VOLUME IX

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1944

That guy Hitler has a new way of keeping his name before the public. For a decade he held the limelight with his phenomenal political and military success. Finally, after he had begun skidding hell bent for disaster from his pinnacle of power, he again captures world interest. Only this time it is his absence that makes him so conspicuous.

Everybody wants to know where Adolph is. And imaginations are working overtime trying to supply an answer. Perhaps he was actually a victim of that attempt on his life. Perhaps he's in a padded cell. Perhaps he's just quaking in some bomb proof hideaway. On the other hand there may be some fact in the rumor that he has skidded. Certainly he's had plenty of opportunity to sneak out in a plane or sub if he could find a nation that would have him.

Now comes the report that he's on a trip to Tokyo for a confab with Hirohito. Obviously a story intended for home consumption in the Reich, because, naturally, Germans would be somewhat disillusioned at the thought of their wonder man suddenly taking a powder. To say that he's still in there plugging for them makes much better propaganda. Almost too good, in fact, for even the Germans to swallow. Thinking people among them probably feel the same as we do about the yarn — if he's in Tokyo he's there on a one way ticket.

Whatever the explanation about Dr. Fuehrer's whereabouts, there can be little doubt that the country has a new boss. Which isn't good, for the Henries or the Allies. Himmler has too much blood on his hands. The only way he can prolong his life is to prolong the struggle. And he has no scruples about wasting thousands of men to save his skin a few more days.

Comments from over there infer that a negotiated peace could have been reached with the Germans long ago. They claim we are prolonging the war with our unconditional surrender demands. As if that made a difference. Anyone can see that once a country is licked its wisest course is to quit, even unconditionally, before it is completely annihilated. If it still fights on the reason is obvious. The leaders are trying to delay the inevitable day of justice. Hitler, Himmler and company are too conscious of their atrocities.

Still, there's always the hope that some circumstance will knock the whip out of the maniac's hand and give intelligent people a chance to raise the white flag soon. We have to think of ways to save many lives to finish an issue that has already been decided.

Representative Lea (D. Calif.) describes the general college system of choosing presidents as "grotesque and impracticable" because "it doesn't properly register the will of the people." Even if the man's party identification had not been included in the news item a person could have guessed that he is a democrat.

Coming on the heels of the recent election his proposal smacks slightly of fear and poor sportsmanship. For a while as we recall, there was an uncomfortable saw-saw of majorities in several key states. As it turned out the electoral majority was more impressive for the winner than the popular majority. However, a few hundred thousand votes cast the other way in the critical states would have changed the outcome in spite of the ten sided majority polled in the Solid South.

From a Southerner's viewpoint the proposal is fine. It gives his section an advantage. The only question is should any section have an advantage? Rather, should any section because of its blind allegiance give any one party an advantage? The men who framed the constitution were trying to avoid that very problem when they set up the present system.

As long as we're going to call this country the United States we should continue to recognize the existence of individual states. One way to do that is to have each state vote as a unit for the man its own majority prefers. Adoption of the popular vote is another step toward centralized government, which has already progressed too far.

A very welcome improvement would be to vote directly for the candidate instead of for a party's electors. Those who cast the ballot think of the man, so why go through the red tape of "voting for people who will vote for the man you want."

With that one exception our system is just as it should be — states voting as units and their voting strength proportional to their population.

The same principle applies to the proposal for another attempt at national prohibition, which according to the Gallup poll, is gaining strength.

The Sodality discussed plans for the observance of the feast day of its patron on December 8 at which time the annual Communion breakfast will be held and formal installation of officers will take place.

Father John, spiritual director of the group, gave a short address based on cooperation and sodality activity, and Pastor Father Thomas attended the meeting.

Children Under 14 Who Drive Cars Violating Law

Parents Are Called Responsible For Any Mishaps That Occur

Many instances of boys and girls under 14 years of age driving automobiles without licenses, and figuring in traffic mishaps, have been called to the attention of State Highway Patrolman A. H. Fleming, and Mr. Fleming has issued an appeal to parents to cooperate with officers in preventing these boys and girls from driving cars for public safety.

He pointed out that the parents of the boys and girls who drive without a license are directly responsible for any mishaps which might occur while they are driving.

