Jubilees observed with four Olivetan Benedictine Sisters

By Janet Felderhoff
An outpouring of love and appreciation was bestowed on four Benedictine nuns who celebrated their jubilees in Sacred Heart Parish on Sunday, April 13. Three of the four are Muenster natives and the fourth chose to celebrate in Muenster.

Diamond Jubilee celebrant was Sr. Georgia Felderhoff. Golden Jubilee celebrants were Sr. Jeanette Bayer and Sr. Lillian Reiter. Sr. Damian Atkinson celebrated her Silver Jubilee. All are members of the Olivetan Benedictine Sisters of Holy Angels Convent in Jonesboro, Arkansas.

Concelebrating the Mass of Celebration were Sacred Heart Pastor Rev. Ken Robinson and Rev. Kyle Walterscheid. Fr. Ken noted that between the four they were celebrating 185 years of service.

Assisting with the Mass were relatives of the celebrants. Cletus Bayer gave the First Reading and Linda Sepanski gave the Second Reading. Donna McClendon offered the Prayers of the Faithful. The four celebrants presented Offertory Gifts. Altar servers were Karleigh Reeves, Hayden Schilling, and Bailey Walterscheid.

Clarence Bayer, Frieda Bayer, Stacie Miller, Sandra Reeves, Cheryl Russell, Ruth Schwab, Lauren Sepanski, and Sara Sepanski served as Eucharistic ministers. Ushers were Aaron Flusche, Andy Flusche, Matthew Flusche, and Cason Reeves.

Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus served as Honor Guard.

Following Mass, hundreds of guests attended a reception in the Community Center hosted by Sacred Heart Parish. On display were photos of the honorees from childhood on into the present.

A cake, baked and decorated by Betty Rose Walterscheid, centered a table near the east wall. It was a four-tier cake with sides embellished with a scroll design. It was separated with two fluted bowl separators that had red roses and gold ribbon inside. Focal points of red roses, gold ribbon, and English ivy covered the sides

KMB volunteers gather seventy-eight bags of litter in Trash-off

On Saturday, April 12, 65 Muenster citizens turned out for Keep Muenster Beautiful's annual "Don't Mess with Texas Trash-off" event. Everyone met at the City Park pavilion at 9 a.m. for a group photo.

Gary Fisher gave the safety briefing and announcements. The group picked up more than 78 bags of trash and miscellaneous items such as buckets, tire parts, lumber, and a utility pole.

Muenster State Bank provided lunch to all the workers. Retired bank president and former city mayor Henry Weinzapfel grilled all the hot dogs. Door prizes were provided by Bayer's Kolonialwaren, Fischer's Meat Market, Dollar General, Muenster Chamber of Commerce, Sonic, and Keep

Cooke County contracts for Code Red notification system

By Janet Felderhoff
Imagine being able to notify hundred of County resident in a matter of minutes when an emergency situation threatens their safety. That should soon be a potential lifesaving reality in Cooke County.

Contracting with Code Red, a public emergency notification system, garnered approval from Commissioners Court at the April 14 meeting. Cooke County Emergency Management Coordinator Ray Fletcher noted that initially the cost would be covered by using this year's Homeland Security funds.

Mike Condit of Code Red explained that the system is a very high speed outbound voice calling system that also does text and email. "What it does at the rate of about 60,000 calls an hour, is notify people's home phones, business phones, and cell phones if there is any type of emergency," he said. "This is technology that did not exist a few years ago."

County Judge Bill Freeman noted that the City of Gainesville is looking at a similar system, and the possibility of sharing a program with the County is being considered. According to Condit, it is not uncommon for a county to share with cities. He said city use is usually for different purposes than county use. County use is typically to notify residents about disasters or Homeland Security types of issues. Cities use it more for normal events such as community activities, water shutoffs, sewer backups, etc.

Printouts are available of all the people who received notification.

Fletcher said that as he understands it, you can access the system from any computer anywhere. A code is required.

"The calling list feature will include all of our employees' phone numbers," said Fletcher. They could be quickly notified in the event of weather closings or delays, and other work issues.

The contract allows 50,000 minutes per year. Fletcher said there are about 15,000 See COUNTY, pg. 2

Sacred Heart High School students compete at State

Fifteen Sacred Heart Catholic High school students competed at the TAPPS State Finals in Academics, Art, and Music.

Isabel Ramirez earned a 3rd place medal in Spanish, the only point maker in the Academic division.

Five works of art by Sacred Heart students placed. In the Mixed Media division, Kevin Kulle earned a 4th place and Janet Strother a 5th.

Three entries placed in the Interior-Exterior Furnishing division. Katy Satree brought home a 4th place, with Lauren Sepanski earning a 5th and 6th finish.

In Music competition, Ginger Bartush earned a 2 rating in the female solo division.

Others qualifying for State were: Eric Borowski, Isaac Davis, Mitch Hesse, Raynee Hogan, Lisa Miller, Erin Moody, Kalyssa Pollard, and Ben Walterscheid in Academics; and David Miller and Holly Rohmer in Art.

Use caution when burning to prevent uncontrollable fires

The Muenster Volunteer Fire Department was called to a grass fire Monday afternoon on North Hwy. 373. Quick response kept the fire from spreading too far from the yard into surrounding pastures. Fire Chief Herbie Knabe noted that last year's dead, dry growth is still present and is very flammable, even with the new green growth coming in. Extra caution should be taken with any outside burning. Janie Hartman photo

Dance school coming to Muenster!

Leslie Eddleman is excited to announce the opening of her dance school "Premiere Dance" in Muenster. All age groups are welcome from four years to adult.

Summer classes offered will be limited to Tap-N-Groove and Hip-Hop Jam! Fall classes will begin in September, and Leslie will be offering Lyrical (ballet basics for pre-k, youth, and junior levels), Jazz, Tap, and Hip-hop Jam. Registration is underway now, and space is limited.

Leslie has had extensive training in dance and performance in her 30 years of dance. She holds a degree in dance from Texas Woman's University where she trained extensively in the art of Ballet, Jazz, Tap, Modern dance, kinesiology, and technique for proper body alignment and movement. Leslie, a former Dallas Cowboys Cheerleader, has traveled the world as part of the elite "Show Group" of the Cowboys Cheerleaders.

This group of 12 dancers was chosen out of the original 32 cheerleaders to travel and perform shows on USO tours overseas, dance, and appear on variety telethons such as the Jerry Lewis Telethon in Las Vegas, perform halftime shows for the Rugby league in New Zealand, entertain at college halftime shows, as well as dance on the sidelines for the Dallas Cowboy's Games.

For 15 years, Leslie has See DANCE, pg. 2

OBITUARIES

Miklos Nagy 1936 - 2008

Funeral Mass for Miklos Nagy of Lindsay was Wednesday, April 16 at 10 a.m. in St. Peter's Catholic Church with Rev. Ron Scheible, O.S.A. officiating. Burial followed in St. Peter's Cemetery under the direction of Geo. J. Carroll & Son Funeral Home. Miklos Nagy died at the age of 71 on Saturday, April 12, 2008 at Wilson N. Jones Medical Center in Sherman.

Born Oct. 28, 1936 in Dunasziget, Hungary to Benedek and Julianna Nagy. Miklos arrived in the United States on Dec. 8, 1956 and settled in Lindsay. He married Shirley Streng on April 23, 1977 in St. Peter's Church in Lindsay. Miklos was a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church, and enjoyed playing with his grandchildren, working in his shop, and tending his cattle.

Survivors include his wife Shirley of Lindsay; daughter and son-in-law Sabrina and Brad Wolf of Lindsay; two grandchildren; and sister Margit Beko of Hungary.

Preceding him in death were his parents; brothers Tibor and Benedek Nagy; sister and brother-in-law Ottil and Gylva Marko; and brother-in-law Lajos Beko.

Pallbearers were Brad Wolf, Walter Wolf, Gene Schmidkofer, Donnie Sandmann, Ronnie Zimmerman, and Jimmy Sandmmer.

A Rosary was recited at 7 p.m. at St. Peter's Church on Tuesday, April 15, followed by a visitation.

Memorial services set for Roeschmann

Memorial services for Jutta Heller Roeschmann of Gainesville are set for Monday, April 21 at 2 p.m. in Sacred Heart Community Center in Muenster. Jutta died at the age of 41 on March 31, 2008 in Germany. Her obituary will be in next week's Muenster Enterprise.

trained area drill/dance teams, and most recently has coached and choreographed for the award winning Sacred Heart Dance team at Sacred Heart Catholic School. Leslie hopes to have a competition dance group in the future.

"This is what I love, taking what we've accomplished and compete with other dance groups," Leslie states.

Leslie also has 10 years of fitness training experience, where she taught classes at Texas Woman's University's Wellness Center. Those classes included step aerobics, low impact pilometrics, body sculpting and conditioning, and resistance and light-weight training. She has experience in Pilate's exercise, which is very similar to ballet movements. She hopes to offer adult evening fitness classes in the future.

