Four Killed In Accident

Traditionally Labor Day has a double significance. It is an occasion to recognize the dignity and importance of work, also an occasion to appreciate the achievements of labor organizations in bettering the living standards of working people.

Both aspects of the holiday are still very fitting but, unfortunately, they don't seem to apply like they used to. People seem to be less conscious of the dignity and importance of work. They are less inclined to the old time standards in which a person took pride in being useful, to do a job well or better than expected, to pull his share of the load and even a little more.

There is too much slip shod work, lacking in both pride and integrity, work that is intended to put in the time required to collect one's pay but less than a fair deal in quality or quantity. Even farther from the original spirit of Labor Day is the current practice of avoiding work altogether if one can get paid for loafing.

Needless to say, from that angle the holiday isn't what it used to be, and the entire country is the loser. Workers themselves are the first losers. Many of them have lost the pleasure and pride of doing a good job and they have lost the moral satisfaction of honestly earning what they get out of our economic system. If they'll be fair with themselves they'll admit that they are cheating.

Other losers are employers who do not get the service they pay for and consumers who do not get the quality they pay for. Defective merchandise usually is the result of poor work, and the expense and worry caused by it eventually has to be paid by the consumer. Likewise, the freeloader, living on welfare instead of work, is a burden on taxpayers.

The other aspect of Labor Day observance also applies less than it used to. There can be no doubt that labor organizations did a great service in improving people's standard of living, but many of their demands for many years have ceased to serve that purpose. For instance, Time magazine recently told of a construction union that got wage increases of 49 per cent in 13 months. And many other unions got raises that were smaller but still excessive.

While admitting that inflation is a factor in the demands, all of us are also aware that the raises are higher than inflation justifies. High estimates set the inflation rate at about seven per cent a year. So, it's evident that a wage raise over that figure is no longer an adjustment for inflation but a cause of inflation. Unions who insist on such wages are cheating all consumers, including their own members.

Experience has shown long ago that wage increase not justified by production increase is unjustified. Furthermore, when obtained by a strike the pay increase is offset for many months by the previous loss of pay. And by that time rising prices have absorbed the pay raise. Meanwhile the worker has lost in other ways as inflation decreased the real value of his savings and insurance.

The mad rate of wage increases has been a cruel hoax to workers, and a more cruel injustice to people who do not have the benefit of escalating income.

Of course, the wise guys claim to have an answer to this reasoning. They say the country is living better than it used to. But they seem to overlook the fact that progress is made in spite of labor policies rather than because of them. The plain fact is that progress is measured by increased production rather than increased supply of money.

Wage increases in line with production increases could have been granted all along without increasing prices. The net result would have been that people actually deserving wage increases would have increased their buying power of current earnings while preserving the full buying power of their savings. And all the people who have had buying power stolen from them by inflation could and would be better customers than they are today.

The good times boasted by wage manipulators is a smokescreen. Times could be much better if they had worked.

Leon Endres

Funeral services with Requiem Mass were held for Airman Leon Edward Endres Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in Sacred Heart Church with Father Placidus Eckart officiating.

Burial was under direction of Nick Miller Funeral Home and Pallbearers were Clarence Bayer, Harold Bindel, Dale Klement, Wayne Klement, Kevin Sandmann and Lee Roy Sandmann.

Pre-funeral services Tuesday in the Miller chapel consisted of rosary recitation at 3 p.m. and a wake service at 8:30.

Tigers Look Good In Practice Test With Callisburg

In spite of being outscored by three touchdowns, Coach Tom Joy and his Sacred Heart Tigers felt fine after their practice scrimmage at Callisburg Friday night.

The boys did a great job on defense, says Joy. He's especially enthusiastic about big Bill Bartush, who was quick in movement and sure in tackles. He was a constant menace to the Wildcat offense.

The Tiger boss also mentioned that his boys really did better than the score indicates. One of the touchdowns was a freak play, on which a Sacred Heart fumble was recovered in the air and the Callisburg player had an open field in front of him. Another TD was made just before the end when practically all Tiger rookies were in the lineup. The third, a long run, was actually the only earned touchdown.

