VICTORIOUS LAZBUDDIE LONGHORNS CELEBRATE REGIONAL VICTORY--Providing awesome defense, and equally awesome offense, the Lazbuddie Longhorns won the regional title against the New Home Leopards Friday night, 49-6. Here, Kirk Jesko, No. 33, waves his helmet in the air as he keeps a firm grip on the trophy presented the Longhorns at the end of the ballgame. The Longhorns will now advance to the next game on their way to state. (Journal Photo)

At Lazbuddie, they take their game of football quite seriously. Consequently, when the Longhorns traveled to Smyer Friday to tackle the New Home Leopards for the Regional title, they took a lot of ambition and strength along with them.

By the time the game was over, the Longhorns were Regional Champions, winning that right by 49-6.

Although the New Home Leopards took the opening kickoff, they failed to advance the ball and were forced to punt it away at 8:15 of the first.

Lazbuddie then started a downfield march, culminating in a Michael Williams to Doug Barnes TD for 40 yards with 7:44 to play in the first. The point after attempt failed and the Leopards took over for their second series of the game.

After four plays, a Leopard pass was intercepted, and the 'Horns made two quick first downs before running into penalty trouble then having to punt the ball away after Michael Williams was sacked behind the line.

The Leopards made three plays before fumbling on the snap and a quick recovery by Lazbuddie.

With 2:46 left in the first, Eddie Zamora raced for 40 yards and a Horn TD. The PAT was good, and the Longhorns were leading on the scoreboard 13-0.

Despite a valiant effort by the New Home Leopards, and gradual moving the ball toward the defensive Longhorns, time ran out in the first with no additional scoring.

Following a couple of plays in the second quarter, the Leopards again had to punt the ball away. They took quick advantage of the possession, and on a pass from Michael Williams to Kirk Jesko for 52 yards, were on the scoreboard again with 8:57 left in the first half.

As New Home took over again, the overanxious players fumbled, but recovered their own fumble, then got into penalty trouble again.

Then, it was time for the Longhorns to get into a little trouble, and the Leopards really started moving the ball.

But, after eight plays, Kirk Jesko recovered a Leopard fumble, and the Longhorns were on the march again.

At 2:19 of the second, a six yarder from Williams to Jesko put six more points on the scoreboard, and the PAT was good.

After three plays, New Home again punted the ball and the Longhorns were at it again. With just :26 seconds before halftime, Eddie Zamora made it in from one yard out and the PAT was good.

As New Home again tried to

Bailey Co. Aging Office Serves A Wide Range

By Glen Williams
The official title of the office is Bailey County Aging and Health Care. It is located in the Court House and administered by Judge Glen Williams and Christina Koenig. It is designed as a service office, and is open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Services officially listed are: Community Service Advisor Senior Citizen Transportation Home Delivered Meals County Indigent Health Care Program

Veterans Service Officer
The office serves people of all ages without regard to race, creed, color or financial circumstances. But the Aging programs; Community Service Advisor, Transportation and Home Delivered Meals, serve senior citizens. Officially, a senior citizen is a person 60 years of age or older. These three services are partially funded through the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) under a contractual agreement. The remainder of the funding is received from Bailey County, program income, and local support. As a general rule from 10-25 people per day are served in the Aging Office, people who have needs of almost every conceivable type.

Community Service Advisor
This is a resource office the purpose of which is to assist senior citizens with whatever their needs might be, except that they cannot provide legal or medical advice. But there are many areas in which senior citizens need help. They assist in an unofficial way with Social Security Services, such as replacing lost social security cards, obtaining social security cards for those who do not have them, information regarding retirement, disability and SSI benefits, changes of address etc. They furnish information regarding estate matters, family problems, child custody, medical and life insurance. They fill out many forms, write letters, file insurance and medicare claims and other related services.

They administer the County Indigent Health Care Program and serve as the Veterans Service Officer. In addition Judge Williams serves as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Central

New Senior Companion Program Expanded

Recently, a national program, headquartered at Levelland, was expanded to include Bailey County. The program, called Senior Companion Program, is administered out of the South Plains Community Action Association, Inc. with Sherry McMasters as director; assisted by Gertrude Moss.

Ms. McMasters explained that the four companions in Bailey County are Oneida Cornelison; Edith Lee; Lola Pacheco and Clara Flores.

