Muenster To Be Host Tuesday For Soil Conservation Meet

Interesting Program Is Arranged For All-Day Session

Sociologists in Britain have expressed concern over the trend toward small families and the prevalence of birth control, stating that the numerical strength, even the survival of the nation, is threatened. There's food for thought there, especially in light of the statement that the average of five or more children per family in 1870 has dwindled to the current average of two children.

It doesn't take much calculation to realize from those figures that England's population is declining. Under the best possible circumstances, that is with all children reaching maturity, marrying and then maintaining the average of two children per family, the nation could do no better than break even. But some children do not reach maturity and others do not marry, so there has to be a decline.

Little wonder that thinking people are worried. Across the channel they see a prolific population increase in several countries. Elsewhere around the globe, especially in the orient, the same thing is going on. Everywhere in fact, except our own country, which is running England a close second in the mad dash toward race suicide. Like the British, we can well afford to ponder on the destiny of this country a few generations hence.

As much as we hate to admit it, the real cause of the impending doom is that Americans and Britons have been getting too smart for their own good. Already relieved of much discomfort and drudgery by technological advancement people get the idea they could have even more leisure and work by limiting the size of their families. Large or medium sized families became unpopular. They were even ridiculed.

As a result quite a few are wondering today how long this country or England will be able to hold its own against nations of normally increasing population. Some are wondering too whether our current economic woes would not have been diminished by a normal and orderly cooperation with natural social development.

For one thing the economic balance of supply and demand would be more nearly maintained if increased production, resulting from modern improvements, were offset to some extent by the increased consumption of a growing population. At the same time the production potential might be cut back toward the consumption potential if a larger percentage of women were in homes instead of industry. In that connection it would be interesting to compare the number of unemployed men with the number of employed married women who could without financial hardship be following domestic instead of business careers.

The law of nature is uncompromising. No person or nation can disregard it for long without being brought to task. Current troubles are making us more and more aware of that.

If it is true that the social trend is responsible in part for economic problems, it seems reasonable to assume that conditions could be improved by reverting to the old standards. To accomplish that one of the tasks is to depopulate the greed which induces families to scoble up more jobs than they need. Another is to encourage proper appreciation — instead of ridicule — for the dignity of those who accept the work and responsibility of rearing families. We'll know those tasks have been completed when people take greater pride in the achievements and behavior of their kids than they take in their bank accounts.

How to bring about the change is a problem to tax the ingenuity of our best minds. Reversing the trend of custom is very much like reversing the course of a stream. It can be done, but it takes time, patience and hard work.

There was comforting assurance in President Truman's assumption of full personal responsibility for future development and use of the atomic bomb. The implication, as we see it, is that he chooses not to let the secret out to another country and to few if any additional scientists of this country. Direction of development and use would become impossible in one case and increasingly difficult in the other.

As long as other countries do not have the secret we can at least feel reasonably safe in the thought that they may not develop one of their own, or if they do, that ours, by virtue of earlier discovery and additional research, is still the better model. Of course it is easily possible for another nation to discover and develop a bomb equal to ours, but we certainly are not in a position to (Continued on Page 4)

WATER RATE RAISED TO OUT OF CITY LIMIT CONSUMERS

The city council in its meeting Monday evening passed by a unanimous vote, a motion to raise the water rate on all meter connections outside the corporate city limits. The council pointed out that these users do not pay city taxes, and the raise will compensate the city for not receiving tax money from these users.

The new rate, effective immediately, doubles the minimum and the rate all the way through the schedule. In other words, the minimum is $2.80, for 1,000 gallons and 60¢ per thousand gallons for 3,000 after the first 1,000, and 50¢ on additional.

Other business at the council's meeting consisted of listening to complaints voiced by local businessmen in regard to the parking of automobiles and trucks in such manner on Main street as to obstruct the sidewalks and block pedestrian traffic over the sidewalk.

