

Improvements progress in Muenster

By Janet Felderhoff

Those passing through Muenster on Hwy. 82 these days notice a variety of activity. Improvements on a large scale are evident by the amount of equipment seen at either end of town.

East of Muenster, Oncor Electric Delivery has contracted with Chapman Construction and Texas Electric to rebuild 22 miles of conductor lines and poles. Wooden poles will be replaced with more modern poles, some of them concrete and others of steel, depending on the need.

According to Sabrina Taylor, area manager for Oncor, the lines were built in 1927 and updated in 1961. She said that Oncor's studies in 2006 showed that there was a need to update that area. The funding for the project update came in 2007. It is expected to be completed by this April.

West of Muenster in the early morning and evenings, there are numerous trucks and assorted equipment along the north side of Hwy. 82. They belong to Spalj (Spial) of Deerwood, Minnesota. Spalj contracted with Nortex Communications to install its underground fiber optics to homes and businesses in Muenster and Valley View.

According to Mac Isaacs of Nortex, the contractor brought in about 50 employees, four to six directional boring trucks, and an assortment of other vehicles. "They are one of the best contractors I've ever worked with," praised Isaacs. "They are very responsive to the requests of Nortex and the citizens. They do quality work and I'm very pleased." Joey Anderson of Nortex echoed Isaacs sentiments on Spalj's work and cooperation.

Anderson said that the objective is to replace all of the telephone and television wiring owned by Nortex that is above ground with fiber optics that are underground.

The current wiring is copper. "Less than 2% have access to this technology," Anderson remarked. "We are way ahead of the curve on this."

Anderson said that after the wiring is switched to fiber optics, Nortex will have a greater capacity and be able to offer faster Internet service and more television channels.

Not apparent to residents in Muenster, but noticeable to those who live or work north of Muenster, are the first signs of the coming of FPL Energy's Wolf Ridge Wind Energy Project. Building of the actual wind turbine generators will not take place until some time in the spring, but preparation work is in progress.

Already completed is a lay down yard on three to five acres of land at the intersection of CR 425 and CR 430. It was leveled and gravel laid down. Mary Wells, FPL Energy community outreach manager, explained that the lay down yard is where large pieces of equipment will be staged until they are ready to erect them. After the project's completion, this area will not be used by FPL Energy and could go back to its original state.

A substation on the northeast corner of CR 477 and CR 431 is being constructed on three acres. FPL Energy plans to construct its operation and maintenance building there. That is a permanent location and will remain after the completion of the Wolf Ridge Energy Project.

Five hundred feet north of the lay down yard, a concrete batch plant will be constructed. Wells noted that this eliminates some of the truck traffic that would otherwise travel to the construction sites.

Edwin Giraldo, project manager, reported that the only equipment currently in this area in regard to the Wolf Ridge Project are a construction trailer, road grader, and a handful of pickup trucks. In the next couple of weeks, they will begin to put in the gravel access roads on private property.

Sometime in February, FPL expects to initiate work on the foundations at the turbine locations. Then in May, the large pieces of the turbines are expected. Wells promised to keep the public informed on exactly when these pieces will be navigating the local roadways.

There are 75 wind turbine generators planned for this project. All will be located in Cooke County. Most are in Muenster Independent School District, but a few are in Saint Jo ISD. Wells noted that they are in the process of signing a contract with a general construction contractor. That person will be in charge of hiring subcontractors such as electricians, equipment operators, and others with the trades or skills needed to complete the project. She said that they hire people as close to the site as they can. They like the area to enjoy as much of the economic benefits as possible.

Spalj continues digging around town in order to install fiber optic lines to homes and businesses. The new lines will replace existing phone and television cables and allow for advanced voice and data services in Muenster.

County gives thumbs up to FPL's installation requests

By Janet Felderhoff

Florida Power and Light's Wolf Ridge Wind Energy Project moved another step forward in its quest to install a wind energy center in western Cooke County. At the Monday, Jan. 14 regular meeting of Cooke County Commissioners Court, FPL's request to install lines across various county roads won unanimous approval from the three Court members present. Precinct #4 Commissioner Virgil Hess was absent due to illness and Precinct #3 Commissioner Al Smith was at a meeting in Austin.

The Wolf Ridge Wind Energy Project requested, at its expense, to install an eight inch high density polyethylene casing for an underground collection system consisting of three 34.5 kV electrical cables and one fiber optic communication line for the purpose of transferring electrical power and communication across the following county roads located in Precinct #4:

CR 477 running east and west approximately 5,050 feet north of CR 431;

CR 477 running east and west approximately 100 feet north of CR 431;

CR 431 running north and south approximately 250 feet east of CR 477;

CR 425 running east and west approximately 3,900 feet north of CR 430;

CR 430 running north and south approximately 100 feet east of CR 425; and CR 425, which would consist of three separate parallel collection systems, running east and west approximately 1350 feet north of CR 430.

Jennifer Cantu of Texoma Council of Governments (TCOG) requested support from Cooke County Commissioners Court. She sought approval for a grant application for the Texas Department of Transportation's (TxDOT) Job Access and Reverse Commute Program Grant.

Cantu explained that what she had in mind was for downtown Gainesville from November through January. "The project is primarily to educate business people and their employees that everyone can take TAPS, and by doing so, can hopefully open up some parking spaces that a lot of the employees use when they park in front of the business and make it a little harder for someone who is shopping downtown to find a parking spot." She suggested taking TAPS one or two days a week to make access to downtown parking more accessible.

