

The bloody ending of the attempted prison escape at Huntsville brings up the question of whether authorities are gradually getting around to a more effective though regrettable method of dealing with hardened criminals. Commentary afterward revealed that the Texas Rangers and prison guards had their minds firmly set on preventing the escape of Carrasco and his two companions. In doing so they did their best to save the lives of hostages but it was understood that stopping the criminals came first and safety of the hostages was secondary.

The law enforcement officers said they were convinced that allowing the trio to get away as planned would encourage other prisoners to do likewise. Guards and other prison employes would be in even greater danger of becoming hostages in the future.

It's a grim picture which almost amounts to saying that hostages are expendable. Officials will save them if possible, but the number one mission is to get the criminal. That's a little shocking in contrast to the old principle that innocent lives come first even though we have to give in to criminals in the process.

Similar situations have come up frequently in recent years in plane hijackings, robberies and kidnappings, inducing a number of authorities to consider the cold blooded policy as a method of counter action. They say that the most effective way to deal with criminal demands is to ignore them. Refuse to pay ransom or to allow an escape even though the hostage's life is at stake.

Though this seems to abandon the helpless hostage it also seems to be the most effective way of dealing with criminals. They're less likely to try an escape when convinced that threats have finally lost their effect, and that society will get them even if it has to risk the lives of innocent people.

Incidentally, if this policy seems callous let's look at it from a few realistic angles. First of all, escaped killers usually commit more murders before their careers end, so society can afford to risk innocent lives to stop them. Secondly a hostage's chance of being spared by the criminal is very slim. Some mad dog killers just dispose of them after they've served their purpose, others eliminate those who might testify later.

Though one is reluctant to abandon those who become the tools of criminals, he still has to wonder whether it is the best system in the long run. Would there be as much crime if criminals could not use hostages as shields? Would there be more or fewer deaths of innocent people?

Last week's failure by a margin of just three votes to bring the proposed constitution of Texas before the people was a sorry indictment of organized labor and the state's legislators who do its bidding. In keeping with an early boast, the document was torpedoed and $3.2 million of taxpayer money plus thousands of hours of time went down the drain, all because it included a provision allowing voters to decide whether Texas will continue to have a right to work law — which allows a person to hold a job whether or not he belongs to a union.

First of all, let's understand that the voting figures of 118 to 62 are misleading. This is not the margin of defeat. Rather it represents failure by only three votes to get a two thirds majority. To say this thing the other way, legislators approved by a ratio of almost 2 to 1.

Something else about the issue really ought to be understood. In early days of the convention right-to-work was included by delegates because, as an amendment, it became a part of the present constitution in 1947. Union supporters put up a big howl, so, as a compromise, right-to-work was included as a separate issue which had to be approved in a state wide referendum.

Almost anyone would think that it's completely fair to present this proposition and let the people decide for themselves. But not the pro-union crowd. They refused to let the public decide. Instead they insisted on the dictatorial way of forcing all of the state

Council Asks for Kids' Underpass US 82 at Maple

A pedestrian underpass at a children's crossing of Highway 82 has been recommended by the city council. Its decision resulted from a suggestion recently submitted by the State Highway Department for installation of a push button stop light system at a road level children's crossing.

Also suggested but frowned on by both the city and the Highway Department was an elevated walk-over. The council at its meeting Monday night decided that a tunnel under the highway, somewhat similar to livestock underpasses, would be the safest crossing for kids and probably also simple to construct. Level of the highway is expected to be considerably above the present ground level at Maple street. The pedestrian underpass could be engineered with the fill-in of that area.

Also recommended to the highway department is a four lane system plus a middle lane for left turns on the highway between Main and Mesquite, the east city limit. The plan includes a ban of all parking on the highway from Main to Mesquite. Councilmen favor this plan because it clears more width for through traffic besides providing the special lane for left turns.

Other discussion at the meeting was mostly lamentation following the latest invoice for garbage and trash bags. The charge revealed the sad news that price has jumped from 10 to 17 cents per bag. Counting an average of nine bags per month it means that the expense for bags is about $1.53 per customer. It leaves a low operating margin especially for customers paying the minimum rate of $2.50.

In other action the council approved the appointment of Chris Yosten as a new city employee. He's working in the Sanitary Department.

