

The ultimate in tough luck is the experience of one of the colored boys in the Field Artillery School. In figuring his points it was discovered that he could barely squeeze out the minimum of 85 by giving a full month's credit for his last 15 days of service. (The regulation for that — 15 days or more on the last month is worth a point and anything less is dropped.) The boy was elated, counting the days until he would get back to civilian life.

But then came the final check of his service record and the discovery that he had been over the hill for two days more than a year ago. The two days of bad time had to be deducted, leaving only 13 days of the last month of service. Just enough to deprive him of the 85th point. He's paying for those two days with no telling how many additional months of service.

It is gratifying to hear that the allies will expect the Germans to run their own country, the only catch being that the army of occupation will stick around to see that they do not get unruly. That's as it should be. Let the Heines worry about bringing order out of the chaos they brought upon themselves. We certainly don't want the responsibility of cleaning up their mess. Give our men a chance to come back home, all except those who have to be ready with a big stick in case the Germans start getting out of hand. And perhaps a few more to hunt down war criminals.

Actually we have enough to do just keeping an army of occupation in Germany. It's going to be a long, tiresome job before we can feel safe in moving the boys back home. That point was especially emphasized by the commanding general of the Artillery School after his inspection tour in April. Conditions still existing in the Reich can become another world menace unless the allies keep a close watch for at least the next generation.

For one thing the rank and file of Germans have a sullen attitude. Instead of accepting their defeat as a just payment for their evil ambitions they are more inclined to be resentful at losing what propagandists preached was rightfully theirs by virtue of their membership in the master race.

Besides, Germany is still potentially the most powerful nation in Western Europe. Results of the Nazi system of starvation and mass murder are very apparent. Whereas the decline of population and health standard in other countries is appalling, Germany has an abundance of healthy youngsters. Twenty years from now it could raise an army capable of finishing the devilish work Hitler started.

To prevent that two things will have to be done. Eliminate so far as possible the desire to fight and prevent the manufacture of war implements.

So, even though the allies will expect Germany to run her own affairs, they have a long job of coaching to do. Through subtle publicity they will have to appeal to older people. Through a change in the educational system they will have to endow children with a completely new set of principles — that the state exists to serve them and not vice versa; that God, not Hitler, is the only Being entitled to their worship; that might does not make right; that goose stepping is not the proper recreation for kids; that the golden rule is still the best formula for happiness. It will be one of the duties of the allies to see that teachers of such principles are guiding the children through their impressionable years. Fortunately such teachers are still to be found in Germany. No doubt they are already emerging from obscurity.

The will to preserve peace is the important thing. If we were certain it could be accomplished no other precaution would be necessary. However, until we have the assurance that Germany has overcome her belligerent spirit, it is wise to be certain that she cannot fight. And that can be achieved best by a ban, at least for a while, on any industry capable of making war tools. After a number of years, when the signs are favorable, perhaps a few heavy industries could be permitted on the condition that they are subject to constant inspection by representatives of other countries. Caught in the very beginning of their preparation for war they could be stopped before they have a chance to do any real damage.

There's no doubt that if the allies so desire they will be able to preserve peace in Germany. This is so true that we can very properly stop worrying about it and start wondering whether the allies themselves are interested in a lasting peace. Some recent incidents are a bit disturbing.

OUR BOYS WITH THE COLORS

POSTHUMOUS AWARD OF PURPLE HEART

Posthumous award of the Purple Heart has been made to Sgt. Lawrence Felderhoff, a casualty on Luzon last February 9th. The award was received by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Felderhoff this week.

Accompanying the decoration was a letter from Lawrence's commanding officer, giving brief details about his death and burial.

First Furlough

Pvt. Frank Kathman, Jr., arrived last Wednesday on a 14-day furlough, his first since he is in the army, to visit his wife and children and his parents. Previously stationed at Traux Field, Madison, Wis., he will report to Sheppard Field on completion of his stay here. He has been in the army air corps since April 11, 1944 and is connected with radio.

Norman Luke Advanced

The promotion of Lieut. (j.g.) Norman Luke to Lieutenant has been announced. He is a naval aviator serving aboard a Coronado somewhere in the South Pacific area. A recent letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Luke, advised that he was well and "doing alright."

Receives Promotion

Seabee Tony Yosten was recently promoted from Motor Machinists Mate, third class, to second class, he wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Yosten. He serves on the Admiralty Islands.