Leslie has been married to Coy Eddleman for 15 years and has four children ages 11, nine, eight, and four years old. When asked why she is starting the new dance school, she stated, "I have worked as a dental hygienist full and part time for 17 years and fortunately that profession has been good to me, and now I can slow down with that, and do what I love the most...teaching dance. My daughter is four now, and I wanted her to start dance classes and who better to mentor her than her mother?"

For information or a registration form Contact Leslie Eddleman at (940) 759-5286, P.O. Box 629, Muenster. Summer classes will begin the 2nd week in June and continue into the last week of July. Fall class registration has begun and space will be limited, so call to reserve your child/teen's space in class. All ages are welcome and will be placed in age appropriate classes.

numbers in Cooke County. It is possible to draw out an area and have only the numbers in that designated area contacted. This could work in the search for missing children or disabled adults.

"With the number of people we have outside a municipality, living out in the country with no notification system, no sirens, no way of getting a hold of them...I think it is a real plus for the citizens."

Judge Freeman said that if the County were to keep Code Red after a year, it would become an item to be included in future budgets.

In a unanimous vote, Commissioners Court approved a resolution recommending denial of the Sterling Heights Apartments development application for allocation of funds through the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs. Judge Freeman said that it is in regard to proposed low income housing to be built on I-35 North adjacent to the KC Hall. The City of Gainesville already passed the resolution in an attempt to stop the building of the apartments.

Some reasons for seeking denial of the application were that the apartment owners would only be required to pay the County 50% of the property tax based on the income generated by the development, while the residents of the apartments will receive 100% of the County services, and Gainesville already has low income housing available to citizens.

Commissioners signed a resolution requesting that the state increase the county purchase limit to $50,000, consistent with the limit for cities. Currently, counties must utilize competitive bidding on contracts exceeding $25,000. In September 2007 the $25,000 limit for cities was increased to $50,000 by the Texas Legislature. County bid limit has not been changed since 1999.

Wolf Ridge Wind L.L.C. requested permission from the County to install 138Kv overhead transmission lines for transmission of electricity generated by their wind turbine generators. David Tenan, project manager for Wolf Ridge Wind L.L.C., said that they planned to go over five road crossings. He said they would adhere to any special requests from the Court. Permission was granted unanimously.

Commissioners approved a $100,000 Highway Permit Bond from Wolf Ridge Wind, L.L.C. for the use of CR 428. That route is being used for heavy equipment delivery. Wolf Ridge pledged to repair all damages done by moving heavy equipment over it. That route was chosen in order to skirt Muenster's Main Street.

After an executive session, the Court voted to accept a final settlement from Phoenix I in the amount of $28,250. It was for an oak tree that grew on the west side of the Courthouse that died as a result of the Courthouse restoration project. They also voted to put that money in the permanent improvement fund to be used for restoration of the Courthouse yard.

Members of CASA attended the Commissioners' meeting. They were recognized for their volunteer work with abused children.

The Court declared April 2008 as Child Abuse Awareness Month. The goal is to raise public awareness in order to prevent child abuse.

During April, Share the Change is a project of CASA to raise money for abused children to purchase needed items that they don't have money to buy on their own. CASA asked Commissioners to set the standards by making a donation of pocket change, which they did.

David Hansmeyer and Steve Bailey, who reside on CR 189 in Precinct #1, spoke during Public Comments. They expressed appreciation for work done, but also concern over certain conditions on that road, especially its tendency to flood. They asked that something be done to alleviate the problems.

In other business, Commissioners Court:

- Declared April 13-19 as National Library Week in Cooke County.
- Accepted insurance settlement on damage done on Jan. 28 to the south side of the Courthouse when a car jumped the curb. Amount of the check was for $24,970.
- Accepted sole bids for diesel and gasoline fuel, which were submitted by Red River Farm Co-op. They were $3.0583 for regular; $3.1558 for super; and $3.6399 for diesel.
- Approved FY 2008-09 Budget Calendar.
- Entered into the minutes the re-appointment of County Auditor Shelly Saunders and approved her bond.
- Tabled decision on road oil since no bids were received.
- Accepted all bids submitted for chip material including from Dolese Brothers Co., Hanson Aggregate, and Martin Marietta Materials.

- Accepted all bids submitted on crushed rock, including those from Lone Star Crushed Stone & Sand, Stallion Construction Co., Red Rock Pit, Tishomingo Sand & Gravel, Blessing Gravel, L.L.S., Martin Marietta Materials, and J. R. Thompson.
- Accepted grant in the amount of $500 for the County Arts Expansion Program from the Texas Commission on the Arts to the Cooke County Library. Will be used for storyteller visits.
- Approved Cooke County library director to apply for the FY 2008 Wal-Mart Community Grant, and to apply for the Civic Technology Demographics Study sponsored by the North Eastern Texas Library System (NETLS).
- Approved indigent burial of Carmello L. Williams.
- Approved voting machine rental agreement with North Texas Medical Center for May 2008 election.
- Appointed Josie Earle to Place 10 on the Cooke County Child Welfare Board.
- Approved request by Woodbine Water Supply at its expense to install a two-inch casing for a one-inch water line running east and west under CR 167, located in Precinct 1.

- Accepted donations in the amount of $15 from Michael Busby for research and $25 from Danny and Dana Knight to the Cooke County Library.
- Approved cleaning the fence row on CR 115 for Steve Price.
- Approved irrevocable letter of credit in the amount of $96,360 for Horseman's Ranch, Phase II, located in Precinct 1 and approved final plat for Horseman's Ranch, Phase II.
- Bids on various surplus items from Precinct #2 were opened. Precinct #2 Commissioner Steve Key accepted the highest bid on each item.
- Designated various items from Cooke County EMS as salvage so that they can be disposed of.
- Approved Sheriff's bonds for jailers David Lonnie Roberts and Timothy D. DeBarge.

We are most grateful to Father Ken Robinson, Father Kyle Walterscheid, Sacred Heart Parish, School, all of the organizations, and the parents who have entrusted their children to us. Thank you all for making our celebration such a wonderful, memorable occasion.

Before Deciding to Purchase a Fixed Annuity

- ✓ Put only "safe money" in a fixed annuity - money that you do not want to put at market risk because you may need it for future income.
 - ✓ Consider diversifying products as well as risk by putting savings or investments into more than one financial product.
 - ✓ Find out how you can access your money (including in an emergency) without fees or charges (such as free withdrawals, death or hospitalization).
 - ✓ Find out about all the fees and charges you may incur and when you would incur them.
 - ✓ Find out how long the charges apply if you surrender your policy prematurely.
 - ✓ Make sure you understand the surrender fees and ask what features are available to you that allow for lump sum withdrawal or income payouts without surrender fees. There are many products available that waive surrender fees upon death, terminal illness, nursing home confinement, unemployment and/or payout options over five years or more - make sure you are shown the product that has the features you need.
 - ✓ Always make sure you understand what is being sold. The product must make sense for you in your situation - it must be suitable for your personal financial goals, income needs and retirement planning objectives.
- Read all the disclosure documents for the product being sold and the contract. If you don't understand something, ask.

Fixed annuities provide all of the insurance coverage of traditional insurance products, including death benefits, withdrawal options, payout options and benefits triggered by disability or incapacitation. The interest rates for fixed annuities are either declared at the beginning of the period interest will be earned or calculated by positive changes in a financial market's index.

Fixed annuities should not be thought of as investments.

TRASH

Muenster Beautiful. Everyone present received a prize and a tee shirt if they didn't have one.

Participating scouts received Keep Texas Beautiful patches for their uniforms. The Boy Scouts had 30 people pick up trash earlier this month, due to a conflict in their schedule. The boys picked up 35 bags of trash in their two mile adopted section of Route 82 east of town. This area is always difficult to maintain. As people leave town, beverage cans and bottles and fast food wrappings get tossed, or feed bags and other litter from the back of pickups get blown on to the roads. Along with cigarette butts and wrappers, these are the items most often littered in the area.

Keep Muenster Beautiful urges everyone to use proper disposal receptacles and to make sure that items in their trucks are secure.

Any group interested in adopting a highway or helping with Keep Muenster Beautiful's two annual trash pick-up events may contact

Dr. Elaine Schilling at 759-2303. March 1 - May 31 is Keep America Beautiful Great American Cleanup. KMB's Trash-off is in support of their event.

Any group that has a project that helps with cleanup or recycling during that time period can report it to Keep Muenster Beautiful so they can get credit for the community for this program.

Keep Muenster Beautiful is an affiliate of both Keep Texas Beautiful and Keep America Beautiful. More information about the Great American Cleanup can be found on the web.

Welcoming Pope Benedict

At three in the afternoon on April 15, every Catholic church in the nation rang their bells announcing the arrival of the Pope to the United States. Shown is Sacred Heart Principal Chad Riley ringing Sacred Heart's bell of welcome. SHCS photo

A&M Club to hold Muster in Muenster

Former students of Texas A&M University will assemble in Muenster on Monday, April 21 for the annual Texas Aggie Muster to honor all Texas Aggies who have passed away within the last year, announced Muster Chair Bob Knauf.

