MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 JANUARY 30, 1976

NUMBER 10

The leaflet on agriculture sent out with monthly bills by TP&L tells in just a few figures of US supremacy over the USSR in agricultural production. Of Russia's 250 million people, 40 per cent live in rural areas, 33 per cent are engaged in farming and 45 per cent of its women are engaged in farming. On the other hand US has 210 million, of whom 25 per cent live in rural areas. But only 4 per cent of the population is engaged in farming and 2 per cent of the women are engaged in farming.

Translating into figures this means that 8.4 million of us are in food production whereas more than 83 million of the Russians are; also that only about 2 million American women are in the ag labor force and about 56 million of the Russian women are.

But the really important point is that the comparatively small number of US workers get the job done plus a lot more, and the big number of USSR workers do not do the job. Year after year Russia has a food shortage and has to buy some of our surplus.

The importance of our ag production has been specially emphasized these past few years of energy crisis. US had to pay exhorbitant prices for oil but exported enough grain to maintain a favorable balance in foreign trade. Actually the American farmers have been pulling their country through the crises. They are important people in the national economy but they find it increasingly difficult to be heard in Washington. As seen by Ronald Knutson, economist in marketing and policy of Texas Agricultural Extension Service, "producer interests in ag policy are taking a secondary position to interests of foreign · policy, consumerism and labor. Secretary Butz is no longer calling the shots on farm policy. Unless farmers are able to take charge, farm programs may actually be a noose around the producer's neck. Producers must consoli- Group Quizzed in died last Thursday at his date if they are to regain a position of control over agri- Nocona Bank Heist cultural policy."

At his death Mr. Swirczynski had the distinction of being the community's oldest resident. He was born on January 3, 1881 in Ashton County, Nebraska, one of nine children of Robert and Angela Swirczynski. He came to Muenster with the family when he was eight years old and has lived here ever since. He was married on August 21, 1906, to Maggie Yosten, also a native of Nebraska. The young couple settled on the farm which has been occupied by his parents when they came here . . . just beyond the southeast limit of the city. has become an integral part of the policy of detente, and as such can be used either as a carrot or a stick in diplomacy. The carrot' policy involves exporting freely to make other nations more dependent on US as a source of food . . . the idea being that foreign powers are not likely to bite the hand that feeds them. The stick policy involves an understanding that access to the grain depends at least partly on cooperation, support and good will to this country. If it is applied there will be times when deals will be held up and the free market of farm products is suspended.

No less important than diplomacy is the effect on farmer interests by consumerism and organized labor. Knutson points out that both in 1973 and 1975 the impact of exports on domestic food prices was the primary reason for export controls. This reflects the fact that President Ford listened to George Meany more than Europe. to the producers or Secretary

Butz. "Target prices, food reserves and the future of commodity programs stand as the major domestic farm policy issues," noted Knutson. "Farmers feel that in return for full production there must be reasonable assurance that prices will not fall below production costs. And they oppose reserves because they regard them as a cause of lower prices.

In the man's opinion agricultural producers must make their voices heard . . . as one strong body rather than as individual commodity groups ... if they expect a fair shake in future farm policies. They need a strong right hand in Washington or else they will have to continue catering to the whims of those who desire to use agriculture as a pawn.

SH Teams Divide Games at Saint Jo

Sacred Heart and Saint Jo basketball teams divided honors in the double header at Pantherville last Friday night.

Winners were the Tigers by a count of 65-51 and the Pantherettes by 58-43. The SH boys started with a 19-14 first quarter and had their lead trimmed down to 32-30 by half time. But they hit their stride again in the third for a 50-41 lead and gained more points in the last for the 14 point spread.

Roger Endres led the way with 17 points. Mark Hess and Glenn Walterscheid each made 14, Joe Hoedebeck added 13 and John Henscheid 7.

The girls game started about even, Saint Jo leading 9-8 at the quarter but a strong second period gave the Pantherettes a big 32-19 lead at half time. They gained slightly more to 43-27 at the third and then coasted to the 58-43 win. Sharlene Pagel and Gloria Hess shared scoring honors at 12 each, Marlene Pagel made 11, Cindy Bartush 6 and Bev-erly Pels 2.

Kindergarten Alan Hudspeth's birthday was observed Friday when his mother, Mrs. Clarence Hudspeth brought pretty, decorated cup cakes and punch for his classmates to enjoy with him.

Plan How to save when using electric heating

- 1. Keep heating equipment at top operating efficiency. Have it checked seasonally by qualified serviceman.
- 2. Set thermostat at 68° and leave it. Lower to 50°-60° if you'll be away several days.
- 3. Weatherstrip doors and windows; caulk cracks to prevent drafts and warm air loss.
- 4. Check the filter every 30 days on forced-air systems. If filter is permanent, clean it by manufacturer's directions; if it's disposable, replace if dirty.
- 5. Thorough home insulation keeps the warmth in. Can cut energy use 20% or more. Can pay for itself by lowering heating (and cooling) costs.
- 6. When fireplace is not in use, keep damper closed.
- 7. On sunny days open draperies, blinds to let in warmth of sun.
- 8. Open outside doors as little as possible.
- 9. Keep furniture, draperies away from air outlets and returns so air will flow easily. Clean annually.

HIGH ELECTRIC BILLS EXPLAINED

Your Cooperative cost of doing business is much higher today than ever before. The significant item causing your electric bill to increase is the cost of wholesale power purchased from the Brazos System, who generate electricity for our electric cooperative. They have problems too. The natural gas they use to fire their boilers is much higher than it used to be. Their generating cost is higher, therefore, they have to charge more. They are no happier with these higher costs than we are.

Even though the cost of electricity is higher today than ever before, we at Cooke County Electric Cooperative are doing what we have always done, providing dependable power at its lowest possible price. Our promise to the memberconsumers of Cooke County Electric is . . . "Electricity will never be a penny higher than absolutely necessary."
