

Muenster High wins state academic championship

By Janie Hartman
Ten Muenster High School students traveled to Austin last weekend to compete in the 1A UIL Academic Meet. After two days of competition, Muenster ISD made history when these students returned home as school's first UIL Academic State champions.

Muenster took first place with 134 points to beat out Lindsay High School, who finished with 102. Nazareth followed in third place with 94.

"Because of the leadership of Ashley Hess, Chris Jackson, and Pamela Lutkenhaus, our teams performed exceptionally well," noted UIL coordinator Jerry Eckart. "These three seniors were role models for the other team members in the way they worked and the way they encouraged others to do their best."

Senior Chris Jackson was the leading force to the championship finish. Jackson earned seven gold and one silver medal. He was number one in Number Sense, Mathematics, and Computer Science, and a member of all three of these first place teams. He finished second in Science and was the top scorer in Physics.

"Jerry Eckart is the cornerstone of UIL program," commented Muenster ISD

Superintendent Clyde Steelman. "He has worked extremely hard, long hours with the students and coaches to have our District win our first UIL State Championship." Steelman added that the coaches have worked hard all year to reach this goal and give younger kids something to work for.

Other individuals medalling were Brady Howell, second in Mathematics, Pamela Lutkenhaus finishing third in Computer Science, and Kelley Grewing third in Spelling.

Muenster also brought home four State Championship team awards - Computer Science, Mathematics, Number Sense, and the Spelling-Vocabulary.

Lindsay High School, this year's State runner-up, won two first place individual events. Nabeel Anwar won the Current Issue contest and Megan Ward Headline Writing. Lindsay also brought home three team championships.

Muenster and Lindsay winners were as follows:
Computer Science - Chris Jackson (M) 1st, Pamela Lutkenhaus (M) 3rd, Muenster - Jackson, Lutkenhaus, and Chris McLaughlin 1st Place team.

Current Issue - Nabeel Anwar (L) 1st; Tommy Arendt (L) 3rd; Lindsay - Anwar, Arendt, and Joey

Arendt 1st Place team.

Literary Criticism - Jennifer Wilson (L) 2nd, Lindsay - Wilson, Faith Skinner, and Clay Gouard 1st Place team.

Mathematics - Chris Jackson (M) 1st; Brady Howell (M) 2nd; Muenster - Jackson, Howell, and Pamela Lutkenhaus 1st Place team.

Winners named in school trustee elections

By Janet Felderhoff
On Saturday, May 4 elections were held to select members of the Muenster ISD and Lindsay ISD Board of Trustees.

In Muenster ISD's election, 378 voters turned out to vote for two places on the Muenster Board. Nick Walterscheid, incumbent, for Place 3 was unopposed. He received 300 votes. Rudy Koesler, a retired MUSD teacher, unseated Tim Felderhoff, incumbent, for Place 4. Koesler received 230 votes and Felderhoff

147. Lindsay ISD reported a total of 163 voters. The three at large seats were won by Danny Nortman, incumbent, Wayne Fleitman, and Damian Krahll. Votes numbers were as follows: Nortman 135, Fleitman 132, Krahll 110, Kevin Creed 61, and David Hermes 51.

None of the votes have been declared official. School boards met this week to canvas the votes at which time the totals will become official.

Derek Felderhoff, Paul Fleitman, Rachel Clark, Pamela Lutkenhaus, Ashley Hess, Chris Jackson, Whitney Watson, Adam Vinson and, not pictured, Chris McLaughlin.

Participants sought by Historical Commission

By Janet Felderhoff
When the Muenster Historical Commission was formed it was for the purpose of preserving the history of Muenster and surrounding area. One of the original projects undertaken by the Historical Commission was that of collecting family histories to print a Muenster History Book and opening the Muenster Museum in observance of the town's centennial.

Muenster Centennial History books were much in demand and the group recently received a second printing. Since a bank loan was required to fund the printing, members are now sponsoring various fundraisers to help reduce the debt. Besides selling the history books for $75 each, they have held a cookie sale, sell Centennial items, the game of Muenster, and are now selling corn bags (can be used as ice pack or microwaved and used for a warmer or on achy body parts).

If you did not submit a family history for the first history book, now is the time to prepare one for a future supplement planned by the Historical Commission. Histories could also be updated in this supplement. If you have a history to submit, contact one of the officers or any member of the Commission.

