bigger and better Trunk or Treat this year. We plan to have more fun games and activities for the children to do, but we need your help.

Last year, Auxiliary members went to the various merchants in Muenster seeking donations of money, candy, or other suitable items. Donations from businesses and individuals were generous.

Not only are they requesting funding from the local merchants, but this year they are also enlisting the help of local organizations and businesses as well. Some may want to donate candy or items other than money. Some may want the Auxiliary to distribute the goods that night. Some plan to set up their own booth or trunk and give out items or candy.

The Muenster Volunteer Fire Department plans to give out glow-in-the-dark wristbands. They have also volunteered to assist with security. The Knights of Columbus have volunteered to purchase goodies and to hand them out from their own vehicles. It is hoped that many more groups and individuals join those who plan on making it a fun and safe night for our youths. Those past trick or treat age may want to volunteer to work at the event, and this is also encouraged. Remember every little bit helps.

To donate, seek more information, or to volunteer, call Darlene Williams at 759-4167 or Danna Hess at 759-2880.

The road is deeded to the County with the agreement that it be resurfaced with chip and seal or that it be paved, that maintenance is provided by the County, that care be taken so that there is no flooding of the fairgrounds, that a water main and a waste water line be installed across the road. Also the County agreed to cooperate in any special traffic arrangements for special events.

MMH requests denial of physicians' claims

By Janet Felderhoff

On Aug. 26, attorneys for the Muenster Memorial Hospital District filed an Answer to Plaintiff's Original Petition and Plea to the Jurisdiction regarding a suit filed by Drs. Bonnie Carter and Karla Davidson-Cox. The Answer requested that "The Court deny all of Plaintiff's (Carter and Cox) claims and enter a take-nothing judgment in favor of Defendant (Muenster Memorial Hospital District). Defendant further requests that it recover all costs of court and attorneys' fees from Plaintiff's, and that Defendant recover any other and further relief to which it is justly entitled."

It also stated that the Hospital District denied all material allegations and demanded that the Plaintiffs "provide strict proof of all facts necessary to establish her cause of action by a preponderance of the evidence."

Affirmative defenses filed by the District's attorneys included: that the claims are barred based on the doctors' failures to exhaust administrative remedies; failed to mitigate their damages, if any; that all or part of the relief sought by the Plaintiffs is not available under the applicable statutes; that the Hospital District is entitled to an offset from the Plaintiffs' claims for damages with respect to all interim earnings, benefits, and compensation received by the Plaintiffs following their employment with the District; any claim for punitive damages is barred to the extent that claim is in violation of the U.S. Constitution and the Constitution of Texas; and the Hospital District acted in good faith toward the physicians at all times; and the claims are barred by the applicable statute of limitations.

A Hospital spokesman said that this is not a counter suit. Hospital officials declined to comment on either the Claim or the District's Answer filed to it.

The football season is in full swing and has me thinking of a little story a cousin of mine once told. She is over 91, and a spunky lady, who still drives her car, and lives alone in her own home.

She likes to watch football on the TV with Ginger, a lifelong friend who lives in an extended care home, and depends on Virginia to let her know the date and time Notre Dame is playing, and then drive over and watch the game with her.

Ginger watches most of the games, but when Notre Dame plays, it's a whole new game. She dons a Notre Dame jersey and sits in the middle of the divan and watches the game intently.

As the game goes on, Virginia says, other residents of the home come in and watch with her, but only when N.D. is playing and as the game progresses they begin to cheer and root for her favorite team, but when the game is over, they go back to their rooms. Another tale that may rate a chuckle.

After hurricane Katrina, in a small parish in Louisiana, a woman told her husband, "George, you left the light on in the shed."

George, somewhat confused, said, "I don't remember being in the shed," but seeing the light on went out to turn it off.

Getting close to the shed, George heard noises from inside. Carefully peering through the window he saw four men stealing his tools. Quickly returning to the house, George called the sheriff's office. The sheriff answered and George said, "Charlie, this is George. There's four guys in my shed robbing me blind."

The sheriff asked, "George is anyone in your house?" George said, "No. Just me and my wife." "George, lock your doors and stay inside. We're busy all over the parish and no one's available, but we'll get someone there as soon as possible." George said, "OK Charlie, but hurry!" and hung up.

