

Tigerettes are state champs in baseball

It was Sacred Heart's first year to have a girls' softball program, and the season couldn't have ended any better. The 2000 Tigerettes last weekend brought home the APPS 2A State Championship.

"It took every one of the girls to get to state," said Coach Beth Bartush. "We got there as a team and we won as a team. It was a positive experience all the way around. I'm proud of every one of the girls."

Sacred Heart, after winning their district, defeated Saint John's of Ennis in bi-district to advance to regional competition last Friday morning in Temple. The Tigerettes were matched-up against the Greenville Christian Lady Eagles, battling them down to a 14-0 victory.

Freshman pitcher Mary Jane Callahan faced nine batters, striking out seven. She also caught a pop-up and threw a runner out at first. Sarah Hess got the save, pitching two innings. She faced eight batters, struck out one, and walked two. Other defensive standouts were Anne Flusche and Jana Truebenbach.

Offensively, the Tigerettes had nine hits. Truebenbach was 2 for 2, including a double, a walk, and a triple for 3 runs. Sarah Hess also scored 3 from being hit by a pitch, a walk, and a double. Anne Flusche and Michelle Bayer each scored 2. Flusche had a walk, single, and a double, and Bayer a single and walk. Callahan hit two singles, scoring once, while Jana Coker, Sara Kelly, and Raney Bauer each walked and scored one.

The Tigerettes were challenged by the defending state champs, Lady Cardinals of Saint Paul of Shiner Friday afternoon. In a come-from-behind battle, Sacred Heart won the semi-final game 4-3. Mary Jane Callahan was the winning pitcher, facing 29 batters. She struck out 12, walked 2, and gave up 6 hits. Defensive standouts in this game were Kayla Felderhoff, Sarah Hess, Anne Flusche, Audrey Barnhill, Raney Bauer, and Jana Truebenbach.

Sacred Heart scored in the bottom of the first when Sarah Hess hit a triple for a Callahan score.

The Lady Cards scored three runs in the top of the sixth. The Tigerettes came back at the bottom of the final inning. Audrey Barnhill scored on a Callahan single. Bases were then loaded with Bauer, Callahan and Jana Coker. With two outs and full count, Sarah "Tank" Hess grounded between third base and the short stop. The short stop got a glove on the ball and threw wild to first, allowing Bauer and Callahan to score, winning the game.

Offensively the Tigerettes had 9 hits.

The championship final Saturday was played on the Baylor Lady Bears field in Waco. The Tigerettes faced the Lady Rams of Bryan Allen Academy, taking the state title with a 5-2 victory.

Again Callahan was the winning pitcher, facing 27 batters, striking out nine, walking three, and allowing only four hits.

Allen Academy started off the game with a hard hit single to Michelle Bayer. "Michelle made a great attempt to throw the batter out at first," noted Coach Bartush. The next two batters were retired and a walk put two girls on base. A line drive and an error gave the Lady Rams a 2 run lead in the top of the first.

"Great pitching and a solid defense kept Allen from scoring the remainder of the game," Bartush added.

Sacred Heart also scored in the first inning. Jana Coker got the Tigerettes going with a double hit between center and right field. Sarah Hess belted a triple, scoring Coker and then ran in home on an error by the Lady Rams for a 2-2 game.

Tigerettes scored again in the third. Coker once again got things going with a triple hit to the fence. She scored on a Truebenbach single for a 3-2 lead.

In the bottom of the sixth, Anne Flusche singled and scored on a two-strike bunt by Kayla Felderhoff. Allen threw the ball wild to first trying to get Felderhoff and she advanced all the way to 3rd. Felderhoff then scored on a passed ball by the Lady Rams catcher to give the Tigerettes a 3 point advantage.

The top of the seventh, the Tigerettes defensive play was perfect according to Coach Bartush. Felderhoff fielded a grounder and threw to first for an out. Callahan struck out the next batter, and the final out was a pop-up to Sarah Hess at third base.

The Tigerettes got nine hits the final game with Coker getting 3 for 3, and Hess and Felderhoff 2 for 3.

"We're looking forward to trying to keep the tradition going with the girls program here at Sacred Heart," Bartush concluded.

