

CONTRACT FOR CONSTRUCTION WORK ON UNIT NO. 1, IRRIGATION PROJECT, IS OFFICIALLY AWARDED TO BRIGGS-DARBY

Approval of Purchase Contract
With Bond Company Only Remaining Step

Contract for construction work on Unit 1 of Brown County's million-dollar irrigation project was officially awarded to Briggs-Darby Construction Company at a meeting of the Board of directors Tuesday afternoon.

Actual construction work will be commenced immediately upon receipt of approval of a bond purchase contract between the district and Brown-Crummer Investment Company from Public Works Administration headquarters in Washington. Local officials are hopeful that the approval will be received this week. Contract was awarded to Briggs-Darby on a bid of $1,614,248.81.

The purchase contract provides for placing $500,000 in bonds to finance the district's share of the project. The PWA made a grant of $450,000 to the project provided the district can finance its share of the cost.

Private sale of the bonds was made mandatory when federal government agencies declined to make a loan to the district. In order to secure the bond purchase contract, the district is required to place $50,000 in bonds in Brownwood. Work on the local sales is progressing in a satisfactory manner.

Under the bond contract, approximately $1,500,000 in outstanding bonds of the district will be refinanced to defer maturity dates which would begin in 1954, and to reduce interest from 5 1/2 to 6 per cent to 3 per cent for four years and 4 per cent thereafter. The bonding company agrees to purchase $600,000 in new bonds to be known as Series A and Series B, each series for $300,000 in 4 per cent bonds.

COUNCILMEN APPROVE METER ORDINANCE AT WEDNESDAY SESSION

Ordinance Must Be Published Twice
Before Meters Can Be Operated

Although the law will not become effective until published twice in two separate weeks, ordinance authorizing and regulating operation of parking meters in Brownwood was passed on third and final reading by City Council at a called meeting Wednesday afternoon.

At a called meeting Tuesday night, the ordinance was passed on first and second readings. Vote on passage of the ordinance was three to one. Aldermen J. B. Leach, T. H. Hart, and M. J. Flowers voted for the ordinance and Alderman E. B. Henley, Jr., voted against it.

The meters will be operated daily except Sundays and holidays. Holidays designated by the Council are San Jacinto Day, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving Day, Armistice and Christmas.

The ordinance provides that the meters will be paid for from receipts; that parking charge will be five cents for two hours; time of operation will be from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., and makes it unlawful for persons to place slugs in the meters or tamper with or damage the machines. The ordinance also makes it unlawful for "any person to cause, allow, permit or suffer any vehicle registered in his name to be parked overtime or beyond the lawful period" at a meter.

Ten minute time limit is set for parking in loading zones. Spaces for cars will be marked at the meters with stripes of paint.

Violators of the ordinance will be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to fine in any sum not to exceed $100.

Five of the meters were damaged Monday night by unknown persons. Damage consisted mostly of breaking the glass in the meters. The city has offered a $25 reward for information leading to conviction of anyone who damages the meters, and has added extra policemen on the streets at night.

AGRICULTURE DEPT. SETS ALLOTMENTS FOR COTTON AND TOBACCO

Texas Cotton Allotment Nearly Three Million Bales Under
Last Year's Total

In placing the new long range crop control bill into action late last week, Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace assigned production allotment and marketing quotas for 1938 cotton and tobacco production.

Tentative figures on the 1938 state cotton acreage allotments and 1937 plantings included: Texas—1938 allotment, 9,839,527 acres; 1937 planting—12,896,000.

Simultaneously, Wallace announced the first referenda among producers for establishment of marketing quotas in invoking authority granted in the $440,000,000 farm bill signed by President Roosevelt.

The first referenda, to be held March 12, will determine whether cotton farmers and producers of blue-cured, fire cured and dark-air-cured tobacco will market their crops under quotas.

The quotas will be effective on all producers of these crops unless rejected by one-third of the producers participating in the referenda. The secretary fixed acreage allotments for cotton at approximately 26,384,000 acres, compared with 34,383,000 acres planted last year.

Cotton acreage allotments will be divided among producing states on the basis of average plantings for the past five years. The allotments represent a reduction of approximately 8,000,000 acres from last year.

Three Directors

The allotted acreage, according to estimate, will yield a crop of 10,129,000 bales, based on an average yield per acre for the past ten years. Acreage allotment will be established for each individual farm and if the allotment is not exceeded, all cotton produced may be marketed without penalty.

Farmers planting in excess of acreage allotments will be penalized. A penalty of two cents a pound will be imposed on cotton grown in excess acreage. In addition, farmers failing to observe the regulations will not be eligible to receive full soil conservation benefit payments.

Surplus supplies of cotton and tobacco make reductions next year necessary to protect farmers against further price declines. The supply of cotton this season, Wallace said, is about 25,000,000 bales, compared with a "normal supply" of 18,200,000 bales.

The 18,746,000 bale 1937 crop established an all time record, piling up a carry-over which Wallace said will amount to about 12,000,000 bales on August 1, 1938.

Southern cotton farmers will receive approximately $250,000,000 in government benefit payments this year under the new program.

Total payments in 1938 will be more than double the amount paid in any previous year under the AAA or the Soil Conservation act, according to preliminary estimates. Payments will include $120,000,000 in subsidy payments on 1937 cotton to farmers complying with 1938 acreage allotments, and approximately $120,000,000 in benefit payments on 1938 cotton and for soil conservation practices.

Under the old AAA cotton farmers received $112,000,000 in 1936 and an estimated $110,000,000 in 1937.

Secretary Wallace named three of his assistants to administer the new $100,000,000 Federal Crop Insurance, authorized in the bill to insure wheat production beginning next year.

Wallace named as members of the board of directors of the co-operation M. L. Wilson, undersecretary of agriculture; Jesse W. Trapp, assistant administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and R. M. Evans, assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture.

The three men will direct the management of the corporation for which the legislation provided capital stock of $100,000,000. Only $20,000,000 will be available for the first year's operation, however.

The crop insurance program is the first of its kind undertaken by the government. It provides a guarantee of approximately 75 per cent of acreage production. Farmers will pay premiums in wheat when their production exceeds the guaranteed figure, and will receive indemnities from the government in wheat in years of short crops.

Calves in Three Classes Will Be Displayed; Cash Prizes
Total $165

Under direction of County Agent C. W. Lehmborg, plans for the second annual Spring 4-H Club-Future Farmers of America Baby Beef Show, to be held here March 2, are rapidly taking shape.

Calves will be shown in three classes, senior milk fed, junior milk fed, and dry lot fed. In addition, a class of registered Jersey heifers will be shown. Prizes offered in all classes total $165.50. The show will be held in Bohannon & Steel Horse and Mule barn on Center avenue.

