

NCTC Foundation hits one million dollar goal

In an exciting moment during its annual Donor Appreciation Banquet Tuesday evening, the North Central Texas College Foundation, with the generosity of long-time friends and associates who announced two new gifts for endowed scholarships, revealed to the crowd that it had reached its $1 million goal during the festivities.

"We have been working hard towards this goal, and it wouldn't have been possible without those who love North Central Texas College and who contribute not only their time, but also their money to the Foundation," said Dr. Ronnie Glasscock, president of NCTC. "The Foundation has assisted many North Texas students over the years, this past year we were able to award over 200 scholarships to students, and we couldn't be happier to make this announcement tonight with everyone who has made such a difference."

The Foundation got the boost to put the funds over the million dollar mark with a $15,000 contribution and the generous establishment of the Urban and Jane Endres Family Scholarship in memory of their son Stephen Frank. There was also a $1,000 contribution from Louis and Lee Simons, the Simons' contribution will be matched by ARCO bringing the total assets of the Foundation to $1,001,884.

The Endres family of Muenster is well known at NCTC. Urban Endres was first elected to the NCTC governing board in 1966 where he served for five consecutive six-year terms. He also served as the Board's vice-chairman and two terms as chairman. Endres' son Jack, now serves on the NCTC Board of Trustees. "Urban Endres and his family have given much to North Central Texas College — not only an endowed scholarship, but 30 years of service," noted Dr. Glasscock.

The Simons' contribution was made to the already established Roger Louis Simons Scholarship in memory of their son. With this contribution, the Roger Louis Simons Scholarship fund has grown to more than $50,000 since its establishment in 1991.

The Donor Appreciation Banquet was about honoring all contributors to NCTC Foundation. While the thrill of surpassing the million dollar goal topped the evening off, the majority of the night was dedicated to an entire year of contributors who helped break this goal.

"I would like to thank each of our donors for their generous contributions to the Foundation," said Ed Wright, president of the Foundation Board. "Each of you are having an impact on our future and helping to prepare our NCTC students to enter the workforce."

Scholarship recipients acted as hosts and hostesses for the evening giving contributors the opportunity to get to know them on a personal level.

Linda Ritcherson, vice-president of the Foundation, introduced the Patron's Honor Circle awards, which honored donors who contributed between $1,000 and $4,999. Rodger and Juddi Boyce of Gainesville were honored for their contribution to the General Academic scholarship fund at NCTC.

Dr. Glasscock welcomed the First State Bank into the Patron's Honor Circle. The bank has contributed to many different NCTC programs and activities in support of the students. Events like the Danny Darwin Golf Tournament and the Teacher of the Year Award are made possible, in part, by the First State Bank. First State Bank trust officer Linda Ritcherson also takes an active role in the Foundation by serving as the Board's vice-president.

Glasscock introduced and recognized contributors to the Benefactors Honor Circle — those who contributed $5,000 to $9,999. The Pauline Pace Trust was established to provide Cooke County residents with scholarship assistance. Ms. Pace wanted to ensure that Cooke County residents have the opportunity to pursue a higher education. Linda Ritcherson, trustee for this fund, accepted the award on behalf of the Pace family.

Members of the Founders Honor Circle ($10,000 and $19,999) were also honored. Tuesday night's dinner honored the memory of Jane Greer Hardy who had been an active member of the NCTC Foundation Board for many years, serving as vice-president. She established the Alfred J. Hardy Electronics Scholarship at NCTC.

Inducted into the Founders Honor Circle was Bill Adams of Arlington. Mr. Adams grew up in Cooke County and continues to support NCTC students through his annual contribution to the Foundation. HE has assisted many students over the past 12 years through his contribution to the General Academic Scholarship Fund.

The Foundation also inducted Ms. Lois Whitson into the Founders Honor Circle. Ms. Whitson has been an active member of the Foundation for the last year and feels that all people with a genuine desire to go to college should have that opportunity despite financial obstacles. Students who demonstrate a need can now apply for the fully endowed Lois Whitson Scholarship.

Contributors were honored with acceptance into the Bronze Honor Circle for giving $20,000 to $29,999. Although she became a donor more than two years ago with her first

by Daryl Ferber

A letter of resignation from Ronnie Felderhoff was read by Mayor Weinzapfel at the close of the May meeting of the city council Monday evening.

Felderhoff was credited with doing a great job in the ground work for the new water tower. His reason for resigning was building a new home outside city limits and feeling that this was the time for a new person to take over before building of the tower starts. May 31 was the date given for resignation to take effect.

Mayor Weinzapfel told Felderhoff "We enjoyed working with you and hate to lose you. We appreciate all your work on the water tower." Felderhoff responded that in the nine years he has served the City of Muenster, "the present council is the best group I've ever worked with, you are doing a great job."

The vacancy will be filled by appointment of the city council. Members were asked by the Mayor, to make suggestions of possible candidates. The person needed, must be dedicated to the city, the new well and the lake project, he said.