Various Muster activities, including dinner and speaker, will begin at 6 p.m. at Doc's Bar & Grill in Muenster. All former and current students, their families, and friends of Texas A&M University are invited to attend.

The Texas Aggie Muster tradition, which spans more than a century, will be observed in more than 300 locations around the world. These Muster gatherings are held in many unique places ranging from battleships and foxholes during World War II to ballrooms and steakhouses today.

Over the years, Aggie Muster has grown to be one of Texas A&M's most revered traditions. Muster honors the memories of A&M men and women whose deaths prevent them from answering Roll Call at this year's Muster. The Roll Call is a roster compiled of all former and current students who have died over the past year. As each name is called, a friend or family member will answer "Here!" symbolizing that their memory lives on in the hearts of Aggies everywhere.

Muster is more than just a ceremony; it is also an annual way for Aggies to renew the loyalty and unity which constitute the foundation of their friendship for each other, as well as their love and devotion to their school.

For more information regarding the Texas Aggie Muster held in Muenster, contact Bob Knauf, Muster chair, at 759-4377 or Van Knight at 668-4701.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sepanski of Muenster announce the engagement of their daughter Kathryn Rohmer Sepanski to Michael Henry Voth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Voth of Muenster. The couple plans to be married on Saturday, June 14, 2008, at 2 p.m. at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Muenster. Miss Sepanski is a 2004 graduate of Sacred Heart Catholic School, and a December 2007 graduate of St. Edward's University in Austin. She is employed as a communication specialist for the Austin Board of Realtors. Mr. Voth, a 2003 graduate of Sacred Heart Catholic School, resides in College Station and will be completing his degree in Computer Engineering at Texas A&M University in May. He has accepted employment as a product specialist with NetQoS in Austin, where the couple will reside.

She was born at 12:04 p.m. in North Texas Medical Center weighing 7 lb. 8 oz. and measuring 21 1/2 inches in length. Grandparents are Stephen and Laura Stoffels and Pat and Ruth Klement, all of Muenster. Great-grandparents are Tony and Sis Klement, Helen Yosten, Rose Stoffels, all of Muenster, and Dorothy Weaver of Saint Jo.

How alcohol can affect youth

Alcohol is the number one drug of choice among today's youth and the fourth leading cause of death. Young people who begin drinking before the age of 15 are five times more likely to develop alcohol dependence than those who wait until the age of 21. If you have a loved one suffering from drug or alcohol addiction, contact Narconon to receive free counseling, assessments, and referrals to centers nationwide.

Addiction is predictable. It will end in one of three ways: DEATH, PRISON, or SOBRIETY. You choose. Call 800-468-6933.

Party honors Alexander Nervo

Alexander Nicolas Nervo was honored for his 10th birthday with a party on Sunday, Feb. 24. His actual birth date is Feb. 22. His parents Donna and Nicolas Nervo hosted the celebration in their home in Arlington for all of Alexander's classmates, cousins, and neighbors.

Everyone enjoyed a "Secret Agent" theme. The main table was decorated with an array of detective tools including a magnifying glass, fingerprint pads, a telescope, and black mini notebooks. Silhouetted detective cutouts stamped "Top Secret" hung from the ceiling. A banner with the wording "Happy Birthday Secret Agent Alex" was displayed behind the party table.

A yellow sheet cake with chocolate icing was the table's centerpiece. A large spy candle stood on one corner and a standup invitation was on the other corner. "Happy 10th Birthday Alexander" was inscribed on top.

Guests enjoyed a corn dog lunch followed by cake and ice cream. Everyone played games, pinatas, and videos.

Special guests included the honoree's parents, younger brothers Dominic and Zachary, and maternal grandmother Rachel Hennig of Muenster.

CCRW hears benefits of membership

Cooke County Republican Women (CCRW) hosted their annual spring Membership Brunch on Saturday morning, April 12, at the Backstage Cafe in Gainesville.

CCRW President Sharron Acker introduced associate member Terrie Livingston, justice on the Second Court of Appeals, who came from Fort Worth for the event. CCRW officers discussed various activities of the Republican Women group, as well as the benefits of membership. Members Janice Warder and Pat Peale included anecdotes about their involvement in the Texas and National Federations of Republican Women.

Dianne Helms announced plans for a CCRW fundraiser featuring Lieutenant Governor David Dewhurst, to be held at the Bagsby Ranch on May 10.

The next regular CCRW meeting will be held on Thursday, May 1, 7 p.m. at the First Christian Church in Gainesville. The speaker will be Rusty Ballard, spokesman for Texans for Lawsuit Reform.

Spring draws visitors to Texas

As spring rolls out a colorful carpet of wildflowers throughout the state, flower and nature enthusiasts are encouraged to explore this bright foliage through the Texas

Historical Commission's (THC) 10 heritage trail regions. Home to more than 5,000 species of wildflowers, including red Indian paint brushes, pink ladies, yellow buttercups, and seas of bluebonnets, Texas offers scenic drives where nature's delicate decorations flourish along roadsides and in fields.

Texas and visitors can enjoy these spectacular wildflowers while learning about the state's heritage in the THC's heritage trail regions. From the Texas Forest Trail Region with its blaze of crimson clovers and wild azaleas to the Texas Mountain Trail Region's blackfoot daisy, each heritage region provides a distinctive palette of wildflowers to enjoy. Wildflower events are common throughout the regions, including the Antique Tractor and Engine Club Bluebonnet Tractor Ride on April 12 in Fredericksburg and the 57th Annual Ennis Bluebonnet Trails Festival on April 18-20 in Ennis.

The THTP's 10 regional web sites offer another option to plot your vacation. Travel-

The heritage regions are part of the THC's regional tourism initiative, the Texas Heritage Trails Program (THTP). The award-winning program encourages people to venture out and rediscover the state's historic and cultural wonders. This successful program capitalizes on the economic impact of heritage tourism — a $7.5 billion a year industry.

When traveling through the regions, visitors can utilize a variety of resources to maximize their experience, including the THC heritage trail brochures showcasing a number of historically relevant places, buildings, and museums. Another resource is TxDOT's Texas wildflower and foliage map, detailing scenic routes that can be used in conjunction with the heritage trail guides. The map is available on TxDOT's website at www.dot.state.tx.us.

The THTP's 10 regional web sites offer another option to plot your vacation. Travelers are increasingly turning to the internet as a travel resource. The web sites allow travelers to not only find information, but also build custom itineraries to fit their travel needs. The sites' user-friendly "itinerary builder" was specifically designed for the THTP. All 10 sites are connected through the itinerary builder, so users can easily move between all regional sites.

To visit the 10 regional web sites, visit <http://www.thc.state.tx.us/heritagetourism/htdefault.shtml>. There you will find a map showing the 10 heritage regions. You can click on an individual region to visit each regional web site.

For free heritage trail brochures call 866/276-6219 or visit www.thc.state.tx.us. For additional information on Texas travel events and vacation destinations, visit www.TravelTex.com, or for a free Texas State Travel Guide call 1-800-888-TEX.

Historical Commission to present Preserving the Past to GCWC

The program feature, Preserving the Past, will be presented by Muenster's Historical Commission. Glen Wilson will be the special musical guest, and keynote speaker will be Shannon Bettis of Frisco. Shannon is a successful corporate banker whose stormy life was transformed. Now she is happily Defined by the Storm.

Are you new to the area and looking for friends? Then join them for this special occasion. You will be welcomed with open arms.

For reservations, call Judy at (940) 612-3130 by Monday, April 21.

NTMC initiates Cancer Education Program

North Texas Medical Center will be initiating a new Cancer Education Program this month in observance of April as Cancer Control Month. The series, which will be held on the third Monday evening of each month, will focus on the various types of cancer, treatment options, and prevention.

Oncologist Ketaki Davé,

M.D., will facilitate the series, and will be the featured speaker for the April session, which is scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday, April 21 in the classrooms at NTMC. The programs are free of charge and open to all those interested.

For more information on the Cancer Education Program, contact Gayla Blanton, NTMC Marketing Director, at 612-8373.

April marks National Child Abuse Awareness Month

The saying goes "April showers bring May flowers". With the beauty of the newness of spring, April also brings us the celebrations of National Poetry Month, National Humor Month and the observation of another matter not humorous or beautiful at all, National Child Abuse Awareness and Prevention Month. This is the month during which those who work to deal with the victims and perpetrators of child abuse and those who work to prevent child abuse make public the efforts made year round. Various local agencies such as CASA, Friends of the Family, and Child Protective Services, who work all year long with victims of child abuse, will mark the month with activities and displays designed to bring attention to the problem of abuse, which include physical abuse, emotional abuse, sexual abuse, and/or neglect. During the year 2005 (the last year for which statistics are available at this time), Child Protective Service agencies throughout the country received 3.3 million reports alleging abuse or neglect involving approximately 6 million children. Of these children, approximately 899,000 were determined to have actually been abused and/or neglected. Each day in the United States, 13,700 children are abused and neglected. Four of these children die each day.

