

Republican victories reverberate across Cooke County, state and the nation

by Janet Felderhoff

Republican victory cheers resounded across the nation as Tuesday's election results were reported. The tides of change started at local levels and washed across state and national government. Disgruntled voters used their voting power to deliver the message that they are tired of increasing taxes and uncurbed spending policies by turning the balance of power from the Democratic party to the GOP.

In Cooke County a Democratic stronghold, that is older than most can remember, fell with the election of four out of five Republican candidates. Only in the last several years has the Republican party gained strength in Cooke County and members were jubilant with the county's new two-party system.

There were 10,276 Cooke County voters who took part in Tuesday's General Election.

Republican Paul Hesse of Muenster defeated Democratic incumbent Ray Russell to win the county judge designation. "I feel that the results indicate that the citizens of Cooke County are willing and ready to participate in some good, positive conservative changes that will bring about a more efficient government," remarked Mr. Hesse. "They want a better return for their tax dollar. They want a government that is closer to the people."

Hesse complimented Judge Russell for running a good clean race. He expressed gratitude to the voters in Cooke County for coming to the polls and for their support during the campaign.

About 55 percent of the voters favored Hesse. Russell's votes numbered 4,358 to Hesse's 5,624.

Republican Pat Payne will replace incumbent Bobbie Calhoun as district clerk on January 1. Mrs. Payne expressed relief that the campaign was over, but noted that it had been a most rewarding experience.

"I am looking forward to working with all people in Cooke County, including the attorneys, judges, and employees of the courthouse," said Payne. "The race wasn't as close as I had anticipated it to be, but needless to say, I'm very excited about winning. The voters have expressed their confidence in me, and that is the greatest compliment I can think of right now."

Payne received about 55 percent of the vote. Totals showed that 5,464 votes were cast for Payne, while Calhoun received 4,473 votes.

"The hard work of several months has paid off," reflected Pat. "The public expressed a desire for a change in leadership, and now they have what they asked for. The tide has turned." She promised to run an efficient and professional office that will be "user friendly" with an "open door policy".

Dorothy Lewis, Republican candidate for Justice of the Peace, Precinct 1, Place 2 won over her opponent Sam Winters by garnering 4,052 votes to Winters' 3,089 votes. Mrs. Lewis set the following goals, "I will see that justice is served for everyone in a fair and equal manner. I will be a good representative for the people of this county and will maintain the office in a professional and efficient manner. I am excited about being a judge and being elected."

Richard Brown was another Republican to claim a county victory as he won the position of Precinct 2 commissioner from incumbent Kenneth Alexander. Brown's campaign promises included better roads and lower taxes. Votes in the commissioner's race were Brown 1,696 and Alexander 1,295.

Victory eluded only one county Republican. Democratic incumbent Royce Martin held on to his Justice of the Peace, Precinct 4 office by winning 91 more votes than Republican Robin Hacker. Martin's total was 1,405; Hacker's 1,314.

Uncontested in county races were Evelyn Walterscheid with 7,065 votes for county clerk; Janet

GEORGE BUSH and RIC WILLIAMSON

Johnson with 6,787 votes for county treasurer; Delbert West with 6,762 votes for county surveyor; and Virgil Hess with 1,533 votes for Precinct 4 commissioner.

"What Texans can dream, Texans can do," proclaimed a victorious George W. Bush. He's the Republican governor-elect of Texas who will usher in "new generation of leadership" that promises to return more power to local government, get tougher on juvenile offenders of the law, and reduce welfare.

State wide Bush carried over 53 percent of the votes. In Cooke County Bush received over 63 percent of the votes or 6,507 votes to incumbent Ann Richards 3,610.

With more voters favoring Republican candidates across the nation, the GOP gained control of both houses, the Congress for the first time since Eisenhower was president. Cooke County voters favored winners Kay Bailey Hutchison for US Senate and Ralph Hall for US Representative, District 4. Curtis Seidlits, Jr. was uncontested for State Representative, District 62. Republican William Thornberry won the race for State Representative, District 13, but voters in Cooke County favored his Democratic opponent Bill Sarpalus.

With the rush of a victory of the magnitude just experienced by Republicans, citizens will be anticipating the changes in government that they have been demanding. Meantime those of the party soon to have less power will be watching to see if someone else can do what they could not.

Classic Car Festival Saturday

A dual event, the Classic Car Festival and the appearance of the DEOA, the Depression Era Outlaws Living History Association, will mark Saturday, Nov. 12, in Muenster as unique.

Although the two events bear no relation to each other, that both are available to this area on the same day enhances a full day of activities, coordinated through the Muenster Chamber of Commerce.

Both organizations became acquainted with Muenster through Germanfest and Autofest.

"Put Your Best Foot Forward" and "Welcome Your Visitors With Courtesy And Genuine Friendliness" were axioms that marked the first visit to Muenster of DEOA Productions on Oct. 24, 1987 when its members attended Autofest in Muenster. Members say their acts were so well received then

(their first-ever appearance), that they wanted to return this year to show their appreciation, and to allow this community to view their vastly improved show, including "Shadow" and "Bonnie and Clyde."

The Classic Car Festival was first held in Muenster last year. Sponsored by the "Top Tin Street Rods of Denton County," the Classic Car Club (restored cars of 1949 and earlier) held a rally and membership meeting in the Sacred Heart Community Center on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 13, 1993. More than 100 of their restored classics were on display on the parking lot. Members made the event a real family affair, with dinner, a slide show and presentation of awards. Many enthusiasts came from Louisiana, Oklahoma and all over Texas. The club president said, Please See CAR FESTIVAL, Page 16

Pro-Life supporters seek support for Women's Center

by Janet Felderhoff

An outpouring of concern for unborn babies and mothers in crisis pregnancy situations was evidenced Saturday night at a fund raising function sponsored by ABBA, Cooke County Pro Life and the Cooke County Christian Coalition. Their goal was to raise funds to establish an ABBA Women's Center in Cooke County for the purpose of discouraging abortions by providing emotional and monetary support before and after the baby is born.

More than 300 people attended the dinner and benefit musical production, "Song of Singapore" was performed by Butterfield Stage. The cast included Corey Hardin, Ken Roberts, Jim Fuller, Shannon Lunsford, Brenda Spaeth, Chick Koval, and Adam Stephenson.

Since 1987 ABBA (All Babies Born Alive) has been active in Cooke County. Through the ABBA hot-line mothers and mothers to be are able to contact a volunteer to obtain pro-life information and adoption materials or necessities such as clothing, baby formula, car seats, baby beds, medical help, legal assistance and emergency housing. State statistics in 1992 show that 94 babies from Cooke County were aborted. This led ABBA to a decision. The time had come for a caring community to encourage and provide an alternative to abortion.

"You can't tell women not to have an abortion if you don't provide an alternative," remarked Mark Crusher as he spoke to the group assembled Saturday night. Crusher is president of Life Dynamics a Dallas Pro Life organization formed to carry out strategies outlined in his book, "Firestorm". He also developed a life activist seminar to train people how to articulate Pro Life positions. More than 14,000 individuals have attended Crusher's seminars. He also has authored articles for "Focus on the Family Citizens' Magazine", "The Christian American" and "All About Issues".

Crusher said that many people say that they don't take a position on abortion, but that cannot be because if you don't do anything you are doing what Pro Choice advocates want you to. He compared the situation to a man standing in his yard with a garden hose whose neighbor's house is on fire. If he does nothing he is giving his approval of the event.

"Women don't want an abortion like they would want a Porsche or a diamond," explained Crusher. "They have an abortion because they feel there is no other choice -- like a coyote in a trap will chew off its leg to escape, a woman who feels trapped by her situation will have an abortion."

The speaker also stressed that most women don't choose to have an abortion. They are forced to by a father, boyfriend or husband.

According to Crusher there is a See WOMEN'S CENTER, Pg. 16

Bynum's Cavalry unit will lead parade Nov. 26

Muenster will have the privilege of hosting the First Team Cavalry Detachment during the annual Christkindlmarkt and Muenster Christmas Parade. The unit will lead the Christmas Parade which is scheduled for 1 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 26. They will perform after the parade at 3:30 p.m. on the Muenster Baseball Field.

First Lieutenant Drue Bynum is commander of the cavalry unit. Drue graduated from Muenster ISD in 1987 as class salutatorian. He attended the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, New York where he studied engineering. He is the son of Muenster residents Jerry and Kay Bynum.

The First Team Horse Cavalry Detachment, based at Fort Hood, is the last horse mounted cavalry unit in the United States Army. Maintaining the mounted trooper traditions it represents the U.S. Army Cavalry at its best. Wearing the traditional blue cavalry uniform with revolver, saber, and single-shot carbine, the troopers of the First Team Horse Cavalry Detachment have been involved in both the 1981 and 1985 Presidential Inaugurations, performed at the New Orleans World's Fair, state and local fairs nationwide, and numerous PRCA rodeos. While in Ohio preparing for the National Football Hall of Fame Parade (attended by 250,000 people) in 1984, rural appearances of the Horse Detachment drew over 12,000 people. The First Team Horse Cavalry Detachment is usually requested for return engagements annually. Appearing reliably since 1972, their primary mission is to represent the United States Army nationwide. Since the Horse Detachment has often appeared on national television and is the last mounted U.S. Army Cavalry Unit, any public appearance of the Horse Detachment generates widespread media coverage for both the Horse Detachment and sponsoring organizations.

The Horse Detachment executes precision drill maneuvers at walk, trot, canter, and gallop. Weapons demonstrations include firing of pistols and rifles at a gallop while recovering a dismounted comrade. The use of sabers against simulated opponents always draws applause. Memories of the days when the Cavalry always came to the rescue fills each moment with the proud realization that the glory of America will never die.

Entirely self-contained, the detachment includes 30 troopers and horses, an 1878 Army supply wagon, and an 1841 cavalry support cannon. Authenticity in every detail is important. Uniforms, saddles, firearms and sabers are straight out of the Old West. Much of the equipment is original, dating back to the 1870's. Other items are exact (usually handmade) replicas.

Family tradition renewed with opening of Christi's Jewelry & Gifts

by Janet Felderhoff

A ribbon cutting ceremony has been planned for Saturday, Nov. 12 at 11 a.m. for Muenster's most recently opened business, Christi's Jewelry and Gifts. Owner Christi Klement chose Nov. 12 because it is the 29th anniversary of the date that her parents, Norbert and Liz Koesler, opened their business, Koesler's Jewelry, in Muenster. Christi's opened on October 31 in the building previously occupied by Edelweiss Kinderhaus at 211 North Main.

"The response has been great since the first week," commented Christi. "I think it will be an asset to the community. We've already had a lot of out-of-town shoppers. Even one from California and one from Philadelphia."

Besides Christi's many years of experience acquired while helping at the family jewelry store, Christi is fortunate to have her mother working part-time in the store and available to give advice when it's needed. "I learned everything that I know about the business from my parents," Christi said.

Local residents will no longer have to go out of town for jewelry repair and cleaning. Christi is offering ring cleaning and a full line of jewelry repair. There is a good selection of silver, 10K and 14K gold with precious and semi-precious jewels, mother's rings and family rings, and watches, including the Fossil brand. Hand-beaded watches and earrings fashioned by Monica Hess are also featured.

Gift selections include collectible porcelain dolls, mantel and wall clocks, music boxes with Reuge Please See CHRISTI'S, Page 16

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
Your edition of the October 21, 1994 very elegantly recognized in bright red lettering MISD in Texas' top 5 districts, the picture was in good taste and your writings was most complimentary for which we the reader's was impressed, and, your MISD School should be proud of their school and we all should compliment them. School is very important to our youth even more so today.

I as one reader am very much disappointed that not even one word was mentioned about another local school district WHO WAS ALSO IN THE 5 TOP DISTRICTS OF TEXAS, same class school, same county, same readers or least most of us read and support your paper and most definitely most of us patronize your city's business. Our dollars in your city also helps support your school district as well as your city with the XXX amount of dollars paid out in sales taxes. Would it have been so out-of-the-ordinary for you to have at least paid this other school a note of appreciation and compliment them?

Of course I am speaking of the ERA INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT! THEY TOO SHOULD RECEIVE A NOTE OF THANKS AND CONGRATULATIONS SHOULDNT THEY? Yes, we are aware of the fact that in this same edition of your paper that a rival football game was played; and also that in the 5 TOP DISTRICTS FOR THIS CLASS IN THE STATE OF TEXAS THAT ERA ISD HAD A BETTER RATING THAN MUESTER ISD, but we won't gloat, just please recognize the ERA ISD FOR THEIR EFFORTS they too are doing a good job.

Incidentally, I do not have children in either of the schools, I do have two grandchildren going to Era ISD both are academically doing well, one of them is an outstanding both academically and athletic; but, they are not the purpose of my writing this letter, it is the MANY, MANY TAX DOLLARS SPENT EACH AND EVERY YEAR TO THE ERA ISD SO THAT THEY CAN HAVE A GOOD OUTSTANDING SCHOOL DISTRICT and my husband who is not only disabled and was forced to retire pay-out hundred of dollars annually for school taxes and I work each and every day to pay those school taxes....AND....I spend several hundred dollars each month to your Muenster Business. Please, won't you be more considerate of ALL YOUR READERS in the future, we would appreciate it!

