VOLUME XXX

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 MAY 6, 1966

NUMBER 24

An unusual characteristic of advertising published by Warner and Swasey, manufacturer of precision machinery, is that it sells Americanism more than its own product. Seldom if ever does an elaborate on the merits of its machines. Rather it presents plain economic facts helping the reader to understand fundamental business principles. For instance, that conscientious workers using efficient equipment reduce costs and increase profits, that profit isn't a dirty word and a way of exploiting workers but rather the means by which business can expand its facilities and increase its wages.

Along with those are simple lessons on the merits of free enterprise, thrift, vision and hard work on which American greatness was built. And also warnings on the dangers that lie in socialism, deficit spending or the something for nothing theory.

One cannot say there is no selfish motive whatever in the firm's policy, just that the approach is indirect. Somewhat like a community leader trying to bring new jobs and better markets to his town. He will profit eventually because of what he did for others. Likewise Warner and Swasey stands to profit eventually from its efforts in behalf of the nation.

There's the significant point. The firm is staking its success on the success of the nation, striving constantly to convey the bits of wisdom inherent in our country's greatness and the reasons for its ability to carry on despite handicaps imposed by fuzzy thinking and irresponsibility.

Another such editorial gem was an ad last week. It reads "I didn't have a very happy childhood either."

"But nobody worried very much about it. I was too busy, I guess — cutting lawns, shoveling snow, running errands, delivering packages for 10 cents, selling newspapers, doing housecleaning for my mother, and going to school. I passed my grades too; if I hadn't, I'd have had the hide strapped off me."

"No one concerned himself about my amusements, either. What fun we had, we made. But if we did any damage like breaking a window in a ball game, we paid for it by working it out."

"We never heard these modern phrases like 'standard of living', 'subsistence level', 'minimum requirements'. Our standard of living was whatever my father (and after I was about 12, my father and I) earned. I don't suppose people 'understood' me and if I had said so, my mother would have asked, 'Why should they?' And certainly no one ever gave a thought to my 'problems'. They were mine, weren't they? Mine to solve. Why should I expect anyone else to bother?"

"If my father was laid off, we stopped spending on anything but food, and a lot less of that. My dad spent every waking hour looking for work — any work. We lived on savings and when they were gone, we moved in with relatives. If there had been no relatives, when every penny and every salable asset was gone, we would have gone to the only place left — the County Poor House — but that would have been an admission that we couldn't take care of ourselves."

"You'll notice in this true story of a typical American family of a few years back, I'm not talking about privileges nor happiness. I guess we didn't have much. But we had something that was infinitely more important, infinitely more rewarding — we had self-respect, because whatever we had, however little it was, we earned."

"It seems to me that is why America is the strong nation it is today — and it will stay strong as long as there are enough Americans more interested in earning than getting."

The basic idea of that article applies to millions of people who form the backbone of our nation. They did not have it easy either. But they did not fold up under hardship and claim that the world owes them a living. They kept their chins up, kept plugging along with pride and self-respect, determined to lick their problems rather than be licked by them. They are people of character, the kind who are willing to carry their share of the load and

Primary Election Saturday Will End Most Local Races

Interest is warm but far from hot as the people of Muenster look forward to Saturday's Democratic Primary, which will determine most of the state and county officials for the next term.

On the local level it is certain that all officials but one will be named, and that one may be named also. The race for district clerk has three candidates. A majority for one of them will end the contest, otherwise there will be a runoff. Other offices have one or two candidates and will be decided definitely. Moreover they are decided also for the general election in November when the Democratic nominees will have no opponents.

On the state level it will be different. Most if not all nominees will face Republican opponents in November.

Election procedure here will be the same as in other primaries of the recent past. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Joe Luke will be presiding judge for the north Muenster box in the public school. Paul Fisher will be judge for the south box in the building at the entrance of the city park.

Area Prospects Good in Spite of Excess Moisture

Rainfall here during the past week missed the all time record by more than two inches but it probably set another record of another kind. It is doubtful if the area has ever had so little damage from so much rain in a few days.

