D. August Boto resigns as Cooke County Attorney

by Janet Felderhoff
Cooke County Attorney D. August Boto resigned from office this week. His resignation becomes effective Sept. 1. Boto has accepted the position of chief counsel in charge of operations for the Texas District and County Attorneys Association in Austin. He has been on their board of directors for about a year now.

Boto said he has enjoyed his job as county attorney. "I fell in love with criminal justice," he remarked. "My new job is about criminal justice. I will be working with many of the same people I learned from."

In his new position Mr. Boto will oversee membership activities and seminars; help set policies that allow prosecutors to do the things they do; oversee some of the association's publications; and assist with updating books, etc. used by those who enforce the law.

Boto marks the gain in DWI possessions and alcohol related offenses has one of the major accomplishments while he served as Cooke County attorney. "During my tenure we've become more aggressive about making this sort of case. We've joined the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission in prosecuting minors in possession cases and DWI and illegal sales of alcohol. The Ranch (in Muenster) is finally gone."

The Candid Criminal Program in which video cameras were installed in police cars in the county is one of Boto's projects.

He is also the only county attorney who published hot check offenders in the county. Boto held seminars to help county merchants learn to protect themselves against hot check writers.

Boto has now twice certified a juvenile as adult offender. He was the first attorney in the county to have a juvenile certified as an adult so that he was tried as an adult for the crime committed.

Another accomplishment that Boto is happy about is the $100,000 per year that is paid in victim restitution.

Commissioners Court, at Boto's request, recently approved a raise in salary for the county attorney. The 1995 salary of $29,700 will be about $42,500 in 1996. This will make the county attorney position the highest paid county office. He noted that the salary increase is the largest that he knows of for any county office, both dollar amount and percentage wise.

The increase will attract more competition for the office, Boto expects. He was unopposed in the last election. "It will give voters a choice and allow the cream to rise to the top," he said.

Boto said that even though he won't benefit from the salary increase, he views it as an indication of the Commissioners Court's approval of the job being done by his office.

A replacement for Boto will be appointed by the Commissioners Court. Tanya Davis of Lake Kiowa who is Boto's assistant was recommended for the position by Boto. She has been his assistant for five years. Before that she was a felony prosecutor with the Grayson County attorney's office.

The appointed county attorney will have to file in December to run in the party primaries and the November General Elections if he or she wishes to continue to hold the office, said Boto.

The Boto family will retain their ranch near Prairie Point and expect that they will return some day. "We consider Cooke County home," Boto said.

ACCHA donates $1,000

by Janet Felderhoff
It is said that giving inspires giving and this proved to be true Saturday, August 12. Providing the inspiration were Frank and Bobbie Cromeens of Muenster.

The American Central Cutting Horse Association (ACCHA) donated $1,000 to Muenster Memorial Hospital (MMH) on behalf of the couple. The special presentation was made at 11 a.m. Saturday during ACCHA's final competition held at the Cromeens' CCC Ranch west of Muenster.

Benefiting is the hospital's fund for building and furnishing an obstetrics and nursery department. Deliveries of babies at MMH was discontinued in January of 1989. MMH and the local community have been working for the last several years to raise enough money to build an OB/Nursery wing.

Larry Sullivant, vice-president of the American Central CHA, presented the check during the affiliate's last cutting of the 1995 season. Accepting the gift were Don Flusche, president of MMH's board of directors, and Chas Bayer, board secretary.

The donation was of the Eagle status. Donation of $1,000 or more are classified as Eagles; $5,000 and up are Silver Eagles; and $10,000 and up are Golden Eagles. Construction was started on the OB/Nursery wing on Friday, July 30. It is expected to be completed sometime this fall.

Members of the cutting horse affiliate made the gift in appreciation of Frank and Bobbie's generosity to the American Central CHA. "Bobbie and Frank have assisted with several fund raisers for the Muenster Hospital, and since they graciously donated the use of their arena to our affiliate and blessed us, so the blessing continues and is passed on to bless the hospital," remarked Gayle Dittmeier, secretary of American Central CHA.

Spectators were invited to attend the competition and presentation. For many area people this was a first opportunity to watch the expertise of horse and rider as they worked in a cutting competition. The event was well attended.

Grand opening held for the new Brookes-Reynolds Haus

by Janet Felderhoff
Remodeling has transformed the building at 223 North Main. Once drab, it now seems to beckon to visitors with its lace curtained windows and colorful exterior paint.

Rick and Sydney Reynolds rented and renovated the building formerly occupied by Floyd's Bar. Last Friday and Saturday they hosted the grand opening of Brookes-Reynolds Haus.

some hand-made, some are antiques, and some are one of a kind. Items range from $10 up.

"One of the things that we have always done is custom-design pieces for people," remarked Sydney. "If they want a particular type of fabric on a particular type of sofa or a particular type of finish, we always can get that for them."

Sydney and Rick owned a design and construction business for many challenge and it can even be more interesting sometimes.

"Everything is balance and color and putting it all together in perspective. Once you get the balance and the color in the room you can do it sometimes very inexpensively. Mostly, keep in mind that you do want to work with the color first and the balance second to bring it together."

Sometimes people bring out small pieces that they've had a long time, and we color coordinate it by painting pieces. She likes to bring out items that people have had stored away for a long time such as wedding gifts or other special places that aren't used. Sydney places the items on coffee tables or on shelves and adds books to them. "We're really giving that person their own personality," said Sydney.

The building which now houses Brookes-Reynolds Haus was built by brothers Frank and Nick Endres. They arrived in Muenster in 1895. It is not certain when the building was put up. Frank Endres was the grandfather of Muenster residents Urban and Paul Endres.

Some of the businesses that were located at that address over the years are Meinrad Endres Grocery and Dry Goods, Wiese Jewelry, Fischer's Market, the Muenster Post Office, and most recently Floyd's Bar.

During their remodeling Rick and Sydney tried to restore as many things as they possibly could and didn't remove anything. They uncovered the brick walls taking all of the plaster off of them and exposing the brick. "We feel it (the brick wall) really compliments what we have in here," said Sydney. "We could not have built anything that we love as much as that brick wall. It's so warm and it has an ambience or friendliness about that you just couldn't find with anything else."

The windows were kept original, but the glass was replaced. Boards were covering the upper windows and these were removed. The building gained emphasis when the upper windows were exposed. Original wood siding has been uncovered and painted. Old nail holes are still visible, said Sydney.

"The deep colors, I think, really enhanced this room," Sydney commented. "It made it have a really warm, sort of an old feel to it." Teal green and Sunset Canyon (coral-rose) are the colors Sydney chose to use on the walls. It sets a background for flowers and mirrors and pictures that bring out the beauty of the pieces, Sydney said.

Rick and Sydney invite people to stop by and visit. Besides the wide variety of accessories for decorating a home Sydney has wall paper, carpet and other products available to help those who are building or remodeling their homes or those who just want a different look.

"Many people stop and visit," said Sydney. "A lot of them just want to find out more about our city and what it is like. I feel it's so nice for them to come in. I have things Over 300 people registered during the grand opening weekend. Visitors included area residents and tourists passing through town from as far away as California and Arkansas. The Arkansas visitors purchased a sofa and chair that will be shipped home to them.