The Tigerette softball team consists of seniors Anne Flusche, Kayla Felderhoff, Sarah Hess, Andrea Bartush, Jana Coker, and Sara Kelly. Underclassmates include Audrey Barnhill, Mary Jane Callahan, Jana Truebenbach, Raney Bauer, Michelle Bayer, Jennifer Hoedebeck, Crystal Hess, Alicia Cochran, Catherine Bartush, Charlie Sue Switzer, and Tiffany Richey. Joseph Davis is the team's statistician. Coaching the Tigerettes to their first state championship are Beth Bartush, Kip Callahan, and Annette Bayer.

In the semi-final softball game against the defending state champions from Saint Pauls, with two outs, bases loaded, and behind 2-3 in the bottom of the last inning, Sarah Hess, above hits in Raney Bauer to tie the game. At left, Mary Jane Callahan also ran in home to win the game. Please see page 9 for more softball photos. Courtesy photo

Girls softball requested at LISD

by Janet Felderhoff
Parents and students of Lindsay ISD attended the May 15 meeting of the school's board of trustees in a show of support for adding girls softball to the sports agenda. Craig Carpenter was spokesman for the group.

At the request of Superintendent Travis Winn, Athletic Director Charlie Meurer researched the requirements of adding the sport. Meurer said he spent quite a bit of time talking with other coaches about the pros and cons of adding the sport.

Meurer noted that the question of equity always comes up with today's laws. "As strange as it may seem, right now we have equity because girls can play boys' football," he explained. "There's also something in there that I've talked to some of the other coaches about - that if you add girls softball, you've got to add boys baseball because of the like sports situation."

"I love the game myself, but there are a lot of serious things we need to consider in the school situation that we have. I've done my best to outline everything that I could think of related to this."

Some of the questions raised by Meurer included: Where are we going to play? How much is it going to cost? What would it cost in personnel to maintain? Even if the city would allow the school to play on its field, would the school be willing to spend tax dollars on the facility? Is it adequate to hold games down there? If there's a problem, is there any liability? Is the school willing to use their maintenance personnel to maintain it?

Meurer said that students would occasionally miss school time due to game scheduling. "What would be the effect on existing UIL and athletic programs? I read this in a management magazine some years ago. Something you really have to consider is what would be the effect on your other programs when you begin to add program?"

Meurer said that hiring officials would cost between $75 and $100 per game depending on travel. There are no gate receipts at softball and baseball games. Some places collect and some don't due to the nature of when they're played, he noted. Paying for the athletes to travel to the out of town games could get quite expensive since there could be as many as 54 out of town games a year. That could amount to quite a bit of money, he said. Funds would have to be added to the athletic department's budget to cover expenses from year to year. The cost of participating in a tournament is about $175 per tournament. Meurer estimated that it would require about $3,500 per program each year. He pointed out that there is no facility in which to store more equipment.

Would coaches have to find time to prepare the field on game days? Would a coach have to be hired to cover the new sport? The cost of a new coach is somewhere around $30,000 a year, noted Meurer. More experienced coaches would cost more per year.

"I'm not opposed to adding new sports at all, but I do think we have some things that we have to seriously consider before we pile that on to my current coaching staff which is very well loaded down," commented the athletic director.

Carpenter had already looked into some of the problems and assured the Board that there was no problem in using the city's field. Equipment cost would be covered by donations to the City by companies such as Coca Cola, Dr. Pepper and others.

Support from the parents was assured by Carpenter. He also acknowledged that track would come before softball. He asked the Board to consider the students. Some are unable to take part in basketball and track who would be able to play softball. "NCTC is offering scholarships now for some of this," noted Carpenter. "We're wasting talent because every year these girls play summer league they win the championships. They love softball. There are some great athletes," he said.

A mother present argued the real equity in football since only two girls have ever played football with the boys in Lindsay. She pointed out that many of the girls weren't planning to play basketball or run track the next year. One reason was all the time spent on the bench waiting to practice due to the lack of sufficient gymnasium space.

Meurer noted that is the way the law is written. He said that you can add boys baseball and girls can play that, but boys can't play girls softball. "You'd run a risk if added girls softball, but didn't add boys baseball," he said.

The question was raised as to the size of the city field. Most thought it wouldn't be large enough to play baseball, but would be sufficient for girls softball.

Winn promised to digest the information provided by Coach Meurer and then to meet with the coaching staff to consider the addition of the sports. There is a deadline for application for the UIL sport and that must also be determined. By the next board meeting Winn hopes to have answers to as many of the questions raised as possible so that a decision can be made.