Up to last week Wednesday the measure was 2.84 inches and farmers were smiling. It was just what they wanted. But then came more rain. And more, and more, 7.15 inches in four days, lots more than anyone wanted or needed.

However two conditions favored the farmers through all of that time. The showers were well scattered and they were mostly slow soakers. Despite a big volume of water land did not wash badly and vegetation was not bothered. As clear weather takes over now prospects for harvest are still good and the soil is soaked deep for row crops, pasture and hay.

During the rain detention reservoirs of the area did another fine job of flood control. Despite all the water that soaked in there was still a great deal of run-off, and it was handled perfectly by the dams. Between showers water was released under control making room for the rains as they came. Top level was not near the spillway in any of the Elm system reservoirs.

Actually the month's total was 9.99 inches, but 1.56 fell after the 7 a.m. reading on April 30, so it was recorded on May 1, and April's official record stands at 8.43, the wettest April since 1957 when the measure was 12.43.

At this time the year's total is 18.87 inches.

Volley Team Gets Another Trophy

Muenster Mill's volleyball team did it again, returned with the runner-up trophy from last week's tournament at Cooke County Junior College. It's their sixth trophy in eight tournaments. One for champ, one for consolation and four for champ runner-up.

In all of those tournaments one team has had the jinx on the Muenster fellows, Pedito Insurance of Pilot Point beat them in the four games in which they got second prize also beat them earlier in two other tournaments.

In other encounters last week the Millers beat Howe State Bank, Howe Independents and LeGear-Cooper of Sanger. Other Muenster teams in the CCJC tournament were the Ratz, SH Alumni men and ladies and two teams each of SH Tigers and Tigerettes.

Muenster Mill is playing its last tournament of the season at Howe this week. SH Alumni men and ladies are both playing at Montague.

Drive-in banking was invented so cars could go in and see their real owners.

Hospital Board Sets 70 Cent Tax For First Year

A tax rate of 70 cents on $100 of valuation, just 5 cents under the limit allowed by law, was set as the first tax assessment for the Muenster Hospital District.

That was the rate proposed by directors in their budget for the coming year, details of which were available but not heard at the official budget hearing Monday night. No one came to hear the estimates of revenue and expense.

In determining the tax rate the directors considered several factors. In order to raise enough money to meet their obligations they had to set their sights considerably higher and make allowance for tax delinquencies, for the discount claimed by early taxpayers, and also for the assessment and collection fees charged by the tax office. Those items plus the debt and provision for indigents of the district accounts for the estimated need of $26,477.80.

Directors are confident that this figure, less anticipated discounts, fees and delinquencies, will provide more than enough for the first interest payment and the allowance for indigents.

The first interest payment is $19,620 covering a period of 18 months. There will be no payment on principal at that time. In the future payments will be on both principal and interest and will vary from $18,000 to $22,000 a year.

That is how payments are scheduled but the directors have other plans, principally because of depletion in oil production. Their intention is to pay the hospital obligation as fast as possible while oil property valuations are higher. The 70 cent tax charged this year will bring in over $15,000 for the reserve fund besides meeting the current obligations.

Nearing completion is Francis Fisher's new 3-bedroom house. Carpenters are finished, painters are about half finished, brick veneering is just starting.

The Ray Voths are settled down in their new four bedroom house south of town.

Improvements recently finished at the Robert Bayer home include remodeling of kitchen and bath and interior paint throughout.

Andy Wimmer has a new 26x30 sheet iron building for a double garage and shop.

Another double garage was built by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Atteberry.

Al Felderhoff is building a 35x70 machine shed on his farm northwest of town. Much of the lumber in it was salvaged from an old house.

Among several who got new roof jobs after the big blow on Easter Sunday are Herb Cunningham, Joe Lutkenhaus, Jake Pagel and Henry Wiesman.

Work on the motel near the east city limit is moving steadily with the woodwork mostly finished. Starting now is the brick work and roofing outside and the sheetrock inside.

Stockmen's Feed Store has moved and is operating in its recently finished modern new feed store. It's a push button operation for grinding and mixing feeds according to formula plus retail sale of other feeds and livestock supplies.

The place vacated by Stockmen's Feed Store is getting practically the same treatment. Modern grinding and mixing equipment are being installed by Tony's Seed Store.