"One of the things that we have always done is never to sell anything or have anything in our shop that we wouldn't love to take home with us, regardless of the price," emphasized Sydney. "We might have a very inexpensive table next to a very expensive piece. As long as they're both good quality -- the design is good and the construction is good -- they will all blend."

Merchandise featured in Brookes-Reynolds Haus includes area rugs, mirrors, lamps, pictures, floral arrangements, small gifts, and furniture. Some items are new, years in Dallas before moving to the Muenster area. Sydney wrote an interior design column for The Dallas Morning News for about 20 years.

"We have a design type studio -- furniture and interesting accessories," Sydney explained. "We will work with your furnishings, updating them with new colors and accessories. That's one of the services that we have. If you're working with a certain budget we try to stay within that, too. It's always helpful to me to know the amount that we are working with because we have a lot of variety of different types of items that will fit in any budget."

Sydney will work with a customer's colors and their budget. Nothing is too large or too small, she said referring to budgets. "No home is too small," she noted. "It's fun to work in small areas. It's a

Letters to the Editor

Letter to Editor,

There is a plan to go forward with the taxpayers' lawsuit concerning the recent Cooke County Appraisal District's evaluations and Appraisal Review Board hearings.

Taxpayers who want to be included in the lawsuit will not pay any legal fees. All of your legal fees involved are being donated and, if necessary, fund raising projects will also be held. Everyone in our district who had property reviewed at the ARB hearings can be included in the lawsuit.

If you have not already brought a copy of your ARB hearing letters and file to the Miller Service Station to be included in the lawsuit, the deadline for bringing it is noon, Saturday, August 19, 1995.

The Texas constitution guarantees equal and uniform evaluations and taxation in our district.

This is our chance to stop unfair taxation. If we don't go for it now, what will happen to us next year?

Editor,

This letter is written to help clear up a misunderstanding due to our letter printed in last week's Muenster Enterprise. It will also help explain the extreme actions that we also took.

Everyone is under the impression that we have a personal vendetta against Harvey Lamkin. This is farthest from the truth. We never named anyone individually.

The letter was submitted as a result of the City Council's lack of understanding and apathy of our problem. The signs were placed in our yard as a wake-up call to the City Council and also to the citizens of Muenster.

Harvey has realized that his yard was part of the problem. He has apologized and is rapidly correcting the problem. Our town is full of junky eye-sores. Why not follow Harvey's example and be a good neighbor and citizen and clean up the town voluntarily.

Thank you,
Jim and Linda Vogel

Published in The Muenster Enterprise on VJ Day 1945

Local radios have been turned on constantly, awaiting President Harry J. Truman's official announcement of V-J Day and the surrender of Japan. At that moment, those magnificent bells of Sacred Heart Church, pride of the pioneers of this community, rang out joyously at 6:10 p.m. The city fire sirens sounded off. Rejoicing was followed by a pause of hushed silence and prayer. Both Sacred Heart Church and Muenster First Baptist Church opened their doors for prayers of thanksgiving. President Truman announced he had appointed General Douglas MacArthur to receive the Japanese surrender. Muenster people joined millions of Americans awaiting the eventual return of loved ones from war. To millions who made the supreme sacrifice, and who sleep beneath white crosses, it means their efforts have not been in vain. For the United States, the price of Victory in World War II was more than a million casualties, an expenditure of over $300 billion, since the sneak attack of Japan on Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941.

THIS PICTURE of the USS MISSOURI was made by Ed Cler while on a vacation tour up to the Dakotas and across to the Pacific Coast this summer with family members. Berthed in Bremerton, Washington, the USS MISSOURI claims national significance as the location for the signing of the Japanese surrender after World War II. This was the Cler's second visit to the area. On a tour of the ship several years ago, the Cler's saw a display of the actual papers of surrender.

S/Sgt. Ray Swirczynski has ringside seat Muenster soldier witnesses ceremony

Published in The Muenster Enterprise, Sept. 21, 1945

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swirczynski have an interesting letter from their son, S/Sgt. Ray Swirczynski written from Japan on Sept. 4. He writes:

Dear Folks,

We've taken a long time in getting up here but we finally made it. We have been in Japan for four days now and have been kept so busy I had no time to write sooner. Back in the old days during the siege of New Guinea, Leyte, Manila and Okinawa, the thought uppermost in my mind was whether I'd get to see Japan along with the surrender and the big show our forces put on. Well, my wish came true. It was like being at a ball game and me being right behind the batter.

Our fleet, Halsey's Third, looked magnificent and I was amazed at its magnitude as we flew over in our formation of air power. I bet when the Japs saw all the congregated power they shivered in their boots. We had enough power right there to blow Japan off the map. We were ready, just in case Jap suicide pilots wanted to mess things up on the USS Missouri.

At first the people walked around stunned with an incredible expression on their faces. They appeared as though they had lost everything in the world. Most of them went into the hills when they were told of the surrender. I noticed the last few days though that they are coming back to their homes, with their children on their backs, and looking as if they couldn't believe their eyes that the Yanks are different from what they've heard all their lives.

I went for a walk today and passed a little boy selling fruit. I gave him some gum and his face lit up like a full moon.

This country looks pretty good to me. In fact, every place you look there are vegetable gardens - just everything you can think of. It's nice and cool here, too - weather is similar to that of San Francisco.

I have certainly been over a lot of country in the past ten days, including many good places, but I am now ready to come home.

When I was on Okinawa I looked around for Texas and home town boys but saw none. That place really took a beating but now our Flag is flying high over the island.

I am still with General MacArthur's Headquarters. I was really fortunate to be with his outfit because I've been right in the middle of things since we left Australia. I've seen him often and once enjoyed a conversation with him. General MacArthur is the right guy for this job.

My mail has not caught up with me yet and I miss it. I have enough points to get out now but will have to wait for replacements to arrive. Give my regards to everyone.

Love to all,
Ray

Property clean-up noted

by Stephen D. Broyles,
Muenster City Administrator

A lot of people worked hard in the heat this past week, picking up discarded items and mowing, edging, and weed-eating yards. The results are evident and reflect the PRIDE residents and business owners have in being part of the Muenster community. A big THANK YOU is sent to everyone who pitched in to make this happen. However, there is still work to be done.

First though, the issue of whether Muenster has a major rodent problem needs to be addressed. Late last week, a Texas Department of Health representative inspected the areas alleged to be harboring rats. His findings conclude that a serious rodent problem does not exist in Muenster since rodent runs, droppings and bedding were not found. However, he noted that there is evidence of a minor rodent problem since a pear and an apple on the ground had teeth marks the size of a rodent. People are encouraged to pick up any fruit which may fall to the ground. Other actions to correct this problem are being taken.

Property clean-up remains an issue for many different locations throughout the city. Letters of notification are being sent to these people. They are being encouraged to clean-up their property and the date that follow-up visits will be made.

It is important to remember why the property clean-up is crucial for the city. The purpose is not to pick on a person or business. The purpose is to attract and encourage tourists to admire the City's cleanliness, and want to stop and shop. As a side benefit, we can all enjoy the benefits of a cleaner city!