The council pointed out that there is a city ordinance in this regard and that it imposes penalties for such parking. In the future, car and truck drivers are reminded to not obstruct sidewalks and to not park in driveways otherwise the provisions of the ordinance will have to be enforced.

SUBIACO ALUMNI ELECT OFFICERS AND PLANS SOCIAL

The annual benefit party will be held in Muenster this year, on October 28, it was decided. An interesting program of events for the affair is being planned by the committee in charge.

Geneva Gremminger honored with party. Miss Geneva Gremminger was complimented with a party on Sept. 25 in observance of her 19th birthday. The courtesy was extended by Miss Mary Ann Reiter and the guest list included Marian Gremminger, Anne and Lucille Arendt of Lindsay, Helen Ruth Otto and Dorothy Mae Yosten.

The group met at the Reiter home where the honoree was showered with gifts and then enjoyed a theatre party at the Relax. Following the show delicious refreshments were served by the hostess at her home.

Rev. Father Thomas Is Honored With Farewell Tributes

Rev. Thomas Buegler, Muenster pastor for three years, who left Wednesday to pastor at Rhineland, was honored with a number of farewell parties and tributes prior to his departure.

Climaxing the series of events was a community-wide social in the parish hall last Wednesday evening. The entire Muenster congregation was at the affair in spite of the very inclement and threatening weather and scores of persons from neighboring communities swelled the crowd to one of the largest ever assembled in the hall.

The evening's program opened with a concert by the Sacred Heart Band under direction of John Hoffman after which Mayor J.M. Weinzapfel gave the principal address. He spoke representing the four parish societies, the church committee, the Knights of Columbus and its auxiliaries, the Catholic Daughters of America and the Fourth Degree K of C Assembly and as mayor of the city. In his talk he paid respect, rendered tribute, expressed sincere thanks and appreciation, and extended farewell to Father Thomas. He said "We are parting with an ardent leader" and recalled how well Father Thomas had served as pastor, financier, principal of the school and in the management of the spiritual and physical properties of the congregation. As mayor he recalled the pastor's many fine performances of civic leadership.

Following his address, Mrs. Ben Seyler, president of the Saint Anne's Society, made a few comments and presented Father Thomas with farewell gifts from St. Anne's Society, the Young Ladies Sodality, St. Joseph's Society, the Holy Name Society and the Catholic Daughters of America.

J.W. Hess, president of Saint Joseph's Society, was master of ceremonies, and then called upon Father Thomas to speak. He began by recalling that 1945 has been an eventful year, listed events of outstanding interest and concuded the list with "Father Thomas leaves Muenster". He expressed his thanks and appreciation for the cooperation and help he received while he served as pastor, his gratitude for the program and for the gifts, and admonished the parishioners to continue on the straight and narrow path that leads to eternal happiness. He asked their cooperation and continued assistance for Father Herman, who replaces him, and while the entire atmosphere of the occasion held a note of sadness, he occasionally permitted his humor and wit to come to the surface to relieve the tenseness of the situation.

A group of selections by the Band concluded this part of the program and the assemblage repaired to the basement where refreshments and bazaar attractions were featured. Later a dance on the main floor supplemented the picnic.

Childrens Program. In grateful appreciation, and to express their love for their pastor, pupils of Sacred Heart school presented a delightful program in the school auditorium Wednesday afternoon. All grades of elementary and high school were represented on the program.

There were songs, addresses and short skits, and the presentation of gifts: from the high school an Eversharp pen and pencil set and a cash gift, from the grade department a horn of plenty, including a wide assortment of presents and from the entire student body and faculty, a spiritual bouquet.

The program was held at 2:30 in the school auditorium and was attended by parents and friends in addition to the students and faculty. The honor guest brought the program to a close with a few well chosen words addressed to students and teachers, and declared the remainder of the afternoon a holiday.

On Friday evening members of the band and church choir enjoyed a social with Father Thomas as the honor guest and presented him with a parting gift.