Judging will begin at 9:30 a. m. with Leon C. Ranson assistant Taylor county agricultural agent, in charge. Auction of the calves will be held at 1:30 p. m. About 20 calves will be entered by 4-H club boys of the county whose work is directed by Lehmborg and approximately 30 will be entered by F. F. A. boys work is directed by vocational agricultural teachers of the various schools.

Best calves of the county show will be entered in the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. Entries also have been made in the San Angelo Fat Stock Show. A number of club boys will display registered sheep at the show, although no prizes are offered. Lehmborg said efforts will be made to organize a complete livestock show here next year with prizes offered for beef and dairy calves, sheep and hogs.

Prizes Offered

Schedule of prizes offered in this year's sale is: Grand champion baby beef, $20; milk fed calves, senior class (550 pounds and over), first, $15; second, $10; third, $7.50; fourth, $5; fifth, $4 and sixth $3. Prizes of $3 each are offered for the next ten best milk fed calves. Dry lot calves, first, $5; second, $4; third, $3; fourth, $2.50 and fifth, $2. Jersey heifers, first, $5; second, $3, and third, $2.

"Everyone is invited and urged to attend the show and declared the county agent this week. "The boys have done a fine piece of work in feeding out these calves and we are anxious that the public see the calves before they are shipped to market."

Brown County Livestock Improvement Association, organized here in 1934, has done much to encourage the boys in their feeding work. A number of breeders who have seen the calves being fed this year say the animals are the best ever raised by boys of this county.

Calves entered in the show must be on the grounds not later than 9 a. m. and ready for the ring. Boys living some distance from Brownwood have been asked to take their calves to the sales barn the day before the show so the animals can be properly clipped and groomed. No charge will be made for the use of the stalls.

A number of Brown county livestock breeders and Brownwood business men have agreed to purchase 4-H club calves offered in the sale. The list includes Joe Weedon, Largent & Stevens, M. E. Fry, John Yantis, Hereford Breeders Association, Marion Baugh and Abney-McInnis, Logan Feed & Hatchery, Weakley-Watson-Miller Hardware Co., Citizens National Bank, Emison & Son Grocery; Brownwood Cotton Oil Mill, W. P. Logan and Community Natural Gas Co. Special cash premiums also are offered by Patterson Motor Co. and Austin Mill & Grain Co.

PAGEANT OF GEORGE WASHINGTON'S TIME TO BENEFIT CHARITY

Proceeds From Pageant, Ball To Replenish County Welfare
Fund

Gallant gentlemen in knee pants and silk stockings will bow bustled ladies through the steps of the Virginia Reel and other dances of George Washington's day at a pageant and ball Friday night in Memorial Hall sponsored by the Business & Professional Women's Club. More modern dancers will trip the intricate steps of the Big Apple.

Proceeds of the affair will go to the Brown County Welfare Board and the special activities fund of the club, which is used almost entirely as a student loan fund for Brown county girls. Since the beginning of the fund, approximately 100 Brown county girls have been assisted in securing their education.

The Pageant, prologue and synopsis which were written by members of the club, will start at 8:15 and the ball at 9:30 o'clock. Jack Free's orchestra will provide music.

Through song, story and dance, a history of the United States will be depicted from its beginning under Washington's administration to the present time. Depicters of Washington and his cabinet will view the results and growth of the country.

All members of the B & P W club will be dressed in Colonial costumes, and officials of the club are urging that all who attend the pageant dress in early American style. The club is sponsoring the pageant as its major activity this year instead of the President's Ball which in the past few years has been directed by the organization.

Range Program Will Continue Under New Agricultural Bill

The Range Conservation Program under which ranch operators may earn specified payments for practices designed to maintain and improve range land will continue under provisions of the recently passed Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 practically the same as under the Agricultural Conservation Programs of 1936 and 1937, according to George Slaughter, Chairman of Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee.

Slaughter summarizes the status of the range program as follows: The Act includes an allotment of not to exceed 5 per cent of the total appropriation for payments for the range program, and non-crop pasture lands.

Under this limitation a program has been devised for the conservation of natural resources of range-lands. The program is essentially the same as the 1937 program under which 15,000 range operators controlling 52,000,000 acres participated in Texas. Texas has about one-third of the participation in the entire United States.

The 1938 range conservation program establishes range-building allowances as the maximum amount which ranch operators may earn from approval practices.

In Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, and California, this allowance is 2 cents an acre on all range land in ranching unit, plus $1.00 time the grazing capacity.

All the practices approved by which part or all the allowance may be earned are designed to fight erosion by promoting or restoring stands of grass.

They consist of natural reseeding by deferred grazing, better distribution of water sources, runoff and erosion control by contour turrowing and other devices, removal of range destroying plants which compete with grass, and the establishment of fire guards.

Specific rates of pay have been established for the various practices outlined. Full details will be sent to all county offices as soon as received in the State.

Slaughter pointed out that the range program is now available for the entire State.

Applications for emergency crop and feed loans for 1938 are now being received at the local Crop Loan office in the courthouse, by D. H. Harrison, field Supervisor of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration.

The loans will be made, as in the past, only to farmers who cannot obtain credit from any other source. The money loaned will be limited to the farmer's immediate and actual needs for growing his 1938 crops or for the purchase of feed for livestock, and the amount which may be loaned to any one farmer in 1938 may not exceed $400.

Farmers who can obtain the funds they need from an individual, production credit association, bank, or other concern are not eligible for crop and feed loans from the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration. The loans will not be made to standard rehabilitation clients whose current needs are provided for by the Farm Security Administration, formerly known as the Resettlement Administration.

As in the past, farmers who obtain emergency crop and feed loans will give as security a first lien on the crop financed, or a first lien on the livestock to be fed if the money borrowed is to be used to produce or purchase feed for livestock.

Where loans are made to tenants, the landlords, or others having an interest in the crops financed or livestock to be fed, are required to waive their claims in favor of a lien to the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration until the loan is repaid.

Checks in payment of approved loans will be mailed from the Regional Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office at Dallas, Texas.

Council President of Boy Scouts Appoints Committees for Year

President Russell B. Jones, Breckenridge, of the Comanche Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, has named council chairmen for 1938. Their work will cover the eight counties of Central West Texas from Lampasas on the south through Stephens on the north.

Annual reports of the president showed a promising gain in Scouting for the area. The year 1937 ended with 854 active Scouts and 272 leaders. Activities for 1938 call for 1,000 Scouts in all three of the branches—Cubbing, Boy Scouts, and Senior Scouting.

The 48 units of the council will be supplemented with new units, as proper leaders are found and trained. "Our problem is adequate leadership," Jones declared. "The boys are ready. We plan this year to have an active leaders' training schedule. Frank W. Braden of the Senior Scouting section of the national office, will be here during the last of February to consult with the officials on the 1938 program," he continued.

