Gold Star 4-Hers named at Cooke County Achievement Banquet Monday night

Sherilyn Sicking of Muenster and Clifford Lutkenhaus of Lindsay were named Cooke County's 4-H Gold Star winners at the 4-H Achievement banquet on Monday, Oct. 15 at 7 p.m. held in the Gainesville Civic Center and sponsored by Cooke County Electric Cooperative. Presentation of awards was made by District Judge Jerry Woodlock.

The Gold Star award is the highest achievement for a 4-H girl and boy and crowns their years of work, growth and leadership with a mark of particular distinction. Announcement of the Gold Star awards came as the culmination of a long series of special awards following the banquet.

Contributing to Sherilyn's selection were her nine years of membership; and projects in rabbits, clothing, sheep, recreation, veterinary science, consumer life skills, and leadership.

Offices held include council delegate, president, 2nd vice chairman, secretary, recreation leader, fashion show committee and district council delegate.

She has competed at county, district and state levels in Safety Method Demonstrations, and district Share The Fun, Foods, Record Book and Shooting Sports.

Contributing to Clifford's selection were his seven years of membership; and projects in poultry; foods and nutrition; clothing; recreation; health and shooting sports; and leadership and community service in various categories and areas. About 4-H, he says "4-H has helped me do more than I ever thought possible. I can butcher chickens - I can cook chickens...I can sew my own clothes or make wise choices in a department store...I know how to take care of sick calves, cut fingers and broken bones." He has lived up to the pledge of "Giving my hands to better service."

Presiding for the program were Laura Lutkenhaus, 1989 Gold Star 4-Her who led the opening ceremonies, and Eddie Krebs, 1989 Gold Star 4-Her who led the opening prayer, preceding dinner catered by the Hermes Sisters of Lindsay.

The welcome was given by Wayne Mitchell, manager of First Gibraltar Savings and also a member of the Board of Directors of Cooke County Electric Cooperative. In his comments he mentioned that "It is nice to see all these young people who are community problem solvers, rather than community problems."

Guests were introduced by Laura Lutkenhaus. The evening's speaker, Dr. Bud Joyner, president of Cooke County College, was introduced by Eddie Krebs.

Dr. Joyner told the students, leaders and guests that Attitude is the difference between asking "Why?" or asking "Why Not?" "Attitude," he said, "is a balance of enthusiasm and believing." He also told the 4-Hers: "You'd make a lousy anyone else, but you make a Wonderful You!"

Presentations of awards were made by several county and business dignitaries. Eric Williams of Cooke County Electric presented Achievement awards to Laura Lutkenhaus and Sherilyn Sicking; an Agriculture award to Werner Becker; Beef awards to Kim Embrey and Melissa Styles; Breadawards to Ginger Andrew, Emily Felderhoff and Christi Mobley; Clothing awards to Kimberly Kupper, Carrie Laster, Please See 4-H, Page 13

Abbot Jerome Kodell to speak to parish Oct. 28

Abbot Jerome Kodell, OSB of Subiaco Academy in Little Rock, AR, will be the keynote speaker at the RENEW Large Group gathering, sponsored by Sacred Heart Parish on Sunday, Oct. 28, at 7 p.m. in the Sacred Heart Community Center.

The Abbot is a native of Clarksville, Arkansas. He was born Jan. 19, 1940, and ordained a priest on May 22, 1965. After his ordination, he was sent to Rome to study Sacred Scripture.

He is the author of several books in the field of scripture and has written numerous articles for national publications about scripture. Abbot Jerome has written and spoken often about how to make the Scriptures apply to daily Christian living.

As a member of a small group of people who started the Little Rock Scripture Study, Abbot Jerome was instrumental in developing a program that has been used in parishes throughout the United States. He wrote nearly all of the Study Guides for the Little Rock Scripture Study.

When the Diocese of Little Rock sponsored the RENEW program several years ago, Abbot Jerome worked with it.

Presently, he is Superior of a community numbering some 70 members who are at Subiaco Academy in Arkansas, Santa Familia Monastery in Belize, Central America, and parishes in Arkansas and North Texas.

After the Abbot's talk, JAM will perform a skit and refreshments will be served. "Everyone is welcome to come," stressed Fr. Victor Gillespie, pastor. "You don't have to be in a RENEW Small Group or Home Study Group, this is for the entire parish and anyone who would like to come is welcome!"

CC Appraisal District budget rejected

by Elaine Schad

The Cooke County Appraisal District board of directors must present a second budget for approval after county taxing entities this week overwhelmingly rejected the district's first budget of $653,820 for fiscal 1990.

The rejected budget represents an 18.2 percent increase from last year's budget. The budget also includes an additional $111,000 for collections, which the district assumed Oct. 1 from the county.

Since appraisal districts were created to serve taxing entities, the budget is first approved by the appraisal district board of directors. It must then be approved by a simple majority of eligible voting taxing entities within 30 days of approval by the board in order to take effect, according to the state's property tax code. The CCAD board approved the budget on September 14. The CCAD must now approve and resubmit another budget to the entities, again with the 30-day deadline for action, officials said.

Of the county's 11 entities eligible to vote on the budget, six turned it down by submitting a written statement by Friday's deadline. They included the City of Muenster, Era ISD, Lindsay ISD, Gainesville ISD, Walnut Bend ISD and Callisburg ISD. Three additional entities, the City of Gainesville, Valley View ISD and Muenster ISD, also rejected the budget in writing, but their letters arrived at the CCAD office on Monday, which CCAD officials contend does not meet the deadline. The only entities which failed to notify the CCAD was Cooke County and the Sivells Bend ISD, which signifies budget approval for those entities, officials said. The Cooke County College and Gainesville Memorial Hospital boards were ineligible to vote, according to tax code.

"I feel positive overall, and I think there are some changes that we can make," said Brenda Urrutia, acting CCAD chief appraiser. She said several entity representatives gave verbal reasons for the rejection. "It's really not the dollar figure at all, but a statement that they'd like to see the job done better," she said.

The appraisal district has come under intense criticism in recent months. The City of Muenster charged there were more than $1 million in errors on the city's tax rolls that were prepared by the appraisal district. A group of 47 disgruntled taxpayers filed a group lawsuit in September, contending their property has been unfairly appraised and that the district is granting preferential treatment to some people. The CCAD board of directors fired Chief Appraiser Pat Pickett last month, and two employees resigned within that same week. The rejected budget includes a $25,000 line item for what is expected to be increasing legal fees due to several lawsuits, something that has also forced the district's liability insurance premiums higher, officials said.

"There's just an overall desire to see a more efficient operation," said Muenster ISD Superintendent Steve Cooper concerning his board's rejection.

The Valley View school board submitted written recommendations for improvement at the district which included the consolidation of some job functions. The most notable was a suggestion to merge the jobs of chief appraiser and senior appraiser as had been done in the past.

The Gainesville School District cited a "lack of completeness" in the budget. Cooke County commissioners failed to muster a motion for either rejection or approval at their last meeting, which left the budget approved by that entity. Commissioner Kenneth Alexander said, however, that he feels there is too wide of a gap in salaries, with the chief appraiser's job paying almost $40,000, while "those who get out in the field and do the work" get around $17,000.

Despite this year's controversy, it is not unusual for Cooke County taxing entities to scrutinize the CCAD annual budget, with last year's budget the only one approved. Please See BUDGET, Page 2

Middle East Crisis touches local lives

by Janet Felderhoff

Since the early part of August, the world has focused its attention on the Mid-East crisis situation. The events that took place in those August days have touched the lives of everyone in the United States to varying degrees.

Locally, relatives of hostage Rainard Walterscheid wait and wonder about his welfare. He is remembered daily in the community's prayers. Others are concerned about relatives and friends who are in the service, some are already in the Middle East and others expect to be there soon. Like most other communities, Muenster businesses and residences display yellow ribbons showing their support of the servicemen in the Middle East.

Muenster, being a community where many people make their living in some type of oil field related business, should be benefiting from the higher price per barrel of oil, in some people's opinion. This has not proven to be true as yet.

Most local businesses have not seen an increase in sales. Many merchants report that people are spending cautiously or cutting back on convenience items.

Al Felderhoff, co-owner of Felderhoff Bros. Drilling Company, commented that the price of oil is too high to be good for the economy of the country. "It went too high too quickly," he said. "The price of crude oil has doubled since July."

On Tuesday, Oct. 8, the price of crude oil was $37.75, which was up $1 from the day before. November oil futures were $38.95. Prices change daily.

Most oil producers consider $25 to $28 a barrel a decent price for oil, according to Felderhoff. He added that many could make it at $20. Many producers were hurt when oil prices dropped to $10 and $11 a barrel.

Felderhoff reported that the total rig count across the United States is 1,064, which is up from the 960 operating a year ago.

Business has picked up some for Felderhoff Bros. Drilling recently, but, according to the co-owner, the company's three rigs were already fairly busy.

Activity in the oil fields is increasing because of the Middle East crisis, but Felderhoff predicts that it will be nothing like in the late '70s and early '80s. "If they settle things over there, the price of oil will be back down to $25 in two weeks' time," he stated.

Many old wells are being

These are components of gasoline distribution. The price of gas at the pump reflects costs and competition at each point in the distribution chain. Today's oil markets react rapidly to supply uncertainties and price shifts. Because of today's communication technology, traders are able to track global spot prices and carry out transactions quickly. In turn, contract and wholesale prices are affected rapidly.

reworked now that oil is more valuable. It had previously been considered too great an expense for the money they were bringing in. Area service rig operators are being kept busy because of this.

Tim Felderhoff of WFW Well Service reports that they have been 30 to 40 percent busier since oil prices increased. He expects business to be steady as long as oil prices are up. Besides servicing old wells, they have gotten more completion jobs on newly drilled wells because of the increase in drilling activity.

On the flip side of the coin, consumers of fuel are having to pay higher prices. The escalating price of oil has already caused the price of gasoline at the pump to jump considerably higher.

Danny Walterscheid, manager of H&W Kountry Korner, said that he has noticed an increase in customers coming to purchase the self-serve gas. "A penny or so a gallon doesn't sound like much, but it can add up to $2 or $3 on a tank full," said Walterscheid. "We definitely won't see $1 per gallon gas for a while."