On the other hand the boys made three stout stands inside the 10 yard line. It was a big achievement, considering Callisburg's weight advantage of about 20 pounds per man. The Tigers overcame the handicap by gang tackling, Joy said. They hustled hard. Each player seemed to have help every time he needed it.

Offense, which was expected to be better than defense, worked all right in spots, and some nice gains were stepped off by Melvin Schilling, Kevin Swirczynski and Ronnie Hess. However the good plays were too few and far between. Freshmen, in their first action, were nervous and had trouble with ball handling. Fumbling and lack of coordination caused Sacred Heart as much trouble as the defense.

Hopefully, some of the jitters are being worked out this week as the Tigers prepare for their scrimmage meeting with the B team of Pilot Point High. Those youngsters are expected to be mostly sophomores, more nearly a match for the Tigers in both size and experience.

CDA Meeting Sept. 11

Monthly meeting of Muenster court Catholic Daughters of America next Thursday, Sept. 11, will have Mrs. Marie Johnston of Gainesville as guest speaker. Meeting will start at 8 p.m. in the KC Hall.

Kristie Allert

The body of Miss Kristie Lynne Allert, 24, was taken early Tuesday by Geo. J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home to Dallas for air shipment to Spokane, Wash. It was consigned to a Ritzville, Wash., funeral home for funeral service and burial in Washuena.

She was born July 1, 1945 in Washington, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Allert. She was a sophomore at Yakima College, Yakima, Wash., and was spending a part of her summer vacation with the Ed Endres family.

Survivors are her parents and a brother.

Hornets Nip Chico, Play Alvord Next In Scrimmage Tilts

Muenster's Hornets gave a good account of themselves last Friday night in a practice scrimmage with the Dragons of Chico. They scored four touchdowns while blanking their hosts and led 13 to 4 in the count of first downs.

The performance was encouraging to Coaches Glenn Richardson and Dan Hamric, especially the defense and the aerial attack. However the running game was less pleasing. A number of faults showed up there and have been receiving special attention in this week's practice.

The sharpest feature of the Hornets was their passing in which they completed 11 out of 17 for 235 yards. Three of those plays went from John Monday to Bobby Bruns for TDs and another was from Jim Endres to Andy Knabe for the fourth counter. On the ground plays Henry Knabe and Earl Koelzer accounted for most of the net gain of 55 yards.

Possibly, according to Richardson, the Hornets' short rushing yardage is due principally to Chico's ground defense, which was its best feature. The teams were a standoff in that respect. Chico can blame Hornet defense for its short yardage in both passing and rushing.

The Dragon's best of the night was a 50 yard romp to the goal, but it did not count—because of an offside penalty. Otherwise they made three first downs on ground plays and one on a pass. Some of their trouble is explained by loss of possession on three fumbles and one interception.

Next for the MHS boys is Friday night's scrimmage with Alvord's Bulldogs on the Hornet field. The coaches are looking forward to it as test of how the boys can do against a heavy line, also as an indicator of how they compare with Valley View's Eagles, who deadlocked with the Bulldogs last week.

Last chapter of the Chico practice was a fifteen minute session of the B strings. Defensive work on both sides, along with undeveloped offense, was the feature again as both teams were held to short yardage. Fortunately for Muenster, it started near the goal and managed a TD on a sneak by Jim Endres. Chico youngsters gained about as much but started too far from the line.

The Felderhoff sisters, Sister Mildred of Brinkley, Ark., and Sister Lutgardis of Jonesboro, Ark., left Tuesday after a vacation visit with relatives following the attendance of the Hubert Felderhoffs' golden wedding. While they were here they went to see Six Flags accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Tony Felderhoff, Mrs. Alvin Hartman and daughter Monica.

Janice Trubenbach

Funeral services were held Thursday at 10 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church for Miss Janice Trubenbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Trubenbach with Father Andrew Wever officiating at the Requiem Mass and funeral prayers and later leading prayers in the cemetery.

Burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery was under direction of Nick Miller Funeral Home. Bearers were Mike Trubenbach, Gary Gieb, Louis Gieb, Jimmy Fallon, Lloyd Trubenbach and Harold Nortman.

Recitation of the rosary and a wake service were held at 4 and 8 o'clock respectively in the funeral home chapel.

Janice Louise Trubenbach was born in Muenster on January 14, 1948, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Trubenbach. She was a 1966 graduate of Sacred Heart High School. She was employed in Dallas and came home during the weekend to be a member of the bridal party in last Saturday's marriage of her sister, Doris, to Wayne Klement.

The Ted Voths took their boys to Arkansas. Sandra and Tim Voth accompanied their parents on the trip. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Yosten took their son and Jerry and Frank Dale and Glenn left earlier.

The Muenster community is in mourning this week following a shocking Labor Day tragedy which claimed the lives of four young people.

Three of the victims are members of Muenster families, the fourth is a friend who was visiting here. They are: Glenn Klement, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Klement, a student at North Texas State University.

Leon Endres, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Endres, a member of the US Air Force.

Miss Janice Trubenbach, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Trubenbach, employed in Dallas.

Miss Kristy Lynne Allert, 20, of Washuena, Wash., a vacationing guest in the Ed Endres home.

The deaths resulted from an automobile crash followed by a fire in a dry creek bed beside Highway 82 about four and a half miles west of Muenster.

The group was in Klement's car enroute home from Windthorst when the tragedy struck.

Highway Patrolman George King reported that the car apparently went out of control, crossed over the left side of the two-lane road, spun around after striking a delineator light post, and hurtled backward into the creek bed.

The rear of the car struck the opposite creek bank after which the vehicle tumbled over on its top, trapping the occupants inside.

Next it caught fire, which was shortly followed by an explosion of gasoline from the ruptured fuel tank, enveloping the car in flames.

Three Saint Jo youths, Chris Cagle, Dalton Lyons and Arlis Stogner, reported that they stopped when they saw the fire, and the explosion occurred a short time later. They then rushed to Saint Jo and notified the city marshal and the fire department.

Saint Jo firemen exhausted their water supply without stopping the blaze and called Muenster firemen to help. About that time highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies and ambulances were also called.

Officers, firemen, ambulance attendants, and others who had gathered spent about two hours in turning the car right side up, prying the doors open, removing the bodies and identifying them.

The tragedy ranks as the saddest ever in the community's history — with regard to both the number of deaths and the extent of destruction.

In the worst of previous local wrecks there were no fires and the highest number of victims was three. Those were on February 3 last year when James Klement, Mrs. Anthony Grewing and Sheila Voth were killed just beyond the east city limit, and on January 28, 1955, when Albert and Gilbert Knabe and Ernest Bayer were killed about a mile west of Gainesville.

The accident increased the '69 traffic death toll in Cooke County to 10, all of which occurred on Highway 82, and seven of which occurred near Muenster.

Funeral Service Set Friday for Adam Wolf Sr.

Adam Wolf Sr., 66, of Gainesville, died at 9:30 Wednesday morning in Muenster Memorial Hospital following an illness of several weeks.

Funeral services have been set for Friday at 10 a.m. in St. Mary's Church, Gainesville, with Father Robert E.H. Grant offering the Requiem Mass and reciting funeral prayers.

Burial will be in Rest Haven Cemetery under direction of Geo. J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home. Bearers will be grandsons: Larry, Gary, Darrin, Glenn, Randy Pat, Chris and Timmy Wolf and Dwayne Hermes.

Rosary will be recited twice Thursday night in the Carroll Chapel, at 8 and 8:30. The second will be conducted by the Gainesville Knights of Columbus Council, of which he was a member.