George waited about 30 seconds and called the sheriff again. "Charlie, no need to send anyone over. I just shot all four of them," then hung up.

Within minutes an ambulance and several rapid-response teams arrived and caught the thieves red-handed.

The sheriff said, "George, I thought you said you shot them all?"

George replied, "I thought you said no-one was available."

youth. In promoting rigorous educations, the Honor Roll desires to better prepare students for fruitful vocations in politics, business, and the Church.

Strength in each of the three areas - academics, Catholic identity, and civic education - was key to placing on the Honor Roll, according to the project's director, Dr. Kevin Schmiesing. "It is encouraging to see so many outstanding examples of Catholic education," he said. "Though the schools represent a diverse array of types - including Christian Brothers, Franciscan, Legionary, diocesan, and independent - what they have in common is a commitment to excellence in the areas that we examine."

The Catholic High School Honor Roll is an independent project of the Acton Institute for the Study of Religion & Liberty, an international research and educational organization based in Grand Rapids, Michigan. The Honor Roll was produced in consultation with a national advisory board comprised of Catholic college presidents and noted Catholic scholars. For more on Acton, please go to www.acton.org.

Laura Witte

Mass of Christian Burial was held for Laura A. Witte, a native of Muenster, on Wednesday, Sept. 7, 2005 at 11:30 a.m. in St. Andrew's Catholic Church in Fort Worth. She died at the age of 73 on Saturday, Sept. 3, 2005 in Fort Worth.

She was born to John and Mary Strenig in Muenster on Sept. 9, 1931. She married Ralph Witte on Dec. 19, 1975 in Fort Worth.

Laura was a homemaker who loved sewing, playing bingo, and collecting brass figurines.

Survivors include her husband Ralph Witte of Fort Worth; stepdaughter Clarissa Nickells and husband Mike of Edmond, Oklahoma;

Dear Editor,

I am writing in response to "From My Side of the Fence" by Ed Cler. I understand that this article is Mr. Cler's opinion, but I leave the article feeling defeated. I understand Mr. Cler as saying the network news leans towards the left. I respect his opinion.

I appreciate reading Mr. Cler's frustration over what is chosen as news to be aired by the networks. I have the same frustration, although our definition of "news" might be different. I will leave that issue alone.

I am concerned, however, about the statements toward the end of the article. I am unsure of Mr. Cler's intent. I am in no way saying that I support Senator Kennedy. I don't know enough about him and his actions to form an opinion. I do know, however, that calling Senator Kennedy names because he calls President Bush names seems counterproductive.

If one wants to promote change, which is the only reason I can find for Mr. Cler to comment as he did, name calling doesn't seem like a valid solution. Change will not happen until we change our attitudes. Harboring anger, violence, and aggression is like picking at a sore that just won't go away. It will get bigger, redder, and become more infected. When it finally heals, there will be a scar. If the sore was treated and not defaced, the sore would heal quicker and might not leave a scar.

Like the treatment of the sore, I feel there is more than one way to solve an issue. Methods of change using anger and violence can work, but there will be a permanent scar. I feel that the only solution to support change is to have a firm conviction to nurture compassion and education. We must condition our minds to focus on being compassionate and let the waves of anger wash over us. It's going to be difficult, but I believe we can do this.

I am troubled when I read articles like this in the Muenster Enterprise. I honestly believe this is not a good representation of the Christian stewards living in my hometown of Muenster, Texas.

Sincerely,
 Jennifer (Campbell) Lemons

America is haunted by bad decisions on energy policy

By Mac Thornberry, U.S. Representative (TX-13)

Our kids are teenagers now. One of the lessons we are trying to teach them is that the choices they make have consequences. If they choose to do a certain thing, they will live with the results. If they choose not to do something, they will live with the results. Actions and inactions have consequences. It is a hard lesson to learn.

Our country has had a hard time learning that lesson with energy. In 1973, the OPEC countries refused to sell us oil because of a war in the Middle East. Americans stood in long lines to fill their tanks. I remember my father and grandfather trying to figure out how to ensure that we had the fuel we needed to run the tractor and the pickups at the ranch.

In the 30 years since then, our country has made choices - by our actions and our inactions - about energy.

We decided we would not allow oil and gas drilling off the East and West Coasts or around Florida, so more of our domestic production has been concentrated in the Gulf of Mexico region.

