Cooke County pursues say in its groundwater management

By Janet Felderhoff
County Judge Bill Freeman said that at a meeting held for the Cooke County Groundwater Steering Committee last week, it was decided that the Groundwater Steering Committee had met the charge given to it by the Court. That charge was to prepare an answer to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) on the creation of a Priority Groundwater Management Area (PGMA). He recommended that the Steering Committee be dissolved. The Court agreed.

The Cooke County Groundwater Conservation Committee was appointed to analyze and establish legislation to be submitted to the next Legislative Session. The Judge recommended that Wayne Becker chair the Committee as he did the Steering Committee. He also suggested appointing one member from every public water purveyor in the County. That included all rural water purveyors, Muenster Lindsay, Gainesville, Valley View, Era, Callisburg, Woodbine, Mountain Springs, etc. They appointed Kenny Klement as the member at large representing the farmers and ranchers' interest in their private wells. Laura Blanton was appointed to serve as secretary for the Committee.

According to Judge Freeman, "The Judge made the ruling. I got it Friday and the ruling is not favorable to us."

Becker commented, "The way I see it, is we are charged with trying to help create a movement so that Cooke County can control its own destiny with a ground water conservation district. If things go as TCEQ would have it, we would automatically be dropped in a ground water conservation district with the eight remaining counties in the groundwater management area, which includes all of the urban areas."

Those counties include Dallas, Denton, Collin, Ellis, Fannin, Johnson, and Grayson. Montague, Wise, Parker and Jack counties have formed a PGMA and it is felt that this would be

City sets tax rate of $0.34

By Janet Felderhoff
Muenster City Council met Monday, Sept. 8 to adopt a budget for the fiscal year 2008-09 and levy a property tax rate to help fund it. The Council was unanimous in approving a tax rate of $0.34 per $100 property valuation. That is the same rate as last year. The effective tax rate is $0.3277. The rollback rate is $0.3539.

The Council approved the 2008-09 budget in the amount of $1.2 million. Predicted income is $1.1 million.

According to City Administrator Stan Endres, the computer being utilized by the Muenster Police Department is 10 years old and dated. Alderman Pat Stelzer and Muenster Police Officer James Elliott are working on an estimate for a new computer.

Stelzer said that they went to the Dell web site for government computers. They specified what they wanted in the computer. On the recommendation of Alderman Greg Bohl, they added more memory. The reason is that new software being designed uses a lot of memory.

Police Chief Bob Stovall noted that the computer now being used was purchased with grant money. With that money, a computer, scanner, and desk were purchased.

The Council approved the purchase of a new computer for about $1800.

Administrator Endres reported the survey on recycling had been reworded and would be sent out soon by IESI.

The antique street lights have arrived and will be put up by City employees as soon as possible.

Leo Lutkenhaus was hired and will start work for the City next Monday.

Muenster families experience the 2008 Olympics in Beijing

By Janet Felderhoff
Bret Erickson competed in trap shooting. Dwayne Weger served as team leader for the U.S. Olympic Shooting teams in Beijing, and their wives and children got to experience the thrill of seeing the men and their teammates take part in the 2008 Olympics.

Bret and Dwayne left for Korea on July 27 so that they could take part in a training camp at Chang Won.

Bret's wife Lisa and their children Mara and Cole, and Dwayne's wife Kellie and their children Hannah and Reagan arrived in Beijing on Aug. 7. They did not get to see the opening ceremony in person, but viewed it on television at their hotel.

Both Bret and Dwayne took part in the opening ceremony. Bret said his participation was shortened. He and some others who had early events took an exit so they could get needed rest before their event. Dwayne commented, "That's actually the first time that they did that and it was great. Bret's event is always the very first day of the Olympics. It allowed people an opportunity to march in the opening ceremony who in the past would not have taken it just because they need to get a good night's sleep to compete the next day."

Bret added, "I had a really good sleep going until they set them fireworks off and it sounded like a tank going off. I don't care where you were in that city, you heard those fireworks going off!"

They spoke of the heat and humidity during the opening ceremony. Dwayne said there was no air moving in the stadium. Bret noted it would suck the life out of you. They said had the participants not been athletes, there would be a lot of people who would have been lost.

The heat and humidity hung on for the competitions. Bret noted, "I don't sweat that much and I was standing on the line competing and looked down there's a puddle around me." Lisa agreed that the humidity in Beijing was worse by far than in south Georgia where she's lived before.

The local Olympians spoke of the work done to stage the city for the Olympics. They said that the city was so green with its beautiful landscaping of trees, shrubs, and flowers. The city's architecture is beautiful, they said. The amount of money spent by China to put on the Olympics was more than has ever been spent before. They said that four billion was the most that any city had ever spent to put on the Olympics. China spent 40 billion dollars for the 17 day event. They were putting a show on for the world. Bret said they spent more on the opening ceremonies than most cities spend on the entire Olympic event. "It was spectacular," confirmed Dwayne.

The American shooting team entered six events and won five medals. Bret did not win a medal as he had aspired to do. Dwayne said, "That's all right. He won the medals all year long. Everyone is going to have a bad day. His came at the absolute worst time."

Bret said he tells the kids he coaches, "In the Olympics you wait four years and hope it's your day and if it's not, you have to wait four more years and hope it's your day. I was way up on the list of medal contenders and medal hopefuls and just had that bad day. You just have to pick your head up and go out there and do it again. I've got another match in three weeks."

