VOLUME XXXI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 NOVEMBER 3, 1967

NUMBER 50

Answering a popular demand for less spending rather than more tax, President Johnson suggested a few weeks ago that the federal highway program be slashed fifty per cent.

Then the governor made a remark which puzzles and worries us. "It is somewhat difficult for us to understand how a reduction in expenditures for highways financed from the trust fund for which taxes on motorists have already been levied would be of any advantage to the balance of the federal budget. It is assumed that there would be no corresponding reductions in highway user taxes to balance the reduction in federal and highway expenditures. If such tax reduction is contemplated, it would be possible for the states to add such levies to their tax programs to keep the state economy in balance."

Logic like that seems unbeatable. It's generally understood that federal highway funds come from the federal tax we pay on motor fuel and should have no bearing whatever on the federal budget. On the other hand if the highway program is curtailed the tax should be reduced proportionately. As Connally sees it, either the state is due the money or motorists are due a lower rate. It's that simple.

But LBJ's suggestion did not read that way. He gave the impression that the highway appropriation is part of the overall national budget, not, as we've been told, a separate fund acquired by taxing motorists.

The situation seems to be very similar to our social security situation. In both systems we were told that our remittance went only to a certain fund and would be used only for a certain purpose. However social security hasn't been operating that way. Uncle Sam took the money, used it as he pleased, and the fund now has nothing but IOUs. Can someone assure us that the highway fund hasn't been used the same way?

Our guess is that the highway fund is flat broke and LBJ was only facing reality when he suggested the highway budget slash. Our guess, furthermore, is that the entire country faces an economic breakdown unless the right people soon muster the common sense and courage to halt our inflationary spiral. There must be a reduction of deficit spending with its absurdity of a constantly increasing national debt. We are presently more than $330 billion in the red. Our annual interest bill is greater than the entire cost of government used to be.

In the President's current hassle with Congress he demands a 10 per cent increase of income tax, because he declines to cut any part of his Great Society program. Congress told him to slice the program instead. "You do it," said LBJ, and it's not being sliced, not yet, at least in the Senate. Too many of those guys are like LBJ himself. They appreciate the vote-buying power of appropriations. Each one zealously stands up for his own pork barrel project. In the end they go in cahoots and pass the pork around to everyone. And the taxpayer gets the bill, of course.

One of the facts that burns us up is the president's remark that his proposed 10 per cent additional tax will reduce this year's deficit from about $29 billion to $20 billion. In other words our government has budgeted to spend about $129 billion, but has only $100 billion of revenue in sight, and now asks for an estimated $9 billion from us taxpayers as a buffer against the financial disaster he is inviting.

Even so, the resulting deficit of $20 billion cannot be defended. There is no reason for any government going into the red while it has been favored with prosperity. There has been no excuse during the past twenty years why our debt should grow and grow while the nation's economy got better and better. What's going to happen if hard times hit and tax revenues take a

Four Parishes Join to Honor Christ the King

Several hundred persons from the four Catholic parishes of Cooke County assembled in Muenster Sunday for joint services of tribute to Christ the King.

As a climax to the ceremony Bishop Augustine Danglmayr imparted the special papal blessing which had been delegated to him by His Holiness the Pope on the 25th anniversary of his consecration Nov. 7, 1967. Father Alcuin Kubis read the pope's congratulatory message for the anniversary. Bishop Danglmayr also gave the Benediction with the Blessed Sacrament following recitation of the Litany of Sacred Heart and dedication to Christ the King by Father Alcuin.

The celebration began with a procession of three blocks from Muenster Hospital to Sacred Heart Church. Along with members of the four parishes were their pastors, Fathers Alcuin Kubis, Benedict Buegler and Andrew Wewer of Muenster, Fathers Thomas Taaffe and Robert Grant of Gainesville, Father John Walbe of Lindsay and Father Anthony Gajda of Valley View. Also there were nuns of Muenster, Lindsay and Gainesville.

Altar boys were escorts and Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus were honor guards for the Blessed Sacrament, which was carried by Father Benedict under a canopy carried by parish committeemen. Rosary was recited during the procession. Bishop Danglmayr's chaplains for the occasion were Father Alcuin and Father Taaffe.

