Labeled as a "quotation to ponder" is the following statement in last Sunday's Parade Magazine. "It is possible that if Mao Tse-Tung and Ho Chi Minh had not borne the title of 'Communist' but otherwise had done exactly what they have done in their two countries, we would have accepted their victories over their domestic rivals and lived with them in peace." — Sen J. William Fulbright in "The New Yorker."

What do you think of that, coming from the chairman of our senate's Foreign Affairs Committee? Surely Mr. Fulbright must know, as well as you and I do, that both Mao and Ho rate among the great murderers of all time. These characters, like Stalin and Khrushchev of the Soviet Union, completed the political takeover of their respective countries by eliminating all who were suspected of being opposed to them. The blood bath in each of those countries ran into the millions.

The eminent advocate of left-leaning diplomacy apparently needs to brush up on his facts. Is it possible that he does not know what has happened under Red rule in both of the countries concerned? If so, it's hard to imagine that he accepts such savage and diabolical behavior as deserving the approval of any civilized people.

Of course we may have the wrong ideas about Mr. Fulbright's political tolerances. Perhaps he reasons that the men in solidifying their political power were only applying the Communist standards, and once they reached the top were entitled to the same respect as any other top man. Well, we average citizens aren't quite so naive. We don't excuse the means of reaching those positions just because the stinkers got there.

Nor can we go along with the Senator's attitude toward Communism. His implication is that the bugaboo of communism is behind our distrust of Mao and Ho, that we don't really have a valid personal complaint against either of them.

Well, it so happens that their identity with the Red conspiracy is sufficient reason, as much as their criminal personal behavior, to distrust and oppose those characters. Even though the self esteemed and worldly wise Fulbright ridicules all fear of the Communist menace, we have plenty of grim evidence that it is a ruthless and godless system seeking to bring all the world under its iron rule.

We know this from the fact that it announced its goal a half century ago and has been driving relentlessly toward it ever since. To our way of thinking the senator exercises no wisdom whatever in belittling the Red Menace. Furthermore, in relation to his position on the foreign affairs committee, he certainly does not exercise his responsibility toward his country.

The entangled state of world affairs nowadays presents a plausible reason for our seeking the cooperation of Red China. Power politics has operated that way for centuries. Agreements may be a matter of mutual safety or welfare and do not necessarily imply that we should approve.

That's a good basis for our attitude toward the Big Red of China. If he will join us in defense against a Soviet threat, and to help end the Vietnam war, we can feel justified in seeking better relations with him. But we ought to bear in mind that his record certainly doesn't merit friendship or confidence.

A bulletin from the Texas Press Association to its members warns that the Postal Service is seeking the full rate increase for second class mail that was proposed by it last year. Without going into the details of where and how the raises would be applied, this means simply that the cost of mailing newspapers apparently is going up, with the extra charge to be absorbed by the paper or added to the subscription price, or both.

It's the same old story all over again. This government operated monopoly still can't make ends meet after all the raises it has already had. It reminds us of railroad losses in World War I after being taken over by the government, and railroad recovery when private enterprise resumed management. It reminds us of utility rates which stay low under private management. We're convinced that the mail system should have been sold FIVE MUENSTER JAYCEES are shown here with four chapter plaques and two individual plaques received at the Area Awards Banquet in Graham. In addition they received a travel trophy for the most member-miles traveled to attend the event. The members are Willie Fisher, Charles Bayer, President Roy Monday, Wayne Klement and Dan Hamric.

Muenster Jaycees Get 7 Trophies At Area Banquet

Muenster's Jaycee Chapter made almost a clean sweep of the honors at the Jaycees annual area awards banquet held in Graham on March 4. It received five chapter plaques plus a pair of individual plaques.

One of the awards was for outstanding Spoke Chapter of the area and another was for outstanding Spoke Chapter of the region. Willie Fisher serves as committee chairman for the Muenster Chapter and also for the area.

The third award was for outstanding Spoke Chapter of Region 203, again with Willie Fisher as chapter and area chairman.

The fourth award was for outstanding Spoke Chapter of the Region. Charles Bayer is chapter chairman and Dan Hamric is area chairman for this activity.

Award number five was the travel trophy representing the best chapter membership at the banquet. It is based on member-miles, the number of members present from a chapter multiplied by the distance in miles. Muenster was represented by five members and four wives.

Individual plaque winners were Dan Hamric and Wayne Klement. Hamric's was for outstanding state director of Region 203. Klement's was for outstanding member of the region.

Attending from here were Roy Monday, Dan Hamric, Charles Bayer and Wayne Klement and their wives and Willie Fisher.

Final Week of Practice Starts For Senior Play

Seniors of Muenster High are starting the last week of rehearsals for their class play, which will be presented to the student body Friday afternoon, the 24th and to the public Sunday night, the 26th.