The situation should help Muenster as well as hurt it because Muenster is an "oil town," higher oil prices should mean more money in circulation, said Walterscheid.

Carolyn Bayer of Bayer's Kolonialwaren said that there wasn't a noticeable difference in the sales of gasoline or of other merchandise.

The DI One Stop's manager, Ben Bindel, noticed no difference in the amount of gasoline being sold, but said that people are cutting back on their purchases of convenience items.

At the Kerr-McGee, a full service station, Neil Huchton has observed a decline in gas sales. "It's slowed down beer sales, too," said Huchton. "People aren't going as much as they were."

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The enclosed letter was sent to Ric Williamson by 159 students from Muenster Public and Sacred Heart High Schools. We feel that parents and members of the Muenster Community, when given the opportunity, should compliment these young citizens for taking a positive stand on such a vital issue.

Mr. Williamson's reply was not near as positive as the students. First, he declined the opportunity to meet with the students, stating that he feared his opponent, Kyle McCain, might make an issue out of it. When we questioned what it was, we received no reply.

In a conversation with Mr. Williamson, he stated that he believed that the fetus in the mother's womb was in fact a human life. He also stated that he is, and always has been Pro-Life. Mr. Williamson said he would support legislation giving parental consent and a waiting period with counseling before an abortion could be performed. We feel this is at most a token gesture for the rights of the unborn. The fact is, with this type of legislation, the senseless killing of the unborn would still be legal.

We questioned Mr. Williamson just how Pro-Life he really is, and just what legislation he would support to protect these lives. Mr. Williamson was also asked if he supports the two anti-life Democrats, Ann Richards and Bob Bullock, running for the most powerful positions in the state. Both of these candidates have made campaign promises that no legislation that would protect the lives of the unborn would get past them. We stated to Mr. Williamson that to support these people certainly was not a Pro-Life statement.

Mr. Williamson refused to reply to any of these questions and statements. We told Mr. Williamson that to take the middle of the road approach we could not present him as a Pro-Life representative to the students.

We challenge the voting citizens of Muenster to question the two candidates in the race for the 63rd District to take a stand on this issue. The lives of thousands of unborn are at stake. We feel it is the duty of the elected officials to represent the views of the constituents in their district, and not the views of their political party.

Sincerely,
Kenneth and Marilyn Bierschenk
Rt. 2 Box 510
Muenster, Texas

Dear Mr. Richard Williamson:

March 26, 1990

The concerned citizens of Muenster would like to tell you how we feel about abortion, which is an important controversy in our world today. We believe that life is a very precious thing and should not be destroyed. Most of the things that one hears in the media, show a slanted side of the controversy. We are asking you to listen to our point of view. Although we are not of voting age today, we will be soon and are very concerned about this issue.

There are a million and a half abortions every year. That is a million and a half young, innocent Americans who are being murdered. Pro-abortionists call themselves pro-choice because they give the woman a choice. But think about it. Did they give the child a choice? The aborted child died without being given a chance. Some people think capital punishment is wrong. The criminals, who are executed, are guilty of committing some crime. What crime did that innocent, unborn child commit? We agree that a woman should have rights, but in this country no one has the right to take the life of another human being. This is not only a criminal issue but a moral issue.

In the Webster vs. Reproductive Health Service decision, the United States Supreme Court ruled in favor of the unborn, thus paving the way for individual states to pass legislation protecting the unborn. We would like to encourage you to introduce or vote for any bill that would give rights back to the unborn. We hope that laws will be passed so that unborn children will have the right to life.

We would like to invite you to our community to discuss this issue with us. Please advise us of the time that you could meet with us, and contact Kenneth Bierschenk, Rt. 2 Box 510, Muenster, TX 76252 at phone number (817) 759-4197.

We have enclosed a video tape that shows an actual abortion. After viewing it we think everyone should know the facts about abortion. Please view the tape, if you see fit, show it to your colleagues. Thank you for your cooperation and time.

Sincerely Pro-Life Student Supporters

Letter to the Editor:

"THOUGHTS..."

In retrospect, for the past three years, as I worked daily with the youth of this area in the local sporting goods business, I now realize that I've actually been "growing up" WITH these kids (even though my years should have had me through that stage at least a decade or so ago). I've been learning a lot - not only about the local KIDS, but also about myself and this community of Muenster.

Lately, we've heard a lot of criticism of the Texas educational system yet it's common knowledge that our local area boasts at least four of the finest, highest acclaimed high school systems in North Texas - two of them right here in Muenster. Translated in simpler terms, this means that it's just plain tougher, and requires more effort and self-discipline for our kids to make good grades here. Yet I've noticed that the same honor students who came into the store to order UIL, academic and Student Council award patches are also winning high individual athletic awards. And some of these kids are managing to hold down a part-time job, too! Pretty impressive, eh?

SIMPLE DEDUCTION: We've got a lot of extremely bright, talented and hardworking kids around here who take much pride in what they do.

That makes me proud. And it should make you ALL proud, too, because the credit for these ambitious young adults goes solely to the kids themselves, not even to their parents or teachers, but to the entire community of Muenster. In my estimation, the local businesses and organizations share equally in the kids' success. "Intriguing" you say? Read on.

In three years, I've seen more money invested back into our local youth than one probably imagines. To make my point clearer, I would like to list just a few projects (there's not enough space to include them all).

The Muenster Jaycees annually sponsor and fund the local Boys' Summer League Baseball Program; Punt, Pass and Kick; the City's Easter Egg Hunt; and the Summer Youth Fishing Tournament - ALL offered free of charge to the participants. The Jaycees have also taken great care of our City Park and Baseball Park providing maintenance, materials and labor. They are also responsible for building the new tennis courts and sand volleyball pit, plus providing avid spectators with portable bleachers at the Baseball Field.

The local Council of the Knights of Columbus fund the highly popular Summer T-Ball and Girls' Softball Leagues. They provide the uniforms to all participants and require no entry fees. They are also responsible for the annual Basketball Free-Throw Contest Competition, plus they host the annual free hot dog suppers at the City Park.

The Kiwanians host the Family Swim Night several times each summer here. They've also purchased eyeglasses and other necessities when needed to the less fortunate children and families.

The Muenster Quarterback Club, Sacred Heart Alumni and the local churches are continually sponsoring special beneficial projects for the kids, whether it be for educational or athletic equipment, or food for scheduled get-togethers. They also provide plenty of moral support when needed.

Others to be commended for their involvement are the VFW and its Ladies Auxiliary, Beta Kappa, the Bluebonnet Club, St. Joseph's and St. Anne's Societies, the Catholic Daughters of America, and all others who contribute via scholarship funds and donations.

And, let's not forget the local business people who, combined, pour thousands of dollars annually back into our local youth via program ads, poster ads, yearbook ads, radio and newspaper ads, team and individual sponsorship fees, computers, scoreboards, scholarships, CONTINUAL fundraiser donations, and the list goes on! All in support of you (and my) children!

No wonder our young kids are such great people. Just look at their role models!

What I've learned over the past three years is that ... WE are a Terrific Community of People with one goal in mind - give 110% to our children. And that's what I intend to do now for my OWN children. It's with this in mind that I can leave the business community with peace of mind.

I was lucky enough to become good friends with a lot of your children over the past three years and they are all very special to me. You've done a fine job of raising your children. They truly are a hardworking, honest, ambitious and fun-loving bunch of kids. (Many have already gone off to college or to pursue an honest living, and they're STILL making us proud.)

As for here and now, for me ... well, I'll still be rooting for each of them as every referee's whistle blows, as every umpire yells "Play Ball!" and with every competition in life they meet. Muenster Parents and Muenster Community, Be Very Proud of These Children.

Recently, the Muenster Chamber of Commerce asked members of the business community to identify the local assets or products that made Muenster different or special from other communities. Well, I've personally gotten to MEET "the answers" and they ARE very special! Our Muenster youth and the good Muenster people are, without a doubt, the best product Muenster has to offer!

Project 'Yellow Ribbon' hosts guest speaker

by Elaine Schad

Project "Yellow Ribbon," a support group for area residents who have loved ones or friends in the Service, will hold a meeting on Saturday, Oct. 20 at 5 p.m. at the National Guard Armory in Gainesville.

The special guest speaker will be Sergeant Major Jesse Mojika, who is with the Public Relations Dept. at Fort Hood. He will speak on the military situation in the Middle East, and will answer questions.

Refreshments will be served, and everyone is invited.

Any questions about Project "Yellow Ribbon" or the seminar or Saturday meeting may be resolved by calling Sue Goodman at 665-5037, or her office at 665-3982, or Kathy Show at 668-8728 after 5 p.m.

Since Muenster's Rainard Walterscheid is Cooke County's only hostage in the Mid East, he was singly honored by having a yellow ribbon with his name imprinted, and displayed on the archway entrance to Leonard Park.

Yellow ribbons have been tied to the park's 200 trees to honor personnel in the service. Any veteran and serviceman may be so honored by family members. A number of yellow ribbons have been tied around Cooke County Courthouse trees. Antennas, light poles, businesses and homes now display yellow ribbons for the project.

Project "Yellow Ribbon" is Cooke County's newest volunteer effort. At the group's first meeting almost 75 people were present. The group will accept donations in hopes of supplying yellow ribbons to anyone in the county who wishes to show support for military personnel defending this country's freedom. An "Adopt-a-Serviceman" project is expected to get underway soon.

Lindsay ISD rejects 1990 CCAD budget

by Elaine Schad

The Lindsay School Board has rejected the budget approved by the Cooke County Appraisal District during their regular October meeting.

School officials cited a lack of comparison to last year's budget as a main reason for the disapproval. Acting Chief Appraiser Brenda Urrutia said the CCAD did send all entities a comparison when the budget was first proposed in July, but the property tax code does not require that a comparison be sent on the final approved budget.

In other business, the board voted to present a tentative lease agreement for school facilities to St. Peter's. The lease has been a point of discussion for almost two years, as there is a proposal to increase the amount of money that is charged the school district to lease the parish-owned buildings. The agreement will be presented to Father Bart for his consideration, officials said.

In other matters, the board:

- Approved Mike Kendall, CPA, to conduct the 1989-1990 school audit.