The march ended on the church lawn in front of the rectory porch, where a special altar had been erected. A sudden arrival of blustery weather caused some inconvenience and difficulty in hearing the sermon, which was given by Father Benedict.

He referred to three processions. The profession of faith and tribute in which those present were participating. Christ's triumphant into Jerusalem, to be followed a few days later by a clamor for His blood. And the everlasting procession of All Saints, whose feast is commemorated on November 1.

Those saints have attained final and eternal success, Father Benedict said, because they accepted Christ as their king and lived faithfully by the laws of His Eternal Kingdom.

Fired-up Kats Of Gainesville B Trim Tigers 15-6

The Kats, B stringers of Gainesville High, were the winners of a tough struggle last Thursday night in Leeper Stadium. The score was 15-6, but the game was closer. Gainesville's boys led 206-168 in total yardage and 14-12 in first downs. The Kats made all of their yardage on ground plays, the Tigers made 143 of theirs on passes.

The big difference of the game was wrapped up in the final plays of the two halves. Just before intermission Sacred Heart missed an opportunity for a TD. It was fourth down with 6 inches to go when time ran out.

Ending the last half, the Kats made good on their effort. Two seconds were left on the clock when they kicked a field goal.

Opening the game Sacred Heart had to kick on its first series and so did Gainesville B. Then Sacred Heart got two first downs and kicked. Gainesville made three and kicked. Another exchange of kicks ended the first quarter.

The next period was very similar as neither team was able to keep a drive. Best effort of each was to get two first downs in a row.

Just before the end Sacred Heart spirits soared with a beautiful 50 yard pass from Lee Roy Hess to Tom Hess setting the Tigers up on the 5. Three tries from there failed to score by only 6 inches and the period ended before the fourth try could be made.

The second half started as more of the same, then broke open explosively when Dreake Manuel made a sensational 83 yard punt return for a touch-

Tigers Will Meet Chargers of Big D Hornets Are Idle

The football fare for the weekend in Muenster is confined to a single contest, but it has possibilities of a real dandy.

The Tigers of Sacred Heart will meet the powerful Chargers of Dallas Christian in a contest that promises to produce thrills for the local homecoming crowd.

Earlier this season the Big D outfit gave a rough idea of its ability by stomping Muenster High's Hornets 44-0. According to performers to date they are due to have much more trouble with the Tigers. But how much more? That's the big question.

Coach Tom Williams is confident his Tigers can turn the trick. He likes their spirit in this week's practice, which may have been sharpened somewhat by their loss last week. And all are in good shape physically.

The Hornets have an open date this week preceding their big test at Era next week and the season finale with Saint Jo a week later.

Gala Homecoming Awaits SH Alumni

They'll be rolling out the red carpet and putting out the welcome mat, rain or shine, come Saturday for Sacred Heart High School's Homecoming celebration. It will be a happening. That's what students and members of the Alumni Association indicated this week as they completed final plans for the event.

The homecoming crowd will see the Tigers and Dallas Christian in battle, will witness royal ceremonies in which a football queen is crowned, and will have a choice of two bands for dancing as the grand finale.

In addition, ex-students will get together for a reunion buffet, and a program for which Father Benedict will be master of ceremonies. Honored graduates this year are those of 1947 and 1957. They will receive complimentary tickets to the football game and dance. All ex-students are invited to the reunion buffet. There will be no charge. Mrs. Joe Lehnertz is catering. This event beginning at 6 p.m. is the program opener.

On the official record .26 inch of that was measured Wednesday morning hence is listed for November. Total for the year to now is 25.42 inches, about 4 or 5 inches below normal reading. October's reading was 2 inches.

3 Young People Die in Accident

Two youths of Lindsay and one of Gainesville died instantly about 12:10 a.m. Sunday in a tragic accident on Highway 82 1.5 miles east of Muenster.

They were Joe Ray Kupper, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kupper of Lindsay, Rosa Lee Fuhrmann, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Fuhrmann, Rt. 2, Gainesville, and Sam Ash McLemore, 20, of 1009 Lindsay St., Gainesville. McLemore was a student of Cooke County Junior College, the other two were students of Lindsay High School.