The following chairmen were named: Finance and Budget Committee, Grady Pipkin, Eastland; John T. Yantis, Brownwood and I. S. Brock, Eliasville; Organization, M. H. Applewhite, Cisco; Leadership and Training, Hunter M. Jones, Breckenridge; Summer Camping, Henry Wilson, Brownwood; Court of Honor, Bert E. McLamery, Eastland; Reading and Study, H. E. Robinson, Brownwood; Rural Scouting, M. S. Sellers, Rising Star; Civic Service, E. R. Maxwell, Breckenridge; Health and Safety, Dr. H. A. Logston, Ranger; Cubbing, O. E. Winebrenner, Brownwood; Senior Scouting, N. S. Holland, Breckenridge; Public Relations and Publicity, Horace M. Conley, Cisco.

The first council meeting with the newly announced committees will be held at Brownwood during the last part of February.

THE REST OF THE RECORD

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

My fight to secure the return of the State's land has developed rapidly the past week.

When I requested the Attorney General to file a number of suits to recover these lands for the State, he told the newspapers that I was childish. From Paul's letters to the Corinthians, he quoted:

"When I was a child, I spake as a child; I understood as a child; I thought as a child. But when I became a man I put away childish things."

I can readily understand why the Attorney General, who calls himself the "Great McCraw," would have to resort to the Scriptures to prove that he was grown up.

Immediately after I demanded that the suits be filed, however, the Land Commissioner cancelled the big lease I had been complaining about—the one where he turned down $103,000 in cash and accepted $310.

This is the second time I have made him back up and cancel out. It appears, therefore, that my "childishness" has already resulted in the cancellation of two valuable leases which he had executed.

You will remember that the Attorney General also said that he would not file all the suits that I had requested, but would file only one test suit. He said that the State's rights would not be jeopardized; but when I pointed out that if these people were allowed to let the matter rock along until a test suit could be drawn out through the courts they would then have their ramble and know whether the well being drilled was a producer or dry; and when I pointed out that these people could even assign these leases to others who could claim to be innocent purchasers, the Attorney General changed his mind and filed nine additional suits.

So my "childishness" has resulted in further action.

The trouble now is that the Attorney General only set up one ground in asking for cancellation of these leases. He did not allege in his petitions that the facts constituted legal fraud, as I had requested him to do. Nowhere did he allege the facts and circumstances which I set out in my letters. I think these facts and circumstances taken as a whole clearly shows a fraud upon the rights of the people. I am sorry that the Attorney General is not going to give the court the opportunity to pass on these facts. I would rather have three legs to stand on in a lawsuit than just one especially where millions of dollars belonging to the school children are involved.

To save my life, I can't understand why the Attorney General hasn't been just as anxious to investigate and go after these matters as I have been. Heretofore the Attorney General's office has been regarded as the watch dog for the people. One after another, former Attorneys General have stepped out with lawsuits to protect the rights of the people. The most recent instance was when former Attorney General Dan Moody broke up the highway contracts, and was immediately elected Governor.

The "Great McCraw," as he calls himself, has had a similar opportunity and failed to take hold of it, even after I furnished him with all the facts and made an official request of him. I hope he will yet amend his pleadings and go after these suits seriously and in a fighting mood.

Mrs. Allred and I tremendously enjoyed our visit to Washington. Of course, we were honored beyond expression by being privileged to attend Vice President Garner's dinner to the President; but, to our joyous surprise, the President and Mrs. Roosevelt invited us to have lunch in the White House last Sunday. It was just a fine family party, one which made us all feel perfectly at home. The President is in the best of good spirits, still thinking and working for the people.

Zephyr 4-H Club

"Aprons are worn in the kitchen when you are wearing your best dress," said Miss Malone, county home demonstration agent, to the Zephyr 4-H Club girls at their meeting Feb. 16.

"Aprons should be made to cover the front of the dress, in order that the dress won't get soiled." At this meeting the club girls cut out twelve aprons and several cut patterns.

There were 21 members, sponsor and county agent present. The next meeting will be March 2, at the school house.—Ivy Counts, reporter.

Exchanging valentines was the spirit shone by the Mukewater 4-H club girls at the meeting Tuesday morning February 15, 1938. After a short business meeting and our valentine box and each girl receiving a pretty valentine, we spent the rest of our meeting sewing on aprons. The girls that didn't sew on their aprons started their histories.

Cotton Allotments Authorized in Bill

The establishment of cotton marketing quotas, based on farm acreage allotments, is authorized for all cotton producing farms under provision of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938. The new measure passed by Congress to strengthen the Agricultural Conservation Program and provide more effective control of burdensome crop surpluses, according to George Slaughter, Chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee.

The Adjustment Act provides for a natural cotton allotment of approximately 10,750,000 bales in 1938. The tentative cotton allotment for Texas in 1938 will be about 9,800,000 acres. The number of acres needed, at normal yields, to produce the acreage allotment will be apportioned to the cotton producing states and counties, with no county to receive less than 60 per cent of the cotton acreage planted and diverted in that county in 1937. The county allotment will be divided among individual farms, with special consideration for small producers.

This division will give all farms a minimum allotment up to five acres of cotton and a small allotment will be available for producers receiving between 5 and 15 acres. The remainder of the county allotment will be divided in such manner as to give each farm in the county or administrative area a uniform percentage of the crop-land on the farm excluding wheat and rice acreage and the acreage used for commercial livestock production as its cotton acreage allotment. No farm may have an allotment greater than its planted and diverted cotton acreage in any of the past three years.

The 1938 marketing quota of an individual farm will be the larger of the actual or normal amount of cotton produced on that farm's acreage allotment, plus any cotton carried over by the farm from the 1937 crop. In other words, the farmer may sell, without restriction, all the cotton he can produce on his allotted acreage. On all cotton sold from the farm in excess of its marketing quota a penalty of 2 cents a pound must be paid. This means that if the farmer overplants, the cotton sold in excess of the actual or normal production of the allotted acres will be subject to the 2-cent penalty. The penalty does not apply to cotton on farms where the total production is less than the 1,000 lint pounds.

Furthermore, if a farmer overplants he will lose his 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program payment and the Cotton Price Adjustment payment to which he might be entitled on his 1937 cotton, and will be eligible for a cotton loan on only that part of his cotton produced in excess of his quota and at a rate 40 percent lower than the loan rate provided for cooperators.

For cooperators, cotton loans are authorized at a rate to be fixed by the Secretary of Agriculture between 52 and 75 percent of parity. The parity price of cotton at present is approximately 16 cents.

Putting All Other Hats in Shade

Do you think the chapeau creation worn by the University of Chattanooga's pretty Gene Loaring-Clark, above, is any more fantastic than any dozen or so hats you will meet on the street any day? Look closely. The hat is made from one white lampshade, one bathtub plug chain, one shoe lace, two paper clips and a skimpy bouquet of artificial flowers. The co-ed wore it all one day in Chattanooga—and created one impression. A waitress stared enviously.

ON TEXAS FARMS

Gardening Activities

The 57,000 home demonstration club women and 4-H girls who cooperated with the garden program of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service during 1937 planted 58 million feet or row space to vegetables, the annual report of J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist, shows.

