NUMBER 21

An embarrassing situation is the first fruit of our country's effort to build a "bridge of understanding" with the Soviet Union. The ink is hardly dry on the Consular Treaty with Russia and the effort to improve trade relations with that country is hardly started before the Kremlin gang attempts to muscle into American business.

This concerns the federal government's preparation to expand hydroelectric generating capacity at Grand Coulee Dam. The project will require new giant generators. And guess who has asked for permission to bid on furnishing those generators. You're right. The Russians.

Here's an indication that LBJ and the State Department have the desired reaction to their proposal for better trade relations with the Reds. Moscow likes it. In fact, the speed of Moscow's reaction gives us cause to wonder whether the deal is as good for us as it is for them.

First thing that comes to mind is Moscow's eagerness to sell when it can be assumed this is a cash deal. Of course they'd expect to be paid on delivery just as an American manufacturer would expect. On the other hand we recall clearly that Russia prefers to buy on credit, as in the wheat deal. What a nice arrangement. No wonder the Reds show instant interest. No wonder lots of Americans think we ought to be cautious.

There are other considerations too. Several American firms are in the generator building business. The Grand Coulee contract means work for their employees, profit for their stockholders and taxes for Uncle Sam. Our country can gain all around by trading at home.

But its chances of doing that are very slim if Russians are allowed to bid against the home folks. With wage scales less than a fourth as high as ours, they could easily underbid our plants. Actually, on that item alone they'd have a cinch for the low bid while figuring a huge profit for themselves. Can you imagine a slicker scheme whereby the Soviets could wheedle this country out of a fat subsidy for their sagging economy?

And that isn't all. Lots of other problems can develop if the Moscow outfit is allowed to get its foot into our industrial door. Next thing it would underbid us on dozens of other projects to the detriment of American factories and workers.

Our guess is that industrialists and labor leaders are thinking about such possibilities, probably have already expressed themselves to the government. If not, they need to do it soon. Their own self interest demands that they avoid competition with a country that has an economic advantage over them.

That, incidentally, is one side of the embarrassing situation in which the administration now finds itself. Allowing Soviets to bid on the generators is a slap at the unions which certainly deserve more loyalty from the government. For that matter industry too has earned better support. But on the other side, our government will look foolish unless it allows the Soviet bid — after all the talk of improving trade relations. Our country is on the spot. Backing out now would provoke a mighty propaganda blast from all red countries. America faces a dilemma, and either choice is bad — all because of that effort to get along better with Moscow.

Well, since we have to make a choice, which will be the lesser of the two evils? Big shots of Washington with diplomatic ambitions will probably have trouble making up their minds. Not so with us. We're already convinced that the best deal for our factories and workers is also the best deal for our country. Furthermore we're also convinced that a trade agreement with the Russians is no better than the dozens of other agreements that have been made with them. Their system is well known. They observe the part of an agreement that serves their purpose and ignore what they don't like. Trade agreements will be equally one sided. We can't expect a square deal.

If those considerations aren't enough we can still think of (Continued on page 10)

Word of HemisFair 1968 is being spread globally. U. S. Ambassador to Australia Edward Clark, right, a native of Austin, presented a package of information on the international exposition to Lt. R. C. Earl Swingler, 45 Dies in Houston, Rites Here Friday

Earl "Bud" Swingler, 45, died suddenly at his home in Houston Monday at about 11 a.m. He was a native of Muenster and a World War II Veteran.

Requiem Mass was held Thursday at 8:30 a.m. in Houston after which the body was brought overland to Muenster and the Nick Miller Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Funeral services with Requiem Mass will be held in Sacred Heart Church here Friday at 10 a.m., Father Alcuin Kubis officiating, and burial will be in Sacred Heart Cemetery.

Rosary service will be held in the Miller Chapel Thursday at 8 p.m., followed immediately by another rosary conducted by the Knights of Columbus Council.

