before contracting with Public Power Pool. "I contacted one electric company. They don't even want to come talk to us. I guess we're not big enough. ... We need to have the study done and find out if we can save some money on this electricity," said Judge Freeman.

The vote was unanimous to join Power Pool and have a study done including a low profile analysis needed to go on the market for bids. The cost to the County is $250 plus an additional $30 per electric meter.

Commissioners Virgil Hess and Bill Cox were appointed to review applications and interview applicants for the position of Veterans service officer for Cooke County. After the qualifications are checked and candidates are ranked, Commissioners Court will determine who is hired.

There is nobody in that position presently and they hope to fill it soon.

In other business Commissioners Court:

- Approved purchase of a new desk and return for the child support clerk in the District Clerk's office at a cost of $1,241.50.

- Had no bids submitted on the sale, dissembling, and removal of the old BJ Construction building. It was agreed that a decision about what to do with it would be discussed at a future meeting.

- Approved final plat for Prairie Groves Estates, Lots 1-5, located off Neely Trail in Precinct #2.

- Approved preliminary plat for Country Estates North Phase II, lots 1 and 2, located off of CR 428 in Precinct #4.

- Approved public official bond for Gary Whitaker, deputy sheriff.

A somewhat small but enthusiastic group of people braved the rain and cool weather Saturday for the Great Texas Trash-Off. ## Morton Museum offers last session of spring series

The last session in the Morton Museum of Cooke County's Spring Series will take place at the museum in Gainesville at noon on Monday, Apr. 15. It is entitled "The Story of Two Friends & The Sinking of the Lusitania."

In these days after the horror of September 11, it sometimes helps to deal with the shock by reflecting on past events that shocked and appalled the world. Such an event was the sinking of the Lusitania in 1915. This event deeply touched Gainesville as it had two of its citizens on board that ship. There were many similarities between the lives of Robert Timmis and Ralph Moodie. Most importantly, they were good friends. Good friends who shared one last fateful voyage together.

The program will also briefly touch on collecting memorabilia from the Lusitania and W.W.I. Handouts will be provided.

Refreshments will be served. Seating is limited. For members of the Cooke County Heritage Society the cost to attend is $3 and for non-members the cost is $4. To reserve a seat or for more information, call the Morton Museum at 940-668-8900.

Biffle said that in areas where the water comes up warm, people turn their water heater off during the summer and use the cold water faucet for hot water and the hot water heater as a place for water to cool before being turned on at the tap.

Having the President as a sometimes resident has been good for Crawford. Biffle said the town is really cleaning up its appearance.

The week's observance is part of a national campaign to help increase public awareness of work zone safety. In 2000, Texas had 155 reported work zone-related fatalities. In Texas, 85 percent of all work zone-related fatalities claim the lives of motorists. ## NCTC honors its employees Seventy-three employees. More than 1,344 years of service. One mission: Education.

North Central Texas College honored its employees Friday night with precious stones to signify how precious they are to students, the college and to those around them. The event, the first of its kind at NCTC, was called "Gems of NCTC: Proudly Honoring Our Employees."

"Webster defines a gem as something that is both beautiful and perfect," said Roger Boyce, assistant to the president of NCTC, who helped announce the honorees. "I submit to you that you are both beautiful and perfect."

There were several significant events during the evening, which began with music by the North Central Texas College Jazz Combo. Employees mingled prior to being served a steak dinner and took time to catch up on news from and about those who they may not have seen in a while.

"We don't get to spend as much time with each other as we'd like," said Dr. Ronnie Glasscock, NCTC president. "With our daily responsibilities to educate students, our various campuses, our families and spending time for ourselves, we sometimes forget to say how important we are to each other. North Central Texas College is a better place because of you all and for that, I personally thank you."

Two employees were recognized for teaching students for 37 years apiece. The 35-year service pin was gold with an "outstanding" diamond inset.

James Crump, a biology

instructor, and Ron Melugin, a government instructor, shared memories they had spanning a combined 74 years — including the first apartment they shared back in the late '60s when they began working at NCTC.