Mr. Wolf was born July 20, 1903 in Henrietta and divided his years almost evenly between Windthorst and Gainesville. He was married in Windthorst to Miss Mary Schroeder on April 22, 1925, and the couple continued living there until they moved to Gainesville in 1937.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Walter Hermes of Gainesville and Mrs. Paul Arendt Jr. of Lindsay; five sons, Ed, Lee and Walter of Gainesville, Adam of Muenster and Johnny of Lindsay; three sisters, Mmes. Leo Huff, August Vieth, and August Berend, all of Windthorst; four brothers, Toney, Mike, Henry and Sylvester, all of Windthorst, and 28 grandchildren.

Tom Hess Working On Marathon Race

Tom Hess, who has just qualified as a member of the Thousand Mile Club at North Texas State University, is developing into a prime prospect as a Marathon runner on the NTSU track team.

He turned in a time of 2 hours and 46 minutes in the 26-mile endurance run last Thursday. That was a half hour better than his previous best time and 1½ hour better than his time in the University of Kansas meet last year.

Tom became eligible for the NTSU Thousand Mile Club by running that distance during the summer vacation.

Trade With Red China

The United States has eased restrictions on trade with and travel to Peiping. This was described as consistent with the Nixon administration's desire to relax tensions and facilitate peaceful contacts.

For the past 2 years, the United States has failed in all attempts to ease tensions between Washington and Peiping. Mao Tse-tung insists on burying capitalism in a war without national boundaries. Peiping took the initiative to resume the Warsaw talks and then reneged.

Anti-Americanism has become a Maoist theme, as expressed in the new Communist Party charter. Peiping has incited U.S. riots and advocates race revolution. Peiping only trades for its own gain. Easing of trade restrictions will not satisfy the Chinese Communists.

Mitigation of travel restrictions will not improve the American image among the Chinese Communists. Any reciprocal rights given Communist propagandists would give them an opportunity to distort the truth and further their infiltration.

Nixon should keep in mind that no gesture of appeasement can hope to have a favorable result.

Tshombe Accuses

The death of Moise Tshombe in an Algerian prison conveyed a grim story which pretty well sums up the immorality and the degeneracy of the Western so-called "free nations."

After Tshombe was illegally kidnaped and illegally confined in Algeria, the free nations of the world conveniently forgot him and did nothing to try to bring about his release from prison.

Tshombe was a black man, a Christian, a believer who had a theory that black and white men could work together in Africa. Tshombe, who came from a long line of African chiefs, wanted to keep Katanga, part of the Congo, a place where white technicians would be welcome and where they could supply the skills which the blacks in Africa do not have. In short, Tshombe was a religious man, a civilized man in a sea of primitive savagery. This fact did not surprise him nor particularly bother him.

What, of course, was completely shocking and disgraceful was the fact that, instead of supporting this friend of the free world and of civilized values the free world joined with the United Nations in a shocking military action against Katanga which resulted in horrible massacres of innocent women and children, black as well as white.

The United Nations and politicians of this country were so eager to placate, appease and flatter black savages that they cared nothing about sacrificing Tshombe in the process.

Later, Tshombe was kidnaped while on an airplane trip over Spain. The plane landed in Algeria, where he had committed no crime but where, nevertheless, he was confined at the request of the savage dictator of the Congo. It was our belief at the time that Tshombe would NOT be turned over to the Congolese but would be kept in prison until all the money that could be extracted because of him would have been extracted by the Algerian authorities, after which he would be killed and his death would be ascribed to natural causes.

Tragically, this is EXACTLY what happened.

Once again the so-called "free world" has been shown to be without principle and to be unwilling to take any risk to support those who fight for freedom, who believe in liberty, in justice, in order and in religion.

The death of Tshombe pretty well took the measure of the lack of moral integrity of the free world and its essential gutlessness.

Don't tell these Negro boys they are "underprivileged" They're too busy to listen—too busy working and earning.

In a large northern city whose relief rolls are loaded with people who can't (or won't) work, is a group of teenage Negroes who have all the work they can handle. Because they are willing to work, hard, at any honest work they can get. So they have plenty of it.

People who employ them (at painting, cleaning, yard work) say they're thorough, industrious, honest, self-respecting. Any number of tax-supported, inflation-breeding organizations would have been glad to "take care of" these teenagers — but they preferred work and self-respect.