At this time, the four companions have seven people they serve in Bailey County.

The director said the Senior Companion Program has grown out of the American Volunteers and is one part of ACTION, which is the National Volunteer Agency.

Other counties served include Cochran, Hockley, Lamb, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum and Garza Counties.

The Senior Companion Program provides some of the following services:

They help prevent people from having to go into nursing homes, by enabling them to stay in their own homes as long as possible.

The term Senior Companion means the biggest thing -- companionship -- but alongside the companionship are light house-keeping and running errands.

The program also provides respite for the family, to give them time to get away for awhile.

Another service is to remind their clients of their medication and to take it on time.

Ms. McMasters commented, "This is a small resource, but one that can be called on when other services cannot be provided."

To qualify as a volunteer, they must be at least 60 years of age to

Senator Phil Gramm Will Visit Thursday

In what could be a sort of an 'adoption', U. S. Senator Phil Gramm is once again returning to Muleshoe.

In the past, the Senator has said he enjoys coming to Muleshoe because "there's so much good going on around here." And true to his word, he's returning again Thursday, November 30.

Meeting him at the airport at 3:20 p.m. will be Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture President Robert Montgomery; Muleshoe Mayor Darrell Turner; Bailey County Judge Jim Watson; and Kid Castleberry, owner of K C Muffler and Manufacturing.

On arrival at the Bailey County Courthouse, he will conduct a meeting in the 287th District Courtroom -- addressing the "drug problem" facing the nation.

In the courtroom, where he plans to spend an hour, he will be joined by Bailey County Sheriff Jerry Hicks, Muleshoe City Police Chief Wayne Holmes and DPS Trooper Lacie Kirk.

He will be presenting President George Bush's National Drug-Control Strategy.

Senator Gramm, who has made two recent trips to Muleshoe, will address Congressional concerns about funding and implementing a $9.4 billion anti-drug campaign.

Senator Gramm has reminded that drug abuse has infiltrated every city and hamlet in the nation, from the largest cities, to the smallest towns and villages.

The public is encouraged to fill the courtroom and hear the drug discussions.

Congressman Combest Asking 'Research Funds'

The U.S. House of Representatives today gave final approval to Congressman Larry Combest's (R-Texas) request for one-half million dollars for designing and planning a Plant Stress and Water Conservation Research Laboratory to be built on the Texas Tech University campus. Said Combest, "I am extremely pleased that the conference committee has agreed to the funding level of $500,000 that was passed in the House. The Senate had originally planned to give Texas Tech only one-tenth of that amount."

"It is absolutely vital that this Plant Stress and Water Conservation lab be built," Combest said today. "The future of agriculture may depend on this valuable research by scientists at Texas Tech." Combest's initial bill to fund the multi-million dollar plant stress lab was authorized by Congress in 1988. Texas Tech's College of Agricultural Sciences will use this latest funding allocation to prepare for the first phase of construction on a 50 acre site on campus. "I intend to keep seeking additional money for the Plant Stress Lab, until the research facility is finally built," Combest stated. To date the Federal Government has directly appropriated more than $8.5 million to the program. Each year, state and federal sources contribute more than $3 million to research operations.

Sudan Native Busy In Post-War Germany

By: David A. Losleben

During the quiet early morning hours in this post-war city, you can almost hear the grinding of steel tracks on the cobblestone streets, when hordes of iron-crossed armored divisions launched dreaded blitzkrieg attacks across Europe.

With the defeat of Nazi Germany more than 40 years ago, allied forces began a defensive posture to ensure peace in war torn Europe. With the help of U.S. Army Spec. Joel L. Williams, this 2,000 year-old Bavarian city surrounded by tree studded hills and dotted with heavily-timbered chalets remains at peace.

Williams, 29, the son of Celia M. Williams of Sudan, is a material storage and handling specialist with the 229th Services and Support Battalion, Augsburg.

The U.S. Army occupies Sheridan, Reese, Flak and Quartermaster military installations within the city of Augsburg and also other small outposts in the region. The main mission is to provide artillery defense for the area and support activities for military members stationed in the area.

Being located in southern Germany can provide many unique opportunities for a soldier. This old Roman city containing many medieval and renaissance structures, offers rich traditions in painting, theater and music. Americans frequently visit a variety of museums, restaurants and parks in the city.

