

THANKSGIVING

A Day to Count Our Blessings and Be Grateful

MUENSTER ENTERPRISE

VOLUME XXXVI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 NOVEMBER 26, 1971

This week it's a pleasure again to call attention to this paper's birthday. As indicated by the volume and number of this issue, the Enterprise is beginning its thirty sixth year, so it has something special to be thankful for on this Thanksgiving Day of 1971.

This column could not let the occasion pass without repeating what has been said many times in the past. The Enterprise is most grateful. It appreciates its subscribers, including a number of old faithfuls who have been on the mailing list since the start. It appreciates the business people who have used these advertising columns to convey their sales messages. It appreciates all the cooperative friends who have reported items of interest to help us fill the news columns.

Likewise it appreciates its patrons of the commercial printing department. The Enterprise, like most other weeklies, could not make ends meet strictly by publishing. It needs the additional business to keep going, and it is grateful to all who have their printing done here.

Another big reason for gratitude is our good fortune in being part of a thriving community. For many years Muenster has been considerably ahead of most other towns its size in business activity and progress, and, we admit thankfully, some of its success has rubbed off on us.

That thought suggests another reason which ought to register on every American this Thanksgiving Day. We have the good fortune of living in the United States, the land of freedom and opportunity. We are living the good life, enjoying higher standards of comfort, luxury and health than any other people on earth. That's because we have the free enterprise system in which each individual is able to do as he pleases and to achieve as much as his ability permits. It is the system which produced our abundance, a blessing to consumers as well as producers.

Americanism is also the system of personal freedom, where people can come and go as they please, work where they please, worship as they please, and vote as they please. This is the country in which subversives and nitwits complain about the establishment but do not exercise their freedom to leave it. The situation suggests a contrast for which we can be thankful. Discontented people over here don't leave even though they are not detained. Discontented people over there are risking their lives to get away.

While thanking Almighty God for all those blessings, we are probably more aware this Thanksgiving than ever before that it's an occasion to ask God for continued blessing. We are dangerously close to losing our way of living and we desperately need to understand that our only hope is to restore the values which made our country great. We need to ask God for the guidance and character and perseverance to work our way out of the mess we have made in the past generation or two.

So very much has to be done to get our system back on its original course. In the field of crime there must be a realization that permissiveness and over-solicitude for a criminal's rights are contributing to crime. Society is not improved by the present wave of misguided humanitarianism. It is only mocked. Everyone knows that conditions were better when criminals had to pay for their crimes. Well, why don't we restore those old standards?

Concerning the alien isms, we have a serious threat that has already gone too far for comfort. When subversives and subversive literature are allowed to circulate freely, especially on the campuses, when mobs are allowed to assemble and defy the law and burn and loot and preach treason, when the peo-co-owner of the auction barn said that the animals weighed an average of 400 pounds and their total value is about $8,300.

The theft is under investigation of the Sheriff's Department, which has reason to believe that some of the calves were taken to Oklahoma. Deputy Don King reported that a call from authorities there disclosed that an Oklahoma rancher had discovered seven strange animals on his place. King also said that this theft was very similar to one at Marietta, Okla., on November 3. In that case seventeen animals were stolen from a livestock auction barn.

The method of Saturday's theft, King said, was to use a hacksaw in cutting the lock on the barn's entrance gate then using the loading pens for loading. The rustlers' vehicle is believed to have been a large trailer truck.

Burglar Alarm at Bank Was Phoney

A burglar alarm at the Muenster State Bank during the early hours of Sunday morning fortunately was a false alarm.

Neither bank officials or the Cooke County Sheriff's Department were able to explain what triggered the alarm which sounded about 5 a.m. in the sheriff's office and in the homes of Earl Fisher and John David Meurer.

Fisher and Meurer were there in a few minutes barely beating Sheriff Bill Pratt and a deputy who drove from Gainesville. They went into the bank and investigated and found everything in order.

