

County agrees to communications study

by Janet Felderhoff
Cooke County and the city of Gainesville are combining resources to fund a study on their communication needs. It will take into consideration future changes required by the FCC (Federal Communication Commission) and if it would be more economical to combine Gainesville and the county's communication (police, fire ambulance, etc.) systems into one. The study is Phase I of the proposed project.

Total cost of the study is $51,020.00. The county's share is $25,510.00. Ram was chosen to conduct the study. "This would look at our total needs for the city and county," explained Judge Paul Hesse. Our indirect goal is to eliminate duplicated efforts in order to shorten response time."

Should the study show that it wouldn't be feasible to combine the city and county systems, would the study have been a waste of money questioned Commissioner Richard Brown. It was decided that it would be money well spent since it was necessary to know the equipment that will be needed after FCC changes.

"With the reform that is happening within the FCC, they're going to be allocating new frequencies splitting our frequencies in half," noted Cooke County EMS Administrator Bob Harbin. "New radio equipment is eventually going to have to be bought. The reason of the study is to minimize what will have to be thrown away. Six years down the road we will probably be operating half bans of what we're operating on right now."

Keith Cunningham of Spatial Research Data, Inc. requested that Commissioners set up guidelines for naming private roads in the county that have several residences along them. His company is currently driving the county roads compiling data for the 911 Mapping Project. Commissioners tabled the matter until the Aug. 26 regular meeting.

Three people, Al Mulrean, Tammy Triplett, and Joyce Malinowski, were nominated to serve as the Cooke County representative to the board of directors of the Tri-County Senior Nutrition Project. Chris Watson, vice-president of the board of directors, asked the board to re-appoint Mr. Mulrean. Watson said Mulrean was active in delivering meals to senior citizens. Judy King added her support for Mulrean pointing out the many hours of work he does for the program and the compliments the senior citizens paid him.

Mulrean was selected in a 5-0 vote to fill the new term which begins Oct. 1.

Landowners along North Hemming Road in Precinct #2 will soon have their road paved. Residents requested at the June 24 Commissioners Court meeting that the paving be done because of various safety reasons. The residents were making voluntary donations to a fund to assist the county with the paving project. They raised $18,610.00.

Precinct #2 Commissioner Brown requested bids from Sunmount Corporation, a paving contractor working in this area. The bid was for $33,600.00. This bid is lower than normal because the paving contractor is doing a paving job on Hwy. 82 and already has equipment in the area, said Brown.

With the residents contribution the county's part would be $14,990.00. "This is something that, as far as I know, has not been done — at least not in recent years," Brown remarked. "It's a situation where the county can get a good return on its invest. I have the money in my budget and would like to proceed with the project." It was approved with a 5-0 vote. Paving should start soon, weather permitting.

In other business conducted at the August 12 regular meeting Commissioners Court:

- Accepted the final plat of Bowles Estates, a subdivision in Precinct #3.

- Accepted preliminary plat for Dye Estates in Precinct #2.

- Added their support for Senator Tom Haywood's bill which would give cities and counties a share in the state lottery revenue generated from their area.

Commissioners increase salaries, predict lower tax rate

by Janet Felderhoff
Cooke County Commissioners Court completed their budget planning for the coming year at the August 12 regular meeting. One of their final actions was to vote in a 3 percent across the board raise for county employees and elected officials. The three percent figure was decided upon because that is close to the increased cost of living expense.

Cost of the raise will be roughly $90,000.00 according to Cooke County Auditor Gloria Parrish. The increase would become effective on Oct. 1 with the new fiscal year.

Even with the salary increase, members of Commissioners Court anticipate a lower tax rate than last year. The proposed tax rate for the 1996-97 budget will be set at a special meeting of Commissioners Court on Monday, Aug. 19 at 10 a.m. in the County Courtroom.

Habitat for Humanity begins in Cooke County

by Daryl Ferber
An incredible goal of eliminating sub-standard housing in the world, was begun 20 years ago by Habitat for Humanity International (HFHI) and is gradually making a difference.

John Jacquemot of Lake Iowa, a backer of a new affiliate being organized in Cooke County, spoke at the Cooke County AARP meeting, Friday. He explained Habitat for Humanity is a non-profit ecumenical Christian housing ministry. It was started in Georgia by Mr. and Mrs. Millard Fuller 20 years ago. It gained publicity when Past President Jimmy Carter and Mrs. Carter began working with the group. There are now 286 affiliates in the United States, with the addition of 32 new ones in June and July. Habitat is also represented in 7 other countries around the world.

Habitat for Humanity works in partnership, with families who want to better themselves and own their own homes. It is not free or a government handout. A committee selects a family unit who will carry a mortgage (no interest) and a sweat equity" - working a number of hours on their home and later, on other homes. Homes average cost is between $30,000 and $40,000. Proceeds then go into a revolving fund for the next project. Additional funds come from tax deductible donations of money and materials, with volunteer labor. A "building blitz" is scheduled to begin August 31 with a seminar and workshops. Then, the following week the blitz begins. Hundreds of people have signed up to build 20 houses in five days in Americas, Georgia. In the following week, the second annual "Building on Faith" week, 68 cities are building from one to twenty houses each. Pensacola is planning on five houses in one day, one of which will be the 50,000th house to be built during Habitat's twenty years.