He is a young man, in his twenties, married, has no children. He was formerly a member of the Gainesville police department.

Over 900 Hear Carr In Political Rally at Medders Coliseum

Attorney General Waggoner Carr, in his campaign talk for the U.S. Senate last Friday night, skipped over this week's Democratic primary election and set his sights on the general election of November.

He was addressing a crowd of about 900 persons from an 18 county area at a political rally in support of his candidacy hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders in the coliseum of Colonial Acres Farm.

Anticipating his campaign to unseat Senator John Tower in the general election, Carr said that Texas will have the number one race of the nation this year. It will be number one he pointed out because all of the nation will be watching as the President's party in the President's home state seeks to defeat the senator of the opposing party.

"A second rate effort will not win that race," he said. "It will take number one desire, number one teamwork and number one appeal to Texans. To fail in that would be tragic. Texas must not and will not permit that to happen."

Carr added that there are only two ways to lose the race in November, through complacency or disunity.

The Attorney General was introduced by Frank Denius, an Austin attorney, who referred to Carr's statewide popularity, saying that he polled more votes in 1964 than any other man in Texas Democratic politics. He also praised Carr for his record as attorney general especially in his work with young people, resulting in an eight per cent decrease in juvenile delinquency last year.

Welcome to the crowd was extended by Tom Thorpe of Dallas, attorney for Colonial Acres, after which County Attorney Bill Sullivant, Carr campaign chairman for Cooke County, took over as master of ceremonies. He introduced Mr. and Mrs. Medders, Congressman and Mrs. Graham Purcell, Gene Riggs, county chairman of youth for Carr, and several others from the county and the state.

All at the rally were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Medders for a Colonial Acres feast featuring barbecued ham, roast prime rib, shrimp and lobster newburg. It was catered by The Sheraton of Dallas.

The outstanding display feature of the coliseum was a series of identical pictures of Carr, about ten feet tall. There were about two dozen of them, hanging on the four walls and mounted in strategic spots.

Other decorations featured thousands of red and white carnations and huge brass candelabra with tall white tapers on the buffet and main tables.

A hundred round tables set for ten guests each were centered with dozens of carnations held by papier mache Black and Red Angus bulls. And the main table was flanked by two life size Red Angus bulls of papier mache.

Music before and during dinner was provided by a Western band from Dallas, Jim Boyd and His Men of the West.

THE CON MEN

To gain an insight into how the political mind works, it is only necessary to examine the current politically popular proposed cure for inflation. Forget, for the moment, the fact that the government itself created inflation by diluting the money supply with illegally counterfeited currency.

Let us consider only the proposed cure.

The government proposes to increase taxes; and this, according to political reasoning, would, by reducing the amount of money left for the people to spend, "cool off" the "overheated" economy caused by "overspending." Simple; it even sounds plausible. But wait!

What does the government propose to do with the additional taxes so collected? Reduce the national government debt? Well, hardly! Buy back some of our departed gold? Not so you could notice it! Well, what then?

Simply this... and the news recently has been full of it: The government will merely spend the additional taxes collected on boondoggling, vote-getting projects of its own. Thus, the "overheated" economy, instead of being cooled off, will continue to build up an explosive head of steam; with the only difference being the money being spent, instead of being spent by those who earned it, will be spent by those who didn't.

See how easy it is for the bureaucracy, via propaganda and news management, to shift the guilt from itself to you, its victims, by setting up a false premise... that premise being that you with your spending of your money, created inflation?

But inflation, rather than being created by your spending of your money, as the government tries to con you into believing, was caused by the spending, by government, of government created worthless money, which, in turn, stole its "value" from your productive energy.

—Colorado Springs Gazette

STRANGE REASONING

Many people in recent years have been of the opinion that the U.S. Supreme Court has ventured too far into the realm of feelings, emotions and personal preferences in establishing the basis for its rulings in cases having to do with civil liberties. Majority as well as minority groups have some rights that should be respected. It would seem that the people of a state should have the right to expect that tax-supported state employees not be members of the communist party or other organizations prepared to use violence to overthrow constitutional government. But in a recent 5 to 4 decision, the Court has ruled that Arizona may not require employees take a loyalty oath. This was a threat to "the cherished freedom of association protected by the First Amendment."

