Keep Muenster Beautiful, the Muenster Water Board, and the City of Muenster joined forces last Saturday to clean up non-water areas around Muenster Lake. Volunteers put in hours of service collecting bricks, cement, lumber, junk metal, and wire that was dumped on the property years ago. Also, old fences - wire, posts, and corner braces - were dismantled and removed. The City provided a dumpster on the site, with volunteers supplying a tractor with loader, trailers, and cutting torch, along with their manpower. KMB photo

City offers recycling another opportunity

By Janet Felderhoff
Muenster City Council took heed of the requests of Keep Muenster Beautiful and various citizens and will again offer a recycling program. It was decided at the April 5 regular meeting that it will be for paper and cardboard only. A bin will be placed in the City's north lot by the water tower. It will only be open on Saturdays from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m. A sign will be placed there asking that only people who have a water meter use the recycling bin. This should happen in the next few weeks. Recycling will be on the honor system since the City Council did not wish to pay someone to oversee it on Saturdays. Steve Broyles of Keep Muenster Beautiful (KMB) attended the meeting. He said that if it had to be, KMB would have a volunteer at the recycling center.

This may change later in the year. City Administrator Stan Endres is in contact with IESI Waste Management. That company is working with other local municipalities hoping to get some type of recycling program going with them. This would make it more financially feasible. Endres said that IESI doesn't expect to have a plan to present until possibly August.

If you are convicted of a traffic violation in the City of Muenster, your fine will be $4 higher now. The Council adopted a Municipal Court Technology Fee Ordinance that allows the City to collect $4 per ticket. This money may only be used to purchase items such as computer programs, hardware, software, etc. for Municipal Court.

A Public Hearing set to hear comments on the possibility of changing City code 10-4A-4-E "Height Limit" drew no public comment. The code deals with the height limit of any structure in an R-1 Single Family Dis-

City urges clean up for Germanfest weekend

Germanfest is fast approaching, and Stan Endres, City administrator, and the City Council have asked citizens to make sure their property is looking well maintained. That includes picking up trash, clearing junk, mowing and trimming lots and yards, etc. Let's all get together and roll out a neat and well-taken-care-of welcome mat for our Germanfest visitors.

Jewel honored with O.P. Schnabel Award

The O.P. Schnabel Senior Citizen Award is a lifetime achievement award that recognizes senior citizens in Texas who demonstrate positive, dynamic, and selfless public spirited leadership in enhancing the Texas environment during their lifetime. O.P. Schnabel was known for his lifetime of service keeping San Antonio clean and beautiful. Keep Texas Beautiful awards First and Second Place for this designation annually. The recipients are chosen from all applicants in the state of Texas. This year, Jewel Otto was nominated by Keep Muenster Beautiful and received Second Place.

Jewel was nominated with recollections of her most recent 15 years of service to the community. She was on the original Germanfest committee, serves on the City Council, Keep Muenster Beautiful Board, Muenster Library Board, Historical Commission Museum Board, and has worked on many projects. She spearheaded repainting of the City Park pavilion, was instrumental in getting the GCAA project steered towards the impressive rock pillar and iron fence at the City Park, and most recently decorated the entire length of the fence for Christmas.

Also, Jewel finds time to serve with the Golden Oldies, a group that helps pick up litter twice a year, participating in the KMB/RTB statewide cleanup campaigns in April and October.

"KMB is proud of Jewel's energetic service to keep Muenster Beautiful," remarked KMB member Gary Fisher.

Historic Muenster business closes its doors

By Janet Felderhoff
For the first time in more than six decades, Muenster does not have a livestock auction. Although there have been several owners through the years, Muenster farmers and ranchers could always count on having a place in town to sell their livestock.

Muenster Livestock conducted its last auction on Thursday, April 1, with more than 800 cattle being sold that day.

The business is now owned by James "Redbone" Peyrot. He also owns the New Gainesville Livestock Auction. Letters sent out to customers announcing the closing of the Muenster facility said that it would be used as a place where they could drop their cattle off on Thursdays or Friday mornings to have them hauled to the Gainesville Livestock Auction. There are receiving pens at Nocona and Pilot Point also.

Redbone's wife Katie said that those who want to do that can contact one of the haulers listed on their website gainesvillelivestock.info.

According to information in the Muenster Centennial History Book, John Bayer ran Muenster's first livestock auction. It was held every Saturday in lots where Orr Construction Company now parks vehicles. Gus Stelzer auctioneered and Victor

Hartman was the clerk. Alvin Hartman, John's grandson and Victor's son, recalls that it was in the early 1940s. He was a high school student at the time and was allowed to take off from farm work to go to town where he opened and shut gates at the livestock auction. There were no buildings, only pens at this facility. He said that they mostly sold baby calves.

