Kaufman resigns midterm

By Janie Hartman
In the summer of 2007,
Muenster ISD was left without a superintendant after David Manley announced in May that he was taking a position in the De Kalb ISD. In July, the Board hired John
Kaufman, then superintendent of Seymour ISD.

This week, the Muenster School Board again faces the challenge of finding a new administrator. Kaufman was notified that he has been hired by the Mount Vernon School Board He informed the Muenster School Board

Jaycees round up competitors for Ranch Rodeo for youth

The Muenster Jaycees will host a ranch rodeo on Saturday, Nov. 14 at the Circle A Arena, just north of Muenster.

Proceeds for this event are earmarked for area youth. One of the Jaycees' major goals is helping the youth of this area, so they have decided that all monies made will go to the Friends of Muenster FFA and 4-H, Muenster FCCLA, and Sacred Heart Homemaking. This area has really been blessed with these fine organizations and their leaders training youth.

The ranch rodeo is an event that serves as a living tribute to our Texas heritage. The rodeo promotes our unique history and the western lifestyle by featuring competition between real cowboys from real working Texas ranches.

Cowboys and their ranch horses will compete in four events that showcase the necessary skills and "know how" that ranch hands practice daily on today's Texas ranches. The ranch rodeo events require the same teamwork ranch hands use in their everyday lives.

With as many as 20 teams competing in team sorting, team doctoring, double mugging, and wild cow milking/de-tagging, this ranch rodeo promises plenty of action, excitement, thrills, and laughs. So far, ranches are being represented from southern Oklahoma, Decatur, Saginaw, and several from the Gainesville and Forestburg areas.

First place cowboys will receive belt buckles and cash. Second place will receive spur straps and cash, and third and fourth places will also take home cash prizes.

The Jaycees wish to welcome everyone to show up for a night of fun and excitement at the Circle A Arena and help to benefit the youth of the area. Show time is at 6 p.m. Admission is $5 for adults and free to children 10 and under.

Those who have served to defend and protect our country, some giving the ultimate sacrifice, were honored Wednesday during Veterans Day services at Sacred Heart Cemetery. Pictured are VFW Auxiliary members placing a wreath on the Soldiers' Memorial Monument and Sacred Heart School's choir who provided patriotic songs at the foggy, fall morning tribute. This was one of several events held in Muenster to honor Veterans.

Muenster Hospital Board pleased with audit report

By Janet Felderhoff
Members of the Muenster
Hospital Board expressed leasure over the audit reort on fiscal year 2008-09 as presented by Tommy Davis

of Parrish, Moody & Fikes.
"It was the best ever," they beamed.

The report was given at the October Board meeting which was delayed two weeks waiting for the audit report to be completed and held on Tuesday, Nov. 3

MMH Administrator Lynn Heller reported to the Board that they are planning to move the location of the Hospital pharmacy. Its present location is too small, so it will be relocated to an area where it will be more than doubled in size. The proposed location is to move it to the area knows used as the nurses' break room. A door would be built between the nursery and the nurses' station. "There will be better access for everybody," he noted. A move already completed is that of the Home Health office. It has relocated to 202 E. Division Street. This is in preparation for the expansion of the rehab facility in the Hospital. It will take up the area that was being used.

It's time to sign up for the Christmas Parade!

With all the warm, sunny weather the area has been enjoying, it is hard to believe that the Annual Muenster Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade will take place in just a short time. The event is set for Saturday, Nov. 28 at 1 p.m. This year's theme, A Frontier Christmas, should offer some inspiration for unique floats.
Entry forms must be turned in to the Muenster Chamber office by 5 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 23.

By Janet Felderhoff
Voter turnout for the Texas Constitutional Amendment Election last Tuesday was low. In Cooke County, only 11.46% or 2,703 of the 23,580 registered voters cast ballots. Of that number, 508 were early voters.

County pursues grant opportunities

By Janet Felderhoff

By Janet Felderhoff
Cooke County Commissioners Court took action at the Monday, Nov. 9 regular meeting that will enable them to take advantage of two grant opportunities. The first will benefit the Cooke County Sheriff's Office.

According to County Auditor Shelley Atteberry, the County and City of Gainesville were awarded money in April from the Americans Free Investment and Stimulus Act with the Edward Byrne Memorial Justice Assistance Grant. The County's portion of $25,000 was approved to pay the salary of a crime victim's coordinator and would take over that position from Abigail's Arms. It was later discovered that it was not allowed since it was not creating a new position, just continuing a salary.