One wonders why similar concern for "freedom of association" might not be applied with far more logic to judging the constitutionality of forcing a person to join a union in order to get or hold a job in states that don't have right-to-work laws on the books.

Hormone Found In Newsprint Is Tough on Insects

A newly-discovered "newsprint hormone" — apparently a mysterious chemical in newsprint that is literally bad news for insects — may be the forerunner of powerful insecticides of the future.

This prediction comes from Dr. Carroll M. Williams, Harvard University zoologist and one of the world's foremost authorities on the physiology of insects.

The hormone in newsprint was confirmed after young bugs were turned loose on a Walter Lippman column immersed in a laboratory fluid. The bugs grew to tremendous size but then quickly died, Williams said.

The zoologist believes the newspaper hormone may be a plant-derived, close counterpart of the "juvenile hormone" present in the brains of certain insects which go through several stages of development before attaining maturity.

It is conceivable that a synthetic version of the chemical could ultimately be produced in large quantities and then be used, possibly as a spray, to promote biological suicide among harmful insects, Williams said.

The newsprint version of the chemical, which so far hasn't been isolated, appears to be present only in American newspapers.

To the question of why only American newspapers, Williams replied:

"Most American newsprint is derived from the Balsam fir tree that millions of years ago may have been bedeviled by some brand of insect pest and then learned to synthesize juvenile hormone as a self-defense against insect enemies."

It is not hard-hearted to say the reasons some people are 'poverty stricken' is because they do not want to work. There is no use beating around the bush, some people are plain lazy, and want all they can get without any effort on their part. Certainly, help the real unfortunate, but the industrious do not have the obligation to care for society's drones. The Good Book says man shall live by the sweat of his brow, and we haven't read in the Bible where any Great Society has to take care of him.

Littering Costs $10 per Family

Litterbugs are an expensive item on the family budget.

Keep America Beautiful, Inc., estimates that $10 of the state and local tax money paid yearly by the average American family is used to pick up litter from streets, highways, beaches and parks.

The total national litter clean-up bill runs around $500 million annually, and that does not include the cost of removing litter from private property nor the loss from litter-induced fires and accidents, according to Allen H. Seed Jr., KAB's executive vice president.

"These are tax expenditures that taxpayers themselves can eliminate," he said. "The answer is simple. Just don't litter."

Texas Population Grows at Rate of 1.5% Each Year

Texas is growing at the rate of 1.5 per cent a year, UT's Population Research Center reports.

An estimate of population shows that there were 10,336,141 Texans on April 1, 1965. This is a gain of 756,464 over the 1960 census.

Irrigated farming acres in the High Plains produced the two fastest growing counties — Randall and Deaf Smith. Respective growth rate are 7.7 and 7.1 per cent a year. Hartley County, in the top of the Panhandle, has gained 7 per cent a year.

But Texans still are moving to town. Study shows that 21 metropolitan counties, which contain cities of 50,000 and more, gained 637,374 of the total. Only three of the 21 failed to gain. They are Midland, Ector and Cameron Counties.

 Your Cooke County Treasurer, Mrs. Ruby Davis, is asking you to return her to this office for another term.

Without exception, those who have found it necessary to have any dealings with this office have gone from it with a feeling of good will and appreciation for the considerate and courteous treatment which they received.

It is upon her record that Mrs. Davis asks the voters of Cooke County to return her to this office in the forthcoming Democratic Primary May 7th.

Mrs. Davis says, "Due to the duties of my office, it may be impossible to contact each individual personally." However, she wants each and every one to know they are important to her.

With a heart full of gratitude and appreciation for your splendid cooperation in the past, she sincerely asks for your continued support.