The gardens, if converted into mileage, would approximate one row of vegetables 10,000 miles long. Rosborough also noted that 7,204 orchards adequate for the family's needs were set out during 1937. These orchards contain some 140,000 fruit trees and vines.

Meanwhile, the annual report of Miss Grace I. Neely, specialist in food preservation, shows that the women and club girls preserved more than 11 million pints of fruit and vegetables during the past year.

Details of Miss Neely's report show that 6,779,114 pints of vegetables were canned or brined, while 4,723,238 pints of fruit were canned or preserved. Also canned were 1,415,992 pints of meat. In addition, 3,654,192 pounds of

TEXAS FARMERS MAY EXPECT SEVERE SIEGE OF GRASSHOPPERS ON CROPS THIS YEAR

Egg counts made by county agricultural agents and Federal and State entomologists during the fall and winter indicate that Texas may expect a severe grasshopper infestation in the late spring and early summer of 1938, according to R. R. Reppert, entomologist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Surveys conducted by Reppert have led him to anticipate a much more severe infestation than was suffered in 1937.

In 9 counties, he expects that almost all susceptible crops will be attacked by the insects, in 7 counties half to three-fourths of the crops are endangered, in 17 counties the anticipated infestation will be from 20 to 50 percent, and in 48 counties the insects are expected to affect from 4 to 30 percent of the crop.

In addition, Reppert expects infestations of varying degrees in 23 counties in which complete surveys were not attempted. Major outbreaks are indicated in the upper Panhandle and in north and north central Texas, with probable damage in the middle valleys of the Brazos and Trinity rivers.

The control measure hinges upon putting out poisoned bait before the grasshoppers emerge, and before they have had time to spread and multiply. Reppert pointed out. The 1937 control campaign returned more than a hundred dollars for each dollar spent, and saved crops valued at more than 6 million dollars.

It is estimated that there is a probable need for 14,000 tons of bait in the 1938 control campaign, or approximately six times the amount used in 1937. Plans have already been made for the distribution, mixing, and application of this material.

PEEP SHOW —For Ladies Only—

BY MIGNON

It seems to me that every day Seem nicer than the rest Just like a doting mother Thinking her child's the best.

Sure enough it seems that every day brings something lovely from some new friend, some beautiful thought to make me want to look up and smile about the little heartaches that came yesterday, or a note from an old friend across the years making the day brighter and better. Entertained in the lovely home of Theresa McBurney, that charming poet who sings songs of mother love, of chivalry, of Texas trails and Oklahoma nights, I met a most unusual assembly of people. Mrs. Walt Mills (not the wife of the columnist but another) who makes poems with a brush or chalk that are a symphony of color and detail and symmetry and beauty.

Then John Wilson... A plain man apparently but one whom I will always remember as having had the privilege of knowing for a short space of time. A poet, deep and profound. A man whose generosity, his church and his friends will be remembered and respected long after his frail bark has crossed the narrow strait of life. A kind of dreamer whose greatest dream no doubt, would be to bring peace and kindness and understanding to an entire world. Whose poems are not only written as most poets write but in hand tooled leather, in the lovely grill work of a church organ, in rich, deep pile of old velvets, in damasks, the satin sheen of old walnut or rosewood which he lovingly patterns into things of beauty for an unappreciative public to give as a bridge prize. But he can always have his dream there in his heart and the beautiful inspiring thoughts that keep it company and maybe someday he will bring them out for us to enjoy. He is deep in an article for Scribners at present concerning Russia where he served his government for a long period. Then there was Robin Gould who made me think almost I had my preacher back again with his interpretation of the love chapter from the book of books.

Then there was Buff and Reba

Burtis—newspaper folks I adore and Little Buff, Betty and Jane that would warm anybody's heart—A whole lot more delightful folks anybody would love to know. I fell hardest for Larissa's doctor though—Results, a hip dis-jointed—a knee decapped and a stocking that looks like a Union Station.

My thanks go too to an unknown friend who this week presented me with a hand lettered replica of "Just Wonderin'" which appeared in the Oklahoman on Will Rogers' birthday. A pensketch of Will, too was included. A. E. Short was the thoughtful and artistic friend who did this. Someday I hope I can find him and thank him personally for a favor.

We've got a crop assured I know For all about here lies the snow Unless it's just like woman's eyes And all it does is lies and lies.

O. O. McINTIRE

Not since the death of Walter Ferguson has the death of any public man seemed such a blow, a real and personal loss, as that of O. O. McIntyre. Over a long period of years his homey, newsy, readable column has topped off our breakfast. We felt his friendliness, his shyness, his aversion to showing off, and loved him for it. Living in the hub-bub of a big city he never lost the country-town attitude or the love of the common little human things in life. We never pass a haberdasher's shop where beautiful neckties are displayed without wishing it wouldn't seem silly to send O. O. one. Best of all the things we loved about him was his lasting love for his lady as he called her. He never passed up a chance to show a million readers that she was the real love and inspiration of his life.

Today a million friends all over the land are feeling an ache in their hearts that O. O. didn't get to go home as he had planned. The beautiful old boyhood home that he had bought as a silver anniversary present for his lady. Gate-wood, with its wide fireplaces, its pillared entrance, held his body for a day while great throngs paid their last respects to him. No, he had not planned that sort of a home coming. The little girl who once played the piano while she watched his gallant endeavors at trick bicycle riding as he rode down the broad walk to impress her, was with him. Her shining braids were

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS WILL-H MAYES AUSTIN TEXAS

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. What became of the bodies of the Texans who drew black beans at Salado, Mexico? A. The bodies of sixteen were buried in a single trench at Salado. In 1848, Major Walter P. Lane, while on a scouting expedition in the United States-Mexican war, had the bones exhumed, brought to La Grange and placed in a single stone vault, with the bodies of the 35 who fell in the Dawson massacre. An imposing monument has been erected there to their memory. J. L. Shepperd, one of the 17 who drew black beans, was only slightly wounded, feigned death, and escaped in the night from Salado, but later was recaptured and shot.

Q. How old was Rev. Thomas Washington Cox when he enlisted in 1842, for service in Mexico, and what other army service had he seen? A. He was 57 years old in 1842, having been born in Alabama in 1785. He came to Texas in 1822 with Austin's third colony, and settled in Walker County. He was with Ben Milam at the siege and capture of San Antonio (Bexar), was in the Battle of San Jacinto, fought the Indians at Plum Creek and elsewhere, and after his return to Texas again engaged in preaching in Fayette County, becoming widely known as "The Fighting Parson."

Q. How early did slavery and state-rights enter into the politics of Texas? A. Although slavery existed in Texas from the beginning of its Anglo-American settlement, it did not become a political issue until it was interwoven with the subject of state-rights, the political feeling rising to a high pitch with the passage of the Fugitive Slave Law. Houston was a conservative unionist, and in a heated campaign in 1857 was defeated for governor by Hardin R. Runnels, an extreme state-rights and slavery advocate.