The accident report given by Highway Patrolman George

King stated that the Lindsay youths were in a pickup headed west and McLemore was in a car headed east. The two vehicles collided head-on in the west-bound traffic lane. All three of the victims were dead when the patrolman arrived. Their vehicles were demolished and jammed together so tightly they had to be pulled apart by wreckers.

Funeral services with Requiem Mass for Joe Ray Kupper and Rosa Lee Fuhrmann were held separately Monday at 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. respectively, at St. Peter's Church in Lindsay, with Father John Walbe officiating. Each service was followed by burial in Lindsay cemetery under direction of Geo. J. Carroll & Son Funeral Home.

Bearers for Kupper were Leo and Ferd Haverkamp, Wayne Luttmir, Phillip and Tommy Kupper and Michael Fuhrmann. Bearers for Miss Fuhrmann were Kenneth Zimmerer, Paul Devers Jr., Mark and Paul Fuhrmann, Earl Koelzer Jr. and David Stoffels.

Joe Ray Kupper, born July 9, 1951, is survived by his parents; three sisters, Mary Beth, Rose Ann and Linda Grace, all of the home; and maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John J. Haverkamp of Muenster.

Rosa Lee Fuhrmann, born April 27, 1952, is survived by her parents; three brothers, David, Roy Lee and Donald Ray of the home; three sisters, Debora, Donna and Shirley of the home; paternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Matt Fuhrmann of Lindsay; and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Jewel Jacobs of Gainesville.

Funeral services for Sam McLemore were held 3 p.m. Sunday at Vernie Keel Funeral Home Chapel, Gainesville, with Dr. Harry Roark officiating. The body was taken to Corpus Christi for further service and burial. A native of Corpus Christi, he was living with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas McLemore in Gainesville while attending Cooke County Junior College.

Expansion Begins At Dress Factory

A move by the Jr. Elite sewing factory to its new location in the building formerly occupied by Raden Mfg. Co. was completed during the past weekend and its expansion has begun.

Mrs. Ola Roberg, manager, said that 65 were on the payroll before and five more have been signed since the move. With loads of work in sight, the plant has immediate openings for at least thirty more. That's assuming that the usual percentage of them are inexperienced, she said. If more are experienced, and less supervision and instruction are required, the plant could use considerably more workers now. It can get plenty of jobs for them to do.

The intention is to increase the factory's payroll to 150 as soon as the training schedule permits.

Hornets Hold in Hot Finale, Edge Valley View 14-13

The Hornets of Muenster High gave fans their second strain of the season Friday night when they came through with a 14-13 upset of the favored Valley View Eagles.

It all depended on one play. After a magnificent comeback for a touchdown late in the fourth, the Eagles were trailing 14-13. The conversion attempt would decide whether they would win or lose by a point. Speedster David Blair got the assignment and headed for left end, and was hit by a swarm of Hornets.

The game was a classic all the way and statistics were almost as close as the score. Muenster led slightly in first downs and net gains. Muenster made its gains on the ground, Valley View in the air.

The Hornets made a fine start after stopping their visitors on the first series. Gains of 6 and 3 by Don Hartman and Herbie Sicking plus 32 on a pass from John Monday to Mark Hellman reached Valley View's 22. Then the effort ended abruptly in a fumble.

The rest of the quarter was a defensive deadlock. Muenster got two scattered first downs and Valley View got one.

A fumble by Muenster as the second quarter opened sparked the Eagles' first touchdown. Passes of 24 yards and 20 yards were the big gainers and Blair made the last two (Continued on page 8)

AND WE CAN'T TOUCH THEM

On May 29, 1967, while aboard the aircraft carrier USS Enterprise off the coast of Vietnam, a reporter filed the following dispatch:

"There are 18 foreign ships in Haiphong harbor tonight. At this moment, while we sit here in the Tonkin Gulf, they are being unloaded. And we can't touch them!"