We decided to put vast areas of the West and Alaska off limits as well, and now about 60% of the oil we use comes from other countries. (It was 36% at the time of the 1973 embargo.)

We decided that we did not want to do anything that even appeared to help oil and gas companies, and now we have only a few big companies that dominate the market.

We decided refineries were dirty, and we made it expensive and difficult to get regulatory approval to build a new one, so none were built. We had 324 refineries in 1981. Now we have 149.

One region of the country tried to outdo another in putting special requirements on the composition of gasoline, and so we have ended up with 45 different kinds of gasoline being produced in the United States last year.

We enjoyed low prices as oil and gas wells were shut-in because it cost more to operate them than the money they generated. Unfortunately, we eventually paid the price as those reservoirs were lost.

We insisted that new power plants have minimal emissions, which led to most of them being fueled with natural gas, but the supply did not keep pace with the rising use.

In sum, we took energy for granted, assuming when we flipped the switch, the lights would go on and assuming that there would always be plenty of cheap fuel for our vehicles. Our choices over the last 30 years have had consequences.

Recently, the situation has been aggravated by two things we could not control - economic growth in China and Hurricane Katrina. China's incredible rate of economic growth and its corresponding increase in energy consumption has made the world supply tight. The world produces 83-85 million barrels of oil a day, and the world uses 83-85 million barrels of oil a day.

There is no slack, and the amount used is growing faster than the amount produced. Then Hurricane Katrina knocked out 25% of U.S. oil production, 19% of U.S. natural gas production, 10% of U.S. refining capacity, and much of the pipeline and transportation system to distribute fuel, at least for a time. In a market with no slack, the effects were immediate. We have felt the consequences in the form of higher prices and even some temporary shortages. Prices will ease in the coming days, but will we have learned from our mistakes?

No one could have predicted these exact events, but it would have been safe to predict that something would happen to threaten our supplies. It could have been another OPEC embargo; it could have been a terrorist attack in the Houston Ship Channel. We are too stretched, too vulnerable, and without resiliency in a vital sector of our economy.

For some people, their first reaction is to blame somebody - the oil companies, the service stations, the Administration. If there are those who are taking advantage of other people's misfortunes, they should be held accountable and dealt with severely. But at some level, we all share in the responsibility because relatively cheap and accessible energy has lulled us into a false sense of complacency, and we have not insisted on the steps needed to give us real energy security.

After four years of trying (longer for some of us), Congress finally passed an energy bill. It is no magic answer, but it begins to take some significant steps in the right direction. Yet recent events illustrate how much more needs to be done.

We should start by allowing drilling in Alaska's National Wildlife Refuge. It can provide billions of barrels of recoverable oil and trillions of cubic feet of recoverable natural gas. Only one hundredth of one percent (.01%) of refuge area will be affected by drilling equipment and structures. We should complete an inventory of all oil and gas reservoirs around the country, including off our coasts, so we know what we have.

We should encourage tertiary recovery to get every drop of oil we can out of the ground.

We should restore a proper balance in environmental regulation and energy production that is based on common sense, not political agendas.

We must continue research into new forms of energy and into more efficient use of existing energy sources. We are going to have to do more of everything.

Energy is necessary for economic growth, for a better quality of life, and for human progress. The answer to our problems is not to have government ration energy, and the answer is not to settle for slower progress and a lower standard of living. The answer is to produce more energy, safely and securely, here at home. If we do, our actions today will leave our children and grandchildren with a more hopeful and secure future.

God's word to parents

All parents, believers and non-believers alike, are given a mandate from God concerning the children whom He has entrusted to their care. God says to parents, "Train up a child in the way he should go, even when he is old he will not depart from it" (Proverbs 22:6), and, "...these words which I am commanding you today, shall be on your heart; and you shall teach them diligently to your sons and shall talk of them when you sit in your house and when you walk by the way and when you lie down and when you rise up" (Deuteronomy 6:6,7).

Parents are commanded to train up their children in the ways of God and to diligently teach them His Word and His ways. We at First Baptist Church, Muenster, have experienced the value of the AWANA Clubs as a fantastic tool that empowers parents to do just that. Therefore, we would like to invite you to register your children and youth in the AWANA Clubs this year.

