Rains move Lake dedication indoors

By Janie Hartman
The Muenster Water District held a dedication of Muenster Lake on Wednesday, May 30. Recent heavy rains prevented an on-site ceremony. Strong wind and more rains moved the events from the City Park Pavilion to a dry Muenster ISD gym. "A project started 33 years ago by some very forward people," commented Muenster Water Board President Bob Bauer on the Lake. "To the shakers and movers who fought and beat Dallas for surface rights, got the Lake project going, and started a district that completed Muenster Lake - we thank you."

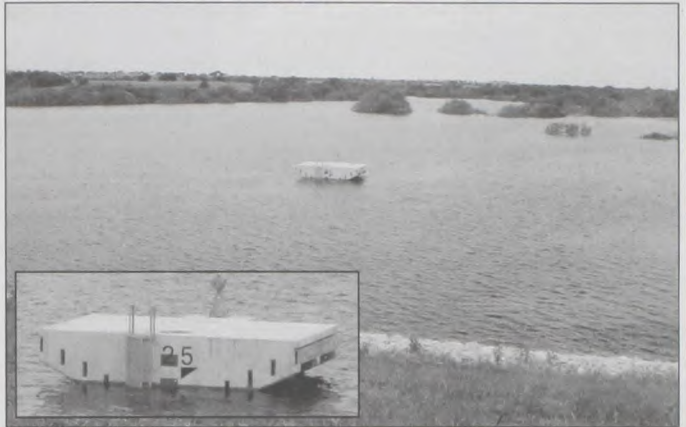

Bauer added that land acquisitions added years to the project, then lack of funds. Due to government cutbacks and lack of funding, the building of the dam was split into two phases. "As time passed, and prices built, the City stepped in and helped financially," Bauer added. Special recognition went out to Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison for her assistance in getting government financial help; to Bill Sullivan who wrote the enabling legislation creating the Muenster Water District and helped to keep us from being taken over by other entities wanting the water rights Muenster now possesses; and the mayor of record and first District president, Henry Weinzapfel. Dignitaries present included State Senator Craig Estes, and representatives from the offices of Hutchison, Congressman Mac Thornberry, and State Representative Rick Hardcastle; County Judge Bill Freeman; County Commissioners Virgil Hess and Al Smith; Natural Resources Conservation Service; designers, contractors, and construction personnel; several past Board members; and the current Water District Board members. Also involved in the dedication were the Boy Scouts of Troop #664 who presented the colors and led in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. Muenster ISD Band Director Melissa Zamzow sang the National Anthem and "God Bless the USA." The Hornet Band Color Guard gave a flag demonstration, and Rev. Ken Robinson gave a prayer and blessing. Refreshments were served. It was noted that the mission of the Muenster Water District is to manage site MP-19, a multi-purpose municipal water source, flood retention structure, and recreational facility known as Muenster Lake, and to provide economically efficient and environmentally sound stewardship of land, water, natural resources, and wildlife.

Statistics given on the Lake were a dam length of 4,700 feet, height of 79 feet, and width of 237 feet. The deepest water point is 49 feet, with a surface area of 309 acres of normal pool and 516 acres in the flood stage. The storage capacity is 10,550 acres per foot. Cost of the project - $11.3 million. "Going forward, we will be closely aligned with Bruce Hysmith, State fisheries biologist, and Game Warden Jim Lundberg," Bauer added, noting a number of items still in the making. "We have to access what we have, now that we have achieved normal pool," Bauer said after the dedication. Securing of the perimeter of the Lake; determining a Lake access time table; designing and building a park, boat ramps, and related items; and estab-

Council takes firm position on uncontrolled dogs within City

By Janet Felderhoff
If you have dogs that are often out and about, it is time to invest in a solution to keep them in. Failure to do so will result in fines, some as high as $500. A Letter to the Editor in this issue serves as a final warning to abusers of the City's leash ordinance. Muenster City Council took this firm stand after hearing yet again from a group of frustrated and angry residents who are tired of not being able to walk or ride bikes without fear of being accosted by a barking and sometimes biting dog that is not penned or leashed as it should have been. Linda and Jim Vogel and Aileen Vogel attended Monday's meeting to voice their frustration. Linda submitted a petition with more than 70 signatures of citizens asking that something be done. They said that there are at least three groups of dogs causing the biggest problem. The breeds named were Great Pyrenees, heelers, and pit bulls. Vogel said the problem began last July and she has called multiple times, gotten promises of something being done, and gotten no lasting results. City Manager Stan Endres said that the City has no designated and trained dog catcher. They have to take employees off jobs to spend sometimes up to half a day trying to catch the reported dogs. Usually the animals can't be caught. Alderman Jewel Otto said that the City definitely has a

Clothing sought for missions

By Janet Felderhoff
Johnny Reed is sending clothes to four different mission works in Guatemala, Honduras, and Nicaragua. Reed said, "I do not want to put anyone out; I am simply asking for clothes (men, women, children, and especially babies) that you or your family do not wear any more. Your excess will be their blessing!" He asks that heavy coats not be sent since the area has only a short period of cold. There will be a truck in Muenster on Saturday, June 16 from 9 a.m. until noon at the Community Center parking lot for the collection of donated clothing. Also, a truck will be in Lindsay on Saturday, June 9 from 9 a.m. until noon in front of the Providence House. Pastor Reed said that this is not just a one time deal. It will be ongoing. It is requested that you not send clothing on hangers or in boxes. Trash bags are the best for packaging the clothing. For more information, contact Pastor Johnny Reed at (580) 276-7919 or the Church at (580) 276-2526.

Hardcastle to speak at Republican Picnic

State Representative Rick Hardcastle will give the "Inside Scoop" regarding the recent wrap up of the Texas Legislative Session at the Fund-Raiser Picnic, Friday, June 8, 6-9 p.m. at Muenster Park. An auction will be held of theme baskets brought by volunteers. Proceeds will benefit the proposed Women's Crisis Center of Cooke County. "Let The Feathers Fly Chicken Challenge" contest is also open to anyone who would like to enter their favorite chicken dish for judging. All others are to bring a covered dish for the picnic.