Officers of the Historical Commission said that they would like to see people exchange Genealogy information since many families in the community are related. To participate, contact any member of the Historical Commission.

Another project the group is enthusiastic about was the generous donation of the Ben and Aggie Fette Seyler home for use as the Muenster Museum. The Museum is open three days a week. Volunteers are always needed to keep the Museum open and to conduct tours or otherwise assist visitors. New items, either donated or loaned are always welcomed!

As funds and volunteer assistance become available there are a number of projects that need to be taken care of at the Museum. These include reducing the bank loan for

"SAVVY SENIOR"

Senior Hearing Aids

YOU ASK THE SENIOR QUESTION ~ WE FIND THE SAVVY ANSWER

Dear Savvy Senior,

My husband, who is 58 years old, has a hearing problem particularly when we are in public places where there is a lot of people and background noise. I keep telling him to go get it checked out and see what he can do to help, but he refuses. He says hearing aids are ugly and that he's too young to start wearing one. Can you please provide me some facts about basic hearing loss and some different hearing aid options for vain senior citizens? I want to do something for him before it gets any worse.

Thank you.

Can't hear and won't admit it.

Dear Can't Hear,

WHAT DID YOU SAY??? A savvy fact about hearing loss is that it affects over 28 million Americans of all ages and is especially prevalent in seniors 60 and above. Furthermore, only about 20 percent of Americans who need a hearing aid actually wear one, largely because the devices are perceived as totally unsavvy. Because hearing loss can develop over several years, most people are not aware of the extent of their loss until family or friends bring it to their attention. Even then they might deny that they have difficulty hearing.

Hearing Loss symptoms include:

- Difficulty hearing high-pitched sounds, such as women's and children's voices, as well as birds singing.
- Difficulty hearing at public gatherings: concert halls, theaters, houses of worship - where sound sources are far from the listener.
- Difficulty understanding conversations within a group of people, or on the telephone.

Three general types of hearing loss:

1. Sensorineural hearing loss (most common) is characterized by deterioration of the cochlea. Causes are the result of the aging process, exposure to loud noise, or a congenital problem.
2. Conductive hearing loss occurs when the eardrum, bones and membranes don't properly transmit vibrations to the cochlea. Causes include traumatic head injury or birth defects.
3. Mixed hearing loss involves a combination of both conductive and sensorineural hearing loss.

A savvy note: No two people have the same type of hearing loss.

What are the options you ask? There are many varied hearing aid styles and advanced technologies available out there, depending on individual need and budget. You should contact your Hearing Health Care Professional for more specific information.

As far as hearing aid vanity goes, did you know that President Bill Clinton wore a completely-in-the-canal model hearing aid for most of the last four years of his presidency. Who Knew???

For more information on hearing loss and hearing aid styles and technology, computer savvy seniors should check out the world wide web for unlimited information. Here are a few savvy sites to start with:

Germanfest crowd estimated at 30,000

By Janet Felderhoff

Attendance at the 27th annual Germanfest celebration was up slightly from last year. There were an estimated 30,000 people who came to the event April 26-28. Chamber of Commerce Secretary Margie Starke reported that it was a calm crowd that seemed to enjoy the dancing and entertainment. Police officers remarked to Starke that there were few problems at Germanfest and that there seems to be a trend of non (alcohol) drinking friends taking care of those who do drink.

Starke commented that many of the first time visitors expressed pleasure with the event and said they planned to return.

Paul Escamilla of Dallas and his daughter, Anna, were excited about their first time participation in the Germanfest Metric Century Bicycle Rally. Anna celebrated her seventh birthday on the day of the Bicycle Rally. She began riding with her father when she was four.

Escamilla converted his tandem bicycle to a two seater so that his young daughter could accompany him. This was done by removing the front wheel on her smaller bicycle and attaching it to his. They rode the 100 kilometer (63 mile) course.

Mary Lin Knabe of Sacred Heart School Alumni & Supporters reported that there were 1,078 registered riders this year compared to 1,222 in 2001. This was the 21st Annual Germanfest Century Bicycle Rally.

Knabe said the sponsors are pleased with the outcome. She felt predictions of rain for the rally pulled the numbers down.

Mary Lin said she heard many good comments about the event. Participants remarked on how good everyone was to them, how pleasant the ride was, and that they plan to come again.

After the event a party was held in the Muenster Park and prizes awarded to some of the riders. Mary Lin said that one gift certificate was returned with a request that it be given to a more deserving person.