"The volume of hostile shipping into Haiphong goes up with each passing month. April set the record to date. More than 50 foreign ships brought in more than 100,000 tons of war supplies. They carried SAM surface-to-air missiles, artillery, rockets, jet fuel and other sinews of war, without which the North Vietnamese could not carry on."

Three days after this dispatch appeared in the press, the Defense Department released its weekly report of American casualties in Vietnam—a report which showed the toll of dead and wounded for the previous week was the highest yet recorded in that bloody war.

And the ships in Haiphong harbor, immune from attack on orders from Washington, unload their deadly cargoes—"without which the North Vietnamese could not carry on."

MAO OF THE AMERICANS'

While the United States has reason to be disappointed that the Organization of American States did not take stronger united action against Castro we ourselves may be part of the reason. This Lilliputian tyrant seems an invincible giant to too many Latin Americans precisely because of the Bay of Pigs fiasco plus our apparent inability since to effectively oppose him. As a matter of fact, our CIA regularly harasses and frustrates the efforts of those free Cubans who do oppose him. We regularly spy upon leaders, confiscate vessels, upset anti-Castro plots and generally work to make sure that none of the Cuban exiles here do anything against the Castro regime. We are his chief protector in this hemisphere.

Should we try instead the pathway of commitment and courage, should we support those Cuban exiles who dream of ultimate overthrow of this brutal police-state by the Cuban people, it might well be the case that the bankrupt government of that troubled land could yet be overthrown and without the military participation of a single United States soldier.

One thing is certain. In the vastness of his ego and the sickness of his mind, Fidel Castro sees himself as the Mao or the Lenin of the Americas. If he has his way, there will be no peace in this hemisphere, or any freedom. He is committed to the subversion, overthrow, and control of every government in the Americas, including our own. Firm, concerted and decisive action sooner or later must be taken to make sure that this remains the insane, impossible dream of a Cuban madman.

KICKING THE NEWS AROUND

Well, with the World "Serious" just past, folks have forgotten what the President said in his recent speech. He gave us some good news—the country was never more prosperous, etc., etc. Then he gave us the bad news—we're going to have to dig up more taxes to support his long time war and carry out his Great Society Program.

Reminded me of the story of an Indian chief whose people had gotten into about the same shape we are. A two-year drought had hit his territory. The tribe was growing restless, so the chief gathered them together. The squaw chorus sang, "Hail to the Chief."

"I bring you news both bad and good" said the Chief. "The Great Spirit has withheld the rains. The grass has died, the corn has withered, the buffalo has gone where the grass is green. We have nothing left to live on but the chips the buffalo left."

The old chief paused to wipe a tear from his eye, and a young warrior shouted, "What about the good news?"

"Well, we have plenty of buffalo chips, haven't we?" said the chief.

Don't ask me how the story ended, but I understand the tribe elected a new chief and a medicineman who knew the latest rain dance. What about the old chief? He disappeared in the gathering dusk—carrying his pet dog by the ears.

TOO BAD

Drop City is a community of 122 adult hippies and 13 children, if there is a difference. For some time they have been receiving Colorado Welfare Department food stamps. No longer.

Pointing out that the stamps are intended to raise the level of nutrition among low income families, and the most of Drop City's residents are university graduates and quite capable of work, the Department said "no more."

The hippies' plaintive reply is that this is equivalent to saying they don't have the right to be poor. "We feel we have the constitutional right to live and work as we choose," they say.

So they do. They even have the right to starve, if they don't want to work for food. It is typical of the Love Generation's phonies that they expect the taxpayers to subsidize their laziness.

NOT CONSENSUS

Nobody, to our knowledge, has made a precise tally of the number of times President Johnson has used the word "consensus" in describing this or that decision of his administration. But he has certainly used the term often enough to establish that one word, consensus, as hallmark of his Great Society.

And therein lies a tragedy, for the simple reason that no consensus is possible when very great segments of our society do not express opinions—out of fear.

Nobody is more mindful of this fear and resulting silence than the working newspaperman.

The reporter, for example, who attends a convention of manufacturers somewhere this month, and tries to get a roundup of opinion as to what the strike in the automobile industry will mean to the economy, will get the silent treatment. "Don't quote me," will be the three little words he will hear most often.