On Wednesday evening of this week the local knights of Columbus paid respect to their chaplain Father Thomas, by devoting a portion of their regular meeting as a farewell tribute to him.

IS DINNER HOSTESS. Miss Dorothy Mae Yosten entertained with a dinner party in her home Sunday at noon for a group of friends. The invitation list included Misses Mary Ann Reiter, Helen Ruth Otto, Geneva Gremminger, Mildred Wiesman, Edna Margart Hartman, LaVeta Martin of Gainesville and Anne and Lucille Arendt, Lindsay.

Father Herman Comes To City As New Pastor

Succeeds Father Thomas Who Is Named Pastor Of Rhineland Parish

Rev. Herman Laux, O.S.B., arrived here Tuesday to take up his duties as pastor of Sacred Heart parish, replacing Rev. Thomas Buegler, O.S.B., who has been appointed pastor of the Rhineland, Texas parish where Father Herman served as pastor for the past four years.

On Tuesday and Wednesday the two priests introduced each other to routine duties of their parishes and exchanged ideas and helpful hints on their new work. Father Thomas left for Rhineland Wednesday evening.

"I know I am stepping into a big job and I am determined to make the best of it," Father Herman said. "Father Thomas accomplished a great deal and I shall try to do as well."

Father Herman comes here as a man experienced in parish work. He is 34 years old and has been a priest since May 26, 1938. A native of Cottonwood, Idaho, Fred Laux was born Nov. 25, 1911. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Laux of Lindsay. He moved to that community with his parents as a lad and attended school there. In 1927 he entered Subiaco Academy, and four years later began his theological course at Subiaco Seminary. Father Herman celebrated his first mass at Lindsay on June 6, 1938, and then returned to Subiaco, teaching at the college for a year. He was then pastor of St. Benedict's parish at Subiaco for a year and did parish work at Tyler for seven months before being appointed pastor at Rhineland on Aug. 25, 1941.

OLD MAN WINTER PAYS PRE-MATURE VISIT, BRINGS RAIN

Old Man Winter paid this community a pre-mature visit during the latter part of last week blowing in with a cold, wet norther that took thermometers down to 52 degrees, and broke a long dry spell.

Rain fell from Monday last week every day in varying amounts, until Monday night this week for a total of 6.4 inches of precipitation. Last Wednesday night's rainfall was heaviest during the period and recorded an even two inches. Monday's wind-up netted about a half inch.

Winter coats, jackets and blankets were taken from moth balls and motorists made rushes for anti-freeze. Fires burned in all homes and businesses during the latter part of the week to take out the chill.

The rain was a boon to thirsty feed crops and pasture grass and was ideal to put fields in condition for plowing and other work. The sun was out again Tuesday but the day was partly cloudy, with rising temperatures.

SCHEDULE OF CHURCH SERVICES ANNOUNCED FOR STANDARD TIME

Standard time returned to the United States Sunday and there was little confusion in Muenster as the result of the change-over.

The pastors at Sacred Heart church announced the schedule of services as follows: Sunday masses at 7, 9 and 11, the same hours as during war time, but according to standard time. Weekday masses are at 6:30 and 8:30 Monday through Friday, and both masses on Saturday are to be read at 6:30. Rosary devotions, formerly held at 8 p.m., are switched to the winter schedule and will take place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, on Sundays. October rosary devotions are held at 7:30 p.m. during the week.

Classes at the public school, operating on the standard time schedule begin at 8:30 instead of 9 as was practiced under war time. At the parochial school the students first attend the 8:30 mass, which precedes the opening of classes. As a result all school buses run on schedules a half hour earlier than was employed during war time.

Baking powder, when thrown on a small blaze, will decompose, producing carbon dioxide, and the acid salts will fuse and coat the burning materials and extinguish the fire.

