

MUENSTER ENTERPRISE

VOLUME X

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY MARCH 15, 1964

NUMBER 16

The timing for the first general meeting of the hospital association is perfect. There has never been a better opportunity for the community to realize that its local facilities are far from adequate. Last week the traffic in and out was so heavy it seemed as though some of the patients were out in time to wave the stork goodbye. It keeps up somebody should install revolving doors.

A better idea is to get going on the new hospital with the least possible delay. Since we've made up our minds to build, let's see what can be done about starting soon. Since we hope to get quite a few other benefits out of the association let's decide how many of them can be put into effect now.

Next Wednesday night's meeting will actually launch the project. At that time directors will be chosen for the next term and policies that are immediately beneficial to members will be adopted. At that time, it is hoped, something definite about plans for the building will be decided.

Those who were waiting for something to happen needn't wait any longer. The hospital association's active career is about to begin. The extent of its activity will be determined, of course by the number of people who sign up. If the group is comparatively small it will have to confine its scope to those activities which are possible without its own hospital. If the group is large it can start the building without delay.

Judging from the community's record of cooperation in the past there is little room for doubt about the success of the venture. Every cooperative started here has thrived. This one will thrive too. Every cooperative member has profited in one way or another. Members of this cooperative will be similarly repaid.

So, whoever is interested in the convenience — often the vital necessity — of having a good hospital, whoever is interested in attractive hospital rates, whoever is interested in more complete and lower cost medical service, owes it to himself and his family to secure his membership and to be there Wednesday night.

Confidentially, if it's inconvenient to sign up before that time, come anyway. There will be plenty of opportunity at the meeting to get on the dotted line.

Seeing this new organization hit its stride reminds one of an article in Pathfinder several weeks ago. Our friend A.C. Flusche of Denison called attention to it, adding that the spirit of the article reminded him of Muenster and that a few people hereabouts have relatives in Westphalia, Iowa, the town mentioned.

The gist of the article is that Westphalia was just another dying town when Father Hubert Duren arrived there in 1926. With his promotion the community organized a co-op store, mutual insurance and a credit union besides building a parish school, recreation hall and convent. Father Duren was the spark plug behind the development but community cooperation is what brought his plans to reality.

While visiting here last week Walter Humphrey, editor of the Fort Worth Press was inquiring about this community's success with cooperatives.

People have their eye on Muenster, too. Meanwhile we at Muenster are interested in the kind of development that is worth watching.

Columnist David Lawrence remarks that we can hardly blame the Russians for their efforts to ferret out secrets from the Canadian government or any other government when the United States is making preparations to use a world wide spy system itself.

Perhaps it would have been just a little more appropriate if Mr. Lawrence had reversed his statement to read we can hardly be blamed for instituting a spy system when Russia has its spies operating over here.

That's the catch. We hate spying in peace time. We consider it a sneaky, underhand business, unworthy of a country that claims to be at peace. But some things have to be done in self defense. If Russia insists on stealing our secrets we have an equal right to steal hers as well as to find out what she's doing with the information stolen here.

This case is somewhat like compulsory military training. We hate it but we can be forced to adopt it if other nations insist on using it.

Good news for yours truly, and quite a few others as well, is the announcement that OPA has finished.

Kaiser - Meurer Get Agency For Kaiser-Frazer

Will Handle Several Of New Corporation's Lines; To Start Building Soon

Muenster is due to have a new business in a new building on a new location as soon as circumstances permit. Returning from Dallas Monday Herbert Meurer and C. J. Kaiser disclosed that they had signed contracts for dealership of the Kaiser-Frazer lines and that they will begin immediately on construction of a 40 x 100 foot building on the north side of Highway 82 a block west of the Swinger residence. The lots were recently purchased from Mrs. Katherine Huchtons.

The building will be constructed of stuccoed concrete blocks with a hundred foot front facing south. Situated on the southwest corner of the block it will have a concrete driveway at the east side of the building and beyond that a cyclone fence to serve as an enclosure for machines that can be left outside. The complete building plan will follow specifications recommended by Kaiser-Frazer.