Atteberry recalled that the Sherrif's Office had only been able to purchase three vehicles with its budget rather than the four that it needed. She suggested using the grant money to purchase the fourth vehicle.

Commissioner Steve Key noted. They certainly could use a vehicle when they go out of town to pick up peopland bring them back, because they are using an old squad car now that the Tars.

Dear Editor,

Thornberry comments on passage of the Pelosi Health Care Bill

of the Pelosi Health Care Bill

U.S. Congressman Mac Thornberry (TX-13) voted against the government takeover of health care and released the following statement after House Democrats passed their plan despite bipartisan opposition, "This year, we have seen an incredible growth of government, and the American people are paying the price. Speaker Pelosi's health care bill is the latest, and one of the biggest, examples. I voted against it.

"The people of the 13th District of Texas have been quite clear. The overwhelming majority of them want no part of this 2,000 page, trillion dollar bill that adds 111 new commissions, agencies, and programs. The Pelosi bill combines more government control and high taxes with fewer choices and wraps the whole package in a lot red tape. It is bad for Texas, and because there are so many children with so many different needs on their watch," said Robertson. "But that's where CASA comes in... CASA volunteers are people who get involved with only one case. Because they have only one case, they can take the time to get to know the child and his or her family, they talk to teachers and neighbors, counselors, and foster parents, grandparents, and even law enforcement, anyone who has information that will help show what is really going on in that child's life. "This knowledge allows the CASA volunteer to speak up for what is best for the child, particularly when CASA reports these findings back to the District Judge, who has the tremendous responsibility of making decisions that affect the very lives of these vulnerable little ones. Every case is different and many things weigh in on Judges' decisions, but I do know that Judges listen to what CASA volunteers have to say because it is coming from someone who is only there because they care about what happens to that child."

CASA sets advocacy training academies

CASA of North Texas has only four staff members. Staff alone cannot meet the needs of so many children. For that, CASA needs volunteers who have a little time to get involved and who truly care about what happens in these little lives. "Because they care, they are able to do amazing things to make very real differences for our most vulnerable children," commented Robertson.

CASA is conducting new advocate training this fall. The first training began in early November. Another will take place in late November or very early December.

In order to become a CASA volunteer, an individual must have have an average

YARD OF THE MONTH FOR OCTOBER was awarded to Blaine and Brandon Walterscheid who live a 634 Eddy Street. It's a celebration of autumn in the Walterscheid's yard as an assortment of character take up residence there. Pumpkins, scarecrows, hay bales, fall flowers, and Halloween figures werk spotted. Besides the seasonal decor that Blaine enjoys displaying, the yard is filled with a variety of flowers and shrubs including lantana, crepe myrtles, ornamental grasses, and weigela. Trees include a Bradford pear and a live oak. Pictured from left are Blaine Walterscheid, Ella Walterscheid, Kalyn Walterscheid, Rept Walterscheid, Ty Hess, and Owen Walterscheid.

Muenster KC Centennial News

by Dan Hamric Centennial Publicity Chairman
In continuing with this fourth edition of commemoration to the Muenster Knights of Columbus 100th birthday celebration Jan. 16, and munity leaders saw the need for a closer bond to bring the titizens of the area together to worship and fraternize. Hence, in 1910, a group of 50 or so men gathered and formed KC Council 1459 to start the first fraternal group in Muenster, Texas. You can bet there were prior groups that got together between 1888 and 1910, but this group stuck.

When Father Michael McGivney founded the Knights of Columbus, his intent was to provide Catholic men with the opportunity to strengthen their faith, to create a strong fraternal bond, to provide Catholic men with the opportunity to strengthen their faith, to create a strong fraternal brond, their lives, and to protect their families from financial misfortune. Today, 127 years later, the local KCs remain faithful to every part of that vision.

Rite of Acceptance and Welcome for 9 at Sacred Heart Church

At the 10:30 a.m. Mass on Sunday, Oct. 25, those who had been participating in the Rite of Christian Initiation in order to join the Catholic Church went through two special rituals. Those who were unbaptized went through the Rite of Acceptance into the catechumenate. Now they begin a long period of instruction leading to the sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation, and Eucharist. Those going through the Rite of Acceptance along with their sponsors were Jeff Maas with his sponsor Kim Hofbauer, Vince Felderhoff with his sponsor John Bezner, Tina Jones with her Porticipation of the Rite of Welcome with their sponsors are Christany Coker with her sponsor Mary Endres, Olivia Bayer with her sponsor Barbara Bayer, Megan Bayer with her sponsor Rhonda Pagel, and Jon Rivers with his sponsor Strephen Jones.