Mayoroddities

By J. M. Weinzappel
Muenster Mayor

When the City Secretary requests the fee of $1.00 for a building permit the usual retort, "What's that for?" or "Why such a charge?" Then a lot of explanation is required to collect and to make delivery of the permit.

An ordinance adopted by the City Council on June 23rd 1927 reads, "A Building Permit for a fee of $1.00 is required before any construction or addition is made exceeding the cost of $25.00, with in the corporate limits. It must be obtained. BEFORE WORK ACTUALLY BEGINS. The object of a permit is for the Secretary to determine whether the construction meets with all of the ordinances pertaining to fire-zones, plumbing for sewer connections and electrical wiring. This is to protect the property of the citizen-ship, by avoiding fire hazards maintain health and meet with the building laws to hold the reduced fire insurance rates by virtue of such ordinance. Many other benefits could be related but time and space will not permit however probably at some later time various phases can be discussed. Getting such a permit will after all avoid the excuse that the various ordinances exist and give assurance that such construction is permissible under the prevailing circumstances.

At this same meeting other ordinances were passed. For instance one provided a penalty of $1 to $25 for obstructing sidewalks. The recent complaints for such violations near the Relax Theatre and other business places should evoke caution by the offenders, lest they be brought to task to realize that such ordinances exist.

The speeding ordinance adopted also at that same meeting was called to the attention of readers of this column. However some are persisting the practice to exceed the prescribed speed limit and it appears that a good example of the ordinance means must be exercised before such warnings are heeded.

Reports of the shipment of a carload of 4200 feet of 4 1/2" OD pipe to connect the new well to the reservoir are that it is on the way starting from Alliquippa, Pa., on September 30th., 1945. With the New Pump and the pipe on the way we expect to have the installation under way now before long to assure an increased water supply.

A letter from a citizen was read anonymously to the City Council at the regular meeting Monday evening and it gave the august body an idea of some obligations of those in authority and held responsibility for the welfare of our City. More letters will be appreciated and the writer's name held in confidence.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to 75 ladies.

A brief visitor and a special guest during the social was Pastor Father Thomas, spiritual director of the organization. He gave a short farewell message to members, thanking them for their help and cooperation in parish affairs while he was pastor here, and expressing his gratitude for all favors of the past three years.

THE AMERICAN PRESS... TORCH OF WORLD PEACE

We join all Americans this week in paying tribute to the men and women of the American Press for doing an outstanding job of disseminating news of the world during war and peace... and in honoring the American War Correspondents who exposed themselves to the dangers of battle in order to keep the public informed regarding the progress of the war. As the American Press has been the source of truth in news during the trying years of the war, so will it be the torch of world peace in the future.

FORD OWNERS

As they say on the radio...

Here's our Problem-

How can we accentuate the positive side of our service business and eliminate the negative side—such things as taking a little longer to service your car and possibly asking you to bring your car back next week instead of leaving it today?

The Answer—More mechanics as soon as we can get them and asking you to make appointments to have your car serviced. Some day, "there'll be a new Ford in your future"—we want to sell it to you. Thanks for being patient.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT
BY UNCLE BOB
of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

This is really a hot subject, a burning question which every dairy farmer needs to warm up to. It is also something which needs cool consideration.

A number of farmers I know are in the habit of the fall of setting fire to the grass in their pastures, with the idea that they are helping next year's pasture.

Instead, Oklahoma tells us burning pastures destroys food in the soil and causes greater soil erosion. A discussion of the injury done by burning is found in Bulletin B-247, Extension Service, Oklahoma A & M College, Stillwater, Okla.*

Tests made in Oklahoma show that when grass is burned, nitrogen is lost and organic matter is destroyed. Four per cent of the water which fell on a burned plot ran off but less than two-tenths of one per cent of the water ran off a plot which had not been burned.

Ten times as much soil was lost from a burned plot as from an unburned plot. One little match can cause a lot of dollars to go up in smoke in a pasture as well as around a barn or haystack, it seems.

