

County to increase tax rate

by Janet Felderhoff
Members of the Cooke County Commissioners Court met Friday, Aug. 24 to consider the proposed tax rate for 2002. Originally the proposed tax rate being considered was .415 or 41 1/2 cents per $100 valuation. This was done at the Aug. 13 meeting. Since that time it was discovered that a mistake was made on the effective tax rate of last year. Part of the rate was not picked up when doing figures for this year, thus changing the current effective rate and rollback rate.

Commissioner Bill Cox said, "I would prefer taking flack on 43.5 than getting in a bind next year." Commissioner Phil Young remarked that he only had one complaint last year on raising taxes. Most were delighted to get a little better service, he said.
"We've taken quite a bit out of that General Fund," Judge Bill Harris reflected. "This will keep us from taking that out of there and we need to expand that jail." "That would require hiring more jailers and that comes out of the General Fund," noted County Auditor Gloria Parrish.

Parrish confirmed that a tax rate of .4350 would keep them below the rollback rate of .43607. The vote was unanimous to set the proposed rate at .4350 per $100 valuation.
A public hearing on the tax rate was set for Tuesday, Sept. 4 at 9:00 a.m.

County budget draws little public discussion

by Janet Felderhoff
A 10:30 a.m. Public Hearing on the Cooke County Proposed Budget for 2001-2002 was held Aug. 27. Only one person voiced concern over the proposed $11,752,389.00 budget.

Vivian Kasperek of Lindsay questioned the proposed six percent salary increase for elected officials. The increases were published in the Aug. 19 issue of the Gainesville Register. Kasperek was upset. She said the increase per month would be more than her Social Security check. She thought the County Judge would receive an increase of $798.25.

Kasperek was told that wasn't possible. County Auditor Gloria Parrish said, "The County Judge's salary is actually going down." It was lowered to the salary of a commissioner she was told. Kasperek then realized the figure she had seen for the Judge represented a decrease.

The proposed budget was accepted and a Sept 10 date was set to consider final approval of it. At that same time the tax rate will be voted on. A public hearing is set for Sept. 4 for the proposed tax rate. The proposed rate of .4350 was discussed at a meeting held Aug. 24. Commissioners approved that rate unanimously at the Aug. 27 meeting.

During the Aug. 27 regular meeting Commissioners Court approved a proclamation for the Justice Court Technology Fund. This newly enacted statute allows justices of the peace to charge an additional $4 in court costs.

Junior Durham, maintenance supervisor, reported that the air conditioning units in the County Jail are 20 years old. One 10-ton unit is always requiring service calls. He suggested replacing it. The cost would be $8,650.00.

"With a 20 year newer unit you'd get higher efficiency and save service calls plus some on electricity," noted Durham. Since the money was in the budget for it, the purchase was unanimously approved. Commissioner Jerry Lewis presented optional changes recommended for the Cooke County health insurance. They included raising the co-pay from $10 to $15 on doctor visits, raising prescription co-pays to $5 on generic, $20 on common, and $35 on anything not on the drug list. "We can stay where we're at, but it sure will hurt us next year when we go back to re-bidding on the insurance," Lewis noted. The change was approved unanimously.

In other business Commissioners Court:

- Accepted bid from Billy Lemons of Lemon's House Moving for $300.00 for a 16' by 32' street bridge on County Road 212 in Precinct #2.

- Approved the Lake Ray Roberts Planning and Zoning Commission.

- Approved Lake Ray Roberts Zoning Commission's recommendation to re-zone the 6.2 acres owned by Kelly's Sand and Gravel as Heavy Industrial.

- Approved public official bonds for Sheriff's Department for William Bivin, Mary Chandler, and Ed Fife.

New city manager looking forward to life in Muenster

By Don Rohmer, of MDS, Inc.

Muenster's new city manager is a country girl who wants to call Muenster "home" for the rest of her life. Born and raised in Bakersfield, Texas, in Pecos County, Linda Webb developed a love for horses and all things rural. She attended Iraan High School (named after Ira and Ann Yates), Sul Ross State University, and Tarleton State University. She and her husband Ben have two children, and on August 6 their daughter Leslea made them the proud grandparents of a baby girl, Colee. Their son Cade is a sophomore at Sul Ross State. Leslea and her husband Brent live in Hereford.