82 Liquor expands building

by Janet Felderhoff
Remodeling has been completed at 82 Liquor, 211 E. Division in Muenster. Patrons will find that the enlarged building has a spacious new interior with wider aisles and attractive shelving that allows bolder facing of every product. The size of the selling floor has been tripled.

A larger walk-in cooler provides double the previous space for cold beer storage.

On the exterior 82 Liquor has been designed in the German style to blend into the community's German heritage. Dirt work on the expansion project started March 17, 1995, and work was recently completed. It is now handi-cap accessible.

Owners of 82 Liquor are Ray and Kaye Wimmer and Mark and Carol Klement. Ray and Kay purchased the business in 1982 from John Wimmer. Ray remodeled following the purchase.

Mark Klement became an employee of 82 Liquor in 1982. In March of 1995 he and Carol bought half of the business.

They now carry a larger selection of imported and domestic beer and according to Mark are adding more every week. There is now an increased line of liqueurs and cordials and an expanded wine selection. "We have a full-line of your favorite ready-made cocktails," Mark said. "If you want a special product or item, we have the space, and will carry it."

Building construction was done by Dale Bayer, Joel Bayer, Bert Walterscheid, Pat Walterscheid, and Tim Walterscheid.

Retail Sales Training will be taught by Joni Ritch.

The class will meet for six Tuesdays from 6:00 - 9:00 p.m. at the NCTC main campus in Gainesville.

NCTC president named to executive committee

Dr. Ronnie Glasscock, president of North Central Texas College, has been appointed to the Executive Committee of the Texas Association of Community Colleges (TACC).

TACC is more commonly known statewide as the Presidents' Association, and the chief administrative officers of the state's 66 public community college campuses comprise its membership. Headquartered in Austin, the association is heavily involved in legislative affairs relating to public higher education at the community college level.

Glasscock became a familiar face in Austin during the most recent legislative session, playing a key role in the drafting and subsequent passage of Senate Bill 397. Recently signed into law, the bill which statutorily designates the specific service areas served by the state's public community colleges.

"For many years, the law had made various references to community college service areas," Glasscock explained, "but, ironically, these service areas had never been specifically defined. We had always referred to Cooke, Denton and Montague counties as our 'traditional' three-county service area, but that really didn't make it so. Now, it is a matter of law."

He added that he believes the passage of this legislation is NCTC offers assistance to child care providers and students

"Child care providers come in contact with people day-to-day that need child care assistance and North Central Texas College wants to be able to help these students," said Tim Owens, North Central Texas College special population coordinator.

"NCTC has been awarded close to $60,000 in additional federal grant dollars to assist qualified vocational-technical students that will help offset child care expenses incurred by students who qualify," explained Regina Organ, NCTC's director of institutional advancement.

A recent workshop was held to inform interested child care providers of the funding available for their clients who would qualify for child care assistance.

Interested students must first qualify for a Pell Grant through the Financial Aid office. If the student meets all the qualifications for a Pell Grant they will be considered for the child care funds available by filling out the necessary forms.

Applications began being accepted July 1 for the Fall '95 semester. "The earlier interested persons apply the sooner they will be notified if they qualify for funding," added Owens.

For more information about the child care assistance program call Owens at 817-668-4216.

extremely significant to the future growth and well being of North Central Texas College - particularly in regard to NCTC's assuming the leadership role in the delivery of workforce education in the region.

In addition to his work on S.B. 397, Glasscock had also worked extensively in Austin on legislative appropriations for public community colleges. Also, the NCTC president recently concluded his work as chairman of the statewide Task Force on Adult Vocational Education for the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

MRS. DONNIE J. LUTKENHAUS
...nee Theresa K. Murray...

Vows solemnized in Sacred Heart Church

The wedding of Theresa K. Murray and Donnie J. Lutkenhaus was held in Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Muenster on Saturday, August 12, 1995. Father David Bellinghausen OSB officiated the Nuptial Mass and double ring wedding vows at 5 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Norman and Clella Murray of Gainesville. She is a 1987 graduate of Gainesville High School and is employed at First State Bank of Gainesville. She is also the granddaughter of A.G. and Alyce Sutton.

The groom is the son of Arthur (Bobby) and Angeline (Angie) Lutkenhaus of Muenster. He is a 1982 graduate of Muenster High School and is employed by Valente of Gainesville.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was wearing an elegant designer gown by Eden, of heavily beaded Chantilly lace over satin styled with lavish details throughout. Accents of scroll pearling enhanced the gown at the scalloped V-neckline, fitted bodice, and leg-o-mutton sleeves. The scalloped V-back fell gracefully to the Basque waist of soft gathers, releasing the full ballgown skirt embellished with pearls and sequins to a cathedral length train featuring a beaded scalloped hemline. A French pouf and five layers of ruffled illusion formed the fingertip veil held by a tiara of seed pearls, sequins, and crystal beads.

Fresh Calla Lilies, Stargazer Lilies, miniature carnations, purple statice, white larkspur and tiny white Mona Casino flowers tied with a white tulle bow and ribbon formed the bridal bouquet.

ATTENDANTS

Maid of honor was Kellie Salisbury of Muenster, friend of the bride. Bridesmaids were Stephanie Wimmer of Muenster, friend of the couple and Janel Harding of Denton, sister of the groom. Junior bridesmaid was Crystal Lutkenhaus of Muenster, niece and god-daughter of the groom.

They wore identical gowns in alternating colors of violet or fuchsia featuring a smooth satin bodice with a sweetheart neckline accented with a pearl brooch. The puffed short sleeves and full tea-length skirts were made of lace-over-satin. Each dress had a low scoop-back neckline with three simulated pearl strands. Pearl earrings matched their brooches, all gifts from the bride. They wore matching dyed satin shoes with pearl shoe clips.

They carried fresh bouquets identical to the bride's, with violet or fuchsia tulle bows and ribbon.

Flower girl was Delana Rohmer of Muenster, daughter of friends of the couple. Ring bearer was Colten Swirczynski of Grapevine, son of friends of the couple.

Jeff Parsons of Lindsay, friend of the groom was best man. Groomsmen were Brad Henscheid of Muenster and Darren Voth of Muenster, both friends of the groom.

Ushers were Bryan Hoenic of Gainesville and Greg Hoenic of Muenster, both cousins of the groom and Darrell Swirczynski of Grapevine, friend of the groom.

Wedding music was presented by Pam Fette of Muenster, soloist and John Dill, pianist of Gainesville. Selections were "The Wedding Song," "In This Very Room," "One Hand One Heart," "All I Ask of You," "I Offer Thee," "May Your Lives Be Blessed," "Ave Maria" and the "Wagner Wedding March" and "Mendelssohn Recessional."

Decorations in church included two large fresh arrangements of gladioli, Stargazer Lilies, purple statice and purple iris. In the altar space were two tall floor candelabra with lighted white candles in a heart shape, entwined with greenery and flowers. Matching violet and fuchsia flowers on a vine were scalloped on the altar railing, accented with satin bows. Center aisle pews were marked with violet and fuchsia bows. Decorations in church were made by Lora Hennigan and reception decorations by Carol Henscheid and Betty Rose Walterscheid.