Earl Swingler was born in Muenster July 9, 1921. He was graduated from Sacred Heart High School in 1941 and enlisted in the Navy Seabees in August 1942. After the war he went to work in Dallas for Texas Instruments and was transferred to Houston about 15 years ago.

Surviving are his wife, the former Melba Mills; four children, Charlotte, a student at Stephen F. Austin College in Nacogdoches and Becky, Ronnie and Mark of the home; his mother, Mrs. Earl Swingler and one sister, Mrs. Albert Schilling, both of Muenster.

Peggy Sicking Is Cooke County's Spelling Champ

Miss Peggy Sicking is Cooke County's spelling champion this year. She won the crown in the county-wide Spelling Bee finals by out-spelling entries from six other schools.

Peggy is an eighth grader at Sacred Heart School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sicking.

Runner-up in county competition is Gary Krahl, eighth-grader at St. Mary's School in Gainesville. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Krahl of Valley View.

The spell-off, held in Cooke County Junior College Saturday was a 25-minute event with Peggy and Gary competing for the final ten minutes before he tripped on "permanent" which she spelled correctly and then spelled "tarpaulin" to become the champion.

Miss Sicking will participate in the regional finals to be on WFAA-TV on April 29. Regional winners advance to national finals in Washington, D. C., in June.

The county contest was limited to elementary schools this year.

Peggy became eligible for the county bee by winning the Sacred Heart bee in March. At that time she was one of 80 contestants.

Sister Rose was organizer and sponsor of the local bee.

Virgil Henscheid, New Commander of Local VFW Post

Members of Muenster Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6205 elected Virgil Henscheid commander at their meeting Monday night in the Post Home.

Others named to office during the annual election are James Hammer, senior vice commander by re-election; Don Flusche, junior vice commander; Dick Dittfurth, chaplain; Larry Hennigan, surgeon; Herbie Herr, quartermaster and Earl Fisher, judge advocate, both re-elections; and Bernard Hesse, three-year trustee. Holdover trustees are Ray Walterscheid and Wilmer Walterscheid.

Sponsors Plan for Soil Conservation Awards Banquet

Plans for this year's awards banquet honoring conservation champions of the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District are due to be made Thursday afternoon as bankers and publicity media of the district hold their annual meeting in the community room of the First State Bank in Gainesville.

They will decide when and where the program will be held, also the personnel to present it.

The second session of Thursday's meeting will transfer to MoJo Lodge at Leeper Lake, Oklahoma, for a charcoal steak supper hosted by First State Bank.

Saint Jo Wins 17-B Senior Track

Saint Jo's high powered track team performed as expected last Friday and took the top honors of District 17-B for the third straight season. At the same time Era performed as expected and gave the Panthers a hot run for the title.

Final tally of their team points showed 181 1/4 and 138 1/2. It might have been closer but a heartbreaking tumble spoiled Era's effort on the 440 yard relay — and probably hurt morale as well.

Seven other teams earned points in the meet but all their scores combined fell 8 points short of matching Saint Jo's. Scores of those other teams were: Valey View 46 1/2, Midway 42, Lindsay 30 3/4, Muenster 28, Bellevue 14, Prairie Valley 9, Byers 3.

Ken Stormer marked up 20 of Muenster's 28 points by taking first place in two events, the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Don Hartman added 4 points with fourth place in the 880 yard dash, and the mile relay team composed of Mike Felderhoff, Herbert Sicking, Dennis Lutkenhaus and Dale Shasteen made the remaining four points on their fifth place.

The same relay quartet also ran fifth in the 440 yard relay but was disqualified for failure to transfer the baton within the required distance.

Stormer is Muenster's only team member advancing to the Class B regional meet on April 22 in Denton. He will get to run in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

40 Teams Enter V'Ball Tourney Here Next Week

Fifty six volleyball games are on schedule in the Sacred Heart gymnasium next week when the Sacred Heart Alumni sponsors its annual invitation tournament for teams of this area. Forty teams are entered, sixteen in the men's division and twenty four in the ladies' division.