Board member David Arendt said that it would help to know how many students were going out for each sport next year. Another board member Mike Kindle said that at this time he personally didn't feel that he could support adding the sport at this time due to the uncertainty of funds and the already overloaded schedule of staff and students. Trustee Danny Nortman added that if they could do just the girls softball program and that there wouldn't be a negative impact on other school programs it would be okay with him. He didn't feel that the city field was large enough for boys baseball.

Newly elected board member Bruce Bezner was sworn into office by JoAnn Huchton. Carol Conaway, who is also newly elected, was unable to attend. Huchton had administered the oath of office for Conaway earlier in the day. They replace outgoing trustees Rudy Zimmerer and Pat Zimmerer.

Election of officers took place. Dave Arendt accepted the position of president, Danny Nortman that of vice-president, and Bruce Bezner that of secretary.

During the Superintendent's report Winn expressed appreciation for the support from the Board, parents, community, etc. during his recent hospitalization. He said that he hopes to have an ongoing relationship with the Board that is good.

Principal Jerry Metzler gave an update on all the activities planned from now until graduation on May 26 at 7 p.m.

Results of the elementary TAAS tests were announced by Counselor Tom Fluker. All were above 90 percent and the elementary should again qualify for Exemplary, he said.

In a 5-0 vote the Board approved the Cooke County Appraisal District's (CCAD) request for a budget amendment to add a reserve account for costs related to any potential computer system. LISD's share is $398.79. CCAD has taken out a three year loan to purchase the computer system. This was at the request of several entities where current budgets couldn't stand a large amount.

Winn voiced approval of the purchase saying it should be an improvement and they are hoping for faster more accurate appraisals. LISD accounts for about four percent of the CCAD budget.

In other business conducted at the May 15 meeting the Board:

- Tabled appointing a representative to the Site Based Decision Making Committee until the June meeting.
- Approved all current transfer students plus five more.
- Approved 5-0 a contract with Xerox for 36 months on a copier.
- Accepted resignation for retirement of Jack DeGarmo.

New Muenster ISD Board meets and adds three additional staff

The Muenster ISD Board of Trustees met in regular session last Thursday. After canvassing the election results, Tom Hartman, Neil Huchton, and Jim Endres were sworn in and the board was organized for the 2000-2001 school year.

After noting the date of the next school board workshop, the May 26 appreciation luncheon, and May 26 graduation time, the board heard from Doug Smithson of the Cooke County Appraisal District.

Smithson informed the board of the CCAD's approval of the purchase of a new computer system, and the additional $400 cost to Muenster ISD. The school board approved the system.

The board was then informed of the district's success in the UIL academic meets. Jerry Eckart reported on district, regional, and state competition. "Overall it was a good year. The kids were excited. They know they can do it," said Eckart. "We hope this will continue to grow."

Superintendent Steve Cooper expressed thanks to Eckart for organizing UIL and taking it a step further. Fourteen teachers are involved in junior high and high school UIL academic competition.

Principal James Hopper reported on the TAAS results, all favorable. Also 76% of the high school students are TASP exempt. "Looks like another good year," noted Hopper.

Cooper said this was a good indication that Muenster ISD should be exemplary for the seventh year in a row.

The board also discussed employee health insurance. Blue Cross - Blue Shield increased their cost 30%. Mr. Cooper suggested the board consider increasing their share of the insurance cost to offset the increase to the staff.

The board also accepted the resignation of band director Pat Dietz, and hired three to the staff: Jeff Prensall, girls basketball; Kenny Mann, boys basketball; and Cheryl Prensall, 4th grade teacher.

by Elfreda Fette

Those who availed themselves of the opportunity to spend an hour at a concert Sunday evening, May 14 in Sacred Heart Church to hear some of the most melodic, easy-listening music came away with smiles for time well-spent and words of praise for the Sacred Heart High School Angelic Acapella Choir and its director and its accompanist! The group presented its season finale and a tribute to Mother's Day, at 7:00 p.m. It was a special treat for this lovely season.

In existence just this first year, Angelic Acapella members already show promise of great things to anticipate throughout their high school years. They have learned to sing with ease, confidence and control. They have learned to sing with love of tonal quality and purity of sound. They exhibited their real enjoyment.