Prominent businessmen don't want Big Brother retaliating, almost never will they permit their names to be used. Many will not even comment anonymously.

The newspaperman at a farm convention faces the same problem. Washington pretty effectively controls the agricultural economy of this country. Who wants to be quoted publicly, when a whole army of Department of Agriculture agents can disrupt or destroy?

True, the bearded beatniks on our campuses speak out, as do many of their "compassionate" professors. But the men who run the schools? Probably not. There are juicy federal research contracts at stake.

The centralization of authority over every sector of our society serves to impose a silence upon the leadership of each sector. There are thousands of businessmen employing mil-opinion for fear of jeopardizing the government contracts they hold.

How, then, can there be a consensus, when important opinions are not even expressed? The silence which the system imposes in no way constitutes assent. If any substantial segment of our society is literally afraid to register an opinion publicly, then we are paying a high price for our "benevolent" bureaucracy. In such an atmosphere, consensus becomes nothing more than an echo chamber.

NO INSTANT SUCCESS

Surprise, surprise! The answer to the problems besetting the rioting Negro is a good job.

Everybody from Ivy League sociologists to presidential political hacks have come upon this answer as if struck by the sheerest inspiration.

The McCone Report on the Watts riot, for example, called for the establishment of "metropolitan councils" to find jobs for Negroes.

National Review magazine of August 22 publishes a report by Saul S. Friedman, a native Cleveland and veteran social worker in that city. He is familiar with the riot area since the days when the closest thing to a riot was a discussion of the Cleveland Indians baseball club.

"I believe," he says, "I can write with some candor on the problem of the Negro community in general."

A monstrous crash program was evolved in Cleveland's efforts to provide jobs for residents of the Negro area. Cooperating were a score of private and public agencies. A Negro social worker commented, "I can get a job for any person over 16 who wants one."

But, many of the workers were unskilled and they disdained what they called "flunky" jobs.

"Many unskilled Negroes," Friedman writes, "lacking high school educations, apparently resented the fact that once channeled (by some agency) to a job, they would not find themselves behind a mahogany desk with the grand-sounding title Digital-Computer Programmer."

This, then is the problem with all crash programs to create instant jobs, instant culture, instant skills, instant respect, instant prosperity.

Government edict and tons of money won't change a man's skills, prejudices, or ambitions overnight.

Individual application, pride, ambition, mixed with large portions of get-up-and-go, will. As the formula applies to the Negroes of riot torn areas, it applies, equally, to individuals of all races everywhere.

—Colorado Springs Gazette

Maybe they're accidental, maybe not, but we have spotted some unusual typographical slips lately. A recent magazine article referred to President Johnson's lush utopia as "the Great Society." A reference to a certain politician, with something to say on every subject, described him as a "gliberal." Somewhere else we ran across the spelling "intellectual," and that ornate cluster of buildings in Red Square was called the "Krumblin." We don't know if those items were noted, but they were passed.

Texas has 18.2 billion barrels of oil reserves—14.1 billion in crude oil; 4.1 billion from natural gas liquids.

Tax Is Top Item on Average Budget

Taxes cost more than any other item in the household budget, says Tax Foundation, Inc. Americans work 2 hours and 25 minutes of every 8-hour working day to meet Federal, state, and local taxes. More working time is required than last year; in fact, six additional minutes are needed to meet taxes in 1967.

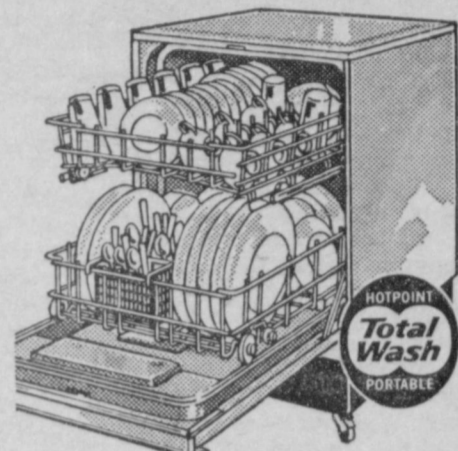

Other expenses include: housing and household operation, 1 hour 25 minutes; food and tobacco, 1 hour and 14 minutes; transportation 40 minutes; clothing, etc., 30 minutes; recreation 18 minutes; medical 21 minutes; all other 1 hour and six minutes.

