

City swimming pool repairs should allow weekend opening

By Janet Felderhoff

Summer vacation kicked off in Muenster this past week without a City pool to swim in. Repairs to leaking pipes were still ongoing as of the regular meeting of the Muenster City Council on Monday, June 1. According to City Administrator Stan Endres, they hope to be open on Friday, June 5.

As of Monday evening, new pvc pipe replaced the old leaking pipe, fencing was being replaced around the pool, a diving board frame was anticipated so that the diving board could be put back up, cleanup was expected to be completed Tuesday, and water put in the pool in anticipation of opening on Friday.

Alderman Greg Bohl reported that he has filled out a form that will allow Chisholm Trail RC&D to look into grant possibilities for the purpose of either repairing or replacing the pool. Bohl remarked, "It is so old that if there is money for it, why not?"

Leo Lutkenhaus is training to take over the responsibilities of Chris Yosten who retired after 35 years of service. Endres said that Lutkenhaus took and passed the test that allows him to operate the wastewater plant.

There is another change in plans for curbing along Magnolia and Fourth Streets. Property owners Jerry Hess, Waylon Poole, and Grewings wanted to go ahead with the curbing. Grewings then decided that they didn't want to curb if the street wasn't being paved. Endres noted that there is no way that it would be paved at this time. If Grewings aren't getting curbing, then Endres said Poole is by himself and it didn't make sense to do his. Hess is getting curbing, but is hiring his own contractor to be done according to City specs.

The City is moving forward on using the 2008 TXCDBG Construction Grant from the Office of Rural Community Affairs (ORCA). Pat Dillon of Southwest Consultants was at the City Council meeting to answer questions and help move forward with steps necessary to acquire and use the grant funds. They will use it to put in larger drainage culverts on Mesquite and Fifth Streets.

A committee of Dillon, Mayor John Pagel, and Administrator Endres met to review and rank RFQs for the project. Four responses were received. The committee's ranking was explained to the Council. Morris Engineering got the top ranking. The Council unanimously voted to negotiate the project with Morris. It is expected to take most of the summer to get the project to the construction phase.

Endres reported on progress of drilling a new water well. A fence must be constructed around the site. The Council approved advertising for bids to construct the fence.

Lutkenhaus updated the Council on mechanical problems with the City's Ford tractor. It is used for larger mowing projects. The cost of repairing it is higher than the actual value of the tractor. The possibility of contracting the mowing or renting a tractor when needed was discussed.

Alderman Jack Flusche suggested selling the Ford tractor and a Case tractor that is not used and then purchase a new tractor for mowing. Mayor Pagel appointed a committee of

Muenster's 34 graduates begin a new chapter in their lives

By Janet Felderhoff

Muenster ISD held commencement exercises for the Class of 2009 on Friday, May 29 at 7 p.m. in the Muenster Hornet Gymnasium.

Graduates entered the assembly as "Pomp and Circumstance" was played by Jeff Pressnall. Graduates of the Class of 2009 are Noel Marie Barnhill, Casey John Bayer, Brandon Joseph Bindel, Patrick Wayne Borden, Paul Douglas Crabtree, Brandy Leigh Dangelmayr, Samantha Michelle Endres, Jared Stephen Flusche, Matthew Joseph Flusche, Abe Clement Fuhrmann, Michael Paul Green, Dillon Paul Haverkamp, Lauren Dianna Haverkamp, Jordanne Elizabeth Hellman, Tanner Keith Herr, Shelby Brooke Holloway, Mason Luis Ludwig Kieninger, Stacie Danielle Knabe, Trey Joseph Lancaster, Jennifer Kay Luke, Kristy Alana Marsh, Taylor John McGrew, Armita Mehdipour, Seth Austin Pierce, Jessica Nichole Porter, Corey David Reynolds, Michael Paul Sampson, Laticia Grace Schingoi, Jeffrey Adam Schniederjan, Joshua Louis Sicking, Emily Ann Stoffels, Victoria Allison Wright, William Nathaniel Wyatt, Alexander Harrison York.

Invocation was given by Brandy Dangelmayr. She then introduced Salutatorian Jordanne Hellman. Jordanne expressed appreciation to the school board members, administration, and teachers for providing the graduates with an education that has completely prepared them for their futures, and family and friends for all of their love and support. She said, "Tonight is about reflecting on what we have done in the past, and preparing to turn the page to begin a new chapter in our lives." She said they should not forget what got them there and how their class will be remembered.

"Our teachers have played huge roles in sculpting us in not only school education but also common sense," remarked Jordanne. "We were not always an easy class to deal with either." She said that in elementary school they developed a reputation for being ornery and they have continued to keep that reputation throughout high school.

Jordanne recalled that they set things on fire in junior high Ag class, sewed through their fingers in Mrs. Sturm's, and have tried to get out of anything and everything they possibly could get out of doing. Of the classmates' relationships Jordanne remarked, "Even though we don't always like each other we do always love each other. Some consider our class to have a love hate relationship. Even when we were in elementary school we showed this attitude towards one another."

"It's time to step out into the real world and prove to everyone else and yourself that you are who you say you are," Jordanne said. "Take with you what you have learned whether it be book knowledge or common sense. Keep in mind that those friends whom you have made over these past years will always be there for you if you need them. ... Just remember to live your life to the fullest and be the best you can."

Fish Fry to benefit Proffer family

A fish fry sponsored by the Muenster Knights of Columbus and the Myra Volunteer Fire Department is scheduled for Friday, June 19. It is a benefit for the Proffer family and will be held in the Muenster City Park from 6 to 9 p.m. In case of rain, the fish fry will be moved to the Muenster KC Hall.