Linda Webb

Linda and Ben's hobbies mostly have to do with their horses. They especially enjoy team roping. Since Muenster wants its manager to live in town, they bought the closest thing they could find to a country place within the city limits. Construction of their house is scheduled to begin September 1. In the meantime they are staying with Ben's brother Fred in Gainesville. Another brother-in-law, married to Ben's sister, is a home-construction contractor, which proved fortuitous when they discovered that local builders would not be able to get started on their house right away. Mr. and Mrs. Webb are also big football fans, and they are both excited about living in a town that has two teams.

Family comes first for Linda, then her job. She decided on a people-oriented career while working as a teacher's aide in special education. She discovered that she really enjoys work in which she is helping people. Very much a "people person," she hopes that open communication will be the key to keeping things running smoothly. And keeping things running smoothly is essentially what she considers to be her job description. She does not plan to introduce any big changes, since Muenster has been taken care of very well by the city staff, her predecessor, and the interim manager. Those people have made her job easier by doing their jobs so well. And everyone has been so nice, they've made everything really easy. One large project she says Muenster should be proud of is the remodeling of the sewer plant. It will be a huge benefit and will allow our community to continue to grow.

Before becoming Muenster's new city manager, Mrs. Webb was a county commissioner in Pecos County, where the weather has been even drier than here. That county is in its fifth year of drought. Interestingly, many people there are supplementing their incomes by having electricity-generating wind turbines built on their property. Asked about the reason for the narrow blades on such "windmills," she guessed that it is because they have to turn at the same speed at all times. Computerized governors control the speed. And they are bigger than they look. Each blade is as long as a Greyhound bus.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb are delighted to be in Muenster, and they hope to retire here. Our new city manager does not plan to operate in a vacuum. She wants to hear what everyone has to say.

Lindsay ISD considers future improvements

by Janet Felderhoff

Members of the Lindsay ISD Board of Trustees listened to and discussed at length a long-range plan at the Monday, Aug. 20 meeting. The plan dealt with proposed major improvements that will need to be undertaken in coming years. Included in the list were improvements to the track, purchasing a new bus, and an intercom system for the school. It was decided to devote some time at each monthly meeting to address these and other major items.

Superintendent Travis Winn presented a letter from concerned parents requesting that the school establish a hazardous bus route for students crossing Hwy. 82 and students on Henry Street crossing FM 1199/3108. He said it would involve six or seven students who lived within the two-mile limit from school but would have to cross hazardous roads if walking to school.

"We've made the decision to pick up students across (Hwy.) 82 which is four lane if any of the students were walking there," explained Winn. "We just really didn't want them crossing a four lane highway. The State authorizes us to do a hazardous route and will reimburse us for picking up those kids." Normally if a student lives within two miles of the school, they aren't eligible to ride the school bus and the school would not be reimbursed for them.

In previous years the students from the three families making the request had been able to ride because the bus route passed in front of their homes. This year the route was changed and no longer went past their homes. Students are picked up within the two-mile limit if the bus is already going that way since it doesn't create any additional expense for the school.

The Board adopted the CNA local policy draft as presented allowing for the hazardous route.

Business Manager Marilyn Cox presented a draft of the 2001-2002 budget. Discussion ensued on the possibility of adding a pay increase for teachers that reached the maximum on the pay scale. The Board informally agreed to eliminate these raises from the budget.

Principal Jerry Metzler reported that an aide would be hired. Annette Fleitman and Lisa Reades were hired half-time to fill the full-time position.

Leon Klement was selected to receive the LISD Board's support for a seat on the Cooke County Appraisal District (CCAD) Board of Directors. The vote was five for and one abstaining. Danny Nortman abstained. Also approved was a contract with the CCAD for the collection and assessment of taxes. LISD's cost will be $32,694.00. Approval was unanimous.

According to Metzler there are 474 students currently enrolled.

Winn reported that the school district had earned an Exemplary Rating with the State again this last year. Lindsay and Muenster were the only districts to have both campuses get the Exemplary Rating thus receiving Exemplary District Ratings.

The Board decided to join the TASS "Buyers Pool". It will study power providers and make recommendations to schools for a charge of $200.00.

