

Months ago, on November 16, 1945, to be exact, the Enterprise told about a soldier who got quite a surprise when a local merchant nonchalantly counted $399.95 out of his pocket as change for the $1000 bill a man handed him when buying one coke.

And now the Enterprise has a letter from the Coca-Cola Company objecting to the use of their trademarked word without "appropriate typographical treatment." "Coke," it reminds us, isn't just any old soft drink, but a Coca-Cola and nothing else.

But with modern streamlined methods of writing a person doesn't always know when to capitalize and when not to. Check over your large dailies and you'll see what we mean. Grammar ain't what it used to be.

Economists have figured out that General Motors workers, after receiving their pay increases, will have to work five years to make up for the pay they lost in the four months they were on strike. And of course we don't even have to mention that all through the four months union agitators continued to receive their fat salaries. Nor is it necessary to add that employers, with plants closed down, lost as heavily as the workers. Meanwhile consumers were deprived of their products.

It's a ridiculous situation indeed when three, four, or five distinct economic groups representing a large portion of our population will all take a financial beating from a few radical butchers whose profession is to fatten their purses by causing general distress. But that's the way it is. Docile employers, who claim they're so smart to let employees push them around, permit themselves to be pushed around by their labor bosses.

One absurd situation of that nature is the strike of paper mill employees at Lufkin, Texas. The plant in its expansion program had engaged a contractor to put up a new building. The contractor was operating on an open shop policy and union leaders decided to put the squeeze on him by forcing the paper mill to back them up. So they picketed the paper mill, whose employees are all union men and have no complaint about their pay or relations with the company.

As planned, the mill workers went on strike in protest to another company's policies. Five hundred persons are losing an average of $50 a week over an issue that doesn't concern them at all. It's hard to believe that people can be so short sighted.

Incidentally, the contractor isn't getting any kicks about wage scales. The only complaint is that he has non-union men. Figure from that who stands to gain by the strike. Who will get additional fees if the other employees are forced to take out union cards? And who's getting paid while employees and employers are losing money?

One possible result of the mess is a cancellation of the new building contract. The paper mill is seriously considering the wisdom of a huge financial investment when its own employees, receiving fair treatment and good pay, show more appreciation to radical and irresponsible labor bosses.

The slickest method yet of preventing a strike was that employed by the governor of Virginia in a threatened power strike. He secured a list of more than 1500 key men and had sheriffs and deputies to serve them with notices that effective the moment the strike is called they are drafted into the state militia, and each man's assigned duty was to continue in the work he was doing. The governor explained that effective the moment of the strike he would seize the power company in the name of the state, hence the men from that time on would be in the employ of the state. He also made it clear that he was issuing official orders, and anyone who disobeyed them would be court martialled. The strike was called off.

It did not take labor lawyers long to put up a howl about enforced servitude and labor's right to strike, but the governor stuck by his guns and won — at least for the while, but the case will probably go to the Supreme Court. As regards the right to strike, he insisted that it is secondary to the public's right to food and decent living conditions. The strike would have cut off every light and most refrigerators and stoves in the affected area. Transportation would have stopped and millions would have been kept from their work. If continued for only a few days it could have caused incalculable harm. Under those circumstances, the governor arrested.

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY APRIL 19, 1946

NUMBER 21

Muenster Men Attend Meet On Flood Control

At a public hearing with the U. S. Army Engineer Corps in Denton Tuesday, farmers and business men of Cooke county recommended a continuation of soil conservation practices in order to decrease the volume of rain water entering streams, and a project to clear creek channels giving water a better chance to get away and minimize flood hazards in bottom lands.

The hearing was one of three by the Engineer corps in connection with flood control and navigation on the Trinity river and its tributaries. Both objectives are considered for that part of the river's basin below Dallas and Ft. Worth. Only flood control is considered in this area.

Suggestions for this area were contained in a joint report by the local Upper Elm-Red, the Upper West Fork, and the Denton-Wise soil conservation districts. It recommended an immediate survey by the Army Engineers with the ultimate purpose of straightening, dredging, and cleaning rubbish from stream channels that have been badly silted and draining some of the low bottom lands for reclamation.