"Cooke County Junior College hired me one week after I received my master's degree in 1965," Melugin said. "Jim Crump and I were hired at the same time, and I was a little jealous of him because he got $100 more a year for serving in the military."

Dr. Dale Alsup, math professor; David Belz, plant maintenance; Dr. Bob Chaloupecky, tennis coach;

Linda Coolen, English instructor; T. J. Davidson, agriculture instructor; Doug Robison, farm and ranch management instructor; Bill Stanley, biology instructor; and Dr. George Wang, psychology professor, were each awarded 30-year pins with three diamonds.

Those honored with the 25-year pin with two diamonds were: Roger Boyce, assistant to the president; Don Evans, print shop manager; Kay Evans, business secretary; Estelle Gilpin, nursing secretary; Dr. Eddie Hadlock, vice president of instruction; Paul Hutchins, speech instructor; and Dr. Pat

Chaloupecky, tennis coach; Please See NCTC, Page 14

Letters to the Editor

Letter to the Editor:
Did you know your tax money also went to Planned Parenthood Federation of America? The headquarters of Planned Parenthood Federation of America is in New York City.

Many local Planned Parenthood affiliates were struggling and about to close in the 1960's due to lack of funds. In 1967, during President Lyndon Johnson's Administration, they were given the first federal money in Texas. Since that time, Planned Parenthood has flourished and it has become an expert at latching onto government funding programs.

Taxpayers money to Planned Parenthood from 1987 - 2000, was $1.997 billion. There are individuals, corporations and foundations contributing to Planned Parenthood. Their president receives over $300,000 salary. They also received interest on its investments. Planned Parenthood profits from 1987 - 2000 was $415.1 million. Why should our tax money keep funding Planned Parenthood? The number of surgical abortions at Planned Parenthood from 1977 to 1999 were 2,608,362. They are paid to do abortions, then they sell the body parts.

Isn't it time for our government to stop funding a money making organization?

Why Should I Prearrange My Funeral Services?

Here's 3 Good Reasons:

Your Family

The death of a loved one is a time of grief and confusion — and certainly not the time to be making over 50 decisions concerning your funeral service.

Planning ahead means you and your family make those decisions together, calmly and sensibly, without the emotional burden.

Lower Costs

Prearranging saves you money by freezing the cost of the service at today's prices.

It also reserves your insurance and retirement funds for the living, not to meet the cost of a funeral.

When you plan ahead, you decide the cost.

Peace of Mind

You avoid needless worries, knowing that everything is taken care of, and that the service will be just as you want it.

Cultural diversities studied

Fifty staff members of Mental Health Mental Retardation Services of Texoma (MHRST) participated in Cultural Diversity training held at Southeastern Oklahoma State University last week. Camille Phelps, Director of Multicultural Services for SOSU, and Valarie Pruitt, Preventive Community Coordinator for the Substance Abuse Council, were the featured trainers. Other special guests spoke about their cultures and talked about their feelings and observations in their new cultures of North Texas and Southeastern Oklahoma. They were SOSU students Gloria Kimiyi, Kenya Africa and Heidi Williams, New Jersey and Patricia Velasquez, Cultural Connections Specialist, Substance Abuse Council, from Mexico.

The objectives of the training were to gain a better understanding of the concept of culture, obtain a perception of power as a consequence of culture, note that communication can be a potential problem when communicating with people of different cultures, develop skills for effective communication across cultures, and identify strategies for affecting cultural change in corporate structures.

Camille Phelps states, "As our workforce continues to grow and diversify, it becomes increasingly important for organizations to promote a work environment that is both supportive and effective in developing and utilizing the skills of all employees. Managers and supervisors have employees who are different from themselves in how they react to situations, respond to co-workers, complete a task, or solve a problem. This training examines those differences and provides insight into why people communicate and behave as they do. Understanding relevance of cultural values and beliefs is a dimension to communication."

Klement chosen for Board of Barristers

Andrea Klement was recently inducted as a member of the Texas Tech School of Law Board of Barristers. A ceremony and reception was held on Apr. 2 at Abuelo's restaurant in Lubbock. The Board of Barristers is a student led organization focusing on improving the advocacy skills of law students.