Mothers of the couple lit two white candles near the altar and the bride and groom used these to light their Unity candle.

Scripture Readings were given by Amy Hoenic, cousin of the groom. Offertory gifts were presented at the altar by Donny and Ina Faye Fisher, uncle and aunt of the bride.

RECEPTION

A reception followed in Sacred Heart Community Center of Muenster. Catered dinner by Rohmer's Restaurant for 225 guests was followed by a dance with DJ. George Spaeth.

The four-tiered chocolate bride's cake was made and cut by Betty Rose Walterscheid. It was decorated with matching fresh flowers between each tier, and around the base, and held a top ornament of a ceramic kissing bride and groom.

The two-tiered chocolate groom's cake, also by Betty Rose, was cut by Earlene Murray, aunt of the bride. It was decorated with a basket weave design and a waterfall of fresh fruit.

Both cakes were served to the guests by Vanessa and Allison Sutton, cousins of the bride.

The rehearsal dinner was held at The Center Restaurant on Friday. Upon their return from a wedding trip and Caribbean Cruise, the couple will be at home in Muenster.

Among relatives attending the wedding were Dianne and Bob Pikes of South Carolina; Tina Marshall and children Jessie, Ricky and Allen of South Carolina; Ruby Wimmer of Oklahoma City and Keith and Melina Koelzer of Oklahoma City; and Janel and Mike Harding and infant son of Denton.

The world of Girl Scouting: an important role in today's world

The Girl Scout movement began in 1912 in Savannah, Georgia. Since then thousands of girls learned, laughed and experienced life as Girl Scouts of Cross Timbers Girl Scout Council. Today, those women and many others who were Girl Scouts in other geographic areas credit the Girl Scout movement for helping them become the women they are today.

Girl Scouts play an active and enjoyable role in contemporary society. The Girl Scouts of Cross Timbers serves girls ages 5-17 from every walk of life, geographic setting, cultural background and economic status. It is a volunteer-based organization, with many adults volunteering their time and talents to make Girl Scouting available to every girl.

The Girl Scouts and adult volunteers provide a variety of educational, social and recreational opportunities to girls in Grayson, Cooke, Montague, Wise, and Denton counties. Girl Scout activities and programs help girls develop character, self-esteem, a sense of community responsibility, positive values, respect for others, and leadership skills. The programs also show girls how to explore and enjoy the world around them. The activities expose the girls to the arts, different cultures, geography, the environment, government, careers, fitness, science, and of course, the traditional camping and practical domestic skills.

There are many wonderful activities planned for the new school year. Cross Timbers Girl Scout Council invites all girls and adults to join the wonderful world of Girl Scouting. Let's make memories that will last a life-time, for both girls and adults. Please contact: Beckey Scott, 964-2468; Jeannie Flusche, 759-4497; or Field Director Judy Price, 903-583-1460.

SACRED HEART CLASS OF 1968

Class of 1968 hopes to reunion each year

When the Sacred Heart Class of 1968 got together at the Center in July, 1993 for their 25th anniversary, everyone had such a good time that the question was raised, "Why wait five years to get together again?" So this year Mary Alice and Danny Bayer graciously offered their home as the site for a 27th anniversary class reunion.

With local classmates providing dishes for a delicious buffet of smoked brisket and all the trimmings, classmates and their spouses gathered for a delightful evening of reminiscing about school days and catching up on lives and events today. In a relaxed and comfortable setting, complete with covered patio and Jacuzzi, visiting went on into the early morning hours. Before guests finally departed, it was definitely decided to schedule another reunion for next year.

Classmates and spouses able to attend were: Mary Alice (Koesler) and Danny Bayer; Ben and Carol Fleitman; Laurie (Truebenbach) Gould of Harahan, LA; Gilbert and Shirley Hess; Steve Hess of Irving; Tom and Paula Hess of Fayetteville, NC; Joan (Sicking) and Jim Lutkenhaus of Bedford; Robert and Betty Miller; Jeanne (Vogel) Parker of Plano; Linda (Rohmer) and Bob Sepanski; and Donna (Stoffels) and Rex Simmons of Denton. Special guests also attending were grade school classmates Sharlene (Wimmer) and Duwayne Schilling; and Glenn Trachta of Denton.

Cards were signed and sent to those who had sent tearful messages of regret that they would be unable to attend.

Lindsay Secular Franciscans sponsoring dinner and raffle Aug. 20

The Secular Franciscans of Lindsay are sponsoring a dinner and raffle on Sunday, August 20 in the Lindsay Centennial Hall beginning at 11:00 a.m. The meal consists of brisket, new potatoes, slaw, trimmings, and numerous homemade cakes and desserts. Meal tickets are $5.00 for adults and $3.00 for children.

Following the meal there will be a raffle of 29 donated items. Top prize is a beautifully embroidered quilt made by the Secular Franciscan members. Raffle tickets are $1.00 or 6 for $5.00. They can be purchased at the door. Everyone is welcome and cordially invited to attend.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

As we drive through our beautiful country, how many of us stop to consider just how many freedoms we really enjoy?

A few weeks ago, Aileen and myself, accompanied by our son Jim and granddaughter Julie Wyatt, left home, with Snohomish, WA, as our number one destination.

We soon crossed the Red River into Oklahoma, taking note of the cattle ranches, wheat fields and other crops, also the oil wells, as we sped along I-35 to, and into Kansas.

At our infrequent stops, there were always friendly folks wherever we took on fuel, or obtained other needs.

Passing through Nebraska we saw miles and miles of lush green fields of corn and alfalfa, soy beans etc., a true farmers' delight.

The one thing that I thought of most was the fact that we are free to enter one State after another, and as long as we obey certain rules and regulations, we are free to pursue our objectives as we see fit.

Of the 15 States we meandered about in, only one, California, stopped us, then only to ask if we were carrying any fresh fruit or live plants. After answering in the negative, we were waved on and told to have a nice trip, and enjoy ourselves.

Not once were we asked to declare our destination, to explain what we intended to do in another State, no one asked to inspect our luggage or to search our vehicle, as is so often done in other countries.

And there is no problem with language, except sometimes when meeting some of the many visitors from foreign lands, who are also enjoying our country and its sights.

Well, just a little - while the rest of our party walked some distance to better view Mt. Rushmore and the four presidents' faces carved in the granite, I sat to rest a few feet from a lady who had motioned for me to sit on the unused portion of a bench she was using.

In listening to her and several other people speaking in a different language, I realized they were from another land.

Several times one would direct a comment in my direction, and after one of them seemed to want an answer I said, "Ich bien ein Texan."

At once four of them rose, shook my hand, and I soon found they were from Holland. They were very friendly. One was a bit coy and as I rose to leave, he said in good old American, "Have a nice day." Oh, well!

Teacher Pleasers

You know how to annoy your teacher - arrive late, pass notes, yawn, no homework - but how can you get on their good side, without becoming the "teacher's pet?"

1. Be prepared PLUS. Not everyday but, from time to time, show your interest by doing something beyond your assignment. Bring a related item from home - magazine or newspaper items or show-and-tell stuff. Your teacher will not forget your effort and your classmates will be thankful for an interesting class.