Swimming Season Will End August 25

Closing date for the Muenster swimming pool has been set for Sunday, August 25, according to an announcement this week by Dan Hamric, manager.

He said that the pool will be open the regular hours of 1 to 7 p.m. next week when only the public school students are in class but the opening hour is delayed to 3 the following week when both schools are open.

The season will end with closing at the regular time on the 25th.

27 Children in Big Happy Family of New MHS Coach

When Donald Neal took on the job of head coach at Muenster High School, the community acquired its biggest family. The new Hornet boss and his wife, Freddie, lay claim to 27 children, three of which were born into the family and 24 others who came to live with them during the 27 years of their married life. Seven of those now are married, adding eight grandchildren to the big happy family.

The children are not adopted. Rather they are foster children, invited into the home and welcome to stay as long as they please. Most of them do as other children, remaining in the family until they are ready to start their own careers. At this time four are in the armed service, five are teaching and one is in business. Some are students in college.

All of them come home frequently sometimes swelling a weekend reunion to 25. During the past weekend sixteen of the children were together and welcomed a crowd of local youngsters for a get-acquainted party.

The Coach and Mrs. Neal got started on their special hobby — Kids — by taking in four children. And since then they have added one or more as the need indicated and circumstances allowed. Freddie says its always possible to arrange a bed for one more, and the food and clothing dollars stretch considerably when all are careful to avoid

Rural Electric Co-ops in Annual State Convention

For Texas' 80 electric cooperatives and their 600,000-plus member-owners, the current energy crisis is an adversity. But how to turn this adversity into opportunity is the main topic of discussions at the August 7-9 annual membership meeting of the Association of Texas Electric Cooperatives in Dallas.

Hundreds of electric cooperative board members and managers and other employees from across the state are participating in discussions of critical timely issues on the future of energy supplies in Texas and the nation.

And such well-known energy experts as Mack Wallace, member of the Texas Railroad Commission, and General James M. Rose, director of Governor Briscoe's Division of Planning will speak on the meeting theme, "Out of Adversity — Opportunity."

Other featured speakers are J. K. Smith, head of the Co-op owned Cooperative Finance Corporation and deputy administrator of REA, both from Washington, and John Hill, Texas attorney general.

Delegates will speak out officially by voting on a number of resolutions and participating in an election. Attorneys and member services personnel will be involved in workshops and conferences.

Delegates for Cooke County Electric Co-op are Directors J. A. Klement, Vincent Zimmerman, Pete Skinner and Wendell Proffer, accompanied by their wives, also Michael Sloan, manager, and Richard Stark, attorney.

42 Eager Tigers Await Start of Football Season

Forty two roaring Tigers, with notions of improving on last year's remarkable 9-1-1 record, are expected to report to Sacred Heart Coaches Bob Steele and Tom Stalk next Monday night for the season's first football practice.

For many of the boys it is only the first official practice. Unofficially they have been working out on their own to build up strength and endurance for the three months grind. Principal activities were exercises with weights, distance running and sprints.

The Tigers will follow Interscholastic League regulations in their training program. The first four evenings will be in shorts and will emphasize conditioning work. The fifth evening will be in full uniform, and the boys will get initial bruises in their first inter-squad scrimmage next Friday.

After that there will be action on twelve consecutive weekends as the boys have two practice scrimmages followed by ten games.

Tractor Pull Booked 3 Nights At County Fair

"Last year's two nights of tractor pulling at our Fair was so popular that we have decided to have three nights of pulling this year," said V. S. Payne, President of the Cooke County Fair. They will be held in the rodeo arena on August 19, 20, and 21.

Pullers from Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas have been invited to bring their tractors to Gainesville to compete with local pullers for over $1,900 in purse money.

Doyle Voth, Chairman of the Tractor Pull Committee, said that local implement dealers are working with Southwest Tractor Pullers Association in Fort Worth to make this one of the most exciting pulls of the year.

More information can be obtained by calling Voth at 817-665-2804.

Local 4-Hers Win On Record Books In County Contest

To finish up the 4-H year, 40 Cooke County 4-Hers entered their record books for judging at the county level. The Record Book Program is one of the most educational and informative aspects of 4-H work. To complete this activity each 4-Her must compile an accurate record of the past year's projects. Items included in the 4-H record book include project pictures, selected news clippings, personal correspondence and any other material that can be used for the 4-Hers biography of his or her past and previous years in 4-H. The winning records on both junior and senior levels go on to District competition.