This is the second largest of the several tournaments sponsored by the Alumni in the past several years. Last year's was bigger, with 47 entries.

Games will start at 5:30 p.m. every day except Saturday. Twenty preliminary games the first two days will divide teams into the championship and consolation brackets of each division. For the next three nights eliminations will be under way at the rate of ten games a night. And Saturday's schedule has six games. Semifinals in the men's division will begin at 6 o'clock and the four finals will follow.

After the last game Saturday six trophies will be presented — to the champ, runner-up and consolation winner of the (Continued on page 4)

Long Awaited Rain Arrives

This community's biggest rain in more than six months came Wednesday and Wednesday night when the combined measure was 1.62 inches. A long with four other small readings earlier this month, that brings the April total to 1.96, the wettest since last September.

Readings for the first three months add to 2.48 inches, and the year's total at this time is 4.44.

Though just a moderate rain, it brings a huge lift to crops. They have been holding up nicely on small showers and sub soil moisture and are ready now to get the full benefit of the soaker. Pastures are in the same condition. This rain gives them the chance to come out after just staying alive in previous months.

Ernest Jaska is this year's Jaycee selection for outstanding citizen of the year and received his award, a bronze plaque, at the organization's fifth annual Awards and Installation Banquet Saturday night in the parish lunch room.

The presentation was made by Henry Weinzapfel, who listed the many community projects on which Jaska has been working the past year and also mentioned Jaska's continuous record of civic services since he moved to Muenster.

Next big award of the program was the Key Man Award given to Herman Grewing. It is the top Jaycee award to a member of its organization and represents the year's best record in both work and spirit.

Jerry Hoenig, for his work on last year's Little League Baseball program, received the award for outstanding committee chairman of the year.

And Walter Grewing received the award for outstanding director of the year.

YOUR MONEY? WE SPEND IT!

A couple of news items which appeared the same day recently must have caused readers to blink and think. One was about a couple of guys who stood in court with smirks on their faces as a reluctant judge had to dismiss murder charges against them because their voluntary confessions had been made without benefit of attorneys to inform them of their rights. The other item was the solemn warning by the secretary of the U. S. Treasury that unless Congress boosted the government's debt limit by $7 billion within 30 days, it might be just too bad for elderly citizens who depend on Social Security, veterans' pensions and retirement pay. There just might be no money for such things. Now, many persons have been under the naive impression that the money paid into Social Security by an employee, along with that paid by his employer, was a bona fide, gilt edge investment in the employee's future and was just like putting money in the bank.

THE GRASS-ROOTS VOTER SAID "NO" funds are included among those for which there would be no money, when there still seems to be plenty of dough to spend on other governmental projects — an annual travel bill of $1.7 billion and a printing item of $305 million, to name two?

2. Isn't the government's threat pretty much the same as a bank telling a depositor, "Sorry, pal, but we just won't be able to return your money to you — unless of course, we find a way to borrow a lot more cash in a hurry?"

Yes, Virginia, there are things besides Santa Claus that are hard to explain to little folks and to big folks, too.

OPTOMETRY PRACTICE

Two bills before the Texas Legislature would permit firms with trade names to continue the practice of optometry. At stake is an old feud between the individual optometrist practicing under his own name and the optometric firm practicing under a firm name. The State Board of Optometry adopted a rule unfavorable to the firms, and the Supreme Court upheld the board.

The News believes that these firms should be allowed to continue their practice, as they have in the past — as long as their practitioners are qualified. And certainly they must be qualified by examination, before presenting themselves to the public.

In the last 30 years, millions of eye examinations have been made by licensed optometrists practicing under trade names in optometric offices throughout the state — and under laws passed by the Legislature. The quality of eye-care service has not been impaired; on the contrary, the trade-name firms have adopted practices which have held down the cost of eye examinations and spectacles, thus permitting thousands in lower-income brackets to have more efficient sight.