2. Make your assignments easy to read. The appearance of your work tells the teacher your attitude toward the assignment, the teacher and yourself. Of course, the content of your work is most important but your teacher will give you a better grade for neatness.

3. Participate in class discussions. Asking intelligent questions show you are interested in the subject.

4. Mind your manners. Put yourself in your teacher's shoes. How would you like to stand in front of the class, giving a report, if everyone was looking out the window, passing notes, yawning, etc.?

5. Dress nicely. If you are well-groomed, it will reflect in your attitude toward your class.

6. Ask for extra help if you need it. If you're getting too far behind, ask your teacher for a one-on-one session after school.

7. Don't play up to teachers. Teachers sometimes get put off by students who are trying too hard to become their pets.

Hornets have high hopes

Last year was not a typical one for the Muenster Hornets or Coach Grady Roller. "We began the season with high hopes, doing good for seven weeks," remembers the coach, "then injuries ended the season in a nose dive."

Muenster lost 11 senior players including the leadership of Jason Huchton, Cory Cain and Maurus Hacker. "We have a good group coming in to fill the leadership roll," Roller continued. "So, let's forget last season and move on. We (the coaching staff) have high hopes again this year."

The Hornets have 11 seniors on this year's squad, led by captains James Klement, Matt Chisam, Darrell Charles and Jeff Flusche. Klement, a 4-year starter, the "strongest running back on the team," will start as middle linebacker. Chisam was new to the team last season, but has grown "stronger and quicker" on the line. Charles also is a 4-year starter with all district honors on both sides of the ball. "Darrell's a good center, he comes off the ball and blocks," Roller commented. Flusche is a "team leader. He's a much better player this year, stronger and quicker."

Cody Sicking is the "premier back in our district. He's full of energy and fast."

"One of our surprises coming up from last spring" is Jason Sicking, an offensive left guard. Kody Dill is trying to start on varsity at linebacker and tight end with Jeff Felderhoff in at safety.

Senior Tony Hacker will start on the special teams while C.J. Muller works on his 4th year as a Hornet. Robert Valentine is a newcomer to the team.

Hunting and fishing licenses now on sale

With the onset of hunting season just a few short weeks away, Texas sportsmen are reminded it's time to renew licenses. According to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, hunting and fishing licenses are now available at over 1,800 locations statewide, including most major retail outlets.

Hunting and fishing licenses are valid from Sept. 1 through Aug. 31, however, licenses purchased between now and the end of August may be used immediately.

Individual Texas resident hunting or fishing licenses cost $13 each, or $25 for a combination resident hunting and fishing license. Residents who turn 65 years of age after Aug. 31, 1995 may buy a discounted $6 Special Resident Hunting License and a $6 Special Resident Fishing License. Those senior citizens ages 65 or older prior to Sept. 1, 1995 are exempt from the Special Resident Fishing License requirement, unless they desire a trophy red drum tag. Non-resident general hunting licenses cost $250, while non-residents under 17 qualify for the Special Resident Hunting good as the seniors," said Coach Roller. "We're expecting big things, we want big things to happen with this group."

Junior Eric Miller will "slip in and fill the shoes of Jason Huchton" as the Hornet quarterback and safety. "Eric is one of the better athletes to go through this school," said Roller as he continued his player comments.

John Tuggle will be back-up offensive lineman and linebacker on defense. "He's aggressive, strong, quick and has learned to play his keys." Jake Luke will start at tight end and on the right corner on defense. "He's our best blocker."

Greg Flusche will get a lot of playing time, starting some games at offensive tackle or guard. "Greg's got good technique and knows how to read his keys." Jonathan Otto "has a shot at starting outside linebacker" and will be Muenster's back-up center.

Tony Hartman will start as offensive split end but not a defensive starter. Steven Reiter "has quick feet and will get in a lot of playing time" as back-up defensive secondary and see action in the back field as quarterback and running back.

Ryan Klement rounds out the junior class. "Size hurts Ryan. He works hard and is a little quicker than last year." He will probably play on the junior varsity.

The sophomore class has 16 boys on the squad with approximately half of them possibly making the varsity team.

Chad Roller, last year's lone freshman starter, returns this year a "little bigger, quicker and stronger." Brian Fleitman "made lots of gains" and will be a back up safety. Working for the back-up quarterback position, Scott Hermes will also "play a lot on defense. We're looking for good things from Scott," Roller continued. "Bryan (Hudspeth) is aggressive and looks good." Hudspeth should start as a defensive linebacker.

Cody Perryman "worked hard all summer" and will see varsity action on the line along with Lucas Hartman. Hartman is "one of our better defensive men. He's strong and plays good technique."

Michael Boydston will start as defensive end and offensive tackle.

Other sophomores on the team that will probably play on the JV include, Cory Anderle at quarterback. "Cory looks real good and we want him to gain experience, not stand on the sidelines," commented Coach Roller. Eric Walterscheid "looks good at linebacker: with Barry Fleitman on JV "because we want him on the field." The "most improved freshman last season" (before his injury) was Jeremy Walterscheid. Also Mack Molsbee, Cory Charles, Aaron Sicking, Brad Escobedo, and Shane Sparkman.

The Hornets now have 11 freshmen on the team, who are: Justin Britain, Vince Felderhoff, Eric Fisher, Chad Felderhoff, Aaron Klement, Matt York, Justin Klement, John Roller, Jesse Luke, Brandon Grewing and Brent Sicking.

The Hornets team strength is in the depth on the offensive and defensive line. Their weakness is the outside line and defensive end. "We'll try to run a little option," Roller commented. "Our main goal is to get into the playoffs again."

Muenster's preseason includes four 2A schools. Action begins with Nocona. "Nocona's a much improved ball club from last year with a new coaching staff. A tough game to start," said Roller. Henrietta had a young team last year, so the outcome of that game may change this season. Roller also noted that Blue Ridge is a much improved team from a very young season. Aubrey, Muenster's first loss last year "could be a little bit weaker," with Valley View looking for an improved defensive game.

The six team district action begins in the battle of the Hornets. "Era is weaker this year, they lost a lot in graduation." Era also has a new coach.

Saint Jo has "good running backs, but fall down on front on the line. It will be a hard struggle for them," Roller continued. "Alvord will be as good as their quarterback." This will be a big game in the battle for a playoff spot.

Collinsville's win over Muenster last year turned the season around. "We (Muenster) should have won. The first minutes of the game made the difference," Roller added. The Pirates lost several outstanding players.

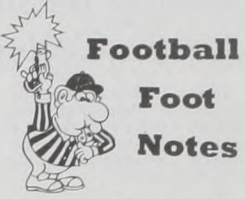

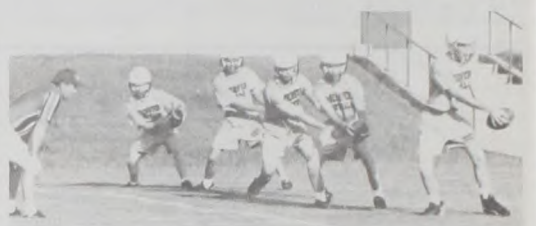

The final district game is the Kraut Bowl, hosted this year by Muenster. "Enough said," Roller noted. "This game, stats and records don't make any difference."