Mandi and Robert Proffer have four beautiful children, Grace age 10, Faith age eight, Hope age seven, and Cale age five. Of those children, three have cystic fibrosis (better known as CF). They received their devastating diagnosis for their two youngest daughters while Mandi was pregnant with their fourth child. Two weeks after the birth of their son, they learned Cale, too, had CF. You can only imagine how their lives have been turned upside down and inside out. It was overwhelming early on for the Proffers.

Cystic fibrosis is a life-threatening genetic disease that causes mucus to build up and clog some of the organs in the body, particularly the lungs and pancreas. It is the most common inherited genetic disease affecting children in the United States. When mucus clogs the lungs, it can make breathing very difficult. The thick mucus also causes bacteria to get stuck in the airways, which causes inflammation and infections that lead to lung damage. Children with CF get a lot of recurrent pneumonias and have a lot of severe lung problems, causing them to be in and out of the hospital multiple times. With intensive home medical therapy, they tend to live a higher quality of life, although it is a significantly shortened life span.

Increased production of mucus can also block the digestive tract and pancreas. The mucus stops digestive enzymes from getting to the intestines. The body needs these enzymes to break down Class Vice-President Natalie Rose welcomed guests. Sheila Baekgaard introduced Salutatorian Amber Nortman.

Amber spoke of the successes experienced by various members of the class. She noted that their accomplishments included contributing to numerous State championships and three Lone Star cups. She also recalled several unforgettable moments shared by the classmates. These included scoring a touchdown in a powder puff football game and a time in English class when the teacher had them stand on their desks and "yap" for joy.

They learned some important life lessons along the way, she said. "And we all learned from experience that anything worth having is worth working for and fighting for," Amber remarked.

Amber noted that none of their accomplishments would have been possible without their parents, teachers, family, and friends. Without these unique support groups, they could not be successful.

In concluding Amber commented, "As you all walk the path you have to take, wherever you end up living and whatever you end up doing, always be the best that you can be. We have all been gifted with our own unique set of talents, but we've also been given a free will. It's up to us to use our talents; we

Elsie Hoedebeck 1921 - 2009

Mass of Christian Burial for Elsie H. Sanchez Hoedebeck, age 88 of Muenster, was held at 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday, June 3 in Sacred Heart Church with Rev. Ken Robinson officiating. Burial followed in Sacred Heart Cemetery.

Elsie died at 2:29 a.m. on Sunday, May 31, 2009 in Muenster Memorial Hospital surrounded by her family.

She was born on April 13, 1921 in Avard, Oklahoma. She was the sixth of seven children born to Jose and Antonia Sanchez. Elsie graduated from Avard High School and then attended Wichita Business College for several years. With the event of WWII, Elsie went to work for Boeing Aircraft of Wichita, Kansas as a "Rosie the Riveter" working on the B-29 Bomber Aircraft. A co-worker suggested she write one of his four brothers serving in the military as a pen pal. And that's how she met and married her husband of 60 years, Eugene Hoedebeck. After their wedding on Dec. 20, 1946, they settled in Denison where their first two children were born. In 1951, they moved back to Muenster, their lifelong home, where their family grew to nine, until Gene's death in December 2007.

Elsie was an avid fan of the Dallas Cowboys and the Texas Rangers baseball team. She loved playing cards, especially challenging her sons and grandsons to an impromptu game of poker. In her later years, and debilitated with rheumatoid arthritis, she became a huge fan of TV game shows. But, by far, her greatest loves were God and her family.

She was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Catholic Daughters of America, St. Anne's Society, and the VFW Women's Auxiliary.

Survivors include her daughters and sons-in-law Linda Knabe, Peggy and Wayne Grewing, and Mary and Brent Hess, all of Muenster, Terri and Chris Cagle of Coppell, and Toni and Jay Lankford of Arlington; sons and daughters-in-law Joe Hoedebeck of Muenster, Paul and Diane Hoedebeck of Gainesville, and Fred and Michelle Hoedebeck of The Colony. She is also survived by her brother and sister-in-law, Lawrence and Jenny Sanchez of Derby, Kansas, and 22 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Preceding her in death were her husband Eugene; daughter Mary Lynne; son-in-law Gilbert Knabe; daughter-in-law Shellie Hoedebeck; grandson Ronnie Knabe; her parents; her brothers Trini, Lupe, and Jose; and sisters Bertha Martinez and Mary Arroyo Ward.

Participating in sacred liturgy were music ministers Isaac Davis, Christy Hesse, Diane Grewing, and great-nephew Michael Cervantes of Carrollton. Selections included "On Eagles Wings," "Softly and Tenderly," "How Great Thou Art," "City of God," "Ave Maria," and "Amazing Grace."

Scripture readings were given by granddaughters Kristen Hess, Mary Knabe, and Kelly Grewing. Offertory gifts were presented by grandchildren Andi Hess, Sydney Hoedebeck, and Clayton Hess.

The eulogy was given by grandson Jeff Hoedebeck. He described Elsie as "a very kind woman who loved to laugh and smile and who could bring energy to any room she entered... a 'lady' who carried a unique style that exuded confidence, charm, and class... a consistent presence for her children. They all speak of her nurturing and her direct communication with each child..."

"With a big family, Elsie had a great ability to stretch a budget and put a good meal on the table even when last minute guests were invited over..."

"Elsie battled arthritis for a good portion of her life... But it never took her drive or her spirit... She was hard working, competitive, courageous, and versatile... She was a true lady of class..."

Pallbearers were grandsons Brian Knabe, Preston Cagle, Ricky Grewing, Christopher Hoedebeck,

Elsie Hoedebeck

Mitch Endres, and Travis Lankford.

Rosary/Vigil was held at 7 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church led by Fr. Ken Robinson who also officiated the Mass of Christian Burial.

