VOLUME VIII

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1944

NUMBER 48

An amusing combination of foolishness and unmitigated crust is the attempt to change the name of Berlin, Oregon, to some Greek name — foolish in that the change was ever considered and crusty in that the guy who promoted the brainstorm were not even residents of the town. For butting into other people's business that incident takes the cake. Fortunately, however, the residents got their heads together and nipped the plan in the bud.

We can imagine the consternation if the change had been made. On the practical side it would cause no end of confusion. Mail would go astray, innumerable legal documents would have to be changed, maps and guides, preceding the change would not list the place. It's another case of much to be lost and nothing to be gained, suggestive of "cutting off one's nose to spite his face."

Of course it is easy to understand that sentimental reasons may be behind such a proposal. In this case a few must have considered the name somewhat distasteful due to popular association with distasteful people like the Nazi or the Junkers crowd. A silly attitude to take when it is just as easy and much more pleasant to associate the name with Irving Berlin, a good old American name.

The real point is that a city's disgrace or humiliation is not shared by another because of a mere similarity in names. It is hard to imagine how any mental process can arrive at the conclusion that it does. Actually it isn't a mental process at all, just a snap decision like Hitler is famous for making. As we recall, he has changed quite a few names in recent years.

That's another laugh — using the dictator's own methods to show resentment toward him, and for years afterward putting up with a lot of unnecessary grief while the Germans probably don't know about it and certainly don't give a hoot.

Here's hoping a silly urge like that never makes headway in our town. Whatever happens to any other Muenster anywhere else in the world will not have the slightest effect on the tradition and spirit we associate with the name. So why get peeved? And why do something rash when it hurts us more than the people we're peeved at?

It's remarkable how much we can be impressed by reports of industrial strikes in Germany and how little we are impressed by the same trouble over here. A few days ago news of a strike in the Reich was offered as a ray of hope that the war might end this year after all.

What few of us seem to consider is that news of our strikes has a similar effect on the people of Germany. Probably even a greater effect, because the high powered Nazi propaganda machine exploits every incident to its fullest extent. Mud and rain are by no means the only factors assisting German resistance.

A person can let his imagination run wild in estimating the number of lives lost and damage done to our armed forces by strikes. Soldiers who were caught empty handed might have been adequately supplied. Enemy production might have been curtailed much earlier and enemy troops might have had much less to fight with. Our men's morale might have been improved whereas Germany's might have been dampened by news of hard cooperative work on our home front.

We're winning, yes, but what a tremendous price we're paying for the delay. Thousands of lives sacrificed. Billions in debts heaped on future generations. Social and economic problems complicated until they almost defy solution. Still the strikers go on striking.

Almost as serious as the useless waste of life and limb is the fact that democracy is taking such a terrible beating in all this horse play. Our government constantly has to assume new dictatorial powers to cope with the situation. At the same time quarreling factions are creating a chaotic condition most favorable to the spread of Communism. Unless something is done to check the headlong trends, America may find itself in the embarrassing position of falling prey to the very evils it fought to exterminate in Europe and the Orient.

To say that it can't happen here is utter folly. Racial and class frictions are lifting their ugly heads higher and higher. Economic confusion is increasing. Radicals are gaining in influence. In short we are developing the same set of conditions which bore and nurtured the wildisms of Germany, Italy and Russia.

WAVE Fette To Wed

Announcement was made here Sunday by the reading of the marriage banns of the approaching marriage of Agnes Fette, yeoman first class with the WAVES and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fette of this city, to Army Air Corps Lieut. Emerson T. Stormer of Ardmore, Okla. The rites will take place the latter part of this month at St. Mary's church, Ardmore, with the pastor, Father P.D. McCreedy, officiating. The bride-to-be has been in the service since February 1943 and has been on duty at the Naval Air Station at Norman for the past year.

Completes Furlough

Pvt. Hugh Lee Tuzigle, who entered the army from this city in January, visited here last week with friends while he was on furlough, which he spent with his wife and family at Gainesville. He has completed training at Camp Hood, has been transferred to Fort Dix, N.J., and is expecting an overseas assignment in the near future.

Wounded In Italy

Pvt. F.E. (Toodie) McLeod was wounded in action in the Italian war theatre on September 27, according to a message from the War Department received by his wife in Oklahoma City last Saturday. The same day she had a letter written by her husband, advising that the wound was not serious and that confinement to the hospital would be of only a few weeks' duration. He was hit in the back by a machine gun slug, he said.