The Rally was fairly uneventful. An ambulance was called to take one rider to the hospital, but sponsors didn't know who or why. Another rider took a tumble near the end of his course and received a cut to his chin.

Mary Lin praised the volunteers who assisted with the Rally. She said they know what to do and just do what is required. Even the students help out.

This is the first year that there has been an official Germanfest t-shirt. It was designed and printed by Unique Images of Muenster.

There was a new carnival group, Talley's Fun & Games, sponsored by the Muenster Kiwanis. Praises were heard for them from the area being kept clean to the rides being well maintained and the workers being friendly.

Rock climbing was a new feature at Germanfest this year, drawing much participation. Janie Hartman Photo

St. Peter's celebrates First Holy Communion

First Holy Communion was held at St. Peter Catholic Church in Lindsay on Sunday, Apr. 21, 2002. Rev. Eugene Luke, O.S.B. was celebrant at the 10 a.m. Mass when 19 children from the second grade religious education program received Jesus in the Eucharist for the first time.

The Guardian Angel Choir provided music and songs for the special occasion. The Entrance Procession was led by the 9th grade students who presented flowers at the altar in honor of the second grade student they helped during the "Freshman Buddy" program. Lighted Baptismal candles were carried by Rane Morrison and Mandy Hess. The second grade Religion text was presented by Taylor Krebs. Amber Hess carried the Reconciliation Lamb. Bread and wine was offered by Rebecca Fuhrmann.

The first reading, from The Acts of the Apostles, was read by Amelia Haverkamp. Caitlin Huston led Psalm 23 and Megan Caillier read the second reading, from the First Letter of Saint Peter. After a reading from the holy Gospel according to John was proclaimed and a homily given by Father Eugene Luke, Lucinda Krah, Allie Fogle, and McKenzie Neu led the intercessions.

Offertory gifts were carried by Jordan Fleitman, Connor Fuhrmann, Caroline Dieter, and Alicia Hellinger. Benjamin Zimmerer and Dean Fleitman offered the sign of peace. Prayer before Communion was read by A.J. Summerlin and the Prayer after Communion by Stephanie Zwinggi. After Mass the entire group of nineteen sang "Do you know who died for me?"

Relay For Life teams help others in battle against cancer!

Thirty-four teams have already committed to helping others in their battle against cancer in the American Cancer Society's Relay For Life of Cooke County. The 7th annual event here in Cooke County is scheduled for Friday June 7 through Saturday June 8 at Muenster Hornet Stadium and promises to be another exciting event for the whole community. It is not too late to form a team for this year's Relay and make a difference in the lives of those affected by cancer.

Relay For Life teams can be any size from one person to large groups of family, friends, or co-workers, and each team member works to raise as much money as they can prior to, and at the event. Then, on Friday June 7, following a special recognition ceremony for all cancer survivors at 6:00pm, one person from each team takes turns walking around the track throughout the night until the closing ceremonies at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday. During this time there are teams camping out with families and friends while entertainment and many exciting activities take place.

Last year team members from the Relay For Life helped more than 85 cancer patients in Cooke County alone with their fundraising efforts. Funds raised at Relay For Life last year also helped to educate more than 8,000 Cooke County citizens of all ages about ways to prevent cancer and to detect cancer early. In addition to providing these great programs and services, the American Cancer Society is the largest private, not-for-profit source of funding for scientists studying cancer, directing over $2 billion into research since 1946. Indeed, ACS-funded investigators have contributed to most of the advances that have made conquering cancer a feasible goal for the 21st century.

Even though great advances have been made, there is a lot more work to be done in research, education and service. Relay For Life provides a fun, fulfilling opportunity, to people of all ages, from all walks of life, to positively impact the lives of millions of people affected by cancer.

If you are interested in getting involved, plan to attend the Relay For Life Bank Night on May 20, at 6:00pm at the Cooke County Electric Co-op Auditorium, 11799 W. Hwy 82, to find out more information or call Kim at Relay For Life Headquarters at 940-759-2271 ext. 136.

The first Bank Night, on May 20, will provide teams the opportunity to register their team, turn in money already raised, pick up campsites, pick up t-shirts, get questions answered, or find out additional information about Relay For Life. All team captains are asked to attend the bank nights or send a team representative. The planning committee for Relay For Life will be on hand at the Bank Nights to answer any questions; collect registration forms, fees, and money collected;

Travis's actual birthday is on Apr. 27 and Kalyn's is on the details taken care of May 6. Both Kalyn and before June 7. This will Travis brought cupcakes to make the Relay For Life school/daycare to share with more enjoyable for their classmates.