"Germany is a place that I've always wanted to visit. The people seem friendly, but learning their language is a problem," said the 1978 graduate of Sudan High School.

The surrounding area provides many outdoor recreational activities, including hunting, fishing, hiking and skiing. Munich is only a half hour drive from Augsburg, where troops can find a great diversity in culture and a night life unequalled by American standards.

"I enjoy going to the German fests. I also like going to downtown Augsburg and seeing the ancient buildings there," said Williams.

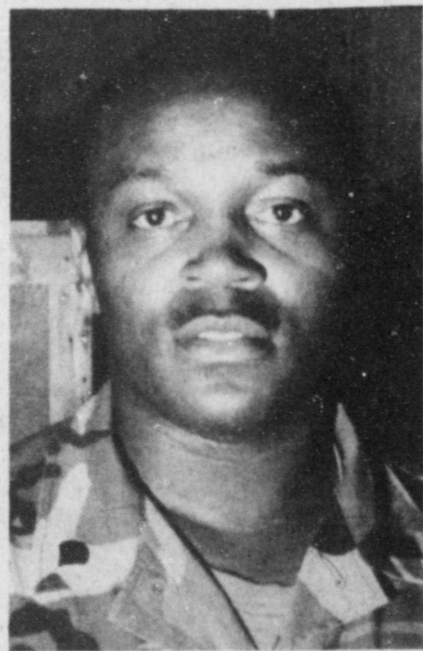

Living in Germany can be an enlightening experience for soldiers who have never been overseas. Servicemen usually find they have to adjust to anything, from driving on freeways with no speed limits, to learning a language that can be very challenging.

"You have to get used to spending German marks instead of dollars, a lot of German holidays, and high speed limits," he added.

Most of the American soldiers here find Germans to be industrious, hardworking, and friendly. However, differences between American and German cultures and customs may cause some difficult situations to arise.

"The Germans are very friendly and I try to be the same way. The first time I went to a German disco, I was surprised to see women dancing with women and men dancing with men. It was strange at first, but I figure that it's their lifestyle."

Williams and his wife, Vielka, have a son, Joel.

Seventeen senior scientists have already developed recommendations for cotton varieties and plant spacing that have improved yields. Researchers have also tested various new methods for rooting and growing selected food and fiber plants. These advancements however, have taken place under conditions where the scientists work in buildings scattered throughout the campus.

Three Way School Secretaries Now Certified

The Three Way School secretaries, Annetta Chunn, Jean Parker, and Sabra Watson have returned from the fall Texas Educational Secretaries Association Conference which was held at Longview on November 9-11. While attending the conference the Three Way secretaries completed their training requirements for certification in "Staff Training for Effective Management (STEMS). Certification for STEMS requires a minimum of 18 clock hours of inservice training and 42 clock hours of staff development. These secretaries are three of only five school secretaries in the state of Texas that have completed all the required training. Three Way School is the only school system in the state in which all of the secretaries are certified with Texas Educational Secretaries Association through the completion of the STEMS training. The Texas Educational Secretaries Association is a professional association for all education office personnel employed in public schools, education service centers, and colleges and universities. TESA is a collective voice for all those office personnel employed in all levels of education and is dedicated to providing those employees the opportunity for professional development and professional association activities.

At a recent meeting of the board of trustees for the Three Way School, the following resolution was passed: "Be it resolved that the board of trustees of Three Way ISD is very appreciative of the fact that all secretaries in the district have completed their certified training through Phase I, II, and III of the Texas Educational Secretaries Association, that they are to be recognized on the state level at their annual convention in Longview as the only school district in the state of Texas which has completely certified all the secretaries of the district. Also, be it resolved that this honor is due to their hard work and interest in the students, parents, and community of the Three Way Schools and with this resolution we hereby give a strong "Thank You" for their dedication and efforts."

Consumers Get Break On Food Purchases

Consumers will get a break on some major food purchases this holiday season because of a five percent increase in overall turkey production in 1989.

Dr. Dave E. Mellor, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said about 255 million turkeys were produced in the U.S. in 1989, while production a year ago was an estimated 242 million birds.