Keeping Muenster Beautiful

Rain-delayed work continues on the Keep Muenster Beautiful project being constructed at the City Park along Highway 82. Muenster won the 2004 Keep Texas Beautiful Governors Award of approximately $65,000 to fund the project. The 700 foot decorative wrought iron fence with stone masonry columns went over budget. The City donated extra rocks left over from the entry, and TxDOT covered the remaining cost to finish the job. KMB is attempting to win the award again this year. Janie Hartman photo

City Council concerned about Mesquite Street crossings

By Janet Felderhoff
Street crossings on Mesquite Street are still of concern to the City of Muenster. At the regular City Council meeting held Monday, June 4, Muenster Mayor John Pangel noted that the City probably did the wrong culvert on Mesquite Street first. Anyone driving down Mesquite will notice at the intersection of Third and Mesquite that it is beginning to crater on the bottom side, said Pangel. "It is just a matter of time with as much truck traffic that goes across it, that it's not going to hold. It is going to have to be replaced," he added. City Manager Stan Endres said that he spoke with Pat Dillon of Southwest Consultants who told him that Muenster will be receiving a grant of $125,000. That money will not be released until next summer. If the City waits for the money, work could not take place until sometime in early 2009. Endres explained the problem and was told by Dillon that it might be possible to get an exemption for such an emergency. The City would pay for the work and then when the money is released, the City would be reimbursed. The grant application was to put a new culvert at First Street and Second Street, plus another one on Fourth Street on the west side of the road right by the trailer park for a culvert running north and south. Endres said that if the City does accept the grant money and asks to apply for an early date to do it, they would have to consult with an engineer and do an environmental study, which would take time. Since that area is in a flood plain, Endres said that he was advised not to do anything without first getting approval so that it doesn't affect anything else. That would keep them out of trouble with FEMA, he said. City employee Chris Yosten said that he'd inspected the culvert. In the big culvert, Yosten said that about a quarter of the bottom is gone, washed, or rotted out. From the top it has probably dropped four inches, he said. The road is sinking to match whatever it drops. After more discussion, it was decided to do things the right way and begin needed repairs. Endres was asked to contact the necessary people to learn what is required to get reimbursement on the repairs to Mesquite Street. Also needing major repair or replacement is the City's jet roter or sewer main clean out machine. The current model is a 1987 model and it

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

DEAR EDITOR,
 The City of Muenster has a problem. Some of our citizens are not taking proper care of their pets. A group of concerned citizens delivered a petition with over 70 names on it to the City Council at Monday night's meeting. People are being chased and harassed while walking or riding their bikes. To address this problem, the City has tried letters and verbal warnings in the past, but they haven't worked.
 The City does have a leash law that requires all pets to either be kept in a fenced area or on a leash or chain. They are not allowed to run free. Owners of dogs caught running free will be issued a citation. Fines could be as high as $500. This letter is the last warning that will be issued. It is time for everyone to be good neighbors and take proper care of their animals.

Sincerely,
 Stan Endres
 City Administrator
 Muenster, TX 76252

To the Editor:
 If the sky were paper and the ocean were ink, I couldn't write down all the names of people whose lives have been touched by an angel, Ruth Felderhoff. I just wonder how many Weddings, Funerals, Anniversary Masses, First Communions, Confirmations, and Baptisms that she has been the one to provide the music by playing the piano or organ? I am sure the number is astronomical! She was truly an amazing person! I remember just two years ago, when Joe died, how she and the family provided the beautiful music for his service, and then the grandchildren "out shined" the Von Trapp children with their fantastic songs at the cemetery. Wow! Did that take courage and stamina or what? This family is truly the epitome of what God intended a "family" to be! May they find comfort in knowing how much we all care, and may they find strength in the unconditional love of our Lord. May God continue to bless each of them, until they are all reunited in Heaven one day!

 Listen, listen, her voice is everywhere. It's in the wind, in the trees, in the clouds, in the breeze! Listen, listen, Jesus called her name, and He's speaking to your hearts. When you get down and lonely and her face you cannot see, just cry, "Oh, Lord, where are you now, have you forgotten me?" And He will say, "Listen, listen, her music is everywhere - it's in the wind, in the trees, in the clouds, in the breeze - she's speaking to your hearts!" (Words taken from a song by Becky Rhone Wetzel and Cathy Rhone Gregory).
 Even death cannot rob you of your "Precious Memories!" Your mom and dad left a wonderful legacy, and they will always live on in all of our hearts! Shhhhhhhhh! Listen!
 Sincerely,
 Judy Cain Hartman

has a rusted water tank, motor problems, and hydraulic problems. No trade was offered for it.
 Several companies were consulted. The three machines that drew the most interest were a new model for $35,000 and a demo for $28,000, and a used 1994 model for $14,500. Yosten said that Rick Hennigan had worked on one like the one for $28,000 and said they are the best machines available. He recommended the City purchase the demo. "This is one of the most important pieces of equipment that the City has," remarked Yosten.
 Money for the purchase would have to come out of reserves after a budget adjustment. The purchase was unanimously approved pending approval of the machine after it is brought here and demonstrated.

The City Council unanimously appointed Greg Bohl to fill the Place 2 position left open when John Pagel stepped up to take the job of mayor. Should he accept the appointment, he will be sworn in at the July 2 meeting.
 Aldermen were asked if they wished to keep the same commissioner position or would prefer to switch. Currently Jewel Otto serves as the Parks, Library, and Museum commissioner, Joey Anderson as the Water commissioner, Jack Flusche as Sewer and Sanitation commissioner, Bob Walterscheid as Police and Fire commissioner. The new alderman will serve as Street commissioner.

New Mayor Pro Tem is Joey Anderson. He was nominated and then unanimously appointed to the position.

Jack Flusche accepted a nomination as a representative to Texoma Council of Governments (TCOG). The cities of Lindsay, Callisburg, and Valley View also have the option of nominating candidates. Then a vote will be taken, and the person with the most votes will serve as Cooke County's small cities representative on the TCOG governing board. Alderman Jewel Otto, who has served two terms on that board, said she feels it is very important to have representation on the board. Without representation, there is less chance of receiving grant money, she feels.

Endres reported that construction of the new basketball court in the City Park will begin as soon as the weather allows. A City truck will be provided to haul off old asphalt. This will result in a reduced price from G&H Backhoe.

The City Park is sporting a new look as iron fencing is being erected on the northeast corner and north side with money won by Keep Muenster Beautiful.

Water well #1 has been repaired and is back on line.

Heavy rains last Saturday flooded the waste water plant causing it to be shut down until water receded. Endres said that they've known that there is a problem with storm water getting into the system through old manholes. Plans are to begin replacing them to eliminate the problem.