Anyone under 16 years of age and over 14, may obtain what is known as an "instruction permit" Mr. Fleming said. A special application must be made to the county judge, and after his approval, may be presented to the highway patrolman, who gives the same test that is given to adults except for the driving test.

This "instruction permit" allows boys and girls to drive as long as there is a licensed driver in the front seat of the vehicle.

The Texas law states that anyone who operates a motor vehicle must have a driver's license. By motor vehicle is meant any automobile, motorcycle, or other kind of vehicle (except those on rail) which run by an engine or motor in the vehicle itself. This includes motorized bicycles and scooters.

HATCHERY ADDITION NEARS COMPLETION

The addition to the Muenster Hatchery is nearing completion. It is a 14 by 54 foot annex on the south side of the building and will serve as a brooder room and display room, and will permit the installation of a new incubator to be used for custom hatching and for special hatching of turkey eggs. Manager L.A. Hiatt said. Meanwhile everything is being checked and minor improvements made throughout preparatory to the forthcoming season.

Hears From Relatives

Sister Anastasia, local Mother superior, heard last week from relatives in France, her first word from them since Hitler came into power in Europe. The letter was from a cousin who reported that Sister Anastasia's parents, brothers and sisters, were all alive and that though they had undergone severe hardships they were well. They reside in France. The writer was lavish in his praise for the American soldier and stated that conditions were improving rapidly since their invasion of that country. Mail channels are now open and Sister will be permitted to correspond direct with her parents.

Genial Don Ameche (above) will be master of ceremonies for the Elgin two-hour Thanksgiving Day variety show (Nov. 23, 3 to 5 p.m. CWT, over CBS), saluting service men abroad and their families at home. This is the third year that Elgin has presented the Thanksgiving Day salute. On Christmas Day, a similar show will be presented with a galaxy of talent.

Sixth War Loan Drive Underway

Mayor Weinzapfel Is Local Chairman; Quota Approximately $75,000

First day bond sales in Muenster on Monday, the opening day of the Sixth War Loan drive, chalked up a neat little figure toward the local goal of approximately $75,000, and according to Mayor J.M. Weinzapfel, local chairman, is a good beginning.

In Gainesville a gigantic patriotic rally on the courthouse square was held Monday evening to officially open the campaign. The county quota in the drive is $1,150,000. Since the E bond quota for the county is $550,000 all efforts of workers will be concentrated on sales of bonds to individuals during the first part of the campaign.

Muenster's quota in the Fifth War Loan drive was $85,000 and the county's was $1,290,000. Both were oversubscribed. No special soliciting committees were functioning in Muenster this week, and it is hoped that no such committees will become a necessity. If everyone does his share and purchases bonds early there will be no need for a committee, the chairman stated. He added, "This is a drive, however, in which there can be no let-up."

For this drive the government is asking Americans to dig into their pockets for 14 billion dollars to keep the attack rolling. President Roosevelt reminded the nation in his radio address that "the war is not over — no, not by many costly battles." He cited figures showing that 14 billions will scarcely pay the cost of the global war for two months.

"That is why every bond you buy is so important," the president emphasized. "While we have every reason to be proud of what has been done — even optimistic about the ultimate outcome — we have no reason to be complacent about the tough road that lies ahead."

AUGUST FELDERHOFF ACCIDENTALLY SHOT IN LEG SATURDAY

August Felderhoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Felderhoff is confined to his home but is reported making a rapid recovery from an accidental gun shot wound received in his left leg Saturday.

August and his brother, Norbert were on horseback, chasing cattle at the time. Both carried their guns. Somehow, August's 22 slipped from the side of the saddle and although it was on "safety" it went off when it was kicked by the horse.

The bullet entered the leg just below the knee and plowed through the flesh for some distance above the knee, then came out. Luckily it was only a flesh wound. After treatment at the local clinic August was permitted to return home.

Serum For Typhoid And Diphtheria To Be Given At Clinic Wednesday

Diphtheria immunization, the Chik test and typhoid serum will be given at the Muenster clinic next Wednesday, the 23rd. Dr. T. S. Myrick announced this week, urging all citizens to take advantage of this special opportunity. The service is made possible at a slight fraction of the usual cost of the serum through cooperation with the County Health Unit.

