leading into the 6th hurdle, but he hit a hurdle and took a bad fall," said Coach Tankersley. Sicking broke his collar bone and was unable to finish the race. "Cody's just a sophomore, which gives us something to look forward to next year," continued the coach. "The winner in the 300m hurdles is advancing to Class 2A and the others were all seniors at the State Meet."

The coaches were pleased with this year's track program. "We just wish it could have turned out better for Cody and couldn't be prouder of Julia who ran good races," concluded the coach.

Muenster High School sophomore Julia Fleitman brought home two state medals and a new school record from the State Track and Field Meet held in Austin last weekend. The Lady Hornet distance runner broke Tina Klement's school record in the 1600m run with a time of 5:22. Julia had her second best run of the season in the 3200m, finishing at 11:56.

Fleitman lost out to 4-time defending state champion senior Stephanie Duke of Utopia in both events. Duke took the gold medal with winning times of 5:17.7 and 11:42.3.

"We're excited about Julia's capability and are looking forward to next year," commented Coach Randy Tankersley.

Weather conditions were good for the 3200m, but the track was wet after a 2-hour rain delay, for the 1600m.

Alvord's Tina Cobb finished the 1600m run in 6th place with a time of 5:37.1.

Cody Sicking also competed at the State Meet in the 300 intermediate hurdles. "Cody was

Sacred Heart seniors receive honors at Senior Awards Banquet Monday

Friends, relatives, and teachers of the 17 Sacred Heart Seniors attended the annual Senior Awards Banquet on Monday night at 7 p.m. in The Center Restaurant. Winners of the various class awards and scholarships were announced.

Earning the honor of academic achievements were Erica Schilling, Class Valedictorian and Jennie Endres, Class Salutatorian. Erica's parents are Duwayne and Sharlene Schilling and Jennie's are Sam and Karen Endres. Another top honor, that of Mr. and Miss Sacred Heart, was announced. Students are judged by the faculty on their attitude, high esteem, involvement, academics, and respect for their school. Kelly Bayer, son of Claude and Mary Bayer, and Erica Schilling won these coveted titles.

For excellence in academics the following class awards were bestowed: Journalism I, Advanced British Literature, Religion, Accounting, and Civics to Erica Schilling; Journalism II, Economics, and Computer Science to Donetta Hess; Life Skills, Business Math, and English IV to Kelly Dangelmayr; Bachelor Survival to Eddie Lamkin and Jeremy Bayer; Homemaking to Jason Hofbauer; Advanced Math, Art I, and Spanish II to Jennie Endres; Earth Science to Kelly Bayer; Advanced Biology to Michael Gehrig.

Art students receiving awards included: Jody Fleitman, Weldon Bayer, Jennie Endres, Michael Gehrig, DeAnna Hess, Aaron Berres, Jason Hofbauer, and Eddie Lamkin.

Student Council plaque presentations went to Jennie Endres, Erica Schilling, Donetta Hess, DeAnna Hess, Michael Gehrig, Melissa O'Brien, and Kelly Dangelmayr. Mr. Murdock also gave special recognition to senior class officers Erica Schilling, president; Donetta Hess, vice-president; Jennie Endres, secretary; and Michael Gehrig, treasurer.

Before making scholarship presentation Mr. Murdock noted that all the seniors' hard work in academics and extra-curricular activities of the past four years gave him the great honor to bestow $60,000.00 in scholarships. As the students with the two highest grade point averages, Erica Schilling and Jennie Endres each received $16,000.00 scholarships from the Independent Colleges and Universities of Texas. They also were awarded the National Honor Society Certificate of Merit.

Michael Gehrig received the Tandy Technology Outstanding Student Scholarship for his performance in science, math and computer science. Erica Schilling accepted the Tandy Technology Scholars Academic Top 2% Award. Kelly Bayer and Erica were honored with an Honorable Mention Award from the Amateur Athletics Union Scholarship Committee for their athletic performance and community service.

Donna Doty, president of the Soroptimist Club of Gainesville, presented the $500.00 Soroptimist Scholarship to Jennie Endres. Jennie also accepted the Beta Kappa Scholarship which was presented by Dolores Miller.

Weldon Bayer was recognized by Juanita Fuhrmann, representative of the VFW Auxiliary, with the Voice of Democracy Award. Steve Taylor presented a $1,000.00 Wal-Mart Scholarship to Donetta Hess. Erica Schilling received the State of Texas Honor Graduate Certificate of $1,000.00, the Merit Scholarship of $4,000.00 from ETSU, $1,500.00 from the University of Dallas based on a National Competitive Exam, the Principal's Leadership Award, and was recognized by the Coca Cola Scholarship Foundation as a National Semi-finalist.

Seniors qualifying for the Mary Josephine Cox Scholarship from North Central Texas College were Kelly Bayer, Aaron Berres, Kelly Dangelmayr, Darrin Hess, DeAnna Hess, Chris Pagel, and Brian Rohrer. Melissa O'Brien qualified for a full music scholarship to Grayson County College.

From East Texas State University Kelly Bayer won the Sam Rayburn Scholarship of $4,000.00. Sacred Heart Home and School Society awarded $50.00 each to these certified students: Kelly Bayer, Aaron Berres, Kelly Dangelmayr, Jennie Endres, Jody Fleitman, Michael Gehrig, Erica Schilling, DeAnna Hess, Donetta Hess, Melissa O'Brien, and Brian Rohrer. To cap the evening Sam and Karen Endres prepared a "Remember When?" video for the seniors and their parents. It depicted changes in the graduates from the time they were babies, through elementary school, and focused on the events they had shared as classmates throughout the years.

To conclude the evening Mr. Murdock shared "words of wisdom" with the graduates of 1994. Father Victor closed the evening with the Benediction prayer.

County residents petition for IR&R

by Elaine Schad

Some Cooke County residents are involved in a petition drive, seeking to grant voters in the state of Texas the rights of initiative, referendum and recall.

The first petitions are now being distributed with hopes of garnering 50,000 signatures of eligible voters in the state by mid-September. The petitions request that the Texas Legislature call an election to adopt procedures that would allow the citizens of Texas to exercise their rights to initiative, referendum and recall.

Kit Carson, president of the Cooke County Taxpayers Association, said the Cooke County group is working with the Texas Association of Concerned Taxpayers in gathering signatures for the petition. Both groups feel these three political powers would give voters more direct influence over their state government and its elected officials, Carson said.

If initiative would become law, Texas citizens would have the right to petition for an election so that voters could approve a new law, amend the Texas Constitution, propose a new Constitution or order a convention for drafting a proposed constitution for voter approval. Texas citizens could place an initiative on the ballot by submitting a petition to the secretary of state containing signatures of 5 percent of the state's registered voters.

The right of referendum would include rejection or repeal of statutes passed by the Legislature and any law or precedent established by a court decision. That would require 3 percent of eligible voters signing a petition.

A petition of recall would allow citizens to recall any elected official of the state of Texas, which would include local school districts, county officials, municipalities and other government units. That petition would require 5 percent of eligible voters of the entity involved in order to bring the issue to a vote.

For more information about the petition, contact the Cooke County Taxpayers Association at 726-3586 or TACT at (210) 340-8298.

MISD seeks principal

by Elaine Schad

The Muenster school district is looking for a new principal following the resignation of Eddie Green. Green, 51, is completing his first year as junior high and high school principal and has decided to retire from administration. He will continue with the school district as a part-time science teacher. Superintendent Steve Cooper said the district would like to hire another principal as soon as possible, probably at the school board's June meeting.

Green was principal at Muenster from 1982 to 1985 before accepting the principal's job at Palmer, which he held until 1987. Green was high school principal at Collinsville in Grayson County before coming to Muenster last year. He was a former middle school principal for five years at Gainesville.

Muenster school trustees, during their regular May meeting, tabled action on a proposal to open a pre-kindergarten program in the fall pending the outcome of a June 20 meeting between school officials and the Texas Department of Human Services. The Muenster school district has been approved for a grant for extended care and core care, but financial negotiations have not yet been completed, Cooper said. "It looks good, but we can't commit at this time," he said.

The district originally applied for a grant to serve 25 students, but it looks like the district will have closer to 15 students in the pre-kindergarten program, Cooper said. The original grant request was for $80,000, but that could become a lower figure with the revised student count, he said.

In other business, Muenster trustees:

--Hired Kim Walterscheid as a full-time teacher who will work with Chapter I, elementary physical education and junior high. Walterscheid has been employed in a part-time capacity this past year.

--Approved a 24-credit graduation program for incoming freshmen, up from the 21 and 22 credit requirements for present students. The changes will include requiring students to take World Geography and have been made to coincide with state curriculum recommendations.

--Took no action on a maternal leave policy for faculty members.

--Reviewed repair and refurbishing plans for the summer

County Attorney Boto attains adult certification for McGrew

Steve William McGrew was certified last week to stand trial as an adult on charges that he was involved in the Dec. 7, 1993 aggravated robbery at Buy For Less Grocery in Gainesville. In that incident, the victim, Joel Johnson, was robbed at gunpoint while seated in his automobile outside the store. After his wallet was taken, he was shot in the lower back. The incident was witnessed by the victim's 7-month-old child, who was next to him in the vehicle at the time.

The certification proceedings were conducted in Cooke County Juvenile Court before Judge Ray B. Russell, and mark only the second time a youth has ever been certified to stand trial as an adult in Cooke County's history.