Their selection is "Our Town", by Thornton Wilder, in a New England setting with centuries of social and religious tradition. It is directed by Mrs. Roy Hartman, Miss Bettye Dodds and Robert McDaniel.

'72 Rain to Date Is Only .82 Inch

The moisture record at Muenster this year is starting as poorly as it did in 1971. In the two past months the total is only .82 inch. The measures for January and February were .37 and .45.

Actually the total is only 1.32 for more than 3 months. Steve Moser's record shows 1.25 on Dec. 10 as the last rain of consequence and .50 for the remainder of the month.

However December's total up to the 10th was 4.42, which combined with abundant fall rains for an excellent sub soil condition. That accounts for the good appearance of grain crops despite recent dryness.

A program for the Montague County Heart Fund, held Saturday night at Forestburg Community Center, netted $112.35. Table games, refreshments, and donations contributed to the event's success. Sponsors express thanks to all who attended.

Plans Begin for Soil Conservation Awards Banquet

Planning for this year's Soil Conservation Award Banquet is due to begin in just one week.

William A. Claunch of Gainesville's First State Bank, who has served a program chairman for the past five years, has invited sponsors to a special meeting on Thursday, the 23rd, for selecting the time and place and key personnel for the program.

The sponsors are the banks, newspapers, radio stations and TV stations within the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District. All of them are invited to send representatives to the meeting at the First State Bank. Afterward they will be guests of the bank at the traditional charcoal steak supper at Mo-Jo Lodge on Leeper Lake, Okla.

The third award was for outstanding Spoke Chapter of Region 203, again with Willie Fisher as chapter and area chairman.

Work Begins on New Beauty Shop

Muenster's newest commercial building is under construction on Maple, across the street from the Medical Center. It's a beauty shop being built by Richard Grewing and to be operated by his daughter Carol, Mrs. Mike Frost. She will be joined by Mrs. Doris Schilling Sandmann of Lindsay on weekends.

The building will be of brick with glazed tile interior, modern innovations, and stations for three operators in the beauty shop section. The other half of the building will be finished and available for another business.

Ronnie Hess Wins Mile at Possum Kingdom Relays

Ronnie Hess had a big day at the Possum Kingdom Relays in Graham last Saturday setting the best time for the entire meet in the mile run. His time of 4:34 was best for the B, A and AA division, in which he was competing, and also topped the best of the three A and four A divisions. It also set a new personal record for him and for the Sacred Heart Tigers.

Ronnie's achievement earned 10 points for the Tigers, the greater part of the 17 point total which gave them tenth place in their division. They were competing in a field of 22 including 17 two-A, 2 A teams and 3 B teams.

Others who earned points were Kevin Pels, third in the 880 with a time of 2:08.5; and John Bartush, sixth in the mile with a time of 4:59.6. In preliminaries Bartush set his own personal record of 4:57.4.

Gary Endres also set a new record for himself in the 440. It was 54.9 but not good enough to place. Likewise the mile relay team set a new Sacred Heart record of 3:42.0 but came in eighth and failed to get on the score board. Participants were Gary Endres, Kevin Pels, Ronnie Hess and Davy Krahl.

Next action for the team will be at Nocona's Indian Relays Saturday.

Jaycees Announce Date, Speaker for Annual Banquet

The date and the speaker for the Jaycees' annual installation and awards banquet were told this week. Roy Monday, president, announced that it will happen on April 20 and the program will be headed by Charles O. Galvin, dean of the SMU law school.

Monday said the chapter's intention is to announce far enough in advance so that all interested people will be able to avoid conflicting dates.

MHS Wins Three Baseball Games With Callisburg

With three practice games behind them and two more ahead of them, Coach Bill Moore's Hornets of Muenster High are shaping up for their district baseball season, which will start here with Whitesboro on Tuesday, April 4.

Along with Muenster and Whitesboro on the District list are Sanger, Frisco and Petrolia, and their season will be a double round robin, in which each team plays each other team twice.

In the practice games to date the Hornets have three wins over Callisburg. They took a pair of close ones, 4-2 and 4-3 here and clobbered the Wildcats 9-2 at Callisburg. Jim Endres pitched the first and third games, Mark Lippe the second. Leading hitters the first two were Gary Walterscheid, Mark Lippe and Eddie Knabe. Next time the Hornets went on a slug fest as Eddie Knabe, Jim Endres and Gary Walterscheid got 3 hits each and Ricky Walterscheid, Randy Wimmer and Mark Lippe each hit once.

Remaining practice games are with Chico here Friday and Alvord here next Friday.

Red River Bridge Project Set Back By Sooner Voters

Visions of a bridge across Red River northwest of Muenster received a setback last week Wednesday when voters of Oklahoma turned down their governor's "Free-way 77" plan for extensive road building in the Sooner State.

Included in the program was a project, with priority rating, to extend existing pavement from Leon to the river and to share with Texas in construction of a bridge across the river.