School Board members present were Danny Nortman, president; David Arendt, Carol Conway, Bruce Bezner, Richard Connett, and Donna Hess. Earl Cunningham was absent.

In other business the

- Approved the teacher appraisers and appraiser periods as presented by Metzler.

- Heard a report from Tom Fluker outlining the instructional effectiveness of the 2000-2001 class size reduction grant.

- Approved bids from Borden's Milk, Blue Bell Ice-Cream, and Enderby Gasoline/Diesel.

- Approved the transfer of Brienne Beaudin, a ninth grade student.

Board hears budget argument

The Muenster Hospital District Board of Directors held a public hearing last Friday at noon in the hospital board room. At stake is a 109.17 percent increase in taxes to offset a projected operating deficit in the next hospital fiscal year estimated at over $500,000.00. The increased revenue should raise about $800,000.00 to cover the projected loss and also cover equipment purchases and building repairs.

Moody and Fikes described the hospital financial situation and the need for the revenue. Their estimates are based on past performance and the current trends of reduced government co-pay and increasing pressure on hospital employee salaries. District taxpayer arguments against the projected budget and increased tax rate included these general points: - The closing of the Lindsay Health Clinic and other cost-cutting measures should decrease the projected loss. - Possibly not all sources of employees have been tapped such as nursing graduates from schools like North Central Texas College. - Efforts to build patient volume would increase revenue. - Renewed efforts to recruit physicians should result in more revenue for the hospital. - Such a large increase in taxes will cause a hostile reaction in the district and a rollback of the tax rate to the previous level, thus negating a more moderate increase possibility. Several people at the hearing spoke up to assure the board that they wanted the hospital to survive, not just the district, and they asked board members to examine the whole budget closely to search for improvements to the projected bottom line.

to plan for the operation of the hospital and meet payroll during the next year. That year will tell a lot about the hospital's future and, if revenues improve, the tax revenue would replenish badly-needed reserves. Many who opposed the increase pleaded and demanded that the board examine the budget closer. At the regular board meeting Tuesday night, the budget was adopted as proposed by a vote of 5 to 3. The board will vote on whether to accept the proposed tax rate or a lesser compromise at 12:00 PM Sept. 7.

From My Side of the Fence by Ed Cler

Subiaco Abbey in the early thirties, was considerably different than it is today - or so I'm told. I remember a large open area west and south of the main building that was partially covered by two large piles of rock - wreckage from a great part of the college that was more or less destroyed by a tragic fire.

These two eyesores lay there day after day, until someone came up with the idea that with the aid of volunteers and an old model T Ford truck, these ugly reminders of the fire could be removed, over a period of time. This would also reduce the cost of the operation to the gasoline, oil, and other expenses of operating the venerable model T truck.

The next step was to find a driver - one who had a feel for an old T-bone. Well, I cut my teeth on a Model T and learned many of its queer quirks as a kid of 11 and up. So they had a driver and a mechanic of sorts, and the work began. I think all concerned were surprised at how quickly the first pile disappeared. By the time about half of the second had been removed, some of the enthusiasm had worn off, and several of the regulars, and myself who stayed with the job, spent about half our time talking others into helping.

Loading the truck was pretty hard work, but unloading was a cinch. I would back the jitney to the edge of a bluff, until the rear was lower than the front, so unloading went rather quickly. To make a long story short, it took about twice as long to remove the second rock pile as the first, but just about everyone agreed that the campus' appearance perked up considerably.

Rebecca Jean Robertson 1947 - 2001

Rebecca Jean Robertson of rural Marshall, Missouri and formerly of Muenster, died at age 54 on Wednesday, July 11, 2001. Born on May 30, 1947 in Marshall, she was the daughter of the late Harold D. Robertson and Margaret A. Robbins Robertson. She was raised in Marshall, and had lived in Osage Beach, Missouri the past three years, after moving from Muenster. While living in Muenster, she was employed in 1985 as Managing Editor of the Muenster Enterprise. She taught at Sacred Heart School for several terms, as teacher of Art and Advisor/Assistant on the yearbook in Osage Beach, Missouri she was employed at Jones of New York in sales. A Catholic, she faithfully attended Sacred Heart Church in Eldon, Missouri.