Muenster enters the field on Aug. 25 at Perrin for a practice match, then hosts Keller Junior Varsity for a second scrimmage before taking on the Indians on Sept. 8.

THE MUENSTER HORNETS began practice last week Wednesday. Drills and players' movement were worked on the first day.

Football Foot Notes

Ball carriers have often been described as being "slippery," but any material that helps them become slick is strictly forbidden. The use of oil, grease or any slippery substance on the player's uniform is illegal.

The neutral zone? All linemen, except the center, are required to be behind the scrimmage line. Only the center can have any part of his body in the neutral zone. The neutral zone is measured by the length of the football and is the area between the offensive and defensive scrimmage lines.

Knights begin work for playoff repeat

The Lindsay Knights last season surprised everyone by finishing the season as regional finalist after losing their first six games. A long preseason of five losses had fans doubting a successful year for the Knights. After an opening district loss to Collinsville, the Lindsay lads proved themselves with four district victories and two big playoff wins before falling to Burkeville in the quarter finals.

"Last season was last season. We are putting that behind us," commented Lindsay's head coach Charlie Meurer. "I hope to keep that high level up and try to use the momentum to keep up the high quality of play." The Knights lost nine players to graduation.

Eight senior lettermen are leading Lindsay on the field as football begins.

Garrett Hellingner returns as quarterback and free safety. "Garrett's a leader," commented

Meurer. "He has a strong arm, he's aggressive and hustles."

Kenny Jones is "the district's speedster with good strength, but he's a little inexperienced."

Jeff Hale, a 2 year starter is "big, strong and in a lot better shape for a better season."

Coach Meurer said Zack Schumacher is a surprise kind of guy, he's little but he's come to play.

Mark Menzie was a "late bloomer. He kept on going and is in good shape" the coach pointed out.

The coach is expecting a lot out of linebacker Greg Dulock. "He has that natural build. He's strong and has good quickness."

Returning as a back-up tight end after a short season last year is George Gilbert. "He has strong hands and is physical enough to play." Finishing out the senior players is 5'7", 230 pound Chris Escobedo. He will be starting on both the offensive and defensive lines after growing stronger from time in the weight room.

A dozen juniors help make up the Knights varsity squad.

Brad Perrin and Mickey Meurer will be back-up wide receiver and wing back.

Zack Bowman returns at defensive back. "Zack's very quick and understands the game," commented Meurer. Hank Huchton is a "hard nose guy, not big, but has speed and is aggressive."

Shawn Hanks returns at cornerback while Robert Sharp waits out an injury. Larry Evans is a back-up center while Jerad O'Dell will step in at times as linebacker.

Aaren Krebs, 6'3", 185 pounds will be placed at defensive end along with a "much improved" Richard Haayen.

Two hundred and sixty pound T.J. Goldsmith "an all state player is very strong and aggressive."

Cory Booher "came back this year with a good attitude. His good hands could earn him a split end starter position."

The remainder of the Lindsay team consists of 22 sophomores and freshmen. Possible young starters are Brian Covington, Jamie Baggs and 6'2", 232 pound freshman Clint Gallagher.

Others playing for the Knights will be Zack Fuhrmann, Jarod Root, Isaac Zimmerer, Jeremy Rinner, Danny Evans, David Fuhrmann, Keith Fuhrmann, Chris Garner, Brian Neu, Lambert Hess, Mark Lutmer, Richie Alfrey, Jeff Bezner, Corey Neu, Levi Seed, Michael Mosman, Joey Wilson, David Metzler, Mark Zimmerer, John Bezner, David Leonard and Nick Price.

Coach Meurer sees team strength in his team's defense. "It's going to be better. We're way ahead from last year." Also the Knights passing game, with a strong quarterback, should strengthen the team.

Weaknesses? "Depth in the defense secondary and depth in the running backs," the coach commented. One contributing factor is an injured Robert Sharp.

The Knights begin the season with two scrimmages. "Just glorified practices," Meurer said about his matches with Nocona and Perrin Whit. But the Knights once again face a tough preseason. Their opening game to Windthorst was a disappointment last year. This year the Trojans are their predicted district champions. "They are very big and very physical." The second week they tangle with 2A Callisburg, who's coming off of their 1st ever playoff season. "Callisburg has lots of athletes to choose from but I see no reason why we can't win," Meurer said.

For the Homecoming game, Lindsay will host Sacred Heart. "They have lots of talent. They play hard and don't give up. (Coach John) Nasche takes us very seriously, but it's still just a pre-district game," Meurer continued.

Not much is known about 2AA Chico, except they had young players last year. Meurer was surprised how good Fannindal was last year. "It was a good game. They played hard and were good sportsmen."

Collinsville once again is the district opener. Last season they surprised the other teams and have most of their starters returning.

Era "had lots of problems last year, but is tougher than nails." Under a new coach, who knows?

Saint Joe has the best running backs in the district, but with a new coach, not much is known about the Panthers team.

One can expect Alvord to "be in the race, with a good quarterback and a good solid coach."

Meurer said Muenster has lots of boys and lots of quality players and "will also be in the hunt."

The Knights finished their '94 season positively and they're working hard to accomplish another successful season.

ABOVE, the Lindsay Knights' offense runs plays in last week's practice. Below, Coaches Linus Fuhrmann and Jodie Stringer call the plays.

As a parent, the best thing you can do is talk honestly with your kids. Talking down to them or using scare tactics doesn't work. ## Emergency farm loan applications being accepted

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by tornado are being accepted at the Rural Economic and Community Development (RECD) office located in Gainesville, Texas, RECD County Supervisor James B. Murdock said today.

Cooke County is one of seven counties in Texas and Oklahoma recently named by Secretary of Agriculture Dan Glickman eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from damages and losses caused by a tornado.

James B. Murdock said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue in business or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest rate is 4.5 percent.

"As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production for an RECD emergency loan," James B.

Murdock said. Farmers participating in the PIK or Federal Crop Insurance program will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

"Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until March 3, 1996, but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing and possibly over into the new farming season," James B. Murdock said.

RECD is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognized farmers who work at and rely on farming for a substantial part of their living. Eligibility is extended to individual farmers who are U.S. citizens and to farming partnerships, corporations or cooperatives in which U.S. citizens hold a majority interest.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

RANCH TO RAIL DEADLINE NEAR

The deadline for producers to submit nominations for steer calves into the 1995-1996 Texas A&M Ranch to Rail program is September 1. A minimum of five head of steer calves are required to participate in this information feedback program.

The Ranch to Rail program, now in its fifth year, is a unique program that provides producers useful analysis on the performance of their calves, regardless of the size operation they have. All calves are tracked individually throughout the feeding period. This feedlot performance measure includes average daily gain, feed efficiency and health, along with individual animal carcass data.

Delivery dates are scheduled to be October 9-12 for Ranch to Rail North and October 17-19 for Ranch to Rail South. Pooled trucking will be available to keep transportation costs to a minimum for producers who don't wish to haul their own cattle to the feedyard. After all consignments are received, assembly locations for these pooled shipments will be designated and producers notified. In the past, collection points have been set up so producers hauled cattle no more than 90 miles for delivery.