In other business, the City Council:

- Approved budget amendment of $19,200 for unbudgeted water well repairs and $28,900 for 2006 jet roter.
- Approved request by Hermie Grewing to contract with City to bore under Ash Street to connect an existing oil field flow line from the east side of Ash Street to a well on the west side. The City Manager will investigate appropriate charges for use of the machine, labor, and materials to determine a price.
- Read and accepted a Proclamation of Appreciation from Texas Municipal League Intergovernmental Employee Benefits Pool.
- Reviewed and approved payment of bills totaling $83,589.22.
- After an executive session, approved a variance to the curbing

OBITUARIES

Ruth Felderhoff 1935 - 2007

Mass of Christian Burial for Ruth Felderhoff of Muenster was held Saturday, June 2 at 10 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church of Muenster, with Rev. Ken Robinson and Fr. Kyle Walterscheid concelebrating.

Ruth Anne Frazier Felderhoff died of cancer at the age of 72 at 4:15 p.m. on Wednesday, May 30, 2007 in Muenster Memorial Hospital.

Born Feb. 2, 1935 in Joliet, Illinois to William Thomas and Lettie Stanfield Curry Frazier, Ruth grew up and graduated from high school in Illinois. She left Illinois to attend a Christian university and selected TCU. After converting to Catholicism at TCU, she went to a Dominican convent in Michigan. After six months, she discerned that the religious life was not her calling.

She earned her Bachelors in English from the University of St. Frances in Joliet. She then returned to TCU to work on her Masters degree, but she accepted a teaching job in Muenster before completing her Masters. Her first job after college was teaching English at Sacred Heart High School in 1960, where she met Joseph Milton Felderhoff. The two were married Aug. 5, 1961 in Sacred Heart Church, and became the parents of four loving daughters.

Ruth was a member of Sacred Heart Parish since 1960. Her memberships included Catholic Daughters, and Sacred Heart and Cooke County choirs. She began teaching English, then reading, and then served for some 25 years teaching music at Sacred Heart. She was extremely active in playing both the piano and organ for the church, and for weddings, funerals, school activities, graduations, Germanfest, musicals, and plays. One highlight was playing for the ordination of Fr. Kyle Walterscheid.

She and the entire family made much of family gatherings where she always furnished entertainment by playing the piano and singing. She played for both the adult and children's choirs at Sacred Heart. She originated the "dress-up" of children for All Saints Day. After retiring, Ruth did volunteer work in reading with primary students, teaching them to read. Ruth never refused to play for any activity requested of her unless there were health or prior engagement reasons.

Ruth was a loving wife, mother, and friend to everyone.

Survivors include her daughters and sons-in-law Christy and Bert Hesse, Jenny and Jack White, and Anne and Neil Hesse, all of Muenster, and Rose and Mauro Ganzon of Decatur; 20 grandchildren; sisters-in-law and brothers-in-law Joan and Alvin Hartman, Theresa Mae and Sylvan Walterscheid, all of Muenster, Chuck and Bunny Felderhoff of West, Texas, and Girbie Felderhoff of Gainesville.

Preceding her in death were her husband Joe Felderhoff, and her parents.

Altar servers at the funeral were grandchildren Joe Hesse, John Paul Hesse, Daniel Hesse, Matt Hesse, and Kaitlin Hesse. Brother-in-law Chuck Felderhoff gave the First Reading and niece Laurie Walterscheid gave the Second Reading. Prayers of the Faithful were read by Anne Poole, friend. Grandchildren Ben Ganzon, Amy White, Sam Hesse, and Julian Hesse brought up the Offertory Gifts. Eucharistic ministers were Annette Bayer, Cecelia Ashley, Beth Bartush, Debbie Endres, Jennifer Fuhrmann, Neil Hesse, Alvin Hartman, Theresa Mae Walterscheid, and Mary Bayer.

Music ministers were Isaac Davis, Emily Klement, Diane Grewing, Jack White, and Emily White. Sacred Songs included "If God Is For Us," "Shepherd Me, O God," "Only In God," "Do Not Let Your Hearts Be Troubled," "This Alone," and "Sing of Christ, Proclaim His Glory."

Fr. Kyle remembered Ruth, saying in part, "Ruth Anne Frazier was a miracle baby, long awaited and the only child... As she grew, so did her love for music and literature. By the time she was four, she was plucking out tunes on her toy piano. At nine, she was discussing theology with her Catholic friend Margie. At 12, she was a pianist at her Disciples of Christ Church. Her quick wit surfaced at an early age..."

"Ruth managed the home with four small daughters... Though very busy, she cultivated her love of the arts by joining the local book club, taking painting classes, and participating in local plays..."

Earl Clement 1937 - 2007

Mass of Christian Burial was held at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Gainesville on Monday, June 4 at 2 p.m. for Earl Clement. Rev. Pat Murphy, OSA, pastor of St. Mary's, and Rev. Nicholas Fuhrmann, OSB, of Subiaco Abbey, officiated for the Mass.

Earl Wayne Clement died in a Denton hospital at the age of 69 on Friday, June 1, 2007.

Born Sept. 15, 1937 to Earvin Earl and Zelma Reeves Clement in Seymour, Earl was the eldest of three children. He married Patricia Gayle Moody in 1959. She preceded him in death. Earl married Marge Flusche Martin on Nov. 8, 1978 in Gainesville.

He moved to Gainesville in 1970 for employment at Vernie Keel Funeral Home. Following the death of the owner, Vernie Keel, Earl became part-owner and manager of the funeral home. He acquired full ownership in 1986 and later changed the name to Clement-Keel Funeral Home. He operated the funeral home until his retirement in 1997.

Earl served on the St. Mary's Church Parish Council and the finance committee, and on the St. Mary's School Advisory Board. He also served as president of the Gainesville Boys Baseball Association, president of the Gainesville Kiwanis Club, Lt. governor of the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis District, president of the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce, and president of the Gainesville Airport Board of Directors where he served until his death. He served 10 years on the Gainesville Hospital Board, was president of the North Texas Funeral Directors Association, and served on the Board of Texas State Funeral Directors Association.

Survivors are his spouse Marge Clement of Lindsay; daughter and son-in-law Kim and Gary Otto of Haslet; sons and daughters-in-law Kent Clement of Gainesville, Col. Chris Martin and wife Carolyn of Argyle, David and Charlotte Martin of Waxahachie, Billy and Sheila Martin of Silverton, Oregon, and Dale and Julie Martin of Lindsay; 15 grandchildren and one great-grandchild; sisters-in-law and brothers-in-law Clara and Julius Hermes, Don and Betty Flusche, Harold and Jeannine Flusche, Bill Flusche, Tom and Judy Flusche, Sue and Herbie Fisher, and Jack and Linda Flusche.

Preceding him in death were his parents, and brothers Bobby Clement and Jerry Clement.