It was a pleasure for us to see their rapt response to direction and their total concentration. The lovely Mother's Day concert cast an aura of the beautiful old song: "When You Come To The End of a Perfect Day!"

Just in this first year, the Angelic Acapella Choir of Sacred Heart High School has performed for many audiences from Muenster to Gainesville to Temple and Belton and New York. Pam Fette is director and Barbara Brady and Ruth Felderhoff are accompanists.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

Who is Hillary Clinton? Well, as best I can read, she was born in Chicago, Illinois to a Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rodham.

Mr. Rodham was a cool and reserved man, a bit domineering, but a good provider, and successful in his field.

He and his wife, Dorothy, raised Hillary a Methodist and a Republican, sent her to what they considered the best schools. She was an extraordinarily bright student, and ambitious.

Her parents sent her to Wellesley, one of the most expensive schools in the nation, where she soon forgot most of the values her parents had taught her as a child, and took up a new way of thinking.

She spent most of her time protesting many causes, one of them being the Vietnam War.

Later she went to Yale to study law, where, again, she took up many radical causes. She maintained that children should have rights over their parents, have the right to sue them for various causes, should not be required to tell them of a pregnancy or of an abortion, or other decisions that they might face as teenagers.

It was at Yale that she met Bill Clinton, and who she soon began living with, sans marriage, and later moved to Arkansas, where she decided Bill would be a way to achieve the power she wanted so badly.

She taught law at the University of Arkansas for a time and later, in October of '75, she married the man who had a well earned reputation as womanizer. Their lifestyle was much the same after marriage - she lived with him, and he continued to philander as usual.

Eventually they became parents of a daughter, Chelsea. Hillary hired a nanny for the sum of $75.00 per week, to tend Chelsea. The taxpayers of Arkansas, thinking they were paying for a guard for Hillary, paid the bill. This was in the time period Bill was either Attorney General, or Governor of Arkansas.

Hillary had no schedule, her child was fed, dressed, and sent off to school in a State-owned Limo, she never paid rent or house payments, had no auto expenses, she lived in State-maintained housing, had troopers to do her bidding for whatever needs she might have.

In other words, she had only herself to worry about - a kept woman.

Eventually her husband was elected to the U.S. Presidency and Hillary fancied herself a woman of much power, but if one thinks about it, besides practicing law for a time, she had really never done anything of note in her life.

Shortly after their arrival in D.C. she made an attempt to revise Medicare, but that turned into such a boondoggle that many of her own party dropped it like a hot potato.

Since then she has been involved in a number of causes but has had no real responsibilities of her own.

The one thing Hillary never lost sight of was her desire for power, and upon learning of Senator Moynihan's plans to retire, she has decided to run for Senator from New York State. Many believe, as I do that if elected to the Senate she will have her eye on the Presidency in 2004.

Comptroller Carole Keeton Rylander launches final phase of Texas Tomorrow Fund enrollment period ending June 5

Texas Comptroller Carole Keeton Rylander recently kicked off the final phase of the current enrollment period for the Texas Tomorrow Fund, the state's pre-paid college tuition program. Enrollment ends June 5.

Rylander enrolled her 5-year-old granddaughter Kathryn Keeton McClellan in the program during an Austin news conference.

"Like most folks, I have waited until nearly the end of the Texas Tomorrow Fund enrollment period to sign up my eldest granddaughter," Comptroller Rylander said. "But now is the time to lock down Kathryn's 2013 college tuition and fees at today's prices and ensure that, when she is ready for college, those expenses will be covered."

"Nothing is more important than education," she said. "This generation will have to compete not only with those from New York and California, but from Europe and Asia as well.

"The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics predicts that by the year 2030, nearly 60 percent of Texans will have only a high school diploma or less," Comptroller Rylander said. "Yet in the next decade, 25 percent of the state's new jobs will require at least a bachelor's degree. The Texas Tomorrow Fund can help close the education gap by giving families a convenient, affordable way to ensure that their children and grandchildren get the college education they will need to plug into the jobs in the new information-based Texas economy."

"Even if your child is a high school senior, it is not too late to enroll him or her in the Texas Tomorrow Fund, and avoid the tuition and fee increases some universities have announced for next fall," Comptroller Rylander said. "Obviously, the earlier you enroll your child, the more affordable the program is. If you start saving when the child is a newborn, one year of community college starts at $15 per month, and one year at a public university starts at $26 per month."

