MHS students tour Austin

A. J. Fleitman is State champ

Fourteen Muenster High School students embarked on a three day educational trip to Austin and San Antonio on their way to competing in the Texas Math and Science Coaches Association state meet held on March 15th.

Their first stop was a visit to the State Capitol and a tour of both houses of the legislature as well as the rest of the Capitol building. Representative Rick Hardcastle took time out of his busy schedule for a 45 minute question and answer session with the students. He explained some of the many problems that Texas is facing this legislative session including the political reasons behind the problems.

Moving on from the Capitol the group traveled to Natural Bridge Caverns near San Antonio. This cave is the largest actively growing cavern in Texas. The students were fascinated with the formations inside the cave.

On Friday the students visited historic San Antonio. Sites included the Alamo, The Riverwalk, Buckhorn Museum, as well as other sites and the shops along the Riverwalk.

On Saturday the Math and Science Meet was held at the University of Texas at San Antonio. The team from Muenster placed first in mathematics. Members of the State Champion math team were Brady Howell, Michael Eckart, Derek Felderhoff, and Adam Vinson. The number sense team of Brady Howell, Derek Felderhoff, Sean Fuhrmann, and Whitney Watson placed third. The science team of A. J. Fleitman, Adam Vinson, Gage Gilliland, and Chris Steelman placed third. MHS sweepstakes scores put them in third place overall.

Individual winners were as follows-
9th grade
Michael Eckart- 6th number sense, 7th
calculator, 3rd math

Travis Felderhoff- 8th calculator, 5th math
Chris Steelman- 3rd
science
Ryan Hennigan- 4th

10th grade-
Derek Felderhoff- 7th
number sense, 3rd math
Adam Vinson- 5th math,
3rd science

A.J. Fleitman- State Champion science, State Champion Biology
Gage Gilliland- 4th science
Sean Fuhrmann- 10th

Whitney Watson- 8th

12th grade

Brady Howell- 4th number sense, 2nd math, 5th science

Brady received a $700 scholarship from TMSCA for his 4th place overall finish, to be used at the college of his choice.

On the trip home the group stopped at the historic Stagecoach Inn in Salado. The natural springs of Salado made it a gathering place for all kinds of wild animals, including herds of buffalo. There is evidence of Indians using it as a meeting place for hundreds of years. The dining at the Inn is as close to the way it was when the Inn opened in 1845. Many of Texas's historic figures slept as well as dined at the Inn. The menu is recited from memory, and the food is a real treat. The Inn currently holds the distinction of being the best restaurant in the state.

Sponsors planning the trip and accompanying the students were Dalana Chism and Jerry Eckart.

MMH updates cardiac equipment

By Janet Felderhoff

With an interest in giving the best care possible to local cardiac patients, Muenster Memorial Hospital took a positive step forward recently. At the March 18 meeting of the Board of Directors, the Board were unanimous in supporting the acquisition of requested equipment. Soon to be offered are a Cardio Dynamic BoiZ unit service and Myocardial Perfusion Imaging. Both of these were reviewed and approved by the Medical Staff at their Feb. 20 meeting.

Administrator Richard Arnold noted that MMH does have a physician with a specialty in internal medicine and one of the things they like to do is deal with internal medicine issues such as coronary problems and blood pressures. The Cardio Dynamics unit is a relatively new diagnostic procedure. MMH Lab Director Danny Lovelace, MT gave a detailed report to the Board of Directors on uses and potential expense of the Cardio Dynamics unit. Hypertension is one of the leading medical problems. Its treatment can be a variety of drugs ranging from Beta Blockers, ACE inhibitors, or diuretics. Some cost only a few dollars per month while others cost more than a $100 per month.

"This (test) gives you a real first hand knowledge of which drugs to start out on when you have high blood pressure in a patient," said Lovelace. The test could be done on a daily basis if needed, but would most likely be weekly on new patients until the medicine and blood pressure are regulated.

Stats produced by Lovelace showed that in January 2003 the MMH Health clinic saw 110 hypertensive patients and 40 congestive heart failure (CHF) patients. On average for the last three months 125 hypertensive and 72 CHF outpatients seen by the laboratory; also 52 hypertensive ad 44 CHF patients as inpatients.

The Cardio Dynamics company would lease the unit to MMH for a cost of $30 per procedure, including all equipment and supplies. A minimum of 50 per month is required. This test will allow the physician to more accurately determine and treat the cause of a patient's hypertension. MMH lab techs are capable of performing this test and teaching the physicians how to administer it.

Myocardial Perfusion imaging is currently recognized as the most accurate noninvasive means of detecting Coronary Artery Disease (CAD) and assessing the severity and extent of perfusion defects. See CORONARY, pg 2

County adopts new subdivision regulations

By Janet Felderhoff

Subdivision developers in unincorporated areas of Cooke County should harbor no doubts as to what is expected of them. At their March 24 regular meeting, Cooke County Commissioners Court unanimously adopted a new set of Subdivision Regulations. It has taken 15 months of study and fine-tuning to develop the adopted policies.

"There is not a lot of change for the residents of Cooke County," County Judge Bill Freeman remarked of the new regulations in a later telephone interview. "It's mostly to comply with current legislation and to ensure that developers are developing properties in such a way that is advantageous to the future property owners of subdivision lots."

Asked if there had been problems with developers, Judge Freeman said that most of the subdivision developers are good developers. The only problems he knew of were from some out of county developers who didn't have their roads in compliance with the County regulations. These must be See ROAD REGS , pg 6

John Sandmann did not file for another term on the City Council. Challenging incumbents Paul Sandmann and Corcoran are Virginia (Jenny) Dennis, David

Spaeth, Jeff Neu, and Jeff Arendt.