Cousins Meet In India

Staff Sgt. Ferd Yosten, a mechanic with the army air corps, and his cousin, Pfc. Larry Yosten, a truck driver in the same branch of the service, recently met in India and discovered they were on duty at the same air base. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Yosten and F.J. Yosten.

Reports For Duty

Jerome Pagel left Monday for induction in the armed forces. Accepted for the Navy some time ago he expected to enter that branch of the service when he left here. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Pagel and served as manager of Shamburger Lumber yard in this city. His wife and three children will continue to make their home in Muenster. A brother, Cpl. Maurice Pagel, is stationed with the army in Hawaii.

Here On Furlough

Sends Medal Home

Pvt. Valentine Fuhrmann, on duty in Alaska, recently received the Good Conduct medal and sent it to his wife here. Accompanying the medal were a collection of coins from that country and his Asiatic-Pacific campaign bar with one star denoting a major battle engagement.

First Meeting In 10 Years

Cousins Cpl. Maurice Pagel and Cpl. Ralph Hellman, met recently in Hawaii at a football game, the first time to see each other in more than 10 years, according to letters to relatives here. They wouldn't even have known each other if Cpl. Pagel hadn't recognized a vell, which he stated is "exclusively Muenster", so he searched for the person giving that cheer and on finding him asked his name. Cpl. Hellman, interested in the game, came back with "What do you care?" Then Maurice told him his name and his home town, and football was for the time being forgotten, in the joy of cousins getting together.

LINDSAY SHIPS 432 POUNDS CLOTHES FOR EUROPEAN RELIEF

LINDSAY.— There were 432 pounds of clothing collected here during the relief drive for German occupied countries. The Christian Mothers' Society was in charge of collection, sorting and packing. The entire community cooperated in every way to make the campaign successful, contributing both new and used clothes, and thanks are extended to all who helped in any way.

1,542 POUNDS OF CLOTHES SHIPPED TO EUROPEAN SUFFERERS

The appeal made here recently for the relief of peoples of Europe among the allied nations, met with encouraging response on the part of local citizens, and the collection resulted in providing substantial aid to those who have been impoverished by the German invasion of their countries.

The campaign here was sponsored by Sacred Heart parish and members of the Saint Anne's Society supervised assembling and packing at the parish hall which was the collection depot.

Near 2,000 garments weighing 1,542 pounds were packed in 34 boxes for shipment. All clothing was in good condition.

There was no expense attached to the drive, everything connected with it being voluntary. The boxes went from here to Fort Worth by rail and from there will be sent to Europe by the federal government.

ALL SET FOR GALA ALUMNI PARTY AT LINDSAY SUNDAY

Plans and program are complete and a gala time awaits all those who attend the annual benefit party to be sponsored by the Subiaed Alumni in Lindsay Sunday afternoon and evening, the committees in charge have announced.

Paul Hesse, seven-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Melina Hesse, received minor bruises and cuts when he was knocked down by a moving automobile at the K of C hall on Columbus Day afternoon during the picnic. He was treated at the local clinic and was permitted to be taken home when examinations revealed no bones were broken.

Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Schmitz of Valley View, formerly of this city, are at Glen Rose for his health, and report that he is much better and ready to take active part in his business when he returns home. They recently had a letter from their son, Cpl. Alphonse Schmitz, on duty in France with an engineer battalion, reporting that he was well and that the Muenster Enterprise arrived regularly.

Mayor and Mrs. J.M. Weinzaepfel and daughter, Mary visited relatives in Wichita Falls, Sunday

Memorial Services For Pfc. Jesse Epps Held At Hays Church

Memorial services for Pfc. Jesse Epps, 27, who was killed in action in France on June 11, were held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Liberty Baptist church in the Hays community.

Rev. C.M. Thomas, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist church, Gainesville delivered the sermon and an address was given by Jim Rense of that city. Rev. Fred Parnell, pastor of the church, was in charge of the program which was attended by a large number of persons from Cooke County.

Pfc. Epps was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Epps of Myra, formerly of Muenster. He entered the army in October 1942 and trained at Camp Rucker, Ala., and at Camp Pickett, Va., before going overseas in February of this year. He served with a tank battalion.

His two brothers, Pfc. Lester Epps and Pfc. Vernon Epps, who have been stationed in the Aleutian Islands, are home on furlough and attended the services.