Passage of the two bills now before the Legislature will not change the situation which has existed for 30 years. The bills merely affirm the intent of the legislative body to permit practice of optometry in one or more offices and under a trade name if so desired. —Dallas News

WHO NEEDS WHAT?

A friend of ours visited a small city on our East coast some time ago, and in the window of a rather substantial retail store he saw the following thought-provoking sign: "This store does not advertise. This savings goes to my customers. The newspaper owners have big houses and yachts. They don't need my money."

That challenging prose, relayed to us by our friend, set us to thinking, first off, trying to recall how many newspaper publishers we know who go down to the sea in yachts.

Offhand, not a one came to mind. One or two that we know have big houses to hold big families and mortgages equally big. But hardly any yachts.

That last line of the sign was the most interesting: "They don't need my money."

This kind of perverted thinking crops up sometimes — the notion that advertising is a form of personal charity, that those poor slaving devils down at the paper always have the lights on and are forever pecking a typewriter, or running some machine or other, or hauling papers to the post office, or sweeping out, and hence fall into some category such as the Salvation Army, the Red Cross or the United Fund. And for the same reason.

Well, things do get tough all over now and then, but they're never so desperate that anyone should advertise because he considers it a form of philanthropy.

That, you may be sure, is not the reason that the giants of American industry spend millions of dollars every year in advertising. The only need involved, as they see it, is theirs. These big and successful companies are not philanthropic agencies. When they spend money they insist on getting a good return for it. And they know that they get it through newspaper advertising.

That fellow with the ridiculous sign in his window may learn that, too — if he stays in business long enough.

Somehow we just doubt that he will survive that long unless, of course, he is enjoying some source of income that doesn't show. Like some family philanthropy, maybe? —Winnsboro, La., Sun.

STAY OUT OF IT

Where does America's self-interest lie in the conflict between Communist Russia and Communist China? There are signs of growing propaganda to "take advantage" of the situation by forging closer American ties with Russia. Why? Because Russia is a "White Western" rather than a "colored eastern" nation? Nonsense!

Now is the time to apply the lesson we should have learned from World War II. Just as we should have stood aside and let Soviet Russia and Hitler Germany bleed each other white, thus removing both of them as world powers and threats to peace; just so, reason and self-interest dictate that we should stay out of this one, too. If the two communist bureaucrats want to fight and the people of the two countries are stupid enough to be so used, let them. No one has appointed the United States as policeman to the world. —Colorado Springs Gazette

ONE FOR THE BOOKS

According to The San Francisco Chronicle the Richmond (Cal.) school district has requested a state grant of $200,000 to finance a new program for students who do poorly in math. The grant would pay for airplane rides for 50 to 60 ninth graders from low income homes, during which they would learn about air speed, altitude, wind direction, rate of fuel consumption etc.

This is a most exciting program. At over $3,000 per pupil there should be enough funds for intensive instruction. For example, the plane could whip over to Reno where students could be staked, first in crap games, where they would quickly learn to count to 12, then to the black jack boards where their math would extend to 21, and finally to the roulette tables where they could go in to 36 plus zero and double-zero.

The same results, of course, could be achieved by clocking the teacher walking across the classroom floor at 4 mph, observing the fuel consumption in a three-mile trip on the school bus, and taking a bearing on a balloon in a windstorm.

But let's not be stodgy. —Tulsa Tribune.

Margaret Kralicke Wins in Kiwanis Talent in Review

Margaret Kralicke, sophomore at Sacred Heart High School, was one of the top winners in the Gainesville Kiwanis Club's annual Talent in Review presentation Friday night at Gainesville High School Auditorium. She won third place honors.

Miss Kralicke, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Martin Kralicke, did a dramatic reading from the play, "A Patch of Blue." Sister Rose, speech and drama instructor, accepted the twenty-five dollar check for Sacred Heart Home-School Society which sponsored the entry.