Q. How long were the slavery and state-rights supporters able to retain the leading offices in Texas? A. Runnels and Lubbock were defeated in 1859 as Democratic candidates for governor and lieutenant governor by Houston and Clark, who ran as Independents on practically the same issues of 1857, and A. J. Hamilton, an Independent, was elected to Congress from the western district. Following John Brown's raid on Harper's Ferry, Virginia, in October, the Texas legislature in November swung strongly to the state-rights view and elected to a United States senate vacancy Louis T. Wigfall, a rabid state-rights man and bitter opponent of Houston. From that time sentiment was overwhelmingly, but not unanimously, for recession.

Q. What brought about requests for Governor Houston to convene the legislature in special session in 1860? A. The election of Lincoln and Johnson so aroused state-rights advocates that Texans held mass meetings throughout the State and asked Houston to call the legislature in special session to provide for a convention to take action on seceding from the Union, which Houston firmly refused to do.

Q. Who composed the subcommittee that negotiated with General Twiggs for the withdrawal of Federal troops from Texas? A. Thomas J. Devine, Samuel A. Maverick, and P. N. Luckett were a sub-committee representing the "Committee of Public Safety."

Songs Texans Sing Know the songs that Texans sing—songs of the Texas ranches, the Texas Trails, the Texas firesides, the state song, the University song, the song "Will You Come to the Bower?" that inspired the heroes of San Jacinto, negro spirituals. THE TEXAS SONG BOOK contains 32 pages of specially selected songs for Texas people, Texas home, Texas schools, as chosen by a committee of Texas musicians as popular songs of the state that all should know. The MARCH OF TIME

A New BANNER Feature by the Editors of TIME, The Weekly Newsmagazine

Probe Continued . . .

WASHINGTON—Although Washington political observers have for three weeks thought that Franklin Roosevelt's request for $500,000,000 for Navy construction (over and above the regular $500,000,000 appropriation) was a misleading effort to get Congressional approval of his foreign policy, powerful isolationists last week seemed to be using the Navy Bill as a means of smoking out and perhaps modifying the President's foreign policy.

For, concluding the sixth day of his appearance before the House Naval Affairs Committee, Admiral William D. Leahy said the Navy needed every penny of the money because costly $65,000,000 battleships were still the best available all-around naval weapons. . . . announced that "recent air operations on the Coast of China" had convinced him that airplanes alone could not prevent an enemy expeditionary force from landing, and that airplanes alone could not successfully prevent a blockade or act as a convoy.

The most convincing argument brought forth by the Admiral to refute isolationists who believe that the Big Navy bill is somehow connected with a secret Anglo-U. S. naval agreement was that the reason the Navy wanted such a big fleet was to make it independent of the need for just such alliances, give it the strength to protect both coasts alone. Thereupon, the committee called in the Big Navy bill's opponents.

Against, First opponent of the Big Navy bill heard by the Committee was Jeannette Rankin, who, as the first woman Representative in U. S. history, voted against U. S. entry into the World War. Now the legislative secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War, she said: "It is argued that the proposed increases are for defense, but there is no assurance as to what the Government contemplates defending. . . . We maintain that a wholly abnormal building program. . . will intensify international tension and distrust and increase the speed with which humanity is drifting into. . . another World War."

Most cogent of a string of other objectors to a bigger U. S. Navy was eminent Historian Charles A. Beard, who thought the only possible excuse for giving the Navy $800,000,000 was to implement the President's desire to "quarantine aggressor nations; that such a quarantine would mean 'aggressive warfare in the Far Pacific or the far Atlantic." Historian Beard called for a foreign policy of "abstaining from the quarrels of Europe and Asia, avoiding all gratuitous advice and insults to foreign governments, and defending the continental home of the U. S. and adjacent waters." He pointed out that the "idea of Germany, Italy or Japan sending a fleet of battleships conveying 500,000 soldiers across the seas in majestic array is simply fantastic. . . .

When Major General Johnson Hagood, retired, lamented the absence of a clear statement of naval policy, House Committee Chairman Vinson interrupted to read the bill's definition of the fundamental U. S. naval policy: to maintain a Navy adequate to afford "protection to the coastline in both oceans at one and the same time; to protect the Panama Canal, Alaska, Hawaii and our insular possessions. . . . to guarantee our national security, but not aggression; . . . provide a defense that will keep any potential enemy away from our shores."

This was perhaps the only remaining way to say what half-a-dozen other Administration spokesmen had been saying for three weeks. But no one had yet been very convincing about the threat which made it a practical necessity for the U. S. to join the rest of the world (including the Netherlands and Scandinavia) in the current armament marathon, to take a further step away from the economy of welfare and toward the economy of warfare prevailing in the bankrupt nations of the world.

Goodwill Visit . . .

Singapore, Straits Settlement—Exactly five days after Secretary of State Cordell Hull had categorically denied that there was any written or implied agreement between the British and U. S. fleets, the modern U. S. cruisers "Ten-ton," "Milwaukee" and "Memphis" last week steamed into narrow Singapore Strait and dropped anchor to the boom of welcoming salutes from British shore batteries.

Of this visit the Singapore "Free Press" promptly wrote: "The most casual observer can see that the decision to send three American cruisers to Singapore was actuated by more than a desire to repeat those goodwill visits which have featured Singapore's naval life in recent years."

Apparently the three Yankee cruisers had come 4,500 miles just to watch a squad of British officials break the ribbon stretched across the entrance to the Island's huge new naval dockyard. But Singapore and Britons the world over preferred to believe they were to show Japan that at least two of the Western nations vitally interested in the Pacific were reaching the end of their patience with "Japanese aggression in the Far East, to hint gravely that in the event of a general war in the Pacific the natives of Britain and the U. S. will be able to make use of Singapore, now the greatest naval base, the greatest fortress in the East.

Second AAA . . .

Washington—The Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, a 104 page compromise measure patched together out of the House and Senate Farm bills passed during last fall's special session and already approved by the House, was last week passed by the Senate (66-to-31). This third major Farm bill of the Roosevelt Administration, aimed at regulating the production and prices of the five major U. S. crops (wheat, cotton, corn, tobacco, rice) empowers Secretary Wallace to set a national acreage for each crop each season based on production during preceding years, to give farmers who cooperate with the acreage allotment program loans on their crops whenever prices fall too far below "parity," and to invoke compulsory marketing quotas whenever national supplies of any crop exceed specified levels.