The hope here now is that the priority will continue to apply and that the Oklahoma Highway Department will develop another program including the river crossing.

Volley Tournament

A one-day volleyball tournament is on schedule at the Sacred Heart gym next Sunday March 26. Teams wishing to enter may contact Ronnie Hess.

Scouts Will Sell Tickets Monday For Scoutarama

A house to house ticket selling campaign for the annual Cooke County Scoutarama will follow next Monday's regular meeting for the Muenster Boy Scouts.

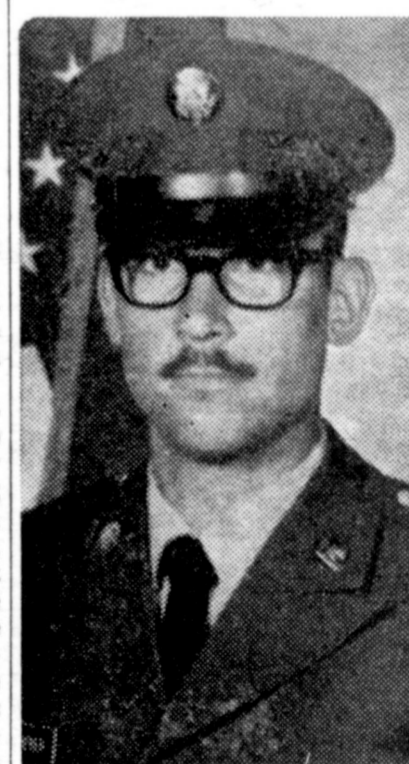

Scoutmaster Willie Walterscheid announced this week that it is the one and only local drive for the show-and-tell exhibition given by the county's Scouts in the National Guard Armory in Gainesville on Saturday, March 25. Muenster Scouts will participate.

Local supporters of the Scouting program are urged to buy tickets, and make a special effort to see the displays. They are reminded by Scoutmaster Walterscheid that the local boys may keep half of their ticket sales for their troop, so they ask folks to get tickets Monday night rather than at the armory.

Insurance Credit On Fire Record Down 5 Percent

Fire insurance rates in Muenster will go up on April 1, as a result of a 5 per cent drop in the city's fire record credit. Earl Fisher, local insurance agent, said he received the official notification Friday from the state board of insurance.

He said this ends a long period during which Muenster residents have enjoyed the maximum credit of 25 per cent for maintaining a low loss record. The drop in credit, he added, results from the switch to a high loss record, that is, in relation to the city's total insurance coverage. Last year's fire at Community Lumber Company was the big loss, he added.

Depending on the loss record, a city's adjustment of insurance cost can vary from a 25 per cent credit to a 15 per cent penalty. If, for instance, a normal premium is $100, the maximum credit can reduce it to $75 and the maximum penalty can increase it to $115. Effective April 1, such a normal premium in Muenster will be reduced to $80. The city's drop was from 25 to 20 per cent. Maximum change in rate, either up or down, is 5 per cent per year.

Another factor in determining insurance cost is the city's key rate, which depends on conditions and facilities relative to preventing and fighting fires. Some of those things are quantity and pressure of available water, type and condition of equipment, maintaining an active fire department, training of the men, etc. The key rate is considered in arriving at the normal premium, on which the credit or penalty applies to arrive at the actual premium.

Wins Blue Ribbon In District Show

Sharon Rohmer, Sacred Heart 4-H Club, was a blue ribbon winner in the District IV Food Show Saturday at Big Town Shopping Center in Dallas. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Urban Rohmer.

Seven Cooke County 4-H'ers displayed their culinary talents, along with club members from 16 other counties. Contestants were judged on their knowledge of nutrition, their exhibit, the day's menu, the recipe and their record book.

Sharon competed in the junior division in which she won top honors in the county contest last January.

MHS Track Team Scores 10th Place In Holiday Meet

Muenster High's track team put five scores on the board at last Saturday's meet in Holiday, netting 12 1/4 for tenth place in the meet. They were competing in a field of thirty teams.

Most of their points were earned in the mile race. Lyle Klement came in third with a time of 5:04 and Dan Sicking was next with 5:07.

Others who got on the board are Jerry Eckart, sixth in the 330 intermediate hurdles with 44.4; Mark Lippe, tie for sixth in the high jump with 5 ft. 8 in., and Ricky Swirczynski, in a four way tie for fifth in the pole vault with 10 feet even.

Claude Klement just missed getting on the board. He was seventh in the 880 yard run.

Scheduled next for the Hornets is the Indian Relays Saturday at Nocona. It is expected to include most of the 12-A teams who will have their district showdown there on April 8, hence will serve as a sort of preview for that event.

Along with invitation meets, the Hornets had practice meets with Saint Jo on March 1 and with Whitesboro and Saint Jo on March 8. They were top-heavy winners over the Panthers in one, beat the combined score of Bearcats and Panthers in the other.