Angelic A'Cappella and director Pam Fette pose with Lou Hammond of Hammond & Associates in New York city as they prepare to sing at the Waldor Astoria. Ms. Hammond presents the choir a $500 donation for the choir's future endeavors.

"Big Apple" is alive and well

Angelic A'Cappella and twenty-five escorts traveled to New York City over spring break in what proved to be the trip of a lifetime. Landing at LaGuardia airport on Sunday afternoon, March 16, the trip began with a tour of Central Park. The weather, the first beautiful day in many months for New Yorkers, prompted the residents to come to the park in massive numbers. The choir performed at the famous band shell in Central Park to an ever-increasing crowd. As evidence of the winter weather that just passed, the director, Pam Fette, stood on a snowdrift in front of the shell to direct.

A musical theater workshop followed at a famous dance/voice studio in the Broadway district. The ladies were treated to a presentation and dance workshop, learning actual choreography from the Broadway musical Cabaret. The young lady who presented the workshop was a cast member of the musical and hailed from a small town in South Carolina. The group then ate at the famous Confetti Pasta and afterwards took the long elevator ride to the top of the Empire State Building where the New York night skyline opened up before them.

The next two days were filled with many exciting events including a tour of Radio City Music Hall, shopping on Fifth Avenue, a boat ride to the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island and a concert by the ladies of Angelic A'Cappella in St. John the Divine Cathedral. The group was treated to Times Square at night and to the Broadway musical, Mama Mia. China town, Little Italy, Soho and Greenwich village were exciting stops on the tour.

On a reflective note, the choir visited Ground Zero to pay their respects to the New Yorkers who lost their lives while working and living on an ordinary day. At the site, which holds a breathtaking massive pit where the buildings used to be, there is a presence of deep sadness and respect. The ladies gathered in a circle and sang Pie Jesu as a private prayer for the fallen citizens.

Perhaps the highlight of the trip for the choir was the concert arranged by Lou Hammond at the famous Waldorf Hotel. Ms. Hammond greeted the touring party with a reception at her offices. The ladies sang for her in her reception room and she presented with them with a $500 dollar check as a contribution to their future endeavors. Lou Hammond is the daughter of Regina Wolf and owns a successful public relations firm in New York and several other cities. After the reception, the crowd walked around the corner to the Waldorf where the ladies sang in elegance and looked elegant in their black formals and gloves. The listeners gave enthusiastic response and there were even tears shed over the beauty of the sound and the choice of music. The choir was accompanied by famous jazz pianist and soloist Daryl Sherman of New York. The piano at the Waldorf belonged to and was played by Cole Porter.

The trip held many other adventures and lots of excitement including the opportunity to meet the cast of the Broadway show Mama Mia. All of the 41 travelers had a fantastic time and remarked that there was not a flaw in the trip even with the ever present pending war. Many prayers were offered by the group and attendance at Mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral on Wednesday provided another opportunity for prayer.

The trip ended in Dallas with the onset of the war with Iraq. The pilot announced just as the plane touched down that the war had started and asked the passengers to pray, which they did.

Despite the threat of war, the travelers felt safe and welcome in the city of New York. While visiting the Statue of Liberty, Coast See NEW YORK, pg 6

Michael Kent, RT worked up stats on the Myocardial Perfusion test. These were presented to the Board by Administrator Arnold. A three-month survey showed that MMH saw an outpatient average of 72 patients and 44 outpatients with a diagnosis of CHF.

This test uses an Orbitor 3500 gamma camera and is done in combination with a stress test. The imagining is performed in two stages, rest and stress. Stress can be done in either of two ways depending on the patient's condition. Those who can't tolerate a treadmill can be stimulated with an IV injection of a coronary vasodilator to stress the heart to peak stress. In either case, an injection of Tc99 is given when the peak stress is achieved.

"It is a low emission of radioactive material that's in the bloodstream and takes a picture of the heart, the blood flowing through the heart; you see if blood is going the right places or if there are blockages. It's not just how your heart is reacting, but where the blood is going," Arnold explained.

It is a more complicated test in that it involves a physician, a radiologist, and a big piece of equipment. In the fee for service agreement, Diagnostic Health Services (DHS) will provide the technologist and all necessary Nuclear Medicine and support equipment for the procedure. A minimum of 12 tests per month are required. Nursing staff needed to be on hand during the exam is supplied by MMH.

The medical staff noted that, "This exam is recognized to be the most accurate noninvasive means of detecting CAD and assessing the severity and extent of perfusion defects in patients."

Arnold told the Board, "We are trying to make it so that we can do as many noninvasive procedures here to take care of the cardiac system so that you don't have to go into the Metroplex. If we find a patient needs to go into the Metroplex, then they will have all of this diagnostic information to take with them."

During his Administrator's Report, Arnold gave a synopsis of the February 2003 Patient Satisfaction Survey. Of the 41 surveys sent, 13 or 31.71% were returned. It focused on inpatient comments this quarter. There were no complaints on services. Comments included; "I was treated with loving care."; "All services were excellent. I am pleased and proud of our hospital."; "Indeed everyone was very pleasant and kind. I feel like I'm back home."; "Never treated better in any hospital."

Comments on like and dislikes about care had no complaints. Comments included, "I liked the fact that I could be close to home."; "Very friendly, caring and very attentive."; "I love the individual attention I was given."; "The nursing staff really seemed to care about my well-being and seemed to want their patients to be happy and comfortable."