County Attorney August Boto, who brought both successful certification proceedings, explained that the Court uses several criteria outlined in the Texas Family Code in considering whether to allow a child to stand trial as an adult. They include:

(1) whether the alleged offense was against person or property, with greater weight in favor of transfer given to offenses against the person;

(2) whether the alleged offense was committed in an aggressive and premeditated manner;

(3) whether there is evidence on which a grand jury may be expected to return an indictment;

(4) the sophistication and maturity of the child; and

(5) the record and previous history of the child; and

(6) the prospects of adequate protection of the public and the likelihood of the rehabilitation of the child by use of procedures, services and facilities currently available to the juvenile court.

Testifying during the hearings were Detective Robert Ferrell with G.P.D.; Steve Szezepinski, a juvenile probation officer from Wichita Falls; Todd Kitchens, a parole officer for the Texas Youth Commission; Jim Farquhar, Cooke County's juvenile probation officer; Dr. Roy Drake, a local licensed psychologist; Sophelia Sayles, the juvenile's sister; and Reverend James Heath, a corrections officer for the armed services and foster parent serving the Wichita County Juvenile System. Larry Claxton served as defense counsel.

D. August Boto noted that McGrew's hearing, which lasted from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. last Wednesday, May 11, occurred almost exactly one year after the County's first juvenile certification order, which he requested against David Hinchman, a 15-year-old youth involved in the aggravated robbery of Doug Herr on Hillside Drive in Gainesville.

Boto said, "It appears that our county is now experiencing what metropolitan jurisdictions to our south have had to handle for the last several years ... an increase in juvenile crime not only in terms of numbers, but also in terms of the degree of severity. Some kids today are involved in things considered unthinkable a generation ago."

Take the California Trail for weekend adventure

by Janet Felderhoff

Centered in Leonard Park, Gainesville's Depot Days celebration this weekend should offer something of interest for everyone. The three day event has activities scheduled from Friday through Sunday. Many of the activities are set up along the historic California Trail route that once cut through downtown Gainesville.

A square dance exhibition by the 49'ers in Leonard Park at 7 p.m. Friday kicks off the flurry of events. This will be followed by an evening of dancing under the park pavilion with music by the Arbuckle Express Band.

Things start up early Saturday with a Kiwanis Pancake Breakfast from 7 to 11 a.m. in the Bluebonnet Room. Meanwhile at Moffett Park a Fun Run is scheduled to start at 8 a.m. followed by a Bike Rally at 10 a.m. starting at Cooke County College.

A Mountain Men encampment in Leonard Park will offer a bit of history to those interested in how some people lived during part of the 17 and 18 hundreds. Demonstrations will be given on cooking, leather making, flint knapping, basket weaving, weapons crafting and more. Things are kept as authentic as possible.

Sunday's activities begin at noon and conclude around 5 and 6 p.m. At 1 p.m. Sunday everyone is invited on a tour of homes that includes four homes and five churches. Tickets can be purchased for $5 at the Depot, the information booth at Leonard Park, or at any of the homes on the tour.

Food booths will be open in Leonard Park all three days. Saturday and Sunday events include arts and crafts booths, gunfighter shows, antique cars, hay rides, carriage rides, a children's fair, a petting zoo and much more entertainment.

Era ISD hires principal

by Elaine Schad

Branda Selby will be the new elementary principal at Era, school officials announced this week.

Selby has been a fourth-grade teacher with the Era school district for the past eight years and has completed the mid-management credentials for administration, Era Superintendent Randel Beaver said. With growing enrollment at Era, Selby will be working in a new position which has been added to lighten the load on Sharon Durham, who has been K-12 principal.

School trustees agreed with the district's site based management committee's recommendation in establishing the additional administrative position. Durham has been overloaded as the district's only principal due to district enrollment growth, now at more than 380 students, and because of an addition to campus facilities which are more spread out, Beaver said.

Jeanne Sadau is the new president of the Era School Board following a reorganization of the board this week following trustee elections. G. C. Ellis will serve as vice president and John Smith will be secretary. Former Era Postmaster Imogene House administered the oath of office to newly-elected board members Joe Myers and Walt Stevens during the board's regular May meeting this week.

Trustees reviewed a preliminary 1994-1995 school district budget which projects a $100,000 budget shortfall which will require about a six-cent tax increase. Beaver said one cent on the tax rate generates only $3,000, so the district will only gain about $20,000 based on a 100-percent collection rate. The rest of the money needed will probably be made up by using district reserves, he said. The district's projected budget for 1994-1995 is $2,098,146 with projected revenues set at $1,998,848.

Several factors have figured in the need for the higher budget for 1994-1995, with most related to personnel changes, Beaver said. Pre-enrollment figures has placed kindergarten students for the fall at 25, which exceeds the 22:1 ratio state mandate and will probably require that the district offer two kindergarten sections. There is not enough personnel to cover all subject area offerings in the junior high and high school language arts area, which will probably require hiring an additional teacher for the fall. The district will also be paying for the new elementary principal position and some monies for hiring a junior high special education teacher, although a large part of that position will be paid for with federal funds, Beaver said. There is also a possibility the district will have to split the third-grade into an additional section due to enrollment growth.

In other business, Era school trustees:

--Accepted the low bid of $18,935 from the Texas Association of School Boards for the purchase of property, casualty and liability insurance for 1994-1995. The two other bids were for $19,051 from H. M. Powell Insurance in Gainesville and for $21,026 submitted by Hutcherson Insurance of Gainesville.

--Heard a report on summer projects for the school district, which will include some paving, painting and building some sidewalks around the campus.

--Approved the school calendar for 1994-1995. Classes will begin Aug. 12 and will end May 24. There will be a three-day holiday for Thanksgiving, Christmas break will be Dec. 19-Jan. 2. Spring Break will be March 13-17.

--Approved a first reading on an amended policy for athletic jacket awards that will add the categories of drill team and power lifting. The UIL literary award will be revised to require a student advance to regional at least two years or to state one year in order to earn a jacket award.

--Approved the purchase of library books using $1,800 in Chapter I funds.

--Approved Jeanne Sadau as the district's voting delegate to the TASATASB joint convention to be held Sept. 30-Oct. 3 in Dallas.

--Heard a student transfer appeal. The board denied the transfer request last month, but the student's parents appealed to the board to reconsider the transfer. The board took no action and said the transfer denial will stand unless the teachers and administration come back to the board with a different recommendation.

--Approved a student transfer request.

--Approved a waiver request to combine two sections of fourth grade so the teachers can team teach the group of 35 students.

Lindsay ISD hires boys' basketball coach

by Elaine Schad

Jodie Stringer will be the new boys' head basketball coach for Lindsay High School.

Lindsay school trustees this week hired Stringer from about 50 applicants for the position. He will also be an assistant football coach and an assistant track coach, according to Lindsay Athletic Director Charles Meurer.

A 1987 graduate of Texas Tech University, Stringer has teaching fields in history and physical education. He is a 1982 graduate of Vernon High School. He has been head basketball coach and assistant football coach for the past two years at Mart, located east of Waco. He was an assistant coach for five years at Floresville, a 4A school near San Antonio.

The school board took care of a relatively light agenda during their regular May meeting. Principal Jim Anderson presented a campus improvement report which proposed the addition of a music program, more computers for the middle school library, a video library for the middle school, and the purchase of a van for general use by district personnel.

Trustees also heard a report from the site-based decision making committee. The committee will meet on May 28 for an all-day session with representatives of the Texas Education Agency and new principal William Steger to rework the site-based plan for the district.

In other business, the school board:

--Approved a waiver for three days in August to be used for staff development.

--Accepted the resignation of Coach John Metzler.

--Heard a computer update from Troy Edes who reported that all new computers are in place.

--Presented the new University Interscholastic League alignment which will place Lindsay in District 9 for spring academics, sports and cross country and will include 12 schools located from Lindsay to Santo.

Plans set nationally and locally for Memorial Day

Department of Veterans Affairs Secretary Jesse Brown will be the featured speaker during Memorial Day weekend observances at the DAV Vietnam Veterans National Memorial in Angel Fire, New Mexico.

Prior to his appointment as head of the VA, Secretary Brown, a combat-wounded Marine Corps veteran of the Vietnam War, was executive director of the Disabled American Veterans Washington, D.C., headquarters.

Secretary Brown's Memorial Day address will be Monday, May 30, 1994, and is part of a three-day schedule of events beginning Saturday, May 28. Other highlights of the weekend's activities include a POW/MIA candlelight vigil on Sunday, May 29. The vigil will feature a reading of the names of 2,386 Americans still listed as missing in action and those whose remains have been repatriated.

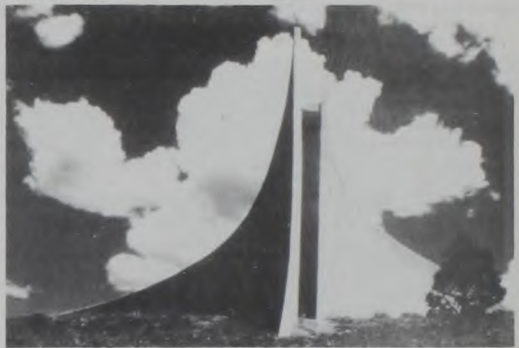

Each year for more than two decades, thousands of veterans of all wars and their families have made the pilgrimage to the beauty and majesty of the DAV Vietnam Veterans National Memorial to reflect on the cost of war, to show their respect for our nation's warriors who fought and were disabled, and to pay homage to the Americans who died in the Vietnam War. All facilities at the memorial are totally accessible to persons with disabilities. The visitors' center and exhibit area feature pictorial displays, art, sculpture, banners, and flags, as well as an interactive, computer-based audiovisual information and education exhibit. This exhibit, unveiled last year, gives visitors access to film footage, photographs, television, and newspaper and magazine reports about the Vietnam War. Also featured is biological information on the more than 58,000 Americans who died in Vietnam.