From the district contests, senior winning Record Books will compete on the state level for an opportunity to attend the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. Participants on the state level are also eligible for awards and scholarships ranging from $50.00 savings bond to $1,600.00 college scholarships.

Nineteen senior record books were entered at the county level in twelve different categories. Muenster entries and awards included:

- Achievement: Barbie Davidson, Blue — District; Sharon Rohrer, Blue.

Free and Reduced Meals Available Again This Year

The program of free or reduced price meals for children of low income families will again be in effect during the coming school year at Muenster Public School.

Superintendent L. B. Bruns announced last week that letters explaining the program will be sent to parents with their children and all who can qualify are invited to apply for its benefits.

Regular prices for school lunches will be 45 cents for kindergarten through the sixth grade and 50 cents for grades 7 through 12. The reduced price through all age groups will be 20 cents.

Application for the free or reduced price meals can be made at any time during the year. If approved the parent will be notified promptly and the identity of a beneficiary will remain confidential. All children are treated alike regardless of ability to pay.

Eligibility in general is determined by the amount of family income along with the number of family members. Further consideration is given to unusually high medical bills, special education expense because of a child's handicap or disaster or casualty losses.

Time Changed for Grid Physicals

There's been a change of schedule for the physical examinations to be given Saturday to the members of Muenster High, Sacred Heart and Saint Jo football teams.

The time is 7 a.m. not at night as previously reported. Members of all three squads are asked to be in the MHS field house at that time.

Schools Will Enroll Friday and Monday

First Class Aug. 12 At Public School

Registration for all public school students, kindergarten through the 12th grade, will be held this week Friday, Aug. 9, from 9 to 10 a.m.

Superintendent L. B. Bruns said that buses will start their pick-up at 8 o'clock and arrive at school in time for the 9 o'clock enrollment, which will be finished at 10 o'clock. Buses then will return the students home and be back at school at 11, in time for the teachers' in-service training, which has been in progress since Monday.

Classes for the public school students begin next Monday, the 12th. Superintendent Bruns reminds the students that classes will begin daily at 8 o'clock and buses will start their runs at 7 o'clock.

The public school calendar this year has 180 class days, 15 holidays and 10 in-service days for the teachers. Last school day is May 14 and graduation May 16.

New MHS Coach Praises Hornets' Spirit and Hustle

Coach Donald Neal of the Muenster High Hornets is looking forward eagerly to next Monday when forty three youngsters are expected to report for first practice of the 1974 grid season.

Judging by what he has seen so far he is confident of a fine, high spirited team with the ability to put together a good season record. Though the Campbell rating has the Hornets in the next to last spot of District 13-A, Neal has his eye on the top position.

He's especially pleased by the Hornets' pre season attitude. While waiting for their first date of supervised practice, about half of the boys are out regularly for conditioning work. They're operating under leadership of the seniors who worked out a program of weight lifting, sprints and distance running along with passing the football. They'll be in shape when the first whistle blows Monday.

Along with the inspiring attitude, the team will have a good array of talent. Eleven senior and ten junior veterans, mostly from last year's varsity, are expected back. They should get lots of help from ten sophomores who mostly made up last year's junior varsity, which won the 14-A JV championship. And twelve freshmen are expected.

The team's problem, as usual, is size. Indications are that the Hornets again will be the lightweights of the district. Team average is expected to be near 150. Heaviest member will be the coach's son Darraan, about 185 pounds.

The team will start with two practice sessions a day — the regular period and an evening period. After four days of non-contact action in shorts they will be in full uniform next week Friday. After another week of work-outs they'll host Saint Jo on the 23rd for first scrimmage and go to Nocona on the 30th.

This year again, the squad will be divided into varsity and junior varsity teams. The JV schedule now has eight games and may get one or two additions. However it does not include a 13-A race with possibility of district honors. Windthorst and Callisburg are the only opponents of the district. The schedule:

- Sept. 12, Whitesboro, there
- Sept. 19, Pilot Point, here
- Sept. 26, Callisburg, here
- Oct. 3, Frisco, there
- Oct. 17, Celina, here
- Oct. 24, Celina, there
- Oct. 31, Windthorst, there
- Nov. 7, Lake Dallas, there.