Mellor said this year, whole bird store brands should be priced about 55 cents a pound, with national brands higher by about 10 cents a pound. The prices should not reflect any special promotional requirements or gimmicks.

He said because of higher demand and fewer turkeys last year, prebasted turkey prices ranged from 69 to 79 cents a pound, with store brands somewhat less.

holiday meals to be among the most economical of the year, especially if they follow a tradition of serving the whole bird and making side dishes from scratch," Mellor said.

"The whole bird is the traditional favorite and less expensive than processed turkey parts and roasts. Some consumers prefer fresh turkeys over frozen ones, but these may be somewhat more expensive," he said.

The specialist said there should be little difference in quality between frozen and fresh birds.

"Turkeys that are frozen immediately and held for sale months later should be just as appealing to consumers as turkeys that were refrigerated for up to two weeks before selling," Mellor said.

He said that remaining inexpensive are the basic ingredients of the Thanksgiving meal, such as bread, corn meal, celery and onions or garlic for stuffing, and cranberries, canned or frozen peas, white potatoes and yams.

"By careful shopping and taking time to prepare the side dishes, the Thanksgiving and Christmas meals can be relatively inexpensive for family gatherings," Mellor said.

He said attractive price tags also should be attached to cut-up turkey parts and processed turkey this season.

"Many supermarkets use turkey as a strategy to attract shoppers," he said. "Competitive prices should benefit consumers."

Transportation

This is a service designed to furnish transportation for senior citizens on needed errands such as trips to the grocery store, bank, barber shop, beauty shop, doctor's office, to pay utility bills and attend to other important matters. The services are rendered without respect to national origin, race, creed, financial or social circumstances. There is no charge for this service, but the participants are encouraged to make contributions. The greater the contributions the more community support it shows. And that is looked on with favor by SPAG and by the Commissioner's Court.

A twelve passenger van is used to provide this service and the services are rendered on a demand/response basis. That is, the services are rendered as requested. The van not only travels in Muleshoe and Bailey County, but makes frequent trips to neighboring towns, such as Littlefield, Clovis, Lubbock, Plainview and Amarillo. Most of those trips are for doctors appointments, and other medical services. Quite often eligible veterans are taken to the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo. Those wanting service should call Edd Harp at 272-4693 or the Aging Office at 272-3647. And they should schedule their appointments as far in advance as possible. That enables the van driver to plan his work more efficiently.

A new senior citizens van was recently purchased. It is warm and comfortable and the driver assists the riders getting in and out of it. He also helps with such matters as putting groceries in and out of the van, and in other ways. The title to the van is vested in Bailey County, but it actually belongs to SPAG. They provided approximately 90 percent of the purchase price and Bailey County provided the remainder. The SPAG office assists with operational costs, but most of those expenses are borne by Bailey County. A daily log is kept of those who use it.

The van is checked for safety features every night and is checked by a mechanic once a month. Detailed records are kept as to its condition. A first aid kit is kept on the van, and the driver has completed a defensive driving course and passed a physical examination. This is a worthy and needed service. But people are not taken out of town shopping, to places of entertainment, or on trips that are not important.

Nutrition

The official title of this program is Home Delivered Meals. It is administered by a non-profit corporation called Meals on Wheels, Inc., and is generally referred to by that name. Its purpose is to deliver one hot meal a day, five days a week, to recipients who qualify. Again, the services are rendered without respect to race, creed, color, financial or social circumstances.

In general the rules for qualification are; persons must be 60 years of age or over, be unable to prepare an adequate meal, and there be no one available to prepare meals for them. Meals are prepared by the Muleshoe Nursing Home at a cost of $2.75 per meal. The corporation furnishes the trays and other supplies, and the meals are delivered by volunteers. Approximately twenty-five individuals are currently being served by approximately twenty volunteers. All recipients must be approved by the Board of Directors.

There is no charge for the meals, but recipients are encouraged to make contributions if they are able to do so, and contributions from the public are welcome and needed. This program enjoys good community support. The program is partially funded through SPAG, and Bailey County is the contracting agency. The SPAG money comes to Bailey County and is transferred to Muleshoe Meals on Wheels, Inc. Most of the records are kept in the Aging Office and the reports are prepared there. The program is carefully supervised and is monitored on a continuing basis. Volunteers to deliver meals are always needed, so if any one wants to perform a worthwhile service, this is a good way to do so.