In 2005, the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services (CPS) confirmed 61,433 child victims of abuse and/or neglect. Locally, in 2007, Cooke County CPS investigators found 179 children to be victims of abuse and/or neglect. It was necessary to bring 100 of these confirmed child abuse/neglect victims into the protective custody of the State (foster care). These are our County's most vulnerable children.

Throughout the month of April, Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) of North Texas, the agency responsible for recruiting, training, and supervising volunteer advocates who act as advocates for Cooke County's most vulnerable children, will be conducting a number of activities in its Blue Ribbon Child Abuse Awareness campaign. These activities will be geared toward bringing awareness of the problem of child abuse in our community. As you see people wearing blue ribbons during the month of April, these are a reminder of our County's youngest and most vulnerable children, victims of child abuse and neglect.

On New Year's Day 2006, Montague County veterinarian Sharon Gaston was injured while attempting to rescue horses from a massive grass fire.

She received a brain injury, leaving her in a coma for two months. One month after regaining consciousness, she began intensive therapy, which continues today.

The therapists associated with NTMC Home Health and Therapy Services work with Sharon in innovative ways in an effort to return her to the life and career she knows so well.

Sharon is improving, but still struggles with the problems common to the type of injury she incurred.

At North Texas Medical Center, our team of physicians and healthcare professionals have one goal: a healthy community. It is the patient to whom our partnership is dedicated, and it is caring for our neighbors and friends that keeps us committed to providing the quality healthcare you demand.

College & Career Corner

Student involvement essential to success

By Rose Rennekamp
My friend Will graduated from a large university, but he's an alumnus of two higher education institutions. Will's college career began at a community college and he later transferred to a four-year school. The experience, he said, was a positive one. "I edited the school paper, took a leadership class, which was by invitation only, and gave a commencement address," he said. The smaller campus, he said, made it easy to branch out and try new things. "The newspaper gig led to everything else," Will said. "It's easy to become high-profile once you get involved with a group. Instructors start to know you."

Yet many community college students don't find it so easy. A recent study released by the Community College of Student Engagement (<http://www.ccsse.org/publications/2007NatlRpt-final.pdf>) reported that a large share of community college students fail to actively engage in college life, thus lessening their chance for academic success.

Many of the students surveyed saw value in advising and education planning, yet only 43% of the students said they met with an academic advisor to discuss goals by the end of the first four weeks at school. Thirty-six percent said they didn't take a placement test (such as COMPASS) in that time to determine which reading, writing or math courses they should take. Community colleges have challenges that directly impact their ability to actively engage students. More than two-thirds of their students attend college part time and many are juggling work and family life, too. Also, about two-thirds of community college faculty are part-time instructors who spend a limited amount of time on campus. Community colleges don't have an easy job of engaging students, but people like my friend Will prove that it can be done.

The Community College of Student Engagement is urging colleges to "aggressively create opportunities to involve students" in their studies. I applaud their efforts. It's important that you're actively engaged in your education no matter your age or where you go to school. Studies have shown that students who take a hands-on approach to learning improve their chances for academic success. When student are eager to go to class, take notes, study, and turn in their homework, they not only learn but find it easier to continue to learn. These students feel good about themselves and their ability to learn.

College students should meet with their academic advisor regularly. Likewise, high school students should meet with their counselors. Students often wait until there's an issue before scheduling an appointment, but meeting on a regular basis could help avoid such situations. You should be active participants in class, too, whether it's speaking up during class discussions or asking questions.

Engagement isn't limited to academics. Make an effort to seek out extracurricular opportunities. High schools and college campuses offer student activities of all kinds, giving you many chances to get involved in athletics, music, drama, the school newspaper, and service projects. The opportunity to explore different activities and meeting new people is irreplaceable, and might even inspire future career goals.

Whether a student is 18 or 50, enrolled in high school, a community college, or a four-year school, no one should ignore the chance to take a more active role in his education. Educational engagement is the stepping stone to success.

For more college and career-planning information, visit www.actstudent.org.

Farm Safety 4 Just Kids debuts updated grain safety resource Twenty one years ago, Marilyn Adam's son, Keith, suffocated in a gravity flow wagon filled with shelled corn. Keith's desire to help with harvest on the family farm cost him his life because he was unaware of the hidden dangers associated with working and playing around grain; the same hazards threaten the lives of children today and the need for education still exists. This year, Farm Safety 4 Just Kids released an updated version of their Great Grain Harvest Educational Packet. This resource includes brochures, demonstration ideas, games, a poster, puzzles, and updated statistics. The piece is ideal for elementary and middle school students. Funding for the packet was generously provided by Cargill.

The Great Grain Harvest also includes a supplementary piece, Tug of War with Grain, produced by Dr. Charles Schwab at Iowa State University that is appropriate for high school students. This piece includes demonstration ideas and lesson plans that are more advanced to challenge and relate to teenagers.

"Grain safety is an important issue for all ages," said FS4JK Education Director, Shari Burgess. "Farm Safety 4 Just Kids' Great Grain Harvest and Iowa State University's Tug of War with Grain are complementary to each other. The two components allow instructors to reach elementary through high school aged students."

Farm Safety 4 Just Kids is a non-profit organization working to prevent health hazards, injuries, and fatalities to children through public education. The organization proudly boasts 131 volunteer chapters located across the United States and Canada. Chapter members use FS4JK's educational materials, such as the Great Grain Harvest Educational Packet, to educate youth within their communities about the safety and health hazards associated with the rural environment.

To order the Great Grain Harvest Educational Packet, call 1-800-423-5437. For more information on FS4JK's resources, visit www.fs4jk.org.

Exercise may reduce risk of developing breast cancer

Exercise not only keeps you fit - it also could reduce your chances of developing breast cancer.

Researchers at UT Southwestern Medical Center speculate that a regular routine of brisk walking, swimming, or bicycling may protect against breast cancer by lowering estrogen levels. They believe that estrogen may deactivate genes in breast tissue that suppress breast-cancer development. When estrogen silences these so-called tumor-suppressor genes by a process called methylation, which is reversible, the risk for breast cancer increases.

"So many of the risk factors for breast cancer cannot be modified, such as being a woman, getting older, or having a family history," said Dr. Yvonne Coyle, a physician who researches the epidemiology of cancer. "However, physical activity may be a modifiable risk factor allowing for breast cancer risk reduction."

JUBILEES

and base of the cake. Topping the cake was a statuette of a nun dressed in a facsimile of the habits worn by the nuns from Holy Angels Convent. At the base of the main cake were four separate cakes, one for each honoree. Each was topped with the sister's name, red roses, a cross, and Bible, and their year of celebration.

Cutting the cakes were Betty Rose Walterscheid and Anne Walterscheid. Dana, Sara, and Abby Walterscheid served the cake.

Entertainment included a video with pictures of the nuns from childhood and comments from students at Sacred Heart School where Sister Lillian and Sister Jeanette teach. Under the direction of Sacred Heart Catholic School music teacher Clinton Kelley, students sang several of the Sisters' favorite songs.

Fr. Ken remarked on the nuns' contributions to Sacred Heart Parish, and Fr. Kyle spoke on vocations and the importance of speaking of and praying for them at home.

The three Münster natives, Sisters Georgia, Jeanette, and Lillian, each received a handmade quilt, and Sr. Damian a religious picture. All were gifts from the Parish.

They will celebrate on July 11 at Holy Angels when all of the Benedictine Sisters gather this summer.

About the Jubilarians

Sr. Georgia Felderhoff

Born in Münster to Joseph and Mary Wieler Felderhoff, LaRue was the fourth of five children. She entered Holy Angels Convent on Sept. 8, 1946 and became a novice on Aug. 14, 1947. She made her First Profession on Aug. 15, 1948 and made her Final Profession on that same day in 1952. She took and kept the name Sr. Georgia.

Sr. Georgia said that she had three aunts who were Sisters at Holy Angels Convent. She always loved when they came home to visit. Another source of inspiration to Sr. Georgia were the nuns who taught her in school grades one through 12. She added, "Also, my parents loved the Sisters and prayed to have a Sister in the family."

There have been many happy and memorable occasions in Sr. Georgia's life. She said that celebrating her Golden Jubilee was a really special occasion. "I didn't know I could be so happy," she remarked. "I was on cloud nine for a long time."

Another highlight of her life was a trip to Convent Maria Rickenbach in Switzerland last fall. Sr. Georgia shared, "To go to Switzerland, to visit the convent of our Our Lady Maria Rickenbach, to see and be among the Alps Mountains was the dream of a lifetime! What a joy!!!"

In answer to what she most enjoys about religious life, Sr. Georgia responded, "I am proud to be a Benedictine Sister. I enjoy living with, working with, and praying together with the Sisters. I appreciate the many opportunities and challenges that helped me to grow spiritually, emotionally, socially, educationally."

Sr. Georgia said that when she entered the convent, she was just out of high school and had never been away from home for very long. She really missed her family, and that was the most difficult thing when she left lay life for the convent.