Only one patient said they didn't get adequate rest with the hospital routine. Suggestions on discharge were none or positive including, "I felt very comfortable calling the nurses after my release with questions; they were very friendly and helpful. Dr. Currier, Herman and the rest were also great."

There was a comment on dirty windows outside the room. Arnold said that the sunscreens have been removed and the windows washed with a power scrubber until the nurses gave their approval to the appearance.

For the month of February Arnold reported that net operating revenue of $529,524.44 were generated from all operations during the month of February. Expenses totaled $509,809.58 for revenues over expenses of $19,714.86. Non-operating revenues totaled $192,427.07 producing net revenues over expenses from all sources of $211,779.98.

There were 38 inpatient discharges resulting in 110 discharge patient days during the month.

St. Richard's Villa (SRV) Administrator Zula Lawyer reported that the facility currently has one bed for a male and one bed for a female open. In order to completely outfit patients with proper mattresses SRV will be purchasing four mattresses per month until all are replaced.

"Each department head has been presented with a spend down sheet in order to better monitor costs versus income. This is apparently the first time this has been attempted in this facility and we are anticipating that it will be very beneficial to administration as well as to the individual departments," Lawyer reported.

Discussion was held on the possibility of designating a space for dental care. Dr. Gerald Graham expressed concern on patients getting minimal required dental care. Dan Hamric agreed to investigate proposed solutions.

Results from the Board's Self Evaluation surveys showed a range of 2.1 to 3.3 with the average being 2.6. This was done with a 1 being above average and 5 being needs improvement. Overall performance was judged as acceptable and above average level with improvement needed in some areas. Arnold said that the survey will be repeated next year and a comparison made.

In other business the MMH Board:

- Completed and signed Board Conflict of Interest Statements

- Hear there were three candidates for the three at large Board seats with expiring terms. Kenny Klement, Dan Hamric and Dr. Walter Knight have filed. The deadline is 5 p.m. Wed. March 19. No contest means the Board can vote not to hold an election.

- Accepted the Medical Staff report.

Muenster High School's National Honor Society tied yellow ribbons on the school honoring our troops fighting the war overseas and for their safe return. The students tied large yellow ribbons on the front of the school and plan to provide small yellow ribbons for the students and faculty who would

Rural Texans Have Much at Stake in Legislative Session

By State Representative Rick Hardcastle

The Texas Legislature is back in session in Austin, and this year rural Texans have more at stake than any time in memory. If words like "budget cuts", "water rights" and "tax exemptions" mean anything to you, please read on.

A state-funding shortfall of nearly $10 billion will require legislators to cut spending. We will cut from administrative costs and non-essential programs as much as possible. But the reality is that services important to all Texans, including rural Texans, will have to be reduced.

What will be cut? Spending for roads and bridges, hospitals and other health care services, community colleges and universities, fire prevention services, law enforcement, courthouse renovations, boll weevil programs? Literally everything is at risk.

Rural citizens should - and will - shoulder their share of the cost-cutting burden. But we may be hit more than our share. Why? Because when agencies are asked to reduce spending, they will want to make cuts where the fewest citizens are affected, and that means rural Texas!

It is simple, economic logic. If you can only maintain so many miles of roads, won't you cut back where there is less traffic? If grants to hospitals are reduced, shouldn't you favor the hospitals that serve the most patients? Shouldn't we let the parks go that have the least visitation and close the human service facilities with the fewest clients?

Such thinking ignores a basic fact: We all pay taxes and, as citizens, we all deserve our share of the services bought and paid for by our tax dollars. Rural legislators on budget and spending committees will vigorously fight the notion that we should suffer first and most.

Water rights will be a major agenda item for the 78th Legislature. Perhaps nothing is more essential to the long-term viability of rural economies than adequate and affordable water for agriculture, recreation, wildlife and family needs.

Groundwater conservation districts may offer some protection for local water users. But in the long run, water is a commodity that - like other commodities - will be sold to the high bidder. Many powerful interests are now engaged in buying water rights on a massive scale. They intend to sell the water to the highest bidders, who may be hundreds of miles away.

Rural legislators have their hands full trying to assure that local communities and industries, including agriculture, retain some rights and some ability to protect their local interests.

When we talk about the future of rural cities and towns, modern, high-speed telecommunications service is right up there with water. Broadband service is like the railroads and highways of the last century. If you have it, you may survive and thrive. If you don't... you probably won't.

Our Legislature has been a national leader in pushing telecom services throughout the state. Funding for schools, libraries, higher education and medical facilities has brought worldwide connectivity to virtually every community in the state. However, in too many areas, private citizens and businesses do not have access to the same connectivity.

The funding for rural broadband is threatened. Major telephone companies are aggressively lobbying to kill it. Additionally, the state's leading telecom providers are pushing legislation that limits the state's ability to push broadband toward those citizens who still don't have it.

And finally we have to talk taxes. When all the budget cutting is done, many experts believe there will still be a revenue gap! To raise money, the governor wants to close franchise and property tax loopholes amounting to hundreds of millions of dollars, but one person's loophole is often another's livelihood.

Many of our urban neighbors consider agricultural, open-space and timber appraisals to be loopholes, and those will be targeted. One bill has already been filed that would eliminate the sales tax exemptions on agricultural machinery, gas, seed and other production inputs.

Family farms and businesses will not survive if such changes are made. And we believe we can preserve most or all of what we have. But ill winds are blowing, and we will have to work harder, smarter and better organized than ever before.