Jacquemot stated that "we are required to form a local organization first, with standing committees" to become an affiliate. Dedicated people began a few months ago, to work towards the goal of a local affiliate.

Ken Huff, member of Cooke County AARP, and now on the National Board of AARP, informed the meeting of recent developments in Washington. He said they will also be discussing Habitat and possible ways AARP Chapters can become involved. Cooke County Chapter would like to become one of the first to take on this project, by perhaps, preparing meals for the workers when they begin projects, suggested President Joyce Malinowski.

Anyone interested in this worthwhile project can contact John Jacquemot at 668-7618 or write to Habitat for Humanity of Gainesville, P.O. Box 1381, Gainesville, TX 76241.

Four arrested for Aug. 11 assault on John Fangman, investigation continues

by Janet Felderhoff
John Fangman, 27, of Muenster was beaten, dragged and left lying in a ditch along County Road 453 northwest of Lindsay early last Sunday morning. He is hospitalized at Harris Hospital in Fort Worth in very, very serious condition according to reports by the Cooke County Sheriff's Department. At press time Wednesday he was still unconscious.

Chief Deputy Dick Rodgers of the Cooke County Sheriff's Department said that on Monday, August 12 law enforcement officers obtained an arrest warrant for four suspects in the aggravated assault on Fangman. Three of the four were juveniles and the warrants were Writ of Attachments.

Deputies from the Cooke County Sheriff's Department fanned out Monday evening and arrested all named persons in warrants and writ of attachments. The adult was 17 year old Christian Shawn Knighten of Gainesville. He was placed in Cooke County jail in lieu of $50,000 bond where he remained as of Wednesday.

The three juveniles were transported to Tri-County Detention Center in Denison pending a hearing with Cooke County Juvenile Court. A hearing was held for them on Wednesday. Chief Deputy Rodgers noted that the three juveniles were released back to their parents with the strict stipulation that one parent be with them 24 hours a day, except during school. The parents must take them to school and pick them up after school. Other than school the juveniles must stay at home. Any violation of these stipulations and the juvenile will be returned to the juvenile detention center. This is effective until the case comes up for an adjudication hearing whether that be a week or several months, said Rodgers.

It was around 1:30 a.m. Sunday morning that the Sheriff's office received the report on Fangman. Cooke County deputies and Cooke County EMS were dispatched to the scene. They were assisted by Lindsay Police Chief Jody Henry.

Sheriff's deputies interviewed persons at the scene and determined that the incident originated at a party held at a residence on CR 453 earlier in the evening. A verbal confrontation began inside with minors taking beer from a cooler that was not theirs.

This was carried outside when Garret Hellinger tried to leave. Wesley Odell, 21, of Gainesville came to Hellinger's aid and was struck in the head several times with a beer bottle. His injuries required multiple stitches to the back of the head and above the eye.

Chief Deputy Rodgers said that no charges have been filed in the Odell matter. It would be filed as a companion case with Fangman's. The more serious case was taken first. Hellinger was uninjured, but his pickup Please See ASSAULT on Pg. 2

St. Richard's Villa residents seek pen pals

The "skies were the limits" at St. Richard's on Friday, Aug. 9 as residents celebrated National Pen Pal Week. In honor of the event they wrote letters, asking replies; and then sent them off in helium balloons. The residents were very excited, and are eagerly anticipating "where, who and when" will they receive replies. Cookies and drinks were served afterwards on the patio, as they were blessed with a nice cool morning.

"Until next time, we wish all of you happy days and look forward to your visits," is the message they are sending.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
Telemarketing fraud is the number one crime against people age 50 and older. Everyday many of your readers are potential victims of this serious crime, but few know when they are being victimized, and less than 2 percent of this population understand that telemarketing fraud is a crime.

The American Association of Retired Persons (AARP), in conjunction with the National Fraud Information Center, (NFIC) is undertaking a major education effort to increase public awareness of telemarketing fraud. We will kick off the project with a public service announcement that is being distributed to dailies and senior papers across Texas. To make this an effective effort we need your help.

First, a little background on the subject. Who are the victims of telemarketing fraud? Not who you might think. AARP conducted the first large scale survey to investigate victimization among those 50 years and older. The results are surprising. Victims are relatively affluent, well educated and informed. They are active in their communities. Victims were also younger than expected.

For additional information please call me at (512) 480-9797.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

Bill Murray was born near Collinsville, Texas, in 1869, and eventually became a citizen of Oklahoma. He was one of the first to grow alfalfa in that State, and thereby earned the nickname "Alfalfa Bill."

Mr. Murray served as an Oklahoma Congressman from 1913 to 1917, and years later made a successful run for the governorship of that State and served as Governor from 1931 to 1935.

He is credited with being the only Governor to ever have his dinner guests literally "eat crow."

As I read the story, certain areas of Oklahoma were home to unusually large numbers of crows that regularly used a number of trees, here and there, for roosts at night.

Farmers and nut growers, anxious to find a way to rid themselves of the greedy pests, began to deploy powerful charges of dynamite in these roosting trees, and after the birds had settled in for the night, they would set them off. The force of the blasts killed hundreds, even thousands of the crows.

Governor Murray had a goodly number of these birds cleaned and dressed, then invited a number of friends, newsmen, and fellow politicians to dinner.