Bailey County Indigent Health

Care

As of September 1, 1986 the law mandated that the County provide certain health care to its indigent people under very strict rules for qualification. And that program also has been administered through the Aging Office. And that program also has been administered through the Aging Office. But since the creation of the Muleshoe Area Hospital District the number of potential recipients has been greatly reduced because the Hospital District became the provider for those people residing in the District area. The District covers approximately 80 percent of Bailey County, and only those people residing outside the District are now served by the County.

The law provides that the County budget 10 percent of its general tax levy for that portion of the County situated outside of serve on the program, and a volunteer must meet certain established income guidelines.

People are served by the program without regard to their income. The criteria for the program is they must be over the age of 21; and must be disabled or homebound. There is absolutely NO CHARGE to the client, added Ms. McMasters.

She said only six locations in Texas are served by the program at this time. Levelland is the central area. The project is also in El Paso, San Angelo, Houston, Alamo and Corpus Christi. It is not connected with the Senior Citizen program in any manner.

"It's just a little program that does a lot," added Ms. McMasters.

At this time, there's approximately 70 volunteers in the eight-county area. They work on a limited budget, but take all names and applications.

Ms. McMasters also said, "If we can't help them, we try to follow through and help them find the right place that can help."

The volunteers, who range in age from 60-82 work Monday through Friday with flexible hours.

Referrals to the program may come from anyone, anywhere.

You may call 894-6089, or see the Community Action office at Tradewinds Plaza, checking with Janie Mejia or Debbie Longoria.

the District for indigent care. Recipients qualify on the basis of resources and income. If there is assistance available elsewhere, such as medicare, medicaid or health insurance, they do not qualify. Thus the County is the provider of last resort. At the present time there is only one person being served by Bailey County.

Veterans Service Office

This position was established in 1945 at the close of WWII. At that time there were many men under arms, and as they returned from service it was felt that somebody should be available to assist them with available benefits and other services that were add some points, Zamora intercepted the Leopards, but they came right back and on the second play, the Leopards regained the ball on a Longhorn interception.

At halftime, the Longhorns were leading in the game, 34-0.

Taking the opening kickoff in the second half, the Longhorns ran into trouble early with first a penalty, then fumbling the ball away on the fourth play after taking the kickoff return.

However, it didn't do the Leopards much good to recover the fumble, as they were intercepted by Eddie Zamora, Lazbuddie Longhorn, after three plays were completed.

On a 50 yarder from Michael Williams to Eddie Zamora, on the third play after the interception, the Longhorns added another TD, with 6:06 left to play in the third.

With New Home still suffering from 'fumbleitis' the Longhorns quickly snapped up another Leopard fumble on the snap and then were intercepted following three plays.

New Home made a couple of first downs and got near the goal line before Leland Brockman intercepted a New Home pass, and the 'Horns took over one more time.

Although the Longhorns made a couple of first downs, they had some incomplete passes forcing them to turn the ball back over to the New Home Leopards.

At 7:53 of the fourth, the Leopards made their only TD of the game, from four yards out. Their attempt at extra points failed, and the score was 42-6.

It was see-saw action back and forth for both teams until late in the fourth.

New Home continued an effort needed.

A number of people have served in that capacity during the years, but the Aging office is the servicing agent at this time. It is available to help veterans of all ages, regardless of race, creed, color or other circumstances, in anyway that help can be rendered. They also assist with land purchases through the Veteran's Land Board, and with applications for guaranteed home loans. They help process applications for disability benefits, pensions, hospitalizations, medical treatment, filling out forms, correspondence, obtaining information -- whatever veterans might need. The services are rendered free of charge, and veterans and their families are invited to inquire for services.

Funding for all these programs is based on units of service and it is estimated that in this fiscal year approximately 8300 units of service will be rendered to senior citizens, and 600 to persons not classified as senior citizens.

Food Plots Are Used To Attract Pheasants

By: Rodney Duus, S.C.

Landowners who are interested in having pheasants on their place, should evaluate their land to see if it provides a suitable habitat. A suitable habitat for pheasants includes enough food, Muleshoe...

Independent School District will meet in regular session in the school administration building.

After formal opening of the session, and the open forum, the board will go into executive session to visit with an attorney regarding a law suit, and personnel considerations.