What she asked of the County was support for the 50-50 match with TxDOT. TxDOT gives cash that is matched with in-kind services from the community rather than money. She suggested in-kind by the County be things such as making use of TAPS known to its employees. The City will also be asked to participate. Commissioners agreed to support the grant applications.

Uncollectible debt of $272,817.05 owed to the Cooke County EMS got the Commissioners stamp of approval to be written off the books. The debts are from 2004 and 2005. "It is just people who have used the ambulance service, most of them not local people, who have gone and can't be located," said County Judge Bill Freeman. "We've attempted several different ways to collect this and it is just uncollectible." All but 2% is private pay. A few are insurance companies. Even if written off, the money could still be collected should someone offer to pay.

The balance owed is kept as a receivable on the books and is making the receivable amount too large.

At the request of Precinct #2 Commissioner Steve Key,

Rain saturates area during 2007

One of the most memorable things of 2007 is all of the rainfall. After years of drought, the area was blessed with much needed rain that fell in quantities large enough to fill ponds and lakes. Lake Muenster even filled this year, an unexpected surprise since it was expected that it could take years to fill. The rain was not always so welcome. It brought disaster to some who had homes in Lindsay and Gainesville that were flooded, even destroyed, by rushing floodwaters in June. Three Gainesville residents lost their lives in that flood. The especially wet summer gave way to a fall that was much less generous with moisture and had no month with more than two inches of rain.

Severe weather observing, reporting, safety to be emphasized at Severe Storm Program

The 2007 storm season in north Texas was one for the history books. Widespread devastating flooding, large destructive windstorms, tornadoes, and hail all made appearances in our area. The toll on life and property was significant, with dozens of casualties and damage in the tens of millions of dollars.

The 2008 severe weather season is just around the corner. Are you ready for whatever this year has in store? Do you have a severe weather plan at your home and your workplace? Can you recognize the clues that suggest large hail, flash flooding, or a tornado is possible? Do you want to become part of the severe weather warning system in your county? As part of its area-wide weather preparedness campaign, the National Weather Service (NWS) in Fort Worth will answer these and many other questions in a severe storm spotter training program on Wednesday, Feb. 6, from 7 to 9 p.m. The program will be held in Gainesville at the Civic Center, and will be co-sponsored by the Gainesville and Cooke County Emergency Management offices.

The 2008 program will emphasize three fundamental concepts for severe weather events: observing, reporting, and safety. The program will discuss thunderstorm formation, severe weather production, and features associated with severe storms. The presentation will also review tornado formation and behavior, and safety when thunderstorms threaten. The program will discuss spotter operations and recommended procedures when spotting. The two-hour presentation will be in multimedia format, featuring numerous pictures of storms and nearly 25 minutes of storm video clips. The presentation will conclude with a review of the disastrous floods of June 2007.

"We have some new material in the 2008 spotter training program," said Gary Woodall, warning coordination meteorologist at the Fort Worth NWS office. "Nearly all of the photos and video clips are different this year. We'll have many more identification cases, and we'll discuss the operational aspects of storm spotters in more detail."

Despite the revisions to the program, the fundamental purpose of the spotter training is to increase public awareness of

Fischer's Market / KMB seek items for recycling

Recycle your old eyeglasses, used ink cartridges, and old cell phones at Fischer's Meat Market in the deli section of the store. This recycling project has been available at the Market for years, but very few people know about it. Keep Muenster Beautiful (KMB) had a new display box constructed in hopes that it would increase public awareness of this recycling project. The project is sponsored by Muenster ISD, KMB, and Fischer's Meat Market. Eyeglasses are given to optometrists to be reused, ink cartridges are refilled and reused, and cell phones are programmed with emergency only numbers and given to those who cannot afford phones.

Pictured is Fischer's employee, Stephanie Hoening recycling a cell phone. The recycled items are used for charitable purposes.

OBITUARIES

Milton Ray Monroe

Graveside Services for Milton Ray "Paw-Paw" Monroe, 81 of Mabank, Texas (formerly of Saint Jo) was held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 16, in Mountain Park Cemetery, Saint Jo with Lavelle Layfield officiating. Services were directed by McCoy Funeral Home, Saint Jo. Milton died at 12:10 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 13 in an Athens hospital.

Born Dec. 30, 1926 in Saint Jo, he was mostly raised in Nocona. He married Bonnie Lee Kreiter on Oct. 9, 1970 in Oklahoma. He and Bonnie lived in Mabank for the last 14 years. He had served two tours of duty in World War II as an army corporal and was awarded many service medals, including the Bronze Star. He was a long time diesel mechanic, a member of the Malakoff Church of Christ, a loving husband, father, grandfather, and great-grandfather, and a friend to many. He will be dearly missed by all who knew him.

Survivors are his wife Bonnie Lee Monroe of Mabank; daughters Delaine Shindoll and husband Ed, and Donna Robinson; sons Dennis Eskridge and wife Joan, and Kenny Eskridge and wife Diane; 11 grandchildren, and 16 great-grandchildren.

Milton was preceded in death by his parents Raymond and Hattie Monroe.

Sr. Genevieve McConnell, O.S.B.