After the entrance hymn, Father Ken Robinson invited all the candidates on the forehead, ears, eyes, lips, heart, shoulders, hands, and feet as a first step toward Baptism or as a reminder of their baptism.

After the homily, each person was presented with a Bible and dismissed to reflect on the Scripture readings.

Tigers finish District with 50-20 win

The Watauga Harvest Christian Saints (0-3) ended their football season Friday night in Muenster after the District Champion Tigers of Sacred Heart pounded out a 50-20 victory.

"We are playing with a lot of confidence going into the playoffs," commented Coach Dale Schilling. Tit was a big night for both the offensive and defensive lines."

It was basically three plays and punt for Harvest the 1st half, and a touchdown in most of the Tigers' drives, for a 43-0 halftime score.

Harvest lost ground their opening possession, giving the Tigers the ball on the Harvest 41 after the punt. Three runs by Clay Hogan and two by Matt Hesse moved the ball to the 3. With 5:45 on the clock, Hogan and two by Matt Hesse moved the ball to the 3. With 5:45 on the clock, Hogan crossed the goal line. Jae Kook Im added the extra point for a 7-0 score.

The Tigers' second drive began at midfield. Hesse passes to Hogan and Greyson Evans picked up 30 yards. A Hesse to Evans play got the Tigers to the 12, with a Hesse to Josh Biffe pass finding the end zone. With 2:22 on the clock, Im added the PAT for a 14-0 score.

Sacred Heart fumbled the ball way on their third possession of the game, allowing Harvest to carry the ball in to the 2nd quarter.

The 4th down punt put Sacred Heart on their 45 yard line. A Hesse to Evans pass gaimed 11, followed by a screen to John Krawietz for 16 more yards. Hogan carried twice to the 24, then to the 1. Hogan scored the next

The TAPPS first round of the State playoffs begin this Friday at Tiger Field, as Sacred Heart, District 1 Champions, take on Irving the Highlands Trailblazers, 4th place team in District 2.
Coach Schilling noted that The Highlands run 90% of their plays. "They are big up front, with good backs. The key to the game is to stop the run."

In comparison, The Trailblazers last week lost to Rockwall Christian 20-19 (Tigers won 35-20), and earlier in the season they lost to Lake Country 17-15 (Tigers won 20-13).
Kickoff Friday is at 7:30 p.m.

"Tough, tough road game," said Muenster Coach Allen Cross. "We did what we needed to do to win. I have to compliment Era for the battle to try to win." Coach Cross noted that offensively Muenster scored and moved the ball really well with lots of players involved. "Defensively, we out-played a desperate team that was fighting for a playoff spot," Cross added.

Muenster continued their air attack, hitting Luke for 19 and Anderle for 15 yards to the 1 yard line. With 8:51 remaining in the 2nd quarter, Valliere crossed the goal line for the 6 points. Aaron Flusche's PAT extended Muenster's lead to 21-6.

The home team fought back, taking eight plays to cover 60 yards, with Dunn scoring on an 18 yard carry. A Dunn to Metzler pass closed the point spread to 21-21-14 with 7:36 still on the clock.

Trubenbach and Valliere shared runs in Muenster's next drive of four plays, with Valliere sooring on a 59 yard run. The PAT failed for a 27-14 score with 5 minutes remaining in the 2nd period.

Era got in seven plays before running out of downs. Two plays later, Muenster fumbled 16 yards from the goal line, allowing Era to threaten to score. Two 10 yard penalties worked against the Gold, and time ran out, breaking at halftime.

A 45 yard 3rd quarter kick return helped set up Era's next score, a 7 yard pass play between Dunn and Metzler. The PAT failed for a 27-20.

Junior Varsity Hornets

The Muenster Hornet JV Football team finished their season 7-3 with an impressive 36-0 win last week Thursday night when they hosted the Era Hornets. Both the Hornet offense and defense were in full force against Era - the defense pitched a shutout and the offense scored 36 1st half points.

The Hornet offense was led by running back Mark Jones who had a total of three touchdowns, two rushing and one receiving.

Wide receivers Colton Lang and Blake Voth each had a score, and both quarterbacks, Garrett Hanes and Hunter Klement, threw touchdown passes in the victory.

and Hunter Klement, threw touchdown passes in the victory.