Talented Cooke County young people were seen in 23 acts. Muenster was represented also by Misses Linda Rohmer and Janie Fleitman of Sacred Heart High.

The show featured vocal and instrumental solos, singing ensembles, dramatic readings, bands, dancing numbers and others.

A boys' quartet sponsored by Edison PTA of Gainesville won first place and a band from Gainesville High School, sponsored by the Band Boosters, was second.

Red Gordon, master of ceremonies, presented the checks of $100, $50 and $25.

Mrs. Don Flusche Is New President Of VFW Auxiliary

Mrs. Don Flusche is the new president of Muenster VFW Auxiliary, favored by members at their April meeting Monday night. She succeeds Mrs. Ray Walterscheid who held the office two years.

Other new officers are Mrs. Thomas Hesse, senior vice president, Mrs. Dink Hudspeth, junior vice president, Mrs. Jerry Hoenig, conductress and Mrs. Arthur Bayer, three-year trustee.

Returned to office for another year are Mrs. Frank Felderhoff, treasurer; Mrs. Al Walter, chaplain, and Mrs. Emmet Fette, guard, Holdover trustees are Mrs. Joe Sicking and Mrs. John Fleitman.

The new president appointed Mrs. Robert Hammer as her secretary and will fill other appointive offices before the May meeting when officers are installed.

Another highlight of the evening was having Mrs. Pat Lester of Lewisville, District I president, as a guest. It was her annual official visit with members.

She conducted a school of instructions after business. Holding a school of instructions is the honor roll requirement for April.

Refreshment hostesses Mmes. Jerry Hoenig and Wylie Lewis served a cold buffet and Mrs. Don Flusche won the door prize.

Garden Club Sees Demonstration on Hanging Baskets

Muenster Civic League and Garden Club members, meeting Monday night, saw a demonstration on making hanging baskets, the organization's horticulture project this year.

The demonstration was presented by Harvey Woolfolk of Proffer - Woolfolk Nursery, Gainesville. Mrs. Dick Cain and Mrs. Oscar Detten were co-hostesses at the Cain home.

The program was presented on the patio where Mr. Woolfolk displayed baskets of several sizes and materials along with plants and proceeded to make several while members watched. Some members made their own baskets during the demonstration. Others took supplies home.

Members moved inside for the business session and had a break for refreshments of cookies, pink punch and coffee served by the hostesses from a pretty table carrying out a pink theme.

Mrs. Earl Fisher, president, presided for business which was brief and routine. Members reported on their April 8 tour of the Botanic Gardens attended by the local group joined by a group of Gainesville women.

It was announced that Mrs. T. S. Myrick will be program chairman of the May meeting discussing "Planting, Care and Varieties of Caladiums." Miss Bettye Dodds and Mrs. R. R. Endres will be co-hostesses.

Members were reminded to bring suggestions for the new yearbook to the May meeting.

Twenty members and one guest, Mrs. Frank Yosten, attended and Mrs. Detten won the door prize, a finished basket through courtesy of Mr. Woolfolk.

Many people say they are for fiscal reform but actually what they mean is that they are for any type of reform that will decrease their own taxes and increase their neighbors.

The proper way, the only way, we can improve the moral climate of America is for each individual to start improving himself.

An optimist is a father who will let his son take the new car on a date. A pessimist is one who won't. A cynic is one who did.

Jaycee Banquet

for membership in the Jaycees. Those receiving the pins were Walter Grewing, Kenneth Selby, Tommy Knabe, Ralph Donnell and Dan Luke.

Guest speaker of the program was Alonzo Jamison, representative of Cooke and Denton Counties in the Texas Legislature. He talked about proposed legislation by a committee on which he serves to tackle the problem of juvenile delinquency in Texas. Some expected recommendations he said, are to demand restitution for damages, hold parents responsible in more cases, prescribe punishment in more cases, improve probation methods to keep a better check on offenders, and reduce school dropouts by avoiding subject assignments beyond a student's ability.