Signed:

(EDITOR'S NOTE: We are happy, Mrs. Gresham, that you found the story on Muenster ISD's celebration on being named one of only five Texas school districts. Since you are lamenting that Era ISD's being named in the same top five wasn't mentioned, perhaps you misunderstood the point of the story, which was that it was Muenster ISD's celebration. They planned the celebration themselves, inviting the various speakers. Steve Cooper, Muenster ISD superintendent, was, in fact, quoted in the Oct. 21 article, "Muenster ISD is one of the five best school districts in the state ... something that was given to us because we earned it. My question is, if we are really concerned about our schools, then why have not any of our top school leaders taken the time to even make a simple phone call to congratulate us? They simply haven't."

The Legislature passed a law which enables the TEA to recognize exemplary campuses, some even receive monetary awards. There is no law allowing them to recognize exemplary districts. There were no media notices released by the TEA on this award - it was up to the individual school districts to notify the media about their awards.

The Enterprise never received any information from an official source other than Mr. Cooper on the awards. If the Era ISD had submitted any information, The Enterprise would have been glad to print it.)

Dear Editor:

A public library is a treasure to be enjoyed and supported. Few small towns have a library like the one in Muenster.

New volunteers are needed now to learn from the dedicated workers who have put in many years and soon will be retiring. CAN YOU give a few hours each week?

Volunteer work is rewarding and the benefits are knowledge of serving the young and old, a chance to meet other people. Stop by the library, observe and discuss any possibilities, if you are free on Tuesdays, Wednesdays or Thursdays.

The Muenster Public Library has been in the present location since 1970 - it needs to expand to keep up with demands. The present building is too small and also in poor condition.

In 1975, the library became a member of the State Library System and must meet their continuing requirements to keep the accreditation and financial support. The city and county have supported the operating needs since 1965. But this year the county took away their support. Thankfully, our city came thru with the extra needed to keep the library open for all to use.

Possibilities of a new location and larger building is being studied. The librarian and board are looking into obtaining grants, which usually have to be met by the recipients. Ways and means to raise money will be a project to be undertaken by everyone to keep our library as it should be for all future users. Any suggestions or questions should be directed to librarian, Pat Weaver, or any of the board members - Missy Dangelmayr, Kenneth McDougle, Mary Moster, Renee Schiederjan, Bobby Hess, Janie Hennigan and Doreen Taylor.

Dear Sir,

I enjoy your newspaper. But, I think you should have more "outside Muenster news." I would certainly enjoy hearing more Saint Jo, Rosston and Forestburg news. After all, football and Catholic news does not involve everyone.

Memories of 1941-1944
50 Years Ago in WWII

Fifty years since the painful days of WWII, memories have not dimmed nor has the pain lessened for those who lived through the trauma of waiting for information that was long in coming and sometimes never came. Memories are still as poignant as if it was "only yesterday."

On Dec. 7, 1941, Japanese treachery at Pearl Harbor caused great anxiety for relatives of young men who were serving in or near the area. The shock was intensified when the report was received of the first casualty in Cooke County - Ensign Robert Weinzapfel of Muenster who crashed into the sea from the carrier U.S.S. Lexington near the Johnston Islands on Dec. 9, 1941.

By December 1943, the "Honor Roll" of Muenster men serving in WWII reached 176, with two Gold Stars, designated on the banner hung to the side of the main altar in Sacred Heart Church, making the total of 178.

On Dec. 22, 1944, the Service Flag held 221 Stars, nine of them were Gold Stars.

Muenster residents, just like other Americans in 1941-44, experienced the same fears, loneliness and crushing losses, overshadowed by the blessings of pride and patriotism.

Pride, patriotism and prayer came as healing graces to support and guide families and their young men.

Through the cooperation of families and friends of these men, The Muenster Enterprise has been privileged to print the stories of many of them during the past year. In respectful memory, and in observance of the 50th anniversary, we are requesting stories and memories from relatives, or from the men themselves, to be printed as special features in The Muenster Enterprise. Several relatives have called to say that their stories are not quite complete but will be forthcoming.

As the anniversary year draws nearer to a close, we appeal for more responses in succeeding weeks, from servicemen, from parents, or brothers, sisters or friends, to honor the young men who served. After each story that we printed in The Enterprise, response from readers, young and old, was gratifying.

Lt. Gen. Baca named Chief of National Guard

A reception and banquet honoring Lt. Gen. Edward D. Baca, husband of Muenster native, the former Rita Hennigan, was held Oct. 21, 1994 in the Albuquerque Convention Center. The black tie event was hosted by New Mexico Governor and Mrs. King and the New Mexico National Guard Officers and Enlisted Association.

Dignitaries from other states and Washington, D.C. and about 1,000 guests attended, including relatives of Rita Baca, Frank and Rose Marie Hennigan, Martha and Bennie Montoya, all of Albuquerque, and Pat and Alice Hennigan of Muenster.

On Saturday, Oct. 22, 1994, Lt. Gen. Baca was honored at the Change of Command for the New Mexico National Guard, Honors Presentation, and a Pass In Review by the Troops at Kirtland Air Force Base. General Baca and his wife, Rita, were both presented awards.

On May 3, 1994, Secretary of Defense William Perry announced the President's nomination of Major General Baca; on Sept. 23, 1994, the Senate confirmed him to be the next Chief of the National Guard Bureau, Washington, D.C.

Baca was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant General and sworn into his new position by General Gordon Sullivan, Army Chief of Staff, at a

LT. GEN. EDWARD D. BACA

Pentagon ceremony on Oct. 6, 1994. The Chief reports to the Secretaries of the Army and Air Force through each of their chiefs of staff and is the Army's and Air Force's principal adviser on National Guard affairs. The National Guard Bureau is the channel of communication between the states and the Departments of the Army and Air Force.

General Baca has 38 cumulative years of service, and had active duty in Vietnam. He and Mrs. Baca have seven children; one son is in the New Mexico National Guard; one son was a paratrooper in the U.S. Army; two daughters are in the New Mexico National Guard.

General and Mrs. Baca currently reside in Washington, D.C. Rita is the youngest child of the Henry and Elise Hennigan family, formerly of Muenster.

Civic Outlook

by Mayor Bill Miller
The Tuesday election turned out to be a bonanza for Republicans and for the American people.

Members of the Republican Party have a completely different set of principles and moral values than members of the Democratic Party who have been dominating our government since 1954. Republicans are now the dominant force. Hopefully, this election will affect the change and improvement in government we are looking for.

In their campaigns, the Republicans have promised less government rules and more freedom for the people, fiscal responsibility and honesty, and lower taxation. I say, it is about time!

There were so many laws enacted in the past that totally disregard God's laws and the needs of the people. Also, in the past, it seems, some of our trusted elected officials opened up a grab bag for the greedy at the expense of the taxpayer.

Everything costs so much now days, there is no room for any waste or dishonesty in government purchases. Every nickel must be accounted for and put to good use.

Locally, I want to congratulate our new County Judge, Paul Hesse, for winning his new position. He is a conservative and we know his performance will be in the best interest of the taxpayer.

County Flag Contest - a smashing success

Cooke County Judge Ray Russell announced that the contest to select a flag for the County of Cooke has been a resounding success, with 783 entries filed by the deadline date of Nov. 1, 1994. The contest was opened to all students of county elementary and secondary schools, both public and private. Cooke County has never had a County flag and, with the construction of three new flag poles recently on the Courthouse lawn, the need arose for such a County flag. Judge Russell will award the winner of the contest a $200 savings bond. That savings bond will be purchased by Judge Russell personally, and not by Cooke County.

teachers who delivered the entries were impressed with the interest which the students took in the contest. Many of the students investigated into the history of Cooke County to assist them in designing an appropriate flag. Judge Russell says he is very happy to have been a part of this very important endeavor.

Representatives from the local artist community and of the County Historical Society convened on Wednesday, Nov. 9, at 2 p.m. in the Courthouse to select the winner. Judge Russell said that the goal is not necessarily to select the most beautiful rendition, but to select the flag that most nearly captures the spirit and history of Cooke County.

CAPITOL COMMENT
U.S. SENATOR
KAY BAILEY HUTCHISON

Leaked Budget Memo Reveals Washington Mindset

The controversy-of-the-week in Washington, D.C. revolves around a leaked memo from White House Budget Director Alice Rivlin to President Clinton. Like most such capital controversies, its precise details are less interesting than the light it sheds on how people in this city think.

The document in question lists a number of options ostensibly aimed at reducing the federal budget deficit. Here are some of the proposals Ms. Rivlin has in mind: raising Social Security payroll taxes, collecting $100 billion in new taxes on health insurance benefits paid by employers, a drastic increase in the tobacco tax and a value-added tax on most purchases.

It also outlines ways to restructure the federal income tax code to reduce tax breaks, such as the home mortgage deduction and the deduction for state and local taxes.

This laundry list of tax increases is by no means the only approach included in the memo. Its controversial options also include reductions in cost-of-living increases for Social Security recipients and requiring Medicare enrollees to pay the first $20,000 of their health expenses before receiving government assistance.

But the proposed tax hikes are the most illustrative, because they provide such a perfect picture of the Washington mindset.

Faced with difficult choices, the big-government crowd always homes in immediately on ways to "enhance revenues." In plain English, that means raise taxes whenever and wherever possible.

But the memo is also indicative of the kind of choices that are being discussed. Don't believe for a moment that, even if all those draconian tax increases were enacted, the proceeds would be used solely to reduce the deficit or pay interest on the debt — or even go toward defense spending.

Ms. Rivlin's memo also lists several new "investment programs" the administration would like to initiate. Among these: $5 billion to set up a network of "banks" to hand out money for transportation projects. Then there's a $1 billion item for a "National Information Infrastructure" — a government-controlled on-ramp to the information superhighway. And of course, some social-engineering — more funding for the National Service Corps.

This is Washington at its most deluded. No one denies the desirability of balancing the budget. But common sense tells us the way to do that is to reduce public spending — not raise existing taxes and create new ones.

Ronald Reagan has said, "We cannot have such reform while our tax policy is engineered by people who view the tax as a means of achieving changes in our social structure ... Today in our country the tax collector's share is 37 cents of every dollar earned. Freedom has never been so fragile, so close to slipping from our grasp."

I can only add that the Tax Foundation reports that government at all levels now takes 49 percent of personal income, minus transfer payments. Unfortunately, that information was not part of Ms. Rivlin's calculations.

Good News!

Hear the prayer of your servants, for you are ever gracious to your people; Thus it will be known to the very ends of the earth that you are the eternal God.

Veterans Day observed at Angel Fire

"In demanding justice from the government we served, we veterans simply have to become more vocal," said Gregory C. Reed.

On Nov. 11, Reed will have a pulpit to lay that challenge on his fellow veterans, when he addresses a crowd expected to reach 400 at Veterans Day Observances Nov. 11 at the Disabled American Veterans (DAV) Vietnam Veterans National Memorial in Angel Fire, New Mexico.

"Some powerful politicians in Washington are doing it again, talking out of both sides of their mouths about veterans," said Reed, a combat-wounded Vietnam veteran and National 1st Junior Vice Commander of the 1.2-million-member DAV.

"When speaking publicly, they fill the air with praise for our patriotism and virtue and willingness to risk death in defense of liberty," explained Reed.

"Privately, however, in darkened rooms where deals are cut they compare us to welfare recipients and attack veterans' programs in overzealous attempts to reduce federal spending."

Even as U.S. forces are put in harm's way in Haiti and other trouble spots around the globe, Reed said, powerful forces in Washington are attempting to dismantle programs that provide medical care and other benefits earned by men and women who selflessly served their country.

"Such efforts to cut veterans' benefits - all in the name of fiscal constraint - serve as vivid examples of callousness and contempt among some government leaders," Reed said.

Each year for more than two decades, thousands of veterans from all wars, their families and friends have made the pilgrimage to the beauty and majesty of the DAV

Vietnam Veterans National Memorial to reflect on the high cost of war, to mourn our nation's warriors lost in Vietnam and to celebrate those who survived.

In addition to taking part in the special Veterans Day observances, visitors will be able to tour the spiritually moving memorial chapel and the 6,000-square-foot visitors center and exhibit area.

All facilities at the memorial are totally accessible to persons with disabilities. The visitors center and exhibit area feature pictorial displays, art, sculpture, banners and flags, as well as an interactive, computer-based audiovisual information and education exhibit. This exhibit, unveiled last year, gives visitors access to film footage, photographs, television and newspaper and magazine reports about the Vietnam War. Also featured is biographical information on the more than 58,000 Americans who died in Vietnam.

THE MUENSTER HOSPITAL AUXILIARY presented a check to Muenster Memorial Hospital OB/GYN Department to complete a total donation of $40,000. ## Auxiliary continues donation of $40,000 to MMH

The Muenster Memorial Hospital Auxiliary is pleased to announce the success of the pool raffle, realizing a profit of $16,395.62.