Sr. Genevieve McConnell, O.S.B.

said, in part, "In the Old Testament book of Daniel, we have just heard the Word of God tell us: 'The just person will shine brightly like the splendor of the firmament; and those who have taught many people to do what is right, will shine like the stars forever.' These words, inspired by the Holy Spirit, describe the vocation and destination of our beloved Sister Genevieve..."

Fr. Richard went on to include word from Sister Genevieve's autobiography. "When I was in the eighth grade... During the course of the year we had a school play. I played the part of the Sister. More and more I felt the call to become a Sister. Yes, I went to dances, had a few boyfriends, and loved life. My father always spoke with reverence for Sisters, and encouraged me in every way. So did my pastor... One of my friends... was leaving for the convent in a couple of days... During her (farewell) party, my friend... said 'Come with me, Mary'... I continued working in the store... my friend was happy in the convent and, persuaded by my father, mother gave her consent. Thus, on Dec. 12, 1931, feast of our Lady of Guadalupe, I boarded the train for Nettleton... On Christmas Eve, I received the postulant veil..."

" (Mary McConnell) received the name Genevieve when she became a novice. She made her first vows on Aug. 15, 1933... taught primary grades in various Catholic schools... She considers this as one of her great joys throughout life."

"In February 1990, Sister Genevieve was named 'teacher of the year' by the Diocese of Fort Worth, and received recognition at a banquet... In bestowing this award, Dr. Jack Murdock commented 'Sister Genevieve was selected because of her contagious enthusiasm, boundless energy, and love for children... earned respect, appreciation, admiration, and love from three generations of parents, students, teachers, administrators, and community members.' At the close of the school year 1996 - 1997, Sister Genevieve bid farewell to Muenster, Texas, after teaching for 38 years at Sacred Heart School. She returned to the motherhouse in Jonesboro..."

Fr. Richard continued "I conclude with the observation that Sister Genevieve is loved by everyone whose life she has touched."

Less than a year ago, one of Muenster's major and most significant projects, Lake Muenster, was completed. It will not only provide almost complete flood control along upper Brushy Elm Creek, recreational benefits for all the citizens of our area, but most of all it will be an alternate potable water source for our community and surrounding area. Possibly in the not too distant future it may be our only water source.

The vision to build Lake Muenster began in the early 1970s. Many water boards served and put forth time and effort and petitioned for legislation to authorize the creation of the Muenster Water District. Over the years, many financial and bureaucratic hurdles needed to be resolved, and at times the task seemed almost impossible, but the water boards prevailed and in time it became evident that there really was a light (lake) at the end of the tunnel.

The greatest vote of thanks for the completion of Lake Muenster must go to the water board of Bob Bauer, Pat Stelzer, Milton Knauf, Eugene Walter, Wayne Grewing, and also past board member Claude Walter, and last but certainly not least, Celine Dittfurth, secretary to the board. It was through their dedication, perseverance and the generosity of Claude Walter that the project was approved and completed.

The citizens of Muenster truly owe the members of the Muenster Water Board their utmost appreciation and gratitude for staying the course to see Lake Muenster come to fruition.

Bob Attebury of the professional engineering company HVJ Associates was hired. He will give engineering advice and services on an as needed basis according to an agreed on fee schedule. An amount, not to exceed $10,000, was approved as a budget amendment line item from Precinct #2's Road and Bridge Fund for the professional services should they be needed. Any other precinct could do the same and use the service if needed.

Commissioners Court approved an amendment to the County's Personnel Policy to say that in the event of a natural disaster, all exempt employees will be paid time and a half. County Auditor Shelley Saunders asked that the County consider the amendment because it would be necessary in order to get a reimbursement from FEMA during a natural disaster.

"People like our emergency coordinator/fire marshal can work an exorbitant amount of hours during a natural disaster and not get paid for it," Saunders noted as she cited the need for the updated amendment.

Judge Freeman noted that it would probably most affect Ray Fletcher, the emergency management coordinator/fire marshal, and Bob Harbin, the EMS director. "In our last disaster, we got no overtime for either one of those two employees who worked numerous hours of overtime," he commented. They are exempt from overtime pay according to the Federal Standards Labor Law.

In other business, Commissioners Court:

- Approved the adoption of a construction, operation, and maintenance of overhead power lines indemnity contract.

- Approved purchase of a 770 B John Deere Motor Grader from the State of Texas for Precinct #3.

- Accepted a monetary donation of $75 from Danny and Dana Knight to the Cooke County Library.

- Tabled possible approval of Cooke County Computer, Software, Network, and Internet Use Policy until all members of the Court could be present.

- Approved Public Employee Honesty Bond for County Clerk's Office.

- Approved bonds for Dudley Ivie, County Court At Law bailiff, and for Anthony J. Ward, Cooke County constable, Precinct #4.

- Approved proclamation regarding Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Day in Cooke County.

- Approved surplus of Sheriff's vehicles and sale by auction at a minimum of $2,750 each.

- Designated certain items of County equipment and supplies as surplus and approved advertising for bids. Included are fax machine, printer, food freezer, desks, chairs, keyboards, and filing cabinets.

- Approved 2008 Cooke County Investment Policy per recommendation of County Treasurer Judy Hunter.

ing - and of the storm spotter network as a whole - remains unchanged. "We could not do our job as well as we do without storm spotters. Radar is a great tool, but it only tells us part of a storm's story. Spotter observations complement the electronic data we use to analyze storms. The combination of spotter reports and radar data gives us the best possible picture of the storms and what's going on inside them."