It was mentioned that persons who took the typhoid serum during the past June need not take a shot at this time, one a year being sufficient to maintain immunization. The clinic day Wednesday is especially for those who have not been vaccinated and for children who were too young last time the serum was given.

P-T A TO SPONSOR MINSTREL SHOW AND PIE SUPPER DEC. 8

PLANE TALK

BY Rowland Burnston

Men have been thinking about flying for many centuries. What is surprising is the fact that it took as long as it did for the simpler phases of flying (gliding) to be discovered. Powered flying, however, had to wait for the development of the internal combustion engine.

American ingenuity is nowhere better revealed than in the field of aircraft engines. Probably the greatest stride in early design was made by Charles L. Lawrance. Starting with a 3-cylinder aircooled radial engine, he perfected in 1923 a 9-cylinder model of 180 horsepower, which later became the famous "Whirlwind." Later improved models of this engine were used in the planes which carried Lindbergh, Byrd, Chamberlin and many others on their history-making flights.

Most of the developments and characteristics of his designs, because of their outstanding performance, are retained in present radial engines which produce upwards of 3000 horsepower.

Charles Lawrance is still actively associated with aviation and now has in design an inexpensive light-weight engine of 200 horsepower to be used in lightplanes for private flying.

Leo Rohmer was sold sometime ago to Hubert Felderhoff.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Fletcher were their daughter Miss Dorothy of Gainesville, Mrs. Fletcher's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. E.M. Shifflet of Pilot Point, her nephew, W.W. Shifflet and family of Fort Worth, and her niece, Mrs. Johnnie West and family of Muenster, Route 3.

Mrs. Oscar Detten and three children of Amarillo spent several days of last week here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lutkenhaus and family and enjoyed visiting with her brother, Sgt. Bobby Lutkenhaus home on furlough from the Panama Canal Zone. They returned to Amarillo Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Luke left Saturday to visit their daughter, Miss Alma Marie, at St. Scholastica College, Atchison, Kansas, and will be accompanied home by Miss Luke and Miss Gladys Wilde, students there, for the Thanksgiving holidays. Mr. Luke is on vacation this week from duties with the Texas company.

Sister M. Lucy, former 8th grade teacher here and now on the teaching staff at Rhineland, Texas, was the guest of the local Sisters Wednesday evening. She accompanied them home from Dallas where they had attended a teachers' institute and went from here to Rhineland Thursday morning.

Mildred Fette, former Enterprise employee, is now in Los Angeles, Calif., employed with the Treasury Department, it was learned last week. At the present time her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Mitchell of Gainesville, is visiting her while she is in California to be with her husband, Sgt. Mitchell, stationed at Camp Callan.

Fisher, Monday and is resting well. Both limbs are in casts and it will be several weeks before he will be able to get around, even with the help of crutches.

MUESTER PUBLIC SCHOOL

Editor — Joan Roberg

The volley ball team practiced in Saint Jo's gymnasium Wednesday afternoon and learned many things by playing with the Saint Jo girls on the gym floor. Our court has no ceiling as you know.

We hear rumors about the minstrel show for which the P-T-A is practicing. We are looking forward to see our parents and teachers in black-face.

At the request of Red Cross chairman First Aid classes are being arranged at the Public and Parochial schools. Miss Luke who has a high recommendation as instructor, will conduct the classes. We are very proud of the cards which we received lately to prove that we passed the rigid test in our last years' courses. Thank you, Miss Luke.

Miss Luke's and Mrs. Thompson's rooms are getting social lately.

Donnell and Leon Brent had a birthday party Friday at which they invited the fourth and fifth grades. Donnell was eleven and Leon nine. Refreshments of cookies and soda pop were served. There were also many gifts and best wishes in honor of the two Brent boys.

Anna Lee Mitchell had a birthday Sunday and when she came to school Monday she was presented with a beautiful cake and received many best wishes by her fellow students.

We are glad to have Mrs. Thompson up and around the room after being confined to her chair and desk for almost a week due to stepping on a nail at her home last week.

At their last meeting the girls voted upon a name for their study club. It is "Junior Miss". They all say it fits the club business. In their next meeting they plan to answer roll call with an interesting hint on the care and arrangement of hair. They also intend to learn the song "Junior Miss" as the theme song.