There were numerous places where Sr. Georgia taught including 10 years at St. Andrews, eight years at Holy Souls, both in Little Rock, two years at Blessed Sacrament in Jonesboro, two years at St. Maria Goretti in Lake Arthur, Louisiana, 12 years in Münster, and 17 years at St. Michael in West Memphis, Arkansas. "I loved it every place I ever worked. I loved teaching," she said. While at Sacred Heart in Münster, Sr. Georgia taught and served as principal of the elementary school.

Sr. Georgia commented, "There are ups and downs in every life - and I had my share of them, too. Looking back, I remember more of the good times and I know that God loved me and helped me through them all, ups and downs. I cannot thank Him enough for my vocation."

Sr. Jeanette Bayer

Jeanette Bayer is the second child of George and Anna Bayer's seven children. She grew up on a dairy farm outside of Münster. "It's a 365 day job and on Leap Year, it's 366," remarked Sr. Jeanette. "You don't get any days off and you stay at the same time. You don't change from 6 o'clock to 4 o'clock just because it is more convenient." Sr. Jeanette said they didn't get to start homework until at least 8 o'clock at night. "You didn't think about not doing it," she noted. "I don't care if it was 10, 10:30, 11, 11:30, you stayed up and did it!"

In August 1955, at the age of 14 and just out of eighth grade, Sr. Jeanette left for Holy Angels. She became a novice on March 20, 1957. She made her First Profession on March 21, 1958. She said the rule is that it must be at least a year and a day. Her Final Profession was on Aug. 15, 1962. She celebrated her Silver Jubilee on July 17, 1983.

Sr. Jeanette said that they did most of their college in the summer time. "We taught nine months and went home to retreat, to college, and back to teaching," she said. "College in those days was six days a week, Monday through Saturday, and you took 12 hours every summer. You got out of college usually Aug. 15 and that was the same day that Professions and everything were being made. We'd get home to the Convent for dinner and usually on that day we would find out where we were going. You could be out that afternoon already. As soon as school was over, you wet mopped and waxed everything and you packed everything because you didn't know if you were coming back. If you didn't come back, it got shipped to you in one trunk."

She recalled that at times they taught up until the day of the Sisters' retreat. They would arrive at the Convent with the retreat already begun and not talk for eight days. As soon as the retreat ended, you left for college.

Sr. Jeanette noted that at that time there 150 to 200 Sisters and there was always work to be done. "Nobody just sat around," she said.

The thought of becoming a Sister was with Sr. Jeanette from the time she was in second or third grade. She said that her father had hoped she would go to OLY because it was closer and her mother had an aunt in San Antonio. She said, "Because our Sisters from here were the ones who taught, I wanted to go to Jonesboro even though my dad did not want me to go that far, at least not at that age."

Leaving her family meant not spending as much time with her younger siblings. Her sister Cheryl was born the October after she left for Jonesboro and her brother Cletus was very young. "We couldn't go home for the first eight years until we made Final Vows," she said. She recalled when she first got to go home, she would shoot marbles or throw a football and he would wonder how she learned to do that. She recalled, "He had no concept of my having played with Clarence (another brother) before I ever left there." The two youngest would ask if she was really their sister. "That's probably one of the hardest things I had to do, was knowing that those little ones were there and not being able to see them," she shared.

Growing up, the Bayer children were encouraged to become sisters or priests by their parents. "During Lent and Advent, when we couldn't go to church in the evening for special events, we would often kneel around the ironing board. While Mother would iron, Daddy would pray the rosary. Vocations, we were encouraged to become a priest or sister."

Sr. Jeanette said that the prayer and quiet time are what she most enjoys about religious life.

Final Vows are what she noted as a very big day in her life. "Then you were totally committed," she commented. "Then you couldn't be sent home, which was always a threat. You could be sent home at any time and you weren't necessarily given a whole lot of a reason. If they didn't think you were right for it, you weren't going to be there much longer."

When she first became a Sister, Sr. Jeanette had the name Sr. Lucille. She explained that they were given their choice, but didn't always get that name. Later, they were given the choice to take back their given name and she did.

Hobbies that Sr. Jeanette enjoys include gardening, needlework such as crocheting, reading, classical music, running, and walking.

Sr. Jeanette said of religious life, "As in any life there are challenges, hardships, but also joys. No life is an easy life. One life is not easier than another life necessarily. They all have their challenges and they all have their rewards, but I think that you have to look for them a lot of times. It's like when you change from place to place, sometimes people say, 'don't you find that difficult?' Well, only if you don't make up your mind that you are going to find something that you enjoy there. Every place is different. No two places are alike. If you start comparing, I think that is where you get into trouble. There is no comparison. I think that you have to look for it and if you don't take that time, just like with married couples, if you don't take that time to find out what it is that you first found in each other, eventually you are going to grow apart. That's just how it is. It's the same thing with religious life. If you don't go back and evaluate why you came and your reasons for your dedication, you are going to lose it."

Places that Sr. Jeanette served include St. Maria Goretti in Lake Arthur, Holy Souls in Little Rock, St. Paul's in Pochontas, Arkansas, Holy Rosary in Stuttgart, Arkansas, St. Mary's in Paragould, Arkansas, and Sacred Heart in Münster, where she still teaches today. Münster, Stuttgart, and Louisiana are her longest places of service.

Sr. Lillian Marie Reiter

Also a country girl, Lillian Reiter was the second oldest of six children. Her parents Alfons and Margaret Reiter had a farm north of Münster where they farmed and raised sheep and chickens. Growing up, Sr. Lillian helped with the grain and stacking hay bales, she helped with the animals. "Feeding the chicks, rounding up the sheep and playing with the babies. In the winter when the lambs were born we'd have to carry them back. They'd get heavy after a while." She recalled the mother sheep running ahead of her and when one didn't think she was going fast enough, it would turn around and bleat at her to move faster.

At age 13 and an eighth grade graduate, Sr. Lillian also left for Holy Angels Convent in August 1955. She became a novice on March 20, 1957 and made her First Profession on March 21, 1958. Sr. Lillian made her Final Profession on Aug. 15, 1963. She had to wait a year longer than Sr. Jeanette because she wasn't yet 21 in 1962. Her Silver Jubilee was observed on July 17, 1983.

Sr. Lillian recalled why she decided to become a nun. "Mom would always say, 'It would be nice if somebody would be a priest or sister.' She planted that seed. I wanted to do other things like be a ballet dancer, but there was no way possible because my parents didn't have that kind of money. After thinking and praying about it for several years, I decided I would be a Sister. I wanted to be a priest in first grade, but Sr. Gabrielle told me I was silly because only boys can be priests. I would like to have had a large family. I thought about that, but if I'm a Sister I would have many children."

Also Sr. Carmelita and Sr. Canesia were two nuns whom Sr. Lillian remembers the most as inspiring her. "Seeing them laugh and tease," impressed her she said.

What Sr. Lillian most enjoys about the religious life is the quiet and prayer, and working with other Sisters and daily Mass when at the Mother house.

The day of her Final Vows was her most memorable, she said. When she first became a sister, she was known as Sr. Jacinta. When given the opportunity, she took back her birth name.

Hobbies enjoyed by Sr. Lillian include all kinds of needlework, growing plants and planting trees, and raising ducks when given the chance. While in Stuttgart, the Sisters would take in injured wild ducks from a veterinarian and care for them until the bird could be released back into the wild. The Sisters got to keep the ones that could never be put back out into the wild. They even hatched ducks in incubators. Hatching ducklings were sometimes shown to the students who had never seen an egg hatch.

With a twinkle in her eyes, Sr. Lillian remarked, "It's a lovely life. I enjoyed living it. There's never a dull moment. It's like a great adventure. You never know what is next."

Places that Sr. Lillian served include St. Michael's in West Memphis, Arkansas, Holy Souls in Little Rock, Holy Redeemer in El Dorado, Arkansas, Holy Rosary in Stuttgart, and Sacred Heart in Münster. She is now a religion teacher at Sacred Heart Catholic School.

Sr. Damian Atkinson

Born and raised in Bloomington, Indiana, Sr. Damian was one of the 11 children born to Roma and Clara Deckard. Prior to converting to Catholicism, Sr. Damian was married for 23 years to Leslie Atkinson. They had one son. Her husband died in 1975.

For 24 years, Sr. Damian worked as a nurse in a mental institution. She and her family were Methodists. In 1977, two years after Leslie's death, she converted to the Catholic faith. In 1977, she also donated one of her kidneys to her brother.

Sr. Damian recalled, "During my school years, I often went to Mass with my Catholic friends. When I started working, I had a good friend who was Catholic. I thought of being a sister ever since I was small. After becoming Catholic, I visited Mother Seton's shrine every Friday."

The spiritual life is what Sr. Damian found to be the happiest in her life as a nun. What she most enjoys about religious life, "My work as a pastoral minister at our Healthcare Center in Jonesboro. My special area is the Dialysis Unit."

The most difficult thing that Sr. Damian gave up when she left the lay life was her independence, she said.

Sr. Damian served almost 25 years at St. Bernard's Medical Center in Little Rock.