ACTS Retreat members conducted a separate prayer service for the family at 6 p.m. in Clement-Keel Funeral Home on Sunday, June 3. Then a Rosary Service was led by Sr. Mary Helen Fuhrmann at 7 p.m. in the funeral home. Visitation followed. Preceding the funeral Mass, a family rosary was led by Harold and Jeannine Flusche.

Altar servers at the funeral were Keith Metzler and Riley Metzler. The First Reading was given by granddaughter Kate Martin, with the Second Reading given by granddaughter Sam Martin. Charlotte Martin read the Prayers of the Faithful. Grandchildren Garrett Martin, Jillian Martin, Chase Otto, Elizabeth Martin, and Kobe Otto brought up the Offertory Gifts. Eucharistic ministers were Harold and Jeannine Flusche, Clara Hermes, Judy Flusche, and Karen Flusche.

Music ministers were Pat Hennigan, organist, and Brenda and Phillip Flusche. Sacred songs included "Be Not Afraid," "Psalm of the Good Shepherd," "Prayer of St. Francis," "Here I Am, Lord," "I Am the Bread of Life," "Irish Blessing," and "On Eagle's Wings."

Remarks of Remembrance were given by Earl's daughter Kim Otto, who said in part, "... my dad and I had a simple and loving relationship. He was a remarkably good man. He was a person of devotion and integrity, and a man who understood a hard day's work... I was consistently told by people what a special person he was. He loved having the family around and especially loved the grandkids and neighborhood kids coming over for fun..."

"Think of the legacy he has left... the curiosity about life, a hunger for knowledge, passion for family, an example of a life whose riches owe little to money, a sense that anything is possible if you work hard, a model of what a father should be..."

Fr. Nicholas remembered Earl for his sense of humor and his love for people. Father also said Earl served in many thankless jobs during his life. He was a good Christian man.

Burial followed in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Clement-Keel Funeral Home. Pallbearers were grandchildren Zack Otto, Laci Otto, Randy Martin, Phillip Martin, Pamela Martin, and Joseph Martin.

Memorials may be made to the Scottish Rite Children's Hospital or to the American Cancer Society.

was given by granddaughter Kate Martin, with the Second Reading given by granddaughter Sam Martin. Charlotte Martin read the Prayers of the Faithful. Grandchildren Garrett Martin, Jillian Martin, Chase Otto, Elizabeth Martin, and Kobe Otto brought up the Offertory Gifts. Eucharistic ministers were Harold and Jeannine Flusche, Clara Hermes, Judy Flusche, and Karen Flusche.

Music ministers were Pat Hennigan, organist, and Brenda and Phillip Flusche. Sacred songs included "Be Not Afraid," "Psalm of the Good Shepherd," "Prayer of St. Francis," "Here I Am, Lord," "I Am the Bread of Life," "Irish Blessing," and "On Eagle's Wings."

Remarks of Remembrance were given by Earl's daughter Kim Otto, who said in part, "... my dad and I had a simple and loving relationship. He was a remarkably good man. He was a person of devotion and integrity, and a man who understood a hard day's work... I was consistently told by people what a special person he was. He loved having the family around and especially loved the grandkids and neighborhood kids coming over for fun..."

"Think of the legacy he has left... the curiosity about life, a hunger for knowledge, passion for family, an example of a life whose riches owe little to money, a sense that anything is possible if you work hard, a model of what a father should be..."

Fr. Nicholas remembered Earl for his sense of humor and his love for people. Father also said Earl served in many thankless jobs during his life. He was a good Christian man.

Burial followed in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Clement-Keel Funeral Home. Pallbearers were grandchildren Zack Otto, Laci Otto, Randy Martin, Phillip Martin, Pamela Martin, and Joseph Martin.

Memorials may be made to the Scottish Rite Children's Hospital or to the American Cancer Society.

Joe and Ruth Felderhoff Scholarship Fund created

Joe and Ruth Felderhoff dedicated their lives to Catholic education. Together, they taught almost 60 years at Sacred Heart School. To honor their memory, their children have established the Joe and Ruth Felderhoff Scholarship Fund. The goal of this fund is to assist families with tuition to Sacred Heart Catholic School. Those interested in donating to this fund may contact Christy Hesse at 759-4034 or Anne Hesse at 736-1543. Checks should be made out to Sacred Heart Alumni & Supporters. Write Joe and Ruth Scholarship on the memo line. Send to 12815 W. Hwy. 82, Muenster, TX 76252

Sandria Lea of Gainesville and Ray and Margaret Lea of Whitesboro are delighted to announce the engagement of their daughter Gina Nicole Lea to James Edwin Stoffels. The bride-elect is a 2003 graduate of Gainesville High School and a 2006 graduate of Texas State University. She is currently employed as a sixth grade teacher with Denton ISD. The future-groom is the son of Stephen and Laura Stoffels of Muenster. He is a 2000 graduate of Muenster High School and a 2004 graduate of the University of North Texas. He is currently employed with the Wal-Mart Distribution Center in Sanger. The couple plans to be married on Saturday, July 21, 2007 in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Gainesville, with a reception following in the Centennial Hall in Lindsay. After a honeymoon trip to Lake Tahoe, the couple plans to reside in Denton.

Amanda Felderhoff graduates from Texas Tech

Amanda Felderhoff, daughter of Ronnie and Sharon Felderhoff, received her Bachelor of Science Degree in Civil Engineering with a minor in Mathematics from Texas Tech University at a ceremony in the United Spirit Arena on May 12.

She has accepted a position at Freese and Nichols Engineering in their Dallas office and will work in the transmissions division.

While at Texas Tech Amanda was a member of the Society of Women Engineers (SWE) and the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE). She served as the Student Organizational Advisory Committee Representative for ASCE her freshman year. She also served as treasurer her sophomore year and president of ASCE her junior year. Amanda competed in the Texas Civil Engineering Steel Bridge and Concrete Canoe competitions during each of her four years at the University.

During her sophomore year Amanda joined the Texas Society of Professional Engineers (TSPE) and was invited to become a member of Kappa Mu Epsilon (a mathematics honor society). She won second place in the ASCE Student Technical Presentation Competition as a sophomore and received a scholastic-based scholarship from Texas Tech University.

In her junior year she became a member of Chi Epsilon (a civil engineering honor society), served as treasurer of TSPE, won first place in the ASCE Student Technical Presentation Competition, and was named to the Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. She again received the Phonathon Scholarship, a scholastic-based scholarship from Texas Tech. She was also a member of Tau Beta Pi, an honor society for engineering students who are in the top eighth of their class as a junior or in the top fifth of their class as a senior. She was nominated to attend the Workshop for Student Chapter Leaders at Texas Tech and was nominated for the ABET accreditation review of the College of Engineering.