Arriving Tuesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Endres were her brother and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Brockman of Nazareth bringing with them Mrs. Endres' sister Mrs. William Woods of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Woods has been visiting in Texas the past two weeks. She will return to Washington from here.

SH Classes Will Start August 19

Sacred Heart students will register next Monday, August 12, and begin classes a week later.

According to a schedule released this week by Sister Mary John, high school principal, students of both elementary and high school will enroll between the hours of 9 and 3. After that they can have another week of vacation before reporting for first class on Monday, the 19th.

The faculty, however, will be on the job all week with in-service sessions preparing for the coming year.

The school calendar again this year reflects the new trend of dividing the entire year into four quarters, three for school and the other for vacation.

The Fall quarter, ending on November 13, will have three holidays for students. Besides Labor Day on September 2 and All Saints Day on November 1, they will be excused for the diocesan in-service day for teachers on September 9. Parent-Teacher conferences are booked October 2 through 6.

The Winter quarter begins November 14 and ends February 19. Thanksgiving holidays are November 28 and 29. Christmas holidays start at 2 p.m. December 20 and end at 8 a.m. January 2. Parent-Teacher conferences will extend February 8 through 12.

Spring quarter starts February 20 and ends May 20. Holidays are scheduled for St. Joseph's Day, March 19, Easter, 2:30 p.m. March 27 to 8 a.m. April 1, and Ascension on May 8. Parent-Teacher conferences will be held the week of April 9 to 13.

The calendar makes no allowance for dismissed classes because of bad weather. If such weather holidays occur an equal number of days will be added after May 20.

Information Given On Nominations to Service Academies

Congressman Omar Burleson reminds young men who are interested in competing for nominations to the service academies, for the class entering July 1975, he uses a competitive method of selection so that all young men who meet the necessary requirements may be considered. The service academies are the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland; the Military Academy at West Point, New York; the Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs, Colorado; and the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York. These institutions offer a fine education and a great opportunity for service to their country by young men who wish to follow a military career.

In order for Congressman Burleson to consider applicants, a candidate must meet these requirements: (1) He must be a U. S. citizen, (2) He must be over 17 and a legal resident of the 17th Congressional District; (3) He must be under 22 years of age on July 1, 1975; (4) He must never have been married; (5) He must be physically fit, including excellent eyesight; (6) He must have a good high school record.

Burleson stresses that political influence is not a factor in his nominations to the Academies. The important thing is not who you know but what you are.

Interested young men who meet the above requirements should write Congressman Omar Burleson, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515, no later than August 15. Examinations will then be scheduled as a rating device to set up slates for nomination. The competition is keen but Congressman Burleson wants to assure that all young men who are interested in a military career may have an opportunity to compete for nomination.

A surprise party at Mrs. Ronnie Hoagland's home Saturday night honored her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Peter McCoy on being back in Muenster and settled in their new home.

Some 100 guests were poolside for a fried chicken supper with all the trimmings and presented gifts to the McCoys for their new home. Some guests toured the new place.

Special guests were Abbot Alfred Hoenig of Corpus Christi visiting relatives here, and Mrs. Constance Barrett of New York City, who was a guest in Mrs. Hoagland's home.

Sister Theresina In Switzerland Writes of Visit

Greetings have come again from Sister Theresina who is summering in her hometown, Neu St. Johann, Switzerland, with relatives.

She tells about being awakened one morning at 3:45 by bells — not church bells but cowbells. It was the annual "parading" of cattle from the valley to the Alps. The day before the newspaper had carried a notice that 1000 head of cattle would be making the trip and advised about traffic during the time. Immense cowbells worn by the three lead cows have different sounds and together make a beautiful harmony. Farmers accompanying the cattle are in traditional costumes. It's worth hearing and seeing, she wrote. There were parades the next two days but she didn't get up to watch them.

The latter part of June she went to two famous places of pilgrimage to the Blessed Virgin — Maria Bildstein and Maria Einsiedeln, the latter a Benedictine Abbey church of unspeakable grandeur. There she witnessed a procession of about 40 monks marching to the chapel. Another day she attended the funeral of a former classmate. June rains continued and it was so cold they had to heat the house.