A fee of $15 per head, due when nominations are submitted, covers the cost of data collection at the feedlot and processing plant. Steers must weigh between 500 and 800 pounds when delivered to the feedyard. These weight restrictions must be enforced this year. Calves outside that weight range are at a disadvantage when marketed through the Ranch to Rail program. Currently, heifers are not accepted into the Ranch to Rail program.

Nomination forms are available from the County Extension Office, District Livestock or Beef Specialist or from Dr. John McNeill's office in College Station.

For additional information and nomination forms, contact Ronald Gill at 214/952-9233, or Randall Grooms at 903/834-9191.

NORTH TEXAS BLACKLANDS WHEAT YIELDS

This week and next week we will be running the results of the North Texas Blacklands Wheat yields for hard red winter wheat and soft red winter wheat. These trials were conducted at Dallas, Prosper, Era, and Hillsboro, Texas. The 1994-95 yields are shown along with the 1995 average yield at all locations and a three-year average yield.

In general most of the North Texas Blacklands crop was substantially reduced in planted acreage due to persistent rains during the fall. Most counties in the northern Blacklands reported extensive failed plantings. It appears that approximately 250,000 acres of wheat was not planted due to an extremely wet fall and winter. That acreage that was planted in many instances was planted late and in poorly prepared seed beds. This resulted in low yields in many cases.

In order for yield data to be useful in choosing a variety for small grain for next year, several factors should be considered. These include yield relative to other varieties adapted to the area, stability of yield over time, and resistance to prevalent pest problems.

If you have any questions concerning any of the varieties, give me a call at the County Extension Office.

This week we will use data of the hard red winter wheat trials. Next week data will be of soft red winter wheat.

Before you travel with livestock ... Know the rules regarding Vesicular Stomatitis

Save yourself headaches. Before taking animals to another state, make a free call for information on livestock and horse entry requirements, or movement restrictions regarding Vesicular Stomatitis. The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Centers for Epidemiology and Animal Health operates a free recorded phone service 24 hours a day. To gain access, use a touch-tone phone and dial 1-800-545-8732. After the greeting, push "1" for "Emergency Notices." You will then be instructed to push specific numbers, depending which states are to be visited. Information is provided about restrictions, statements that must be written on certificates of veterinary inspection or permits that might be needed for livestock coming into that particular state.

A spray vaccine? It's happening!

Just taking a deep breath may one day prevent or cure disease.

Kansas State University scientist Alan Brown is developing an inhaler to spray vaccines deep into the lungs of both animals and humans.

Respiratory diseases affect 70 to 90 percent of all animals at least once in their life, Brown said. Preventing respiratory diseases could save the livestock industry thousands of dollars each year.

"Any kind of infection will reduce the production potential of animals," Brown said. "They may go off feed due to the illness, as well as devote their energy to fighting off the disease instead of gaining weight."

Sprays may be more effective than shots because the vaccine could directly stimulate the immune system in the lungs. "This hypothesis isn't proven yet," the scientist said. "We need to do a lot more work to prove or disprove it."

Developing a device to deliver the vaccine into the lung to test the efficiency of spray vaccines proved to be challenging. "The respiratory system is beautifully designed to keep substances out," Brown said. "Particles must be microscopically small to enter the lungs."

Brown's prototype device produces these extremely small particles in a propellant-driven aerosol spray. The device uses a gas propellant that vaporizes upon release, leaving vaccine proteins suspended in the air. The animal then inhales the protein particles.

Among the remaining unanswered questions is whether the process harms the medicinal substances. Tests indicate they are still functional after being sprayed out.

"The proteins are still happy," Brown said. "We still need to find out how long the proteins remain functional in the propellant."

Another question is how much of the vaccine is actually entering the lung.

"We know that a fraction of the spray particles are small enough to get deep into the lung," Brown said. "It may not be enough, and we are working to increase that fraction."

The goal is to keep the number of sprays for effective treatment to two or three per animal. This will help keep the cost to the producers reasonable. Cost efficiency was a primary concern in developing the inhaler, Brown said. The prototype device only delivers the spray when the animal breathes in, which prevents wasting expensive medicine.

Animals may not be the only ones to benefit from this research. Such propellant-driven aerosols could help treat human diseases, too. "We might be able to deliver antibodies to treat pneumonia or enzymes that could help with emphysema or cystic fibrosis," Brown said.

Ag Brief

As the 103rd Congress winds down, it looks like lawmakers will go home without having passed a major piece of environmental legislation in two years. One Sierra Club lobbyist calls it "the worst environmental Congress in two decades," says the New York Times.

U.S. farm programs try to control supply

Some U.S. farm program policies have always bewildered city dwellers: "Do you mean they pay farmers not to farm and sell grain?" For example, federal farm bills have long controlled the amount of acreage farmers plant. They've required farmers to idle or "set aside" a certain percentage of their base crop acreage, to qualify for farm program participation. The types of setasides and reasons for instituting them have varied. Traditionally, such programs were to boost farm income by reducing grain supplies and therefore raising market prices. More recently, their purpose was to idle erosion-prone or otherwise environmentally sensitive land.

"Of course, growers have always tended to idle their least productive land. Still, acreage setasides may have had a temporary price-enhancing effect in the past, as long as prices didn't rise so high buyers turned elsewhere," said Bill Tierney, grain marketing economist for Kansas State University's Cooperative Extension Service. "The problem now is, the exports' growing importance to the U.S. wheat market may have made acreage reduction programs counterproductive. There's some evidence that when we've reduced acreage, other countries have simply increased their own production and taken over market shares."

Idling land also has increased farmers' per-acre production costs, reducing efficiency, he said. At the same time, it has provided some farm income "insurance," most usually by entitling farmers to receive deficiency payments if market prices fall below a certain level.

Government loan programs have varied through the years, as well. Typically, these low-interest loans have provided enough cash to pay farmers' production costs. The grain the farmers produce becomes their collateral. That grain remains in storage until the farmers pay off their loan. Because harvest time often brings the year's lowest grain prices, wheat growers can let their production remain in the bin for awhile, thus reducing and/or evening out the supplies that hit the market and providing some grain price support.

"In the past, the government stored that grain in its own bins. Then it switched to having farmers store loan-secured grain in elevators or on-farm bins," Tierney said. "In any case, when farmers defaulted on loans - looked at market prices and decided to keep their loan and let the government have the grain - huge stockpiles could result. After awhile, it began to look as if the United States stored grain, while other countries sold it. In essence, we became the world's emergency supply."

"Capitol Hill was trying to get rid of those stockpiles when it instituted the Export Enhancement Program in the 1980s and used Payment-in-Kind certificates to make it work. PIK certificates entitled buyers to redeem discounted grain held in government storage."

Several factors can make the loan program difficult to understand. For one thing, loan rates can vary widely from county to county. Local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) offices - which are divisions of the U.S. Department of Agriculture - use local market conditions to figure what is called a Posted County Price. And the PCP is the basis for local farmers' government loan rates.

In 1987, USDA substantially revised the method ASCS offices use to calculate loan rates. It was responding to charges PCP's were so widely different as to create unfair conditions in some counties. Now some analysts are asserting USDA should determine PCP's regionally.