"Texas college tuition and fees have risen 460 percent since 1985. There is no way to predict how much higher those costs will be by the time your child is ready for college," she said. "The beauty of the Texas Tomorrow Fund is that you don't have to worry about rising college costs, and you don't have to worry about whether your savings and investments will keep pace. The Texas Tomorrow Fund is absolutely guaranteed to cover your child's college tuition and required fees, and it is backed by the full faith and credit of the state of Texas."

King supports initiative to include character education in schools

State Representative Phil King (R-Weatherford) recently introduced a new idea to incorporate integrated character education curriculum in public schools to the Texas Families and Children Task Force, which is a group of representatives considering legislative plans for next session. King serves as vice-chairman of this committee.

In addition to the TAAS rating, schools with an integrated character development curriculum will receive recognition as a Character Plus school. This recognition is not an unfunded mandate and requires no state appropriation to implement.

Moreover, participation is solely on a volunteer basis but competition will encourage statewide participation.

"My hope is that parents will shop for a Character Plus school just like they shop for schools with Exemplary

Holiday trash pickup schedule change

IESI Corporation will close their offices on Monday, May 29, in observance of Memorial Day.

Therefore, pickup schedules for Muenster that week will be Tuesday, May 30, and Friday, June 2.

rankings," explained King.

Character education refers to teaching strategies in the classroom and in the academic environment in general that develop positive character traits in young people. Those traits may include virtues such as respect, honesty, integrity, truthfulness, dependability, patience, courage, patriotism, and good citizenship.

King firmly believes that parents are the primary moral educators of their children and education is seen as an opportunity to reinforce what parents are already teaching in the home. He noted that there are core values that transcend political, cultural, and religious differences giving communities a unique opportunity to work together for the common good of the family and the culture in general.

Quote Correction

A quote in the article "Group lobbied by County Historical Commission members" by Janet Felderhoff which appeared in last week's Enterprise attributed a quote to Margaret Hays. It should have actually said by Betty Butolph. The writer regret the break down in her brain circuit and sends sincere apologies to Mrs. Hays.

American Cancer Society Relay For Life 2000 announces cancer survivor activities

Excitement fills the air as Cooke County prepares to celebrate cancer survivors at the Fifth Annual Relay for Life. The Silver Underwriters Supporting this year's event are the Muenster Memorial Hospital/Gainesville Memorial Hospital, King Koch, Knights of Columbus Council #1459, and Wal-Mart. The event will be held on June 2-3 at Muenster's Hornet Stadium. Relay event chairmen Alice Hellman and Fay Hamric are planning special events to honor all cancer survivors participating in this year's event.

Each year the Relay for Life is more cancer survivors making the opening lap to kick-off this event. The growing number of survivors reflects strides made in prevention, early detection, and treatment of all types of cancer through education and research supported by the American Cancer Society. A cancer survivor is anyone who has been diagnosed with cancer, whether it has been 5 minutes or 50 years. "We want all cancer survivors to begin this celebration with us by walking in the opening lap," invites Hellman. The survivor lap begins at 6 p.m. on Friday evening.

After registrations, beginning at 2 p.m. on June 2, participants receive a survivor t-shirt, goody bag, and are registered for door prizes. Hamric states, "We have several new and exciting activities planned for this year's event, including a Survivor Chain of Life." Thanks to the survivor event sponsors, Knights of Columbus, Council #1459 and Wal-Mart, a reception is planned immediately following the opening lap. For individuals who may need assistance, wheelchairs will be available at the track.

Cancer survivors may register for the Relay for Life cancer survivor activities by calling Relay for Life headquarters at 759-2271, ext. 36.

Attorney presents free "Elder Law Seminar" for seniors

A free "Elder Law Seminar" for seniors will be presented Thursday, May 25 from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. in the Eisenhower East Conference Room of the Texoma Council of Governments in Sherman.

Todd Estes, an attorney with Munson, Munson, Pierce & Cardwell, P.C., of Sherman, will address the following topics at the seminar: (1) Wills; (2) Probate in Texas; (3) Living Trusts (pros and cons); and (4) Power of Attorney documents. Attorneys from Legal Services of North Texas will be in attendance to do "pre-screening" for low-income senior citizens who may require further legal assistance. Please call in advance to assure adequate seating at 903-813-3574, ext. 574 or 800-677-8264, ext. 574.