The returning aldermen were given the oath of office by the Mayor. He then appointed John Pagel as Mayor Pro-tem and kept the commissioner in the same previous positions: John Pagel, streets; Ronnie Felderhoff, water; Stan Endres, sewer and sanitation; Bert Walterscheid, police and fire; Jewel Otto, parks and library.

The council voted to give their support to the Texas Air Quality Coalition with a donation of $200. This Coalition of North Texas smaller cities and communities was formed to fight the stringent new pollution regulations for the Metroplex. The regulations would be a hardship on small businesses and not needed in the other areas beyond the Metroplex.

Pat Dillon of Southwest Consultants was awarded the contract for professional services concerning the 1998 Texas Community Development Program. David Flusche, Sr., city fire inspector, was granted permission to attend the course of Standing Building Code Fire Resistance and Egress for Building Inspectors.

Quarterly report on property cleanup gave the city a "blue ribbon" for its appearance at Germanfest time. Reports from visitors saying what a nice, clean town Muenster is, were heard.

The council raised no objections to the request of Muenster State Bank for a variance in their remodeling plans to include an ATM machine. The request goes to the zoning board and a hearing will be held, as required.

Monthly bills approved amounted to $64,435.50.

1998 Muenster Water District tax rate to be lower

by Steve Broyles

The estimated 1998 property tax statements will be mailed soon by Cooke County Tax Appraisal District. The actual 1998 effective tax rates will not be set until late August or early September, after next year's fiscal budgets have been approved by the various taxing entities.

The tax rate for Muenster Water District will show a .28553 tax rate on the tax statement. This is an increase over last year's tax rate of .2489. However, the approved 1998 tax rate will be reduced about 25 percent from that shown on the published tax statements. Therefore, when reviewing the estimated tax rates for Muenster Water District, multiply it by 75 percent to get a more accurate tax estimate.

The reduction is required because the anticipated $700,000 bond issuance for Muenster Water District did not occur in 1997 as scheduled. Therefore, projected principle and interest payments were not needed. This resulted in excess tax being collected for 1997. As a result, the taxes needed for 1998 will be reduced by the amount of the excess tax collected in 1997. Thus, even though the $700,000 bond issuance will occur in 1998, the 1998 property taxes needed to pay the interest is less. As a result, tax payers will receive a reduction in the approved Muenster Water District 1998 property tax rate.

Chief appraiser predicts increase in property values for Cooke County

by Janet Felderhoff

A 10 to 12 percent increase in values for the county is estimated by Will Presson, chief appraiser for the Cooke County Appraisal District (CCAD). Presson told the CCAD board members at their April 23 meeting that the appraisers had re-worked most of the commercial property in the Gainesville ISD and are working the rural properties.

More than 15,000 notices of appraised values are expected to be mailed to property owners in the county by the deadline of May 15. Between now and the end of July is the CCAD's busy time. They are mailing notices, certifying the tax roll, and calculating the tax rate.

According to Presson, the CCAD's lawsuit with Tom Thumb had been settled and a mediation with Wal Mart was scheduled for April 29.

There are five people appointed to this year's Appraisal Review Board (ARB). Presson noted that originally they had agreed to have five members and an alternate. At a recent course in Austin he learned that alternates cannot vote. What they actually need is temporary ARB members because if a member can't be at a scheduled meeting, a temporary can take the member's place. They would have to attend the same type of schooling that the five members have just completed.

It was decided to have the five members and two temporaries. Persons nominated to the position of temporary were Brenda Mobley, Bill White, and Ben Hawkins. Mobley and Hawkins drew the most votes and were appointed temporary members of the ARB. Mobley and White had three votes each to Hawkins two.

"The knowledge that a person in the real estate business lends to a discussion is very, very valuable," said Carlton in her reasons for nominating Brenda Mobley. "Sometimes they just know things. I can't say how much I value the input we got from Brenda as a knowledgeable realtor in Gainesville." Mobley previously served on the ARB at the same as Carlton did.

Once again a representative from CPS software was scheduled to appear at the CCAD Board meeting to give an update on the district's computer system. The representative didn't show. This time the reason given was that they were having a users meeting that day. Presson was scheduled to attend after the CCAD meeting.

In CPS's defense Presson said, "They've hit all their deadlines. The next big step is at the end of this month we're supposed to have this interface from collections to appraisals so we only have to make one change. The system seems to be working. All of the Legislative changes have been made and are working fine. They're doing what they told us they were going to do."

Board member Jane Carlton was not happy with CPS's failure to appear when scheduled. "I don't know how many months this has been on the agenda, but I would like to see the whites of somebody's eyes, just as a matter of courtesy. We have asked and asked and we don't get anything. Just as a matter of courtesy you would think that after three or four months somebody would bother to show up."

Board member Stephen Cole agreed with Carlton. He noted that this was the third month that the board had asked for a briefing from CPS and hadn't received anything. "I'm very put out with this," he stated.