A great deal of the material which has appeared in this column has been assembled into a booklet, for ready reference. Lists of bulletins on the many subjects which I've talked about and how to get these bulletins are included. I'm sending these out to all my friends everywhere and wish you'd drop me a note to be sure that your name is on the list. Ask for this "Moos Booklet" at your Kraft plant or send a postcard to Uncle Bob, 500 Peshtigo Court, Chicago 90, Ill. There is no charge.

I'm the kind of a guy who enjoys heartily doing something good by not doing something. Sounds a little like double talk, but one of the best things you can do for next year's permanent pasture is not using it too long this fall.

Grass needs a rest, in order to build itself up for winter. Sturdy root growth and good growth above ground is required for grass to go safely through the winter.

If you leave your herd on your native pasture too long in the fall, close cropping and trampling of roots may cut down the amount of food which the cows will get out of the grass next spring.

And regardless of whether you are asked to increase your milk production next year or hold your production where it is, the best and cheapest way to produce milk at all times, is by better pastures. Take care of your pastures now and they'll take care of you and your cows next year.

Most youngsters don't have very much to say about the name they go through life with.

With a business, it's a little different. A company can and should change its name to fit what it makes and sells. That's why your Uncle Bob now comes to you from the "Kraft Foods Company" instead of the "Kraft Cheese Company."

Actually, only one word has been changed, and Kraft will continue to buy, to make and to sell the same fine line of cheese of every variety as it has done in the past. That's our main business and will continue to be, but the new name will cover the many other fine dairy foods, the salad dressings, the mustards, the caramels and the other household and industrial products made and sold by Kraft.

Yes, the name has been changed but you'll still find the same faces at the plant where you sell your milk. The field man will be just as ready to help you with your dairy production problems. And I'll be writin' to you from the same corner of this newspaper.

*NOTE: There usually is a 5c charge for pamphlets mailed to non-residents of a state, but possibly your own state has a free pamphlet on the same subject. Ask your county agent.

Miss Anna Kupper, who underwent an operation at Gainesville recently, is able to be up and around. Miss Catherine Swirczynski of Muenster spent last week with her, returning to her home Sunday.

Classes at the Lindsay school recessed on Sept. 24 for four weeks to permit children to help in gathering the cotton crop. Extensive rains during the past week have fields flooded and there will be no outside work for sometime. Cotton is reported damaged by the heavy rainfall, but other crops and pastures benefitted by the moisture.

The freshmen and sophomore classes at St. Peter's school formed a Catholic Action Club and elected the following officers: Betty Lou Bezner, president; Florene Arendt, vice president; Bernadine Lutkenhaus, secretary and Raymond Sandmann, treasurer. With re-opening of classes a program of activity is to be carried out.

MISS LAVETA BOND,
EUGENE SCHMITZ
MARRIED SEPT. 25

The wedding of Miss Laveta Bond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.G. Bond of Gainesville, and Eugene Schmitz, son of Theo Schmitz of Lindsay was solemnized Tuesday morning, Sept. 25th, at 8:30 a.m. in Saint Mary's church at Gainesville, with Rev. Thomas Buergler of Muenster officiating at the nuptial mass and at the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a floor length frock of white marquisette, fashioned with a round neckline, sheer yoke and bouffant skirt extending into a long train. A halo of orange blossoms capped her fingertip veil of imported illusion. Her only ornament was a locket belonging to her mother. She wore a corsage of white gladioli and carried a white prayer book and pearl rosary.

Miss Edith Bond attended her sister as maid of honor. Her dress was yellow net over taffeta and her flowers were gladioli in fuchsia color.

Miss Margie Plumlee, wearing green net, and Mrs. Anthony Klement, sister of the bridegroom, wearing pink taffeta, were bridesmaids. Miss Plumlee's flowers were yellow gladioli and Mrs. Klement's were pink gladioli.

Herbert Bezner attended as best man and groomsmen were Cpl. Grant Cox and Pat Schmitz, brother of the groom.