WHEAT. To provide for a normal year's domestic consumption and export of wheat plus a 30 per cent carryover, the Act sets the national acreage allotment for 1938 at 62,500,000 acres, compared to 68,198,000 acres under cultivation last year. Allotments must be proclaimed by Secretary Wallace before July 15—divided among the wheat producing States a 4 and counties, and divided by county committees among individual farmers. If the price is less than 52 per cent of the parity price on June 15, or if the July crop estimate forecasts a bumper year, Secretary Wallace with the President's approval can make loans from 52 per cent up to 75 per cent of the parity price—in effect Government payments in advance to the farmer for his crop at a fixed price almost certainly higher than the market price he will get when he sells it.

CORN. Allotments must be proclaimed by February 1 of each year (for 1938, "as soon as practicable.") Corn crop loans will be granted when the price is below 75 per cent of parity on November 15, or if the November crop estimate is excessive. Marketing quotas will be invoked when supplies reach 2,700,000,000 bushels, penalties assessed at 15 cents a bushel.

COTTON. Allotments must be made by November 15 of each year (for 1938, ten days after the passage of the Act). Loan provisions are the same as those for wheat. Marketing quotas, except for 1938, will go into effect when supplies reach 19,500,000 bales with 2 cents penalty for access marketing on first crop and 3 cents penalty on subsequent crops.

RICE. Allotments must be made by December 31. Although no loans are mandatory, rice growers have their own safeguard against over-production—anyone producing rice for the first time in five years must take an acreage allotment 25 per cent smaller than his farm would otherwise get. Marketing quotas will be invoked when supplies reach 10 per cent above normal, with a penalty of 1-4 cent a pound.

TOBACCO is the product of big growers and its regulation will be almost altogether compulsory. Not only are no loans mandatory, but marketing quotas can be invoked with a referendum, when supplies are 5 per cent normal, and penalties are 50 per cent of the purchase price.

Mass Broadcast . . . Rome, Italy—It is the doctrine of the Roman Catholic Church that Catholics should attend Mass, if it is humanly possible, every Sunday and every holy day. Although the Congregation of Sacred Rites six years ago ruled that this religious duty cannot be fulfilled by listening to mass by radio, Pope Pius XI last week found reason to suspend the rule, granted permission to prelate in Rightist Spain to broadcast mass so that Catholics in Leftist Spain, where there is no public worship, need not be deprived of religious service.

Nominee . . .

Castleton, Vermont—Getting ready to vote in local elections March 1, rock-ribbed Castleton Republicans last week seriously pondered splitting their tickets. Democratic nominees for the post of town library director, pudgy loquacious Theatre Critic Alexander Woolcott.

Prison Poll . . .

Los Angeles, California—A seven-day wonder to U. S. penologists is the warden of the Folsom Prison for California's two-time convict—ruddy, white-haired Clyde Irwin Plummer, onetime Los Angeles policeman and vice raider, who has tried to keep Folsom's 2,800 inmates happy inaugurating prison swing bands, trading the prison's pigs for cows to provide fresh breakfast milk, proposing to State Prison Board a series of broadcasts from Folsom and radio earphones for all convicts.

But paternal Warden Plummer had apparently surpassed himself fortnight ago when the prison-run "Repreza Sports-Telegram" published the results of one of the most unusual polls of public opinion ever tabulated in the U. S. Suggested by the paper's Editor "Chick" Galloway, who got his present job after murdering a friend over a ukelele, the poll covered a cross-section of 400 convicts:—

Fifty-eight of Warden Plummer's charges through the U. S. would go to war in 1938, 342 did not. While 287 would refuse to enlist if they were out of prison when war was declared, 261 would refuse a parole to enlist. A healthy majority of 324-to-76 favored a strong armament policy, regardless of the condition of the budget. The prisoners opposed the Roosevelt agricultural policies, approved "present court arrangements," voted 212-to-188 that TVA was "a competitive enterprise endangering private investment." On a question of special interest, whether the prisoner approved the activities of J. Edgar Hoover and his G-men of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the "Repreza Sports-Telegram" tactfully regretted that "we are unable to list a representative tabulation of the votes on this important subject."

Convenient . . .

Kansas City, Missouri—Sergeant William Simpson and Detective C. R. Wagner, reading through a detective magazine at a Kansas City newsstand last week, looked up from the picture of a wanted man into his face, arrested him.

Trail's End . . .

Los Angeles, California—For many a cinema older no memory is quite so thrilling as that of two-gun square-shooting William S. Piny, silhouetted with his painted pony, accompanied with a real Western sky. One melancholy day last week 67-year-old Bill Hart stood disconsolate by a deep, wide newly dug grave on his Southern California ranch. A few neighbors stood with him; Mexican guitars softly stirred "La Golondrina". Slowly the ranch hands lowered a gaunt, bay and white carcass into the grave, covered it over. It was the end of the trail for 31-year-old pin-bald pony, Fritz, who shared all of Actor Hart's cinema glory, retired with him over a decade ago. In a voice that seemed near breaking, Bill Hart spoke a brief eulogy: "He was the finest, bravest horse that ever lived. . . . We understood and loved each other."

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania—Although shy Dr. Lloyd Derr Felton of John Hopkins University last week cautiously urged doctors not to use a vaccine which he developed as pneumonia preventive until he has better proof of its efficacy, vaccinees whom Dr. Felton helped to make the vaccine by the zillion reported that not one of 15,000 CCC men vaccinated last summer with Felton vaccine has yet developed pneumonia. Of another 15,000 men in the same camps who were not inoculated, several have come down with pneumonia; and statisticians are waiting for the pneumonia season to end before making a final count of the casualties.

Pneumonia Vaccine . . .

On the strength of this apparent success with Felton preventive vaccine, doctors in other CCC camps have inoculated 150,000 more men this winter, but have left another 150,000 untreated. By doing so they will give Dr. Felton conservatives scientific evidence of the value of vaccine.

Thunderbolt . . .

Unionville, Connecticut—John Lorenck, 22-year-old Unionville farmer, last week announced his engagement to Nurse Henrietta Wilhelmia Pieper, 70, a gat-toothed spinster. Said she: "It just came over both of us a thunderbolt." Said he: "She won't keep me out late at night."

School Census for County Begins Mar. 1

School census for Brown county will begin March 1 and continue throughout the month. Census of school-age residents in the county in 1937-38 showed a total of 6,191 children of eligible age. Totals for the county and the two independent districts in the county according to the 1937 census are: county, 2,903 students; Brownwood, 2,880; Bangs, 403.

Farming is actually carried on by agricultural ants on a small scale. They cultivate patches of wild rice, keeping out weeds until the crop ripens. They then climb the stalks and carry the grain away to their underground granaries.

Most natural thing for Washington to turn to in the apparent need for putting more men to work as a semi-relief measure, is the construction of more highways. So the proposal to build a system of super highways across the Nation does not come as a surprise. A few years ago the magnitude of the proposal would have staggered even the most enthusiastic road builder, but we have become so accustomed to government spending in the billions of dollars that the proposed eight billion dollar highway project does not sound unreasonable.