- Approved the textbook committee for 1990-1991, including Gilbert Hermes, James Anderson, Sarah Lester, Charlotte Murrill and Mary Holland.
- Hired the law firm of Purdue of Wichita Falls to collect delinquent taxes for the district.

- Reviewed the Booster Club rules and regulations.

- Noted that the school has received recognition by the Governor's Education Excellence Committee as an exemplary school. School officials have been invited to a ceremony later this month to receive a citation and flag.

MISD tables action on expansion until after visit

by Elaine Schad

The Muenster School Board, at its regular October meeting, joined a host of county taxing entities in rejecting the fiscal 1990 budget for the Cooke County Appraisal District.

Officials said there were various questions about the budget itself, but board members expressed an overall desire that the district begin to operate more efficiently.

The board decided to table action on extending the shop area of the agriculture building. Officials want to wait until the monitoring visit by the Texas Education Agency is completed in December. The TEA is scheduled to review all federally-funded programs at the school, which includes the vocational programs.

The board approved a campus goals committee for 1990-91 to revise the campus goals for 1991. The committee consists of teachers from each school campus, school administrators and parents, as well as business people from the community. The state is placing a greater interest in emphasizing that the community at large become more involved with the developing goals of the school, said Superintendent Steve Cooper, so this committee is a way to respond to that goal, he said.

In other business, trustees:

- Approved a $625 expenditure for resurfacing Seventh Street.

- Voted to waive the freeport tax for Valenite Corp. as an abatement incentive. The freeport tax imposes property taxes on inventory held within the school district for a specified amount of time before being shipped out to other areas.

- Reviewed board training hours and how members could obtain more credit through local workshops.

- Tabled the hiring of an attorney to collect delinquent taxes for the district.

- Authorized the superintendent to begin the process of obtaining specifications and preparing a bid proposal for roof repairs to the woodshop area.

Aggie Club sponsors Hamburger Supper Fri.

Aggies of Cooke County will concentrate this evening, Friday, Oct. 19, on their major fundraising event of the year. The Cooke County A&M Club hopes to serve hamburgers and all the fixings to over 500 friends and football fans at the Gainesville High School Cafeteria from 5:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. this evening. The annual Hamburger Supper is the fundraiser which supports the A&M Club Scholarship Fund. Two Cooke County students currently attending Texas A&M University are receiving $1,000.00 per year to help pay for their education. They are Kelly Schilling of Muenster and Russell Yeatts of Gainesville. On the strength of the hamburger supper and the Club's Endowment Scholarship Fund, this is the first year that two students are being funded at the same time.

Gainesville attorney Phil Adams and Gainesville National Bank officer Van Knight head the Endowment Fund. "We hope to fund four $1,000.00 scholarships at once in the near future," said Adams. "Then we can present one new scholarship every year and keep them all going." Awards are based on need and scholastic ability.

Past recipients of A&M Club scholarships have included Jack Lyle Jr., Paul Lokey, William Flusche, David Clifton, Jerry Graves, Phil Adams, Rober

Seiwel, Charles Honeycutt, Joe Ingram, Rudy Paclik, Bill Turner and Buffy Marlin. Also Donald Leidtke, John Paclik, Jerry Baugh, Danny Fette, Barbara Davidson, Lyle Klement, Joe Hundt, George Waggoner, Cynthia Felderhoff, Mitchell Greer, Kathy Hobbs, Johnny Smith, Dennis Webb, John Land and Mike Johnson.

The Cooke County A&M Club was organized in 1947 for fellowship and support of A&M students and also to organize the yearly Muster on April 21. Muster is a time when Aggies gather together in groups all over the world to share a meal and fellowship and remember classmates who passed away during the previous year.

Early participants were John D. Cunningham, Frank Moore, Wilson Kaden, Kit Carson, Jack Howeth, Eldon Willett, Jack Mahan, Hugh Barnhart, Buck Wimerly, R.C. Aughty, Dale Britton, Ralph Buckingham, William Enderby, Tom Hemphill, Charlie Hildebrand, Leo Kuehn and V.S. Payne.

Club President Chris Kaden invites everyone to come to the GHS Cafeteria to enjoy good food and fellowship and support Cooke County Aggies. All you can eat for $5.00 per person and tickets will be available at the door.

Muenster Jaycees host Annual Halloween Party

An event becoming a tradition in this community is the Muenster Jaycee annual Halloween party, now approaching its eighth successive year.

Always held to lend financial support to Jaycee community projects and charitable endeavors, this event, although social in nature, has particular significance in 1990, since all monies realized from the dance will go to the Duane Knabe Fund to assist in covering his steadily mounting hospital and medical expenses.

The costume party and dance will be held on Saturday, Oct. 27 in the VFW Hall in Muenster. Costumes are required. Dance music will be provided by Andy Serna and the Captive Hearts from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m.

Doors will open at 7:30 p.m. and judging will take place no later than 9:30 p.m. Everyone planning to be included in judging of costumes must be present before 9:30 p.m.

Jaycee Halloween dances have been notably successful in the past, and this one promises to be even bigger and better, with the committee making even greater efforts. They are looking forward to even larger attendance to add to the fun evening in special support of a good cause.

A special drawing will take place during the Halloween party, for the raffle that has been sponsored by the Muenster Jaycees and the Muenster Knights of Columbus to benefit the Muenster Senior Center and S.N.A.P. Only 300 tickets will be sold and if all tickets are sold before Oct. 27, the winners names will be drawn at the party. Prizes include a 250 Yamaha 4-Wheeler; a 25" Magnavox Color TV; a 12 gauge Winchester shotgun; and $200 cash.

Harold Flusche stated that he cannot relate any increase or decrease in sales to the rising cost of fuel as yet. The food warehouse has indicated that they are considering a fuel surcharge, but they haven't done it yet, said Flusche.

The magazine company that services Hofbauer's added a fuel surcharge to their products a couple of years ago when gas prices were high and they never dropped it, remarked Flusche.

"Most businesses will pass the higher prices on to the consumer," said the owner of Hofbauer's. "The businessman who will be hurt the most is the farmer because he can't add the higher price onto his product, but has to take whatever price the market pays."

Farmers who have been busy in the fields plowing, planting and baling are paying around $55 cents more per gallon of fuel now over what they were paying in early August.

A local farmer estimated that it roughly requires a gallon of fuel per acre, depending on the job being done and the conditions. It's costing the farmer more and it is money that we won't get back, he said.

The Middle East Crisis has already had a direct effect on anyone in Muenster who uses fuel. Whether the higher price of oil proves to be of more good - or bad - for the overall economy of Muenster remains to be seen.

Muenster, being a predominantly Catholic town, could perhaps take a cue from the weekly Sunday collection at Sacred Heart Church. The average seems to be near $10,000 a week, but the Oct. 7 collection increased to $11,681.03.

Death of Enid Justin saddens area, state

by Elaine Schad

Texas has lost a fine lady bootmaker, but many Muenster residents have also lost a friend with the death this week of Ms. Enid Justin, founder of the Nocona Boot Company. She died Sunday at a Nocona hospital at the age of 96.

Funeral was Tuesday at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Nocona. Burial was in Nocona Cemetery. Jerry Woods Funeral Home in Nocona was in charge of arrangements.

Ms. Justin was born in Nocona, where she lived most of her life. Known to most people in Nocona as "Miss Enid," she started working on the art of bootmaking at the age of 12 with her father, H. Joe Justin.

"I remember my mom and dad telling me about Ms. Justin as we would drive by her pink stucco house," said Elfreda Fette. "She was such a kind lady, and was a friend to many people in Muenster."

Nocona Boot Company is known throughout the world as the premier place to purchase some of the finest in Western boots. "I always referred to her as the Lady Bootmaker," said Steve Pickens, president of Justin Boot Company, which purchased Nocona Boots in 1981.

After starting a boot company at Spanish Fort in Montague County and then moving to Nocona, Ms. Justin's brothers relocated Justin Boot Co. to Fort Worth in 1925. "She refused to move because she wanted to stay in Nocona," said Pickens. "The sale to Justin Industries in 1981 brought it back to full circle," he said. "They all kidded her back then and told her she'd go broke."

Borrowing $5,000 and starting with just seven employees, Ms. Justin turned Nocona Boot into a multimillion dollar industry that currently has some 385 employees in Nocona alone.

Many Muenster residents and those throughout the North Central Texas area knew Ms. Justin for her kindness and acts of charity. There was hardly a charitable organization that she did not support, always ready to lend her financial support to a good cause, said Pickens.

She was "The Cracker Jack Lady" to many children because she always handed out the candied popcorn treat on Halloween. She was the "Park Lady," funding the construction of a children's park in the city. In 1939, she sponsored a Pony Express Race from Nocona to San Francisco, featuring one female and 14 males. The prize was $750 in silver dollars. She was well-known in the Fort Worth area as well, sponsoring numerous coffee, donuts and breakfasts over the years for the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show.

President George Bush owns a pair of Ms. Justin's boots, a gift from the boot lady. She has also given gifts to many celebrities, including Ronald Reagan, Carol Burnett, Gregory Peck, Rex Allen, David Niven and even Clayton Moore, known better as "The Lone Ranger." She's rubbed elbows with kings, queens and princes throughout the world, but had a great love for her employees and for the common folks, said Pickens.

Two failed marriages and the early death of her only daughter seemed to bring her closer to the employees, said Pickens. "She'd go out into the plant at break time and talk to the employees," he said. "If they had financial problems, she'd help them out."

Confined to a wheelchair in the early 1980s following a stroke, the employees loved to bring Ms. Justin back to the plant to celebrate her birthday or some other special occasion.

She traveled extensively, spending the last years of her life doing promotional work for the company and going to Las Vegas, where she loved to play the slot machines, saying it was her only vice. Only in the past year had she been confined to a nursing home due to her age and deteriorating health, said Pickens.

In 1972, she was inducted into the Cowboy Hall of Fame for her contribution to the culture of the West.

In 1986, Justin's biography was recounted in the book, "Miss Enid: The Lady Bootmaker," written by Dale Terry of Wichita Falls. The book tells of the highs and lows of the Justin family life from the time they moved to the United States from their native Germany during the mid-1800s.