As a senior she also became a member of Engineers Without Borders and served as the Civil Engineering Student Representative. She was the Concrete Canoe Chair for ASCE and won first place in the ASCE Daniel Mead Technical Paper Competition.

Amanda has volunteered for Habitat for Humanity, Salvation Army, Meals on Wheels, the Haven Animal Shelter, Reese Air Force Base shelter for hurricane Katrina victims, the local Soup Kitchen, a mission trip, and the "Take a Kid to the Game

Day" program. She volunteered at a local elementary after-school care program and worked part-time as a tutor and a teacher's assistant her senior year.

Amanda completed summer internships with HNTB and Freese and Nichols Engineering.

Attending graduation ceremonies were family members: Ronnie and Chad Felderhoff, Elizabeth Trout, Diann and Whitney Hulstrand, and friends Jennifer Phillips, Curtis and Shannon Eggemeyer, Lisa and Jarred Eggemeyer, Daniel Brown, Kevin Ivy, Kate Noble, and Justin Parker. Family members enjoyed a celebration dinner at a local Lubbock restaurant following graduation ceremonies.

O'Dowd ordained deacon for Altoona-Johnstown Diocese

The Most Reverend Joseph V. Adamec, Bishop of Altoona-Johnstown, through the Laying on of Hands, ordained a priest and a deacon for the Diocese on Saturday, May 26 at the Cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament.

Dan O'Dowd received ordination as a permanent deacon. Family members, friends, parishioners, clergy, religious, and seminary representatives attended the Saturday morning liturgy. Additionally, several family members and fellow parishioners participated in the Ordination Mass.

Walter O'Dowd of Chicago, brother of Dan, was a lector. The parents of the ordinand, John and Eugenia "Genie" Walter O'Dowd, served as the gift bearers.

Reverend Brian Saylor, Director of Priestly Vocations, and Deacon Gene Neral, Director of the Diaconate, presented the ordinand to Bishop Joseph.

Following the calling and presentation of each ordinand, Bishop Joseph addressed them and received their promise of obedience to him and his successors. Through the Laying on of Hands, both were ordained. Deacon O'Dowd was invested with a deacon's stole and a dalmatic and presented the Book of Gospels. Deacon O'Dowd then received the Kiss of Peace from his brother deacons and priests.

Following the Ordination Mass, the newly ordained greeted the assembly at the front doors of the Cathedral and then were honored at a large dinner at the Church.

O'Dowd will serve as deacon to St. Mary's Church in Hollidaysburg.

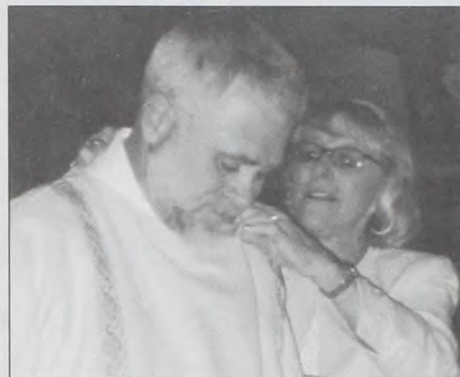

Deacon O'Dowd was born Nov. 9, 1950. He and his wife Beth are the parents of two sons, Michael and Matthew, and have one granddaughter. His mother is a native of Muenster. Deacon O'Dowd is employed in sales at Longs Tire Company. He attended Notre Dame High in Chattanooga, Tennessee, and Strake Jesuit College Prep and Holy Ghost Catholic High School in Houston, and the University of Houston. He has served with the U.S. Naval Reserve.

The new deacon is a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity and Star of the Sea Council of the Knights of Columbus, where he is a third degree Knight.

In his parish, O'Dowd has been active as a parish council member, lector, and an extraordinary minister of the Eucharist. He has been active in the Hollidaysburg Area Youth Football Association.

Attending the event from Muenster were Harold and Jeannine Flusche. They are his cousins.

SCHOOL

2007 8th Grade Class of Sacred Heart Catholic School

Sacred Heart 8th Grade celebrates its promotion

Sacred Heart Catholic School marked the promotion of its 8th Grade class with a Mass and ceremony on Friday, May 25 at 6 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church. Father Ken Robinson was the celebrant.

Members of the class processed in to music played by Fran Schully. They are Ashley Lauren Cowan, Victoria Lynn Endres, Ryan Scott Felderhoff, Jordan Wayne Henscheid, Hayley Dawn Hess, Matthew Frazier Hess, Megan Elizabeth Hesse, Rebekah Anne Hesse, Sydney Michelle Hoedebeck, Madison Marie Hofbauer, Alexandria Marie Popovich, Taylor Ann Reiter, Sarah Catherine Strother, Alexander Richard Turner, Chad Donald Walterscheid, Zachary Vincent White, and Calvin Wayne Wimmer.

Graduates took part in the Mass. Zachary White gave the First Reading 12 Samuel 3:2-10. Matthew Hesse led the Responsorial Psalm. Father Ken read the Gospel Matthew 5:2-12 and gave the Homily. Victoria Endres read the General Intercessions. Presentation of Gifts was done by Sydney Hoedebeck and Alexandria Popovich.

Eucharistic ministers were Neil and Anne Hesse, Dolores Hofbauer, Andy and Leslie White, and Paige White.

Mass servers were Alana Endres, Kylie Hess, Morgan Hesse, and Kendall Reiter.

Music ministers were Isaac Davis, Rose Ganzon, Fran Schully, Brittany White, and Jack White.

Certificates of promotion were presented by Father Ken and Principal Chad Riley.

Principal Riley addressed the graduates. He spoke of a boy, Pier Giorgio Frassati, born more than 100 years ago in the town of Turin, Italy who attended a Catholic school for part of his life, was energetic, loved sports, and even loved to play practical jokes. He died at age 24 of polio. Mr. Riley said that Pier Giorgio is often referred to as the "Man of the Beatitudes."

The Beatitudes were part of that evening's Readings. Mr. Riley remarked, "You have been issued a challenge to go forth from this ceremony with a renewed obligation to live out the Beatitudes in your lives. You have the challenge to live your life with a 'beatitude attitude.' Pier Giorgio Frassati, who has been beatified and is called Blessed Pier Giorgio Frassati, sets a good example for you and indeed for all of us of how to put the Beatitudes into practice in our daily lives."

"Blessed Pier's main emphasis in living out the Beatitudes was to put the needs of others before his own. He sought to live life to the fullest, which is something that all 8th graders want to do. But living life to the fullest for a follower of Christ does not mean living life while considering yourself the center of the universe. No, followers of Jesus live life by putting themselves not at the center of the universe, but at the service of other people. You experienced what I mean by this when you went to Catholic Charities a couple of weeks ago."