Boys' Club Starts Training for 12 Boxing Tournaments

Looking forward to a busy season of twelve boxing tournaments, members of the Muenster Boys' Club started their training program Monday.

During the past few weeks the boys have been spending their spare time, under direction of Club Director Mike Stoffels, on a clean-up fix-up project consisting principally of a paint job for walls and ceiling, installation of more lights, and general repairs. Ernest Jaska gave a hand, securing material contributions from Southland Paint, Community Lumber and Muenster Electric plus electric installation by Muenster Electric.

Stoffels said the local club will host the second tournament on January 13-15. Other tournaments will be in Wichita Falls, Ardmore, Lawton, Duncan, Comanche, Walters and Waurika. Wichita will have four and Lawton two.

Good news for the kids and their parents this season is a new arrangement eliminating delay at tournaments and allowing the boys to get home earlier. Weights will be reported two days before and matches will be booked in advance instead of at the start of the tournament.

Cow Camp Recipe For Roast Turkey

The turkey, a native American bird, has always been a favorite delicacy in Texas. Even the Indians considered it fine eating, and the early day cowboys welcomed turkey meat as a change from their standard beef diet.

Folklorist J. Frank Dobie, in his book, "A Vaquero of the Brush Country" (Little Brown and Co.), describes a cow camp recipe:

"Sometimes Sam would roast a turkey in its feathers. To do this, he would dig a pit, build a fire in it, and heat the ground thoroughly; then he would take out the coals. Having removed the entrails from the turkey and salted and peppered it, he would put it in the hole — a 'fireless cooker' — in such a way that no dirt could touch the flesh.

"Next he would cover it with hot earth, then build a fire over the covering. When ten or twenty hours later he lifted the turkey out by its feet, the skin and feathers would scale off by their own weight, and we had a juicy savory meat so tender that it almost melted at a touch."

Vandals Destroy City Park Plane's Cockpit Canopy

Indignation is running high among the Muenster Jaycees, as among many others who were delighted and proud over the recent addition of a surplus military airplane to the city park.

The plexiglass canopy over the cockpit of that plane was smashed by vandals Saturday night, only ten days after it had been brought in by the Jaycees.

Dan Hamric, chairman of the project to acquire the plane, said that the damage could not have been caused by accident, but resulted from deliberate pounding with a hammer or other heavy instrument. Air Force personnel who delivered the plane said the canopy was bullet proof.

Hamric said the extent of damage could not be estimated locally because the cost of the canopy would have to be obtained from the military. However he was certain that the value is sizeable and it is being considered in determining the amount of damage.

He added that the Sheriff's Department is urged to give special attention to this case and the Jaycees are offering a reward of $50 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the guilty person or persons. If others are interested in upping the reward their money will be welcomed by Hamric or Jaycee President Roy Monday.

This senseless mutilation of an object of community pride is regarded as the last straw in a vandalistic trend which has been apparent here for a considerable length of time. The Jaycees and many others think the time has come to throw the book at someone.

Trachta, Endres And Miller Lead In Hornet Offense

Final statistics on offensive efforts of Muenster Hornets for the pat football season show Jim Endres with a long string of passes, Hank Trachta as the leader in rushing yardage and Alan Miller as the leading pass receiver.

As the quarterback in all but a few minutes of the season, Endres had a monopoly in the passing department and ran up a fine record of 85 completions on 165 tries for a total of 1243 yards.

Receivers of the passes were paced by Alan Miller who caught 23 for total gains of 630. Next was Ricky Swirczynski who completed 19 for 304 yards, Tom Hennigan who caught 4 for 74 and Curtis Klement who caught 4 for 55.

Trachta gained 873 on 202 carries to take the lead in rushing, and Henry Knabe gained 549 on 151 tries for the second place. Also Swirczynski carried 75 times for 364 yards and Jim Endres 45 times for 137 yards.