Continued Growth Reflected in New Phone Directory

New directories for the Muenster Telephone Corporation reflect continued growth of that system. It has added 38 listings for a new high total of 1009 in Muenster, Forestburg and Myra, the three communities served by the firm. Figures revealed by Alvin Fuhrman, manager and co-owner, show that Muenster added 31 listings, Forestburg added 10 and Myra lost 3. Listings of the new book are as follows. Muenster 779, Forestburg 163, Myra 67. Twenty four of the phones are mobile phones. The cover of the directory features a sketch by Sister Roberta, art instructor of Sacred Heart School. Industries shown in the composite are oil production, feed and milk processing, rural electrification and Colonial Acres Farm. Other details of growth were also revealed by Fuhrman. During the year six miles of overhead line was constructed to serve six new subscribers and 22,000 feet of buried cable was installed to serve five new subscribers. The later five are all in the Leo community, which restored phone service after an outage of forty years. Still more growth took place inside the Muenster exchange building. Additional equipment provides for the addition of 100 new numbers, which will be in the 4800 group. The plan is to change mobil phones into that group to coordinate local numbers with those of other companies in the 817 area.

A high standard of maintenance which included extensive replacement of poles, crossarms and insulators along with tree trimming, paid handsome dividends in the storm that hit on Easter Sunday. Only 30 phones were out of order, and two of those only had receivers off the hooks. Falling trees, and power lines and flying debris caused the trouble. Records of the company indicate that 85,662 toll calls were billed during the past year in its three exchanges. That includes paid calls placed locally and collect calls received locally. And according to Fuhrman's estimate, about 1,694,472 local calls were made on the three exchange system for the past year. The estimate is based on actual meter count of 109,006 in the Muenster exchange in December 1965. At that rate the total of local calls in the Muenster exchange for the year was 1,308,072. Assuming the same volume of use per phone in Forestburg and Myra their totals were figured at 273,480 and 112,560.

For hours a picket walked up and down a busy street carrying a sign that was absolutely blank. Asked what was the big idea, he replied: "I'm looking for a sponsor."

Tea Announces Fette-Riggs Date For June Nuptials

An announcement tea has honored Miss Candace Fette, bride-elect of Eugene Riggs. Members of the Dizzy Dozen Birthday Club were hostesses for the Wednesday afternoon party entertaining in the home of Mrs. David Trachta.

In the receiving line with Miss Fette, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Steve Fette, were her foster mother Mrs. Henry A. Walterscheid, the future bridegroom's mother Mrs. Ernest Medders, and Mrs. Joe Swingler and Mrs. John Fette, grandmothers of the bride-to-be.

They all received yellow carnation corsages from the hostesses who also presented the honoree a sterling silver cake knife as a hostess gift.

Party rooms carried out a yellow theme with floral arrangements and the tea table was pretty with silver service and a centerpiece of yellow snapdragons, daisies and carnations.

One hundred and thirteen guests attended.

Miss Fette and Mr. Riggs will be married in Sacred Heart Church on Monday, June 6, in a 4 p.m. service. They announced their engagement at a Christmas eve family gathering in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders, and have just announced the wedding date.

She has chosen for her attendants her sister, Miss Debbie Fette, maid of honor, her future sister-in-law, Miss Cathy Medders, a cousin Miss Charlotte Swingler of Houston and Miss Margie Fuhrman as bridesmaids.

Junior bridesmaids will be the bridegroom's sisters, Misses Mary and Sara Medders.

Bridegroom's attendants will be his brother John Riggs, best man, Richard and Donald Lynskey of Chattanooga, Tenn. and Jack Pierce of Surgoinsville, Tenn., groomsmen, Frank Medders and Stephen Fette, brothers of the couple, junior groomsmen.

Flower girls will be the bridegroom's niece, Donna Sue Murphy of New Orleans, La., and Barbara Waterscheid, sister of the bride. Her twin brothers, Nick and Neil Walterscheid will be ring bearers.

A seemingly stupid young fellow was being bullied in cross-examination. "Do you ever work?" demanded the attorney.

"Not much," the witness said. "Is your father regularly employed?"

"Nope." "Isn't it true that he's worthless good-for-nothing, too?" "I don't know about that," said the witness. "But you might ask him. He's sittin' in the jury box."

Mr. Mrs. Medders In Houston for President's Ball

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders were among members of the President's Club attending the President's Ball in Houston.