Then in 1946, E.A. Felker and W.F. Solomon built a facility east of town with concrete and metal buildings and pens that was said to be the most complete facilities within a radius of 50 miles.

Besides a cattle auction, they also auctioned farm machinery, tools, household items, etc.

The first sale for the new Muenster Livestock Auction took place on Sept. 21, 1946. There were more than 300 bidders and spectators in attendance. They sold 179 head of stock in less than two and a half hours.

In December of 1946, Dick Cain bought Solomon's share of the business. In May 1948, Cain bought Felker's share of the Livestock Auction to become the sole owner.

Business continued here until July 28, 1957 when a fire destroyed the sale arena. Cain sold that location to Community Lumber Company. He wanted a different layout for the facility and decided to rebuild in a new location to accomplish that plan. He built a mile west of town where Muenster Livestock is to this day.

Cain eventually sold the business to Bill Miller in December 1965. Carl Mullins acquired an interest in the business in July 1966 and took over as full-time manager. The next owner was Bill Hamer who operated the Livestock Auction for many years. He sold it to Ronnie Austin who owned it for 11 years. It was sold to Redbone Peyrot about a year ago.

Chris Cain's family has been deeply involved with the livestock auction business most of their lives. Chris was eight or nine years old when the facility west of Muenster was built. He recalls watching Julian Walterscheid and another Walterscheid weld the steel pens. "They guaranteed Daddy that there wouldn't be any cow or bull knock them apart," recalls Chris. "They stayed really well, but not long after we opened up out there somebody brought in this old billy goat and he would butt anything that walked by. We put him in a pen out there and he just tore it to pieces."

25 YEARS AGO

New Arrivals: Lisa to Tim and Ramona Felderhoff; Catherine to John and Lanie Bartush; Lacey to Kellie and Larry Insel.

Wimmer took over the restaurant in the Livestock Auction not long after the facility opened west of town. She managed it until just a couple of years ago. "She was one of the mainstays," Chris said. "She was always there taking care of all those cowboys. Half of Muenster would go out there on Thursday and eat when she had it."

Chris noted that when his dad was running the livestock auction, 1200 to 1400 head of livestock was really a huge run. "After Hamer sold it to Austin, they built a lot more pens and handled a lot more cattle," Chris explained. "They got it up where you could handle 2500 instead of 1200 to 1400. It's a shame they had to shut down. Our last sale we had nearly 800 head and there's a lot of sales around struggling to get 500 head."

Chris felt that the closing of Muenster Livestock Auction had a lot to do with the EPA. He said that some of the newer pens were built on the south side towards a creek, and the closer the pens are to the creek the more concerned the EPA seemed to get. He thought that they wanted a big dike built in front of it to divert the water to a place where it could be caught and carried off to another location. It would be cheaper to build a new facility somewhere he said.

When Dick Cain owned the Muenster Livestock Auction, Chris said it was pretty much a family thing. His mother worked in the office. Mildred Biffle was secretary at the facility that burned and then at the new one west of town. Jimmy Jack and Herkey Biffle and Chris all worked at the Livestock Auction when they were what he described as "little twerps."

Chris recalled that he and Herkey liked to go down the hog pen and ride the hogs. His Dad warned them not to be riding the hogs. "So, the next week we snuck down there and did it anyway. We walked back up there and Daddy grabbed me and kicked me in the butt pretty hard. I said, 'What's that for?' He said, 'Riddin' those hogs.' I said, 'What do you mean riding the hogs?' He said, 'Don't deny it. You've got hog chalk all over your rear ends.' The hog chalk gave us away."

Chris' sister Rita married Wendell Richey and moved to West Texas. His dad hired Wendell to come and work at the sale barn and Rita started writing tickets. "They've been writing tickets now for 50 years," noted Chris.

Due to illness, Rita quit last March, but Wendell is still weighing and penning. They worked sales all over including Gainesville, Bowie, Overbrook, and Waurika.

Chris finds it ironic that his dad built the Muenster Livestock facility when Chris was just a kid, and now as it is closed, Chris is the auctioneer at Muenster Livestock and has been for about the last four years. "I never would have in my wildest dreams ever believed that I would be auctioneering when it closed," he remarked.