Scoring honors were more evenly divided. Trachta leads again with 10 TD and 4 PAT for 64 points. Knabe has 7 TD and 4 PAT for 46. Endres 5 TD, 13 PAT and a field goal for 46. Swirczynski 6 TD and 4 PAT for 40. Miller 5 TD and 6 PAT for 36.

Defensive leader for the season was Claude Klement. Others in order were Jerry Eckart, Jim Endres, Danny Fette, Roy Klement and Chuck Fisher.

The Hornets are tied for second place in the District 12-A race with a record of 3-2-0. Their season record is 7-2-1. They scored 165 and allowed their opponents 124.

Nocona Advances In State Playoff

Nocona's Indians, with a perfect 5-0 record in loop competition, successfully carried the 12-A banner through their bi-district game and are booked for their second elimination game in search of the Class A state championship title.

They go to Abilene Friday for a clash with Sonora, which, according to the Harris rating, is Number 2 in the state. Nocona, by the same rating, is not included in the first 10.

In last week's bi-district game Nocona clobbered Aledo 34-0.

Tiger Exes to Play

Members of former Tiger football teams will have another taste of action Saturday night at 8 when they clash just for fun on the Sacred Heart Field. Men who graduated on even numbered years will take on those of the odd numbered years. They'll get together Wednesday at 7 for issue of equipment and practice.

Paper Drive Saturday Sacred Heart Seniors will conduct a scrap paper drive Saturday, Nov. 27, beginning at 9 a.m.

His location will be the small building adjoining the hospital, where the Benedictine Sisters lived while they were assigned to the hospital. It is being remodeled to provide accommodation for reception room, business office and treatment rooms. Also the exterior is changed for a front entrance by removing a portion of solar screen and building a short sidewalk from the building to an existing sidewalk.

Dr. Knight is not new to the Muenster hospital personnel and a considerable number of local people. He served as orthopedic consultant to local doctors before joining the hospital staff about a year ago and has performed some 12 to 15 operations here.

He recently built a new home a short distance off the FM Road between Era and Rosston. Until now it has been his occasional home. After his move it will be his full time home.

Area Gets First Taste of Winter

The most wintery weather of the season to date moved into the community with rain and sleet and a bone chilling drop in temperature. It was not the coldest — getting down to 33 whereas there have been a few mild freezes. But the combination of cold, wind and dampness made it more uncomfortable than before.

The rain, along with a short flurry of sleet in the afternoon and again at night, measured .66 inch. It brings the month's measure to 1.94 and the year's total to 34.07 inches.

"In the Name of God, Amen"

"In the name of God, amen!" So opens the Mayflower Compact. This pact was a rule of law for the small settlement of Plymouth, to which all must subscribe before leaving the ship to enter the new land. This document is a masterpiece, which in one sentence provided a workable code under which the people might live in peace and order. Here it is: "We do, by these presents, solemnly and mutually, in the presence of God and one of another, covenant and combine ourselves together into a civil body politic, for our better ordering and preservation and furtherance of the ends aforesaid, and by virtue thereof enact, constitute and frame such just and equal laws, ordinances, acts, constitutions and offices, from time to time, as shall be thought most meet and convenient for the general good of the colony; unto which we promise all due submission and obedience."

This rule of law and order in all things was the very premise upon which the United States was founded. It was begun in the cabin of the Mayflower with the signing of the above compact. It established the world's first government for and by the people. Although they could not have known what they were starting, the Pilgrims, with one stroke of the pen, created the freedoms, the justice, and the opportunities which have made America unique among the nations of the world.

The Pilgrims left England to escape the yoke of religious persecution to find a place in the wilderness where they might walk in all His ways, whatever the cost. And in all simplicity and humility, this they did. The Pilgrims brought God to these shores as a partner, comforter, and friend. They brought the Holy Bible as their guide. America was born a Christian nation, thanks to them. They loved God and they loved order. We fell heir to their priceless legacy by their faith and their blood, which they gave that we might be free.