Mickey Bond, nephew of the bride, and little Miss Doris Lee Horn of Muenster, niece of the bridegroom, were ring bearers. Little Miss Horn wore a blue taffeta dress with a corsage of peach gladioli.

After the service a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bridegroom's father, and at noon Mr. Schmitz received friends at his home for a reception. The table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with a three-tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. White tapers in crystal candelabra flanked the cake.

A dinner was given in the Lindsay hall by parents of the couple at 8 p.m. and a dance beginning at 9 concluded the day's events honoring the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmitz left after the dance for a two weeks' trip. The bride wore a grey suit with brown accessories and a corsage of white gladioli for traveling. They will be at home in Gainesville when they return.

Mrs. Schmitz is a graduate of Gainesville high school and Mr. Schmitz attended school at Lindsay.

LINDSAY YOUNG MEN TO GIVE CYO PARTY OCT. 10

Members of the Young Men's Society of Lindsay, meeting in regular session during the week, planned to form discussion club groups and arranged for a party in the form of a CYO social to be held on the evening of Wednesday Oct. 10, beginning at 8:30.

The Muenster CYO group has a special invitation to attend, the committee in charge pointed out. President Robert Kupper, presiding during the session, and Pastor Father Conrad delivered an inspiring address, urging the boys to form study club groups. The groups would be arranged so as to eliminate traveling a long distance. These clubs are expected to get underway in the near future.

Confetti---

tainly would not diminish that chance by sharing the secret. In other words we have everything to gain and nothing to lose by keeping mum.

There have been some who maintained that we should share the secret with Russia in return for her gallant assistance in winning the war. As if Russia would share with us if she had been first to discover! Perhaps the advocates of that plan have already forgotten that Russia, even while she was our ally, refused to allow American correspondents behind the lines except on carefully guarded tours. What could have been the purpose except to keep secrets from us?

More absurd was the suggestion to share the atomic secret with all United Nations. Whoever hatched the idea must not have given much thought to the possibility of being at war with one or several of those nations later. Neither did he consider how long the secret would remain secret if more than twenty nations know about it. The chances are about as remote as confining a choice bit of gossip to as many women. If not freely given to a good friend it will be bought from a traitor or stolen by a spy.

So Russia thinks it should have a voice in determining MacArthur's policy in Japan and the rest of the far Pacific. No doubt she does feel sort of by-passed. Ruling directly over a sixth of the land surface of the globe and controlling the political policy in more than half of Europe besides a sizeable chunk of China, she should worry about not having enough iron in the fire. Besides there's the fact that she participated for more than a week in a war that we fought almost single handed for only forty four months. By her standards that fully entitles her to poke a directing finger in Japanese affairs.

The committee in charge of plans for the party next Wednesday has announced that a grand time is in store for all attending and a large assemblage is anticipated. Various entertainment features will be offered and prizes awarded.

HERBERT BEZNER HAS DISCHARGE FROM NAVY

Herbert Bezner, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bezner, has received a discharge from the Naval Air Service and is at home here.

He entered the Navy, choosing the Seabees, in June 1942, and trained at Camp Allen, Norfolk, Va., Camp Endicott, R.I.; Port Huene, Calif., and went overseas in Nov. He served at Kodiak, Dutch Harbor, Atka, Adak, Amchitka and Attu and participated in the invasion and occupation of Attu.

He returned to the states in Jan. 1944, was assigned to Navy Refresher Unit, and volunteered for training as a naval pilot. He attended school at Liberty, Mo., and at Iowa City, Iowa, where he took his preflight training.

Decorations include Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with a battle star, American theatre, and Navy Good Conduct ribbon.

LINDSAY SODALITY HAS

Pastor Father Conrad was a visitor and principal speaker for the occasion. He explained the benefits derived from discussion clubs and members were divided into three groups for this purpose. Each group will meet once a week for eight weeks.