The agency will handle several of the far flung industry's products. Those expected first, because the manufacturer is currently giving preference to them are automobiles, tractors and farm machinery.

There will be two lines of automobiles, the Kaiser selling in the price range of the three currently most popular cars and the Frazer selling for about $300 more. In addition there will be tractors and farm implements, likewise selling within the range of other popular farm equipment.

Lines to follow later, all manufactured by Kaiser and Frazer, are tires and batteries, electrical appliances, prefabricated buildings, and eventually trucks and pickups.

Unless construction work is delayed, Kaiser said, the new building will be completed within 60 days.

EXCEPTIONAL QUALITY NOTED IN CALVES OF ARTIFICIAL BREEDING

Noting a consistently good showing of pedigree in more than thirty calves born to date, members of the Muenster artificial breeders association are well pleased with the prospect of improving the quality of their herds. In every case to date, the vitality and conformation of calves has been far above the average of other calves in the same herd. Jack Biffle, technician, stated this week.

One indication of the quality of calves, he pointed out, was the record price brought by a week-old male calf at the community auction last Saturday. It was a shorthorn from Tony Felderhoff's herd and sold for $25. Normally 10 to 15 dollars is considered good price for a male calf. It was purchased by a man near Bowie. Another person at the sale, Biffle said, was willing to pay $40 for the calf provided he was able to secure six of the association's heifers, at $50 a piece, with which to start a herd. Heifers, however, are not for sale, the owners being too much interested in improving their own herds.

Auxiliary Truck Will Enable Firemen To Answer Outside Calls

A move that will make the services of the Muenster fire department available for emergency calls to surrounding rural homes or neighboring towns is the recent approval by the city council for an additional fire truck. At the present time the city is awaiting an opportunity to purchase one at a sale of surplus army equipment.

As discussed in the firemen's meeting Monday night, insurance regulations specify that a fire truck be available in the city limits at all times. When the additional truck is purchased, they agreed, it can be permitted to go out on an emergency and the old truck will remain here. It is believed the old truck will be worth more serving this way and as an auxiliary than the price it would bring.

The model of truck now being sought will carry a 250-gallon tank and pumping equipment along with hoses for water main connection. Though not adequate for fighting large fires it will be sufficient to put out fires that are reached early.

Almost 80 Per Cent Of Red Cross Quota Reached This Week

The community's Red Cross fund rose to a total of $760 according to figures tabulated Wednesday by Mrs. G. H. Hellman, local solicitor. MEMBERS OF LOCAL P-TA ATTEND CONFAB ON SCHOOL LUNCHES

Mrs. Rudy Hellman, president of Sacred Heart P-TA, Mrs. John Kathman, Sacred Heart lunch program supervisor, Mrs. Tony Gremminger and Mrs. J.M. Weinzappel, representing the Parent-Teachers Association, were in Denton Thursday to attend an eight-county school lunch workshop sponsored by the War Food Administration and the Denton county school system in the science auditorium of Texas State College for Women.

About 145 schools were represented at the meeting which began at 9 a.m. with F.W. Underwood of Dallas, district director of the Production and Marketing Administration, as speaker on the subject, "The School Lunch Program."

The visitors were assigned to eat lunch in the school lunch rooms in Denton to observe the quality of food preparation, lunch room organization, sanitation, storage facilities and food service.

During the afternoon sessions talks were made on menu planning in relation to equipment, food preparation and service in relation to equipment, time and labor and sanitation and food handling in school lunch rooms, by instructors of NTSC and TSCW and the Collin county sanitarians.

Sgt. William Mathews Awarded Bronze Star

Sgt. William R. Mathews, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mathews of this city, and whose wife is the former Miss Palma Mae Patrick also resides here, was recently awarded the Bronze Star and a citation for distinctive services in connection with military operations against the enemy in France from September 15 to October 15, 1944. He was a member of the 10th Infantry Regiment.