According to Dwayne, the Summer Games had a total of 594 athletes from the U.S.A. That was the largest delegation, and China had the second largest number. "Only 590 plus people out of the entire United States got to go to the Olympic Games," he commented. "That's a pretty small town's worth of people out of the whole United States, so you are in a very, very elite select group to get to go to the Olympic Games. There are 28 sports represented in the Summer Games."

Dwayne reported, "The U.S. overall won 110 medals. It's their all-time highest medal count ever on foreign soil."

"Back in the old days when we were kids, the whole country seemed to shut down to watch the Olympics. Now days, it's not that way. I'm hoping Beijing brings that back because a lot of people watched the Olympics this time for the first time. I hope it lights the spark back for the Olympic Games. It seems too many things are taking the place in these young kids' games and people aren't watching the Olympics."

He noted that the U.S. Olympic team is funded solely by private donations. Most other governments fund their Olympic teams. Without those sponsors, Olympics in the United States would not exist, he said.

The 2008 Shooting Team set an all-time record for the Shooting Team. They brought home six medals, set five Olympic records, and according to Dwayne, doubled anything they'd ever done in the past. There were five fourth place finishes and two fifth places finishes. "You put five people finishing Fourth, you are talking about one spot off of a medal," said Dwayne. "That's awful close." Bret added, "Several of them came down to the very last shot between the Bronze and the Fourth Place." Dwayne said that between the men's and women's in the rifle, pistol, and shotgun events combined, there is a total of 15 Gold Medals, 15 Silver Medals, and 15 Bronze Medals available. The Shooting Team was proud to claim six of those medals. Each country is limited to two men in each event and one woman.

Dwayne said that people who don't really know the sport, always ask about the number of Olympic medals won. He said, "The reality of it is that you can win a gazillion other medals that are actually much harder to

Margaret Kupper 1909 - 2008

Mass of Christian Burial for Margaret Susan Neu Kupper of Muenster was held at 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 3 at Sacred Heart Church in Muenster. Services were officiated by Fr. Ken Robinson and Msgr. Hubert Neu, a nephew. Burial followed in Sacred Heart Cemetery under the direction of McCoy Funeral Home of Muenster.

Surrounded by her family, Margaret died at the age of 99 in her home on Sunday, Aug. 31, 2008. Born in Lindsay on Jan. 28, 1909 to Joe and Elizabeth Reinart Neu, Margaret grew up and attended school in Lindsay. She married John Kupper on Nov. 26, 1935 in St. Peter's Catholic Church in Lindsay. They continued living in Lindsay until 1952, when they relocated to a dairy farm near Valley View. They then moved to her present home in Muenster in 1974.

Margaret was a loving mother, mother-in-law, and grand- and great-grandmother. A sweet, loving, and caring lady, she was an extremely hard worker on the farm. She was a wonderful cook and seamstress, and took pride in her yard and flowers. She enjoyed quilting, leaving these treasured quilts to members of her family. Playing cards and dominos with both family and friends was something Margaret really enjoyed. She was a lifetime member of the Catholic faith, the last 34 years at Sacred Heart in Muenster, and was a member of St. Anne's Society. She enjoyed going to the Senior Snap Center, where she helped deliver meals to the shut-ins, and also helped with Bingo at St. Richards Villa.

Survivors include daughters and spouses Betty Rose and Gerald Walterscheid and Joan and David Walterscheid, all of Muenster; sons and spouses Tom and Helen Kupper of Lewisville, and Jimmy and Janell Kupper and Billy and Lisa Kupper, all of Valley View; 18 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren; brother-in-law and wife Robert and Florene Kupper of Marlin; daughter-in-law

Assisting at Mass were altar servers Lora Walterscheid, great-granddaughter, and Amber and Allie Walterscheid, great-nieces. The First Reading was given by Deann Jacobs, granddaughter. Kristen Vinci, granddaughter, gave the Second Reading. Prayers of the Faithful were read by Kim Stobaugh, granddaughter. Julie Walterscheid and Sue Kupper, granddaughters, brought up the Offertory Gifts. Songs included "Christ Be Our Light," "The Lord Is My Shepherd," "This Alone," "Like A Shepherd," "Loving and Forgiving," "Open Our Eyes Lord," "Give Me

Jesus," and "How Great Thou Art."

The eulogy was given by son Jimmy Kupper and by daughter Betty Rose Walterscheid. Jimmy gave a history of his mother's life. Betty Rose said, in part, "On Saturday evening, Fr. Ken came and gave Mom a blessing; her five children and their spouses were all with her... She wanted to live to be 100, so at 99 years, seven months, and three days, 150 days short of 100, we sang "Happy Birthday." A short time later she passed away..." Then, Betty Rose read a story that paralleled her mother's life, and gave a short reading "To Those I Love."

Pallbearers for the funeral Mass were the oldest grandsons from each family, John Walterscheid, Joe Kupper, Darrin Kupper, Jason Walterscheid, Ronnie Walterscheid, and Casey Kupper. The other six grandsons Doug Walterscheid, Ronnie Walterscheid (proxy for Daryl Kupper who was not able attend), Justin Kupper, Bryan Kupper, Zack Kupper, and Tim Kupper carried her to her final resting place.

A Rosary and Vigil were held at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday at the funeral home, with Fr. Ken presiding. Fr. Joseph Meledom of Burkburnett also was present and took part in the readings. The eulogy was given by Jimmy Kupper and Betty Rose Walterscheid. The song "How Great Thou Art," that was recorded and sung by Margaret's son Leroy, who is deceased, and daughter Joan at their dad's funeral 20 years ago, was played. Joan sang along again.