Super Highways

As a matter of fact, there is much justification in the proposal to build a series of cross country super highways. Highway building has gradually emerged from a county to a state and Federal undertaking. But even so, progress in national routes has not been as great as it should have been. Most Federal highways are at best patchworks and more or less disjointed local roads connected from county to county and from state to state. A few real highways across the country would be a great help.

It is proposed to justify the super highways upon a supposed military necessity, and in a way such an attitude seems logical in view of international developments. Yet there is no such need in this country as there is in Europe, where the super highway is a military necessity. The network of railroads and the magnitude of distances in this country makes movement of troops by rail a decided advantage over highway movement, and there is little likelihood that an attack on this country would seriously disrupt our splendid system of railroads to such an extent as to make troop movement across the country difficult. But from the standpoint of the motorist, there is much justification in the projected construction.

Americans will not look with favor upon the suggestion that the super highways be made toll roads. In this country we have been working steadily in the other direction—the elimination of tolls. Except for a few states, even the toll bridges have been abandoned, and on important highways, ferries have been eliminated in favor of free bridges. Yet if the toll road is the only feasible kind to build, the public will accept it. The motorist has come to expect all kinds of taxes, direct and indirect, to hinder the operation of his automobile, and there is little complaint so long as the money thus collected finds its way into the highways.

Highway building is unsurpassed as a method of providing employment for the idle. No other form of public work absorbs so great a percentage of unskilled labor, and in these days, no other governmental expenditure benefits so large a percentage of the population.

In view of recent discussions, the following editorial from the Uvalde Leader-News is of timely interest:

The Local Taxpayer

It would be very foolish for a printer in a small town to go to the county or city officials of a large city and solicit printing. They would tell him very promptly that they had printers in their own home town to whom they felt obligated to give patronage.

Those printers would resent sending work away from home and would doubtless oppose such public officials when they came up for election should they send work out of town that could be done therein. This argument could apply to officials who send work to big cities when there is every facility for doing the work at home.

Officials in public office who receive their pay through the taxes of home people should give the home people preference when business is given out. If they do not it would appear that they have become independent and do no longer desire the support of their home people to be reflected to office. Where quality and price are equal there is no excuse for going elsewhere to buy.

The home market should be given full consideration in every line of purchase by public officials which includes teachers and others.

A short time ago, a number of Senators, principally members of the majority party, conferred with a view to creating a definite program for promoting recovery. Their conclusions, embraced in ten proposals, were presented to the Senate by Josiah Bailey of North Carolina. A digest of these ten vitally important points follows:

- 1. The capital gains tax and the distributed profits tax should be thoroughly revised at once, so as to encourage the normal flow of savings into productive enterprise.
2. A start should be made toward balancing the Federal budget, in order that public credit may be preserved and fears which deter investment, ended.
3. The constitutional guarantee of the right of the worker to work, and of the owner of property to its possession, must be preserved and enforced.
4. Government should try out of fields which belong in the realm of private industry—and if the government does propose to compete in any field, due notice should be given so that private investment may avoid it.
5. The competitive system must be maintained—as against either private or government monopoly, and business right to a reasonable profit must be guaranteed.
6. Private credit must be preserved—and that means that the nation's collateral on which all credit depends, must be preserved.
7. There must be an assurance that taxes will not be further increased, and that they will be reduced at the earliest possible time.
8. States' rights, home rule and local self-government must be vigorously maintained, unless proven definitely inadequate.
9. The needy must be aided under a system which is non-political and non-partisan.
10. Lastly, the nation should rely, in the future, as in the past, upon the American system of private initiative and enterprise.

This program needs no comment. It is a real prosperity program. It is based upon the principles that have made America great. If Congress will adopt it, it will make a magnificent contribution not only to recovery, but to the maintenance of U. S. democracy.

Eight Softball Teams Will Play In Tourney

Eight teams with a player limit of 14 each, will compete in the Brownwood Softball League race this year, according to preliminary plans made Tuesday night at a meeting of league officials and team managers. A date for opening the season, and other details will be acted upon next Tuesday night at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office.

No restriction will be placed upon the 14-players limit as to employees or members in case of an organization sponsored team.

The tournament for the Brownwood district, consisting of Coleman, Comanche, Hamilton, Mills and Brown counties, will be held here August 1. Eastland will be host to the regional tournament Aug. 15 and Abilene to the state tourney on August 21.

Leo Marlenfeld, commissioner of the Brownwood district for the American Softball Association, explained plans for district, regional, and state tournaments next summer.

Number Workers On Farms Shows Gain

The total number of persons working on farms increased somewhat from January 1 to February 1 of this year, according to a report released today by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. This report summarized the employment situation on farms of about 24,000 crop reporters.

An average of 263 persons—family workers and hired hands—were employed on every 100 of these farms on the first of this month as compared with 256 a month earlier and 272 on February 1 of last year. The last week of January was generally unfavorable for outside farm work this year, but conditions improved materially during the first few days of February. Early spring crops were being planted rather generally in the southern part of the country by the first of this month, and spring oats were being sown in southeast Kansas. As a result, the number of persons increased somewhat during January in the South than in other parts of the country.

The number of family workers on farms of crop reporters increased in all sections of the country during January except in New England and the Pacific Northwest where snow cover interfered somewhat with seasonal operations. For the nation as a whole, the reports showed an average of 192 workers per 100 farms on February 1 as compared with 189 on the first of the year and 196 on February 1 of last year.

An average of 71 hired hands were working on every 100 crop reporter farms on February 1 as compared with only 67 on January 1 and 76 a year earlier. The reduction in the number of hired workers from the levels of a year ago is a reflection chiefly of the decline in farm product prices and in farm income which in December, the latest month from which data are available, was about 7 percent less than in the same month of 1936.

City Purchases Lot For Marketing Area

City of Brownwood has purchased a lot for use as a farmers' market square. The 100x100 foot lot at East Anderson and Hawkins streets was bought from Brownwood Building and Loan Association for $1,500.

Improvement work on the lot will be started soon. A tile and sheet-iron building will be erected on the space. Mayor Thompson declared this week that he and other city officials felt that a market place is one of Brownwood's greatest needs at this time, as it will provide a permanent place where farmers of this county may market their products.

County Has Voting Strength of 6,667

County Tax Collector Winston Palmer announced this week that Brown county's voting strength for 1935, according to both poll tax and exemption rolls, is 6,667. This total, however, does not show the actual total since over-age voters living in the county outside of Brownwood have permanent exemption certificates and their names do not appear on the roll from year to year. Poll tax payments for this year totaled 5,167 as compared with 5,977 for 1934 and 3,027 last year. About 1,500 poll tax exemptions are shown on the roll.