The program is free and open to the public. "By coming to this program, you will learn a lot about thunderstorms," Woodall said. "Even if you don't become an active storm spotter, you will learn about how storms work and the visual clues you can identify when storms are in your area. We will discuss severe weather safety tips. This will better prepare yourself and your family for the threats that storms pose."

The Cooke County severe weather program is one of over 40 that the Fort Worth NWS office will conduct between January and early April 2008. The National Weather Service in Fort Worth provides forecasts, warnings, and weather services for 46 counties in north and north-central Texas.

For more information on severe weather and the National Weather Service, visit the Fort Worth Forecast Office's website at <http://www.weather.gov/fortworth>.

Dec. 4, 1992

Mr. R. W. Trew told me a number of tales concerning some of the early day problems that arose from time to time, between the German settlers of Muenster, and some of the bully-boys that ranched in the surrounding area.

He told of a happening that, if my memory serves me well, took place on Brushy Elm Creek just west of Muenster. The German settlers were holding a celebration or picnic there, an event that lasted two days. They had a tent set up, and had a variety of foods cooked and cooking, and of course, had their barrel of beer cooled, and with visiting, games, and other contests, were having a pretty good time, when a group of five or six riders rode in, ran their mounts through the crowd, kicking up dust, then dismounted and proceeded to make themselves about as obnoxious as possible. They ate of whatever they chose, helped themselves to the beer, pushed people about using a great deal of profanity.

Several of the settlers attempted to talk them into behaving in a more genial fashion, but were only subjected to more abuse. By this time, a number of the settlers had armed themselves with some of the split firewood, from a supply that was used for cooking. They had agreed not to hit the bullies on the face or head, but if they began fighting, to bring the wood down on their fists and arms, and if that didn't stop them, they could proceed from there.

Well, to make a long story short, the visitors put up quite a fight, but in the end, were all pretty well beaten up and all of them laid out on the ground. Mr. Trew said the next problem was what to do with them. He said the Muensterites loaded the men in a wagon, like cordwood, and he thought they hauled them out to the farm now owned by Charlie Hellman, where there was a building strong enough to hold them until a lawman could be contacted, and let him take it from there. Eventually, the men were brought into Muenster and placed in the one-cell jail. That's where Mr. Trew said he saw them the following day. He knew some of them and said, while some of them always had big hands, at that time they were swollen about twice their normal size, and some of the men had shiners and lumps here and there.

To put it in Mr. Trew's own words, "They were just about the sorriest lookin' lot I had ever seen!"

Saint Anne's begins new year with meeting

The Saint Anne's Society of Sacred Heart held their first meeting of 2008 on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 13. President Imelda Rohmer led opening prayers, then Treasurer Lanie Bartush gave the year-end financial report. Lucille Hess thanked those who helped with the gift baskets given to Sister Jeanette and Sister Lillian Marie for Christmas. Special mention was made of Millie Voth who donated pecans for the baskets and Lora's Flowers & Gifts who decorated the baskets.

Lucille also reported that get well cards had been sent to Deb Klement, Dorothy Yosten, and Florence Fisher.

Lanie Bartush led special prayers for the Society's members who had died in 2007. They were Polly Reiter, Agnes Walter, Caroline Hess, Bea Hess, Eleanor Sicking, Lucy Hess, and Marie Reiter. Sister Genevieve McConnell was also mentioned in the prayers.

Tillie Otto asked for volunteers to help with Bingo on the first Wednesday morning of the month at St. Richard's Villa. Billye Huchton and Betty Kralicke agreed to help. If anyone else is interested in helping, call Tillie at 759-2732.

Members were reminded of dues for the year. Dues are $10 and can be paid to Lanie Bartush.

Saint Anne's plans to have a table set up at the Festival of Ministries on Feb. 23 and 24. If you are interested in joining Saint Anne's Society, please come by and visit with them at the Festival of Ministries.

Leslie and Marilyn Sandmann of Gainesville announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Renee Sandmann to Kyle Keith of Gainesville. Parents of the future groom are Bobby Keith of Dublin, Texas and Penny Keith of Sanger. Father Ron Scheible and Pastor Luke Smith will officiate for the wedding, which is planned for Saturday, Feb. 2, 2008, in St. Peter's Catholic Church in Lindsay. Miss Sandmann is a 2003 graduate of Lindsay ISD and a 2007 graduate of Midwestern State University. She is a radiologic technologist. Mr. Keith graduated from Dublin High School in 1998 and attended North Central Texas College. He is employed as an H.V.A.C. air conditioning tech. Feb. 2 is date of Cub Scout food drive

The Cub Scouts of America Annual Scouting for Food Drive will be held Saturday, Feb. 2. The Scouts are asking for canned goods and nonperishable food items.

All proceeds will be distributed evenly between the food banks of Muenster's First Baptist Church and Sacred Heart Church.

Please have items ready to be picked up by local area scouts. They will collect door to door between 9 a.m. and noon on Saturday morning, Feb. 2. If you will not be home, donations may be left on the front porch for pick-up.

Community members outside the city limits may leave items at the west entrance of the Sacred Heart Community Center on the morning of Feb. 2.