An empty nest may lead to sad hearts - and depression

Many students have left for college for the first time, starting a new and exciting stage of life. But sometimes this event triggers sadness in the parents left behind.

"Empty nest syndrome" is a feeling of loss, sadness, and bewilderment stemming from a child, especially the last "chick", leaving home. This may sometimes lead to a bad case of the blues.

If these feelings persist for several months without relief, consulting a family physician or therapist is recommended. It's possible for a parent to develop a major case of depression during this time.

Certainly not you. You were surfing the Internet, so you never got the message. But your Buddy did. When his car broke down he called you for a ride, and all he got was a busy signal and a cold from standing out in the rain.

Hellinger is DPS graduate

Amanda Hellinger of Lindsay graduated March 8 from the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) 120th Training Academy in Austin. She is the daughter of James and Clara Hellinger and the granddaughter of Agnes Hellinger and the late Pete Hellinger, Sr. and Henry and Rose Hellinger, all of Lindsay. She graduated from Lindsay High School in 1998 and earned a Criminal Justice degree from North Central Texas College in 2001.

"Sept. 11 reminded us we live in a dangerous world," said Col. Thomas A. Davis Jr., director of the DPS. "These men and women will now join the front lines in the war against crime here in Texas."

Governor Rick Perry addressed the graduating class at Toney Burger

also participated in the ceremony along with DPS training officers.

The 27-week school is the longest continuous training academy offered by any law enforcement agency in Texas, and one of the longest in the nation. The cadets entered the academy in September and completed 1,214 hours of instruction — more than twice the training required by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education.

The students received instruction in criminal law, traffic law, arrest procedures, accident investigation, first aid, and other law enforcement subjects, as well as classes aimed at developing self-esteem and goal setting skills. Trooper Hellinger will be assigned to the Highway Patrol in Pecos.

Bible seminar comes to First Baptist in Gainesville

On Saturday, May 4, the Walk Thru the Old Testament comes to First Baptist Church, 308 E. Broadway, Gainesville. Internationally renowned for its innovative, entertaining presentation, Walk Thru the Bible seminars utilize the interactive learning techniques to help people absorb - and remember - the key characters, geography, and major themes of the entire Old Testament.

Auditorium floors are turned into maps as people sit or stand near Bible lands and waters. Hand movements and group recitations frequently punctuate the vibrant teaching. In just five hours, virtually anyone is able to master a survey of the Old Testament, even if they have very little prior Bible knowledge.

For kids grade one through five, a Kids in the Book seminar will also be offered. The children will learn the Old Testament through stories, puzzles, and the same learning techniques as the adults. Kids in the Book will allow your children to take a quantum leap forward in their walk with God.

Anyone interested in attending this learning adventure should contact Dr. Andy Brockelman at the church office at 665-4347.

NCTC seeks entries for art show

Local artists and photographers are invited to submit their works of art in the annual art show sponsored by North Central Texas College.

Entries for the show will be accepted from 4-6 p.m. April 12 in the NCTC Student Activity Center on NCTC's Gainesville Campus.

"The emphasis for the 2000 show is 'Local History,'" said Dr. Scott Robinson, NCTC art department professor and show coordinator. "Now more than ever, people need to remember their communities and where we all came from."

Artwork may be submitted under four categories: The first section will encompass paintings, such as oils, acrylics, watercolors, pastels and miniatures, while the second will showcase graphics such as prints or drawings.

The third division will allow exhibition of original crafts such as fibers, jewelry or woodcarving. The fourth category will feature ceramics, sculpture and mixed media. No kits, copies or molded wares will be accepted.

In addition, artists may submit works of photography under the following categories: professional—black/white or color; general—black/white or color; college; black/white or color or school — black/white or color. Photography entries are limited to six per category. Photos should be matted, mounted or framed.

Dr. Robinson noted that a fee of $3 will be charged for each individual work entered. Entries are limited to three selections per category. Artists are required to meet two terms of eligibility: the work should be fully original in concept and should have been designed in the past year.