Muenster will pay tribute to deceased veterans on Sunday, May 29, Sacred Heart Church's 8 a.m. Mass will be offered for the veterans. After Mass there will be a procession from church to the Sacred Heart Cemetery.

Father Frwin Schoech has planned a special service. The first communicants will place individual flowers on the graves of the veterans.

A barbecue chicken dinner will be served at the VFW Hall from 6 to 7 p.m. Everyone is welcome. The meal is $6.00 per person, all you can eat. All widows of deceased veterans are considered guests and will be given a complimentary meal.

MMH Board changes May meeting date

Muenster Memorial Hospital Administrator Jack Endres notified the Muenster Enterprise that the public hearing scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 25 to discuss the District's proposed budget and tax rate for its July 1, 1994-June 30, 1995 fiscal year had been rescheduled to Thursday, May 26, same time. The regular meeting of the MMH Board of Directors will follow.

Tom Sangster dies at 71

Tom Sangster died in Stevens Hospital of Snohomish, Washington on May 13, 1994 of complications of cancer, resulting in a massive heart attack.

He was born on June 29, 1922. The Sangster family - Tom, Gerry and their children, Craig and Cindy - moved to the Rosston area in the early 1970s where they bought acreage and built a home. Their children attended both Sacred Heart High and Muenster High School. Sangster was a pilot with Braniff Airlines until retirement. Mrs. Sangster took part in many school events and was active particularly in speech, drama and debate; and helped organize the Miss Muenster Contest.

Survivors include the wife, Gerry Sangster; one daughter, Cindy Sangster of Snohomish; one son and daughter-in-law, Craig and Rhonda Sangster; and two grandsons of San Francisco, California.

Services were held in Bauer Funeral Chapel of Snohomish on Tuesday, May 17. Burial was in the GAR Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, the family has suggested memorials to the school libraries of either Sacred Heart High or Muenster High School.

"Be prepared" to honor the Stars of Life during Emergency Services Week

According to a national survey, nearly half of all Americans are unable to identify 9-1-1 as the fire, police or medical emergency number and fewer than one-third of respondents considered their households "very well prepared" to handle a medical emergency.

President Clinton has proclaimed May 15-21 as National Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Week. This year's theme, "Emergency Medical Services: The Stars of Life" is intended to salute the dedicated men and women who provide lifesaving care whenever and wherever it is needed.

The Texas Commission on Fire Protection is joining EMS providers nationwide in encouraging schools, businesses and community groups to set aside National Emergency Medical Services Week as a time to learn how to recognize and respond to medical emergencies.

The planets are aligned for municipal bond investors

The volatility of the bond market caused by the recent short-term interest rate increases by the Federal Reserve is enough to concern most bond investors. But before you decide to steer clear of the bond market, Betty Peveto, branch manager of A.G. Edwards' Gainesville office, advises investors that now is the time to take another look at municipal bonds.

"Municipal bonds have always been popular investments for people looking to reduce their tax burden," Peveto said. "The interest earned on municipal bonds is free from federal income taxes, and in some cases, free from state and local income taxes as well. But current market conditions make municipal bonds even more appealing."

These conditions include a shrinking supply of municipal bonds, an increase in municipal bond yields and the prospect that interest rates will be even lower in the future, thus making today's bond yields even more attractive.

New issues of municipal bonds in this year's first quarter are already 27% below the same period last year. Because rates are higher this year, the volume of municipal bond refinancing has decreased. Thus fewer new municipal bonds are available. At the same time, recent tax law changes have increased the demand for municipal bonds among higher-income investors seeking tax relief.

For more information on the current buyer's opportunity in municipal bonds, call the Gainesville office of A.G. Edwards & Sons at (817)668-8762, or see Peveto at 113 East California, Suite #2.

Vows exchanged in May 14 ceremony

Rhonda Dawn Jones of Rosston and Wade Joseph Walterscheid of Lindsay were married in Sacred Heart Church of Muenster on May 14, 1994. Father Victor Gillespie officiated the Nuptial Mass and double-ring ceremony at 5 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Jones of Rosston. She is a 1983 graduate of Midland High School and a 1988 graduate of Florida State University and is currently pursuing a Master's degree in Special Education. She is employed by Sivells Bend Independent School District as a Special Education teacher.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian A. Walterscheid of Muenster. He is a 1983 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and a 1988 graduate of the University of Texas in Arlington with a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering. He is employed by Peterbilt as Senior Design Engineer.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was wearing an ivory satin wedding dress, with elegant beaded detail on the bodice, neck and long sleeves, with a sheer yoke and high lace neckline. She chose to wear a special treasure, her sister Rachel's wedding gown.

Her bridal bouquet held ivory roses, English ivy and bead strands.

ATTENDANTS

Angela Jones of Mesquite, the bride's sister was her maid of honor. Rachel Monhollon of Richmond, Virginia, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Michelle Mathieu and Ashley Scott, both of Panama City, Florida, friends of the bride, and Elaine Schilling of Muenster, groom's sister, were bridesmaids.

They wore candlelight moire taffeta dresses designed with dropped waists, shaped bodices, shoulder bows and flared skirts. Each carried peach silk roses, ivory baby's breath, tulle bows and peach ribbon.

Elizabeth Scott of Panama City, Florida, godchild of the bride, and Kristen Miller of Muenster, groom's niece, were flower girls. Kevin Walterscheid of Muenster, groom's nephew, was ring bearer.

Kyle Walterscheid of Arlington, groom's brother, was best man. Groomsmen were Matt Jones and Tim Jones, both of Rosston, brothers of the bride, Dan Bezner of Lindsay, Mike Dangelmayr of Muenster, friends of the groom.

Ushers were Ron Dangelmayr, Dale Schilling, Jesse Walterscheid and Darrell Walterscheid, all of Muenster.

Mass servers were Aaron Walterscheid, Derek Fuhrmann and Travis Fuhrmann.

Wedding music was presented by Ruth Felderhoff, organist, and LeAnn Currier, vocalist. Selections were "Edelweiss," "Sunrise, Sunset," "One Hand, One Heart," "God, A Woman and A Man," "I" and "The Wedding Song."

Readers in the special liturgy were Dana Miller, Hollie Head and Leslie Fuhrmann. The Unity candle was carried by Megan Wimberly.

Altar decorations included fresh greenery, off-white flowers in vases and two candelabras with lighted candles. Pews in the center aisle were marked with off-white ribbon, roses and tulle.

RECEPTION

A reception followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center. Presiding at the guest book were Christy Overcash of Gainesville and Francine Walterscheid of Muenster.

The bride's table held a floral arrangement of peach and off-white flowers, peach bows, and ivory tulle draped around the table. In the background was an off-white lattice decoration trimmed with peach ribbon, tulle and miniature lights. Guest tables held hurricane lamps, with candles, peach ribbons roses and tulle bows, peach bows and preserved fern in vases, and English ivy vines. A buffet table was centered with a metal May Pole, peach and ivory ribbons, greenery and off-white flowers. All decorations were created by Stacie Miller, groom's sister.

An Italian Cream wedding cake was served.

When the couple returns from a wedding trip to New Orleans, they will reside on the old homestead of S.W. "Casey" English of Rosston.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in their home. A German cuisine was served.

Darren Hundt receives Merit Scholarship

The names of approximately 2,600 winners of Merit Scholarships financed by colleges and universities were announced recently by National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC). These Merit Scholars are among a total of more than 6,700 distinguished high school seniors in the 1994 competition who will receive Merit Scholarships worth about $25 million.

Darren J. Hundt, son of Debbie and Richard Hundt of Lindsay, was among the students selected to receive this distinction. He is a senior at Lindsay High School and has earned the honor of class salutatorian. Darren plans to attend Rice University and work towards a career in engineering.

DARREN HUNDT

Offices held by Hundt and awards won include: Junior Class Vice-President; Student Council Vice-President; State Champion in UIL C-X Debate, State Champion in UIL Science, Biology and Physics, 2 years; 3rd in State UIL Math; 4th in State UIL Number Sense; National Honor Society Vice-President, 2 years; District Champion in VFW "Voice of Democracy" Speech Contest; Catholic Youth Organization Vice-President and Treasurer; Golf Team, 4 years; Individual District Golf Champion.

Some 115 private and 85 public higher education institutions, located in 42 states and the District of Columbia, are offering Merit Scholarships for use at the sponsor college or university. College-sponsored Merit Scholarships provide between $250 and $2,000 annually for up to four years of undergraduate study. Winners were chosen by officials of the sponsor institution from among Merit Program Finalists who will attend that college. Darren was sponsored by Rice University in Houston.

About 1.1 million students in more than 19,000 U.S. high schools entered the 1994 Merit Program by taking the 1992 PSAT/NMSQT, which served as an initial screen of participants.

Cooke County College graduates 415 students

"Tonight, a special distinction becomes attached to each of your names - college graduate," said Dr. Ronnie Glasscock, president of Cooke County College.

Cooke County College held their 68th annual commencement exercises Friday, May 13, at the Gainesville High School auditorium.

"This is the largest class to graduate from CCC," said Dr. Eddie Hadlock, dean of Student Services. "We had a total of 415 students, it was standing room only."