Our American holiday of Thanksgiving is traced to this Plymouth colony, but the idea is much older. The origin of the custom of setting aside a time of thanksgiving to God is lost in the mists of time.

Only the blessed of God know what Thanksgiving Day is really all about. Only the country that was founded, under God, is the greatest blest in 1971. We, the people of today, must preserve this heritage for our children and our children's children, in the name of God, amen!

BLESSINGS OF PRODUCTIVITY

The Pilgrim Fathers of the Massachusetts Bay Colony God for the bountiful harvest.

Undergoing the rigors of the hostile wilderness, this small band of men and women carved out a future by the sweat of their brows and a few crude tools. With the help of some friendly Indians, new foods and fruits found their way to the festive board.

The successful fruit of their labor was a tribute to their productivity and they, in turn, shared what they had produced with their Indian neighbors.

It is this same driving force which has motivated this country in the years since the first Thanksgiving. It has enabled us to become the most prosperous and the most generous nation in the world. Through increased productivity we can continue to prosper and to share our bountiful harvest with those less fortunate.

A Good Law

A new era in the giant Texas automobile industry, and in the protection of the buying public, has opened this fall as the new Dealer-Manufacturer Licensing Law goes into full effect.

The six-member Texas Motor Vehicle Commission, set up to administer the law and regulate the industry, is hard at work, licensing the more than 1,600 franchised new car dealers and approximately 1,500 factory representatives in the state, and holding public hearings to pass on the operation of new car dealerships and adjudicate other issues within the industry. Incidentally, the Commission includes two representatives of the public at large.

The law was designed primarily for the protection of the car-buying public. It is, in this respect, a model for the nation. Of the 33 states which have regulatory laws for the automobile industry, Texas is the only one which assures the public a forum for grievances and complaints. Consumers may register complaints with the Motor Vehicle Commission against dealers or manufacturers for failing to carry out warranty obligations, for requiring the installation of special equipment in order for the buyer to obtain delivery, for false advertising or any fraudulent act that damages the purchaser.

Perhaps equally important is the fact that the new law preserves and defends the independent dealer system of sales and service, which is the heart of the industry. The industry is concentrated in the hands of huge international corporations, and the independent dealer system stands between the giant and the consumer.

To give you one example: The law requires that the automotive factories — be they in Detroit, Berlin or Tokyo — must file their warranty agreements in black and white with the Texas Motor Vehicle Commission, so there can be no misunderstanding about just what the individual buyer is entitled to if his new car develops mechanical faults or failures.

The Texas Legislature earlier this year wisely recognized that in the 70's we face greater need for motor vehicle-consumer protection to solve safety, pollution, highway and transportation problems. The Dealer-Manufacturer Licensing Law was their answer to the challenge, and it was a good one.

Texas Ag Exports Top $442 Million

Texas agriculture is alive and well and is making great strides. It supplies an abundance of food and fiber not only to those living in the state but to others as well, especially those in foreign countries.

"Texans should take special notice of this fact during the upcoming Texas Food and Fiber Abundance Week, November 15-21," urges Charles K. Baker, Extension agricultural economist at Texas A&M University.

"Texas' share of the 1970 agricultural exports was $442 million, or about 15 percent of its cash receipts from marketings. It ranked fourth among agricultural exporting states. United States agricultural exports totaled $7.2 billion in 1970."

Last year Texas held the top spot in exports of cotton and cottonseed oil with 29 percent of the total and was second in rice with 24 percent. Other top export products included hides and skins, tallow, nuts, flaxseed, feed grains, fruits and vegetables, meat and poultry products, and wheat and flour.

According to the economist, foreign markets have a marked impact on the economic stability of Texas agriculture. Exports sales in 1970 equaled 79.5 percent of farm cash receipts for rice, 50 percent for wheat, 44.5 percent for feed gains and 33.5 percent for cotton.