ST. ANNE'S SOCIETY HAS SOCIAL-BUSINESS MEET

The local Saint Anne's Society enjoyed a business and social meeting last Thursday at the parish hall. Serving as hostesses for the party were Mrs. Bill Becker, Mrs. J.W. Hess and Mrs. John Klement.

Progressive 42 series were concluded with the presentation of the high score award to Mrs. C.J. Wimmer, the consolation favor to Mrs. George Mollenkopf and the galleping prize to Mrs. Al Schad, after which refreshments were served.

Discussion during the business session centered on the forthcoming Thanksgiving bazaar and dance, for which plans were completed and the following committee, in charge of arrangements, was named: Mesdames Clair Herr, Peter Bindel, Werner Becker, Paul Endres, R.R. Endres, W.H. Endres, Albert Henschied, E.P. Buckley, John Felderhoff.

Thanksgiving

Most thankful indeed will be the mothers and fathers of the sons who will be able to join them in the intimacy of the family circle on Thanksgiving day this year. But there will be many homes in which service flags hang, where vacant chairs will be mute evidence of the fact that sacrifices must continue — sacrifices that are making it possible for us to give thanks now that our cities have not been bombed, that our people have suffered no starvation, that our children are safe. Yes, there is much for which we can give thanks, this year, and especially to those who have given their lives that we may continue free.

IT'S ENTERPRISE BIRTHDAY, BUT PARTY AWAITS WAR'S END

It was 8 years ago today—

Over on Main street in a small frame building an infant made itself known to the community, with black headlines to announce the arrival. The first Muenster Enterprise rolled off the press.

But Owner and Publisher Lt. R. N. Fette and the Enterprise aren't celebrating today. Birthday parties will have to wait until after the war. Lt. Fette is stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and is rounding out his third year in Uncle Sam's service.

Much water has run under the bridge since Thanksgiving 1937. The Enterprise moved into its present location in 1939 and has a large family of readers. Included in that family of readers are this community's native sons stationed on every battle front of the global war and sailors who receive it aboard ship on the high seas. Each state of the Union is also represented on its mailing list.

So since another year has rolled around we identify this issue as Volume IX, Number 1. Mingled feelings of pride, gratification and thankfulness fill our hearts. Pride, because we've been able to carry on handicapped in numerous ways when many small town weeklies were forced to discontinue publication for the duration. Gratification, the feeling that comes from work well done. And gratitude, because no matter how good our own intentions to carry on have been, we couldn't have, except for the encouragement and support we've received from our readers and Very appropriately the anniversary falls on Thanksgiving Day. We take this opportunity to express again our thanks to all those who have made it possible for us to continue our efforts. To our readers for their interest and loyalty — to our advertisers for their continued confidence and faithfulness in using this newspaper as an advertising medium — and to all for encouragement and cooperation. We look forward to many more years of worthwhile service.

Mail All Gifts In November To Be Sure Of Xmas Delivery

Public response to the Post Office Department's "Shop Now! Mail In November" campaign is good but needs to be better, according to Postmaster General Frank C. Walker.

"Extraordinary wartime conditions face us," Mr. Walker said. "Unless more people buy and mail this month the Postal service cannot do its job of delivering all Christmas gifts on time.

"It is not pleasing to us to ask the American people to mail packages so far in advance of the delivery date. We do so only because it has to be done. The job is a tremendous one, but we are confident that it will be done because we know from experience that given sound reasons Americans cooperate magnificently.

"Unprecedented shortages of man power and transportation facilities growing out of the war compel early mailing. The Postal able to work long hours of overtime and to do heavy work. This cannot be expected from the women and high school boys and girls to whom in large part we must look this year to meet the situation.

"The way in which everyone responded in making it possible for us to handle a volume of 70,000,000 parcels for the armed forces overseas leaves no doubt in my mind that the November Christmas mailing will be equally successful. I ask for the help of the press, radio, business advertisers, civic groups and all Americans in making it possible for the Postal Service to do its work.

"We urge everyone to buy now, mail in November and mark gifts 'Do Not Open Until Christmas.'"

Most successful men think they did it themselves. Their wives just smile and let it go at that.