Following musical presentations from the CCC Pop Singers, which included a presentation of the new NCTC college alma mater, CCC Board of Trustees Urban Endres congratulated the honorees and introduced members of the Board.

CCC instructor and 1993 "Teacher of the Year," Pat Ledbetter awarded the "Teacher of the Year" award to Sharon Gaston, CCC Biology instructor.

"Sharon gives more to her students than just an education," said Ledbetter. "She really cares for her students and gives each one of them the attention they not only require - but also what they deserve."

"This commencement was special because two 'Triumph of the Spirit Awards' were given," said Hadlock. "The Triumph of the Spirit Award goes to a student who has overcome many obstacles while pursuing a college education."

Julia Freeman from Gainesville and Kelly Lynn Jobe from Sanger both received "The Triumph of the Spirit Award."

Following the presentation of the special awards, Glasscock addressed graduates and guests. He noted how not only were the graduates receiving a diploma - but they are receiving recognition for their perseverance, determination, dedication and sacrifices.

"Because so many students at community colleges do have to work extra hard and make sacrifices for their education, I think that makes community college graduates very, very special people," said Glasscock. "I know that every member of our faculty, administration and governing board is as proud of each and every one of you as I am."

Also congratulating the honorees was Dr. Doug Crawford, CCC Dean of Instruction, who presented the Class of 1994 as candidates for degrees.

Hadlock then presented diplomas to the following area 1994 graduates of CCC from:

Era: Eva Marie Beaver and Cindy Lou Bowles.

Forestburg: Carla Jo Evans, Patricia Gaye Houston and Melinda Renee Vagher.

Lindsay: Collette Rae Bayer, Kristie Lee Early, Darrin Mathue Graham, Leo Jerome Sandmann and Charles Randall Skinner.

Muenster: Melissa Lea Bayer, Michael Joseph Bierschen, Leslie Gayle Dangelmayr, Gail A. Drachenberg, Douglas Winfield Evans, Kathleen Grace Felderhoff, Julie A. Hacker, Jo Anna Henscheid, Rudy Paul Hess, Shirley Madonna Hess, Joy Lynn Schneider, Mary K. Sicking and Sherilyn Eleanor Sicking.

Myra: Paula Jean Garner.
Rosston: Christina Lee Freeman.
Saint Jo: Sharon I. Giffen.

Muenster 4-H Club attacks litter problem

The Muenster 4-H Club conducted a trash pickup on April 16 on their adopted section of East Highway 82. They collected 43 bags of trash. Parents helped the 4-Hers with the pickup.

The main purpose of the Adopt-A-Highway program is not just picking up the trash, but rather to make us aware of the littering, for which we are responsible.

While there are a lot of paper cups, bottles and paper thrown out of vehicles, a large amount of the trash is what blows out of the back of pickups, such as ice and feed bags.

Why don't we try when emptying those bags to pitch them in the pickup cab and dispose of them in our trash at home?

ATTENTION!

Muenster Elementary staff is cooking breakfast for all parent volunteers on May 26 at 7:30 a.m. in the elementary building. Each year, parents volunteer to help with a wide variety of activities. Parents who are planning to attend the breakfast should notify their child's teacher by May 25.

1944 classes celebrate 50th reunion

Members of the graduating classes of 1944 from Muenster Public School and Sacred Heart School and other classmates who went to school with them beginning in the first grade in 1932 got together for their golden anniversary party Friday evening, April 22. The get-together was held at The Smokehouse party room in Lindsay. Twenty-one classmates and their spouses attended.

The cocktail hour began at 7 p.m. followed by dinner. The after-dinner program was chaired by Alvin Fuhrman. Lorene Sandmann gave the invocation. Ms. Sandmann and Imelda Rohmer gave a biographical sketch of each member of the class who attended. The deceased classmates were remembered by Mary Ann Arendt. Gladys Bezner gave out the awards including: David Lehnertz, who traveled the greatest distance (Spokane, Washington); Clara Endres, the most children (13) and most grandchildren (34); Handsomest Old Man, Marcus Fuhrman; Prettiest Old Lady, Dollie Endres Laviolette; Most Changed, Dorothy Nell Fletcher Reed; and Most Serious, Gussie Felderhoff. Leo Felderhoff received two awards - Most Athletic Old Codger and Most Comical. Imelda Rohmer also won two awards - Most Athletic Old Lady and the Least Changed. Other awards went to Alvin Fuhrman, Most Likely Succeeded; and Nikie Harrison Crawford, Beat the Most Adversity and Came In On Top.

Juanita Bright, who with Johann Bezner were co-chairmen, recognized the various committees. Members of the planning committee were Mary Ann Arendt, class history book; Gladys Bezner and Marian Gruber, decorations and memorabilia; Alvin Fuhrman, printing of correspondence, invitations, certificates, etc.; Leo Felderhoff and Lorine Sandmann, location, menu, etc.; and Imelda Rohmer, reservations and treasurer.

Pictures were taken, events that happened during the school years were remembered; a table of text books and other memorabilia were viewed and visiting with old friends and classmates was enjoyed. Each classmate was given a 60-page class history book as a souvenir.

Members of the Sacred Heart graduating class were: Leo Felderhoff, Alvin Fuhrman, Harold Sicking, Della Rose Endres, Imelda Felderhoff, Geneva Gremminger, Mary Ann Reiter, Johann Seyler, Marian Starke, Juanita Weinzapfel, Gladys Wilde and Alma Marie Luke. Sicking, Mmes. Gremminger and Luke are deceased.

Public School graduates were Thelma Kathman, Julius Stelzer, Florentine Trubenbach, Lorine Knabe, Lorene Lutkenhaus, Dorothy Nell Fletcher and Cornelia Harrison. Ms. Knabe is deceased.

Attending from out of county were Mr. and Mrs. Julius Stelzer and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Stelzer of Post; Cornelia Crawford of Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hess of Lawton, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Laviolette of Caspian, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. David Lehnertz of Spokane, Washington; Dorothy Nell Reed of Topeka, Kansas; and John Fletcher of Fort Worth.

The get-together continued Saturday morning when the group got together for a tour of the two schools. Superintendent Steve Cooper gave them a tour of the Public School plant, which was compared to the four-room building in use in 1944. Sister Mary John Seyler led the tour of Sacred Heart Elementary building and Sister Cabrini, the high school. Of special interest was all the pictures of the graduates from past years which grace the walls in the hallway. For the school tours, they were joined by several other ex-students.

To conclude the festivities, they were together for lunch at Fischerhaus.

MR. and MRS. JOSEPH PAUL TERRACE
...nee Melanie Ann Orsburn ...

April 9 ceremony unites Denton couple

Melanie Ann Orsburn and Joseph Paul Terrace, both of Denton, were married April 9 at 4:30 p.m. at the Family Life Center in Gainesville, with Pastor Albert Garrett officiating the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bixby of Lindsay and Michael T. Orsburn of Denton. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hess of Lindsay, Mrs. James Bixby of Plano, Mrs. Geddonne Williams of Denton and the great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hess of Lindsay.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Allen of Denton and Bruce Terrace of Florida.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory floral jacquard, tea-length dress. She carried a bouquet of silk peach-colored roses with baby's breath and pearl spires. Entwined in the bouquet was a blue crystal rosary that was carried by her mother at her wedding.

Kathy Orsburn of Lindsay, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a blue and white flowered dress and carried a long-stemmed rose of peach color with baby's breath and peach and cream ribbon.

Dave Herrick of Denton, friend of the groom, was best man.

A reception, dinner and dance were held at the Lindsay Gun Club, hosted by parents of the bride. Guest book attendants were Kathy Orsburn and Dorothy Allen, sisters of the couple.

Sandy Geyer baked and decorated the three-tiered heart-shaped wedding cake, decorated with cream and peach roses. A bride and groom figurine, a keepsake from the bride's mother's wedding, was on the top of the cake.

The groom's cake was decorated in chocolate and topped with chocolate roses. English ivy encircled the base of the cake.

Cutting the cakes were Nancy Terrace of Richardson, sister of the groom, and Robin Hess of Lindsay, aunt of the bride. Heidi, Casey and Kaleigh Hess of Lindsay, all cousins of the bride, were cake servers.

The bride graduated in 1993 from Lindsay High School and attended Cooke County College in Lewisville. She is employed by Food Lion in Denton.

The groom graduated in 1990 from Denton Senior High. He is employed by Food Lion in Denton.

Following a wedding trip to Galveston, the couple is residing in Denton.

Out-of-town guests came from Florida, Plano, Richardson, McKinney, Austin, Denton and Grand Prairie.

St. Peter's is site of April 30 nuptials

The wedding of Juleen Ruel Barnes of Lindsay and Phillip Frank Metzler of Gainesville was held in St. Peter's Church of Lindsay on April 30, 1994. Father Eugene Luke, OSB, pastor, officiated the Nuptial Mass and pledging of vows at 5 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Harry and Jeanie Gootas of Gainesville and Johnny Barnes of Gainesville and the groom is the son of Bill and Ethel Metzler of Gainesville.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was wearing a designer gown by Venus, of candlelight Italian satin. The dropped-waist bodice featured a sweetheart neckline embellished with pearlized sequins and rows of pearls, also along the waistline. Short sleeves, formed with multi-tucks, were accented with a large beaded motif. The full skirt flowed to a semi-cathedral train tipped with Brussels lace. A window-pane cut-out, lined with English net with pearl outlines, formed a center front highlight on the skirt.