The AWANA Clubs Youth Ministry is an effective tool that helps us motivate and train our children and youth from pre-school through the 12th grade, in the Word and ways of God. AWANA is an acronym which stands for Approved Workmen Are Not Ashamed, taken from the Bible verse, 2 Timothy 2:15 which says, "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." The AWANA Clubs ministry is a nondenominational youth ministry that provides a structure for youth to learn and memorize the Bible as they pass through the ranks. Uniforms and awards are earned by memorization of Bible verses, and being prompt and prepared.

Clubs are specially adapted for each age level: Cubbies, 3-4 year-old boys and girls; Sparks, K-2nd grade boys and girls; Truth and Training, 3rd-6th grade boys; Junior Varsity, 7th-8th boys and girls; 24-7, 9th-12th grade boys and girls.

All children and youth are invited to our AWANA Digital Disturbance this year to be held on Sept. 24, 3 to 5:30 p.m. Come to the Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church, Muenster, and enjoy the fun!

AWANA normally meets every Sunday evening at First Baptist Church, Muenster. Children and youth are asked to check-in at 5:10 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall and will check-out at 7:00 p.m. Leaders and clubbers congregate for the Flag Ceremony, then divide into their respective clubs for Handbook Time, Game Time, and Council Time for awards, worship, and a Bible message. All young people are encouraged to attend, regardless of their denominational affiliation. For more information, please contact Pastor Bill Ledbetter (759-2772) or (759-4668). Jail break stymied by Montague officers

On Sept. 8, during a routine shakedown of an inmate jail cell for a missing razor, detention officers observed a damaged air conditioning duct in the ceiling of the cell. The cell prisoners were routinely removed from the cell and a shakedown procedure was put in place according to jail policy.

Upon entering the cell a "shakedown" was conducted. It was found that damage to the air conditioning vent had been made by removing metal bars covering the air conditioning vent. A general "jail lock down" was immediately implemented.

Subsequent investigation revealed a piece of hacksaw blade, hidden inside an inmate television set, along with other evidence indicating a jail escape was being attempted.

As a result of this investigation, one prisoner is being charged with attempted escape and a warrant of arrest has been issued for an ex-jail employee, being charged with "facilitating escape", a 3rd degree felony.

At no time were any prisoners in a position to exit the jail during this attempt.

Several detention officers will be receiving commendations for the "textbook" handling of the incident.

Christmas Parade theme announced

By Janet Felderhoff

With days still summertime hot, it is hard to realize that Christmas shopping days are just around the corner. Sponsors and chairmen of Muenster's annual Thanksgiving Christmas Parade are already planning for the event. As usual, it will be on Thanksgiving weekend Saturday, Nov. 26.

Rick Walterscheid and

Leon Klement have again teamed up to chair the Parade. They urge those who wish to participate to start thinking about their entries. Muenster Chamber of Commerce Secretary Margie Starke revealed that "Storybook Christmas" is the chosen theme.

Klement remarked, "We appreciate all the past support and look forward to this year's event."

Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) recognized for work with abused and neglected children

Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) of North Texas has just been awarded certification by the National Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) Association. This certification recognizes that CASA of North Texas is in compliance with National CASA's high standards for quality child advocacy.

According to Michael Piraino, CEO of the National CASA Association, "The National CASA quality assurance process is very rigorous, and reflects our commitment to ensure every child we serve has the most powerful volunteer advocate working on their behalf. This certification says CASA of North Texas has demonstrated to us a strong capacity to provide excellent services to the abused and neglected children within their community."

The CASA program was started in 1999. District Judge, Janelle Haverkamp, endorsed CASA of North Texas stating "I have found CASA volunteers to be committed and relentless in their advocacy of the best interests of children. Quite often, the CASA volunteer is the most consistent and concerned person in the lives of these vulnerable children. CASA volunteers offer hope to children whose futures might otherwise be hopeless. CASA and its volunteers have my wholehearted admiration."

CASA of North Texas currently has 26 volunteers serving as advocates for 57 abused and/or neglected children. Training for new volunteers will be conducted in the fall. Anyone interested in serving CASA as a volunteer or board member may contact the CASA office at 665-2244.

Elfreda Fette honored on birthday at her home

By Pam Fette
Elfreda Fette was surprised beyond belief at her home on Saturday, Aug. 20 with a birthday party hosted by her sons David Fette and Daniel Fette. Their families gathered under the pretense of working around the house, and actually prepared for the arrival of guests.