The Muenster Hornet defense looked really good all night. Defensively Trevor Hess and Steven Flusche were the leading tacklers. Hunter Klement, Paul Mouring, Darrin Springs, Garrett Hanes, Mark Jones, Blake Voth, Colton Lang, River Stewart, and Trevor Hess all contributed in the effort. "I am really proud of these kids. They worked really hard in practice and it paid off on game nights, commented Coach J.B. Grey, "I am looking forward to working with this group in the off-season and again in the 2010 football season!"

Said Coach Jon. "We sure are looking around for those five freshmen. "It has been a few years since five freshmen were on our season opening roster," said Tigerette Coach Jon LeBrasseur. A couple of bright spots in early practice have been sophomores Karli Anderle and Kelsey Reeves. Anderle, last season's District Newcomer of the Year, had a great summer and has shown signs of being a huge part of the Tigerettes' plans for the upcoming season.

The 5'7" Reeves can play inside or outside and will provide the Tigerettes with a slashing type of player with great passing skills.

The major question mark for this year's edition of the Tigerettes will be how quickly a talented freshmen class will be able to step into varsity ball and play. The youngsters include Mikay-la Bartush, Devan Henry, Madison Dugger, Madeline Hanson, and Kaitlin Hesse.

The young inexperienced Tigerettes are being tested early with Bethesda on Thursday followed by a much improved Valley View squad on Monday and then TAPPS AAAA Temple Christian coming into the Tiger Den on Tuesday. "We are going to play a lot of games early with the objective of getting our feet wet, evaluating and teaching, and finding a chemistry that will help this team be successful," said Coach Jon. "I am not sure of where we are at, but I know we have to get a lot better quickly to compete in a much improved district."

Voters pass all proposed changes to Texas constitution

Texans took to the polls in the Nov. 2 general election and passed all 11 proposed changes to the state constitution, including Proposition 11 and five other propositions supported by Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association (TSCRA).

Proposition 11 will prohibit the government from condemning private property and then selling it to private developers to increase their tax base, and while this is a victory for Texas property owners and will provide stronger protections for property owners, Proposition 11 is only the first step.

"As Texas continues to grow, we must continue our work to level the playing field for property owners. We must remember that there is more work to be done during the next legislative session on reforming the eminent domain laws," said TSCRA President Dave Scott.

Other propositions supported by TSCRA that passed include Proposition 1 which will decrease the likelihood of countries and municipalities unjustifiably condemning private property for buffer areas or open spaces adjacent to a military installation by allowing counties and municipalities to issue bonds and notes to finance the purchase of those areas.

Proposition 2, also supported by TSCRA, will prohibit taxing authorities from taxing residential properties at a higher value than residential use. Proposition 3 will allow for a uniform property appraisal process across the state and Proposition 5 will allow two or more adjoining appraisal districts, if they choose, to consolidate appraisal review board functions. Proposition 5 is particularly beneficial for rural counties who have less people with the expertise and skills it takes to serve on an appraisal board.

TSCRA also supported Proposition 4, which will allow for more Tier-1 Universities in Texas.

The passage of each of these propositions is a victory for cattle raisers and landowners in Texas.

Planning for fall and winter forage

Prices last week were generally steady, as it appears we might have reached the peak of this falls' meager rally. Tighter supplies of finished cattle and an improving wholesale-beef market helped drive fed-cattle prices from the lower $80s to over $86 per hundredweight in recent weeks. Last week those prices leveled off, averaging about $86.50 per hundredweight, according to USDA reports, a small decline from the prior-week's average of $86.90.

Boxed beef averaged $141.49 per hundredweight for the week, up slightly from the previous week but down from one year ago when the average was just below $147.

With sale prices improving, last week's Sterling Beef Profit Tracker showed feeding margins improving by more than $34 per head, although feeders still were $14.30 in the red for every head sold for the week ending Nov. 1. Packer margins remain negative in spite of recent improvements in wholesale beef. The Sterling Beef Profit Tracker shows packers lost an average of $61.75 per head for the week ending Nov. 1. Those continuing losses are likely to keep a lid on packer bids for cattle, so while prices are holding up, we aren't likely to see any dramatic upturn from current levels.

The corn market mean-while, remains volatile as traders try to guess the effects of the late harvest on corn supplies. Last week's average of $3.48 and 1% lower than the year-ago average of $3.55. USDA's weekly Crop Progress report, will show whether or not Corn Belt farmers managed to get much harvesting done in their wet fields last week.