In the book, Justin said her father, "Daddy Joe," was her greatest inspiration.

"I guess she put Nocona on the map more than anyone," said Pickens. "It's a big loss to the city and a huge loss to the company," he said. "It's been great having her."

Ms. Justin is survived by several nieces and nephews. A scholarship fund has been set up at AmWest Savings in Justin's name to benefit the students of the Nocona School District. Memorial donations can be made at any AmWest Savings branch.

Flea Market on Nov. 10

The Valley View UMC pre-holiday flea market will be held on Saturday, Nov. 10 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Members urge area residents to consider the event as a means to get rid of unused items laying around that could be sold...or a way to raise a little extra money for holiday shopping...or a manner of making room in house or garage.

Whatever the reason, the pre-holiday flea market in the parking lot adjoining Valley View United Methodist Church is the place to set up a booth or reserve parking space for $15 per space on Nov. 10. Snacks and drinks will be available to shoppers all day.

For more information, call Jeanne Culligan at 817-637-2540 or Betty Fortenberry at 726-3421.

Brochure outlines breast cancer treatment options

If you have breast cancer, you have a right to learn more about your treatment, says Texas Medical Association. Beginning this fall, women diagnosed with breast cancer will receive a new brochure summarizing different types of treatment available.

"Breast cancer is frightening to many women," says TMA member Charles E. Oswalt III, M.D., president of the Texas division of the American Cancer Society.

"They're scared to death, and they see the worst can happen: 'I'm going to die,' 'I'm going to lose my husband.' Those are normal reactions," says the Graham general surgeon.

The new brochure tries to say, "yes, cancer is terrible, but it's treatable and it's not the end of the world," says Dr. Oswalt. The brochure is the result of a law passed by the Texas Legislature in 1989, requiring the Texas Department of Health to publish a "standardized written summary" of treatment options and update it periodically.

The brochure was written by an advisory group made up of representatives from Texas Medical Association, the American Cancer Society, the Texas Cancer Council, The University of Texas M.D. Anderson Cancer Center, and the Komen Foundation of Dallas.

The brochure describes five types of treatment in non-technical language. It outlines radical mastectomy, lumpectomy, radiation therapy, chemotherapy, and hormonal therapy. Advantages and disadvantages of each treatment are explained.

The modified radical mastectomy (removal of the entire breast, nipple, and underarm lymph nodes) "is still the most commonly performed surgery, but that's changing," explains Dr. Oswalt.

"With the advent of better technology, particularly mammography, we are detecting breast lumps earlier," he says. "We also have enough data to show that - for early cancers - a partial mastectomy or lumpectomy, coupled with radiation, gives as good a cure rate as a modified radical mastectomy."

Doctors have been looking for less deforming ways to treat cancer for many years, he says. The process has taken so long because "we have to be convinced that new techniques will have as good a record as the older, proven methods."

Local CDA to observe National CDA Day

Members of the local Catholic Daughters of the Americas, Court St. Mary No. 249 will observe National Catholic Daughters Day on Sunday, Oct. 21.

The theme of the event is "The Issues of Today - The Challenge of Tomorrow."

CDA members are asked to sit in a group in the front pews of church during the 8 a.m. Mass. Pews will be marked. After Mass, Catholic Daughters will meet in the K.C. Hall for a Continental breakfast and fellowship.

All members and their husbands are urged to attend. Anyone interested in joining the Catholic Daughters is also invited.

Parents! Consider safety when choosing Halloween costume

If you don't want ghosts and goblins playing tricks on your children on Halloween, take a closer look at those costumes.

"Halloween outfits can be a little scary if they are not safe to wear when trick or treating," says Alma Fonseca, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Check costumes to avoid possible accidents."

Fire safety experts say to avoid costumes made of inexpensive material that burns quickly. Costumes that resist burning should contain "flame-retardant" or "non-flammable" on labels or packages. If you plan on making a costume, Fonseca recommends buying material that's suitable for children's sleepwear, which should be flame-retardant.

Costumes should be large enough so that warm clothing can be worn underneath in cold weather. However, clothes should not be too large or long. Oversized outfits can cause children to fall or catch fire by brushing against such Halloween fixtures as candlelit jack-o-lanterns sitting in yards and porches.

"Wearing mother's high-heeled shoes may be a cute idea, but it's not a wise one," Fonseca said. "Children's shoes should fit and be comfortable. Sneakers are a good choice."

The color of the costume is an added safety measure, she said. Light colors are more visible than dark ones. If the outfit is dark, add reflective tape or decals. Halloween masks should be properly ventilated with holes for the nose and mouth; large eye holes permit good visibility. If a mask has elastic strings, make sure they are attached and that no sharp points protrude. For better visibility, wear the mask atop the head when walking from house to house. Better yet, avoid mask problems by creating a disguise with facial paints.

Volunteers are honored

St. Richard's Villa hosted a buffet luncheon to honor the clergy, physicians, and volunteers who work with the residents. Lisa Smith, volunteer co-ordinator with the Texas Department of Human Services in Arlington, was the guest speaker.

Ms. Smith encouraged the guests and employees to continue in their loving efforts with the fine senior population who can no longer completely care for themselves.

Janie Morgan was introduced as the new activity director. She was formerly associated with Care Inn of Sanger and has been an activity director with ARA for 11 years.

Special recognition was given to Rosina Kubis for her assistance with the banquet. She arranged for the guest speaker and organized the guest list.

Ida Hoening and Rosie Walterscheid have been attending the SNAP program in Münster on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Personals

Marianne and Al Kuhn visited briefly in Muenster and Lindsay on Monday with her relatives and his relatives, enroute to their home in Hot Springs Village, Ark. after a month's vacation sightseeing on the West Coast and stopping with friends and former neighbors in Arizona, New Mexico and Midland.

Rodney Knabe is among local students pursuing advanced training and courses following high school graduation. He is a student at Universal Technical Institute in Houston. A 1990 graduate of Muenster High School, he is the son of Pat and Shirley Knabe of Muenster.

by Cassie Bullock,
County Extension Agent
"You can't teach an old dog new tricks" was the challenge that started 4-H Club work in Texas. The remark, made in 1908, was directed at Tom Marks, who at the time held a position corresponding to today's county agricultural agent. "Then I'll start with the pups" was his classic reply.

Using information based on research and with samples that both the "pups" and parents could see and some seed corn for planting, Tom Marks spread the word as best he could, and held the first "corn club" meeting. Twenty-five boys gathered to receive a gallon of the seed provided by interested railroad people and businessmen, some of the first friends of 4-H, as we call them now. The boys watched Marks demonstrate proper planting techniques. He followed up with individual help on the farm. At harvest time, the club had its first achievement exhibit in the caboose of a train in Jacksboro. Here skeptics could see for themselves, and the way was paved for bringing research results to the farms through youngsters.

Work with girls started in 1912, in much the same way, in Milam County. Mrs. Edna Trigg, first home demonstration agent (now called home economics agents) in Texas, organized the first "tomato club" for girls. The fundamental idea of the demonstration method of teaching, where "seeing is believing" and "you learn by doing" was established.

With the passage of the Smith-Lever Act by Congress in 1914, funds became available for employing Extension workers for boys' and girls' club work. The act provided for up to 20 percent of its funds to be used for "moveable schools, study clubs, or boys' and girls' clubs." The "moveable schools" were based on the idea that worthwhile leisure-time activities gave added meaning to school work. It was believed that these clubs could relate learning to everyday needs of boys and girls.

4-H in Texas expanded rapidly following creation of the state Agricultural Extension Service in 1914 by the U.S. Congress. In 86 years, it has grown from 25 boys who grew an acre of corn to over 5 million participating in 4-H activities in 1989 in the U.S. and in over 80 countries with similar groups.

Too bad Tom Marks is not around today to see all that grew out of his efforts. In the community 4-H clubs, many already existing and others now evolving, parents and local leaders are sold to the extent that they are helping county extension agents "teach the pups."

Patrick Nix turns four

PATRICK NIX

Patrick Nix, son of Kim and Brenda Nix of Overbrook, Ok., turned 4 on Sept. 23. He celebrated with two parties.

On Sept. 20 Patrick and his relatives spent a day at the lake. A brownie cake with candles was made by his Grandma Wimmer. Presents were opened and pictures made.

Celebrating with Patrick were his parents and sisters Kimberly and Katie; grandparents Andy and Cecilia Wimmer; uncles, aunts and cousins Terry and Cindy Wimmer and Harvey, Jason, and Terri Sue; Molly and Louie Gieb and Andrea, Staci, and Julie; Candy Geiser and Sarah and Adam; and Barbie and David Felderhoff and JoAnna and Megan.

There was a party for Patrick in his home on Sept. 21. The birthday cake was made by his Daddy. Guests enjoyed horseback riding and playing games.

Those joining in the celebration on this occasion were Amanda and Janet Killinger; Curtis Paschall, and Patrick's parents and sisters.

On his birthday Patrick received a telephone call from his grandparents Nancy and Raymond Nix. They had celebrated with the family earlier in the month.

Box office opens for comedy production
Box office for BSP's upcoming comedy, "The Foreigner" opened October 15 for season members and October 22 for the general public. The Larry Shue comedy hosts a cast of colorful characters whose lives and antics provide for an evening of hilarity. Set in a rural fishing lodge in Georgia, the play illustrates what can happen when a group of devious characters must deal with a stranger who (they think) knows no English.

Joining the players for this production are Norma Harper as the lodge's owner and keeper; David Fradkin portraying the minister with a secret; Tony Spencer as the heroine's naive younger brother; Sandy Boyles cast as an English demolition expert; Julie Swartz as a disappointed debutante; Adam Stephenson creating the gruff red-neck Owen; and Brent Frahm acting as the pathologically shy "foreigner." Rounding out the comedy are production crew members Betty Coleman, George Mourer, Joe Edwards, Eva McElreath, and Barbara Wilder.

Performances of "The Foreigner" are slated for November 2, 3, 8, 9, 10, 15, 16, 17 at 7 p.m. nightly. Reservations can be made by calling 665-8152 or coming by the theatre at 201 S. Denton Monday through Friday between the hours of 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. or 2 to 4 p.m.