After the Governor's guests had all sated their appetites and were feeling quite comfortable enjoying an after dinner smoke or drink, or maybe both, Mr. Murray rose and said, "I suppose you would all like to know just what you have eaten a lot of." Then went on to tell them they had all indulged themselves in a mess of crow.

Well, as the story continues, some turned a bit green and made a hasty exit, while others lost their smiles but silently kept their seats.

Then there were the adventurous ones who seemed to enjoy the whole thing and said they had enjoyed the meal and would like to try it again sometime.

WORK CONTINUES on the new Lindsay High School building. The addition to the present middle school, when completed by Christmas, will see major movement in classrooms. The present high school will become the middle school as high school students take over the west buildings.

Loretta Roberg dies at age 82

Mass of Christian Burial was held for Loretta Loerwald Roberg, 82, in Sacred Heart Church on Tuesday, Aug. 13, at 10:00 a.m. with Father David Bellinghausen OSB officiating. Mrs. Roberg was the widow of Frank Roberg, Muenster native, who died on Jan. 30, 1970.

Loretta Loerwald Roberg died on Aug. 11, 1996 at Pecan Tree Manor in Gainesville.

She was born on Oct. 16, 1913 in Lindsay to William J. and Clara Hofer Loerwald. On Feb. 28, 1937 she married Frank Roberg in Lindsay. She was a homemaker and a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Survivors include one son, Bill Roberg of Gainesville and one daughter, Clarice Richards of Gainesville; and four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Also a twin sister Gertrude Booth of Dallas.

Preceding her in death were her husband Frank Roberg; and one brother, Julius Loerwald on Sept. 14, 1991.

A Vigil Service was held Monday at 7 p.m. at Geo. J. Carroll & Son Chapel.

Presenting sacred songs were Pam Fette, Christy Hesse, Linda Flusche. Selections were "On Eagles Wings" for the entrance; "Psalm of the Good Shepherd," "Only a Shadow," "Amazing Grace," "Edelweiss Blessing," and "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name." Pam Fette accompanied on the guitar and Linda Flusche on the organ.

Burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery beside her husband was directed by Geo. J. Carroll & Son Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Johnny Thompson; Ronnie Herr; Tom Herr; Johnny Pagel; Joe Nichols; and Bob Morris. Honorary pallbearers were Don Loerwald; Karen Barnhill; Gary Booth; Stephen Booth; and Richard Pagel.

The family has suggested memorials to Southwestern Diabetic Foundation, Inc. Gainesville, TX; or to the St. Mary's School Fund.

Collection procedure changes will strengthen security

The U.S. Postal Service announced changes in mail collection procedures that will increase security of commercial airlines carrying U.S. Mail.

"The changes are designed to enhance security measures and to protect the traveling public, postal employees and postal contractors who transport U.S. Mail," said Postmaster General Marvin Runyon.

Runyon added that the changes exceed FAA requirements and are one of several important steps the Postal Service is "prepared and willing to take to improve the level of safety and security of the airlines and the mail." Officials declined to discuss all of the security measures planned or already in place.

The typical consumer or business will notice very few changes, nor will there be any impact on service. Express Mail service is not affected.

The changes, effective August 16, affect packages mailed to international or domestic addresses deposited in mail collection boxes, such as street mail boxes, lobby and apartment drop boxes/receptacles, even rural customer mailboxes.

Customers will have to bring to post offices for entry with retail clerks domestic mail bearing stamps and weighing 16 ounces and over, and all international mail or military APO/FPO mail weighing 16 ounces and over and which in some cases may also require a customs declaration form.

The Postal Service will retain a record of the international and military APO/FPO mailing and the customer will be advised of this when the item is mailed.

Packages found in collection boxes will be returned to the sender if the addressee is outside the local area identified for overnight First-Class Mail.

Packages returned to senders will have an accompanying explanation advising them in the future to deposit this mail at the post office. Previously applied postage may be used when the item is re-mailed at a post office.

Investigation continued throughout Saturday night and during the day Sunday by investigators, deputies, Lindsay Chief of Police, and Investigator Kevin Benton of District Attorney Janelle Haverkamp's office.

Sacred Heart paints a bright face for 1996-97 school year

by Janet Felderhoff
 Students returning to classes at Sacred Heart School on Monday, August 19 will find that many areas have been lovingly covered in fresh paint. The spirit of Sacred Heart school has been demonstrated in the past few weeks, observed Sacred Heart principal Jack Murdock. Parents, grandparents, alumni, and students have been swarming over the school helping prepare for the new school year. All of the materials have been donated. Muenster Building Center donated many gallons of paint for repainting the high school. Besides being painted, the kindergarten room received new carpet for their stage area. The room formerly used to house the elementary library is repainted and refurnished. It is now the drama-music room. Students will find that the library was moved to the elementary building foyer. Elementary faculty can now relax in the faculty room that is fresh paint, new mini-lights and a new couch. High school was given a thorough cleaning, then the walls and lockers painted. Many of the desks in both schools were refinished. Sacred Heart Faculty welcomes some new faces this year. They replace Cindy Lee, Mrs. Linda Moore, and Sr. Mary John Seyler who have moved or resigned.