Released On Points

Earl Lehnertz is back in Muenster as a civilian this week having received a discharge from the army after his record of service chalked up more than a hundred points. He is a veteran of 4 1/2 years of duty most of which was spent in the Pacific theatre.

Is In France

Sgt. Paul Tempel is in France since going overseas recently, he has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tempel. The letter was dated VE Day.

At Reception Center

Herman Fette, Starling Lawson, and James Eckert who left for the army last Tuesday were still at the reception center at Fort Sam Houston this week awaiting assignment. Albert Herr, reported as having left also with the group, has not yet been called and is at home here.

Is With Engineers

Pfc. Emil Rohmer has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rohmer, that he is still in the Philippines, but is now assigned to the engineers and is doing mechanical work, which, he adds certainly beats the infantry and front line activity. He served with the infantry until recently when he was ill with fever and since recovering has been transferred to the engineers.

Aubrey Jennings

Veteran Of Third Army Is Home

Pfc. Aubrey Jennings, who served with the 95th Infantry division of the Third Army under Gen. George S. Patton in the European theatre, arrived in Muenster Monday. He has a 30 day furlough to spend with his wife, the former Miss Rita Felderhoff, and their son, Johnny. On completion of his furlough he will report to William Beaumont General Hospital at El Paso, and will eventually be discharged, having more than 130 points to his credit.

He wears the Purple Heart, for wounds received in France; the Silver Star, for gallantry in action; the ETO ribbon with two stars denoting major engagements in France and Germany; the Combat Infantryman badge, the pre-Pearl Harbor ribbon and the Good Conduct medal. He was overseas 10 months.

He participated in the many battles the 95th fought, and was at one time reported missing in action. This report was erroneous, however, as he was never away from his company, he said. The particular day he was reported missing was an exceptionally tough one for his company; he said, and there were many casualties.

While on furlough Pfc. and Mrs. Jennings and son plan to visit his sister in Avondale, Colo., and may go to see his father at Portland, Oregon.

Rev. Frowin Koerdt, O.S.B., 66, Muenster pastor from 1918 to 1942 died Sunday morning at New Subiaco Abbey, Subiaco, Ark., following a three-year illness. Funeral services and burial were held at Subiaco Wednesday.

Pvt Joe Luttmmer Is Home After Seeing Action In Pacific

Pvt. Joe Luttmmer, who served with an anti-aircraft battalion in the Pacific theatre of operations since April 1943 is home Sunday, on a 30-day furlough to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Luttmmer and family.

Joe saw action at Guadalcanal, the New Hebrides Islands, New Caledonia, Treasury Island, Bougainville and New Guinea. He wears the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with two stars denoting two major engagements, the American Defense ribbon and the Good Conduct medal. He looks well, says he feels fine and is ready glad to get back home to "Mom's cooking."

Joe reached the states on May 1 and was at San Pedro and Modesto, Calif., before arriving here. On completion of his furlough he will report to Modesto for a check up in a hospital.

She concluded good naturedly that a reporter must have gotten names mixed up. The Enterprise is sorry and gladly makes this correction.

Nine Pupils Graduate At Parochial Hi

Impressive commencement exercises held at Sacred Heart church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock honored nine graduates of Sacred Heart High School.

Pastor Father Thomas delivered the baccalaureate address using as his text, "He who is wise listens to counsels" from Proverbs 12-13. He reminded the graduates that a high school education is a privilege and a necessity, then admonished them to remember their christian training, behaving in their parents, to themselves and to their country. He cautioned against pitfalls which life has in store and told them "act natural, and be yourselves."

The services began with the entry of the graduates accompanied by their tiny pages in the church and the occupation of places of honor in the front pews. May devotions were held after which the address was given and Sacramental Benediction followed. The class repeated their baptismal vows, and the final ceremony was the presentation of diplomas.

The graduates are: Robert Bayer, Arnold Knabe, Reuben Sturm Billy Joe Miller and Henry Yosten and Misses Emily Fette, Dolores Lehnertz, Helen Ruth Otto and Mildred Weisman.

Their pages, in the order named, were Danny Bayer, Jerry Reiter, Dennis Hofbauer, Claude Lehnertz, Jerry Henschel, Phyllis Schmitt, Gretchen Hellman, Virginia Otto and Joyce Wiesman.