In other business conducted at the April 23 meeting:

- Additions, deletions and amendments to the policy manual was again tabled.
- Minutes of the Feb. 13 meeting were reviewed and approved 3-0-1. Arthur Felderhoff abstained from voting because he was absent from that meeting.
- Payment of bills and the financial statement were reviewed.

Rabies reported in area

by Janet Felderhoff

Recently there have been a number of reports of suspicious skunks in the area. The animals have been seen out during daylight hours and are said to appear to be sick. Local veterinarian Dr. Larry Tisdale confirmed that there has been a higher incidence in reports of skunk sightings this spring. He wasn't sure if this was because there are more skunks than normal or if rabies is more prevalent this year.

"There was a case confirmed in Saint Jo where a horse died of rabies and in Forestburg where a skunk bit a dog and the report came back positive for rabies," remarked Dr. Tisdale. "There have been many, many sick skunks seen where people have shot them, but the head was not sent in." Please See RABIES, Page 3

Cooke County Electric 700-plus at annual meeting

Letters to the Editor

In spite of rain that forced last minute changes, Cooke County Electric Cooperative's 60th Annual Meeting attracted over 700 members and guests. The meeting included a hamburger meal, live entertainment, the report on the Co-op's business and door prizes.

The meal was served by Co-op employees and was planned to be held under the pavilion at Sacred Heart Community Center. A rainy afternoon and evening forced food service and registration to be moved inside. This caused somewhat of a delay in registration and seating. The spirit of the crowd, however, was not dampened. As the line snaked through the Community Center, people visited with one another, State Senator Tom Haywood, other elected officials and CCEC Board members.

Everyone enjoyed listening to music provided by Shari Boswell prior to the meeting. Boswell, a Cooke County native, brightened things up. Her selection of country and western, old gospel songs and natural charm appealed to the audience. She stretched her program to fill in the extended serving and eating time by taking requests from the audience.

Lucky winners in the prize drawing took home 61 items that included a cordless electric lawn-mower, a television, a VCR and a meter lamp from Brazos Electric. Each member received a small flashlight, pen and pencil.

In the President's Report, Ray Powell reported on highlights of 1997. Among those mentioned were the continued high reliability rate and low rates for our members. Powell updated the members on increased investment in total utility of almost $2 million while maintaining the Co-op's 100% equity position. The Co-op maintained an excellent competitive position with rates, which continue to be among the lowest in the state, stated Powell.

Prior to his report, General Manager Phil Slater introduced CCEC's Youth Tour Winner, T.L. Cox. After introducing T.L.'s parents, Tom and Pam Cox, Slater presented T.L. with a winner's plaque.

Slater mentioned the success of the Co-op over the past year in his Report of 1997 Operations. "The reasons for our success is competent, loyal employees, good customers in a healthy environment and the wise leadership of our board," commented Slater. He discussed the service reliability of above 99.9 percent last year. Understanding that Cooke County Co-op can not stand on past accomplishments, Mr. Slater promised "to go forward with construction and maintenance, keep customer service as a top priority and to continually contain costs." In closing, Mr. Slater reiterated the Cooperative's goal "to maintain reliable electric service at the lowest, most competitive price possible."

During the business session three directors were re-elected. They are Robert T. Lewis of District 3, Jesse G. Haralson of District 6 and Ray Powell from District 7. After the general meeting the Board met in executive session electing officers for 1998. The positions remained the same. Mr. Powell as President, Wayne Mitchell from District 2, Vice President, Jesse Haralson as Secretary-Treasurer.

The main speaker was Derrell Bulls, Ph.D. from Texas Woman's University. Dr. Bulls spoke on the importance of economic development in this area of north Texas. "People will move here, the growth has already begun, we must plan now to be ready for this expansion." He noted that the richness of this area, the people, their work ethic, and the proximity to the Metroplex would continue to attract people. His message: "be prepared so you can have orderly growth."

The meeting concluded after door prizes were drawn. There were 32 door prizes available. This is a list of the top four awarded:

- Lawnmower, Walter Klement; Television, R.D. Windle; VCR, John E. Hermann; and a Brazos Lamp, Ray Bacon.

Editor,
My husband and I own land on Hwy. 373 in Muenster, where we plan to build our home. We are very proud to be a part of Muenster and wish to do our part to make and keep Muenster beautiful.

When we first purchased our land we picked up over 100 gallons of trash on the highway in front of our land. At least once a month, we walk the highway in front of our property and get approximately 50 gallons trash each time. The week before Germanfest, I picked up the trash on both sides of the highway and collected almost 200 gallons of trash! We are astounded at the amount of beer bottles and beverage containers that are thrown out on the highway.

We were pleased to read about the Great Texas Trash-Off in the Muenster Enterprise. However, since I pick up gallons of trash every month, it is evident that there are root problems that need to be addressed. I have observed that some folks are unknowingly littering the highways by throwing their trash in the back of their pickups, which later blows out as they are driving down the highway. Another problem is there are too many who don't care or don't realize what they are doing by throwing their trash out the window.