One of the many war assignments of The General Tire & Rubber Company was the production of jet propelled rockets, to aid in the take-off of military planes. Developed and perfected by a group of California scientists, the JATO's are in use on many navy planes throughout the world. Each rocket adds 350 horsepower during the take-off period. Wages War on Tropical Fungi

CHICAGO, ILL.—Tropicalization, a scientific research project to protect war communication equipment from deterioration in tropical climates, has been advanced at a rapid rate by the U. S. Signal Corps. Photo shows Wilfred F. Horner, biology department director in the Belmont Radio Laboratories, studying methods of preventing fungus growth in electronic devices manufactured for South Pacific warfare. The growth of hundreds of different types of fungi and bacteria collected from all over the world are studied here in connection with various materials used in electronic equipment. Tropicalization is only one of several research developments under way at the Belmont laboratories. Because they concern military uses of radar and radio, wartime secrecy surrounds them but the findings will result in greatly improved radio reception in postwar homes.

Red Cross Movie

Last week the Muenster Public School and the Sacred Heart School gathered in S. H. auditorium to witness a Red Cross movie presented by Mr. Kiel. The movie consisted of pictures showing the work our Red Cross men and women are doing overseas for the American doughboy.

Before the program Miss McClure gave a short talk on how the American Junior Red Cross members were helping in the Red Cross drive.

Sacred Heart Grade and High School has 100 per cent membership in the Red Cross. Both schools have also completed hundreds of Christmas cards for the Red Cross to distribute to the soldiers at Camp Howze Station Hospital.

Peepin' Through

Very interesting sights were observed last week at school, especially among the girls. They were going around asking the boys for dates. No the customs weren't changed it was just a backward party. And from the bright beams that shined on the faces of the boys, this time the girls must have showed them a jolly good time. Alfonso Koessler was seen dashing in and out of school, as if he were avoiding some one. We wonder who?

Every one around here seems to be admiring Coralee Fuhrmann's bookreports. And they are very deserving of mention. However, we will add that some Juniors and Seniors are also making excellent.

Henry said it was an injured knee and not old age that made his limp around last week.

For certain classroom reasons Florence had better get some sleep at night.

Smokey has a job now and it really fits his "nick name". The result is "smoke".

Sr. Geraldine and Sr. Jerome were heard last Friday serenading some of the pupils.

The inclement weather kept us from several days of good volleyball practice.

Business seems to be picking up around here. It must be because next week is six weeks again.

The Junior-Senior class has just completed "Macbeth". Now the class is reading Bacon's essay "On Studies". It is regrettable that we did not read this the first year of our high school career, perhaps we would know how to study.

Claud Forster Is New Owner Of Home Furniture

Announcement has been made of the purchase of the Home Furniture company in Gainesville by Claud Forster of Wichita Falls who bought the business from Mrs. Mary K. Moore.

Mrs. Moore, who operated the store for the past 12 years plans to retire from business life for the present.

The store will continue under the name of Home Furniture Co. and Mr. Forster said that the policy will remain unchanged.

Former Local Man Is Keeping Busy At Pearl Harbor

Friends of Joe Sharp, formerly of Muenster will be interested in the following article, clipped from a Pearl Harbor newspaper and sent to The Enterprise by his wife who resides in Casey, Ill.

Pearl Harbor, T.H.—When Joseph M. Sharp, World War I vet of Casey, Ill., signed up for a pipefitter's job here a year and a half ago, he had no idea he'd turn out to be one of the busiest men in the Navy Yard.

But that's exactly what he is — for besides his regular work he holds several other positions of responsibility. Foremost are the presidency of the State of Illinois Club, the largest such organization in this major housing area of 10,000 war workers, and acting commander of the Pearl Harbor American Legion post which with nearly 700 members, is the biggest in the Territory of Hawaii and ranks well up in the top brackets nationally.

Between winks in a 26-hour daily grind Joe, as he's popularly known, serves in other capacities too. Never hurried and always deliberate, nevertheless the tireless Illinois cil man has a talent for getting things done in the teeming little civilian city. Hence to him have been shunted various

THE WAR ISN'T "OVER" for him.

On crater-filled beaches and battlefields, in grimly fought house-to-house offensives, in foxholes and in bombers over skies riddled with enemy shell-fire, our fighting men are giving everything in the desperate battle for an early peace. There is no talk "over there" of the war being "almost over."