It's not too late to form your Relay For Life Team! Register your team at Bank Night on May 20 and you can have as much fun as the Relay Challengers did last year. On June 7 and 8 the Era Footprints team will join approximately 40 other county teams in the Relay For Life held to raise monies to fight cancer. This is the 7th year of the relay and for Era to participate. Members of the Era Footprints are: Co-Captains Sheila Wilson and Barb Rider, Jim Rider, Cindy Swank, Karen Graves, Branda Timmons, Denise Pearse, Betti Jo Weber, Melissa Chaffin, Nancy Denison, Mary Nan Cannon, Leann Spears, Adriane Rider, and Sally Clement. The group produced a cookbook in memory of Dianne Middlebrooks and Debbie English (co workers of the team who lost their fight last year against this disease). These are on sale for $10.00 each from any member.

This is Era's 7th year to participate in Gemun (Global Elementary Model United Nations). The program is for elementary and middle school students. These delegates gain valuable first-hand experience about existing international relations. They begin in September researching their country, committees, and topics that the real United Nations is debating on during the current year. Throughout the year they write position papers on their country, write resolutions, and learn parliamentary procedure.

On May 10 and 11, the 16 delegates from Era will attend a general assembly meeting. Here they will present their resolutions, set up visual displays teaching about the country, and debate with over 300 other students from Texas, Arkansas, Mexico, Russia, and Guatemala.

This year representing Norway are Holly Crenshaw, Bonnie Bulloch, Joanna Bulloch, Hannah Weber, Trevor Trigg, and R.J. Metzler.

Representing Russia are Jacob Green, Katie Metzler, Kelly Crenshaw, Bonnie Bulloch, Joanna Bulloch, Hannah Weber, Trevor Trigg, and R.J. Metzler. Advisor of the group is Leann Spears.

Mold, moisture, stigma and value

Homeowners Insurance coverage:

If you live in Texas and have had to renew your homeowners insurance policy recently, you probably were unable to obtain coverage for water damage. This is a result of a number of recent large claims concerning severe health problems, even death, and property damage possibly caused by mold and legal cases involving insurance companies reluctance to compensate for remediation and reconstruction of mold infested areas. In several of these cases the courts have awarded well over one million dollars to plaintiffs. Other cases have been filed by homeowners who have found mold believed by the insurance companies to have been caused by "slow and continuous" leaks, indicating possible deferred regular maintenance by the homeowner. Some claims have been fraudulent. There have been claims for small amounts of mold found under a kitchen sink and the claimant gets a new kitchen, etc.. These cases became more frequent and are financially crippling the insurance companies. As a result, here in Texas at least, the insurance companies simply stopped offering coverage for water damage. Any water damage, whether mold is involved or not.

Recent news from the Texas Department of Insurance is that some coverage for water damage will soon be available to homeowners. Likely on a "sliding scale" where incremental costs of coverage will buy more coverage. And there will likely be a "cap" or maximum amount the insurance company will cover at each increment or for specific types of claims.

For example, there will likely be no coverage at all for any type of water damage deemed to be caused by "slow and continuous" water leaks OR anything deemed as deferred maintenance on the part of the homeowner. Insurance companies are taking the position that regular maintenance should be a requisite for insurance coverage. Water damage coverage of the future will likely be in the form of coverage for damage caused by "sudden and accidental events".

This, then, raises the question, what is a "sudden and accidental event"? What if the hose connecting my washing machine to the water source in the wall bursts while I am away for a weekend? That would be "sudden and accidental" wouldn't it? Or would the insurance company view that as deferred maintenance? Should you have replaced that hose prior to its failure? Another example could be a water heater that bursts. That would be a "sudden and accidental event". But what if that water heater were, say, 17 years old and it had a five-year warranty that expired sometime in the early 1990's? Should you have replaced the water heater as a part of regular maintenance? If so, when?

As you can see there are many questions remaining when discussing water damage coverage with your insurance agent. For more information the Texas Department of Insurance web address is www.tdi.state.tx.us

Specific Information: Now that we have discussed what mold is and why it has become such an issue recently, we'll take a closer look at mold, how to prevent it, what happens if you get it, and some things you may experience in the future as a result of having mold.

Why Should I Prearrange My Funeral Services?