Volley Ball April 9

A volley ball tournament is being planned for April 9 in SHH gym with the junior class as sponsor. Teams are being signed up now on a first come, first play basis in both boys' and girls' divisions. Teams wishing to enter may phone 759-2583 or 759-4431.

Making a Living Here and in USSR

The only way to compare private enterprise with socialism is to use a unit of value by which both systems can be measured. The best measure is the length of time a production worker must put in to obtain the various commodities of everyday life.

A New York research organization, America's Future, Inc., has come up with the following figures, based on 1967 through 1969. Here is what it found: To obtain a pound of bread in New York, an American must work six minutes. In Moscow he must work 12 minutes. An American must work 24 minutes for a pound of sirloin steak, a Russian must work 2 hours and 12 minutes. The New Yorker requires only two minutes' labor to buy a pound of potatoes, the Russian requires nine. The American needs only 2 minutes for a bar of soap, the Muscovite takes 25 minutes.

With larger items the differences are more notable. To buy a cotton shirt, the American works less than an hour — 59 minutes. The Russian must work for 11 hours and 23 minutes. A business suit costs the American 13 hours and 22 minutes — the Russian a staggering 196 hours and 39 minutes.

An automatic washing machine in New York requires 53 hours' work. In Moscow it takes 204 hours. The average American must work 57 hours for a black and white TV set, the Russian, 695 hours, i.e. a 40 hour week for 4 months.

Apart from our priceless freedom, the material superiority of private enterprise over the socialist system is apparent. Strange, isn't it, that some people still want to exchange the free market for collectivism!

Precedent

We had to look it up and found that "stare decisis" is Latin, the literal translation of which is "to stand by things that have been settled."

In the distant past, U. S. courts, particularly the U. S. Supreme court, followed that doctrine, which was that past judicial decisions were accepted as authoritative in similar cases which might come up in the present.

To a layman, it looks like a sensible way of doing things. A man could know pretty well what to expect if the rules remained the same, year in and year out.

But stare decisis is no longer followed by the courts, and nobody has the slightest idea (unless he knows the political complexion of the judges) how any case may be decided, judging from decisions in past cases that are similar to the one at hand.

According to a writer in the Christian Science Monitor, the U. S. Supreme Court has altered its own judgments no less than 80 times since 1823.

The citizen's dealings, his behavior, his whole life pattern are thrown into confusion when each basic question is open to reargument every time it may arise. The Supreme Court, or any other court, should not bend to political winds and change the rules of the game every time it changes its personnel.

Leading the Way

Mr. C. Howard Hardesty, Jr., executive vice president of the Continental Oil Company, feels it is up to business to present in every manner possible the great truths that have made our country the most productive and the most advanced of any land in all of recorded history. He strikes hard at what he defines as "antipreneurs" which are the antithesis of entrepreneurs — builders, creators, developers of the new and untried.

Mr. Hardesty says, "Antipreneurs" — single-minded, persistent, and totally myopic critics of businessmen" have converted the United States "from a nation that once respected initiative and economic achievement, that honored the rags-to-riches hero, to a nation that imputes to its businessmen the most venal motives and most despicable conduct, that is coming to idolize the reverse-twist, riches-to-rags anti-hero." As Mr. Hardesty points out, critics of business and industry should be required to operate under the same ground rules and laws of disclosure and accuracy to which businessmen are subjected. One of the reasons the nation faces an energy shortage is public confusion caused by those who apparently see an ulterior motive in every effort of oil companies to broaden and strengthen the energy base of the nation.

Mr. Hardesty concludes by emphasizing that industry must open up its knowledge and experience to young Americans. "It's our job", he says, "to give them a true insight into what goes on and the good things the muckraker ignores. One fact is clear — the world is changing and society has the right to expect us to lead and not follow."

Farm Bureau Is Two Million Strong

An agricultural milestone was passed in 1971 when the American Farm Bureau Federation rang up its two millionth member family. This is almost certain to have a substantial influence on the continuing growth and stability of U. S. agriculture in the years to come.

It is a tribute to the American Farm Bureau Federation that it has grown steadily in membership during an evolutionary period in agriculture which has seen the number of farms decline from 6.8 million in 1935 to about 2.9 million in 1971. Moreover, the policies and programs of the Farm Bureau have played no small part in improving agricultural efficiency so that as the number of farmers declined food production in the U. S. is now greater than it has ever been. The Farm Bureau represents — and advocates — basic principles of agricultural independence. And its members support a market-oriented farm economy. They believe in a minimum of government controls and regulations. Spokesmen for the Farm Bureau have reiterated again and again their support of federal farm legislation that would relieve farmers and all of the nation's taxpayers of costly politically-managed farm programs.

In passing the two-million member mark, the American Farm Bureau Federation gives evidence not only of its own vitality and continuing purpose but provides encouragement to those who believe agriculture and the American farm remain one of the strongest bulwarks of individual liberty and a primary source of this country's abundance.