Further questions may be answered by Allen Sicking at 940-759-2907.

Martins are coming

Want less pesky flying insects this spring and summer? Try attracting Purple Martins, "America's Most Wanted Bird," to your property. Purple Martins feed only on flying insects and they also are fun to listen to and watch. They will be returning to this area in February and March.

You are invited to attend a free workshop on "How to Attract and Care for Purple Martins" on Saturday, Jan. 26 at 2 p.m. in the Forestburg Community Center. The workshop will include time to exchange ideas as well as time for questions before and after the seminar. There will also be a brief presentation on bluebirds and hummingbirds. Those presenting the program include Ron and Betty Bailey, Susan Tartaglino, and Troy Gallo-way.

Free handouts will be available as well as a display of houses, books, CDs, and other material related to Purple Martins.

If you have an interest in attracting, maintaining, or improving your care of Purple Martin birds, make reservations to attend this workshop. There will be a drawing for door prizes at the end of the workshop.

For more information and reservations, call 940-964-2644.

Cooke County tackles hunger with "Souper" Bowl Sunday event

National in scope, yet local in impact, the Souper Bowl of Caring works toward making the weekend of the big game an unprecedented time of giving and serving in this country.

Local churches and businesses have been participating in this national effort for almost a decade by passing a bowl or a basket on Super Bowl Sunday to donate to Cooke County's emergency food bank, VISTO.

VISTO (Volunteers In Service To Others) will once again offer the popular Souper Bowl Sunday Luncheon. It will be held Super Bowl Sunday, Feb. 3 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at First United Methodist Church, 214 S. Denton. A variety of soups prepared by the VISTO Board of Directors is on the menu. It is donation only, $5 suggested per bowl. And you get to keep the bowl to remind you there are still empty bowls in Cooke County.

The money will go to help buy food for the emergency food bank and the Back Pack Buddy program. "We can buy food for significantly less than the public can. For example, I just bought five chickens for 75c each, and I can buy peanut butter for 18c a jar," said Michelle Baldwin, executive director of VISTO. "It was so much fun last year and such a success we plan to make this an annual signature fundraising project."

The Back Pack Buddy program helps make sure some Cooke County school children and their siblings don't go hungry over the weekend during the school year. "We're in every school in the county (except for one) and provide supplemental nutrition assistance to over 850 children a week," Baldwin noted. "The cost of the Back Pack Buddy program equals our whole emergency food bank which means we basically doubled the amount of food (and cost) we give out historically. We have always been able to function on the generosity of donations from the good people of Cooke County, but with the demand for the Back Pack Buddy program continuing to grow, we have to look at every avenue, including more fundraisers."

In fact, VISTO is announcing an additional fundraiser scheduled for March 31 at North Central Texas College. The format will be like the hit TV show "Are You Smarter Than a Fifth Grader" and will feature local celebrity contestants. If you would like to be a sponsor or nominate someone to be a contestant, contact VISTO at 668-6403 or e-mail edvisto@sbcglobal.net.

Baldwin said everyone is invited and encouraged to attend the luncheon or to make donations. They also still need bowls. If you would like to donate unused ceramic bowls for the luncheon, call 668-6403.

Smile - God loves you!

Jason Gehrig family now resides stateside

Jason and Felicia Gehrig and their three young children Jessica, age six, Nicholas, age three, and Anthony, age two have returned from their mission home in Bolivia. They now live in Bronx, New York. It was the first year since 2001 that the family celebrated Christmas in the United States.

Jason is doing a year and a half graduate program in international economics and development at Fordham University. He attends classes in the evening and cares for the two boys during the day. Jessica is now in kindergarten.

Felicia teaches Spanish at three Catholic schools. Her students range in age from pre-kindergarten through 8th grade. She covers 32 classes with more than 950 students total.

Two of the mission projects in Bolivia that have been supported by a number of local people were addressed by the couple in a Christmas letter to family. One is a parish network of five libraries that serves more than 15,000 children in Senkata, El Alto. The other is a nonprofit organization, Suma Jayma, that is dedicated to bringing clean water to thousands of rural Aymara families. Jason and Felicia wrote, "For every $5 contributed to the libraries, another textbook will be made available, used repeatedly by hundreds of kids. For between $25 and $50 (depending on how spread out a community is), another person has access to safe drinking water in their homes, 24 hours a day, seven days a week."

Some who supported these in the past expressed a desire to continue even though Jason and Felicia are no longer official members of the Maryknoll Missions. The couple wrote, "At any time in the months/year ahead, if you would like to donate to the libraries project, please make a check out to Maryknoll, noting Bolivia Libraries. If you would like to donate to the water projects, please make a check out to Water Engineers for the Americas (WEFTA), noting Bolivia Water." Since they are longer official members of Maryknoll, the Gehrigs ask that the checks be sent to their mailing address so that they can forward them to the proper channels. That address is Jason and Felicia Gehrig, 2413 Wilson Ave., Bronx, NY 10469. Their email address is JFGehrig@yahoo.com.

The Gehrigs - Nicholas, Felicia, Jessica, Anthony, and Jason.

Program to feature Second Hand Rose

Gainesville Christian Women Connection's January Luncheon will be held Thursday, Jan. 24, at 401 W. Garnett, Gainesville. Event time is 11 a.m. - 1 p.m. Cost is $10 (inclusive).