Here's 3 Good Reasons:

Your Family

The death of a loved one is a time of grief and confusion — and certainly not the time to be making over 50 decisions concerning your funeral service.

Planning ahead means you and your family make those decisions together, calmly and sensibly, without the emotional burden.

Lower Costs

Prearranging saves you money by freezing the cost of the service at today's prices.

It also reserves your insurance and retirement funds for the living, not to meet the cost of a funeral. When you plan ahead, you decide the cost.

Peace of Mind

You avoid needless worries, knowing that everything is taken care of, and that the service will be just as you want it.

Tigerettes statebound, win regional playoff

The Sacred Heart Tigerettes advance to the TAPPS State Final Four Softball Tournament after handing Saint John of Ennis a 5-0 defeat Tuesday afternoon in the Regional play-off round.

The Tigerettes got six hits and had only three strikeouts, while pitcher Mary Jane Callahan threw 14 strikeouts, with no walks, no runs, and only two hits.

Callahan was 2 of 3, starting the bottom of the first with a triple. Karen Gehrig scored twice with one hit and a stolen base. Audrey Barnhill got a double and three RBIs (runners batted in). Jennifer Hoedebeck got an RBI, with Michelle Bayer getting a bunt and a stolen base. Alisha Cochran got on base on a dropped 3rd strike, stole 2nd, and scored on a hit by Barnhill.

Defensively, Coach Beth Bartush noted that Crystal Hess had a great game, involved in put outs at first, with several unassisted outs. Also, Barnhill picked a runner out at 2nd, with Catherine Bartush and Karen Gehrig involved in good defensive plays. "Overall they all played real well as a team," Bartush concluded.

STATE GAMES

Waco ISD's Veteran's Field, beginning at 2 p.m. against Hallettsville Sacred Heart. To get to the field, travel I-35 to South Waco. Take New Road Exit. The school is located on the corner of New Road and Bagby Streets.

SH Tigerettes defeat Rockwall in Bi-District

Sacred Heart hosted Rockwall Heritage on May 1 in bi-district action, taking a 7-1 victory to advance to the Regional play-offs. The Tigerettes had 8 hits, 4 walks, 6 strikeouts, and 7 runs batted in. Mary Jane Callahan had her 5th no-hitter game of the year with 16 strikeouts and 3 walkers.

Sacred Heart started strong offensively with Callahan getting a walk. Karen Gehrig bunted and Callahan scored on an error by the 2nd baseman. Gehrig was safe at 1st and advanced to 2nd on the same play. Gehrig then stole 3rd and scored on a hit by Michelle Bayer.

In the 3rd inning, Gehrig started with a single and stole 2 bases. An attempt to score on a passed ball, caught her out at home. Jennifer Hoedebeck walked, Bayer hit, and Crystal Hess hit to score Hoedebeck. Bayer and Hess pulled a double steal and both scored on a Lilly Nasche double for a 5-0 score after 3 innings.

Rockwall scored in the 4th with a walked batter, a stolen base and an error. The Tigerettes scored again in the 4th when Callahan walked and stole 2nd, Audrey Barnhill singled, then Hoedebeck hit a triple for 2 RBIs.

Both teams were scoreless for the remainder of the game. The victory gave the Tigerettes a number one seed going into Regional competition.

Sacred Heart Tigerettes warm up for softball playoffs

The Sacred Heart Tigerette softball team had a pre-play-off warm-up game at Collinsville on Apr. 25. The Tigerettes slipped in a 2-1 victory in 10 innings.

"It was a pitchers' duel most of the game. We got the bat on the ball, but Collinsville's defense was solid," commented Coach Beth Bartush.

The Lady Pirates threatened in the 4th but good defense by Karen Gehrig and Catherine Bartush ended the inning still scoreless.

Collinsville led off the 6th with a base hit followed by 2 strikeouts. Trying to make something happen, the first base runner attempted to steal 2nd and was thrown out by catcher Audrey Barnhill.

There was lots of action in the 7th inning. Jennifer Hoedebeck led off with a walk. Michelle Bayer had a sacrifice bunt to move Hoedebeck to 2nd with aggressive base running getting her to 3rd. The next batter struck out. With two outs and a runner on 3rd, Lilly Nasche doubled to centerfield, scoring Hoedebeck for a 1-0 lead.

The Tigerettes were retired on another out.