Also suggested is a series of dams to check excessive flow in heavy rains and release accumulated water between rains. The report emphasized the desirability of such reservoirs as flood control measures, as a means of providing a constant flow to water livestock and reduce stream pollution, and as recreational spots for fishing, boating and swimming. Other advantages include irrigation and checking siltation farther down the stream.

Statistics submitted in the report show the annual siltation in Lake Dallas to be 72 per cent. Estimated on the cost of the lake more than 5 million dollars, the annual damage is $97,500.

One of the spots recommended for a reservoir is the junction of Big and Brushy Elm creeks south of Myra. Checking the water flow at that point would greatly reduce the flood hazard south of Gainesville.

Muenster's representatives at the meeting were J. W. Hess, J. M. Weinzapfel and Barney Voth Gainesville, was represented by ten men.

The class is composed of Margie Endres, Lillian Felderhoff, Thomas Felderhoff, Alvin Hartman, Florence Haverkamp, Jewel Marie Hoffman, Norbert Magee, Theresa Mae Peis, Mary Seyler, George Swirczynski, Dorothy Vogel, Helen Walterscheid, Laura Lee Wilde, Lillian Wimmer, Herbert Yosten and Margaret Zipper.

Dates of other events on the high school calendar are April 28 Junior-Senior banquet; May 5, Class Play; May 16 Campus Day; May 20, Junior-Senior Prom; May 23, Class Night Exercises.

May 24 is the tentative date for commencement exercises at the public school, Superintendent J. J. Hoffman, stated. Due to a small class of graduates in both departments this year, the high school and grade department will have combined exercises which will include the annual closing of school program. Joan Robert is the high school graduate and Patricia Ezell, Alene Moore and Junior Martin are the 8th grade graduates.

The Sacred Heart School's 8th grade graduates will receive their diplomas in exercises on the evening of May 24. There are 28 in the class. Their student program will be presented on dates to be announced later.

J.R. Smith Is Candidate For State Legislature

J. R. Smith, well known Gainesville citizen, has authorized the Enterprise to announce his candidacy for representative in the house of the state legislature in the Democratic primary next July.

His formal statement to voters will be published at a later date.

SATURDAY OF NEXT WEEK DESIGNATED AS CLEAN-UP DAY

Saturday, April 27, has been designated as annual clean-up day for Muenster, it was announced Wednesday. The project is being sponsored jointly by the city and the Civic League and Garden Club, and will be made without cost of pickup to citizens.

In making the announcement Mayor J. M. Weinzapfel and Mrs. Frank Kaiser, chairman of the Sanitation Committee of the League, ask cooperation of all individuals in the interest of health, appearance and freedom from fire hazards. Every home and business house is urged to participate to the fullest extent in this annual city clean-up movement.

The city will furnish its truck and driver and members of local Boy Scout Troop No. 164 will assist with the work.

Persons are requested to have their rubbish, tin cans, trash and junk boxed or sacked and placed at the curbs for quick pick-up. The junk may also be placed in alleys that are open but it's pointed out that the truck will not enter only partially opened alleys or those that are littered with glass and other objects injurious to tires.

The truck will cover the city limits thoroughly and persons residing beyond the limits will be accommodated if they bring their sacks or boxes up to the line.

In the event of rain the truck will be around the first fair Saturday thereafter, it was stated, and if there is too much to complete the job in one day the truck will make the rounds again the following Saturday. Plans are to begin at 8 a.m.

DEATH CLAIMS IRA YEAKLEY'S FATHER 78, OF GAINESVILLE

M. M. Yeakley, 78, father of Ira Yeakley, died Sunday at 11:45 p. m. at his Gainesville home after having been critically ill for several weeks. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at George J. Carroll and Son Funeral chapel and burial was in Fairview cemetery. Rev. John S. Rice, pastor of Whaley Memorial Methodist church, was the officiating minister and was assisted by Rev. C. A. Buchanan of Denton.