Watch out for salespersons presenting legal sounding promotions and scare tactics to get your money. They are selling trusts, annuities and long term care insurance and don't always tell you the pros and cons and whether or not you are someone who would benefit from these items. See a trusted local estate planning attorney and your accountant for your legal/financial concerns involving large investments. The Texoma area senior citizens are welcome to attend a free seminar co-sponsored by the Grayson

County Young Lawyers' Association, Area Agency on Aging of Texoma, Legal Services of North Texas, Inc., Texas Young Lawyers Association, and Texas Lawyers Care.

Green Tips

Fact: Most shower heads use 5 gallons per minute. That's 50 gallons for a 10 minute shower.

Tip: Install a low-flow shower head and cut that in half. This would save 175 gallons per week, 9000 gallons per year.

Muenster Elementary students honored

The Parent Teacher Organization hosted the Muenster Elementary Awards Assembly Monday night in the school auditorium.

Brad Endres gave the welcome, while Michael Valliere said the invocation, and Amber Fuhrmann the response. The pledge to the United States flag was led by Megan Felderhoff, Evan Koesler, and Collin Walterscheid. Zach Swirczynski introduced the master of ceremonies. All of the above students belong to the 5th grade class.

Lee Buddy, president of the PTO, introduced the teachers, who in turn introduced their classes and presented awards.

The first grade sang "Family," while the second graders performed to "What's for Supper." The third grade did their song and dance version to "Summertime Blues," while the fourth grade asked the crowd to sing along to "I'm Gonna Let It Shine" and "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands."

The fifth grade played two tunes on the flutes, "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star" and "Shortnin' Bread." On leaving elementary, the fifth graders were also each presented a small gift from their teachers Leigh Hale and Lisa Hettler.

Immediately following each grade's presentation, the students received their awards for the school year. Fifty-six students received gold medals for making the "A" honor roll. Fifty-two students received bronze medals for being "B" honor students and 46 were awarded silver medals for perfect attendance. In addition, the students were given certificates for participating in the UIL academic meet, 600 minutes reading, Book It, and numerous other individual awards.

Elementary principal Gwen Trubenbach gave special recognition to the UIL participants, thanking the students, teachers, and parents for making another successful year at Muenster school.

Muenster freshmen attend college day

The Muenster High School "Freshman Force 2000" attended a College Day at Midwestern State University in Wichita Falls on Wednesday, May 3. The students earned their trip by working on community service projects during the year. They also keep a portfolio called "Get A Life" which helps them keep track of their academic achievement, community service, and extracurricular activities all during their high school career.

Midwestern State hosted the event which included programs by Barbara Ramos Merkel, director of student relations. She talked to the students about getting started early on their college and career plans. A packet of information was included in the program and it was followed by a presentation by current MSU student Matthew Webber. Matt was the guide for the campus tour. The university hosted a luncheon for the students at the Mesquite Room at Clark Student Center.

The students reported a great time and brought back with them a lot of information for their plans. Mrs. Emily Klement, sponsor, accompanied the group.

Students attending included: Amanda Felderhoff, Lisa Felderhoff, Mitch Felderhoff, Wesley Koelzer, Chris Rains, Shaina Sheaff, and Tyler Walterscheid.

Texas Salebarn goes on-line for FB members

Texas Farm Bureau has entered the world of e-commerce with the launch of Texas Salebarn.com, an on-line site that allows members to buy, sell, or trade. Members now have an easy way to sell items they no longer need by placing free classified ads at the Web site. Texas Salebarn also allows members to search ads already placed on the site. "On-line shopping and trading has become a way of life for many people," said Edwin Knight, president of Cooke County Farm Bureau. "We are definitely excited to bring e-commerce to our members because it brings together the resources of the Farm Bureau community as well as those who are curious about what we have to offer." Ad placement is limited to members, however, anyone accessing the site can browse through categorized "stalls" as well as download an application for membership. Persons wishing to place an ad must log on to the Texas Salebarn site. Their last name and FB membership number allows access to the area where classified ads can be input. Coupons will be placed in Texas Agriculture and county offices for those who do not have a computer in their home. Ads will run for 10 days. "This newest addition to TFB's web strategy provides yet another opportunity for our members. With people shopping on-line for everything, we thought our members should have their own site," said Knight.