Jamison also mentioned the Legislature's effort to improve traffic safety. Some recommendations along that line were increase of minimum age for driver license, take away licenses from old people who are unable to drive, increase the number of patrolmen and impose stiffer penalties for repeat traffic offenders. Jerry Hoenig was master of ceremonies directing the program. The invocation was given by Rev. Larry Taylor and the welcome by Mayor Earl Fisher.

Dr. Larry Tisdale introduced guests. Henry Weinzapfel presented awards. Bill Sutherland, state vice-president, presented the Key man award and installed officers. President-Elect Francis Fisher talked about the coming year's plans and Richard Pagel ended the program by leading the recitation of the Jaycee Creed. Gerald Payne provided organ music during the meal and more organ numbers with singing on the program.

After the church services the Muenster group went to see the movie, "A Man for All Seasons," which won six Oscars Monday night at the 39th Academy Awards. It is the story of the martyred St. Thomas More, a story of a man's struggle with his conscience.

In the Callisburg game the Tigers scored all of their 13 runs in the first three innings and coasted to an easy win. The visitors got 1 in the third and 4 in the sixth.

PREVENT FIRES ...it's your job, too!

From The Senate Hall...

by Ralph Hall
State Senator

RULE CHANGE? — In the Senate last week, I introduced a bill that will hopefully change the present rule concerning eligibility requirements for participation in Texas Interscholastic League contests. Under my bill, neither a person nor his school forfeits eligibility to participate in Interscholastic League events if the person changes schools because he is the child of a member of the U.S. Armed Forces, a member of the Texas Legislature, of a clergyman, if he is transferred from one school district to another by court order.

I know of many instances where a fine young athlete is denied opportunity to participate in sporting events merely because his family had moved from one school district to another. If passed, my bill will somewhat alleviate this situation. These youngsters need — more than ever before — to have the outlet of their energies on the athletic field.

THE GOVERNOR SIGNED the city sales tax bill last Wednesday. This bill had a long hard road to travel to Gov. Connally's office; opponents of the bill staged a 22 hour filibuster in the Senate before it was passed. Although, I would vote against a city sales tax in my home city, I am willing to give all of our fine city officials the right to call an election — and let the people themselves make the decision at the polls.

PAY RAISE — The Senate Education Committee, on which I serve as Vice-chairman, unanimously recommended to the floor the Texas

State Teacher Association pay raise request. The measure would give the public school teachers an average raise $775 annually. The education of our children is one of our greatest responsibilities and the qualified public school teacher is worth a lot more than money. These people are hard working and dedicated to their profession, and I think they greatly deserve the requested pay raise, which merely brings Texas up to the national average.

THE APPROPRIATIONS BILL was presented to the Senate Finance Committee for approval last week. The subcommittee recommended a biennial appropriations totaling $4.7 billions from all funds to finance the operations of the State government for 1968-69. The bill passed out of committee, but I voted against it. The immediate and compelling reason for my action was the failure of the subcommittee to approve the appropriation for the new construction at the Gainesville School for Girls. I plan to do my best to have this provision incorporated in the final bill.

CROPS PROFIT NOTEBOOK

Did You Use Enough Fertilizer in 1966?

By: T. R. Cox, Chief Agronomist
 Cyanamid Agricultural Research Center,
 Princeton, N. J.

Many farmers are still asking this question as they make final plans for fertilizing their 1967 crops. It's an important question and deserves most careful answering. If production per acre in 1966 fell short of the profitable yields that should have been made, what was lacking? What should be added to correct deficiencies noted and to supply total plant food required to reach top yield goals in 1967?

While there is still time, sit down with 1966 records, soil test data, and a sharp pencil for some final figuring. In this job, the crop observations made during the past growing season by your county agent or fertilizer dealer or by your own experienced eye should not be overlooked. The most important step in judging a fertilizer program on a particular soil is to observe the performance of crops on each field from "pop-up" right through the season until yield is measured.