The family suggests memorials be sent to Sacred Heart Church, or The Gene & Elsie Hoedebeck Scholarship Fund at Sacred Heart High School, or to Subiaco Abbey, 405 N. Subiaco Ave., Subiaco, AR 72865.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to extend my deepest apologies to Muenster ISD and the scheduling committee. I totally misread the 2009-2010 calendar. The kids are out of school on May 28th and Memorial Day is on May 31st. I am sorry for the mix up. I still feel very strongly that national holidays, especially those honoring our veterans, should never be scheduled as a school day, even as a snow day.

Muenster, TX

The Family of Denis Walterscheid wishes to express our heartfelt gratitude for the loving kindness and generosity shown to us by this amazing community. We have been lifted up by your spoken words and silent prayers, and we thank you for the grace and peace that has come to us from God, through you.

We are truly overwhelmed by your cards and letters of remembrance, the Mass offerings and lovely floral tributes, your gifts of food, and the many donations made in Denis' name, especially the Sacred Heart Trust Fund and Sister Roberta Hesse's African Mission Fund.

We sincerely thank Denis' ACTS Retreat "Brothers," the musicians, Eucharistic Ministers, and very special "altar boys," the Knights of Columbus for providing a place to gather for the family meal, and the Catholic Daughters of America for preparing it. We thank Dr. Jones and the nurses at Muenster Hospital for their care, and McCoy Funeral Home for their services.

We are so grateful to Fr. Kyle for blessing his Uncle Denis with the Last Rites, for presiding at the Funeral Mass, and for sharing his memories of Dad in a touching homily.

Special appreciation goes to Fr. Ken, who conducted the Wake Service, con-celebrated the Funeral Mass, and gave thoughtful attention to our family. We also thank Bishop Kevin Vann, who blessed Dad at the hospital and honored us by his presence at the Funeral Liturgy and our family dinner.

May God's blessing be upon you and your families,

Della Walterscheid and Family

Congratulations on 100 Years!

Louise Bengfort 1921 - 2009

Funeral Mass for Victoria Louise Bengfort was held on June 4 at 10 a.m. in St. Mary's Catholic Church with Fr. Jim Pemberton officiating. Burial followed in Fairview Cemetery. Rosary was held on Wednesday, June 3 at 7 p.m. at the funeral home chapel, followed by visitation. Services were directed by Geo. J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home. Victoria Louise Bengfort was called home on May 29, 2009.

Louise was born on Nov. 3, 1921 in Gainesville to Emil and Annie Schindler Schurig. She graduated from Gainesville High School in 1938 and was crowned "Miss Gainesville of 1939." She spent a season as a showgirl at Casa Manana in Fort Worth as a prize of the Miss Gainesville contest. Choosing not to return with the touring company to New York, she returned to Gainesville where she met and married Joe L. Bengfort of Lindsay in 1941.

Louise and Joe were blessed with three children Larry, born in 1942, Vicky in 1946, and Mike in 1953. She was a homemaker who took "vacations" in the business world, working for various retail establishments in downtown Gainesville. She was a notable cook, following in the footsteps of her father, who was chef at the Curtwood Restaurant in Gainesville for many years. Louise enjoyed gardening, bird watching, and crafts. After the death of Joe, Louise moved to the country, living on her family's farm until poor health forced her to return to city living.

She is survived by three children Larry Bengfort, Vicky McCrary, and Mike Bengfort; four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Members of the Muenster Elementary Student Council took a field trip to the County seat Tuesday, May 26. They toured the historic Courthouse and then sat through a regular session of Commissioners Court.

Courthouse for interior renovation. It will not be open for any County business effective June 15.

This will require new location for the Commissioners Court meetings; new location for public hearings, postings, meetings, citations, notices of foreclosure sales, and notices of Sheriff's sales; also new location for the sales.

In other business, Commissioners Court:

- Appointed George M. Brocker and Toby Beane as deputy constables for Precinct 4.
- Accepted auction proceeds from sale of Commissioner Precinct #29, $331,257.
- Accepted auction proceeds from the sale of surplus phone equipment in the amount of $574,757.
- Renewed office lease agreement with DPS for another year.
- Approved resolution to re-offer 12 properties that have been struck off to the City of Gainesville at a future Sheriff's sale.

County Judge Bill Freeman had each visitor introduce him or herself and give the office held on the Student Council.

Commissioners voted to move the Human Resources office from its present location to a location in the old County jail. It will be moved into the office now occupied by the Red Cross. Lack of privacy was the reason given for moving the Human Resources office.

Relocation of several things was tabled. This was on the advice of an attorney from Texas Association of Counties. By law, it must be posted for seven days and this requirement had not been fulfilled. The moves are necessary due to the complete closing of the

Roane pledges to serve

John Roane became the new administrative officer of Cooke County on Friday, May 29 at 10 a.m. Outgoing County Judge Bill Freeman performed his last official duty as he administered the oath of office to his successor. When Roane took the pledge to serve as county judge, his elected office of Justice of the Peace of Pct. 4 became vacant. Commissioners Court is expected to fill that position in the next few weeks. A large crowd of well-wishers filled the halls of the first two floors of the County Courthouse. The Commissioners Court meeting on Monday, June 8 will be the first for Roane to preside over and the last meeting to be held in the Courthouse until the interior renovation is complete. All offices will be moved out of the Courthouse by June 15.

Dangelmayr, Dunlap pledge wedding vows in Sacred Heart Church

Debra Jean Dangelmayr of Irving and Keith Alden Dunlap of Irving were united in holy matrimony on Saturday, May 2, 2009, at 2 p.m. The Nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony were held in Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Joe and Pam Dangelmayr of Muenster. Her grandparents are Herman Stoffels of Muenster and the late Alma Stoffels and the late Herman and Elfreda Dangelmayr.