Crimes Increase In Texas in 1971

More major crimes were committed in Texas in 1971 than in 1970, but the increase actually was the smallest since 1963, the Department of Public Safety reports.

Cities over 100,000 population reported fewer major crimes — a total of 298,033 as compared with 307,149 in 1970. The overall crime rate for the big cities was up three-tenths of one per cent.

The DPS Crime Report based on information submitted by Texas sheriffs and chiefs of police shows 482,386 major criminal offenses during 1971, an increase of 13,324 over 1970. All categories except theft (which declined 11.7 per cent) increased. There were 1,687 murders, 3,075 rapes, 14,385 robberies, 137,140 burglaries, 34,472 aggravated assaults, 48,323 auto thefts and 243,344 thefts.

Texas Legislature Faces 3 Issues in Special Session

Gov. Preston Smith left timing of a special legislative session up in the air after the Texas Supreme Court, in effect, said there has to be one.

The High Court, not unexpectedly, concluded that Secretary of State Bob Bullock could not order public financing of primary elections without prior legislative authority. Smith conceded that apparently left him no alternative but to summon lawmakers back to work in advance of the May 6 primaries. He said he wanted to postpone the unhappy deed as long as possible and was not prepared to say when he would have to act.

Meanwhile, to help Smith with his decision, Bullock's staff compiled data on estimated costs of the May 6 and June 3 elections and when the bills would fall due.

Most legislators faced with election campaigns hoped the session would be limited to the primary finance issue alone — or perhaps that and highway billboard controls. The latter legislation is needed soon to avoid a threatened $24 million cut in federal road building funds allotted Texas.

Another special session will be needed later (unless Smith decides to lump all business into a single pre-election call) to approve a 1973 state appropriations act replacing the budget items vetoed last year by the governor.

Bitterness is expected to flare in the House of Representatives on opening day of the session — whenever it is. An effort is almost certain to be made to oust Speaker Gus Mutscher who is being tried in Abilene on charges of conspiring to accept a bribe in the form of 1969 bank loans and pre-arranged insurance stock profits.

A coalition, in an effort to avert the House clash, is pushing Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi an interim speaker. The leading speaker-ship candidate, Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine, wants a showdown vote on electing a new speaker immediately.

What Explosion

The scare of a population "explosion" is as old as Malthus, who predicted early in the last century that there would be standing room only on this earth by 1890.

Dr. Karl Brandt at Stanford declares that "many nations need more people, not less, to cultivate food products and build a sound economy." The solution for India, he points out, is not so much birth control as bird control, and above all, more efficient agricultural methods. Birds in India eat up enough food for twice as many people as there are in the country.

What farmers need is an end to restrictive government controls and the creation of a free agricultural market based on supply and demand.

There are three basic errors of the population doom "experts": 1) They fail to realize that more people mean more production; 2) They fail to see that progress is continually being made in soil fertility, food preservation and distribution; 3) They fail to realize that poverty is caused by the incompetency of governments, particularly in socialist countries. —U.S. Press Assn.

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY

By Bettie Luke
Among new books shelved at Muenster Public Library are several history books. Did you know Texas was under 11 Mexican presidents from 1824-1836? The Spanish and Mexican influence is clearly visible in the names of Texas rivers. By 1800 the explorers had covered Texas.

Most of the state's principal towns of the southwest carry Spanish names. Stephen F. Austin who had inherited the Texas colonization rights which the Spanish government granted his father Moses Austin in 1822 arrived in Texas to confirm the land grant. Mexico, having won independence from Spain on Sept. 16, 1810, was eagerly waiting for Texas to become settled to increase sorely needed national trade and commerce. During the 12-year period that Texas was a part of the Republic of Mexico, and governed by the constitution of 1824, Mexico had 11 presidents. All were professional men and as statesmen and patriots, met the challenges of their country's new found freedom. Also new on the shelves is "Wunnerful, Wunnerful" by Lawrence Welk, ready to be checked out. Come and read with us. There's no wholly satisfactory substitute for brains, but silence does pretty good.

Officers Elected By Progress Club

Myra Community Progress Club, at its annual election, kept C. L. Williams as president Mrs. Jack Biffle as vice president; and Mrs. Lee Livingston as secretary-treasurer. Twenty members met with Williams presiding and after a social evening had refreshments served by Mrs. Hester Payne and Mrs. Ike Townsley.