They also enjoyed visiting with Governor and Mrs. Connally, Attorney General and Mrs. Waggoner Carr, Jack Valenti and Democrats from Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico as well as Texas, and with Danny Thomas who was one of the entertainers and Pearl Mesta of Washington. Mrs. Medders wore a pink chiffon gown with a jeweled top. Accompanying them were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thorpe of Dallas.

63 in Class for First Communion

Sixty-two children — 28 boys and 34 girls — are in this year's First Communion class for Sacred Heart Parish. They will receive the Eucharist during the 7:30 a.m. Mass Sunday, May 8, in Sacred Heart Church.

The small girls, in white with wreaths and veils will be accompanied by their mothers into the sanctuary to receive Communion at the foot of the altar. Likewise the small boys, in white coats and dark trousers, will be accompanied by their fathers.

The children have been under instruction for several weeks by Sister Genevieve and Sister Henrietta in preparation for the event.

Attends El Paso CDA Convention

Mrs. Ed Schmitt represented the Muenster court Catholic daughters of America at the state convention in El Paso. She was one of 78 delegates attending.

Among highlights of the weekend meeting were a Pontifical High Mass by Bishop Metzger, a Mexican luncheon, a tour of Juarez, a buffet at the Jockey Club and attendance at the dog races, a tour of Fort Bliss and a banquet in the country club.

Mrs. Schmitt served on the scrap book committee. She traveled from Fort Worth on a chartered bus and enjoyed the company of Misses Margaret Hostey, district deputy, and Ella Neusche of Dallas. The state regent Miss Madeline Schmidt was among those at the convention. Mrs. Schmitt had several visits with her son Eddie Joe of El Paso and he accompanied her on some of the tours.

Swim Pool Will Open on June 4

Muenster's municipal swimming pool will open on Saturday, June 4, Mayor Earl Fisher disclosed after Monday's city council meeting.

There were two reasons, he said, for opening slightly later than usual. Normally the weather in May is still chilly so the attendance is poor. Also, waiting two weeks after school closes gives the Carl Kings time for a vacation trip before he settles down to pool management for the rest of the summer.

When the council selected King for the job it told him to select his assistant. To date King did not indicate who it will be.

Sherrie Herr, Five Birthday Honoree

Sherrie Herr, five years old Monday, celebrated her birthday with a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Herr.

Eighteen young cousins and friends and their mothers were guests for birthday cake, ice cream and punch.

Gifts, games, and party favors of hats and whistles made it a gay afternoon for the children.

I was born and reared in Cooke County and at the present time I reside 13 miles North of Muenster in Cooke County. I am a family man with a wife and two sons and therefore intensely interested in the welfare of our young people and the wellbeing of all the people whom I have had the opportunity to represent.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher enjoyed the company of their five-year-old granddaughter Mary Ellen Galloway of San Antonio all last week and had their daughter and son-in-law, the Joe Galloways and their other daughter Jonann as weekend guests. Mary Ellen came by plane from San Antonio Monday, her grandparents meeting her at Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. Galloway spent five days in Mexico City on a trip he won from his insurance company. They told her parents about the sight-seeing tours including the Shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe. The young couple was among out of town guests at the Friday night rally at Colonial Acres Coliseum here. Miss Rosemary Fisher of NTSU, Denton, joined the family Saturday night and Sunday. All started back home Sunday afternoon.

Christened in a joint service Sunday in Sacred Heart Church were the infant daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Arnie Wimmer and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sicking. Father Alcuin officiated. The Wimmers' daughter Jill Ann had as godparents Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bindel. The Sicking's daughter Carmen Leah had as godparents Mr. and Mrs. Pete Prescher of Gainesville.

People drove to Dallas Friday in the rain all the way and waited an hour and a half for the Lawrence Welk show to go on the stage. The plane carrying the troupe was delayed due to bad weather. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zimmerer of Gainesville and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Haverkamp of Muenster were there as guests of their children Mr. and Mrs. Willard Zimmerer. The three couples attended the show together and the parents remained over night at the Zimmerer home. They drove around inspecting flood damage before returning Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Prescher of Valley View have their baby son at home now. He was an incubator baby and spent six weeks at Gainesville Hospital until he gained five pounds five ounces. He was dismissed Thursday and was baptized Monday. Father Anthony Gajda officiated at the service in St. John's Church. His name is Robert Joseph. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Prescher were at the christening as godparents for their first grandchild.