When weather is too bad to be out she watches TV and one day saw a parade of the Yodlen Clubs. It was a treat lasting an hour with yodeling, flag throwing, wrestling, cowbell swinging, floats, etc.

On July 1 she was in Wattwil visiting her sister and an old schoolmate spent the afternoon there. They recalled the old days. The two had been best friends from the first grade on and First Communion companions.

One thing she finds "disturbing" in Switzerland is the use of English instead of German. Sometimes she must stop and think if she is in Switzerland or in America.

The youth of Switzerland, as far as she has seen, seem to dress as slovenly as possible — pants as tight as possible, skirts as short as possible, sweaters that don't fit, and hair unkempt and long.

One day she chatted with an old man, 91 years of age, who was once in Texas as a farmer. He still serves as an usher in church.

An exciting experience was a trip by lift, a cabin carrying 100 persons, up a very high mountain.

On a trip to Stans in mid-Switzerland she literally "flew" in a red car with a nephew at 120 miles an hour. The young man said that the speed limit now is 130 miles.

Another day she visited a childhood neighbor. She and her husband had lived in the United States about 50 years and operated a bakery in Milwaukee. He said Americans are friendlier and more sociable than people in his region of Switzerland. The couple visited scenes of their former activity in Milwaukee last year.

Flowers bloom everywhere in Switzerland, Sister Theresina added. Penrosen are most treasured after the Edelweiss and both are protected by law. Only five penrosen may be plucked per person. No Edelweiss may be picked.

Greetings again to everyone who reads The Enterprise.

Mulch Aids Garden In Several Ways

Using a mulch in your flower or vegetable garden can be your most valuable garden practice. Mulching your garden can greatly reduce soil blowing and washing and control weeds. It will also keep the soil moist and cool and add organic matter.

A good ground cover of any kind of mulch can reduce soil temperatures from 40 to 60 degrees. This is the difference between having a good, productive garden or one that "burns up." Bare ground may reach a temperature of 140 to 150 degrees. Imagine trying to grow any plant in a 150 degree soil.

At a high temperature, evaporation of available soil moisture is very rapid and in one or two days all the moisture will disappear.

Several materials make excellent mulches. They are grass clippings, straw, compost and sawdust. And they are easy to apply; simply spread them on the top of the soil surface around your plants about 3 inches deep, but do not cover the plants. More mulch should be applied at intervals during the year to keep enough mulch on the ground at all times.

Many gardeners have a compost bin in which they place different materials to decay and use later as a mulch. Compost is probably the best mulch you can use for gardens and flower beds and you can make it yourself from leftover plant materials from your garden.

Anyone desiring information on mulch or a compost bin can contact the local Soil Conservation Service office and available technicians will be glad to assist you.

On March 21 and September 23, day and night are of equal duration in every part of the world.

The middle of the road may not be the most exciting place to be, but at least you'll be further from the ditch — on either side.

On Grayson Honor Roll Miss Marilyn Felderhoff is listed on the honor roll at Grayson County College School of Nursing for the spring semester. She was graduated in May, is on the staff at Wilson N. Jones Hospital in Sherman. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Felderhoff.

Powder Puff Class Is New Feature Of Tractor Pull

A new feature of this year's Cooke County Fair Tractor Pull is the powder puff class in which mamas will operate the fire belching monsters while dads cheer for them.

Tractor driving is old stuff to many women who have helped with the field work for years, but it is rather new as a competitive sport. Last year at La Grange Mrs. Kenneth Marek competed with men and won first place in the 15,000 pound stock class. She plans to bring her tractor to Gainesville to enter the Powder Puff class Wednesday night, Aug. 21.

Detailed information on this and other classes of the tractor pull can be obtained by calling Doyle Voth 665-2804.

Forestburg News

By Myrt Denham

FORESTBURG — Just about milking time Sunday p.m. July 28 we had an unexpected visitor, Louis T. Holland of Montague. Thought at first he was making a social call until I saw a folder in his hand. He was in the area drumming up donations for the North Texas Rehabilitation Center in Wichita Falls. Once you get on that list — you are a "goner" from then on. Naturally we donated a calf again. All calf donations ended up in a lot at the W. T. Reynolds place. Later this week the better-half went to look over these calves. He came home saying, "twas the saddest bunch of calves he'd ever seen in one lot." Anyway these critters will be auctioned off one day this coming week.