From its very beginning, the local Livestock Auction seemed to draw family into the business. Besides John Bayer and Dick Cain's families, the Hamer and Miller families were also involved helping at the weekly sales. Hamer's wife Doris worked in the office and his son Mike was active in the business also. Bill Miller's wife Terese worked in the office. Her daughter Linda Flusche recalls as a young child she carried tickets sent from the arena to the office. Bill's sons Robert, Terry, and Alan opened gates in the pens to move the cattle from place to place. Alan remembers cleaning the arena and seating area each Wednesday in preparation of Thursday's sale.

The Cain family will not be the only ones sad to see the Muenster sale barn close. Chris observed, "It's going to be hard for the people of the community because the sale barn business has been part of the Muenster community for many years. Back in the earlier days that was the gathering place on the weekend. It used to be on Saturday and that was the thing to go to town and go to the sale. It was on Saturday for years."

Chris said of having a sale barn in the community,

"It's been a blessing to have a place to take their cattle and go watch and see what cattle are bringing. There are other sale barns around now, but it was Muenster and Gainesville for a long time. It's really nice to have around when you are in the ranching business or the farming business."

Chris added that it brought a veterinarian to Muenster for the last 40 years.

Through the decades, the Muenster sale barn has brought people to town, been a place to see the neighbors and catch up on news, lament over low prices or lack of rain, rejoice when things were going well, and enjoy a tasty meal prepared in Gertie's kitchen. Although it is a chapter closing for Muenster, memories will linger of the people and events that passed through its doors.

The Hands of Surgery are Changing

The da Vinci® Surgical System

United Regional is proud to announce the addition of the da Vinci® surgical system to our list of advanced technologies benefitting our patients. It is the most progressive robotic laparoscopic technology available anywhere in the world today for urologic, gynecologic, and certain other surgical procedures. With this technology, even major surgeries can be performed through the smallest of incisions.

Patients benefit by experiencing:

- less pain
- less blood loss
- less scarring
- faster recovery time
- shorter hospital stay
- quicker return to everyday activities

The da Vinci robot cannot make movements or decisions on its own. Rather, the skill of the surgeon is combined with the precision of the robot to deliver more exact moves than possible through the human hand alone. Robotic-assisted surgery makes improvements to existing procedures and makes available those that otherwise could not be performed. With the da Vinci surgical system, the hands of surgery are changing.

For the names of surgeons who perform robotic surgery at United Regional, please contact Call-A-Nurse at 940-764-8570.

trict. It allows any structure attached to the ground to be no more than 35' high.

Administrator Endres said that the request for the change came from someone who wished to place a wind generator for electricity in their back yard. The person also hoped to put them up for others in town who requested one.

Discussion followed, but the Council did not seem to favor approving something that could be a possible hazard to neighbors. Endres told of what he learned when contacting TML in Austin.

Alderman Greg Bohl suggested that this would be an opportunity to change the language in the ordinance which seems vague. Mayor Pagel said he felt it was written to be vague and interpreted. With no motion made, there was no action taken and the ordinance height remains 35'.

On the recommendation of the Park Board, the Council approved hiring Bret Walterscheid as pool manager. He has worked at the pool for several summers and last year served as assistant manager. He has his certification to train life guards and did so for Muenster last year.

May 29 is the anticipated date for opening the pool this summer. City workers plan to paint and get it ready soon. Water should go in after Germanfest.

Damage was done to ceiling tiles in the Muenster City Library meeting room during one of the winter snow storms. Snow is thought to have blown under the shingles, causing the damage. Alderman Jewel Otto said that the Library Board doesn't want to replace the ceiling tiles until they are certain of what caused the roof to leak.

Mayor Pagel commented that he thinks there is a design problem with the building. Gutters weighted down with snow fell from the Library building and will be replaced.

The budget has $1,000 for repairs at the Library. Repairs are estimated at $1,100. City Council approved allowing the Library Board to use the $1,000 for repairs at their discretion.

This winter's excessive moisture, cold, and snow worked considerable damage to City streets. Street Commissioner Greg Bohl said he's driven the streets and they are a mess.

"From what I can tell, and we've only had it one year, where we came back in with the concrete base, I didn't see anything not stable in there," noted Bohl. "It seems to be better than what we have where it's really tearing up." The concrete method is more expensive to do. He said that he feels that long-term, it would be better to use the more expensive method to avoid having to continuously redo just paved streets. Endres said that is what TxDOT is doing on the highways.