The public is welcome to examine all entries from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Fridays in the NCTC Student Activity Center.

Artists are encouraged to offer their work for sale to the public during the display; however, a 10 percent gratuity should be included for North Central Texas College.

Renowned artist to present program

Donna Howell-Sickles, nationally renowned cowgirl artist, will be the guest speaker at the annual Century Club luncheon on Saturday, Apr. 13. Lunch, served at noon in the Chamber of Commerce Building on the Square in Saint Jo, will be followed by Mrs. Howell-Sickles' presentation.

Museums and collectors all over America have eagerly sought Donna Howell-Sickles' paintings of vibrant cowgirls. A Native of Texas, Howell-Sickles grew up on a ranch at Sivells Bend near the Red River in North Texas, a place that provided the first inspiration for the love of nature and animals reflected in her work. She decided to become a painter in college, while earning her BFA from Texas Tech University. Since that time, her art and her family have been the center of her life.

An antique postcard found over two decades ago sparked her interest in the cowgirl. During the ensuing years, Howell-Sickles' magical cowgirl has taken on many guises and garnered much praise. Howell-Sickles has had more than a dozen one-woman shows and was the featured artist of this year's American Women Artists show at the National Museum of Wildlife Art in Jackson, Wyoming.

Donna, her husband John, and their daughter Katie, divide their time between their home and studio and a ranch in Saint Jo.

Luncheon tickets are $8 and can be obtained from any Century Club member or from Goff's Flowers in Saint Jo. Tickets may also be purchased at the door. Seating is limited so it is best to get tickets ahead of time.

TFB offers institute for teachers

Since 1994, Texas Farm Bureau, in cooperation with Tarleton State University, has hosted the Summer Agricultural Institute for elementary school teachers. The week long institute, graduate level held at the Tarleton State University campus in Stephenville, strives to inform educators about the importance of food and fiber production and show them how they can incorporate agricultural education into their classroom.

Teachers attending the institute combine hands-on learning activities about agriculture with practical curriculum development and usage. They also participate in field trips to area farms, ranches, and processing facilities. In addition, they explore the importance of research in agriculture through the Texas A&M University Research Center at Stephenville.

Teachers who attend the institute receive three hours graduate credit through Tarleton State University and 45 clock hours of Continuing Professional Education units. Each teacher also receives a set of Texas Farm Bureau's Ag in the Classroom material and agriculture education resources from other agencies and organizations.

The 2002 Summer Agricultural Institute will be held June 8-12. Cooke County Farm Bureau will award a teacher a scholarship that covers tuition, room and board and resource material at the Institute. Applications are available through Cooke County elementary school principals and the Gainesville office of the Cooke County Farm Bureau in Gainesville at 1212 W. Highway 82.

Application deadline is Apr. 22

Local schools receive cash awards

A monetary award in the amount of $500 was made to Muenster High School, monetary awards in the amount of $500.00 were made to Lindsay High School, and a monetary award in the amount $500 was made to Sivells Bend ISD as part of the Texas Successful Schools Award System (TSSAS).

Schools are being recognized for gains in student performance on indicators that are part of the Academic Excellence Indicator System (AEIS), more commonly known as the state's school report card. To be eligible for the award a school must: 1) receive Exemplary, Recognized, or Acceptable performance; 2) a ranking in the top 25 % of all campuses in the same unique comparison group statewide, with respect to growth on the Texas Learning Index (TLI) derived from the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills (TAAS) reading and mathematics tests given at Grades 3 through 8, and 10; and 3) a campus exemption rate in TAAS reading, math, and writing for special education students and for Limited English Proficient (LEP) students that was not deemed excessive.

The awards are based on spring 2001 performance on the TAAS test, which measures performance in reading, writing, and mathematics. Schools also had to meet performance standards for dropout and attendance rates. Cash awards ranging from $500 to $3,000 per school were given, depending on the number of students served at the school.