More than 200 dropped by, visited awhile, enjoyed reminiscing; most of them signed the guest book, but too many failed to sign it.

Birthday cake, punch, and party foods were served as guests arrived between 2 and 5 in the afternoon, enjoying the wonderful assortment of party foods, both hot and cold, topped off with two kinds of homemade ice cream prepared by Danny Fette, made on site and served straight from the hand-cranked freezer, to their delight, especially the youngsters who were seeing such an operation for the first time.

Attending the party were local co-workers at the Muenster Enterprise, family members, friends, and out-of-town guests.

Immediate family members included Bill and Eileen Luke of Muenster, Harold and Patricia Luke of Arlington, Dr. Bernard and Marilyn Luke of Grapevine, Marianne and Alfred Kuhn of Hot Springs Village, Arkansas, and Russell and Elizabeth Fette and Carrie Kitchen.

Also attending were Jerry and Delette Fette and son Jerry Ray Fette of Waco; also several members of the families of Dan and Claudette Fette; and Melvin and Terri Luke and children of Muenster.

Other relatives attending include several children of the late sister-in-law Alvina Voth, including Jerome Voth.

Also several members of the family of the late Dan and Dolores Luke and the late Anthony and Leona Luke. A special remembrance was voiced in memory of the late Dorothy Mae Luke Denny.

Unable to attend because of distance or Sunday duties were Gene and Kathy Luke of Holbrook, Arizona, and Rev. Eugene Luke OSB of Subiaco Abbey, Arkansas.

The party honored Elfreda Fette on her 88th birthday. She ranks as one of oldest newspaper writers in the state of Texas. She is employed in the Lifestyles Section, mostly on topics such as weddings, anniversaries, parties, new arrivals, etc. and obituaries printed in the Muenster Enterprise, the newspaper her husband founded on Thanksgiving Day, 1936.

SCHEDULE OF MEETINGS

The Volunteer Services Council of Mental Health Mental Retardation Services of Texoma will hold their bi-annual meeting on Monday, Sept. 26, at noon, in the Longhorn Room, 315 West McLain Street, Sherman. Please RSVP for lunch reservations at 903-957-4865. All MHMRST volunteers and other interested persons are urged to attend.

Look up overhead lines

Overhead lines for utilities such as electric, telephone, or cable television are the easiest to see but are the most taken for granted. These lines may appear harmless, but can be extremely dangerous. Children or adults climbing in trees that are too tall and growing in to the utility lines can be severely injured, or possibly killed if they accidentally come in contact with the wires.

If tall growing trees are planted under utility lines, then they require pruning to maintain clearance because lines making contact with the wires can result in service interruptions. Utility pruning can result in the tree having an unnatural appearance.

According to Vannice, "Planting a tall growing tree under a power line will not allow the tree to realize its proper size and form." Proper selection and placement of trees around overhead utilities can help eliminate power outages, which reduces expenses for utilities and ratepayers. Correct selection will also eliminate potential public safety hazards, and improve the appearance of landscapes.

Fall cleanup

Decks and Patios - wood decks need to be cleaned and resealed periodically to maintain their looks and their structural integrity. Check your deck to see if it is showing signs of wear and tear. If your patio has settled over the summer, now is a good time to patch any cracks that have developed so they don't get worse over the winter.

NCTC event to round up scholarships for agriculture students, Sat., Sept. 17

Over the past four and a half years, 175 students have received $500 scholarships from its proceeds, and now sponsors of the "Friends of Agriculture Roundup" at North Central Texas College are poised to raise that total even higher.

The fifth annual staging of the event is set for Saturday, Sept. 17 in the Field House at North Central Texas College. Food, fun, exhibits, entertainment, two raffles, door prizes, and a bargain-packed auction - they're all part of what's in store for those attending the Roundup, according to principal organizer T.J. Davidson, chairman of the college's Department of Agriculture. Admission is free, and the event is open to the general public.

Doors will open at 4 p.m., with serving of a barbecue meal to begin at 5:30. The meal will be catered by Dieter Brothers of Lindsay and is sponsored by Freddie Robeson of Patriot Liquid Services.