We want to do what we can to solve this problem. First, we would like signs regarding fines for littering and "DON'T MESS WITH TEXAS" placed on Hwy. 373 at 922 and 1630. We are willing to pay for these signs.

Secondly, we want to get involved in the Keep Texas Beautiful program or similar program in Muenster. We have discussed the Muenster littering problem with other Muenster residents who are very concerned. Collectively, we have ideas to correct or minimize the problem.

Please contact us with additional information on beautification programs and how we can be of service.

Dear Editor,
I wanted to take this opportunity to thank Sisters located at 220 Main Street in Muenster for their tremendous generosity. Sisters raffled baskets filled with wonderful gifts, including a Princess Di Beanie, jewelry and perfume. The drawing took place on Sunday at the Sisters Germanfest booth. Well over $400 was raised for the 1998 ACS Relay for Life.

Throughout this community you can feel the Relay for Life enthusiasm. It is evident in the numerous fundraising events and the number of teams participating this year. So far, 40 teams have registered to participate at Relay. What an exciting response to this year's event!

Again, thank-you to Sisters for their support of the Relay for Life event. Their generosity brings us steps closer to our ultimate goal ... a cure for cancer.

I invite everyone to join us at Hornet Stadium on June 5-6 for the Relay for Life event. It is certain to be an experience you will never forget.

Sincerely,
Mary K. Endres, FNP-C
Relay for Life Co-Chairman

Pesticide management and water protection

Submitted by Steve Broyles

This is the fourth in a series of articles prepared by the Texas Rural Water Association on drinking water protection in the City of Muenster area.

Rural residents have a major role to play in protecting not only their drinking water, but also the City of Muenster's drinking water as well. By becoming familiar with the ways ground and surface water can become polluted and the management practices that can prevent pollution, we can all be assured of a continued safe supply of drinking water.

Pesticides play an important role in agriculture. They have increased farm production and enabled farmers to manage more acres with less labor. Voluntary action to prevent pesticide contamination of drinking water will help ensure that pesticides remain available for responsible use.

Pesticides work by interfering with the life processes of plants and insects. Some pesticides are also toxic to humans. If a pesticide enters a water supply in large quantities, which could happen with spills, dumping, or back-siphoning accidents, acute health effects could occur, depending on the toxicity of the pesticide. Contaminated water used for drinking water supplies may cause chronic exposure (prolonged or repeated exposure to low doses of a toxic substance). Chronic exposure may be hazardous to humans and livestock.

Properly managing pesticides on your property is an important step toward preventing drinking water contamination. If stored in a secure, properly constructed location, pesticides pose little danger to drinking water. Common sense suggests keeping pesticides out of the way of activities that might knock over a jug or rip open a bag. Short-term storage poses a lower risk than year-round storage, but storage for any length of time can be a risk to drinking water.

Drinking water contamination can result even from small spills in the mixing and loading area. Small quantities spilled regularly in the same place can go unnoticed, but the chemicals can build up in the soil and eventually reach drinking water. By mixing and loading on an impermeable concrete surface, most spilled pesticides can be recovered and reused.

Unwashed and improperly stored containers can lead to drinking water contamination if chemical residues leak into the ground. Use returnable containers and mini bulks, and take them back to the dealer as often as possible. Pressure-rinse or triple-rinse containers immediately after use, since residue can be difficult to remove after it dries. Pour the rinse water into the spray tank. Puncture containers and store them in a covered area until you take them to a regional collection event or permitted landfill. Do not bury or burn pesticide containers or bags.

Reducing pesticide waste makes financial as well as environmental sense, but it means more than just reducing spills. It also means not buying more than you need to apply, keeping records of what is on hand, and using older products first.

For more information on reducing the risk of drinking water contamination by improving pesticide storage and handling, contact the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and request Pamphlet No. B-6025, The Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission published Publication No. TWC/C91-09 2/93, entitled, Rinse and Recycle: It Makes Good Sense, which is available at no charge by dialing 1-800-64TEXAS.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

According to an article in Human Events, a national conservative weekly publication, our so-called conservative controlled House of Representatives has passed on April 1, by a vote of 337 to 30, the largest transportation reauthorization bill in the history of our country.

House Transportation and Infrastructure Chairman Bud Shuster (or perhaps Shyster?) used every means at his disposal to garner votes for this bill, some bordering on bribery, if not actually being so.

He was bitterly opposed by a number of true conservatives, including several democrats, but his offers to include some 1467 pet projects (or pork), in the bill so that the representatives could "bring home the bacon," bought a lot of votes.

Some of the members openly accused Shuster of corruption and bribery, and steadfastly refused to "take the bait and go along" but were greatly outvoted.

Now we are saddled with a

$218 billion Transportation Reauthorization bill that according to Rep. Lindsey Graham (R-S.C.) is a budget buster and has made a sham of the Balanced Budget deal. Graham also said to the House, "We should all be ashamed!"

Rep. Steve Largent (R-Okla.) charged that Shuster, in drumming up support for the bill by adding in $9.3 billion in Pork Barrel Projects was guilty of bribery and also stated, "This is what our country is fed up with. - It makes me sick to my stomach."