Mr. Yeakley is survived by his wife, three sons, Ben, Ira and Ralph, Gainesville, a brother and several grandchildren.

He was a native of Collin county but had resided in Cooke county for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Yeakley, the former Miss Melbie Robinson, observed their 58 wedding anniversary last November 3. Mr. Yeakley was well known locally and a number of Muenster persons attended the funeral services.

Material Here For Repair Job On Main Street

Cavities on Muenster's Main Street are due to get their fillings soon. The piles of patch-'em-up stuff that began appearing along the side of the thoroughfare Tuesday came from a car load of the material shipped in for that purpose, according to a statement by Mayor Weinzapfel.

Informed a short time ago by the district highway engineer that the city had little chance of getting its street built in connection with a farm-to-market project before July 1947, councilmen decided to make another — and they hope the final — repair job. All holes in the pavement are to be filled with the chat and asphalt, ready mix.

A year from now the council has fair prospects for the beginning of a completely new pavement project. At that time the proposed lateral road leading north, which has already been approved, is due to begin and Muenster's Main Street can be included because of a provision which permits the highway department to continue road construction and maintenance through towns of less than 5,000 population.

Experience here has proven the chat and asphalt ready mix to be a very satisfactory repair material. Spots where it was applied continue to stand up, however there are still many weak places in the original pavement that are expected to break down during the coming months.

DARIO BRIDWELL OF FORESTBURG JOINING ENTERPRISE STAFF

Dario Bridwell of Forestburg, who before entering the army spent three years as editor and manager of the Forestburger, joined the Muenster Enterprise staff this week as an apprentice linotype operator.

In connection with his coming the Enterprise assumes the weekly task of printing the Forestburger owned by Dario, brother, Harlan. It is an arrangement beneficial to both sides. With limited facilities in the Forestburg plant, publishing the paper was a full time job for one person. At the same time the Enterprise staff was crowded in its schedule. The merger is expected to relieve the strain on both papers.

STRIKES CUT FARM EQUIPMENT BY 60%

Farm equipment production has been cut as much as 60 per cent by strikes, according to the Oliver Corp., Chicago.

The reduction in output for which farmers have been waiting reflects both strikes within the farm equipment industry and curtailments cause by strikes with in other industries supplying basic raw materials and component parts.

The lost farm equipment production that has resulted from strikes, it was said, "will have a noticeable effect upon the food production of the nation."

EASTER HOLIDAYS

Both Muenster schools dismissed classes Wednesday afternoon for the Easter holidays. Students will report back to their studies on Tuesday, April 23.

May 3 Set For Open Meet On Hospital Plan

Men From State Hospital Association Will Speak And Show Film

Friday, May 3, has been set as the date for the next general meeting of the Muenster Cooperative Hospital Association. The date was announced this week by President J. M. Weinzapfel upon receipt of a letter from Eugene Butler, chairman of the Texas Rural Health Committee, stating he would be able to attend at that time.

Mr. Butler will be accompanied by Frank Boutwell, secretary of the same organization.

The purpose of the visitors' presence is to assist in presenting a concise outline of the aims and methods of cooperative hospitalization by a specially prepared movie and open discussion. Other matters to be discussed are plans for construction of the hospital its size and approximate cost and the urgency of an early increase in membership to accumulate an adequate building fund.

Any interested person, whether or not he has taken out membership, is welcome at the meeting. Weinzapfel said, for it will be the best opportunity the community has had to date to get an idea of what success can be expected of the venture and what service is likely to be available. After that, with a better understanding prevailing generally, he believes the association will soon have a better idea of what support it can expect from the community.

Prior to the general meeting Butler and Boutwell plan to meet with directors and give what assistance they can toward increasing membership and determining the most feasible building plan.