Would like to let the folks know that Mrs. Bonnie Teague is now a resident of the Bowie Convalescent Home. So send your cards and go to see her when you are over that way.

Learned recently that Charlie Sessums has been a patient in the Muenster hospital for sometime.

Woodrow Galmor is in the intensive care ward at the Veterans Hospital in Dallas. It is my understanding he entered on July 29 and that they are running tests on him.

Charles Cook, Rosston way, is a patient in a Denton hospital.

Mrs. Anna Meyers returned home to Forestburg August 3 after an extended stay in the Muenster hospital.

Faith Sandusky and sons Steve and Willie returned from a two weeks vacation in the South Bend, Ind. area. They visited with friends and relatives. Faith says she and the boys sure were glad to be back home — heat and all.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Barclay and Jennifer of Saint Jo were guests of Billy's parents the A. G. Barclays July 26-27. Saturday night Charlie and Gladys made it over to Alvord to visit Troy and Donna Barclay where they enjoyed 42. Seems Troy played so hard that the next day he ended up with a toothache and had to spend the day in bed.

July 28 found Charlie and Gladys in Bowie at Meyers Park attending the Kuykendall family reunion.

Saturday evening July 27 found Vera Mae McGee in Wichita Falls attending the wedding of her granddaughter Iris McGee, daughter of Mrs. Don McGee and the late Mr. McGee.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shears and Esther Shears July 28 was O. D. Whiteside of Sanger and two of his daughters, Mrs. Winifred Langaley of Fort Worth and Mrs. Juanita Vice of Dallas.

Pam Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Carter of Bowie, spent the weekend of July 26-28 visiting her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sledge.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carter and Janice of Dewey made it to Lewisville July 28 to attend the Hasting family reunion.

On July 28 the children of the late Ed and Kate Freeman met at the New Harp Church for a family reunion. Mollie Howell sent me this word. She said that Mmes. Pauline Cleveland and Lucille Branch of Fort Worth and Frances Saxon from Stephenville came to see her and took her over to the reunion.

Dot and Jackie Whatley of Amarillo and Mrs. Janice Pierce and children of Alvord were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Walker and children July 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Orrell and their daughter and her son of Monterrey, Mexico arrived Thursday p.m. for a few days visit with Raymond's parents Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Orrell of Dewey.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Boelter and Phyllis of Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wright and children of Temple were July 27-28 visitors of Mrs. Decie Elzey. On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gandy of Panhandle and Mrs. Betty Ingram of Lynnwood, Calif., were Decie's guests. Mrs. Ingram, Decie's sister, remained here to visit. On Tuesday Decie and Betty were off to Roanoke to visit Susie and Tim Nations, then on to Temple to see the (Continued on Page 9)

DODGE PICKUP CLEARANCE!

FACT 1: DODGE PICKUPS HAVE FEATURES YOU CAN'T GET FROM COMPETITION. CHECK 'EM OUT!

Any way you want to compare our Dodge D100 against Ford's F100 and Chevy's C10—you'll find out you're a winner when you choose Dodge! For example: Only Dodge offers you Electronic Ignition (standard on all models), a greater standard payload, more pickup models, the smallest six-cylinder engines (as well as the efficient Dodge 318 V8), the largest standard fuel capacity—and much more.

FACT 2: OUR DODGE 318 V8 CAN GET SLIGHTLY BETTER GAS MILEAGE THAN A FORD OR CHEVY SIX-CYLINDER PICKUP!

In an actual road test from LaVerne to Blythe, California (a distance of 381 miles), at an average speed of 54 mph, USAC put six competitive pickups through the test: a Six and V8 each, Dodge, Ford, and Chevrolet. All pickups were purchased by USAC through normal retail channels. All had standard manual transmissions and rear axle ratios, as well as nominal eight-foot cargo boxes.

The Dodge 318 got slightly better mileage than the other two V8s, as well as the Ford and Chevrolet six-cylinder engines! Our 318 V8 got 18.78 mpg. Our 225 Slant Six did even better—19.05 mpg. Of course, the mileage you get depends on many factors, including how and where you drive, and the condition of your vehicle.