Jim and Diane Grewing, winners of the pool raffle, are currently in the process of building the pool.

During the past Hospital Auxiliary meeting, members decided to add $20,000 to the hospital OB/GYN fund, amounting to a total donation of $40,000 to this project.

The members acknowledge the fact that the cooperation of the community helped make their fundraisers so very successful.

Next activity for members is a two-day bake sale on Nov. 25 and 26 in conjunction with Christkindlmarkt weekend. Location of the bake sale is the old Gehrig building. Anyone who is willing to bake is urged to contact a Hospital Auxiliary member, or call Terry Hess 759-4555. The Hospital Auxiliary will continue its tradition of decorating the hospital for Christmas on Monday, Nov. 28.

S.H. Parish prepares for Thanksgiving Social Nov. 20

One of the most popular booths at any community or parish function in the Sacred Heart Community Center is the Arts and Crafts section. Already the beauty and variety of items made by the talented hands of booth chairmen Regina Pels, Stacie Miller, Charlotte Dangelmayr, Aileen Knabe and Monica Hess have brought anticipation of a real treat for holiday shoppers on Sunday, Nov. 20, during the Parish Thanksgiving Social.

A Silent Auction will be held in conjunction with the Arts and Crafts Booth.

These are only a few of the tempting items that will be offered: wooden items, churches, Santas, apples, perpetual calendars, sleds, outdoor angel carolers (3 piece set). Also, muslin tree angels, wreaths, table arrangements, and a Christmas tree decorated with all hand-crafted ornaments.

Come and feast your eyes early. However, the booth opens at 1 p.m. There will be absolutely no sales before 1 p.m.

Muenster Christmas Parade to feature "Christmas - Past, Present, Future"

by Janet Felderhoff
Muenster's annual Christmas Parade will be held Saturday, Nov. 26 at 1 p.m. in conjunction with Christkindmarkt. This year the First Cavalry Division Horse Detachment based at Fort Hood will lead the parade. It is the last horse-mounted cavalry unit in the United States Army and has appeared in two inaugural parades since its inception in 1972.

From Sheppard Field an Air Force Special Drill Team, Special Weapons Team, and Drum and Bugle Corps with The Colors have agreed to participate in the parade. This will include about 50 men. Joe Hoyt and Johnny Rohmer traveled to Sheppard last week to personally issue the invitation.

"Christmas - Past, Present, Future" is the theme selected for 1994. Entrants might choose to depict a past Christmas, Christmas as it is now, or to use their imagination on how Christmas might be in some future era. Others might want to use a combination. Entries don't have to use the theme but a prize of $100 will be presented to the winner of Best Theme.

Other categories include Best Business, Best Religious, Best Civic Organization, and Largest Group Participation - $50; and Best Marching Band, Best Drill Team and Best Mounted Unit - showy two-foot trophies. Cash prizes will be awarded in Muenster Marks, same as cash to be used in any Muenster business.

Children who wish to ride with Santa during the parade should register in Muenster businesses and be present a noon on Saturday for the drawing to be held in the Kiwanis Park Parents of the winners will not be able to accompany their children during the parade.

Registration deadline to enter the parade is Monday, Nov. 21. For more information, contact parade chairmen David Fette, Brenda Rigsby or Janet Felderhoff at the Muenster Enterprise, 759-4311 during business hours or 759-2894, 759-4744 or 759-4485, respectively.

Christkindmarkt will be Friday and Saturday, Nov. 25 and 26. Both days feature a day-long bake sale beginning at 9 a.m. to benefit the Muenster Memorial Hospital Auxiliary; POG Tournaments at 10 a.m.; and a strolling accordionist at various times.

At 6 p.m. Friday a Live Nativity will be enacted by the Sacred Heart Alumni. On Saturday there will be musical entertainment on Main Street, the parade at 1 p.m. followed by visits with Santa at 1:45 p.m. in the Kiwanis Park on Main Street; exhibition show by the First Cavalry Division Horse Detachment on Muenster baseball field; free sleigh rides with Santa in his horse drawn sleigh and from 5 to 8 p.m. the 2nd Annual Tour of Homes.

With the outstanding military participation, it is hoped that local folks will show their pride and enter the parade in large numbers. It should attract a good deal of out of town attention.

IT'S BEGINNING TO LOOK A LOT LIKE CHRISTMAS! especially when Arts and Crafts booth chairmen showed samples of items to be available at the Parish Thanksgiving Social on Nov. 20.

Muenster PTO sponsors Family Fun Night Nov. 15

Muenster Public School's PTO, in coordination with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service's Partners for Parenting Committee, will be having a Family Fun Night on Tuesday, Nov. 15, in the High School building from 6 until 8 p.m.

The evening's activities will begin with a hot dog supper in the cafeteria from 6:00 to 6:30 p.m. Cost will be $1.00 per person.

Other activities will include an art workshop on family communication, a workshop on appreciation of family members and a workshop on stress through creative movement.

The Agriculture Extension Service provides family workshops yearly. This will be the first year for an activity in the Muenster area.

Shannon Boggan to speak at Alzheimer's Support Group meeting

On Tuesday, Nov. 15 Shannon N. Boggan will present a program on the topic "Is It Alzheimer's Disease? And If It Is, What Do I Do?". The program will be held during the monthly meeting of the Alzheimer's Support Group of Cooke County. This meeting is held on the third Tuesday of every month at St. Paul's Episcopal Parish Hall, 405 E. California, Gainesville. It is open to all who are interested in Alzheimer's disease and family members and caregivers of those who have Alzheimer's.

Boggan's program will cover what the disease is, its stages and global deterioration scale, treatment, care options and advice from an Alzheimer's disease patient.

Shannon Boggan is director of marketing at James L. West Presbyterian Special Care Center in Fort Worth. This is a special care facility for persons with Alzheimer's disease and related disorders. It is an innovative center in that it allows workers to operate around the patient's schedule.

All are invited to attend. There is no charge. All nursing home and caregivers are especially invited to hear some of the special techniques used in this patient facility.

For more information, contact Michaela Ann Rigler, 665-3842, or Virginia Roach, 668-8133.

NCTC donors are recognized

"The North Central Texas College Foundation recently united scholarship donors and recipients at the fourth annual scholarship breakfast in the NCTC Little Theatre.

"This is a time of year that we all pause and think of the importance of education," said Dr. Ronnie Glasscock, president of NCTC. The annual event gives the recipients of Foundation scholarships and their donors a chance to meet face to face.

Foundation President Ed Wright, introduced the recipients and asked them to express their feelings on how the scholarships have made a difference in their lives. Wright explained that many of the recipients would not be able to attend NCTC without the additional funds that they receive from the Foundation.

"For the 94-95 school year the foundation hopes to give approximately $50,000 in scholarships," said Wright. "The dream for the Foundation is to continue to grow so that every student will be able to receive a scholarship."

Wright added that the Foundation would like to be able to offer students with special abilities in art, drama and music more scholarships. "Scholarships can be given in any amount and are greatly appreciated," said Wright. Scholarship funds are considered to be endowed when they reach a corpus of $10,000 or more. Donations are appreciated for equipment, uniforms and furniture for students.

"The NCTC Singers would greatly appreciate any donations to go toward new uniforms for performing," said Mike Linder, NCTC director of music.

The number of attendees this year was more than the Foundation has ever had. The first year that the breakfast was held a total of 25 guests attended, this year the record was broken with close to 100 attendees.

"The growth of the NCTC Foundation insures the future of this community," said Glasscock. "We have the best and brightest students that this community has to offer."

"The students who receive these scholarships are leaders and will continue to be leaders in our community," said Wright. "The money that you have donated is a good investment in our community."

Showing their support by attending were NCTC Trustees Urban Endres and Charles Draper.

For more information about these scholarships and many more call the NCTC Foundation Office at 817/668-4213

Altar Servers honored

The Knights of Columbus sponsored the 1994 Altar Server Appreciation Dinner at the home of Chuck and June Bartush on Oct. 30.

There were more than 30 in attendance, including the newly-commissioned servers. They were treated to hot dogs, beans, chips and other snack foods.

The activities included volleyball, football, croquet, basketball, air hockey and sheepherding. The children had a great time.

Before their departure, the altar servers were awarded one-year servers' certificates from the Serra Club of Fort Worth. On behalf of the Sacred Heart Parish, Neil Hesse expressed gratitude to all of the parents, hosts and organizations who made the event a success.

Rod Run to stop in Saint Jo Saturday

If you like vintage cars, then come to the square in Saint Jo. The "Top Tin Street Rods" from Denton will make a stop around noon on Nov. 12 as part of the car club's "Rod Run." They will be on display on the square for about an hour and a half before continuing their drive through north Texas. Cars involved in this run consist of those models built prior to 1948 which have been modernized, with approximately 150 cars expected in the rally.

Highlighting their stop will be the judging of a "Saint Jo Pick" trophy which will be announced at the club's awards banquet held that evening at the Sacred Heart Community Center in Muenster.

Flossie Schoppa, activity chairman for the Saint Jo Area Chamber of Commerce, has coordinated the arrival of the cars to Saint Jo as part of the club's 20th anniversary celebration. She noted that the public is invited to see the cars as they will be on display while the 400 club members and friends stop for lunch. Parking on the square will be limited as the cars will be coming in and out of Saint Jo in staggered numbers.

The Chamber has arranged for the famous "Dalton Gang" to entertain the guests while in Saint Jo. The "Gang" will perform at 1 p.m. Car club members will also be given a tour of Mainstreet, the local bed and breakfast operated by Rhoda Harvill. The Twentieth Century Club plans to sponsor a bake sale in conjunction with this event.

Levi turns 3!

Levi Anthony Trubenbach, son of Karl and Beth Trubenbach, celebrated his third birthday with a "Cowboy" birthday party on Oct. 30 at his home. His actual birthday is Nov. 7.

A cowboy theme was carried out in party accessories. Levi was presented with an extra special gift - a pony, by his Uncle Dickie.

Cake and ice cream were served to guests and pony rides were given.

Guests included Levi's sister, Lacey; grandparents, Kenneth and Janie Thurman and Don and Betty Flusche; aunts, uncles, cousins and friends, Donna, Michael, Jeffrey, Johnathan and Benjamin Zimmerer; Sherric, Patrick, Joseph, Ashley and Dustin Krebs; Donna, Craig, Ashley and Chad Walterscheid; Steve and Melissa Trubenbach; Dickie Trubenbach; Christy Hesse; Terry and KaTina Bartel; Shawn Dangelmayr.

Unable to attend, but wishing well were Tony and Thelma Trubenbach; Martin Trubenbach; Aunt Vickie Thurman and Kenny, Gena and Jessica Thurman.

Levi also celebrated at his Day Care with his friends on Nov. 7 with ice cream and cake.

NCTC Faculty Assn. scholarships awarded

Three North Central Texas College students were recently awarded Faculty Association Scholarships. The scholarships are awarded to students who have achieved outstanding academic achievements.

Each student will receive a $175 stipend for both fall and spring semesters.

"The Faculty Association is proud to be able to extend this kind of encouragement to serious students in their pursuit of higher education," said Jane England, scholarship committee chair person.

Ms England points out that the scholarship funds are made possible by the contributions from the NCTC faculty, administrators and other employees of the college.

Recipients of the 1994-95 Faculty Association Scholarship at NCTC include: Meredith Burgess, a second year student at NCTC and a graduate of Gainesville High School. She is an associate degree nursing major and is involved in several organizations on campus including Phi Theta Kappa and the National Student Nurse's Association. Burgess plans to attend Southwestern Medical Center and become a physician's assistant.

Brandi Grewing is a freshman at NCTC and is a graduate of Muenster High School. She is in the ADN program and hopes to become specialized in neonatal nursing by finishing her degree at The University of Texas at Arlington.

Stephany Pearson is a freshman at NCTC who is a graduate of Lindsay High School who is majoring in pre-medicine. She plans to pursue a bachelor's degree at Texas Woman's University or Texas Tech to become a pediatrician.

Michael Schmidtkofer is a freshman who is a graduate of Lindsay High School. He is a computer science major, he has not decided what four year university he wants to attend.

"The academic records of these students speak for themselves," said England. To find out more about the scholarships, please call the NCTC Foundation Office at 817/668-4213.

Recycling means more jobs for Texas

From Brenham to Forney and Muenster to Junction, Texas manufacturers and entrepreneurs are discovering that recycling produces jobs.

"Since recycling has become a more stable, market-driven industry, we're seeing real job creation in both large- and small-size recycling companies," said Clay Collins, a recycling market development specialist in the CLEAN TEXAS 2000 pollution prevention program of the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission.

As the state prepares to celebrate its first "Texas Recycles Day" on November 15, recycling experts can identify new businesses and jobs created as a direct result of recycling in almost every county of the state.

Advanced Environmental Recycling Technologies of Junction, for instance, employs 94 people and uses recycled plastics and cedar flakes to make composite building materials. Reconversion Technologies, or RETEK, of Brenham, has created 25 jobs in just three years. The plant makes a variety of products using recycled plastics and tire rubber.