Never the less, the bill passed overwhelmingly. In 1987 Ronald Reagan vetoed a highway bill because it contained 150 pet projects.

Clinton has expressed some dissatisfaction with the bill, but has not threatened a veto, even though this one has 1467 pork barrel projects.

All of the above leads me to wonder if either political party really cares at all about this country's problems, or are only interested in assuring their own re-election.

County board meets to review, plan youth fair

The Cooke County Youth Fair officers and directors met Tuesday at the Fair Grounds. There were more than 900 exhibitors in 1998 in home ec, shop, equine, and animal divisions. This marks an increase of 32% for participation. The show had a sale of $139,000 in premium monies.

Officers for 1998-99 are: Superintendent, Byron May, Callisburg; Assistant Superintendent, Danny Anderson, Gainesville; Secretary, Denise Pearce, Valley View; Treasurer, Lynn Peters; School Reps - Valley View, T. Jack Martin; Era, Lynn Peters; Muenster, Gus

Ashley; Sacred Heart, Ross Felderhoff; Lindsay, John Sandmann; 4-H, Rudy Paclik; Callisburg, Mike Howe; Gainesville, Ott Kuykendall.

March 10, 11, and 12 were selected as the dates of the 1999 Show. The group has found records dating this show back to 1939 - 60 years of youth participation.

Rules, awards, and entry dates were reviewed by board members.

The Cooke County Youth Fair has 34 volunteer board members who organize and work the show each year from all corners of Cooke County. It is also funded by the Cooke County United Way.

ANDY SERNA was a featured performer on the Texas Stage at Germanfest. Chamber of Commerce officials have not quite finished compiling results, but they should be included in next week's Muenster Enterprise.

She had determined that education was an important part of life, and through her will, she provided educational opportunities to a multitude of young people through the endowed Dorothy Louise Williams Scholarship.

Finally, the recipient of the NCTC Foundation's Pure Gold Honors Circle was announced. Pure Gold contributors give $40,000 to $49,999 to an NCTC Foundation scholarship. The Intel Corporation, recently established a semiconductor manufacturing technology scholarship, and was inducted into the Pure Gold Honors Circle. of Intel. Dr. Glasscock described Intel as a "good corporate citizen."

Local sales tax rebates shine for April 1998

A total of $158.7 million in monthly sales tax payments were mailed to 1,089 Texas cities and 118 counties, an 11.4 percent increase over the $142.5 million allocated to cities and counties in April 1997.

This month's sales tax rebates include local sales taxes collected in February and reported by businesses filing monthly returns in March.

"April sales tax rebates reflect again this month that the Texas economy is booming and consumers remain confident that the healthy climb will continue," said John Sharp, State Comptroller. "Year-to-date, rebates to cities and counties are up 10.7 percent over the first four months of 1997."

Cooke County received $79,352.85, an improvement of 3.00 percent over April 1997. To date Cooke County has received $391,945.88 in rebates during 1998. That amount is 1.65 percent less than was received at this time in 1997.

Muenster's rebate payments for 1998 have improved greatly from 1997. This April the rebate was $13,837.58, up 87.78 percent from the $7,368.97 received in April 1997. In 1998 to date Muenster's rebates total $67,103.06, up 52.62 percent from this time in 1997. This report includes sales tax rates that changed in October 1997 from 1.000 percent to 1.500 percent.

Valley View saw an improvement of 64.94 percent this April with a rebate check of $3,366.85. To date Valley View has received rebates totaling $11,384.09, up 22.56 percent from April of 1997.

Lindsay's April rebate of $4,137.99 was up 27.92 percent. To date Lindsay's 1998 rebates total $19,268.34 which is 9.90 percent better than last year in April.

Gainesville received a $208,280.73 rebate in April. That is 2.17 percent more than was rebated a year ago. Total payments to Gainesville, $1,033,593.67 are up only 0.30 percent from this time last year.

Oak Ridge showed an improvement of 4.52 percent in its April rebate of $3,022.61.

To confirm that an animal is rabid, its head must be sent off for tissue testing.

According to Dr. Tisdale, one should be suspicious of a skunk if it exhibits any of the following signs: is out during daylight hours because it is a nocturnal animal; if it seems uncoordinated; has lost its natural fear of humans and other animals.

Skunks are the main carriers of rabies in this part of Texas. He urges people not to have baby skunks de-scented to keep as pets. The Texas Department of Health strongly discourages this practice because skunks can be reservoirs for the rabies virus. There is no vaccine to protect skunks from the rabies virus like there is for dogs, cats, and horses. Other wildlife known to be carriers of rabies are foxes, coyotes, bats, and raccoons.

If you or someone you know is bitten by an animal, you should quarantine that animal for 10 days. If it dies within the 10 days its head must be sent to the state laboratory for testing to confirm whether or not it died from rabies. The animal will usually die within 10 days if it has rabies, said Dr. Tisdale.