Parents of the groom are Al and Jody Dunlap of Abilene. His grandparents are Alden and Laura Dunlap of Indialantic, Florida and Charles White of Spokane, Washington and the late Ramona White.

Presented by her father, the bride wore a Casablanca gown of ivory satin and lace featuring a sweetheart neckline and A-line silhouette. The sheer overlay of the gown was adorned with beaded lace in a dropped waist design and encircled the chapel length train. In her hair she wore a comb with pearl clusters and a sheer ivory two tiered fingertip-length veil. An original necklace and earring set created and gifted to her by her cousin Jackie Bartush complimented the bride's attire. She carried a clutch bouquet by Lora's, created with pink peonies, light Orlando roses, Eskimo roses, white stock, and plumose greenery wrapped with ivory ribbon.

Rev. Ken Robinson was the celebrant. He was assisted by Deacon Michael Kenny of Abilene, friend of the groom's family. During the Mass, a gold chalice belonging to the late Most Reverend Augustine Dangelmayr, bride's great-uncle, was used.

Large florals of ivory and soft pink, greenery, and gold candelabras adorned the sanctuary. Decorating center aisle pews were fresh ivory roses and tulle streamers.

Austin Miller, friend of bride's family, and Eli Dangelmayr and Cody Dangelmayr, cousins of the bride, assisted as Mass servers.

Nancy Dunlap, groom's aunt, gave the First Reading. Second Reading was given by Connie Rheams, bride's aunt. Prayers of the Faithful were read by DeeDee Dangelmayr, bride's sister-in-law. Godparents of the couple Alden and Laura Dunlap and Rex and Donna Simmons presented Offertory Gifts. Eucharistic Ministers were Betty Ann Flusche, bride's aunt, and Chuck Bartush Jr., bride's uncle.

ATTENDANTS

Kelly McCoy of Hickory Creek served as her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Allison Dunlap of Irving, groom's sister, Jackie Bartush of Muenster cousin of the bride, Kayla Felderhoff of Miami, Florida and Dana Fuhrmann of San Antonio, friends of the bride, and Amy Pagel of Muenster, bride's cousin. They wore Bill Levkoff taupe taffeta tea-length bubble dresses, featuring a front and back v-neck and a wide ruched cummerbund. Their matching necklaces and earrings, designed and created by Jackie Bartush, were gifts from the bride. They carried smaller versions of the bridal bouquet personalized with crystal monogram initial pins.

Junior bridesmaid was Samantha McCoy of Hickory Creek, bride's niece. She wore a soft pink taffeta tea-length A-line dress, a dainty tiara in her hair, and carried fresh flowers.

Stella Bologna of Plano, bride's cousin, was the flower girl. Her gown was ivory satin with a sheer overlay, full skirt, and pearl beading on the bodice. She carried a pink rose flower ball with ivory streamers created by the bride.

Ring bearers were Ethan McCoy and Cole Dangelmayr, nephews of bride. They wore matching black suits, white shirts, and black bow ties. Each carried an ivory satin square pillow with lace and ribbon accents.

Colin Miles of San Antonio, friend of groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Ryan Shinkle of Houston, Tim Palmer of Abilene, Zane Marcell of Dallas, James King of Del Rio, and Russ Kennedy of McKinney, all friends of the groom.

Glen Dangelmayr and Adam Dangelmayr, both of Muenster and bride's brothers, ushered guests.

Musical prelude selections sung by vocalists Christy Hesse and Phillip Flusche included "The Greatest Gift" and the "Wedding Song." After the string quartet Serenata Strings provided prelude selections, instrumental music for the ceremony included "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Canon in D," "Trumpet Voluntary," "Panis Angelicus," and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." Vocal selections included "The Wedding Song," "Surely the Presence," and "How Beautiful." "Ave Maria" was performed by soloist Jackie Bartush as the newly married couple placed a rose at the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Accompanying all the vocalists on the piano was Isaac Davis.

Patsy Dangelmayr, bride's aunt, pinned on corsages and boutonnières before the ceremony. Programs were distributed by Karen Gehrig and Emily Stoffels, cousins of the bride.

RECEPTION

Following the Mass, a reception hosted by the bride's parents was held in the Sacred Heart Community Center for approximately 320 guests. The hall was decorated with white lighted columns draped with tulle and topped with fresh asparagus ferns and flowing sweet pea arrangements. White linen tablecloths, napkins, and flatware dressed up the squared guest tables adorned with champagne satin and pink organza table runners. Centerpieces of pink peonies, ivory and pink roses, and sweet peas arranged in mosaic vases, lighted mosaic votives, and beveled mirrors enhanced the table décor.

The main table, hors d'oeuvre table, and cake table were accented with white miniature lights under white skirting. The main table was set with silver chargers, white china, silver flatware, and crystal tea and champagne glasses over a scrunched white organza fabric with romantic lighting provided by crystal prism candleholders.

Hors d'oeuvres were prepared and served by Ginny Schneider on a table highlighted by a large floral arrangement and crystal and silver serving pieces.

A dinner was catered by Donna Hertel of Miss Olivia's. Deacon Kenny gave the meal blessing.

The bride's cake rested on a silver-footed cake stand. It was four-tiered classic vanilla buttercream cake with a custard filling, banded in pink satin and topped with fresh pink peonies, roses, and the couple's monogram.

The groom's spiced devils food cake replicated a pearl drum accented with chocolate dipped strawberries and chocolate drum sticks. Both cakes were created by Roger Dieter.

Cutting the cakes were Charlotte Dangelmayr, bride's aunt, and Stacie Miller and Sandra Walterscheid, friends of the bride's family. Cake servers were cousins of the bride Hannah Simmons, Sophia Stoffels, Ava Rheams, Jessica Gehrig, Claudia Roux, and friend

Lauren Miller.