Renewed Materials Industry in Muenster employs 25 people in its production of "Rumber" boards from recycled plastics and tire rubber. Rumber boards are built into trailers, horse stalls, washroom flooring and docks and marinas.

Others making great progress in the field of recycling include Cornugated Services Inc. in Forney; Tascon, Inc. of Houston and Fort Worth; Neches Fiber, Inc. of Beaumont and Rock-Tenn Co. of Dallas.

10 Recycling Pledges

1. Start a workplace recycling program. Save money in disposal costs and help protect the environment.
2. Invite schools to tour your facility to learn about workplace recycling.
3. Buy recycled products--from copy paper to toilet paper.
4. Use white paper for legal pads, message pads and promotional materials. It's easier to recycle than colored paper.
5. Ask your suppliers to reduce their packaging.
6. Recycle cardboard boxes from shipments or arrange for suppliers to reuse them.
7. Buy a plain-paper fax machine. Thermal paper isn't easily recyclable.
8. Put a note in packages to encourage customers to reuse packing material.
9. Keep mailing lists updated to reduce wasted paper.
10. Buy reusable mugs with your company logo to replace disposable cups.

MISD K-5 observe Recycling Day Nov. 15

On Tuesday, Nov. 15, Muenster ISD K-5 students will celebrate "Texas Recycles Day." Texas Recycles Day is sponsored by the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission and Clean Texas 2000 to encourage environmental awareness in school children and their communities.

MISD students will begin their campaign on the 15th by decorating collection bags for paper, plastics and aluminum. The bags were donated by City Hall. Volunteers will take the collected trash to the recycling facility in Gainesville periodically.

Throughout the year, enthusiasm for the project will be maintained through special activities related to the event, culminating in a year-end "Texas Recycles" celebration.

MISD Elementary has set a goal to collect one ton of trash to recycle. If you would like to volunteer to help in MISD's efforts, please contact Michelle Darling, 759-2281.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

One of the most unusual places Aileen and I have visited, is Mount Washington, in the White Mountains of New Hampshire. It is located almost in the center of a summer and winter recreational area.

Mt. Washington is the highest peak in New England at 6,288 feet and claims to have the world's worst weather. We couldn't disagree with that. The day of our visit there were sustained winds of 60 mph. and, though it was summer, jackets felt real good. Their records show that on April 12, 1934, winds were clocked at 188 mph. for 5 minutes, with one gust reaching 231, the highest wind velocity recorded on earth.

As we walked from one building to another, often holding onto handrails, we noticed some of the older buildings that appeared to be very substantially built, had heavy chains draped over them. These chains were anchored in the rock on either side. Newer buildings were constructed of concrete and had no need of chains.

There is a 2 3/4 mile cog railway that rises sharply for 3,625 feet as it travels from its beginning to the top. It is the first of its kind built in North America, and their claim is that the cogs cannot slip off the track.

The road to the top is rather primitive, is not paved, and we soon found that when meeting another vehicle, it was best to find a wider spot and stop.

The Mt. Washington Observatory Inc. is located on the summit. It is a nonprofit organization, and keeps daily records of wind velocity, temperature, and radio-active fallout.

Since 1955 the Observatory has been in charge of experiments to produce rainfall by cloud seeding. How much success they have met, we do not know.

Although the winds seemed to tell us to get off the mountain, we enjoyed our visit there tremendously, and feel it is well worth the effort to see it.

There is surely a great difference in this mountain and any other we have visited.

4-H - the people of tomorrow learning

The youth of today should be preparing themselves to become leaders for today and tomorrow.

4-H projects allow 4-H'ers to investigate areas that might be career opportunities for tomorrow.

Project opportunities are unlimited. Only the imagination of a youngster can limit these opportunities. Projects allow 4-H'ers to develop skills, ideas, and knowledge to the fullest potential.

4-H clubs provide leadership opportunities through organizational, educational, and recreational experiences. Through these clubs 4-H'ers learn the democratic process, self-expression, self-esteem, and cooperation.

They also learn to share and to accept recognition gracefully. They learn each time they perform at a club, county, and district event that whether they place first or last they are winners because they have worked and achieved.

From the very first project in family consumer sciences and agriculture, the youth develop as they progress to bigger and larger projects.

As 4-H'ers round out their years in 4-H they become mature, self-sufficient, self-confident, self-supporting young adults ready to take their place in society to become worthwhile citizens.

4-H'ers are and will be found in every career field available.

As 4-H continues into the next decade and the next century, members will be outstanding and easily recognized because of their vast experience in this worthwhile organization.

4-H today and in the future will continue to make the best better.

Armella Cler and Marcia Dennison visit East Coast

A trip to the East Coast was a special treat for Armella Cler and her daughter Marcia Dennison who flew to Baltimore, Maryland on Oct. 12 to visit Cheryl Dennison, Marcia's daughter and Armella's granddaughter.

On Wednesday evening they enjoyed views of the Inner Harbor in Baltimore, where they had dinner, and appreciated the beauty of the area and city lights reflected on the water.

On Thursday they drove to Lancaster County, Pennsylvania and toured the Amish Country. For a trip to Washington D.C., they boarded a train at Penn Station and then took a bus tour of the capitol.

Cheryl drove her mother and grandmother for a tour of Maryland on Saturday.

The Texans returned home on Saturday night. Cheryl is a traveling nurse employed at Union Hospital in Maryland. She plans to attend John Hopkins University to pursue her Master's degree.

S.N.A.P. offers free testing on November 17

Anyone 55 and over who would like to have their blood pressure and or blood sugar checked can do so free of charge on Thursday, Nov. 17 between 10:30 and 11:30 a.m. at the Muenster Community Center. Fasting from midnight until the blood is drawn is required for the blood sugar test. This means that you can drink water, but must not eat any food.

This service will be offered on a monthly basis by SNAP. It is scheduled for the third Thursday of each month.

Danielle celebrates 7th birthday in the park

Danielle Reneé Bindel, daughter of Ben and Tina Bindel, selected "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" as the theme for her seventh birthday celebration. On Wednesday, Oct. 12, her parents hosted a birthday party for her in the park, with all the "Snow White" trimmings.

Danielle's birthday cake was specially decorated with birthday greetings and the seven dwarfs in bright colors. It held the complete Snow White and Seven Dwarfs figurine set, a keepsake gift from her parents.

After having refreshments of cake, ice cream and punch, Danielle delighted in opening her gifts. She and her guests then enjoyed playing Bingo, Musical Chairs and various other party games. Between activities, they completed a Snow White puzzle and played on the playground. Danielle presented each of her guests with a personalized pencil pouch full of party favors and a helium-filled "Snow White" balloon as they left.

Helping Danielle celebrate were her brother and sister, Brandon and Briana; and her friends and classmates, Jessica Jablonsky, Nicole and Neil Bayer, Angie Cox, Karen Flusche, JoEll Fuhrmann, Hannah Hess, Shannon Hartman, Diana Knabe, Sarah Whitecotton and Whitney Wimmer.

On Wednesday, Sept. 28, Danielle's actual birthday, she and her mother shared cupcakes with her teacher, Mrs. Poole, and her 1st grade classmates. Her classmates sang to her and she blew out her #7 candle. She was also honored all day by getting to wear the special birthday T-shirt.

That weekend, Danielle and her family went camping at Lake Ray Roberts with her godparents, Chuck and Doris Koelsler, and their children, Jessica, Tony and Kristina. Danielle was surprised with a birthday picnic lunch on the beach. Her godparents presented her with a Snoopy fishing pole and they all later enjoyed fishing together.

Reporting tips from Social Security...

Sometimes the temptation is strong to be penny wise and pound foolish--especially when it comes to reporting tip income.

But reporting tips now will mean more Social Security benefits for you and your family later when you retire--or if you should become disabled or die.

Here's what you should be doing. If you work at a job where you make $20 or more per month in cash tips, that income should be reported to Social Security. Both you and your employer are required to pay Social Security and Medicare taxes on this income.

You should keep a daily record of the tips you receive. This includes tips received in cash directly from customers and tips added to a credit card charge. If your tip income totals $20 or more in a month, you are required to report the amount to your employer. Your employer is responsible for reporting the correct tip and wage information to the Social Security Administration and the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). All employees who earn tips are affected by these rules. This includes workers in food and beverage establishments, hotel employees, cab drivers, hairdressers, etc.

To make sure that you receive credit for all your earnings, you should request a free earnings statement from Social Security at least every three years. When you get your statement, check it to be sure it's right. If you find an error, call the special toll-free number listed on the form to get your record corrected.

To get a statement request form, all you have to do is contact the nearest Social Security office or call our toll-free number: 1-800-772-1213. Ask for the "Request For Personal Earnings And Benefit Estimate Statement (Form 7004).

For more information about paying taxes on tips, call the IRS toll-free telephone number, 1-800-829-3676, and ask for Publication 531, Reporting Tip Income, and Publication 1244, Employee's Daily Record of Tips and Report to Employer.

State Playoffs Friday... Tigers win big in final District contest 57-0

The Sacred Heart Tigers pounded the Pantego Panthers Friday night with over 400 total yards in their 57-0 victory.

"I was extremely pleased with the Tigers both offensively and defensively," commented Sacred Heart Coach John Nasche. "We're starting to peak at the right time."

Pantego's offense got in one play before Douglas Novak covered a loose ball on the 22-yard line. The next play, the Tigers fumbled the ball and the Panthers took the ball. But, Pantego's next play saw Neil Berres pick off a Panther pass giving Sacred Heart possession on their 48-yard line. A Jason Hess-to-Jake McCoy pass earned the Tigers' first 1st down. Scott Frost picked up 4 yards, then an offside flag put Sacred Heart back 5. The next run, Jason Hess broke away for a 42-yard touchdown run. Michael Becker added the extra point for a 7-0 score with 8:48 remaining on the clock.

Pantego earned a first down before fumbling the ball away. Joseph McCoy covered for Sacred Heart on the Panthers' 21-yard line. The next play, the Tigers fumbled the ball back to Pantego.

The Panthers couldn't move the ball and punted. The short boot gave the Tigers the ball on the Panthers' 30. Frost ran for 9 yards then, on the second play of the drive, Jason Hess once more scored on a 21-yard run. Becker added the point after and the Tigers took a 14-0 lead with 4:43 remaining in the first quarter.

touchdown run. Again, Becker booted the PAT and, with 23 seconds still on the clock, the Tigers had a 21-0 lead.

The teams exchanged punts with Pantego also punting on their second possession. Neil Berres returned the kick 61 yards for another touchdown. The PAT failed, giving the Tigers a 27-0 lead with 7:49 still remaining in the 2nd quarter.

Sacred Heart kicked and recovered the ball on the Panthers' 32-yard line. Frost and Berres exchanged runs to the 3-yard line. On 4th down, Michael Becker kicked an 18-yard field goal to increase Sacred Heart's lead to 30-0 with 4:32 on the clock.

Pantego got in 5 plays for 26 yards before fumbling the ball away to the Tigers. Brandon Bayer covered on Sacred Heart's 40-yard line. A face mask flag carried the Tigers into Panther territory with Frost and Hess carrying the ball to the 10. Then the offense sputtered so, on 4th and 18, Becker booted another field goal - this one for 28 yards. As time ran out, the Tigers took a 33-point lead into the fieldhouse at halftime.

The Tigers' offense came out roaring the 3rd quarter. A Hess-to-Paul Swirczynski picked up 22 yards with two Berres runs gaining another 20 yards to the Panthers' 33. Scott Frost did the honors with a 33-yard touchdown run. Becker added the point after and the Tigers had a 40-0 lead with 9:17 on the clock.

touchdown. Becker added a point for a 47-0 score, with 6:37 remaining in the quarter.

The teams again exchanged punts. With Pantego threatening to score, getting to the 3-yard line, the Tigers' defense got tough and, after 2 incomplete passes and a 1-yard gain, the Tigers' defense caught the quarter back for a 9-yard sack. Sacred Heart took over on the 11.

Two Swirczynski runs earned a first down before the Tigers were forced to punt. The Panthers got in a few plays, then Joseph McCoy got 2 consecutive sacks for a 21-yard loss. An illegal motion flag forced a punt on 4th and 36. The attempted punt was blocked and caught by Douglas Novak. Novak took off for a 30-yard touchdown run. Becker booted for a 54-0 score with 6:26 remaining in the game.

Once more, Pantego couldn't move the ball and the Tigers took over on their 29 after the punt. Two runs carried the Tigers to the 10-yard line. On 1st down, Becker booted another field goal 22 yards, for a 57-0 score. Pantego played out the remaining 2:11 till the game ended.

The Tigers' offense was led by Jason Hess, Neil Berres and Scott Frost. "The offensive line did a good job controlling the line of scrimmage, enabling us to run or throw," commented Coach Nasche who also credits Michael Becker for an outstanding night of kicking points. Becker hit 6 of 7 extra points and 3 field goals.

"The defensive line and linebackers did a good job stopping the passing game," continued Nasche. The Tigers held their opponents to 125 total yards when the Panthers have been averaging 300-350 yards per game.