Lead poisoning: still a serious hazard today

TEMPLE - Known as a serious hazard (yet a preventable disease) since the days of the Roman Empire, lead poisoning is still a real danger today.

An estimated 20 million children throughout the United States have toxic levels of lead in their bodies, according to Dr. Edward S. Rappaport, Chief of the Section of Hematology in the Division of Clinical Pathology at Scott and White in Temple.

According to Dr. Rappaport, chronic lead poisoning is the slow absorption of lead leading to toxic levels which can affect the blood, nervous, kidney and reproductive systems of the body.

Lead poisoning can occur from ingestion through the gastrointestinal tract, by contact with the skin or inhalation of particles of lead from the air, such as leaded fuels used in automobiles.

Doctors can detect lead levels in the body through laboratory testing of blood and urine specimens. In addition, doctors determine the possibility of lead toxicity mainly through clinical suspicion based on patient history, a physical examination, and signs and symptoms.

"Some symptoms of lead poisoning, including abdominal pain, fatigue, headaches, mental confusion or difficulty concentrating, often simulate other illnesses, such as food poisoning or illicit drug overdose, causing incorrect diagnoses and ineffective treatment measures," Dr. Rappaport explains.

"The number one cause of lead poisoning in the United States is children eating flakes of leaded paint," Dr. Rappaport emphasized. Cases of lead toxicity are seen most commonly in underprivileged children living in slum housing built in the 1940s when leaded paint was used. Children of wealthy families can also be poisoned as older houses, especially in inner cities, are renovated exposing toxic leaded paints.

Only recently has the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta revised the upper threshold limit of blood lead levels, indicating that even very low lead levels in children, in pregnancy, and in the developing fetus can lead to the lowering of intelligence and even mental retardation for the unborn child.

Other lead poisoning evidence has been found in persons eating fowl killed with homemade lead shot purchased in Mexico, and in users of illegal drugs such as amphetamines (in which a key ingredient is lead acetate).

A new orphan drug from Johnson & Johnson, called DMSA, is now available to gradually eliminate lead poisoning from the body's system. An oral, water soluble agent with fewer side effects, it is highly effective in lead excretion.

submitted by Sacred Heart Journalism Class POSTER CONTEST

One of the many events planned for Homecoming Week was a class poster contest. The Student Council organized a contest for the elementary grades as a way to get them involved in Homecoming Festivities. Each class worked together to create a large poster. After the posters were finished, they were displayed in the gym. The theme for the contest was "A Blaze of Glory." The Kindergarten class was the first place winner in that category. Each student colored a tiger which were hung together in a fire truck going to "extinguish the Hawks." Second place was awarded to fourth grade, third place went to Pre-School, fourth place to third grade and a fifth place ribbon was given to the second grade.

The eighth grade won first place in its category for the painting of a tiger running into the football field. Second place winners were the fifth grade, the seventh grade received a third place ribbon and fourth was awarded to the sixth grade.

GAMES NIGHT

The games night started at 7:30 on Oct. 8. Student Council was in charge of all the equipment with the exception of the tug-of-war rope, which was provided by Community Lumber Company. Sharon Fuhrmann was the chairman of this project, with Robin Greathouse as co-chairman. The games played were Penny-drop, Blow a Cup, Frisbee in the Chair, Orange Pass, Clothes Sewing, Three-legged Race and Pencil in a Bottle.

The seniors were the first place winners with 126 points. Juniors came in second place with 125 1/2 points. The freshmen took third place with 88 1/2 points and the sophomores got last place with 65 points.

PEP RALLY

The Sacred Heart Cheerleaders hosted a special homecoming candlelight pep rally last Friday at the Sacred Heart Gym. An enthusiastic crowd entered the dark gym to support the Tiger team. Inside the gym a row of lights and a glowing SHS sign lit up the gym.

The pep rally opened with a get-well chant that was recorded and sent to Duane Knabe. The cheerleaders then did a dance to the song "Work It Out," followed by a hoop routine performed by the drill team to the song "Love Triangle."

After the performance by the drill team, Jason Endres, son of Clinton and Debbie Endres, was crowned Homecoming King.

NUMBER ONE CAKE

This past week was a busy and exciting week for Sacred Heart School. During the week, the cheerleaders, drill team and the football managers baked cakes.

The 14 cakes were assembled into a huge 5-foot red and white "Number One" cake with all the Tigers' football numbers on the cake. The cake was eaten and enjoyed as dessert after the Hot Dog Supper.

QUEEN'S COURT LUNCHEON
In conjunction with Homecoming activities, a luncheon was held to honor the members of the King and Queen's Court and their mothers.

Linda Biffle welcomed and introduced the Court and their mothers. Mums were presented to the Queen's Court and red carnations presented to each of the mothers.

The freshman class decorated the hall in red letters that spelled out TIGERS over the head table.

PRE-GAME SHOW

The pre-game show at Sacred Heart, Saturday at 5:30, on the football field began the festivities that marked the end of Homecoming Week.

At the pre-game show, the drill team, under the direction of Cher Moster and Allison Klement, formed an honor guard to "Eye of the Tiger." Ms. Linda Biffle announced the princesses and candidates, along with their various achievements in their high school years. The ladies were escorted by their fathers.

The Queen's Court walked through a balloon-covered archway furnished by the Alumni Association.

Assisting the cheerleaders and drill team, in the game, were two mascots: Dawn Knabe, senior, and Erica Schilling, freshman.

HOMECOMING HALFTIME

On Saturday, Oct. 13, Sacred Heart celebrated Homecoming. The halftime show was one of the highlights of the evening.

The climax of the halftime show was the crowning of the 1990 Homecoming Queen. The Queen's Court and their escorts were presented to the audience by Ms. Linda Biffle. The former Homecoming Queens from the last three years, Amy Bayer (1989), Renee Klement (1988) and Amy Henschel (1987), presented the crown, banner and bouquet to the Queen. Sacred Heart's 1990 Homecoming Queen was Angie Endres, daughter of Sam and Karen Endres. CONGRATULATIONS, ANGIE!

HOMECOMING DANCE

The Sacred Heart Homecoming Dance was Saturday night after the game against Cistercian in the Sacred Heart gym. The Student Council and anybody who wanted to help decorated the gym Friday night. They had cactus, boots and balloons as decorations. The Development Committee provided most of the food and all of the drinks, with Student Council's help. Sound System DJ from Collinsville played. The first dance was "Wind Beneath My Wings" and it was dedicated to the 1990 King and Queen's Court.

Host families are needed!

Americans are opening their homes to the world more each year. A group dedicated to expanding the international experience is looking for people to join in the program which participants have said, "is the most wonderful learning opportunity I could give my family."

International Student Exchange (ISE), a non-profit educational foundation with representatives throughout the United States, is seeking host families in the area.

Robert Fink, President of ISE, reported that with the opening of the Soviet-Bloc nations many eastern European countries are now encouraging student exchange for the first time in more than three decades. This new opening in European countries has presented ISE with a wonderful opportunity to broaden its present efforts for international understanding. Those interested in becoming a host family can call ISE at 1-800-766-4656 for the name of the nearest representative.

Hints offered for lunches

HOUSTON - Picking the right lunch box is important to kids this time of year, but packing the right foods is an essential job for parents all year.

"Children take more than their lunch to school. They take their food habits," says Dr. Corinne Montandon, nutritionist at the Children's Nutrition Research Center and assistant professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. "If they learn good eating habits early in life, then children will take those habits to school."

Variety keeps lunch interesting. Including a protein, bread, vegetable, fruit and drink also helps parents pack a healthy lunch.

Meat, poultry or fish, peanut butter, cheese and leftover foods, like pizza, roast beef, or hamburgers, make excellent protein choices.

Hunks of lettuce, sliced cherry tomatoes, carrot, celery or green pepper sticks and radishes or other crunchy vegetables make a good substitute for the often-packed bag of chips.

Fresh or canned fruit - apples, oranges, bananas, peaches fruit cocktail - make good dessert choices. Many children also enjoy packaged puddings, applesauce and mini-yogurts. On occasion, pack a surprise such as oatmeal cookies, gingerbread or even a piece of birthday cake.

Milk, white or chocolate, is the best drink choice. If brought from home, it should be packaged in a cold thermos. "Chill the thermos in the refrigerator overnight by adding cold water," suggests Montandon. "In the morning pour out the water and add the milk."

For variety, boxed fruit juices work well. Parents should look for pure fruit juices which are often high in vitamin C and provide other needed vitamins and trace minerals. These boxed drinks can be frozen overnight and will thaw by noon.

Hornets win district opener against Collinsville, 37-13

Muenster's defensive squad were heroes in last Friday's contest in Collinsville. "I was pleased with the outcome of the game," said Hornet Coach Grady Roller. "Several played really good defense." Coach Roller complimented senior Brad McDaniel with having an excellent game. "He was around the ball the biggest part of the night." McDaniel also contributed 4 points for the Hornets with 2 safeties the third quarter. Mike Hacker added another safety the last seconds of the game when he caught the Pirates' back in their own end zone.

"I never saw 3 (safeties) in one ball game," said Roller. "That has to be very unique." The coach said McDaniel was able to break through the line real quick for his sacks, while Hacker forced the quarterback out of the pocket to catch him off guard.

Others playing outstandingly were the Hornets' pass defense, picking off 3 Collinsville passes. Doug Hennigan, Kody Truenbenbach and Darren Bindel each earned an interception. Mike Hacker also covered a fumbled ball.

The Hornets took the opening kickoff, unable to move 10 yards, punted the ball to their host, Collinsville, starting on their 20. Moved the ball to the Hornets' 18. On 4th and 8, a fake field goal didn't work, returning the ball to the Hornets. Eight plays, with runs by Mike Vogel and Ryan Sicking included 13- and 28-yard runs and a 12-yard pass from Mike Gobble to Terry Felderhoff, put Muenster on the 8-yard line, 1st and goal. Sicking did the honors on the touchdown run. Rajko Jelen kicked the extra point and the Hornets were on the scoreboard, 7-0, with 1:33 remaining in the first quarter.

Collinsville started their second drive on their 19-yard line. A quarterback sack by McDaniel and Chris Kubis put the Pirates back 16 yards. On 3rd and 25, Collinsville booted out of their end zone.