The graduates wore caps and gowns and the little girl pages wore floor length white frocks. Both groups of pages carried arm bouquets of flowers.

MEN PAST 30 YEARS WILL BE DEFERRED BY DRAFT BOARDS

Selective service announced Tuesday a policy of definite deferments for men who have reached their 30th birthday and who are engaged in "useful" work.

At the same time it predicted a heavier call for younger men to military service.

Draft Director Hershby said that as a result of the war's end in Europe occupational deferment policy must be liberalized for registrants 30 through 37.

This course, effective immediately means that these older men will not be drafted so long as they stay in work considered useful by local boards. It means, too, that deferments will not require renewal at the end of six months periods as heretofore.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Yosten announce the birth of a daughter, Bernadette Elizabeth, at the local clinic on May 17th. The baby weighed 8 1/4 pounds and was baptized the same day by Father Thomas, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grewing as sponsors.

ARMY ANNOUNCES DISCHARGE AGE AT FORTY YEARS

The army Monday fixed at 40 years the age at which enlisted men may apply for discharges. Only last month the army had lowered the discharge age to 42 years. An estimated 30,000 enlisted men in the army are in the 40 and 41 year age groups. At the same time the war department announced that WACS 40 years of age or over who have active duty will be eligible for discharge. It is estimated that 8,000 will be eligible under this provision. The war department said that "when the military situation permits" a further reduction in the age limit will be made. Horse Show--
 Frances Crownover and Delores Lee, respectively.
 R.D. Morris of Bulcher displayed the grand champion of the show, his Palomino, "Yellow Tazan", and Miss Alvah Faye Garvin of Gainesville showed the reserve champ, "Flaxie" a walking horse.
 There were cash awards in addition to the ribbons of blue, red white and yellow, designating winners.
 Serving as judges were T. P. Skinner and Pete Workman of Nocomona and George Tyler of Gainesville. All horses were shown at three gaits: walk, trot and canter.
 The added attractions and trick performances between class judging were well received, particularly the performances by Weaver and Juanita Gray who have performed at Madison Square Garden on their tours. Other interesting bits of horse training and patience were exhibited by Martin Bayer, Muenster; J.C. Howell, Saint Jo; Leslie Caddell, Krum, Mrs. Pete Workman and the Coombs children, Judy 6 and Jody 4, of Nocomona.
 Comedy was provided by Ted Lucas of Gainesville who had his trained donkey doing a number of clever and "dumb" stunts.

The affair was held in the city ball park and there was no admission, however, during the show the hat was passed and donations amounted to $158.00. This money has been placed in a fund which is the beginning of a treasury for putting on next year's horse show.
 Members of the Civic League and Garden Club took up the collection and a part of it was presented to that group for use in civic work, a portion of it to go into work done recently in rebuilding and painting the grandstand.

EXTRA AT RELAX DEALS WITH POST-WAR AVIATION
 "World Without-Borders", a two reel short subject showing at the Relax Theatre Sunday and Monday as an added attraction, deals with aviation in the post-war world, a subject very much in the public mind today.
 This two-reel exploration special is drawing high praise everywhere.

Catholic Daughters of America will have their regular monthly social on Thursday, May 31, with Mrs. Joe Kathman as hostess in her home in the afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

LINDSAY WOLVES BEAT GAINESVILLE NINE

The Lindsay Wolves snatched a hard won victory from the Gainesville Independents Sunday afternoon, by a score of 16-15.

This was the first game of the year for the victorious Wolves, who have kept their winning string intact for the last three years. It was the third game of the season for the losers, and their first defeat since they lost to the Wolves two years ago.

The Wolves lagged behind in scoring all through the game until the eighth inning when they got in six runs to lead by one. The Independents took the lead in the first by getting two runs and held it with one in the second, 8 in the fourth, 2 in the sixth and 2 more in the eighth. The Wolves got one in the first, 2 in the second and 4 in the fourth, 3 in the sixth and 6 in the eighth.

Both teams played good ball, but the Wolves are reported having had a mild case of jitters due to the early season. Another game is scheduled for next Sunday.