CCC CAMP AT STATE PARK TO REMAIN FOR ADDITIONAL 6 MONTHS

Retention of the Lake Brownwood CCC camp for the next six months has been approved by the National Park Service and Civilian Conservation Corps, upon application of the Texas State Parks Board. The new period begins April 1. The state board in its application recommended that the camp be left in the park here for the next 27 months, April 1, 1935, to June 30, 1941, which is as long as the present CCC set up is designated. The application can be approved only in six months periods. Wendell Mayes, chairman of the State Board, is in Washington this week conferring with CCC and National Park Service officials. Accompanying him is William J. Lawson, Austin, executive secretary of the Board.

The Texas board representatives will ask that no reduction be made in number of CCC camps located in Texas parks. State parks in Texas have lost seven camps in the last two years. In December, 1937, Texas lost three camps. Work completed or under way in the 538-acre park on the shores of Lake Brownwood is shown in the application as follows: beach improvement, parking areas, sewage system, club house, remodeling, landscaping, remodeling seven camp cabins and road improvements.

Other work contemplated in the master plan for improvement of the park is shown in the application as follows: construction of fisherman's barracks, landscaping, sewer system, power lines, complete water supply system, 25 public camp rounds, boat docks, 26 camp cabins, caretaker's unit and picnic shelters. Construction of the 26 additional cabins will give the park a total of 40 cabins.

Notification cards have been mailed to all farmers and ranchmen who have received checks.

Court of Criminal Appeals Reverses Case of R. D. Woods

Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin Wednesday reversed and remanded the case of R. D. Woods, former Zephyr filling station operator, under sentence of five years in the penitentiary in connection with the murder of Raymond Thompson at Zephyr June 30, 1936. When he was tried here in November, 1936, Woods was found guilty as an accomplice to the murder. The case has been on appeal since and Woods has been at liberty under bond. He is now making his home in Comanche.

Woods' father-in-law, Tol G. Beckham, was found guilty of the murder of Thompson in his second trial here Feb. 12 and is given a 32-year sentence. In his first trial Beckham was given a 29-year sentence, but the case was reversed and remanded. Thompson was shot twice and killed on a street in Zephyr. Beckham admitted the actual shooting, but entered pleas of self-defense in both trials.

PARKING METERS are being placed on various Brownwood Streets in spite of the fact that Brownwood voters voted 595 to 197 against their installation September 27, 1937.

We want you to know that practically every member of this Association, as well as many other business institutions in Brownwood were vigorously opposed to the installation of Parking Meters on our streets. It being their belief that parking space should be free to you.

Bear with us until they can be legally disposed of, if ever.

Do not put your nickles in them until Ordinance becomes a law. This will be as soon as published in two separate weeks.

"A large number of drivers in this city and county have already been examined and received their licenses but there is still a large number who have not applied and if those persons do not hurry up and get their licenses, our department will be forced to make a drive in this city to enforce the law through other means," Guynes said. During a recent drive, several Brownwood motorists were fined for failure to possess a driver's or chauffeur's license.

Mottoes on American Creeds Given Schools

A number of Brownwood schools were presented with framed "Americanism" mottoes recently by the local camp and auxiliary of United Spanish-American War Veterans.

Schools receiving the mottoes were South Ward, Coggin Ward, Looney Ward, Brownwood Heights, Early High School and Woodland Heights.

Presentations were made by Mrs. C. P. Kitchen, auxiliary historian, and George B. Savage, camp patriotic instructor. C. P. Kitchen is commander of the local camp and Mrs. I. S. Gingrich is president of the auxiliary.

Wording on the Americanism mottoes is: "Americanism is an un-fading love of country; loyalty to its institutions and ideals; eagerness to defend it against all enemies; undivided allegiance to the flag, and a desire to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and posterity."

Team from Coleman County Cops Dist. Ball Championship

Following their 12-11 victory here Saturday night over Carlton of Hamilton county for the District 2 championship of the Texas Interscholastic League, the Burkett High School basketball team of Coleman county is in practice for the Region No. 2 tournament at Abilene this week-end.

Games of the district tournament were played in Howard Payne gymnasium with J. H. "Cap" Shelton serving as tournament director.

The Burkett team, coached by Weldon Chambers, managed to hold a slim lead in most of the battle here Saturday night, but had to break an 11-11 deadlock in the last minute to win the game. A crisp shot by Lloyd Boyle, just after Burkett had missed a free toss, provided the margin of victory.

The Hamilton county team managed to deadlock the score four different times. In the last period, Boyle of Burkett put his team in the lead with a field goal. Woodrow Gordon of Carlton made a free toss and Holmans of Burkett scored in a similar manner to make the score 11-9. R. J. Sowell, Carlton center, who missed a number of shots earlier in the game, sank a field goal to knot the count at 11-11, providing Coach Felix Brandt's team with its last score. With four minutes to go, both teams played air-tight defensive ball except for the time that Boyle was allowed to take the ball from the backboard and shoot a field goal after a teammate had missed a free toss. Boyle, who was named on the all-tournament team, was high scorer with eight points, resulting from four field goals.

In the semi-finals Saturday morning, Burkett beat Brooksmith of Brown county, 29 to 19, and Carlton eliminated Rochelle of McCulloch county, 27 to 20. In the first round games Friday, Burkett beat San Saba, 29-7; Brooksmith defeated Star, 25-23; Rochelle beat Gustine 27-20, and Carlton took a default victory from Fredonia, when the Mason county team failed to report for the tournament.

Knights of Pythias Deputy Speaks Here

John Lee Smith, Throckmorton, district deputy supreme chancellor, addressed 75 knights of Pythias at a banquet held in K. of P. lodge hall Monday night, and declared that non-practice of fraternalism and brotherly love is the real factor in the unrest and suspicion of the world today.

Representatives from Comanche and Abilene as well as members of the Brownwood chapter heard the deputy's address. Mr. Smith's district includes Arkansas, Louisiana, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Texas.

Abilene attorney Frank E. Smith, grand master of arms of the grand lodge of Texas, told of the regrowth and reinterest of fraternalism in Texas in the past few years and outlined plans for the ensuing year.

A meeting will be held in Abilene March 2, when this section of Texas will host to Fred H. Jones, supreme chancellor, of Los Angeles, Calif.

Eleven members of the Brownwood lodge were put through the third rank at the meeting Monday night. Arrangements for the meeting were in charge of C. H. Langford, district deputy.

MOTORISTS URGED TO APPLY FOR LICENSES

If they expect to escape a strict law enforcement program, Brown county motorists who do not have driver's or chauffeurs' licenses are urged to apply for them at once.

"For your own safety as well as for the safety of others on our public highways, every person who drives a car should apply for a license," declared Examiner Sam B. Guynes of the State Department of Public Safety, who issues both drivers' and chauffeurs' licenses in the tax assessor's office in the courthouse every Thursday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock and on Friday morning from 8 to 11:30 o'clock. "Our purpose is not to give applicants a difficult test and deprive them of their license, but to find weak phases of their driving ability and knowledge and then help them through constructive teaching," Guynes continued.

Since the duty of issuing licenses was taken over in November by the state department, approximately 463 drivers have been tested, 380 chauffeur's licenses have