Collinsville began the 7th offensively with a strikeout and a pop fly to Catherine Bartush for two quick outs. The next batter walked and took 2nd on a passed ball, then scored on a single up the middle. The next batter was put out by Bartush to Crystal Hess at first for a 1-1 tie going into the 8th.

Sacred Heart threatened in the 8th with hits from Karen Gehrig and Barnhill, but were unable to score.

Mary Jane Callahan struck out the next five batters and had one unassisted put out to get through the 8th and 9th.

In the 10th inning, the International Tie Breaker rule was used. Lilly Nasche started off as a runner at 2nd base. Bartush sacrificed Nasche over to 3rd. A passed ball by the catcher allowed Nasche to score. The next two batters were outs.

The Tigerettes held on to the lead in the bottom of the 10th with 2 strikeouts and a put out at home.

Callahan faced 32 batters, throwing 20 strikeouts and 2 base on balls.

MHS golf teams compete at regional

On Apr. 22-23, two Muenster High School Golf Teams competed at the Region II Golf Tournament in Abilene. The weather was beautiful and the golfers had a great time.

On Monday, the girls team had a team score of 429, good enough to hold down 5th place out of 15 teams. Robyn Hermes posted her best ever 95. She was followed by regional rookie, Kristian Koesler with a fine 107. Deann Dangelmayr shot her best ever at regional with a nice 111. Kami Klement posted a 116, and Ashley Hess finished with 128.

82 in his initial experience at a regional tournament. Tyler Walterscheid had 89 and Colby Calabrese posted 91.

On Tuesday, the girls bested their fine performance of Monday. They had a team score of 413, by far their best effort ever. Robyn continued her extraordinarily good play with a 94 for a two day total of 189. She is only a sophomore and she will just continue to get better and better. Kristian Koesler didn't seem to have any first-time problems as she lowered her score another 5

The boys also broke a regional team record with a very good 328. This resulted in them being only 18 strokes out of first place at the end of the day. Kevin Hermes and Mitch Endres each broke into the seventies with a nice 78 and 79 respectively. Jared Ledbetter turned in a good strokes to a 102 for a 2-day total of 209. Deann lowered her score another 5 strokes to a 106 for a 2-day 217. Ashley Hess had the best improvement of 17 strokes as she posted a 111 for a 2-day score of 239. Kami Klement had a problem on the second day as her score went up to 119 for a 2-day 235. The girls held on to their final 5th place. Remember that only one of these girls is a senior, so look out for good things next year.

The boys didn't fare as well on Tuesday. They ballooned to a 349. Kevin shot 83, Colby and Mitch posted 87's, while Jared had a 92. Tyler finished with a 93. Only two of the varsity boys will return for 2003. The two day total of 677 was good enough still for a 7th place finish out of 16 teams.

Farm & Ranch

New modeling system helps monitor soil moisture, helps predict drought

A Texas Agricultural Experiment Station researcher is near completion of a computer modeling system that could help farmers, ranchers and forest land managers minimize the effect of drought and guard against forest and range fires.

With Texas having endured multi-billion dollar losses from drought and wildfires throughout the 1990s, Dr. Raghavan Srinivasan has led efforts to develop a drought warning and monitoring system. The system indexes soil moisture data recorded from 200 weather stations throughout Texas.

The drought monitoring system utilizes remote sensing data derived from Next Generation Weather Radar (NEXRAD), a satellite called the Advanced Very High Resolution Radiometer (AVHRR), NOAA weather feeds, and other satellites. The satellites can track weather patterns, as well as moisture and vegetation readings on various Texas rangeland.

Perhaps the biggest advantage is the information is accessible 24 hours a day via the World Wide Web, providing real-time information to county officials, agricultural producers and others.

"This system will primarily allow farmers, ranchers and forest managers to identify within a 4-kilometer grid (approximately 6.2 square miles) whether there is sufficient moisture to plant. Using maps generated by the program, users can determine the degree of drought stress on grazing lands and forests and the risk of forest and grass fires. Or (land managers) can compare recent rainfall with historical conditions to help plan for the upcoming growing season," Srinivasan said. "This system could also be a valuable tool for county officials in determining whether to enforce burn bans."

In 1998, the Texas Legislature designated funds for increased research and projects to help better manage water and monitor drought as part of the Texas Water Initiative. The drought monitoring project is a partnership made up of several state agencies, which include the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Spatial Sciences Laboratory at Texas A&M, the Blacklands Research & Extension Center in Temple, part of the Texas A&M University System, the Texas Forest Service, and the Texas Water Resources Institute.