Tens and hundreds of thousands more could be employed in this country as happily and profitably as these young men are — if they had the gumption to go out and look for work to do.

Talk and Slides Explains New Drunk Driver Law

A free illustrated talk explaining the new Texas law which makes chemical breath tests mandatory for drunk driving suspects is now available from the Texas Safety Association.

Entitled "So, What Do We Do Now?", the talk points out that for the past ten years, 68 percent of persons killed in one-car accidents were drunk when they died, as were 43 percent of those killed in two-car accidents. It goes on to estimate that enforcement of the new law can lower those percentages considerably, saving as many as 500 lives a year.

Starting September 1, Texas drivers suspected of driving while intoxicated must take a test to determine the alcohol content of their blood. If they refuse the test, they can lose their driver's license.

"So, What Do We Do Now?" describes each step in the administering of the test to a suspect. The talk is designed to give Texans a better understanding of the "breath test" law and the procedures which will be followed in enforcing it.

Illustrated with 33 color slides, the talk is available at no charge to adult groups throughout the state. Civic and service organizations wishing to see the presentation are urged to contact the Texas Safety Association, 1623 South Lamar Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78704. Telephone Area Code 512, 444-6551.

Directions for safe use are on insecticides. Be sure to follow the directions closely or the bugs in your garden may not be the only ones poisoned.

New Law Requires Slowpoke Drivers To Stay on Right

"Slow-poke" drivers - a long-time hazard and source of irritation on the state's high-speed roads - will soon have to speed up or keep right when traveling on divided highways in the Lone Star State, the Texas Safety Association noted today.

Under a new law, going into effect Monday, September 1, vehicles traveling at less than the normal speed of traffic on divided highways must be driven in the right-hand lane or as close as practicable to the right-hand curb or edge of the roadway -- except when passing.

In commenting on the new law, the Safety Association expresses hope that the traffic measure will be a practical solution to the mounting problem of slow drivers who tie-up traffic on heavy traveled roads and are frequently a contributing factor in traffic crashes.

The new law should also ease the tension of drivers who use the high-speed inside lanes on divided highways and not only find it mechanically difficult, but also emotionally difficult to cope with such drivers, the Safety Association continued.

Many drivers become quite irritated when there is no safe way to pass a slow driver. They often take risks that they would not ordinarily take and wind up in trouble.

"Why did you leave your last job?" asked the personnel man of the job seeker.

"Illness, sir" was the reply.

"What illness?" "I don't rightly know, sir," the applicant answered. "They just said they were sick of me."

Gifts Presented SH Science Dept. Are Interesting

An unusual gift with an interesting history has been added to Sacred Heart School's science department through courtesy of George Gehrig.

It's a Squaw Pan — rather one half of it.

The squaw pan was always made of one large rock about one-third foot thick, a foot wide and one to one and a half feet long, and another rock that could be manipulated to crush the corn until it became meal rom which the Indian squaw made bread.

This corn grinder was to be kept as a household necessity in the Indian family until the death of the husband — either from natural causes or through Indian warfare. Then the squaw was permitted to break up housekeeping and the pan was broken. Until this occurred the squaw was obligated to take the pan along wherever the Indians camped and to handle it carefully so it would not break.

The squaw pan Mr. Gehrig presented was found on the Allen Agee farm about two miles west of Illinois Bend in the 1960s. Mr. Allen told Mr. Gehrig that during the Bulcher oil boom days in 1927-28 there were truck loads of squaw pans hauled out of the old Commanche Indian camp. Most of them were transported to Wichita Falls for museums and to private collectors.

When Mr. Gehrig scouted this former Indian camp he found in about two hours' search only a few pieces of squaw pans.

The science department is grateful to Mr. Gehrig not only for the pan but also for the interesting history of it.