Under business items, will be to hear and approve the school audit report; discuss graduation exercise requirements; adopt a resolution on the Freeman Amendment to tax certain property that is otherwise exempt; employ auditors for the 1989-90 school fiscal audit and consider Update 35 to the local policy manual.

Informational reports will be given by the board president; superintendent; assistant superintendent of business; and superintendent of instruction.

For the past week, Teacher of the Week at Watson Junior High School was Diana Harrison, sixth grade reading teacher.

Junior High Principal awards went to Clay Myers, sixth grade; Carlos Torres, seventh grade; and Marvin Lewis, eighth grade.

Three students from Muleshoe are among 265 candidates who will complete graduation requirements from Eastern New Mexico University this fall. They will be eligible to participate in commencement exercises on May 11, 1990.

They include: Lupe Rosales, bachelor of business administration in management and minor in business administration; Tracy Evelyn Pyle, bachelor of science education in elementary education, cum laude; Jennifer Jean Myers Givens, bachelor of science education in elementary education, summa cum laude.

The Texas Citrus and Vegetable Association's second Annual Produce Hall of Fame Awards Dinner was held November 13, in McAllen, honored twelve individuals for their outstanding contribution to the Texas produce industry.

The late Fred Spencer Barrett of Muleshoe was one of the twelve individuals inducted into the Produce Hall of Fame. In 1940 Barrett moved to Hereford and started the Barrett Produce Company, a produce company specializing in the growing and shipping of potatoes.

In 1952 the Barrett family expanded the High Plains growing area south into the Muleshoe area and a year later continued on further south into Seminole. Today the family farms in the Muleshoe, Amherst, Seminole and Clovis, N.M. AREAS.

After Barrett's death in 1964, his family continued actively in the business as they began their 50th year in Texas.

cover and water in adequate amounts to maintain the pheasants throughout each month of the year.

Pheasants are inhabitants of cultivated areas. Pheasants primary diet consists of cultivated cereal crops such as corn, grain sorghum and small grains. Pheasants have shown a preference for irrigated cropland in contrast to dry cropland.

On the Southern High Plains, food and cover shortages can occur at various times of the year. The most limiting times for food and cover, occur during the months of January, February, March and April

The producer can help eliminate shortages by establishing food plots. A food plot can be two to four rows of grain left unharvested beside a turnrow, a property line or a playa.

Several small food plots, as a general rule, are better than one large plot. Food plots should be located as near as possible to protective cover. Playas, abandoned farmsteads, tailwater pits or any other areas that are not farmed or disturbed should be considered a major part of the pheasants range for cover.

Minimum tillage considerably benefits pheasants since it tends to increase the year round food and cover potential by leaving continuous vegetative cover on the land. Producers who burn off or deep plow their fields in the fall and early winter, destroy potential food and shelter sources. If left alone, these same areas would provide a valuable food source, as well as shelter from winter storms for the pheasant.

If adequate food and cover are available throughout the year, a pheasant will spend most of its time on a square mile or less. Food, cover and water must be present for pheasants to survive. Remove any one of these items and the pheasant population decreases.

Although water is needed, the pheasant can exist in places where there is no standing water. Irrigation provides this basic habitat requirement of the pheasant, on the Southern High Plains. If it were not for the practice of irrigation, the pheasant population would probably be nonexistent.

The pheasant is an extremely hardy bird, that can survive if given a chance. However, it cannot survive without the essential habitat ingredients of food, cover and water.

If you have any questions about food plots, you can call the Soil Conservation Service office at 272-5124, or come by 105 East Avenue D, in Muleshoe.

Kiwanis News

By R. A. Bradley

Only four Kiwanians were thankful enough to show up at the Old Corral Friday morning for a round table meeting. It was decided that the four who made it out were the cream of the crop and all of the rest of you who did not show were just skimmed milk. We will not say who was present but each one knows if they are skim milk or the cream of the crop.

This is the Thanksgiving Season and have we really sat back and looked at ourselves and counted our many blessings and really been thankful. We to often set back and complain that we do not have a new or bigger home, a new car, or clothes like someone else, we did not make a bumper crop, our business is not doing to good. Maybe all of these things are true but to just have a home, no matter how humble, we have a car, we have clothes that look pretty good, we can keep warm we make some kind of crop, not as good as we would like but we harvested a crop, our business is still open and going and we should stop, look at the overall picture and thank God for all of his blessings.