Currently, the monitoring system can only be used at the county level. "Every five counties is using just one weather station," Srinivasan said.

For now, county officials are relying on the Keetch-Byram Drought Index (KBDI) monitored by the Texas Forest Service in deciding to implement burn ban declarations. However, the installation of new weather stations at various points across the state will allow more precise monitoring data in specific locations.

"Land use and weather information help us to better monitor drought," Srinivasan said. And monitoring soil moisture with a soil moisture index is just one part of the research, he said.

"We want to gather soil moisture indices just like we use in the Palmer Drought Index," he said. "We want to develop weekly drought indices. We are using real-time land use data, which indicates if a certain piece of land is being used for agricultural purposes, for forestry, or it's simply non-farmed rural land, etc. We now want to propose compiling a soil moisture index to more accurately monitor drought conditions."

Dr. Travis Miller, Extension program leader for soil and crop sciences at Texas A&M, said the monitoring system will be a more efficient and accurate tool to monitor drought. He said most states in the U.S. report weather conditions and drought conditions using weather conditions derived from 8 to 10 weather reporting districts.

"We currently accumulate and summarize weather information in 10 districts, which average more than 26,000 square miles in size," Miller said. "In some of these districts, only two effective weather stations are used to extrapolate data. This gives us a very ineffective means of assessing moisture conditions and issuing drought declarations necessary for water conservation plans."

What Dr. Srinivasan is working on is real-time data on a very detailed scale so that we can watch drought conditions develop and develop strategies with respect to agricultural science and government policy to assist people of the state affected by drought conditions."

NGSP cheers equalization of loan rate in farm bill report

Officials with the National Grain Sorghum Producers (NGSP) cheered a House and Senate Conference Committee's completion of Farm Bill legislation. Among other important features, the bill sets the grain sorghum loan rate at $1.98 per bushel, up from the current $1.71 per bushel and equal to the corn loan rate of $1.98. The bill provides the fairness, flexibility and predictability that NGSP and other farm groups have been urging, say NGSP leaders.

Looking at loan rate provisions alone, the impact of the 27-cent boost in loan rates for sorghum could mean an additional $15 to $35 dollars per acre for grain sorghum farmers in a loan rate environment, says Tim Lust, NGSP executive director. Additionally, the legislation dictates a $2.54-per-bushel target price for sorghum, with a 35 cent per bushel fixed payment.

James Vorderstrasse, NGSP vice president for legislation and a producer from Hebron, Nebraska, says that the legislation goes a long way toward correcting the dramatic slashes the grain sorghum loan rate suffered since 1996, while loan rates for other feed grains rose or remained steady. The result of the last 6 years, says Vorderstrasse, has been a dramatic drop in acreage planted to grain sorghum and producers who have been forced to plant other crops that may not have always been suited to their farm's conservation needs.

"Studies in both Texas and Nebraska have demonstrated that grain sorghum requires around 1/3 less water than other crops," says Vorderstrasse, adding, "Although it's not in the bill's Conservation Title, correcting the loan rate inequity for grain sorghum is a move with very positive conservation ramifications in areas facing water scarcity."

NGSP leaders also applauded the farm safety net in the farm bill, which when combined with other provisions in the legislation, will result in more dollars to the producer than they are receiving under the current farm bill.

Forestburg plans Ranch Rodeo for June 8 & 9

McDonald's plans to import beef to use in its burgers. McDonald's - the biggest buyer of U.S. beef - is testing beef from Australia and New Zealand in about 400 of its 13,000 restaurants, all in the Southeast.

A company spokesperson cited a shortage of U.S. lean beef (no more than 10% fat) which is blended with low-cost fat trimmings to produce burger meat. McDonald's competitors - Wendy's, Burger King and other fast-food chains - have been importing lean beef for some time, at a price that is 5 to 20 cents per pound cheaper than the U.S. product McDonald's has been using.

US leads world in soybean production

Based on figures from the United Nations (FAO data), the United States still comfortably leads the world in production of soybeans.

In 2001, 177 million metric tons (mmt) of soybeans were produced globally. Of this amount 45 percent were grown in the USA.

The top six countries produced almost 95 percent of the world's total soybean production in 2001.

They are as follows: United States, 79 mmt; Brazil, 38 mmt; Argentina, 26 mmt; China, 15 mmt; India, 6 mmt; and Canada, 3 mmt.