Muenster had control of the ball going into the second period. Small yardage was gained and penalties left the Hornets with a 4th and 15. A 46-yard field goal by senior Jelen easily cleared the goal post, extending Muenster's lead to 10-0.

Collinsville fumbled their kickoff return with Mike Hacker covering for the Hornets on the Pirate 31-yard line. Runs by Vogel and Sicking and a 10-yard penalty moved the ball to the 19. Muenster's threat to score was lost when the Pirates pushed the Hornets back 15 yards on two plays. A 5-yard penalty left Muenster with a 4th down and 40, forcing a punt. Starting on their 25-yard line, the Pirates moved the ball to the Hornets 8-yard line in 12 plays. A sack by Jason Biffle pushed Collinsville back 9 yards, but the next play saw Ronnie Tyler completing a pass for 6 points. The PAT kick counted and, with 14 seconds remaining in the half, Collinsville changed the scoreboard to 10-7.

"We didn't play bad the first half," said Coach Roller. "Our drives were stopped by penalties and we got a 46-yard field goal on one (drive). Collinsville got one good pass play, it wasn't in their ball plan, so we didn't pressure the quarterback," Roller continued. "We changed that the second half."

Collinsville took the second half kick, but Muenster held the Pirates for a minus 1. The host returned the favor on the Hornets' next attempt forcing Muenster to punt.

Starting on their own 12-yard line, a pass to Tyler gave the Pirates an 81-yard gain to the Muenster 7-yard line. With the assistance of a penalty, Collinsville, on a 1st and goal at the 2-yard line, went in for 6 points. The extra point kick failed and the Pirates took a 13-10 lead.

Muenster couldn't move the ball on their next possession, kicking Collinsville back deep in their own territory. The Hornets held and, on 4th and 11, attempting to kick from the end zone, a bad snap and rush by McDaniel and Troy Pagel caught the Pirates' punter in the end zone, giving Muenster 2 points, 13-12.

The free punt set the ball near midfield. Gains by Vogel, 39 yards, Pagel and Sicking took Muenster to the Pirates' 9-yard line. A fumbled ball stopped the Hornets drive, giving the ball to Collinsville on their 12-yard line. An incomplete pass and fumbled play again forced the Pirates to punt out of their end zone. And, again, McDaniel moved in, blocked the kick and gave the Hornets a 14-13 lead as the third quarter came to an end.

"We expected Collinsville to play, which they did, till the fourth quarter," said Coach Roller. "Everything we did the fourth worked well for us."

The final quarter was like a broken record for the Pirates. Hornets score ... interception ... Hornets score ... interception ... score ... interception ... score.

Starting the quarter with only a 1-point lead, Muenster, following runs by Vogel and Sicking, moved to the 8-yard line. A run by Sicking and a kick by Jelen advanced the score to 21-13.

Collinsville attempted two passes, the second picked off by Doug Hennigan at the Pirates' 37. Pagel and Vogel brought the ball to the 2-yard line in 5 plays, topped with a short run by Vogel for another 6 points. Jelen kicked again and the Hornets led 28-13.

On their next attempt, three passes were incomplete for the Pirates, with the 3rd picked off by Kody Truenbenbach on the 32-yard line. Again, Pagel and Vogel moved downfield. On fourth and 1 on the 2-yard line, Pagel went in for 6 points. Jelen's kick counted and the score read 35-13 with 3:47 remaining in the game.

Collinsville moved the ball better their next drive, including a 24-yard pass play gain. But, again, the Hornets' pass defense came through when Darren Bindel intercepted a pass at midfield.

Muenster moved the ball to the 15, threatening to score, but came up short, giving the ball to the Pirates on downs. On Collinsville's second attempt, Mike Hacker caught the ball carrier in the end zone for a safety sack, with just 9 seconds remaining in the game, giving the Hornets a 37-13 district victory.

Mike Vogel led the Hornets' rushing attack, gaining 166 yards on 26 carries. Ryan Sicking rushed for 74 with Troy Pagel adding 63. "Our three backs - Mike, Ryan and Troy - ran the ball real well," said Coach Roller. "They had a good showing. We got our offense uncranked." Terry Felderhoff also added 12 yards with one complete pass.

Muenster will host Lindsay Friday night. "It will be a good matchup; we're more evenly matched than we've been in a long time," Roller said. "It'll be a good contact game, it's always a good game."

The Hornet coach believes whoever makes the least mistakes will come out on top. "The winner of this week's game will be at least one of the teams making the playoff," concluded Roller.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. at Hornet Field. (Game statistics submitted by Nick Walterscheid)

Little Reds beat the Pirates

The Muenster Junior High Hornets won their second game of the year Thursday night over the Collinsville Pirates. The Hornets were able to control the ball for most of the first half when they mounted a long drive to score their only touchdown midway through the second quarter. Cory Cain scored the TD. The 2-point conversion failed, giving Muenster a 6-0 lead at halftime.

The second half was much the same as Muenster controlled the ball. Midway through the fourth quarter, Collinsville threatened as they completed a sweep pass deep in Hornet territory. The Hornet defense rose to the occasion and kept Collinsville from scoring. The Hornets regained possession deep in their territory and were unable to get a first down. Muenster elected to take a safety instead of punting out of their own end zone.

Collinsville got close to end the game but the Hornet defense was able to keep them out of the end zone to record a 6-2 victory.

Offensive standouts for Muenster were Cody Sicking, Cory Cain, Scott Debnam, Jason Hubbard, Jason Huchton and the Hornet offensive line.

Defensive standouts were Maurus Hacker, Jerry Reed and Jeff Walterscheid.

The Little Reds take on Lindsay Thursday evening, Oct. 18, at 6 p.m. Action will be on the Knights' field.

Tiger Homecoming draws large crowd

A large crowd was on hand Saturday at Tiger field attending the 1990 Sacred Heart Homecoming game and festivities.

The Tigers won the toss, choosing to receive the ball for the first half, but a mixup on the return caught the Tigers in the end zone, giving Cistercian a 2-point safety with just nine seconds ticked off the clock. A free kick to the visitors put the ball on the Tigers' 34-yard line. It took 12 attempts to take the ball 13 yards, where the Hawks kicked on fourth and 35. The crowd roared to their feet when Jason Beyer ran up the right side behind a wall of Tiger blockers, 90 yards, into the end-zone. The touchdown celebration was soon quieted when a little yellow flag was spotted on the field. A clipping call against Sacred Heart brought the ball all the way back to the Tigers' 7-yard line. Coming up short on yardage, the visitors regained possession on the 36-yard line after a punt.

Two big plays gained 30 yards for the Hawks, helping them reach the 6-yard line. On first and goal, Josh Johnson circled around the left end and scored. The extra point kick was good and Cistercian took a 9-0 lead. Both teams had possession for four plays with the Hawks carrying the ball into the second period.

Runs by Chris Hess and a screen from Stevan Nasche to Ryan Hess gave the Tigers three first downs, moving in to Cistercian territory. Sacred Heart ended a foot short on fourth down, handing the ball over to the visitors. In ten plays the Hawks drove 68 yards, the final play a pass to Marc Conselman gave the visitors another touchdown. The extra point kick went wide right making the score 15-0.

Cistercian's kick went to the 30, when assisted by a 15-yard penalty the Tigers received the ball on their own 42-yard line. A pass from Nasche to Beyer gained 12 yards. A screen pass to Chris Hess gained 8 yards, but the Tigers turned the ball over the next play on downs.

Cistercian had two fine passes to move them into Tiger territory, but time ran out for the first half.

The second half started with Chris Hess kicking off to Cistercian. After picking up 25 yards the Tiger defense held the Hawks for a minus 5 yards, forcing a punt. Sacred Heart booted on their next possession on fourth and 10, giving the Hawks the ball on the Tigers' 40-yard line. Cistercian picked up 16 yards before the Tigers' pass defense and a 7-yard loss on a quarterback sack by Beyer forced the Hawks to kick the ball into the end zone, setting the ball on the 20-yard line. Deep in the hole, the Hawks and penalties pushed the Tigers back to the 3-yard line. A 10-yard pass from Nasche to Shawn Dangelmayr helped but wasn't enough. Kicking from the end-zone, the ball was fumbled giving the Hawks possession on the 3-yard line. A pass to Chris Stewart gave the visitors a touchdown. The extra point kick was good and Cistercian took a 22-0 lead going into the final quarter.

The Tigers moved the ball just under 10 yards, faked a punt and picked up a first down. The next play Ryan Hess passed to Shawn Dangelmayr for a 43-yard gain moving the ball to the Hawks' 15-yard line. The Tigers moved to the 8-yard line, then moved back 5 yards on a delay penalty. An attempted quarterback keeper ended short giving the Hawks possession. Cistercian picked up 8 yards, Beyer moved in defensively for a 3-yard loss. Then two 5 yard motion penalties forced the Hawks to punt, handing the ball to Sacred Heart on the Cistercian's 40-yard line. Two passes from Nasche to R. Hess and Dangelmayr moved the ball to the 30. C. Hess gained another nine on a run with a completed pass to Beyer, putting the ball on the 8-yard line. An attempt to score failed when a fumbled ball was covered by the Hawks on the 1-yard line. Cistercian played out the remainder of the game.

"There were certain very good individual efforts, but as a team we beat ourselves," said Coach John Nasche. "Our problem is getting all eleven players to play consistently." Penalties played a big factor according to Nasche and not scoring when the Tigers got close. "All the problems came at the wrong time. We couldn't get away with the mistakes."

Jason Beyer was the leading tackler for Sacred Heart, earning ten tackles to his record. Jason Endres, Larry Switzer and Shawn Dangelmayr also contributed numerous tackles, individually and assists. "Jason Endres and Darrell Mullins had their best game of the year," said Nasche.

Offensively Stevan Nasche completed 8 of 11 throws for 73 while Ryan Hess threw once for a 42 yard gain. Receivers were Shawn Dangelmayr, 4 for 63, and Jason Beyer, 2 for 24 yards. Top rushers included Chris Hess, picking up 46 yards on 13 carries and Beyer with one run for 9 yards.