So dig deep, America... and often! Remember, the war isn't over until the last shot has been fired in Berlin and Tokyo. Invest every extra dollar in more and more War Bonds... help put the 6th War Loan over the top... and help bring the boys back home sooner!

ARMELLA FLUSCHE,
GUS LUTKENHAUS
MARRIED TUESDAY

The wedding of Miss Armella Flusche and Gus Lutkenhaus was solemnized here Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock in Sacred Heart church. Rev. Thomas Buegler, pastor, officiated at the nuptial high mass and read the impressive double ring service in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the young couple. Sacramental benediction followed the mass.

Sister M. Leonarda presided at the pipe organ for the traditional wedding music and furnished the accompaniment for the church choir in singing the mass.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white taffeta. It was fashioned with a long, fitted bodice, the yoke of which was outlined with a lace frill, and the sleeves were long, terminating in points at the wrist. The skirt was gored for graceful fullness. The full length bridal veil fell from a taffeta tiara embroidered in tiny seed pearls, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations. Her jewelry consisted of a gold cross and chain, gift of the bridegroom, and blue and pearl earrings. For "something borrowed" she carried a pearl rosary which belonged to her maid of honor.

Miss Lorene Lutkenhaus, sister of the groom, was the bride's only attendant. She was attired in a frock of powder blue taffeta, made with sheared basque bodice, bouffant skirt and short puffed sleeves. She wore an upswep hair dress, topped with a cluster of white blossoms and her shoulder corsage was of white carnations.

Rufus Henschel, nephew of the bride, was bestman.

After the church services breakfast was served in the home of the bride's parents to members of the wedding party and at noon relatives of the couple were guests for dinner. The bride's table carried out a color scheme of white and blue and was centered with a three-tier cake, flanked with arrangements of white mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Lutkenhaus left during the afternoon on a short wedding trip and when they return they will make their home on a farm southeast of the city. For traveling Mrs. Lutkenhaus wore a gold colored ensemble with brown accessories.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Flusche and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lutkenhaus. Both are natives of this city and attended the local

BY

Soaring in a sailplane is sustained flight without an engine. It is a fascinating sport which is rapidly becoming popular before the war. Any thought that hilly country is necessary for soaring, may be dispelled as the American distance record of over 250 miles was made in the air over the plains of Texas and Kansas.

Soaring is possible because winds blow up from the earth's surface as well as across it. It is these vertical wind currents which propel a sailplane. Warm air which develops on the earth's surface as a result of light reflection continually seeks a higher level and the currents which result are known as thermals. These air currents or thermals join others in forming large masses of warm air that rise like bubbles to a higher altitude. As these masses rise they cool off and if moisture is present clouds develop. One learns to recognize these clouds as a signal to soar beneath them.

Soaring, then, is not a question of locality, as many people believe, but the sport of seeking thermals.

school, Mrs. Lutkenhaus was active in work of the Young Ladies Sodality. He is an exserviceman, having been in the army for two years and two months before receiving an honorable discharge last April. He was on duty in San Francisco with an M.P. detachment.

Among out of town guests at the wedding were Messrs. and Mmes. L.W. Al and Conrad Flusche and their families of Decatur; Messrs. and Mmes. Andrew and Urban Flusche and families, Pilot Point; Messrs. and Mmes. Joe Neu, Raymond Zimmerman and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Zimmerman and Henry Sandmann of Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hoff and daughters, Magdalene and Vera, of Windthorst.

Mr. and Mrs. L.P. Horton of Hillsboro, are the parents of a daughter, friends here have learned. Mrs. Horton is the former Miss Mary Barker and former teacher in the local public school. This is their second child. The father is a member of the Coast Guard at present on duty at Port Arthur. Mrs. Horton's mother, Mrs. Henry Barker of Bonham, has been staying with her daughter for the past several weeks.

Miss Armella Flusche, who was married to Gus Lutkenhaus Tuesday morning, was honored with a pre-nuptial party and shower last Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Lorene Lutkenhaus entertained in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lutkenhaus.

Kitchen and linen gifts were presented to the honoree and games were enjoyed with prizes going to Mmes. J.P. Flusche and Joe Sturm, and Misses Georgia Ann Kachman and Rose Sicking, who gave them to the honor guest.

At the conclusion of the afternoon refreshments were served to 40 guests.