FUNERAL RITES FOR W. E. CORBIN, 77, ARE HELD FRIDAY

W.E. Corbin, 77, long time resident of the Linn community south of Muenster, died at a Gainesville hospital last Wednesday. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at Whaley Memorial Methodist church, Gainesville, with Rev. L.B. Trone and Rev. T. Hollis Epton officiating. Interment was in Fairview cemetery.

Mr. Corbin was a native of Tennessee where he was born Feb. 19, 1867. He served on the school board of his community from 1904 until the district was consolidated with Muenster some time ago.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Paul Linn of Gainesville and four sons: J.E. Corbin, Berger, Marvin Corbin, serving with the armed forces overseas, and Carson and Bailey Corbin, Muenster, and six grandchildren.

Mr. Corbin was a member of the Methodist church in the Hardy community.

Boxes Wanted

Mrs. Jim Cook chairman of the Red Cross committee, this week received a letter from officials at Gainesville requesting boxes of any size and shape for the Camp Howze station hospital. These boxes are to be used by men confined to the hospital in sending gifts or other things to their homes. The boxes are not for overseas shipment, and there is no limit to size, it was pointed out. Anyone wishing to contribute to this cause should leave boxes with Mrs. Cook.

SINGING CONVENTION

The local Baptist church will conduct a singing convention Sunday, Oct. 22, beginning at 2:30 it was announced Monday, and members extend an invitation to the public to attend.

FMA May Not Have Turkey Season For This Thanksgiving

Final Decision Depends On Survey Now Being Made In Adjacent Areas

Whether or not the FMA will conduct an annual turkey picking and packing program for the Thanksgiving season this year is being decided this week.

Roy Callahan of Oklahoma City, veteran of several previous seasons' supervision, came to Muenster Tuesday, and with Plant Manager Rudy Hellman is making a canvass of this and surrounding communities to "size up the turkey situation".

It is generally conceded that there are fewer birds than ever this year both in the immediate vicinity and surrounding areas. Another factor that may influence the final decision is the current labor shortage.

In the event no dressing and packing program is held, the local association will, nevertheless buy birds and ship them alive to other dressing station, it has been stated. Should a program be held, Wilson and Company of Oklahoma City will be in charge as in previous years supervising the buying, dressing and marketing, and the FMA providing refrigeration and equipment.

THREE EVENTS HERE MARK OBSERVANCE OF COLUMBUS DAY

The observance of Columbus Day on October 12 was marked by three separate events by the local Knights of Columbus council.

First on the program was group attendance at 7 o'clock mass and reception of the Eucharist, while the second event was a social in the K of C hall during the afternoon.

Both were favored by a remarkably fine attendance of the council's membership, and for the afternoon party families of members were guests. As a special feature of entertainment, the Youth Bands, under direction of Rev. Richard Eved, presented a concert from 3 to 4 o'clock.

The final observance was a dance at night for which the public was invited.

MUENSTER WOMEN ASKED TO BAKE 1200 COOKIES

Muenster women have been asked by the county Red Cross chapter to bake one hundred dozen cookies for distribution among the soldiers confined to Camp Howze station hospital for Thanksgiving day. Mrs. Jim Cook, in charge of details has announced that sugar for this purpose will be available point-free through arrangements made by the Red Cross. While the date, Nov. 23, is considerably far off, local ladies are nevertheless urged to keep this undertaking in mind. Announcement as to securing the sugar and other details are to be made later.

War Chest Campaign In Slow Motion

"Slow But Sure" Theory Holds While Solicitors Get Active In Field

While the current War Chest campaign is progressing slowly in Muenster, most solicitors are out collecting donations, and the general outlook is gratifying. It is reported this week. Few solicitors have made returns on their collections, and it was impossible to estimate Wednesday just what percent of the local quota is accounted for. Chairman J.M. Weinzaepfel disclosed.

In addition to the solicitors already in the field, two more were named this week to work in their respective districts. They are Paul Endres and John Hartman. They may call at the bank for their supplies.

All solicitors who have completed their work are asked to turn in their reports at once, and those who have not finished making the rounds in their designated areas are asked to complete their collections as soon as possible.

Hundreds of local citizens have not yet been called on, and those who find it convenient are asked not to wait until they are contacted but leave their donation at the bank.

A list will be run in the Enterprise of all those who donate to the War Fund.

In the county more than $10,000 of the appropriated quota of $27,682 is accounted for. Several communities and districts, including the Hays district, have topped their quotas. For Hays the goal was $125, and $116.80 was raised.