In the Exemplary category, schools had at least 90 % of all students and students in each student population group passing each section of the TAAS and a dropout rate of 3.0 % or less for all students and each student group. TSSAS award recipients had to rank in the top 25 % of all campuses that are the same unique comparison group statewide, with respect to their growth in student performance in reading and math.

In August of 2001 Muenster ISD was the only school district to receive an Exemplary rating and additional recognition in six academic areas: attendance rate, participation and performance on college admission tests, percent meeting TAAS/TASP equivalency; percent meeting graduation requirements of the Recommended High School Program; and Comparable Improvement on TAAS Reading and Mathematics.

In the Recognized category, schools had at least 80 % of all students and those in each student group passing each section of the TAAS and a dropout rate of 3.0% or less for all students and each student group.

In the Acceptable category, schools had at least 50% of all students and those in each student group passing each section of the TAAS and a dropout rate of 5.5% or less for all students.

Sivells Bend ISD Superintendent Brenda Rickard said of the honor, "I am very proud of our students for their hard work and commitment to achieving at the high level necessary to win an award of this nature. Congratulations also to their teachers and their parents for setting such high standards and providing the support the kids need to attain success."

A total of $500,000 is being awarded to schools this year under TSSAS.

NCTC to present stress workshop on April 24

The North Central Texas College Support Staff Association will present a special workshop April 24 to help others learn to cope with stress.

The workshop, entitled "From Stressed to Desserts: or, How to Make Your Life Sweeter," is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. April 24 in the NCTC Little Theater. The cost is $15.

"This will be an informative and fun filled day as we dwell into the effects of stress and strive to show you some helpful ways to relieve it," said Imogene Zimmerer. "We will take you from the serious to the playful sides of stress and stress relief. Our guest speakers will cover topics concerning such things as diet and stress, the art of play, being organized and just enjoying the art of humor."

Registration for the event ends April 19.

The speakers for the day are as follows:

Tigerettes get diamond victories

The Sacred Heart Tigerette Softball team continued to improve their season record by picking up three wins last week.

On Tuesday, Apr. 2, the Tigerettes traveled to Valley View. Sacred Heart brought home a 4-1 victory after the game was called in the 4th inning due to injury.

Wednesday evening, the Tigerettes hosted Lakehill in their opening district game. Sacred Heart sent their opponents packing after three innings with a 19-4 win.

Mary Jane Callahan, Karen Gehrig, and Jennifer Hoedebeck all hit home runs. Callahan faced 10 batters, striking out 8. Lynn Sicking and Becca Stallings also pitched.

On Thursday, Sacred Heart took their second district win, 8-4, over Prestonwood. Every Tigerette team member got a hit, with Callahan hitting two home runs. Callahan faced 30 batters, striking out 10.

The Tigerette record is 5-0-1 for the season and 2-0 in district play.

On Tuesday, the Junior Varsity Tigerettes battled Valley View to a 12-12 tie. Sacred Heart scored 5 in the first inning before their host evened the points.

Karen Gehrig, Lynn Sicking, Cindy Hartman, Lisa Endres, Becca Stallings, Ashlie Walterscheid, Michelle Bayer, and Lilly Nasche all had hits.

Sicking and Stalling pitched the game.

The Tigerettes had two district Metroplex games this week. Results will be found in a later issue of the Muenster Enterprise.

Warden's Report

Another rescue...A warden headed to Galveston pulled in behind a large beer delivery truck and a 16-year-old male was standing on the back of the bumper and holding on with one hand. He was distraught and wearing only a swimsuit. The truck was going about 60 miles an hour. The warden put on her lights and siren and pulled the truck over. The driver was surprised to find out he had a rider. The teen said he and a friend were sitting on the back of the truck when it took off from a convenience store. He said he did not jump off because he did not have shoes on.

Rewards for info on deer import violations

To help enforce Texas Parks and Wildlife's recent suspension on white-tailed and mule deer importation, Texas' privately funded wildlife "crime stoppers" program, "Operation Game Thief," is offering rewards of up to $10,000 for information that results in the arrest and conviction of those violating the suspension on importation.