Moving day in Muenster draws hundreds of spectators

The Lehnertz house was moved from 317 N. Oak Street (upper left), its home for over 90 years, Monday by Lemon's House Moving and Trucking of Whitesboro. Above - spectators of all ages lined the streets to watch the "big blue house on wheels." At left - OnCor lifts power lines so the house can pass under. Below left - the house backs onto its new pad, and below right - at its new home on West 9th Street. Michel Lehnertz moved to town and built this house after his son Joe married Agnes Fette in 1915 and settled on the farm. Joe and Aggie left the farm in 1945, moving into this house. The 30'x30' building stood 32'6" as it was moved about town. Mark and Melanie Hesse plan to fix-up, remodel, and eventually make the old Lehnertz house the Hesse home.

TEXAS PARKS & WILDLIFE GAME WARDEN REPORTS

The following are excerpts from recent Texas Parks and Wildlife Department law enforcement reports.

Helping out a neighbor

A Gray County game warden Logan Hudson received a phone call at his residence where the caller stated his name and that he needed help before the call was terminated. The game warden recognized the name as being that of a gentleman who hunts the property north of the game warden's home. The game warden patrolled up to the property and located the man's pickup.

As he approached, he could see the man slumped over the steering wheel. Believing the man may have had a heart attack, the game warden approached the truck and called out to the man. Getting no response, the warden reached through the window and touched the man's shoulder. The man sat up with license and pen in hand and said: "I've just killed the biggest deer I've ever seen and my phone had gone dead and I think I'm going to need help to load it."

Warden Hudson asked him where the deer was and he said, "It's out there about 75 yards and I haven't had the guts to go look at him but you can see his rack from here." The man and Hudson were able to load the 14-point whitetail, which weighed in at 305 pounds on the hoof.

Good detective work leads to felony charge

A Wise County game warden observed an area known for Thanksgiving Day trespassing. At about 8:45 a.m., two suspects were observed scoping a large grassy pasture with their rifles. The game warden was able to get behind the suspects and detain them. Neither suspect had a valid hunting license. The leader of the two identified himself as a well-known poacher, who has a lengthy criminal record with TPWD.

The lead poacher was also found to be in possession of narcotics. He stated that he was only hog hunting and did not need a license. The game warden explained that a grunt call was not required to hog hunt. The game warden requested assistance from a Wise County colleague.

While the second game warden was securing the gate, she observed a small blue extended pickup being driven by a female. The game warden believed that this was possibly the vehicle that had dropped off the trespassers. The second game warden was able to locate a container that had methamphetamine in it. When the first game warden returned to photograph the scene, he observed a vulture leaving a wooded area, which he found to be unusual because the area had been observed for several days. The warden later located a cleaning site in the wooded area and a rear half of a white-tailed deer carcass. Believing that this deer had something to do with the blood that was found in the rear of the pickup, a search warrant was requested and granted. One nine-point deer was located at the suspect's residence. Two days later, a second nine-point deer was found in the next pasture.

DNA evidence was collected from the suspects, the vehicle, and the scene to determine if the suspects were involved. Bullets were removed from the carcasses to determine if they matched the guns of the suspects. Felonies are pending.

Sacred Heart track teams win District, advance to Regional

Both the Sacred Heart Tiger and Tigrette teams brought home the Track and Field District Championships last week Thursday at Frisco. The Tigerettes upset Jesus Chapel by winning relays for a 129 total 1st place. Chapel finished with 105. Denton Calvary finished 3rd in the girls division with 66, followed by Texoma Christian 64, Tyler Street 63, Frisco

Legacy 55, Heritage 38, Happy Hill 37, Holy Cross 18, and Fairhill 2. In the boys division, the Tigers tallied 191 points. Frisco Legacy finished with 132 and Texoma Christian 101. Rounding out the district were Happy Hill 69, Jesus Chapel 66, Holy Cross 16, Denton Calvary 11, Tyler Street 10, Heritage 7, and Fairhill 1.

Individual results from the District meet were not available at press time, but should be reported in next week's Muenster Enterprise. To date, Zach Zanchetta has the fastest time in the 100m race in State TAPPS 2A with a time of 10.8. A total of 25 tracksters advanced to Regional on April 17 at McMurray College in Abilene, 16 Tigers and nine Tigerettes.

Junior Varsity District 18A Track results

Eleven schools participated in the junior varsity divisions of the District 18A Track and Field Meet held March 26-27 at Wolfe City. Most schools did not field teams, with several events having only one or two participants. The Era boys and Valley View girls tallied up the most points to win the meet.

Muenster hosts Post Season Qualifiers golf tournament

Several area schools did well in the Post Season Qualifiers Tournament at Turtle Hill Golf Course hosted by the Muenster Hornet golf teams on Monday, April 14. The tournament was open to only the elite teams of a district finishing either 1st or 2nd, and individual golfers who advanced to the next level of competition.

The Callisburg girls, fresh off their district championship, finished 3rd behind 2A powerhouse Graham and 3A Bridgeport. The teams posted scores of 342, 344, and 350. Callisburg's 350 was well below what they were hoping for, but the Lauren Romines 77 and Taylor Kluts 79 led team kept it close and know who the competition will be down the road.

The Muenster girls posted their best team effort of the year by shooting a respectable 420 and finishing in 6th place. Mara Erickson 97, Jenni Luke 102, and Brandy Dangelmayr 109, paced the Lady Hornets.

In the boys division, Burk Burnett, Graham, Bridgeport, and Argyle battled it out to the last hole to post 309, 312, 315, and 317 respectively. The bright spot for the area golfers was an even par 72 shot by Zach Claxton of Gainesville, who finished alone in 2nd place behind a 68 posted by Bryce Rose of Bridgeport.

Sacred Heart and Callisburg tied with matching 341s, followed by Lindsay's 351 and Muenster's 353. Bobby Dorman and Dylan Stone shot 80 and 84 to lead the Callisburg Wildcatters. Kevin Kulle and Ian Barnhill fired 84 and 85 for the Sacred Heart Tigers. The Lindsay Knights were led by solid rounds from Keith Hermes 82 and Blake Hunter 84. Muenster's bright spots came as a pair of 83s with solid play from Garrett Hennigan and Tanner Herr.

Next action will be the Regional Tournaments for all schools in UIL play, and the State tournament for private schools. Those tournaments will be held Monday and Tuesday, April 21 and 22.

A little history lesson

Common entertainment included playing cards. However, there was a tax levied when purchasing playing cards, but only applicable to the "Ace of Spades." To avoid paying the tax, people would purchase 51 cards instead. Yet, since most games require 52 cards, these people were thought to be stupid or dumb because they weren't "playing with a full deck."

PRUNING TREES HELPS KEEP THE LIGHTS ON

By Sabrina Taylor, Oncor

We like trees. But trees and power lines don't mix. Trees touching or swaying into power lines can hurt you or anyone else who might come into contact with them. Trees and falling limbs are among the leading causes of power outages.

We're serious about our responsibility to ensure the safe and reliable delivery of electricity to every home and business in our service area. Therefore, Oncor spends a lot of time and resources pruning trees away from lines. You've probably seen our crews at work in your neighborhood.

Be assured, your beautiful trees are in good hands. Our experienced and knowledgeable arborists, who supervise our program, follow industry standards and understand what is best for a tree's health. They know where and how to prune so that trees grow away from power lines.

We're proud that the National Arbor Day Foundation has honored us with the Tree Line USA award since 2001 for quality tree care, worker training, tree-planting initiatives and public education.

Ideally, of course, there wouldn't be any trees growing near power lines. That's why we sponsor initiatives that include Know Before You Grow, which helps Texans learn about and plan landscapes that keep power lines clear while enhancing property values.

Keeping trees pruned away from power lines is vital for reliable power, and is especially important during the spring storm season. But we're also making investments in new technology and other measures to improve reliability, meet growing power needs in Texas and relieve congestion in the state's transmission grid.

Our Texas roots are deep. We've been a vital part of the communities where we live and work for more than 100 years, and we'll continue serving residents and businesses by pruning trees to keep the lights on for millions of Texans. I invite you to learn more at www.oncor.com.

SABRINA TAYLOR is area manager for Oncor.

Münster - Lindsay split doubleheader

The junior varsity softball teams from Münster and Lindsay split a doubleheader Monday in a rescheduled contest. The Lady Knights won the first game 15-6, and Münster the second 14-7.

Scoring 1 run apiece for Münster were Delana Sicking, Shaina Felderhoff, Delana Rohmer, Natalie Valiere, Jessica Luttmir, and Logan Cheaney.

Shelby Holloway faced 18 batters, allowed 3 hits, 13 walks, and 1 strikeout. Tori Wright faced 13, allowed 4 hits and 4 walks, with 1 strikeout.

In Lindsay's victory, Abby Anderle and Diane Brown each scored 3 runs, with Emily Copeland, Jessica Thurman, Taylor Loch, and Macy Perry scoring 2 apiece, and Camille Hale 1. Tracy Bartlett got on base, and Diana Acala had an RBI.