"Will there be enough electric power to meet my needs next month? Next year?"

Shortages and predicted shortages of electricity in various parts of the country are causing many people to wonder, "Will there be enough electric power to meet my needs next month? Next year?"

Texas Power & Light wants its customers to know what it has done, and is doing, to maintain adequate and dependable electric service.

TP&L surmounted a critical situation in November and December of 1972 when unusually cold weather caused an abnormally high demand for energy for heating. Two natural gas suppliers curtailed deliveries to the Company to the extent that nearly 10 million gallons of fuel oil were required to operate power plants.

During 1973, in anticipation of possible further gas curtailments, the Company increased its oil storage capacity to some 42 million gallons at its generating plants. An additional 42 million gallons of storage capacity is now under construction.

Because of the sharply rising costs and uncertain future supplies of gas and oil, TP&L and other electric utility companies in the Southwest are shifting to lignite—a form of soft coal—as a power plant fuel. TP&L has acquired major deposits of lignite in East and Northeast Texas. Two lignite-fueled units are already supplying electricity to TP&L customers, seven other units are now under construction and an eighth unit will be started soon.

However, even all the new lignite-fueled plants the Company can build will not be sufficient to meet anticipated future electric needs. TP&L, Dallas Power & Light and Texas Electric Service have announced plans to build two nuclear-fueled units, the first to be in operation in 1980, the second in 1982.

Planning and building generating plants, keeping plants supplied with fuel and doing the hundreds of other things necessary to produce and supply electric power is a complex and costly job. You can be confident that Texas Power & Light will continue doing what must be done to assure you a dependable supply of electricity in the years ahead.

Local Youths Help With Head Start Weekly Programs

Three Muenster youths helped as volunteers and one as a teacher aide during the eight weeks of the Gainesville Head Start Program which ended July 26.

Tina, Renee and Gregg Wilde were among volunteers who helped with field trips and Susan Sloan was among teacher aides.

Thirty-six children aged 4 to 6 were enrolled. Weekly field trips took them to Gainesville Library, Bates Catfish Farm, Cooke County College Planetarium, Jerry Nunnely Farm at Saint Jo, Gainesville police and fire departments, State Theatre for a movie, Nona Park, and Gainesville Zoo and Park where the program ended with a picnic in Leonard Park.

Teachers for the program were Mrs. Rufus Bezner, Mrs. Mike Sturm and Mrs. L. E. Bradley with aides John Moulder, Carol Nunnely, Susan Sloan and Mary Kay Bezner.

A nurse Miss Veda Elliott and aide Sharon Lofland worked with the program visiting classrooms, checking eyes and ears and giving TB tests. Free dental and medical aid was available for those that qualified. Hot breakfast and lunch were served every day by Mrs. Dell Sikes and Mrs. Flora Perry, cooks. Parents and other volunteers helped with field trips. In addition to the Muenster trio these were Robin Johnson, Mrs. Marian Bryant and Mrs. Chester Buris.

Appreciation is extended to those from the Cooke County College staff who furnished a bus for the field trips and provided facilities which made the program possible, and to persons who allowed the group to visit their facilities.

Head Start will be available again next summer for Gainesville area children 4, 5 and 6 years old. Children's records are available for school at the Head Start office in the Cooke County Superintendent's office.

Ruth Smith has been having wolf problems lately. The wolves got one of her baby calves recently. Now they have been getting pretty brave — as they have been going by her house early in the mornings, eyeing her sheep and chickens. They then go up on a ridge near by — sit and lick their lips. Well, Ruth put an end to this with a 30-30 Winchester. She says she may not can hit them at that range but at least they keep their desires out of sight now.

Randy Gernadi of Cleburne and a grandson of Vint and Leata Freeman of New Harp, came up with a group of his friends July 28 to spend the day picnicing at and swimming in the Freeman lake. His guests were Earl Hathaway, David Harris, Stacey Rosser, and Eric Martin.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barnett of Dewey were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mitchell of Florence, Alabama. Mrs. Mitchell is Jim's niece. On July 31 Mrs. Vivian Barnett and Betty Burdine and son Cody of Alvord were Jim and Nema's guests.

Mrs. Pat Jackson of Borger, Rex Hartsell and daughter Linda of Sunset visited friends in the Dewey community July 31.