Join hand in hand, brave Americans all! By uniting we stand, by dividing we fall.

As of Oct. 5, El Nino was still present across the equatorial Pacific Ocean with sea surface temperatures at least 1° C above average and expected to strengthen, lasting through the winter. This increases our probability of having a cool, wet winter. Winter El Nino episodes feature a strong jet stream and storm track across the southern part of the United States.

Those of us who planted winter pasture this September are enjoying excellent pasture conditions, with stocking rates of 400-600 pounds of beef per acre. This is likely the best fall you have seen since 1994. Win

COUNTY AGENT RE-

Making a profit from agricultural property has always presented challenges for those choosing to do so. But now, a changing world and a difficult economy have made the decision making process even more difficult. Uncertainties about escalating fertilizer, chemical and equipment costs have caused a renewed investigation of several old practices and have forced us to take a new look at what we consider to be best management practices.

Fertilizer prices spiked before the economy began to decline. This presented an economic dilemma for livestock producers. Fertilizing for optimal economic returns for high fertility were equal with those for reduced stocking and no fertility were equal with those for reduced stocking and no fertility were equal with those for reduced stocking and no fertility were equal with those for reduced stocking and no fertility were equal with those for reduced stocking and no fertility were equal with those for reduced stocking and no fertility were equal with those for reduced stocking and no fertility were equal with those for reduced stocking and no fertility were equal with those for reduced stocking and no fertility were equal with those for reduced stocking and no fertility were equal with those for reduced presented to the pencil in a better rate of return with fertilization of pastures. But knowing how high prices can get, we need to prepare for the time when sky-high prices return.

At a recent producer program, hosted by the Texas Agrilife Extension Service, Dr. James Rogers from the Samuel Roberts Noble Foundation shared some information from his recent research about nitrogen use efficiency rates with various summer grasses. The take-home message from his talk was that not all varieties of grass respond the same to nitrogen fertilization. Therefore, we may need to re-evaluate the optimal rate of fertilization given the variety of grass we are growing. Additionally, we may want to consider the efficiency at which grasses use nitrogen when we select a variety to plant. The two imp topped his list for nitrogen use efficiency were Tifton 85 Bermudagrass and WW-B Dahl Bluestem. It should be mentioned that there are many types of grasses that still have not been evaluated and that the Noble Foundation research only represented two years of data collection, but these two show great promise for producing more forage with less nitrogen.

Other recommended practices for producers to get the most for their fertilizer dollars are to:

1. Fertilize the most productive fields best. The soil must be capable of supporting high production before the fertilizer is able to help the forage respond.

2. Control the weeds in the pasture first. Most weeds will out-compete the grass for moisture and sunlight.

3. Maintain a stocking rate that does not damage the grass you are trying to grow. If grasses are grazed too short, they lose valuable leaf area which reduces photosynthetic activity, slowing regrowth following defoliation.

4. Finally, use soil tests. Grass needs more than just nitrogen to support good growth and vigor. Not knowing what fertility is available could lead to excessive amounts of fertilizer being applied or missed opportunity for production, depending on the soil nutrient level.

Controlling plant disease

Plant diseases can reduce the productivity and beauty of our gardens and land-scapes. It is often frustrating for homeowners to try to control disease problems when they do occur. The first step to controlling a problem is trying to prevent it. To do that, we need to understand that there is a link between the plant, the disease-caus-

Plant varieties of flowers, trees, and turf that are resistant to diseases. This common-sense practice is often overlooked, but it is the first thing that needs to be done to avoid problems.

Second, try to avoid environmental conditions that promote disease development. Most disease-causing fungi and bacteria flourish when foliage remains wet for extended periods of time and when temperatures are within a certain range. To put it simply, the more often it rains or you turn on the sprinklers, the more the potential for disease development increases. Knowing this, we should plant susceptible plants in areas with good air movement, use drip irrigation, or use sprinklers early in the morning.

Finally, when disease does occur, we must deal with the disease-causing organism. Sanitation is often the best way to eliminate the disease. This means not bringing diseased plant material into the garden as well as removing diseased plants to reduce spread of the disease. Using sprays to kill or hamper development of a fungus or bacteria are also a practice that should be considered to eliminate a problem.

Homeowners are advised that now is the time to pick up and discard infected leaves from rose bushes, Indian hawthorne, and redtip photinia, and rotting fruit under apple, peach, and plum trees. Diseases are easily carried forward by fallen leaves and mummified fruit beneath host plants.