OGT Committee Chairman Art Guerra said, "the committee feels very strongly that this issue is important to all the citizens of this state and we hope the increased amount of this reward posting will encourage everyone to be on the lookout for any activity in violation of this ban." (OGT's usual maximum reward for information leading to arrest and conviction on game and fish-related crimes is $1,000.)

The TPW Commission's action to suspend the importation was taken in consideration of the recent emergence and spread of Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD), which has been documented in several other states in both captive and free-ranging deer populations. Chronic Wasting Disease is a form of transmissible spongiform encephalopathy similar to Mad Cow Disease, except that CWD has only been found in elk and certain other deer.

Since the imported animals typically come into our state via our roadways, routine travelers and people working in truck stops, convenience stores and restaurants may well see suspect activity. If something doesn't look right, call either the OGT reward hot-line at 800 792-GAME (4263), or contact a local game warden through your area sheriff's department.

For more information on the OGT program, visit <<http://www.ogttx.com>>

TPW offers deer and bass conservation license plates

Texas big game hunters and freshwater anglers can now directly support their outdoor pastimes through two new conservation license plates from Texas Parks and Wildlife.

Production will begin soon on two new specialty plates in Huntsville, Texas. One features the image of a white-tailed deer, sales of which will support big game management and hunting programs in Texas. The other features a largemouth bass, which will benefit Texas bass management and production.

TPW officials say more than 500,000 Texans hunt white-tailed deer, and more than a million fish for bass, so they believe the new conservation plates will be popular.

Each of the four TPW plates costs $25 in addition to regular vehicle registration fees. Of that, $5 from the deer, bass, bluebonnet, and horned lizard plates goes to the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) to cover administrative and printing costs.

Farm Bill - The time is now

As economic conditions for farmers in Texas and across the nation remain dismal, a House-Senate conference committee continues work in Washington to deliver a farm bill in time to help farmers who are already planting.

"There is a lot of disappointment in the country about the delay," said Edwin "Demp" Knight, president of the Cooke County Farm Bureau. "Farm Bureau asked Congress to complete work on the farm bill before Christmas, we have seen the end of March without anything being done."

Little progress is being made. Senate Democrats have not agreed on how to divide funding between the commodity and conservation titles due to the Congressional Budget Office's (CBO) $6.1 billion underestimation of the Senate bill's cost.

The farm bill negotiations take on special significance because Texas farmers are among the first in the nation to plant. Financing has been difficult to obtain without knowledge of what the government plans to do.

"Farm Bureau continues to support the House version of the farm bill,"

Knight said. "We believe it strikes the right balance between providing a food security safely net and funding of other programs."

Rep. John Thune (R-S.D.), a House conferee, said that he is disappointed in the lack of progress in reconciling the Senate and House versions of the bill. Farmers need to know the specifics of the legislation in order to make good planting decisions in the next few weeks, Thune said. "I have serious concerns that we're not going to get the bill completed in time," he added.

TDA works different fields

The Texas Department of Agriculture offers many services and programs to assist the state farmers and ranchers. There are many divisions to the TDA. Listed are a few and what each do to protect Texas Agriculture.

Regularity programs
What do gas pumps and raw eggs - and everything in between - have in common? They're inspected and regulated by the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA). TDA has a strong consumer protection program, which includes overseeing items like grocery store scales, egg quality, nursery products and gasoline pumps. TDA's Regulatory Division regularly works with producers to ensure they receive quality seed. This division also ensures the accuracy of weights and measures and protects against the movement of harmful pests into Texas. TDA's consumer protection efforts promote success, unity and prosperity for the people of Texas.

Quarantines
Protection for Texas Agriculture is provided through inspection and regulation of quarantine pests and diseases that could possibly be brought into Texas from out-of-state agricultural shipments. Additionally, nursery plants, fruits, vegetables, hay and sod grown in Texas are inspected and certified to ensure that they are free of quarantine pests and diseases to meet import requirements of other states and foreign countries or to prevent the spread of pests to un-infested areas of Texas.

Biotechnology
Promotes the safe development and use of genetically engineered plants and organisms to improve crop production and reduce pest problems in the state. Evaluates risks by reviewing applications and requiring adequate safeguards before allowing controlled experiments to be conducted within the state.