4-H Club Reviews Events and Sees Demonstrations

Muenster Community 4-H Club at its March meeting learned about coming events, heard reports on past activity and had a program by members who will be in Method Demonstrations. During the business session conducted by Mary Lou Fleitman, Barbie Davidson was appointed new secretary. Marlea Thompson and Craig Rosenbaum, county Extension agents, met with the group. Mike Davidson counted 19 members present and they welcomed Lisa Reiter as a new member. One visitor attended the meeting. Coming events include the County 4-H & FFA Livestock Show at Gainesville fairgrounds on March 16 and 17 and the sale at Gainesville Livestock Auction on the night of the 17th. The county elimination in Method Demonstration on March 24 in Sacred Heart School in Muenster. And the Pony Express ride for the Easter Seal Drive on March 25. Kathy Davidson reported on the calf division of the County 4-H Livestock Show in which she received a blue ribbon on her calf. Her name was omitted in the list of winners published in the papers. Other winners were Allen Fleitman who received a blue ribbon and Barbie Davidson who received a red ribbon. Albert Zimmerer Jr. reported on the show's sheep division in which he, Debbie, Daryl and Gary Zimmerer won red ribbons. Lenora Fleitman gave the county council report. Presenting their method demonstrations were Barbie Davidson, Mary Lou Fleitman, Pat and Kathy Davidson, Lenora Fleitman, Kim Reiter, Debbie Zimmerer, Lisa Trumbach and Gary Zimmerer.

Sister Gemma Is Surprise Visitor

Surprising her family with a visit during the weekend was Sister Gemma Vogel of Little Rock, Ark., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Vogel. Sister Gemma made the trip Friday evening with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gamille Metrailler who went to Richardson to visit relatives. They let Sister Gemma off at Whitesboro where she spent overnight with her sister and family, the Marvin Tischlers. Saturday morning Mrs. Tischler and daughters Carolyn and Joyce brought her to Muenster. Visits with parents and other relatives filled the day and evening. Sister Gemma was seeing her parents newly remodeled home for the first time. Sunday morning Mrs. Vogel, Gene and Karla Vogel, Miss Lu Vogel and Mrs. Tischler and Joyce took her to Sherman where she re-joined the Metraillers for the drive back to Little Rock. Mrs. Metrailler is secretary at Holy Souls School where Sister Gemma is a teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fetsch and son Garry spent Sunday in Richardson with a daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Noyes and daughter Jennifer. Others joining them for dinner were Miss Evelyn Fetsch of Garland and her fiance Orlando Bonsiglio of Dallas.

He married Miss Sammie Lane McFarland of Hays and was in the cattle business until he moved to Andrews where he was in the oil business, and then to Midland.

Surviving are his wife; one son, Bob Mack Cooke of Odessa; five grandchildren; four brothers, Reeve and Don Cooke of Muenster and Bob Cooke of Abilene and one sister, Mrs. John R. Rice of Murreesboro, Tenn.

Relatives at the funeral included Reeve and Bob Cooke, the Harold Cookes of Mineral Wells, the Gene Alexanders and Mrs. C. W. Miller of Fort Worth and Mrs. Jerry Venable of Hurst.

Saint Joseph Day Observance Set Sunday, March 19

In keeping with a custom established by pioneers of Sacred Heart Parish, March 19 will be observed in a special way.

Members of St. Joseph's Society will attend the evening Mass at 7 o'clock and receive Communion. Afterward the men will have a dinner and meeting in the parish hall. They have invited members of St. Anne's Society to join them.

Because the feast falls on Sunday this year the Mass of St. Joseph will be celebrated Saturday. The feastday cannot be celebrated on a Sunday in Lent. However the special obligation remains on Sunday, March 19.

Observance of St. Joseph's Day dates back over more than 80 years when early day residents sought the help of St. Joseph, patron of builders, after two churches were destroyed by cyclones. Since then there have been no destructive storms.

Lindsay Host for Over 100 at CSL District Meeting

Lindsay's St. Peter Parish was host Sunday for the spring meeting of the Northern District Catholic State League attended by more than 100 delegates and visitors.

In other business Miss Dodds read proposed amendments to the club's constitution and by laws and presented them for discussion.

Plans also were discussed for a pilgrimage to a showing of the Japanese Garden at the Botanic Gardens in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Paul Endres reported on the council meeting she and Mrs. Arthur Endres attended last week and also reminded members of the plant exchange on April 14, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the pavilion in Leonard Park, Gainesville. Mrs. Pat Stelzer is the club's representative on the committee for the plant exchange. She is also the voting delegate to the District II meeting in Gainesville March 29-30.

Muenster Garden Club joined many other clubs of the South Central State Garden Clubs in sponsoring a speech and poster contest entitled "Action Against Pollution." Mrs. Arnold Rohmer was local chairman and winners were announced. Speech winners are Mary Lou Kralicke, first; Margie Felderhoff, second; Phyllis Bindel and Doris Schmitt, tied for third.

rely in deciding whether or not to do business with you or to offer you employment. Some of the most significant of your rights as a consumer are:

1. The right to know the nature and substance of all the information (except medical) in your file at the particular Consumer Reporting Agency.
 2. The right to know the sources of information.
 3. The right to know who has received a Consumer Report on you within the last six months (or within the preceding two years if the report was furnished for employment purposes).
- If you have been denied credit, insurance, or employment because of information in a Consumer Report, you have the right to be told the name and address of the Consumer Reporting Agency that furnished the report. You then have the right to request and receive all the information mentioned above from the Consumer Reporting Agency free of charge. If there is incorrect or incomplete information in your particular file, you have the right to challenge it. The Reporting Agency must, in most instances, re-investigate the challenged information within a reasonable period of time. If the information is found to be inaccurate or cannot be verified, it must be removed from your file.
- If the Reporting Agency conducts a re-investigation concerning you and you do not agree with the results of this re-investigation, you have the right to file a statement setting out your version of what you consider to be the true facts. Thereafter, if the Consumer Reporting Agency makes a report containing the information in dispute, it must also report your version.