The special program Second-Hand Rose will be a style show featuring "second-hand" attire that the models purchased at several area thrift stores. You won't want to miss it!

Rachael Studdard will be the special music guest. Keynote speaker will be Leslie Kinchen of Waco. Her topic is "Overcoming Fears and Insecurities."

The group notes, "Are you new to our area and looking for friends? Then join us for this special occasion. You will be welcomed with open arms."

For reservations, call Judy at (940) 612-3130 by Monday, Jan. 21.

Epilepsy training offered Jan. 21 by Home Hospice

Home Hospice of Cooke County will host an Epilepsy In-Service on Monday, Jan. 21, at 6 p.m. at the Muenster State Bank in Gainesville. This is open to the public and is free of charge.

This training is a free community resource that provides participants the opportunity to:

- Understand how to identify seizures
- Know what to do during a seizure
- Be aware of what NOT to do during a seizure
- Recognize when a seizure is an emergency
- Overcome the myths and misperceptions surrounding seizures and epilepsy.

Things you should know about epilepsy:

- Epilepsy can happen to anyone, at any age, at any time.
- There are over 100,000 people with epilepsy in North Texas.
- Epilepsy is a neurological disorder that produces sudden, brief changes in how brain cells function.
- Epilepsy is sometimes called a seizure disorder.
- In more than 70% of all people with epilepsy, no cause can be found.
- Epilepsy may be caused by head injury, stroke, brain tumors, lead poisoning, problems in brain development before birth, illnesses that affect the brain like meningitis, encephalitis, or even severe cases of measles.
- Epilepsy is not contagious.
- Although some types of epilepsy are associated with genetic factors, epilepsy usually develops with no family history of the condition at all.

The Epilepsy Foundation will ensure that people with seizures are able to participate in all life experiences; and will prevent, control, and cure epilepsy through services, education, advocacy, and research.

Advisory committees to form on transportation corridors

The Texas Transportation Commission is looking for interested citizens to form new advisory committees for the major transportation corridors, a move to give more Texans a seat at the table in developing statewide transportation corridors.

The advisory committees will assist TxDOT with planning and decision making on statewide initiatives, such as the Trans-Texas Corridor.

"To develop the major transportation corridors successfully, we want to build greater cooperation and better understanding with the public," said Amadeo Saenz, executive director of the Texas Department of Transportation.

Initially, two advisory committees will be established. One will focus on the Interstate 35 corridor, including the Trans-Texas Corridor 35. Another advisory committee will focus on the planned Interstate 69 corridor, including I-69/TTC.

Each committee will look at the broad overview of the corridors and its overall project development.

The transportation commission is asking citizens interested in serving on the advisory committees to submit an application. Applications are available online at HYPERLINK "http://www.txdot.gov" www.txdot.gov and are due by Friday, Feb. 8.

To ensure a cross-section of Texas is represented on the committees, members will include affected groups including property and business owners, representatives of local government, chambers of commerce, as well as environmental, technical, and engineering experts and others.

In addition, TxDOT will also begin setting up corridor segment committees to focus on individual segments of the TTC. These segment committees will provide input and advice to the department regarding specific routes or what components of the TTC would be needed for the particular corridor segment.

"The purpose of these corridor advisory committees is to bring in more local involvement and representation in shaping the state's transportation system," said Saenz. "We won't solve our state's problems without public awareness and public involvement."

Wildlife Myth

Myth: Cats belong outdoors and it is not fair to keep them inside the house.

Fact: Letting cats roam outside subjects them to perils of the outdoor world, particularly being hit by cars. Indoor cats live a healthier and longer life. Outdoor cats, even well-fed ones, spend much time mangling and killing wildlife like ground-nesting baby rabbits, chipmunks and baby birds who have not yet learned to fly. Wildlife and cats are at risk when people let their cats out.

Myth: Opossums are vicious and rabid.

Fact: Opossums are resistant to rabies most likely due to their low body temperature. Opossums are also harmless, benign creatures who can hardly defend themselves. Their hissing, teeth-baring, and drooling is not a sign of rabies but rather a bluff to scare off potential predators. When their "I'm scary" act doesn't work, they play dead.

Davis wins SHCS geography bee

Michael Davis, an eighth grader at Sacred Heart Catholic School, won the school-level competition of the National Geographic Bee on Jan. 11 and a chance at a $25,000 college scholarship. The school-level Bee, at which students from 4th through 8th grade answered oral questions on geography, was the first round in the 20th Annual National Geographic Bee. The National Geographic Society sponsors the Bee.

The kickoff for this year's Bee was the week of Nov. 12, with thousands of schools around the United States and in the five U.S. territories participating. The school winners, including Michael Davis, will now take a written test. Up to 100 of the top scorers in each state will be eligible to compete in their State Bee on April 4.

The National Geographic Society will provide an all-expenses-paid trip to Washington D.C., for State champions and teacher-escorts to participate in the National Geographic Bee National Championship on May 20 and 21. The 1st place National winner will receive a $25,000 college scholarship and a lifetime membership in the Society. The program will air on television hosted by Alec Trebek.

Anyone can brush up on geography with GeoBee Challenge, an online geography quiz at www.nationalgeographic.com/geobee, which poses 10 new questions a day from previous National Geographic Bees.