Carmen Bonin was hired to teach Kindergarten. She taught for several years at St. Mary's in Gainesville and has recently done extensive graduate work. She earned her degree from the University of Texas. Carmen's graduate work was done at Texas Woman's University. She and her husband, Steve, are members of St. Mary's Parish in Gainesville. Rhayma Keith from Whitesboro is the new Accounting, Business Math and Keyboarding instructor. She holds a degree in Accounting and Math and secondary certification in Math and Business from Southern Oklahoma State University. Rhayma has taught business and math in public schools and has extensive experience in the business world. Seventh grade teacher Glenda Mitchell earned a BS degree in History and English and a Master degree in History from Texas Woman's University. She taught in Guam where her students won many awards in writing, spelling, geography, and student newspaper. Jennifer Fuhrmann was assigned the position of fourth grade teacher replacing Terri DeGarmo. Jennifer is also one of the Red N Motion Dance Team sponsors. School begins at 7:50 a.m. Monday. All students and teachers will attend Mass at 8 a.m. After Mass students will report to their home rooms — Seniors, English Room #5; Juniors Math Room #6; Sophomores History Room #7; and Freshmen Science Room #4. Regular class periods will begin following schedule distribution and orientation. "The spirit of cooperation by all of the Sacred Heart School family is one of the principal reasons that Sacred Heart School continues to provide a nationally recognized program of excellence in academic, arts, athletic, and most importantly, spiritual education," said Mr. Murdock. Sacred Heart teachers for 1996-97 are: Preschool Pam Dangelmayr and Aide Kathy Berres; Kindergarten Carmen Bonin; First Anne Poole; Second Michelle Knauf; Third Cecelia Ashley; Fourth Jennifer Fuhrmann; Fifth, high school (HS) Speech and Drama, Theater Arts Debbie Endres; Sixth Bernadette Maritz; Seventh Glenda Mitchell; Eighth Dorothy Bengfort; Music and Reading Ruth Felderhoff; Elementary Aide Laneta Martin; Resource and Religion Sr. Genevieve McConnell; Art, Chemistry and Religion Patti Bayer. English Jo Bedowitz; Math and Sophomore Religion Sr. Cabrini Arami; Social Studies, Economics, and Spanish Joe Caserta; Science Donna Maxon; Junior Religion, Computer Science, P.E., and Boys' Athletic Coach John Nasche; Social Studies, Athletic Director, and Girls' Athletics Coach Jon LeBrasseur; Home Economics, Journalism, and Cheerleader/Dance Team sponsor Linda Ellender; Business Math, Accounting, Keyboarding Rhayma Keith; Senior Religion, Music Pam Fette; German Eric Gray; Freshman Religion Fr. Frowin Schoech and Kathy Bauer; Counselor Billie Yeager; Librarian Sr. Carmelita Meyers; Assistant Boys Coach Glen Swirczynski; Cafeteria Nellie Martin; Janitorial Mike Stoffels; Preschool Janitorial Celine Bartel; Administrative Assistant Mary Bayer; and Principal Jack Murdock.

THE NEW LINDSAY WATER TOWER has received a series of protective coatings, inside and out. After the intermediate white epoxy coats and final white urethane have cured for 10 days "Lindsay Knights" will be painted on in five foot Gothic letters. The 30 day job has been done by Blue Ribbon Lining and Painting of Houston by the team of Tunney Bayles, Ed McGinnis, David Rowe, and Ryan Coffelt. Bayles estimates the paint job should last at least 10 to 15 years. The work included finishing many of the welded joints. The outside paint was applied with rollers to avoid waste and spray drift. Problems of the elderly discussed

by Daryl Ferber
 Dick Rogers, of the sheriff's department, spoke on the problems of the elderly at the August meeting of Cooke County Triad held at the Stanford House in Gainesville. Domestic mistreatment of the elderly can be a problem and sometimes is only because they live alone. It can be recognized by depression or they may be timid and unresponsive. He urged watching for this in family or friends. He said ways to prevent this from happening are staying sociable by phone or visits and participating in community affairs whenever possible. He cautioned seniors about shopping alone; take a buddy, especially during the holidays. He told the women not to carry purses in their hands as it's too easy for someone to run by and grab. Janna Jones, director of RSVP office in Sherman, encouraged all to take part and help with Triad. Shirley Rector, Elder Rights Coordinator with Texoma Agency on Aging, also attended the meeting. Recently formed Cooke County Triad meetings are held each month on the second Thursday at Stanford House in Gainesville. The meetings are for all senior citizens, with the object of educating them on ways to avoid being victimized. Triad is a nationally formed organization of AARP, police and sheriff departments, to educate and help protect senior citizens.

Vows solemnized in Sacred Heart Church

by Elfreda Fette

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walter Luttmer are at home in Muenster since returning from their wedding trip to Sandals Royal Jamaican Resort in Jamaica.

The bride is the former Linda Louise Hess-Grewing, daughter of Mrs. Emma Lou Hess of Muenster and the late Arthur William Hess. The groom is the son of Walter and Helen Luttmer of Lindsay.

The bride attended Sacred Heart School and graduated from Muenster High School and earned a degree in Nursing from North Central Texas College. She is a Registered Nurse and Director of Muenster Memorial Hospital Home Care.

The groom is a graduate of Lindsay High School and is employed by Valenite as a machinist.

Their wedding was held in Sacred Heart Church on July 13, 1996, with Father David Bellinghausen OSB officiating the Nuptial Mass and double ring vows at 5 p.m.