Wright scored 3 runs for the Lady Hornets in their win over Lindsay. Sarah Wheeler, Rohmer, Felderhoff, and CJ Harrison each scored 2, with Sicking, Lia Heers, and Lacey Trubenbach adding 1 apiece.

Wright pitched to 28 batters, getting 4 strikeouts and allowing 11 hits and 2 walks. Lindsay's stats the second game included scores by Anderle, Bartlett, Loch, Thurman, Brown, and Copeland. Hale and Perry also got on base.

"The girls played very good defense and hit the ball well," noted Lindsay Coach Robin Hess. This was the JV Lady Knights' last game.

Münster game statistics were not available.

Lady Knights bring home two more wins

The Lindsay Lady Knights played their last regular season softball game on Friday, April 11 against Valley View. The Lady Eagles were on top 3 runs going into the bottom of the 7th, but Lindsay pulled out a 9-8 victory.

To finish the inning, Natalie Rose walked to 1st. Jordan Heilman took a base when hit by a pitch. Katie Dieter hit a double, allowing Rose to score. With runners on 2nd and 3rd, Alyx Ethington hit a home run, scoring the winning run.

"We seemed to struggle at the plate, only coming away with 6 hits," noted Coach Robin Hess. "The bats came alive when they needed to." Defensively, the Lady Knights committed only 1 error.

Scoring runs for Lindsay were Diane Brown (CR) 3, Ethington 2, Heilman 2, Bethani Eberhart and Rose 1 each.

Rose caught 7 popouts,

Beverly Knabe 3, Heilman 2, and Rose Hermes 1.

Ethington pitched to 35 batters, striking out 6, walking 8, and allowing 4 hits.

The win placed Lindsay and Collinsville tied for 1st in District.

The Lindsay Lady Knights took a win over the Saint Jo Lady Panthers last week by a score of 17-2. Lindsay pounded out 14 hits in four innings before the weather stopped the game.

Lindsay stats were as follows: Rose Hermes, 4 runs, 3 hits; Beverly Knabe, 3 runs, 3 hits; Alyx Ethington, 3 runs, 2 hits; Haley Hughes, 2 runs, 1 hit; Kendall Neu, 2 runs, 1 hit; Bethani Eberhart, 1 run, 1 hit; Kayla Hess, 2 runs, 2 hits including her first home run of the season; Natalie Rose, a hit, 5 popouts, 2 assists, 2 double plays; Jordan Heilman, a double play.

Ethington faced 18 batters, struck out 5, walked 7, and allowed only 1 hit.

TX PARKS & WILDLIFE ADOPTS HUNTING AND FISHING REGULATIONS

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, at its March 26 meeting, adopted changes to hunting and fishing regulations designed to create additional recreational opportunities while effectively managing the state's natural resources.

As part of the annual regulations review process, public input and discussion among agency staff led to two proposals related to upland bird hunting being withdrawn. Staff recommended turning to the Commission's newly appointed Game Bird Advisory Committee for further discussion on potential changes to quail and pheasant regulations.

One other proposal, which would have extended regulations allowing the take of catfish by means of bow and arrow, was also withdrawn. As of Sept. 1, 2008, taking of catfish by means of bow and arrow will no longer be legal.

Meanwhile, the following include some of the changes that were approved by the Commission:

Community fishing lake pole limit

Anglers will be limited to using two fishing poles on designated community fishing lakes. This new rule addresses hoarding of limited bank fishing access. The change affects impoundments 75 acres or less totally within a city limits or a public park, but will not be enacted on any waters inside a state park.

Lake Texoma Spotted Bass

This rule removes the 14-inch minimum length limit for spotted bass on Lake Texoma consistent with the Texas statewide regulation (no length limit) and the limit for the Oklahoma side of Texoma.

Expand Panhandle

Mule Deer Season

This adds Sherman and Hansford counties to the northern Panhandle mule deer season (16 days beginning the Saturday before Thanksgiving) and in Gaines, Martin, and the eastern portion of Andrews counties to the southwest Panhandle season (nine days beginning the Saturday before Thanksgiving). These counties, wildlife biologists believe, have mule deer populations sufficient to allow the harvest of a few buck mule deer.

Eliminate bowhunting minimum draw weight

This removes the requirement of a 40-pound minimum peak draw weight on bowhunting equipment.

Deer proof of sex requirement change

This allows special deer permit tags, including Managed Land Deer Permits, Landowner Assisted Management Permitting System, antlerless mule deer, special public hunting and Antlerless and Spike Control, to satisfy proof of sex tagging requirements.

Lower minimum age for Hunter Education Certification

This lowers the minimum age a student may receive hunter education certification from 12 years to nine years.

Quota for commercial catch of Gulf menhaden in state waters

This rule establishes a quota for the commercial catch of Gulf menhaden in state waters. The move is a precautionary measure that basically limits the fishery at its current level. The total allowable catch from state waters would be set at 31,500,000 pounds.

The changes will take effect after the required posting period or as specified in the rule.

What's your quail count?

A Texas AgriLife Extension Service wildlife specialist and a host of quail enthusiasts want to know.

Dr. Dale Rollins of San Angelo said the Trans-Texas Quail Count starts May 1. The grassroots effort is meant to determine the relative abundance of quail across the state. The results, which will be collected from quail-counters all over Texas, will be tabulated to give a good idea of the state's current quail population dynamics.

Rollins hopes to involve volunteers throughout Texas. The count will run from May 1-13 during the prime time that quail roosters begin calling for mates in earnest. "Our goal is to get as many folks out listening for quail calls across the state as possible," Rollins said. "Counters are especially needed in the eastern half of Texas where bobwhite populations are below critical mass for hunting and thus 'politically' not very important."

"Many landowners and quail hunters think their local quail population imploded back in October. One of our objectives of the count is to evaluate the local abundance of quail to determine whether or not this assertion is correct."

The count's other objectives are:

- Bring attention to the plight of quail across Texas.
- Evaluate breeding capital after two consecutive disappointing hunting seasons.
- Demonstrate appreciation for quail among a broad array of stakeholders.
- Identify remnant quail populations, especially in areas of east and central Texas.
- Spark an interest in rekindling struggling quail populations.
- Presence/absence of bobwhites will reflect availability of quail habitat.
- Identify "usable" and non-usable space for quail.

Rollins said counting quail is easy and takes relatively little time. Ideally, counters make six stops at one-mile intervals on a property and listen for quail heard calling during a five minute period at each stop. Though the count period lasts almost two weeks, Rollins said, counters need to make the effort only once; not every day of the period.

"The bobwhite whistle is easily recognized, so training per se is minimal," Rollins said. "Data sheets to record findings are available at: <http://teamquail.tamu.edu>. Hook up with friends, other hunters, and a local Bobwhite Brigade youth if you wish, to form your own count team. You really need at least two counters per route so there is some check on precision. The count will only take about three hours of one morning, and it's time well-spent."

Rollins said counts should take place from 7-9 a.m., and counters should record the number of different roosters heard calling, and the total number of quail whistles heard per stop. Once the counts are completed, FAX the findings to Rollins for completion at 325-658-4364.

"Bobwhites are our main focus, but blue-scaled quail could also be included," Rollins said. "Just remember when dealing with the blues that you're listening for the 'whock' song, not the 'chip-chip' call."

Rollins said he sees the count as an excellent opportunity to demonstrate what quail appreciation is all about.

"For many who participate, that morning could well be the first time they have ever really discovered the elements of a beautiful morning in an auditory sense," Rollins said. "They will be amazed at how much noise the mockingbirds make, and how far highway noise pollutes the morning's calm. Above all, I hope their efforts are rewarded by hearing at least three quail calling from each stop."

For more information, e-mail Rollins at drollins@tamu.edu or visit the TeamQuail Web site at: <http://teamquail.tamu.edu>

Debris in pastures potential health risk to livestock

Insulation and building debris present in pastures after high winds can cause problems for cattle producers, difficulties that potentially may have a significant effect on animal health and time management costs.

Cattle will eat just about anything that looks interesting in the pasture, cautions Dr. Dave Sparks, Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service veterinarian and area food animal quality and health specialist.

"Producers are going to have to pick up as much debris from their pastures as possible," he said. "This can be a painstaking, labor-intensive process given the potential amount of small debris."

Insulation can cause bloat, impaction, and gastro-intestinal problems when consumed, including possible hemorrhaging of the rumen. Nails and other small pieces of metal can cause "hardware" disease, health problems associated with the consumption of metal.

Sparks said a single piece of wire consumed by a bull, cow, heifer, or calf can drop down into the reticulum, the first stomach, where it potentially can pierce the heart.

Other problems sometimes associated with "hardware" disease are the shutting down of the rumen, depression, acute pain, and decreased milk production.

"Cattle producers may want to use rumen magnets if there appears to be a significant amount of metal debris in pastures," Sparks said. "A rumen magnet may be a health-care investment well worth the money."

Local large-animal veterinarians have information on rumen magnets, including associated costs and availability.