Pantego got a good drive going on their next possession. Eight plays took the Panthers 60 yards to the Tigers' 10-yard line. But, once again, a fumble gave Sacred Heart the ball. John Klement covered on the 12. On 1st down, a Hess pass to Berres turned into an 88-yard

The Panthers struggled on their first drive in the quarter. On 4th and 10, a fake punt only gained 6 yards, so Sacred Heart took over. In 3 plays, the Tigers scored again. A 28-yard Berres run with Frost adding 6 was finished with a 4-yard run by Joseph McCoy for a

Contest goes into playoffs

As the regular high school football season ended last week, the contest will continue as the Sacred Heart Tigers go into the playoffs.

Several upsets prevented contestants from improving their season scores. Only one entry correctly picked the winner of the Cincinnati-Seattle game. Two correctly picked Lindsay and three chose Alvord.

Everyone picked Air Force over Army, Collinsville over Saint Jo, the Gainesville win over Princeton (not Lake Dallas), and all were given the North Texas-Stephen F. Austin tie.

Only one missed Sacred Heart (but we won't mention names) and Michigan's win over Purdue.

Edna Hermes and Doug Stoffels both got 27 games correct this week, but Hermes took the top prize because she correctly picked Lindsay to win. Hermes and Stoffels picked up their cash prizes at Muenster Auto Parts and Endres Motor Co.

Five contestants guessed 26 winners with Nick Stoffels taking 3rd place with the tiebreaker. Others with 26 were Sarah Long, Donnie Stoffels, Charles Edwards and Barbie Barnhill.

Neil Huchton remains in the lead for the season with a percentage of 81 correct guesses. Peachie Huchton follows in a close 2nd with 79.5% with Nick Stoffels closing in at 78.8%. Not far behind with 78% are Mike Felderhoff, Wayne Klement, Doug Stoffels and Dale Swirczynski. John Nasche and Jason Biffle have 77, with Mike Stoffels following with 76. At 75% are Edgar Dyer, Benny Haverkamp, Mickey Haverkamp and Edna Hermes.

The contest will continue as long as Sacred Heart is in the playoffs.

JULIA FLEITMAN carried the banner for Muenster High on Saturday, Nov. 5, at the Region II Cross Country Meet at Vandergriff Park in Arlington. In a very competitive race filled with excellent runners, Julia finished 4th with a time of 14:27. To demonstrate how tough the local district was this year, the two teams who finished 1st and 2nd in district also finished as the top two teams at regional. Julia Fleitman has had a tremendous year thus far and we wish her the very best at the state competition this Saturday at Georgetown.

Tigers finish 2nd... Tigerettes given State Cross Country title

For the third consecutive year, the Sacred Heart Tigerettes took state honors in Cross Country competition. The races were held Saturday at Georgetown. The girls won the top three finishes with Dobe Fleitman, Valerie Bartush and Nicole Endres finishing at 15 minutes, 15:10 and 15:15.

Crystal Klement finished 10, Shauna Endres 13 and Amanda Wimmer 17. Jill Hess also competed. As a team, the Tigerettes won with 29 points. Parkview Christian followed with 84, Faith Outreach had 86 and Happy Hill 88.

"It was a great effort from all the runners, showing the self-discipline to train and to perform their best on the day of the meet," commented Coach Jon LeBrasseur.

The Tigers finished runner-up behind Faith Outreach (33 points) with 50 points. Briarwood School was 3rd with 76 and Bracken Christian had 122.

Individually, John Bartush came in 4th place with a time of 18:53. Paul Swirczynski also finished in the top 10 at #6 at 19:19. John Klement was 11th with 19:51, Matthew Fuhrmann 12th with 20:12; Brad Schilling 17th, 20:39; and Michael Becker, 19th, with a time of 20:44. Brandon Bayer also competed and finished 33rd.

Coach Jon said the effort was great considering all but one player competed Friday night in football.

Fishing Report

RAY ROBERTS: Water muddy, 70 degrees, black bass good in 20 feet of water, white bass schooling good around Sand Creek Bridge and hitting slabs, crappie good around brush piles on minnows, catfish slow.

TEXOMA: Water reasonably clear, almost normal, 67 degrees, black bass fair to 4 and a half pounds, smallmouth fair on spinners, crankbaits and worms, stripers good with birds working, white bass good, crappie fair around structure on minnows, catfish good, blue cats up to 67 pounds, fishing deep, 20 pounds and less on shallow water.

Knights win Kraut Bowl

In the annual Cooke County Kraut Bowl, the Lindsay Knights got revenge for the beating the Muenster Hornets gave them last year. The fired-up Knights not only defeated the Hornets 14-6, but they also took away their playoff berth and kept it for themselves. With Alvard upsetting Era Friday night, both Hornet teams were eliminated from the playoffs and Lindsay advances due to the point system the district uses.

The Hornets took the opening kick, with 3 runs picking up 8 yards, they ended the drive with a punt.

Lindsay took their first possession on their 44-yard line. Runs by Chris Brown and Garrett Hellinger carried the ball into Muenster territory. Brown gained another 10 yards before the Knights' offense was stopped at the 20-yard line by the Hornets' defense. On 4th and 14, a 46-yard field goal fell short and Muenster took over on the 29.

Scott Debnam ran for 6 yards, then the Hornets couldn't move any farther and punted into the wind. The 15-yard kick gave the Knights the ball at midfield.

Taking advantage of the wind at their backs, Lindsay hit the air waves. Jeff Hale connected with Robert Sharp for a 24-yard gain, then found Pat Hogan open for a 25-yard touchdown pass. Tanner Neidhardt added the extra point, and the Knights had a 7-0 lead with 4:16 on the clock.

The Hornets fought back beginning at their 30-yard line. Running into the wind, Debnam picked up Muenster's first 1st down. Jerry Reed, Debnam and Jason Huchton shared runs going into the Knights' end of the field. Eric Miller ran for 12 and Huchton 11, putting the Hornets on the 20-yard line. A flag set the ball back 10 yards. Huchton gained back 9 then, on 2nd down, Eric Miller pounded his way into the end zone for a Hornet touchdown. The extra point pass failed and Muenster narrowed the score to 7-6 with 11:21 on the 2nd quarter clock.

The Knights struggled their next drive with penalties holding them back. The 15-yard punt into the wind gave Muenster the ball at midfield. Lindsay's defense, led by T.J. Goldsmith, Greg Dulock and Greg Arendt, and a 10-yard penalty forced the Hornets to punt on 4th and 20.

From their 30-yard line, Lindsay moved the ball on the ground at a steady pace with Brown and Hale taking turns on short runs. Twelve runs took the Knights to the 7-yard line where, on 4th and 5, Neidhardt attempted a 24-yard field goal. Maurus Hacker blocked the kick and the Hornets took over on the 16-yard line.

Unable to move the ball, Reed booted the ball 40 yards as the time ticked off the clock for a halftime break.

The Knights took the 2nd half kick to their 29-yard line. Runs by Brown carried Lindsay to midfield, but penalties and incomplete passes pushed the Knights into a 4th and 41 on their 28-yard line. A good kick with the wind made Muenster begin their play from scrimmage on the 13-yard line. Short runs, a penalty and an incomplete pass forced an end zone punt on 4th and 14. The kick, into the wind, gave the Knights possession on their 37.

Two short runs gained 6 yards then, on 3rd down, Chris Brown shot through the line for a 31-yard touchdown run. Neidhardt added the extra kick and the Knights extended their lead to 14-6 with 5:29 on the clock.

The teams exchanged punts with Muenster taking the ball into the final quarter. Runs were shared by Debnam, Matt Cotter, Huchton, James Klement, Cody Sicking to the Knights' 36-yard line. On 4th and 4, the Hornets' run was a yard short and Lindsay took over.

Chris Brown gained 15 yards on a run before the Knights' offense was shot down by Muenster's defense.

Muenster got in one good run, a 12-yard gain by Sicking, before Robert Sharp picked off a Muenster pass.

Beginning at the Hornets' 29-yard line, the Knights steadily moved the ball to midfield with runs by Brown and Hale. A 15-yard flag boosted the ball to the 33. Three runs by Brown carried Lindsay inside the 20 when a loose ball was covered by Jason Huchton on the 16-yard line.

Huchton and Cotter gained 16 yards, but a clipping flag kept the Hornets back. After an incomplete pass, Huchton surprised the Knights' defense on a 40-yard run to the Knights' 40-yard line. Another flag made it 1st and 15. A Huchton-to-Cotter pass was good for a first down. Two plays later, as time ticked away, Lindsay's Shawn Hanks intercepted the Hornets' pass to stop any scoring threat and give the upset win to the Knights.

"I thought we could pull off a win if we dominated the line of scrimmage," commented Lindsay Coach Charlie Meurer. "With lots of effort, we were able to control the game."

"I was proud of the kids' effort. They had that kind of play in them, it finally came out. I didn't realize how much effort until I watched the film," concluded Meurer.

Comments from Muenster Coach Grady Roller were not available.

Next Action - Area Playoffs
Lindsay vs. Celeste Blue Devils
Friday, Nov. 18, 7:30 p.m.
Goldsmith Stadium, Lewisville

The Knights will take on District 19A champions, the Celeste Blue Devils. Celeste has a 5-5 season record, losing all 5 pre-district contests, all good 2A teams, then won all 5 district games.

"Celeste is big, fast and talented," commented Coach Meurer. "Things are hard to tell from the films, but it should be a close, tough game." Meurer said the Knights will have to play hard and contain Celeste's running game. "We'll have to come off the ball correctly because of their big physical linemen."

Both Lindsay and Celeste received byes from the Bi-District playoffs and advanced to Area competition.

The game will be played at Goldsmith Stadium in Lewisville, Friday, Nov. 18, at 7:30 p.m.

Boys finish 6th... Knightettes take Cross Country Regional title

After advancing to the Regional competition as District runner-up, the Lindsay Knightettes' Cross Country team took Regional championship honors. The competition was last Saturday at Vandergriff Park in Arlington.

The Lady Knights edged out their district competitors, the Alvord Lady Bulldogs, 59-51 for the number one spot.

Individually, Molly Trammell, Amanda Hellinger and Bonnie DeBorde finished in the top 10 in 6th, 7th and 8th place with times of 14:34, 14:36 and 14:39. Christine Fuhrmann finished 15th at 15:07 with Stephanie Stoffels coming in at 25th with 15:31.

The first top runners on a team made points. Individuals' points not on a team were taken out. Example, two girls that finished before Molly Trammell ran as individuals and not on a team. Their points were removed and Trammell scored 4 instead of 6.

Also running for the Lindsay girls were Sadie Trammell and Ashley Zimmerer who finished in 30th and 48th place with times of 15:39 and 16:31.

The Knights were led by George Lutkenhaus, who finished 4th in the boys' race with a time of 18:13. The team came in 6th place with 147 points. Others competing and their places and times were Kyle Sandmann, 23rd, 20:15; Tanner Neidhardt, 20:39; Garrett Hellinger, 58th, 21:52; Richard Haayen, 61st, 22:01; Robert Lutkenhaus, 67th, 22:35; and Robert Sharp, 79th, 23:57.

Advancing to state will be the girls' team and Lutkenhaus as an individual.

NOTICE! - Changes in Lindsay

The Nov. 15 games with Prosper have been changed due to the Knights' football playoffs. On that evening, the Lady Knights will play the Collinsville girls. Junior varsity action begins at 5:30 p.m., followed by the varsity girls. The games will be played at Lindsay.

The Friday, Nov. 18, games with Callisburg were canceled. The Knights will be in the football playoffs that night.

TOOTS SANDMANN attempts to "shape" the trim the Knights senior football players gave Lindsay ISD Superintendent Gilbert Hermes. Hermes told the team if they defeated Muenster he would let the boys shave his head. Tuesday afternoon before the student body, the senior players took turns with the razor. Janie Hartman Photo

All in a day's work

Game wardens put in long hours and work hard at protecting the state's natural resources. That's a lot of pressure. Sometimes, however, they've got to just sit back and wonder what's going through the minds of some of the people they're dealing with.

A couple of examples. The South Houston district law enforcement office received a call in October from a man who wanted information. He asked, "If my wife made me a deer suit, could I sprinkle it with dog scent and wear it during hunting season so I can attract a trophy buck?"

After the clerk put the man on hold so she could laugh hysterically, she advised the caller of the possible danger that could be involved - such as being shot by another hunter or, even worse, attacked by a trophy buck.

Kenedy County game warden, recently apprehended two subjects committing numerous dove hunting violations. The warden watched the subjects from a concealed location as they would kill birds, then hide the birds in the brush and continue shooting more birds. The subjects joked that they were getting away with exceeding the limit and shooting after legal hours.

He even watched as the hunters gave each other "high-fives" during the course of their shooting. Soon the subjects were apprehended and were surprised to find out what all the game warden had seen and heard, as well as finding the hidden birds. The subjects paid $565 in fines. They also forfeited their $6,000 lease as a result of violating hunting laws.