The family suggests memorials made to the Sacred Heart Parish air conditioning fund, to ABBA, or to charity of choice.

win, but if you don't have an Olympic medal, they think you must not be very good. The Olympics is a very, very small shoot. Actually, 95% of the people at the Olympic games are the very best in the world at their sport. At the World Cups, especially the World Championships, it is actually harder to win as far as the level of talent that is there. There is a lot more competitors and a lot higher level of talent overall just in numbers than there is in the Olympic games.

"Bret's won really hard medals to win, but unfortunately most people gauge your success by an Olympic medal."

According to them, shooting is not nearly as highly publicized in the United States as it is in other parts of the world. "We just don't get the media coverage in the United States in shooting, which has always baffled me," Dwayne noted. "We go to these third world countries where you can't even own a gun in the civilian population, and their world class shooters are heroes." Erickson laughed, "I'm more well known in Germany and Italy than I am in the United States!"

Bret returned home after his competitions, but Dwayne remained behind with some of the other athletes. He got to take part in the closing ceremony, which he noted was much more informal than the opening ceremony. "They want you to mingle in with the rest of the world athletes on the entrance part of it," he explained. "In closing, it is open the gates and here you go. It just happened that myself and four of the teammates were in the right place at the right time. We were ahead of the majority of the rest of the U.S. delegation. We came in at the right spot and there was a T.V. camera as soon as we rounded the corner. Boom, we were on camera."

Bret said that as the closing ceremony was being aired, he was at The Center having dinner. They went to watch when somebody yelled that the athletes were on and who did he see but Dwayne front and center!

"The bar kind of went wild for a while," Bret said.

The duo also expressed appreciation to the Muenster Chamber of Commerce for the welcome home banner displayed along Hwy. 82. Both agreed the recognition was great. Bret said, "It kinda gives you goosebumps." Dwayne added, "A warm fuzzy feeling. So many people really don't realize that you're really doing this." He remarked that when his daughter told her friends at school her dad was going to be in the Olympics, they didn't believe her. Dwayne said, "It's a great feeling to know that your friends and neighbors here in town are supporting you like that." Bret added, "At this level, whether you are a team leader, athlete, you can't get there without a lot of support. You've got to have a heck of a support staff around you."

The two promised that the Muenster area would be seeing more Olympians in town in the next four to eight years. The two plan to produce more Junior Olympic and National Team level camps and clinics. They plan to coach more as they get older and do less shooting, they said.

Dwayne was an athlete for many years. He operated his own business and was approached a year or so ago by U.S.O.C., the governing body of the Olympic Shooting team who asked him to retire from competition to become a team leader. "It was the best of both worlds," he noted. "You've got an athlete who knew the athletes and knew what they needed and then someone who was a real businessman too who runs the business side." His job goes year round as there are four World Cup Championships a year and a World Championship or the Olympics.

Bret was ranked third in the world in his event prior to the Olympics. He dropped some after that because he didn't have a very good Olympic ranking. Bret and Dwayne will both take part in the World Cup Final later this month. They said the Shooting Federation takes the top 12 shooters for the year and shoot a World Cup Final. It is by invitation only, and only the best in the world for the year are asked to take part. Dwayne was again asked to be a team leader.

Bret's dad sparked his interest in trap shooting. He said his dad started shooting with some friends. He studied it and learned it. Bret started tagging along and at age 10 was allowed to try shooting. "My job was to reload shells all week long," he recalled. "I'd come home from school and reload shells five nights a week. I got to shoot on the weekend if I'd do that."

Dwayne said he grew up hunting with his dad who was an avid quail hunter. He got his first shotgun at age six. "I've always just loved to shoot and I progressed from there," he said.

Currently, the two are working with the Montague 4-H program coaching their shooting club. They practice every Tuesday night. Any youths in the area who have an interest in the sport are welcome to take part in the practices held at the Willawalla Shooting Range. It is a world class shooting range, one of the finest in the country said Dwayne. "I would love for a lot of the locals to come out," he invited. He said all they have to do is call Bret and make the arrangements.

Attending the Olympics
While attending the Olympics, the Wegers and Ericksons found some time to visit places of interest. This was no easy feat, as they encountered difficulties. What they did see included the Great Wall, Summer Palace, went to the Forbidden City, but didn't get in. "The transportation was an issue," Lisa explained. "We spent so much time in a taxi and trying to find a taxi that it really limited us on time. We spent three days at the shooting range."

Bret said that private transportation was limited, forcing many to take the subway. It was packed on the subway and knowing which exit to get off at was confusing. Also, thousands of new taxi drivers were hired for the tourists. The new drivers didn't know where everything was located and did not speak English.

Lisa said that their hotel manager had a translator to write down their destination in Chinese to show the drivers who still didn't have a clue where to take them.