It's A Stat

CITRUS

The April 1 Texas grapefruit production forecast is 5.5 million boxes for the 1999-2000 season, 10 percent less than last year's 6.1 million boxes. All orange production is estimated at 1.8 million boxes, up 26 percent from last year.

CATTLE ON FEED

Cattle and calves on feed for slaughter market in Texas feedlots with capacity of 1,000 head or more totaled 2.76 million head on April 1, up 8 percent from a year ago, but down 2 percent from the March 1 level. Producers placed 520 thousand head in commercial feedlots during March, down 2 percent from a year ago but up 21 percent from the February, 2000 total.

WHEAT

Texas wheat producers expect to harvest 75 million bushels this year, 39 percent less than the 1999 crop and 45 percent less than the 1998 crop.

Planted acreage for the 2000 crop is estimated at 6 million acres, down 3 percent from 1999 and down 2 percent from 1998.

WHEAT PRODUCTION

The 2000 Texas winter wheat crop is forecast at 70.4 million bushels, 42 percent below last year, and 48 percent below 1998. According to a May 1 survey, statewide yield is expected to average 32.0 bushels per acre, down 4 bushels from last year. Harvested acreage, at 2.2 million acres, is down 35 percent from 1999.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

HESSIAN FLIES ARE BACK

Wheat producers have another pest to deal with again this year. The Hessian fly that caused us so much trouble during the 80's and early 90's is back in fields causing wheat to lodge. One producer reported a field in the county with three to four flaxseed per stem, and severely down. Producers should check fields and plants for Hessian fly damage.

Several production practices have been demonstrated to affect Hessian fly injury in wheat. These include:

Late Planting Date: Each generation of Hessian fly can potentially increase 200-fold over the previous one. Early planted wheat in Texas can have as many as four generations, giving rise to incredibly high populations in early planted wheat. November planting dates will allow wheat farmers to miss either one or two generations when compared to September planting dates. This does not mean that late planted wheat will miss Hessian fly damage, but it should miss the brunt of the fall generations. Hessian fly causes more injury to seedling wheat that older, more mature plants.

Resistant Varieties: This is the least expensive and best management tool, but is certainly restrictive. Texas has several biotypes of Hessian fly which make the several known genes for resistance of little value to our fly population. This has been our best tool for control in Cooke county.

Insecticides: Be aware that the multiple generational characteristic of our Hessian fly will make treatments of limited utility. Gaucho seed treatment acts as a systemic insecticide and appears to be effective on fall generations of Hessian fly. Gaucho has a 45 day grazing restriction, which should not limit normal grazing activities. There is no evidence that postemergence applications of insecticides are effective in reducing injury from this pest.

Tillage: Tillage appears to be a mixed blessing in the management of Hessian fly. Old studies have documented that Hessian fly cannot emerge when buried to a depth of more than one-inch in the soil, but burial reduces the opportunity of parasitic wasps to feed on pupae. It would seem that inverting tillage might be useful in the first year or two of the fly cycle, but of less utility when parasite numbers begin to increase.

Rotation: If feasible, plant a non-host crop rather than wheat or barley. Oats are immune to Hessian fly. While rye is susceptible, Hessian fly prefers and will do more damage to wheat.

Sanitation: Do not allow the introduction of infected straw to your farm. Pupae of the Hessian fly can be introduced in wheat hay, wheat straw or in combines that have harvested infected wheat.

PECAN NUT CASEBEARER

The pecan nut casebearer is one of the most common insect pests of pecans. Casebearer moths emerge in area orchards and lay eggs which later yield tiny larvae. These larvae will feed in developing pecan nuts in late May and June. In orchards where infestations reach damaging levels, developing pecans can be protected by a single, well-timed application of insecticide. Treatments are most effective when applied as the casebearer eggs are hatching but before the tiny larvae bore into the pecans to feed. The optimum timing for insecticide treatment is best determined by scouting the orchards for casebearer eggs and monitoring egg development to determine when eggs are hatching.