She carried a cascading bridal bouquet of stargazer lilies, phalaenopsis orchids, red roses and English ivy.

The altar was decorated with arrangements of stargazer lilies, orchids, roses and brass candelabras with ivory bows.

ATTENDANTS

Maid of honor was Cathy Costin of Lewisville, friend of the bride. Amy Kuhn of Gainesville, bride's sister-in-law, Becky Gregory of Lewisville and Melissa Freeman of Coppell, friends of the bride, were bridesmaids. Alyssa Strong of Gainesville, bride's cousin, was junior bridesmaid. They wore purple shantung two-piece suits designed with off-shoulder necklines, and carried arm bouquets of stargazer lilies, roses and orchids.

Mary Eberhart, groom's niece, and Amber Strong, bride's cousin, were flower girls. Matthew Eberhart, groom's nephew, was ring bearer.

Jeff Myrick of Lindsay, a friend of the groom, was best man. Groomsman were Todd Kuhn of San Diego, California, bride's brother, Joel Metzler of Arlington, groom's brother, and Andy Badgett of Gainesville, a friend. John Eberhart of Gainesville, groom's nephew, was junior groomsman.

Ushers were Mike Dieter of Denton, groom's cousin, Chris Kuhn of Gainesville, bride's brother and David Barnes, bride's cousin.

Wedding music was given by Stephanie Lindsay, organist, and Kerri Kennedy and Roger Dieter, vocalists, who presented, "You," "Flesh of My Flesh," "Surely the Presence of the Lord," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Make Us One," "The Lord's Prayer," "Household of Faith" and "In This Very Room." Processional and recessional were "Canon in D" and "Trumpet Voluntary."

RECEPTION

A reception followed in St. Peter's Centennial Hall. Attending the guest book were Lisa Turner, Erin Eberhart and Sarah Eberhart. Cake servers were Jennifer Eddington, Amy Collings, Erin Eberhart and Sarah Eberhart.

Since return from a wedding trip to Colorado, Santa Fe and Taos, the couple resides in Lindsay.

The groom is a 1988 graduate of Lindsay High School and a 1992 graduate of Cooke County College and is presently attending the University of North Texas. He is employed at Peterbilt. The bride is a 1989 graduate of Gainesville High School and a 1992 graduate of the International Aviation and Travel Academy and is presently attending Cooke County College. She is employed by Dr. James R. Cole.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding came from Oklahoma, California, Dallas and Austin.

Museum features Shogun exhibit in May

In the Golden Age of Japan, warring factions were subdued and united under one great commander, the Shogun. In this time of peace and prosperity, the arts flourished; the culture was enriched; and Japan sealed itself off from the rest of the world.

But you can enter the exotic world of the Shoguns. The Cooke

County Heritage Society invites you to an entrancing experience with the Far East - a traveling exhibit entitled "The Shogun Age." The exhibit will be on display at the Morton Museum of Cooke County through May 27. The exhibit is free and open to the public.

Every year, this gun prevents thousands of homeowners from being robbed.

Hundreds of dollars in energy can easily be lost through the tiny cracks of your home. Not to mention through poorly insulated attics and walls. Which could be a bit alarming, considering you may have just caulked, weather-stripped and insulated a few years back.

TUeWISE

Unfortunately, time has a way of playing the thief. Caulk shrinks and cracks. Insulation settles. Weather-stripping comes loose. And believe it or not, it all adds up.

So, in an effort to respond to your needs, TU Electric reminds you to give your home an efficiency check-up every year. Just to be safe. TU ELECTRIC Building A Better Electric Company.

Vows solemnized in April 30 ceremony

DeAnn Wilson, daughter of Glenn and Anita Wilson of Gainesville, and Nick Muller of Rosston, son of Johnny E. Muller of Saint Jo, were married in First United Methodist Church of Gainesville on April 30, 1994. Rev. Elwood Poore officiated at 6 p.m. for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is a 1984 graduate of Gainesville High School; a 1986 graduate of Cooke County College and a 1990 graduate of Texas Woman's University and received her teacher's certificate from TWU in 1993. She is currently a substitute teacher in the Gainesville ISD.

The groom is a 1987 graduate of Era High School and attended Cooke County College. He owns Rosston General Store and Feed Supply.

Providing a setting for the wedding at the altar were four candelabras with lighted candles, the couple's Unity candle and Boston ferns. The railing held ivy, white tulle, pearls and clusters of pansies in white bows.

Special wedding banners, made by Mrs. Jane McElroy, were carried by Barton McElroy and Amber McElroy in the wedding procession, and placed in the altar space, surrounded with containers of asparagus ferns.

Family pews were marked with bows of white lace, purple satin ribbons and clusters of pansies. Six stained glass windows had arrangements of pansies, roses, baby's breath and a rosewood candle. The church entrances were adorned with ribbons and bows and potted pansies in full bloom were placed on the front steps.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride chose to wear an original white formal gown designed with a heavily-beaded bodice that featured an off-shoulder neckline, short puff sleeves that were adorned with white satin roses. The cathedral-length train was attached with a large satin bow and rose, and swept down, highlighted with lace cut-outs, pearls and iridescent sequins. Her fingertip veil drifted from a crystal and pearl-beaded crown.

She carried a bridal cascade of white roses, white pansies with a hint of purple, and myriad white streamers with pearls and crystal beads.

ATTENDANTS

Rosanne Ramsey of Decatur, friend of the bride, was her matron of honor. Kim Burt and Mary Margaret McElroy, friends of the bride both of Gainesville, and Pattie Wilson, groom's sister-in-law of Lewisville, were bridesmaids. They wore rose taffeta and lace dresses designed with scalloped lace necklines and waists, and puffed lace sleeves. The taffeta ankle-length skirts were straight with a small bustle.

Amanda Ramsey and Amber Ramsey were flower girl and ring bearer, respectively.

Matt Jones of Rosston, friend of the groom, was his best man. Todd Wilson, bride's brother of Lewisville, Kevin Ford of Callisburg, Alan Kyle of Plano were groomsmen.

Kent Wooldridge, Aaron Bloom, Barton McElroy and Nathan Bloom were ushers. The candlelighter was Barton McElroy.

Beautiful wedding music was presented by John David Dill on the organ; Glenn Wilson, father of the bride, on the piano; Colby Cason on the trumpet; and vocalists Mr. Dee Vaughan and Mrs. Joybell Schalk of Gainesville.

Prelude selections were played on the organ and trumpet, solos were "Surely the Presence of the Lord," "O Perfect Love," "Ave Maria," "O Lord Most Holy," "One Hand, One Heart," "Night of All Nights," and "The Lord's Prayer." The wedding procession was La Rejoissance and the Bridal March from "Slipper and the Rose." Recessional was "The Emperor's Fanfare."

RECEPTION

A reception followed at the Holiday Inn. A buffet of pick-up foods and champagne punch were served.

Annetta Earle and Susan Shasteen secured guest signatures in the bride's book.

The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth made by Grace Oliver, stitched with doves, sequins, pearls and scalloped edging.

Roger Dieter baked and decorated the six-tiered white wedding cake. It held white and purple pansies. Reception assistants and cake servers were Carol Albro, Jane Dudley, Bobbie Vinson, Sandy Banks, Jayne Austin, Marcus Austin, Montez Nivens and Carol Boyd.

Canopies of ribbons, balloons, curled ribbons and suspended stars hung over guest tables and the dance floor.

Since return from a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nevada, the couple is residing in Rosston.

The rehearsal dinner was prepared by Deloris Johnson, bride's aunt, and Pat Welch, bride's cousin.

Cooke County College offers Summer Fun for Kids

Cooke County College has announced their annual summer program for kids grades third through sixth, as of Fall 1994.

"We will be having a special registration on Wednesday, May 25, from 5:30 to 7 p.m. in the CCC Student Center," said Kay Moody, Continuing Education coordinator. "Thereafter, you can sign your child up Monday through Thursday until 4 p.m. in the CCC Registrar's Office in the ASC Building."

New courses are Lights, Camera, Action!, Gobble-D-Goop and Dinosaurs.

Other courses that will be available are: Story Book Weaver, Action Aerospace, Wild, Wild West, Bodies in Motion, Fun Mud, Junior Detective, Puppetry, Adventures in Painting and What Do You Do?, Simulated City, First Aid Basics.

Any student who will be in grades third through sixth as of the Fall 1994 term and who has written permission from a parent or guardian may enroll in "College for Kids." Parents must have their child's social security number when registering him/her for a class.

Two sessions will be offered on June 13-17 and July 18-22. Both sessions will meet Monday through Friday starting at 12:30 p.m. and finishing at 3:50 p.m.

In the program there will be three categories of classes, one for each of the three age groups: third, fourth and fifth and sixth graders. Each group will have a selection of courses to choose from.

Tuition is $45 which includes supplies and a College for Kids T-shirt. Space is limited so be sure and attend the special registration Wednesday, May 25, from 5:30 to 7 p.m. in the CCC Student Center.

"Back by popular demand is the Young People's Theater," said Moody. Students who have finished first through sixth grade are eligible to sign up. Registration dates are May 25 through June 10. Cost is $45 per student which does include a College for Kids T-shirt.

Classes will begin June 27 and continue through July 30. The performance this year will be "Aladdin and the Arabian Knights." Performance dates are as follows: July 29 and 30, at 7 p.m. in the CCC Little Theatre.

For all horseback riding classes, you must be 9 to 16 years old to enroll. Enrollment requires signature of a form giving the name of the child's insurance company.