Rebecca Jean Robertson

years, she was richly blessed. For she gave and received love from many. Becky had family and friends in Missouri who loved her and cared for her to the very end. Becky also had many friends here in Texas who loved her, prayed for her and inquired about her daily. Becky loved her special friends here in Muenster and enjoyed being here with all of us. Becky died where she wanted to — in her hills of Missouri with her family. When she was here in Texas, she enjoyed herself but her desire was to go home to her hills of Missouri where life began for her and where her life would end.

"I believe Becky would say to us all, that there is too much to live for to die before your time. It's our responsibility to live! Do what you want and never give up! Now is the time to live!"

"In those never-to-be-forgotten recollections, Becky lives, and to linger in our hearts that remember is not to die. We all have our own memories of Becky and those memories will live on forever in our hearts. She will be missed by all who knew her and loved her. There are times in our grief when tears beset and beautify us all, they are a natural process in our grieving and a healing tool. Tears are not only acceptable and normal, but they can be sacred, for "Jesus wept." Our tears we cry are not for Becky but for ourselves because we miss her and we know she is no longer on this earth; but we must also remember we will see Becky again in Heaven. A quote from Thessalonians 4:13 says it best: "Not for him but for us should our tears be shed; mourn, mourn, for the living, but not for the dead." We hurt and we are sad for our loss, but we must know that God considers the welfare of the dying as well as the living; and His calling Becky Home is not to hurt us who remain, but to help Becky who departed this earth. Becky is peaceful now, she no longer has to endure the physical pain she experienced on this earth.

"As far as I'm concerned, God now has a beautiful angel singing in His Heavenly Chorus."

Paige Rigsby offered Readings: "The Way, the Truth and the Life" and "The Shepherd Hymn." Kelly Lamkin then asked those gathered for the service to offer remarks of remembrance. The service closed with a recording "People Need The Lord" and a prayer offered by Lynda Sandmann.

For those who have asked, memorials may be made to the American Cancer Society.

Mercy Choir and Pat Hennigan, Jr. organist. Sacred music included: "On Eagles Wings" at the entrance; "The Lord Is My Shepherd" Psalm; "I Am the Resurrection and the Life" sung by Maxine Scott; "Amazing Grace" at Offertory; "I Am the Bread of Life" at Communion; "Ave Maria" after Communion, sung by Charlotte Bleyenberg; and "Alleluia, The Strife is Over" for the recessional.

Remarks of Remembrance and Meditation were given by Ronnie Fleitman: "Diane was born Mar. 30, 1961, the middle child of seven. She attended St. Mary's Catholic School and was a graduate of Gainesville High, Class of 1979."

"Very active in the Catholic Church, Diane was part of the guitar choir for many previous years. She loved to sing and did so on many special occasions for the church and for personal affairs. Diane was also a former member of the parish council at St. Mary's Church. She was never wavering in her faith.

"Diane was a loyal and dedicated employee at Gainesville Printing Co. for 23 years. She loved her job and working with her fellow workers. She became a very valuable asset to her employer and considered her co-workers as an extension of her own family.

"Even though Diane didn't have children of her own, she had 11 nephews and nieces... Each one of them loved her and enjoyed her company. They knew just how to wrap her around their little fingers. They could always talk her into taking them to the zoo because they knew that she would get them some ice cream on the way home.

"Diane was a giving and a dependable person, who was more concerned about others than herself. This showed true until the end..."

"Always willing to learn about something new, she enjoyed reading and traveling. During her travels she visited Europe, Hawaii, Austria, and many other points of interest in the United States. She enjoyed every part of God's country. Diane also enjoyed Trivia, dominoes, board and card games of any kind. She played for keeps with full intention of winning the game. It didn't matter how old, young, experienced or inexperienced you were, it was win or lose. This was probably the part of her spirit that kept her going for so long with her illness. She wasn't going to give up. She never gave up!"

Burial in St. Peter's Cemetery of Lindsay was directed by Geo. J. Carroll & Son Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Roger Fleitman, a cousin; George Jones and Kevin Early, co-workers; Wayne Fleitman, a cousin; David Oliver, Joshua Krahl, and Chris Ramsey, nephews.