Seed Quality

The Seed Quality Branch enforces genetic standards on certified seed production. This is done so anyone from a backyard gardener to a multi-acre farmer receives the highest quality seed available. To ensure quality seed, any person producing certified seed must be a Texas certified seed grower. As further assurance, three seed laboratories strategically located across the state in Lubbock, Stephenville, and Giddings conduct purity and germination tests on samples of seed. This includes samples sent in by producers, our inspectors, or anyone wishing to obtain a quality test. Our inspector's samples and some certified hybrid production samples are further tested through grow-outs in Texas, Puerto Rico and Mexico where variety purity is monitored.

Seed Services
Seed Services is the program in the Seed Quality Branch which monitors seed labeling. The labeling of seed packages is designed to ensure that consumers receive the quality and type of seed they pay for, that the seed will germinate or sprout as stated on the label, and will produce the kind of plants represented. Seed Quality also checks to ensure the seeds are not contaminated with noxious weed seed.

3. Handle fuel properly. Never fill tanks while machinery is operating or when equipment is still hot.
4. Clean up and clear out. Remove debris from the mowing area before you begin mowing.
5. Don't pick up hitchhikers. Riding mowers are designed for one operator only. Never carry a child along.
6. Check over your shoulder. Before operating in reverse, look behind and down for small children.
7. Always start the machine from the operator's seat. Always observe proper shutdown procedures before dismounting.
8. Don't race on riding mowers. A racing mindset can influence teens (and adults) to operate a riding mower carelessly, leading to accidents.
9. Keep it clean. Check for accumulation of grass, leaves or excessive grease that could present a fire hazard.
10. Turn it off. Shut down the unit and disconnect the spark plug is you need to work on or remove a clog.

Farm service update

Dates to remember: Crops eligible for Noninsured Crop Assistance Program (NAP) average are those for which crop insurance is not available - forage and pecans in Cooke County. NAP coverage requires a service fee of $100 per crop per producer. The final date to pay this fee is April 18.

May 1, 2002 is the final date to report wheat, oats, barley, and native and improved grasses for grazing and hay.

July 15 is the final date to report corn, grain sorghum, soybeans, peanuts, pecans, and seeded hay crops.

The final date to obtain loans on LDP's for the 2001 corn, grain sorghum and soybeans is May 31, 2002.

Ag Briefs

Beef heifers generally have a 20-30 day longer post partum interval than older cows. For heifer the rebred with older cows the next year, breed virgin heifers 20-30 days earlier.

Remember nutrient requirements are higher for first calf heifers; so additional nutrients should be supplied.

The week of the super bowl, it is predicted that about 41 million pounds of cheese will be sold. The highest sales week is between Christmas and New Year with 51 million pounds sold.

Organic product sales totaled $7.9 billion in the year 2000.

Self-serve supermarkets are becoming more common with the installation of self-checkout stations.

More home cooked meals are expected to be prepared with today's economy. To save time, more fix-it-fast-meals will be found at the store.

Consumer demand for beef continues its upward trend, 5.7 percent during 2001.

Nearly 7 in 10 beef or 68% of U.S. producer's support the beef check off. The level of support was 72% in July 2001.

Rats and mice are intermediate hosts for both internal and external parasites. These rodents also cost money by eating and spoiling feed and damaging facilities.

Mites of different kind live on or in animal skin, causing the disease mange, particularly scabies.

Both sucking and biting lice infest cattle causing irritation and itching, prompting cattle to rub. Sucking lice can cause lower red-blood-cell counts by 75%, reducing appetite. Death can occur.

Cattle curbs are second only to horn flies in total losses caused to the American beef industry.

Ticks effect cattle through blood loss, discomfort, hide damage and secondary infection.

The non-biting housefly feed on cattle secretions around the eyes, nose, mouth and moisture on the hair as well as feed and feces. This makes the fly a disease transfer and a source of annoyance. Life cycle of a fly is 10 to 14 days.