There will be a total of six equitation sections to choose from. "Students registering for Level Two Horseback Riding must have completed a Level One Horseback Riding course in either the Children's Program or an acceptable beginning horseback riding program elsewhere," said Moody.

English Riding is being offered in two sections. Section one begins July 11 and ends July 15. Section two begins July 18 and ends July 22. Both courses will meet 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. English Riding will teach fundamentals of riding skills and this course will focus on the basics of riding in a hunt saddle.

The annual tennis camp will be offered once again this summer. Children ages 10 to 15 are eligible to enroll. Participants can register May 25 through June 2. Enrollment is limited. Two sessions will be offered. Section one is July 11 through 15. Section two is July 18 through 22. Both sections will meet from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Something new to the summer program is the "Movie Making Workshop." Students must be at least 13 (as of June 1, 1994). The cost of the course is $40 ($45 with T-shirt). Registration is May 25 through June 10.

"This is a special course for teens only," explained Kathy Keeler, director of the CCC Small Business Development Center. "This course will involve two action-packed weeks of directing, producing and acting."

The annual Babysitting Clinic will be offered in two sections. Section one is June 6 through 9 and section two is from July 11 through 14. Both sections are from 5 to 7 p.m. Registration is May 25 and the cost is $25 and $30 with T-shirt. This course will also include instruction in first aid.

For more information about these and other non-credit courses being offered this summer, or to receive the brochure, contact the CCC Continuing Education office at 817-668-4272.

Priest visits in Krahl home May 10 - 14

On May 10 through 14, Father Sylvester Catello visited in Muenster with the Krahl family, including Margie and Eddie Krahl, Janet and Sam Jordan, Linda and Randy Wimmer, Lisa and Steve Hughes, Bill Krahl and David and Judy Krahl. He also visited the home of Elvira and Bill Flusche and Dorothy and R.L. Smith. He was a houseguest of Margie and Eddie Krahl.

Father Sylvester is a missionary priest and interpreter for Father Stefano Gobbi, who started the Marian movement of priests. He also was the interpreter for the Bishop of Fatima. Father Gobbi, from Italy, has visited over five continents and formed hundreds of penances to spread the messages of Our Lady regarding the necessity to spread the consecration to the Immaculate Heart of Mary starting in 1973.

Fr. Sylvester has also written a famous book, "To My Beloved Priests," regarding messages that the Blessed Mother has given concerning the need for prayer, conversion of the world in these grave times. Father Sylvester has been on EWTN and all over the world interpreting Father Gobbi's messages.

May 10 was a celebration of Father Sylvester's birthday along with the birthday of Janet Jordan and Lisa Hughes. Dinner was served followed by cake and homemade ice cream.

On May 12, a special blessing, Ascension Mass and rosary was held in the home of Randy and Linda Wimmer with family and special friends, including Paul and Melinda Fleitman, Melanie Hellman, Charles and Ricky Wimmer, Elvira Flusche. A meal of turkey and dressing was served following the Mass.

On May 13, Mass and crowning of the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary and rosary was held at the home of Margie and Eddie Krahl. Our Lady Intercessory prayer group of approximately 50 people attended as did Father Joe Weinzapfel.

FR. SYLVESTER CATELLO

After Mass, Father Sylvester presented the Krahl family gifts and a special gift of a piece of bone of the Blessed Margaret Mary Alacoque and a small piece of blood-stained cloth that was wrapped around the stigmata of Padre Pio. Each family member received a piece of the cloth.

Father Sylvester is a special and holy priest and the Krahl family felt honored to have had him in their homes and town.

Klement honored at ETSU

Tina Klement, a Muenster sophomore attending East Texas State University, has received a scholarship and has been inducted into an honor and service society.

The kinesiology and math major has won an H.M. and Rachel Lafferty Scholarship. Klement received the scholarship at the 42nd Annual Honors Day Luncheon last month.

The 1992 graduate of Muenster High who lettered at ETSU in cross-country and track last year, is a new member of Gamma Beta Phi, service and honor society.

To be eligible for membership, students must have at least a 3.25 grade point average and have earned 15 service points set up by the organization.

Objectives of Gamma Beta Phi are to recognize and encourage excellence in education, promote leadership and character in its members, and foster and improve education through service projects.

The student is the daughter of Dale and Charlotte Klement of Muenster.

Pre-register Kindergarten students on May 26!

Pre-registration for students entering Muenster Elementary Kindergarten in August 1994 will be Thursday, May 26, at 3:30 p.m. in the kindergarten classroom.

Parents will need to bring the child's social security number, birth certificate and immunization record to complete the child's registration. Tammy Thurmann and Kristi Schneider, kindergarten teachers, will explain the full-day kindergarten program and answer questions. Parents will also receive a kindergarten handbook that includes tips for preparing children for school.

Kindergarten parents and students are welcome to tour the campus after completing registration.

Reunions Muller-Herr

The annual Muller-Herr reunion will be held on May 29 at Muenster City Park for noon and evening meals. Everyone is asked to bring folding chairs and covered dishes. Plates, forks, napkins and plastic cups will be provided. The swimming pool will be open. Those interested are reminded to bring swimsuits.

Haverkamp

Descendants of John and Theresia Haverkamp will hold a family reunion on Sunday, June 5, all day, at the pavilion of Muenster City Park.

County 4-H Show saddles up May 21

Top young riders from throughout Cooke County will match their skills in Gainesville Saturday, May 21, in the annual Cooke County 4-H Horse Show.

4-H'ers will compete in Showmanship, Western Pleasure, Western Riding, Pole Bending, Barrel Racing and Stakes Racing events. In addition to receiving certificates and ribbons, 4-H'ers can go on the represent the county at the District IV 4-H Horse Show to be held June 14 and 15 in Sulphur Springs.

Competition will be held at the Cooke County College Equine Arena. Registration will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, May 21, with events starting at 10 a.m.

Lutkenhaus receives 4-H scholarship

Charlene Lutkenhaus, of the Lindsay Sr. 4-H Club, is this year's recipient of the Sandy Yarbrough 4-H Memorial Scholarship. This scholarship is given annually in memory of the outstanding dedication of Sandy Yarbrough, former 4-H leader. Miss Lutkenhaus will graduate from Lindsay High School this month and will continue her education at Texas A&M University in the fall.

Being an active 4-H member for 10 years, the highlight of her career came when her record book was selected as a national winner. The record book is a collection of all the 4-H activities and community service a 4-H'er has been involved in. Charlene's book, being involved as she was, is full of a variety of impressive activities.

The project Charlene has been most involved in is Breads. She is experienced in making both yeast and quick breads such as braids, tea rings, kolaches, Italian bread, pumpkin bread and pie crusts. She has won several competitions with her breads and conducted many demonstrations on how to make bread.

Charlene currently serves as 4-H County Council president and secretary of the Lindsay Sr. 4-H Club. She has also actively participated and competed in many 4-H activities including: Clothing and Textiles, Shooting Sports, Poultry, Entomology and Method Demonstrations.

Along with her busy 4-H schedule, Charlene participates as a member of the track and field and drill teams at Lindsay High School. She also serves as secretary for the National Honor Society.

Heritage Society auction nets over $25,000

The Cooke County Heritage Society's 11th annual Fun Auction was a big success. Held on May 6 at the Knights of Columbus Hall, over 250 people attended the event. The Heritage Society's main fundraiser, the auction netted over $25,000. The funds will go toward maintaining and operating the Morton Museum of Cooke County.

Volunteer of the Year plaques were awarded to auctioneer Milton Ward, Dick Haayen and Marvin Knight. The money jar was won by Joe Flanagan and Van Ellis won the door prize. G.C. Morton's sister, Bobbie Arledge, was recognized at the auction. Mr. Morton contributed the original funds to restore the 1884 City Hall-Jail-Firestation which then opened as the Morton Museum of Cooke County in 1968.

Special thanks goes to all of the members of the auction committee; those who prepared and served the food; and to all of the volunteers who made the event such a success.

4-H'ers shine at District Fashion Show April 9

Cooke County was represented by 14 4-H'ers at the annual District IV 4-H Fashion Show held April 9

In the fall of '27, about 30 or so kids including myself, entered the 7th grade, and soon met our new teacher. She was young and small, soft-spoken and wore a big smile.

It didn't take some of us boys long to try and find just how far we could go before the new nun became exasperated and put the brakes on. Actually, she would take quite a bit of guff before becoming vexed enough to take some action. It was easy to see that she did not enjoy punishing us for any reason but, if we pushed far enough, she would have us hold our hands out, palms up and we would receive a whack or so on each, with a ruler. It was not just a flat 12" ruler, but rather a stick about 5/8" square by about 16" long and when it hit, it hurt, but then we also knew we had earned all of it.

We, the 7th grade class of '27, are now mostly well frosted senior citizens and Sr. Theresina, I am guessing, is some six years our senior.

Quite a few of our number are no long to try and find just how far we could go before the new nun became exasperated and put the brakes on. Actually, she would take quite a bit of guff before becoming vexed enough to take some action. It was easy to see that she did not enjoy punishing us for any reason but, if we pushed far enough, she would have us hold our hands out, palms up and we would receive a whack or so on each, with a ruler. It was not just a flat 12" ruler, but rather a stick about 5/8" square by about 16" long and when it hit, it hurt, but then we also knew we had earned all of it.

It is always a pleasure, when asking someone if they had Sr. Theresina for a teacher, to see the big smile of pleasant remembrance, as they recall the times.