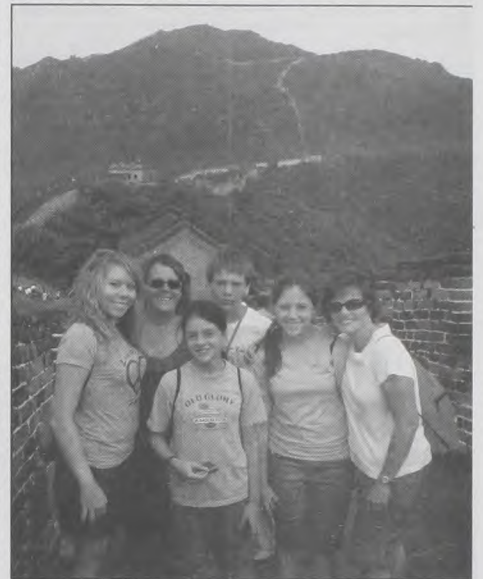

On the evening that they were stuck downtown, Lisa told a good Samaritan who came to their aid. It was a Chinese lady and her husband who walked them all over the city trying to get them back to their hotel. "They were wonderful; just as sweet as they could be," she said. "They took a lot of time to help us. Thank goodness, because we were getting a little panicked."

In regard to her experience at the Olympics, Kellie Weger said, "Expediting passports and visas, traveling 15 hours in coach, challenged by a significant language barrier, perpetually restocking our wipe supply... it was the trip of a lifetime! Attending even a fraction of the 2008 Summer Olympics -- and on the other side of the world -- is an experience my children and I will never forget. We had the distinct privilege of not only cheering for Bret, our friend, and home-town, four-time Olympian, but also watching hubby and dad Dwayne lead the U.S. shooting team to its best finish yet: six medals and five new Olympic records! We're so incredibly proud of them both."

"Beijing is a truly remarkable and hospitable city, with warm and welcoming citizens. I was both honored and humbled by the immeasurable kindness shown us and the sheer gratitude expressed in the smiles of the Chinese wanting their picture made with 'the Americans.' I've never felt more proud to wear the red, white, and blue, or more keenly aware of my freedom and God-granted opportunities. I was so blessed by this experience and am forever thankful."

more favorable since Cooke County uses groundwater for the majority of its water. Urban counties use more water from above ground sources.

Judge Freeman said that there are three ways that a county can establish a water district. It can be done by legislation, TCEQ, or by petition.

Becker said that he sees five options on the table for Cooke County. One is to continue to pursue the single county groundwater conservation district. Two is to join Fannin, Grayson, and Cooke counties to pursue a groundwater conservation district.

Three is to try to join the district to the west. Four is to do nothing and let TCEQ put Cooke County where they will. Five is to divide the county along the Congressional lines and have the western part join to the west and the eastern part possibly join Grayson and Fannin counties.

Judge Freeman stated, "It is imperative, I would say, that all the water purveyors in the County agree and present an united front to the Legislature if you decide to go that way."

Becker called the first meeting of the newly formed Committee for Friday, Sept.

19 at 1 p.m.

Muenster City Council met Monday, Sept. 8. Appointment of a representative to the newly forming Cooke County Groundwater Conservation Committee was addressed. Alderman Greg Bohl volunteered to serve, noting that the issue is near and dear to his heart. "I'm hoping that we can do something as a city and a county to control some of those expenses and quit a lot of the land grab buying for water by the cities of Dallas and Fort Worth," he said.

Alderman Pat Stelzer said that whatever is done will cost the City of Muenster money, as a "tax" could be levied for the water or an add valorem tax might be done.

Stelzer served as Muenster's representative on the Cooke County Groundwater Steering Committee.

Stelzer explained that once the PGMA is formed, a permit will be required before a water well can be drilled. Mayor John Pagel mentioned meters being placed on wells. City Manager Stan Endres said he thinks that only applies to wells that produce over 25,000 gallons a day.

The City is looking to drill another well in the future. Bohl said they might need to get on the ball with getting it done.

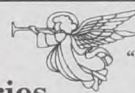

Stelzer said, "The reason Cooke County has such a stake in it, is that 60 to 80% of our water in Cooke County is from groundwater usage. The other counties it is around 20% or less. One of the things that we're nervous about is the urban area controlling this thing."

He then recommended that Endres, as City Administrator, also be appointed to the Committee as an alternate for times when Bohl couldn't attend a meeting. Endres agreed to serve as an alternate if allowed or to attend as a guest if necessary. The Council agreed to the two as representatives.

"We really need to take this seriously," said Stelzer.

Endres said that if Cooke County couldn't be in its own district, it would be better off aligned with the counties to the west. "That's because this County is more dependent on water wells than counties to the east and the south," Stelzer added.

Morris named CASA Advocate of the Quarter

As a retired teacher, Galene Morris has been working with children more than 25 years. As a teacher, she worked to give her students skills to form a foundation for a bright future. Now that she's retired, one would understand if she chose to take life at a more leisurely pace and do only what SHE wants to do. Galene is doing what she wants, but leisure is not what she's chosen. She has chosen to serve as a CASA Volunteer Advocate, working to assure that the abused and neglected children that CASA serves end up in a safe and permanent home in spite of what they've suffered before coming into the child welfare system.

CASA of North Texas is proud to announce that Morris has been named as the CASA Advocate of the Quarter for the third quarter of 2008 for her outstanding advocacy for two Cooke County children who are a part of the child welfare system because of abuse or neglect.

"Galene Morris is a very committed advocate to the little ones she serves," said Vicki Robertson, CASA's executive director. "This is her first case as a Court Appointed Special Advocate. She's had to deal not only with the trauma suffered by the children, but a massive state agency and many other hurdles as well. She has been "there" for the children she serves in every way I can think of from working with family members across the country, dealing with two states' offices that approve interstate moves for children, communicating with a parent in a war zone and that parent's 'First Sarge.' She has been relentless in her efforts to get the children what they need. In all of this, she's kept her sense of humor too."