Relatives and friends gathered at the Bill Becker home Monday evening to help Mrs. Becker celebrate her 54th birthday. Personnel included the following and their families: Messrs. and Mmes. Werner Becker, Herbert Hundt, Albert and Gus Knabe, Joe Swingler, John Klement, John Eberhart, J.B. Wilde, Al Eberhart and Henry Wiesman, Mrs. Charles Meurer of Windthorst and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knabe and daughters of Hereford.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to offer our sincerest thanks to our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness and words of condolence during our recent bereavement. Special thanks are extended to Mrs. M.J. Marriage is not a word, it's a sentence.

Many a husband is a silent partner in this marriage business.

Statistics reveal that married people live longer than single persons. Maybe it just seems longer.

The best after-dinner speaker is an artist at saying nothing, briefly.

The world contains two classes of peoples: Those with more diners than appetites; and those with greater appetites than diners.

Daylight saving to some people simply means another hour they can waste.

More men regret having spoken than having been silent.

A man can make a house but it takes a woman to make a home.

One sure way to get your wife's attention is to mumble in your sleep.

The injuries we do and those we suffer are weighed in different scales.

SCHOOL TATTLER

Junior Class Reporting
Of all the busy weeks this past one surely was so. Monday, most of us went to see "Going My Way" and the picture proved to be a treat as well as an inspiration. We still hear students going around humming the tunes of Bing Crosby.

Tuesday, the SCA Club sponsored a hot-dog sale. The high-school students were generous with their donations and more so with their whole hearted cooperation and worked with a smile; and, those who enjoyed the lunches were more than pleased as they told us. The results were gratifying. It takes school spirit to make things go over and school spirit is never lacking at Lindsay School. But something else happened on Tuesday. Mr. Pennmann, the ring man arrived. Yes, the seniors and juniors have ordered their rings. Now all are anxiously "tripping on their fantastic toes" till the rings come.

Wednesday, the Faculty of Lindsay attended the Teachers Institute in Dallas. Their report that the meeting was very enjoyable as well as profitable; we report that we were glad to have the free day.

November 12-13 was National Book Week. In observance of this the freshmen and sophomores presented a Book Week program. Judging by the applause and the many compliments they received from their upper classmen as well as the rest of the student body, the program must have been enjoyed. The names of the performers are too numerous to be mentioned here, but we must mention the second grade girls who treated us to a "sweet little number" on the program. After the performance the SCA members held their usual monthly social meeting which also was sponsored by the freshmen and sophomores. Refreshments were delicious.

Friday, the Red Cross Headquarters from Gainesville showed the students a picture show. We were glad to see some of the work the Red Cross is doing among our fighting men in the combat zones. The fact that the picture showed the Fifth Army in Italy and that some of our own Lindsay boys are there made the picture so much more fascinating. We wish to thank Mr. O'Brien, our County Superintendent, for sending this treat to us.

Now off for another week of work and study. Mr. Exam is close at hand again, and that means a lot of reviewing and studying, for we do want to have our names on the Honor Roll list.

PARTY HONORS YOUNGESTER ON SECOND BIRTHDAY

Little LaVerne Mages was complimented with a party Sunday afternoon in observance of his second birthday. Sharing honors with the youngster was his father, Pvt. Eddie Mages of Keester Field Miss., home on furlough. The party was given at the home of the child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wimmer with his mother as hostess. Birthday gifts were presented the honoree and refreshments were served.

Personnel included Mr. & Mrs. Frank Mages, Sr., Mrs. Lavel Kinsley and daughter, Patsy of Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. John Fleitman and sons of Myra; Joe Mages and family, Mrs. Henry Grewing and children, Frank Bindel and sons, Harold and Gerald, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dankesreiter and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Wimmer and family.

It's a bushel of kisses before marriage; afterwards just a few pecks.

Funny men, aren't we. Before marriage we think nothing is good enough for the wife, and after marriage we still think nothing is good enough.

Wonder if the man who says he is satisfied with married life really means he has had all he wants of it.

ing favor lately. Why saddle one state or one section of the country with regulations imposed by voters hundreds of miles away? Why not let each state handle its own liquor problems? For that matter why not confine jurisdiction over liquor problems to smaller areas where it properly belongs — such as counties or precincts? Let's not forget that our constitution provides for smaller units of government to handle local affairs.