Only those of Muenster's younger set have missed having this remarkable lady touch their lives as she has those of most of the rest of us, who were reared in and around Muenster.

Sr. Theresina came to our town, little more than a young girl, and spent almost all of her active life teaching us, our kids and some of our grandchildren, at the same time making our town her town, as one can easily understand when reading her "Letters to the Editor" in The Enterprise.

In one of several conversations I have had with Sr. Theresina as an adult, I asked her how she had put up with some of us when we were in her class.

She assured me she didn't know of any reason to "put up with us." She only remembered the good things. I believe this is her way of living - only remembering the good things. Wish I could do that.

It would be hard to select another person who has made as much of an impact on almost our entire community, as Sr. Theresina has, as she endeared herself to all who knew her in the process.

On one of these rare occasions after taking several licks, I pulled my hand away and the ruler struck Sister's leg just above the knee. She had the most surprised look on her face, didn't say a word, but sat down before her desk and began to cry.

The first thought to cross my mind was, "You can dish it out, but you can't take it." Well, how wrong can one be? Sr. Theresina soon stood and asked for the attention of the entire class. Her first words were an apology for having used that ruler on some of us, that she didn't know it hurt so badly. She assured us it would never happen again. And it didn't.

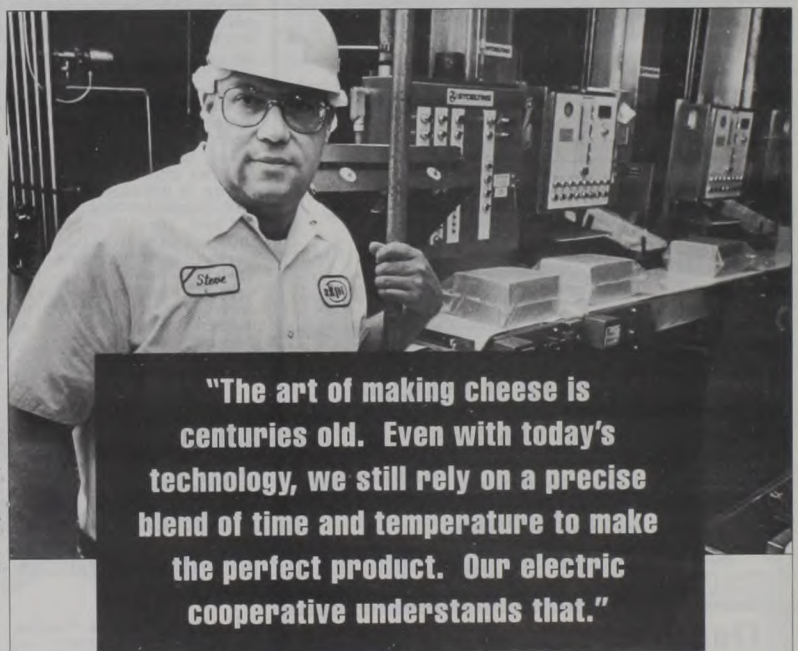

Well, Sister's stock went up and up and, as time passed, we began to realize just how much of a jewel we really had for a teacher.

When Associated Milk Producers decided to build this automated cheese plant four years ago, we knew we wanted to locate it here in the heart of Texas dairy country.

We are fortunate to have a cooperative provide our electricity. The cooperative really understands the special needs of an agricultural-based business when it comes to service, they are always eager to go the extra mile. And when you are responsible for turning 1.35 million pounds of milk into 135,000 pounds of cheese every day without fail, you need a power supplier that prides itself on reliable service.

You have heard people say: 'If you can't stand the heat, stay out of the kitchen'. With the cooperative backing me, I know that when the pressure is on, one thing I don't have to worry about is our electric service.

St. John's honors 11 First Communicants

1994 ST. JOHN'S FIRST COMMUNION CLASS

by Elaine Schad

St. John's Parish in Valley View welcomed its largest First Communion class in recent history when 11 children received their First Communion during a special liturgy April 17.

Celebrant was St. John's Pastor Harry Fisher. Children receiving their First Communion included Jorge Rico and Juan Rico, children of Paulino and Martina Rico; Juan Balentine Rico and Beatrice Rico, children of Ramiro and Reyes Rico; Laura Luna and Victor Luna, children of Epifanio and Rosalva Luna; Adam Zimmerman, son of Albert and Jackie Zimmerman; Melissa Metzler, daughter of Karl and Kathy Metzler; Katie Fogle, daughter of David and Peggy Fogle; Lucero De Leon, daughter of Felicitas and Enrique De Leon; and Juan Carlos Perez, son of Epifanio and Christina Perez. Preparing the children during the past year were teachers Linda Mendoza, Alice Ford and Margie Hilliard.

The children entered the church to the procession, "Sing Joyfully Unto the Lord". Jackie Zimmerman gave the First Reading and Linda Mendoza the Second Reading. Karl Metzler presented the petitions. Following the homily, the children renewed their Baptismal vows in a ceremony in which a parent lit their First Communion candle from the Easter candle, passing it to the child. The ceremony was symbolic of when the parents made the promises for the children at Baptism and now they are responsible for them.

The candidates brought the Offertory gifts which included a Rosary, in dedication to Mary, a First Communion book, the bread and wine. The gifts reflected this children's faith lives. During the Eucharistic celebration, the candidates received their First Communion with their parents. The ceremony was closed after the children were received into the Scapular society.

Flower Show featured at Depot Days on May 21

A particularly appealing fringe benefit available during Depot Days is the opportunity to attend and view the flower show sponsored by the Gainesville Council of Garden Clubs. Scheduled for Saturday, May 21, 2 to 5 p.m., theme of the flower show is "Forever Beautiful." The event will be located in the First United Methodist Church on Denton Street in Gainesville.

Vacation Bible School Enrollment Form

This year, our Vacation Bible School is being planned for the week of June 13-17. School will be held each weekday morning from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Children who are four years of age by Sept. 1 to those who have completed the 4th grade will be involved in various activities included in "Celebrating Our Sacraments" program.

If you are interested in having your children participate in the program, or if you are willing to help in some way, please fill out the enrollment form and return it to the box at the back of church. If registering by mail, send forms to Lisa Walterscheid, P.O. Box 254, Muenster, TX 76252.

For more information, call Ramona Felderhoff, 759-2878, or Lisa Walterscheid, 759-4630.

Deadline extended for Flag Day Essay Contest

Due to a tremendous response, Catholic Life Insurance has extended the Flag Day Essay Contest deadline to May 27, 1994. Catholic Life Insurance, the nation's 10th largest fraternal, has sponsored the essay to promote the celebration of Flag Day, June 14, 1994, and the preservation of the Pledge of Allegiance. The topic of the essay contest is "Why I Pledge Allegiance to the Flag."

This essay contest is open to students in grades nine through 12 plus individuals 55 years of age and older. Participants will compete with individuals from throughout Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma for cash prizes of $250 for first place, $100 for second place and $50 for third place. In addition, the first 500 participants will receive a free Flag Day commemorative t-shirt.

All essays must be 250-500 words in length and must be typed or written double-spaced on an 8 1/2 x 11 piece of paper. Entries must be submitted to Catholic Life Insurance by May 27, 1994. To obtain an entry form or for additional information, please call the Catholic Life Insurance Communications Department at 1-800-262-CLIU. Contest winners will be announced on Flag Day, June 14, 1994.

Lindsay relay team gets the gold at state

Five Lindsay runners took part in the UIL State Track and Field Meet last Sunday in Austin with the girls' 400m relay bringing home the gold. Angela Luttmer, Christy Zimmerer, Mary Tepera and Rachelle Sharp won the relay with a time of 50.2. "We got the luck of the draw and got lane 6," commented Coach Charles Meurer. "Anytime you can win a relay, you do well." The Knightettes went to meet with the 3rd fastest time and improved their time of 51.8 for the gold. Last year's state champion Lindsay relay team included Sharp and Tepera and had a time of 49.9. Bremond High School came in 2nd place with a time of 50.5, followed by Spur at 50.7.

"We should have medaled, but we had to run all four curves." The Knights' distance runner, George Lutkenhaus, made his first trip to Austin. "George ran his best but was very nervous," continued the coach. "This was the best field of 1600m runners I've ever seen at state." Lutkenhaus settled for a 4th place in the 800m, finishing at 1:58.6 and 5th in the 1600m with a time of 4:33.6. The gold medal times in these races were 1:56.4 and 4:27.5. "Our runners had their best times of the year," concluded Meurer who said the hot, humid conditions made the running slow until the rain cooled things off. The Era Hornets' 1600m relay team of Jody Wilson, Casey Harrington, Jeff Wilson and Matt Lyons placed 7th with a time of 3:37.5.

Harvestore owners could share millions in lawsuit

A federal judge in Cincinnati has ordered that any person in the continental United States who has ever purchased a Harvestore silo will be entitled to share in possible damages that may run into the millions of dollars from a class action filed in U.S. District Court there.

All past and present Harvestore owners are automatically included in the suit, which is styled Stanley Ihardt et al vs. A.O. Smith Corporation and A.O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., Case No. C-1-92-635.

The plaintiffs claim to have proof that Harvestore silos caused stored feed to become exposed to significant quantities of oxygen, resulting in feed which is nutritionally deficient and often-times toxic to the livestock. Plaintiffs also assert that Harvestore knew from its own research that the big blue structures were defective.