More than three-fourths of the total U.S. farm exports represent dollar sales and the remainder are under government program, adds Baker. Most exports under government programs, such as Public Law 480 (Food for Peace), do not return dollars to the U.S.

Art Work Done by Sister Jeanette's Pupils Recognized

Sister Jeanette Bayer and two of her students of St. Maria Goretti Elementary School in Lake Arthur, La., share honors by having the children's art work featured in Scholastic News Ranger, a magazine for children.

Encouraged by Sister Jeanette, the two third grade girls made Hansel and Gretel dolls after an invitation from the magazine led them to try their talents in an art project.

Stiff paper formed the bodies of the dolls which the girls stuffed with newspaper and then sewed them together. They made clothing and features from felt and cloth.

Their work is displayed with that of other children throughout the country. Sister Jeanette, a native of Muenster, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bayer.

"Well, Billy," asked father as he settled down with his evening paper, "are you going to need any help with your homework tonight?" "No, thanks, dad," replied Billy. "I might as well get it wrong all by myself."

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY

By Bettie Luke

Books on the shelves of Muenster Public Library include "The Cowboy" by Vincent Paul Rennert. It tells about the American cowboy — the colorful legendary hero of the old West that has intrigued generations of readers and movie goers with his deeds and derring-do. During the early 1800s some 40 thousand young men rounded up, branded and drove ten million head of cattle to markets.

"The Great Roundup" by Lewis Nordyke is the story of the Texas and southwestern cowmen.

The Longhorns made more history than any other breed of cattle the civilized world has known. In a book by that title Frank J. Dobie tells of the Spanish conquistadores who brought their cattle with them; of ranching in turbulent colonial times. He catches the terrible excitement of the stampede; of titanic bull fights on the range; "ghost" steers; fabulous tracks and Indian torture.

A very happy Thanksgiving to all our readers is the wish of the staff and your librarian. We are closed for the holiday.

Muenster Hi Loses Double Header to Forestburg Teams

Muenster High's basketball teams, just getting started in their 71-72 season lost both ends of a double header with Forestburg Friday night in the MHS gym. Counts were 56-37 in the girls game and 44-29 in the boys game.

In both of the games Coach Charles Cash made frequent substitutions to become familiar with the capabilities of his players. It was the first action for his boys who had started their practice only four days earlier, following the end of the football season. The girls have had more practice and also had previous games with Valley View and Alvord.

Coach Cash is working on a re-organizing job on both of his teams. That is true especially of the girls who have only Doris Felderhoff back from last year's starting lineup. The other five graduated. And three of last year's starting boys were graduates, so only Jim Endres and Mark Lippe are returning starters.

In both games the MHS teams did a creditable job of rebounding and ball handling but they hit only a small percentage of their shots. The visitors had a much better record and pulled away steadily through both games.

Doris Felderhoff led MHS scoring with 16 and Janet Swirczynski was next with 9. Joyce Swirczynski and Dolly Bayer each made 6.

Jim Endres, Lonnie Hellman and Tommy Otto hit 6 points each, Randy Wolf got 5, Ricky Swirczynski 4, Mark Lippe and Ronnie Felderhoff 1 each.

Well, What Do You Know? fun, games and knowledge

by MARTHA GLAUBER SHAPP, Editor, The New Book of Knowledge

Would you like to find out about your sense of taste?

The ancient Greek philosopher Aristotle listed taste as one sense. Modern scientists, however, count four senses of taste: sweet, salt, sour, and bitter.

MAPPING THE TASTE AREAS OF THE TONGUE

With the help of a friend, you can easily explore the tasting abilities of your tongue. For the first part of this experiment, you will need small quantities of sugar and water, salt and water, lemon juice and water, and coffee. You will also need four soda straws. Draw one of the liquids into a straw, ask your friend to put out his tongue, and release drops of the liquid on different parts of his tongue—the tip, sides, center, and back. Repeat this with each of the other liquids. You will find that the tongue tip reports chiefly on sweet and salt, the sides on salt and sour, and the back on bitter. (The center does not report tastes at all.) By keeping track of your friend's reactions, you can make a "taste map" of his tongue.