Old Discarded Tires Make New Fish Haven

Building reefs with old auto and truck tires may become valuable conservation tools, according to Richard B. Stone of the U.S. Department of Interior. The tire casings provide ready-made havens for a variety of game fish.

Under study by The Good-year Tire & Rubber Company, it could provide an economical and beneficial means of disposing of millions of automobile tires.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

By Crawford C. Martin
Attorney General of Texas

Do you pay your bills on time? Have you always paid your debt in full? How much do you owe right now and to whom?

You, of course, know the answers to these questions. But so do Consumer Reporting Agencies because they are in the business of collecting this type of information. Every time you apply for credit, employment or insurance, the potential creditor, employer, or insurer will probably purchase whatever information a Reporting Agency has on you. Therefore, it is important that information these agencies circulate about individual consumers be as accurate and up-to-date as possible. Until recently, it may have been difficult for you as an individual to determine the accuracy as well as the nature of the information these Consumer Reporting Agencies were including in reports made about you. However, you now have legal protection to insure your basic rights in this area. This is because of the Federal Fair Credit Reporting Act which is administered by the Federal Trade Commission. You, as a consumer, are entitled to protection against circulation of erroneous, incomplete or obsolete information on which an unsuspecting firm might

'Seven Seas', New Amusement Park To Open Saturday

Construction of SEVEN SEAS, the city-owned sea-life park in Arlington has been completed, and the park is ready to open. The nine-million dollar attraction opens March 18th. Over a million and a half guests are expected to tour the park and visit nearby Arlington Stadium for major league baseball.

The 35-acre facility is themed from seven seas of the world. The various areas include the Arctic Ocean, Mediterranean Sea, Indian Ocean, Sea of Cortez, Caribbean Sea, Sea of Japan and South Seas.

After guests leave their automobiles, they may board a tram for a ride to the entrance cave. Here, they will find a seafood restaurant, gift shops, guest-relations office and a first-aid station. The first stop will be a feeder seal pool.

From here, on to the Caribbean Sea where the park's pirate ship is located. The "Bona Venture" was constructed by Kettenburg Marine in San Diego and transported by rail to Arlington. It is "moored" in the park's main lagoon. Guests are free to climb aboard and sail on adventures of their wildest imagination. The vessel was commissioned into the Texas Navy by Governor Preston Smith.

This trip continues to the Arctic Ocean. Walk through an igloo, complete with cool temperatures and ice. Board an iceberg and view the sights

Ping Pong Winners In Tourney Listed

Winners in the ping pong tournament sponsored Sunday by SHH seniors in the school gym are as follows:

Grade school division, boys — John Henscheid, first, Danny Endres, second; girls — Diane Kralicke, first, Gloria Hess, second.

High School division, boys — Jim Endres, first, Weston Powell, second; girls — Laura Kralicke, first, Linda Voth, second.

Open division, Dennis Hess, first, Loyd Angel, second.

of the Arctic. See the northern lights, view eskimo families, see polar bears, and the abominable snowman. Over $300,000 have been invested in the animated ride, according to a park spokesman.

If the Arctic Ocean is too cold, visitors can walk just 30 yards to the Mediterranean Sea. Here the park's dozen dolphins will perform to delight everyone. The mammals jump through hoops, walk across the water on their tails, and even sing for their audiences. The theatre will seat some 2,200 people for the thirty-minute show.

Next, comes a trip to the Sea of Japan. Exotic displays from the Orient, along with oriental music set the scene for the Japanese adventure. One can feed hundreds of colorful Koi fish while sipping Japanese tea and munching on fortune cookies.

For excitement, we move to the Indian Ocean, home of "Newtka," the killer whale. This two-ton charmer will amaze the audience as her trainer rides on her back around the pool. Over 713,000 gallons of salt water is required to furnish the whale's home.

Performing penguins can be found in the Sea of Cortez. Besides roller skating, the penguins draw attention by various antics and behaviors. Sea lions balance a ball on their nose, as well as play a silver trumpet. "Yukon," one of the park's sea lions, plays baseball like his pal, Ted Williams. Two huge elephant seals bellow as they await their turn to perform. "Panchito" tips the scales at about 2,500 pounds, and highlights his performance by smoking a pipe.