There is $50,000 budgeted for street repairs and $80,000 for paving. Of that amount, about $18,000 has been spent. Bids were advertised for, but only Bolen responded. Bolen's bid total is $90,400 for the cement stabilized method covered with hot mix. The Council approved the bid. Repairs will be done to Elm Street from Fourth Street to Seventh Street 12 feet from the curb on both sides of the street; on Fifth Street from Oak Street to Main; on West Eighth Street from Main to Maple Street south side only; and on East Seventh Street down the middle of the street.

At the request of a resident in the 500 block of Oak Street, the City will replace clay lines in that area as soon as the City workers can get to it. The resident's home was flooded with sewage when a blockage occurred in the system there causing all the home's carpet to need replacing. Estimated materials cost to replace the clay lines on the entire block from man hole to man hole is around $2,000. This is not in the budget, but the Council approved the replacement.

Administrator Endres updated the Council on activities in the City. Problems at the sewer plant continue as the aerators are in constant need of repairs. Much discussion took place on possible solutions. It was decided that something must be done and to contact a company from Weatherford that will do repairs in Dallas if the equipment is brought there.

Endres reported that certified letters were sent to the owners of the four mobile homes located in Sylvan's Trailer Park that were declared hazardous structures at the March City Council meeting. Two letters were returned. One owner came to City Hall to say they didn't want the home and signed a release so it could be removed. Another wishes to keep the home and fix it up. Permission was given for this, but he was given 60 days to get it into livable standards. Sylvan Walterscheid will remove the other three mobile homes.

In other business the Council:
 • Approved an agreement with the Muenster Chamber of Commerce for use of the City's west Park land for Germanfest. They will charge $400 this year.
 • Approved payment of bills totaling $129,735.37.

Willeta A. "Sue" Brown 1920 - 2010

Mrs. William D. "Sue" Brown, age 90 of Gainesville, died April 3, 2010 at Renaissance Care Center.

Willeta A. "Sue" was born Jan. 31, 1920 in Grand Prairie, the daughter of W. A. "Bill" Robertson and Oleta Cox Robertson. As a teenager, Sue was a member of a choir chosen from area high schools to participate in the Texas Centennial Celebration at Fair Park in Dallas in 1936. She was a 1937 graduate of Grand Prairie High School. Sue attended North Texas Agricultural College, what is now The University of Texas at Arlington, in 1938 and 1939.

Sue began a lifelong career in funeral service in the early 1940s, employed at the firm of her aunt and uncle, the L.O. Turner Funeral Home in Grand Prairie. In 1948, Sue met William D. "Bill" Brown, a young funeral director from Gainesville who had joined the firm. They married Jan. 20, 1949 at the First Methodist Church of Grand Prairie. The couple spent their first years of marriage employed at the George Brewer Funeral Home of Dallas. Sue and Bill returned to Grand Prairie in 1953. After several years of employment with the Hugh M. Moore Funeral Homes in Arlington and Fort Worth, the Browns purchased the Moore's funeral operation in Grand Prairie, which became the Moore-Brown Funeral Home in 1961. In 1972, long time friends, Gwynne C. and his wife JoAnn Pike became partners with the Browns as the Brown-Pike Funeral Home.

In 1968, Mrs. Brown was one of the founding members of The Woman's Club of Grand Prairie, serving as the Club's president in 1972. She was instrumental in establishing the Grand Prairie Community Concerts and was actively involved in producing the "Miss Grand Prairie Pageant."

Sue and her family purchased Geo. J. Carroll & Son Funeral Home in Gainesville from the Carroll family in 1975. They continued to operate their Grand Prairie funeral home until its sale in 1979. Gainesville became their home. A lifelong Methodist, Sue and her family moved their church membership to the First United Methodist Church of Gainesville in 1980, where she remained an active and faithful member as long as her health allowed.

Funeral services for Sue Brown were April 5 at Geo. J. Carroll & Son Funeral Home Chapel. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery.

Survivors are son and daughter-in-law Robin and Cathy Brown of Gainesville, granddaughter and husband Kendall and Murrell Balda of Savannah, Texas, grandson Blair Brown of Gainesville, one great-grandson; and numerous cousins.

She was preceded in death by her parents and her husband of 47 years, Bill Brown in 1996.

Memorials may be made to First United Methodist Church of Gainesville Sanctuary Restoration Project.