For her part, Morris is humble, saying "I know there are many other volunteers who deserve to receive this award. It is very humbling. If these words are 'correct', I enjoy what I do. Through many years of teaching I have seen so many children that just need someone to care. I believe God has placed me in areas with children where He wants me to use the gifts He's given me."

CASA is an acronym for Court Appointed Special Advocates. This nonprofit agency recruits, trains, and supervises community volunteers who act as advocates for children who have suffered abuse and neglect and come into the child welfare system. CASA volunteers talk to the children, their families, and any others who have knowledge of the child or family, monitor how the children are doing in foster care, and how the parents are doing in their efforts to make changes in their lives.

CASA volunteers then report their findings back to the District Judge who has the tremendous responsibility of making decisions that affect the lives of these vulnerable children. CASA volunteers work to inform the court from the perspective of an independent individual whose only focus is what is best for the child or children with the goal of securing a safe and permanent home for each child, whether that is returning to their families, or a suitable relative or adoption.

CASA of North Texas is supported by the Cooke County United Way, Victims of Crime Act and Crime Victim's Compensation grant funds, the City of Gainesville, Cooke County, the Priddy Foundation, and through the generosity of churches, businesses, and individuals.

"CASA stands for Court Appointed Special Advocates. Galene Morris' work for the children she serves is beyond special. Our agency and her 'CASA kids' are fortunate to have her," said Robertson.

Galene Morris is the wife of County Court at Law Judge John Morris, and mother to daughters Julie and Lauren. She is also grandmother to a very new grandchild, Kate.

If you are interested in learning more about CASA, please visit the local agency website at www.casant.org, the Texas CASA information website at www.becomeacasa.org, or contact the CASA office at 665-2244. Training for new CASA Advocates will be held in October.

Nocona swats Hornets 44-0

It wasn't a good night for the short-handed Hornets Friday night, as they were beaten 44-0 by the Nocona Indians.

"The biggest thing we have to do is improve on the mistakes," noted Hornet Coach Allen Cross. "Nocona was a tough opponent, one of the better teams we'll play this year. They're coming off a playoff run, with 28 suited out on varsity. Their front seven is big and the secondary fast."

The Hornets managed only 43 yards rushing, and 99 in the air. But that didn't even get close to Nocona's 457 total yards. Muenster also lost five turnovers.

"By playing bigger schools, our conditioning is getting better. But we need success," Coach Cross added.

After losing 4 yards in Muenster's first offensive attempt, the Hornets punted. Nocona moved the ball to the Hornet 20, but ended up one yard short, and Muenster took the ball on their 16. Two runs by Paul Crabtree gained 10, but two incomplete passes, a sack, and penalty returned the ball to the Indians. Muenster's defense gave up only 4 yards, taking the punt. The Hornet offense again struggled, booting the ball on 4th and 6. Five runs and 55 yards later, Nocona was on the scoreboard after an 8 yard run. The PAT kick gave the Indians a 7-0 lead with 11:55 on the 2nd quarter clock.

The Hornets lost 4 yards their next offensive possession and punted. Nocona returned the punt 47 yards for another touchdown. Add the PAT and the Indians led 14-0 with 10:14 remaining in the 1st half.

A fumbled ball brought Nocona's offense back onto the field. Moving to the Hornet 16, a 3 yard pass, 15 yard penalty, and three incomplete passes, one broken up by Crabtree, gave Muenster the ball on their 31.

Crabtree and Levi Trubenbach ran for 19 yards, with Trubenbach completing passes to Jason Luke, Crabtree, Garrett Walterscheid, and Tanner Herr to the 4 yard line. Two incomplete passes turned the ball over on downs.

A 56 yard Nocona run assisted in the Indians getting to the Hornet 10 yard line, but the threat ended when Dillon Bayer intercepted a ball to end the 1st half.

Nocona's offense took 3 minutes off the 3rd quarter clock before punting the ball over to the Hornets. A 2 yard return and 4 yard penalty put Muenster on their 4 yard line. The next two plays were negative, with Muenster caught in the end zone for a Nocona safety and a 16-0 score.

Nocona got in eight positive runs, then scored on a 10 yard run. With 2:47 on the clock, the PAT gave the Indians a 23-0 lead.

Steven Valliere returned Nocona's kick 39 yards, but a flag took back 10. A Trubenbach to Herr pass gained 17 yards, but two plays later, Nocona picked off a pass. The next play, a 63 yard run with the PAT gave the Indians a 30-0 lead.

T.J. Acuna returned the kick 31 yards. Crabtree, Chase Hammer, and Trubenbach ran for 11. A pass to Crabtree gained 13 more to the 36 yard line, but two incomplete passes were followed by an interception. Two plays later, 36-0 after a 58 yard run, with 10:50 still remaining in the game.

The Hornets got in three runs for a minus 6 yards, and completed passes to Herr and Eric Hellman for 13 and 3 yards before running out of downs. The punt was returned 68 yards to the 3 yard line. The next play it was 44-0 after the PAT.

Chase Hammer ran three plays, gaining 5 yards, followed by an 18 yard pass play from Tyler Anderle to Dalton Koelzer. Anderle and Hammer picked up another 11 yards before a fumbled ball was covered by Nocona. Two plays later, Tanner Silmon caused and recovered a loose ball.

Muenster's attempt to make something out of the turnover failed after Nocona covered a fumbled Hornet ball. The Indian offense played out the remaining 3 minutes.