It is also important to notify your physician immediately when you receive an animal bite. If your pet or domestic animal is bitten, contact your veterinarian.

To protect your family and pets, always keep the pets' vaccinations up to date. They need yearly boosters to protect against rabies. Texas state law requires that you keep vaccinations for your cats and dogs up to date, said Dr. Tisdale. These must be administered by a veterinarian. They were at one time available for home use, but not any longer.

If you see a sick animal and suspect that it might have rabies, leave it alone. If it is in town contact the local authorities so that they can deal with it.

In an article by Solveig Fredrickson in the "Veterinary Product News" it states that according to Centers for Disease Control and Prevention statistics in the United States more than 7,000 animals are diagnosed each year with rabies and more than 22,000 people receive preventive treatment. Vaccination can prevent the onset of rabies in humans if they are begun soon after the human is bitten by a rabid animal.

Hartmans gather for 12th annual campout

by Judy Hartman
The family of Margaret Hartman and the late Victor Hartman gathered for the 12th year, and as always, a fun time was had by all! A couple of new events were added to the agenda this year. Mark Tompkins organized a scavenger hunt which was enjoyed by all; and another new event, in honor of Grandmother Hartman, was the First Annual Cookie Bake-off! The winner was Mary Beth Cottingham, who won with her Snicker Surprise Cookie. Not to be outdone by his wife, Chuck Cottingham, won Grandmother Hartman's Bean Guessing Game. He was closest to the magic number of 700, and was awarded a rare gold coin. This year's Mass celebrated by Father Bob was dedicated to little Joseph Michael Cooney who died on April 7, 1998, at 44 days old. Joseph Michael's parents, Carl and Brenda Cooney, and his brother, Christian, and sister, Kathryn, were at the Mass to celebrate his life and death with those who loved him so dearly. Baby

Joseph touched the lives of so many either directly or indirectly. There was a beautiful article about the miracle of his birth in the Denver Catholic paper, which is distributed to over 80,000 people in the Denver area. The Cooneys received many cards and prayers from the people who read their beautiful and amazing story. Music for the Mass was provided by Jennifer, Brian, and Jim Tompkins, and Paula Yosten. Entertainer of the Year was won by Terry Halbert for his rendition of Michael Jackson. Immediately after the Mass, Father Bob led the congregation in the Happy Birthday song for Pat Yosten, and the entire family gathered around the campfire to help Pat celebrate her (beep-beep) birthday. The Pastures Golf Tournament was won by Bobby Hartman and Dan Bezner. Each received a coveted "GREEN" jacket and a traveling trophy. Gene Hartman defended his title of Grand Champion

Marble Shooter for the second consecutive year. The Annual Horseshoe Tournament was won by Mary Grace Castor of Cedar Creek, and Robert Gremminger from Kansas City, Kansas. Uncle Alvin's Trips to the Farm, and Uncle Harvey's Hayrides continue to be the favorite events for both young and old. The Fishing Tournament winners were Victor Tompkins with the Most Fish and Kimberly Bloedel with the Smallest Catch. The beautiful stars provided the perfect light for Uncle Gene's Annual Snipe Hunt. Although the children continue to hear snipes in the forest, they have yet to catch one. The Hartman family continues to celebrate their German heritage and their wonderful Catholic faith. There were family members and guests for a total of 120 people present this year to build precious memories and receive lasting treasures. Those present came from Muenster, Arlington, Mansfield, Manchaca, Bedford, Killeen, Cedar Creek, Fort Worth, Dallas, Gainesville, Paris, Lake Kiowa, Denton, Argyle, Sanger, Grapevine, Flint, Flower Mound, and Lindsay. The group includes descendants of Margaret Hartman and the late Victor Hartman. Included are 33 grandchildren, 60 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild. They are the children and grandchildren of Alvin and Joanie Hartman, Edna and Keith Tompkins, Ted and the late Kathryn Gremminger, Carol and the late Willard Hartman, Georgia and Walter Wolf, Della and Harvey Schmitt, Pat and John Yosten, Gene and Judy Hartman. Traveling from out-of-state were: Wayne Gremminger, Kay and Randy Morrow and Angela, Sarah and John and Brenda and Car Cooney and Christian, and Kathryn, all of Littleton Colorado; and Robert Gremminger and Maggie Elizabeth, and Anna O. Shawnee, Kansas.

NCTC Art Show youth winners announced

This year's winners of the Annual Art Show at North Central Texas College are being announced slightly differently this year because the art show was produced slightly differently.

Rather than having a single exhibit for everyone, this year the contest was broken down by age," said event coordinator and NCTC instructor Mary Frances VanPelt. "We had one show each for elementary, middle and high school students, and then one for everyone else. We had to do something because the number of entries was getting so large that the show spilled out into the halls."

Winners of this year's Kindergarten division all came from Sivells Bend Elementary School. First place went to Nicholas Chapman, second place to Kristin Martin, third place to Terry Hamilton and an honorable mention went to Shawnie Shelley.