Now take up a little dry sugar on the tip of your tongue and close your mouth. For a moment you do not taste the sugar. You taste it only when saliva, the liquid in the mouth, dissolves the sugar. When food is wet, a chemical reaction takes place with the taste receptors and a message is sent to the brain.

The taste receptors are usually called taste buds, and they lie inside the little bumps on the tongue. All taste buds look alike, but each reports on only one kind of taste.

You and your friend can make taste maps of each other's tongues, and then compare the results of your experiments.

It was an observance of the company's silver anniversary of Ford sales and service in Muenster combined with a Christmas party and a service meeting. Table centerpieces were a floral basket arrangement which Mrs. Jerry Reiter won as the door prize and two 1946 Ford car miniatures with flowers and inscription "Marty" and "Urban." These were gifts from employees to employers. During the evening employees received their Christmas gifts from their bosses.

B team girls lost the opener 27-14 and their scorers were Mary Lou Fleitman 5, Sandy Dittfurth 4, Patty Luttmner 4, Charlotte Johnson 1.

What do you know about scuba-diving?

Men have always been curious about the tremendous water world, and history tells of many attempts to penetrate

it. However, taking an air supply beneath the surface was extremely complicated. Men were faced with the difficulty of movement in a liquid world and the problems of constantly increasing and decreasing pressure. Diving was restricted to a few highly trained individuals using cumbersome deep-sea suits and helmets with high-pressure air lines to

Narcotics Users Are Not Allowed To Drive Vehicles

Major Guy Smith, commander of the North Central and Northeastern Texas Region of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced that the legislature passed many new traffic laws in the last session which effects Texas drivers.

As of August 27, 1971, it is unlawful and punishable for any person who is a habitual user of or under the influence of any narcotic drug, or who is under the influence of any other drug to a degree which renders him incapable of safely driving a vehicle, to drive a vehicle within this state. The fact that any person charged with a violation of this law is or has been entitled to use such drug under the laws of this state shall not constitute a defense against any charge of violation of this law.

The penalty for first conviction shall be imprisonment of not less than ten days or more than two years, or by fine of not less than $100 or more than $1000 or both such fine and imprisonment. On second or subsequent conviction under this law he shall be punished by imprisonment for not less than 90 days or more than two years, and, in the discretion of the court, a fine of not more than $1000.

As of August 27, 1971, any person who unintentionally (with a conscious disregard for the rights of others) causes the death of another person while engaged in the violation of any state law or municipal ordinance applying to the operation or use of a vehicle or to the regulation of traffic shall be guilty of homicide when such violation is the proximate cause of death.

The penalty for homicide by vehicle is a fine of not less than $500 or not more than $2000 or imprisonment in County Jail not less than three months or more than one year or both fine and imprisonment, provided, however, that such person may be tried only after indictment by a grand jury and may be tried only in the county where the violation occurred.

Public and Nonpublic Educators Of Big Cities in Joint Conference

In an historic meeting called by the U.S. Office of Education more than 100 superintendents of large city school systems met November 15-17 in the Airlie House, Warrenton, Virginia, about 40 miles from Washington, D.C. Superintendents of public and nonpublic school systems in cities of more than 300,000 were invited by Dr. Sidney G. Marland, Jr., U.S. Commissioner of Education, to confer on mutual problems facing educators in the large cities of America.

Stated purposes of the joint conference were two fold: first, "to seek ways of improving communication and coordination between public and nonpublic educators for the improved delivery of educational services to disadvantaged children, especially those in urban areas;" secondly, "to exchange information concerning the various ways of financing the public and nonpublic components of the educational enterprise."