Bill Becker, 16, of the Masonic Home School in Fort Worth visited the A. B. McMillions July 31. Some years ago the McMillions had Bill and his sister visiting in their home for the summer. On Wednesday Bill was working around Valley View — saw road sign to Forestburg so came over to visit.

The Howard Sockwells joined the "Farm Wife" group at Seattle, Washington for a trip to Alaska. 75 people were in their group. 22 states were represented. They were the only ones from Texas.

They were on the ship West Star three days and nights and never a dull moment. The scenery up the coast was magnificent, snow covered cliffs, glaciers and ice bergs. They saw whale and many varieties of sea birds.

They toured Seattle, Van Couver, Prince Rupert B. C. and Anchorage in sightseeing busses, visiting English pea and raspberry farms in Van Couver, fisheries in Prince Rupert B. C. and dairies in Anchorage. They visited Van Camp canneries in Van Couver. They flew back from Anchorage to Seattle, Washington, then on to Dallas. The fellowship with farmers, ranchers and dairy men from different parts of the country was wonderful.

Roe Sledge and Cecil Foster have been considering repairing a petition fence between them here recently. Roe says his hogs don't pay any attention to a fence and Cecil figures it might restrict some of his bar ditch grazing. Considering all factors — like hard ground, hot and dry weather, etc., they came to the conclusion that the fence ought to be good for another 40 years.

Bessie Greenwood and her son and family the Jimmy Don Greenwoods of Bowie left Friday a.m. for Costa Mesa, Calif., to visit the Jack Poteets.

Folks, don't forget the Forestburg Homecoming Sunday, August 11. Bring your dinner and enjoy the day with friends and relatives under the shade trees by the log cabin.

Some of the Forestburg area had some rain Friday about 4 p.m. or so. Bennett Reynolds reports 1 1/2 inches at his hideaway, Jack Carter about one inch, Robert Ensey 1.2 inches, and Ora Thurman 2 inches. Laura Belle Jackson says the Forestburg township had a little over an inch. So it varied alot from area to area.

You hear people say they are tired of Watergate and wish there was other news, yet the main topic of discussion is about President Nixon and his problems. No poll has been taken here, however most people seem to agree that it would be best for the country if he'd pull out. Other problems, particularly inflation, are being neglected and should Nixon decide to fight to the end it will be months before any other subject will get full attention.

Drouth conditions through out the world are getting serious. Pictures from central Africa show people starving. The governors of South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Utah have requested that parts of their states be considered disaster areas. That part of West Texas where irrigation wells once put out 6 inch streams of water — those wells are now 4 inch wells and only take care of less than half the requirements.

West of the irrigated area in the dry land cotton country — the crop is a complete failure.

A shortage of oil and water has been predicted for years and now it looks like the shortages will too soon be realized.

to accept the decree of a few dozen.

Hopefully the people of Texas will learn a lesson from union behavior during and ending the constitutional convention. The arrogant assumption that they have the right to impose their demands on the state is little less than frightening. Their display of influence in wrecking the constitution is a clear sign that they have too much power. Voters can render a valuable service by considering whether this much power in the hands of labor leaders is good for the state.

RECEIVING THEIR FIRST profit sharing certificates from Louis Kreditor are Curtis Wells and Linda Spires of the IBJ cutting department at Myra.

Dress Factory Employees Receive First Profit Sharing Certificates

There was a bit of a celebration with picture taking at Jr. Elite dress factory here and the IBJ cutting department at Myra when employees received their first profit sharing certificates. They were presented by Louis Kreditor of Dallas and Mrs. Paul Sicking.

The factory makes garments with labels of P.B.J., Jerell, Melissa Lane and Strait Lane — pantsuits, dresses and ensembles.

There have been no lay-offs in three years on account of lack of work, Mrs. Sicking, manager of the local factory said. The gross payroll in 1973 was $382,000. There are 85 employees, 60 from Muenster, and openings for more. Supervisors here are Miss Marie Zimmerer of Lindsay and Mmes. Kenneth Hale and George Gehrig. At Myra W. L. Robeson of Gainesville is manager. The cutting room moved to Myra in 1967 when the factory outgrew its quarters here. The former Myra school was modernized and air conditioned before the move.