SGT. FRANK BENENATE MARRIED ON MAY 12

Miss Elsie Louise Bezner, daughter of Mrs. Joe Bezner of Lindsay and Sgt. Frank Benenate of Camp Howze and Detroit, Mich., were married on Saturday, May 12, at 10:30 a.m. at the Nativity of Our Lord church in Detroit. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Francis P. Koib, who also officiated at the nuptial mass.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Jasper Catalana of Detroit, wore a gown of white satin, fashioned with sweetheart neckline, leg-of-mutton sleeves, fitted bodice buttoned down the back with self-covered buttons, and a full skirt that fell into a long train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was attached to a beaded tiara and she carried a colonial bouquet of bridal weath, sweet peas and gardenias. For "something borrowed" she carried a white prayer book belonging to her sister, Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer, and her only ornament was "something old" a necklace belonging to her mother.

Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer of Lindsay attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a frock of pale yellow tulle and net, and a tiny hat of matching ribbon and net. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of yellow anemone and tulips.

Miss Frances Benenate, sister of the groom, and Miss Arneline Riolo, cousin of the groom, both of Detroit, were bridesmaids. They wore identical frocks of blue and pink marquisette, respectively, and matching beanies of net. Their flowers were colonial bouquets of roses and snapdragons.

Leo Benenate, brother of the groom, was best man, and ushers were Kenneth Mazotte and Martin Raab, all of Detroit.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Benenate, parents of the bride groom, and a 5 o'clock dinner was held for which there were some 100 guests. The bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and soldier groom. An informal reception was held and at midnight the bride and groom cut the wedding cake and served it to the guests.

Rev. Frowin---

present high school building.

One ambition, perhaps the most fervid of his 24 years here, was to direct the construction of a magnificent edifice to replace the present church. He raised several thousands of dollars for the fund but his health broke and he did not live to see the realization of this dream by construction and dedication of a new church.

He labored constantly for the welfare of the parish and each year issued an itemized statement of parish finances. These interesting booklets date from 1918 to 1941 and on many occasions have brought forth praise and comment from high ranking church officials and laymen throughout the United States.

Father Frowin was an extensive traveler. He was known throughout the length and breadth of the nation, and also widely abroad. In 1930 he made a world tour visiting every continent with the exception of Australia.

In May 1942 his health began to fail and he was struck by an eye hemorrhage that greatly impaired his sight and eventually rendered him completely blind. In June of 1942 he went to the monastery and the following September was received here as pastor by Rev. Thomas Buerger. His last public appearance here was during the District meeting of the Catholic State League that convened here in June 1943. For 25 years he had been organizer of the North Texas District.

His health and his eyesight failed rapidly during the following months and during the past year he was almost constantly confined to the abbey. Since shortly before Christmas he was bedfast, Muenster and this parish remained his chief interest during his illness and it was ever a delight to him and a comfort to be remembered by local citizens with letters and greeting cards.

In his honor this congregation subscribed toward the Father Frowin Memorial Scholarship which was completed last week and sent to the abbey. Some worthy young man will, through this scholarship, study for the priesthood.

Surviving Father Frowin are several nieces, nephews and cousins, including a cousin, Dr. Joseph Hesse of Wichita Falls.

Gerald Stelzer has joined the personnel at Al Walterscheid's Machine Shop.

Confetti---

From accounts coming out of Germany it is not surprising that they had confidence in their ability to conquer the world, and later in their ability to hold out against the might of the allies. Some of the things they have accomplished are stupendous. Their highway system is said to surpass anything in this country. Their underground factories are marvels of engineering. Their scientific achievements with ersatz materials are equally marvelous. Their soil, carefully tended for generations, is not only fertile but totally free of erosion. Homes are substantially built of stone or brick — there are no frame houses — and every one has electricity.

In spite of the tremendous damage sustained Germany is still a well developed country. It has enough left to be self sustaining besides repaying much of the damage inflicted on other countries.

A short item tucked away in the corner of a newspaper foreshadows more trouble for Japan. News-men were permitted a preview of the army's B-32 Dominator bomber, six weeks after a similar showing of the B-29 Nippon was feeling the impact of its blows.

For security reasons no disclosure of specifications or special features is permitted until the plane is in combat, but it is significant that reporters were given a peek and told to get ready for a story. No doubt, it's quite a plane. 'Cause there'd be no point in adopting it if it were not an improvement on the magnificent bombers already in service.

Could it be possible the Nips already know about it? According to rumors they're putting out peacefeeler, which, they should know, is a waste of time. After going this far the allies are deaf to anything less than unconditional surrender. Unless Japan wants the kind of pasting Germany got, it had better quit paddling around with compromise offers and hoist the white flag.