The Principal told of Blessed Pier's love of serving the poor of Turin. When his family would go on vacation to their summer home, Pier would remain behind saying that if everyone left town there would be nobody to care for the poor. Mr. Riley said to the class, "Your challenge from this day forward, into your freshman year as well as into the rest of your life, is to live life to the fullest by selflessly serving others and by having a 'beatitude attitude.'"

A tribute was then given by Chad Walterscheid thanking their parents and teachers.

A party to celebrate their accomplishments was held at the home of Scott and Sandy Felderhoff following the promotion ceremony.

Muenster's National Honor Society

The Muenster High School National Honor Society held their final meeting of the school year on May 22. The group met at Rohrer's Restaurant at 7 a.m. for breakfast. At the meeting, the officers for the 2007-08 school year were elected. The newly elected officers are Laura Heers, president; Noel Barnhill, vice president; Alison Teafattiller, secretary; Rebecca Grewing, treasurer; Hillary Swirczynski, Student Council representative; and Cletus Fuhrmann, historian. National Honor Society advisors are Vicki Eldridge and Kristi Schneider. MISD Photo

SHCS students attend Diocesan Mass

The 8th graders from Sacred Heart Catholic School attended the 8th Grade Diocesan Schools' Mass on April 25 held at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Arlington. The special liturgy celebrates the milestone of their 8th grade year. The Mass is celebrated each year with the Bishop and priests throughout the diocese of Fort Worth.

Holy Rosary Catholic School offered the introduction to the Mass as students were placed throughout the back of the rotunda sanctuary. The students each took part in readings, and the readings came to life as the students read and the sound was heard throughout the sanctuary. The excitement of the students could be felt, as they were getting ready for their end of the year promotion.

The contemporary music was under the direction of Missy Korzekwa. Students from area diocesan schools served as greeters, altar servers, and lectors. Jordan Henscheid represented his school by carrying the Sacred Heart Catholic School banner in the processional. Hayley Hess participated in the presentation of the gifts.

Overall, the day was fabulous and the students gained the confidence they needed to go into the world and proclaim the Gospel, as they were encouraged to do by comments made by Don Miller, superintendent of Catholic Schools in the Diocese, as he reflected on his 8th grade Mass. He had been encouraged to make something of himself with the gifts God had given him. He encouraged all of the students to do the same, and to make their families, their schools, and God proud of what they will become.

Sarced Heart Preschool celebrates moving on to kindergarten

Preschool students of Sacred Heart Catholic School entertained their families, friends, and teachers at the annual Moving On Ceremony to mark the end of another very successful and enjoyable school year. The program took place on May 22 at 6:30 p.m. in the Theater Arts Room of the elementary building. A colorful Moving On banner, created by Darell Walterscheid, decorated the background of the stage.

Principal Chad Riley opened the program with a prayer. Following a welcome, the audience joined the children in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance and singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

The enthusiastic Preschoolers delighted the large crowd with a selection of some of their favorite songs, complete with hand and body motions. Introducing the songs were the children moving on into kindergarten classes next school year. The songs reflected various aspects of their learning and fun experiences throughout the year and included, "So Happy You're Here," "Come and Go With Me," "The Father Loves Me," "Tony Chestnut," "How Much is That Doggie?," and "He's Got the Whole World."

Mr. Riley first presented certificates of attendance to the children who will be returning to Preschool next year. They are Mary Fisher, MaKenna Forshee, Chloe Hacker, Kelsey Hennigan, Erin Hesse, Anna Hudson, Audrey Kubis, and Wade Trubenbach. Chloe Hacker received a perfect attendance award for the year.

Moving On certificates were then presented to the following children who completed their final year at Sacred Heart Preschool: Keith Bezner, Savannah Bohl, Rachel Boles, Ashleigh Deweber, Colby Endres, Gavin Grewing, Kacie Grewing, Koby Hogan, Adam Hudson, Hannah Lamar, Danny Luttmer, Anna Moritz, Logan Muller, Zachary Sanders, Riley Stewart, Lane Trubenbach, Jacob Walterscheid, and Jared Walterscheid.

Martha Sicking, elementary music teacher, was acknowledged and thanked for the role she played in preparing the children for their special evening. Mr. Riley offered words of congratulations and thanks to the children, parents and staff, and concluded the program with a prayer.

Extremely proud of these children and their accomplishments in the Montessori preschool program are teacher Pam Dangelmayr, and class room aides Kathy Berres and Susan Yosten.

Krahl is Salutatorian at Callisburg

Royce Daniel Krahl is the 2007 Salutatorian at Callisburg High School with a GPA of 4.807. He is the son of Gary and Cathy Krahl, and the grandson of Mary Ann Arendt of Lindsay and the late Andrew Arendt, and Nancy Krahl of Valley View and the late Martin Krahl.

Krahl is a founding member of the History Club, serving as its president one year, and an active member of the National Honor Society. He played varsity tennis his junior year, and has helped tutor Spanish students his senior year. He has also won numerous class awards and was active in many UIL academic competitions.

His love of theater had him participating in One-Act Play all four years, winning several acting awards, and in the theater class productions. He has had roles in Butterfield Stage's youth group The Company and in Whaley Conservatory. He was also involved in several NCTC Theater Productions.

His music accomplishments include Division 1 State soloist for three years; member of the brass ensemble competing at State for two years; three time All-Region Band member; three time North Texas Honor Band member; and All-Area Band qualifier in 2006. He was awarded the John Philip Sousa music award this year.

Krahl has been accepted at the University of Texas at Arlington, the University of Texas, and Texas Tech University who offered the TTU Designated Recruitment Award of $2,000, and the Red Raider Guarantee Grant of $7,500, renewable each year. He was also awarded a $1,000 scholarship from Cooke County Electric Co-op. He has accepted Texas Tech, where he will be a part of the University Honors College majoring in History and seeking a minor in Biology, as well as taking Pre-Med courses. With his fascination with Brazil, where he hopes to do study abroad one semester, Krahl will also minor in Portuguese. After college, he plans to attend medical school and become a doctor.