"We got another 60 plays on film to learn from," Coach Cross said. "Our focus is to be a playoff team. This game did not mean anything to that focus."

 Muenster will host the Millsap Bulldogs out of District 9AA. "Another 2A school," commented Coach Cross. Millsap has only played one game, which had five turnovers and a ton of penalties, so Coach Cross can tell a lot from the film. "They do have a different offense from our first two opponents, and their defense is more aggressive. "This is our first home game, so I hope we get a good crowd. The fans and the community need to understand the players are improving, working hard, and growing," the coach concluded.

The Hornets will be short three varsity starters. Corey Reynolds is sidelined week to week, Jeremy Lutkenhaus is out for the season, and the latest on the list, Jared Flusche is waiting.

Tigers to host Collinsville Archers compete in Muenster Shootout

The Sacred Heart Tigers will host the Pirates of Collinsville this Friday night after having an early week off. "Collinsville is a very well coached football team," said Tiger Coach Dale Schilling. "They are an extremely explosive team with a quarterback that can score any time, from anywhere on the field." Collinsville has had a tough start this season with two losses, last week falling to the District 12AA Prairieland Patriots 26-12, and a 24-14 loss to the Goldthwaite Eagles out of District 25A. "Collinsville is a very good 1A team," Schilling added. The Tigers have one victory under their belts, a 14-0 win over the Pirates from Petrolia. Last year, Sacred Heart slipped by Collinsville 14-7. "We're healthy for the most part," Coach Schilling noted. "The week off helped. We are good to go for Friday." Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The Muenster Chamber of Commerce held their annual Archery Shootout last Saturday, Sept. 6 in a timber-creek area just west of town. Thirty life size targets were scattered in natural surrounding for traditional and compound shooters to aim at. Over 40 took part in the archery competition.

The top three finishers in each division were:

JV Tigers win over Nocona

The Junior Varsity Sacred Heart Tigers hosted an unscheduled contest with Nocona last Thursday after Muenster cancelled their JV game with the Indians. The Tigers added a 32-2 victory to their season.

Sacred Heart took the opening kick, got in five plays, then threw an interception. Held to three plays, Nocona booted the ball away. The Tigers took eight plays to cover 66 yards with runs by Bob Bartush and Mark Bartush. A 15 yard keeper by B. Bartush put points on the board. The extra point by Jae Im gave a 7-0 score with 2:25 on the clock.

A run stopped by Phillip Vogel and two incomplete passes forced another Nocona punt. The Tigers carried the ball into the 2nd quarter and punted. Two flagged plays later, Michael Davis covered a fumble near midfield.

Runs by M. Bartush, B. Bartush, and Josh Biffle took the Tigers to the 2 yard line. A B. Bartush keeper found the end zone with 4:51 on the clock. The extra kick was blocked, then returned by Nocona for a 2 point safety and a score of 13-2.

The Indian offense continued to struggle, unable to get a 1st down. From Nocona's 45 yard line, B. Bartush ran four plays and passed three to Bif-fle, including a 9 yard catch for 6 points. The PAT was again blocked for a 19-2 score with 20 seconds remaining in the 1st half. Calvin Wimmer knocked down a pass before the halftime break.

Nocona took the 3rd quarter kick but went nowhere, as the Tiger defense led by Garrett Berend and B. Bartush forced a punt, which was fumbled, giving Sacred Heart possession 11 yards from paydirt. Three plays later, Biffle scored on a 7 yard run. The extra run failed for a 25-2 score with 7:11 still on the clock.

Nocona got their first 1st down before Chad Henscheid, Berend, and Biffle shut down the Indian offense. The teams exchanged punts, with the Tigers carrying the ball into the 4th quarter getting to the Indian 9 yard line before losing the ball at the 6.

Joseph Robertson, M. Bartush, and Austin Springer got in tackles for no gain. The punt, returned by B. Bartush, put the Tigers on the Nocona 31. Three Biffle runs took the ball to the 15. M. Bartush advanced to the 7, where B. Bartush scored. Im's PAT cleared the uprights for a 32-2 score with 1:25 remaining in the game.

Nocona got in two 1st down runs before the time ticked off the clock.

Windthorst Trojans slip by Knights 14-6

The Lindsay Knights took the long trip west to Windthorst last Friday night to face the ever-so-tough Trojans in a pre-district contest. The Knights were unable to get into the end zone, settling for two field goals, which gave Windthorst a 14-6 edge on the scoreboard.

"The Knights played hard. It was refreshing to see the boys relax, play hard, and play football," commented Coach Cody Bounds. "I was glad we didn't turn over the ball. But we still had mistakes."

Lindsay got in 10 more plays than Windthorst, making a few more 1st downs, but the Trojans outdistanced the Knights 304 total yards to 124. Working against Windthorst were 8 fumbles, 4 that were lost, with Lindsay penalized 10 times compared to their host having no penalties.

Ross Jones took the opening kick at the 15, returning to the 31. Runs by Josh Mueller, Ryan Haverkamp, and Nick Bezner moved the ball to the Trojan 32 before running out of downs and punting. The Trojans were held to 4 yards with tackle stops made by Madison Parkhill and Blake Hunter. The 72 yard Windthorst punt put Lindsay on their 4 yard line. Gaining only 2 yards, the Knights quick-kicked on 3rd down.

From the Lindsay 42, the Trojans took just three plays to find the end zone, scoring on a 29 yard pass play. The extra kick was blocked by Colton Hermes for a 6-0 score with 3:35 remaining in the 1st period.