Providing music throughout the reception and dance was deejay The Party Doc.

Special guests were relatives of the Dangelmayr family visiting from Germany.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner on May 1 at the Party Barn in Lindsay. Decorations followed the Texas theme, and a barbecue dinner was served to approximately 70 guests. All enjoyed a delightful evening of meeting the relatives and visiting with the aid of a special family picture booklet created by the groom's father and sister. A slide show of photos highlighting the lives of Debra and Keith was created by the groom's best man and shown during the evening.

Since returning from a wedding trip to Sandal's Resort at Ocho Rios, Jamaica, the couple resides in Irving.

The bride attended Sacred Heart Catholic School and the University of North Texas where she earned a Bachelor of Arts in Economics. The groom attended Cooper High School in Abilene and Texas A&M University, earning a Bachelor of Business Administration degree. Both are employed by Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. in Irving.

Sacred Heart Catholic Preschool celebrates moving forward

The Preschool students of Sacred Heart Catholic School entertained their proud families, friends, and teachers at the annual Moving On Ceremony to mark the end of another very successful and enjoyable school year. The program took place on May 21 at 6:30 p.m. in the Sacred Heart Community Center.

As guests arrived, they were entertained with a slide show of pictures taken throughout the school year of the children engaged in their work, on field trips, celebrating their birthdays, and enjoying class parties and special days.

The Preschool class processed onto the stage to the song "A Happy Heart." Mr. Chad Riley, principal, welcomed the guests, and Fr. Ken Robinson, pastor, opened the program with a prayer. Following a welcome from the class, the audience joined the children in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance followed by "My Country Tis of Thee" and the Pledge to the Texas flag.

The enthusiastic Preschoolers delighted the large crowd with a selection of some of their favorite songs, complete with hand and body motions. Doing a terrific job of introducing the songs were all the children moving on into Kindergarten classes next school year. The songs reflected various aspects of spiritual growth, learning, and fun experienced throughout the year and included: "God Made Me," "ABC Rock," "Humpty Dumpty Dumpty," "Rags," "I Am A Promise," "I'll Follow Jesus," and the "May Chant."

Mr. Riley first presented Certificates of Attendance to the 10 children who will have another year of preschool. They are: Braden Berkeley, Erica Endres, Madeleine Fisher, Parker Forshee, Braeden Hacker, Laney Haley, Whitley Klement, Jackson Knabe, Michael Koessler, and Sean Sicking. Receiving special recognition and a certificate for perfect attendance for the year was Michael Koessler.

Moving On certificates were then presented to the 17 children who completed their final year before Kindergarten at Sacred Heart Preschool: Emma Bayer, Alison Becker, Jena Dangelmayr, Kayla Deweber, Ruth Ann Eddleman, Haley Flusche, Levi Griffith, Nate Hesse, Jace Johnson, Joie Kintz, Martie McCoy, Lauren Miller, Jonathan Nguyen, Shawna Neusch, Rynne Reiter, Logan Stewart, and Connor Vogel.

congratulations and thanks to the children, parents, and staff, and concluded the program with a prayer. Visiting and picture taking followed.

Extremely proud of these children and their accomplishments in the Montessori Preschool Program and the enrichment classes they attended are: Mrs. Pam Dangelmayr, lead teacher; Mrs. Kathy Berres and Mrs. Susan Yosten, classroom aides; Mr. Clint Kelley, music teacher; Mr. Jonathan Yosten, reading/computer lab instructor; and Ms. Angela Proto, Spanish teacher.

Sacred Heart Preschool Class of 2008-09

MISD math students show their class stars

Mrs. Carolyn Lutkenhaus began a new tradition in September with her math classes at Muenster ISD this year. Classes were encouraged to be consistent in completing and turning in work by records posted on the wall each day. If everyone in the class turned in homework with the required minimum grade, the class received a mark on the poster. A running total was posted with consecutive days of completed homework. If anyone in the class missed the requirement, the class total became zero again. When a class achieved 10 days in a row, the class members each received a small snack as a reward.

The 7th period Pre-AP Geometry class of Luke Crabtree, Emily Hellman, Andi Hess, Rishi Patel, Landon Presnall, and Blake Voth was the most successful. The class had 105 consecutive days of all work turned in with the minimum grade requirement. They had a cumulative total of 147 days of completed work, with only two days that someone forgot their homework.

Students also received encouragement to excel in math through the posting of "Math Stars" with student names on the wall. The stars were awarded each six weeks to those with a 90 or above average, or to those who had raised their average five or more points. Thirty-eight students accomplished this, some every six weeks. A total of 110 stars were given.

Following are students and their number of stars: Six stars - Lana Heers, Emily Hellman, Andi Hess, Hunter Klement, Rishi Patel, Landon Presnall, Lauren Rohmer, Payton Sanders, Blake Voth, and Brooke Walterscheid; Five stars - Andi Felderhoff and Luke Crabtree; Four stars - Kalya Dangelmayr and Scott Porter; Three stars - Paige Hennigan and Lacey Trubenbach; Two stars - Tyler Acuna, Ashley Archer, Aaron Bayer, Blake Grewing, Austin Hennigan, and Cole McAden; One star - Kayla Acuna, Cole Erickson, Aaron Grewing, Chase Hammer, Olivia Haverkamp, J.J. Horsman, Dalton Koelzer, Justin Krahl, Jessica Luttmeyer, Allison Pagel, Zach Pierce, Chloe Schneider, Hayden Vaughan, Kendra Walterscheid, and Nathan Wyatt.

A drawing was held for the math stars, with each receiving a prize donated by Muenster merchants and others. The Sonic of Muenster also donated a Sonic Blast for each "Math Star."