Wet, cold winter settled into 2010

The winter of 2010 will be remembered by many for its very cold temperatures, lack of sun, and abundance of moisture. It snowed several times, and not just a flurry, but at least once more than a foot, and even left several inches in a late March snowfall. Moisture recorded snow was .10 in January, .70 in February, and .20 in March. In the last week or so, spring made its presence known with warm temperatures, green grass, trees flowering and sprouting leaves, and the arrival of summer birds. It seems everybody was ready to see the warmer days of spring this year! The official moisture measurement for Muenster is recorded and reported by Carol Vogel.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

This letter is in reference to the letter from Allison and the follow-up letter from Urban and Kirk regarding Orr Construction's lot on Main. Both are correct. Jobs are the cornerstone of a community. Without jobs the community falls apart. Quality of life in rural communities depends on jobs. While jobs come first, quality of life is also important. Both job and quality of life are so important that people commute great distances between work and where they live. But more often than not, it is the eventual realization that quality of life does matter that causes people to decide to leave a community.

Improving quality of life in a community starts with improving how the community looks in all areas. How the community looks affects the mental well being of citizens and how they feel about the community. Poorly kept properties tend to encourage others to be less attentive to their own property. When people feel poorly about their town, the cycle can become a self fulfilling downward spiral. So while jobs are the base from which things CAN grow, quality of life is why people stay. With both parties in this discussion correct, how can this community improve quality of life in Muenster?

KMB is partnering with Orr Construction to help improve the visual presentation for the yard on Main. There are many solutions to this and other community problems. It is a matter of finding people who share in the same goal of improving our community and applying their genius to solve the matter.

I would like to encourage everyone with an interest in improving the community to join Keep Muenster Beautiful and participate in some aspect of community improvement. It can be as simple as sweeping up the sand out of the curb, or keeping the weeds down on a vacant lot. But for "goodness" sake, let's be a clean town. We meet every second Monday of the month at 6:45 p.m. at the Muenster Public Library. Everyone is welcome.

You can also join KMB this weekend at the Muenster City Park at 8:45 a.m. when the community comes together to conduct our annual Spring Cleanup. Everyone is welcome. If you need service hours, this is the time and place. Afterwards you can join us for a hotdog lunch prepared by the staff of the Muenster State Bank as a reward for your effort.

Gary J. Fisher
 Keep Muenster Beautiful

Letter to the Editor:

I overheard a conversation at a local Bank last week and I was very impressed with the content of the exchange. A high profile individual mentioned to another high profile individual that he wanted to thank him for the hard work KMB (Keep Muenster Beautiful) had done on the lake project. The recipient of the compliment, being one of the unpaid volunteers for Keep Muenster Beautiful, was involved in planting trees and clearing areas for the purpose of garnering hours for a Keep Muenster Beautiful project. I thought this praise was spectacular, thus this letter to the Editor.

KMB involvement in the Lake is a worthy volunteer endeavor both for their cause and for the Lake. However this involvement was only made possible because of the dogged persistence of the various Water Boards who ultimately produced Muenster Lake.

This Lake (MP-19) project has undergone 30 + years of persistence by the various boards of volunteers, from the realization that:

- 1) The water table was and is severely dropping for various reasons
- 2) Understanding that surface water is the only solution for Muenster to survive as a viable town without having to buy water from another source. Not to mention going to court with Dallas and winning a David vs Goliath battle over the water rights.

Along the way, all these volunteers have had things happen that were criticized. Lately the criticism of the current board had been short sighted and very selfish at the best. We have a history of selfless volunteers working for nothing, donating their time for the good of the cause.

This should be recognized, after all I don't see a line of people at the courthouse wanting these high paying jobs. I served on this board for 13 years and know that decisions have to be made both long range and immediate and this board needs to be commended for their selfless dedication to the City of Muenster.

Bob Bauer

Area Aggies unite April 21 for distinctive tradition

"Former students of Texas A&M University will assemble in Gainesville on April 21 for the annual Texas Aggie Muster in honor of all Texas Aggies who have passed away within the last year," announced Muster Chair Nicholas Taylor.

Various Muster activities, including a social hour, Mexican buffet dinner (cost will be $15 per plate), an address by former U.S. Army soldier and Texas A&M linebacker Mark Dodge '07, and the roll call of the absent, will begin at 6 p.m. at the First State Bank Conference Center located at 800 E. California in Gainesville. Texas Aggie Muster welcomes all former and current students, their families, and friends of Texas A&M University.

The Texas Aggie Muster tradition spans over a century and will be observed in more than 300 locations around the world. These Muster gatherings are held in many unique places ranging from battleships and foxholes during World War II to ballrooms and steakhouses today. Over the years, Aggie Muster has grown to be one of Texas A&M's most revered traditions. Muster honors the memory of A&M men and women whose death prevents them from answering Roll Call at this year's Muster. The Roll Call is a roster compiled of all former and current students who have died over the past year. As each name is called, a friend or family member will answer "Here!" symbolizing that their memory lives on in the hearts of Aggies everywhere.