DAIRY ASSOCIATION REQUESTS REMOVAL OF OPA REGULATIONS

As an aftermath of a series of state-wide meetings, held by Texas dairymen during March, M. E. McMurray, manager of the Texas Dairy Products Association has sent the following telegram to the Texas delegation in Washington, and to the 27 members of the House Banking and Currency Committee, who are holding hearings covering OPA dairy pricing arrangements:

"One thousand two hundred and thirty key Texas dairymen, in a series of 7 meetings held during March, representing the industry from the Panhandle to Rio Grande Valley, and from El Paso to Texarkana, expressed themselves forcefully as having their backs to the wall and facing disaster if immediate action is not taken to afford relief.

"They ask why our Government insists on ruin for this nation's greatest agricultural enterprise, and why those in authority sit idly by and permit our milk supply to dry up, butter and cheese plants to close, and allow black market activities in feed, supplies and dairy products. They are unanimous in demanding removal from OPA jurisdiction, and that dairy products be eliminated from all price controls. How can Congress ignore the plea of millions of farm families, who are fast losing confidence in their Government and its officials.

"They are tired of waiting for action that never materializes, while thousands of dairy cattle go the slaughter house each day, at a time when our country is begging for more milk and cream. It just doesn't make sense to Texans. They ask to know, not when, but how quick, can they get relief. Not only do they believe the House, Senate and Committees should give this problem first attention, but, also, that it is a grave responsibility of the President of the United States. Nothing short of immediate and drastic action can satisfy and restore confidence in our officials.

"Texas farmers look upon certain branches of their Government as being responsible for their condition. We expect Congress to act immediately to give us relief from this situation. Delayed action, or promises, will not get the job done this time."

MORE MILK! MORE MILK! MORE MILK!

A view of the dairy farmer's opportunity and how to make it yield more cash income dairy foods made from milk—cheese, ice cream, butter and all the others.

And, with American industry getting squared away for huge peacetime production, there is certain to be a continued heavy demand for basic dairy foods.

There's a market . . . a waiting, eager market . . . for all the good-quality milk you can produce.

Plan an all-out milk production program for your farm . . . a program to carry beyond the current flush season, continuing through the summer, the fall and next winter as well!

For greater production and increased return

Here's help—based on proved practices in your own state. How to have better pastures. How to get around the problem of the shortage and cost of supplementary feeds. How to produce crops that produce milk, and cut down your feeding costs at the same time.

Study the chart. And don't forget these profit points:

GOT A FEED PROBLEM?

Read these suggestions on crop production—for increased milk production at lower cost. This chart is based on proved practices in your own area.

And for other good suggestions, watch Uncle Bob's column "Moos of the Moments" which appears regularly in this newspaper.

Kind of Crop	Amount Per Cow	Variety To Grow	Rate of Seeding Per Acre	Time To Plant	Yield Per Acre
HAY (if only roughage)	2 tons	Soybeans Sudan Grass	1 to 2 bu. 20-25 lbs.	April-May May	1 to 3 tons 1 to 4 tons
SILAGE CROP Corn Sorghum	2½ tons	Seeded Ribbon	9-14 lbs. 8 lbs.	May	5-12 tons
GRAIN CROP Corn	15 bu.	Recommended Variety or Hybrid for Your Area	1 gal.	April-May
WINTER GRAZING	1 Acre	Rye Barley	2 to 2½ bu.	Late August or September
SUMMER PASTURE	½ Acre	Sudan Grass	30-40 lbs.	April-May
PERMANENT PASTURE	(Fertilize as soon as possible)

Feed is short. Grow your own with well fertilized supplementary pastures.

Be sure your cows have plenty of water—all they want to drink all day, every day.

Put young calves on a limited whole milk diet—so you can sell more milk to your dairy plant.

Be very careful about sanitation and quality—so none of your milk is lost through improper handling.

OBSERVE GOOD FRIDAY

This Friday is Good Friday. Consistent with a long standing tradition in the community the mayor has issued a proclamation setting the day aside as one of special reverence and urging a fitting observance. Other reminders have also been issued in church and in the columns of this paper.

Proclamations and statements mean little, however, unless people of their own free will and out of sincere appreciation for the sacrifice made for them on the first Good Friday, will follow the suggestions of the reminders.

For many a year Muenster has enjoyed a reputation for responding whole heartedly in every good cause. Here is another good cause, one that, measured by spiritual standards, far surpasses the other activities we support.