Given in marriage by her son, Jonathan Arthur Grewing, the bride was wearing an elegant candlelight ivory gown of re-embroidered Alencon lace over summer satin. The entire dress and long slim sleeves were heavily beaded with seed pearls and iridescents. At her decollete neckline she wore a gold cross necklace, an engagement gift from the groom on Christmas Eve, 1994. The fitted bodice of the bridal gown was designed with a dropped waistline, and tiny pearl buttons along the center back. The fitted sheath-style skirt was full length. A detachable satin church-length train was enhanced with embroidered lace appliques with seed pearls and iridescents on the scattered cutouts.

She wore a brief two-tiered illusion veil held by a band of ivory rosettes embellished with sprays of seed pearls and opalescent crystals.

The bridal bouquet was a semi-cascade of miniature roses in a watermelon color, with soft ivory dendrobium orchids centered by a large white cattleya orchid. Touches of soft blue rosebuds, for "something blue," and pearl sprays accented the bouquet, with ivory satin and lace ribbons and English ivy. In keeping with sentiment, it was her sister Donna Biffle's wedding bouquet, which the bride individualized when adding the watermelon roses, pearl sprays and ivy. The bride had her crystal and silver wedding rosary, gift from the groom, entwined in the bouquet. Traditionally, she wore an ivory satin and lace garter.

ATTENDANTS

Maid of honor was Tammy Rose Hess of Muskogee, OK, bride's sister.

Bridesmaids were Donna Kay Biffle of Muenster, bride's sister; Diane Sicking of Myra, groom's sister; Tammy Sue Brown of Leo, TX, bride's daughter; and Julie Ann Walterscheid of Lewisville, bride's daughter.

They were identically attired in tea-length dresses of watermelon chiffon, with scooped front and back necklines. Elegant chiffon tie-back bows were attached to the back empire waistline. Enhancing the design were cap sleeves, covered buttons in back, and flowing skirts. Each carried matching double stems of Stargazer lilies in watermelon color, tied with ivory tulle. Their shoes were ivory. Gifts from the bride were their ivory satin gloves with ruffled edges, and matching pearl and crystalline earrings and necklaces.

Jayna Jae Biffle was flower girl, dressed similar to the bridesmaids, carrying a single lily and an ivory satin covered basket of flower petals.

Matthew Curtis Grewing, bride's son was ring bearer, carrying an ivory satin ring pillow. Billy Rae Grewing of Saint Jo, bride's daughter-in-law carried the Unity candle to place beside the altar. She was dressed similar to the bridesmaids.

Terry Hackler of Gainesville, a friend of the groom, was the best man.

Groomsmen were Wayne Luttmer of Lindsay, groom's brother; Tony Grewing of Saint Jo, bride's son; Mark Cler of Muenster and Mark McIver of Gainesville, both friends of the groom.

Ushers were Kenneth Nicholas Grewing, bride's son who also ushered the bride's mother; Brent Hess of Muenster, bride's brother; Roger Luttmer of Lindsay, groom's brother; and Greg Walterscheid of Lewisville, bride's son-in-law.

Mass servers were Jack Biffle, bride's nephew and David Hesse, friend and neighbor of the bride's family.

Wedding music was presented by Ruth Felderhoff organist, Christy Hesse and Roger Dieter vocalists; Dr. Edd Advincula on the ukulele playing "Somewhere, My Love," as an instrumental; and Terry DeGarmo on the flute.

A version of "Ave Maria" and "Always" were flute solos before Mass. Vocal selections were "On This Day," "Edelweiss," "Household of Faith," "Panis Angelicus" with the flute, and "Ave Maria." Organ solos were Pachelbel's "Canon in D," and Clarke's "Trumpet Voluntare."

After the Nuptial blessing, the couple knelt to pray at the Blessed Virgin's altar and the bride placed a memorial rose remembering her late father.

Taking part in the special wedding liturgy were Kenneth Luttmer, groom's brother with the First Reading and Responsorial Psalm; Alan Zimmerer, groom's cousin with the Second Reading and Offertory petitions. Eucharistic ministers were Carol Luttmer, groom's sister-in-law; Willard and Rosebell Zimmerer, groom's uncle and aunt; Debbie Hess, classmate and cousin of the bride; Alan Zimmerer, groom's cousin and Robert and Betty Miller, friends of the bride.

Altar decorations included arrangements of white gladioli on the high altar; tall floor candelabra with lighted candles beside the altar; and hurricane globes with lighted candles on alternating pews the full length of the center aisle.

RECEPTION

A reception, dinner and dance followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center. Hermes Sisters of Lindsay catered the dinner and D.J. Dave Muller provided music for dancing. Presiding at the bride's book were Karen Eddy and Diane Muller, lifetime friends of the bride.

The three-tiered all ivory wedding cake was decorated by Betty Rose Walterscheid with draped work; with floral accents between layers and magnolia blossoms on the top keepsake layer. A porcelain bridal Precious Moments figurine graced the bottom layer.

The two-layered chocolate groom's cake was decorated with chocolate icing, sliced almonds and fresh chocolate-dipped strawberries, clustered and cascading.