Muster is more than just a ceremony; it is also a way for Aggies to renew, each year, the loyalty and unity which constitute the foundation of their friendship for each other and love and devotion for their school.

For more information regarding the Texas Aggie Muster held in Gainesville or to RSVP, contact Nicholas Taylor at (940) 736-5353, or by email at ntaylor05@gmail.com. Please RSVP no later than Friday, April 16. Additional information about Texas Aggie Muster and other Texas A&M traditions and programs can be obtained by contacting The Association of Former Students at 979-845-7514 or by visiting their website at www.AggieNetwork.com.

Denise's group walks for MS event

On March 27, Denise Bayer and a group of family and friends participated in the 2010 Walk MS: NexBank Walk presented by Subway at the Fort Worth Community Arts Center. This event attracted more than 1,600 walkers and runners. The NexBank Walk is hosted by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, and the proceeds from the event go to support their mission of creating a world free of multiple sclerosis.

There were 18 in Denise's group and they raised $1,700. Denise exclaimed, "All the donations were from my friends and family, all invested in the fight to find a cure!" The event raised $166,990 for the Lone Star Chapter for MS.

Denise was diagnosed with MS over a year ago, and her family and friends hope to help find a cure for Denise and all others who suffer with this illness.

On her web page, Denise's cousin Andrea Klement wrote about why she walks in the event. "Multiple sclerosis interrupts the flow of information from the brain to the body and stops people from moving. Every hour in the United States, someone is newly diagnosed with MS, an unpredictable, often disabling disease of the central nervous system. Symptoms range from numbness and tingling to blindness and paralysis. The progress, severity, and specific symptoms of MS in any one person cannot yet be predicted, but advances in research and treatment, made possible from the funds raised in events like the Walk MS, are moving us closer to a world free of MS."

Andrea wrote about Denise. "Since her diagnosis of Multiple Sclerosis, I've come to admire her even more. She continues to face her disease with courage and a positive attitude. Denise always has a smile on her face, and she's one of my favorite people to be around! The Koesler family is involved in Walk MS so that we can create a world free of Multiple Sclerosis!"

Come take the opportunity to step back 55 years and remember the heart of our beautiful community and why this wonderful organization was founded in Cooke County. A Three Stooges movie is free to the public and guests are encouraged to bring their own lawn chairs to watch this classic movie flick. The downtown merchants are partnering with United Way and its agencies to create awareness and also give the community a chance to stroll through the historical square and shop at the unique and interesting stores during the event.

An old fashioned cake walk, bean bag toss, bounce house, concessions, 50s picture show, and free cupcakes are just a few of the exciting activities that will be provided in honor of the anniversary. Stroll around the information booths provided by the United Way agencies which highlight their services/programs. A blood drive will be held during the event with the the Carter Blood Mobile parked on the square.

United Fund on March 24, 1955 with the help of strong community leaders, to charter the organization. These included: J.M. Weinzapfel, Frank Morris Jr, Arley Daurity, Mrs. Peter Hyde, and Leroy Robison. One of the founding beliefs expressed in the charter was to "promote the economy with efficiency to combine and coordinate fund raising into a single organization."

On April 17 and 55 years later, it is only fitting that the United Way take time to recognize the agencies that embody its organization, and also promote the local downtown merchants through this unique calibration of fun 50s style activities. This themed birthday celebration will help pay homage to the past efforts and fun times during the 50s.

Some interesting pieces of history went on in the area during this time frame. For example, Elvis Presley was visiting the community and the Cooke County churches banded together in an effort to fight against this road of evil rock and roll. On a more serious front, the efforts of the County men were joining together and shipping out to defend our county in the Korean War. This period also had incredible people like Leo and Mabel Scott from the community, who worked to later provide a trust that would give additional funding to United Way, Oklahoma Christian University, and NCTC, 55 years later. The community is filled with outstanding people who come together every year to show they care about the community by supporting United Way and helping them reach their annual campaign goals.

The United Way wants to take time to remember the precedence and foundation that was laid years ago and offer their gratitude that this form of community pride is still carried on today.