It has been suggested that citizens show their reverence by closing business establishments from noon until 3 o'clock, that traffic be held to a minimum, and that other activities be curtailed as much as possible.

The suggestion can very well be carried to farms and into households. Normal activity of all kinds, work or play, can be suspended and the time spent meditating on the Infinite love of Him Who willingly died to save the spiritual life of mankind.

Let's go a hundred per cent in the observance. Let's do it primarily to show Christ our appreciation for what He has done. Let's do it because of the wholesome Christian spirit it imparts — and we all know that the whole world today is sadly in need of more Christianity. Let's do it because a few hours of spiritual living will make us all feel a little better.

PRIVATE INSURANCE ELIMINATES NEED OF SOCIALIZED MEDICINE

A number of insurance companies are submitting policies providing medical and surgical care to the State Medical Association of Texas, so Dr. H. F. Connally, President, announces. Their action follows the recent endorsement by the Executive Council of the State Association of Prepayment Medical Care Plans which meet standards set by the Council of Medical Economics of the association and also those of the American Medical Association. The action of the Executive Council was taken with the purpose of encouraging voluntary prepaid health insurance in Texas and as part of the American Medical Association's nation wide plan along the same lines.

The Blue Cross voluntary non-profit plan, known as Group Medical and Surgical Service, Inc., was specifically approved by the Executive Council at their last meeting. The council announced at that time that any similar state wide, non-profit voluntary plans, which met the standards of the association, would be likewise approved. Approval permits such health insurance organizations to carry the endorsement of the American Medical Association on their policies and advertising. Physicians throughout Texas would have members on the directorates of such plans and would give them their active support. The wide expansion of low cost voluntary prepaid health insurance by private enterprises provides an answer to socialized medicine, the doctors assert.

An ordinary passenger train going night and day without stopping would need five-sevenths of a year to reach the moon. The same train would travel for 75,000,000 years before reaching the nearest star.

TOWNS UNDER 10,000 HAD WORST TRAFFIC RECORD DURING 1945

AUSTIN, TEXAS, April 17.—Approximately eighty per cent of the traffic deaths in Texas in 1945 occurred in the 3,650 towns and villages of 10,000 population or less or in unincorporated rural areas, the Texas Safety Association announced here this week.

George M. Clarke, managing director of the association, said that of the 1,502 traffic death toll in the State last year, 1,028 were killed in unincorporated rural areas, 181 were killed in incorporated towns of less than 10,000 population, and 293 in larger cities.

He said especial attention will be given to means of reducing the rising rate of fatalities in small towns and rural areas when the Texas Safety Association holds its convention in Galveston April 22-24. All sessions of the convention will be open to the public, and the association is particularly anxious to have small towns and rural areas strongly represented.

CORN AND SORGHUM ACREAGE GOALS IN STATE NOT REACHED

Texas farmers are being urged to increase their planting of grains, especially corn and sorghums, in order to help alleviate the critical feed shortage. Prospective acreage reports, based on intentions to plant as of March 1, indicate that Texas farmers are falling far short of reaching the acreage goals set for corn and grain sorghums, according to B. T. Haws, County Agent.

The corn planting goal for 1946 is 4,950,000 acres, while prospective acreage is only 3,921,000 acres, 79 per cent of the goal; for sorghums the goal is 7,800,000 and indicated acreage is 7,045,000 acres, 90 per cent of the goal.

The Texas record for wheat and oats planting is much better with 5,994,000 acres of wheat planted, 115 per cent of the 5,200,000 acre goal. The oats is 1,849,000 slightly more than the 1,830,000 acre goal.

With feed supplies short and with great amounts of wheat being exported to starvation areas, the demand for all grains will continue. He called upon Texas farmers to go over their plans and to increase production of grain this year if at all possible.

Use Oatmeal, Save Wheat

Use of a little more oatmeal and a little less bread is an easy way for us to help save wheat for foreign shipment, says Mildred Chapman, County Home Demonstration Agent. If every man, woman and school child in this country will replace two slices of bread with a serving of oatmeal each week, it will mean 135,000 tons of wheat for the hungry in four months time.