The bride's table was covered with an ivory lace cloth, and held the bridal bouquet, bridesmaids flowers and the flower girl's basket. Placed on mirrors were two antique crystal double candelabra encircled with watermelon and ivory soft sprays. Archways lightly draped with ivory tulle and a magnolia swag marked the placement of the formal bridal portrait, the cake table, and the bride's table. A separate table displayed the couple's treasured collections of Precious Moments figurines, Mary Moo Moo's figurines, childhood pictures of the bride, and the groom, and their engagement pictures. An ivory magnolia spray centered the gift table.

Guest tables were adorned with pearl strands woven through ivy, votive candles in wine glasses, and a hurricane globe in the center. The cheese table held a tall spiral candelabra and the wine table was covered with a lace cloth and corner bows. Cake servers were Kristen Hess, Haylee Upon return from Jamaica the couple took the bride's children on a promised trip to Wet-and-Wild and a trip to Lake Nocona. They are all at home in Muenster.

Thanks to a wonderful invention simply called a CALLER I.D. BOX, you can know who is calling you BEFORE you pick up the telephone.

When you are too busy to chat with Cousin Flo (or too tired to argue with a telemarketer), the Caller ID box will store the number* of the person calling. You can call back later (or never), without making any excuses. When you are away, it continues to record incoming numbers so you know who you missed.  ATIN: J.E.L.L.Y.
 Okay 7th and 8th grade! We're kicking off the new school year with an afternoon retreat out at the Roadrunner Ranch. Just bring yourselves to the Community Center parking lot no later than 11:30 a.m. and we'll bring you out there and bring you back by 5:30 p.m. Lunch is included! Bring yourself! Bring a friend (7th or 8th only please!). That'll be Sunday, August 25! See ya there!! There'll be food, snacks, games, activities, and more! Come on!

BATTER UP!
 It was hot. It was muggy. It was 6 p.m. Sunday. It was softball time! Eighteen people braved the early evening for the last game of summer vacation. After a bit of a warm-up, a gathering prayer, and the dividing up into teams, the game began. And what a game it was to be.

The first three innings were scoreless, both teams playing very well defensively, quite evenly matched. In the 4th, team II (who were up first) broke the goose-eggs, bringing home two runs. Team I answered with 3. The next inning ended at 5-4, team I on top.

And the clouds were rolling in, black, blacker, quicker, and it didn't look like the safest place to be was on a ball field. Graydog proclaimed the inning in progress to be the last, and then the excitement began.

Team II smashed in a solid two runs and were ahead by 1 when Team I stepped up to the plate to finish out the inning and game. Two base hits, then a third, pulled in one RBI. The score was tied. A runner was on third. The shortstop got excited. The pitcher threw, the batter hit, the ball went to the shortstop, error! The run came in, and the game was called! Team I had pulled it out at the end!

Immediately the winds hit, dust and sand flying everywhere. The players picked up, headed out, scattered and were gone in less than five minutes, and everybody had an instant ride home, too! Praise the Lord!

Participants on Team I were Patrick Miller, Matthew Nasche, Matthew Bayer, Janie Fisher, Bart Henscheid, Nicholas Yosten, Eric Gray, Allison Bayer and Russell Fette. Team II were John Nasche, Deann Bayer, April Walterscheid, Johathan Yosten, Loren Hermes, Carrie Coker, Josh Walterscheid, Ken Hesse, and Kelly Bayer. It was a game to remember!

SWIM, SWAM, SWUM
 J.E.L.L.Y. met last Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30 at the home of Chuck Bartush, Jr. for a major splash party. Energetic seventh and eighth graders were making some serious waves in the pool. Keep-away with boys against girls, dunk the dude with the ball, chicken on the diving board, double and triple stack-ups, singing under water, pool football, and more kept the bodies busy in the pool. Out of the pool were copious soft drinks, chips and treats. For a mid-time break, the "old folks" put on a "Baptism Fashion Show." They demonstrated how they were no longer the football player, cheerleader, homecoming queen, or A-student anymore, but that they were still themselves. The point was, no matter what we do today, it will probably change in the future. But what remains constant is who we each were made to be and called to be at Baptism. This cuts beyond the bounds of age and profession, and calls us all to be who God made us to be, not what the world or what others may want us to be. After the show, it was wet time again, and it was a splashing good time! Participants in the event were Chris York, Paul Fleitman, Michael Miller, Jeremy Yosten, Luke Endres, Kelly Fetsch, Jackie Bartush, Elizabeth Fette, Diane Becker, Sara Sepanski, Ernie Martin, Eric Gray, Janet Felderhoff, Jeannine Flusche and hosts Chuck and June Bartush. Now that was some serious fun!

New licenses go on sale through automated system

Handwritten licenses and check and stick stamps are now a thing of the past after hunting and fishing licenses for 1996-97 went on sale statewide Aug. 6 through the Texas Outdoor Connection. The new system will enable outdoor enthusiasts to buy 63 different electronically generated licenses, plus their placements, Texas Conservation Passports and any required hunting and fishing stamps (applicable fees) through a small, on-line terminal similar to credit card equipment. With the opening of dove hunting season only weeks away, the TPWD is reminding hunters to be sure and renew their licenses before heading afield. And, in the process of making those renewals, hunters should take note of a new discount license "package" available this year that offers a substantial savings. License prices of local interest were printed in last week's Muenster Enterprise. Licenses are available at Gehrig Hardware.

Registration ends Monday, Aug. 26. For more information call 665-6527.