"Insulation debris is more problematic, because of the small size," Sparks said. "Producers are unlikely to rid their pastures of every bit of insulation. If animals exhibit symptoms of insulation-related problems, producers should contact their local veterinarians immediately."

Treatment of cattle suffering from insulation problems is symptomatic.

"Your local veterinarian will treat on a case-by-case basis," Sparks said. "This might mean employing a treatment with laxatives, mineral oil, fluid therapy, or in appropriate cases, surgery."

Nails and other sharp metal objects of various sizes also create a significant hazard to the feet and legs of animals.

"It's very common for these objects to cause puncture wounds and cuts in the feet and legs of livestock," Sparks said.

Often these metal objects have been carried by wind or washed into water holes, ponds, or other areas accessible to livestock and a potential source of injury.

"It's prudent for livestock owners to keep this in mind when they have animals showing lameness," Sparks said. "If an animal is lame for more than one or two days and the lameness continues to worsen, it should be examined by a veterinarian."

Additional information on after-the-storm cleanup practices is available through all Oklahoma State University Cooperative Extension county offices, located in local telephone directories or at <http://countyext2.okstate.edu> on the Internet.

Permanent estate tax repeal: best option for agriculture

Permanent repeal of estate taxes is the best option for farmers and ranchers among reform alternatives being considered, according to the American Farm Bureau Federation (AFBF). In written testimony sent to the Senate Finance Committee, AFBF explained why federal estate taxes have long been a concern to America's farmers and ranchers. According to AFBF, farmers and ranchers are particularly sensitive to the estate tax for several reasons. "First and foremost, farm operations typically require substantially more in capital assets to generate $1 in income than other sectors of the economy," said the group. "A more modest-sized farm operation can pay higher estate tax rates compared to a non-farm business, even if the non-farm estate generated comparable income while the owners were alive."

In addition, said AFBF, the typical farm estate has more capital tied up in fixed assets that are difficult to liquidate. As a result, farm estates often face greater difficulty in making death tax payments compared to other types of estates.

"Replacing the estate tax with an inheritance tax or other tax due when a business owner dies will do little to resolve the issues that plague farmers and ranchers under the current death tax regime," said AFBF. "Taxes still will be owed by surviving sons and daughters who want to continue to farm, and many will be forced to sell off parts of their business to settle the debt."

AFBF reiterated its commitment to permanent repeal of estate taxes, but urged Congress to make several immediate changes. Among them: the estate exemption should be increased to $10 million per person and indexed for inflation; there should be full stepped-up basis for inherited assets; the gift tax exemption should be increased to $20,000 and indexed for inflation; and special use valuation adjustments for property should be unlimited.

AG BRIEFS

Every year about 100 American firefighters die in the line of duty. About half of them are volunteers.

In 2007, consumer bankruptcy filings went up 40%. Early expectations are that 2008 will be worse.

Grass based pastures usually respond well to the first 40-50 pounds per acre of nitrogen.

COUNTY AGENT'S REPORT

WAYNE BECKER
CEA - AG/NR

TDA market

For the week ending April 12, feeder cattle prices at Texas auctions were from $6 per hundredweight higher to $6 lower, with the average for 500-600 pound steers up $1.23. Seasonally lower numbers offered for sale are helping to support the market, especially for higher-quality cattle. Fed cattle prices were higher.

Cash grain prices were lower. Corn declined on weekly export sales that were lower than expected and forecasts for improved planting weather in the Midwest. Wheat prices were also lower on expectations for a larger global crop.

As for futures markets, feeder cattle, finished cattle, and cotton prices were higher, while corn and wheat were lower. Lumber futures were modestly higher.

Strong storms, high winds, and rain were reported in northern regions of the state. Other areas received little or no rainfall.

The winter wheat crop is 13% headed. Recent rains were beneficial, but the crop remains in mostly poor to fair condition statewide.

Supplemental livestock feeding decreased as pastures began to green-up in most areas of the state.

Information on freeze injury in wheat

The frost early in the week may have some area producers concerned about freeze injury to their wheat. Injury usually occurs whenever low temperatures coincide with sensitive plant growth stages.

Wheat is most sensitive to freeze injury during reproductive growth, which begins with pollination during late boot or heading stages. Temperatures that are only slightly below freezing can severely injure wheat at these stages and greatly reduce grain yields. The degree of injury to wheat from spring freezes is influenced by the duration of the low temperatures, as well as the low point they reach. Prolonged exposure to freezing causes much more injury than brief exposure to the same temperature. Temperatures at which injury can be expected are for two hours of exposure to each temperature. Less injury can be expected from shorter exposure times, while injury might be expected at even somewhat higher temperatures from longer exposure times.

The many factors (plant growth stage, plant moisture content, and duration of exposure) that influence spring freeze injury to wheat make it difficult to predict the extent of injury. This is complicated still further by differences in elevation and topography among wheat fields and between wheat fields and official weather stations. Hopefully, the short duration of frost experienced in Cooke County on Monday will have minimal effect on the local wheat crop.

Temperatures cause freeze injury to winter wheat at different growth stages. Winter wheat rapidly loses hardness during spring growth and is easily injured by late freezes. The approximate growth stage, injurious temperature (two hours), primary symptoms, and yield effect are as follows:

- Tillering - 12 F - leaf chlorosis, burning of leaf tips, silage odor, blue cast to fields - slight to moderate.
- Jointing - 24 F - death of growing point, leaf yellowing or burning, lesions, splitting, or bending of lower stem, odor - moderate to severe.
- Boot - 28 F - floret sterility, spike trapped in boot, damage to lower stem, leaf discoloration, odor - moderate to severe.
- Heading - 30 F - floret sterility, white awns or white heads, damage to lower stem, leaf discoloration - severe.
- Flowering - 32 F - floret sterility, white awns or white heads, damage to lower stem, leaf discoloration - severe.
- Milk - 28 F - white awns or white heads, damage to lower stems, leaf discoloration, shrunk, roughened, or discolored kernels - moderate to severe.
- Dough - 28 F - shriveled, discolored kernels, poor germination - slight to moderate.

Bee swarms common this spring
Despite last summer's worries about declines in honey bee colonies among commercial beekeepers, bee swarms seem to be plentiful across North Texas this Spring.

Bee swarms occur most commonly during the early spring when new queens decide to spread their wings and take part of the mother colony with her to a new nest site. Bee swarms, therefore, are simply families of homeless bees in search of new places to settle.

The problem with swarming bees doesn't have to do with danger from their stings. This is because bees in swarms are much less likely to exhibit aggressive behavior than bees which have a nest to defend. The problem with swarms is that there are not a lot of acceptable nesting sites in urban neighborhoods—at least not acceptable from our human perspective. If a nest settles in a backyard tree it could pose a hazard to gardeners or children. And, if a colony discovers a way into your house, you could get stung in the pocketbook.

If they can find a way in, bees willingly take up residence in the walls or ceiling of homes and other human structures. If this happens, the nest will have to be removed, preferably by an experienced professional, and often at significant cost. If nests are not removed, after time the accumulation of wax, honey, and dead bees may produce objectionable odors and attract pests like mice, ants, cockroaches, and other scavenger insects.

Although some prefer to leave their wild bee swarms alone, the safest course in urban areas is to hire a beekeeper to remove the swarm, or exterminate it before it can discover a way into your home. With regards to swarms, extermination can be done by a professional, or can be done with an inexpensive sprayer and soapy water.

Dates to remember
April 22 - Cooke County Marketing Club Meeting, 7 p.m., Gainesville Farm Bureau Building.

May 9 - Small Grain Field Day (3 CEUs), 10 a.m. beginning two miles east of Muenster on Hwy. 82 at the AgriPro wheat trial. R.S.V.P. by May 7 for meal.

Beef ideas for parents

The Beef Checkoff Program recently launched a new family mealtime Web site to provide parents with creative ideas for enjoying meals as a family. The site offers innovative ideas for after school activities, getting kids in the kitchen, planning celebrations, healthy living, and family fun. Beef recipes from the "Enriching Family Mealtimes" toolkit are also featured. Quarterly updates will keep information on the site fresh. To view the site, go to www.family-mealtimes.org.

FEMALE REPLACEMENT SALE
May 7, 2008
Now taking consignments.
Call 940 665-4367 for more information.
We understand the time, work, and money you have in getting your cattle ready to market. We know you have a choice in where your cattle are sold. Don't just take your cattle to a sale to be sold, let us market them for you. With our help you will receive the most dollars for your cattle.
Full Service - Maximum Profit
We provide a variety of services, including gathering and hauling, if you need help when selling your cattle. We will also act as your order buyer for cows and stocker calves.
Ask us about our vaccination program for your calves and cows to maximize your profits.
When it is time to sell your cattle call Redbone at the New Gainesville Livestock Auction, 940 665-4367.

FARM BUREAU INSURANCE
Auto - Home - Life
Whether you have a claim, need to change coverage or just have a question, Farm Bureau Insurance is really convenient. You always call the same office and receive prompt, professional service from your own personal agent. Plus, with our competitive rates, you may even save money.
Helping You is what we do best.