BUILDING PROGRAM AT FMA PLANT IS NOTING PROGRESS

Farmers Marketing Association's current building program is progressing rapidly with walls for the whey drying house almost up and the foundation for the frozen food locker laid. The exterior brick work of the former building will be completed this weekend and the brick work on the locker will begin shortly.

At present, plans are to put in some 240 lockers with room left available to add 60 more, when needed.

Rural Mail Delivery One Hour Later Here Beginning Next Monday

All rural mail service will be one hour later beginning next Monday, October 23, it was announced by the local postoffice this week.

The new arrangement will give rural patrons more efficient service and will in no way delay the dispatch of mail left in boxes for rural carriers to pick up. Postmaster Arthur Endres stated.

Class Of 70 Preparing For Confirmation Rite

A class of approximately 70 children is under instruction now preparatory to the reception of the sacrament of Confirmation on November 5. Pastor Father Thomas is giving the daily lessons.

His Excellency The Most Rev. Bishop A. Dangelmayr of Dallas will officiate at the confirmation rites.

The honor couple received a shower of lovely gifts, a sumptuous buffet supper was served and games of 42 were enjoyed.

There's a Shortage of Copies of The Dallas Morning News—But NOT of Our Desire to Serve!

The crucial shortage of newsprint paper has forced a curtailment of the supply of copies of The Dallas Morning News to our dealers in this county. Only a small part of regular shipments is possible until we are permitted by Government Authority to increase our consumption of newsprint.

Distribution for the present will be made from drug stores and newsstands, unless your agent can arrange otherwise.

We realize, with deep regret, that some of our old-time readers are not able to get copies of The News. We trust they will understand and bear with us while we're making every effort to restore service.

In the meantime, although many patrons will not have The News delivered to them temporarily, their names are still on The Dallas News' Big Book and we look forward to serving them again.

Coach And Captains Meet

The volley ball coach and captains met last week to plan a series of games in the near future. In the meantime, it's set down to serious practice so that we will be able to meet our opponents when games with other schools are scheduled.

Campus Comment

There was quite an uproar in the Freshman classroom one Friday afternoon when a little yellow slip of paper was placed in each of the Freshies desks. The result was that the Freshies attracted all the attention for a few days last week. We admit, the Freshmen were rather queer looking and did odd things.

Here is a boost to the Freshies for their sportsmanship during their initiation. It is so strange that one sophomore girl felt sorry for them.

Marian Gremminger seems to be a Gremlin. Is it Webster who says a Gremlin is a trouble maker? Helen Walterscheid, although not a German student, seems to have found someone with whom to speak German, but it seems he is not a member of the German class either. Dorothy Voel, according to reports, has a rather mysterious instructor in her effort to learn to drive a car. Paul Luke is trying to take instructions from Rosalee Muller. We wonder in what?

Seniors Initiate Freshmen

The Freshmen initiation was held Wednesday afternoon, October 11, in the parish hall.

The blindfolded Freshmen were ushered into the hall by their dignified seniors by the "duck walk" march. After that, the Freshies at the bidding of the seniors entertained the audience by their stunts.

Refreshments of icecream, cake and cokes were served by the junior class.

The Glee Club held its first meeting Tuesday October 10, with Helen Ruth Otto, president, presiding. Elections were held to fill the offices of Vice-president, and Secretary. William Joseph Miller and Marie Ann Endres were chosen for these two offices respectively.

Plans for the organization of boys and girls quartets were discussed. Those who were interested submitted their names. Practice will begin in the near future.

The entire student body participates in the Glee Club. Group singing is held every Monday.

MÜNSTER PUBLIC SCHOOL.
 The Public School is off to a fine start this year. The building is shining under a new coat of paint, and folding doors were placed between two rooms to provide auditorium space. We have a firm determination to make ours one of the best schools in the county. Are there any challengers?

The Parent-Teachers Association started the year off at a Get-Acquainted session with a meeting of fifty parents, school trustees and teachers present. Many plans were suggested to build up our school. Every one was glad to meet our new superintendent, John J. Hoffman. The first business meeting of the P. T. A. will be at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at which time officers will be elected.

We have been having a lot of fun playing volleyball even if there isn't evidence of much skill. So far the boys have beat the girls four out of six games.