Washington Notes

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., April 13 — As this is being written the House is debating the extension of selective service. The original selective service act was passed in 1940, and has now been in effect almost six years. I well remember the first extension of selective service which occurred some three months before Pearl Harbor. The debate was long and bitter, and the act was extended at that time by only one vote. One could hear a pin drop throughout the thirty minutes it took to call the roll of the 435 members of the House. All Texas members voted for the extension.

About fifteen minutes ago, by a two to one vote, the House adopted the May amendment to the current extension bill. This amendment exempts 18 and 19 year olds from further drafting. Proponents argued that the armed services had not shown an absolute need for draft extension.

that if the armed services were sufficiently diligent they could get enough volunteers; that teen-age boys are most unsuited for police duty; further, that police duty in occupation forces would ruin most teen-agers; that the country's best interest will now be served by leaving these boys in school and home environment.

Jefferson Davis, when President of the Confederacy, objected to the induction of 18 year old boys on the ground that "it would destroy the seed corn of the Confederacy." Apparently Congress is not going to permit the further drafting of teen-agers.

This week's Collier's Magazine has announced a selection by its Jury of Award of the outstanding member of the House and the outstanding member of the Senate during 1945. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan received the award for the Senate, while Representative Mike Monroney, of Oklahoma City, received the honor in the House of Representatives. Cloakroom gossip brought out two interesting observations concerning our colleagues thus honored. Both are old time newspaper men. Second, neither of their names is attached to any legislation. The selection of these men might be used as rebuttal argument to the usual campaign question of "what has he done?" Many of the most able and outstanding members of the Congress never have their names attached to important bills. Most bills passed by the Congress carry the name of the member who serves as chairman of the committee reporting such bill. Others may have done more to pass or defeat legislation than such

THROUGHOUT HISTORY, NATIONS WITH PROSPEROUS AGRICULTURE HAVE BEEN NOTABLY PROGRESSIVE.

FOR FREEDOM AND FOR FOOD OUR CIVILIZATION MOVED WESTWARD.

gued, a man does not have the right to strike

A few other states and municipalities and our federal government, too, would do well to follow the precedent of the Virginia governor. Considering the inconvenience, distress and financial loss caused by some strikes it is doubtful whether persons actually had a right to strike.

Something I did not know until last week is that there is such an animal as a Quarterhorse. In fact it isn't even a breed, but rather a type that can be any or a combination of several breeds.

It seems the name comes down from the days of the early west when the cowboys frequently had races down a town's main drag, normally a distance of about a quarter of a mile.

So actually a Quarterhorse is not just a good cow pony and its build makes it ideal for ranch work, especially for those sudden bursts of speed needed for cutting herds or heading off a streaking calf. With its legs and powerful hips it is safe to be faster on short sprints than the race horse. It can't keep up the pace, however, whereas a good racing horse is just getting started at a quarter of a mile.

Each child entered in the contest receives free of charge, a life-like beautiful 5x7 mounted photograph and in addition, the two winners of the contest will receive awards ranging from $25 to $5. Five additional prizes, 11x14 photographs, colored with transparent oil colors, will be given.

RAILROADS REQUEST 25 PER CENT BOOST IN FREIGHT RATES

ST. LOUIS, MO.— Railroads of the United States today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for an increase of 25 per cent in freight rates, with certain exceptions as to which lesser increases were sought, to become effective on May 15, subject to modification by subsequent orders of the Commission. No increase was asked in the present passenger fares.

A general and immediate increase in freight rates is imperative, the petition said, to meet the critical situation resulting from the combination of "increased wages of railroad employees, increased and increasing prices for materials and supplies and a severe decline in traffic and revenue" with freight rates still at prewar levels and passenger fares only slightly higher than before the war.

"With costs going up and volume of traffic and revenues going down," the petition declared, "the railroads have passed the point where it is possible to continue to meet the need for adequate and efficient transportation with rates at the present prewar levels."