First grade winners were all from Cooke County. Winners included second place Daniel Wimmer of Sacred Heart Elementary, third place Tadd Otto of Sacred Heart, and honorable mentions were given to Kristy Marsh of Sivells Bend.

The second grade category winners included first place Nathan Martin of Sivells Bend.

Fourth grade winners included Tiffany Martin of Sivells Bend and honorable mention went to Heather Moster of Sivells Bend.

Fifth grade winners included honorable mention to Kristen Hess of Sacred Heart.

The sixth grade category winners included second place and an honorable mention to Amy Trevino of Sacred Heart.

Eighth grade winners included honorable mention to Sara Sepanski of Sacred Heart Middle School.

Ninth grade winners included first place Dana Miller of Sacred Heart High School, and honorable mention went to Jackie Bartush of Sacred Heart.

Tenth grade winners included an honorable mention to Jeff Klement of Muenster High School.

Carrie Coker of Sacred Heart took an honorable mention in the 11th grade category.

In the seniors-color category, winners included second place Rebecca Endres of Sacred Heart, and honorable mention to Elizabeth Fuhrmann of Sacred Heart.

Sacred Heart Teams cruise to district titles

The Sacred Heart Tigers and Tigerettes controlled the field and track last Saturday at the TAPPS district 1-2AA meet in Muenster.

The Tigers won the district championship, earning 273 points, 179 points over second place Harvest Christian. A dozen boys qualified for State Competition this weekend at Baylor University in Waco, including Matthew Fuhrmann, Jon Grewing, Derek Fuhrmann, Jeff Yosten, Duncan Campbell, Lucien Gehrig, Charlie Schilling, Adam Barnhill, Josh Walterscheid, Lee Skinner, Dana Miller, and Melanie Bartush.

The Tigers earned 12 gold medals, 13 silver and eight bronze.

The Tigerettes outscored Abilene Christian 254 - 141 to take the district championship. Qualifying 11 to state, the Tigerettes collected 11 gold, nine silver, and 12 bronze medals. Going to Waco will be Valerie Bartush, Debra Voth, Leah Rigler, Joanna Gehrig, Gina Yosten, Debra Dangelmayr, Kristin Knauf, Sarah Hess, Kayla Felderhoff, Dana Miller, and Melanie Bartush.

"Last week's big win for the Tigerettes at the regional qualifiers meet in Lindsay really set the stage for this dominate performance," noted Coach John Nasche. The girls recorded a season high 23 personal records at the district meet. "they couldn't have come at a better time. That's what track is all about. It's about how much you improve. All the hard work is paying off," Nasche continued. "We have a good chance to win state if the girls have a repeat performance."

The 49th annual awards banquet honoring persons in the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) will be held May 14 at the Civic Center, 311 W. Weaver Street in Gainesville at 7 p.m.

Announcement was made by banquet planning chairman Allen Fleitman, vice-president of First State Bank of Gainesville.

of the Upper Elm-Red SWCD will serve as the program chairman and Allen Fleitman will serve as the master of ceremonies. Jody Shotwell will supply the sound system and Tom Carson of KGAF radio in Gainesville will narrate the slides.

Doug Watson, professor of English at Oklahoma Baptist University will be the guest speaker. He will perform his characterization of Will Rogers.

Felderhoff elected officer

The Texas Grain & Feed Association elected new officers and board of directors at their annual convention in Fort Worth, April 15-17. Ronnie Felderhoff, owner of Muenster Milling Company, Inc., was elected TGFA's second vice-president for the 1998-99 year. Brannon Darnell of Darnell Trading Company of Amarillo was named chairman, while George Ferguson of Frank Bailey Grain Company of Fort Worth was elected first vice-chairman.

Felderhoff is a third-generation owner of Muenster Milling. The Mill was founded in 1922 solely for milling wheat into flour. The Muenster Flour Mill was sold to Joe Felderhoff in 1931, purchased by Arthur Felderhoff in 1947, and joined by Ronnie in 1974.

Since his involvement in the Association, Felderhoff has chaired the Legislative and Government Affairs Committee, served on the board of directors, on the Arbitration, Feed Industry and Grain Industry Committee. He also served on the National Grain and Feed Association's Feed and Membership Committee.

"As a small company, my strongest voice is through my involvement in TGFA," Felderhoff noted, stating that numerous and stringent regulations on the industry prompted his involvement in TGFA. "I have driven to Austin countless times to testify on behalf of the Association, but also on my behalf - a small business owner."

Producers don't understand EPA's denial of propazine for sorghum

On April 15, the EPA announced the denial of Section 18 exemptions for the use of propazine on grain sorghum in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. The herbicide is an important production tool for sorghum growers in those states. Propazine has been used under Section 18 exemptions for the last five years, while the product is undergoing the re-registration process. The agriculture departments from the three states had again formally requested the exemptions on behalf of the producers in their states for this year.

"The possible risk for cancer by the product was the reason EPA officials gave for denying the Section 18 exemptions," said Tim Lust of the National Grain Sorghum Producers. They concluded that the aggregate cancer risk from the use of propazine exceeds the level which they say represents a reasonable certainty that no harm will occur.