The top 10 winners were: 1, Michael Davis, 8th; 2, Austin Springer, 8th; 3, Bob Bartush, 8th; 4, Quinn Sicking, 8th; 5, Isaac Barnhill, 7th; 6, Clay Hogan, 7th; 7, Michael Weinzapfel, 7th; 8, Bailey Walterscheid, 6th; 9, Morgan Swank, 7th; 10, John Hesse, 7th.

The top six winners in each grade were:

8th grade: 1, Michael Davis; 2, Austin Springer; 3, Bob Bartush; 4, Quinn Sicking; 5, Kendall Reiter; 6, Austin Miller.

7th grade: 1, Isaac Barnhill; 2, Clay Hogan; 3, Michael Weinzapfel; 4, Morgan Swank; 5, John Hesse; 6, Andy Flusche.

6th grade: 1, Bailey Walterscheid; 2, Chris Bartush; 3, Tavi Saldana; 4, Jackie Peterson; 5, Teresa Boles; 6, Kevin Flusche.

5th grade: 1, Alec Hudson; 2, James Dangelmayr; 3, Hayel Turczynski; 4, Daniel Turczynski; 5, Jason Knabe; 6, Isaac Walterscheid.

4th grade: 1, Kason Reeves; 2, Jared Dangelmayr; 3, Ramsey Hernandez; 4, Daniel Hesse; 5, Katie Davidson; 6, Kyle Grewing.

TWU offers math and science conference for middle school girls

Texas Woman's University continues its role as a leader in promoting math and science careers for women by presenting the "Expanding Your Horizons™ in Science and Mathematics" conference for middle school girls on Saturday, Feb. 16.

Young women in sixth, seventh, and eighth grade are eligible to attend the biannual conference, which runs from 8:15 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the TWU Denton campus. The registration fee is $10 per person and the event is open to the first 350 girls who apply. Registration is open through Saturday, Feb. 2, and scholarships for attendees are available. For more information, visit HYPERLINK "http://www.twu.edu/AS/college/expanding.htm" or www.twu.edu/AS/college/expanding.htm or call (940) 367-6345.

Conference participants will meet female leaders in the fields of math and science and learn more about math and science careers and what education and skills are needed to succeed. Workshops will be offered on chemistry, zoology, entomology, engineering, nursing, and other topics. Parents and teachers can also attend sessions on picking out courses, how to use a graphing calculator, and how to apply for financial aid and scholarships.

The "Expanding Your Horizons™ in Science and Mathematics" conference is presented by the TWU College of Arts and Sciences, the American Association of University Women - Denton Branch, the Expanding Your Horizons™ Network, and the Denton County Women's Education Network, Inc.

Sacred Heart trounces Notre Dame

The Sacred Heart varsity basketball teams dominated the court Monday night as they hosted Notre Dame of Wichita Falls in District combat. When the last buzzer sounded, the home teams totaled 175 points to the visitors' 66.

"The girls were very intense and the boys played their best game of the season," commented Coach Jon LeBrasseur on the Tigerettes' 82-26 and the Tigers' 93-40 victories. "The boys took a giant step in becoming a good basketball team," noted Coach LeBrasseur on the Tigers' big District victory.

After a 21-15 1st quarter, Sacred Heart extended their lead to 18 points at halftime. But it was 35 Tiger points in the 3rd period that slew the Notre Dame Knights.

Also scoring were Tigerettes Kalyssa Pollard and Raynee Hogan with 5 apiece, and Sydney Hoedebeck 4. The win improves the Tigerettes' season record to 20-4, and 2-0 in District.

Lindsay High School athletes make All-State

For some Lindsay High school athletes, the honors continue to roll in long after the seasons have ended. The Lady Knights landed three volleyball players on the Texas Sports Writers Association/Collin Street Bakery 2007 All-State Volleyball Team. Setter Madisen Burrows and middle blocker Chelsea Hermes, both seniors, were named to the All-State Second Team. Kaylee Murphree, an outside hitter sophomore for the Lady Knights, received a State Honorable Mention. Lindsay Knight senior Keith Hermes also received State honors, being named to the Texas High School Coaches Association All-State Academic Football Team, receiving an Honorable Mention in Class A. Hermes was the Knight quarterback and a defensive back last season.

Lindsay swats Era

The Lindsay Lady Knights defeated the Era Lady Hornets Tuesday night 62-26 for their third District victory. Scoring for Lindsay was led by Christina Eckart with 18 points, Stephanie Neu 11, and Beverly Knabe with 10 points. Chelsea Hermes added 9, Emily Fuhrmann and Rose Hermes 6 apiece, and Katelyn Brewer 2. Eckart was also the team's leading rebounder and blocker. R.

Hermes and Neu got the most steals, with C. Hermes giving out the most assists. The Knights earned another District win, defeating Era 51-41. Colton Hermes led Lindsay's scoring with 14. Garrett Block added 12, Preston Mendez 11, Ross Jones and Josh Heilman 5 apiece, and Keith Hermes 4.

Sacred Heart falls to Lindsay teams

In a battle of defending State Champions, the Sacred Heart Tigerettes in TAPPS and the UIL Lindsay Lady Knights, last Friday's contest in Lindsay drew a large crowd. When the last buzzer sounded, the Lady Knights took a 59-41 victory over the Tigerettes. The Knights were also winners, defeating the Tigers 61-46 in non-district play.