"Man for man we were a better potential team. But Saturday night the lack of teamwork turned the tables," concluded the Tiger coach.

to bounce back and play better this week, but the game will be tough. Lexington is rated second in state in TAPPS competition with a 6-0 season record. They average over 210 pounds on their line and have a 212 pound, 6'2" tailback that has over 1,200 yards rushing this season.

"They're strong and have lots of team speed, sounds like we'll have our hands full with Lexington," said Coach Nasche. "We're within inches of being an excellent ball club...so close, but yet so far."

Directions to Greenhill School
Take South Interstate 35 through Lewisville into Carrollton. Take the Trinity Mills exit going east about 4 miles, turn south at Midway Rd. Go two miles to the Harvey Hotel (on the right). High school sports facts

Texans have always bragged about having the biggest and the greatest, when it comes to high school sports, this is not an idle boast.

In the athletic circle, Texas fields more high school football teams than any other state - 1,031 including 90 six-man teams. In basketball there are some 1,169 boys' and 1,169 girls' teams that hit the courts last year.

In Spring sports, Texas again led the nation with more than 1,136 boys' and 1,130 girls' track and field teams participating in high school programs.

Texas follows California in girls' high school volleyball teams with 745 and is also second in the country with 880 high school boys' baseball squads.

Cistercian Hawks win over Sacred Heart Cubs Saturday

Sacred Heart hosted the junior high Cistercian Hawks Saturday evening, being handed an 18-0 defeat.

Five turnovers hurt the Cubs, including four intercepted passes. "Our effort wasn't bad; we were heavily outmanned," said Coach John Nasche. "They came with 35 to 40 players, their size outnumbered us also."

After changing possession, Cistercian took over starting on their 26-yard line. A long run and pass took the Hawks into Cubs' territory. On the fourth play of the game, Cistercian ran up the middle, 49 yards for a touchdown. The extra point failed, giving the visitors a 6-0 score with 2:48 on the clock.

Jason Hess returned the kickoff 18 yards to the Cubs' 39-yard line. Sacred Heart's first play showed no gain and the second was fumbled to the Hawks.

Cistercian moved the ball inside the Cubs' 20, but with the assistance of a clipping flag, Sacred Heart's defense held, taking over on their 17-yard line. Three motion calls against the Cubs forced a fourth down kick. Cistercian took two plays, one a 50-yard run, and scored again. The extra point pass failed and with 1:05 remaining the Hawks led 12-0.

Trent Trubenbach took the Cistercian punt to the Cubs' 41-yard line. Fifteen yards in penalties pushed Sacred Heart to a first down and 25.

A pass from Jason Hess to Neil Berres picked up 10 yards, but the next pitch was intercepted. The Hawks got off one play as the half ended.

Trubenbach returned the second half kickoff to the Hawks' 42-yard line. Trubenbach picked up 6 yards on the first play but a Cub pass was picked off the second play. Cistercian failed to pick up 10 yards their first possession of the second half, turning the ball over to the Cubs. Sacred Heart started and ended at midfield. Their next attempt, throwing the ball, gave them their fourth turnover of the game.

Two key plays, a 26-yard run and a 39-yard touchdown run, put another 6 points in Cistercian's hands. Berres sacked the quarterback on the attempted extra point, keeping the score 18-0.

The young Tigers seemed to be making a comeback. J. Hess returned the Hawks' kick 20 yards then two plays later gained 26 yards to put the Cubs in Cistercian territory. But the threat was ended when the Hawks picked off another pass, giving them the ball on their own 11-yard line.

Cistercian kicked the ball, starting the final quarter, after Sacred Heart's defense led by a 10-yard loss caused by Berres held the visitors.

The Cubs started play on the Hawks' 20, but two five yard penalties and two incomplete passes turned the ball over to the other team. Cistercian ran three plays, then kicked. Sacred Heart ran four plays, then the Hawks ran two as time ended. The final score was 18-0.

The Cubs will be matched against Lexington Friday night at Greenhill Athletic Stadium. Game time is 5:00, before the varsity game. Directions to the game follow the varsity story.

Saint Mary's of Gainesville hosted the Cubs in a match at Leopard Stadium last week Tuesday.

"It was a real good game," said Coach Nasche. "Trent Trubenbach rushed for over 300 yards, which is tributed to the junior high 'Hogs' for good blocking all night." The line includes Mike and Joe Schilling, Toby Hess, Heath Bayer, Jacob Luke and Josh McCoy.

Nasche said he was pleased with all the players, with everyone getting a chance to play. Sacred Heart came out on top 36-16.

Knights retain winning record after 29-7 victory

The outcome of Lindsay's game Friday with the Jesuit Junior Varsity all happened within 42 seconds in the third quarter when the Knights scored 16 points for a 22-7 halftime lead. The game ended with Lindsay on top 29-7.

The game didn't start well for the Knights though. Rangers' quarterback Troy Reeder ran 70 yards the first play of the game to score a very early touchdown for the visitors. The PAT kick by Ed Chadwick was good and, with just 22 seconds off the clock, Jesuit led 7-0. "The first play woke us up," said Lindsay Coach Pat Benton. "We needed a team that could give us some competition."

The Knights took their first possession on their own 36-yard line. Runs by Ronnie Dieter, gaining 21 yards, and Marty Neu, adding 12 on the ground, helped by two passes from Scott Hermes to Chris Hanks and Dieter, placed the ball 12 yards from paydirt. A 10-yard penalty backed the ball to the 22, where on 3rd and 12, Dieter threw the ball to Patrick Corcoran for 6 points. Hermes' kick failed and Lindsay trailed 7-6 with 4 minutes ticked off the clock.

The Rangers started their next drive on their 20, steadily moving the ball into Knight territory. Starting with a 1st down on the 43, two incomplete passes and a 4-yard loss due to a quarterback sack by Patrick Schully forced Jesuit to punt.

Lindsay took possession with 1:38 remaining in the quarter, starting deep on their 3-yard line. Two Hermes passes to Corey Sandmann added 39 yards going into the next period. Failing to continue their drive, the Knights booted the ball over to the visitors. Jesuit moved the ball 32 yards in nine plays before Lindsay's pass defense stepped in. Schully picked off a Ranger pass on the 46-yard line after David Parson tipped the ball. The Knights didn't have time to celebrate; on the next play, the Rangers intercepted a pass, taking over at midfield.

A 15-yard penalty and tough defense by Tommy Huchton, Kenny Fleitman, Corey Sandmann, Schully, and David Parson forced another Ranger punt. A bad snap enabled C. Sandmann to rush in and block the attempted kick. The Knights took over on the Rangers' 40-yard line with Dieter running 5 of 7 plays to the 5. Scott Hermes kept the ball on the final play of the drive for a touchdown. Hermes also ran in the extra point and the Knights took a 14-7 lead with 48 seconds remaining in the half.

The Knights' kickoff team buried the ball deep on the 5-yard line. Two Ranger passes failed on the second attempt, Kenny Fleitman broke through the line for a quarterback sack and a 2-point safety. Lindsay extended their lead 16-7 with 25 seconds remaining on the clock.

After receiving the free kick, Lindsay, starting on the 41, moved to the 4-yard line on a 37-yard pass gain from Hermes to Chris Hanks. The next play, the Knights' offensive line opened the door for Dieter into the end zone. The extra point attempt failed and, with only 6 seconds remaining in the first half, the home team had a 22-7 edge over their guest.

The third quarter belonged to Jesuit, controlling the ball for 19 plays. Lindsay took the beginning quarter kick, gaining only 3 yards, punting the ball to the Rangers. Starting deep on their 13, the visitors slowly moved to the Knights' 7-yard line. Tough defense by Travis Huchton held the Rangers on 4th and 4, allowing Lindsay to take over with 1:48 remaining in the third period.

Passes to Hanks and Corcoran moved the Knights 30 yards as the final quarter began. Runs by S. Hermes, Dieter and Jeff Hermes set up a 1st and goal. The honor went to J. Hermes on a 1-yard carry. S. Hermes kicked the extra point and, with 9 minutes remaining in the game, Lindsay led 29-7.

LINDSAY QUARTERBACK Scott Hermes pitches the ball over blockers Herb Picca (56) and Marty Neu (7).

Possession zigzagged between the two teams with Corcoran stepping in as quarterback.

Ronnie Dieter led the Knights for ground gain, picking up 75 yards in 12 carries. Marty Neu added 26 yards in 11 attempts, while Scott Hermes gained 23 on 3 tries.

Chris Hanks and Pat Corcoran were Hermes' receivers, catching 3 passes for 59 yards and 3 for 44, respectively.

"We feel better now on our passing game," said Coach Benton. "We improved over last week. We could have run better."

The Knights' defense was led by David Parson, Patrick Corcoran and Patrick Schully, each with numerous tackles. Schully also is credited for an interception.

Lindsay travels to Muenster for their first district match. "It will be a good game, one that will be worth watching," said Benton. "It will definitely be the game of the week in IA."

The Knights, along with Era, are among the approximately 10 IA teams in the state that are still unbeaten. "We've got a good team, but we haven't played any real stiff competition," continued the Lindsay coach. "I'm sure we'll be rated the underdog; we're rated lower than Muenster."

The Harris Rating System had Lindsay rated 29th, four teams behind Muenster, before last week's game. But, at the same time, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram Football Polls put the Knights on their Top Ten, along with Era. Muenster didn't rate.

"The best athletics will not determine the outcome of this game. The team with all the fire will be victorious," concluded Pat Benton.

The game starts at 7:30 p.m. at Muenster.

Concerned officials meet on anti-hunting faction

AUSTIN - Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials were among more than 125 people from several industries who met on Sept. 7 in New Orleans to discuss organizing a national group to support responsible resource management and campaign against animal rights extremism.

Representatives included such areas as conservation, sportsmen, biomedical, industry and outdoor media.

"All the states were invited. We're not a big player, but we have a lot to gain or lose depending on the organization's effectiveness," said Bobby Alexander, TPWD acting wildlife division director. "I'm really glad that's happening. That's the group that needs to be speaking out. There's a broad constituency of people involved."

The New Orleans meeting was an initial organizational meeting. The next meeting will be in January in Dallas where an executive director and board of directors will be selected. An interim chairman and board of directors was selected at the meeting. The board includes seven people from conservation and professional groups and seven from industry and the media. This group will develop proposals for an organization name, bylaws and other necessities.