The cool breezes of the South Seas summon guests to beneath the water's surface for an aquatic performance with underwater actors. This theatre-in-the-round is considered by many to be the finest underwater attraction in the Southwest.

Several educational exhibits are found throughout the entire park. Officials of the city-owned facility say some 5½ hours are required to see the entire attraction. According to personnel officials of SEVEN SEAS, over 800 young people will be employed during the summer.

Admission is $2.75 for children (under 12 years of age) and $3.75 for adults.

The black bear has the peculiar habit of treading in the same path which becomes, in time, an easily recognizable trail, often leading to its destruction.

New Sign System Approved for Use On Texas Highways

The Texas Highway Commission has approved sweeping new changes in traffic control devices — signs, signals and highway markings.

The changes are in the Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices approved by the Commission. The manual incorporates changes prepared by the Federal Highway Administration based on recommendations by a national committee of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

The new philosophy in signing recommended by the manual involves the changeover from words to symbols and pictures as part of an international move toward greater uniformity and clarity in road signs throughout the nation.

In Europe, the system of symbols and shapes has been used effectively for the past 20 years among multi-language countries where uniformity is necessary for efficient traffic control.

The new signs and other traffic control devices have been under study in this country since 1964. One of the primary reasons for the new system of symbols and shapes is that they will enable people of different national and cultural backgrounds to easily identify traffic signs while driving.

Panels explaining the new symbols will be placed under the signs so motorists won't be confused. Traffic engineers hope that the public will become familiar with the new symbols and shapes in about five years so the panels can be removed.

In Texas, the changeover will be gradual, with new signs going up on a replacement basis initially. The manual will become effective June 1, 1972.

Although there will be new symbols, shapes and colors, the majority of the existing signs will remain unchanged.

The new yield right-of-way sign will have a wide red border and white interior and will retain the word "YIELD" in red inside the border.

The new prohibitive signs will all have a red circle with a slash cutting diagonally through the center which will mean "DO NOT" or "NO." The symbol inside the circle will show what is prohibited. For example, a sign showing a left turn arrow which is surrounded by a red circle and a slash means "No LEFT TURN."

The yellow diamond-shaped signs will still stand for a warning, but some of the symbols showing hazards ahead will be new. For example, the message, "MERGING TRAFFIC," on a yellow diamond-shaped sign will be replaced by a black arrow being joined by a smaller black line. It is hoped this will minimize confusion as to which stream carries the merging traffic.

There is a major change in the school advance sign and the school crossing sign. These signs will now be pentagon in shape, with the figures of two school children being shown in black on a yellow background.

Color will become more important in the new system.

Red will indicate stop or a prohibition, green will show movement permitted or give directional guidance, blue will signify motorist services, yellow will indicate a general warning, and black on white will be used for regulatory signs such as those for speed limits and for most guide and destination signs.

In addition, orange (a new color in the manual) will convey construction and maintenance warnings.

The new traffic control devices manual also includes major adjustments in the use of color lines for pavement markings.

White broken lane lines will remain on divided, multiple-lane highways such as Interstate Highways. The white broken line will denote that there is more than one lane, but that traffic in all lanes travels in the same direction. Solid white lines will be used for edge lining on two-way roadways, crosswalks and road markings.

Yellow striping will be used a great deal more than in the past and will denote two-way traffic. The combination of broken and solid yellow stripes will indicate to the motorist what is permitted.

A yellow broken centerline will mark the division of the road where passing is permitted. A solid yellow line to the right of a broken yellow centerline will mean no passing is allowed for traffic in that lane. Double solid yellow lines will denote the center line of an undivided multiple-lane where no passing is allowed by vehicles in either direction.

to private corporations instead of being just shuffled about by the bureaucrats. We feel justifiably peeved, suspecting very strongly that the next rate raise still will not get the system out of the red. Another year or so and we can expect another increase.

Something that particularly irritates me is the talk about soaking the public again when a great deal of the deficit could be eliminated by eliminating government waste. The reference particularly is to all of the postage free mail sent out by the government bureaucracies and congressmen. Those people are using our tax money to sell their policies to the public and perpetuate themselves in their job.

Obviously the postal deficit could be reduced substantially if all this postage free mail were not in circulation. And lots more tax money could be saved if we could eliminate the labor, equipment and material to produce and spread the propaganda. Lately some agencies are adding insult to injury by using large, heavy weight kraft envelopes for the mailings when they could be using ordinary business envelopes. The cost of the big envelopes is five or six times as much, and the cost of carrying and handling in the mail is also much higher.

All of which leads up to one of this column's pet peeves. While the government's propaganda mail gets all that free riding and free handling, we taxpayers still have to put a stamp on our remittances to Infernal Revenue. One would think, in view of the hefty checks we have to remit, that we should be given the courtesy of omitting the stamp on anything addressed to IRS.