Another donation of an entirely different nature but likewise very valuable and appreciated came from Paul Luke, college instructor of physics in Dalas and an alumnus of Sacred Heart High. Study of Matter and Energy by Verne H. Booth, 1967; Fundamentals of University Physics by Wallace McCormick 1969, and Introduction to Atomic and Nuclear Physics by Roger D. Rusk. Considering the high cost of books of this type and the need of books for the science section of Sacred

Return from Trip

Sisters Mrs. Felix Becker and Mrs. Joe Vogel have returned from a flying trip to visit relatives in Maryland, Indiana and Michigan. They flew to Washington, D.C., where Mrs. Becker's son and family the Vincent Beckers met them, took them to places of interest in the Nation's Capital, and to their home in Silver Springs, Maryland. From there Vincent and family drove them to Fort Wayne, Ind., where they were guests of relatives including the Andy Mudracks and George Hartmans. Mr. and Mrs. Hartman took them to Dearborn, Mich. to visit a brother Albert Hartman and family and they drove to Milan, Mich., to visit other relatives. They returned home by jet from Dearborn after the 10-day vacation.

The ABM issue boils down to this: If we build it and don't need it, all we lose is money. If we need it and don't build it, we lose our country.

Heart Library, these are extremely welcome and the faculty is grateful to Mr. Luke.

MRS. BRUCE E. BROWN

Margaret Lawson Becomes Bride of Pfc. Bruce Brown

Newlyweds Pfc. and Mrs. Bruce Edward Brown are honeymooning since their marriage Saturday night at Gainesville. The bride is the former Miss Margaret Ann Lawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lawson of Gainesville, formerly of Muenster. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Brown of Longview.

Presented by her father, the bride wore a cage silhouette gown of clipped Chantilly lace accented with sequins and simulated pearls, fashioned with a high neckline, long tapered sleeves and an attached chapel train. A sequin and pearl petal headpiece held her shoulder length veil and her flowers were yellow orchids and stephanotis. Adding sentiment to her wedding, she wore an antique gold cross and chain, worn by all brides on her mother's side of the family at their weddings. It belonged to the bride's great-grandmother, the late Mrs. Mike Kleiss.

Miss Barbara Brown of Longview, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Elizabeth Hackney of Gainesville, Gloria Moreno of Spur, Linda Owen of Healdton, Okla., and Lisa Mollenkopf of Muenster, bride's cousin.

They all wore yellow crepe A-line floor-length dresses with scalloped lace elbow-length sleeves, had lover's knots in their hair and carried cascades of white daisies.

Attending the bridegroom were Larry Tucker of Houston, George Brown, a brother of Longview, Dick Horner also of Longview, Brian Patrick of Fort Worth and Jim Lawson, brother of the bride.

Judy Walterscheid, in a short yellow crepe dress carrying a basket of white daisies, was flower girl and Michael Walterscheid was ring bearer. They are cousins of the bride.

Miss Lisa Mollenkopf and Jim Lawson were candle lighters.

Before the service Jim Lawson sang "Somewhere My Love" and Jimmy Holt sang "If Ever I Should Leave You." During the service Mr. Holt sang "The Lord's Prayer." Glenn D. Wilson was organist. He played the Love Theme from Romeo and Juliet for the wedding march.

Reception for about 200 guests was held in Fellowship Hall where Miss Judy McGowan, bride's cousin and Miss Janet Henry were members of the house party serving punch and cake.

After their wedding trip to Miami and Nassau, the couple will be at home at Fort Rucker, Ala., while he is stationed there with the Army.

Group Attends MPI General Meeting

Nine Muenster people were at Fort Worth during the past weekend attending the annual general meeting of Milk Producers, Inc., which includes dairymen throughout the middle section of states from the Canadian to the Mexican borders.

The high point of the meeting to them was the address by Sister M. Thomas More the social sciences department to Holy Family College, Manitowac, Wis. She said that economic troubles of farmers result mostly from failure to stick together, also that the most effective organization is on the basis of commodities rather than localities.

Attending from here were Larry Yosten, Wylie Lewis, Clyde Fisher and Messrs. and Mmes. Martin Becker, Henry Yosten and Tommy Knabe.