Hornet Ice Cream Social is Aug. 16

There will be an ice cream social for Muenster Hornets, fans and families on Friday, Aug. 16 when football practice is over, approximately 6:30 p.m. It will be held in front of the concession stand at Hornet Stadium.

Collinsville Hosts Sportsman Golf Tournament on Sept. 14

The Collinsville Sportsman Club will host their third annual golf tournament at the Gainesville Municipal Golf course on September 14, with an 8:00 AM shotgun start. Teams will be limited to the first 36 teams. The tournament is a 2-man scramble, costing $45 per player, which includes fees, cart, and refreshments. For more information contact Sherrie Falls at 903-868-7613 or at night 903-429-6772.

Seniors fishing festival

THE LINDSAY football teams got in two-a-days last week before school began Tuesday. The Knights will face new challenges this season after being re-districted into class 2A. Thirty-seven players have reported to the field.

Seven steps to profitable wheat production listed

The first step in any good fertilizer program for wheat is soil test ... for residual nitrates (N), available phosphates (P), potassium (K) and other nutrients. Know what your resources are ... here you need to invest. Don't let nutrient shortages cut profits!

1. Soil N levels are likely to be low this fall. Be sure that your crop has adequate N for early-season growth, root development and termination of tillers.
2. Wheat soils in some areas have medium to high P levels in the top 2 inches. This may be misleading since below that depth, P soil tests levels frequently drop to low or very low.
3. Planning to graze wheat? Replant N and plenty of P are essential for good forage growth, big gains, and higher profitability. Build carrying capacity and grain yields with adequate P.
4. Don't forget micro nutrients! Could copper be limiting your yields? Wheat doesn't need much copper, but is very sensitive to copper deficiency. Responses to copper applications can be profitable. Look for deficiencies on organic soils or lighter textured soils. Use soil and tissue tests to confirm a copper deficiency.

5. Potassium requirements for wheat are about equal to N, 2.0 lbs. K2O per bushel produced. Adequate K increases tolerance to moisture and cold stress, improves standability, and helps fight diseases.
6. Sulfur deficiencies are likely on soils low in organic matter. Preplant, starter, or topdressed S can boost N use efficiency, grain yields, grain protein and profits.
7. Chloride fertilization may be the source of your next yield increase and added profit. Research indicates that top growers who are doing a good job of managing N, P, and S, and have not included potassium chloride (KCl) in their fertilizer program will likely benefit from applying Cl. Heavy precipitation flushes Cl from the soil and increases potential benefits from Cl fertilization.

Information submitted by A & L Plains Ag Laboratories.

Can we afford to fertilize?

Can cattlemen afford to fertilize during these depressed oil prices? The answer it depends. If you choose to fertilize; make sure you don't over fertilize. To check application, project your forage needs based on the number of cattle you have on hand or plan to keep. 1000 pound cow needs to eat 6 pounds of dry matter each day. A 1200 pound cow needs 21.2 pounds. To make a logical decision, have your soil tested, then you don't have to guess the amount of nutrients needed. Some soils may be able to produce one ton of forage, per acre, for example. A moderate size cow and her calf will consume five tons of forage per day, including hay. In other words it will take 5 acres of healthy Bermuda grass to run a pair without fertilizer. If you apply 150 pounds of actual nitrogen on 2 acres, the yield from 2 acres could be enough for one cow-calf unit.

Round-up Aug. 16-17

The Texas Ranch Roundup will be held this weekend, August 16 and 17, at the Mounted at the Arena in Wichita Falls. This year's Trade show will open Friday afternoon at 4 PM, with thirty-three exhibitors displaying their wares, and running through all day Saturday. Craig Cameron will have a "signing" show at 1:00 PM. Arena events start each evening at 7:30 PM, with the g Ranch Rodeo.

4-H members who are planning on exhibiting livestock during the Junior Show at the State Fair of Texas must get their entries in to the County Extension Office by Tues., Aug. 20.

4-H members need to call ahead this week in order for Ruth to have your livestock information copied. Entries will be processed at the Extension Office for 4-H and sent on to the State Fair Junior Livestock Department as a group. If you have any questions concerning any 4-H livestock project and its eligibility, contact the County Extension Office at 668-5412.

CRICKET INVASION DUE TO DRY TEMPERATURES

Dry sweltering summer heat is causing crickets to seek refuge in the nearest shelter and that's usually your home. They are moving into areas that are moist and they're looking for shelter so they're moving on into homes.

Crickets lay eggs in the fall, which overwinter in the soil. Late summer sees them maturing into adults. Sleepless nights kept awake by an incessant chirping will alert homeowners of a cricket problem. Other cues that crickets are sharing your living environment are discreet holes chewed into clothing.

Homeowners with pets may see a greater number of crickets seeking shelter in their homes. We usually assume that crickets eat foliage, but they will eat other things, and one of the things they will eat is pet food. Feeding pets outside may help to keep the number of crickets inside. If this is not feasible, pick up pet dishes after animals are through eating and drinking.

Securing the home can ward off an invasion of the summer insects. Weather stripping and caulking around doors and windows will provide a sealed environment the cricket can not penetrate.

It's useful to put a perimeter treatment around the base of the house, doors, and windows, on the outside of the home. This does not guarantee a cricket-free home, but can possibly reduce the number of crickets that actually enter the home.