Winners Named in Costume Contest Halloween Night

Wet weather on Halloween night didn't dampen the enthusiasm at Sacred Heart School's carnival in the Parish Hall. Children and their parents and other visitors milled around participating in games and other attractions and partaking of refreshments during the afternoon and evening.

Highlight of the carnival was the costume parade in two divisions won cash prizes. Making a choice among contestants was not an easy job according to judges Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Walterscheid and Mrs. Louis Roberg.

In the tiny tot division winners were Timmy Wolf, first, disguised as a grandma; Glenn Hess, second, as Humpty Dumpty; Beverly Trubenbach, third, representing a pumpkin.

In the other division winners were Margie Wolf, first, dressed as an old woman; Mark Hess, second, as Sambo; and Mary Lou Kralicke and Barbara Hess, third as Jack and Jill.

The annual event sponsored by Sacred Heart Home-School Society with roommothers in charge is a benefit. Proceeds went into the library fund.

Sister Andrew is back at Muenster Hospital after being in Little Rock to attend a meeting of the Arkansas State Board of Nursing. She is the only woman member of the board.

Miss Mary Kline of Dallas spent Friday and Saturday here dividing time between her nieces, Mrs. Walter Grewing and family at the home and Mrs. Clifford Trubenbach, a patient at Muenster Hospital.

Tigers

down. A pass for extra points after that failed to connect and the Kats led 6-0.

Sacred Heart responded promptly with a 74 yard drive to tie the score. Thirteen plays, mostly passes, made the distance, and the touchdown was an end run by Lee Roy Hess for 4 yards on a keeper play. A pass failed to make bonus points. The score was 6-6 just before the third period ended.

Gainesville's comeback was equally prompt. From hickoff they launched a 55 yard drive and made it in eight plays. Manuel's run for 30 was the big gain and Wright's scot over tackle for 3 was the scoring play. Another failure for bonus points left the count at 12-6.

The rest of the game saw some hard playing featuring two fumbles by the Kats and one by the Tigers and a pass interception by the Kats. The Kats got three scattered first downs the Tigers got none. Finally, with seconds left Gainesville sweetened its score with a field goal from the 12.

Shed at Grewing's Damaged by Fire

A fire of unknown origin at Richard Grewing's Wednesday afternoon caused damage of about $1,000 to a former poultry house, being used as a storage shed, and its contents. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

A number of pumps, electric motors and other oil field equipment were in the shed.

The fire started in the west part of the building and was well advanced when discovered shortly before 3 p.m. That room, about 20x20, was completely destroyed and most of the south wall was badly charred outside. A partition wall confined the inside fire until firemen arrived.

A second call for the fire department Wednesday, about 5:30 p.m. Herman Eberhart, about 6 miles west, reported a fire on the back porch and went on fighting it themselves. They had it out when firemen arrived.

Forestburg Hosts Halloween Party

Members of Forestburg Community Association sponsored the event as a benefit for a new piano in the building. Most of the party goes made a tour of the old building which has recently been restored by the organization. Seventy signed the guest book.

Winners in the costume parade were determined by audience applause. Mrs. Grace Scott won in the femme division and Timmy Cole of Saint Jo was first in the male division. He was an Indian chief. Mrs. Scott was an old-fashioned old lady.

A sing-song, table games and refreshments were other features of the evening.

Revised Rates on Veterans' Benefits Reported to CCJC

Cooke County Junior College counselor, Charles Smith, has received information regarding veterans educational benefits under a new law recently signed by President Johnson.

Educational assistance allowances for full-time courses have been increased from $100.00 to $130.00 per month for a single veteran, from $125.00 to $155.00 for a veteran with one dependent, and from $150.00 to $175.00 for two dependents with an additional $10.00 for each dependent in excess of two. Proportionately several allowances will be allowed for part-time training.

Full educational assistance allowances will be paid to "educationally disadvantaged" veterans so they can complete high school without reducing their eligibility for advanced educational benefits.