In the opening address, Dr. Herman R. Goldberg, Associate Commissioner for Equal Educational Opportunity, outlined hopes for establishing communications between large city superintendents of schools and their nonpublic counterparts. Speaking November 16, Commissioner Marland pointed out cooperative ventures between public and nonpublic school systems that have succeeded in utilizing federal legislation to bring enrichment programs to all disadvantaged children, citing in particular Title I, the program for educationally deprived children, Title II, enrichment of school library resources, and Title III, Regional Service Centers, which assist in the planning of innovative programming. Commissioner Marland cited the experience nationally of fair to excellent distribution of services to nonpublic as well as public school children on a pro-rata basis. He sees the U.S. Office of Education as placing a priority on assisting the large cities in solving their educational problems.

In attendance at the Joint Conference were Superintendent Julius G. Truelson, of the Fort Worth Independent School District and Rev. Robert W. Wilson, Superintendent of the Catholic School System of the Diocese of Fort Worth.

Father Wilson calls the Joint Conference "a giant step forward in the service of children in all educational systems. By placing the child where he should be, the chief concern of educational systems, the necessity of cooperative planning and shared programs becomes evident."

He went on to state, "We have enjoyed excellent relations with the independent school districts, particularly in the utilization of Title I, Title II, and Title III funds. The schools in the diocese have been able to serve far better the needs of low income children in their area through equipment and teacher aides provided by Title I funds. All 18 schools in the Catholic School System have profited from the library enrichment materials of Title II. Regional Service Center XI in Fort Worth and IX in Wichita Falls have used Title III funding to provide excellent in-service training for the teaching staff of the system. All funds allocated for Title I and Title II are administered by the independent school district where the level of cooperation is rewarding."

"It is hoped that further programs on the federal level will be developed so that the additional enrichment of educational services might be realized. The public and nonpublic sectors are partners in providing the needs of the children in the diocese. Shared efforts, both on the national and the local level, should be increased in order to best provide for the individual needs of all children and to best provide responsible citizens for our democratic society."

CCJC Planetarium Adds Equipment And Space Photos

A new dimension has been added to the instructional and entertainment capabilities of the Cooke County Junior College Planetarium.

The W. W. Cochrane Company of Dallas recently completed installation of a rear projection screen and two random access 35mm projectors. Now one can view individual objects such as planets, nebulae, star clusters, and solar eclipses as they are being discussed in the planetarium while the positions of these objects in the sky relative to the background stars are being shown on the planetarium dome itself.

The rear projection screen is a 4 ft. x 12 ft. sheet of glass with a special coating to diffuse light. The twin projectors are permanently mounted behind the screen, out of sight from the audience. Any of 160 slides may be called up by remote control by the planetarium director.

Also added to the planetarium is a set of four dozen photos of earth and moon views taken from various Apollo spacecraft. They were given by George Gentry, a 1963 graduate of CCJC.

CCJC plans to offer a course in Descriptive Astronomy next spring and the new planetarium facilities will be used extensively throughout this course. The class will meet on Wednesday evenings.

Deepest Well Ever In Oklahoma Now Below 24,700 Feet

Lone Star Producing Company's E. R. Baden Unit Well No. 1, currently drilling below 24,700 ft., became the deepest well drilled in Oklahoma when it surpassed the 24,453 foot level. The Baden is located in Beckham County, Okla., ten miles southwest of Elk City.

Projected to a world record depth of 28,000 ft., the Baden already holds several industry records, including the successful running and cementing of a record 23,392 ft. string of 9 5/8" casing. Requiring more than 8,650 sacks of cement, the string consisted of 772 joints, each approximately 30 ft. in length, and weighed more than 850 tons. Approximately 150 hours were required to pick up, run and cement the record string. Record 20" and 13 3/8" casing strings were run earlier in the project.

This 5 1/2 million venture will utilize an estimated 4 1/2 million pounds of steel and 50,000 sacks of cement during the penetration of its primary target formations in the potentially gas rich Anadarko Basin. Lone Star Producing Co., wholly owned subsidiary of Lone Star Gas Co. in Dallas, is 100% operator of the Baden.