Brady Carney introduced Valedictorian Nick Bezner.

Nick began his address by recalling some lessons learned including saran wrapping a teacher to the podium in pre-cal and rearranging desks when another teacher left the room for a few minutes.

Nick remarked, "These past four years have been filled with moments that have made us laugh, made us cry, and made us think, what the heck just happened??" The friendships we've made, and those we've lost, will continue to live on in our memories."

The coaches taught them what it means to be a family, and the teachers how to think for themselves, said Nick.

In closing Nick said, "All that we have accomplished in our time here is just a stepping stone to what we will one day go on to do. As you go forward in life, remember to continue to grow and love those who help make you who you are. Take with you all of your experiences and use them to help others. Have no regrets, and live each day with significance - as if something truly special were to happen."

Principal Hall then presented the senior class and Superintendent Holt certified them.

Hall, Holt, Tim Short performed the ceremony of and Gordon Martin then awarding diplomas.

dan Bindel. Brandon observed that it was time to begin their journey into adulthood. Some think of graduation as an ending, but actually it is the beginning. He said, "The beginning of a lifetime of opportunities just waiting to be explored." Brandon noted that all have limitless potential and passion waiting to be unleashed. "The only way to measure success is by first setting a goal and then trying to accomplish it," he said. "Keep your faith, be strong and sure. Take careful steps and pride in everything you do and most importantly live life to the fullest. Mark Twain once said 20 years from now you will be more disappointed by the things you didn't do than by the ones you did. So throw off the bowlines, sail away from the safe harbor, catch the trade winds in your sails explore, dream, discover. Always remember greatness is in all of us and anything you might choose to do with your life should be done with excellence and intelligent direction. "Our lives are a continuing journey and we must learn and grow at every bend as we make our way sometimes stumbling, but always moving toward the finest within us. ... My mother always said, "You can do anything you want to do or be anything you want to be as long as you have Christ in your heart and keep Him in the center of your life." Let God be your GPS and steer you in the right direction. He will never lead you wrong." In conclusion Brandon said, "Remember to set goals, learn, and grow from your experiences and be yourself."

Counselor Kristi Schneider introduced Retired Educator Mary Dangelmayr as the commencement speaker for the evening. Dangelmayr began by noting how important their graduation was. A lot of people will never accomplish graduating from high school, she said. The students are very fortunate to have teachers who actually care, said Dangelmayr. "Be glad someone took the time to make you follow the rules, to try to drill facts into your heads, and to prepare you for whatever lies ahead," remarked Dangelmayr. That they are about to begin the biggest marketing project of their life was stressed by Dangelmayr. "You must sell yourself to the world," she told the graduates. "You must convince someone out there that you are better than the other guy, that you are the best man for the job."

With the job market being as it is, she said that after graduation, they might have to settle for a job doing nothing related to their field of interest, taking whatever employment they can just to support themselves. Dangelmayr said that they may choose to take a job and gripe, complain, and regret every day, or take a job and do their best. Every door leads to another, she said. "You will be faced with choice after choice in your lives," said Dangelmayr. "Have the moral fortitude to make the right choices. If, by chance you make a wrong choice, then learn from your mistake, pull yourself up by your bootstraps, hold your head up, proceed forward. Other bits of advice offered by Dangelmayr: "Speak like you know what you are talking about. Speak with confidence. Look at people when you talk to them."

Get your heads out of your cell phones and learn to talk to people. Being the world's fastest texter on a cell phone is not something that looks good on a resume. "The future is wide open. It is a clean slate regardless of the past, and you are the only one responsible for your future. Destiny is not a matter of chance; it is a matter of choice." To the parents, Dangelmayr recommended: "Stop enabling your children. If they forget their lunch, they forget their lunch. They are not going to starve. If they forget an assignment, they will not die of lethal injection. They will simply learn from the consequences. "Teach them to be responsible human beings with good moral values, a good conscience, and a desire to do their best." Addressing the graduates Dangelmayr remarked, "Always answer to a higher being. Be prepared to accept the consequences of your actions. You have been taught the difference between right and wrong. Should you choose to do what is wrong, and that is a choice; then, be prepared to face whatever consequences come with that choice and accept them. Stop blaming others for your mistakes."

Lady Knights are State-bound

The Lady Knights took a loss in the first game in the Regional playoff season last week Wednesday, falling 6-3 to North Hopkins. A Saturday rematch in game 2 saw Lindsay come away with a 5-1 win. The last game of the series, the Lady Knights pulled out a 3-2 Regional Softball Championship victory, earning a trip to Austin on Thursday, June 4.

"The girls did an awesome job. I am really proud of this bunch," noted Coach Robin Hess. "They showed a lot of heart. All their time and hard work has paid off."

In game one, both teams pounded out 10 hits, but North Hopkins capitalized on Lindsay's errors to take the win.

Earning runs were Rose Hermes, Megan Caillier, and Natalie Rose. Adding hits were Bethani Eberhart, Kayla Hess, Lucinda Krahl, and Taylor Atkins. Alex Ethington and Atkins RBled, while Beverly Knabe is credited for four assists.

Ethington started the game, giving up all 10 hits, striking out 3, and walking 3. Atkins came in the top of the 5th, pitching 2 and 2/3 innings. She struck out 2 and allowed no hits.

In game two, also played at McKinney, Lindsay scored 3 runs in the top of the 3rd inning and added 1 in the 4th, and a final in the 7th for the win.

Hermes and Atkins each scored twice and Eberhart once. Also getting hits were Knabe, Krahl, Ethington, and Caillier. Rose got 10 pop-outs. Atkins pitched to 27 batters, struck out 5, and walked 3.