Children up to age of 23 of veterans who died or were permanently and totally disabled as the result of a service connected disability, or who died from any cause while qualifying for a permanent and total disability compensation, will become eligible for grants of $130.00 per month for four years of approved college or vocational training.

Mr. Charles Smith at Cooke County Junior College will be glad to explain these benefits to any veteran who wishes to enroll for courses at Cooke County Junior College. He may be reached by calling HO5-3476, extension 32.

Fifty Years of Soviet Goofs Told By Eugene Lyons

Eugene Lyons in his new book, Workers Paradise Lost, presents a balance sheet on fifty years of Soviet Communism.

Soviet agriculture farmed 75 per cent more crop land than the United States with four times as many farm workers, and produced less than half as much grain, for a population nearly one-fifth larger. One American farmer feeds himself and 27 others with a high-protein diet, while his Soviet counterpart feeds himself and four others with a seventy-five per cent starchy diet.

Soviet industry's construction plans for one region were changed 500 times in a single year. The Soviet Ministry of Lumber asked its client enterprises to fill out 118 different forms containing 400,000 indices. The Moscow Luchachev auto plant had to furnish evidence which amounted to 400 pounds of paper in order to obtain its annual supply of ball bearings.

Workers in the Zil auto plant in Moscow were commended for reducing the weight of the car by 100 kilograms, then had their wages clipped because the planned goals were set up in tons.

At the beginning of the 1960's most of the new housing in the U.S.S.R. still provided one room per family with a common kitchen for every three families. In Moscow and other primary cities the waiting period for a new apartment is five years. On bulletin boards one finds notices of "a corner" being wanted or offered for rent — and it refers quite literally to a corner of an occupied room.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

MUENSTER, TEXAS — Maroney-Thomas Construction Company of Seagoville, Texas, was the low bidder on Floodwater Retarding Structures Sites 7B and 9A Denton Creek Watershed. The bid for the two structures was $100,999.25.

Site 7B is located on C. A. Willis and J. W. McCall farm. Site 9A is located on H. C. Sockwell and W. T. Reynolds farm. Both sites are west of Forestburg, Texas.

These two structures are a part of the planned ten million dollar flood prevention program on Denton Creek. The flood prevention plan includes 85 floodwater retarding structures, 98 sediment control structures, 23 miles of diversion terraces, 2,077 acres to be seeded to native grass, 3,415 acres to be fenced and managed to improve the grass cover and 32 miles of channel improvement.

The primary purpose of the flood prevention program is to reduce floods and soil erosion. But there are many other uses. The lakes provide hunting, fishing, boating, swimming and picnicking areas for recreation. Also flood prevention eliminates flood damage to roads, bridges and private property.

Land Rights are secured by the local people. The Soil Conservation Service constructs the lakes. The project is maintained by the Upper Elm-Red and Denton-Wise Soil and Water Conservation Districts and the Commissioners Courts of Montague and Wise Counties.

Stored Gas Okay As Station Burns

An interesting postscript has been added to the story of the riots that took place in major American cities. Among the casualties were service stations and garages often located in highly congested areas. A press release from a leading oil company tells how a Detroit service station was looted and put to the torch on the first night of the riots in that city. It became a pile of blackened masonry and twisted steel crumpled on the charred remains of other equipment. But, the flames never reached the station's main stock in trade — the 16,000-gallon underground gasoline storage tanks.

The reason the stored gasoline did not ignite goes beyond the insulating effects of the ground. As the oil company release explained: "It's the nature of the fuel, which requires vast quantities of air to support fire. In nontechnical terms, the proper gasoline-air mixture for combustion has been described as 'gallon of gasoline in a silo.'"

There never has been a reported instance of fire in the underground storage tank of a service station in use. But, this does not lessen the need for caution around gasoline exposed to the air. Oil companies employ countless millions of dollars worth of equipment to store and transport their products safely to points of consumption throughout the world.

Birthday Honors For Mrs. Spaeth, 83

The 83rd birthday of Mrs. George Spaeth brought her family of four generations to her home in Lindsay Sunday afternoon to help her celebrate.