First Communion of a granddaughter, Linda Hellman, took Mr. and Mrs. Leo Henscheid and Mrs. Rudy Hellman to Irving Sunday. Miss Carol Henscheid went with her parents. They were all guests for dinner honoring Linda in her parents' home. In the evening the Henscheids visited with the Jerry Henscheids and had supper with them.

Salvation Army Needs Discarded Household Items

A protracted siege of stormy, rainy weather has severely curtailed the volume of discarded household and business materials donated to the Salvation Army, states Major Byron A. Freeman, commanding officer of Men's Rehabilitation Center.

Many items which the Rehabilitation Centers collects processes and makes available to low-income families are in short supply, he added.

"We believe that housewives who would normally call the Center for a truck to pick up their household discards are not doing so because of the bad weather, but our need is greater than ever," said Major Freeman.

"Also, possibly housewives fear that the drivers who pick up unwanted items from their homes will track mud into their houses. This can be solved if the housewives leave their discards on the porch or in the garage for our collection men," he explained.

A telephone call to 759-4311 will bring a Salvation Army truck to any home in Muenster to pick up furniture, clothing, old appliances, and other items not wanted by the owner.

These discards completely support the program of the Rehabilitation Center, where more than 1,100 men each year are given spiritual, mental and physical assistance, helping them to make a new start in life. They have all been defeated by personal problems, and most of them suffer from alcoholism.

"The Center's program is aimed at overcoming years of uselessness, spiritual decay and often acute alcoholism," said Major Freeman.

Ralph Hall Asks For Second Term In Texas Senate

Rockwall State Senator Ralph Hall officially announced his candidacy today for a second term in the Texas Senate. Hall is running without opposition from either party. Though he is more often remembered for his successful floor fights in behalf of the 4th Congressional District, Hall has an impressive string of legislative victories in other fields. Senate Reapportionment Bill 547, by Hall & Word, is the only re-districting bill passed which was not attacked in the Federal Courts. Under this Bill, Senator Hall fought for and attained the addition of Denton and Kaufman Counties to his District — along with the Northeast part of Dallas County. This bill also provided for Fannin County to go into a district represented by A. M. Aikin, Jr. of Paris — "the best man in State Government," Hall said.

Hall voted consistently against the Criminal Code Revision — and predicted many of the dilemma law enforcement officers and county finances are facing today. "One of the first items of business for the 60th Legislature", the ex-12-year Judge asserted, "should be to rewrite the Criminal Code and thereby unshackle the hands of the many thousands of law enforcement officers and prosecutors across our State."

Hall, a former County School Superintendent, has been one of the leaders in the Senate — along with Senate Dean A. M. Aikin and Senator Jack Strong — in the pursuit of a better atmosphere in Texas for those in the teaching profession. During the 58th Session, Senators Aikin and Strong handled the Teachers' Pay Raise and Senators Hall and Martin Dies sponsored the Teachers' Sick Leave, Senate Bill No. 50. The Sick Leave Bill was passed through the Senate, but was vetoed by the Governor. The Rockwall Senator has given notice that he intends to press for this legislation during 1967 — and for other similar bills designed to attract and retain the young teachers of Texas. "We are losing too many beginning teachers to New York and California," Senator Hall stated. "We must design an incentive program for these prospective beginning teachers."

Hall, long a champion of government, made his presence felt during the recent 59th Special Session of the Legislature. He and two other Senators, Word of Bosque County and Strong of Gregg County, co-authored a Senate Resolution which triggered the State's reimbursement of the Counties for the registration of voters under the Voters Registration Act of 1966. Hall stated that centralization of Government is bad on the Federal scene — it is also bad on the State scene. "I'm sick and tired," he said, "of the State thrusting expensive duties and obligations on the cities and counties of Texas — and not returning some of the tax revenue to carry out the ordered function."