"However, we believe that EPA is using very poor science by not using the latest data on exposure assessments in reaching this conclusion, and we don't agree with it," Lust said. "For that reason, we are in the process of documenting the information that EPA officials used to make their decision."

Recently, EPA officials, citing standards of the new Food Quality Protection Act, have denied farmers the use of many safe and effective agriculture pesticides.

"U.S. producers are in jeopardy of losing many valuable pesticides which they rely upon to produce the safest, most abundant food supply in the world," Lust said, adding that NGSP will continue to evaluate the options and monitor the propazine situation, but said that producers who are impacted by EPA's decision, whether financially or by having to change management practices, should let their congressional leaders know about it.

BMR corn boosts milk production

Unofficial reports are arriving at the University of Illinois, that brown midrib (BMR) corn not only enhances silage digestibility in cows, but also boosts milk production, 3 to 8 pounds more milk daily.

Lower in lignin than conventional corn silage, BMR silage digests and passes through the rumen faster, resulting in greater feed intake and higher milk production.

BMR seed does cost about three times as much as regular corn and produces less tonnage, taking about 1 1/2 pounds more milk per cow per day to offset the difference. Dairymen are advised to make adjustments when feeding BMR and ask your seed dealer for the best seed for your area.

Those being honored are: essay contest winner Sara Sepanski of Muenster; poster contest winner Kathryn Sepanski of Muenster; and Zone I Jerry Cantwell of Bowie; Zone II Ray Walker of Nocona; Zone III Bill and Beverly Harris of Saint Jo; Zone IV Jerry and Paula Lewis of Valley View; and Zone V R. G. "Bobby" Sollis of Howe.

All zone winners will be presented with a hand-carved plaque made by Ed Matzfeldt and the poster and essay contest winners will receive cash awards.

TDA secures exemption for use of tebuconazole for rust control

The Texas Department of Agriculture has been granted approval by the EPA to issue a crisis exemption allowing the use of tebuconazole (Folicur 3.6 Foliar Fungicide) to control leaf rust in wheat.

Folicur 3.6 Foliar Fungicide may be applied following all applicable directions, restrictions and precautions on the EPA registered product label, as well as these additional restrictions.

Keep your hay covered

Putting a cover over your hay can save a grower an average of 20 percent, compared to leaving bales outside. Don't protect your hay, and you'll probably lose 12-20 percent to water damage. That's a $12 a ton or more loss if you are baling $100 a ton hay. Hay that's been protected also sells better.

If permanent structures are not available, tarping may be the next best option. Tarps must be in good condition to be effective. They are subject to wind damage. A tarp with a hole or rip can be worse than no cover at all.

Growers should buy ultraviolet-resistant tarps with at least 6 ounce per square inch of weight.

Farming conditions appear favorable

Windy, warm and mostly dry conditions in the area allows field work to continue as we move into May.

Showers at the end of April provided some benefit, but the wind continues to deplete soil moisture and soil temperatures continue to warm.

Rainfall is needed in most areas for improvement of warm seasonal grasses which remain mostly in good condition. Haying and fertilizing activities continue. Fields are slowly beginning to turn color.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

ARMYWORMS IN AREA FIELDS

During the fall and winter of 1997-98, we saw overwintering armyworms in small numbers in various fields throughout the county. The early spring rains and lush growth of wheat and ryegrass in pastures have made suitable conditions for armyworm buildups. During the past week, we have received several reports from producers about armyworm spots in fields and pasture areas. This week large numbers were showing up under trees in a creek bottom near the Myra Community. Recent dry weather should hold down infestations. Moths laying eggs will usually seek lush pasture and small grain growth. Cool conditions also favor development and survival of the armyworm.

Growers are advised to frequently inspect fields to detect infestations and if necessary, control them before extensive loss occurs. Armyworms do most of their feeding early in the morning or late in the evening and during cloudy days. During the day, armyworms can be found under leaf litter at the base of the plant and on the soil. Also look for chewed leaves as evidence that armyworms are present. Fields with lush grass, often those well fertilized, are most likely to be infested. Treatment will often be necessary when 3 or more armyworms are found per row foot.

Armyworms may continue to be a problem if we receive rains. Seeded pastures and wheat could be at risk, also.

Armyworm moths are active only at night. The front wings are dark gray and mottled with white and black blotches. Wingspan is about 1-1/4 inch. Eggs are laid in masses of 50-200 or more on grass blades and covered with fuzzy, gray scales. Eggs hatch in a few days and the larvae feed for 2-3 weeks. Armyworms can be identified by the white upside down Y present on the face of the caterpillar running between the eyes. Full grown larvae are about 1-1/2 inches long and dark green, brown or black.

Armyworms consume about 80 percent of their total food during the final 4-5 days of development. Larvae dig into the soil to pupate. The adult moth emerges about 2 weeks later and females can fly many miles to lay eggs.