Endres Motor Co. Gets Distinguished Service Award

The award is presented "in recognition of progressive management, modern sales and service facilities, sound merchandising practices, high quality standards and continuing interest in rendering superior service to Ford owners."

Endres Motor Company, owned by Urban Endres and Marty Klement, has been the Ford dealership in Muenster since 1946.

When you look at the many kinds of taxes we all pay, it kind of makes you realize that the folks running this country haven't been fools. A bunch of fools couldn't have thought up the many, many ways to get money out of our pockets.

Miss Mary Hesse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meinrad Hesse, has entered the novitiate of the Sisters of St. Mary Namur in Buffalo, N.Y. She left by plane Saturday. A number of family parties and farewell courtesies honored her the past week.

Miss Vickie Dillard and Miss Letta Goodson of Amarillo returned home Wednesday after a five-day visit with Vickie's grandmother Mrs. Oscar Dettlen. Studies have shown that work output is less when breakfast is skipped than when some food is eaten in the morning.

Ah, for the good old ways when a teacher's strike landed on the seat of the pants!

A man was charged with using counterfeit money to pay a bill. At his hearing, the defendant pleaded that he didn't know the money was phony. Pressed for proof, he blurted, "Because I stole it. Would I be stealing money if I knew it was counterfeit?"

That made good sense to the judge, so he tossed out the counterfeit charge. But he substituted a new charge: theft. "Sure I stole it," the defendant conceded amiably. "But counterfeit money has no legal value. Since when is it a crime to steal nothing?"

No one could find any flaws in his logic, so the man went free. All of which shows that two wrongs—if the breaks are with you can make a right.

Hospital Auxiliary Admitted into State Association

Muenster Hospital Auxiliary marked another milestone recently by receiving its certificate of membership in the Texas Association of Hospital Auxiliaries. An invitation from the association had been accepted several weeks earlier by the local president, Mrs. Gerald Walterscheid. The certificate is now on display in the lobby of the hospital. Membership in the state organization implies recognition of the auxiliary's many accomplishments and contributions since the hospital was established. It also presents an opportunity to benefit from the experiences of other successful hospital auxiliaries. The association presents a forum for exchange of ideas and methods that were used elsewhere on successful projects. The ideas are spread through newsletters and district and state meetings, and they pertain to auxiliaries of all sizes of hospitals.

So far, no one has devised a way to develop a business without someone putting in hard work.

WHAT IS AN AVERAGE MAN?
The average man is 69.1 inches tall and 161.9 pounds in weight.
In World War I the average adult male stood 67.7 inches tall and weighed 142 pounds. During World War II he was 68.4 inches tall and weighed 155 pounds. Recent studies, according to the American Seating Company of Grand Rapids, Michigan, have shown that on the average sons are 1.3 inches taller and as much as 10 pounds heavier than their fathers at the same age.

The first thing for any man to do after he finds he has been born equal, is to try to outgrow it.

Cancelled Stamps Again Solicited By SHH Students

Now that the academic year has started at Sacred Heart School, students send out a reminder to save and send in cancelled stamps to school or directly to Mrs. John Felderhoff, 128 W. Street, who is in charge of stamp trimming. Sister Theresina again heads this mission project.

Mrs. Felderhoff reports having received stamps during the summer as far away as California from Alfred C. Haverkamp and from Marie A. Fisher of Fort Worth.

Among local people delivering stamps to her during the summer were Mrs. Conrad Jostwerner, Mrs. Joe Starke, Mrs. L.A. Bernauer and the Weinzapfels. And there are many who contributed during the school year. Would that it were possible to list all donors, Sister Theresina said. Students ask old friends to continue their efforts and to encourage new friends to join the project. This is mission work that aids the poor and needy of the world.

Another mission project is adoption of an Equidorian and Philippian seminarian. For more details see Sr. Theresina

They wore deep pink peau de soie gowns in full A-line with Empire belt of white embroidered organza flowers. In line with these ideas it seems correct to say that big shots of Labor again missed the real spirit of Labor Day. Lip service about dedication to the working man misses the point when it fails to strive for more pride and integrity in work and more real benefit for the working man.