Even with all of its many, many faults, we still live in the Greatest Country in this world. We don't seem to have people wanting to leave our country but there are people who everyday risk everything, even their lives to come to our country. Even with all of the wars, unrest in the world, maybe things are getting better. Maybe the Berlin Wall is coming down, maybe other parts of this Old World will have some of the freedom that you and I take for granted so much.

Other parts of the world are demanding a chance at freedom. You and I have had this freedom so long that we really don't know what we have. This freedom was not free, it was bought and paid for by many lives. So let us work to see that we keep this freedom for ourselves, our kids, our grandkids, etc.

Be honest with yourself and set down and write on paper your plus's and minus'. We are so richly blessed. If you don't feel to good, go to a hospital and see all the people who are really sick. If our shoes don't feel good, or don't look as good as we like, look around and see someone with no feet to put shoes on. See-we inspite of our selves are most richly blessed. This is the season to be thankful.

Christmas is fast approaching where we can give to our loved ones and to those less blessed than ourselves, and New Year's is just around the corner. People in West Texas are some of the best in the World. It makes you proud to just be a part of them. I am very proud to be from Muleshoe and a part of it. Proud to have raised my family here. Proud to be a Kiwanian, Proud of our young people here, proud of the inbetween and proud of the elderly.

The Kiwanis Club would like to say Thank You to all who have supported us in one way or another, with out you, we could do nothing for this community and would really not be a club. So Thank You and may God continue to bless each and everyone of you. The Kiwanis Club.

WATCH OUT, SPARKY! WATCH OUT!

LEARN WHAT CHRISTMAS SAFETY'S ABOUT!

A CHRISTMAS SAFETY CHECK

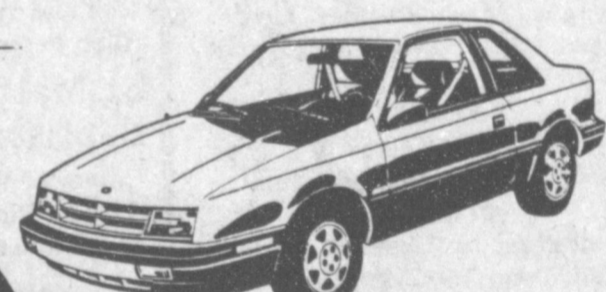

- Before hanging strings of lights, spread them on the floor and check for frayed or bare wires, cracked insulation, loose connections, and damaged plugs or light sockets.
- Check extension cords for wear or damage and don't run them across walking areas.
- Test lights before putting them on the tree. Unplug them before making repairs or replacing bulbs.
- Overloading circuits with too many lights can cause fire. Follow manufacturer's instructions about the number of lights allowed on one circuit.
- Never string lights on a metallic tree.
- Choose a fresh, green tree, trim its base and keep it in plenty of water. If the needles are brown and break off easily, it could be a fire risk.
- If you buy an artificial tree, make sure it has been tested for flammability by Underwriters Laboratories (UL).
- Always turn off lights before leaving home or going to bed. You'll save money and be safer, too.
- Do not use inside lights on the outside. All outside lighting equipment, including lights, cords and plugs, should be waterproof and made for outdoor use. Also, hang sockets downward and don't leave a socket empty.
- When hanging lights on the rooftop or in tall trees outdoors, stay clear of electrical lines.

Experience — We consider it money in the bank.

A face lined by dry, hot summer days, harsh winter, and seven-day work weeks. But there is sparkle, too, remembering warm spring sun or gentle rains and acres of cotton.

Back when he started farming, a man's labor represented the majority of his investment in the farm. Over the years, when he's had to invest in land and equipment, he's turned to his Land Bank Association for competitive, long-term financing. At the Land Bank we not only place value on a man's farm, but his experience, too.

So, if you need help growing, talk to a neighbor you can bank on —

A PLACE TO PRAY

Man can, and should, pray anywhere. God has placed no limitations on his communing with him.

Our Lord has said, "... Ask and ye shall receive." God listens when we seek him, no matter where, however he desires that we gather together in prayer too "... mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all people."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