Formerly there was only one Pioneer Club in Texas. Now groups are forming in various areas of the state to be more active in charitable projects. The club's main project is working with nursing homes.

To be a Pioneer member one has to be in the telephone field for at least 15 years. Alvin Fuhrman is on the board of directors.

earth's resources are there for us to use. But not to use up. That's why we're continuing our search for natural gas even though we already have a good supply for this generation's needs. We want to make absolutely sure the next generation has the energy they'll need.

We're drilling the world's deepest well at the Anadarko Basin in Oklahoma. 28,000 feet beneath the surface of the earth. If this well is successful, we think we

Jimmy Bezner, 4 Birthday Honoree

Jimmy Bezner celebrated his birthday at an afternoon party hosted by his mother Mrs. James Bezner in their home.

Colored balloons decorated the party rooms and the refreshment table held the decorated cake and crystal punch service. Clever animal cards marked places for guests. They all sang "Happy Birthday" to Jimmy and showered him with gifts. Pictures were made. Games were played.

Guests were the honoree's grandmothers, Mrs. Joe Wilde of Muenster and Mrs. Jake Bezner, cousins Tina, Greg and Renee Wilde of Muenster, Connie and Nancy Endres, also of Muenster. Aunt Mrs. Rufus Bezner, cousin Mary Kay Bezner and Jimmy's brother Chris.

2 from Lindsay at TWU Make Nation Who's Who Roster

Two Lindsay girls, seniors at TWU, Denton, have been approved for National Who's Who among American Universities and Colleges. They are Mary Jane Beyer and Barbara Fuhrmann.

They are among the 36 TWU students chosen and are pictured in the Who's Who edition of the Daily Lass-O, Texas Woman's University daily newspaper.

Mary Jane, daughter of Mrs. Robert Beyer and the late Mr. Beyer is on the 2.3-3.0 list for three years, is an English major and a member of Delphi. She is in Alpha Chi, Sigma Tau Delta and the English Club. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Joe Vogel of Muenster.

Barbara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Fuhrmann, is an English major, is current president of Delphi, has been a tutor for DASH — Denton After School Help — and has taught religion at the Denton State School. She is president of the Newman Club and a member of Sigma Tau Delta and the English Club.

Guidelines for selection of the candidates were scholarship, leadership, citizenship and service to the school and the promise of future usefulness.

Mrs. Dick Cain and Mrs. Wayne Trachta and baby daughter DeAnn went to Bellvue Sunday and the little girl met her great-grandmother Mrs. J. S. Hogan and saw a great-aunt and family the T. C. Rhones for the first time.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fuhrmann, owners of Lucky 13 Ranch at Lindsay, had the Grand Champion bull at the North Texas Hereford Association Show and Sale in Gainesville. This is the third consecutive year that the Fuhrmann's bull was judged grand champion. He was bought by Pig Howard of Nocona for $1,200.

 ple who advocate such treason are allowed on the faculties or in government or in vital industrial positions, isn't it time to notice that we are headed for serious trouble?
 The economic confusion is another indication of our country's departure from traditional standards of fairness and justice. We have just finished the first phase of wage and price freeze and we have heard the good news that inflation has been slowed down, but we hear complaints from every part of the country by people who think they should have special consideration. The country needs to realize that selfishness got us into our trouble and sacrifice is the only way to get out of it. Likewise the country needs to realize that a continuation of our economic folly can eventually bring on a breakdown, in which we would lose much of what we have. Possibly it could even trigger a breakdown of government depriving us of freedom as well as our high standard of living. These evils and more are threatening to wipe out the blessings for which we are thankful on this Thanksgiving. Let's keep that in mind as we say Thanks for past favors, and ask for the Divine guidance that will help our leaders restore the standards that used to prevail in this country.
