

PROTECTIVE HEADGEAR REQUIRED BEGINNING JANUARY 1, 1968—All motorcyclists and their passengers will be required by law to wear safety approved headgear whenever riding a motorcycle after the first of January. Headgear meeting Texas Department of Public Safety standards must bear a manufacturer's identification sticker on the back and reflective material on the sides (as shown in the photographs). A list of approved headgear may be seen at any police department, sheriff's office, Department of Public Safety office, or stores retailing motorcycle headgear.

"The next time they hold hearings in firearms regulations we hope someone will mention what happened in the Congo. Belgians there used to carry firearms for protection. Then the President, Joseph D. Mobutu, went in for firearms regulations in a big way. He forced Belgians to give up all the firearms; in fact, he confiscated them. Since that time, according to a press report, robbers have had a field day in Belgians' homes. Of course such a thing couldn't happen here. We are, after all, a law-abiding people."

Hard minerals found on one year's supply of water used in the average U.S. home could equal this 100 lb. rock! Virginia Gladstone, noted Laundrologist, measures this trouble maker which builds inside steam irons, cooking utensils, and automatic washers; and until now, were the 'grim facts of life.' A leading manufacturer has launched a research program to solve this problem and Colgate-Palmolive is introducing a product named Punch in the hard water states of Texas and Oklahoma which has been developed to help solve this rock-size problem in laundering caused by hard water.

Members of the Sherman Deanery National Council of Catholic Women met in Pilot Point for their quarterly meeting with members of St. Thomas Parish as hostesses and Msgr. Robert Forliti of Sherman as principal speaker. Forty women from the deanery attended.

An intermission followed the program and Pilot Point ladies served a buffet of finger foods, punch and coffee.

During the business session, parish council reports were given, members reported on the recent diocesan NCCW convention in Fort Worth, and new yearbooks were handed out.

Attending from Muenster were Mrs. Ted Greminger, Mrs. Edd McGannon, Mrs. Joe Felderhoff and Mrs. Steve Mosler. Mrs. Ed Pulte of Gainesville accompanied them.

Clergy present were the Rev. Emil Slovacek, host pastor, who officiated at Benediction and the Rev. Fathers James Boyle of Denison, John Walbe of Lindsay and Robert Grant of Gainesville.

The men at the factory noticed that one little old fellow often had fried rabbit for lunch. They would trade him ham sandwiches, cherry pie or even a piece of chocolate cake for a piece of that delicious rabbit. Finally one of his co-workers asked him if he raised rabbits in his back yard. "No, no, I don't raise them — I just shoot them ... when they sit on my back fence and yowl at each other!"

Hank Arendt started back to school Monday after being laid up with injuries resulting from an auto accident Nov. 10. He was on the way to meet the football bus to travel to Tom Bean when the mishap occurred, and went to Gainesville Hospital instead. David Arendt, other occupant of the car, was not injured. Hank sustained a slight concussion, cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Henry Zimmerer has been dismissed from a Denton hospital where she underwent surgery last Friday.

Vincent Zimmerer is getting around some now on crutches. His broken left leg is in a splint. He sustained the injury while he was a spectator at the Lindsay-Tom Bean football game on Nov. 10. . . . was knocked down on the sideline by players . . . and was a patient at Gainesville Hospital several days.

Father Francis Zimmerer left Monday to return to Tomah, Wis., after a five-day visit with his father, L. A. Zimmerer and his brothers Henry, Bruno and Vincent and their families.

A boy wanted to send for pets but wasn't quite sure how to go about it. First he wrote: "Dear Sirs, Please send me two mongooses."

When this didn't look right, he tried again: "Dear Sirs, Please send be two mongeese."

This still seemed wrong. He studied the sentence awhile and finally wrote: "Dear Sirs, Please send me one mongoose, and while you're at it, send me another one."

Hornets

Panthers' only fumble on the next play. However Saint Jo regained possession the next play on an interception. But that was all. A kick ended the series.

From their 33 the Hornets advanced 45 yards to the Panther 22, their deepest penetration of the game. Then they bogged down again and gave up the ball on the 22 four plays later.

Frustrations of the first half turned out to be mild compared with the second.

It started with a fumble on the kickoff and Saint Jo's recovery on the 16. On their next four plays the Panthers got to the 5 but the first of two magnificent defensive jobs stopped them there and the next series lost 4 yards.

After that the teams spent four series in a defensive duel, with each team kicking twice.

Then Muenster spirits got a big lift from Don Hartman's 38 yard romp to the Panther 42 — and a big let-down two plays later as Lawler nabbed a Muenster pass.

Saint Jo got no where on the next series and had to kick. That's when misfortune struck again. Hellman slipped trying to field the ball and the Hornets had to play it from the 1 foot line. The worst happened on the next play, Muenster fumbled and the Panthers were only 4 yards away.

Another wonderful defensive job held the Panthers scoreless. When the next four plays, plus a penalty against each side, were ended, Muenster took over less than a foot away. Then the Hornets made a first down to the 14 and kicked on the next series.

With little success on their ground plays, the Panthers tried frequently on passes but had only three completions up to this point. Then came two dandies that decided the game, both from Gaston to Talley. The first gained 21, the second made 25 and the TD. A pass to Young added two points.

With just over 7 minutes left, the Hornets tried desperately to move down field but their jinx held on. They made two unconnected first downs, kicked once and lost possession twice on interceptions.

failed to pay off and Sacred Heart started from its 47 after the kickoff. But it got only one play — a fumble which was recovered by Notre Dame on the 43.

Seven plays made that distance and the big ones were passes to Morath for 23 and 17, the latter being the scorer. A pass for extra points did not connect.

Sacred Heart's only threat of the game followed the next kickoff just as the last quarter opened. Tommy Hess scooted for a 35 yard gain to the ND 35 and three plays later took a pass from Lee Roy Hess to the 16. The opportunity ended three plays later with an interception in the end zone.

Starting from the 20 after that, the Knights went all the way on seven tries, which included four incomplete passes. Bindel ran for 16 and 10. Then on a fourth down play from kick formation, Morath heaved a long one to Moller for a 54 yard scoring play. Gilliland ran over for the final two points.

In the closing minutes reserve Knights were sent in and fumbled on their second try. Ben Fleitman recovered it for Sacred Heart and the Tigers made 21 yards in six plays to the ND 36 as time ran out.

Confetti

"as if they were wiser than God!" This is the Thanksgiving story that should be emphasized in all American schools — and among the people who run our government. Socialism is not new. It was tried many times before Plymouth Colony and many times since. It has always failed. It is always destined to fail, because it violates basic economic and moral principles inherent in the nature of men.

Headlines this week tell us about a serious financial problem in Britain resulting from its adventure in socialism. Signs of similar financial trouble are also apparent in this country, because of the same folly.

We wonder whether our officials will show the good judgment that Plymouth officials did and give back to people their God-given opportunities and responsibilities. Or will they keep trying to be wiser than God?"