Some analysts also believe each of the five major classes of wheat grown in the United States should have a different loan rate.

"Their markets, prices and uses are all different," Tierney explained. "At the same time, however, their having class-by-class loan rates could really distort normal marketing patterns - and prices. It could create a nightmare of paperwork in areas that grow more than one class of wheat. And it probably would have little impact on farmers' production decisions, since other programs treat all wheat classes the same."

CRA News at a Glance

The "Downed Animal Protection Act of 1993" was the subject of a recent hearing before the US House Subcommittee on Livestock. The bill would require any non-ambulatory animal at a market to be killed. Dr. Lowell Wilson, testifying on behalf of a coalition of nearly 40 national livestock and poultry producer groups including NCA, said the legislation would not solve the root cause of the problem and industry efforts make such legislation unnecessary.

Passage of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade implementing legislation will mean a reduction of tariffs and trade barriers that will help cattle producers continue to be a major force in the economy, says the National Cattlemen's Association. Export of US beef accounted for 208,000 jobs and $15.2 billion in total industry output in 1993. Since 1980, US beef and beef product exports have increased 400%. The US House is expected to approve the agreement before the break for elections, but an impasse in the Senate may result in a lame duck session, says the New York Times.

A group of Indian tribes hopes bison can be moved from Yellowstone National Park to tribal lands this winter rather than the animals being shot if they leave the park in search of forage. The bison are known carriers of brucellosis and in the past have been destroyed to contain the disease. The tribes' plan would take bison to quarantine areas in Kansas, Oklahoma or Texas, which is a concern to some cattle producers and animal health officials.

TEXAS DAIRY SHORT COURSES HIGHLIGHT NUTRITION METHODS

A one-day Dairy Short Course focused on the latest nutrition techniques will be offered in five locations around the state in early November. Sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service for dairy producers, the series begins Nov. 7 in Jacksonville and moves on succeeding days to Sulphur Springs, Decatur, and Stephenville, concluding in Brenham on Nov. 11. The session closest to the Cooke County area will be at Decatur on Wed., Nov. 9. The Short Course begins at 9 a.m. at the Posse Grounds in Decatur.

"These sessions address the challenge producers face in providing the best nutrition to dairy cows as they increase milk production," said Dr. Ellen Jordan, Extension Dairy Specialist. Dr. J. Tal Huber plans to discuss new processing methods that improve feedstuffs so that more nutrients are available to the animal.

Dr. James Spain, University of Missouri Dairy Scientist, is set to speak on some effective management tools to improve feed intake which drives milk production, such as timing of feeding, additives to improve palatability, and feed handling methods that reduce dust.

According to Dr. Michael Tomaszewski, the afternoon session topics vary from site to site - everything from farm tours in Sulphur Springs to a Vitamin and Mineral Nutrition session in Decatur. Tomaszewski is Short Course Coordinator and Extension Dairy Specialist.

Registration and commercial exhibits begin at 9 a.m. Each one-day program runs from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. A registration fee of $10 includes lunch.

Following lunch at Decatur, two sessions will be held on Vitamin and Mineral Nutrition. The first of the sessions will begin at 1 p.m. and focus on "Vitamin - Health Interactions for Dairy Cows and Calves" presented by Dr. Rob Stuart of Stuart Products, Inc. The next speaker will be Dr. Wayne

Green of Texas A&M University who will cover "Use of Mineral Supplements to Improve Production." The program will conclude at 2:30 p.m.

4-H LIVESTOCK ORIENTATION

An Orientation Meeting for 4-H members who will be raising livestock projects for the County Juniors Livestock Show (and their parents) will be held from 9 to 10 a.m. on Sat., Oct. 29, at the Cooke County Fairgrounds.

Purpose of this meeting is to discuss the various shows and dates, entry deadlines, and show rules.

A session will also cover livestock projects including Swine, Sheep, Goats, Rabbits, and Poultry. At these sessions we will cover the aspects of purchasing animals, equipment and facilities, feeding and other items of production the 4-H members will need to know in order to raise their livestock projects.

We encourage the parents to attend with their 4-H members.

If you have any questions concerning the meeting, call Craig Rosenbaum at the County Extension Office 668-5412.

NORTH TEXAS COMMUNICATIONS COMPANY
CABLE TELEVISION SUBSCRIBER PRIVACY RIGHTS NOTICE

Dear Customer:

The Federal Communications Act of 1934, as amended, contains certain provisions regarding the collection and maintenance of personally identifiable information by cable television operators. In accordance with these provisions, this cable system collects and maintains personally identifiable information concerning subscribers. That information includes billing records, service maintenance and repair orders, premium service subscription information, marketing information, and subscriber complaint information.

Unless otherwise noted, all personally identifiable information will be used solely for the normal business practices associated with the purpose of offering and rendering cable television service. These uses include billing services, market research, accounting, and general business planning. The cable system will not retain such information after it is no longer necessary for conducting these business practices. We do retain information for five years after you have ended your subscription with us as required for tax and accounting purposes.

Certain persons, including cable system employees, cable system sales agents, employees of businesses which provide services to the cable system such as auditors, etc., employees of program services which periodically audit subscription information, and representatives of the franchising authority have access to personally identifiable information when necessary for the purpose of conducting our business. Access is as often as necessary and may be on a day-to-day basis.

Federal law prohibits a cable system from collecting any personally identifiable information other than information necessary to carry on its business or to detect theft of services, unless you consent.

To the extent that we are permitted to collect personally identifiable information, we are permitted to disclose such information only to the extent necessary to conduct our business. Except for limited circumstances referred to below, we may not disclose personally identifiable information without your consent unless we are required to do so by a court order. If we are served with a court order requiring disclosure of personally identifiable information concerning a subscriber, we will inform the subscriber before any information is released. Under some circumstances, a governmental entity may seek a court order to obtain personally identifiable information from the cable system concerning a cable subscriber. The subscriber must be given an opportunity to contest issuance of such an order.

In addition, the law allows us to disclose your name and address for non-cable service related mailing lists or other purposes unless you tell us you do not wish to disclose it; however, such disclosures of names and addresses may not be in a form that discloses the extent or type of any use you make of services we provide, nor may it disclose the nature of any transaction you make over the cable system. If you do not wish to have your name and address disclosed even in this limited manner, or if you wish to limit the circumstances in which we will disclose it, please obtain, fill out, and return a "Nondisclosure of Name and Address" form from our local business office.

As a subscriber, you may review any personal information held by us which pertains to you if you give us a reasonable period of time to locate and, if necessary, prepare the information for review (preparation is sometimes necessary to avoid disclosure of information relating to other subscribers). If you wish to review your personal information, please contact us by letter or telephone to arrange for a review. The review will be at our local business office. You may request correction of any errors in personal information which we collect or maintain pertaining to you.

Any person aggrieved by any act of a cable operator in violation of these federal limitations on the collection and disclosure of personally identifiable information may bring a civil action in a United States District Court to enforce the limitations.

Pick up your card at Fischers and each time you purchase specially marked products you receive one punch on your card.
More punches mean a larger Turkey.