Since returning to the states he is at Camp Campbell, Ky.

The city of Muenster purchased a used army truck for the purpose of hauling equipment and the many other jobs for which it has had to hire trucks in the past. Technically known as a weapons carrier, it has a capacity of three quarters to one ton. Mayor J. M. Weinzappel, accompanied by Tony Gremminger, Ben Seyler, F. A. Kathman and Joe Weinzappel, Jr. secured the truck at a surplus equipment sale at Fort Sill, Okla.

Rev. W. Steffen To Be Ordained Tuesday, Mar. 19

The Rev. William A. Steffen, who refers to Muenster as another home and likes to consider himself an adopted son of the community, will be ordained to the priesthood on next Tuesday, March 19, by the Most Rev. Sydney M. Metzger, bishop of El Paso.

A native of Los Angeles, Calif., where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Steffen, reside, Father Steffen is well acquainted in Muenster having frequently accompanied the recently ordained Father Thomas Weinzappel for visits here while the two were classmates at St. John's Seminary San Antonio.

Because of the many friendships he has formed and because of his high regard for the community Father Steffen states he would enjoy being regarded as one of Muenster's "adopted sons."

Father Steffen's first solemn mass will be celebrated at 12 noon in St. Brendan's church in Los Angeles on Sunday, March 31, and will be broadcast by station KMTR.

5 CANDIDATES IN RACE FOR 3 POSITIONS ON LOCAL SCHOOL BOARD

To date five candidates are in the running for the three trustee positions of the Muenster Independent school district, Herbert Meurer, secretary of the school board disclosed this week. The election will be held on Saturday, April 6, at the Muenster school, voting time being between the hours of 8 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Correcting a report given some weeks ago, Meurer emphasized that only three trustees are to be elected on April 6. They will occupy the vacancies created by current expirations. According to regulations, he explained, the replacement to complete the unexpired term of a resigned member will be appointed by the other members of the board and not elected by public vote. Candidates who have announced to date are Albert Henschel, F. J. Yosten, and Meinrad Hesse, all seeking reelection, and C. M. Walterscheid and J. P. Flusche.

Small Boom Indicated By Reports On Home Building Preparations

According to reports, Muenster is due a mild boom in the near future in the construction of new homes in the city. Joe Luke has foundations run for two buildings on his property west of his residence. The new houses will face north and are to be constructed from materials salvaged from two buildings bought at Myra and Lindsay. Joe Trachta has started construction on a rent house adjoining John Walter's in the north part of the city. He is building the house with materials salvaged from the old hotel. He will build two more rent houses on his property when this one is completed. Pat Hennigan has bought lots north of Joe Knabe's home and will start construction of a house as soon as labor is available. Materials salvaged from a building bought in Saint Jo will provide most of the building needs. The foundation for Urban Endres' new home is complete and work is held up awaiting materials. Richard Cain is to remodel the house he moved here from Myra recently and which he is to occupy, and plans to move another house north of it in the near future.

Community Grain Crops Subjected To Green Bug Attack

Harvest prospects get worse daily; fields being plowed under. Favored with ideal conditions of moisture and sunshine, grain crops of the community are nevertheless deteriorating fast in a current plague of green bugs. Prospects for the coming harvest get poorer every day, some farmers expecting a repetition of the 1942 condition in which the yield of many fields was not worth the expense of cutting. According to reports early this week the insects, apparently coming from the south and east, are less than three miles from Muenster. G. H. Hellman states that he has several patches of pale green and yellow where the tiny flea like pests have sucked the sap out of the plants. More such spots are to be found on farms east of his. To date there have been no reports of green bug damage north or west of town. Farther east and south in the county conditions are so bad that farmers are plowing up their grain and preparing to plant row crops. Numerous cases have been reported from the southern part of the county and a few from as near as Lindsay.

Some people noting the presence of green bugs in their fields have attempted to check their spread by covering the infested spot with dry straw and setting it afire. The process completes the job of destroying the grain but it gives the surrounding area a better chance. The presence of the bugs is especially disheartening this year. Favored by good weather all winter the grain gave promise of a better than average yield.