Special entertainment this year will be provided by Faye Skeans of Lindsay and Bonny Prescher of Gainesville. Skeans has made recordings in Nashville and is a regular performer at the Wolf Den in Gainesville. Prescher also performs at the Wolf Den.

The silent auction is scheduled from 4 until 6:30 p.m. The live auction is set to get underway at 7 p.m.

"Our catalogs of both live and silent auction items, thanks to the generosity of all our supporters, has always been outstanding," Davidson said, "and this year will be no exception. Just a few examples include several tons of livestock feed, dozer services, hunting and fishing trips, shop projects from area high school FFA chapters, and loads of concrete, gravel, sand, and crushed rock."

Of special interest to those attending will be two outstanding raffle prizes, the first a deluxe handcrafted outdoor cooker built and donated by Pilot Point FFA. The second is a Marlin 917 rimfire rifle donated by Buck Stienke, proprietor of Lone Star Shooting Supply in Gainesville. Tickets will be $10 each.

These premiums range in value from $10 up to $100.

Attendees will also have a chance to win some 99 different door prizes. "We'll have many different ways folks can acquire some great merchandise, have a great time, and really help some deserving students," Davidson said, explaining that for many students this financial assistance speeds their education, allowing them to take a full academic load and concentrate on their studies.

"I've known a number of students who would not have been able to attend college at all without this scholarship." He explained that in awarding of the scholarships, priority is given to students from Cooke, Montague, and Denton counties who are majoring in agriculture or an agriculture-related field.

"We have 30 students attending classes this fall on $500 Friends of Agriculture Scholarships, and that money goes a long way towards helping these students cover tuition, fees, and textbooks."

Back-to-school lunch: bring, buy, or both?

The change in season means it's back-to-school for kids and back to the never-ending question parents ask themselves: "Should I make my child's lunch or send money with them to buy lunch at school?" According to dietitian and author Hope S. Warshaw, MMS, RD, regardless of the answer, parents have a golden opportunity to steer their children toward choosing nutritious lunches.

School lunches-to-go
Warshaw believes creating healthy school lunches is easier than ever. Many individually packaged, ready-to-eat foods are available: yogurt or cottage cheese; pre-cut fruit and vegetables; and single-serving fruit.

Here are some of Hope's tips for packing a healthy lunch:

- Find portable vegetables: Try grape or cherry tomatoes, baby carrots, and slices of sweet red, yellow, or green peppers. Pack a yogurt-based dip as a healthy dipping option for your veggies. Add a can of tomato V-8 juice or send a thermos of vegetable soup.

- Find fruit that travels well: Try grapes, blueberries, strawberries, slices of apple, or a clementine. Tuck slices of banana in a peanut butter sandwich. Opt for dried fruit. Send along a mix of dried fruit and nuts or seeds.

- Include a dose of dairy: Include individual fat-free milk cartons or encourage children to buy milk at school. Send a yogurt cup along or slip slices of cheese into a sandwich or to eat with whole grain crackers.

- Add crunch to lunch without extra fat: Choose whole wheat or regular pretzels, baked snacks vs. fried, or a handful of whole grain dry cereal.

School lunches in the cafeteria line

School lunches have taken their nutrition knocks. Today, school nutrition programs work hard to meet healthy eating guidelines while also pleasing children's picky palates. Teach children simple guidelines to help them assemble healthy lunches, like always including a fruit, vegetable, and serving of milk.

The cafeteria can be a healthy option with help from Hope:

- Post the school menu at home and review the offerings daily. Make suggestions to help kids put together a healthy meal.

- Make milk a must: Children need three cups a day. Choosing milk over soda or fruit juice is an easy way to get in a serving.

- Fit in a sweet treat: Suggest ice cream. It's often available, portions are small, and it contains more nutritional benefits than other sweets.

- Do lunch with your kids: See the spread of foods, the decisions they face, and the help they get.

Observe them eating. This first-hand experience helps parents understand the guidance they need.

- Encourage portion control: Suggest children take only the food they can eat and not more just because it's included or available.

The new school year is a great time to introduce new healthy habits. This year make one of these habits eating a healthier lunch, whether children buy, bring, or both.

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 8, 2005

PROPOSITION 1 (HJR 54)

HJR 54 would create a Texas rail relocation and improvement fund in the state treasury and would authorize grants of state revenue and issuance of public debt to relocate, rehabilitate, and expand privately and publicly owned passenger and freight rail facilities and to construct railroad underpasses and overpasses.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment creating the Texas rail relocation and improvement fund and authorizing grants of money and issuance of obligations for financing the relocation, rehabilitation, and expansion of rail facilities."