Former students, Gerald Stelzer, Leo Lawson, Julius Stelzer and Paul Nieball who have visited us insist they hardly knew the place because of the spic and span cleanliness and general air of peace and studiousness. School Daze sends Greetings to all alumni and hopes you will come to see us when you are in town.

of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

Quite often, after you've puzzled over a way to solve some problem or other, when you finally get the answer it proves to be very simple. Keeping records of a dairy herd's production is rather a simple thing, but you'll be surprised at how many of your problems record-keeping will help you solve.

A little time spent now in repairs may prevent discomfort for both you and your cows when cold weather gets here.

The cow-testing, or dairy herd improvement associations which have set up record-keeping on a uniform basis, have proved their value time and again in helping dairymen in a dozen ways. Purdue University lists these dozen helps in Bulletin 195, which discusses herd records and what they accomplish.

Corn fodder is not the best roughage in the world, from the standpoint of food value, but it does have its uses in feeding. If you happen to be a little short of roughage, corn fodder can be used.

By keeping records, you will get information which can help place the herd on a lower cost of production. The records will show which cows are returning most dollars for the feed consumed. Accurate data on each cow's feed consumption and milk production will aid in using feed supplies to better advantage.

Purdue suggests you should either shred it or run it through a feed grinder or silage cutter, to chop it up. Cattle will like it better and it will have higher feed value if you can mix one to two pounds of molasses with four times the weight of water and sprinkle this on the roughage daily.

The information will be a valuable guide in deciding from which cows calves should be kept. You will know more about your high producers. Their calves, of course, are the ones to use for herd replacement.

If corn fodder is used, the rest of your dairy ration should be high in protein. In the past few months, I have discussed a number of feeding guides which will help determine the amount of protein in your mixtures. Any one of those booklets mentioned in this column in the past will come in handy at this time.

Purdue Bulletin 195 discusses specific examples of how herd records aided the dairyman in changing his set-up so that he was able to operate on a better basis. I suggest you write the Extension Service at Lafayette, Ind., and get a copy of this leaflet.

Among these are Extension Service Circular 152, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala., and Circular 405, Extension Service, University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.*

Your county agent can give you information on cow-testing associations in your area and how you can join such a group.

Everyone has his own problems, like the farmer who was being complimented on his bumper crop, with good prices prevailing. "You haven't a thing to worry about this year," said a friend. "Well," came the reply, "these big crops are awful hard on the soil."

The September issue of the Producers' Edition of the Kraftman contains a record-keeping chart and if you have not received a copy, write me at 500 Peshigo Court, Chicago, and I'll mail you one.

Most of the state colleges have made experiments on grinding grain and chopping hay before they are fed to cattle. The findings seem pretty conclusive that the cattle get more benefit when feed is ground than they do if it is fed whole.

A freight agent received a mixed load of merchandise one day, including a burro. He went over his list of items, checked his load, scratched his head and made out his report—"Short one bureau. Long one jackass."

Wisconsin offers Circular 288 on this subject and it goes into considerable detail as to what feed should be ground, and why, when and how fine it should be ground. You can get a copy by writing the Extension Service, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.*

If you didn't get around to checking over your buildings for any needed repairs during the summer, I'd like to suggest you go over them now. It would be really too bad to have a good part of your winter's feed supply, ruined by a leaky silo or barn roof.

Grinding helps the animal digest grain, makes it possible for more of the actual food to be absorbed. It saves feed. Ground grain or hay takes less storage space than if unground.

That barn door which hasn't been closing tight enough probably can be fixed with just a few minutes work. Maybe some windows in the barn, milkhouse and other buildings can use new panes of glass.

*NOTE: There usually is a 5c charge for pamphlets mailed to non-residents of a state, but possibly your own state has a free pamphlet on the same subject. Ask your county agent.

LINDSAY SCHOOL TATLER

Lucille and Mary Louise Bezner

We are happy that school has reopened again. It's really a treat to be back with our teachers and classmates after a "close up" for five weeks. On our return we noticed a number of improvements in the school building. Our point of interest is the large new bulletin board which has been put up in the entrance hall for the use of the S.C.A. Club. The posters there are very attractive — and the clippings! Did they catch your eye? We were actually thrilled to read there that our present Pope Pius XII received his early education from the Sisters of Divine Providence. Maybe some day we shall become personalities that our teachers can be justly proud of.

Another addition, very agreeable to use is the large number of library books. Some forty good fiction and biographies have been put on the shelves for our use and benefit. We express our thanks to those who are instrumental in securing these books for us.

Miss Dolores Walter entertained with a Backward Party in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Walter, Sunday evening for a group of friends from this city and Gainesville. Clever games and refreshments were enjoyed.