REAL ESTATE DEAL DETERMINES LIMITS OF 2 NEW GARAGES

Some indication of what to expect in the way of development on the 100 block of Main street became apparent late last week when Adolph Herr purchased the thirty-foot strip of space between his garage and Ben Seyler's residence.

Herr will use the space in an expansion program that will more than double the size of his present building. As yet no definite date has been set for the beginning of construction. Adjoining the Herr Motor Co. Ben Seyler will build his new garage which will extend to the alley south of the building he now occupies. Before he can begin that work Seyler will have to move his residence from its present location to his lots south of the Hatchery. Anticipating this move the lots were leveled several weeks ago. Seyler's building, like Herr's, will await more favorable developments in the material situation.

MAN SEEKS OFFICE; OFFICE SEEKS MAN; FOR CITY ELECTION

Interest in the city election to be held on April 2 is down to almost zero. With less than two weeks to go, only one person has announced his candidacy and there are no rumors as to whether anyone will get in to make a race. Terms of two aldermen, R. L. McNeley in position No. 1 and T. A. Schoech in position No. 2, will expire this year. McNeley has expressed his willingness to serve another term but Schoech, after serving on the council since 1940, prefers to keep out of the race. As the result the ticket has one unopposed candidate and one position seeking a candidate. Final dates for announcement of candidacy and still have a name appear on the ticket is March 23.

IMMUNIZATION IS BEST METHOD FOR CONTROL OF DISEASE

Austin, Texas.— "Immunization is superior to all other means of communicable disease control because immunity becomes part of oneself and is always there as a defense against certain diseases."

This is the statement of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who adds: "Immunization is the best and most effective means of protection against diphtheria, tetanus, smallpox, whooping cough and typhoid fever." According to Dr. Cox the ages that are best for immunization of children are: for diphtheria and tetanus, 9 to 12 months; Schick test, 6 months later, re-immunize, if immunity has not been established; smallpox 6 to 12 months, re-vaccination at 6 to 12 years; whooping cough, 6 to 12 months. Tetanus or lockjaw is not common, however when it does occur it is usually fatal. The tetanus germ gets into cuts, scratches, abrasions and particularly deep wounds, so that it has always been an important problem of public health as well as military medicine.

Other ways to fight disease are through good sanitation measures. The provision of safe water supplies, the pasteurization of milk, the supervision of food and other precautions have in many communities reduced typhoid fever to a minimum. Isolation and quarantine have their place and are extremely valuable, but none of them has the quality of immunity, of being a part of oneself, and consequently always available.

Old Age Assistance Cost Almost Triples Figure Set In 1935

Old-age assistance in Texas this year will cost State taxpayers nearly three times as much as the "ceiling" predicted by sponsors of the aid plan when it passed the Legislature in 1935, the Texas Research Institute points out in a report issued this week.

The report is a factual study of the cost of ten years of old-age assistance in Texas.

When the first pension law was enacted, its sponsors said annual payments would not exceed $9,000,000 from State funds. This year, the Institute points out, the aged people of Texas will receive $25,400,000 from State funds.

Total cost to State taxpayers of ten years of old-age assistance has been in round figures, $155,000,000, the report declares. The cost has skyrocketed according to the Research Institute, because the original idea of old-age assistance has been transformed into a system of old-age pensions. The policy of "granting assistance to people who are not needy has resulted in less funds for those who are in need," the Institute states.

Figures show that 452 out of every 1,000 Texans sixty-five or older are receiving assistance, while the national average is but 210.

It's tough paying 85c a pound for meat; but think how tough it would be at 20c.

STATE DOCTORS TO OPPOSE FEDERAL HEALTH MEASURES

Fort Worth, March 12.— Dr. Holman Taylor, Secretary of the State Medical Association of Texas, has requested U. S. Senator James E. Murray to allow representatives from the Association to appear in Washington at hearings on the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill. Hearings on this bill which would institute compulsory health insurance and place all physicians under Federal control and which is opposed by the Medical Association, will commence before the Senate Committee on Education and Labor March 18.