United Way would like to formally invite the community to come celebrate the 55th birthday anniversary. Plans include:

- * 5:45 p.m. - Remember the original charter members and kick-off ceremonies;
- * 6 p.m. - Concessions, Agency Fair, Shopping on Downtown Square, and Family Games;
- * 8:30 p.m. - Lawn Chair Movie begins on the Square-bring your own lawn chair;
- * 9:30 - End Event and Clean up.

Vehicle safety

Brake Check

Brake inspection should be part of your vehicle's ongoing maintenance to ensure safety and reliability. You should have your brakes inspected at least once a year; more often if you experience grinding or shaking when you break. Regardless of care, brakes will likely need to be replaced every 20,000-30,000 miles.

Why you should advertise when business is slow

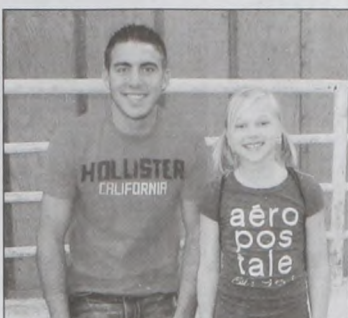

Maybe you figure other retailers in town are going to cut back their advertising, so it's safe for you too. Right? Wrong. You're in competition for the customer's dollar with every retailer in town, no matter what they sell. People have only so many dollars to spend and if they don't spend them for what you sell they'll spend them for something else.

Game Warden Reports

Hog wild

A Haskell County game warden had been getting complaints on people hunting feral hogs off the road near Haskell. It didn't take him long to find part of the problem. At 1 a.m. on Sunday the 25th, the warden issued several citations ranging from no hunting licenses to hunting from a public road.

Stupid is as stupid does

A game warden was behind Bringle Lake when a truck went flying down the road and stopped right in front of him. A car then blocked the exit road and a man started walking from the car towards the truck with something in his hand. The truck started to move and a loud bang was heard. The warden stopped the truck and got in between the two vehicles. The man had picked up a rock and in the midst of road rage threw it through the back passenger window of the truck. The very irate man was placed in handcuffs to control him. The warden made contact with the driver of the truck, a very scared 16-year-old. She stated they had passed the man some time ago, and he had been chasing them ever since. The man stated when the truck passed him, they threw a can out in front of him and it splashed on his car. The owner of the truck arrived, and the man agreed to pay for the damages so the owner would not press charges. After sitting in handcuffs for a while, the man said his actions were uncalled for and it was a stupid thing to do.

Gotcha!

On July 26, an Aransas County game warden apprehended a subject who bought a large amount of shrimp from a commercial shrimp boat captain and then proceeded to set up shop down the street and resell his shrimp at a profitable amount. As the warden approached, the subject asked him if he would like to purchase some shrimp. The warden stated, "No, but I would like to see your license." The subject handed him a recreational fishing license. A citation for no retail truck dealer's license closed the 'shop.'

Wanted – serious lawmakers to tackle immigration reform

By Gene Hall
Texas Farm Bureau
Immigration is one of those issues that almost always cause an eruption of emotion. Emotion is the wellspring of our humanity but it can be the enemy of reason. This is the case with immigration reform.

The two poles of this debate stand light years apart. On the one side are the advocates of open borders and unlimited services to waves of poor people leaving unfortunate circumstances. Some in this camp lobby for an easy path to citizenship, believing these immigrants will vote in a predictable way. On the other side are those that advocate an enforcement only policy. They believe that the estimated 12 million people here illegally should be found, rounded up, and ejected by whatever means necessary. Both sides are wrong.

The murder of an Arizona rancher by a perpetrator believed to be an illegal alien exacerbates an already charged situation. It also points out how the volatile illegal drug trade near the U.S.-Mexico border has complicated immigration issues.

Our porous border has allowed criminals to enter the U.S. It has also allowed some to slip through to have children here. Those children are the so called anchor babies, since birth on U.S.

soil entitles U.S. citizenship. The majority of the illegal aliens came here to work. And there are jobs for them. Even in these difficult economic times, U.S. agriculture has a labor crisis. Most farmers and ranchers still struggle to find all the workers they need.

The American Farm Bureau Federation estimates there are about 15 million people in the United States who choose non-farm jobs at wages that are actually lower than what they could earn by working in agriculture. Yes, many could earn more on the farm, but choose not to. Some of the work is seasonal and it can be hard. For whatever reason, many Americans choose not to do it.

The appetite of U.S. consumers for fresh fruits and vegetables will not diminish regardless of how the labor scenario works out. Whether or not those fruits and vegetables are grown in the U.S. or imported from other countries is very much in doubt. This is still a labor intensive industry.