In summing up his announcement for re-election, Hall said, "You — the wonderful people of my District — could pay me no greater compliment than to allow me to run this year unopposed. For this I am so very grateful. You can never know how it humbles one to realize that he is privileged to stand on the floor of the Texas Senate — and try to vote the wishes of his 300,000 plus constituents."

"In seeking your support and friendship for the years that lie ahead, I pledge to do my best for you every day — to work with the elected officials of your choice — and to always remember that this Senate seat is only temporarily occupied by me — you — the people — are the permanent owners."

Did you hear about the little boy who refused to help himself to a jar of jelly beans when offered to him by the grocer?

The grocer insisted that the little fellow have some, and shoveled out a handful.

Outside, his mother asked him why he hadn't helped himself, and he replied:

"Because his hand is bigger'n mine."

Return from Visit With Kansas Kin

Back from a four-day vacation, Mrs. Tom Hamilton and her daughter Mrs. Carl Walterscheid and little daughters Brenda and Carla, report a fine time visiting relatives and sight-seeing.

They were guests of Mrs. Hamilton's daughter and family, the Jerry Walkers in Salina, Kansas, and together they all went to Abilene, Kansas, where they saw the reconstructed old Abilene with its Wild Bill Hickock history, took pictures and bought souvenirs. They also toured the Eisenhower Museum and Library and were especially attracted to a jeweled statue of Mother of Prague, a gift from Czechoslovakia Catholics.

Another side trip was to Solomon, Kansas, where Indian artifacts were of special interest.

May Proclaimed Senior Citizen Month in County

May has been proclaimed "Senior Citizen Month" in Cooke County, and members of various clubs and churches will honor older members during this time.

Mrs. William Basinger, Cooke County chairman of the Governor's Committee on Aging, said it is hoped that each club or organization in the county will make a special effort to brighten life for a lonely person rather than limiting attention to persons "we enjoy daily."

County Judge William W. Carroll has proclaimed the month in Cooke County.

"Cooke County has always recognized the existing or potential contribution of Texas' older population and realizes the debt owed by all Texans for their role in building Texas and Cooke County into the great state and county it is today," Judge Carroll said.

"We must utilize this vast reservoir of talent, ability and experience through which our senior citizens can continue to play a major part in the future growth and progress of Cooke County."

"We must continue to recognize the vital position senior citizens play in our everyday lives as parents, uncles and aunts, older brothers or sisters, cherished friends, counselors and fellow citizens."

"Since not everyone is blessed with the gift of long life, those who are so endowed should occupy a place of special honor among us," Judge Carroll concluded.

There are 40 telephones for each 100 persons in North America compared to 0.5 in Asia, 0.8 in Africa, 7.4 in Europe and 4.7 for the world.

A scientific journal reported that a group of oceanographers had calculated that if the earth were entirely flattened, the sea would be two miles deep all over the earth.

Reading this, the editor of an Oklahoma newspaper reprinted the article with this addition:

"If any man is caught flattening the earth, report him to the Sheriff's office at once. A whole lot of us here in Oklahoma can't swim."

Confetti - - - even a little more, the kind upon whom our country's survival depends.

Former President Eisenhower was asked a few days ago to state what he thinks is the greatest danger facing our nation today. He did not say global war or inflation or racial trouble or communism -- the subjects most discussed nowadays. He said the great danger is moral breakdown. Think that one over. It's hard to imagine a greater mess or a greater calamity than that caused by widespread deterioration of conscience.

We shudder to think of it but we have to admit it is in sight. Some of its signs are the basic dishonesty in the something for nothing policy, disregard for law and authority as well as for personal and property rights in riots and civil disobedience; widespread crime such as murder robbery and rape, graft and corruption in high places. And most alarming of all, a widespread attitude that society rather than the criminals is responsible for the condition.

To a degree that last indictment is correct. Society is at fault in that it excuses the criminals. But it is not responsible. Nothing can change the fundamental fact that people are created with free will. What they do is their own choice. They are responsible before God and their fellow men no matter how much the fuzzy thinkers excuse them.

It's a lot of rot to say that people are not responsible for what they do. The Good Book says that "His grace is sufficient." And that's sufficient reason for some urgently needed changes of thinking.