"A number of Texas doctors will go to Washington and testify," Dr. Taylor says. They will explain the desirability of voluntary health insurance rather than compulsory and costly pre-paid medical care financed by withholding money from the pay checks of every worker. They will oppose this plan for socialized medicine and the destruction of private medical practice.

"This hearing is on the second Wagner - Murray - Dingell bill, which is a sugar coated version of the first measure. All mention of taxation was eliminated from the second bill so that it could be referred to friendly committees. To put the bill in effect would cost billions of dollars a year most of which would come from the pockets of working people. The new bill makes appropriations for aiding states in prevention and control of venereal disease and also tuberculosis. Existing Federal laws already do this, making the proposed bill a duplication.

"While the new bill refers to federal funds for medical care of the needy, there is no specific sum mentioned. Whatever might be implied it would be only a drop in the bucket in comparison with the tremendous contribution made voluntarily each year by the medical profession of this country in free medical service to the indigent," Dr. Taylor says. "The physicians of Fort Worth kept records one year which showed that their contributions in medical service to the indigent of that city alone ran into the millions of dollars."

★ Let's Tackle Inflation While We Can

You don't want your dollars to buy less and less and less!

You don't want your savings to melt away! Or the value of your life insurance to dwindle!

Yet that is what inflation can do to all of us. Therefore, thoughtful people everywhere are concerned with ways to smother it before it gets out of hand.

One major cause of inflation is a shortage of goods when people have money to spend for things they want.

That cause can be eliminated by the production of goods — fast — in quantity.

BUT THERE'S A BOTTLENECK

During the war there wasn't enough labor and materials to meet the needs of war and still produce all the civilian goods people wanted and could buy.

Therefore price controls on civilian goods were substituted for competition to keep prices down.

Today this country has all the labor and materials necessary to turn out the things people want.

Yet goods are still scarce. Store shelves are still bare. The national pocketbook continues to bulge. Inflation grows.

Why? Because price controls in peacetime hinder the production of goods. Business cannot live by producing at a loss. And so, goods that can't be made to sell at the prices fixed by the government just don't get made.

Nor will the raising of price ceilings solve the problem. When costs and selling prices are subject to change at any moment by government action, production has to be on a day-to-day basis.

That means uncertainty . . . reduced output . . . more inflation.

ISN'T THIS THE ANSWER?

Remove price controls on manufactured goods and production will step up fast.

Goods will then pour into the market and, within a reasonable time, prices will adjust themselves naturally — as they always have — in line with the real worth of things.

Competition has never failed to produce this result.

This is the way you can get the goods you want at prices you can afford to pay.

Please think this over. Then tell your representatives in Congress what you believe should be done. You owe it to yourself . . . and to your country's welfare.

[LET'S SMOTHER INFLATION... A postcard addressed to the National Association of Manufacturers, 14 West 49th Street, New York 20, N. Y., will bring your copy of a booklet explaining in detail why price controls cause inflation.]

Putting Up The Winter Meat
Was A Long, Disagreeable Job

It took a lot of hard work to get hogs killed, dressed, cut up and cured — usually with makeshift equipment. And then, if the weather suddenly turned warm, there was the danger of losing much of it by spoilage.

Nowadays It's Easy And Safe

Kill the hog any old time and bring the carcass to us. Our vaults are the right temperature for correct chilling. Our processing man is ready to follow your instructions as to cutting, packaging, grinding, rendering and curing. Your part of the job is over and you have the assurance that your meat will be processed under ideal conditions—including genuine hickory chips for all smoking.

AND REMEMBER — This service is NOT reserved for those who have lockers.

We'll do the cutting, grinding, rendering, curing and smoking. Packaging, too, if you wish. The only thing we can't do is provide storage space for your fresh meat. But there needn't be much of that — if you will have a larger percentage cured.