Your livelihood and way of life are very much at stake during this legislative session. Please inform yourself and support those working to preserve your interests.

Representative Rick Hardcastle, R - Vernon, is Chairman of House Agricultural and Livestock Committee and a member of Natural Resources Committee.

Services were held on Monday, March 24, 2003 at 2:00 p.m. in First United Methodist Church officiated by Dr. Joe Pool, Pastor, Rev. Elwood S. Poore, Pastor Emeritus, both of First United Methodist Church, and Dr. Charles Milliken, Methodist Minister.

Survivors include son and daughter-in-law, Dr. R.R. and Jane McLeroy of Gainesville; daughters and sons-in-law, Patricia and Ralph Poore of Arlington, LeAnn and Ken Santone of Madison, Connecticut; and daughters Kathleen Frow of Austin and Rebecca Schafer of Gainesville. Also eight grandchildren: Bart McLeroy and his wife Stacey, Mary Margaret McLeroy, Grice King, Susan Poore, Amanda Poore, Bobby Santone, Elizabeth Santone, and Douglas Schafer.

Preceding her in death were her husband, Dr. R.L. McLeroy on Jan. 21, 2003.

Margaret McLeroy was born March 9, 1927 in Winstboro, Texas to Keener Reagan and Eva Lena Young Isbell. On May 23, 1948 she married Robert L. McLeroy in Gainesville. She earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Religious Education from Southwestern University of Georgetown, Texas. Following graduation she served as Religious Education Director at First United Methodist Church in San Marcos, Texas, and director of the Wesleyan Foundation at Southwest Texas State. She was an organist, and was administrative secretary for Albert Scheid at Parkland Hospital of Dallas. Active in her church, she also took interest in many school organizations and was a member of the Tuesday Book Club in Gainesville.

Burial in Fairview Cemetery was directed by Geo. J. Carroll & Son Funeral home. Pallbearers were Phil Adams, Mike Henry, Kent Woodridge, Jacob Bezner, Dr. Bill Khaira, and Bob Shelton. Honorary pallbearers were Jane Dudley, Jack Merrick, Mary Merrick, Polly Claxton, Marge Priest, and Helen Lock.

For those who have asked, the family has suggested that memorials may be made to the Building Fund of First United Methodist Church, and the Learning Tree at First United Methodist Church.

Water Saving Tip

When washing clothes by hand, the water should not be left running. Fill a laundry tub with water, and re-use wash and rinse water as much as possible.

From My Side of the Fence by Ed Cler

Here we are at war with Iraq. For over a decade Hussein has been thumbing his nose at the United Nations and doing much as he pleased.

At long last, a coalition led by the United States, has taken on the task of overthrowing his regime, after the U.N. had proven itself ineffective.

It's sad that our country has to bear the brunt of the undertaking, but at present there are about 40 countries involved in one way or another.

Now the Kurds say they will enter the fray with about 20,000 troops. That should be of some help.

It was also sad, very sad, to see the military people from the different parts of the U.S.A. saying their good-byes to families and friends. There were lots of tears shed, but one could sense the determination in the faces of the military folks. They feel that a job must be done, and it is up to them to do it, so let them get on with it. Never-the-less, their leaving home and families hurt, the military as well as their families and friends. I must admit my own eyes welled up with tears just watching them. I pray that they will be able to return in the not too distant future.

Now we hear that the coalition forces have unearthed a chemical factory and some biological weapons of mass destruction, the very things that Hussein swore up and down he did not have. Well, now everyone knows!

General Franks stated that the troops are equipped to deal with these chemicals. I pray that he is right, because this morning, according to the T.V., whomever is commanding the Iraqis, has given the green light to his people to use them after they pass a certain line.

Well, when one is dealing with a mad-man, expect the worst, and ask the Almighty for help.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Congratulations on your beautiful front page of the March 14 paper! Not only were the colored pictures wonderful, the touching photograph of Captain White and his family moved me to tears. The article about Colonel Bright was so well written, and it, too, was very moving. Col. Bright's comments about his father, and what he learned from him truly touched my heart.

I would like to see the Enterprise put a little box in each of the weekly newspapers which would contain the names of all the people from Muenster who are fighting in this war. Then, I would like to ask each person who sees it to take few minutes of their time to ask God to be with these brave warriors, and to keep each of them out of harm's way, and to return them safely home. I appreciate the addresses you gave us in last week's paper, and I hope that more will follow. May I take this means to urge people in Muenster to do as the Enterprise has asked and to correspond with these servicemen. Please drop a card or a letter in the mail to these young men. As one mother states, it takes more than two weeks for them to get a letter from home; however, if we send enough cards and letters, maybe they will get something each day. I, personally, will do this as my special offering for Lent. I used to fast for Lent, but recently I have been doing special little gifts, cards, and visits for shut-ins, and it is so much more rewarding. This would be a great service project for some of the different organizations at school. There are probably enough organizations between the two schools to each one take one of the servicemen, and then set up a schedule among their members to send a card or letter on a given day. Hopefully, the soldiers would be receiving something from home each day to show them how much we appreciate what they are doing!

Let's all pray that this war will be over soon, and that no more lives will be lost. It's such a shame that things like this cannot be settled peacefully.

Sincerely,
Judy Cain Hartman

Letter to the Editor:

In regards to Ray Wilde Letter to the Editor on 3-21-03. I would also like to make my comments on our experiences traveling with my sister, Frances, in Europe in 1975.

