying, "Our lawmakers were not deceived by those who would label farm programs as welfare program. That is why they defeated measures like the Army - Schumer and Reid amendments.

"When you add it all up," Sanner remarked, "it means less money in farmers pockets. Congress seems content to extend the windfall for food processors and grain traders while denying parity to producers. That being the case there is no way we as a farm organization, representing them every day, full time, family farmers can, support such a bill."

AAM National Director David Senter expanded by saying, "The Farm Bill as it has been passed out of both the Senate and the House does nothing to preserve farm income, much less improve it. America's farmers need a fair price at the market place, and this bill ignores that fundamental need. Congress has chosen to ignore what farmers all over the nation demanded during all of the field hearings. Farmers expressed their need for higher prices at every stage of the farm bill debate."

Sanner declared, "This bill will put hundreds of thousands of this nation's farmers off the land over the next five years. We cannot support such an attack on America's farmers, therefore, we have made the decision not to support the bill, nor will we be upset if it draws a veto."

Hardy new grass uses less water, needs less mowing

Prairie buffalo grass, a newly adapted minimum-care turf grass especially suited to Texas sun and drought conditions, will become available for Texas landscapes next Spring.

The grass performs well in hot, sunny conditions, requiring minimal irrigation, mowing, and fertilizer, said Dr. Milt Engelke, a turf grass breeder who developed the new variety at Texas A&M's research center in Dallas. "This makes it ideal for roadside and airport right-of-way and industrial park applications, and for many residential lawns," he said. "The state of Texas spent $38 million in 1988 to mow highway right-of-way, and this new turf grass could reduce those costs."

Prairie buffalo grass in urban landscapes could save 50 to 70 percent of the water use for irrigation of lawns, Engelke said.

A typical homeowner with a Prairie buffalo grass lawn would need to mow and water only two or three times in a growing season. Left uncut, the grass grows to a maximum height of about four inches, but it may be mowed shorter and more frequently and still maintain its dense appearance, Engelke said. It is not suited to shade. The grass spreads faster, has fewer weeds, and a denser appearance than other commercially available buffalo grass cultivars. Because it is a female plant of the species, Prairie produces neither seedheads nor pollen. It is grown from sod, sprigs, or plugs.

The grass performs best on heavier soils and on neutral to alkaline soils. In addition to being able to withstand Texas summers, it also tolerates cold weather and maintains a gold color in winter.

Certified producers will offer "Prairie" for sale through nurseries to the public next Spring.

TFB disagrees with new wetlands policy

WACO - The president of Texas' largest farm organization says the Bush Administration's "no net loss" wetlands policy could bring economic hardship to farmers and ranchers.

S.M. True, a Plainview grain, cotton and cattle producer, and president of the Texas Farm Bureau, explained in a letter to Bush, "Your 'no net loss' wetlands policy has the potential to cause tremendous economic harm to the American agricultural industry and rural America."

True expressed concern that the federal Wetlands Task Force has scheduled only six public hearings during the period from Aug. 17 through Sept. 17, a time when many Texas farmers are in the fields. True also complained that the nearest hearing for Texans to attend is in New Orleans on Aug. 27. New Orleans is 230 miles from the Texas-Louisiana border.

Six public hearings are too few, True said, given the latitude government employees have to decide what constitutes a wetland in various parts of the country.

Farmers are worried that rigid guidelines will cost them the use of portions of their farms without compensation, he said.

True said, "We respectfully request that a hearing be held in Texas to give our producers a chance to be heard."