MHS excels in AP exams

Muenster High School had 22 students take Advanced Placement Exams during the spring of 2001. These tests are administered by "College Board," creators of the SAT test used by most universities and colleges as an entrance exam. If a student scores a three, four, or five on one of these Advanced Placement exams, then the student may be credited college hours in that subject. Many universities use AP courses and exam scores as a major criterion for entrance into their schools.

Muenster High School students tested in Calculus, English III, English IV, and Computer Science. The 22 Muenster High School students took a total of 30 tests, and out of the 30 tests taken, MHS students scored a three or better on 24 of the tests. "The students as well as their teachers are to be commended for this tremendous achievement," noted Principal Phil Newton. "Muenster High has improved the curriculum for 2001-2002 and this year's students will also be eligible to test in a new subject, Physics." Muenster has plans to add other AP courses to the curriculum in the next few years. The new courses under consideration are AP-U.S. History, AP-Chemistry, and AP-Biology.

Going to College?

CREDIT CARDS ARE NOT BLANK CHECKS.

Interest rates are incredibly high. There are charges on unpaid balances. Missing payments can hurt your credit rating. The checks they send you are not the same as money.

What to do:

1. The administration office can help figure what the first two semesters will cost for incidental supplies, travel, etc. Get a software program and make a BUDGET.
2. Get the best interest rate, or cards with no annual fees. Make a rule that the balance get paid off EVERY month unless there is an emergency.
3. Keep a log on spending, including EVERYTHING. Figure out where the budget works and where it isn't working.

Finally, large credit card debt does not impress your potential employer when they run a credit check.

Tiger cheerleaders hold camp

The Sacred Heart varsity cheerleaders and mascot recently held a mini cheerleading camp for girls ages 4 and up at the Muenster City Park. The camp was well attended, with 47 girls participating, including the SHS Cub cheerleaders.

The SHS cheerleaders and mascot led the campers in cheer aerobics, stunt safety, dance, cheers and chants. In addition there were games and tumbling tips. On the second day of camp, the eighth grade girls and the Cub cheerleaders spent the morning session on team building, leadership activities, and motivation techniques.

The final day the aspiring cheerleaders had the opportunity to show parents and friends what they had learned. After "show-time" the SHS cheerleaders presented awards to attendees. Various awards and certificates were given for motions, dance, jumps, spirit, stunt-smart techniques, and improvement. Finally, the campers and guests enjoyed a hotdog lunch and had the opportunity to swim before heading home.

"Wow, what a camp! We expected a few girls, but this was great and they are all so cute," summed up head cheerleader, Andrea Bauer. Comments from the other varsity cheerleaders were similar. "We'll definitely do this again next year. It was really fun," concluded Jennifer Hoedebeck.

The Muenster Hornets and the Lindsay Knights scrimmage at Hornet Stadium last Friday evening. Running three "teams" allowed all the high school players to see action. Janie Hartman Photo

Hornets and Knights scrimmage in preparation for football season

Muenster hosted the Lindsay Knights last Friday in a preseason scrimmage. Practice began with the "freshmen" teams taking to the field.

In the "JV" scrimmage, neither team found the end zone until the last play of the series when Keith Dieter broke away for Lindsay to end the practice 1-0.

The varsity's 20-20 scrimmage offered very few big offensive plays and lots of defense. A long run by Cody Cory set up an end zone run by Mitch Endres.

"Overall, everyone played much better than the last scrimmage," noted Hornet Coach Gordon Martin. "I saw a whole lot better hustle and effort throughout the scrimmage and was excited to see us move the ball on offense."

A mock 12-minute quarter saw a "different Lindsay team on the field, with the Knights' offense controlling the ball and the clock. Lindsay scored quickly under game-like situation.

Several plays later, Tommy Arendt picked off a pass, setting up another Knights' touchdown by Adam Anderle. Lindsay Coach Charlie Meurer noted that the Knights made progress and showed improvements with improved defense overall.

Muenster will scrimmage again this Friday, hosting Gainesville State School.

Pre-high school action begins at 4:00 pm with the 8th grade Stingers scrimmaging a mixture of JV Hornets. At 5:00 pm, the junior varsity will run 20-20 plays with the State School, followed by the varsity running 40 plays then playing a mock two quarters.