Our 31 day trip started in Holland. As we were traveling on our own, we had lots of questions to ask. Everyone was really nice to us, helping with directions, food, lodging, etc.

We went to many countries: Holland, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Italy, and France. We were also searching for our Grandmother's home place in Germany; finding it close to the end of our trip. Everyone was so nice helping us.

We left Austria to go to Lourdes, France, to visit the Grotto of the Virgin Mary. Back then there were no accommodations in Lourdes for tourists; just a few souvenir stores. It was June 1, it was rainy and cold and very unpleasant to be outdoors; so we stayed in one of the local souvenir stores while waiting to catch a train to Paris.

We were very tired after being on foot all day while visiting Lourdes. Going to Paris by train would be an all-nighter. We decided to get a sleeper berth rather than doing another night of coach. Sleeping on the train was another experience in France. The Conductor was very rude, waking us up several times to check our passport. When we got to Paris it was no better. People were very rude in helping us to find a hotel. Eating was yet another experience due to the non-helpfulness in getting us seated and served. After eating, the waiter would not bring us our check. After several requests we finally started to walk out; then he came running. I remember Frances saying, "by golly, we're not giving this guy a tip after the way he treated us." And then on the street, we asked a policeman for directions; after a while we found out he had told us to go just the opposite way. I was never so glad to leave this country and get back to the good old U.S.A. Being in France was mostly a bummer.

bonded and occasionally there is a bond forfeiture due to lack of compliance with County road standards.

Judge Freeman said that when he took office Dec. 1, 2001, he walked in to find a giant pile of papers on subdivision regulations. After much reorganizing, re-writing, workshops, etc. Freeman feels that the newly adopted subdivision regulations should be sufficient for the County for several years. As they are written, if a new State law is drafted, the ordinance is automatically changed to meet that change, he said.

A proclamation honoring the Sacred Heart Tigerettes basketball team and their coach, Jon LeBrasseur, was approved for the team winning their sixth straight State Basketball Championship. March 24 was proclaimed Tigerettes Day in Cooke County.

Freeman informed the Court that Cooke County received a grant award of

Lindsay School Board will re-examine Winn's contract

The Lindsay ISD Board of Trustees held their regular monthly meeting in the high school library at 7:00 p.m. on Monday, March 24.

During the Public Forum part of the meeting, Donna Zimmerer addressed the board regarding considering placing a cap on the number of transfer students accepted for each grade level. She also asked that the Board seriously consider the renewal of teacher contracts and ask questions when this item comes up.

Donna Hess also asked for clarification on agenda items #19 (Discuss superintendent's contract [closed session]) and #20 (Consider superintendent's contract) and if it would be possible for the Board to move these items up in the agenda. Betsy Fleitman asked why the superintendent's contract discussion was placed on this agenda when the contract had already been considered earlier this year. The Board stated that there was additional discussion on these items at this time. Board member Wayne Fleitman asked Donna Zimmerer for clarification regarding her concerns about teacher contracts. She stated she would like each contract to be looked at on an individual basis rather than a blanket endorsement of all teacher contracts.

Jerry Metzler gave the principal's report. He included information regarding upcoming events and enrollment information. 7th/8th UIL students won first place at the District meet. One high school debate team competed in the finals at the State level. The One Act Play qualified for Area. The high school UIL District meet is on Thursday. District track is on April 3. Prom will be on April 5. Third grade TAKS reading test results have been received. All students in third grade passed the TAKS reading test at the panel recommendation level. Over half of the students received commended performance. Students and teachers are to be congratulated for their hard work and effort.

Mr. Winn expressed some concerns that he and John Erwin have regarding getting the football field repairs complete while fitting this around track meets. There was discussion regarding this. Three trustee candidates filed for school board—Carol Conaway, Bruce Bezner, and Lloyd Reiter.

Buddy Allen from Wharry Engineering gave a report regarding the roofing project. Several problems were noticed: blistering is evident on all three buildings; this is caused by laying roof materials over a wet surface and will cause separation. Overhang is also evident in many places which indicates improper metal work. It is Allen's opinion that many of the problems are related to poor application of the original roof and additional roofing applications even though the materials used are good quality. He reviewed the blistering repair process. There was discussion regarding the recommendations and the repair/replacement process. Wayne Fleitman expressed that he was impressed with the presentation. He would like the parish council to be notified and would like the project to begin when school lets out. David Arendt concurred. Fleitman agreed to share the presentation information with the parish council.

The Board entered into executive session to discuss the superintendent's contract at 8:32 p.m. The open session was reconvened at 10:09. Danny Nortman announced that the Board is setting a meeting designated to discussing this issue. The meeting will be on Monday,

Guard helicopters could be seen patrolling the waterways and city. It was the impression of the travelers that New Yorkers are rebounding from the tragic attack and proving that they are tenacious and that the city, perhaps the greatest city in the world, will survive and thrive. The most frequently asked question by the girls was, "When can we go again?"

Travelers to the Big Apple were - Angelic A'Cappella members; Kate Sepanski, Jacqueline Flusche, Chelsie Switzer, Joelle Fuhrmann, Amy Trevino, Sarah Whitecotton, Katie Cox, Angela Cox, Brittany White, Karen Gehrig, Jacqueline Bauer, Laura Taylor, Lisa Endres, Rose Bartush, Christine Fetsch, Andrea Bonin, and former member, Cindy Hartman. Unable to attend was Tiffany Richey. Adults traveling with the Flusche, Cathie and Francis Fuhrmann, Kathy Bauer, Jeanette Hellingner, Juanita Knabe, Josephine Schilling, Diane Bedolla, Cindy Gehrig, Brenda Flusche, Sally Switzer, Doreen Taylor, Carol Grewing, Leslie White, Helen Whitecotton, Ella Mae Rohmer, Mary Evelyn Hermes, and Crystal and Leonard Vogel.