On Oct. 5, a Lake Graham resident looked out his window and saw nothing unusual. A few minutes later, he noticed a four-foot-long cylinder sticking out of the ground. Upon careful investigation, the man noticed the word "BOMB" written on the cylinder. A call to the sheriff's office led to a call to the game warden, who notified the military who sent a bomb disposal crew. It turns out that an F-16 accidentally released a dummy practice bomb.

On Sept. 29, game wardens of Bay City, nabbed two subjects with 198 red snapper over the limit, 31, of which were too small. The violators were fined $4,600 each.

Two men fishing a lake at Pat Mayse Wildlife Management Area got into a bit of trouble while trying to land a large fish. The men decided to breach the dam and, after several hours of digging with shovels, they were able to dig through the dam and drain most of the lake. Fish were netted with dip nets as the lake drained.

The big fish still got away. The men were arrested and charged with criminal mischief, taking fish by illegal means and failure to register at the management area. The men were each fined $1,590. Restitution for damages is pending.

A Tarrant County game warden received an Operation Game Thief call about a Fort Worth store selling threatened species. The location was a "Botanica" (pharmacy) selling herbs, spices and other material. Reed found six Texas horned lizard and eight hummingbird carcasses, individually priced at $69.99 and $15.99. The store owner could not understand that a game warden could "just come into the store" and issue a citation for the offense of selling protected animals, so he informed the game warden that he was going to call a "real police officer." Upon the arrival of a Fort Worth police officer, the "real officer" explained that the game warden was, in fact, also a "real police officer." The store owner became very cooperative.

Dale Moses, Grayson County game warden, issued a citation to a local resident for not having his motorboat registered as required. Before the man would sign the citation, though, he challenged Moses to an arm wrestling match - if the man won, Moses would not issue the citation. Moses issued the citation...and didn't arm wrestle the subject.

Sportsmen can help game wardens, and in some cases be paid for it, by calling the Operation Game Thief hotline anytime they see a game or fish law violation being committed. Callers to the hotline, 1-800-792-GAME, may remain anonymous and they will be eligible for rewards upon arrest and conviction.

Shooting straight

"Most firearm accidents happen while people are cleaning or hunting with guns," Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said. "Prevention is the best weapon against these firearm casualties."

Families should make sure that the home has a safe and secure storage place for guns that is beyond the reach of children and careless adults. Store firearms and ammunition separately, and keep both locked up.

Hunting is a natural sport for many rural families. Perry said that hunting accidents can be prevented by following these basic safety rules:

- * Control the direction of your firearm muzzle. Carry your firearm safely. Keep the safety on and your finger off the trigger until you are ready to shoot.
- * Identify your target and know what is beyond it.
- * Be sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions and you have only the proper size ammunition for the firearm you are carrying.
- * Unload firearms when not in use. Leave the action open. Firearms should be carried empty in cases to and from shooting areas.
- * Never point a firearm at anything you do not want to shoot. Avoid all horseplay with firearms.
- * Never climb a tree or fence, or jump a ditch or log with a loaded firearm. Never pull a firearm toward you by the muzzle.
- * Never shoot a bullet at a flat or hard surface or water. During target practice, be sure your backstop is adequate.
- * Avoid alcoholic beverages or other mood-altering drugs before or while shooting.

Heading the list of returnees are All-District performers Tiffany Fisher, Stephanie Grewing and Dobe Fleitman.

Fisher was the Tigerettes' leading scorer a year ago and also led the Tigerettes in field goal percentage, hitting 53% of her shots. Grewing missed three weeks of the season with a knee injury but was still the Tigerettes' 2nd leading scorer and rebounder. Fleitman is the spark plug of the unit and, as a sophomore, was a mainstay in the back court.

Sarina Fuhrmann, a 5'8" senior forward is expected to pick up her offensive production this season after a great pre-season.

Jennifer Fuhrmann, a senior point guard, is needed to fill in the back court and also to bring the Tigerette team into an uptempo mode.

Tigerettes open basketball season

As the 1994-95 season unfolded Thursday night, Nov. 10, Tigerettes Head Coach Jon LeBrasseur is looking for what could be one of the most exciting seasons in Tigerette history. "Solid senior leadership and a corp of youthful talent creates a powerful blend. And, once again, the ultimate goal for Sacred heart is a trip to the Final Four and a chance at that premier spot - the state title," said LeBrasseur.

"This year, we have a real serious challenge to capture the district again," Coach LeBrasseur continued. "Our goals are the same - the job is a lot tougher because the competition is getting tougher. Pantego and Southwest Christian are playoff teams from a year ago and they both return most of their squad."

LeBrasseur and his squads have racked up an impressive streak of appearances in post season play as the Tigerettes have an impressive streak of 14 consecutive post-season trips. They claimed their first State Championship in 1983 and followed with four more - 1986, '88, '89 and '90. This year, LeBrasseur plans to guide his team towards a 15th tournament appearance and a strong bid for the state title.

Heading the list of returnees are All-District performers Tiffany Fisher, Stephanie Grewing and Dobe Fleitman.

Fisher was the Tigerettes' leading scorer a year ago and also led the Tigerettes in field goal percentage, hitting 53% of her shots. Grewing missed three weeks of the season with a knee injury but was still the Tigerettes' 2nd leading scorer and rebounder. Fleitman is the spark plug of the unit and, as a sophomore, was a mainstay in the back court.

Sarina Fuhrmann, a 5'8" senior forward is expected to pick up her offensive production this season after a great pre-season.

Jennifer Fuhrmann, a senior point guard, is needed to fill in the back court and also to bring the Tigerette team into an uptempo mode.

Nicole Endres, a 5'9" junior, is expected to play a swing position which will exploit her offensive skills which have improved with a great summer of work.

Kari Endres, another junior, has shone in pre-season practice with solid defensive skills and a sharp-shooting eye.

Newcomers to the squad include sophomores Tonya Knauf, Jill Hess, Leslie Grewing, Kelly Rigler, Brandi Fleitman, Melinda Vickers and freshman Crystal Klement.

"We have another very good schedule set for us this season," LeBrasseur stated. "Our season this year is that the district competition will be stronger and when you throw in Hockaday, Nocona, seven playoff teams from a year ago and the KGAF Classic, your schedule is solid." "We have 25 girls out for the club and we will try to run three squads this season."

"We have a good blend of youth and experience," stated LeBrasseur. Fans can again expect a pressure defense and a team that will run the floor and be fun to watch. "We ask each player to put the team first. If everyone will sacrifice for the team, we will have a successful team."

As another basketball season tips off, Sacred Heart plans to remain an integral part of the action as they vie for their sixth state title. The Tigerettes opened the '94-95 season Thursday night in Dallas against Thurdy Grove Academy.

S.H. Swim Team forms, sponsors Swim-A-Thon

Sacred Heart High School is hosting its second swim team. This year's swimmers are: senior, Jacqueline Trammell; juniors, Joey Martin, Wendy Pels, Jeanna Trammell; sophomores, Jennifer Campbell, Michael Flusche, Jill Hess, Tonya Knauf, Kelly Rigler, and Tara Yosten; freshmen, Laura Klement and Yvonne Martin.

Representing the Junior High are: 8th grade, Duncan Campbell, Russell Fette, and Leah Rigler; 7th grade, Lee Skinner and Anne Flusche.

Head coaches are: Jeannine Flusche and Hib Junginger. Assistant coach is Michael Rigler and Coach John Nasche will be supervising weight lifting for the team.

The S.H. Swim Team started its swim season October 31 and will conclude its season with the State Meet in Houston in February. The team swims in the morning from 5:45 to 7:00 at the Gainesville State School, does weight training after school, and swims Sundays at the TWU pool from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Last year's 1st ever girls' Swim Team finished 9th overall at the State Swim Meet in Houston and the boys finished 13th overall with 27 schools competing.

In order to defer costs of the team, the Swim Team sponsors a Swim-A-Thon, whereby each swimmer finds sponsors who pay per lap or a single donation. This year, the Swim-A-Thon will be Sunday, November 13, 1994, at TWU's Indoor Pool from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. The team challenges individuals to come swim laps with them at the Swim-A-Thon. Anyone wishing to swim with the team need only find $20 worth of sponsors to swim. Each lap is 50 meters. The team will leave Muenster Community Center parking lot at 10:00 a.m. on Nov. 13, if you wish to join the swimmers. Anyone who would like to donate may send contributions to Sacred Heart Swim Team in care of Sacred Heart School, P.O. Box 588, Muenster, Texas. All swimmers are eligible for prizes in the Swim-A-Thon in the areas of Most sponsors, most laps, most money, and most effort. Please come join in our fun.

Deer hunting best in Hill Country

For the 1994-95 deer season, Texas hunters are expected to have the best success in the Hill Country, where the white-tailed deer population is almost half the state total of 3.4 million. This year's acorn crop was poor in the Hill Country, so deer will more readily go to corn feeders used to attract deer. The largest size deer will still be in South Texas.

Junior High/Junior Varsity Football

Muenster 8, Lindsay 12
The Junior High Kraut Bowl was held at Hornet Stadium last week Thursday. It was the junior high's last game of the season.

The Lindsay Squires scored early, with Muenster taking the lead and holding it until the 3rd quarter.

Jeff Bezner began the game with the opening kick. Muenster fumbled the return, but Eric Fisher made the save and the Stingers offense began on their 33-yard line. A holding flag slowed the Stingers down and nullified John Roller's good run. Back on their 25-yard line a 4th down fake punt was fumbled with Lindsay's Joey Wilson and David Leonard covering Muenster's punter on the 6-yard line. Two short runs by Cory Neu carried the Squires to the one-foot line. A quarterback keeper and Jeff Bezner was in the end zone for the touchdown. The extra point failed and Lindsay had 6-0 lead with 5:30 remaining in the first quarter.

Brent Sicking returned the kick to midfield for Muenster. The Stingers got a good drive going with Sicking and Roller exchanging 5 runs for 26 yards to the Squires 33-yard line. But a fumbled pitch back lost 15 yards and forced Muenster to punt. The punt put the Squires on their 33-yard line.

Unable to get the needed 10 yards, Lindsay set up to punt, but the fake punt run was stopped by Darren Hennigan who caught the Squires in the backfield.

The young Hornets began their next drive on the 35. Runs by Randy Grewing, Roller, Bryan Miller and Sicking and a Roller short pass took Muenster to the 5. On 1st and goal, Miller found pay dirt and tied the score. The extra point pass from Jesse Luke to Hennigan gave Muenster an 8-6 lead with 5:32 remaining in the first half.

Muenster's next drive attempt put them back 13 yards and ended with a punt. Lindsay struggled and fumbled the snap on the punt attempt with Bryan Miller and Darren Hennigan catching the punter in the backfield. The Hornets got possession on their 43-yard line. Two Roller runs gained 14 yards, then the offense struggled on 4th and a Luke pass to Aaron Klement picked up a first down on the 17-yard line, as the 4th quarter began. Two plays later, Muenster fumbled the ball with Lambert Hess covering for Lindsay.

The young Knights got in 3 good runs before John Roller recovered the ball on the Lindsay 47. The Stingers got a good drive going, with runs by Roller, Miller and a 2-yard quarterback keeper by Luke on 4th and a foot, to keep the Hornets offense on the field. But incomplete passes including a reverse, halfback pass gave the Squires the ball temporarily. After 3 unsuccessful plays, Corey Neu booted the ball to the 6-yard line. Casey Walterscheid attempted to return the ball but was covered by Squires.

BRIAN MILLER takes the ball in for the touchdown.

Again Muenster attempted to come back and score. A Roller run picked up 20 yards, with Sicking gaining another 5. A pass to Sicking and another Roller run took the Hornets to midfield. Two plays later Roller dropped the ball and Corey Neu covered for Lindsay with a minute remaining in the game. The Squires ran out the clock to put the icing on a perfect winning season.

Leading rushers for Muenster were John Roller 65 yards, Brent Sicking 24 yards and Brian Miller 18 yards. Lindsay's rushing was led by Corey Neu with 58 yards. Jeff Bezner had 42 yards and Levi Seeds had 19 yards.

Muenster 40, Lindsay 12
Muenster's junior varsity Hornets dominated the Lindsay JV last week Thursday in the two teams' final game of the season. Michael Boydston's opening kick landed on the 20-yard line where Jamie Baggs brought the ball out to the 34. The Knights failed to get 10 yards on the drive so Brian Covington booted the ball away. Steven Reiter returned to the 47 for the Hornets.

Runs by Brian Fleitman and Reiter gained 13 yards, but a pass rush by Lindsay's Covington and two unsuccessful passes left the Hornets with a 4th and ten. A halfback pass from Cory Anderle to Shane Sparkman gained 39 yards to the 3-yard line. The next play Fleitman was in for the score. The extra point pass attempt failed when Covington caught the Hornets in the backfield. With 7:03 on the clock, Muenster had a 6-0 lead.

Lindsay fumbled the punt return on the 8-yard line, but a flag on the return made Muenster rekick. From the 38, the Knights struggled for yardage, punting on 4th and 4. The punt was blocked by Greg Flusche and covered by Barry Fleitman on the 32-yard line. Cory Anderle carried the ball to the 21 where Reiter picked up 19 yards to the 2.