The presence of casebearer moths in the orchard can be monitored with pheromone traps and this information can predict casebearer activity. Pecan producer Clyde Yeatts is currently monitoring an orchard with these traps and as of Monday had not caught any moths. Casebearer eggs are usually first found in the orchard 7-10 days after the first moths are captured. The first casebearer larvae usually enter pecan nuts 12-16 days after the first moths are captured. An insecticide is best timed for the first entry of larvae into pecan nuts.

Based on trapping results in Collin and Dallas counties this spring, the optimum time for applying an insecticide, if needed, is May 17-21. Cooke county usually runs about five days later. Pecan growers should inspect their orchards for casebearer eggs and nut entry to confirm these predicted dates. Crop loss, as determined by the number of terminals with pecan nuts, is also a consideration in determining if an insecticide treatment is justified.

Insecticides packaged for homeowner use and effective on pecan nut casebearer. Read the label to be sure the product can be applied to pecans. Products containing B.t. (Bacillus thuringiensis) are also labeled and provide control of light to moderate infestations of pecan nut casebearer. The low toxicity of B.t. insecticides makes them well suited to urban and other environmentally sensitive areas.

FORAGE TOUR

The past two years has had a bad effect on forage production. The cool season perennials have also suffered yield loss. However, cool season perennials still offer winter grazing possibilities. This past fall we established wheatgrass plots on the Fuhrmann Bros. Limousin farm north of Lindsay. Six varieties of wheatgrass for cool season production will be featured on a forage tour beginning at 9:00 A.M. Monday, May 22, at the farm. The tour will begin at the Bermuda variety plots located on FM 1199 approximately 4 miles north of Hwy. 82. Yields, growth patterns, establishment, and management will be covered on the tour. Two CEU's toward recertification of pesticide licenses will be offered to those attending.

TEXAS COUNTRY CLEANUP

Farmers and ranchers can bring the following, and it will be recycled for free: empty plastic pesticide containers which have been high-pressure or triple rinsed; used motor oil and oil filters - farm and ranch only, 2 barrel limit; used tires less than 24.5" rim, 50 tire limit-no business.

The collection site will be open Wednesday, May 24, 2000 from 8:00 A.M. to 12:00 P.M. at Smith Brother Roping Supplies located on IH-35 North of Denton, Ganzer Road Exit-west side.

For more information contact the Denton County Extension office at 940-565-5537.

Work stress

Easy-going steps at branding time as recommended by Pfizer Animal Health:

- Refrain from excessive chasing.
- Handle calves gently, letting them settle before processing.
- Control dust by wetting down corrals if necessary.
- Don't process calves in extreme weather.
- Restrain calves properly.
- Work them quickly and efficiently.
- Return calves to their mothers as quickly as possible.

World meat trade shows rapid growth

World trade in meats has grown rapidly since the mid 1980s.

The trade primarily involved hiping cuts of meats and edible offal rather than carcasses or live animals. Emerging patterns of trade are due only partially to relative advantages in countries' production costs. The presence or absence of trade barriers has also influenced trade patterns, as have disparities in preferences among trading partners for particular meat cuts.

In the past 15 years, U.S. exports of the three major meats - beef, pork, and poultry - have grown faster than other countries' meat exports and the U.S. has evolved from primarily a meat importer to a large meat exporter.

U.S. exports totaled $6.5 billion in calendar 1998, compared with $2.8 billion in imports. Nevertheless, the U.S. remains the world's largest beef importer and major pork importer.

Individuals, families own most Texas farms

In 1997, the majority of Texas farms, 86.8 percent, were owned by an individual or family.

The second largest group, 8.6 percent, was owned by partnerships. Only 2.7 percent of Texas farms were owned by corporations. The remaining 1.8 percent are owned in other ways such as cooperatives, estates, trusts or institutions.

Of those farms owned by corporations, 88.4 percent are family held and the other 11.6 percent are non-family held. Of the family held corporations, only 2.1 percent have more than 10 board members. Of the non-family held corporation farms, 8.4 percent have more than 10 board members.

Bermuda boost

Bermudagrass takes up about 50 pounds of nitrogen per acre for each ton of hay harvested, according to the Potash & Phosphate Institute. An acre of grass will also take up almost 100 pounds of phosphate. For each ton of Bermudagrass produced, about 50 pounds of potash is required per acre. High hay yields may also require secondary nutrients such as 20 pounds of magnesium and 40 pounds of sulfur per acre.