The final game to break the tie went in Lindsay's favor by a score of 3-2. The Lady Panthers had a chance to win the game in the bottom of the 7th, but it was spoiled by "a great heads up" play by Knabe and Eberhart. Hermes, Eberhart and Caillier each reached home, with Rose, Hess, and Knabe getting hits.

Atkins was the winning pitcher. She faced 28 batters, allowing 7 hits, striking out 4, and walking only 1.

The Lady Knights continue to make school history, making their first appearance in the State Softball Tournament. Lindsay played the Alto Lady Yellowjackets on Thursday at 8:30 a.m. at McCombs Field. If victorious, the Lady Knights will face the winner of the Iola vs. Forsan game Saturday morning for the State Championship. Watch next week's paper for State results.

TPWD looking for dove lease property

Attention landowners: Looking for some extra money and got a weedy field not in production or being rested this fall?

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Public Dove Hunting Program is not only an opportunity for hunters, but it is also an opportunity for landowners to make some extra money by leasing the hunting rights for dove and other small game to TPWD.

"We are looking for properties that are at least 50 or more acres where hunting is legal, with access, food, water and cover to attract dove," said Kelly Edmiston with TPWD's public hunting program. "Ideal sites have a good food source such as grain crops, sunflowers, croton (goat weeds), water, or that have become recently fallowed."

Additionally, each tract must have a public access point where hunters can park their vehicles, from which they will walk to the hunting area.

Game wardens and other departmental staff will monitor the units to ensure compliance with all regulations.

This is a short-termed lease usually for 45 to 60 days in length - the equivalent of the first split of the dove season. Only those hunters who purchase the $48 Annual Public Hunting Permit (approximately 31,000 are sold annually statewide) from TPWD are allowed to hunt and only at times the area is open to hunting under the terms of the contract.

Price per acre is dependent on size, habitat, game species, and hunt dates included. Location is also very important. They would like to find areas that are along the corridors of interstates 35, 45, 10, and 20 within about 100 miles of major urban areas.

More information about this program, locating your local wildlife biologist or game warden can be found by at: http://www.tpwd.state.tx.us/landwater/land/private/hunt/small_game/

TPWD increases most license and boat registration fees 5%

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has approved increases to hunting and fishing licenses, as well as boat titling and registration fees. Most fees will increase by 5% and the increases take effect with the 2009-10 license year, starting this fall for recreational hunting and fishing licenses.

Hunting licenses will increase from $23 to $25, while the popular Super Combo all-inclusive license increases from $64 to $68.

Non-resident hunting licenses increase by $15 from $300 to $315, which also reflects a 5% hike.

Fishing packages will also increase by $2. The resident freshwater fishing package increases from $28 to $30 and the saltwater fishing package increases from $33 to $35. The biggest increase in license fees approved by the commission affects lifetime licenses. The resident lifetime fishing and hunting licenses will increase to $1,000 and the lifetime combination license increases to $1,800.

Boat registration, which is valid for two years, for vessels less than 16 feet in length increase from $30 to $32, and those in the 16-26 foot range go from $50 to $53. Boats 26-40 feet increase from $70 to $110, and boats greater than 40 feet increase from $90 to $150.

The Department received less than 400 comments related to the fee increases during the public comment period, with only 16 comments resulting from a series of 19 public meetings scheduled around the state. Overall, comments ran more than 2-to-1 against the increases, citing bad economic times as the primary reason.

Fees for none of the special endorsement stamps were increased.

In addition to the fee increases, the Commission approved a new administrative fee of $100 for reinstatement of any recreational or commercial license that has been revoked or suspended.

The Commission also authorized staff to implement a drawing for a package that includes a lifetime hunting and fishing license and one-year subscription to Texas Parks & Wildlife magazine. Entry fee for the drawing will be $5 and will go on sale Aug. 15 wherever licenses are sold.

PROFFER

food, which provides nutrients to help people grow and stay healthy. People with CF often must replace these enzymes with medicine in order to get proper nutrition. Children with CF tend to have liver disease. The lungs are really the problem that causes their illness to progress rapidly and to shorten their life span significantly.
 Mandi and Robert's everyday routine for the kids requires daily chest therapy, breathing treatments, and several medicines by mouth, all different for each child. Slowly, their regimen has gotten easier, and now it is routine. Every day, Faith, Hope, and Cole each do "pat pats" (Vest therapy) for 20 minutes twice a day, two to four breathing treatments at least twice a day, enzyme capsules every time they eat, nose spray, stomach medicine, and vitamins. All while their oldest daughter, Grace, waits patiently for her siblings to finish their therapy before they can go about the rest of their day.
 Mandi and Robert feel very blessed. Their children received their diagnosis very early and the children don't know life any other way. They depend on the tremendous support system within their family as well as their workplaces and community. Mandi and Robert have great aspirations for all their children - happiness, good health, graduations, marriages, and babies. Their dream is that Faith, Hope, and Cole will define their CF instead of the disease defining them!
 The family has insurance coverage, but it does not nearly pay for all their tremendous medical expenses. Remember to mark your calendar for June 19 to enjoy some great fish and to show the Proffer family your support.

Homeland Security cracks down on those hiring illegals

Swine flu name 'hogwash,' Texas pork producers say

What's really in a name? For Texas pork producers, labeling the H1N1 influenza as "swine flu" is hogwash. Pork producers say it's time to set the record straight.

All the hoopla and mass attention the misnomer unwillingly attracted is taking a bite out of an already low profit industry.

"The implications could be huge cause the markets have dropped," said Ken Horton, executive vice president of the Texas Pork Producers Association. "Some of the trading partners around the world have said they don't want pork products from the United States and/or Texas and other states that have the virus in humans. We don't know the economic impact at this time but we suspect it could be fairly significant."