Muenster cheerleaders garner awards

The Muenster Varsity Cheerleaders and Mascot attended a National Cheerleaders Association (NCA) camp May 28-31 at Southern Methodist University with over 1,200 other cheerleaders. Cheer and chant classes, along with jump, stunt, and dance classes were offered to all participants. Head cheerleader Laura Heers attended a daily captain's class on responsibility and leadership within the squad. She was also selected to model in the Camp Store Fashion Show. The Hornet cheerleaders performed cheers and chants at daily evaluations, earning six superior ribbons. The second day of camp, the squad received the Stunting S.P.O.T. Award. The squad's spirit, strong teamwork, and positive attitudes earned a spirit stick on two separate nights at camp, as well as a spirit stick to take home on the final day of camp. The MHS squad was honored with six All-American nominees. They were Laura Heers, Alison Miller, Lindsey Watson, Sam Endres, Lia Heers, and Michelle Henscheid. Earning a spot on the All-American squad were Sam Endres and Lindsey Watson. On the final day of camp, the squad competed for the Top Team Award and for the Champion Chant Award. The Varsity from Muenster proudly won the coveted Top Team Award for their Game Day performance. Winning this award qualifies each member of the squad to perform in the Hula Bowl in Honolulu, Hawaii, and the Orange Bowl in Miami, Florida. The Hornet cheerleaders were also the recipients of the National Championship Bid, allowing the squad to compete at Nationals in December. Jodi Abner, "Buzz" the Hornet Mascot, had a very successful camp attending mascot training classes. Jodi received two superior ribbons for her evaluations, the Master Props Artist Award for the best creative ability to incorporate props into her skits, as well as being named All-American Mascot. MHS Cheer Coaches Lisa Pagel and Jennifer Walterscheid received their coaching certificates for attending coaching classes and participating with the squad. The Muenster Varsity Cheerleaders are excited to teach their newly learned cheers, chants, jumps, stunts, and dances at their annual cheerleading mini-camp which will be held June 25-29 at the Muenster Park. For more information, call the cheer coaches, Lisa Pagel at 940-612-2423 or Jennifer Walterscheid at 940-759-4454. Be looking for a permission slip in a future edition of the Muenster Enterprise.

Just a Thought
Go to church to worship God, not to make social contacts.
If we could see ourselves as others see us, we would probably deny it.
God has a plan for you. Seek to know it.
Don't wait for a crisis to discover what is important in your life.

An excerpt from
The Church's Love Letter to the World
by Rev. Richard John Neuhaus
Part 4 of 12

At the dawn of the modern era, Thomas Hobbes (d. 1679) famously described the state of nature: "No arts; no letters; no society; and which is worst of all, continual fear and danger of violent death; and the life of man, solitary, poor, nasty, brutish, and short." Hobbes and other thinkers of the secular Enlightenment said that a relatively humane world could only be secured by people forming a "social contract" based upon self-interest. In the eighteenth century intellectuals invested their hope for the human future in bringing everything under rational control. In the nineteenth century they looked to scientific and technological progress. That dream was shattered by the awful bloodletting of the First World War, and much of humanity then turned its eyes toward ideology, notably Marxist-Leninism and, in Germany, National Socialism. The idols of ideology heaped up mountains of corpses and unleashed rivers of blood, making the century that is now coming to an end the most lethal in all of human history. This terrible history is the background for Evangelium Vitae.

When the encyclical speaks about "the culture of death," it is not simply warning us about something that could happen in the future. It is reminding us of the past and alerting us to the world in which we now live. John Paul retells the story of Cain and Abel, the very first murder in our common history. This is not just a page of history about something that happened long ago. Rather, he says, it continues to have "universal significance: it is a page rewritten daily, with inexorable and degrading frequency, in the book of human history" (no. 7). It is a page being rewritten this very day.

If in the third millennium we are to turn from death to life, we must learn that a humane society cannot be secured on the basis of rationally calculated self-interest, nor by technological and scientific progress, nor by grand ideological schemes. The turn toward life requires that each of us, one by one, reject the response of Cain when God asked him about his brother Abel. Cain's response was, "Am I my brother's keeper?" The right answer to that question is "Yes, we are our brother's keeper." Recognizing the "personal dignity" of the other, we recognize that we owe each other "respect, generosity, and service." When this is forgotten, when we value others only for their abilities or their usefulness to us, "the first to be harmed are women, children, the sick or suffering, and the elderly." "This," says Evangelium Vitae, "is the supremacy of the strong over the weak" (no. 23) that is the way of the long, dreary, blood-drenched history of Cain and Abel that is rewritten every day.

FARM & RANCH

Immigration debate heats up

Farm Bureau legislative staff will be keeping careful watch as the nation's lawmakers debate U.S. immigration reforms.

Stronger border security and continued availability of guest workers remain target objectives, but achieving both will be no simple task, particularly when it comes to farm laborers.

Farm Bureau economists estimate that up to $9 billion a year in production is at risk if Congress fails to enact provisions that would provide agriculture with an adequate, legal workforce in the short- and long-term.

The Senate began its debate of the immigration bill on May 21, targeting a June 15 goal for a vote on the matter.

As of presstime, the proposal included several measures to step up enforcement measures, including the hiring of 18,000 new border patrol officers, building 200 miles of vehicle barriers and 350 miles of fencing, as well as several state-of-the-art technologies to monitor those coming in and out of the United States.

"A prime concern in the immigration debate lies in how we deal with the estimated 12 to 15 million illegal aliens already in our country," says Texas Farm Bureau Legislative Director Steve Pringle.

To that end, Congress included within the proposal language a provision that would allow those illegals the opportunity to enroll in the new visa programs, provided they could prove they were inside the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2007.

Those failing to register after the new law passes—as well as new immigrants crossing the border without visas—would be fingerprinted and permanently barred from receiving work or tourist visas into the United States.

Additional bill language addresses a new temporary worker program and introduces a new "Y" visa, which would cap the number of new workers at 400,000 per year and establish a new merit system whereby immigrants could receive credits toward their U.S. citizenship for a variety of items including their proficiency of the English language, education, work experience, and tax payment status.

That points system is not to be mistaken for an amnesty program, Pringle stresses. Where amnesty grants forgiveness of an offense without penalty, the proposed policy merely moves workers up the ladder toward gaining citizenship by crediting them for the necessities already required for citizenship. And for those who are already in the country working illegally, a fine will also be imposed on those who failed to apply lawfully.

To ensure those work visas are indeed temporary, the legislation also includes time limits, where workers would be limited to a stay of no more than six years, with required departures to the home country as part of the visa requirement.

Pringle says the current proposals address guest workers in a broad spectrum, with none yet targeting agricultural workers specifically.

To protect the nation's welfare system, proposals also deny benefits such as welfare, Food Stamps, Social Security, and non-emergency Medicaid. And to improve system accountability, employers would have access to a new employment verification website, which could notify them of legal worker status within 24-48 hours.

Dozens of amendments to the legislation are expected to be offered during debate, and as of presstime, changes were already submitted to further limit visa caps and bolster security policies.