The Knights will host the Jacksboro Tigers from district 11-2A to begin their season. Jacksboro is picked the top team of their district after losing only eight lettermen from a playoff team. The Tigers have experience at the skill positions and may use their air attack from quarterback Ryan Quick to receivers C. Queen, David Walker, Brock Rocky and Zach Clay.

Coach Meurer expects a tough contest for the Knights.

Tigers prepare for upcoming season

The Sacred Heart Tigers begin their 2001 football season Friday night when they host the Hornets of Era.

"It should be a good game," stated Sacred Heart Coach Kris Hogan. "We're anxious to play them." Last year, an unprepared Tiger team fell 25-0 at Era. Era went on to win only 2 more games last season.

The Tigers had two successful scrimmages this season. On Aug. 18, there was a short practice against Lindsay. Coach Hogan noted that Sacred Heart played hard, moved the ball and played good defense.

Last Friday, Sacred Heart traveled to Argyle, finishing 3 touchdowns to 1. "We made a bunch of mistakes that come with youth but, again, I was proud of the boys' effort." Action this Friday begins at 7:30 pm in "The Jungle."

Notice

Due to conflicting events and the fact that most high school football teams begin the season on Sept. 7, The Muenster Enterprise football contest will begin NEXT WEEK. Sorry for the mix-up - be ready to play next week!

County Agent's Report by Craig Rosenbaum

The 2000-2001 wheat crop got off to a less than desirable start. Fall rains in 2000 prevented about thirty (30%) percent of the counties crop from even being planted. Much of that acreage that was planted emerged late and provided little tillering time. However, some producers who graze did get some wheat planted early. But, for the most part this past crop year was rough on wheat.

There were some bright spots. Very little insect pressure from greenbugs, hessian fly, and other insects was noted. The dry, windy spring helped to suppress any diseases like stripe rust, leaf rust, or powdery mildew.

There is a major problem that seems to get worse each year and that is ryegrass in fields for harvest. New post emerge herbicides are now available to help control infestations of ryegrass and we had some good trials in the county this year.

We want to thank the producers who provided land and cooperation in establishing and evaluating this years small grain demonstrations. They include: Carl Enderby at Era, Rudy Zimmerer at Lindsay, and J.H. Bayer and sons at Muenster.

When considering a variety, characteristic tolerance, yield, and potential for forage production are all major considerations. Each year is different. For this reason, always look at yield data from at least three consecutive years before selecting a variety for planting. It is also a good idea to plant more than one variety since varieties perform differently under various environmental conditions.

Denton Co. meat goat clinic Sept. 8

Denton County Extension Crops, Forages and Beef Committee will host a Meat Goat Clinic on Sept. 8 at Circle T Ranch on Hwy 114. (Exit I-35W at Texas Motor Speedway on Hwy 144. Circle T is five to six miles from I-35W on the right.) Registration will begin at 8:45 a.m.

The programs will begin with a Health Care of Goats presentation and then a talk about feeding and nutrition for goats.

Cost of admission is $10 for adults and $5 for youth. Pre-registration is required by Sept. 3; mail to Denton County Extension Office at 306 N. Loop 288. For more information contact (940) 565-5535 or e-mail r.parker@tamu.edu.

A group of guinea "fly the coop" early Monday morning as a haze moves in from the south, giving the area some relief from the heat, but making catching grasshoppers more of a challenge.

Texas crop and weather report

Scattered rainfall across Texas is benefiting the pecan crop during its crucial moisture period, Texas Cooperative Extension reports.

Dr. George McEachren, Extension horticulturist, says rain is important during the months of August and September when pecans are developing their inner fruit. However, dry weather is needed for harvesting.

Pecans are grown throughout Texas. They are produced commercially in almost 200 counties.

Pecans have reached their full size for the season and are now at the stage where the trees are using all available moisture in order to help the kernel fill out. Some harvesting will begin in south Texas in mid September, but the majority will begin in mid-October.

CENTRAL TEXAS: soil moisture is very short. Grasshoppers continue to infest pastures. Hornflies are on the increase again. Pasture conditions are poor due to lack of moisture. Hot dry conditions have devastated cotton yields.