This is all for an "outbreak" that has the blame pointing at humans more than any other warm blooded creature.

No American infected with the disease had any contact with pigs, and pork producers nationwide stepped up farm security to ensure the disease would not be introduced to their animals.

The biosecurity measures are common practice in the pork industry, and many producers are worried their hogs would get sick from an infected person.

Case in point—Canada. Pigs in the province of Alberta have contracted the H1N1 virus from a farm worker who recently traveled to Mexico.

Canadian government officials reported the discovery of the disease the first weekend in May, describing it as the first known case of pigs with the H1N1 virus. The farm has been placed under quarantine.

Every major health organization worldwide and even President Obama have backed the overwhelming evidence that "The Other White Meat" is safe to eat.

Although bearing some genetic similarities to the flu strain commonly called the "swine flu," this new virus, H1N1, is a hybrid disease, containing swine, bird, and human genes.

So far this latest strain has but one host in the U.S.—humans, and it spreads like the common cold, human to human, at what can be clocked as no faster than a snail's pace.

Despite the name change and dwindling threat, international trading doors have been shut.

Russia suspended imports of all meat from Mexico and several U.S. states including Texas, California, and Kansas on April 27. China, Thailand, Indonesia, Jordan, and the Philippines also followed similar bans.

Still, it is too early to tell what impact these trade obstacles pose in the longterm, said Texas Farm Bureau's livestock specialist Jon Johnson.

"The swine herd has been in a slight decline, just like all the other livestock," Johnson noted. "Will pork prices hold? Hopefully, they will. But at this point, the only effect that we're seeing is these foreign countries are shutting off exports. I think once they get away from the swine stuff, things will turn."

Until then, it could be a tough road.

The Department of Homeland Security's recent mandate to step up enforcement against those who hire illegal workers could prove troublesome to some agricultural employers.

But not if those employers are doing what's required of them to staff their businesses, says Ned Meister, Texas Farm Bureau's director of commodity and regulatory activities.

"The long and short of it is this: If you've been following the law in your hiring practices—doing what you're supposed to do when you employ somebody—it shouldn't make any difference at all," Meister said. "If you check their documents, have them fill out an I-9 and document everything, that's all you really can do as an employer."

"But if you haven't, you better darn well worry," Meister added.

Homeland Security issued directives in late April instructing officers with the Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) unit to immediately enhance their surveillance efforts of worksite enforcement, which ultimately changes the agency's course from prosecuting and removing undocumented workers to filing cases against the establishments where they find work.

According to national news sources, ICE will continue to arrest and process for removal any illegal workers who are found in the course of worksite enforcement actions. But ICE also will use all available civil and administrative tools, including civil fines and debarment, to penalize and deter illegal employment. They will be working hand-in-hand with the U.S. Attorney's Office to obtain search warrants, indictments, and criminal arrests for any employer who snubs the law and knowingly hires illegal labor.

Upcoming conference

The Samuel Roberts Noble Foundation Agricultural Division will host the 2009 Texoma Pasture Conference from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday, June 13, at the Convention Center in Ardmore.

Entitled "Pasture and Range Stability During Times of Economic Instability," the conference focuses on answering key questions about managing pasture and rangeland in addition to reviewing resource use during difficult financial times. Farmers and ranchers have been questioning every aspect of their operation in an effort to cut costs.

The event's schedule will include a wide array of sessions concerning pasture and rangeland management.

Registration is $20 and lunch is provided. To register online - www.noble.org/agevents or contact Tracy Cumbie at tcumbie@noble.org or 580/224-6411 for more information. There will also be a trade show provided by event sponsors throughout the conference.

COUNTY AGENT REPORT

Maintaining the vegetable garden

This year has been a banner year for people to become involved in vegetable gardening. Many experts are associating this activity with the recession, but it is also possible that we enjoy eating fruits and vegetables that have had the chance to ripen on the vine. We like the idea of knowing exactly where and how the food was grown and that we enjoy the challenge of growing and producing our own food.

As many new gardeners will discover and as many experienced gardeners/home maintainers will remember, insects and diseases can wreak havoc on a home garden. Our long growing season with relatively mild winters encourage relatively large insect populations. Gardeners are encouraged to avoid spraying when possible, but use recommended and approved chemicals if the situation warrants. Remember to be careful when deciding which chemicals to apply. Spray only those crops listed on the chemical's container. When used according to the manufacturer's directions and label, chemicals pose no threat to the home gardener.

Disease control is really a preventive rather than an eradication procedure. Cool, damp conditions are conducive to foliage diseases.

Carefully watch your garden for symptoms of diseases. If necessary, spray with approved fungicides.

Often implementation of a proper watering schedule will help to minimize disease problems. Proper watering will also promote healthy plants and increase their yield. It is possible to both overwater and underwater your garden so, remember you must monitor the weather conditions and soil moisture and apply water accordingly. Slow deep irrigation is best.

When irrigating vegetable gardens, apply enough water to wet the soil to a depth of at least six inches. For best production, most gardens require about one inch of rain or irrigation per week during the growing season. Light, sandy soils usually need to be watered more often than heavier, dark soils. If you use sprinklers, water in the morning so plant foliage has time to dry before night. This helps prevent foliage diseases, since humidity and cool temperatures encourage disease development on most vegetable crops. A drip irrigation system is best because it keeps water off plant foliage and uses water most efficiently. Drip irrigation is ideal for use with mulches.

Publications on disease and insect identification and control are available from your county Extension office and at the Texas AgriLife Extension Bookstore (<http://agrilifebookstore.org>).

Planning, prepping, and maintaining a home garden may sound like a lot of work, but is well worth the effort.

A bountiful harvest of fresh, clean, safe produce is an extremely satisfying undertaking and provides many people with a huge sense of accomplishment.