Every past and present owner of a Harvestore feed storage structure has been encouraged by the judge to come forward and be identified. To do so, send a postcard or letter containing your name and address to Harvestore Litigation, Box 1075, Cincinnati, OH 45201-1075.

Attorneys for both sides were expected to be back in court May 9 for a scheduling conference. Shortly thereafter, notices of the class action suit will be sent to as many Harvestore owners as possible.

Landowners turn the tables...

Environmental groups, government lose two major land-use lawsuits

A federal judge in Washington, D.C. has ordered the government to drop a California songbird from the endangered species list, finding that federal regulators violated environmental laws in putting it there, says The Wall Street Journal.

Judge Stanley Sporkin ruled that the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service violated provisions of the Endangered Species Act by not providing the public enough access to data used to determine that the bird, the California gnatcatcher, was imperiled.

The ruling marks the second time ever that a species has been ordered off the list because courts found that the government didn't follow procedures laid out in environmental laws. In January, a federal judge in Idaho stripped a tiny snail of federal protection, ruling similarly that the Fish and Wildlife Service hadn't followed proper procedures.

In addition to the rulings on the snail and gnatcatcher, a federal judge in Fresno, California late last month blocked implementation of legislation aimed at shifting a large amount of water from irrigators to restoring fish habitat and wetlands. Judge Oliver W. Wanger ruled that the government couldn't impose new environmental restrictions on farmers' practices because it hadn't complied with the National Environmental Policy Act, which dates from the 1970s.

These decisions are part of a growing trend in which landowners and industry are suing to block increased environmental safeguards, alleging that the safeguards themselves violate environmental laws. Hundreds of such cases have been filed in the past few years, but most have failed.

The upshot of these recent victories for landowners, however, is that federal agencies like Fish and Wildlife are stumped and environmental litigation proponents are bemoaning the rulings as "a terrible blow to environmental protection."

On the other hand, an attorney on the winning side said the songbird ruling "has made it more difficult for people to use the Endangered Species Act in an illegitimate way to block legitimate development. We have removed their linchpin."

Producer age most important factor... Cattle herd expansion expected to peak at lower level, then decline rapidly

The current buildup in U.S. cattle inventories is expected to peak at a lower-than-normal rate and ultimately could decline at a much faster pace than it went up, says Knight-Ridder Financial News.

Analysts expect the herd to peak at 103 to 108 million in 1995 to 1997, with most forecasts centered on 1996 or 1997. The last peak occurred in 1982 at about 115.6 million head. Jan. 1, 1994 estimates placed the nation's cattle herd at 101.7 million.

Although producers generally have been making money since the drought of 1988, they have been adding to their herds at a slower pace than previous periods of rising inventories, said Dan Vaught, livestock analyst with A.G. Edwards.

Tom Morgan of Morgan Research Group Ltd. said the beef cow herd would be up at least 3 percent in 1995 from 1994. He said the ratio of heifers to cows in the beef herd was high, consistent with a more rapid rise in the total herd.

But Don Close of Pioneer Hi-Bred International said the single most important factor preventing a rise to previous levels was demographics. The average age of producers responsible for increasing the herd size is more than 50 years old, he said.

With a large percentage of cattle producers in that bracket, the ultimate herd size will be determined by how they feel about expanding.

Other factors that may affect herd expansion, analysts say, are:

- * The ongoing debate about what to do with the public land in the Western United States, where many beef cattle herds are grazed.

- * Fears of problems with environmentalists and the Environmental Protection Agency.

- * Survivors of the unprofitable 1980s remember what rapid expansion did to the market.

- * Possible poor beef demand in coming years when red meat production could peak.

- * A boost in cattle production in 1995 when Conservation Reserve Program leases expire and become available for cattle grazing.

- * The same factors preventing a rise to previous inventory peaks are expected to exert pressure on declining herd numbers. With the added pressure of investment losses, the decline could accelerate faster than it went up.

Texas peaches promise fresh, juicy taste!

Fresh, blushing, juicy peaches will soon be available at area produce stands. Because they are Texas grown, consumers can be sure of mouth-watering peaches just hours off the tree.

Texas has five major growing areas, or chilling regions as peach experts and producers call them, based on soil types, growing conditions and temperatures.

In the Rio Grande Valley, where about 550 acres of peaches are grown, researchers have developed early, low-chill varieties that need between 200 to 300 chill hours. Growers there started shipping peaches about the first part of April, and though harvest has slowed, some varieties such as FloridaGrande are still being picked.

After the Valley harvest, pickers move to orchards scattered throughout South Texas. In mid-May, Hill Country clingstones are ready in Fredericksburg and Stonewall in Gillespie County, and by June the season begins in Freestone and Limestone counties in Central Texas, Parker and Clay to the North, and Smith and Titus in the Northeast. Early varieties are clingstones, followed by semi-clings and then freestones.

In all, Texas claims an estimated 15,000 acres of peach orchards. In 1993, Texas growers harvested 22.6 million pounds of fruit or 470,833 bushels, an increase of about 2 million pounds from 1992.

Peaches must ripen on the tree for optimum flavor and size. The longer a peach remains on the tree, the larger it will become and the higher the sugar content will be. Consumers should look for peaches about 2-1/4 to 2-1/2 inches in diameter, fairly firm or becoming slightly soft. The skin color between the red areas should be yellow or at least creamy.

Planting vegetables or flower beds...

Be sure they're TEXAS GROWN

When getting ready to plant a vegetable garden or design a flower bed, be sure to shop for TEXAS GROWN bedding plants. In 1993, Texas ranked second in the production of vegetable bedding plants and third in flowering, and foliage types, assuring consumers a wide variety of choices at their local nurseries.

TEXAS GROWN is a Texas Department of Agriculture horticultural marketing campaign promoting sales of Texas greenhouse and nursery products.

In 1992, nursery and horticulture was a $628 million business that ranked fourth among the state's agricultural industries and generated more than $2.8 billion in state revenues.

Bedding plants make up a thriving sector of the Texas nursery industry. Last year producers raised more than 1.1 million flats of vegetable bedding plants, nearly double the 1992 crop.

The state's production area increased by a third and wholesale value nearly doubled, rising from $4.9 million to more than $8 million. Production is expected to increase an additional three percent this year. Only California surpassed Texas with 2.9 million flats valued at $22.8 million.

Flowering and foliage bedding plant production also increased last year. Texas producers grew almost 7 million flats of petunias, begonias, impatiens, periwinkles and other varieties, up from 5.5 million in 1992. Wholesale value during the same period rose $10.9 million from $45.6 to $56.5 million. Production is expected to increase 11 percent this year.

Texas also ranked sixth in value and seventh in the production of bedding geraniums in 1993.

Cowboy Gather and Pasture Roping May 22

Western music and ranching competition will dominate the scene on Sunday, May 22, as the West Fork Ranch in Fort Worth presents the 5th annual Don Edwards' Cowboy Gather and Pasture Roping. Cowboy troubadour and Warner Western Records recording artist Don Edwards will host the day-long event which gets underway at 1 p.m.

The three-man pasture roping competition kicks off the day's activities which include chuckwagon cooking, cowboying demonstrations, an exhibit area of tack and trappings and, of course, ends with an old-fashioned hoedown at sundown. As an added bonus, the event will play host to the 1st International Cattle Dog Trials, featuring the U.S. team against that of Australia.

Tickets for the Don Edwards' Cowboy Gather and Pasture Roping are just $5 and can be purchased at the gate of the West Fork Ranch, which is located between I-20 and old U.S. 80 on Ranch-to-Market Road 2871, just one mile off Loop 820.

County Agent's Report by Craig Rosenbaum

Fire Ants and Animal Health

Each year we hear many reports of fire ant related injuries to livestock and pets. Until recently it was hard to put an economic value on these livestock and pet injuries and losses. In 1993 a survey of Texas veterinarians was conducted by Extension Entomology Group personnel, Dr. Bastiaan M. Drees, and Charles L. Barr. The following is information obtained from this survey.

Fire ants are blamed for the death and injury of animals of all types. Despite tremendous public concern, there has been little effort made to determine how much economic loss fire ants are actually causing Texas animal owners. In an effort to document these losses, a survey was developed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the Texas Veterinary Medical Association, Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory and the Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine.

The surveys were mailed to the over 2,500 veterinarians in the state of Texas.

Nearly 70 percent of the responding veterinarians cited fire ants as a significant threat to animal health. Over 80 percent cited fire ants as a threat to livestock health and economic loss. A total of 7,204 cases of fire ant related injury to animals were reported with 51.6 percent to pets. Reported treatment costs totalled over $726,904 per year averaging about $54 per case. Respondents blamed fire ants for the deaths of 2,649 animals. The estimated value of these animals was placed at nearly $3.5 million. Cattle accounted for 52.4 percent of these deaths, though accounting for only 18.9 percent of the economic loss.

Ratites (ostriches, emus, and rheas) accounted for only 8.0 percent of the reported deaths and 4.0 percent of the reported injuries, but made up 61.6 percent of the total reported economic loss, or $2.2 million to this small, rapidly growing industry alone. The average loss on one of these birds was over $10,000.

Fire ant injuries are very seasonal. Over 76 percent were reported in the warmer months (April-September) while less than 24 percent occurred in the cooler season (October-March).

Results were extrapolated to estimate the economic losses statewide and on a per acre of grazed land basis. Extrapolation of fire ant related economic losses reported by survey respondents documented a total cost of $2,166,800 for cattle treated and lost. On a per acre basis, however, this impact is $0.07, far less than the cost of fire ant control.