U.S. workers can choose to work in whatever jobs suit them. By the same token, willing workers from other nations who want only to work and be paid a fair wage have a place in the labor market too. Comprehensive immigration reform is needed, so that America's farmers and ranchers can continue to produce an abundant supply of safe, healthy food, fiber, and renewable fuels.

A framework for comprehensive immigration reform has been offered by Sens. Charles Schumer (D-N.Y.) and Lindsey Graham (R-S.C.). It's a good starting point. Both senators have shown political courage by addressing the issue.

It's time to tackle immigration reform. A workable and enforceable guest worker program should be part of it. Solving that part of this political quagmire would allow us to devote more resources to securing our borders.

County Agent's Report

Using fish to control pond problems

Tilapia will consume filamentous algae but are a warm water species that cannot survive in temperatures below 55° F. Therefore, tilapia usually cannot be stocked before mid-April or May and will die in November or December. Recommended stocking rates are 15 to 20 pounds of mixed sex adult Mozambique tilapia (Oreochromis mossambicus) per surface area.

Tilapia are used for suppression of mosquitoes, that eat algae and help to clean up Duckweed and Watermeal. Tilapia feed your bass, ease the pressure on the bluegill, do not require a permit to stock in Texas, and will reduce chemical use, and ultimately your labor.

Tilapias are often not effective for vegetation control if the pond has a robust bass population due to intense predation. In Texas, stocking of Mozambique tilapia does not require a permit from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Any other species of tilapia would require a permit.

Grass carp are another species of fish that aid with some vegetative problems in ponds. Grass carp will seldom control aquatic vegetation the first year they are stocked. They will consume filamentous algae but is not a preferred food item. Therefore, they will usually consume other types of submerged vegetation before they consume filamentous algae.

Grass carp stocking rates that will control filamentous algae are usually between 10 and 20 per surface acre. In Texas, only triploid grass carp are legal and a permit from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is required before they can be purchased from a certified dealer.

If you prefer to take control of pond weeds in a more aggressive manner, consult aquaplant.tamu.edu for answers to your vegetative problems!

Cow/calf genetic selection

Commercial cow-calf operators must become more cost-efficient to maintain or improve profit margins, making matching animals to forage resources more important than ever. Matching the genetics of your cow herd to your management style is a logical goal for any cattleman.

Industry trends have led to increases in weaning and yearling growth, marbling and rib eye area for many cattle breeds. Likewise, cow size and milking ability have increased.

To keep a cow productive and healthy, the inputs into the cow have to match her genetic potential. Producers should consider input costs, such as land, labor, fuel, feed, and fertilizer as they consider they are selecting for genetics to continue to improve their herds. Reduced stocking rates may be necessary on improved pastures if lower amounts of fertilizer are applied.

With these considerations in mind, I want to remind cattlemen of the "Breeding Seminar" being offered on April 14 near Era. If you are considering genetic improvements for your herd, make sure you try to attend the program. It will begin at 10 a.m. and last thru lunch. Call (940) 668-5412 to RSVP and for more information.

Dates to remember
April 13 – Marketing Club Meeting; 7 p.m. – Gainesville Farm Bureau Building.

April 14 – Cattle Breeding Program; 10 a.m. – Schumacher Bros. Farm, Era.

April 27 – Beef Cattle Producer Seminar; 6 p.m. – Ben E Keith Hospitality Room, Denton.

April 30 – Small Grain Tour; 10 a.m. – Muenster.

Texas Farm Bureau's Grocery Price Watch shows decrease in grocery prices

Despite some varied price increases in individual food items, Texas grocery prices are generally down a few cents from last year. That is according to the latest Texas Farm Bureau (TFB) Grocery Price Watch, an informal survey of food prices across the Lone Star State. "Texas consumers are seeing food prices trend lower during these tough economic times," said Kenneth Dierschke, TFB president. "Despite tough economic times, they continue to enjoy a steady source of safe, nutritious, and affordable food."

lowing the current survey to give a full year comparison for the first time.

"Prices have been awful for both the dairy and pork producers over the last year, so any price increases are a good sign for their industry," said Dierschke. "Farmers and ranchers generally receive about 19 cents for every dollar spent, but consumer prices have stayed affordable and even decreased over the past year."

The typical family earns enough money to pay for an entire year's worth of food in only five weeks.

Just a note

Standard dinner plates 50 years ago were 9 inches across. Today the average plate is 12 inches.

Just a thought

If you've ever farmed, you can always put "plant manager" on your resume.