Washington Notes

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D.C., March 8 — After about two years of study, the Joint Committee on the Organization of Congress made its report to the Congress this week. As usual, the meat of the report is contained in the recommendations. None of these recommendations become effective, however, unless bills or resolutions in pursuance thereof are introduced and approved by one or both houses of the Congress, depending on whether the provisions of the resolutions are applicable to one or both houses.

Among other things, the Joint Committee recommended that the Senate's 33 standing committees be reorganized into 16, and that the 48 standing committees of the House be reorganized into 18. It further was recommended that House and Senate rules define clearly the jurisdiction of each reorganized committee so as to avoid overlapping and duplication and conflicts of jurisdiction. Committee chairmen would be required to report promptly all bills approved by the Committee, and seek a rule to bring them to the floor for consideration. Committees would be authorized to employ four staff experts in its special province, and such employees would not be dismissed for political reasons, under the recom-mentations. Better budgetary and fiscal controls were recommended, through changes in the procedure of the appropriations committee, discontinuance of indefinite appropriations, discontinuance of the transfer of funds between agencies and departments, etc. One important recommendation was that the Congress provide for a regular recess period at the close of each fiscal year, to insure the return of Members to their constituencies at definite intervals each year. A good many years ago the Congress was in recess several months each year, and Representatives and Senators could return to their homes, see their constituents, and learn their views and opinions at first hand. For the past several years the Congress has been in almost constant session, recessing only for very short periods which have not allowed the Members much time to be in their district.

Like any other activity or business, the Congress can work more effectively if its flow of work goes smoothly, and it has proper equipment and personnel with which to perform its duties. It must be remembered that the executive departments and bureaus spend more on their publicity and public relations sections than it costs the nation to maintain the entire legislative branch of the government.

According to Army figures, over 750,000 returning veterans want to be farmers when they get out of uniform. The U.S. Bureau of Reclamation is now prepared to tell them where to go — out West. Some reclaimed land in the western states will be irrigated, and some 100,000 farms thus created. Some of these farms eventually can be had free by those meeting homesteading requirements, as they will be on public lands.

Veterans will get preference with two years' war service counting toward the three-year residence which is required for establishing homestead ownership. Only a few farms will be ready for occupancy this year, more in 1947 and still more later. The farms expected to be opened this fall will be in the states of California, Oregon, Washington and Wyoming. Among other things, homestead applicants must show they have enough cash, machinery, livestock, or other assets to have a chance for success.

Washington this week had a great many Texas visitors, many of them stopping here on their way to or from the national REA meeting in Buffalo, New York. One of these men told me he got in a taxicab in Buffalo, told the driver to take him to the particular hotel where the meeting was being held. The driver asked if he was from Texas, and receiving an affirmative reply remarked, "There certainly is a crowd at that Texas meeting." Actually every state in the union was represented.

Among the Texans who visited my office this week were Mr. C. G. Frelking of Oklaunion, Mr. T. E. Craddock of Seymour, and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Schoolcraft of Vernon.

Washington and Comles

Two small boys were overheard talking about George Washington. One of them stated that the famous George had never told a lie, but the other disputed him. "How do you make that out?" asked the first. "Why," replied the second, "when his father asked him who cut down the cherry tree, he said, 'Pop I did it' — and that wasn't the truth, for 'Popeye' couldn't have cut it down, he wasn't even in the funnies then."

GAS

Overwhelming choice for running modern kitchen

This decided preference is not surprising when one considers the homemaker prepares in one year about 1,000 meals. This represents at least 1,500 hours' work in her kitchen. So she has reason for some pretty definite ideas. She demands efficiency, speed, comfort, beauty and economy. She knows from experience gas meets her requirements. These are some of her actual statements: "I like gas for refrigeration . . . it's much quieter." "I'd rather have a gas range than any other kind." "Gas equipment is inexpensive to run . . . but I'd insist on it at any price because it works so much better."