A huge cake, baked by a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Henry Spaeth, was covered with candles and centered with a sparkler. The cake was served with other refreshments after presentation of a shower of gifts to the honor guest.

Those present included Miss Frances Spaeth of Denison, Mrs. Walt Barry Jr. and son James and Mrs. David Forgey of Dallas, the Walter Haverkamp of Whitesboro, the Joe Kneppers, Henry Spaeths and Richard Schumachers of Gainesville, the Andy Schoechs, Arthur Felderhoffs, Lee Haverkamp and Wilfred Reiters and their families of Muenster.

Lindsay 8th Grade Has Class Meeting

At a regular meeting of the eighth grade class of Lindsay School, Robert Hundt, president presided, Brenda Beyer, secretary, called roll and read minutes of the previous meeting.

Beverly Gossett and Glenn Beyer were elected as recreational leaders for the next meeting. Old and new business was discussed and Suzy Bezner and Bill Duffy led recreation.

feet. Blair also kicked true on the extra point effort giving the Eagles a 7-0 lead.

For the rest of the period Muenster made a first down and kicked on the second series. So did Valey View. Muenster made two first downs and lost ground on the next series. Then Sicking intercepted an Eagle pass and an Eagle did the same to Muenster's.

After intermission the Hornets came back with their only sustained drive of the night. Four plays gained 27 to the 27. Four more reached the 15, and four plays after that Monday sig-zagged a very important gain that gave Muens-ter a first down a foot from the goal. Sicking made that on his first try and Hartman followed over for bonus points. The Hornets were ahead 8-7.

The rest of the quarter was a defensive scramble. Shortly after the final period opened Sicking quick kicked from midfield and got a favorable roll. Hellman killed it a foot from the goal. Three plays later Alexander tried a quick kick but found the traffic too heavy. He missed the ball completely and it was recovered on the 1 yard line by Muenster. Hellman went over from there on the next play. A run for extra points was short. The count was 14-7, still anybody's game.

The Eagles came back with their best effort of the night. After two first downs they fumbled on Muenster's 35. The Hornets made a first down and quick kicked on the second series setting the Eagles back to their 10.

With less than three minutes to go the Eagles went all the way in eight plays. Big gainers were runs of 29 and 16 by Blair and a pass from Alexander to Hill for 39 yards. Roeder scored from the 2 after which a stout defense on the conversion effort saved the game for Muenster. The clock read 1:18 at the time.

Hornet Reserves Lick Alvord 38-0

Muenster High Bees had another big night last Thursday romping to a 38-0 win over the second team boys of Alvord. They started with a fumble recovery by Clifford Sicking on the kickoff, after which he and Alcuin Schilling took turns on steady gains to the first TD. They used 8 tries for 42 yards and Dale Cash sneaked over for the last foot. Sicking followed over for extra points.

After allowing their visitors one first down and a kick the Bees started a 54 yard scoring drive. Schilling and Sicking shared the totting jobs again and Schilling's block set up an easy 16 yard touchdown run for Sicking. Schilling added the bonus points.

Early in the second quarter the Bees put on a similar drive for 63 yards. The scoring play on that one was a 32 yard sprint by Sicking around left end. Earl Koelzer scored the bonus points.

Later in the period they were going again but ran out of time on the 19. Early in the third Sicking ended a 56 yard drive with a 35 yard romp and Cash went over for 2 more points.

The rest of that period and about half of the fourth included fumbles that spoiled two of the Muenster drives. However a blocked kick gave the Hornet reserves their final score. Several Hornets rushed the kicker and the ball tumbled into the end zone where Johnny Schneider recovered it for an easy TD.

The Bees next game, possibly the last, will be with Whitesboro B on the MHS field next Thursday night. However Coach Richardson has an invitation out for another if an opponent can be found.

Can we pull through with credit as poor as ours?

The word is out that both LBJ and the Senate want to keep the spending program intact. Next year is election year and all are hoping that the voters back home will be grateful for the federal money that was delivered to them.

Well, maybe voters will reject the other way. Maybe they'll resent the tax and make lots of changes on the congressional roll.