Lester, Bailey exchange vows at St. Peter's

by Elfreda Fette

Donna Kay Lester of Dallas and Richard Chad Bailey of Dallas were united in Holy Matrimony on Feb. 15, 2003 in a Nuptial Mass and double ring traditional vows in St. Peter's Catholic Church in Lindsay, officiated by Father Ronald Scheible OSA.

The bride is the daughter of Don and Sara Lester of Era, and the granddaughter of Bertha Fleitman of Muenster and the late Bruno Fleitman and the late Bedie and Kenneth Lester of Gainesville.

The groom is the son of Richard and Deronda Bailey of DeSoto, and the grandson of Nan Grueter and the late Beverly Bailey, Tay Bailey, and Richard Bailey of Amarillo.

A 1997 graduate of Lindsay High School, the bride received a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in Finance and Real Estate from the University of North Texas in 2002 and is employed as a consumer case manager for the American Arbitration Association of Dallas.

The groom graduated from DeSoto High School in 1991 and from the University of North Texas in 1998 with a Bachelor's degree in Fine Arts, specializing in Photography and is employed as a photographer in Dallas.

Preceding the service, mothers of the couple lit the side candles of the couple's calla lily Unity candle.

Presented at the altar by her father, Don Lester, the bride chose to wear an elegant wedding gown of pearl satin designed by Barbara Allin for The Bridal Portfolio. Silhouette of the gown featured a square neckline, empire waist and slipper-length princess skirt. The entire bodice was delicately beaded with pearls and sequins. Juliet sleeves of sheer chiffon cascaded to her wrist. The back of the gown was highlighted with jeweled buttons, and the train extended gracefully to chapel-length.

A crystal and pearl headpiece held her veil of two layers of silk illusion that cascaded from just above the elbow to slipper-length, and each layer was dusted with tiny pearls and crystals. Narrow satin ribbon finished the edges.

As she approached the altar, the bride paused to present a bouquet of roses to her mother. During the recessional after Mass, she presented a bouquet of roses to the groom's mother.

Her own bridal bouquet consisted of long stemmed calla lilies tied with ivory satin ribbon and entwined with a rosary that the bride bought in Rome as a gift for her Grandmother Fleitman, "for something old." For added sentiment, she "borrowed" a ring from her maid of honor Julia Fleitman, "for tradition."

ATTENDANTS

Bridal attendants were her cousin, and Maid of Honor, Julia Fleitman of Houston; and bridesmaids and friends Stephanie Sandmann of Gainesville, Debra Cohoon of Arlington, and Debbie Ramirez of Lewisville. They were attired in apple red, floor-length crepe dresses of formal design with matching wraps, and carried calla lily bouquets banded with satin ribbon.

Flower girls were Lexy Jackson and Ashley Salter both of Amarillo, cousins of the groom. They wore identical floor-length ecru dresses with overlay skirt of tulle, accented with satin roses.

Ring bearers were Daniel Fleitman and David Fleitman, cousins of the bride. Bell ringer was Destin Fleitman, cousin of the bride.

Groom's brother, Jeremy Bailey of Dallas stood with him as Best Man.

Groomsmen were Jeff Dunn of Plano, Ryan Holt of Denton, and John Paul Gonzalez of Dallas friends of the groom.

Ushers were Kris Cox and Kevin Cox of Houston, bride's cousins, and Teddy Stevens of Dallas, Wes Garrison, and Jay Johnson.

Altar servers were Alvin Hartman, Sylvan Walterscheid, and Joe Felderhoff, cousins of the bride's mother.

Wedding music was presented by Ruth Felderhoff, organist, Rose Ganson, flutist, Kate McCrimmon and Malcolm McCrimmon vocalists, Christy Hesse and Jack White vocalists, and Dan McCrimmon guitarist.

Sacred music included: "Morning Has Broken" by organ and flute; "Theme From Romeo and Juliet," organ; "The Rose" and "The Wedding Song" by the McCrimmons, cousins and uncle of the bride, before Mass; "Sunrise, Sunset" for entrance of the mothers, by the McCrimmons; "Canon in D" organ and flute for the bridesmaids' entry; "Trumpet Voluntary," organ, for the bridal march; "Take My Hand" at the Unity candle sung by Christy Hesse and Jack White; "Only A Shadow" at Offertory; the "Holy, Holy, Holy"; "Great Amen," "Our Father," and "Lamb of God" all also sung by Christy Hesse and Jack White, with flute. At Communion "On Eagles Wings" was sung by groom's cousins Susan Goodson and Shannon Jackson. "Ave Maria" was sung by Christy Hesse. As the couple knelt at Mary's altar Christy Hesse and Jack White sang "Hail Mary, Gentle Woman." The recessional was "Lord Of The Dance" by organ, flute, guitar, and vocalists Hesse and White.

Participating in the special wedding liturgy were readers and lectors Jennifer Bailey, groom's sister-in-law, Suzy Dunn-Bradford and Kathy Hodgkin-Kennedy, friends of the groom. Presenting Offertory gifts of bread and wine at the altar were Karren Clugy, groom's aunt, Jane Cox, bride's aunt, Jerry Fleitman, bride's uncle, and Linda Wright, groom's aunt, all godparents of the couple. Eucharistic Ministers were Leon Fleitman, Brenda Fuhrmann, Joan Hartman, Carol Luttmeyer, and Theresa Mae Walterscheid. The chalice used belonged to the bride's great-uncle, the late Bishop, the Most Reverend Augustine Dangelmayr D.D., L.L.D.