How much fertilizer is it profitable to use, assuming high yielding varieties, weed control, and other factors are optimum? Our most practical farm management experts say it generally pays to apply a bit too much than to undershoot. Dr. S. A. Barber of Purdue recently cited results for a particular situation where net income was reduced by $5 per acre—from $51 to $46—by applying 25% less than the optimum amount of fertilizer. Over-shooting the optimum rate reduced net income only slightly, to $50 per acre. This example emphasizes that fertilizer is one of your most reasonably priced inputs. You are dollars ahead by putting on too much rather than too little.

High yields remove large amounts of plant food. A 50-bushel/acre crop of soybeans contains 280 pounds N, 70 pounds P₂O₅, and 120 pounds K₂O—plus substantial amounts of secondary and micronutrients. (Most of the N is "fixed" by the plant.) A corn crop yielding 150 bushels contains 235 pounds N, 90 pounds P₂O₅, and 185 pounds K₂O. What the soil is unable to supply, based on that important soil test, must be applied in the plow-down, starter, or side-dressed fertilizers.

What yields are you shooting for in 1967—in view of 1966 and past experience on your acres? Now is the time to make sure the fertilizer and lime needed will be in the ground to do the job.

Agronomists at American Cyanamid Company say you are dollars ahead to put on too much rather than too little fertilizer. Fertilizer is one of your most reasonably priced inputs.

FHA Aid Available To Rural Families
 Of Higher Income

Application for insured housing loans are now being accepted from Texas rural families in all income groups. State Director, L. J. Cappelman of the Farmers Home Administration said today. Until recently funds were only available for families with low and moderate incomes.

Mr. Cappelman said home financing for families of above-moderate income, can be resumed by the agency under a new allocation of lending authority granted by President Johnson. A Presidential order March 17 authorized the agency to insure $25 million more in housing loans to families of the upper income group between now and June 30.

All rural FHA housing loans may run for a maximum of 33 years, and may cover the cost of a minimum adequate homesite as well as home construction. Current interest rates are 5% for borrowers in the low and moderate income groups, and 6 percent plus one-half of a percent mortgage insurance charge for those in the above-moderate income group.

Farmers Home Administration insured loan funds are provided by banks and other private lenders and investors, with the government's insurance endorsement guaranteeing their repayment.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Given by FHA Chapter Girls

Members of Muenster High Future Homemakers of America Chapter entertained their mothers at the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet Thursday night, April 6.

This is the year's highlight for FHA girls and came during National FHA Week. Much planning and preparation went into the event. The girls themselves cooked the meal.

Theme of the banquet was "April Showers." Colorful small umbrellas decorated each table and miniature umbrellas were attached to nut cups, tulips in bright green pots were the floral complement for tables. Yellow tulips "in a shower" were arranged on the wall to form a backdrop.

Members providing entertainment were Debbie Russell, Betty Knabe and Shirley Klement singing "April Showers," "Tiptoe Through the Tulips," and "Yes, My Darling Daughter." Miss Bettye Dodds accompanied on the piano.

Nine members who completed work for junior and chapter degrees received their certificates: Rose Ann Sicking, Pam Stoffels, Sandra Sloan, Christy Cler, Sandra Fette, Kathy Sicking, and Clellene Streng, junior degrees, and Susie Yosten and Becky McElreath, chapter degrees.

Doris Lutkenhaus who will receive her state degree at the state FHA meeting later this month was recognized.

Pioneer Promoter Of Chisholm Trail In Hall of Fame

OKLAHOMA CITY—Joseph G. McCoy, pioneer promoter of the Chisholm Trail, has been elected to the National Cowboy Hall of Fame it was announced here today at the annual Western Heritage Awards Dinner.

McCoy, born in 1837, was an Illinois livestock broker who helped Texans rebuild their economy after the Civil War. He died in 1915.