Jones got a 42 yard return to the Knight 47, but Lindsay punted on 4th and 7.

The Knights regained possession two plays later when Frankie Cornett covered a fumbled ball. Short runs by Bezner and Haverkamp got the Knights inside the 20, but not the end zone. With 10:32 on the clock, Ross Jones kicked a 37 yard field goal to get the Knights on the board 6-3.

In just four plays, the Trojans scored again with a 53 yard run. The PAT pass put Windthorst ahead 14-3 with 9:20 still on the clock.

Lindsay lost the ball on downs, but quickly got it back when Casey Shauf covered a fumble. Starting on their 29, the Knights took seven running plays by Bezner, Haverkamp, Jones, and Mueller, and a Bezner to Jones pass to get to the 15 yard line. A personal foul lost 15, and the Knights gained back only 8. On 4th and 17 with 1:45 on the clock, Jones added a 36 yard field goal for a 14-6 score.

Windthorst threatened to score, getting to the 1 yard line, but another fumble with just 9 seconds on the clock was covered by Ryan Haverkamp.

The Trojans controlled the start of the 3rd quarter, driving down again to the 1, but again a fumble, covered by Dax Fleitman, stopped Windthorst. The Knights picked up only 2 yards and punted.

An interception by Jones returned the ball to the Knights, who carried the ball into the final quarter, but couldn't get past the Trojan defense.

The teams exchanged possessions, with Windthorst threatening to score, but tackles by Shauf, Jeremy Perry, and Hunter stopped the Trojans at the 12.

Passes to Jones and Haverkamp kept Lindsay's hopes of scoring alive, but the game ended with a Windthorst interception.

"Hopefully we are learning from our mistakes," said Coach Bounds. "We hope to have everybody going in the right direction when district starts."

AMERICAN WILDLIFE

White tail deer are extremely cautious and wary animals with highly developed senses of sight, smell, and hearing. When threatened with danger, they will often attempt to quickly sneak away.

Smallmouth bass are found in streams, rivers, and the rocky areas and stumps, and also sandy bottoms of lakes.

If seriously frightened, a whitetail deer will often utter a loud snort and then quickly run away while raising the tail upwards like a flag.

Sub-varsity volleyball

On Friday, Sept. 5, the Lady Knights defeated Ponder in two games, 25-20, 25-19. "The girls played very well," said Coach Don Neu. "They hustled and saved some very difficult balls to keep the rally going."

The freshman volleyball girls won their first ever volleyball tournament championship on Saturday at S&S. They defeated Leonard in two games 25-13, 25-16, then S&S 25-18, 25-23, and Pottsboro 25-22, 25-14 to take the tournament championship.

"The girls are really starting to come together. They are hustling, talking, and understanding the game so much better," Coach Neu commented, noting middle blockers Jordan Fleitman, Lucinda Krahl, and Amelia Haverkamp are all doing a great job; outside hitters Taylor Atkins and Katie Arendt are not only hitting well, they are also covering well; and setter Erin Copeland is starting to understand who and when to set. Neu also noted that Rance Morrison and Jessica Riney are also getting in game time.

Junior Varsity

The JV Lady Knights dropped a game with Ponder last Friday night. Katie Dieter and Haley Hughes were credited for serving the ball well. Scores were 24-26, 25-20, 10-25.

7th Grade

The 7th Grade Lady Knights "B" team won their match Monday against Blue Ridge 25-20, 25-18. The team was led by the perfect serving of Suzanne Kadem (6 for 6) and Nicole Popp (5 for 5). "I was pleased with the girls' progress," noted Coach Don Neu. "We improved a lot from the beginning of the year."

The "A" team fell in two games, by scores of 11-25, 19-25. "We started off slow, but played much better the second game, but came up a little short."

8th Grade

The Lady Knights 8th Grade "B" team took a 25-9, 25-23 win Monday from Blue Ridge. "The girls did a great job serving the ball," said Coach Robin Hess.

In the "A" game, the Lady Knights fought hard but fell short with 14-25, 25-11, 16-25 scores. "The service receive bug bit the girls in the last game," Hess added. "This is something that we will get better at as we play more games."

2008 Texas drought losses estimated at $1.4 billion

Lack of rain and scorching temperatures hit Texas agricultural crops and beef operations hard late spring and summer, leading to an estimated $1.4 billion in drought losses, Texas AgriLife Extension Service economists reported Monday.

Crop losses were estimated at $1.1 billion, while livestock losses tallied $260 million, which includes lost hay production, added supplemental feed costs, and other production expenditures.

The hardest hit area by the drought was along Interstate 35, and east across the state," said Dr. Carl Anderson, professor emeritus and AgriLife Extension economist.

Weather-related devastation has hit Texas agricultural industry for three consecutive years. In 2007, record rainfall flooded crops in South Texas and led to $200 million in losses. Statewide drought in 2006 totaled $4.1 billion in losses - one of the worst since the 1950s.

Though Texas received rain in August that raised prospects for fall wheat production, it wasn't enough for cotton, corn, grain sorghum, and hay crops in the central, eastern, and southern parts of the state.

"Corn, sorghum, and cotton yields are expected to be less than half those of the bumper crops last season," Anderson said. "Cotton was also damaged in a widespread area across West Texas to New Mexico by lack of moisture, blowing sand, and high temperatures at planting time."