Flowers were pinned by Patsy Fleitman of Muenster, bride's aunt, and Karren Clugy of Amarillo, groom's aunt. Church programs were distributed by the young attendants.

RECEPTION

A reception, dinner, and dance followed in the Lindsay Centennial Hall, hosted by the bride's parents, Don and Sara Lester, for about 300 guests.

Reception assistants were the bride's aunts, Jane Cox of Houston, Billie Fleitman of Muenster, Patsy Fleitman of Muenster, and Teresa McCrimmon of Denver. Guest book was attended by Kelly Cox of Houston, Dobe Fleitman of Houston, and Kate McCrimmon of Denver, bride's cousins.

Champagne was served by Jon Fleitman of Birmingham, Alabama, bride's cousin, followed by a catered meal. Toasts were given by Jeremy Bailey, Julia Fleitman, and Don Lester.

The bride's table was decorated with calla lilies, roses, and candles. The cake table, under a covered gazebo, was decorated with greenery and sparkle organza, and a Precious Moments wedding couple. Also on the table was the cake knife used on her baptismal cake, a gift from her grandparents, Bertha and Bruno Fleitman. Also on the table was the bride and groom figurine used by the bride's parents and the bride's maternal grandparents on their wedding days.

The bride's cake, of four layers on individual crystal pedestals, of hummingbird cake, piña colada, and white with raspberry mousse filling, was adorned with Virginia roses, calla lilies, hydrangea and lisianthus, and made by Betty Rose Walterscheid.

The groom's cake, three layers of chocolate with chocolate mint frosting between layers, was drizzled with chocolate and white chocolate, and covered with chocolate-dipped strawberries.

A side table held the bride's wedding portrait and pictures of the couple.

The rehearsal dinner was held the evening before at the Wooden Spoon in Lindsay, hosted by Rick and Deronda Bailey, parents of the groom, for 70 guests. A toast was given by the groom's father. A poem written by the groom was read. Entertainment included a video of the couple from childhood to the present. A delightful musical selection, presented by Kate McCrimmon and Malcolm McCrimmon was "An Old Fashioned Wedding" from Annie, Get Your Gun.

Out-of-town guests came from the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex, the Houston area, Austin area, and Amarillo area in Texas, and from Oklahoma, Colorado, Alabama, Oregon, Nebraska, and Louisiana.

Since returning from a wedding trip to Montego Bay, Jamaica, the couple is residing in Dallas.

Girl Scouts host Pinewood Derby on March 8

The Cooke County Girl Scouts 3rd Annual Pinewood Derby was hosted by John and Dana Walterscheid at the Muenster Public School Gym on March 8. Fifty-three girls showed to participate in the competitive event. Cars with many different shapes, designs, colors, and decors were very unique. With a new electronic finish line judge, the audience could easily see each car's standings. Racks to hold the cars in each heat also served as a visual aid for the double elimination process.

Girl Scouts were allowed to sit along the side of the track to cheer on their cars. Many smiles were seen by the top finishers. Each Girl Scout received either a 1st-8th place or participant trophy. Cars were also judged on Best Design and Best Craftsmanship. Congratulations went to each Girl Scout for her hard work.

Winners were as follows: 1st place - Kayla Hess, Junior Troop 1909, Gainesville; 2nd place - Sara Walterscheid, Junior Troop 998, Muenster; 3rd place - Anne Walterscheid, Cadette Troop 2007, Muenster; 4th place - Emily LaSalle, Brownie Troop 1902, Callisburg; 5th place - Lora Walterscheid, Daisy Troop 214, Muenster; 6th place - Brooke Grewing, Brownie Troop 1905, Callisburg; 7th place - Tori Dyess, Brownie Troop 16, Muenster; 8th place, Tressa Jones, Daisy Troop 214, Muenster; Best Craftsmanship - Makayla Moster, Daisy Troop 214, Muenster; Best Design - Torrie Harrell, Brownie Troop 1905, Callisburg.

speaking on his behalf, took advantage of the Public Comment time on the Agenda to chastise Precinct #1 Commissioner Phil Young on how Elkins's property was cleaned up. After sending Elkins many warnings to clean up his property, the County had to step in a clean it up for him. It was deemed a health hazard due to the many rodents and other pests residing there.

A tinhorn had been removed and eventually Elkins admitted that was his main concern because the area was flooding. Young said that all residents on that road with improperly installed or damaged tinhorns would have them replaced this summer.

In other business Commissioners Court:

- Approved bonds for deputy sheriff Toby Beane, reserve deputy William Caver, and jailer William Linnell.

- Tabled naming unnamed road in Precinct #2.

- Approved low bid for lease on two copiers for Cooke County EMS and 911 Addressing and Cooke County Clerk's office. Xerox's bid for 48 months was lower than that of Dustin Office Machines.

- Approved Woodbine Water's request to install a fresh water line across the north side of CR 168 and CR 107, extending south for approximately 300 feet along the east side of CR 107.

- Approved minutes of Lake Ray Roberts Planning and Zoning Board.

Mitchell shares "stewardess" story with Soroptimists

Fasten your seatbelts and come fly away with Soroptimists International of Gainesville for a safe, comfortable and enjoyable presentation of "Stewardesses", delivered by Kathleen Mitchell, flight attendant for American Airlines.