Andy Sansom, TPWD executive director, said although complete goals of the organization have not been worked out yet, TPWD and other similar agencies will be represented in an advisory role.

"Everyone there, without exception, is concerned at the implications of the growing anti-hunting movement. I think we concluded the purpose of the meeting was 'should a coalition be formed to address it?' We agreed to continue the discussion. Carrying the campaign forward will be done by interested organizations," Sansom said.

"I do not see unanimity yet to forming a common front. That's what's got to be worked out (in January) and we'll be there," he said.

For more information on the group being formed contact interim chairman Larry Jahn, Wildlife Management Institute, 1101 14th St., N.W., Suite 725, Washington, D.C. 20005 or call (202) 371-1808.

KENNY FLEITMAN moves in for a quarterback sack for the Knights in their defeat over Jesuit JV.

Lindsay juniors lose to Argyle

The junior high Squires traveled to Argyle to play two contests. Argyle was victorious in both games.

In seventh grade action, Argyle scored first taking an 8-0 lead. A 50-yard run later in the first quarter by Jeff Hale put the Squires on the scoreboard. The extra point failed, making the score 6-8.

"Argyle dominated the game," said Lindsay Coach Linus Fuhrmann. They scored 22 more points in the game taking a 30-6 win over Lindsay. "We gave up a touchdown right before half," said Fuhrmann.

The eighth grade younger Knights failed to score. "We were outmanned. We could have played perfect and couldn't have beat them," said Coach Fuhrmann. The Squires fumbled four times and gave up a touchdown with 30 seconds remaining in the half.

Chris Brown was noted for playing outstanding offense and defense and was Lindsay's leading rusher. The Squires lost the contest 33-0.

Lindsay junior high will host seventh and eighth grade games Thursday night, Oct. 18. The seventh grade will play the Saint Mary Mustangs and the eighth graders will take on Muenster's junior high. Action starts at 5:00 on Knight Field.

Isaac Zimmerer is archery champion

by Elaine Schad

A 10-year-old Lindsay youth with two state titles is hoping to shoot for national competition this year in the sport of archery.

Isaac Zimmerer, son of Larry and Elaine Zimmerer of Lindsay, took first place in the cub outdoor archery championship in the freestyle limited class and is current state champion in that class. He won the honor during a two-day competition in Tyler, sponsored by the Field Archery Association. Competitors in Isaac's class were age 12 and under. Isaac is a fifth grader at Lindsay ISD.

This is the second consecutive year that Isaac has won the state championship in his class. "He's been doing it since he was 3 1/2 years old," said Isaac's father, Larry, who also regularly practices. "He just kind of followed me up in interest."

A perfect score in the freestyle competition is 560. There are 28 targets of varying lengths, with four shots allowed for each target. Isaac shot in the 470s to garner his state title. He hopes to compete in national finals to be held next year in Washington, but must shoot well into the 500s to be competitive, said Larry.

Archery is drawing a lot of attention as a sport for both adults and children, said Larry. "It's a sport where you can be sorry or good and still have a lot of fun," he said. "We're really looking for competition and hope to get more kids involved here locally."

Denton County has an active archery association and holds practices every Thursday at the North Texas Fairgrounds in Denton. Indoor competition in the Dallas-Fort Worth area begins around November and continues almost weekly, with outdoor meets beginning around February and continuing through late summer.

There are local, regional, state and national competition for all types of age categories using both the bare bow and the long bow. There is even international competition, with a Denton County youth taking the title recently during competition in Australia.

County Agent's Report by Craig Rosenbaum

Time to watch for brown patches on lawns

If lawns have been infected with brown patch in prior years, get ready to treat again.

Moist conditions with cooler night temperatures are ideal for the development of brown patch disease. San Augustine is the most common lawn grass affected, but centipede and bermudagrass are also susceptible under certain conditions. Early infections can go unnoticed unless regular inspections of the lawn are made. Late September and October are when symptoms are most apparent.

Heavily fertilized, well watered lawns are very susceptible to brown patch. Lush, moist grass creates an ideal environment for disease development.

The lawn-devastating disease appears in patches as large as 30 feet in diameter. The leaves turn yellow and are easily pulled from the stolon or stem. As the affected areas age, new green growth may develop toward the center of the patch, causing a donut-shaped appearance.

A number of fungicides are available to prevent or treat brown patch. For the fungicides to be most effective, it is best to apply them before the disease develops. In lawns where treatment is limited, be sure to first treat the areas that were previously infected because the disease has a tendency to reappear in the same areas.

Bermudagrass and Bluestem Field Day

Producers in North Texas have been interested in Old World

Bluestems for several years. The Old World Bluestems have been in the United States since the 1920s and 30s. During the 1970s and 80s more modern varieties became available. Old World Bluestems are adapted to many soil and weather conditions and due to the limited fertilizer requirements, they have gained wide acceptance. This past spring two Old World Bluestem and other Grass Variety Plots were established in the county on the Dangelmayr Brothers Ranch and Fuhrmann Brothers Ranch. Varieties included Caucasian, Plains, PMT-587, WW Ironmaster, WW Spar, and other varieties. Growth has been very satisfactory even with the dry spring.

A Field Day to view these plots and evaluate planting requirements, forage production, variety selection, and other aspects of growth will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 23. At 2 p.m. the plots on the Dangelmayr Ranch can be viewed. These plots are located approximately two miles west of FM 373. Take the first gravel road west off of 373 that is just north of FM 1630. These plots are located some four miles south of Muenster. At 5:30 p.m. the plots on the Fuhrmann Brothers Ranch will be evaluated. These are located approximately 2 miles north of Highway 82 on the gravel road next to the Precinct 4 County Dump. Producers needing more specific directions should call the County Extension Office.

Old World Bluestems are warm season seeded perennial grasses that have a definite place in grazing programs over the state.

County Hay Show

The Cooke County Hay Show will be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 23 at 7 p.m. at the Cooke County Fairgrounds.

Dr. Dale Lovelace, Extension Forage Specialist, will present a program on Quality Hay Production and Yields From Various Hay Grasses in North Texas. At this time producers can view the hay samples that have been submitted for evaluation.

Hay Shows offer an opportunity for producers to evaluate the quality of their hay and its feeding value during the winter months. Both physical and chemical scores are taken on the samples and evaluation is made combining these two processes.

The public is invited to attend this year's show and program.

As the season changes, so do the nuts ...!

BURNEYVILLE, OK - As the days grow shorter, pecans grow larger and peanut producers prepare for harvest.

At the Noble Foundation's Red River Farm near Burneyville, the hint of autumn in the air means it's time for "field days," special get-togethers where producers, researchers, farm service representatives and product dealers compare notes, ask and answer questions, and find out what works and what doesn't.

Cooperation between the Foundation and pecan producers will be a key element in the Native Pecan Management Field Day next month at the Red River Farm. Tours, talks and demonstrations will cover topics including livestock grazing in pecan groves, controlling wildlife pests, fertilization of native pecan trees, pecan marketing economics and general native pecan management.

The program will begin with registration at 8:00 a.m. Nov. 1. The tours, talks and demonstrations will take place during the morning.

The field day itself is free. Lunch will be available for approximately $5 per person.

The afternoon program includes demonstrations of harvesting equipment.

The Red River Farm is located southeast of Burneyville in Love County. Signs at Burneyville indicate the specific route to the farm.

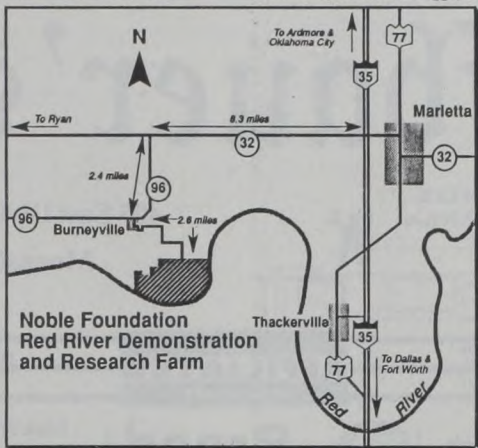

Persons planning to attend the pecan field day should notify the Noble Foundation at (405) 221-7252.

The Noble Foundation is a privately-funded, non-profit organization headquartered in Ardmore, Oklahoma. The Foundation conducts agricultural, biomedical and plant biology research; provides grants to numerous other charitable and educational organizations; and assists farmers and ranchers through educational and consultative programs.

Upper Elm-Red SWCD elects officers

James K. Brite, Jr., of Bowie and Henry Berry of Nocona were recently re-elected to the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District Board of Directors Oct. 12, 1990. Brite represents Zone 1 of the district while Berry represents Zone 2.

The purpose of the Upper Elm-Red SWCD, with headquarters in Gainesville, is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers and ranchers on conservation matters.

The board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purposes.

As two of five individuals serving on the district board of directors, Brite and Berry will be responsible for district policies and procedures for carrying out the district program within the framework of the Texas soil conservation district law.

In Texas there are 210 soil and water conservation districts. Each is a legal subdivision of state government organized by local agricultural landowners with the assistance of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board. Unlike most other legal subdivisions of state government, SWCDs do not have the powers of taxation or eminent domain. All conservation programs managed by the districts are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator.

TAGPAC to endorse Ric Williamson

AUSTIN - The Texas Agricultural Political Action Committee (TAGPAC) announced the endorsement of Representative Ric Williamson for re-election to the Texas House of Representatives.

"Your stand on behalf of the family farmers and ranchers of this state and for all rural Texans made this endorsement possible. We believe your efforts in working for and passing meaningful legislation to improve agriculture, education, the rural economy and preserving the right for all Texans to elect our Agriculture Commissioner have helped make this state a better place for all Texans to live," stated TAGPAC Chairman Patrick Cox.

"We believe Representative Williamson will continue to work for his district and on behalf of rural Texas to improve public education, make our homes, businesses and neighborhoods safe from crime and drugs and increase economic activity for family farmers and ranchers," Cox said.

Representative Williamson received the "White Hat" award in 1989 from TAGPAC for his work on behalf of rural Texans in the state legislature.