Two runs later, Scott Hermes pushed into the end zone on a quarterback keeper for the touchdown. The extra point pass fell incomplete for a 12-0 score with 4:05 remaining in the first quarter.

The Knights got in only two runs and fumbled the ball. Cory Charles covered the ball for Muenster on the Knights 40-yard line. Two Brian Fleitman runs gained 16 yards, with Reiter picking up 7 more to the 15. Fleitman earned a first down to the 12, then the next play carried the ball into the end zone. The ball jarred loose on the tackle and Lindsay covered in the end zone, gaining possession on their 20. The next play Muenster intercepted a Lindsay pass, fumbled the ball and Lindsay recovered on the 40. The Knights fumbled the ball back the next play where Ryan Klement covered for Muenster on the 35.

Two incomplete passes and a holding flag forced the Hornets to punt, setting Lindsay on their own 8-yard line. The Knights carried the ball into the 2nd. quarter. Two incomplete passes forced a punt on 4th down.

Beginning on their 35-yard line, the Hornets' Reiter and Fleitman carried 4 runs to the Knights 45. On 4th down and 5, Steven Reiter broke free on a 45-yard touchdown run. The extra point pass was tipped by Lindsay and fell incomplete for an 18-0 score with seven minutes in the first half.

Issac Zimmerer gained ground with a Baggs to Covington pass moving the ball into Muenster territory. Two runs by Baggs got another 1st down, then two more to the 23. Greg Flusche caught the Knights for a 2-yard loss. Baggs earned 5 yards, but a 4th and 6 pass was incomplete when Flusche and Michael Boydston put pressure on the quarterback.

It was 3 runs and punt for the Hornets, but the ball was returned to Muenster when Scott Hermes picked off a Lindsay pass. The next play, Muenster fumbled and the clock time ticked to all zeros.

Muenster's offense opened the second half with Reiter getting a 17-yard run and Hermes getting a pass to Barry Fleitman for 12 yards. A fumbled ball was covered by Covington, that with a 15-yard penalty after the play, Lindsay got possession on the 30-yard line. Baggs gained nine yards after an incomplete pass, but was dropped for a loss by Lucas Hartman and Erik Walterscheid. An offside flag gave the Knights a first down on the 20. A Baggs to Covington pass put Lindsay on the scoreboard. The PAT failed for an 18-6 score with 6 minutes on the clock.

Muenster fought right back, with Fleitman, Reiter, Hermes and Fleitman running for 13, 4, 2 and 7 yards. To end the drive, Steven Reiter outran the Lindsay defense for a 53-yard touchdown run. Brian Fleitman added the extra points for a 26-6 score.

Greg Flusche covered a short Muenster kick and the Hornets again had the ball. From the Knights 45, a holding penalty, two unsuccessful runs and an incomplete pass forced Muenster to punt.

Issac Zimmerer got in a 14 yard run before the Lindsay offense sputtered and punted, catching the Hornets on the 3-yard line. A delay of game put Muenster back to the 1 1/2 line but 4 good runs by Reiter and one by Fleitman carried the ball to the 38. Once more, Steven Reiter outran his opponents for a 62-yard touchdown. The extra point was no good and Muenster took a 32-6 lead with 8:36 remaining in the game.

Zimmerer picked up one first down before Muenster's defense shut down the Knights. A fake punt on 4th down didn't get the needed yards and the Hornets took over on their 45. Again Reiter took control, carrying 5 times for 38 yards. Hermes added 7 and the Hornets were sitting with a 1st and goal on the 7. Scott Hermes had the honor of scoring Muenster's final TD. The PAT failed for a 40-6 score with 1:50 on the game clock.

Starting at midfield, a run by Zimmerer gained 14 yards, then the Knights went airborne. Baggs passed to Micky Meurer then to Josh Allison to the 8-yard line. From there a Baggs pass to Brad Perrin gave Lindsay another touchdown. Steven Reiter intercepted the extra point pass in the end zone for a 40-12 score with 8 seconds on the clock.

An on-side kick was covered by Greg Flusche on the 47 as time ticked off the clock.

Leading the Hornets in rushing was Steven Reiter with 205 yards and Brian Fleitman with 176. The Knights were led by Issac Zimmerer with 50 and Jamie Baggs with 37. In passing, Cory Anderle completed one pass for 39 yards while Jamie Baggs hit 7 out of 18 passes for 68 yards. Brian Covington was the Knights leading receiver.

Roller's kick went to the 20 where Neu carried to the 38. Four plays later, Lindsay punted to the Muenster 35.

The Stingers traded runs between Roller, Miller, and Sicking to the Squires 35-yard line, but a fumbled ball was covered by Levi Seeds on their 43-yard line. Lindsay hit the irwaves with 3 consecutive Bezner passes. The first fell incomplete, he next gained 6 yards with a Seeds completion and the third Leonard was good for 20 yards. Bezner then got in a 14 yard run as time ran out for the half-time break.

Lindsay's Corey Neu returned the 2nd half opening kick to the 45. It took only 6 plays to move 55 yards and score. Short runs by Neu and Seeds made a first down. Then a quarterback keeper saw Bezner pick up another 25. Neu earned another first down to the 7-yard line. The next play Neu was in for 7 points. The extra point run failed and Lindsay took an 8-12 lead with 5:48 on the clock.

Farm & Ranch

Farm-City Week observed Nov. 18-24

The safe and abundant food supply Texans enjoy as a result of the integrity and productivity of the nation's farmers and ranchers is a special reason to give thanks as the holiday season approaches.

Farm-City Week (Nov. 18-24) is an annual observance that gives Texans an opportunity to honor those producers and to celebrate the Lone Star State's longstanding agricultural tradition, according to Robert Klement, president of the County Farm Bureau.

At the beginning of the century, nearly every family grew at least some of their own food, Robert pointed out. Today, a complex and efficient system of research, farming expertise, and agribusiness has been developed to free Americans from the burden of growing most of the food they eat.

"Our nation's farmers and ranchers are unmatched in performance," Klement stated. "Less than two percent of the 250 million people in the United States live on the farm, yet they manage to feed the other 98 percent. Actually, a single American farmer produces enough food and fiber for about 128 people at home and abroad."

Food is not only safe and abundant, it is relatively cheap, the county Farm Bureau leader added. Americans spend only about 12 percent of their income for food as opposed to the 50 percent or more citizens in some countries pay for food, he said.

Agriculture also provides jobs, Klement said, noting that while two percent of Texans are farmers and ranchers, more than 20 percent of the work force is dependent on agriculture.

"That's more than one million people who are involved in the business of providing farmers with the materials they need for transforming raw agriculture goods into products for consumers," the county Farm Bureau president advised.

According to Klement, agriculture and its related industries account for 16 percent of the country's Gross National Product (GNP) and add more than $52 billion dollars to the state's annual economic activity.

"In Texas, agriculture supports a combined payroll of more than $12 billion dollars. Many Texas communities exist solely because of farming or ranching," he said. "In fact, one-fourth of Texas' 254 counties are dependent on agriculture."

Robert said Texas ranks first in the following areas: numbers of cattle and calves and cattle on feed; cotton production; total farms and ranches; and number of farm and ranch acres; cash receipts for all livestock and related products and in numbers of sheep and goats; and production of watermelons and spinach.

Texas is also ranked as the number one exporter of cotton and related products and number two in rice exports, he said. The value of Texas crops exported annually is almost $3 billion, with this activity supplying some 45,000 jobs.

The Texas forestry industry is important nationally and adds $6 billion dollars annually to the economy, he pointed out.

"Farm-City Week is a forerunner of Thanksgiving, giving Texans time to reflect on the benefits and bounty of modern agriculture and to count the many blessings it provides," Klement concluded.

Use EPDs to boost calf weaning weight

As cattlemen wean their calves in the fall, they realize the importance of bull selection has on their weaning weights. Several factors affect weaning weights, with a major portion coming from the genetics furnished by the bull.

Dr. John Hough, education and research director for the American Polled Hereford Association, says that using Expected Progeny Differences (EPDs) as a tool to help select breeding stock can dramatically improve the genetic performance of your herd.

"EPDs are tools provided by breed associations that can help you better understand the genetic makeup of the seedstock you buy, thus helping you to better predict and improve the performance of your calves," Hough says. Using EPDs will not guarantee perfect offspring, but will certainly increase your probability of a profitable herd."

Selecting for Weaning Weights An EPD is one-half an animal's Profits...

Gone with the wind, the rain

Wind and water carry away much more than soil from unprotected fields. Money, a great deal of it, disappears too, says a Kansas State University scientist.

"Over 40 years, cumulative losses from severe soil erosion could be as high as $1,000 per acre," said John Havlin, a Kansas Agricultural Experiment Station soil scientist. "Producers could buy a new farm for that kind of money."

Havlin arrived at this figure by assuming it takes 40 years for 6 inches of soil to erode away. Because of this erosion, crop yields, soybeans in this example, decline and farmers lose potential income.

Havlin built his estimates of soil erosion costs on the results of research that began in 1985. During that year the Soil Conservation Service began collecting data throughout Kansas.

The scientists limited their sampling to five soil types and three crop species. The crops were wheat, sorghum and soybeans.

actual breeding value because a parent only transmits a random one-half of its genes to each of its offspring, or progeny. Therefore, a sire transmits a random half of his genes for growth to weaning and a dam transmits a random half of her genes for the same traits. A dam, however, provides her entire genetic merit for milk production to the calf.

Milk genes actually transmitted to the calf do not directly affect its weaning weight, but its weight gain is a direct result of the dam's actual milk production.

"However, when referencing a sire's EPDs, you should select for weaning weight since the Weaning Weight EPD has a direct influence on his progeny's weaning weights. A sire's Milk EPD only has a direct effect on his daughter's milk production," Hough says. Hough stresses that a thorough understanding of EPDs and their uses is important.

As a basis for deciding the severity of erosion, SCS crews measured topsoil thickness from undisturbed sites near the selected fields. Then within each location they chose three smaller areas that were slightly, moderately and severely eroded.

They then harvested the crop growing on each sampled area to estimate yield. Sample collection continued until 1991.

By the end of the study, SCS personnel had collected samples from more than 350 farmer managed fields. KSU researchers then used statistical analysis to reveal the relationship of soil erosion to yield loss.

The scientists found that yield declined sharply as the severity of erosion increased.

TSCRA News Update

• The Animal Drug Amendments Act of 1994, sponsored by Rep. Charles Stenholm, (D-TX), was passed before Congress adjourned. The bill ensures that veterinarians can use drugs beyond label specifications when treating sick livestock, as long as a proper veterinarian-client-patient relationship exists. A similar bill was passed earlier this year by the Senate.

• The Texas Department of Agriculture has adopted new rules concerning the licensing of private individuals to inspect and test ranch scales on private ranches. For details, 512-463-7583.

• The Sierra Club has lost $6.8 million in the past four years and is $2.9 million in debt. The environmental group is considering a plan that would trim funding for its magazines, local chapters and its political action committee, according to the San Francisco Examiner.

• A record US corn crop is being harvested, a welcome change from last year when flood and drought greatly cut the harvest. USDA figures put the crop at 9.6 billion bushels. Texas' corn crop is also forecast at a record high - 228.2 million bushels, up 7 percent from 1993. • Grasshoppers and Mormon crickets have the potential for sudden population increases so extreme that all vegetation is consumed and individual land managers alone can't control the damage. The Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service is preparing an environmental impact statement for cooperative management program and wants public comments. Deadline is Dec. 13.

Jason Paul Brice, 21, of Gainesville, entered a guilty plea Aug. 1, 1994, in the 220th District Court of Comanche County to charges of stealing three horses from Mack James Keith of Gorman. Brice was given a three-year probation sentence and fined $1,000. He was ordered to pay $1,055 in restitution, $134.50 in court costs and complete 200 hours of community service. Two of the horses were recovered and returned to Keith.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

HARMONIA LADY BEETLES

This past week many homeowners in the county have experienced a new insect. The Harmonia Lady Beetle is a new beneficial insect for our area. These beetles were introduced into the United States in ten southern and eastern states during 1978 through 1982. The purpose of their introduction was as a biological control for Yellow and Black Pecan Aphids. These beetles feed on both the aphid and the aphid's honeydew. Therefore, their primary food source is the Yellow Pecan Aphid because the Black Pecan Aphid produces much less honeydew. In Georgia and other southern states, it has shown to be an excellent beneficial insect that feeds on pecan stem phylloxera, aphids that infect roses, crepe myrtles, and Christmas trees. They have also helped in the control of Pea Aphids and other aphids that attack various plants.

Identification of these beetles is much like that of the normal lady beetle that we see each year. However, adults of the Harmonia Lady Beetle are larger than the common Convergent Lady Beetle. They are also a brightly colored yellowish orange to near reddish orange. The number of spots can range from two up to 20 small spots and some individuals have no spots.