Modifying the lighting around a home can also deter the number of crickets that gather. Make sure that spotlights in the yard are not aimed directly at a reflective surface, such as a window. Aim spotlights into bushes or a solid front door.

SPECIAL DROUGHT MEETING SET

Farmers, ranchers, city and county officials of Cooke County can get immediate answers about drought relief from State and Federal agencies by attending a meeting Mon., Aug. 19, at 1 p.m. in Sherman.

It is the latest in a series of drought relief briefings around the state and will be hosted by Representative Roger D. Sanders of District 62, along with Senators Tom Haywood and David Cain and Representatives Pete Patterson and Ric Williamson.

The program will be held at the Grayson County College in the Silver Wings Club. Representatives of 14 State and Federal Agencies will detail types of assistance and programs available to help offset problems created by the prolonged lack of rainfall.

"We want everyone who is interested to come," Sanders said. "We are issuing a special invitation to farmers and ranchers, as well as to city and county officials across the district to attend this meeting and obtain immediate information concerning drought assistance that may be available."

Agencies with representatives explaining their programs will include: Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission, Texas Water Development Board, Texas Department of Health, Texas Department of Agriculture, Small Business Administration.

Also Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Farm Service Agency, Natural Resource and Conservation Agency, Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board, Rural Development Agency, Comptroller's Office, Attorney General's Office and Department of Public Safety Governor's Disaster Coordination Office.

Further information about the meetings is available from the offices of Sanders, Haywood, Cain, Williamson and Patterson.

Beef checkoff program discussed via satellite

Cooke County Farm Bureau invites farmers and ranchers to the Farm Bureau Office on August 22 from 7-9 p.m. to view a special Town Hall meeting on the beef checkoff program which will be received on a satellite dish. Beef producers will be able to ask questions via a toll-free telephone number or fax.

The Texas Beef Council is sponsoring the live broadcast, which will feature leaders of the National Cattlemen's Beef Association, Cattlemen's Beef Board, U.S. Meat Export Federation, and Texas Beef Council. Please call 665-1763 or come by the office to sign that you will be attending.

Cattle numbers are down, liquidation is underway

The liquidation phase of the cattle cycle is well underway, indicates the recent U.S. Department of Agriculture Mid-Year Cattle Inventory Report.

The report estimates the total number of cattle and calves at 112 million head, 1 percent below last year's level.

Total beef cows were estimated at 35.6 million head, down 1 percent from 1995, and heifers for beef cow replacements were estimated at 5.5 million head, down 4 percent from last year.

The preliminary estimate for the 1996 calf crop is 39.8 million head, down 1 percent from 1995.

"Cow herds are down, replacement numbers are down, and the momentum in liquidation will carry us well into next year," said Bob Price, livestock analyst with Cargill Investor Services.

Agriculture Around the World

The world chicken population more than doubles the human population as the number one livestock animal on earth. Cattle come in second, followed by sheep, pigs, ducks, goats, turkeys, buffaloes, horses and donkeys.

China and India lead the world in countries with the highest population of chickens, goats, cattle, buffalo, pigs, ducks, horses and donkeys. The United States leads in turkey population and Australia with sheep. The U.S. follows in second place with chickens and pigs, third in cattle and fourth in horses. We didn't make the top 10 with the other animals.

In fruit production, the United States leads the world with apples and comes in second with peaches and nectarine production and oranges. The U.S. Ranks third in pears, fourth in grapes and seventh in mango and pineapple.

The number one fruit crop in the world is grapes, followed by bananas, apples and coconuts.

Sugar cane, then wheat top the world's food crops, followed by corn, rice, sugar beet, potatoes, barley, cassava, sweet potatoes than soybeans.

The United States is the leading corn and soybean growing country, second to sugar beets, fifth in potatoes and sixth in barley.

So they say... The temperature in degrees Fahrenheit can be estimated by counting the number of chirps made by a cricket in 14 seconds and adding 40.

LESSONS IN

Teachers are dusting off their chalkboards and preparing lesson plans for the school year just around the corner. Some lessons, however, should be practiced during the summer and the school year — lessons on electric safety. Electricity does a lot of great things for all of us. Yet it must be treated properly to ensure our safety and well being. Here are a few lessons in electric safety that will help to keep you safe:

1. Always respect electricity and ask your friends and relatives to respect it too. Unfortunately, electricity is very, very unforgiving when unleashed and one little mistake can be deadly.
2. Electricity and water do not mix. Always keep blow dryers, radios and other electric appliances well clear of sinks, bath tubs and swimming pools. Also, never plug in or operate an electrical device when you are wet or standing in water.
3. Always stay far away from electric wires and lines that have fallen down. Outdoor power lines are not insulated and any contact with them can cause serious injury or death. Remember, stay away and call Cooke County Electric Cooperative for help immediately.
4. Climbing trees is always great fun for children, but climbing a tree near an electric power line can be very dangerous. Always make sure there are no power lines running through or near a tree that your young one is about to climb.
5. Always look up. If you are installing a new television antenna or if you are positioning a ladder next to your home or business, make sure you are clear of any overhead power lines. Aluminum ladders and antennas are great conductors of electricity!

So remember, parents, when it comes to electricity, take all the necessary precautions to ensure your safety and the safety and well being of your children. It may be one of the best lessons in life that your children ever learn.