PROPOSITION 2 (HJR 6)

HJR 6 would provide that marriage in Texas is solely the union of a man and woman, and that the state and its political subdivisions could not create or recognize any legal status identical to or similar to marriage, including such legal status relationships created outside of Texas.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment providing that marriage in this state consists only of the union of one man and one woman and prohibiting this state or a political subdivision of this state from creating or recognizing any legal status identical or similar to marriage."

PROPOSITION 3 (HJR 80)

HJR 80 would provide that local economic development program loans or grants (other than debts secured by a pledge of ad valorem taxes or financed by the issuance of any bonds or other obligations payable from ad valorem taxes) do not constitute or create debt. Any provision of state constitutional law that may prohibit or limit the authority of a political subdivision of the state to incur debt does not apply to those loans or grants.

The proposition will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment clarifying that certain economic development programs do not constitute a debt."

PROPOSITION 4 (SJR 17)

SJR 17 would authorize a district judge to deny reinstatement of bail or new bail to a person accused of a felony, if the person's bail had been revoked or forfeited as a result of the person's violation of a condition of release related to the safety of a victim of the alleged offense or to the safety of the community.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the denial of bail to a criminal defendant who violates a condition of the defendant's release pending trial."

PROPOSITION 5 (SJR 21)

SJR 21 would authorize the Legislature to exempt commercial loans from state usury laws that set maximum interest rates. "Commercial loans" are loans made primarily for business, commercial, investment, agricultural, or similar purposes and not primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment allowing the legislature to define rates of interest for commercial loans."

PROPOSITION 6 (HJR 87)

HJR 87 would increase the size of the State Commission on Judicial Conduct from eleven to thirteen members by increasing from four to five the number of public members and by adding a constitutional county court judge. The additions would ensure that the commission has an odd number of members, which is required by another provision of the state constitution.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to include one additional public member and a constitutional county court judge in the membership of the State Commission on Judicial Conduct."

PROPOSITION 7 (SJR 7)

SJR 7 would authorize new options for reverse mortgage agreements for senior homeowners allowing them to draw advances at unscheduled intervals, if and when needed, and only in the amounts needed, during the loan term. These are in addition to options that would allow a lump sum payment after settlement or regular periodic, predetermined equal amounts over a term of years or the lifetime of the homeowner. Additionally, SJR 7 would: (1) prohibit the agreement from requiring the use of a credit card, debit card or similar device to obtain an advance; (2) prohibit the charge or collection of a transaction fee solely in connection with any debit or advance, after the time the extension of credit is established; and (3) prohibit the lender or holder from unilaterally amending the extension of credit.

PROPOSITION 8 (SJR 40)

SJR 40 would clear individual land titles by relinquishing and releasing all claims of state ownership interests, including mineral interests, in two local areas, namely, a roughly 4,600 acre area located roughly 14 miles southeast of Gilmer, Texas, and a separate 900 acre area located north of Tyler, Texas.

PROPOSITION 9 (HJR 79)

HJR 79 would authorize the Legislature to provide staggered six year terms of office for board members serving on regional mobility authorities, with no more than one-third of the board positions being appointed every two years.

The proposition will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for a six-year term for a board member of a regional mobility authority."

Last Friday's drive to Wichita Falls proved profitable for the Lindsay Knight fans, as they saw their team bring home a 24-0 victory over the 2A City View Mustangs.

"City View has good athletes. They were big and fast. This was a good test," said John Erwin, Knight coach. "We had a slow start - mistakes and fumbles. Good defense kept us in the game until our offense started clicking the 2nd half."

The Mustangs took the opening kick, getting one good run, then punting. The Knight offense was cold, losing ground and punting away their first possession.

A Keith Hermes tackle set City View back 6 yards, forcing a punt on 4th and 12. From their 19, runs by Alan Trammell, Derick Murray, and Josh Jones, and a Dustin Hughes pass to Trammell, moved the Knights into Mustang territory, but a fumble ended the drive. Lindsay got the ball back early in the 2nd quarter after tackles by Michael Eckart and Jonathan Zimmerer forced a punt.