"The top goal of any guest worker programs is to ensure everyone is legal, either on a path of citizenship or at very least, enrolled in an official guest worker program," Pringle says.

But while such a broad spectrum employment program could suffice for some industries, Pringle says they fall short in addressing the specialized needs of agriculture.

"Neither the American Farm Bureau Federation nor the Texas Farm Bureau feel like these provisions go far enough in protecting employers and ensuring a stable workforce for longer than three-four years," he says.

"We recognize that essential legislation must be passed to ensure a stable workforce for the future," Pringle says. "We definitely support a comprehensive immigration bill that meets these needs. The current one comes close, but it doesn't meet them all."

One provision that is helpful to agriculture establishes a "Z" visa for undocumented workers. If it remains in the final version of the legislation, the Z visa could benefit America's farmers and ranchers, according to Paul Schlegel, labor specialist with the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"We need to make sure there is a practical guest worker program that allows us to bring in needed labor," he says.

Where the one-size-fits-all approach may be viable for some industries, it doesn't necessarily work for agriculture, Schlegel adds.

"We are unique in agriculture because you can't predict the day your crop is ready," he says. "All crops have different characteristics, different growing seasons. We're different from a restaurant that needs a busboy seven days a week to clear tables."

Finding a workable policy to meet those needs will require a cooperative effort of everyone involved.

Texas enjoys wet spring - what about June?

At least one meteorologist says Texas is in a more "normal" weather cycle, whatever that means.

Last year, the Texas landscape was burnt brown in April and May due to lack of rainfall. This year is a different story, Gary Woodall with the National Weather Service in Fort Worth told TFB Radio Network's Curt Lancaster.

"We were still going through the terrible drought conditions last year and the rainfall that we've seen not only in April and May, but even going back to last fall across a fair portion of the state has really put a dent in those drought conditions and those precipitation deficits," Woodall said.

Rainfall was a mixed bag in some areas. Parts of the state, especially in the north-central, could use more rainfall to fill reservoirs. Pockets including the Coastal Bend, the northern part of the Panhandle, and far West Texas didn't get huge amounts of rain. But other areas did.

"We've certainly seen a dramatic flip-flop from last year into this year," Woodall said. "A lot of areas got three, four, five, six inches, and locally more than that across the state. Certainly, that continues to help the drought conditions, but unfortunately some flooding came from that as well."

So what does June hold in store? Equal chances for above or below normal temperatures and 50-50 chance for above or below normal precipitation, Woodall predicts.

"Again, June is typically when we start to dry out a little bit as far as our precipitation amounts go, but it looks like at least through the next month, there is no real ominous signs of any drought reestablishing over the state," he said. "We may not see a whole lot in the gauges over the summer, but again, not a strong signal for below normal precipitation. So hopefully we'll be able to hold our own as we go through the hot months."

FSA accepting emergency loan applications on losses

Cooke County was declared eligible for Farm Service Agency (FSA) disaster emergency loans. Generally, that means that farmers who have lost at least 30% of their production or a physical loss due to damages and losses caused by severe storms and tornadoes that occurred from April 21 through April 24, 2007 are eligible for FSA loans. Proceeds from crop insurance are taken into consideration when determining eligibility.

FSA Farm Loan Manager

Cynthia P. Kruger is urging farmers who are interested in receiving an emergency loan to submit their applications into FSA as soon as possible. Ms. Kruger said, "We hope farmers will get their applications in early rather than waiting until near the deadline, which is Jan. 8, 2008. The longer they wait, the more chance there is for long delays."

The FSA office is located at 604 North Main, Suite 100 in Weatherford. The telephone number is 817-599-7329.

COUNTY AGENT'S REPORT

WAYNE BECKER
CEA - AG/NR

Black Point of Wheat

State Small Grains Specialist Dr. Gaylon Morgan has received numerous reports of Black Point Disease of Wheat in the Blacklands. The disease is probably present to some degree every year, but not at a level of concern. However, some reports this year are at threshold levels from both a grain marketing and saving seed for planting perspective.

Black point is defined as the discoloration of the embryo (germ) end and surrounding areas of the wheat kernel, and occurs any time from grain filling to near harvest.

Various fungi that cause Black Point often occur on developing kernels that do not exhibit symptoms. High humidity or frequent rainfall from milk to soft dough stage, late season irrigation and lodging often trigger infection by these seed-inhabiting fungi. These fungi do not produce toxins but may reduce germination.

Although usually not yield-reducing, the presence of Black Point in harvested grain can reduce grade and quality, resulting in dockage by the elevator. Affected kernels are considered by U.S. grain standards to be damaged and only 2% are permitted in wheat graded as U.S. No. 1 and 4% in U.S. No. 2.

Disease impact

Possible consequences of Black Point include: reduced test weight; reduced market grade and dockage by the elevator; and reduced germination or increased incidence of seedling blight.

Symptoms

The embryo tip shows a black to brown discoloration that may extend into the crease of the kernel.

Dr. Morgan says about Black Point of Wheat, "At this point, we have no control over the level of infection and the marketing side. However, management practices should be considered if the producers are saving the seed for planting. If the incidence of Black Point Disease is high, then the grain should not be saved for seed. If the incidence of Black Point is low, then the seed should be treated with a fungicide. If seed treatments are not used, seedling blight will likely be high which will reduce stands, fall forage, and probably grain yields. Fungicide treatments will also control some other diseases, such as Common Bunt and Loose Smut."

A list of fungicides is available from the Texas Cooperative Extension Office.

Should wheat with pre-harvest sprout damage be saved for seed?

Growers should question suitability of grain for seed if germination or pre-harvest sprouting has occurred. Grains with split seed coats or exposed roots or shoots should not be kept for seed. Low test weight or bleached kernels also can indicate pre-harvest sprouting and point to the need to examine a seed lot further prior to planting or saving grain for seed.

Seed quality research from Kansas State University has shown little difference in seed germination at various sprouting levels immediately following harvest however, after a period of storage, the percent germination of sprouted seeds was reduced substantially. In any case, preplant germination tests need to be conducted before planting any seed with signs of pre-harvest sprouting, especially for wheat that has been stored for several months prior to planting.

Additional information on pre-harvest sprouting can be obtained from the following Web-sites:

Agriculture Briefs

U.S. corn producers are expected to plant 90.5 million acres of corn this coming spring, the highest since 1944, when 95.5 million were planted.

U.S. soybean producers should plant 67.1 million acres in 2007, the lowest acreage since 1996.

Estimated 2007 wheat to be planted is 60.3 million acres, up 5% from 2006.