Introduced by sister-in-law Mitzi Lyons, Kathleen Mitchell surprised most of her audience when she stated that many of the original "Stewardesses" were registered nurses during that earlier time-frame when the airlines' predominate concern was passenger safety. But by the '50s, the airline industry gradually evolved into a service-oriented business and "stewardesses" were encouraged/required to be single, young, thin, and beautiful. In fact, some may even recall Piano Bars in some of the larger planes during the '60s as airlines stressed service and entertainment.

As sex and age discrimination lawsuits began surfacing in the '70s and '80s (when many wished to make this temporary "job" a lifelong profession), Mitchell noted that today, it is not uncommon to see a mature flight attendant who may be a grandmother or grandfather!

Many businesses have come to recognize that maturity conveys a certain comfort level. Since 9/11, the airlines have come full circle and Mitchell stated that safety is once again the priority. "As we all know, there have been major changes in security procedures as well as the screening of passengers and luggage. The persona of the flight attendant has also changed from that of being passive to an attitude that is far more aggressive in order to ensure safety. Flight attendants have participated in required safety procedures and many have even taken the voluntary self-defense training courses offered by the Airlines," she said.

Mitchell also made the observation that passengers have changed; "they seem to be more aware of their surroundings, and more willing to help out. People want a safe environment in which to fly and most have been very patient with the new security measures now in place."

President Karon Sullivan thanked Kathleen Mitchell and presented her with the Soroptimist International of Gainesville's Cookbook, "Sharing Our Best".

Glora Parish then introduced her guest Cindy Tatum (Business Manager at GISD), and Beverly Woodlock (representing the Scholarship/Awards Committee) introduced the three Girls of the Month: Mindy Arendt (Era High School Senior) and her mother Jean Arendt, Sarah Brule (Gainesville High School Senior) and her mother Lisa Brule, and Lyndsie Eggenberg (Gainesville High School Senior) and her mother Johanna Green.

Our Texas Highways are getting a major spring-cleaning next week. Donna Corcoran announced that the Don't Mess with Texas Trash-Off takes place on Saturday, April 5 at 8:30 a.m. at the Spur parking lot on Hwy. 82 in Lindsay. The Soroptimist two-mile section of Hwy. 82 is approximately 12 acres. Noting that last year Soroptimists picked up 86 (30 gallon) bags of trash (which is equivalent to 717.67 tons of solid waste), once again Soroptimists International of Gainesville will be hitting the pavement and picking up more trash. "so please slow down and give them a break and a well deserved salute this week... and thanks for not messin' with Texas!"

Muenster ISD cheerleader try-outs held March 14

Cheerleading try-outs for Muenster ISD were held Friday, March 14 at 4:00 p.m. at the Muenster High School gym. Try-out participants for the high school and junior high squads and high school and junior high mascots were judged by two NCA cheerleaders. The judging of candidates was open only to senior cheerleaders, sponsors, and several teachers assisting in the process.

Preceding try-outs, the candidates were evaluated by their teachers on classroom performance, which counted as one-fourth of their total score. They also participated in three clinics led by Kami Klement and Jami Gerstberger.

The judging process required each participant to perform a group dance. Then each student individually performed a cheer and was critiqued on her tumbling skills, jumps, motion technique, and communication skills. The mascot contestants were required to perform a skit including an entrance, spirit projection, crowd involvement, use of props, expression of emotions, creativity and an exit.

The high school varsity squad was elected by first determining one winner with the top score from each class. Then, the next four highest scores from any class filled the remaining spots. To determine the junior high squad, the four top scores from next year's 7th and 8th graders designated the eight winners.

The Muenster High

School varsity squad for 2003-2004 are: Seniors - Kristian Koesler (head), Alisha Walterscheid, Chelsea Felderhoff, Brooke Endres; Juniors - Shannon Grewing, Stevie Klement; Sophomore - Kelly Endres; Freshman - Jessica Walterscheid; and Mascot - Bridgette Klement, Senior.

Those earning spots on the Muenster Junior High Squad are: 8th graders - Laura Heers, Alison Miller, Lindsey Watson, Alison Teafattiller; 7th graders - Holly Rohmer, Jenni Luke, Samantha Endres, and Lauren Haverkamp. Jessica Fisher is Mascot.

The Muenster ISD cheerleading sponsors are Deanna Hellman, varsity, and Lisa Hettler and Kim Budish, junior high.

Abortion, the Ultimate Child Abuse

by Katherine Saylor
Immaculate Conception School

Child abuse occurs everywhere in the world everyday, and we consider murder to be the worst form of child abuse. By our own logic abortion should be considered the worst kind of child abuse, but we say that it is the mother's choice to willing take the life she has created. Everyday thousands of innocent lives are destroyed through abortion. When we say that abortion is legal are we not also saying that child abuse should be legal, since by our own logic abortion is the ultimate child abuse?

Abortion not only effects the mother and her child during the abortion, but also can effect any children that the woman may have later on in life. Research shows that women who have had an abortion are more prone to abuse their future children. In the year 1973, when abortion was legalized, the number of reported cases of child abuse in the U.S increased to 167,000 cases, which was 1,497% more than before abortion was legalized. By the year 1991 that number of reported child abuse cases increased to 2.5 million cases.

The ultimate form of child abuse is death, and since abortion causes death, abortion is the ultimate child abuse. Unless our country changes its opinions about abortion, child abuse will only increase, and when it increases the result will only cause more sorrow. It is up to our generation to change the way the world thinks about its children, the innocent lives that are God's gift to the world.