A cold shooting 1st quarter by the Tigerettes allowed Lindsay to get an early lead that they never gave up. Sacred Heart closed the points to within 4 in the 2nd period before the Lady Knights regained control of the game.

Samantha Wimmer led the Tigerettes with 26 points, three assists and two steals. Kara Felderhoff added 6 points, Lauren Creed 4, Kristin LeBrasseur 3, and Raynee Hogan 2. Wimmer, Creed, and LeBrasseur each pulled down five rebounds.

Scoring for the Lady Knights was Chelsea Hermes with 21 points and five assists. Christina Eckart added 11 points, Stephanie Neu and Emily Fuhrmann 8 apiece, Katelyn Brewer 5, Rose Hermes 4, and Hillary Hoelker 2. All of the Lindsay scorers pulled down rebounds, led by Eckart with 14. Eckart also had five blocked shots and four steals. C. Hermes had five steals.

"I was pleased with the effort and the discipline the girls showed," commented Coach Don Neu. "Sacred Heart is a very good team and it was a good game to help us down the road."

TEXAS GAME WARDEN FIELD REPORTS

The following are excerpts from recent Texas Parks and Wildlife Department law enforcement reports.

The $65,000 hogs

On Aug. 19, a Montgomery Co. game warden received a call about someone trespassing to hunt on a lease near Magnolia. Information was that several subjects from a subdivision bordering the lease had come onto the property and shot several hogs. The first game warden at the scene found where the hogs had been dragged from the lease then followed the trail back to a residence. Soon, another game warden joined the first at the residence to assist with the investigation. While one game warden was interviewing the suspect, the second noticed what appeared to be blood on a 2005 Kawasaki Mule 4x4. The suspect stated the blood on the Mule was old then challenged the game wardens to find evidence of illegal hunting on the Mule and gave consent to search. Well, he forgot about the baggie of marijuana he had in the glove box of the Mule. The game warden also noticed that the ignition had been tampered with and a master lock key was in it. The game warden started asking the suspect questions about the Mule 4x4 and received several different versions as to how he acquired it.

The game warden located the VIN and a routine check found that it had been reported stolen through Rice University PD in November 2006. A Caterpillar skid steer loader at the location had its identification plate removed; the secondary VIN was located and it was found to be stolen. While all of this was going on, a man on an ATV drove by the wardens' location. Suspecting that he may be connected to the poaching call, the game warden chased the ATV operator down and stopped him. The ownership of the ATV came into question, so the game wardens followed the subject to a second residence where several other ATVs were located. They continued their investigation on the trespassing and poaching call along with the possible involvement of the newly discovered ATVs. When the dust finally settled, the Montgomery Co. game wardens had recovered one stolen 2005 Kawasaki Mule 4x4, a stolen Bobcat loader, and three stolen ATVs, with an estimated value of $65,000. The first suspect was transported to Montgomery Co. Jail for possession of marijuana. Investigation continues with assistance from local Motor Vehicle Theft Task Force.

Suspect makes contact

On Aug. 17 at approximately 11:45 p.m., a Robertson Co. game warden initiated the stop of a suspicious vehicle on a county road in Robertson Co. The vehicle was traveling at a very low rate of speed heading toward the game warden's truck. The game warden began to exit his truck when he noticed that the suspect vehicle was still slowly moving toward his truck. The vehicle continued moving forward until it came to rest against the bumper of the game warden's truck. Due to this odd driving behavior, the game warden conducted a felony stop.

Once the suspects were removed from the vehicle and secured, the game warden discovered a bottle of hydrocodone in the center console. The pills were not prescribed to either suspect. The two men were arrested and charged with possession of a controlled substance and the driver was charged with driving without a valid driver's license. There was no damage to the state vehicle, extinguishers on the vessel.

Really, we don't have any fish

On Aug. 5, a Harrison Co. game warden filed two MIP cases at Brandy Branch Lake. The minors stated they did not have any fish in the live well. The game warden verified that the live well had no fish, but it was full of iced down beer.

Extruder Operators Needed for Plastics Extrusion Manufacturing Facility

GAF Materials Corporation, a leading manufacturer of building materials products, has recently opened a state-of-the-art twin-screw plastics extrusion facility in Gainesville, TX.

We are growing, and adding a 3rd Production Crew to our operation due to increasing demand. We have outstanding opportunities for safety-minded individuals with industrial experience to join our team of professionals!

Our positions require a minimum 5 years experience in manufacturing, with prior plastics extrusion experience preferred. Positions also require a High School Diploma or GED, the ability to operate a personal computer, strong problem-solving & teamwork skills, a good work ethic, & the ability to work under limited supervision. The ideal candidate will have a professional attitude, be safety-minded, & be able to work in a fast-paced environment. Extruder Operators work a rotating shift schedule.

We offer full-time employment with competitive pay of $14 to $18/hour, and room to grow. We also offer competitive company benefits that include medical, dental, paid vacation & holidays, 401K with company match, & a great work environment where everyone's contribution makes a difference.

Come join our team!

If you think you have what it takes to be a part of our Manufacturing Team, then apply with us! Submit your resume and cover letter to: resume22@gaf.com. Applications also accepted at Workforce Texoma, 900 N. Grand, Ste. 103 in Gainesville, TX or at 2415 S. Austin Ave., Ste. 105 in Denison, TX.