Severe weather destroyed 1.3 million acres of the 4.7 million cotton acres planted in Texas. Cotton was the leading commodity most severely impacted by drought, followed by hay, cattle, corn, grain sorghum, and wheat.

Key cattle-producing parts of Texas have been hardest hit by drought, said Dr. David Anderson, AgriLife Extension livestock marketing economist. "Approximately 52% of the state's beef cows are in drought-affected areas," he said.

Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana - the U.S. Department of Agriculture federally inspected cow slaughter reporting region - reported 134,000 more cows slaughtered through Aug. 23 than the same period the year before.

"Much of that culling may be assumed to be due to drought," David Anderson said. Texas accounts for the majority of the cows in that region. Sales of calves through auction barns are reported above the same period last year, providing supporting evidence of earlier than normal calf sales.

"Early selling due to drought has been particularly harmful this year due to the market incentive for heavier weight calves because of high feed costs. Lighter weight calves, caused by lack of feed and earlier than normal sales, have been more heavily penalized in the market than in past years," he explained.

Range and pasture conditions were classified by the USDA as mostly fair to poor statewide this summer. "Hay production was severely reduced," Carl Anderson stated. "Due to high fertilizer prices, some hay fields and pastures were not fertilized. Supplemental feeding of beef cattle began in June. By mid-summer, most cow-calf operators were forced to feed hay, protein, and mineral supplements. Due to bare pastures and depleting hay supplies, much of the hay fed was from last year's abundant crop."

The financial impact from lost production will continue for Texas' farmers and ranchers. "High fuel, feed, and fertilizer costs have increased production expenses and will erode cash flow for producers," Anderson said. "Producers are collecting some insurance based on individual coverage on crops and livestock. Many cow-calf operators have taken out larger loans to pay for supplemental feed costs."

COUNTY AGENT REPORT

New feral hog regulations

A recent news report informs us that beginning Oct. 1, the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC) will enforce new regulations concerning the transport of feral hogs. The new regulations apply when live hogs are moved from the premises where they were trapped or captured.

While awaiting transport, the feral swine may be held in the trap or in a pen for as long as seven days. A number of pre-existing TAHC-approved holding facilities will continue in operation. These double-fenced facilities are intended to hold feral swine temporarily until a load of the animals can be assembled for shipping to their ultimate destination.

Holding facilities must be constructed at least 200 yards from domestic swine pens, and be inspected by the TAHC.

There is no fee for an approved holding facility, but the operator must apply, and records must be maintained on the number and dates of feral swine being placed into and/or removed from the holding facility, the description of the animals and any identification devices, and where the animals were trapped. (To apply for an approved facility, contact your TAHC area office, or the TAHC headquarters at 800-550-8242.)

Allowing feral swine to escape from the approved holding facility, or the failure to maintain records, can lead to a penalty for violation of the rule and suspension or revocation of the approved holding facility status.

Texas has nearly three million feral swine, and increasing the population of these animals heightens the chance for disease transmission. Sows and gilts are not to be moved to hunting preserves.

Although there are provisions for "domesticating" wild hogs for production, this practice is not encouraged. The preferred, ultimate destination for sows and gilts is slaughter.

Boars and barrows may be moved to a hunting preserve, feral swine holding facility, or to slaughter. Boars and barrows may be moved from traps or approved holding facilities to authorized hunting preserves that are fenced adequately to prevent swine from escaping under, over or through the fence. Prior to being released, these animals must have individual identification, approved by the TAHC. (Wild hogs hauled to slaughter from the holding facility do NOT need to be individually identified.)

Like the approved holding facilities, authorized hunting preserves must be approved and inspected by the TAHC, and there is no TAHC fee. Applications may be obtained from the nearest TAHC area office or by calling the TAHC headquarters. A current copy of the TPWD hunting lease license will be required.

Record keeping must be maintained, to include the dates, number, description, and individual identification of wild boars and barrows released into the preserve, and those removed through hunting. Fences must be kept in good repair to prevent the escape of the boars and barrows.

A hunting preserve may lose its authorization if identified wild boars or barrows are detected outside the preserve fences.

The text of the TAHC's feral swine regulations may be obtained on line on the TAHC website at <http://www.tahc.state.tx.us>; by emailing comments@tahc.state.tx.us; or by calling the TAHC's Public Information Office at 800-550-8242, ext 710

Time to treat lawns for winter annual weeds

Winter annual weeds stand out like a sore thumb, especially when your warm season lawn grass is dormant. They can invade many areas within your landscape, especially those sites where the turf density has been reduced and bare soil exists. Therefore, making sure you go into the winter months with a healthy, dense turfgrass is your best defense against these winter pests. Another approach is to use a pre-emergent herbicide to control them.

Winter annual weeds germinate in the late summer/early fall season. They will live during the winter and mature in the spring, then die. These plants include annual ryegrass, annual bluegrass, rescue grass, bur-clover, chickweed, henbit, and mustard weeds. Control of these weeds can be accomplished, but applications of the correct pre-emergent herbicide have to be made at the proper time.

In North Texas, applications may be needed as early as late August, depending on weather conditions. By mid-September, it is certainly time to take action!

Remember, you are controlling germinating seeds—so this pre-emergent herbicide needs to be applied prior to germination. If you are working with a lawn care company, visit with them about their approach to these pests—sometimes they use products that will control the weeds prior to or just after germination. It is always good to have communication between you and the company you are working with. Finally, please make sure you read the labels on all pesticides and calibrate your spreader/sprayer.