The calls we have been getting this past week were from homeowners concerned about the presence of the Harmonia Beetles in and around their homes. There is little concern to homeowners as the hibernating beetles do not feed or cause injury to the house or contents. If they get in the house and create a nuisance, they can be collected with a vacuum cleaner and removed. In the fall the adults migrate from feeding sites and congregate in large numbers to overwinter. In their native home they overwinter in limestone cliffs and caves. So in the United States they have looked to chimneys and attics of homes and buildings. Brick and concrete walls and light colored buildings that are heated by the afternoon sun seem especially attractive to these beneficial beetles as they seek out overwintering sites. They should soon disappear in that their flights last only a few days to a week during November.

Even though they have been a nuisance to some homeowners, they are considered a beneficial insect and hopefully, they will do a good job in controlling some of the aphid problems that we have in and about the city and countryside.

Ten tips for Farm Safety all year long

1. Take the time to be safe.
2. Just say "no" to children.
3. Accept no riders.
4. Teach safety by good example.
5. Take a break.
6. When working alone, keep others informed.
7. Make sure equipment is in proper operating condition.
8. Carefully read the operator's manual.
9. Shut it off before getting off.
10. Maintain a strong safety attitude.

GATT will help, not halt trading problems

Based on US experience with the North American Free Trade Agreement, passing the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade probably will help, but not halt, trading problems with other signing countries.

Now that Congress can take up the measure after the November elections, the GATT agreement appears headed for passage, market analysts told Knight Ridder Financial News. Some groups have voiced objections, but most trade associations favor its passage. If passed, the agreement could be implemented by mid-1995.

US exports to Mexico have increased greatly since NAFTA was implemented Jan. 1, according to US Department of Agriculture figures. Sales of beef were up 35 percent in volume and 54 percent in value during the first half of 1994, compared with the same period of 1993. Under GATT, food safety issues will be a common way to restrict meat and livestock shipments, says analyst John Nalivka. Countries deprived of the right to halt trade with quotas or outright barriers will use these issues as a stumbling block to trade, says Nalivka.

Coalition issues "Texas-sized" challenge

The Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC) recently announced a proclamation from Governor Ann Richards declaring Nov. 15, 1994, Texas Recycles Day. The commissioners, joined by the Texas Recycles Day steering committee, signed a pledge to start or enhance recycling programs and urged all Texans to do the same. The steering committee is a coalition of 70 representatives from business, schools, government and environmental and civic groups.

Speaking at ACCO Waste Paper in Austin before a towering backdrop of recyclable materials, including bales of aluminum cans, plastic bottles, cardboard and shredded paper, TNRCC Chairman John Hall said Texas businesses increasingly see recycling as an economically attractive alternative to the escalating costs of traditional waste disposal.

"Each year, we put nearly 20 million tons of solid waste into Texas landfills," Hall said. "That's more than a ton of garbage per Texan each year. Our waste disposal costs are rising, yet we are seeing more and more private companies saving substantial dollars by implementing aggressive recycling programs. Recycling is truly one area where, in many cases, good economics and good environmental policy are moving in the same direction."

TNRCC Commissioner Pam Reed said one of the primary purposes of Texas Recycles Day is to focus attention on corporate and civic success stories.

TNRCC Commissioner Peggy Garner explained that the recycling challenge calls on Texas businesses, schools, governments and individuals to fill out pledge cards indicating their commitment to recycling. People who take the pledge will be eligible for prizes related to recycling. Winners will be selected by a random drawing on Texas Recycles Day.

Texas Recycles Day will involve a cross section of the public and private sector to increase public straighten my perspectives. Sometimes what I see is saddening. On a recent trip to another city, the traffic was stopped for awhile because of an accident involving a young bicyclist who had been hit by a car. I never learned the extent of the bicyclist's injuries, but I assumed they were serious, judging the time paramedics spent reading him for transport to a hospital.

I was curious whether the bike rider had been wearing a helmet, then I spotted one strapped on the handlebars of the wrecked bike. I didn't need details about that young man's injuries, having seen enough already in emergency rooms. They are always tragic, and nearly always preventable. I considered the consequences of the boy's carrying his helmet on his bike, instead of his head.

For the remainder of my trip, which included stops in several cities, I kept loose count of the bicyclists I saw who did not wear helmets, and I was seriously disappointed.

I already knew from TDH's own research that fewer than 10 percent of bicyclists of all ages wear helmets, even in busy traffic or on hazardous roads. But I suppose Austin's traffic, where I see many bicyclists wearing helmets, had lulled my awareness that the majority of bike riders still refuse to wear helmets.

I couldn't help but wonder why, when common sense and fairly well-known statistics clearly show that the most serious injuries associated with bicycles are head injuries, and that helmets are the most essential safeguard against head injuries to bicyclists.

Consider these numbers, compiled by the Injury Prevention and Control Program at the Texas Department of Health (TDH).

Between 1988 and 1992, about 295 Texans died from bicycle-related injuries, and about 183 of those fatalities included head injuries.

Including non-fatalities, emergency rooms and physicians reported more than 64,000 bicycle-associated head injuries during those years. Statistically, non-helmeted bike riders are seven times more likely than are helmeted awareness of and participation in recycling. Chairman Hall added, "Texas Recycles Day is an excellent chance to demonstrate the overlooked opportunities for recycling."

One corporation enjoying substantial savings by recycling is Texas Instruments, which has instituted a very successful program.

"Our employees initiated a recycling program in 1990, and since then we've reduced our solid waste stream by 65 percent and we're saving more than half a million dollars a year," said Tim Mikus, an environmental specialist for TI.

Another company which has stepped forward to capitalize on the recycling bounty is Champion International, which recently opened a paper recycling facility near Houston. Champion Manager of Public Affairs Seth Kursman says recycling is not just a passing environmental fad, but rather a core piece of business for Champion as well as many other companies.

On Texas Recycles Day, TNRCC will sponsor six public outreach events across the state to help give the effort momentum. However, according to commissioners, the most important part of Texas Recycles Day will be grassroots participation from businesses, schools, environmental and civic organizations conducting a patchwork of recycling events across Texas.

The Texas Recycles Day Steering Committee is assisting the TNRCC by sponsoring activities and by distributing information and materials. A list of members is attached. More information about Texas Recycles Day is available by calling the CLEAN TEXAS 2000 Information Hotline at 1-800-64-TEXAS.

Mrs. F. J. Schenk, 58, dies of heart attack. She came to Muenster in 1889, the same year the colony was founded. Two local youngsters fracture legs in weekend accidents; Clyde Fisher has compound fractures of both ankles, from a fall from a pecan tree. Mary Faith Bernauer has broken ankle from fall at play. FMA decides to buy and ship live turkeys, but will not have a dressing and packing program for the first time in 12 years. Henry Fette has operation to remove his left eye by a Dallas specialist. Injury occurred in July 1943, when he was struck in the face by a pitch fork handle, while working on his threshing machine rig. Treatment continued since then, unsuccessfully. To prevent infection in the good eye, the operation became necessary.

movement, coasters, Simple Moments Collectibles, a line of angels, baby and religious gifts, Christmas gifts, angels and ornaments, and novelty items such as ceramic gifts sacks and much more. Items which are not in stock can be ordered and shipped within a few days.

A bridal registry will be a part of the service. Selections can be made from stone wear, china and casual wear, crystal, stem ware and flat wear, all from open stock which will allow orders to be placed for any number.

Merchandise is as inexpensive as $5 on up and varied enough to offer something to please young and old alike. "It is my philosophy to sell quality merchandise at reasonable prices and to stand behind what we sell," explained Christi.

Grand opening will be Nov. 25 and 26. Everyone is invited to stop by Christi's and register to win a gift certificate. The drawing will be held on Nov. 26.

Christi says she is excited to be part of the Muenster business community. She had considered opening a jewelry store for a long time and things just seemed to fall together recently. Her children are older, the building became available and it just seemed like it was meant to be, Christi said. She also observed that getting the business going was made easier by the support and help provided by both sides of the family.

Christi and her husband Leon Klement have three children, Andrea, Elliot, and Bridgette.

WOMEN'S CENTER

great need for Crisis Pregnancy Centers (CPC) because most women who go to Planned Parenthood decide to have an abortion, but most of those who are counseled at CPC's choose to have their babies. Abortionists don't care about the woman, just about making money, he said. "If a woman goes to the Rufe Street Clinic and has no money to pay for an abortion, they will send her to a CPC," Crusher noted.

Crusher told the crowd that Cooke County was fortunate to have such an organization as ABBA and to have so many people willing to work and support it. Support will be needed from those who can volunteer time to serve as part-time counselors, to arrange storage areas, man phones, sponsor shepherding homes or donate money and items such as clothing, baby food, etc.

Bordering counties average two new clients daily. Not all are pregnant. Some are in need of clothing, baby food, etc. "If their average is that high, then there are all of our women in need going?" Kenneth Bierschenk president of Cooke County Pro Life wonders. Also ABBA anticipates serving women from southern Oklahoma and counties to the west of Cooke County.

After it was decided to expand the functions of ABBA, a steering committee was formed. Committee members are Ed Zielinski, Judy Krahl, E.J. Schad, Lorene Sandman, Rita McCreary, Ann Scivally, and Rev. Lawrence Dee Burks.

Goals for the steering committee are three fold: to appoint a board of directors, to apply for incorporation and tax exempt status, and to interview volunteers and directors of neighboring CPC's to determine the best ways to organize and to estimate an annual budget. It will be the responsibility of the board of directors to draft bylaws to govern ABBA. Other decisions the board must make include if ABBA will be affiliated with any national organization, financial decisions: hiring a director, train volunteer, and securing a suitable facility to house ABBA.

Purposes of the ABBA Women Center include: Upholding the Christian principles that stand for the sanctity of life; promoting the health and well-being of the woman who are in need of assistance, as well as their unborn babies; help the mother who is undecided about whether to continue her pregnancy to make the decision to choose life for her baby; provide free confidential pregnancy testing to women in need; to provide substantial assistance to women whose pregnancies are straining their resources and enable them to continue their pregnancies; to minister, in Christian love, to those individuals who have had an abortion; to provide counseling on abstinence and will; provide natural family planning information to married couples; and to provide public awareness and public speaking to area groups and schools.

A generous donation of time and talent helped make the event last Saturday a success. Butterfield Stage performed as a benefit; The Hermes Sisters donated meal preparations; St. Peter's Parish donated the Centennial Hall cleanup was also donated.

Donations can be sent to ABBA Women's Center, P. O. Box 256 Gainesville, TX 76241. More information on ABBA is available from any member of the steering committee.

It is hoped to open the ABBA/CPC in six to eight months if location in Gainesville can be found and if donations are sufficient.

CLASSIC CAR FESTIVAL

"Everyone treated us great here in Muenster. We hope we can come back next year and spend the whole day." The event was coordinated through the Muenster Chamber of Commerce.

This year on Saturday, the Restored Classic Cars of Yesteryear will begin arriving before noon. Many will cruise the streets of Muenster. All 100 to 150 will be on the Sacred Heart Community Center parking lot and near that area by 3 p.m. The "Top Tin Street Rod Club" of Denton welcomes everyone to come view their most prized possessions. In the evening, club members and their families will have a dinner in the Community Center and will host some invited guests from Muenster. Earlier in the afternoon, four Muenster people will be invited to choose a favorite classic car from yesteryear, including Father David Bellinghausen, OSB, pastor of Sacred Heart Church; Muenster Chamber of Commerce Secretary Margie Starke; Muenster Mayor Bill Miller; and the Muenster Police Department. Several local businesses have donated door prizes.

Offering an entirely different kind of entertainment, the DEOA Productions was established to commemorate the historical significance of America's 1930s period. Membership of the DEOA performs historical reenactments, gunfights and speaking engagements. For this Saturday afternoon, they will recreate historical outlaws like Bonnie and Clyde and law enforcement officers like Melvin Purvis and FBI agents. They use antique automobiles and authentic period clothing.

Movie hero "The Shadow" will pursue the bad guys beginning about 1:15 p.m. and "Bonnie and Clyde" will be robbing about 3:30 p.m.

The DEOA is the most authentic entertainment organization of its kind in the Southwest and the nation, known for technical and acting capabilities and special effects.

There will also be a large display, open to the public from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., of movie and historical memorabilia of the DEOA and American law enforcement history. The exhibit will be in the Old Gehrig Building at the corner of Main and Second streets, with an autograph session after "The Shadow's" performance. There will be a small admission fee.

For more information, call Margie Starke, 817-759-2227, at the Muenster Chamber of Commerce office.

It's time to start thinking ...

The Annual Christmas Parade will be held Saturday, Nov. 26, at 1 p.m. in downtown Muenster

The theme for this year is "Christmas - Past, Present, Future"

Be planning your entry - whether you choose to create a float featuring Christmases from long ago, holidays as they are today, or let your imagination run wild and design a Christmas of the future entry!

A special attraction to the Parade this year is the 1st Cavalry Horse Detachment from Fort Hood. They will act as Honor Guard for the parade and will stage a cavalry demonstration after the parade.

Registration deadline is Monday, Nov. 21 - so start working on your entry today!

For more information, contact Parade Chairmen Dave Fette, Janet Felderhoff or Brenda Rigsby at 759-4351 during business hours.