Horn flies, abiting insect, are mostly a problem in pastured cattle. Horn flies reduce grazing time and milk production. Cows and calves may loose weight.

Buffalo gnats are not only a pest of cattle, but also damage performance and cause disease.

Cattle do not like to stick their heads into an enclosed area; therefore, they will eat about 30% more out of an open feeder.

Poor cattle body condition at calving is the number one reason why a cow may not breed back on schedule.

Soil is not supposed to be seen. Take away the plants, lose the soil. Soil does not function as a living biological system unless it is permanently covered with living plants or plant litter.

The national cash corn price received by farmers for year-end Sept 2002 is forecast at $1.95 per bushel, up slightly from a year ago, but .50 to $1 lower than the five year average.

Crop and weather report

Although soil conditions are still predominately dry throughout Texas, last weekend's rains benefitted other Texas crops as well. The rain has recharged pre-plant soil moisture reserves and helped wheat and oat production in the South Plains, said Jett Major, district Extension director.

More rainfall was reported across the Rolling Plains last weekend, said Galen Chandler, district Extension director. Most counties received at least an inch.

"It seems it will only rain over the weekends, but that doesn't bother too many people, as long as it continues," Chandler said.

The wheat crop in that area has made a tremendous amount of growth in the last two weeks, and it is hoped that will continue to improve with expected warmer weather, he said. Insect infestations are light, he added.

County Agent reports on roses

Evelyn Yeatts, CEA-FCS
ROSES

My husband, Clyde, has always wanted a rose garden. We've never had a location that didn't have too much shade for good growth and flowering. We've recently purchased some land, however, where we plan to finally have a rose garden. Clyde is especially interested in growing old roses.

I've been giving thought and sturdy lately to growing roses.

Dr. Bill Welch, Extension landscape horticulturist, offers some basic information on growing roses.

Planting: If planting only a few roses, dig individual holes for them. Holes should be at least 12 inches deep and 18 inches wide. Mix about one-third organic material (peat, pine bark, or compost) with some of the soil from the hole, along with a gallon or two of well-rotted cow manure, if available. A half-cup of bone meal or superphosphate, thoroughly mixed with the soil, is a good addition. A similar amount of agricultural gypsum is beneficial for heavy clay soils.

Soil preparation can be done just prior to planting, but is more effective if completed several weeks or months before planting.

Spacing of the plants will vary with varieties. Most Polyanthas can be planted as close as 18 to 24 inches, while Chinas, Bourbons, Teas, Hybrid Perpetuals, Hybrid Teas, and Hybrid Musks are best at a 3- to 5-foot spacing, depending on the variety. Climbers and ramblers need more space to develop their potential. Eight to 10 feet is appropriate for most, but under good growing conditions, Banksias, Cherokee, and certain others could be spaced at 15-foot intervals.

Bare-root plants should be set out as soon after receiving them as weather and time allow. If a delay of more than a few days is necessary, remove the plants from the shipping bag and 'heel them in' by covering the roots and part of the tops with loose soil.

Container-grown plants may be set out at any time, but most rose growers avoid the hot summer months, when extra irrigation and care may be necessary to insure success. Prune tops back an inch or two to just above a live and healthy bud on each cane. Cut back canes or roots damaged in shipping or handling to healthy tissue. Dig the hole large enough to accommodate the natural spread of the roots, and fill with the soil mixture described earlier. Firm the soil well around the roots, and water thoroughly to settle the soil firmly around the root system. Set plants at approximately the same level at which they had been growing, or slightly deeper.

Fertility: Roses are heavy users of nutrients and require frequent application of fertilizers. To determine fertility of existing soil, contact your county Extension agent for instructions on submitting a soil sample.

Saint Jo Opry & VFD/EMS fish fry set for this Saturday

In conjunction with the April Opry show on Apr. 13, the Saint Jo Volunteer Fire/EMS Department will have their Annual Fish Fry beginning at 5 p.m. The price is $5.00 for adults and $3.00 for children under 12. The meal will be served in the school cafeteria located in the new school building. The Fire/EMS Department invites everyone to come enjoy a good meal and help out the department financially.