Runs by Trammell, Hughes, and Murray, and a pass to Kristopher Creed gained yards before the Knight offense again punted. Seven plays later, Lindsay took over on their 7 yard line.

Several short runs and a big penalty moved the ball to the Mustang 34. A Keith Hermes to Creed pass picked up 33 yards to the 1 yard line. Two plays later, the Knights scored on a 1 yard run by Hughes.

Dustin Neu added the PAT for a 7-0 score with 1:12 remaining in the 1st half. The Mustangs got off four plays and punted as time clicked off the clock.

The Knights' opening 3rd quarter drive began on their 35 yard line. Hughes gained 22, followed by short runs by Trammell and Murray, and a 10 yard flag. Jones got 16, Murray 13 more, but another flag put the Knights on the Mustang 22. Hughes, Trammell, and Murray slowly got inside the 10, but a fumbled ball ended the drive on the 8.

Tackles by Austin Buck, Hermes, Adam Kasperek, and Levi Hermes were followed by an interception by Chad Dieter. The Knights regained the ball on the Mustang 26. A Hughes run and a penalty, followed by two short Trammell runs, edged the ball to the 7 yard line. On 4th and 4, with 2:22 on the clock, a 17 yard field goal by Dustin Neu gave the Knights a 10-0 lead.

Once more, the Mustang offense struggled and punted. A 31 yard run by Trammell carried the Knights into the 4th quarter and to the City View 14. A flag lost 5, then a Hughes to L. Hermes pass was good for 6 points. Neu's boot added the PAT for a 17-0 score just inside the final period.

John Mosman's kick had no return. L. Hermes, Jones, Buck, Kasperek, and Trammell teamed up to force a punt. The next play, a fumbled ball was recovered by the Mustangs at midfield. Again it was three unsuccessful plays and a punt for the Mustangs.

Starting on their 30 yard line, the Knights gained 19 yards in four runs and 15 on a flag to the Mustang 35. A quarterback keeper by Hughes found pay dirt with 2:21 on the clock. Neu's PAT was good for a 24-0 score.

Lindsay's defense once again held the Mustangs, who punted on 4th and 16. The Knights ran four plays, lost the ball with a fumble, then allowed the Mustangs to play out the remaining game.

Panther Cubs claw Tiger Cubs 32-8

The Sacred Heart Junior High Cubs were handed a 32-8 loss Thursday at Saint Jo. The big Panther Cubs were hard to control.

Saint Jo took the opening kick, but tackles by Kyle Knabe and Josh Biffle lost 5 yards, forcing a punt. Two fumbled plays gave the Panthers a 1st down on the Cub 18 yard line. A flag moved the ball to the 8. The next play, Saint Jo scored 6 points. The extra pass gave the Panthers an 8-0 lead with 54 seconds on the 1st quarter clock.

The Cubs' next drive ended when Saint Jo intercepted a pass and took off downfield 66 yards to the end zone. An illegal block brought the ball back and the Panthers got the ball on the Cub 20. Four plays later and the score was 14-0.

Two runs by Zach White picked up 7 yards, but Sacred Heart stalled and punted. The next play, the Panthers found the end zone on a 67 yard run, but a holding flag put them back on the 23. Two plays later, another holding flag called back another touchdown, but the next play, the Panthers got a touchdown to count.

With 3:15 remaining in the 1st half, Saint Jo led 20-0.

The Tiger Cubs again failed to get a 1st, but a fumble recovery by Gene Yosten returned the ball to Sacred Heart, but time ticked off the clock.

Matt Hesse returned the 3rd quarter kick 10 yards. A Hesse to John Krawietz pass picked up 27 yards, then the offense was halted and lost the ball on downs at midfield. Four plays later, Saint Jo scored on a 44 yard run, 26-0.

The Tigers threw an interception in their next drive, which Saint Jo returned for a touchdown, 32-0 as the 3rd quarter ended.

Sacred Heart controlled the final quarter. Beginning on their 25, six runs by Chad Walterscheid, White, and Biffle took the ball to the Panther 15. Hesse then scored, with Biffle getting the extra points for a 32-8 score. The Panthers lost yards as the clock ran out.

Scrimmage
 A 6th grade scrimmage with Saint Jo was held before the Cub game, with both teams scoring two touchdowns.