During wartime (1861-1865) Texas cattle had greatly increased yet Texas had no market, so long cattle drives were necessary in order that a $5 longhorn could be sold to northern markets for $25 to $30.

McCoy founded the first adequate cattle market for Texans by securing cattle cars and building loading pens at the railroad in Abilene, Kansas.

This was near the upper end of the trail started by Indian scout and trader, Jesse Chisholm, and used by Texans on drives through Oklahoma to Kansas. McCoy also had part of the Chisholm Trail, best known of several Texas cattle trails, surveyed and marked to aid cattlemen.

Some 10,000,000 cattle were driven from Texas during the years, 1866 to 1884, in one of the greatest mass movements of animals under the control of man in the history of the world.

In December 1872, the M.K.T. Railroad reached Denison, Texas giving the state its own shipping point for cattle. McCoy moved to Denison in 1873 and helped establish the Atlantic and Texas Refrigerating Company to benefit ranchers by shipping dressed beef.

Earlier this year, McCoy was honored by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee in commemorative ceremonies at Denison with the erection of an official Texas Historical Marker.

Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas are participating this year in the official Centennial celebration of the Chisholm Trail. The Texas Chisholm Trail Centennial Commission is headed by A. Roger Conger of Waco.

NEXT YEAR HE WILL BE READING

Next year he will want his own reading lamp. Next year he will need an extra waffle at breakfast, too, and there will be school clothes to be ironed. All of this will require more electricity, which is why demand doubles every eight years in rural areas.

In 1948 the average family served by the rural electric cooperative used 150 kilowatt hours of electricity per month. Today, this same family requires 450 kilowatt hours.

To stay ahead of this demand BRAZOS ELECTRIC POWER COOPERATIVE of Waco and COOKE COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE are continually upgrading their electric systems, Brazos for generation and transmission, COOKE COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE for distribution.

BRAZOS ELECTRIC POWER COOPERATIVE provides electricity that is distributed by COOKE COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE and 18 other member-owned cooperatives to more than 200,000 people in the Brazos River Watershed. Together they are Helping Texas Grow.

another good one. Reds can't be trusted. They have reminded us many times that they are dedicated to our defeat, and they have shown us many times that they will stoop to treachery when it serves their purpose.

We have good reason to be afraid of buying generators from the Soviets. Afraid that the job would be deliberately sabotaged by defective material and workmanship. If this seems like an ugly accusation just remember that the Reds have an undisputed reputation as double crossers. We have no reason whatever to think that they can be trusted on this deal.

Other vital and valid reasons can be given for refusing to expand trade with Russia — or carrying on any trade at all. Such as: why help those who send war supplies to kill our troops in Vietnam? Or why sustain the enemy whose goal is to destroy us? That seems especially silly after we have seen so many times that communism can't survive without our help. So, why not stop the help and let the evil system die of its own weakness? Millions of good people now under the red yoke would appreciate our doing just that.

How many people do you know who give more than they receive?

If there's one thing that upsets my wife, it's having people drop in when the house looks the way it always does.

Psychology tells us that it is had to be an orphan, terrible to be an only child, damaging to be the youngest, crushing to be the middle, and taxing to be the oldest. There's no way out except to be born an adult.

Moster Attends Lab Course on Sewer Operation

Steve Moster, water and sewer superintendent for the City of Muenster, spent Monday through Friday of last week attending a sewer laboratory course conducted by the Engineering Extension Service of Texas A&M University at the Connally Technical Institute in Waco.

The course was given for supervisors and workers of city sewer systems and its purpose was to teach techniques in testing the effects of sewage treatment as well as the methods of treatment under various conditions. The course is one of the outgrowths of recent efforts to reduce stream pollution by more thorough treatment of sewage.

An added feature of Moster's trip was a visit with Mayor E. H. O'Dowd and inspection of the Robison, Texas, sewer plant near Waco. Moster said that city is experimenting with a sewage treatment plant similar to those in use in Sweden and is having very satisfactory results.