During a short business session members decided to dispense with socials during the Lenten season and named Mrs. C. M. Walterscheid as hostess for the next gathering. It was decided to begin meetings promptly at 2 o'clock and adjourn at 4:30. Mrs. J. B. Wilde and Miss Anna Hellman were presented with birthday gifts from their sunshine pals.

At the close, the hostess, assisted by her daughters, served attractive refreshments to 12 members and one guest, Mrs. Clarence Wilson.

$300,000 For a 1938 Chrysler

THAT'S WHAT AN OWNER ASKED FOR ONE IN SHANGHAI, CHINA

Yes, it actually happened, and here's a copy of the advertisement printed on April 6, 1944 in the Shanghai, China, Times.

For Sale—Motor car, $300,000 — 1938 Chrysler coupe convertible, perfect condition. Custom built, owner driven, five new tires, real leather upholstery. Telephone 12146 from 11 am to 12:30. Mr. Zalovich.

There's a catch in it, of course. $300,000 of Chinese money at that time was only $6,000 of our money. Even at that, how would you like to pay $6,000 for a 1938 car?

We don't expect our prices to go crazy like that but, used cars can and may get a lot higher than they are.

Better Play Safe
Give your old model the very best of care. Make it last. You may have to wait until late '47 for your new car.
AND THAT'S NOT ALL—Your old car isn't as safe as it used to be. Vital parts are worn. They may need replacement or repair.

Take It To Ben's
We've got the men, the equipment and the parts to keep it rolling — safely and economically.

WALKIE-TALKIES TO BE AVAILABLE SOON

WASHINGTON.— you get the jeep. Pretty soon now, you can have the other wartime innovation — the walkie-talkie.

That was the promise of government officials who said that civilian-owned portable and mobile radio sending and receiving devices would be authorized this year.

This includes the walkie-talkies which according to officials is nothing less than a "pocket-sized" radio station, subject to regulations of the federal government.

ally loosened its grip on prices. Textiles are to be permitted a slight raise on condition that they will go into substantial stuff, with practically none of it being used for frills. Maybe some of these days Con can wear something besides a GI shirt.

From all we can hear about commodity shortages, price ceilings, are wholly responsible. Wages have gone up, in many cases so high that the production cost actually exceeds the ceiling price. Naturally, no manufacturer wants to sell at a loss. Nobody can blame him if he elects to hold his goods until he can realize a profit. And now that profits are possible again we have hopes of seeing fewer bare shelves.

One of the things this country needs is the exit of OPA. Not a sudden exit, because that might result in run-away prices followed by economic disaster. Just a gradual loosening of the bonds. Little by little, as manufacturers get back to legitimate profits more goods will be available until eventually the supply catches up with the demand.

Once that point is reached we need price controls any more. Competition, that old reliable factor of American trade will take care of prices without further trouble. In fact there may be some items today on which OPA could release its grip altogether. There's no need for price control on an item if the country is adequately stocked.

One thing is disturbing, however. How will higher prices affect wages? How many strikes will result from the increased cost of living? If present labor policies continue this may prove the beginning of a vicious spiral ending no telling where.

Experience of the past several months has shown beyond a doubt that we cannot revert on a 40 hour week. If every family were back to its pre-war living standard we might be able to produce enough in that time to keep us going. But we have too much catching up to do. Homes, automobiles, appliances, public works, practically everything we can think of, are four years behind the public demand. In short, the country is faced with a lot of back work. To do that and meet current demands at the same time will require extra hours.

Perhaps one of these days the big boys who shape our national destiny will realize that our most urgent need is more work. Put in an extra 4, 8 or 12 hours a week and production will gradually catch up with consumption. At the same time keep hourly wages where they are, letting extra hours provide fatter pay envelopes and leave unit prices undisturbed. In a few years, then, when supply and demand reach a balance, the work week can be cut back again. It would mean a cut in wages of course, but with the lower demand for commodities the average person obviously could get by on less.

The idea is basic and simple, and it will work. In fact it seems like the only possible way of coming out of our economic slump.
